Thornberry Wins Election

William "Mac" Thornberry, born and raised in Donley County, unseated incumbent Congressman Bill Sarpalius on November 8th in the 13th Congressional District race by maintaining a substantial 56 to 44 percent lead in the vote tally. Thornberry credited his win to a broad base of support throughout the district and voter discontent with the current Democratic policies.

Thornberry has begun selecting staff members in preparation for his move to Washington and will be ready to assume his position on January 4th. Thornberry supports the GOP's "Contract with America" that calls for votes on ten key issues during the first 100 days Congress is in session. The contract includes proposals for a balanced budget, a $500.00 per child tax break along with other tax cuts, and limits of three terms for House members and two terms for senators. Mac says, "I am responsible to the people of this district and I will do my very best to prove myself worthy."

Mac is the son of Don and Tookie Thornberry and grandson of Carrol McClellan of Clarendon. His parents will be attending his swearing-in ceremony at the U.S. Capitol on January 4th.

Write to the Newspaper

The Clarendon News welcomes letters to the editor. However, there are some principles that will make such letters more effective.

First, concentrate on the issue and avoid name calling. Calling Senator So-and-so "a fat, stupid, SOB" may be purgative for the writer, but it will not change anyone's mind.

Second, be factual. Do your homework. Facts are much more persuasive than opinion.

Third, sign your letter. Unsigned letters will not be published. The person who is too cowardly to sign his or her name is not worth anyone's attention.

Finally, be timely. If your letter comes in after the deadline, it will not appear until a week later—or it may be too late to be relevant.

The Clarendon News publishes most letters that come in, regardless of the writer's position. Publication does not mean that the newspaper agrees or disagrees with the writer. It does not even mean that the paper considers the issue important. Letters to the editor are a public forum.

The paper has confidence that its readers can sort through material for what is informative, what is entertaining, and what is worthless.

The First Amendment of the United States Constitution guarantees every person the right to express his opinions. Every citizen should cherish that principle, whether or not he agrees with a given letter.

A Thank You, A Suggestion and A Fact

Dr. Jerry Stockton, President of Clarendon College, is retiring. Virtually all of the community will want to say "Thank you!" to Dr. Stockton for his very real contribution to the community.

Jerry Stockton became involved in the community almost as soon as he arrived. He served as a board member on the Chamber of Commerce. He helped in the effort to start a theme park. He was sympathetic, supportive or active in almost every community project.

Yet Dr. Stockton's greatest service to the community was strengthening Clarendon College.

When Dr. Stockton arrived, morale at the college was at an all-time low. He began the process of developing a more collegial atmosphere. He started the institution looking to the future.

Dr. Stockton and Royce Bodiford began the first steps toward securing a permanent endowment for the college, to put it on a sound and secure footing for the future. That job is not completed (and perhaps can never be completed), but there has been a very large amount of progress in a relatively short period.

When Stockton arrived, Clarendon College did not even have a student center, which probably made it unique among Texas colleges, but in a negative way. While he was president, the school built the Bairfield Student Center. But the college also built two other buildings, one with badly needed classroom space and one to provide additional dorm space.

Every area resident should shake Dr. Stockton's hand and say "Thanks".

Dr. Stockton has reportedly recommended to the board that they immediately begin a search procedure for a new president. That, too, is a superb suggestion.

In December of 1992, the Texas Association of School Boards outlined a search procedure to assist Clarendon Independent School District in finding a new superintendent. Their technique is well proven and quite successful. The college board would do well to adopt a similar approach.

That procedure begins with the hiring of an expert to conduct the advertising and search process. Perhaps the Texas Junior College Teachers Association or the Association of Junior Colleges has a similar service. If not, perhaps Tom Jarboe would conduct the search process of Clarendon Junior College as he did for the public school.

The second step in the process begins when the consultant holds hearings. The consultant will schedule meetings with area residents, with community organizations, with students, and with the board. He will consult with the faculty, the group that has the most "on the spot" experience with the day-to-day operation of the college, and the group with the best educational credentials. After he has listened to everyone's opinion as to what kind of candidate is needed, the consultant will study all the input that he has received. This requires wisdom and experience, but is probably the key ingredient in making the process work.

The consultant then will analyze what characteristics the constituency has outlined. He or she will develop a profile that describes the kind of person that is needed for the job.

While the first three steps are proceeding, the consultant will be advertising, soliciting as many applications as possible. The college will receive an abundance of applications to choose from.

The consultant would then do the initial screening, selecting those applications that most closely match the profile of the ideal candidate. He will then submit the top dozen or so applications to the board, and will be available to advise the board as they select the top four or five candidates. He then will schedule interviews for those candidates. The ultimate selection, of course, is up to the board.

This process works. It can reasonably be expected to produce the best possible candidate for the office. Support for this process would be as universal as anything could ever be.

Clarendon College is very important to Donley County. It is one of the major pillars upon which the local economy rests. Each year the students and faculty of the college bring literally hundreds of thousands of dollars from out-of-county into the community. Without that influx, every merchant would be poorer and taxpayers would have to dig deeper to pay for city and county government. Without the college, many area young people would not be able to pursue their education beyond High School.

Clarendon College is so vital that every resident and every local organization should work at every opportunity to build as dynamic and secure a future for the college as possible.

First Win

by Josiah Scott

7th Grade Boys

Last night, we played basketball against the Memphis Cyclones. The game started out with both teams going back and forth. Then we made a break and scored. The score was now 2 to 0.

Next they went down for a shot and missed. We rebounded the ball and scored. We fouled one of their players and they got free shots. They made only one of them. The game wore on. At the end of the quarter we led.

They didn't have a chance in the second quarter. We kept pushing and didn't let up. At half time we still led them by quite a few points.

In the second half they tried to make a comeback. They nearly did, too, until we started pushing them again. At the end of the quarter, we still led even though they had come back quite a few points.

In the fourth quarter, the game was very tense. Even though we were scoring on them massively, they wouldn't quit. They kept pushing hard. When the game ended, Coach gave a pep talk on how it felt to win. We had won, and we were proud of it. We congratulated each other and went to watch the eighth graders win.

Our First Game

by Amanda Sinclair

8th Grade Girls
Yesterday, Monday, November 14, 1994 was our first basketball game for the 8th grade year. We played against Memphis, and we played hard. The final score was 36-22, our favor. I think we all played our best.

The starters were Tracy, Paula, Kim, Cindy and Stephanie. They played good and hustled up. I got to play a little each quarter for about three minutes. I was so nervous, and I thought I would mess up. I never did mess up, but I was real scared.

The Memphis girls were easy to play against. They were real aggressive, but weren't very good on shooting. They hustled down the court real good and fast. Most of their points were free throws because we fouled a lot in the first half.

At half time, up in the locker room, we got a speech about how we were fouling. We all realized that we were fouling too much. So the second half we got out there on the court and played some real ball. We did excellent on defense, and we kept Memphis from shooting. Coach Richardson was so proud of us for hustling down the court.

Overall, we played a wonderful game. I think everyone got to play, and we were all happy. We won because of our defense, better shots, and keeping an eye on the ball at all times. I hope the rest of the season goes as well as it did last night.

Up Against the Wal-Marts

A Wall-Mart opens somewhere in the United States every 3 1/2 days. So all little businesses can do is curl up and die, right? Wrong!

Many small businesses have successfully competed against the "big guys", not only remaining profitable, but even expanding.

Don Taylor and Jeanne Hundling Archer have researched hundreds of small businesses that are successful despite discounters and chains. They find a number of common--perhaps essential--elements in the successful small businesses. Not all of the book is what many small business people want to hear. For example, on page one, they authors write: "However, signs of neglect, apathy and decline were evident on Main Street long before the discounter located on the edge of town." They go on to describe some of the areas in which many retailers become careless or even lazy. For some merchants, this section may offer a look at some areas that need improvement. But many of the worst "offenders" in this area are already out-of-business. And they probably deserve to be. Their business was self-inflicted.

The same section has a great many positive, creative ideas. Every business will find some ideas that will attract customers, expand the market or increase profitability.

Very little of the book is critical or negative. In fact, much of the book analyzes the strengths and weaknesses. Weaknesses? Yes! The Wal-Marts, K-Marts, Toys-R-Us, and similar discounters do have weaknesses. Those weaknesses makes them vulnerable.

Your small business is not going to bankrupt Sam Walton's legacy, but it can compete, and compete effectively.

The super stores have some advantages that small stores cannot copy. However, many of the ideas and techniques that the big boys have used are available to well-managed small-business. And in some areas--such as product knowledge and customer service--smaller stores should have a big advantage.

Taylor and Archer stress the importance of getting an accurate picture of "what's happening". A retailer should know, on a day-to-day basis, whether he is making money or losing it. What does his customer like about his business? What turns them off? What merchandise do they want? Every retailer should conduct a customer survey periodically to find out.

There are some big things that small retailers can do to improve their business. Perhaps none is more important than becoming customer oriented. That is a fact that everyone knows, yet it is so easy to overlook. "All businesses, regardless of type, have one common bond: they exist solely to serve and satisfy their customers. Neglecting or losing sight of this one fact has caused the early failure of millions of small businesses. ... In analyzing the assets of businesses, you'll find the only asset with lasting value isn't even listed on the balance sheet. The only asset with lasting value is the customer."

Taylor and Archer stress the importance of advertising. They point out--correctly--that advertising should be the last place that is touched in budget cutting. But they also show that not all promotion costs money. There are many ways to get good publicity without spending barrels of money.

Are your employees creative? Are they motivated to solve problems? Taylor has plenty of suggestions that are time-tested. They work.

Many of the factor that contribute to success are "little things". There are thousands of little things that mount up to big dollars.

Every merchant in Clarendon should purchase Taylor and Archer's Up Against Wal-Mart. The retailer who reads the book and thinks about what it says will profit in a big way.

Public Notice

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company (SWBT) has filed an application with the Public Utility Commission of Texas (PUC) to restructure the current PLEXAR I and II service offerings. This restructure will significantly change PLEXAR I and II services.

The restructuring of PLEXAR I will, among other things: (1) reduce the maximum line size from 30 to 9; (2) obsolete and grandfather certain optional features; (3) eliminate the requirement to subscribe to Feature Package Two in order to subscribe to certain optional features; (4) reduce the nonrecurring and monthly rates of certain features; and (5) increase the nonrecurring charges for the PLEXAR I System Charge ($2.10 to $8.00), Call Transfer Disconnect feature ($3.00 to $8.00), and Convenience Dialing I feature ($6.35 to $8.00). All current PLEXAR I customers will have the option of keeping their current PLEXAR I service, switching to the new restructured PLEXAR I service, or switching to PLEXAR II service with ten or more lines.

The proposed PLEXAR II restructure will, among other things: (1) change the tariffed offering to serve the market segment of 10-74 stations; (2) create two station pricing structures, one for customers with 10-29 stations, and one for customers with 30-74 stations; (3) reduce the sensitivity for the loop portion of the rate to two price bands: 0-2 miles, and beyond 2 miles; (4) offer a PLEXAR II basic station that can be flexibly configured, from a number of standard features, to meet the individual customer requirements; (5) change the way the termination liability is calculated so the customer is responsible for 65% rather than 56% of the present worth of the remaining monthly payments in the contract; (6) create an option that allows month-to-month customers to convert to long term contracts of at least three years and receive a credit or "contract signing bonus"; and (7) establish a System Subsequent Change Charge which applies per serving central office when changes are made that affect the entire system.

Current PLEXAR II customers will also have the option of keeping their current PLEXAR II service, or switching to the new restructured PLEXAR II service. PLEXAR II customers with at least 75 stations also have the option of switching to PLEXAR Custom service in certain situations.

This application has been assigned Docket Number 13210. Persons who wish to comment on this application should notify the Commission by November 28, 1994. Requests for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757, or you may call the PUC Public Information Office at (512) 458-0256, or (512) 458-0221 teletypewriter for the deaf. ### Pat Archuleta Attends Workshop

The Clarendon Chamber of Commerce sent Pat Archuleta to a Grant Writing I workshop held November 8, 9, and 10, at the National Guard Armory in Amarillo. Dr. Don Udell of Oklahoma led the event. The Resource Conservation and Development Areas of the Texas Panhandle sponsored the three-day workshop. The Clarendon Chamber of Commerce, with the help of Weldon Sears, local director of the Soil Conservation Service, arranged for funding by Texas Rural Communities, Inc.

Grant Writing I explored the basic techniques for securing grant funds from government agencies, nonprofit foundations, corporate foundations and individuals. Emphasis was in obtaining funds from nonprofit foundations. The basics include defining objectives, research skills, matching the mission of organizations with those of potential funding sources, and writing and submitting grant proposals. Grant Writing I was the precursor for Grant Writing II, which is scheduled for December 15, 16, and 17. Submission of a completed proposal is the focus of Grant Writing II.

Don Stone, Chamber of Commerce president, is excited about the possibilities of obtaining grant funds to establish a tourist information center in Clarendon. The Chamber of Commerce recently received a grantsseeking offer from West Texas Utilities. Implementation of grant search will be on the agenda of the next Chamber meeting, Thursday, November 17, at 7:00 p.m. in the Family Life Center of the Church of Christ. Chamber directors are urged to attend.

DPS Urges Caution

Thanksgiving is the most heavily traveled holiday of all. This has law enforcement officials pondering what can be done to raise traffic safety awareness during this critical driving period.

Trooper L.B. Snider, Public Information Officer for the Texas Department of Public Safety stated, "We know that the potential for injury and loss of life is greater during holiday periods, especially a high-volume holiday like Thanksgiving. We are asking motorists to drive defensively."

Many motorists have heard the term "defensive driving"; however, it seems few know what it involves. "Much of the art of defensive driving comes from common sense and your own instinct. Training and knowledge of the proper procedure make these senses more effective," Snider explained.

Defensive driving can and should become a way of life for all drivers regardless of age or experience. Don't assume the other driver will make the right decision. Be prepared for anything. Defensive drivers are in tune with their minds and bodies, as well as the road. They're ready for any situation the road might hand them.

But some drivers are out of tune. They give in to distractions, daydreams, fatigue, anger, stress, frustration or perhaps alcohol. They are not prepared to react when a dangerous situation arises.

Defensive drivers also make fewer mistakes. Drivers on the average make one error for every two miles they travel. While not every mistake leads to an accident, about 85% of all collisions are the result of driver error. "The most common mistake is probably speeding. Most people don't match an appropriate speed with driving conditions," Snider added.

Once again, State Troopers will be highly visible during the Thanksgiving holiday trying to make the roads as safe as possible. Let's all do our part to make this a safe and happy holiday

Thanksgiving Safety Tips

As you travel this holiday season be sure to observe all traffic laws. Traffic will be heavy so beware of all drivers on the road. After eating Thanksgiving Dinner take a nap before you start on the road; studies show that 1% of Thanksgiving deaths are due to drowsy drivers. Have a safe and Happy Thanksgiving. Clarendon Student Council.

Winter Safety Tips

Trooper L.B. Snider, Public Information Officer for the Texas Department of Public Safety said, "Winter driving is more hazardous than most people realize. There are more hours of darkness, often less visibility, and sometimes freezing temperatures with ice, sleet or snow. These are real challenges for drivers and test a person's ability to drive."

"Safe winter driving, when it's all said and done, is largely the application of common sense to come basic driving facts," Snider added. "Drivers must be able to see all around their vehicles to drive safely. Make sure all ice and snow is removed from all windows. Don't be a "peep hole" driver. Keep windows from fogging by using the defroster. If necessary, stop and knock ice or snow off wiper blades to keep the windshield clear."

Too much speed on slippery roads is the mistake that breeds the most trouble. Adjust your driving habits to match the weather and road conditions. Trips on icy roads are going to take longer. Face the facts, don't be in a hurry. If the road is covered with ice or snow, start your vehicle moving slowly and gently. When stopping, apply your breaks lightly and much earlier than usual. Make your turns slowly and smoothly.

Most loss of control comes in the form of skids. Skids don't just happen, they are caused by the driver in most cases. To recover from a skid, back off the accelerator, stay of the brakes and steer your vehicle in the direction you want to go.

It is obvious that winter drivers can pose problems for even the most experienced drivers. But as stated above, if we take our time, take it easy, make smooth movements and adjust speed to match conditions, we all can have a safe winter.

Bank Endowment Mistake

It has come to the attention of The Don & Sybil Harrington Cancer Center that in listing their Bank Endowment Program participants, that they left out First Bank and Trust of Clarendon. This institution is a participant in this program as well as a tremendous support to the Don & Sybil Harrington Cancer Center.
