AUSTIN — Sometimes the law enforcement officer has the feeling of being alone. This statement was made by Abilene Police Chief Warren Dodson at the Texas Law Enforcement Foundation's banquet in Austin. It pinpoints one of the reasons for TLEF's existence — to effect a better partnership between the public and the law enforcement agencies. Public sympathy, it seems, is inclined to go out to the criminal, putting him in the role of "underdog," the hapless victim of hard-hearted policemen and prosecuting attorneys. "Texas Legislature has a poor record for crime fighting," Gov. Price Daniel charged at the meeting. "Of 27 law enforcement bills proposed last session, only three were passed — and these were partially crippled." Governor Daniel warned that crime is increasing three times as fast as the population, and it is the state's most serious social problem. During the first six months of this year, lawlessness flourished at the rate of three murders, three rapes and 125 burglaries each day. TLEF is a privately financed organization of outstanding citizens from over the state. ALL THE WAY FOR LBJ — Governor Daniel announced he will support Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, not only for the presidential nomination, but for chairman of the Texas delegation to the Los Angeles national convention. Senator Johnson and former Gov. Allan Shivers fell out over who should be state delegation chairman in 1956. Johnson won. Daniel says he wants Johnson to be chairman, but that he (Daniel) will take an active role in working for the senator both here and in other states. SAVE THE SEED — State Board of Education has gone on record as being unanimously opposed to spending anything but the income from the $400,000,000 Permanent School Fund. Fund has been built up over the years, principally through sales of mineral rights on the school lands. It has been invested in government and municipal bonds which have an income of about $12,500,000 per year. This investment income is used for school operating expenses. It is dipping into the principal — the $400,000,000 — that the Board opposes. Board resolution compared the school trust fund to seed corn which "our forefathers saved to plant instead of grinding it for use as food." There has been some talk of tapping the permanent fund to meet current demands for a teacher pay raise. Board of Education approved the holding of a county-wide election to see if Cooke County residents would be willing to support a junior college at Gainesville. A study of the feasibility of establishing a junior college in Midland also was approved. Textbooks in seven subjects were adopted by the Board, including, for the first time, journalism books. RULE HITS 'CORPORATE OPTOMETRY' — Within the next few weeks Texas optometrists will vote on a proposed new rule prohibiting practice under any name except the name under which the optometrist is licensed. Before polling the optometrists, the Board of Examiners in Optometry got a ruling from Attorney General Will Wilson stating that the regulation would be legal and valid. While the board is not bound by the results of the balloting, it was predicted that a favorable response would almost certainly result in adoption of the rule. This, because there are hundreds of individuals engaged in optometry as compared with firms so engaged. If adopted, the rule would prohibit practice "under an assumed name, corporate name, trade name or any name other than the name under which the optometrist is licensed." This would mean the end of such firms as Texas State Optical, and Lee Optical, where glasses are available at considerable savings to the general public. HOSPITAL PROBLEMS STUD-IED — State Hospital Board has under way studies aimed at three of its current problems. One is to find a way, other than providing expensive mental hospital facilities, to care for some 2,700 patients whose only ailment at present is old age. Two plans are being considered. One is state assistance toward the cost of caring for the oldersters in private nursing homes. Other is providing for state nursing homes. Under law, the state is not responsible for giving institutional care for the aged. But these patients were all admitted on court order as mental cases. Now they're too infirm to be "turned out." Another problem under study is that of tuberculosis patients who go "awol" from TB hospitals before they are completely cured. Danger is not only that they will relapse, but that they will infect healthy outsiders. Third matter under study is the facilities needed for present and future care of mentally retarded children under school age. CARR APPOINTS — Named by Speaker Waggoner Carr to the Joint Educational Standards Commission were Reps. C. T. Matthew of Yoakum, Leon Thurman of Anson and Maurice S. Pipkin of Brownsville. Commission is to search for ways to cut school costs without sacrificing necessities. Reps. Louis Anderson of Midland and C. W. Pearey of Temple have been selected by Carr to serve on a committee to study the state fiscal system. Four big city solons will serve on a committee to study the possibility of merging some functions of city and county government. They are Reps.

Mrs. Ora E. Bray, J. N. Weaver, and Horace Green have realized the importance of waterways for controlling erosion. Mrs. Bray and J. N. Weaver each have constructed two waterways on their farms with cost-share from the Great Plains Conservation Program. Horace Green has built one, with help from the Agricultural Conservation Program. A waterway is a means of carrying runoff water to a place where it can be safely released without causing erosion. They are used as outlets for diversions and terraces or for taking extra water through farm land safely. Waterways are usually seeded to a perennial grass such as western wheatgrass or caucasian bluestem before water is turned into them. Sometimes, as in the case of a draw crossing a field, water cannot be kept out of the waterway while it is getting established to grass. Mrs. Bray's waterways are examples of this. The best thing to do is to shape the draw into a wide flat-bottomed waterway and seed it to a cover crop of sorghums immediately. These sorghums will control erosion until the grass is established. Mrs. Bray's waterways will be seeded to grass in the spring of 1960. Weaver and Green constructed their waterways to serve as outlets for diversion terraces. These waterways will be established to perennial grasses before water is turned into them. All the waterways mentioned above were designed by Soil Conservation Service technicians to handle the runoff from their particular watershed.

The Great Plains Conservation Program will pay 80% of the cost of constructing a waterway and the Agricultural Conservation Program will share the cost at the rate of 70%. For help in designing or planning your waterway, contact one of the Supervisors of the Donley County Soil Conservation District or one of the Soil Conservation Service technicians that assist the district. They will be glad to help you. A colorful cowboy term for catching hold of the saddle horn during a ride is "reaching for the apple."

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 18TH DISTRICT

By Congressman Walter Rogers

More About The Supreme Court

Because of considerable interest which was manifested in my newsletter of last week and from questions which have arisen therefrom, I am reprinting one of my 1956 newsletters.

Where did it all start? Few people have taken the trouble to find out the history of the doctrine which seems to be causing so much trouble today. That is, the doctrine that the Supreme Court has the power to declare an Act passed by the duly elected officials of the people, to wit, the Congress of the United States, repugnant to the Constitution and therefore unconstitutional and of no force and effect, thus vesting in the Supreme Court the final veto power concerning the rules, regulations and laws by which our daily lives are governed.

It all started in 1801 immediately after Thomas Jefferson was sworn in as President of the United States. At that time the political parties were the Federalists on the one side and the Democratic-Republicans on the other side. The general philosophies of those parties were in keeping with the general alignments of thought as between Jefferson and Hamilton. The Jeffersonian doctrine was based upon a distrust of centralized government and the advocacy of confidence in the people's capacity to govern. The Hamiltonian philosophy supported a strong national government by a sort of "royal purple" group who would have full control of the centralized powers and be able to govern without interference from the people.

At that time President Adams was leader of the Federalists, while Vice-President Jefferson was leader of the Democratic-Republicans. The Federalists had gotten in bad favor with the public and realized that they would be turned out of office in the December 3, 1800, election. They were correct. Thomas Jefferson was elected President at that time and prepared to be inaugurated on March 4, 1801. The Federalists, in an effort to perpetuate their power, undertook between the date of the election, December 3, 1800, and the date of Jefferson's inauguration, March 4, 1801, to fill all open offices with Federalist followers. The number one appointment in this plan went to John Marshall, President Adams's Secretary of State and a loyal Federalist. He was appointed the third Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court. There were a number of other appointments made by President Adams, among them being the appointment of a Justice of the Peace for the District of Columbia. The recipient of this appointment was Mr. William Marbury, who was appointed on March 2, 1801, just two days before Jefferson's inauguration.

In the confusion of the change of Administrations, the then Secretary of State, John Marshall, signed and sealed the appointments, but apparently got busy on other matters and forgot to issue the commissions to several appointees, including William Marbury. Jefferson, upon inauguration, had instructed his Secretary of State, James Madison, to withhold the issuance of these commissions. Whereupon, Marbury filed suit against James Madison, the new Secretary of State, in the Supreme Court of the United States. This was born the famous case of Marbury vs Madison, with which all students of the law are familiar.

Since the Supreme Court's power to take original jurisdiction in cases is limited to a very narrowly defined class of cases, there was much discussion about Marbury having filed his suit in the Supreme Court rather than in a trial court. The filing of the case in the Supreme Court created a situation whereby John Marshall, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, was called upon to decide whether or not the Court could compel James Madison, Secretary of State, to issue a commission that Chief Justice John Marshall, while serving as Secretary of State John Marshall, had neglected to issue. Since the Marbury case was clearly outside of the original jurisdiction of the Supreme Court, the normal procedure would have been for the Court to decline to hear the case and permit the complainant to file his suit in a proper court. However, for some reason Chief Justice Marshall brought into the picture the Judiciary Act of 1789, an Act to control the procedures in federal courts. He indicated that, although the Supreme Court could not hear the Marbury case under the Constitutional restrictions, there were provisions in the Judiciary Act, a statute passed by Congress, that would permit the Supreme Court to hear the case. He then proceeded to hold that, because according to his conclusions the Judiciary Act was in conflict with the Constitution, the Judiciary Act became unconstitutional and therefore void. This action on the part of Chief Justice Marshall has been interpreted as a master stroke of a devoted advocate to centralize government. It created the doctrine that the Supreme Court had the power to declare Acts of Congress unconstitutional — power which was bitterly opposed by Jefferson's followers.

Had John Marshall held against Jefferson's followers on the Marbury case and had entered a judgment requiring Madison to issue Marbury a commission, there was a strong chance that Marshall might have been impeached. Many thought that Marshall realized this and thereupon conceived his idea of not endangering his position as Chief Justice, but at the same time, creating a strong weapon in the hands of advocates of centralized government. This approach left the Jefferson followers in the position of having won the Marbury case, for which they could not complain but of having had to accept, as a thorn with the roses so to speak, the establishment of a doctrine that vested the Supreme Court with final veto powers on all legislative actions. It is interesting to note that in the 35 years that John Marshall served as Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, he never again declared an Act of Congress unconstitutional.

It is also well to remember in this connection that as matters now stand, the laws passed by the duly elected officials of this land are in a strange position. These laws can be knocked down by the Supreme Court of the United States as being unconstitutional. Yet, a treaty between this country and a foreign country, written and entered into by the Executive Branch of the government and duly approved by the Senate, is on a parity with, if not superior to, the Constitution. But in any event, as the law presently stands, the laws passed by the Congress are subservient to such treaties as well as the Constitution, so you can imagine how far down this puts the laws of the several states.

"Keno" came from the gambling game of the same name, and cowboys often use the word to mean everything is all right.

Heard along the street; A fellow complimented a lady on her new hat. Carefully removing it from her head she placed it on a bald headed man nearby and asked the man for a comment on the hat from that point. He just shook his head. "See," she said, "It's not just the hat that creates the good look. What's underneath has something to do with it."

A passer-by raised up the hood of one of these new-fangled economy cars the just to make conversation remarked to the lady owner, "Someone has made a way with your motor, lady."

"No sweat," she replied, "It's not what's up front that counts anymore."

Height of self control; being able to eat one peanut and then stop.

Seen in the grocery stores; the cigarette rolling machines of the depression days back for sale. Undoubtedly the new fad is expected due to the recent hike in the tax on cigarettes. We were out a sack full of these devices back in the days when we smoked, and hard times were raging. It begins to look like that "Thinking men are out-thinking some of the fellows who think for themselves."

Is it possible for government security to be secure, This is a question that keeps going round and round in our own mind, and we suppose that it does the same with most of you.

Each time that congress, the legislature, the commissioners court, the school board, or the city council meet, we the people are urging that more be given in the way of services and security. To do this they are forced to take more and more in the form of taxes from those they are helping. The amount they take does not increase while in the process of handling but rather dwindles away to a great extent.

Are we giving away the goose that lays the golden eggs? Each year as our demands for more security and services go up our indebtedness to be paid from taxes soars higher and higher. The demands are so great that those who pass the taxes do not have the courage to collect all of it back from the people during their term but pass it on to other generations in the form of a national debt, a bond, or some other like method.

It is said by those who are supposed to know that the average citizen works one-third of his day in order to pay taxes. In many of the old countries folks work two-thirds of the day. Someone figured it out that we work until 10 o'clock on the average to pay our taxes. In many countries they work until three in the afternoon to be even.

Are we headed in the same direction?

The Helping Hand that is the most likely to really be helpful to us is the one at the end of our own arm. This is not only a true saying but it is fair and right.

We do not deserve promotions on our job until we have done our very best. We should not expect help in time of trouble until we have put forth our very best to take care of our own problem and on and on with most every thing that comes up this is true. People have a right to expect us to always do our best.

There is an old saying that goes; "God helps those who help themselves." Even with the dealing of the Creator with the objects of His creation he has the right to expect us to do the best that is possible with the abilities which we have. As Jesus walked here on earth for that short time as a perfect and true representative of God his helping hand was outstretched to all who had a need. In so many cases he even gave to them a greater ability.

In other words Jesus tried to help people in whatever condition that He found them; so often we try to condition people to our way of thinking before we are willing to help them. We so often try to make the other person into our way of thinking before we consider him a fit subject for our help. Jesus was able to look into the heart and see the limits and bounds of the abilities of each person. We cannot do this as humans.

It is not what we have that matters; but what we do with what we have.

Thanksgiving 1959

We feel there is no place on earth to live at this time of year, that quite equals the farm. Where else could one live so close to God and His bountiful blessings.

We had thought no harm would befall us or our nation, if we gave thanks for our comforts, our spacious shelter, abundant food, our many labor saving and brain saving mechanical and electric appliances, for our family, friends and neighbors.

It has been 338 years since that first harvest in America. Knowing the hardships our Pilgrim Fathers endured, simply to exist, that first Thanksgiving makes us feel our modern day prayers leave much to be desired. This prayer by William Hard leaves us trembling as we comprehend the price—

Let not our comforts, God, shatter our soul.

Keep us still kin to Pilgrims. Keep us whole.

They conquered woe Thy will divine to please.

Let us to serve Thee, God, now conquer ease.

Amen.

We are a free people — free to go and come as we please, to speak our minds and worship in the faith of our choice. Let us not forget the price our forefathers paid for our heritage! Let us give thanks for our abundance! ... at this time we offer thanks for all the good things that have come our way ... for the opportunity and privilege of serving you — the patrons of Cornell Texaco Service Station.

Don't Forget The Grass Roots
We think primarily of taxes in terms of the federal burden. That's only reasonable, for the federal tax bite is the largest of all.
At the same time, we can't afford to overlook the state house, the court house, and the other tax-collecting agencies of local government. In an interview appearing in Nation's Business, an economic advisor to the Secretary of Labor reports that 20 per cent of the rise in the official cost of living index occurring between 1953 and the spring of this year "was due to changes in sales and excise taxes, and in charges that are regulated by state and local governments."
As a matter of fact, the state and local taxes have been rising during years in which federal rates of taxation have been unchanged or little changed. We need to press for economy at the grass roots no less than in Washington D. C.
Ralph T. Moore writes in the Oregon Voter: "A great deal of our school trouble stems from the persistent and completely fallacious presumption that public education can be measured by the dollars spent more than by the actual results obtained."

Hermesmeyer - Gulde Vows Exchanged

Miss Joan Hermesmeyer, daughter of Mrs. Frank Hermesmeyer of Jericho and the late Mr. Hermesmeyer, is the bride of Joseph Francis Gulde, son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Gulde, 2005 Julian Blvd.

St. Mary's Catholic Church in Groom was the scene of the double ring ceremony performed Saturday, Nov. 21, at 10:30 a.m. The Rev. Lawrence Lutz, O.S.B., uncle of the bridegroom, officiated. Frank R. Hermesmeyer, Jr., and Michael John Nussbaum were altar boys.

Bouquets of gold and bronze chrysanthemums decorated the altar and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Baker sang appropriate nuptial selections, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Leonard Nussbaum.

Mrs. Donald George Rettenmaier, sister of the bridegroom, was matron-of-honor and bridesmaids were Misses Ann Hermesmeyer, cousin of the bride, and Germaine Britten, both of Groom. The matron-of-honor wore a white-length dress of bronze crystalline over gold tulle, designed with a boat neckline and a cummerbund of the same material. The bridesmaids wore identical dresses of deep bronze with boat necklines and cummerbunds tied in large bows of self material and small matching feather hats coordinated with their costumes. The attendants carried crescent bouquets of gold and bronze chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Nell and Bernadette Britten, nieces of the bride, were flower girls. Their dresses of light gold were styled similarly to those of the bridesmaids and they carried baskets of gold chrysanthemums. Ralph Nussbaum, nephew of the bridegroom was ring bearer.

Charles James Gulde was best man to his brother, Groomsman were Robert Emmett Gulde, also a brother of the bridegroom, and Phillip Erwin Hermesmeyer, brother of the bride, Leonard J. Nussbaum and Donald G. Rettenmaier, brothers-in-law of the bridegroom and Frank R. Hermesmeyer, brother of the bride, were ushers.

Given in marriage by her brother, John W. Hermesmeyer, the bride wore a white floor-length gown of Chantilly lace over nylon net with silk faille designed with a portrait neckline and molded bodice. A bouffant scalloped lace overskirt was designed with deep points, front and back, over layers of nylon net highlighted by a handmade silk faille rose at the lacepoint front. The skirt back formed a chapel train. The bridal veil of imported illusion was a scalloped double tier of fingertip length attached to a queens crown of lace encrusted with seed pearls. Her bouquet was a cascade of white roses and stephanotis.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in St. Mary's Parish Hall. The bride's table, laid with a floor-length white satin cloth, was centered with an arrangement of white chrysanthemums in a crystal bowl. Presiding at the reception were Mrs. S. J. Kline, sister of the bride, Mrs. Frank Hermesmeyer, sister-in-law of the bride, and Miss Mary Jo Peters.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Hermesmeyer wore a toast brown crepe dress with brown accessories and a corsage of tailman roses. Mrs. Gulde, mother

Miss Valentine Krerowicz and Douglas W. Allee were united in marriage in a double-ring ceremony read at 2:00 p.m. November 21, in the home of the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Allee. The Rev. W. R. Lawrence, pastor of First Baptist Church, Clarendon, Texas, officiated.

The bride was attired in a white taffeta, waltz length dress fashioned with a rounded neckline and full skirt overlaid with tulle. Her fingertip veil of tulle fell from a crown of white daisies and she carried a cascade of white carnations topping a white Bible.

Attending the couple were Mrs. Royce Andrews, Midland, Texas, sister of the groom, and Melvin Housden, Clarendon, Texas. Mrs. Andrews wore a dress of ice blue taffeta styled identically to that worn by the bride. Her corsage was of pink and white carnations.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Krerowicz of Denmark, Wisconsin. She attended schools in Denmark.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Allee of the Hudgins community, attended Clarendon schools and is now serving in the United States Navy based at Norfolk, Virginia.

THREE REASONS WHY EGGS ARE POPULAR FOOD
College Station — In many consumer studies, it was found that people frequently purchased and used eggs "because we like them." This points up the wide acceptance of an egg's flavor, its versatility and ease of cooking, says F. Z. Beanblossom, extension poultry marketing specialist.
The egg, a breakfast "mainstay," is also widely used as a hearty luncheon dish, for sandwich fillings, and in combination with other foods for satisfying dinners.
One of nature's most nearly perfect foods, eggs combine their heavy concentration of high-quality protein with relatively few calories, and complete digestibility, and are accepted as an important dietary requirement from infancy through the "golden age" group. Two eggs supply as much as 30 percent of the high-quality protein needed daily by adult men or women.

TEXAS WILL HAVE NEARLY HALF OF COTTON ACREAGE

College Station — Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson has proclaimed a national marketing quota of 13,133,000 bales (standard of 500 pounds gross weight) and a national acreage allotment of 16 million acres for the 1960 upland cotton crop.
Texas' share will be 6,761,512 acres with an additional 55,965 acres for the national reserve. The Secretary also announced his determination that alternate Choice (B) — farm allotments for the 1960 upland cotton crop will be 40 percent larger than the "regular" Choice (A) allotments for the same farms.
An acreage allotment of 22,243 acres will be in effect for the extra long staple cotton grown in Texas in 1960. The national marketing quota will be 86,590 bales with a 64,776 acre allotment.

December 15 was set as the date for a growers' referendum on marketing quotas for both upland and extra long staple cotton. At least two-thirds of the farmers voting in the referendum must approve the quotas if they are to remain in effect.
If the quotas are approved, Choice (A) will include "regular" farm allotments with price support at not less than 75 percent of parity available to growers who comply with their regular allotments. Choice (B) includes 40 percent larger farm allotments and price support to growers who comply with their Choice (B) allotments at 15 percent of parity less than under Choice (A). Individual farm allotments under both Choice (A) and Choice (B) will be made available to producers prior to the referendum.

Benson added that if marketing quotas are not approved for the upland cotton crop, only the "regular" Choice (A) allotment program will be in effect and price support will be available to cooperators at 50 percent of parity, as provided by law. If quotas are turned down by extra long staple producers, support to eligible growers will drop to 50 percent of parity.

FACT AND OPINION

A major manufacturing company reports that in 1953 a certain pump cost $244.96 to make in its American plant and $148.96 in its foreign plant. In 1958, it cost $348.55 to make the same pump in the American plant, due to inflation and wage increases — while the cost to make it in the foreign plant had actually declined, to $140.57.

GOOD FARM RECORDS CAN SAVE TAX DOLLARS

College Station — Farmers may save several dollars on income tax by keeping good records, reminds C. H. Bates, extension farm management specialist.
Small leaks are the ones that sometimes prove costliest, Bates points out. An oversight of only $25 in expense items may cost an additional $5 tax. So, records should include all items of expense and income that will help determine net profit or loss from the business.

To simplify filling out the tax forms, Bates recommends classifying various items in categories corresponding to the various headings used in tax forms. For recording sales, the following groups are recommended: (1) sale of livestock raised, (2) sale of produce raised, (3) other income, (4) sale of items purchased from resale and (5) sale of assets that may receive capital asset treatment.

A depreciation schedule should be kept on farm buildings (except dwelling), fences, machinery, equipment and purchased livestock used for dairy, breeding or draft purposes. These items depreciate each year and this loss is deductible for income tax purposes at the end of the year in which it occurs.

be kept on farm buildings (except dwelling), fences, machinery, equipment and purchased livestock used for dairy, breeding or draft purposes. These items depreciate each year and this loss is deductible for income tax purposes at the end of the year in which it occurs.

Bates advises consulting your local county agricultural agent about your tax problems. The county agent also can provide a copy of the 1959 Farmers' Tax Guide which should be helpful in your tax management this year.

Basketball Teams Split With Estelline

The Clarendon High School basketball teams split a double header with the Estelline teams here last Friday night. The local girls had little trouble with the visitors in winning 34 to 15, but the Estelline boys proved a tough opponent as they defeated the Bronchos, 46 to 38. This was the second win of the season for the girls as they won their opener against Wellington, 50 to 49, on Nov. 17. Also, this was the boys second defeat as they went down 52 to 51 to Wellington in their first game.

The girls had no trouble at all against Estelline as Coach Williams cleared his bench to allow all the girls to play. The local girls led 7 to 4 at the first quarter, 18 to 6 at the half and 27 to 8 at the beginning of the fourth quarter. Marie Richey topped the scorers with 12 points followed by Paula Adams with 9, Sharon Williams with 6, Alice Johnson, Beth Johnson and Sandra Webb with two each and Pat Owens with one. Other girls who played were Brenda McAnear, Peggy Jackson, Gay Watson, Sue Phelan, Martha Risley, Jan Weathery, Sharon Moore and Pauline Mills.

Kenneth Housden paced the boys in their losing effort against Estelline with 13 points followed by Wayne Mann with 10, W. N. Elam, seven, Jerry Shields and James Allen, three each, and Dwight McAnear, two. Other boys who played included Howard Talley, Don Hudgins and Philip Abel. Estelline took an early lead and was in front all the way. They led 13 to 8 at the first quarter, 24 to 16 at the half and 33 to 24 at the start of the final period.

The games with Wellington on Nov. 17 were real thrillers all the way. The girls had to come from behind in this game to win. Wellington took a 15 to 11 first quarter lead and increased it to 26 to 18 at the half. The Clarendon girls had a big third quarter and scored 21 points to 12 for Wellington and eased into a 39 to 38 lead at the end of the quarter. The fourth quarter was a see-saw battle with the Bronchoettes holding on to their slender one point lead. Paula Adams scored 30 points to pace the point makers with Marie Richey coming in with 14 and Sharon Moore with six.

In the boys game with Wellington, W. N. Elam scored 19 points with Kenneth Housden and Jerry Shields scoring eight each, Philip Abel and James Allen, six each, and Wayne Mann, four, Wellington built up a 30 to 23 halftime lead and held off a spirited Broncho last half rally to win by the one point margin.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hefner of Amarillo visited Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Hefner.

NO SOUR NOTES HERE—U. S. Army deployed forces not only serve as our first line of defense but as ambassadors of good will. Typical is this cultural exchange between a musician of the 49th Army Band, stationed in Italy, and a local Italian lad who gets a tuba audition during intermission. In the past several years more than one million Italians have heard concerts by the Army.

JAMES REEVES CANDIDATE FOR HONOR

CANYON (Special) — James Reeves, sophomore of Hedley, is among nine men who have been nominated as the campus "Most Handsome" at West Texas State College in Canyon.

Candidates for the honor, sponsored annually by Le Mirage, WT yearbook, were announced through petitions, each signed by 25 classmates. Formerly a student body election, the contest this year will be a judged event.

Winner will be revealed Dec. 5, when contestants are presented, along with candidates for "Most Beautiful," at the first formal dance of the year. Judging will be held at 3 p.m. Dec. 1, and six couples will be chosen for the presentation. The formal dance, with an orchestra, will be sponsored by the Inter-Fraternity Council. The Le Mirage staff, headed by editor Carol Barnes of Midland, will have charge of the presentation program. Winners and runners-up will be featured in a special section of the 1960 yearbook.

MAKE SOIL TESTS NOW

This is a good time of year to make soil tests, says W. F. Bennett, extension soil chemist. Soil laboratories are usually not rushed and recommended grades of fertilizer are readily available. By getting soil test results early, Bennett says the winter months can be used for planning next year's fertilizer and cropping programs. This advanced planning, he adds, can mean the difference between a successful fertilizer program or none at all.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Widner of Plainview, Mr. and Mrs. Denver Redwine of Childress, and Reed Errington of Canadian were guests Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Borden and Regina.

Tax-Man Sam Sez:

The Extension Service people down at Texas A&M are busy working out tax schools for the county agents. For the past several years they have worked with Internal Revenue Service on a number of schools for county agents. They set up a one-day school for the county agents and invite other farm leaders in the area. The school is taught jointly by an Internal Revenue Service man and Extension Service man. The county agents who go to the school help farmers in their area with their tax problems. The county agents deserve a pat on the head for helping farmers with one of their toughest problems — taxes. The Texas Extension Service especially deserves Texas farmers' thanks for saving farmers money and trouble through better education. If you follow their advice and keep good farm records you may save money on your taxes as well as run your farm better.
