Texas now has a new law that requires immunizations for all students enrolled in schools and institutions of higher learning, as shown above:

If the number of doses required have been received, but last dose was before time stated, then an additional dose of POLIO, DIPHTHERIA, TETANUS or SMALLPOX is required.

All immunizations should be completed by the time school is entered. However, if this is not possible, all students will be allowed to enter their respective school systems during the Summer and Fall 1971 terms, with the provision that their immunizations against at least one of the aforementioned diseases will have been started by January 1, 1971 and all completed as soon as medically feasible.

Since many types of personal immunization records are in current use, any document listing each immunization received by year will be acceptable during the 1971-1972 school year for either initiating or updating school immunization records.

School Registration Starts Here In Three Weeks

Vacation time is about over for local teachers and students alike as the new school term draws near... just three weeks until registration begins for the students and the teachers begin their workshops on August 16th, three days earlier.

According to Supt. Arling Corde, the Faculty Workshops for all teachers and administrators will begin on Monday, August 16 at 9 a.m. and continue through Friday of that week.

High School students will begin registration on Thursday, August 19 and Elementary and Jr. High students will register on Friday, August 20th. Regular classes will begin Monday, August 23rd.

On the business end of the school schedule, the Board of Equalization for the Clarendon Public Schools, Clarendon College and the Donley County Hospital District will hold its public hearing on Monday, August 9, 1971 beginning at 8:30 a.m. at the school business office.

Parents are urged to check on their children's inoculations since schools are now under State law requiring certain inoculations depending on the age of the child and fines assessed against parents when there is a failure to abide by the law.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Jones, Sr. spent the week end in Dalhart with their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Jones, Jr. and attended the wedding of their grandson, Michael Jones, and Miss Mary Kay Paulk.

VACATION IN COLORADO

Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Leathers and Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Leathers and boys vacationed in Pagosa Springs, Colorado last week visiting the J. R. Williams. The entire group traveled over Engineer and Cinnamon jeep passes, two of the highest, roughest, and most breathtakingly beautiful in the state. A wonderful time was had by all with horseback riding, picnicking and an Alpine snow storm.

Paul Hermesmeier spent last week with his cousins, Pat and Mike Britten, at Groom.

Emergency Conservation Measures

The authorized period for taking requests and reporting performance on practice F-4-a (5), Constructing Livestock Water Wells in Drought Disaster Areas, is extended to August 31, 1971. The practices must be completed in their entirety and ready for use by August 31, 1971. To be eligible for the practice the farmer or rancher must have had an adequate supply of livestock water before the drought and, because of the drought, the livestock water supply is no longer adequate. There must also be available vegetative cover to provide needed feed for livestock.

Rural Environmental Assistance Program

Practice C-12, "Reorganizing Irrigation Systems", has been amended to provide that: No cost-sharing is authorized for reorganizing a system that has not been used to irrigate at least two full annual crops. Cost-share rate for this practice is 30% of the actual cost, not to exceed $750.00.

Certification

Approximately 90% of the farmers have now certified and over 50% of the checks have been mailed. We appreciate your cooperation during this time of certification. There were times when we were very busy and many of you had to wait. We do appreciate your patience.

Top O' Texas Rodeo Set For August 4-7

The 26th annual Top O' Texas Rodeo is scheduled in Pampa August 4-7. A new grandstand has just been completed to replace the damage from last year's tornado, which made it necessary to cancel last year's production of the Top O' Texas Rodeo.

A street parade is scheduled for Wednesday afternoon, August 4, at 4:00 p.m. to get the rodeo underway, with nightly performances at 8:00 p.m.

Tommy and Beverly Steiner will produce this year's rodeo, featuring some of the top specialists in the rodeo circuit, including "El Charro" Gomez and Wonder Horse, the Kahun Kid (popular rodeo clown), and others. Helen Taylor and her all-girl show band direct from Las Vegas will be featured at all nightly rodeo performances and will play for dancing in the National Guard Armory Wednesday through Saturday nights.

All of the regular RCA events will be included, with cowboys and cowgirls competing for an estimated purse of approximately $10,000, including all entry fees. An amateur bareback riding contest, with a purse of $200 plus entry fees, is scheduled in order that all amateurs in this area may be able to participate.

Tom Hadley of Austin, Texas, will be the announcer. Hadley has gained a national reputation as a rodeo announcer and has worked with Steiner for many years. He has had extensive experience in the national finals and national televised rodeos.

Holly Gray, president of the Top O' Texas Rodeo Association, said that ample free parking will be available. Ticket reservations may be secured by writing the Top O' Texas Rodeo Office, P. O. Box 1942, Pampa, Texas 79065.

The Kids' Pony Show, which is a miniature rodeo for ages 5 through 15, will be held Tuesday, August 3, with both afternoon and evening performances. All children in the Top O' Texas area are invited to participate. Entry blanks may be obtained by writing to the Rodeo Office, P. O. Box 1942, Pampa, Texas 79065.

Texas Hog Inventory Reaches 1.7 Million

The Texas hog inventory on June 1, 1971, was 1.7 million head, up 51 percent from a year earlier, according to the latest release from the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service.

The December - May pig crop estimate for the state reached 1.2 million head, showing an increase of about 41 percent over the same period a year earlier. For the June-November period, Texas hog producers intend to farrow 37 percent more sows than during this time last year. This means that the Texas pig crop should reach close to 1.5 million head for June-November.

Breeding animals accounted for 282,000 of the state's inventory. The expansion of the breeding herd was somewhat less than the number kept for other purposes, according to Dr. Ed Uvacek, Extension livestock marketing specialist.

The number of hogs and pigs on U. S. farms as of June 1 was up 2 percent over year earlier figures, the report revealed. The December - May pig crop was estimated at 51.9 million head, 1 percent below the year earlier figures.

Intentions are to farrow 6.3 million sows during June - November in the U. S., 9 percent less than last year. Uvacek says this would mean production of about 45.7 million pigs which represents 8 percent less than the level during that same period a year ago.

In general, the report indicates no real cutback in hog production will be felt until the fall and winter months, the marketing specialist says. He adds that heavy marketings should keep prices from strengthening throughout this summer and on into the fall and that it will be 1972 before any price improvement can be expected due to reduced supplies of pork.

LOCALS HIKE SANTA FE TRAIL MONDAY

Scout leaders, Tommie Saye and Delbert Robertson, and five scouts, Patrick Robertson, Jim Simmons, Jeff Campbell, Edward McKinney and Tim Saye, journeyed to Santa Fe, N. M. Sunday and spent Monday hiking the Santa Fe Trail. They returned home Tuesday evening.

The trail is 22 miles and the group hiked it in 7 hours which is around 5 hours less than the usual time required. We understand there were two real tired leaders.

Mrs. Saye and daughter accompanied the group.

$47,764 ALLOTTED HERE FOR WORK-STUDY FUNDS

Congressman Bob Price has been advised that the Department of Health, Education and Welfare has just made its final installment on college work-study program funds for the 1972 fiscal year.

These funds will provide 80% of student payrolls for off-campus work to enable students to earn funds with which to pay college expenses.

Six institutions in the 18th District participate in the program. Those receiving funds include: Clarendon College, $47,764 for 157 students.

Good Moisture Improves Crop Outlook For Entire Area

Good moisture has covered the Clarendon area the past week end and first of this week which improves the crop and range grass outlook considerably. A number of stock tanks have water in them for the first time in many months.

The big rain here in town was recorded last Thursday night with the official weather observer measuring out 2.64 inches for the downtown area; 3 1/2 inches was reported in the west part of town and E. P. Hahn 2 miles west of town measured 4.10 inches. At the same time Willard Knox reported .76 at Lelia Lake and Hubert Rhoades .60 at Ash-tola.

Since that time the showers have been spotted but have caught all areas. Only .06 was measured here Monday morning but to the north of town in the river area over an inch was recorded with the area south of Alnreed receiving their first good moisture in some time.

Early Wednesday morning we caught .24 here in town and Knox reported 1.25 at Lelia Lake.

Up to Wednesday noon, we have received a total of 4.40 here in town for the month of July which gives us a total of 10.03 for the year. In 1970 we received only .10 in July and had received only 4.96 inches of moisture up thru July.

In addition to the good moisture, a cloud cover has hedged give more benefit from the showers as there has been very little evaporation... and it has been real cool and pleasant. More showers are in the forecast the remainder of the week.

The bride's cake was fortified with columns separating the two top tiers and was topped with yellow daisies. At the bride's table Mrs. Don Huffaker of Pampa and Mrs. Jim Cunningham presided at the crystal service. At the groom's table Mrs. L. G. Bobbitt and Mrs. Mike Smith presided at the silver service.

As a traveling costume Mrs. Vinson wore a banana yellow and navy dress complimented by a banana yellow coat, topstitched in navy and accented by navy accessories. The white cymbidium orchid was lifted from her bridal bouquet.

After a wedding trip to Colorado Springs, Colorado, the groom enrolled at West Texas State University. The couple will be at home at 212 N. Starkweather, Pampa, Texas.

The bride is a graduate of Hereford High School. She received the Bachelor of Science degree in Home Economics from Baylor University where she was affiliated with many school organizations. She is now Assistant Home Demonstration Agent for Gray County.

The groom graduated from Clarendon schools and received the Bachelor of Science degree in Biology and Education from West Texas State University in Canyon. He will be an August candidate at West Texas State University for the Master of Education degree with training in Counseling. He is presently a teacher in the Pampa school system.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding included those from Venita, Oklahoma City, and Stillwater, Oklahoma; Wichita Falls, Hearn, Dallas, Freeport, Amarillo; Ft. Rucker, Alabama; Sunray, Hereford, Pampa, Friona, Dalhart; Farmington, New Mexico; Yuma, Arizona; Hugo, Oklahoma; Odessa, Midland, Spearman, and Frio.

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Miller were hosts for the rehearsal dinner featuring an out-door buffet at their home in Hereford. Arrangements of yellow daisies, mums and carnations accented a white cloth.

A jar, a small plastic dish, some scraps of rubber, cloth and metal-package them all together into a box and you have not a boxful of junk but a useful new tool in the Texas Health Department's efforts against air pollution.

Applying the maximum pollution control muscle where it will do the most good is a job that can't be accomplished without realistic data. That boxful of odds and ends is one of the ways of obtaining that data.

The traditional method for obtaining air pollution data is the high volume air sampler, a bulky metal box that yields the volume of suspended particulate, benzene, sulphate, nitrate, and lead in the air around it. There are now some 39 such devices across the State of Texas.

Health authorities soon found they could devise a method to determine where real pollution was worse, and where it was a danger to health and property.

The Texas Health Department's Air Control Division developed a new system of measuring not only the level of pollutants in the air but also their effects on common materials.

The idea was simple but effective: place a number of common materials in an "effects package," expose them in comparable locations, and set up a formula to translate the raw data into an index of the actual effects of air pollution. The packages were placed in 40 locations across the state. They are simple enough to maintain that school children can operate them, and in some cases are doing so.

The package contains fabric samples, a Petri dish of lead peroxide, rubber strips, a sticky-paper jar, and silver, steel, and zinc plated.

The package measures wind-driven dust particles by registering the average number of particles per square inch on the sticky-paper jar. The effect on fabrics is determined by measuring the loss of light reflectance from two fabric samples. Effects on metals are registered by measuring the weight loss of the steel and zinc plates, and the percentage reflectance loss of the silver plate. The atmosphere's effect on rubber is measured by the depth of the cracks in the rubber strip. The amount of sulphur compound in the air is determined by measuring the amount of sulphur that has reacted with the dish of lead peroxide.

These measurements can be related to the rusting of plant machinery and automobiles, to damage done to automobile tires, and to drapes, furniture, upholstery, and clothing.

On a scale with zero at the bottom and ten at the top, the lowest yearly average in the state in 1970 was 1.8, and 6.5

was the highest. The State-wide average in Texas for 1970 was 3.6.

Jerky, A New Snack Food

A food American Indians used long before this country was settled, and that pioneers and prospectors carried with them along western trails, is making a comeback as a snack food.

"Charqui," as early Andean people called it, is today called "jerky" and is becoming more and more popular, reports Sally Springer, Extension foods and nutrition specialist at Texas A&M University.

Jerky, sold in food stores and by mail order, is thinly-sliced lean beef that has been spiced and air dried, oven dried or smoked. In pioneer days it took 2 to 3 months to naturally cure the meat. But jerky can now be made within 24 hours with advanced processing techniques.

U. S. Department of Agriculture's inspection standards of sanitation and processing are applied to jerky, as for all meat products that are shipped interstate. USDA inspectors also closely examine labeling of jerky and check for the appropriate moisture-protein ratio, which allows the product to be stored without refrigeration.

Because jerky doesn't require refrigeration, it is a convenient "take-along" snack or between-meal treat that is both tasty and nutritious. The meat supplies high quality protein that is needed for building and repairing tissues.

The ultimate motive of soil conservation is human conservation.—O. D. Duncan.

Highlights and Sidelights From Your State Capitol

Investigations of stock-loan scandals which have rocked the state for nearly seven months moved forward on three fronts during the past week.

Travis County District Attorney Robert O. Smith announced plans to present to the grand jury here evidence compiled by Texas Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin's staff.

Martin said evidence includes material pertaining to federal Securities and Exchange Commission allegations that large loans were extended to high state officials at the time Sharpstown bank head Frank Sharp was trying to get deposit insurance legislation passed.

Sharp was invited to testify within the next three weeks before a House General Investigating Committee.

Committee asked Sharp to talk about bills in which he was interested in 1969 "and other matters that may be pertinent concerning Sharpstown State Bank, the National Bankers Life Insurance Company and any relationship with public officials."

Meanwhile, State Insurance Commissioner Clay Cotten turned over to district attorneys in Houston, Dallas and Austin results of his investigation of NBL.

Cotten said he feels insurance, embezzlement and conspiracy laws may have been overstepped but preferred to leave it up to prosecuting attorneys to decide if violations occurred. He offered names of five one-time NBL officers and directors prominently involved in his report.

Federal court at Houston set hearing this week to determine if a June 14 immunity order protecting Sharp from further prosecution or summons should be modified. Martin and Smith want to force him to testify before the Travis County grand jury hearing.

COURTS SPEAK — An Austin federal district judge upheld the local school district's desegregation plan calling for a minimum of crosstown pupil busing, holding against a federal government proposal for massive busing. Judge scored the federal government for its uncooperative attitude toward a compromise.

State Supreme Court rejected an appeal of A & M University employees who had paychecks stopped when it was discovered they were serving on the College Station city council.

In other decisions, High Court: Stuck by its original decision holding former president of Sharpstown State Bank was not negligent in failing to investigate bonds offered as security on a $470,000 loan.

Turned down the appeal of a Dallas oilman's widow in a law suit over his estate brought by the man's five daughters by an earlier marriage.

Upheld the will of multi-millionaire Robert A. Welch's sister leaving $300,000 in Texas oil and gas property to the Welch Foundation.

Held against an Alice woman seeking damages from drug companies which manufactured the anesthetic she claims partially paralyzed her following 1963 surgery.

Reversed a lower court judgment and concluded the foreclosure of mortgage on the home of a Dallas couple who had paid $420 more than their schedule called for was void. 11

Rejected disputed evidence of a remarriage in Mexico and backed a Nueces County trial court finding that a Corpus Christi man owes nearly $24,000 in alimony to his former wife in Nevada.

LIVESTOCK DISEASES SPREAD — As sleeping-sickness-like Venezuelan Equine Encephalomyelitis continued to strike horses and some humans, threat of a new livestock malady loomed.

Outbreak of African hog fever in Cuba alarmed swine owners. Latter is almost invariably fatal, and there is no known vaccine. Ailment does not affect people, as does VEE (which is usually mild in humans).

More than 1,100 Texas horses are believed to have been killed by VEE and 1,500 others stricken. More than 6.6 million acres have been sprayed to kill disease-carrying mosquitoes.

AG OPINIONS —Texans under 21 may not serve on juries in Texas despite recently-lowering voting age to 18, Attorney General Martin held.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded: Texas Industrial Commission can open an extension office in Mexico City and pay salaries of employees there.

Governor is without authority to negotiate open-end contracts for computer supplies for state agencies.

County attorney of Cooke County will serve as 16th district attorney when 16th district court sits in Cooke County. District attorney of 235th district will serve that court in all counties where it functions.

Law passed last May 26 sets maximum compensation for assistant county school superintendents in all counties.

Renewal license issued by State Board of Hairdressers and Cosmetologists June 2—Aug. 29, 1971, expires Aug. 31, 1972. Applicant for Sept. 7, 1971, board examination must pay $15 filing fee with application and additional $5 license fee.

SB 194 of last legislature repeals other acts on commercial drivers' license exemptions.

MEDICINE AID SYSTEM CHANGED — On September 1 State Department of Public Welfare will begin making payments directly to pharmacists for drugs prescribed to Texas welfare recipients.

Under current system, allowance for drugs is included in monthly assistance checks. Legislation this year appropriated $11.9 million for new vendor drug program.

Welfare authorities believe the new system will provide improved prescribed medicine coverage and delay a cut in overall welfare payments for food, clothing and shelter.

However, some complained of welfare check cuts, since drug allotments no longer will go to recipients, and a few who get only payments for drugs will be taken off welfare rolls. Latter will be interviewed by Welfare Department to determine if they should still get cash aid.

APPOINTMENTS—Gov. Preston Smith appointed Dr. Max C. Butler of Houston to State Board of Medical Examiners and reappointed Dr. Albert B. Spiers Jr. of Taylor, Dr. L. G. Ballard of Granbury and Dr. Howard O. Smith of Marlin.

Smith also announced these recent appointments:

James D. Abrams of El Paso to State Air Control Board.

Joe B. Burnett of Dallas as 4th district judge.

J. Chrys Dougherty of Austin and Dr. Robert R. Lankford of Houston to the Submerged Lands Advisory Committee.

Dr. Theodore Andreychuk of Lubbock and Dr. Ernest Barrett of Galveston and reappointments of Dr. John I. Wheeler of Houston, Dr. Alvin John North of Dallas, Dr. George H. Kramer of Corpus Christi and Dr. Carl Finley Hereford of Austin to Texas Board of Examiners of Psychologists.

Guy Cowser of Center, C. C. Rice of Hemphill and Eugene A. Meek of Newton to Sabine River Authority of Texas.

Paul K. Herder of San Antonio to San Antonio River Authority. William D. Cox Jr. and Thomas J. Murphy of Dallas to John F. Kennedy Memorial Commission.

Jesse Gilmer of El Paso (re-appointed) to Rio Grade Compact Commission.

Francis Flynn of Austin, Laad Wall of Lubbock, Wilfred Millington of Nixon, Carroll Curry of Hillsboro, Virgil Maxwell of Houston and James Baker of Lufkin to Board to License Nursing Home Administrators.

SCHOOL DISTRICTS WARNED — At least 50 Texas school districts have been warned not to accept transfer students where the act would be interpreted as designed to impede desegregation or continue discrimination.

Dr. J. W. Edgar said districts were reminded of the April 20 Tyler federal court order forbidding transfers between districts where effect would be to interfere with integration or promote discriminatory treatment.

La Pryor, Uvalde and Carrizo Springs Independent School Districts were advised not to accept students from Crystal City (where Anglo parents apparently sought to move pupils out of Mexican-American dominated schools). Del Rio school district was warned not to accept 729 transferees from San Felipe ISD which serves Laughlin Air Force Base. San Antonio ISD was notified it may be in violation of court order if it takes 316 transfer students from Edgewood ISD.

Edgar said state aid for transferees would have to be withheld, and accreditation of receiving districts would be in danger.

MEAT INSPECTION IN TEXAS USDA ENDORSED

The Texas meat inspection program, operated by the Texas State Department of Health, is less than two years old but has been appraised as equal to federal inspection procedures and given full endorsement by the United States Department of Agriculture.

The State Health Department in 1969 opened a school at Yoakum to train meat inspectors, a move required by a new Texas Meat and Poultry Act. Faced with the choice of letting the federal government take over all inspection or providing adequate state inspection, the Texas Legislature decided in favor of state controls. The federal government still inspects all red meat and poultry processed for interstate (across state lines) shipments.

The amount of red meat and poultry inspected is staggering. In 1970, more than 306 million pounds of red meat — beef and pork — came under the critical eyes of State Health Department inspectors. In addition, 63½ million pounds of poultry was inspected.

State meat inspectors are now keeping close tabs on all meat processed at the 646 slaughterhouse and processing plants now under state inspection. Meat animals are carefully checked before slaughter, after slaughter, and through every stage of the packing process.

The objective of the Texas meat inspection program is to insure better meat products for all Texans. Inspection is essential to make certain that only wholesome meat and meat products reach the tables of consumers. The program will also upgrade the meat industry and encourage it to provide better products.

Texas meat inspectors have been placed throughout the state, from Amarillo to Brownsville and from El Paso to Texarkana. Every packing plant in the state has a carefully trained inspector on duty at all times.

The symbol of the Texas meat inspection program is a purple Texas-shaped stamp. If you begin to notice the Texas stamp on the beef or poultry you buy at the supermarket, you know that meat is safe and wholesome. It has been inspected and certified by inspectors trained by Texas State Department of Health.

"Accent on Health" is a weekly service of the Public Health Education Division of the Texas State Department of Health.

VETERANS NEED APPLY FOR CERTIFICATE OF ENTITLEMENT NOW

This fall is expected to bring 26,000 veterans to Texas colleges and universities under the GI bill, according to Jack Coker, Waco VA Regional Office Director.

Veterans planning to attend college for the first time should have applied for their GI bill certificate of entitlement by this time, but if they haven't they are urged to do so immediately. Some delayed or late payments to veterans will be caused by failure to secure the certificate before their school starts classes.

Coker said in cases of veterans who have their certificates at the time of enrollment their school can certify the enrollment promptly and activate their veterans GI bill payment file at the Waco Regional Office. This permits the VA to start payment with a minimum time lapse, normally two to three weeks after the end of the first month of school.

"We want the veteran to receive his check on time," Coker said, adding, "Each delay works a financial hardship on the veteran which we want to avoid."

Veterans with questions about their school plans, anticipated change of schools or educational objectives would do well to contact the VA now rather than wait until school starts.

Mr. and Mrs. Jiggs Mann, Camille and Mark and Mrs. J. D. Wood attended the wedding of Cheryl Jean Davis and Jerry Whattley in Amarillo Saturday night.

ALBINISM RAMPANT AT FISH HATCHERY

A snowstorm in July wouldn't surprise personnel at the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department's fish hatchery here, Jasper, Tex.

Everything seems to be turning white anyway. A few months ago, technicians discovered an albino green sunfish—a slightly gold-colored mutation never before documented in Texas. Then somebody noticed albino tadpoles showing up in hatchery ponds.

Shortly afterward, an albino flathead catfish and an albino blue catfish turned up in the spawning tanks.

The epidemic apparently is spreading beyond the ponds, says hatchery superintendent George White, because an albino squirrel has been seen cavorting among the hatchery's hardwoods.

FEWER DROWNING REPORTED THIS YEAR

Fewer drownings have been reported this year than for the same period last year, according to the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department's Water Safety Services.

As of June 1 there were 204 drownings compared with last year's total of 212 for the same period.

Drownings along the coast decreased from 40 last year to 22 this year while fatalities on lakes went up from 60 last year to 85 this year.

The department says drowning victims keep making the same mistakes year after year, and pay for these mistakes with their lives.
