Carroll Lewis Attends Justice Of Peace School At Lubbock

Local Justice of the Peace Carroll Lewis attended a three-day training session at Lubbock last week with 104 West Texas counties represented by 172 Justices of the Peace.

The session, sponsored by the Texas Criminal Justice Council, is designed to upgrade the standards of Texas Justices. This was the first and largest of a series planned throughout the state.

Under new state law, justices are required to be licensed attorneys or have served at least eight years as justices or acquire 40 classroom hours of instruction within 12 months of September 1. A second session including another 20 hours of classroom instruction is scheduled in Lubbock Feb. 16.

The classes, intended to meet qualification standards, include general aspects of criminal law, attorney general opinions affecting justice courts, examining trials, truancy and liquor laws, arrests with and without warrants, game laws, public relations and other topics.

Lewis explained, "The courses are designed to give justices better working knowledge of law within the areas in which they deal almost daily."

"I want to commend the Texas Criminal Council for the knowledge program and for the opportunity to be able to attend such programs. I believe we all will be able to come home and do a much better job for our counties," Lewis added.

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Lewis visited his sisters, Mrs. Texas Batson and Lorene Holland at Lubbock last week while Mr. Lewis was attending the training session for Justice of Peace.

Third Cotton Spray Set For October 12

The 3rd spraying in the diapause boll weevil control program will begin Tuesday, October 12, weather conditions permitting, according to Ronald Gooch, County Agent.

The cut off time to sign up for this spraying is 5 p.m. Monday, October 11, at the office at the Paymaster Gin in Clarendon.

Boll-weevil infestations have increased in many fields that have not been sprayed during the last two weeks. The boll weevils are puncturing bolls now in many fields and spraying in the diapause program would protect many of these bolls as well as reduce the number of boll weevil going into diapause and overwintering.

The results of last years control program can be seen now as boll weevil infestations have been lighter and later in building up than they have been in several years. Good participation in the diapause spray program should reduce boll weevil numbers again for next years cotton crop, Gooch said.

Leader—Local Rate $4.50 A Year

The Broncs have another big game ahead Friday night when their opponent will be the Stinnett Rattlers with a big anticipated CHS Homecoming crowd in Broncho Stadium. Game time will be 8 p.m.

Prior to the game Friday night, there will be a big Bonfire on the vacant lot Thursday Night west of City Hall at 8:30 p.m. and on Friday afternoon the Football Queen will be presented at a Pep Rally in the high school gym at 3:30.

This should be a real good contest Friday night as the Broncs are eager to get back on the winning side of the ledger and also win the game before a Homecoming crowd.

The Broncs and the Rattlers have both defeated the Childress Bobcats and the way the scores turned out, this should be a nip and tuck affair. The Broncs defeated the Bobcats 41-19 in their season opener while Stinnett defeated Childress 35-20 last Friday night.

Stinnett owns a 4-0 record for the season so far and the Broncs have a 1-3 record but have engaged stronger opponents.

Noonkester stated that his probable starters would be Scotty Lindley at center; Eddie Helms and Steve Ellis as guards; Charles Clinton and Danny Holland as tackles; James King as tight end; Mack Tomlinson as quarterback; Tommy Shields as full-back; Steve Carter and Elray King as halfbacks.

Be out Friday night and back the Broncs to get back on the winning side before entering conference play next week with Wheeler.

Broncho Boosters Plan Pancake Supper

The Broncho Booster Club is sponsoring a Pancake and Sausage Supper Friday evening, October 8, in Lions Club Hall. Serving hours will be from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. Tickets are $1. The sausage will be whole hog of the best quality. The hog was donated by a member of the Broncho Booster Club.

There will be plenty of time to have all the pancakes you can eat before the game with Stinnett at 8 p.m.

The Club also has Bumper Stickers for sale at $1. We hope that everyone will purchase one for their car or cars and advertise our Bronchos.

The Club uses these project funds to provide items helpful to our athletic program which would not otherwise be available. Your support is appreciated by each and everyone.

A majority of these CHS Seniors will be putting forth their best for CHS Homecoming Friday night against the Stinnett Rattlers. NEWS FROM Congressman Bob Price 18th District, Texas

Last week proved to be very hectic as I attempted to attend all the sessions of my committees, the full House, and preside over a work group at the Symposium on Animal Waste Management at the Airline House conference center which is about an hour's drive from the Capitol.

SYMPOSIUM:
The work group on "Action Programs" which I chaired at the Symposium on Animal Waste Management came up with 26 recommendations for dealing with this problem which could become quite serious in our area as the feedlot operations continue to grow and expand.

Major recommendations include: better coordination between state and Federal pollution control agencies; better technical assistance to both large and small feedlot operations in coping with animal waste management problems; federal and state tax credits and expanded loan programs for pollution control equipment and financial relocation assistance for operations who are forced to move because of federal or state regulations.

RED CHINA

I have had numerous letters with regard to the so-called "two-China-United Nations policy." In order to make my position entirely clear on this matter, I addressed the House last week and pointed out that it is one thing for the President to exchange communications with the leaders of Red China because our Nation can not continue to act as if the most populous nation in the world does not exist. It is quite another thing to welcome them into the United Nations, a proposal which I violently oppose.

I have been a longtime opponent of United States participation in the United Nations and have continually urged our withdrawal from the organization. However, as long as we continue in the U. N., I do not promote the Red Chinese with a platform to promote their own special brand of communism.

Seating Red China in the United Nations would, in a way, mean world recognition of a government which enslaves its own people, continues to support hostilities in Vietnam, and actively promotes revolution around the world.

Although the conduct of foreign policy is within the jurisdiction of the Executive Branch of government, I shall continue to voice my opposition to the seating of Red China in the U. N. as the opportunity presents itself.

LEGISLATION

A bill similar to legislation I introduced giving Farmer's Home Administration permanent authority to guarantee loans made by private investors was adopted by the House on a voice vote last week.

Legislation extending the life of the House on a voice vote last week.

Legislation extending the life of the Office of Economic Opportunity for two more years was adopted after several amendments were added and several others were defeated. I voted against this legislation as in the past because of the millions of dollars which have been squandered and the funds have been used to defend the hooligans who have come to Washington with the express intent of tearing down our government.

LEGISLATION INTRODUCED
A bill to bring Farmers Home

Administration water and sewer financing effort last week. Congress has provided other agencies more freedom to help finance badly-needed sewer and water systems than FHA which was started to help rural America.

This legislation would allow FHA to grant up to 90 percent of the cost of a sewer and water system if it is necessary to order to provide service in a rural area.

Line Your Closets With Red Cedar

To rid your closets entirely of pests, line closet walls with red cedar, suggests Jan Slabaugh, Extension housing and home furnishings specialist at Texas A&M University.

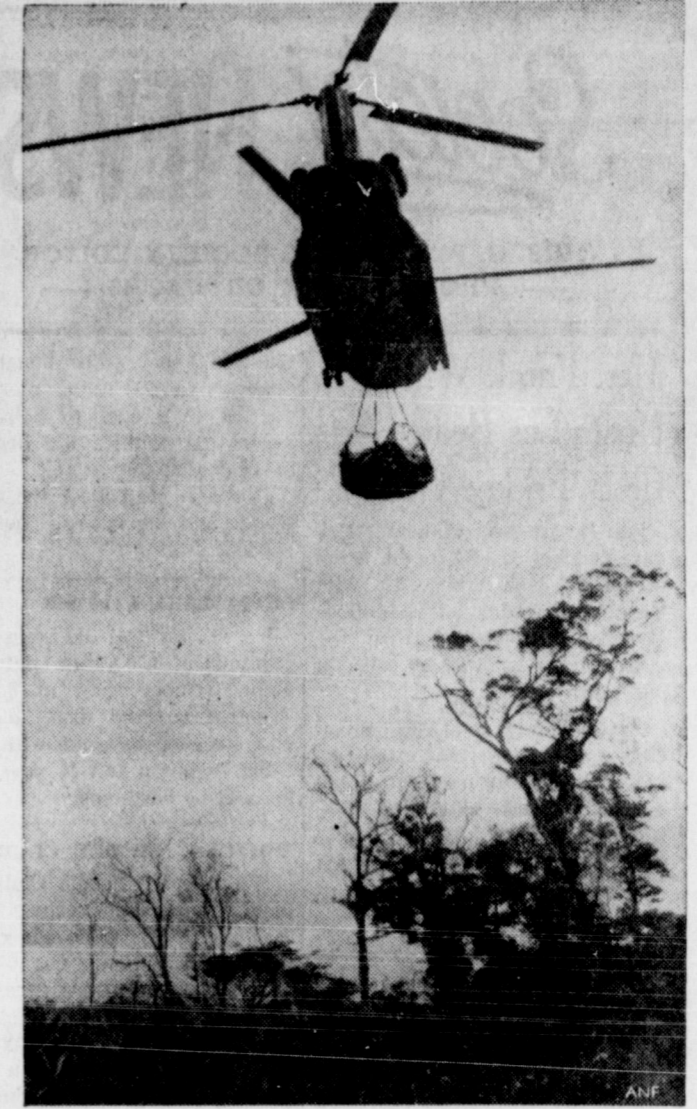

The extra cost of red cedar is well worth the price, Miss Slabaugh adds. The aroma of cedar penetrates items stored in the closet and protects them from moths and moisture.

Moths, their larvae and red cedar do not get along, so a cedar-lined closet is entirely free of pests.

The mild odor of cedar is not pungent or excessive, but is simply a natural wood fragrance that fades after exposure to air. For the odor to penetrate and effectively exterminate pests in the closet, the door must be kept closed.

The fragrance of red cedar in a closet also eliminates musty odors since the wood is highly resistant to moisture.

To maximize concentration of the cedar fragrance, cover not only walls with red cedar, but inside doors, ceiling and floors as well. The tongue-and-grooved boards fit together easily and the cost of improvement is small. When lining with cedar, don't paint or varnish the surface board. Painting and varnishing seals off the cedar's aroma.

Mrs. Frank White, Jr. Hosts Les Beaux Arts Club Friday Oct. 1

Les Beaux Arts Club met Friday, October 1, 1971 in the home of Mrs. Frank White, Jr. with Virginia Browder as co-hostess. Meeting was opened with the Club Prayer followed by roll call and minutes.

Mrs. Johnny Leathers, president, announced that Mrs. K. Lawson, head of the Federated Women's Clubs, would be here October 8th for the Pathfinder Club meeting and that all Art Club members are invited to attend.

The program was given by Mrs. Paul Hancock and Mrs. Lee Palmer and was on our Area Museum. They gave very interesting information concerning the need for and purpose of a Museum in Clarendon. It was apparent that this need was overdue in our town and would not only be an asset to our community but would serve educational purposes as well. It seems more important than ever to help preserve and capture the heritage of Donley County.

This is a project for the whole town, and everyone's help is needed. Rep.

Book Club Members Fun After Fifty Party Journey To Hereford Held Sat. Oct. 2

Members of 1926 Book Club met October 4 in Hereford, Texas for the regular semi-monthly meeting. Mrs. L. N. Cox, a former Clarendon resident and now a resident of Hereford, was hostess.

After a tour of Mrs. Cox's lovely cottage, the group drove to the Caison House where a delicious buffet style luncheon was served in the Red Carpet Dining Room.

Following lunch, a tour of the new residential area in west Hereford was made and the beautiful homes were admired. Kings Manor was also visited. Mrs. Davis gave the group a conducted tour of the beautiful manor with its home like atmosphere. Club members were greatly impressed.

Mid-afternoon refreshments of coffee, punch and candies were served by Mrs. Cox in her home.

Members from Clarendon attending were Mesdames E. S. Ballew, C. E. Bairfield, Walter Clifford, Jack Clifford, K. K. Day, Frank White, Jr., and Otis Naylor.

All were enthusiastic in their expressions of an enjoyable trip, a delightful day, and a sincere "thank you" to Mrs. Cox. Rep.

STUDENT GROUP RATES TO PALO DURO DRAMA

The producers of "They Came From Spain" have announced that a student rate of $1 per person for organized groups when tickets are purchased in blocks is now possible.

Since the production in Pioneer Amphitheatre in Palo Duro Canyon is the story of the Canyon from the time of its creation through the days of fire, surf, home of monsters and the coming of Coronado to the Canyon with armored soldiers, servants, and friendly Indians many students of history, Spanish, and Drama are attracted. Almost 6000 people have attended.

For tickets and for information about the student block purchase plan write Box 268, Canyon, Texas 79015. The final productions are October 7, 8, 9, and 10th. Curtain time is 8:15 p.m. so allow yourself plenty of time to drive to the Park.

Spring Bulbs Can Bring Early Color

Spring flowering bulbs can bring early color to the home landscape next year if the proper steps are taken this fall, according to County Agricultural Agent Ronald Gooch.

Crocus, snowdrops and winter aconite are some of the first flowers to bloom in the Spring. These are soon followed by hyacinths, narcissus or daffodils and tulips.

Plant all of the spring flowering bulbs in the fall, says Gooch. Root growth and flower development occur during the winter months so that the final burst of growth can take place in early spring.

For repeat blooming over a period of years, plant bulbs in a well-drained soil of average fertility, preferably a sandy loam, located in a sunny area. In the south where they are usually treated as annuals, bulbs can be planted almost any place in the yard where the soil is well drained.

The general rule of thumb is to plant bulbs so the top is below the soil surface a distance of about twice the diameter of the bulb. This would be about 4 inches deep for narcissus and tulips and about 2 inches for smaller bulbs. In sandy soil plant at a depth three times the diameter of the bulb, adds Gooch.

Larger bulbs can be spaced as much as six to eight inches apart. Smaller bulbs are more effective if spaced three to four inches apart. The most effective landscape plantings are achieved by grouping bulbs of the same color together in a mass. Use at least 12 to 24 bulbs of the same type and color as a unit, suggests Gooch.

For the maximum in beauty and color, remember to make your selections early and, plant your bulbs in October and November, concludes Gooch.

Sailing due east out of Boston Harbor, one would land first in Spain.

Follow 3 R's Save Nutrients

Practice the three R's of cooking, and you'll save nutrients in vegetables, reminds Frances Reasonover, Extension foods and nutrients specialist.

Miss Reasonover says the three R's are to reduce the amount of water used, reduce the cooking time, and reduce the amount of surface area exposed. To decide how much water to use, consider the color and flavor of the vegetables, she explains. The size and shape of the pan, the length of cooking time, and the use of a pan cover are also important.

Quick cooking vegetables need only a small amount of water, she adds. Starch vegetables need longer cooking and require more water. It is better to add water during cooking than to have more water needed when vegetables are done.

Vegetables should be cooked in the shortest possible time, Miss Reasonover continues. Bring the water to a boil, add the vegetables, and again bring the water quickly to a boil. Cook only until tender.

It is said that when a pessimist looks at the bright side of things that he will complain that the brightness hurts his eyes.

An optimist is said to well be the woman that slips her shoes back on after the preacher says "Just this one more point."

The pessimist sees only the problem—the optimist also sees the solution. The one sees only the hill that is to be climbed, while the other sees the mountains and the trees.

A pessimist is said to be a fellow who has recently loaned money to an optimist.

Most women must have been optimistic when they said "I Do" . . . Later they might have been pessimistic when they wondered "What Next".

An Optimist remembers the rose for its bloom, the pessimist by its thorns.

The hen that lived to a ripe old age could well have believed that an egg a day will keep the axe away.

A back seat driver is almost as bad as a dining table cook.

A man looking for trouble can be half asleep.

Personality is often the thing that most of our friends judge us by . . . Some folks may look at our wealth, others may count our social position, but those who have to put up with us day after day are going to count pretty heavily on a pleasant personality.

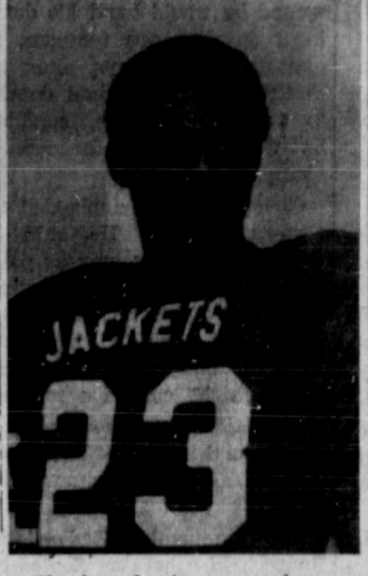

Always keep a safe distance between your car and the one in front. At least ten feet should be allowed between cars for every ten miles an hour of travel speed. If you drive any closer you might come to a dead end.

That last one for the road might be your last one period if you decide to drive after drinking. Make your last one a cup of coffee or else let someone else do the driving.

Highlights and Sidelights
From Your State Capitol
By BILL BOYKIN
Texas Press Association

The State Legislative Redistricting Board, ordered by the Supreme Court to reappoint the House of Representatives as well as the Senate, is in the process of writing its bill under deadline pressure.

Finding of the Court that the Board should take over the unfinished legislative reappointment task was doubly significant.

Aside from setting a precedent as to responsibility of drawing new district lines, the decision eliminated the necessity of an early special legislative session. This pleased both House Speaker Gus Mutscher and Gov. Preston Smith.

Mutscher, under bribery indictment, escaped an early showdown with legislators who want to force him to step down as speaker and replace him with another.

Although speculation was widespread he would hand his duties to a speaker pro tempore, he announced four days after the Court's decision he had decided to stay on the job, confident he will be found innocent of charges.

Governor Smith applauded the Court's decision. He said he wants to wait "as long as possible" to call a special session on budget matters so the Legislature will have full advantage of data on available revenue which might curb the tax bill.

Indications are there will be no special session now until June, 1972, after the primary elections.

The five-member Redistricting Board held a hearing September 30 and heard only testimony of Big-city residents debating the merits of single-member vs. multi-member (or countywide) House districts.

Apparently, the Board is divided two-and-two, with Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin undecided on the metropolitan district issue. Whichever way it rules, another lawsuit challenging the decision seems likely. The Board has only until October 23 to complete its work.

GOVERNOR'S RACE WARMS—There is official competition in the governor's race with the entry of Uvalde rancher and banker Dolph Briscoe. Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes announced last June he would run.

Briscoe made clear the stock-loan scandals (which resulted in three statehouse indictments September 23) will be a major issue in his campaign.

He focused attention on quick passage by the Senate of the same bank deposit insurance bills which figured in the indictments of Mutscher, Rep. Tommy Shannon of Fort Worth and S. Rush McGinty of Austin. And, he maintained, Barnes "helped push them (the bills) through the Senate."

Barnes declined to reply. He said there will be "plenty of time to set the facts straight" within the next seven months before the election.

Briscoe also emphasized need for innovations in mass transportation and further environmental protections.

ETHICS COMMISSION COMPLETE—A new Ethics Commission behavior of public officials is now complete, though top state judges have expressed doubt as to its effectiveness.

Three members elected by the Senate are Sens. A. M. Aiken of Paris, Charles Herring of Austin and Oscar Mauzy of Dallas. House members elected Reps. John F. Boyle Jr. of Irving, Clyde Haynes Jr. of Vidor and James E. Nugent of Kerrville.

Court of Criminal Appeals Presiding Judge John F. Onion Jr. appointed Rabbi David Jacobson of San Antonio and University of Texas Law Professor John Sutton Jr. of Austin.

Supreme Court Chief Justice Robert W. Calvert earlier designated Baylor University Law Professor Mrs. Margaret Harris Amsler and Houston Attorney Alf Roark.

First Court of Civil Appeals Chief Justice Spurgeon Bell picked Dallas Attorney J. W. Haskell Jr. and retired Houston newspaperman William H. Gardner, now of Austin, for the Judicial Qualifications Commission.

QUAIL SEASON EXTENDED—Enlarged Parks and Wildlife Commission voted to extend the closing date of quail season statewide to February 15. Action provided two additional weeks for most counties, but in some areas the season is still two weeks shorter than last year.

At the same meeting, the Commission voted unanimously to reopen the Canadian River bed to free public hunting under an attorney general's ruling of September 16.

AG OPINIONS—Texas Air Control Board must keep "confidential information" label on data it collects in investigation of air pollution matters where parties insist, Attorney General Martin has held.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded: In proceedings in eminent domain in Cass County, petitions should be filed with the Fifth district judge, and he will appoint special commissioners, receive awards and enter judgments.

Deer hunting with dogs is lawful in San Augustine County during open season provided in a 1971 game bill.

Laws requiring additional water safety equipment on boats and specifying that children 12 or under aboard motorboats must wear life preservers should be enforced.

Texas Optometry Board may use written exams made available by international associations if they meet state requirements.

State Comptroller can require proof of authorization for Parks-Wildlife Department employees so sign vouchers in reference to deposit, expenditure and investment of department funds in the state treasury.

Fifty dollar license fee for mobile home manufacturers is no longer required to be paid to Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Compost Pile Should Be Started Now

Fall is here once again and home gardeners will want to begin work on a compost pile, suggests County Agricultural Agent Ronald Gooch.

Compost is a good soil conditioner as it improves the soil's water holding capacity, supplies organic matter, helps to retain soil moisture and aids in keeping soil temperature at desirable levels.

A compost bed may be constructed out of scrap or rough lumber or with net wire. The enclosure should be large enough to hold the raw material needed to supply next year's compost needs, advises Gooch.

Tree leaves are beginning to fall and are cluttering up the lawn and flower beds and creating a disposal problem. You can improve environmental conditions by using them for compost.

The county agent suggests this procedure in building a compost pile. Place leaves, grass clippings and other healthy plant material from flower and vegetable gardens in the compost heap. As you put down a layer of material, sprinkle it with a complete fertilizer before adding another layer. The fertilizer will add plant food to the mixture and will also speed up decomposition.

Since moisture is needed for the decomposition process, the heap should be sprinkled with water to keep it moist when rainfall is not sufficient to do the job. By next spring you have the needed material for mulching flower beds.

Bronchos Downed By Wildcats 19-13

The Clarendon Bronchos suffered another defeat Friday night by an aggressive Canadian Wildcat team at Canadian 19-13.

The Wildcats got the edge on the Bronchos by scoring in the first, second and 4th quarters and staved off a Bronco concentrated effort in the fourth frame.

Broncho scoring came in the second quarter when fullback Tommy Shields went around left end for 4 yards and 6 points and in the final quarter when Elray King scored from the 1 1/2 yard line. Lindley's kick was good for the first but the second extra point try failed.

The Bronchos gained 168 yards rushing to Canadian's 197 and in the total yards gained, the Bronchos had 182 to Canadian's 339. The Wildcats racked 142 yards passing to 14 for the locals which accounted for the big difference.

According to the statistics, the Bronchos were outplayed in every department which should be an incentive for them to correct their mistakes and be ready for the Stinnett Rattlers in their homecoming game here Friday night.

Banks To Observe Public Holidays

The Congress of the United States and the Texas Legislature have designated the second and fourth Mondays in October as public holidays on which all state and federal offices and all banks in Texas must close, according to Oscar Lindemann of Dallas, President of the Texas Bankers Association.

The traditional Columbus Day of October 12 and Veterans Day of November 11 were changed several years ago by Congress and the Texas Legislature to the second and fourth Mondays in October. 1971 will be the first year, October 11 and October 25, respectively in which these new Monday public holidays will be observed.

Both dates were declared mandatory bank holidays by the Texas Legislature so that Texas laws would conform with the laws of the federal government and a majority of other states, Lindemann said.

WTSU BUFFS TAKE ON ARLINGTON SAT. NITE

The Buffalos of West Texas State University take on the Texans at Arlington Rebels at Buffalo Bowl Saturday night, October 9. Game time is 8 p.m.

The Buffs are gaining strength each week and this past Saturday night came near to upsetting the strong Tulsa Golden Hurricane. The Buffs were taken off guard on the first play of the game when Tulsa returned the kick-off 98 yards to score. In the fourth quarter the Buffs came alive and began their drive but were not able to bring off the upset that late in the game.

The night was ideal for football. Plan to attend this week's game in Buffalo Bowl. Tickets may be purchased from Joe Lovell at the Farmers State Bank or at the gate.

County Committee Election

An election of committeemen will be held on December 1, with the new committeemen to take office on January 1, 1972. A change has been made in the community boundaries in the county. For several years we have had eight communities—A through H—in the county. Beginning in 1972, we will have only one community. The county committee will be the community committee; therefore, when the ballot comes to you, you will be voting directly for one county committeeman for a three year term and two alternates to serve one year each.

Blank nominating petition forms and instructions for nomination by petition were mailed with the September newsletter. If there is someone whose name you would like to have on the ballot, place their name on the nominating petition and get three eligible voters to sign. Be sure the petition is returned to us before October 27.

Cotton Loans

Cotton loans will be available to cotton producers through the ASCS Office as in the past. There are no approved cotton loan clerks outside this office. Loans will be disbursed by us and custody of the warehouse receipts will be maintained here. The basic loan rate for mid. one-inch cotton is .1500.

Holiday

This office will be closed Monday October 11 for a legal holiday.

HOW LONG DID IT TAKE YOU TO COURT YOUR WIFE?

Did you happen to see her . . . walk up to her . . . ask her to marry you . . . call in the minister . . . right on the spot?

Certainly Not

It probably took a lot of calls and trips, movies, flowers, candies, and a lot of putting your-best-foot-forward tactics. You had to sell yourself. She had to know all about you.
