FHA Helps Improve Rural Economy

The rural economies of Armstrong, Donley, and Gray Counties are stronger because loans from the Farmers Home Administration have helped 67 farmers finance real estate or operating expenses during the fiscal year ended July 1, 1971, Robert A. Keown, county supervisor of Farmers Home Administration said today.

These loan program supervised by the rural credit arm of the U. S. Department of Agriculture will be repaid, with interest, Mr. Keown said.

The farmer programs are one part of a three-point attack on rural problems by the Farmers Home. The other two, also operating in this three-county unit, include loans for home ownership and for water and sewer systems.

During the past year 11 families have secured rural housing loans and a rural rental housing project will provide modern new housing for six families with low or moderate income.

The agency's wide range of services added $807,890 to resources available for housing, farming and community facilities for last year. At year's end, the outstanding loan total in the three counties was providing direct benefits to a record 205 individual families in the area. In addition, 409 families were served by association loans for a water system, recreation, and grazing.

Farmers Home Administration loan services are extended in Armstrong, Gray, and Donley Counties through a system of four local county offices, located in Claude, Clarendon, Pampa, and McLean. Housing loans are made for homes in the rural countryside and rural towns of more than 10,000 population. Community facility projects may serve rural towns of not more than 5,000.

Free Auto Plates For Disabled Vets

Details of a new program which will provide free 1972 automobile license plates to some disabled veterans were revealed today by the Texas Highway Department.

The program was set up by an act of the 62nd Legislature.

To qualify, an applicant must:

- Be a Texas resident;
- Be a veteran of the armed forces of the United States;
- Have a disability rating of 70 per cent or more;

Be drawing compensation from the federal government as the result of service-connected disability.

A qualified veteran is entitled to register one passenger car or light commercial vehicle with a manufacturer's rated carrying capacity of one ton or less for his own use without paying the prescribed registration fee. There is a fee of $1 which must accompany each application.

Specially designed license plates will be issued with the letters "DV" appearing as either a prefix or suffix to the license number. The words "Disabled Vet" also will appear on the plates.

Vehicles with Disabled Vet plates will be exempt from paying parking fees charged by any governmental authority other than the federal government. This includes parking meters.

The license plates will not be available until the beginning of the 1972 registration year. The law provides that the disabled veteran must make application by October 1 preceding the registration year for which the plates are requested.

All Disabled Vet plates will be issued directly from the Motor Vehicle Division of the Texas Highway Department in Austin. As a prerequisite, the veteran's disability rating must be verified by the Veteran's Administration or the branch of the armed forces from which he draws his disability compensation.

Also, the Texas title to the vehicle must be issued in the name of the veteran.

Application forms and instructions may be secured from the Texas Highway Department, Motor Vehicle Division, 40th and Jackson Avenue, Austin, Texas 78703.

The forms also will be available from Motor Vehicle Division district offices in Houston, San Antonio, Corpus Christi, Port Arthur, El Paso, Fort Worth, Dallas, Lubbock, Amarillo and Longview, as well as county tax offices; county veteran service officers; American Legion headquarters in Austin and Veterans of Foreign Wars headquarters in Austin.

Weather Remains Hot And Dry Over Area

The month of July started out in a real nice manner as far as the weather is concerned with a nice 1.04 rain during the early hours of the 1st. Since that time, a beaming, hot sun has taken over and 100 degrees or better has been recorded every day July 5th thru July 14 and more is in store for residents of this area.

A high of 104 degrees has been recorded during the period and the nights have remained around 70 degrees or so which has made it necessary to run air conditioners around the clock. Breezy days have helped the sun pull precious moisture out of the ground and crops are certainly needing a good rain. The weather bureau offers a possibility of moisture later this week. Our total moisture so far for the year is 6.87 here in town.

HS Football Magazine For West Texas Now Available Here

For the second year, a magazine devoted entirely to high school football in the West Texas area has been released. The magazine, "West Texas Football" is a colorful, comprehensive preview of the fast-approaching football season and covers 150 area teams in all 4 classifications.

Compiled by the leading sports-writers in the area, "West Texas High School Football" is edited by Carlton Stovers, formerly of the Amarillo Globe-Times and current biographer of Randy Matson. In its 176 pages, the magazine presents an in-depth view of all the teams in 26 districts, from A to AAAA. Schedules, results, and several pictures accompany each story.

In addition, feature articles highlight the Super Seniors from across the area, Coaches Jim Carlen of Tech and Gene Mayfield of WT, Darrell Royal's West Texas-oriented coaching staff, and the drama of recruiting a blue-chip scholarship player. The colorful cover photo commemorates Brownwood's Gordon Wood as Coach of the Year. An exclusive interview with Coach Wood lends insight into the winning ways of Texas' most successful high school mentor.

Praised by coaches, players, and fans as the best publication of its kind in the state, WTHSF is unique in its method of distribution and is not to be confused with Dave Campbell's "Texas Football". Rather than appearing on news-stands, the magazine is sold locally by a school club. In Clarendon, the magazine is being sold by the Broncho Booster Club.

The magazine sells for $1.60 per copy, tax included. Of this, the Booster Club gets 75c for each copy sold. It is a high-quality product which the club takes pride in selling. Also important is the fact that nearly one-half of the price remains within Clarendon.

Certainly "West Texas High School Football" is a vital addition to the total community. Support for the team is heightened and the fan has a handy guide to all the action.

You can get your copy at one of several distribution points to be set up in the downtown area by Club members. Your support will certainly be appreciated, says Club President, Dub Tyler.

STRINGING BASS

Many anglers string their bass through both jaws, considering this the proper method.

A bass should not, ordinarily, be strung in such a manner. It prevents the critter from catching his breath, causing him to die sooner.

String through his lower jaw only, especially if your stringer is of the chain-snap variety.

An exception is when you are trolling slowly, with the stringer in the water. Then you want to string through both lips to help keep his mouth closed . . . and prevent his drowning.

Yes, a fish will drown, if he can't expel the water through his gills almost as fast as he takes it in through his mouth.

Miss Trudy Reed Weds Lt. Charles Smith

In a candlelight ceremony solemnized Saturday, July 10, 1971 in the First United Methodist Church, Clarendon, Texas, Miss Trudy Kay Reed became the bride of Lieutenant Charles Owen Smith, United States Army.

Miss Reed is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Hillis of Clarendon. Lieutenant Smith is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Smith of White Deer, Texas.

Reverend Milton Jochetz read the double ring ceremony before the altar decorated with candles flanked by baskets of white gladioli. Pews were accented with yellow and white ribbon. Candles were lighted by George Don Hillis, Jr., brother of the bride, and Paul Dennis Hart, cousin of the bride.

Pre-nuptial selections were presented by Mrs. Pat Glass, organist, who also played the traditional wedding marches. Paul Hancock, minister, sang the theme from "Love Story" and "One Hand, One Heart."

Inclusion was attached to leaves and seeded pearls and lace which framed the bride's face. She carried a bouquet of pom poms, carnations, and English ivy accented with baby's breath and streamers tied in love knots.

The bride observed all of the traditions of something old, new, borrowed, blue, and a sixpence in the shoe. As something old she wore a diamond lavalere given by her grandfather, J. E. Ryan, to her grandmother in 1911.

Mrs. Kelly Adkins of Lubbock attended the bride as matron of honor. Bridesmaid and junior bridesmaid were, respectively, Mrs. Bill Crockett and Miss Penny Maurice Hart, cousin of the bride. They wore identical formal dresses fashioned of sheer yellow and white cotton dotted swiss over yellow cotton designed with Empire bodice and short puffed sleeves and carried cascade bouquets of yellow daisies and English ivy with yellow and white ribbon trim.

Gary Lynn Smith, brother of the groom, was best man, and groomsmen were Monty Dave Hawpe of White Deer and Eddie Scott Jones of Shawnee, Oklahoma. Ushers were Monty Hawpe of White Deer, Monty Reed of

Mrs. Charles Smith—nee Miss Trudy Reed

Clarendon, brother of the bride, Philip Hart of Texarkana, cousin of the bride, and Lieutenant James Edwards of San Antonio.

Mrs. Hillis chose for her daughter's wedding a knit dress of rose and white accented by bone accessories and a pink orchid corsage. Mrs. Smith, mother of the groom, wore an aqua lace dress with matching accessories and a white orchid.

Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Don Hillis were hosts for a reception at their home.

The bride's table was laid with a white linen cloth. Appointed with crystal, the table was centered with an arrangement of daisies and baby's breath. The yellow and white wedding cake was topped with wedding bells.

Members of the houseparty included Mrs. Phil Hart, Miss Cindy Hommel, Mrs. Jimmy Roberts, Mrs. E. B. Gibson, and Mrs. J. H. Spier, Jr.

For a wedding trip to New Orleans, Louisiana, the bride chose for traveling, a pink pant suit with white and straw accessories and the corsage of carnations lifted from her bridal bouquet.

Mrs. Smith is a graduate of Clarendon High School and the University of Texas, Austin, where she was a member of Phi Gamma Nu, Beta Alpha Psi, and Beta Gamma Sigma. Recently she has been employed by Main, Laurentz, and Co., a CPA firm in New York City. Lieutenant Smith is a graduate of White Deer High School and the United States Military Academy at West Point, New York. He also attended New Mexico Military Institute at Roswell, New Mexico.

Upon their return from their wedding trip, Lieutenant and Mrs. Smith will be at home at Ft. Benning, Georgia for training prior to being stationed with the 1st Armor Division, U. S. Army in southern Germany.

Members of the wedding party were guests at a rehearsal dinner Friday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Smith at White Deer.

Accent On Health FOOD POISONING

Proper processing, preparation and handling of foods could virtually wipe out one of man's most common enemies — food poisoning — says the Texas State Department of Health.

Each year in Texas many people are poisoned by their own hands through improper canning of foodstuffs. With summer upon us and a plentiful supply of fresh fruits and vegetables available, now is the time to look at canning procedures.

It has been reported by health authorities that over 62 per cent of food poisoning cases in California were due to home canned string beans, asparagus, fruits, and other vegetables. Another 24 per cent of home canning and freezing done in Texas, you can see why officials of the Texas State Department of Health are concerned about the possible occurrence of this potentially fatal disease.

Food poisoning, or "botulism," is caused by a deadly poison produced by a germ that is very resistant to heat and cold and can grow without air. The vast majority of reported cases of botulism have been due to eating improperly processed home-canned foods.

Studies on the heat resistance of the spores of the botulism germ prove that home canning by the cold pack method, which is still widely used in Texas, is extremely dangerous. The pressure cooker method should be used for canning instead.

The disagreeable odor evident with spoiled food is not a sure-fire way to detect food poisoning. Many canned foods may be free of obnoxious odor and may appear in good condition, but could contain organisms of botulism. The spoiled odor is usually associated with non-acid foods such as vegetables.

Nausea and vomiting usually occur within 24 hours. Diarrhea may occur early, but in the later stages of the disease, constipation is present. Death can occur due to respiratory failure.

It is usually wise to boil all home canned foods for at least 30 minutes before eating. This is particularly true when the pressure cooker has not been used.

Texas Health Department officials say that proper preparation of all foods could make botulism a thing of the past.

"Accent on Health" is a weekly service of the Public Health Education Division of the Texas State Department of Health.

Glass Trends In Home Building

The 70's have brought about an explosion in home designing — especially with glass, says Jan Slabaugh, Extension housing and home furnishings specialist.

Proof that a house can be open to beauty, the newest designs feature extensive applications of glass enhancing and extending the living areas to a walled-in or fenced-in patio.

One exciting innovation is the patio kitchen, a design in which the counters face outward and extend through the window wall, Mrs. Slabaugh reports.

Another idea is the garden bath, where bath and garden are separated only by a wall of glass. For this application, the specialist recommends safety glass.

An entrance door flanked with glass on both sides, called the open foyer, provides a natural transition from outdoors to indoors.

Or, consider the cathedral ceiling. Vaulted windows used in this design add horizontal spaciousness to a room, she explains.

To use more glass in home designing, many builders are enclosing the entire lot behind a perimeter wall. The wall provides privacy in a limited space, and permits extension of popular indoor-outdoor leisure living, Mrs. Slabaugh says.

Community Property And Your Income Tax

It's not any news to Texans that folks in Texas are different and that the laws may also be different. There are still a lot of Texans around that don't know about the effect of the Texas Community Property Law on their Federal income tax. Retired Texans can often get a substantial tax saving through having a double retirement income credit on their tax return. On the other hand they may also lose their retirement income credit through the community half of the income earned by their spouse. You can get Publication 555 from Internal Revenue Service office. This publication tells you how community property affects you.

My politically sensitive office holder says that he wishes his constituents had fewer wants and better memories. . . Most of them keep wanting him to do things favors on the todays and tomorrows and seem plumb forgetful about the good things that he did for them on several yesterdays.

Doing what is right can be pretty hard in the first place, but when we do that which is wrong living with ourselves can be mighty hard later on.

The fellow who decides to just stand still and not rock life's boat is likely already slipping in the wrong direction.

If we let the whole world know about our business some smart aleck will be coming along that will try to run it.

Social Security

Q—I am receiving social security benefits, and am returning to work. Do I need to report this?

A—If your earnings for the year will amount to more than $1680 you will need to report this to your local social security office. Call them for assistance in completing the necessary reports to stop or adjust your monthly benefits.

Q—My husband has been dead for two years. I am 57 years old, and am unable to work. Can I draw any of his social security now?

A—You may be able to qualify for "disabled" widow's benefits. You should go to your nearest social security office as soon as possible to file a claim. Take along your husband's social security card, your own social security card, some proof of your age, and the names and addresses of doctors and hospitals that have treated you for your condition.

Q—I am 68 years old and totally disabled. Can I receive social security disability payments?

A—No. Disability payments are paid only to workers under age 65.

Q—My wife and I are separated but not divorced. Is she eligible for wife's benefits on my social security?

—Yes. A legal wife is eligible for benefits and separation would not preclude payment of checks.

Q—I have my own business. When I applied for my retirement insurance not long ago, your representative said there was an error in the amount of net earnings reported by me, and he says I am entitled to a tax refund. Can you explain that?

A—You failed to state all of your business expenses on the self-employment part of your income tax return. We are required to reduce the reported net income by the amount of unclaimed expenses in figuring your average earnings to determine the amount of your social security benefit. Since you overstated your net earnings, you overpaid your tax, and a refund or adjustment is in order.

Q—I understand that social security cannot be paid for the first six months of a worker's disability. Why is that?

A—Disability benefits are payable only when a worker's inability to work will be of long continued duration. Disability benefits are not paid for a temporary or partial disability. The six month waiting period allows for an evaluation of the worker's condition in order to determine the extent of his impairment and whether his disability can be expected to last not less than 12 months as provided by law.

Q—My mother is 58 years old and divorced from my father. Can she get social security benefits on my father's record? He is receiving social security benefits.

A—No. A divorced wife must be at least age 62 to get benefits. She also must have been married to him not less than 20 years before the date of the divorce, and she must have been dependent on her ex-husband (received one-half of her support from him, or have a court order or written agreement for support) at the time he became entitled to benefits.

Highlights and Sidelights From Your State Capitol

AUSTIN, Tex. — The 1972 political campaigns already are beginning to shape up — 11 months before primary election dates.

William P. Hobby, president and executive editor of the Houston Post, is the first announced candidate for lieutenant governor. State Sen. Ralph Hall of Rockwell is expected to enter the race soon.

Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes is seeking advice of supporters on how he should run his race for governor. Barnes announced last month he will be a candidate, and has been busy traveling most of the time since.

Uvalde rancher - banker Dolph Briscoe moved quietly ahead with plans for a gubernatorial campaign in spite of Barnes' early entry. Briscoe reportedly has a preliminary campaign event (a youth rally) scheduled for Uvalde July 23-24.

Gov. Preston Smith keeps hinting he may seek a third term, and a lot of folks are convinced he means it.

Former Sen. Ralph Yarborough says frankly he is considering running either for governor or the U. S. Senate. Republican Sen. John Tower has no hope of escaping Democratic opposition in a re-election campaign. Others mentioned as possible Democratic opponents for Tower include Land Commissioner Bob Armstrong, State Sen. Joe Christie of El Paso and Houston attorney John L. Hill.

Top Democrats cite the need for a strong united party effort, particularly for the November presidential campaign, convention nominations battles and the U. S. Senate race. That's why they are keeping a close eye on naming a successor to State Democratic Chairman Dr. Elmer C. Baum of Austin.

Baum denied a published report he already had resigned but didn't rule out the possibility he may step aside soon. Two aides to the Governor have been working on selection of a replacement chairman.

COURTS SPEAK — Texas Supreme Court overturned a lower court decision that a Tarrant County charitable institution (YMCA) is not liable for damages to a boy who lost an eye in a camp accident, and ordered a new trial.

In other recent actions, the High Court:

Directed Austin trial court not to issue any more orders to prevent service by the new Southwest Airlines between San Antonio, Houston and Dallas.

Held Fort Worth and Waco prosecutors must go ahead with pending cases involving Sunday closing laws before they file any more injunction suits.

Sent back to intermediate court for further consideration a Zavala County widow's suit against a butane gas supplier as the result of the accidental death of her husband in an explosion and fire.

Set a July 21 hearing in Humble Oil and Refining Company's appeal from lower court findings that it must pay to the state $92,788 in taxes on oil taken from lease on Corpus Christi Naval Air Station, federal property.

Set a July 21 hearing in a case involving whether corporations can claim exemption from the penalty provision of state security sale laws. Two Lubbock men brought the case.

Held Exchange Bank and Trust Company of Dallas must pay to a construction concern $25,275 on forged company checks which it cashed by mistake.

APPOINTMENTS — Governor Smith named Secretary of State Martin Dies Jr. of Lubbock chief justice of the Ninth Court of Civil Appeals in Beaumont. Appointment removed Dies from speculation as a possible candidate for U. S. senator, lieutenant governor or congressman.

Smith appointed former State Rep. Jack Ray McLaughlin of Fort Worth as commissioner of labor statistics, succeeding Tommy V. Smith.

Other Smith appointees during the past week include Bowie County Criminal District Attorney Guy E. Jones of Texarkana as judge of the new 202nd district court; N. L. Cooksey of Texarkana as criminal district attorney succeeding Jones in Bowie County; William Kenneth Thurmond of Fort Worth and Dr. Charles Max Cole of Dallas (re-appointed) to State Board of Health.

Curtis C. Gunn of San Antonio and Jack C. McKenzie of Corpus Christi are chairman and vice-chairman of the new Texas Motor Vehicle Commission to police auto dealers. Other members are H. G. Andrews Jr. of Stamford, Dick McClain of Houston, Fenner Tubbs Sr. of Lubbock and W. O. Bankston of Dallas.

Richard Keahey, native of San Angelo, was appointed executive director of Texas Veterans Land Program succeeding W. W. Glass who held the job eight years.

Jack Banner of Wichita Falls, Robert L. Templeton of Amarillo and Morgan K. Talbot of McAllen are chairman, vice-chairman and secretary of Texas Bar Foundation.

BANK DEPOSITS, INTEREST UP — A recent statewide survey showed bank deposits steadily increasing — some to record levels at mid-year.

Mid year records are considered unusual, and the boom is regarded as proof of the basic economic strength in spite of drought, unemployment and other problems.

At the same time, major Texas banks went along with eastern institutions and raised prime interest rates. Increase was from 5.5 per cent to six per cent for prime loans to quality borrowers.

Eastern banks also raised interest rates on time accounts which may attract even more deposits in savings accounts in the next quarter of 1971.

SAFETY PROGRAM STEPPED UP — Governor Smith approved three Texas Alcohol Safety Action projects designed to control abusive drinker-drivers, regarded as the number one traffic safety menace in Texas.

Applications went to National Highway Traffic Safety Administration for federal funding approval.

Projects are in Harris County ($311,200); Dallas ($239,300) and Central Texas (Bell, Coryell, Hamilton, Lampasas, Milam, and Mills counties, $300,700).

Aim is to identify problem drinker-drivers, apply a variety of possible solutions and evaluate results as to the overall effectiveness.

GAME FISH RULES CHANGED — Ten county commissioners courts have voted to amend 1971-72 game and fish regulations proposed by Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission.

Legislature this year authorized five more counties to reject proclamations passed by PWC. Similar authority had been given 18 counties, subject to vote of commissioners courts.

Ten counties which disapproved portions of proclamations are Edwards, Dimmitt, Hays, Kendall, Kimble, Medina, Real, Robertson, Sutton and Uvalde. Bandera, Coke, Crockett, Frio, Kerr, Kinney, Lampasas, Menard, Reagan, San Saba, Schleicher, Val Verde and Zavala counties approved laws as submitted.

BANKING BOARD TO MEET — State Banking Board scheduled a Thursday (July 15) meeting to consider dates for hearings on 56 new state bank charter applications.

Board also will consider new rules and regulations in accord with recent legislation, charter applications which may be ready for vote, and requests by banks for changes in business locations. Meeting will be the first since Dr. Elmer Baum resigned last May. James Lindsey of College Station was named to the Board to succeed Baum.

Law Changes Should Interest Hunters

There are some important new "do's and don'ts" for the Texas hunter.

The Parks and Wildlife Commission has enacted several statewide changes, and the 62nd Legislature added numerous other modifications to existing hunting laws.

Two of the new changes might be considered "liberalizations" of present laws — but they still carry certain limitations. One allows the removal of shotgun plugs to give the hunter more than three shots in succession.

However, the three-shot limit will still apply to migratory birds. These include ducks, geese and doves.

So if a hunter's main targets are doves or waterfowl, it probably wouldn't be worth his money to have a gunsmith remove the plug.

The other change allows hunting from cars. But this does not mean that hunters are allowed to shoot from public roads, rights-of-way or other prohibited areas.

Hunters may shoot native game animals and birds from a car or private property, but they aren't allowed to take migratory birds with this hunting method.

Hunting from aircraft is prohibited by a provision of this law.

One legislative bill makes it unlawful to take deer, elk, antelope, wild mottled sheep and wild desert bighorn sheep with .22-caliber jet gun and rocket gun in general law counties. This change, in effect, makes this prohibition statewide, as the two cartridges already were outlawed in counties now under the department's regulatory authority.

Some of the changes doubtless won't affect the average sportsman. One of these is a law prohibiting the shooting or taking of wild turkeys from the roost. Most hunters avoid molesting the birds' roosting sites, and landowners usually try to protect them.

Another change repeals the requirement that a permit be obtained from the Parks and Wildlife Department before killing a buffalo (bison). This change was prompted by the feeling that all the buffaloes in the state are actually domesticated and confined to fenced enclosures.

All the changes in game laws will be compiled in the department's annual Hunting Guide, which should be available to hunters before the 971 hunting seasons get underway.

A careful check of regulations in the particular area to be hunted is always a good procedure for any sportsman who wants to make the most of his hunting trip.

Social Security

Q—I am a working mother and would like to know whether my children under age 18 would receive benefits on my record in the event of my death or disability?

A—Children now receive the same protection on their mother's record as on that of the father. In the event of your death or disability the children would be eligible for benefits if you had worked the required length of time in employment covered by social security.

Q—What is the most amount of work a person would need to be eligible for social security?

A—Anyone who has at least 40 quarters (10 years) of work under social security is fully insured and would be protected in the event of retirement or death for at least a minimum payment.

Q—I lost my social security card. How can I get a replacement?

A—Any social security office or post office can furnish you with the necessary application form SS-5 in order to obtain a duplicate card.

Q—How can I find out how much credit I have on my social security record?

A—The social security office has a postcard form OAA-N-7004 which you may complete and mail to the central office, Baltimore, Maryland. That office will mail you a transcript of your earnings under social security.

OUTDOORS in TEXAS

By Vern Sanford

In this era of booming outdoors adventures, newspapers weeklies as well as dailies—seek good photographs of their readers and their outstanding catches. Editors are just as anxious as the hunters or fishermen to see these pictures printed.

Unfortunately, a goodly number of such photos, often taken of truly outstanding fish or game, are rejected. In most instances rejection was due to the poor quality of the pictures.

Most newspapers prefer photos taken by their own staff photographers. But fishing and hunting are sports of unusual hours, to say the least, so staff photos are impractical. Outdoorsmen, proud of their trophy fish and game, usually have a buddy take a pic of them or have a commercial photographer do the job.

Problem with many commercial photographers is that they usually don't have prints ready for a week, perhaps even longer, unless a premium fee is paid. Unfortunately, the news value of a picture lessens with the passage of each day.

The buddy-snapped photo, rushed to the corner drug store, can be back in your hands in 24 to 36 hours. This is not enough time loss to kill the news value of the picture. Even so, the photo may still be rejected.

Usually the reason for rejection is the matter of a photo lacking contrast, being out of focus, or being taken from too great a distance.

If you have a buddy take the picture, keep the following points in mind:

1. Have him move in close so that you and your trophy fill the view finder on the camera. Too much background and extraneous scenery only detract.
2. Have him focus the camera sharply. If the camera is a fixed-focus model, step off a distance of about nine or 10 feet and you will be in reasonably good focus.

3. Avoid cluttered backgrounds. Preferably use a cloudy sky or water.
4. Trophy catches and kills usually come once in a lifetime. Treat the occasion as such by keeping in mind that film is expensive. To be sure, shoot up the whole roll of film at different exposures. Better still, make it two rolls . . . at different distances, with different exposures (both lens openings and shutter speeds).
5. When you take the picture to the newspaper office, take the negatives, too. A good newspaper photographer often can do some "doctoring" in the darkroom and come up with a print that's excellent for publication.

Deer Transmitters Tell Grisly Tales

A newborn fawn has it tough—and electronic transmitters are telling biologists just how tough it is for some of them.

The transmitter collars are placed on young white-tailed deer in order to determine their movements. Sometimes, though, the movement is brief before disaster strikes.

A Texas Parks and Wildlife biologist in Gonzales County retrieved one transmitter from the remains of a fawn which apparently had been killed and stashed in a brushpile by a bobcat — the signals still were coming from the collar.

All that was left of the fawn was its head, legs and the transmitter.

Another "wired" fawn which apparently drowned in a creek was dragged out of the water and consumed by coyotes. Biologists found only a tuft of their hair and a very reliable transmitter which was still working.

More than 39 per cent of all traffic fatalities in 1970 were due to excessive speed. Speeding accounted for 17,700 persons killed and 988,000 injured.

Narrow-Row Cotton Uses Water Efficiently

Studies on the utilization of soil water show that cotton planted in narrow rows is the most efficient.

Yields from field tests at the Deltapine Farm east of Lubbock point to a significant difference between row spacings, reports Dr. Charles Wendt, associate professor at the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center who conducted the study. Cotton drilled in 10-inch spacings yielded 928 pounds of lint per acre compared to 687 pounds for double-row and 454 pounds for single row cotton on a 40-inch bed.

Varieties planted on the Amarillo fine sandy loam soil for the 1970 tests included Deltapine 16, Paymaster Dwarf, Rilco 90, Deltapine Experimental Strain 6311-46652 and Texas Agricultural Experiment Station Experimental Strains CA-971-86-3 and CA-491-69-1. All were planted on May 15 and 16 on 40-inch beds with spacings of single rows, double rows and four rows 10 inches apart.

According to Wendt, the cotton was irrigated on July 15 and August 7 and received no appreciable precipitation during the growing season. Soil water extraction by the crop was determined with a neutron probe during the periods July 18-August 4 and August 11-September 4.

In general, the amount of soil water used increased as row spacings increased, points out Wendt. However, the amount of water in the soil was also higher as row spacings increased since there was some difficulty in irrigating the drilled cotton.

There was no difference in the ability of the different varieties to obtain water from down to four feet in the soil.

The various varieties and strains showed little difference in the amount of soil water extracted in a particular row spacing with the exception of the two Experiment Stations strains. Less water was extracted by these "CA" varieties in the drilled rows. Wendt says this was due to differences in plant populations. The other varieties and strains had populations greater than 200,000 plants per acre. Although all seeding rates were the same, the poor seed quality of the "CA" varieties accounted for the smaller populations.

The one-year study shows that cotton planted in close row spacings can use water throughout a four-foot deep soil profile, points out Wendt. The crop can extract four to four-and-a-half inches of water from a saturated soil profile. If irrigation water is available, current varieties can be grown in narrow rows to increase yields without affecting fiber properties.

The Soil Conservation District Supervisor is somebody very special. We who are well-fed and well-clothed and who see opportunity spread out before us for ourselves and our children are forever indebted to him.—Hollis Williams.
