BILLY AND PHILLIE ROSS, owners of Okie Bill's Trading Post in Lelia Lake.

Okie Bill's Trading Post- A new business

Billy and Phillie Ross have opened a grocery store and trading post in Lelia Lake. The grocery store is located in the building which has served the community for many years as a fruit stand on the west end of Lelia Lake. They have named their business Okie Bill's Trading Post.

They carry just about everything that a big grocery store might, except not as many different lines. The store is well stocked for a small store. Lelia Lake citizens will be glad to know that they no longer have to run 14 miles into Clarendon or Hedley for milk, bread and other groceries they might discover they are out of while fixing dinner. They also carry a nice selection of gifts, some made by local residents. They will have fruit and vegetables in season. Billy said, "We will sell anything you have on consignment. We have approximately 150 feet beside the store to park such items as trailer houses, farm equipment or whatever you might have to sell."

Billy and Phillie have traveled all over the country in the construction business. He was in the paving business, putting up metal buildings and construction in general. Billy's father was in the construction business and after he was discharged from Korean War, he worked for his dad then branched out on his own. During the oil crisis, the paving business got out of line. Small cities could no longer afford to pave their streets. "At first, oil companies would give us their waste oil to haul it off. They started charging 5 or 6 cents a gallon. The last I bought I had to pay $1.66 a gallon, so I got out of the business," Billy stated.

After that, Billy bought and sold trailer houses. They started looking for a place to start a business. They drove up and down all the major highways from Wichita Falls throughout the Panhandle and decided on Lelia Lake. Billy said, "We do not know many people, but the people we have met are really nice. We appreciate anyone coming by, even to visit...I feel more lonely than the Maytag repairman on TV."

Donley County Ministerial Alliance

by REV. PAUL HEIL

I would like to share with the people of Donley County the needs that the Ministerial Alliance has at the present time. The Ministerial Alliance has been funded in the past by budgets of the various churches that are members of the Alliance. These are the First United Methodist Church, Presbyterian Church, St. John the Baptist Episcopal Church, the Assembly of God Church, Church of the Nazarene, and First Baptist Church. The other churches not mentioned here do not belong to the Ministerial Alliance. They have their own separate relief fund, and both funds, ours and theirs, certainly take care of the needs of the people coming through our town as well as people here in our own community.

The Donley County Ministerial Alliance did have two services a year, the Good Friday service and the Thanksgiving service. It was in those services an offering was taken to help meet some of the expenses that was incurred during the year. Those services have been discontinued for one reason or another, and the only way we now have to obtain funds is through each member church. We want to thank each of those churches for their donations, but sometimes those gifts do not meet the needs. For instance, in January and February, we spent $230.00 and only received $150.00. The need is not going to get any less because of the summer months, and in fact will even increase.

We are very conservative with the money we are given through the Alliance. Gas, as a rule, we only spend $7.00-$10.00 per family coming through. If it is food they need, we try to send them to the grocery store where they can get

H.C. Clark. There will be one two year term and one year term up for election in their city council. Those filing for the two year term were Mrs. Willie Moore, Don Chambliss and Lawrence Whitehead. Filing for the one year term was Elbert Derr.

The Hedley ISD has two positions up for election for their board of trustees. Three candidates have filed. They are incumbents Cheryl Wiggins and Billy Clubb. The other candidate filing was Gayle Osborne.

There are two trustee positions up for election in the Clarendon ISD. Four candidates have filed for these positions. Incumbents Susie Shields and Ted Shaller have filed along with Melinda McAnear and Wes Henson. The election will be held April 6th.

more food at less cost. If we house or lodge them here in Clarendon we use one of the motels that gives us a very good rate. We are very conservative and are trying to watch the money that you have entrusted to us and spend it as wisely as possible.

If you care to contribute to the Donley County Ministerial Alliance please send your donation to the First Bank & Trust or you may give through your church and they will deposit the money in our account.

Let me add this closing note; most of the money spent the past few months has gone to help people right here in our own community.

The Donley County Ministerial Alliance thanks you for your help.

Donley farmer reports Washington trip

by DAVID MOORING

In the next few months, the economic fate of many farmers is going to be decided by the stroke of a pen either from Congress or the President.

The President's agriculture policy for the next four years (1986-1989) has no mandatory set aside, doing away with conservation practices, and dropping price support prices to levels where he feels our products can be exported at a world market price. His Secretary of agriculture, John Block, was asked what is the world market price since last week the price of corn at Chicago was $2.72/bushel, at the European block countries the price of corn was $3.75/bushel, and at Stockholm the price of corn was $5.78/bushel.

The majority of congressmen and senators are in favor of some type of mandatory set-aside with at least current price supports if not higher. We met with Senator Bentsen of Texas, Senator Boren of Oklahoma, Senator Harken of Iowa, Congressman Boulter of Texas personally to find their positions on the farm bill and to express our situations and opinions.

I will try to list in chronological order the events of our trip, what was accomplished and what was not accomplished.

On Monday, the farmers from across the nation met on the steps of the Jefferson Memorial. From what I could observe, I would say 75% of the farmers there were from the corn-belt states (Missouri, Kansas, Iowa, Illinois and Nebraska). It was interesting to find that the problems they faced were as bad as the economic problems we face here at home.

There were many senators and congressmen that spoke to us at the rally at the Jefferson Memorial. At the conclusion of the speeches, the farmers marched to the USDA building to which they were denied entrance. After a short service, in which the two hundred farmers which are going out of farming a day, was symbolized by crosses which were placed in the ground. We next marched to the White House and were stopped on the grounds across from the White House. The speeches and the march took approximately 2 1/4 hours, and at this time, the farmers left the grounds of the White House and met in different groups at the hotels in which we were staying.

On Tuesday, congressional hearings were held on the farm crisis in America. Any farmer or person that wished could testify before the congressional agriculture committee chaired by Kiki de la Garza of Texas. I testified and tried to tell the problems that were faced by our farmers in Clarendon, Texas. Farmers from all across the nation testified at these hearings, and the story that was told was universal in that farming is very sick economically and unless steps are taken, the nation's economy as a whole could suffer.

On Wednesday, meetings were set up between farmers and different congressmen and senators. Most of these men did not think the President's agriculture plan was right for the times, and that a different agriculture policy act would come from Congress.

Before noon on Wednesday, the farmers met on the steps of the Capitol building. At this gathering, the emergency farm bill act, which would have provided $165 million in loans to have been paid back with the farmers crop this fall, was symbolically signed by congressional leaders headed by Congressman Jim Wright of Texas. The farmers and these congressional leaders then marched several miles to the White House to present him with this signed bill. At this time, a few speeches were delivered, and the march was over. Later that day, the President vetoed this bill.

On Thursday, the Senate's agriculture committee began hearings to start putting together their farm bill for 1986. There are approximately 18 senators on the committee, and from their opening remarks, few if any had any kind words for the President's farm bill. There were witnesses from several farm groups and at 2:00 p.m. John Block testified before the committee. His defense of the administration's plan to cut price support prices paid to the farmer was rudely received by these senators. He was asked what the administration's policy actually meant in prices to be received by the American farmer. He replied, the prices in the next couple of years will be lower for the farmer, but by 1991 when the exports have increased, the farmer will start receiving slightly more for his commodities than he is now receiving.

If the administration's farm act becomes law in 1986, by 1989, the American farmer will have these support prices: Cotton-41c/lb; corn-$1.78/bu.; wheat-$1.95/bu.; sorghum-$1.55/bu. This is a substantial cut when you consider the price support for cotton is now 55c/lb. and next year will be 57c/lb.

The administration uses the smokescreen that these cuts will help the economy and eventually help the farmer. What the administration will not tell the public is that they are pursuing a cheap food policy not only for the consumer, but by special interest groups which will make considerable money by exporting and shipping large quantities of commodities at low prices.

I want to thank everyone who made it possible for Bruno's and my trip possible to Washington, D.C. The fight over the farm bill is just now starting, so if you are interested, talk to your Congressman and Senator, letting him know your feelings.

General Motors Saturn plant looks at Texas

Note: This article appeared in Texas Economic Development Commission Quarterly News, February 1985.

Texas is one of several states competing for the location of General Motors' Saturn plant. Formed in January, this wholly-owned subsidiary represents an effort to combat the rising sales of foreign imports. By combining advanced technology with trimmer management, the company hopes to speed up the development of new products and cut costs sharply. GM eventually plans to implement the successful management and production techniques throughout the company. As reported in a recent NEW YORK TIMES article, some of the innovations include scaling down the number of hours required to produce the vehicle, revolutionizing production techniques, manufacturing many of the parts inhouse, and effectively implementing the use of robots when possible to maximize

Labor relations will be different in the new plant. Work rules which sometimes make current production costly and rigid may be changed. Profit sharing plans possibly will be tied specifically to the success of the project, rather than to the performance of the entire General Motors Corporation. There is also the possibility of having pay scales that increase as workers develop additional skills.

Changes in the distribution of the new automobiles are expected. As a new corporation, Saturn will have the opportunity to choose its own dealers and develop a franchise agreement that may differ from those now used. Heavy emphasis will be placed on efficient service and customer satisfaction after the sale.

Predictions are that the facility will create 6,000 new jobs and will generate more than twice that number of positions indirectly. Amarillo is trying to get this plant located in their city.

Fred Johnson to minister at Shamrock

Fred Johnson, "the Soul of Gospel music" whose singing has blessed untold millions, will be ministering at the Calvary Christian Fellowship, 913 S. Main, Shamrock, Texas on Friday evening, March 15th, 1985. The meeting is scheduled to begin at 6:30 p.m.

Fred Johnson, who sang several years with Evangelist Jimmy Swaggart as a soloist in the television crusade team, has been traveling worldwide in a ministry to reach people of all ages. He has ministered on the PTL, Christian Broadcasting Network, as well as other television programming and radio. He is featured on four albums, and his latest two recordings are "Fresh Revival" and "Yes I Know." More recordings are planned in the near future.

Born in Birmingham, Ala., the 52-year-old evangelist says he feels this ministry is an "instrument the Lord is using in these times of great distress. We are just hoping and praying that we can wake people up to the need of receiving Christ in their lives before it's too late," he stated. "My main goal is to just impress upon people, especially the church itself, the great need of waking up to sharing the Gospel."

In continuation of his goal, Fred said, "I want to be an example of Jesus Christ and His love." Fred served in the medical field of the U.S. Army, including an assignment in Japan. Later in life, he worked with the John G. Richards youth who were troubled and imprisoned in Columbia, S.C. In 1979, Fred joined the Jimmy Swaggart Ministries and then during the latter part of 1981, he was directed into a ministry of his own.

"Because people are what the Lord is all about...that's what we're all about," said Fred.

There is no charge for the meeting, and Bro. Joe G. Jernigan of Calvary Christian Fellowship Church extends an extends an invitation to the public.

FANCY THAT!

The English took over the custom from the Romans of cleaning the chimneys on New Year's Day. This is supposed to start the year with a "clean slate" and bring good luck.

Many people today like to start off the year with a clean slate by making New Year's resolutions. There's something that can help you keep you if you have resolved to give up smoking. Nicorette*, a nicotine-containing chewing gum from Merrell Dow Pharmaceuticals Inc. can help you stay smoke free in 1985.

DIAMONDS THROUGH THE AGES

The beauty of one of the world's most precious gems—the diamond—has captivated kings, queens, nobility and other celebrated gift-givers through the centuries.

The Koh-i-noor is probably the best known of all diamond gems. There is a tradition that it was taken in 1304 from the Rajah of Malwa, in India, whose family had held it for centuries. It is believed to have been guarded with other treasures at Delhi until 1739, when it was carried off by Nadir Shah of Persia, and eventually presented to Queen Victoria of England, in 1850. It weighed 186 carats. Today, recut to 108.93 carats, it is among the English crown jewels.

The Great Mogul was the largest Indian diamond known. The rough stone weighed 817 carats, but in expert cutting reduced it to 287 1/2 carats. The Orloof, now part of the Soviet diamond treasury, was one of the Russian crown jewels. Legend says that it was one of the eyes of the Hindu god SRI-RANGA in a Temple in SIRANGEM. It was eventually sold to Count Orloof, once a favorite of Catherine the Great and presented to the Queen. As cut, the stone weighs 199.8 carats.

Timelessly beautiful styles in diamond jewelry, diamond engagement rings, featuring paramount, symphony and chanticleer styles, and diamond wedding bands.

The celebrated Regent, or Pitt Diamond, which weighed 410 carats in the rough, was found in India in 1701 and later purchased by Sir Thomas Pitt, who sold it to the French crown. Later, Napoleon had it set in his sword hilt.

The diamond is first known to have found its place in an engagement ring in 1477. Maximilian of Austria had asked his advisors for help in choosing a proper engagement ring for his betrothed, Mary of Burgundy. Their advice: "Give her a diamond."

The diamond has since remained the symbol of betrothal for many reasons. Its very name—from the Greek adamas, meaning unconquerable—suggests the triumph and eternity of love. Like the passion of love, some say, it

"sends forth a flame without the aid of fire."

When people give diamond jewelry today—whether it's for an engagement, wedding, anniversary, or other special occasion—many turn to a trusted name in the diamond jewelry industry, Keepsake. For nearly a century, this company has created only the finest jewelry featuring diamonds known for their superior quality. Each style is timelessly fashionable and individual—eternal diamond solitaires, intricately detailed bridal sets and magnificent tris—all crafted in 14k karat gold settings. All Keepsake center diamonds have 58 precisely cut facets, capturing the maximum light reflection for brilliance, sparkle and fire.

Texas Most Wanted

DALLAS, Texas -- Cynthia Hynd McCray had dedicated her life to helping people...until the night of January 9, 1981.

Once described as a "good, very professional nurse" by police investigators, Ms. McCray is now a fugitive. She has eluded police since the January 1981, murder of Buford Johnson, 42, of Dallas.

Police reports indicate that Johnson, a black male, died almost instantly from a gunshot wound in the face fired from pointblank range.

Detectives say Ms. McCray, who was a nurse at Children's Medical Center in Dallas at the time of the shooting, had been dating Johnson. On the evening of January 9, 1981, he had been at the Knight's Inn Tavern in the 500 block of Corinth Street in Dallas.

Apparently Johnson offered a woman at the bar a ride home. As the pair got into Johnson's vehicle, another car drove up.

A witness told investigators that Ms. McCray got out of the other vehicle and approached Johnson.

"There you are," she is reported to have said. "What are you doing?"

When Johnson replied that he was going to take the other woman home, a shot was fired and Johnson slumped down in the front seat of the car.

Investigators were told that Ms. McCray then fled the scene in the other automobile. Law enforcement officials have been trying to catch up with her ever since.

This week Cynthia Hynd McCray has made the Texas Most Wanted list. A $1,000 reward is being offered for information leading to her capture.

Ms. McCray is described as a white female, 38 years old, 5-5, 115 pounds, with brown hair and green eyes.

Investigators believe she still might be working as a nurse in the State of Texas, possibly under a slight variation of her real name. In the past she has used several aliases, including Cynthia Louise Reales, Cynthia Louise Stone and Cynthia Louise Hynd.

Anyone with information about Ms. McCray's whereabouts is asked to call Texas Crime Stoppers Advisory Council toll-free at 1-800-252-8477 or their local Crime Stoppers program. In all cases, callers do not have to reveal their identities.

Texas Most Wanted is a cooperative effort between Texas Crime Stoppers and the Department of Public Safety and is designed to enlist the public's aid in the capture of fugitives wanted for serious crimes committed in the state.

Letters to the Editor

I would like to take this opportunity to thank The Clarendon Press for all the coverage that you gave the Clarendon Chamber of Commerce during the years while I was Manager.

Also, I appreciate all the support that the business people and the individual members gave to me during that time. It couldn't have been better, and because of it, I have had the good fortune of becoming better acquainted with Clarendon.

Thank each and every one of you. Sincerely,
John A. Sarich

Dear Editor,
Due to the volume of mail I have received from residents in your area I wish to take this brief opportunity to respond to their comments regarding a recent Federal Energy Regulatory Commission recommendation.

The wellhead casing issue is obviously complex and involves many factors of economic importance to the Panhandle. Through the thoughtful, well planned and diligent efforts of Panhandle residents such as you, change can come about.

I am not sure what the final outcome of this situation will be, especially now because of the Railroad Commission's recent decision of February 1, 1985. Please rest assured your advice and concern is acknowledged.

Thanks again for writing. I trust you will feel free to contact my office at anytime in the future. Best regards,

A Source of Pride: America's Girl Scouts

ANNIVERSARY
MARCH 12, 1985

On March 12, 1985, the Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. will observe the 73rd anniversary of its founding in 1912. The largest voluntary organization for girls and women in the world, the Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. have assisted American youth in becoming involved, concerned citizens of their community.

TROOP 217

This group of young ladies, led by Jondel Moffett, has worked very hard learning all the basic foundation of Girl Scouting. Their parents have been very supportive during these first exciting months, helping with refreshments, listening to the promise 2000 times, even attending meetings, and otherwise giving moral support at home. We are working very diligently right now on learning a square dance for the upcoming Council Event at Pampa. Its theme is "A Peek at the Past." We thank the Jerry Chambliss family for their help in this endeavor. We attended an event earlier this fall where we learned history through making crafts, such as corn husk dolls, leather bracelets, stenciled gift wrap, and rag rug weaving. We welcome a new Brownie to our troop. She is Destiny Bond!

TROOP 203

This group of second grade Brownies, led by Janice Barbee, has spent a busy year gathering trash to keep America beautiful, selling calendars, making Christmas cards, and had a booth at the Halloween Carnival. They studied the different rolls of family members and made a booklet. They are now making yarn dolls and selling Girl Scout cookies.

TROOP 203

We are a Brownie third grade troop. These girls will be bridging to Junior Girl Scouts in May. Our year started September 5th. We did the flag ceremony at homecoming football game. On October 20th, we went to Camp Cibola, north of Clarendon, to a cluster event. The theme was "A Peek at the Past." The girls did the flag ceremony at the beginning and ending the event. There were eighty girls and twenty-three adults from four towns, Wellington, Memphis, Groom, with Clarendon hosting. We are now working on embroidery for spring even in Pampa. Girls made needle point gingerbread men for Christmas projects.

TROOP 29

This group of fourth and fifth grade Junior Girl Scouts began the year with a trip to Borger to learn about the past. They learned folk songs and the art of story telling. Their next project was the carnival at Halloween. They had a booth at the community center. At Christmas they were working on the Exploring Foods Badge so they planned a Christmas party and fixed all of the food themselves. Their present project is to learn a skill from the past so all of the girls made a quilt block and are learning how to quilt.

TROOP 180

Seventh grade Cadettes attended a council workshop, "The Play's the Thing," held in Pampa at the Girl Scout Little House in November and finished most of the interest patch. They concluded the day by attending the play "Wait Until Dark," performed by the Pampa Community theater group. They completed their Creative Cooking Interest Patch with a Christmas party and meal they planned themselves. They are now working on a play written by the Borger Cadette Troop, which they will present at the Annual Scout Banquet in Pampa and at the March "Peek at the Past" events.

Shannon Myers and Athena Bell flew to New Orleans last summer to the Worlds Fair with other girls in the Quivira Council last summer. This summer both of these girls will be going to San Antonio on a council sponsored trip.

RESIDENT CAMP

Girls are given the opportunity to attend resident camp each summer at Camp Cibola, more commonly known in the Clarendon community as the old country club.

Watt's Happening in Hedley

EGGY WATT

I don't know about anybody else, but I'm glad the spring break is over. When my men-folks are out of school, every day seems like Saturday. I had about three of them last week.

Woody and Jonnie Wilson were in Amarillo last week for Jonnie to see the doctor. There's been a lot of the flu going around. Almost everyone has had it once, and some of us have had it twice and more times.

Charlie and Eunice Johnson and Ollie Malone of White Deer visited family and friends in Hedley last week. Eunice and Ollie are sisters.

Stuart Messer of Wichita, Kansas visited with his parents, Doyle and Evelyn Messer, last weekend. Evelyn has been under the doctor's care and went to Hollis Friday.

Bill and Martha Shubert of Midland spent the weekend with her mother, Mrs. Nettie Alexander. They had a birthday celebration for Nettie. It was a little early since her birthday isn't until the 12th, but she enjoyed the fun trip to Amarillo anyway.

Mrs. Opal Thomas of Amarillo is visiting her mother, Mrs. Mollie Dickson. They were at church Sunday.

Su-San and I attended Eastern Star at Clarendon Thursday night. We went especially to see my friends, Lucille Boren and Margaret Ann Pettit, initiated. Tena Powell graciously permitted me to assist with the ceremony.

We had a good group at church Sunday. Brother Bill was taken ill just as he and Boots got there. Bill Waddell gave him one of his nitro pills and Boots rushed him home. Hopefully he was better by the time they got home. Bill Carson conducted the services. We sang some extra songs, and he read a letter from the Armstrongs, who are about to embark on a tour of duty in Sumatra.

Fred and Guy went to Wellington on Thursday and to Hollis Friday. I understood them to say that the price of cottonseed cake was down. If so, that's the first thing I've heard of going down in price. Blue jeans certainly aren't.

Hobart Moffitt was taken to Hall County Hospital early Sunday morning. I haven't heard how he was getting along.

My senior got home from his trip to the coast Thursday. Thunder got home before his post card did. In fact, it came home in his suitcase. He said it was cheaper to bring it with him than to mail it.

Alfred Spalding went for a check-up Monday. I hope he got a good report. Eloise was in church Sunday and said he was getting along. I guess Martha has gone home.

Bud and Alma Lamberson ate supper with J.T. and Helen Sunday evening. They were enroute home to Pampa from visiting their children in Burkburnet. I think they're expecting a new grandbaby anyday.

J.T. and Helen Lamberson and Jack and Sue Nivens attended a boot store sale in Childress last week. Helen really enjoys going to sales. She bought several baskets of stuff.

Raymond and Nora Hopper have had their granddaughter from Amarillo visiting.

Red Hill went to Quanah Sunday to pick up Dean. She's been in Dallas with their daughter, Sue and Ray Pinkerton, enjoying the grandchildren, Chad and Mandy. They met at the home of their other daughter, Neva and Max Lewis. They celebrated Karrah Lewis' third birthday and probably Red's too. He has one later this month. I wouldn't attempt to guess how old he is but do know that he was in school with Fred.

The Hedley Lions Club met Thursday, March 7th in the Hedley Lions Den. President Zora Stephens presided at the meeting. The prayer was led by Patty Springer. Secretary Eva Canada read the minutes of the last two meetings. Treasurer Helen Lamberson gave the financial report. A delicious meal was enjoyed by Zora Stephens, Eva Canada, Evelyn Messer, Louise Stewart, Pauline Kaufman, Ruby Bardwell, Dorothy Crawford, Ethyle Henry, Dottie Bogue, Nora Hopper, Nina Riddle-spurger, Betty Glichrest, Dorothy Whitaker, Sue Weatherly, Neil Huggins, Helen Lamberson, Patty Springer and little Miss Robin Springer.

D.K. and Beulah Hall had a busy weekend. Mrs. Hall's daughter, Mrs. Vivian Harris and his cousin, Mrs. Sue McFarland of Gruver, and Beulah's niece, Mrs. Wauline Tollitt were here. Beulah told me that she and Mr. Hall were both feeling better. This has been a long, hard winter for them.

Teachers will then be in their classrooms to talk with parents. Exhibits of students work samples will also be available. Refreshments will be served following the visitation period.

Mrs. Woodard, who teaches 1st grade, asked that any parent or other interested person who is willing to help with the sets needed for the play come by the school and see her or contact Mrs. Shirley Slover. The kindergarten, 1st, 2nd and 3rd grades will be presenting the program for open house.

HEDLEY SCHOOL MENU
March 14-15
Thursday-Spaghetti and meat sauce, tossed salad, green beans, apple-sauce, milk, hot rolls.
Friday-Hamburgers, french fries, lettuce, tomatoes, Jello, milk.
Hedley school will be taking part in several track meets during the next few weeks.

On March 15th the Lady Owls will travel to Clarendon.

March 30, both girls and boys will participate in the Miami Track Meet.

Because they were out for spring break during the week of March 4-8, Hedley school will be observing Texas Public Education week March 18-22. Superintendent Glyndol Holland urges all interested parents and friends to visit the school during this week.

The open house for Hedley schools will be held Tuesday, March 19, 1985 at 7:30 p.m. All parents and concerned citizens are invited to attend. There will be a general assembly in the cafeteria. Mr. Holland will explain some of the new laws and legislature pertaining to education. An elementary musical program will also be presented.

Teachers will then be in their classrooms to talk with parents. Exhibits of students work samples will also be available. Refreshments will be served following the visitation period.

Mrs. Woodard, who teaches 1st grade, asked that any parent or other interested person who is willing to help with the sets needed for the play come by the school and see her or contact Mrs. Shirley Slover. The kindergarten, 1st, 2nd and 3rd grades will be presenting the program for open house.

Clifford Damstrom, Regional Director, stated, "It is gratifying that every year in towns all across the country, volunteer leaders organize bike-a-thons to benefit St. Jude Children's Research Hospital. This would not be possible without the help and support of dedicated chairmen."

Danny Thomas, founder of St. Jude Children's Research Hospital stated its purpose clearly: "To wipe catastrophic diseases of children from the face of the earth." Those interested in assisting with or participating in the bike-a-thon can get more information by contacting Mrs. Talley at 856-4891. The ride will be March 23.

St. Jude Children's Research Hospital is proud to announce the selection of Mrs. Pat White and Mrs. Kay Talley as chairpersons for this year's bike-a-thon in Hedley. According to Clifford Damstrom, Southwest Regional Director, the cost of treatment, equipment, drugs, and research programs is met primarily by contributions from private individuals through programs such as bike-a-thons.

The impact of St. Jude's research work is felt in every community where cancer and other killer diseases strike. Over 10,000 children will be stricken with cancer during this year alone. Next to accidents, cancer is the leading killer of children in the United States. St. Jude is the world's largest cancer research center in terms of treatment success and is the only institution of its kind dedicated solely to research and the care of children stricken with catastrophic illnesses.

Clifford Damstrom, Regional Director, stated, "It is gratifying that every year in towns all across the country, volunteer leaders organize bike-a-thons to benefit St. Jude Children's Research Hospital. This would not be possible without the help and support of dedicated chairmen."

Danny Thomas, founder of St. Jude Children's Research Hospital stated its purpose clearly: "To wipe catastrophic diseases of children from the face of the earth." Those interested in assisting with or participating in the bike-a-thon can get more information by contacting Mrs. Talley at 856-4891. The ride will be March 23.

Senior Citizen's News

CHANGES ARE IN ORDER: We are not complying with the Federal Regulation on accepting money donations for our lunch meal, so we are going to change the way we have been handling this. This is a donation and should be CONFIDENTIAL. Starting Monday, March 18, 1985, when you come in for lunch, please sign the register as usual. There will be a jug on the tray slide to put your money donation in. Fred will still have the money box available if anyone needs change, but it will be for change only -- the donations must be put in the jug. We cannot accept the donation at the register desk. None of us like changes -- it won't take long to get in the habit of doing it the right way. We must comply with the regulations. We have to have your donations to keep our program going. You have all been so great everytime I've ask you to help our program. I just know you will cooperate on this matter also. If anyone has a question about the regulation of the program, please feel free to come talk about it.

UIL week begins April 21

Governor Mark White on February 21, 1985, signed a proclamation congratulating the University Interscholastic League on its 75th year and designating the week of April 21 as UIL Week in Texas.

The UIL, largest interschool organization of its kind in the world, sponsors academic, music and athletic contests for students in Texas schools. It operates through the Division of Continuing Education of the University of Texas at Austin.

More than one million contestants participate in UIL events annually. The participation rate is so extensive that one out of every two Texas high school seniors will have competed in a UIL program before graduation.

Governor White's proclamation noted that the UIL "is recognized nationally for its diversity and scope, for its ideals of amateurism and fair play, and for its emphasis on the development of the mind and artistic talent as well as physical ability."

Attending the ceremony in the Capitol were Dr. Bailey Marshall, current director of the UIL, and two former UIL directors -- Dr. Rhea Williams and Rodney J. Kidd. Dr. Williams was director, 1968-77; Mr. Kidd, 1948-68.

The UIL began in 1910 as the Debating League of Texas High Schools and merged in 1912 with the Texas Interscholastic Athletic Association.

Through the years, UIL Programs have attracted as student participants such notable Texans as John Conally (debate), former Governor of Texas; Bill Moyers (journalism), CBS News Commentator; Don Meredith (one-act play), former Dallas Cowboys quarterback; and Pat Hingle (one-act play), Broadway actor.

Tax Savings Ideas

Tax time can be a lot less taxing if you know how to keep your tax liability as low as possible. These four tax tips, taken from the 1985 H&R Block Income Tax Workbook may help:

1. If you are thinking of donating stock to your favorite charity because the security is currently worth less than you paid for it, don't do it. Instead, sell the stock and donate the proceeds to charity. If you donate the stock, your deduction is limited to its current value. If you sell the stock and donate the proceeds, your charitable deduction is the same but you can also deduct a capital loss on the sale. On the other hand, if your stock has increased in value, donate the stock. In most cases you can deduct the current value and not realize taxable gain. If you sell the stock and donate the proceeds, your deduction would be the same but you would be taxed on the gain.

2. If you cannot pay the tax you owe, file your return on time and ask that you be allowed to pay the balance due in installments. If you make a good-faith effort to pay your tax, the IRS should comply with your request.

3. The cost of professional help in preparing your return is deductible. So is the $6.95 cover price of the H&R Block Income Tax Workbook, published by Collier/Macmillan and available at bookstores. Moreover, if after reading the book, you find that you still can't prepare your own tax return, a coupon on the book is worth $6.95 worth towards tax preparation assistance at any H&R Block office.

4. When you buy or sell property, real estate taxes are normally prorated. Your portion will be shown on your closing statement. If you purchase property that is mortgaged, interest due from the date of purchase to the closing date will be shown. Your pro rata taxes and any interest charge are deductible. Taxes you pay for the other party are added to your basis.

Thinking of donating stock to your favorite charity? If it has gone down in value, sell it and donate the proceeds. If it has gone up, donate the stock, and you'll be better off at tax time.

SPOTLIGHT On Teen's

Note: This article will be a weekly feature in The Clarendon Press by Rev. Tony Colburn, Assoc. and Youth Pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church, Highway 287 in Clarendon.

by REV. TONY COLBURN TEENAGE OBEDIENCE

It is very important that teenagers learn obedience while they are still young. The Bible gives us many examples of obedience. One particular was with a teenage boy named David. David's dad had told David to go to his brothers who were out in a battle and to also take them some food. David did exactly what his dad told him to do. David didn't get mad and upset about it.

Should Christians teenagers obey their parents in all things even though in some cases they may be going against the Bible? The Bible is very clear about children obeying their parents. "Children, obey your parents in all things: for this is well pleasing unto the Lord" (Col. 3:20). Teenagers need to learn obedience and respect for authority in the home. If children learn to respect the authority of mom and dad, they will also respect the authority of the government, the authority of God's word, their teachers, policemen, etc... If they are not then they are rebelling. The Bible says rebellion is as the sin of withcraft.

If your parents tell you to do something that you believe is contrary to the Bible, what should you do? Should you get mad about it and throw a fit? Should you get angry and blow your top? No! You should be sweet and respectful to them. Just explain to them that you are a Christian and that you want to obey them the way the Bible says you should. What if they insist: Then do what you are told. I really doubt that they would tell you to do something drastic. You obey and they will have to answer God for it. You will be glad that you did. The Bible also says that your days will be longer upon the earth when you obey.

BROCCOLI FETTUCINE

1 lb. fresh broccoli
1/2 C. butter or margarine
1 halved garlic clove
1 (8 oz.) pkg. fettuccine or spaghetti, cooked, rinsed and drained
1 C. grated Parmesan cheese

Cook broccoli in boiling salted water until crisp tender. Drain well. Cut broccoli into smaller pieces. Melt butter with garlic in large skillet over medium heat; remove garlic. Add pasta and toss lightly until well coated. Add broccoli and toss again. Blend in cheese and serve. Serves 4.

CABBAGE WITH CARAWAY

1 1/2 lb. cabbage
1 tsp. butter or margarine
1 T. minced fresh parsley
1 tsp. sugar
1/2 tsp. freshly ground pepper
1 chicken bouillon cube dissolved in 1/2 C. water
Caraway seeds
Salt to taste

Remove major section of core from cabbage, leaving just enough to hold head together. Slice head into wedges about 1 1/2 inches thick. Melt butter or margarine in large skillet. Add cabbage, parsley, sugar, pepper and bouillon.

Cover and cook over moderate heat about 12 minutes, basting with pan juices several times. About 1 minute before cabbage is done, sprinkle with caraway seeds and salt to taste. Remove cabbage to serving dish. Pour pan liquid over cabbage. Serves 6.

WATER FACTS AND FANCIES

Americans are accustomed to drinking water that is free of impurities, yet as recently as 1900 over 27,000 Americans died of typhoid fever, most virulent of the water-borne diseases. Thirty years later, with our population half again as large, the toll had dropped to one-eighth the 1900 level. The reason: new knowledge of water pollution that flowed from the work of civil engineers.

An ongoing study by the Environmental Protection Administration in 1982 found 29 percent of groundwater supplies of 954 cities in its sample to be contaminated, chiefly by toxic wastes that leached out of landfills—just one of the water pollution problems challenging today's civil engineers.

Who is the Professional Accountant?

The professional accountant is a full-time professional practitioner who provides competent, ethical tax services. He is not involved in lending money, merchandising or banking.

The professional accountant is listed in the telephone directory. He has an established office, not a seasonal location in an empty store.

The professional accountant is pledged to a high degree of confidentiality. Simply, this means that information passing between himself and his client is secret. It is not divulged to third parties. Private information remains that way—the professional accountant does not use his clients as "leads" for the sale of merchandise or other services. The accountant and his client occupy a position much like other professionals (doctors, lawyers, clergy) and those they serve.

The professional accountant can stand behind his work. He can represent his tax client's interests before the Internal Revenue Service. As a tax return preparer of professional standing, he can speak on his client's behalf in discussions with governmental taxing officials.

The professional accountant often holds membership in at least one of several professional accounting organizations such as the National Society of Public Accountants. As a member, he is pledged to abide by a strict code of ethics. The professional accountant must make every effort to protect the interests of his client and to advise him if he is taking an improper course of action. He must advise his client of probable effects thereof, and of alternative allowable actions. He is under a duty to resolve all doubts in favor of his client when there is a reasonable basis in law and fact for the position taken.

Senior Citizens Receive 15% Discount on Prescriptions

A DUM PROGRAM

Dum is a word we use to refer to that which is senseless or unnecessary. If you live in Schuylkill County, Pennsylvania, however, DUM has another meaning. Dum is an acronym which stands for Destroy Old Medicines. Unused medicines were brought to local pharmacists who conducted their disposal.

The empty medicine containers were taken to a senior citizen center where names, dates, and prescription numbers were recorded. Prizes were awarded to persons with the oldest prescription containers and to the two senior groups that brought in the most containers.

The prize for the oldest container went to an individual with a medication label dated in the late 1940s!

Pharmacists are frequently questioned about old medicines. In general, the following rules apply to safe use of "aging" medicines: [1] Medicines that have past their expiration dates should be destroyed. [2] Undated medicines which have undergone odor, hardness, color, or other visual changes should be discarded (flushing down the toilet is usually acceptable). For information about specific products, ask your pharmacist.

Therefore, fire trucks are always red. If you think this is weird, you ought to hear some excuses that I hear week after week for people not coming to Church. It's been said, "Attend the Church of your choice". I would like to go a step further and say, "Attend the Church of God's choice."

WHY ARE FIRE TRUCKS RED?

Do you know why fire trucks are red? Well, fire trucks have four wheels and eight men. Four and eight make twelve. There are twelve inches in a foot. A foot is a ruler. Queen Elizabeth was a ruler. Queen Elizabeth is the largest ship on the seven seas. Seas have fish. Fish have fins. The Fins fought the Russians. The Russians are red. Fire trucks are always rushing.

Capitol comments

by FOSTER WHALEY

The ponies got off to a good start on March 6th when they released House Bill 440 at 11:00 a.m. The motion to table the bill was defeated by a vote of 77-71. After a four-hour race on the floor of the House, the ponies stumbled and went down to a 95-52 defeat. Those opposed picked up the win tickets. There were no place or show tickets. The big defeat was a surprise to everyone. Many of the conservative Democrats and the Republicans voted against the bill because it had been cluttered up with all kinds of objectionable amendments.

One of these amendments provided for setting aside 90 days on a first refusal basis 15 percent of the stock for purchase by minority enterprises. Dedicating the funds for welfare programs was also included in the amendments. These provisions had been placed in the bill as a trade-off to get the 13 votes of the black members of the House. Eight out of 13 black members voted to table the bill at the beginning for a number of reasons. However, this issue is a dead horse for the rest of the session.

All four State Representatives from the Panhandle -- Whaley, Buchanan, Staniswals and Smithee voted NO; Carriker (D-Roby), Thompson (D-Abilene), Rudd (D-Brownfield); Laney (D-Hale Center), Givens (R-Lubbock) and Robnett (R-Lubbock) all voted NO.

Dates And Nutrition — Great Go-Togethers

Just because something is good for you doesn't mean it has to be dull. Quite the contrary. Combining various ingredients in salads with an eye to nutrition can be both exciting and gratifying.

Take Sun Giant California dates, for instance. Few people realize that dates are not a dried fruit, but are picked from the stately date palms at full maturity and briefly exposed to steam to plump them up before packing and to enhance their flavor and appearance. They are very high in potassium and a good source of iron and niacin. Combined with other fruits and vegetables containing good amounts of Vitamins A and C, dates become an excellent rounding-out for a nutritional salad. The natural sugar in dates also contributes to the energy which we all need.

Sun Giant Date and Cabbage Salad

2 cups shredded red cabbage	2 tablespoons honey
2 cups shredded green cabbage	1/2 cup salad oil
1 cup Sun Giant chopped dates	1/8 teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons lemon or lime juice

Blend juice, honey, salad oil and salt in blender or shake in a jar. Chill. Shred cabbage and mix with dates. Toss with salad dressing until well blended. Serves 4 to 6.

A perfect luncheon partner for this crunchy salad is this full flavored Date Cheese Bread. Either can be made ahead for easy summer serving.

Date Cheese Bread

1 cup pitted Sun Giant Dates, diced	1/2 cup sugar
3/4 cup boiling water	1 egg, slightly beaten
1 3/4 cup sifted all-purpose flour	1 cup shredded sharp cheese
1/4 teaspoon salt	1 teaspoon vanilla
1 teaspoon baking soda	1/2 cup finely chopped walnuts

In a small bowl, combine dates and boiling water. Set aside. Sift together flour, salt, baking soda, and sugar. Add date mixture, beaten egg, cheese, vanilla and nuts. Blend only until dry ingredients are moistened. Pour into well oiled 9 x 5 x 3 inch loaf pan. Bake at 350 degrees (moderate) 45 to 50 minutes or until loaf tests done in center. Let stand 5 minutes, remove from pan. Finish cooling on wire rack. Makes 1 loaf.

Note: Bread slices easier, next day. Makes delicious cream cheese sandwiches. Great for gifts.

TIPS ON TRIPS

Traveling with children can be more fun if you follow these four helpful travel tips from the experts:

1. To keep children from getting restless on a long car trip, be sure they have a light snack before starting out.

2. Try not to over-drive. More than 300 miles a day can cause fatigue as well as detract from their fun.

3. Youngsters love to keep occupied and taking along a musical instrument is both fun and educational. One that is particularly useful during a long drive is a portable electronic keyboard. One that is easy to play is Yamaha's Portasound PCS-500. It employs a unique PlayCard System that lets youngsters play from the first day, by simply sliding a PlayCard in to program the instrument and then following the lights above each key.

Optional accessories are available to make it even easier to take on the road. There is a lighter adapter to save on batteries. For listening privacy, you can get stereo headphones.

4. If you're traveling with two or more youngsters, don't feel there's a need to stick together at all times. Different children have different interests. So Mom can take one of the youngsters and Dad can take the others. Then go your separate ways and plan to meet at a specific spot later. It can lead to more family harmony.

Babies have been known to hiccup before they are born. An unborn child has been heard from as far as 25 feet away from its mother.

A peanut is not a nut. It is a legume.

Aging survey in Clarendon

Note: This article appeared in Panhandle Panorama, March 1985. Elderly residents of Clarendon and Howardwick had some unexpected visitors this week. Volunteer members of the Retired Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP) conducted a house-to-house survey to determine the needs of elderly residents of those two communities.

The survey is part of the Texas Department on Aging's needs assessment process, being conducted under a contract by the Southwest Long Term Care Gerontology Center of the University of Texas Health Science Center in Dallas.

During the statewide survey, 2400 older Texans will be randomly selected and interviewed to make up a statistically sound sample. The bulk of the surveying will be done by phone from Dallas, but the onsite interviews in the Clarendon survey will be used to validate the phone sample.

Fifty families will be visited in the Clarendon area. It was picked because it has the highest proportion of older citizens in the Panhandle region. Date from the 1980 census show that one out of every five residents of Donley County is over the age of sixty. In the Panhandle region, only one out of eight are in that age range.

The results of the survey will be used by both the state and area agencies on aging to help plan for services to the elderly. Information from the study will also be presented to state legislators to help sensitize them to the concerns of their older constituents. Final results should be available to the public by mid-May.

you and the LAW

PRESENTED BY THE STATE BAR OF TEXAS

Q: I live in a small West Texas town and the school board is constantly closing its meetings to the public. Isn't this against the law?

A: Texas requires boards serving public purposes to open their meetings unless certain specific exceptions are met. When a board is considering matters affecting the value of real estate, for example, or discipline to dismissal of a public official, the deliberations may be closed.

Government officials may be criminally punished for closing meetings, because violations of the Act are a misdemeanor offense.

Q: My husband and I bought a trailer house last year and have experienced some trouble with it. The trailer is still under warranty, but I think the company is out of business. Do I have any recourse?

A: The company can be sued for the cost of the repair. If it was a corporation that has been dissolved, you can sue up to three years after such dissolution because the company was supposed to set aside adequate reserves to pay its debts. Outstanding warranties are considered liabilities of the company. However, unless the amount of money involved is substantial and the defendant has assets subject to execution, it is unlikely you will be able to recover your money through a lawsuit.

The Mobile Homes Standards Act requires the trailer home dealer to supply an express written manufacturer's warranty. If the trailer house was purchased from a dealer, you may have recourse against the manufacturer on the basis of that warranty. Send your questions to "You and the Law," State Bar of Texas, P.O. Box 12487, Austin, 78711.

Q: I think I need a lawyer. I am pregnant, and have a common law husband who has refused to accept any financial responsibility for the baby. In fact, he wants to separate as soon as the baby arrives. Can I make him pay for anything? Can I make him pay me child support? What can I do?

A: You need to consult a lawyer immediately, before the baby is born, while your common-law husband can still be found. Your lawyer will discuss with you several choices. For instance, if the father will affirm paternity, child support can be ordered for your baby. If he refuses to acknowledge paternity, a hearing could be scheduled to determine who is the baby's father. As a third choice, you might want to file for divorce from your common-law husband and have child support ordered in the divorce decree.

Q: How is an estate settled when my widowed mother dies without a will? I am the only child and there is no property, only C.D.'s. Do these certificates have to be reported on a tax return?

A: All property owned by a decedent must be reported in the proportions owned. In some cases, the total is so small, no tax return has to be filed.

To determine whether federal estate and state inheritance tax will be due, total the value of your mother's taxable estate (including the C.D.'s) and the amount of any taxable gifts made during her lifetime. If this totals more than $325,000 for persons dying in 1984, tax will be due. The exclusion goes up to $400,000 for the estate of people who die in 1985, $500,000 in 1986 and $600,000 in 1987.

Congressman Beau Boulter

Reports from Washington

ACTION NEEDED ON FARM CREDIT

I think it is safe to say that the American farmer has currently got the ear of the President, the Congress, and the national press. The attention is justified because our farmers are in bad shape — partly due to past government policies — and need help.

I'll be the first to admit that there is waste in agriculture, and that we have got to balance the federal budget. But, under the President's budget, when we are talking about spending just 1.1 percent of that $973 billion on payments to producers, and when we are talking about an agriculture budget which totals only about 4.7 percent of the President's total projected budget, I don't think we should be looking at agriculture's budget as the place to make major cuts that amount to an attempt to balance the budget on the back of that industry.

What we must do is make certain that every dollar spent in the Agriculture Budget is well spent. We have to guard against bailing out farmers who cannot possibly stay in business, and discouraging farmers who should not get into the business from doing so. For instance, I was amazed to learn that while we are trying to save existing farmers, the Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) is planning to spend $280 million more this fiscal year to bring in new farmers — not just young, limited resource farmers, but people who can't get a loan through their regular bank to go into farming. They aren't credit worthy, yet the FmHA is offering them money to buy land, and get into farming. Through that program, the FmHA is actually encouraging new competition for the very farmers that it is trying to save.

Although it was too late to make any legislative plan to prevent this from happening this year, I was able to talk with the chairman of the Agriculture Committee, Mr. de la Garza, and Charlie Stenholm, both of whom agreed that the situation needed to be looked into, and promised to schedule hearings.

Another bill, which passed the House despite efforts by myself and others to stop it, provides for loan guarantees for farmers whose debt equity ratio is 3 to 1. This is not the type of farmer who is a likely survivor. Instead, he is the type of farmer who is likely to need continual help from the federal government which will equal nothing more than welfare. This is exactly the kind of action which jeopardizes needed action for worthy farmers with a presidential veto.

We do not want to see government undertaking a role that will only perpetuate government farm subsidy programs. What we do want, is to provide a bridge, so that farmers who are basically successful but in a temporary financial bind, can make it over the currently troubled waters in the agriculture economy. Then, and only then, can we begin to make real progress toward a market economy. Right now, there aren't any markets developed for our farmers to use. That's what we have to work on, but not all at once and not without addressing the unfair export subsidies of foreign competitors. We have also got to get rid of the carry over that keeps the government in farming. The stockpiles will further the government's current 'cheap food' policy — which is the root of the current problems in agriculture.

In the weeks and months ahead I hope I will be able to communicate with you through this column, on what's being done in the Congress. I would welcome any comments you might have, as well as any suggestions you could offer.

Seat Belts Save Lives

Nearly all passenger vehicles in Texas are equipped with seat belts. If most people used them, safety officials say that more than a thousand lives would be saved each year and 28,000 serious injuries would be prevented.

There is overwhelming evidence that existing safety belt systems offer more effective protection in all kinds of traffic accidents than any other system yet devised. Yet only one in five Texans, according to surveys, claim they buckle up regularly.

All of the countries of Western Europe, plus Canada and Australia, require motorists to wear their seat belts. The reduction in deaths and injuries have been dramatic.

In our country, auto crashes involving unbelted motorists continue to produce more paraplegics and quadriplegics than all other causes combined. They are the leading cause of plastic surgery, epilepsy, and head and neck injuries. They are the leading cause of death of people between the ages of 15 and 24.

The social damage is tremendous. Accidents remove healthy, productive people and billions of dollars from the economy, as well as costing all of us higher insurance premiums and more welfare payments.

State Senator Ted Lyon (D-Rockwell) and Rep. Bill Messer (D-Beaton) have introduced legislation requiring front-seat occupants to wear their belts or be guilty of a traffic violation. Several states have passed similar laws in recent months as part of a nationwide drive originated by the U.S. Department of Transportation and law enforcement authorities.

If most states don't comply, air bags or other passive restraints may be mandated—which will increase the cost of cars and delay greater safety measures into the next century before all vehicles can be equipped. Since air bags are workable only in front-end collisions and are not very effective unless you are also buckled up, it makes little sense to wait for passive restraints to solve a critical public health problem.

More than 25 public and private organizations are backing the Lyon-Messer bill, including the Department of Public Safety, the PTA's, business and labor groups, and numerous health and safety authorities.

Two separate polls show that more than 60 percent of the people of Texas favor a required seat belt law. More than 80 percent say they would comply if the law is passed.

The idea is not to give tickets or harass drivers, but to encourage them to buckle up and save lives.

Does this infringe upon individual rights? We should remember that driving a vehicle is a privilege, not a right, and that all of us are the losers when unbelted drivers and passengers are killed.

The Lyon-Messer bill should be passed.
