Gene & Bobbie Moore At First Methodist Church Sept. 27-29

The Reverend Gene Moore and his wife Bobbie have witnessed with the spoken word and music to thousands of people around the world. It is their conviction that Christianity is just as relevant today as it was two thousand years ago.

Gene is an ordained minister having been appointed as evangelist in 1962. Previous to becoming an evangelist he was a pastor in a local church. He feels that evangelism is his call to the Christian church and thinks that his God given talents are in this area.

Bobbie is an accomplished musician. She has many years of formal training. It was music that brought Bobbie and Gene together. They met at an Oklahoma college where they both received their degrees. They were married in 1963. Their duets have thrilled thousands since then. They have sung for gospel meetings, camp meetings, at retreats, and for civic clubs. Five thousand people heard Gene sing at a jungle camp meeting in India.

In 1968 the Moores sang in Indonesia. At one time they sang in a crowded railway car, jammed with Indonesians. Wherever they go, they find that music is the universal language. The Moores directed the music at the Southern Illinois Annual Conference in 1971. Gene's latest missionary trip was to India in 1971. A large part of their giving goes for India missions. Currently they are building a church building in India in memory of their son Timothy.

1975 Showing Of New Cars & Pickups Friday & Saturday

The showing of the new 1975 model cars and pickups for GMC and Ford will be held by local dealers this Friday and Saturday. This is always a thrilling time for especially those who are in the market for a new car or truck.

Alderson Chevrolet will be showing the new Chevrolet cars and pickups and Gene Alderson, owner, reports one of the best stock of models to show.

Palmer Motor Co. will be showing the new Ford car and pickup models. Frank Wooten Manager, reports the new Ford model Granada, will be the big feature of their showing.

Chamberlain Motor Co. will be showing other GMC models. The '75 Cadillac made its appearance in showrooms last week.

The big news the past week is all the good moisture that we have received the past several days, a great portion of which was needed in July and August but here in West Texas, moisture is always welcome when it comes.

Sunshine is needed now so the cotton will not sour and the boll weevil will not cause too much destruction. Drying up is also needed by those who have grain ready to harvest. Harvesting had just begun when the wet weather set in.

Up to the present time, our official weather observer Tommie Saye, who takes his readings at 7 a.m. each day for the previous day and night, reports 4.55 inches so far for the month of September and 15.78 inches for the year.

This is how the moisture recorded:

Sept. 16—43 inch
Sept. 19—78 inch
Sept. 20—77 inch
Sept. 21—85 inch
Sept. 23—33 inch
Sept. 24—36 inch
Sept. 25—1.03 inches.

The high temperature recorded Tuesday was 48 degrees and a low of 44 degrees was recorded Tuesday night.

Growing Old In Old Clarendon

Dr. James O. Brandon
Pastor First Baptist Church

If you remember Old Clarendon, you're getting along in years. There are several in Clarendon today who can recall Old Clarendon and the life lived there.

What about the elderly in Old Clarendon? Some did get old? What was it like being elderly at the end of the 1800's. Of course we don't have any of those senior citizens of Old Clarendon around to tell us about it, but we do have one or two around who were ten, eleven, or twelve years old back then.

These have their impressions and memories of those days. They remember not only the young, their toys, the cowboys, the Indians, the buffalo, and the horses; but they remember some of the elderly people. They recall what it was like to be a senior citizen in those days.

"You seemed to get old quicker," remarked one. "I'm not sure whether it was the hard times, the hard work (early to bed and early to rise), or just plain laziness. Maybe they just wore out sooner."

"When you got fifty years old, you became a mother h Hubbard sitting in your rocking chair, twiddling your thumbs. At fifty today a woman is just starting out in life. Some are just getting married."

One person commented, "It seems that all my mother did at fifty was sit around in her chair and brush her hair."

"The elderly did try to be active as long as they lived. They didn't seem to give up as easily as some do today. They didn't seem to feel sorry for themselves. They didn't seem to be afraid to admit their age as some are today."

Women dressed in "mother Hubbard" type dresses. They were long and full down to the ankles. "A woman would blush if a man saw her ankles. She kept them covered. Knees were absolutely a no, no! The women didn't wear bustles as so many are pictured except on special occasions. If they were going some place important they wore them, but there weren't very many important places to go."

What about the elderly men in Old Clarendon? What were they doing while the women sat around in their rocking chairs?

Comments one person, as he thought back over the years, "I guess they had their spit and whittle clubs." There seems to always have been a place where elderly men congregated. Most of them had a pocket knife and an old stick or piece of wood that they whittled. Some were good carvers.

The men seemed to be more active than the women. They usually came to town from the country to buy merchandise. While in town shopping with their wives, they would get together to talk about the happenings of the country. Men would trade horses and calves while standing on street corners.

Was there integrity and dignity in old age in Old Clarendon?

"Yes," commented one person. "The elderly were respected and looked up to. The younger people did the greater portion of the work. Grandma or Grandpa were honored members of the family and usually lived with family until they died." The family cared for them. There were no hospitals to die in; 60 most people died at home. There were no convalescent homes.

The Bible tells us that there is integrity and dignity in old age: "The hoary head is a crown of glory," saith the Lord, "if it be found in the way of righteousness" (Prov. 16:31). God tells the elderly that they can't shirk their responsibilities just because they are old: "The aged men should be sober, grave, temperate, sound in faith, in charity, in patience. The aged women likewise, should be in behaviour as becometh holiness, not false accusers, not given to wine, teachers of good things" (Titus 2:2-3.)

(Thanks to Mrs. Taylor and Mr. O. C. Watson for their help.)

Compare the workmanship in LTD Landau as well as its size, comfort and luxury to much more expensive luxury cars. The main thing you don't get is hundreds of pounds of extra weight and almost a foot of extra length (compared to longer, heavier, costlier cars). You do get the security of a solid, full-size, well-made automobile.

Monza 2+2 . . . new from Chevrolet

The soon-to-be-introduced 1975 Monza 2+2, Chevrolet's new sporty European-type compact, is a four-passenger hatchback sportster that has two bucket seats in the front and seating for two in the rear. The rear seat can fold into a cargo area. Front lighting on the Monza 2+2 is new with the first usage of dual rectangular headlamps (lower left). Parking and turn signal clear lens lamps are mounted in the lower valance panel. Wrap-around rear lighting units (lower right) provide for all rear lighting requirements. Rear panels, like the front, are soft faced with integral bumper guards and a full-width bumper strip.

"Why dost thou judge they brother? or why dost thou set at naught thy brother? for we shall all stand before the judgement of Christ" (Hebrews 14:10). Thus, implied is that no matter what punishment the person deserves, Jesus is saying that God will judge us by the spirit which we have shown in judging other persons. Jesus implies that all men will need merciful treatment "for all have sinned, and come short of the glory of God" Romans 3:23). In other words, when we judge someone severely we have forgotten that we are not righteous either and therefore are not really competent to judge. Thus, the one who only is fully able to judge is the Lord God, who is holy and good and who judges All flesh. Therefore, let us remember the petition of the Lord's prayer: "Forgive us our debts, AS we forgive our debtors" (Matthew 6:12). The forgiving man is forgiven; the recluse is ignored; and the openhearted have friends. And this is not a matter of theology but of experience and relationships.

But she indicated that the shortage of all fibers and the steady rise in fabric prices will cause manufacturers to turn over their cost increases to the consumer this fall.

Man's Judgement

By: Weldon Rives, Pastor
First United Methodist Church

Matthew 7:1 — "Judge not, that ye may be judged."
Perhaps one of the most often quoted passages of Scripture and yet not always correctly interpreted in Matthew 7:1. It is a kind of "catch-all" phrase to use when seeking to escape responsibility and involvement in a reconciling ministry. How easy, for instance, it is for us to close the door on service for the Lord when we witness to another person involved in dehumanizing and un-Christian activities by saying that we must not judge that person and his activities, but we must ignore the whole situation. But, I say to you that this type of unconcern and unactivity is what has brought our society to the terrible plight in which it now finds itself — socially, politically, morally, and spiritually. And, I do not believe that this kind of isolation is what Jesus had in mind when he spoke these words.

Now, if you have not agreed with this premise then should stop now, but if you have been agreeing then see how this grabs you. Perhaps the most contemporary example of such forgiveness as Jesus speaks in the Matthew passage is seen in President Ford's recent pardon of Mr. Richard Nixon and the amnesty program for the draft dodgers and military deserters who took their stand over the war in Viet Nam. I say perhaps because I am still having problems accepting them myself. But, I feel that this action on the part of President Ford is in line with what Jesus is saying about judging our fellowman.

TYPEWRITERS & ADDERS AT THE LEADER

Accent On Health

J. E. Peavy, M.D.,
Commissioner of Health

Despite the rich bounty provided to us by the land, Texans and Americans in general are described as nutritional illiterates.

Nutrition is a relatively new science. For this reason there is room for misunderstanding, and even intentional misrepresentation. Although much malnutrition is the result of poverty, a full pocket doesn't mean a nourished body says the State Health Department.

The focus on the high price of meat has made Texans more aware of their eating habits. But one group of individuals — the food faddists — are willing to pay through the nose (and sometimes through their health) for items no better than those offered in supermarkets.

Like hula-hoops and Nehru jackets, fads come and go. But for some the memory may linger on, since food fads can affect health and the quality of living for a long time.

A big fad at the moment is the weight reduction kick, which is tied in by food faddists with better health and some particular foodstuff which they say can cure all the ills of the believers. Some reducing diets, when followed too long, can lead to permanent health problems.

Nutritionists say there is no one particular cure-all food, and they have scientific proof. Faddists, on the other hand, push hundreds of different contradictory food systems, including the current "organic" food theory.

Many diet or nutrition advocates are opportunists whose major motivations are economic. Some of these persons appear to be sincere, albeit misguided and close-minded in their nutritional beliefs.

A look at some highly-publicized diets gives you an idea of the perplexing situations greeting those interested in dieting — either for weight loss or other health reasons.

The drinking man's diet, Zen diet, grapefruit and egg diet, vegetarian diet, cereal diet, low-protein, high - protein, low carbohydrate diet — are all a part of the present-day food craze, says the Health Department.

Some, such as the Zen macrobiotic diet, can result in malnutrition.

And, there are the vitamin and food supplement faddists who push all types of supplement concoctions off on the willing indulger. Vitamin E and vitamin C, both essential to the body, are among the vitamins being pushed at present.

Dr. Linus Pauling advocated great amounts of Vitamin C to prevent the common cold. Research has failed to substantiate his claim.

The State Health Department says you can get all the required nutrients, including Vitamins C and E, through a wise selection of foods. Selecting foods properly will also ensure efficient utilization of the food dollar—something that can shrink rapidly in today's supermarkets. Supplements generally are expensive and unnecessary, unless prescribed by a physician.

The Nutrition Program of the State Health Department says the basic food groups still are the best guide for the average person who needs strength and vitality to meet each day's challenges. These are divided into the milk group, meat and protein group, fruits and vegetables group, and the bread and cereal group. While giving you sufficient energy, these basic food groups also supply the trace elements of minerals which your body needs.

If these basic food groups remain unchallenged scientifically, why do people succumb to faddism?

Nutritional quackery appeals to desperate people who want to believe in the impossible and the incredible. In the case of weight - reducers, they want to believe in something simple and easy, in a cure-all calling for no effort on their part. Traditional calorie counting is too slow, too limiting for their appetites. People with illnesses want a miracle to help them.

An Ohio State nutritionist writes, "Compared to the exotic nutritional advice, which borders on the occult or is rendered with spiritual fervor, normal every day nutritional education lacks pizzaz. That is why the voices of the home economists — the dietitian — the nutritionist — food technologist — are not heard when they contradict the often untrue and sensational health claims being made by those who so avidly degrade the American food supply."

Significant progress has been made in the science of diet and its relationship to health, but science advances by slow, difficult steps which are much too slow for impatient, desperate people who want immediate solutions.

But when the fads have run their course, the accepted, scientifically proven four food groups still stand tall as the one way to receive proper nutrition from the foods you eat and drink, says the State Health Department.

A place to look for reliable information about nutrition and health is your local physician or your local health department. You may go also to a home economics teacher, or the county extension agent. They too will be able to give you sound advice and information.

body's digestion and metabolism of food.

According to the specialist, one of the most important functions of this mineral is its action with insulin. Insulin is a hormone necessary for the body to use glucose properly.

For a general rule, foods that supply protein are the best sources of zinc. These include seafoods, whole wheat breads and cereals, meats, oatmeal, corn, milk and eggs, she explained.

Zink - Is An Essential Mineral

Though it's needed only in small amounts, zinc is a mineral essential for good health. Sally Springer, foods and nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, said this week.

"The average American adult needs only 15 mg. per day, and this can easily be supplied from a wide variety of foods, she said.

Indians Top Broncs 12-7 In Mud & Rain

It was a very disagreeable night for both Broncs and fans at Quanah Friday night when the Broncs battled in the mud and rain only to lose a close one to their hosts 12-7.

Prior to Friday night, Quanah had received over seven inches of rain Thursday and Friday and it continued to come down throughout the game which made it a contest of who could hang onto the ball or recover the most fumbles. The Indians were best at picking up the fumbles and turned them into scoring events.

The Bronchos scored with their first possession of the ball in the first quarter. Kenneth King went over from the 13 clogging a 54 yard drive. His kick for the extra point was good.

Quanah scored 6 points just before the half and again in the third quarter.

The Bronchos have an open date this week end and since the rain has let up, the boys will probably get in some extra good workouts in preparation for their first conference game with Shamrock Friday, October 4th here in Broncho stadium.

In the Junior Varsity game here Thursday night, the locals lost 28-22 as the horn sounded with a Shamrock player going over the goal line. It was a good game from start to finish with the local squad showing lots of team effort.

Bulldog Rodeo Team To Roswell This Week

With two rodeos behind them this fall, the Clarendon College Rodeo Team is in Roswell, New Mexico this week end participating in the New Mexico Military Institute Rodeo. The rodeo started Tuesday and will end with the competition on Saturday night.

In last week's competition at Portales, New Mexico in the ENMU Rodeo, Ken Henry of Happy placed 5th in bullriding. Henry is in his second year of competition at Clarendon College.

The rodeo team is under the direction of Mark McCloy, instructor of Agriculture at Clarendon College.

Scout Troop No. 33

Scout Troop 33 met Tuesday night and decided to hold a Camp Out (WEATHER PERMITTING) Friday night, September 27th, all day Saturday and Saturday night, September 28, returning to town about 9 a.m. Sunday morning. Camp will be at the Scout site south of Greenbelt Lake.

The members of Troop 33 will hold a sunrise service at the Brush Arbor at the camp site Sunday morning. The God and Country boys will conduct the service.

We will meet at the First Christian Church to leave for camp at 6:30 p.m. Friday. Bring tentage, food for 5 meals, cooking utensils, dry wood, sleeping bags and blankets, and flash lights.

All new scouts working on skill awards may earn the following: Cooking, Camping, and Hiking. A 5 mile hike is scheduled for Saturday afternoon.

A Fishing Merit badge may be earned by scouts catching 3 different types of fish, dressing them out, cooking and eating one. All scouts wishing to work on this badge bring poles and bait.

We will need transportation to and from the Camp Site.

Tech-Texas Game At Lubbock Saturday

The Red Raiders of Texas Tech will host the University of Texas Longhorns, Austin in Jones Stadium, Lubbock Saturday afternoon, September 28. Game time is 12:30 p.m. Regional TV. Past rivalry gave the edge to Texas with a 20-3 record. Last year Texas dropped Tech by a score of 28-12.

This past Saturday, Tech played New Mexico, Albuquerque to a 21-21 tie game. The game this Saturday should prove to be interesting.

It's WTSU Vs. Wichita State At Canyon Saturday

The Buffaloes of West Texas State University, Canyon, Texas will entertain the Shockers of Wichita State, Wichita, Kansas in Kimbrough Stadium, Canyon. Game time 7:30 p.m. Saturday, September 28. In previous play the Buffs hold a 2 game edge over the Shockers with series play standing at 6-4.

A stunned crowd watched the Buffaloes trampled by the New Mexico Aggies by a score of 41-0 at Canyon Saturday night of last week. The previous week the Buffs had defeated Drake at Des Moines, Iowa. If play follows that of last year, it appears that the Buffaloes play their better games on foreign ground and are unable to overcome their "jinks" when playing at home.

Hopefully the fans can look forward to a better game this Saturday. The season is just beginning and many weaknesses are being worked out and holes plugged.

Win or lose, there is always a thrill of excitement as games get underway. The West Texas State Band's performance was outstanding and their half-time show a pleasure to watch. As is the custom at WTSU Kids Inc. of Amarillo are guests at the first home game. This year the pep squads for all of these various teams in Kids Inc. came along. Their half-time show was colorful and spirited. Hundreds of small fry suited out piled onto the field followed by the pep squads yelling as hundreds of balloons were released into the air. The team whose balloon reached the farthest distance will be guests of the Buffaloes for a meal later in the season.

Plan to attend this Saturday night's game. Perhaps some of the spirit of loyal fans will rub off on the Buffs and they will draw a win out of the bag.

AC Slates Mid-Term Registration

Registration at the Amarillo College West campus School of Vocational Arts will be conducted for full-time programs beginning at 8 a.m. Sept. 30.

Nat Neal, new director of the school, said students can enroll in day classes for the programs at any six-weeks period. Most courses are set up for 21 months, he said.

Programs offered at SVA include air conditioning and refrigeration, automotive mechanics, commercial electronics, diesel mechanics, and welding.

GENE & BOBBIE MOORE—music for United Christian Ashrams, the South Central Jurisdictional Conference on Evangelism, and the National Committees of the Twelve. They led music for the Southern Illinois Annual Conference in 1972. They have four record albums, the latest of which was arranged by Kurt Kaiser and accompanied by a London Orchestra. Gene is a songwriter and had had several songs published by Rodeheaver - Word. Among his familiar songs are "Fill Your Life With Love," "Jesus Set My Heart To Singing," and "Do Unto Others." Gene's latest song was written several days after the death of their 9 year old son Timothy.

The Moores feel that they don't have to be old fashioned to be Christian. The songs of Bobbie and Gene are loved and appreciated by people of all ages. Teenagers find a message they are seeking in their music; older people's faith is strengthened as they listen to the familiar gospel songs.

The Moores have two children. Susan who is a teenager and Jonathan born December 19, 1972. Susan is a good singer and has begun singing specials with her parents. Jonathan as yet has only developed his lungs.

Perhaps the Moores sum up their witness when they say, "Through our ministry we are trying to tell the message of what God has done for us and of what he can do for you."

Course On Controlling Retail Theft Offered At Clarendon College

A two-hour workshop on the control of shoplifting and bad check losses will be held October 17 at Clarendon College from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. in room 102 of the Academic Building.

The course will be taught by the Small Business Administration and is supported by the Clarendon Chamber of Commerce.

Every year shopkeepers lose many thousands of dollars through the activity of shoplifters and check artists. No one knows how much these losses add up to in a year's time, but any retail businessmen can tell you that they can be a very heavy drag on a small business enterprise. But the small businessman cannot afford to hire special policemen and he cannot afford the expensive and elaborate electronic devices large firms use to thwart the efforts of both the professional and amateur "light finger artists" who make off with merchandise or cash without getting caught.

The course is open to all businessmen and employees and will be taught at no charge to those taking it. For additional information, contact Beryl Clinton, Academic Dean at Clarendon College.

CRIME PREVENTION is a relatively new concept for law enforcement agencies whose duties have previously been involved with crime "after-the-fact." This project, however, concerns itself with the preventive aspects of crime control and seeks to enlist public participation which is vital to its success.

Operation Identification is aimed at marking property with an easily traced identification number and is only one portion of the overall crime prevention effort. Once an article is marked—usually with the owner's driver's license number — it carries his "brand" and is, therefore, more difficult for a thief to resell and easier for the owner and law enforcement officers to positively identify if recovered. The return of stolen property marked in Operation Identification is made easier.

Leland Wood, Crime Prevention Specialist for the PRPC, will work with the participating law enforcement agencies in implementing their crime prevention programs. Mr. Wood is a graduate of the National Crime Prevention Institute in Kentucky and formerly served with the Potter County Sheriff's Department.

(Continued From Page 1) safer community, but also we'll be saving some tax dollars, since the money that would be spent to handle the increased case load of the country's rising crime rate would be channeled into more productive areas."

Operation Identification is the first project in the crime prevention public information and education program starting today here as well as in Carson, Collingsworth, Deaf Smith, Hartley, Lipscomb, Potter, Randall, Roberts, Swisher and Wheeler County Sheriff's Departments and the Berger, Canyon, Clarendon, Friona, Fritch, Pampa, Shamrock, Tulia Police Departments. The Donley County Sheriff's Department is assisting with the initiation of the program. Contact Sheriff Lindsey, Chief of Police Gary Gerdes, Leland Wood, Crime Prevention Officer of the Panhandle and Regional Planning Commission for further particulars.

The project's objective is to make individuals more aware of the steps they can take as private citizens to arrest the growth of crime. The primary target of this year's activities is burglary.

Panhandle Regional Planning Commission has enlisted the aid of Austin-based Travis Froehlich Associates to consult on the implementation and public information portions of the program. The Austin public relations and advertising firm is assisting 13 other Texas law enforcement agencies in the same type of crime prevention program.

The regional crime prevention program is funded by the Criminal Justice Division of the Governor's Office with federal funds from the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration. Partially matching local funds also support the project.

"We recognize that existing law enforcement forces would be completely inadequate to handle the total burden of crime prevention in addition to their current activities, and that the responsibility for crime prevention, as well as crime control, lies with the public," said Police Chief Gerdes.

"Therefore, our first responsibility is to let the public know what they can do to prevent crime, using whatever means we can — media, speeches, brochures and person-to-person contact. The first phase of the program is designed to enlist the support, understanding and participation of citizens," Chief Gerdes added.

During the year the participating police and sheriff's departments will try to reach as many people as possible. "Public awareness of the fact that there is a problem is the crux of the matter," Sheriff Lindsey said. "The more everyone knows of the crime problem and the steps they can take to prevent it from ever occurring, the less trouble we're all going to have with crime."

Information on Operation Identification is available through the participating law enforcement departments.

Ford To Introduce New Auto Sept 27

The Granada, a new automobile from Ford Motor Company with classic styling and five-passenger seating comfort, goes on sale September 27 at Palmer Motor Co.

The Granada is about half a ton lighter and two feet shorter than most standard-size cars. It is available in two-door and four-door models in two series, the basic Granada and the luxurious Granada Ghia.

"The Granada is a new concept for an American car," it is neither a small car nor a big car, but combines the best characteristics of both.

Standard equipment includes a 250-cubic-inch engine, three-speed manual transmission, normal front disc brakes, an all-new instrument panel, full carpeting and vinyl-covered reclining front bucket seats.

Two V-8 engines, the 302-ZV and 531-ZV, are available. Automatic transmission is optional, but standard with the 351-ZV V-8. Power assists are offered for steering, brakes, windows, driver seat and sunroof.

Extreme care and attention to detail set the Granada apart from other U. S. cars in its weight class.

Quality construction and precision engineering are the unseen elements that make the Granada a wise transportation buy.

The body is protected against rust by 13 pounds of zinc-rich primer and chip-resistant baked enamel. Ninety pounds of insulation go into the Granada, nearly matching the sound-deadener applied to the Thunderbird, which is about 1,600 pounds heavier.

The governor noted that the highways and streets of urban areas form the major corridors of public transportation for Texas' urbanites.

But every Texas family, he said, uses the highways and streets for a "multitude of personal transportation needs — to go to school, to work and to church; to take advantage of recreational and cultural opportunities; to shop and conduct business."

"Truly, better roads mean better living, and the continued improvement of the highway system is a matter of vital importance to all Texans," he said.

Highway Week activities are scheduled during the week throughout the state. Many organizations have scheduled special speakers, including Highway Commission members and top-ranking administrators of the Texas Highway Department.

Many Highway Department facilities will hold open houses during the week.

Climax of the observance will be the dedication of the new Queen Isabella Causeway on Sunday, September 29. The new bridge, — 12,510 feet long — is the state's longest and links the mainland at Port Isabel to South Padre Island.

Q—I have been hearing about the new Federal payments for aged, blind, and disabled people. Why is social security operating this program?

A—Supplemental security income payments are for people with little or no income & limited resources who are 65 or older, or blind, or disabled. Social Security is handling the Federal program because it is already in touch with many of these people through already existing social security benefit programs, and because social security has a network of field offices and established data processing systems.

Q—In April I hired a woman to come to my house twice a week and help me with the cooking and cleaning. When must I report her wages?

A—If you pay your household employee cash wages of $50 or more in the July, August, September quarter, you must report her wages and send the social security contributions to the Internal Revenue Service by the end of the month of October. You can get a copy of the leaflet "Social Security and Your Household Employee" at any social security office for more complete information on this subject.

Q—I plan to retire this year. I have a grown son at home who has been severely disabled since his birth. My wife takes care of him, but she is only 58. Can she get any payments from social security when I retire.

A—It is possible that your wife can get payments when you retire. In addition, your son may also be eligible for benefits that can be paid to adults disabled in childhood. You should apply for benefits for your wife and your son at the same time you apply for retirement benefits.

CONSERVE AND SAVE ON ELECTRIC COOKING

Today's modern electric range offers you a host of special features which assure uniform cooking results each time. You'll find that cooking electrically is clean, cool and economical.

For best results, use flat bottom utensils with tight fitting covers. Utensils of medium or heavy weight aluminum conduct heat faster, transfer heat evenly and respond quickly to temperature changes.

Match the utensil to the size of the unit. Use 8 inch units for large utensils. Use 6 inch units for small to average sized pans.

Use high setting for a quick start for any surface cooking, or to boil water quickly. When cooking temperature is reached, switch to a lower setting.

Do not pre-heat the oven for roasting or broiling, but do pre-heat the oven to the temperature given in the recipe for baking.

Select correct, measured heat. The accurate heat selector switch or oven thermostat enables you to select, exactly, the same correct temperature each time you use it.

For good heat distribution around the pans, when baking, they should not touch the sides of the oven or each other. Allow one inch clearance. Check for doneness at minimum baking time on recipe, don't keep opening oven door to peek.

The Chester Darnells of Pampa are here for the week. Always glad when week-enders can spend more time here.

Ed and Grace Castner's daughter and son-in-law, Marilyn and Gerald McDonald of Lubbock were down for the week end to get some fishing in. They caught 48 cat and two channel cats. Do you think Howardwick has something that Lubbock doesn't.

Mr. and Mrs. George Howard had some friends over Sunday evening for supper. There were five couples to enjoy the meal.

The Will Corgills went to Turkey Monday on business and also for a visit with their son-in-law and daughter.

Our congratulation to the Jim Milams. They are the proud grand parents of Lisa Jean Holland. Lisa Jean was born Saturday a little after 1:00 and weighed seven pounds and two ounces. State Capitol Highlights and Sidelights

By BILL BOYKIN

Fur flew at both Democratic and Republican conventions last week.

When the smoke cleared, the record showed Democrats in Austin.

Re-elected State Democratic Executive Committee Chairman Calvin Guest of Bryan 3,125 to 2,183 votes over liberal challenger Leonel Castillo, Houston city controller. Guest is the choice of Gov. Dolph Briscoe.

Selected a new SDEC, about equally divided between liberals and conservatives. Both sides claimed control.

Wrote a platform encompassing most of what Briscoe wanted but added some things he didn't ask for and eliminated some he did.

Named 76 delegates to the December mini-convention in Kansas City to write a national party charter. Again, both sides were well represented. Liberals wanted more minorities on the slate.

Texas Republicans, at Houston:

Criticized President Ford for his earned - amnesty proposal and nomination of Nelson Rockefeller for vice-president.

Turned down a resolution calling for support of the president on the pardon of former President Richard Nixon.

Adopted a conservative platform confined to state issues, including support of the right-to-work law and opposition to agency shop legislation and a recommendation for a one per cent reduction in the state sales tax.

Re-elected Jack Warren of Tyler chairman and named the 1975-76 GOP state executive committee.

OIL "WIDE OPEN" - Texas Railroad Commission, for the 31st straight month, set the oil production allowable for October at 100 per cent.

Railroad Commission Chairman Jim Langdon said he thinks "we can get through this winter without undue hardship." He warned, however, that there is a threat of coal strike, possible new Arab oil embargo and a cold winter.

U. S. stocks of crude oil are 55.6 million barrels above a year ago. Langdon credited conservation and voluntary use cutbacks by consumers with much of the increase.

Buyers increased nominations to purchase by 18,511 barrels a day - to 4,082,783 for October.

STILL RUNNING - An endorsement by the AFL-CIO executive board revived Rep. Carl Parker's lagging campaign for House speaker.

Meanwhile, Parker pledged to whatever remaining support he has to another pro-labor candidate if he sees he has no chance of winning.

Rep. Neil Caldwell of Alvin and Rep. Dan Kubiak of Rockdale indicated they are making soundings to see if any of Parker's votes can be switched to them.

Rep. Bill Clayton of Springdale claimed to have more than 100 votes - of the 150 House members committed to him.

HEARING PUT OFF - Public hearing on auto insurance rates has been postponed from October 1 to October 17.

State Board of Insurance Chairman Joe Christie said the delay was necessary because the industry has not made available needed statistical data on which rate making is based.

COURTS SPEAK - Misconduct of a prosecutor brought reversal of a life imprisonment sentence given a Dallas man for strangling his 10-month-old son with a towel.

The Court of Criminal Appeals also affirmed the life sentence assessed a Glasscock County man in a murder case.

The same court declined to revoke the probated sentence of an Ector County burglar, though he admitted defying terms of the probation by leaving the county and failing to meet with his probation officer for a five-and-a-half-month period.

A Houston district judge ordered Gulf Oil Chemicals Company to pay a $20,000 penalty for violation of a state air control regulation.

AG OPINIONS - Atty. Gen. John Hill held a county commissioners court cannot authorize back pay to an employee temporarily suspended following felony charges.

In other recent opinions, the attorney general concluded:

A church - provided residence for a minister of music may qualify for tax exempt status provided other requirements of law are met.

A fireman may receive retirement credit for service rendered prior to the effective date of the pension act except where the law specifically conditions benefits on a certain period of participation in the pension fund.

The Texas Board of Licensure for Nursing Home Administrators may license directors of group homes as nursing home administrators, but it may not establish a separate type of license for them.

The Agriculture Department can build an export station on leased land.

DEADLINE SET - Agriculture Commissioner: John C. White reminded South Texas cotton farmers of a September 25 deadline for plow-up and stalk destruction.

Cotton harvest for the state has reached 18 per cent completion compared with only six per cent at this time last year, and prospects for South Texas crops are excellent. However, White said the state's cotton production is projected at 3.1 million bales, a decrease from the 4.6 million bales of 1973.

The 13 - county area affected by the deadline is bordered by Webb, Duval, Jim Wells and San Patricio counties on the north and on the south by Starr, Hidalgo and Willacy counties.

ERRORS NOTED - About 150,000 taxpayers in South Texas have received questionnaires asking them to provide correct information on social security numbers.

Internal Revenue Service District Director Richard J. Stakem Jr. said thousands of discrepancies were discovered when names and social security numbers of wives filing income tax returns were matched with Social Security Administration data.

IRS and SSA said correction of discrepancies now will save lots of trouble later on when applications for social security benefits are filed.

SHORT SNORTS

Rep. Ben Bynum of Amarillo complained of delay in releasing a Lyndon B. Johnston School of Public Affairs report on no-fault auto insurance.

A House committee on business and industry subpanel plans hearings in major cities on real estate business complaints.

Dallas County commissioners want to rename the Texas Highway Department and call it the Texas Transportation Department.

Texas Office of Minority Business enterprise approved 21 loans of $312,531.

NEWS FROM Congressman Bob Price

13th District, Texas

CRACKING DOWN ON WELFARE AND FOOD STAMP ABUSE

The number of people on welfare in this nation was down at the end of 1973 for the first time in history. Some 10.8 million people were on welfare at the end of the year, down from the 11 million peak reached in March of last year. This was primarily due to efforts by the Nixon Administration to encourage the states to crack down on welfare abuses.

That was a good start but plenty of abuse remains in the welfare system and in the food stamp program. I have received a number of complaints from people who have observed apparent food stamp abuses. It certainly looks improper when a person fills a grocery basket with non-essential, almost luxury items, pays with food stamps, then piles the purchases in a new expensive car and drives away. I would encourage anyone witnessing such an apparent violation to note the car's license number or to observe other identifying characteristics and to report the occurrence to the local food stamp distribution office. Such actions by good citizens have often resulted in removal from welfare and food stamp roles of persons no longer eligible for assistance.

No one is opposed to offering a genuine helping hand to someone who needs it. But no taxpayer should be asked to support individuals who do not merit assistance.

Welfare and food stamp abuses are often difficult to track down. The cost of hiring enough employees to adequately check on every recipient is often prohibitive. But some improvements can and should be made.

Welfare should be specifically tied to an active job search on the part of unemployed persons capable of working. It should be designed so that real incentive exists to get off the welfare roles. Unfortunately, the current system too often encourages recipients to extend their dependency upon public assistance.

California Gov. Ronald Reagan initiated a study of welfare and food stamp programs in his state last year and the findings are reported in a 70-page proposal made public Sept. 6. This document should be studied at the federal levels and in all the other states as well. The California study found costly abuses particularly in the food stamp program.

The food stamp program has multiplied rapidly from 367,000 recipients in 1964 to some 13 million today. Part of this increase is because the Congress has specifically provided food stamps for strikers, a move I have strongly opposed.

The federal government spent in the State of Texas alone about $124,524,000 on the food stamp program during 1974. I don't know whether major abuses exist in our state, but I believe that a review of the program in every state would result in significant savings for taxpayers.

Great emphasis is being laid today on the need to reduce unnecessary government spending and I am continuing my efforts in this regard. One way of reducing unnecessary government spending would be to fully investigate welfare and food stamp programs and to accelerate the crackdown on abuses.

Hundreds of members of the U. S. Senate and House of Representatives, past and present, readily acknowledge the role of the GI Bill in providing opportunities to seek and hold public office.
