He has organized churches at Estelline, Clarendon, and Thalia and has preached in churches over the entire area including Borger, Pampa, Matador, Roaring Springs and others. For some years he served as Moderator of the Wellington District Baptist Association. In community work here he is a member of the Ministerial Alliance and serves as a member of the Community Action Advisory Board. He and his wife have 18 children, 14 of whom are living, 80 grandchildren and 3 great grand-children.

Everyone is invited to attend this service of Thanksgiving at the First Baptist Church tonight.

District SWCD Board Has Been Reorganized

Committeemen from the various units of the Soil and Water Conservation District have met and elected new officers. Wayne Riggs, a prominent rancher, business man and owner of Riggs Farm and Ranch Supply was elected Chairman. Bud Hermesmyer was elected Vice-Chairman and Homer Hardin, Secretary-Treasurer. Both men are well known for their farming interests. Also on the Board is E. W. Barbee who farms extensively in the Chamberlain community.

Eldon Lyles, a Board member, has resigned and the Board will appoint a replacement at their next meeting.

The Board voted to buy two new Brillion Grass Seeders. These will be available this coming spring with delivery promised about March. The purchase of these two seeders brings to three the pieces of equipment now made available to farmers and ranchers for their use in this District. In addition to the seeders there is a Land Plane, reports Monty Sowers, local SWCD Conservationist.

Free Immunizations Mon. November 26

Boy Scout Troop 33 Bicentennial Project

Weather permitting, we will work again this coming Sunday. We will meet at 3 p.m. at the First Christian Church.

Broncs Down Wheeler Mustangs 37 - 7

It was the last game of the regular season and also a must to bring home a victory to keep the three-way tie intact so the Broncs busted the Wheeler Mustangs 37-7 to nail down the opportunity to flip for the right to play bi-district... and Coach Noonkester won this round Saturday morning.

Kenneth Reese started the scoring in the first quarter with a 58 yard dash and Kenneth King added the extra point. King went for one yard in the second period for 6 points and added the extra. A short time later he added a 38 yard field goal. Wheeler tallied their only score in the first period with Britt going over from the one and Jim Verden kicked the extra point.

The Broncs added another touchdown in the third period with King going over from the one and also adding the extra point. In the fourth period King took a blocked kick for 30 yards and the 6 points. His toe was good again for the extra. Reese took a 17 yard pass for the next TD and the extra point failed.

Mrs. Almee Osborn, the GSA Communications Supervisor in Amarillo, states that the new Centrex system will provide the public with faster access to federal agencies.

Congressman Bob Price congratulated GSA on their new telephone system. The Congressman's Amarillo office will now be reached by dialing 376-2381. For additional information or assistance, call 376-2011.

Some Cotton To Gins, Harvesting Continues

Harvesting continues in the local area with grain being the principal crop at this time. Farmers are unable to get in their fields until morning drying but afterwards have, for the most part, been fine for combining.

Some cotton is beginning to reach gin yards with light ginning almost every day. With frost in many areas the past week more is expected at gin points.

Demand for cotton was strong for most qualities with staple 31 or longer. Demand for shorter qualities was weak. Supplies of uncontracted cotton have increased. Spot prices fluctuated during last week.

VISITS MOTHER

Jimmy Thompson of Pampa visited his mother, Mrs. Curtis E. Thompson, at Medical Center Nursing Home Saturday.

Head Coach Clyde Noonkester is holding the lucky coin that won the right for the Bronchos to represent District 2-A in Bi-District play against Stinnett Friday night. Clyde won the first round so it will be up to the Broncs on the field Friday night. Staff Photo

Many beautiful arrangements of chrysanthemums decorated the hospital area. Several were from the flower garden of Mrs. Jo McMurtry.

Guests were served assorted homemade cookies, coffee and Cokes from a table laid with a white cloth and centered with an arrangement of red carnations in a crystal bowl. Mrs. Bobbie Dishman served as chairman of the Food Committee. She was assisted by Mrs. Tillie Anglin, Mrs. Veda Mahaffey, and Mary Belle DeBord. Many Auxiliary members in their peach colored smocks assisted in the houseparty.

More than 500 guests called throughout the afternoon, all voicing their pleasure in having this fine medical facility open to serve the people of this area.

Broadus Spivey & Son Injured In Accident

Broadus Spivey and son, Danny, of Austin, Texas were injured in a car accident about 8 p.m. Friday evening. The two were enroute to a nearby ranch to hunt Saturday. Enroute a pickup crossed the stripe and hit the Spivey vehicle head-on.

Broadus was taken to surgery upon arrival at Breckenridge Hospital. No bones were broken however his spleen and the lower section of his body were severely damaged. Danny received massive injury to his head and remained unconscious. Both are in Intensive Care.

Broadus is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Spivey of Clarendon. He grew up in Clarendon and is a practicing attorney. His wife is the former Ruth Ann King who also grew up in Clarendon. Our thoughts and prayers are with the Spiveys and we are wishing Broadus and Danny a complete recovery.

Mrs. Spivey reported Tuesday morning that Broadus had been moved from Intensive Care but is showing some indication of response. Both are considered to be improving.

Funeral Services For Mrs. Jo E. Pfeiffer

Funeral services for Mrs. Jo Ellen Pfeiffer were held at Woods Funeral Home Chapel in Golden, Colorado Monday afternoon, November 19, 1973. Burial was in Central City Cemetery.

Mrs. Pfeiffer, 41, died Saturday morning, November 17, in Central City, Colorado. She was born in McLean and was a former resident of Clarendon. She had lived in Colorado for about three years. She was a member of the Baptist Church and of the Eastern Star Chapter 6 of Clarendon.

Surviving are her husband, Joe of Central City; two daughters, Mrs. Kay Ellen Lindsay of Perryton and Mrs. Paulette Kidd of Clarendon; her mother, Mrs. Ruby Robertson Henderson of Amarillo; one brother, Sammie Robertson of Hearne, Texas; and four grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Byron Baldwin of Memphis joined their son, Dr. Jack Baldwin in attending Open House at Donley County Medical Center Sunday afternoon.

Coach Noonkester Wins Coin Flip To Play Stinnett For Bi-District At Panhandle Friday Night - 7:30

Coach Clyde Noonkester was the winner and came out with the odd coin after two other attempts in the coin flip here Saturday morning with Memphis and Claude Coaches. The half-dollar coins all came up heads on the first try and then all came up tails. On the third flip, Coach Noonkester had the only head which indicated that the Broncs would be contesting Stinnett for bi-district honors.

Stinnett school officials and coaches were here for the flip and went ahead with arrangements for the game to be played at Panhandle Friday night of this week at 7:30 p.m. Supt. Jeff Walker made the arrangements with Panhandle within a few minutes while other arrangements were being made.

The Bronchos, with an 8-2 record, will be taking on the Rattlers who have a 10-0 record for the season. Stinnett defeated White Deer last Friday night 12-0 and the Broncs defeated White Deer earlier in the season 42-0 but we understand that White Deer has improved considerably as the season has progressed.

Coach Noonkester won the first round Saturday morning so it will be up to the boys to come thru Friday night on the field and Clarendon fans think they can certainly do just that if they play a good brand of football with a very minimum of errors.

Plan now to be at the game and back the Broncs 100 percent.

SELECTING CARPETING

Unless a homeowner has some sound knowledge of textiles, or knows just whom to turn to for expert advice, it can be extremely difficult to know how to purchase carpeting.

If you have decided that carpeting all or part of your home will give it that finishing touch, you are headed toward a major — and an expensive — step in home improvement.

But where do you go from there? You may have formed some basic ideas about hue or color, and know whether you'll settle for shag or sheared type of carpeting.

You may start watching carpet ads, and confusion can set in.

A similar type of carpeting may be advertised at various rates. You must check to see if the listed price is for the carpeting only, or whether it includes cost of installation — a substantial item. And, does the installation estimate also include the price of padding to put under the carpet?

This sort of variation in pricing is not necessarily an indication of misrepresentation of total cost. Since some flooring firms contract out their installation work, their only interest is in showing you the actual carpet cost. Others include it in a package.

The usual guide to carpeting is in terms of so many dollars per square yard. And while some volume sellers market carpet by the linear foot, for the do-it-yourselfer, most flooring specialists consider the per-square-yard estimate to be the consumer's easiest indication of ex-

The Consumer Alert

by John L. Hill
Attorney General

mail frauds undoubtedly was the simplest. The promoter advertised in newspapers and magazines: "Last Chance. Send $1." His postoffice box number followed.

By the time government officials put a halt to that, the fellow had gathered in $200,000 worth of dollars which had been rushed by mail by people who didn't want to miss out on that "last chance." No charges were filed, however, since the advertiser had not misrepresented anything, and hadn't promised anything he did not deliver.

Most of the frauds which are perpetrated cost the victims much more — not only in Money, but in terms of time and effort.

Among the most vicious, I believe, are the fake job promises.

The Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division has been the recipient of complaints from persons who followed through on advertisements about employment guidance, only to have their hopes dashed.

Typically, the advertiser offers information about "job opportunities to the person who will send $3 or $4 to learn more.

In some cases, the mailing of the money is the last episode, but the average consumer just chalks the loss off to experience.

One of the most famous of Other schemes are more complicated, and more lucrative. They may involve a notice that the sender of the original fee has been "accepted," and for a couple of dollars more, he or she is urged to return an "application" to rush along the referral process.

If the consumer doesn't hear any more after that, real disappointment sets in. By then enough time and effort and hope has been invested that the person really feels cheated, and turns to an agency such as our Consumer Protection Division, or a county or district attorney, or the U. S. Postal Inspector.

While enforcement of the federal mail fraud statute is a function of the postal service, deceptive advertising is illegal under the Texas Deceptive Practices-Consumer Protection Act as well, and our state and county prosecutors can take action. The new act even provides for a court order to refund the consumer's money.

Another advertised practice to beware of is the "learn-at-home" or "work-at-home" plan which promises you fabulous financial rewards if you will send in some money to learn how to sell, raise minks, write advertising copy — there are many twists to this.

Usually, you are required to buy some "materials" for the study or manufacture described.

Remember that there is no easy way to learn at home or to earn at home. The money and time you spend will be your own, and there is no guarantee that your efforts will sell.

We know that some reputable schools and "cottage" manufacturing industries do provide real educational services and part-time employment on a mail-order basis. The fraudulent operator is banking on your confidence in the honest operations when he advertises his.

Deceptive consumer practices always have seemed to me to be the worst sort of fraud.

But at a time when inflation, economic distress and unemployment are major problems, cruel misrepresentations of learning and earning plans are especially outrageous.

BY THE SNOOP

Well, Friday night was an important one for the Mighty Bronchos and they played like the Champs that they are. We traveled to Wheeler to defeat the Mustangs with a score of 37-7. The boys really played a good game and one to be proud of. Beating Wheeler kept us in the three way tie for Bi-District, but Saturday morning changed all that when Clarendon, for the first time in years, came out on top after the coin toss. Winning the game Friday night may have just been the turning point as far as luck goes and it stayed with us thru Saturday morning. Friday night will be the big game with Stinnett. Let's all get behind the Bronchos and keep that spirit up!!! All the way, big Bronchos.

There was a bonfire Thursday night and the turnout was pretty light. A lot of time and effort goes into this and we should do our best to add the spirit and enthusiasm. Our team works for us, let's work for our team. How will they know if we care or not if we don't show it? Since we won't have school Friday, there won't be a Pep Rally so let's all turn out for the send-off Friday afternoon.

The Basketball girls made a trip to Amarillo Saturday to pick out material for their traveling uniforms. Cathy Keeney and Patty Craft went along with them and it sounded like they had a good day. Everyone seemed to enjoy the shopping spree and having lunch together. Something tells me that we'd better watch the girls team this year. They are certainly working hard and under the very capable coaching of Coach Keeney, these girls are going to go far. Good luck, team!!

Congratulations are in order for the many favorites chosen last week by the student body. This is a tremendous honor and everyone is always excited by the voting and then happy when the final announcements are made. Congratulations to the following couples: Rodney Hicks and Shauna Hardin, Mr. and Miss C.H.S.; Johnny Gerner and Tracy Cagle, Mr. and Miss Personality; Stan Shelton and Sheila Smith, Most Dependable; Kenneth King and Camille Mann, Most Athletic; Johnny Just and Belinda Tanner, Most Spirited; Kenneth King and Tracy Cagle, Best Dressed; Terry Ellerbrook and Mitzi Cagle, Most Humorous; Jerry Holland and Sheila Smith, Most Talented; Stan Shelton and Shauna Hardin, Most Likely to Succeed; and congratulations to Mrs. Kathryn Green and Coach Doug Kenney on being chosen as Favorite Teachers by the C.H.S. students. We are proud of all of you and the runners-up, too.

Andi Eads got quite a surprise the other night when she didn't quite round a corner just like she'd planned. Her car ended up in quite a situation and Andi got pretty scared about it. It wasn't too serious but it was plenty bad enough, right, Andi?

Helen Riggs was riding with Andi when she had her accident and she was kinda shook up too but to make matters worse, she'd been in the car with her brother earlier that afternoon when they had also been involved in an accident so Helen felt as if she had had double-trouble that day. Had you girls read your Astro-guide for that day?

A little bird told me that Donna Stevens had an accident the other day too. Is this true, Donna?

Ava Hasteley, is that a birthmark or what? I never noticed it before!!!

Matt Plunkett, do you have a split personality?

Pat Trout would make a good track star if the coach would scare her bad enough. When she gets scared, she can outrun anybody! Right, Pat?

The National Honor Society presented the following awards Thursday morning in Assembly at the High School. Pictured are: Terry Ellerbrook, Most Humorous; Johnny Gerner, Mr. Personality; Camille Mann, Most Athletic; Kenneth King, Best Dressed, and Most Athletic; Shauna Hardin, Most Likely to Succeed and Miss C.H.S.; Jerry Holland, Most Talented and Most Courteous; Sheila Smith, Most Talented, Most Courteous, and Most Dependable; Mrs. Bernie Green, Favorite Teacher; Belinda Tanner, Most Spirited Johnny Just, Most Spirited; Coach Doug Keeney, Favorite Teacher; Tracy Cagle, Best Dressed, and Miss Personality; Rodney Hicks, Mr. C.H.S.; Mitzi Cagle, Most Humorous; Stan Shelton, Most Likely to Succeed and Most Dependable.

Steve Stavenhagen, we would like an instant replay of the time you fell off the ladder. This time let's take it from the top, fellas. Oh well, that's show biz!!!

A Ladder Of Virtue

(Part 111)
Weldon Rives, Pastor
First United Methodist Church

II Peter 1:5-7 — "And beside this, giving all diligence, add to your faith virtue, and to virtue knowledge; and to knowledge TEMPERANCE, and to temperance patience; and to patience godliness; and to godliness brotherly kindness; and to brotherly kindness charity."

On the Ladder of Virtue is the rung of TEMPERANCE. For our purpose I would prefer to use the concept of self-control or discipline in the place of temperance in order to get away from the narrow interpretation of the word as it has been associated with the church's opposition to the alcoholic industry. That is a proper use of the term, but it is too narrow as I understand Peter's meaning in the context of this passage.

Self-control or discipline would be a better form of reference here. This is true because Peter's emphasis is that one must master his selfish and base impulses which separate him from the Lord God. To accomplish this as Peter emphasizes here, one has to reach that point in his Christian experience that Paul had achieved when he wrote the church at Philippi (Philippians 4:11) "I have learned in whatever state I am, therewith to be content." I know of no other man who could make such a statement and have people believe him than Paul. His experiences as a result of his missionary journeys had brought great sufferings and humiliations. Yet, Paul could sing songs of praise and thanksgiving in a Philippian jail.

Jesus taught that self-control, or discipline, is necessary if a person is to live a truly worthwhile and abundant life. We see these teachings in His words such as (Matthew 7:13-14) "Enter ye in at the strait gate: for wide is the gate, and broad is the way, that leadeth to destruction, and many there be which go in thereat. Because strait is the gate, and narrow is the way, which leadeth unto life, and few there be that find it." You see, though we desire a "loose life" whereby there are minimum controls and restrictions, Jesus taught, Paul exemplified, and Peter emphasized that our life must have direction and steady self-control if it is to reach its goal and find rich blessings. The gospel of God's forgiveness and constant grace does not release the Christian from his duty to do the will of God, though we act as though we have been so set free. The basic demand is self-control, e.g., discipline, in following the commandments of God and the example of Jesus Christ. Such self-control leads to eternal life in the Kingdom of God with all its blessings.

Grace and peace in Christ Jesus
THINK ON THIS: Christianity is a battle, not a dream.

I guess everyone knows that I enjoy being associated with winners. Well, the Plymouth Satellite has got to be one of the winningest cars around. Your Chrysler-Plymouth dealer tells me that, in just the past three years, over a quarter million people have switched over to Satellite from other makes of cars. And I know there's good reason for it. Satellite has a great shape, easy mid-sized handling, and plenty of room inside. Why not stop in and let your Chrysler-Plymouth dealer show you the great new '74 Plymouth Satellite up close. He's out to win you over this year.

NEWS FROM Congressman
Bob Price
13th District, Texas

MOVING TO MEET FUEL NEEDS

The U. S. Committee on Energy Policy and the U. S. Office of Oil and Gas are moving to help relieve the diesel fuel shortage being felt by agricultural producers in the 13th District.

This past week, I discussed this urgent matter again with Energy Policy Director John Love and representatives of both agencies told the House Agriculture Committee they recognized agricultural harvest as a priority need for diesel fuel. I think they recognize that need a little more sharply now because every member of the Committee, including myself, brought home the points in very clear terms. Gov. Love admitted to me that the allocation program has gotten off to a "shaky" start, but I sensed a real desire to effect rapid change.

The agency representatives assured us they would attempt to cut red-tape in the program; and they stressed they were urging suppliers to adjust monthly allocations to meet exceptional fuel requirements by borrowing from future allocations as long as that did not deny supply to important future needs.

In Texas, suppliers and purchasers have two opportunities to obtain increased supplies where the allocation is insufficient, or to obtain a new allocation in cases where fuel was not used in the base period last year. The Regional Office of Oil and Gas in Houston has power to adjust allocations, and the Texas Railroad Commission now has authority to judge hardship cases and allot increased supplies. Forms for making such applications should now be available through local County Clerk offices of the U. S. Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASC).

As a means of meeting critical demand most rapidly, I and other members of the Agriculture Committee urged temporary removal of penalties in cases where purchasers had an obvious and critical need for supplies in excess of allocated amounts. I also urged that current regulations be re-written to make more clear the government's desire that critical needs be met, and to actually establish a list of priorities with agricultural needs at or near the top.

The Committee also explored the level of fuel exports. It is extremely difficult to understand why any fuel is exported at a time when our own shortage is so severe.

We were told that the amount of fuel exports is two-tenths of one percent of our own demand. Also, a "very few cases of profiteering" have been pinpointed and the government is now exploring ways of dealing with those cases and preventing similar exportation in the future.

Clearly, most of our exports are required. For example, a part of the exports go to Venezuela as refined products under our agreements which allow a large quantity of crude oil to be imported from there. Also, a large share of our fuel exports are across the border with Mexico. The problem may not be as critical as I had first feared, but we cannot allow fuel exports to go unchecked.

A special House Armed Services subcommittee, to which I have been appointed, is on a mission to the Middle East during the Thanksgiving Congressional Recess. The military situation there has enormous implications for our own national security and defense costs. We plan to visit recent combat areas and talk with leaders of both Israel and Egypt. This weekly news report, therefore, will be suspended one week until I return to report on our findings.

"Demand exceeds supply" is an oft repeated phrase concerning most onion and potato harvesting areas. This factor keeps prices of these items at higher levels, explains Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, consumer marketing information specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Mathew Henry's Commentary on the Bible has for many years been one of the most widely quoted works of this kind. . . . In commenting on Paul's sermon from Mars hill he gave us the following words: "See how the Devil carries on his designs. He sets cities in an uproar, and souls in an uproar, and THEN FISHES IN THE TROUBLED WATERS." Paul was trying to bring the people a message of truth, and the Devil was among the people stirring them up, and then sitting back and enjoying their tearing each other apart.

Never has the Devil had a happier field day in all the world's history than he is having right now. The Devil through the infiltration of the liberal left wingers in both parties is succeeding in setting souls against each other to the point that if they can't rule they are willing to send ruin on our whole nation.

We would be the last person to defend any wrong doing that has been committed. We think those who have broken the law should be brought to justice. But the whole thing has gotten all out of proportion. It has ceased to be prosecution and turned into the worst kind of persecution. One got the feeling at the last news conference the President held that they were almost to the point of pouncing upon him with their fists. If we come to the point of rallying behind this type of leadership as shown by some of the news media then we have lost everything.

The devil has a small minority of both parties stirred to the point of stopping at nothing, or too many innocent citizens are being dragged along in the name of one party or the other. It is time that we seriously take a stand for the RIGHT. Bring those that are guilty before the courts for trial but never turn justice over to the mobs.

While millions of American souls are in an uproar, we can be sure; THAT THE DEVIL AND HIS COMMUNIST ANGELS ARE HAVING A HEYDAY FISHING IN THE TROUBLED WATERS.

John B. Connally To Speak At Dinner For U. S. Rep. Bob Price

Former Texas Governor John B. Connally will be the principal speaker at a $100-a-plate fundraising dinner for U. S. Representative Bob Price at the Amarillo Civic Center Coliseum December 18th, the Congressman's office announced. A reception is planned to begin at 7:00 p.m. with a banquet following.

Tickets are expected to be available through local Republican County Chairmen in each of the 35 counties in the 13th Congressional District after November 10th.

"Governor Connally is a man who has put his nation's needs for leadership above party partisanship." Price commented.

As a governor of a major state and with experience in the formulation of both military and economic policy, he has been a man of independence serving in high governmental councils and advising administrations of both political parties.

"I am honored that Governor Connally is coming to the 13th District in my behalf," Price said. "I know that Northwest Texans are anxious to greet him and to hear his comments."

Connally became a Republican last May after being a lifelong Democrat. He has most recently served as a Presidential advisor and was Secretary of the Treasury in 1971. Ten years earlier, he had served as Secretary of the Navy under President Kennedy. In 1962, Connally was elected Governor of Texas and was subsequently re-elected twice, giving him the record of serving longer as governor than anyone else in Texas history.

Price will be the first Texas Congressman that Connally has appeared for since his party switch.

Girl Scouts To Wear New Style Uniforms

A release from Quivira Girl Scout Council states that pre-teen Junior and teenage Cadette Girl Scouts will be wearing newly designed uniforms in the future.

The 9 through 11 year old Junior Girls will have a choice of 12 individual looks from formal dress to casual pant outfits — all official. Five of these will be mix to match. These interchangeable include a jumper, smooth-fitting pants, patch pocket shorts in leaf green polyester blend fabric, and a contrasting forest green ribbed nylon stretch bodysuit, white blouse with printed green trefoil stripes. Accents are a bright red V-tab tie, reversible green and red belt, and matching purse. Insignia will be displayed on a narrower contoured badge sash made to stay in place with the back useable for personal emblems. Topping the uniform off will be the same dark green beret.

Cadette girls, ages 12 through 14 years, have a choice of 15 different official outfits. Six mix to match include the jumper, pants, short tunic overblouse, all in dark green rib knit, a long sleeve yellow blouse printed with lemony trefoil stripes, bright yellow ribbed bodysuit, dark green felt vest to take on all official insignia and personal choice patches to the back, and a dark green beret with the Cadette cockade, also a dark green V-tab tie.

Brownies got their new uniforms in the spring of 1973.

Highlights and Sidelights FROM YOUR State Capitol

By BILL BOYKIN Texas Press Association

A new group is seeking to improve cooperation between state and federal law enforcement officials in Texas.

Atty. Gen. John L. Hill and U. S. Attorney William S. Sessions of San Antonio are co-chairman of the "Federal-State Law Enforcement Coordinating Committee."

The organization is described as an outgrowth of discussion over a several months' period between Sessions and Hill.

Some of the state's top prosecutors of both state and federal jurisdictions, Federal Bureau of Investigation agents and Department of Public Safety officials met privately in Hill's office last week to formalize the organization.

"We made a little bit of history," Hill said of the meeting. "It's the first time there has ever been such a gathering of law enforcement - policy making people in this state. It is only a first step, of course, but the lines of communication are open, and we all have a lot to gain, if we exert the effort to make it work."

Hill and Sessions expressed optimism about prospect for success. They said state and federal law enforcement officials have a strong mutual desire to work more closely together and deal more openly with each other.

The two attorneys predicted state and federal law enforcement officials, and the public, will gain from better coordination.

tion of policies, operational efforts and intelligence resources. They indicated the committee will meet three or four times a year to discuss problems and topics of mutual interest.

FARMERS STEW OVER FUEL CRISIS — Texas farmers have been having serious problems getting necessary diesel fuel to harvest cotton, pick citrus and combine grain sorghum due to "mass confusion" over federal fuel allocation regulations.

After several reversals by federal officials, some dealers were still slow to make sales because they feared prosecution if they acted under informal agreements passed along to them. Agriculture Commissioner John White joined Gov. Dolph Briscoe in demanding "immediate positive action" at the federal level.

Rep. Jon Newton of Beeville announced at a national energy crisis meeting in Boston a top federal Department of Interior official had assured him the problem will be worked out in 10 days to two weeks (from last weekend).

Newton said he was informed that users will be able to draw their allocations when they need the fuel rather than on a month-by-month basis.

The hitch has been that allocations were based on the amount of fuel used in November, 1972 — a low usage month for Texas.

MEDICAID ECONOMIES

SOUGHT — The State Welfare Board last week discussed a proposal to screen hospital admissions of Texans under the Medicaid program in an effort to eliminate needless medical outlays.

Texas Medical Foundation proposed a review to determine whether patients can receive equal, but less expensive, care in other institutions. The admission review would be undertaken 24 hours after a patient enters a hospital under Medicaid. Periodic reviews would follow to determine how long the patient needs to remain in the hospital.

Under federal regulations, the state will be required to implement some kind of utilization review program.

Texas Medical Foundation estimated the program could be initiated within 60 to 90 days following a 30-day training period for personnel.

AG OPINIONS — Texas Animal Health Commission may require slaughter of brucellosis-infected cattle within 15 days of determination of infection, Attorney General Hill informed the agency.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded: Whether — and how long — a Brooks County road foreman can keep his job after his brother-in-law became county commissioner depends on terms of his hiring agreement.

The county clerk of Harris County is not required to record a certified copy of a limited partnership agreement recorded in the secretary of state's office in another state.

Because Paris has held no local option liquor election for a year, no deposit of money should have been required of individuals petitioning for a vote on legalizing sale of alcoholic beverages for off-premises consumption. The amount should be refunded.

Texas Cosmetology Commission is not authorized to adopt rules and regulations applying particularly to manicurists nor to waive any requirement of beauty shops in general for a shop limiting its practice to manicuring or any other specific field.

The House of Representatives can use appropriated state funds to buy $2 certificates of service for each member.

Percentage of occupancy of nursing homes is confidential, and need not be disclosed under the open records law.

Parks and wildlife Department regulations may be promulgated and enforced for St. Charles Bay where the Secretary of Interior has not asserted jurisdiction.
