

Today Will Be Last Sunday Edition—

Sunday Leader to Cease Publications as of Today

Today's Donley County Leader will be the final edition published under the Leader name. The Leader and Clarendon News name will be combined with that of the Clarendon Press and the Sunday edition of the paper eliminated.

"There are several reasons for discontinuing the Sunday edition," owner Dean Singleton said Thursday evening. "Not only have we had a hard time making the revenue justify the additional printing and production expenses, but we have had many people express a desire for the Press to put out one good, strong weekly paper and let it go at that."

"After purchasing the Donley County Leader and Clarendon News the first of December, 1974, we felt Clarendon and Donley County could continue supporting the two papers. However, a continual increase in printing costs have taken away any profit motives we may have had.

"We feel there will be fewer problems, and a lot more happier readers if we eliminate the Sunday issue entirely and concentrate all our efforts in putting out one good solid issue each Thursday," Singleton added.

For those persons who have subscribed to the twin publications since December 1, 1974, and paid the increased rate for their subscriptions, adjustments will be made, lengthening their subscription period. These adjustments will be made on a proportional scale that will give them approximately six months additional time on their subscriptions.

The Press-Leader office has maintained a list of all persons who have paid the higher subscription rates and extensions have already been made on their file cards. Effective immediately, the new subscription rate will be reduced to $5.50 mailed inside Donley County and $7.50 mailed outside the county.

The present arrangements with correspondents which normally appear in the Sunday Leader edition will be continued, converting their weekly columns to the Thursday issue along with the Clarendon Press correspondents.

"Although we felt we were geared to produce two editions a week, we found that it required a lot of long hours just to assemble two papers every week," publisher Jerry Sparks said. "By the time production costs plus salaries and printing costs were figured every week, we just can't find a justified profit in maintaining the Sunday issue."

"The additional spare time we will realize beginning next week, will be used in planning and promoting retail activities along with our normal schedule of advertising and news coverage."

The Donley County Leader dates back to the early part of 1929 when it was established

Wednesday Is Deadline For Filing In City, School Board Elections

With Wednesday, March 5, the deadline for filing in the April 5 city elections, only the incumbents have filed for re-election.

The deadline in the Donley County Hospital District board election is March 15, and no one has filed for the three places on the board expiring on the election date which is the same as the city elections.

License Tag Deadline Is April 1

Texans have until the end of this month to get their new license plates on their vehicles without being fined.

The new license tags, which are made of a heavier metal this year because they must last five years, are sold each weekday at the Donley County Courthouse. Hedley residents may either come to the courthouse or purchase their plates Thursday and Friday, March 27 and 28, at the Security State Bank in Hedley.

You must have either last year's registration receipt, your vehicle title or the three-sectioned cards (intact) mailed out from Austin. Deputy tax assessor-collector Bessie Fichte advises to make your purchase as early as possible to avoid the last minute rush.

CC Faculty To Take On KDJW Staff

The KDJW Radio station of Amarillo will be in town Tuesday night, March 4 to talk on the faculty and staff of Clarendon College in basketball.

Little do they know of the surprise in store for them! After looking at the available athletes on the staff at Clarendon College, officials at the school decided "a full-blown" recruiting program was needed in order to "finish" the game.

Recruiters hit the road to dig up some talent. Talent was not found, however "bodies" were, when Clyde Nooncaster and staff agreed to play as long as vitamins and Geritol were furnished. Downtown merchants got in the act when the "Spier-Brothers" signed contracts.

Jeff Walker, Superintendent of Schools, was still holding out for medical benefits at press time, but was expected to sign by game time.

Game time is 8:00 p.m. at Bulldog Gymnasium. Admission is $1.00 for adults and $.50 for students and children.

Proceeds will go to the Clarendon College Rodeo Club Scholarship Fund.

Everyone is encouraged to "boost" the local heroes in the effort

The filing deadline in the Clarendon ISD school board election, which will be held on the same day, is also March 5. The terms on the board of L. T. (Bud) Moore and Warren Hardin are expiring, and no one has filed except Moore.

The city posts to be filled are those of Mayor H. M. (Flip) Breedlove and Aldermen Cecil McAfee and Glenn Wallace. McAfee filed for re-election at the board of aldermen's February 18 meeting, when the election was called, and Wallace filed Friday, with Breedlove signing up to try for another term in the interim.

The hospital district terms to be filled are those of board members Lacy Noble, E. W. Barbee and board president Delbert Robertson.

Persons wishing to file for one of the three city positions may do so at City Hall. Those wishing to file in the hospital board election

Cub Scouts Banquet Held Friday

Clarendon's Cub Pack 37 held its annual Blue and Gold Banquet Friday night at the school cafeteria.

The covered dish banquet included fried chicken from Bradshaw's Country Kitchen, with the other dishes furnished by the boys' mothers.

The highlight of the evening was a prize awarded to the one who could guess closest to the number of beans in a jar, which all of the adults as well as the youngsters tried. Closest was Tony Jaramillo, who guessed 2,089 while the actual number was 2,071.

Cubmaster Claude Thomas made the announcements and introduced William Porter, the guest speaker. Rev. Weldon Rives gave the invocation. He is minister of the First United Methodist Church of Clarendon, which sponsors the Scouts and allows them to meet at the church. Special guest was Frank Phelen, Adobe Walls Council vice president.

Sam Lowry presented the awards earned by the Cub Scouts during the year. Lynn Alderson and Rodney Keown earned the Bobcat rank.

Awarded Wolf patches and pins were Lynn Alderson, Todd Robertson, Rodney Hill, Wesley English, Douglas Walker, Neal Johnston and Troy Stephens.

Bear pins and patches were earned by Arlis Thomas and Ronald Burleson.

In the Webelos, Jerry Hicks, Raymon Jaramillo, Timothy Carter and Dennis Braddock earned the scientist insignia. Engineers were Jerry Hicks, Raymon Jaramillo and Dennis Braddock. Keith Reese earned the geologist pin.

should go to Medical Center Hospital, and the filing place in the school board election is the superintendent's office at the high school.

Howardwick Election

With the filing deadline only Wednesday, March 5, no one has filed for the office of mayor of the City of Howardwick. There are two non-incumbents in the running for the two aldermen posts up for election.

Oz Engel and Mrs. Sue McIver have filed for the expiring terms of Aldermen Vernon Berry and Alton Hendrick. No one has filed for the post of mayor.

Present Howardwick Mayor

or Glen Doty said there are many citizens who would make fine mayors, and he does not wish to run again. He said he would prefer that someone else have the experience, since he has been mayor for two terms.

Any citizen who has been registered to vote at Howardwick since February 3 may file for any of these positions, mayor or the two at-large alderman posts, city secretary Mrs. Joe Wells said. Application should be made with Mrs. Wells. While she has been out of town, application forms were left at The Canteen and with Alton Hendricks, mayor pro-tem.

Four Clarendon High Players Earn All-District Honors

Four of coach Doug Keeney's Clarendon High School Bronchos and Bronchettes basketball players were named to the All-District teams for the past season.

Three Bronchettes named to the All-District first and second teams were Pearly Butler, Tallene Littlefield and Camille Mann, and Gary Jack was the Broncho earning this honor.

On the second All-District Pearly Butler is a sophomore forward who averaged 18 points per game offensive team, for the season. She was named to the All-Tournament teams at Salt Fork and White Deer tournaments.

Senior Tallene Littlefield is a guard who made the second All-District team. She averaged nine rebounds per game.

Senior guard Camille Mann, also on the second All-District defensive team, started the season on the offensive half of the court and averaged nine points in the first 16 games. As a guard, she averaged nine rebounds per game. She was named to the Amarillo American Legion All-Tournament team.

Clarendon junior Gary Jack made the All-District boys second team. Jack paced the Bronchos for the season with a 15-point and three defensive rebounds per game average. He was named to the All-Tournament team in the Salt Fork Tournament.

Citizens Will Save $25,210 in GTE Bills

Total expenditures in Clarendon's round with General Telephone Company have finally been settled, it was announced by city manager Bud Knorpp Thursday.

Although the total amount of money was only $6,493.35, which included the engineering fees of Joe M. Nall and Associates and Touche-Ross and Company, telephone calls and legal fees, residents of Clarendon have been spared a total of $25,210 annually in telephone bills.

In breaking down the costs, Joe M. Nall and Associates charged the City of Clarendon $2,838.83 for their services in conducting an extensive investigation into General's operation in Clarendon. Touche-Ross was paid a total of $818 in service and consultation fees.

Long distance communication between the city and the engineers amounted to $38.68. Legal fees consumed the remainder of the costs, amounting to $2,797.84.

Nall and Associates had originally told city aldermen to expect their services to cost the city somewhere between $3,000 and $5,000.

General Telephone originally asked for a 27.5 per cent increase in rates for the city. Customers within the city limits now pay an additional 13.36 per cent. However, the full amount of the rate increase would have netted the telephone company about $43,004 annually if it had been allowed. As it stands now, Knorpp said, they will receive $17,794 more revenue than before. The difference between the two figures represents the $25,210 that residents won't have to pay this year.

In May, 1974, General Telephone presented the city a proposed rate increase brochure seeking the 27.5 per cent increase. Representatives from General met with the board on June 18, 1974. Aldermen would not grant any increases at that time.

Representatives from General returned to meet with the board a second time on September 10, and offered a compromise proposal of rates and were again turned down. Three days later, on Sept. 13, General brought suit in district court asking the full amount of the increase originally sought.

Joe M. Nall and Associates were hired by the city on Oct. 22, 1974, and presented their findings to the board on Nov. 19. The Board of Aldermen agreed to present an ordinance to General Telephone, and on Nov. 26, General sent an ordinance to the city, which was accepted with some changes.

All in all, it took seven months for the two parties to reach an agreeable solution.

Day Care Center In Money Bind

Several members of the Day Care Center board of directors had to sign a personal bank note in order to come up with the payroll for the three staff members for the second two-week period, and Community Action Program director Robbie Hill said that she expects Mrs. Jimmie Sessions of Wellington, Manpower coordinator for this area, to approve funding the salaries of the staff through that agency.

This will only be for an interim training period lasting from the first of this week through June 1. She said that several fund raising projects would be undertaken during this time to hopefully raise enough money to pay the salaries of the Day Care Center staff until funding comes through from the federal government under Title IV.

Before the Day Care Center gets funding under Title IV, it must first obtain a state child care license, which Mrs. Hill said requires compliance with a completed set of guidelines set forth in a book about 70 pages long. Additionally, a large volume of red tape, applications, forms and so forth, must be filled out by Mrs. Hill, Planned Parenthood director Mrs. Eureka Mays, Day Care board chairman Katherine Pigg and the Day Care Center director, Mrs. Gracie Hammons.

"Having to get the money together to pay off the plumbing (installed in the abandoned junior high gym loaned to the Day Care Center by the city) crippled us almost to the point of bleeding to death," Mrs. Hill said. She said they are expecting it to take from five to seven months to get the necessary funding for the center under Title IV.

"This is an emergency to get us set in," Mrs. Pigg pointed out. "We won't be after the people for donation for years. We have every reason to believe from those we've talked to that it will be funded. Several members of the board of directors showed great faith in the Day Care Center and that it will be funded by going on the note."

She said there is satisfaction in the community among those already enrolled and spreading in the community and that the small amount of help that the center has been receiving from the community is really needed now. Those backing the center, she said, have been doing an excellent job on almost nothing, and when they don't get community support they wonder why they've been going to all the trouble working.

"The more children we have," she said, "the happier all of them are and the more fun and stimulating it is for them. The people need to be aware of what's being done and that we still need the support of the community. We are still in there pitching and need all the support we can get."

"In any new organization, a lot of things have to be ironed out and struggled with. It takes a lot of faith among the people involved or they would quit every day."

Pending State and National Issues FB Meet Thursday Covers Several

Two members of the Donley County Farm Bureau met Thursday night with the Collinsworth County Farm Bureau board of directors to hear state director Bill Wedemeyer with the Research and Education Division speak on state and national issues.

Wedemeyer, whose office is at the Waco state FB headquarters, puts out the weekly bulletin, "Facts For You."

Past Donley County FB president H.L. Shaller and legislative committee chairman Clayton Ferris attended the meeting, and Ferris, who will attend a Texas House Transportation Committee hearing on House Bill 160 by Blake Monday, asked Wedemeyer the Farm Bureau's position on the bill.

Wedemeyer said the state FB favors House Bill 160, which provides for the creation, powers and duties of a Texas telephone commission, though regulation should be at the lowest level of government possible, such as the county commissioners courts.

The only tools the people presently have to fight what they feel are unjustified rate increases by telephone companies, Wedemeyer said, is either to (1) take their telephones out, (2) organize a telephone co-op, (3) take court action or (4) arouse public opinion through newspapers, television and radio broadcasts.

Donley County rural residents are sending a petition to Austin with Ferris protesting the 69 per cent average rate increase in the past year by General Telephone for rural subscribers.

Wedemeyer also discussed national issues of land use planning, consumer protection and food stamps and the top state issue, he said, of taxation. He pointed out that 60 per cent of state revenues go to financing public education, and the education bill to be considered this year may raise that figure to as much as 80 per cent.

The primary concern of the FB, he said, which favors top rate education, is that land be taxed according to what it actually earns rather than its earning potential. The reverse of this, he said, is analogous to taxing an unused garage in a city as if a skyscraper stood there.

Morrow Named Soldier of the Month

Sr. 4 Daniel L. Morrow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ira K. Morrow of Clarendon, was named Soldier of the Month for the Fourth Battalion, 31st Infantry, at Fort Sill, Okla.

The award commends him for superior knowledge of his job, exemplifying "the best qualities of the soldier in the truest and finest sense of the word."

It's a good idea to periodically check the type of pay-off plan for your beneficiary, the Veterans Administration today advised veterans holding government life insurance policies.

"All too often," Jack Coker, VA Regional Director, stressed, "widows of GI policyholders have been penalized following deaths of husbands who have selected small monthly payments."

In some cases, veterans chose smaller payments for life more than 25 years ago, and never updated their policies, Coker noted.

Veterans who now wish to switch to lump sum payments should request Form 29-336 from VA and select option # 1. This would allow widows to select monthly payments should they deem it necessary.

Veterans should mail completed forms to the VA insurance center where they pay premiums, Coker said.

Title 3—The President
PROCLAMATION 4349

1974 Census of Agriculture

By the President of the United States of America
A Proclamation

A periodic census of all the American people is required by the Constitution as the basis for apportioning representation in Congress. In addition, Congress has since 1840 provided for a special census of agriculture to periodically meet the Nation's requirements for reliable and timely statistics on this indispensable segment of our economy.

The 1974 Census of Agriculture has just begun. Statistics for more than 2.5 million farms will be collected to provide measures of the farm industry and agricultural economy for the Nation, each State, and every county. These data will be aggregated for use by virtually every segment of American society—farmers and their representative groups, the Congress, Federal agencies, State and local governments, educational institutions, private businesses, and consumer organizations.

Under the statute authorizing this Census, recipients of census questionnaires are required to answer the questions in those questionnaires that apply to them, their families, and their farms to insure the accurate compilation of these statistics. The sole purpose of the Census is to secure general statistical information regarding agriculture and related resources of the country. No person can be harmed in any way by furnishing the information required. The Census has nothing to do with taxation or the enforcement of any National, State, or local law or ordinance. The Census Act expressly provides that there will be no public or private disclosure regarding any person or his affairs. To assure the due protection of the rights and interests of the persons furnishing information, every employee of the Census Bureau is prohibited, under heavy penalty, from disclosing any information that may thus come to his knowledge.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, GERALD R. FORD, President of the United States of America, do hereby declare and make known that under the law it is the duty of every person from whom information is sought in connection with the 1974 Census of Agriculture to reply to the questions in the questionnaire.

Prompt, complete, and accurate responses to all official inquiries made by Census officials are of great importance to our country. Therefore, I ask affected Americans for their full cooperation in the 1974 Census of Agriculture.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand this sixth day of February, in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred seventy-five, and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and ninety-ninth.

It has always been the policy of newspapers not to publish anonymous letters. We subscribe to the policy, not so much to show who our friends are, but in the event an article is ever challenged, to have some way of backing up our statements. It is not necessary to publish the name of the party writing the letter since we can hold these in a private file.

We received a letter Thursday which was only signed "A red-up, middle-class Clarendon kid" that contains what we think is more than a grain of truth. However, since the letter was not signed, it will not be published. If the writer will identify himself or herself, we will be more than happy to show our readers what you have to say.

We suspect the author is not a teenager at all, but more likely an adult who is not totally unaware of what is going on around town. The attitude is one of concern for today's youth and should not be disregarded.

The series of "BOOM" articles in Amarillo Globe-News lately remind us of an article we once read that bears repeating. The author, unknown to us, has a simple point of view and reminds us of the old saying about "believe nothing you hear and only half of what you read." The story is as follows:

There was a man who lived by the side of the road and sold hot dogs. He was hard of hearing so he had no radio. He had trouble with his eyes so he read no newspapers, nor did he watch TV. But he sold good hot dogs. He put up signs on the highways telling how good they were. He stood on the side of the road and cried "Buy a hot dog, Mister!"

"And people bought. He increased his meat and bun orders. He bought a bigger stove to take care of his trade. He finally got his son home from college to help him out.

"But something happened. His son said, 'Father, haven't you been listening to the radio? Haven't you been reading the newspapers? There's a big depression. The European situation is terrible. The domestic situation is worse.'

"Whereupon the father thought, 'well, my son's been to college, he reads the papers and he listens to the radio, and he ought to know.'

"So, the father cut down on his meat and bun orders. Let his advertising signs fall down without replacing them. He no longer bothered to stand out on the highway to sell his hot dogs.

"And his hot dog sales fell almost overnight. 'You're right, son,' the father said to the boy. 'We're certainly in the middle of a great depression.'

Although we are often guilty of the same attitude, it has become customary for the news media to regard good news as having little news value. To make the headlines, or to get television coverage, news now days must have the element of dread or fear in it. The more sordid, the better, most newsmen will tell you.

Perhaps the news media should bear some of the guilt in our current economic crisis since it has been their job to spread the sad tidings. Although news people have a responsibility to their readers and viewers to report the news, news events can be slanted very easily or twisted just enough to make things sound worse than they really are.

At any rate, we like Amarillo's approach to reassure their people that the economic situation in Amarillo is not as rough as some people might have you believe.

Sometimes it takes awhile for worthwhile tidbits to filter through to our desk, but from the grapevine this past week, we heard one story that should brighten your day. Although it probably wasn't too funny at the time, Jerry Courtney now admits he can look back on Thursday, January 20, as one of those days that shouldn't have happened and laugh about it.

Some days it just doesn't pay to get out of bed, and that was Jerry's day. He was roused out of bed bright and early after noticing his house was more than just cool-in fact it was cold.

At 6:30 he got up, put on his old work clothes and checked his electric furnace. It had blown a fuse sometime during the night.

Courtney hopped in his Volkswagon and drove to the only store in town open at that hour, but couldn't locate the fuse needed to restore heat in his home. He tried the only service station open.

Standing with his hands in his pockets, never yet warmed from the chill that woke him, the attendant asked if he could be of service and Courtney pulled the fuse from his pocket. The attendant thought it was a stick up and reached for the sky.

The service station didn't have the needed fuse either, so Jerry drove to Memphis, only to find there were no stores open at that early hour. With only a dollar and a dime in change in his pockets, he stopped at a cafe for a cup of coffee. You guessed it—they didn't have change for the dollar.

Courtney decided this minor repair would have to wait until business opened at eight, so he went back home and crawled in his still-chilled bed.

When he got up again to start to work, his VW ran out of gas. A woman pulled up behind him and refused to heed his signal to pull around. She kept honking until he got out and pushed the car over to the curb. It went up on the curb, and he couldn't push it off until a friend stopped to lend a hand.

Courtney went back home, got his wife's car and finally arrived at work just a little late. About that time, he felt a pin prick. The dry cleaners had marked a hole in his suit pants with a straight pin, and the pin had picked up a straw mat that he sat on.

It just goes to show that everyone is capable of having one of "those" days.

Adult Education Classes Serve Many Purposes at Clarendon

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following article by Lloyd Waters, public relations and recruitment officer at Clarendon College, shows how the college anticipated and has participated in the current nationwide trend toward adult education. Adult participation is continuing to increase in evening classes offered by Clarendon College at the Clarendon campus as well as through extension at Pampa, Childress, McLean and Valley High School of the Quitaque-Turkey Consolidated School District. These include such courses as Creative Hobbies, taught at McLean, Valley High and Clarendon, Conversational Spanish taught at the local campus with a large percentage of the enrollment being adults from Lella Lake, and the Fascinating Womanhood course which will start March 20 at Clarendon, as well as the vocational and technical education courses.

For many years Adult Evening Courses have been taught by colleges and universities for those students that needed to work during the day and had to obtain their education at night. Some of the students enrolled in the night classes were people of the community that had previous college work but had dropped out of school for various reasons before completing their degrees.

Also included in the classes were perhaps a few people that after several years of struggling day by day at many jobs without being able to reach advancement or success, had turned to working toward a college education in search of a better future.

Today, the situation is very different to years of the past. Adult education is now a major part of the educational system of America. Each year the number of people involved in adult education is increasing at a great rate. The need for education is becoming more prevalent each day in this rapid changing world of ours. The constant pressure, to produce quality and quantity in today's economically stressed world, has caused once educated people to reevaluate their knowledge and to return to adult evening classes to reeducate or pursue advance training in their professions.

With this large increase in the continuing or adult educational process, a new term of "recurrent education" has entered the vocabulary of education.

The term "education" means just that—"intentionally created situations" which have a built-in "abstention and distance" from one's other activities.

"Recurrent" education is a proposed pattern for educational opportunities. Today, getting an education is like getting life insurance.. you may need it when you are older. Under a recurrent educational system, it would be a publicly understood policy that continual education—whether for career opportunity, advancement, personal growth or just pleasure—is a necessity, and one for which adults should not be expected to pay a high premium.

Traditional college or university education is only half the educational picture these days. Edmund Gleazer, in a recent article in the Community and Junior College Journal, notes that 11.2 million adults between the ages of 18 and 60, excluding full-time students, are engaged in education experiences.

House to Study Utility Commission

The creation of a public utilities commission has become one of the most controversial proposals to be debated this session. Emotions have been running high on both sides of the issue with recent allegations against Texas Power and Light, Southwestern Bell and Coastal States Gas companies.

These recent incidents may have created a climate favorable to a utilities commission, but hopefully this session of the Legislature will not let the emotionalism of the issue get in the way of a fair and responsible solution.

There are several questions we need to consider when debating the establishment of another regulatory commission.

First, is whether we really need a commission to regulate utilities. Included within that broad question is whether a statewide commission would be duplicating existing local regulatory functions, and do these existing regulatory councils want a statewide commission.

Presently, Texas has no statewide authority to regulate utilities. To a limited extent, regulation is carried out by city councils of incorporated municipalities. Their only power is to either grant or not grant rate hikes to utility companies.

Unincorporated towns do not have the power to regulate utilities in any way. And at the present time there is not intrastate long distance regulation for either incorporated or unincorporated areas.

There are several bills that have been proposed that would limit statewide regulation to only unincorporated areas, or would allow incorporated cities to exempt themselves through public election.

If controls are inevitable, I have always favored them being implemented nearest to the people. Adding layers to our ever-increasing bureaucratic government has only served to further alienate the citizens of this state and keep them from participating in decisions that directly affect them.

One of the most controversial questions we must address ourselves to is, how effective would a utilities commission be?

The main goal of any regulatory commission should be to make impartial decisions, free from political influence. However, history has shown us all too often that regulatory agencies usually become captives of the industries they control.

A number of solutions have been offered regarding this hazard. Prohibiting a person who owns or whose immediate family owns a financial interest in a utility company from serving on the commission would be one way of eliminating conflict of interest.

Suggestions along the same line are to prohibit former employees of utility companies, persons with an interest in a business related to activities in a business related to activities under regulation, a persons who have a financial interest in a competing industry from serving on the commission.

The questions of whether the commission should be appointed by the Governor and subjected to Senate approval or whether the members are elected are other vital considerations.

In the past, I have opposed the creation of a utilities commission. I think there are some alternatives to outright regulatory control, like a corps of rate-making experts employed by the state to counsel local authorities when requested.

This would keep the decision-making procedure at the local level, while giving local officials access to vital information and analysis.

Of course, this suggestion will be considered along with the 19 House and Senate bills that have been introduced thus far.

As Speaker, I will not take an active role in either promoting or opposing any piece of legislation that is presented to the House.

I will, however, do my part to assure that all sides of the issue are debated thoroughly so that this session can act responsibly in addressing itself to the needs of this state.

Plowin' Out the Corners
by UNCLE ZEB

A reader friend, who is a great lover of poetry, handed me the following little verse... It fits my own life and what we ought always to do. "If an unkind word appears, file the thing away... If some novelty in jeers, file the thing... If some clever little bit of a sharp and pointed wit... carrying a sting with it... File the thing away... If some bit of gossip comes... File the thing away... Scandalously spicy crumb... File the thing away... If suspicion comes to... that your neighbor isn't true... let me tell you what to do... File the thing away... Do this for a little while, then, go out and burn the file." Thank you, each of you, for the good help with this column lately, we do so appreciate our friends.

Thanks also to Editor Jerry Sparks for the kind words about Uncle Zeb in the Leader from down Clarendon way. The second paper to pick up this column was the Donley County Leader. Once when the Editor asked for a comment we received thirty some odd letters. Ever since then we have had a warm spot for these people in our heart, and we wish the very best for Jerry and his helpers in the future of these two good weeklies. We didn't deserve the kind words, but we loved reading about Ole' Ornerly Uncle Zeb... We have been with you' all in Donley County some twenty eight years.

All we can do in life is try to make as few mistakes as is possible for we will not get the chance to correct the most of them. We pass along the road of life but once, and so many times we cannot back track and make amends for careless things which we do. Funny thing, even when we recognize our mistakes we can't get anything for our answers from the next generation... Most often they insist on making their own mistakes... Often they make fewer than we did. How come we got off on that subject.

More from Know Power; "Chicken feed is what my nest egg has turned into." "Too many people ask for faith the size of a mountain before trying to move a mustard see."

"Don't advertise you troubles-the going market price for used troubles is mighty low right now."

"A gift of gab is alright, if we wrap it up in time." With this we wrap this one up.

Howardwick Party Line

by SHARON MILLS

Hello, I hope all on the party-line had a good week, although some of us didn't appreciate the snow very much.

There were about 24 to show up for the Lions' Club meeting Saturday evening. Speaking of the Lions, Boss Lion John Sarich reports the next meeting which will be March 8, will be the last to be held at the Canteen. Beginning with the March 22 meeting, the Lions will meet at the Community Building. The Ladies of the Lions are to bring a covered dish of salad, vegetable or a dessert. The Club will furnish the meat dish. Sounds real interesting, doesn't it?

Lion Sarich wants to remind all you Lions there is just one more month for the "eye bank," which is March. Anyone wishing to donate their eyes can contact Boss Lion John Sarich or Sec. Treas. Vernon Berry. They also would appreciate eye glasses. Nominations for the Lions Club officers will be made at the next meeting. They are president, first vice president, second vice president, secretary-treasurer, tail twister, Lion tamer and two directors.

While nominations are on our minds, lets not forget the City Elections. Two candidates are needed as well as the mayor. If you think of someone you think will make a good candidate why not call them and see if they will run. Maybe a little encouragement is needed. March 5 is the deadline for filing.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Benge were here from Quanah for the weekend. While here Ralph called Herman Green. He is up and around doing much better. Green was dismissed again from the hospital last Friday.

Mrs. Lena Howard, Mrs. Fannie Wilson, Mrs. Norma Corgill and Mrs. Cora Bland attended a book review at the First Baptist Church at Memphis Tuesday morning. Five ladies gave reviews on five different countries. They enjoyed the reviews very much.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Castner, nephew and wife, Ronald and Mary Castner of Leila Lake dropped by for awhile last Friday evening. Ed and Grace Castner stopped by for a few minutes Monday evening.

By the way Ed Castner is becoming a painter, house painter, that is. He has bought a house in Clarendon and is doing some repainting in it. The Milton Beasley, Jr., family visited Sunday afternoon with the Ed Castners. Grace Castner is Miltons aunt. Grace and her mother, Mrs. Boone visited Wednesday with Grace's aunt, Mrs. Nollie Simmons, who is in the Groom Hospital. They report Mrs. Simmons is improving.

Jim and Thelma Corgill went to Amarillo Monday with John and Velma Collins to do some shopping and on business. When families can't get together in person, the next best is by telephone. That is what Thelma did. She visited her daughter Martha in Wichita, Kansas Wednesday night. My apologies, Thelma, I forget Martha's last name.

The Melville Mills were in Amarillo Tuesday on business. They also visited Ruth's sister and brother-in-law, Dorothy and Wiley Ferdig.

Mr. and Mrs. W.A. Jackson of Clarendon dropped by the Bill Littlefields for a while Tuesday evening. Another evening Mr. and Mrs. Bill Littlefield visited Mr. and Mrs. Bob Cantrell. The Littlefields' granddaughter, Panelle Littlefield, gave them the pleasure of a visit Saturday afternoon.

When I called Mrs. James Dunn, she was busy cleaning paint brushes. Her husband also has been house painting. She did say they had spent Monday night in Amarillo with Ruth and Ralph Rhodes.

Mr. and Mrs. Alton Hendrick went to Wichita Falls last Friday to visit their daughter, Jessie Hendrick and his brother, Guy Hendrick. On the way down, they stopped in Vernon to visit another brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. J.R. Hendrick. The Alton Hendrick's daughter is to go into the General Hospital in Wichita Falls for surgery

Friday. Mrs. Hendrick is going to be there about three weeks. We hope for Jessie a speedy recovery. She will get a little rest from teaching.

Our fish story this week concerns Chris Warren of Amarillo. He caught some good size bass, weighing four pounds, three and two pounds. He did so well after having his picture made at the Canteen he went back and caught more fish.

Last week I promised you a recipe for a Scripture Cake. Here it is:

1 C. Judges 5:25, Last Clause-2 C. Jeremiah 6:20-2 t. 1 Samuel 14:25, Last Clause-6 Jeremiah 17:11-1/2 C. Judges 4:19, Last Clause-

4 1/2 C. 1 Kings 4:22-2 t. Amos 4:5-1 C. 1 Samuel 20:12, Second phrase-1 C. Nahum 3:12-11 Chronicles 9:9, Second phrase.

Cream together butter, sugar and honey. Beat eggs until frothy. Add milk to eggs and add to creamed mixture and beat thoroughly. Sift together flour and baking powder and add to creamed mixture. Chop raisins and figs and add; then add spices as desired. Bake at 375 F. in tube pan for about 30 minutes. (I wonder if 30 minutes is right. I haven't tried this recipe.)

I'm sorry I didn't get to talk with more party-liners, but as you know we had telephone trouble out here. I gave up trying to call. Maybe we will have better connections next week.

Bye Sharon

The Ford Administration backed flat rate of 30 per cent for the food stamps was repealed by H.R. 1589, which became law without the president's signature.

Effective for the month of March, local food stamp offices will return to the food stamp requirements which were announced last November in preparing "Authorization to Purchase" credentials. These went into effect January 1.

Indications are all of the confusion and hubub in Washington over the Food Stamp Program and the resultant confusion at the local level throughout the country is far from over. The Senate recently passed a resolution calling for a full review of the operation of the Food Stamp Program to be made and reported to Congress by June 30. This study is already underway.

Effective March 1, food stamp recipients will be using new coupons, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA).

The coupons will be of $1, $5 and $10 denominations. The 50-cent and $2 coupons will be discontinued. USDA's Food and Nutrition Service said the larger denominations were prompted by the volume of coupons needed to meet increased food stamp allotments, paper shortages and increased production and shipping costs.

The new food stamps—brown ($1), purple ($5), and blue-green ($10)—use a more sophisticated design to deter counterfeiting.

FNS said that food stamp users must spend their current food stamps by June 30 of this year since retailers will not accept any old coupons after that date.

Authorized food stamp stores will use the $1 coupon for making change instead of the current 50 cent coupon and credit slips of 99 cents or less for change under $1. Books will be signed by the food stamp customer on the inside front cover, instead of on the back of the book.

The ivory-colored coupon books are in amounts of $2, $7, $40, $50 and $65.

FNS advised retailers to redeem the current food coupons as soon as possible. Banks will continue to accept them for redemption until August 1 of this year.

TANK HARRISON

At Methodist Church— Vice Officer Will Hold 3-Day Service

"Tank" Harrison will hold services in the First United Methodist Church of Clarendon, Texas March 9, 10, 11, 1975. Harrison was a member of the Memphis, Tenn., Police Dept. for 20 years, serving on the Vice and Narcotics Squad, the Juvenile Squad and the Community Relations Bureau.

He received the award of merit form the Downtown Optimist Club for rehabilitation service of parolees and ex-convicts while in Memphis. He also received a commendation from J. Edgar Hoover for organizing a supper camp for youngsters as a means of combating crimes by youth.

In 1961 he was selected "Lawman of the Year" by Mississippi and Tennessee law enforcement officers for outstanding crime prevention involving juveniles.

He received a special commendation from Senator Estes Kefauver, then chairman of the Senate Crime Committee. He was commended by C.M. Kelly, who now is the Chief of Police in Kansas City, and formerly headed the FBI in Memphis. Kelly's commendation was in reference to work done with juveniles in the city of Memphis.

He received the "Service to Mankind" award from Sertome Clubs in Memphis the first time in their history that both clubs selected the same person.

In 1962 he received the "Service to Mankind" award from the State of Tennessee.

On November 5, 1966, he received what he has termed as "a tremendous blessing" when during a Lay Witness Mission in his church he was challenged to begin living for Jesus. Tank later said: "With the old spiritual emptiness filled, I was ready to do just that. Since then I have been discovering what God can do in a person's life and how wonderful it is to walk with the Lord each day."

"I truly had a head-on encounter with Jesus Christ," he said. Old Tank never was aware that life could hold so much for an individual. Every day since I accepted Jesus, I have been blessed."

Bishop Alsie H. Carleton, presiding bishop of the Northwest Texas-New Mexico area of the United Methodist Church says: "Tank" Harrison is one of the most refreshing and challenging spirits that has come our way in a long time," said Bishop Alsie H. Carleton, presiding bishop of the Northwest Texas-New Mexico area of the United Methodist Church.

"God is using his unique gifts, abilities and dedication in a marvelous way. As he speaks, we know that some of God's greatest witnesses are laymen."

You are invited, urged, to hear Tank Harrison at the First United Methodist Church of Clarendon on March 9, 10 and 11. You will never be the same if you do!

Religious Thoughts

JAMES O. BRANDON

There are many problems which one faces as he grows older. These problems are reasons for giving more attention to older people.

When one begins discussing older people, he runs into a problem of semantics. No one likes to be dubbed older or elderly. Aged or ancient doesn't help either. The term, senior citizen, doesn't add much distinction either. We must confess that we don't have a good term to refer to those who are along in years.

Recent reports from census bureaus reveal that older people are becoming a significant proportion of our population. It may astound many to discover that according to a poll taken only 35 per cent of the nations elderly citizens, age 65 and up, claim to be Christian and have affiliation with any church or any denomination. You older folk don't be so quick to condemn the younger. It looks like 65 per cent of the nations grandpas and grandmas don't know God nor have any type of regular church attendance record.

This may be the problem with the kids when 65 per cent of our grandmothers and grandfathers are churchless.

The Christian tradition elevates the elderly to a place of importance in the family. This would greatly aid the younger in caring for the older if the younger would remember this. Usually, in our society, the younger always know what is best for the older. This best seems always to hinge around making elderly dependent upon the younger of the family. Don't take away the freedom and sense of responsibility of your older relative. Let them be responsible as long as possible, and if you can keep that sense of independence in their mind, even when they cannot care for themselves, you will greatly aid to their comfort and peace of mind.

The Hebrew-Christian tradition presupposes respect for and care for all people. The Bible puts the aged in a place of respect even when their bodies are frail. Listen to the Lord: "Thine age shall be clearer than the noonday; thou shalt shine forth, thou shalt be as the morning" (Job 11:17); "With the ancient is wisdom; and in the length of days understanding" (Job 12:12).

The Bible speaks of respect for the aged to the point of others holding their tongue when they are speaking: "Now Elihu had waited till Job had spoken, because they were older than he" (Job 32:4). Many of you could give testimony of a time when this was the rule of the household.

The Bible reproves the elderly when their years add nothing to the wisdom of the age: "When Elihu saw that there was no answer in the mouth of these older men, then his wrath was kindled, and he said; I am young and ye are very old; wherefore I was afraid and did not give my opinion. I said days should speak, and multitude of years should teach wisdom" (Job 32:3-7).

How true this statement. Those of you who have the years should be wise in the ways of God and the world.

The Bible teaches that "the hoary head is a crown of glory if it be found in the way of righteousness" (Prov. 16:31).

Respect is the key word in any relation with the elderly. Treat the elderly as you would wish to be treated if you were there.

The elderly must realize their importance to our society. God has not given you a day off just because you are along in years. If anybody can be the "salt," the "savor" of our world, it is the elderly; but the Jesus our Lord said, "If the salt has lost its savor, wherewith shall it be salted..."

Farmers Asked to File Census

President Ford has issued a Proclamation asking the Nation's farmers and ranchers to give full cooperation with the 1974 Census of Agriculture.

"The sole purpose of the Census is to secure general statistical information regarding agriculture and related resources of the country," the Proclamation says, and "Prompt, complete, and accurate response to all official inquiries made by Census officials are of great importance to our country."

Approximately four million report forms have been mailed to farms and ranches in the 50 States, according to Vincent P. Barabba, Director of the Bureau of the Census which conducts the census. The Bureau is part of the U.S. Department of Commerce's Social and Economic Statistics Administration.

Farmers and ranchers are being asked to report on their agricultural operations during 1974. This 1974 count, the Nation's 20th farm census in a series that started in 1840, will update data most recently obtained in 1970 for 1969 operations. Primary emphasis will be on obtaining information about farms and ranches with sales of $2,500 or more annually.

Such operations accounted for 98 per cent of the total value of all agricultural products sold in 1969.

Completed forms are to be mailed as soon as possible. Census by mail allows operators to fill out their reports at their convenience and use their farm business records. Estimates are acceptable and should be reported in the absence of records.

Few Cases Of Head Lice Reported In Local School

A few cases of head lice have shown up in the local schools after having been reported in Amarillo and other area schools over the past month or so.

Junior high principal Stina Cain said he and superintendent Jeff Walker discussed the subject and decided it would be best to alert the public so they would know what course of action to follow if this happened to them or their children.

It is no disgrace to have head lice, since it can happen to anybody. But is a disgrace to keep them.

The vermin can be caught from using someone's comb who is infected with lice, from wearing someone else's hat, from sleeping on contaminated bedding or from actual physical contact. They most often occur in girls with long hair, and the condition is aggravated by poor hygiene.

Dr. Richard Gilkey, local physician, said there is no cause for alarm since there have only been a few local cases and the condition is easily remedied.

Quail shampoo, a brand of medicated shampoo made specifically to kill head lice, is 95 to 99 per cent effective on the first application in killing head lice, Dr. Gilkey said. DDT is also effective

Monthly DPS

Accident Report Is Given

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated six accidents on rural highways in Donley County during the month of January according to Sergeant J.R. Smith, Highway Patrol supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in no persons killed and two persons injured.

The rural traffic accident summary for this county during the first month of 1975 shows a total of six accidents resulting in no persons killed and two persons injured.

The rural traffic accident summary for the 60 counties of the Lubbock Department of Public Safety Region for January, 1975, shows a total of 451 accidents resulting in 16 persons killed and 241 persons injured as compared to January, 1974, with 553 accidents resulting in 16 persons killed and 302 persons injured. This was 102 less accidents and 61 less injured in 1975 at the same period of time.

The 16 traffic deaths for the month of January, 1975, occurred in the following counties: two each in Archer, Castro, Lubbock, Oldham, Randall; and one in Briscoe, Cottle, Deaf Smith, Hale, Hartley, and Wise.

Brothers Attend Memorial Concert

The brothers of the Rev. Pettigrew Hamilton attended a concert at the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, D.C. on February 21 in memory of their brother, Ward, who was killed in an auto accident this past November.

Four hundred people attended the concert, and it was a moving experience for them all. David and Andrew Hamilton and Ward's widow Diane also performed, singing a French song, "A La Claire Fontaine."

Among the financial contributors to the concert, a benefit for the friends were several people from the Panhandle, including Mr. and Mrs. Mike McCully of Clarendon.

The Friends of Music supports the acquisition and restoration of musical instruments and the performance programs and of Music Instruments National Museum of History and Technology.

questions and answers

Q. I'm getting monthly supplemental security income payments now because I'm over 65 and have a very small income. When I talked with the man at the social security office I asked him if the Federal Government could put a lien on my little house because I'm getting these payments. He told me they would not. But I forgot to ask him what happens after I die. Will the Government put a lien on my house then so they can sell my house and get the money they've given me.

A. No. The Federal Government will not put a lien on your house while you're alive or after your death.

Q. My mother, who's covered by both parts of Medicare, visits her doctor quite often because she has a heart condition. However, her doctor refuses to apply for the Medical Insurance payments, so my mother pays him directly and then she makes a claim to Medicare. Is there any way to make the doctor apply for the payment himself?

A. No. Your mother and the doctor both have to agree that he'll apply for the medical insurance payments to be made directly to him. If he agrees, this means he also agrees that he will accept as full payment the amount allowed by Medicare, except for the deductible and the 20 per cent that Medicare does not pay.
