Second Greenbelt Condemnation Suit Set For Sept. 22

A second condemnation suit was filed by the Greenbelt Municipal and Industrial Water Authority last Thursday against Dr. H. R. Beck to determine the market value of land owned by Beck and will be heard by special commissioners next Wednesday, Sept. 22nd in the District Court room. The first hearing was held last Friday to determine a fair price for the old Clarendon town section. The special commissioners, M. P. West, W. R. Christal and A. T. Simmons set a price of $77.10 per acre for the land. It was indicated immediately following the decision that an appeal would be made.

Regardless of the future settlement of price for the land, the Greenbelt can take over possession of the land within 20 days.

At a meeting of directors of the Greenbelt last Thursday, it was reported that directors plan to have the second phase of the Greenbelt Authority ready to advertise for bids within 30 days. The second phase will include the dam north of town, the filtration plant near the damsite, the pipeline to Lelia Lake and to Clarendon, the cutting in of Hedley into the pipeline, and the pipeline from Quanah to Crowell.

News Copy Time Schedule

The busy season of the year "NEWS" wise is with us again now that school has started and clubs and organizations are meeting regularly once more. This necessitates our asking that all news copy be turned in on time, and we are asking for the cooperation of all reporters in seeing that this is done.

Reports and items of interest happening Thursday thru Sunday are due Monday morning; Monday reports are due Tuesday morning; and Tuesday reports due Wednesday morning no later than 10 a.m. Press runs are readied at noon Wednesday and no type is set up later than noon that day. Please don't ask us to take reports beyond these deadlines. Machines can only handle so much material in a given time and these deadlines are the very latest to allow us to make the Mail truck barring any break down in equipment.

Deadlines are never pleasant to think of and adhere to but unfortunately the Mail Truck to Childress doesn't wait for its patrons so when "GO" time comes material turned in on time and set up in type is all that can be used. Any paper or publication can always be more than filled with news that happened ten days or a month ago. If you stop to think, YOU don't care to read old news.

We are asking your help in bringing you a good, up-to-date paper each week. It takes everybody's news to publish a truly community paper. We feel you will cooperate with us as you have in the past; we sincerely appreciate your efforts.

In regard to news pictures in the Leader: Pictures of public service in general are published without charge but those pertaining to wedding announcements, wedding and social organizations carry an engraving charge. These are also published on a current news value basis.

Alfalfa Dehydrator And Pelleting Plant In Prospect

Thirty-five farmers and ranchers met at the Community room of the Farmers State Bank Wednesday night, September 8th, in regard to an Alfalfa dehydrator and pelleting plant for Clarendon. Flip Breedlove presided at the meeting and explained that he had done a great deal of investigating in regard to the project. He gave a report on plants visited and places where equipment could be bought.

An investigating committee was appointed by those present to work with Breedlove on checking the machinery that has been located for sale. Those on the committee include Don Robinson, Frank White, Jr., T. W. McAnear, Forrest Sawyer, Coleman Shields, Steve Fedric, and Joe Robinson. Breedlove stated that some members of the committee will make a trip this week to look over equipment.

Those attending the meeting were of the opinion that the Alfalfa dehydrating plant and pelleting plant would be of great benefit to every one and a good soil improvement program. The next meeting will be held after the equipment available has been inspected by the group.

Week end visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Harp were Charles (Lucky) Thompson, Gerald Dubay, and Burl Chamberlain of Ft. Sill, Okla.; Pansy Scott and Nellie Johnson of Tucumcari; and Mr. and Mrs. J. R. McClellan of McLean.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS TO ASK FOR NEW FM ROAD

In Commissioners Court action Monday, a motion was made and passed to request the Texas Highway Department to consider a new paved FM road north of Lelia Lake across the river.

The request will be for 5 miles or more of road to connect with the existing pavement north of Lelia Lake to eventually connect with the paved road extending south of Alanreed and Spade Flat a direct route to Clarendon which is the County Seat. If weather is bad, these people have to come to town by way of Highway 66 and Jericho.

Three commissioners, Jess Finley, Jr. Hill and J. W. Swinney voted for the motion and Clarence Reynolds voted against the proposed route.

WEBB COUNTY RANCHERS

IMPROVE BEEF PRODUCTION

Weighing more than 25,000 head of cattle, fertility testing over 4,000 bulls and maintaining records of feeding tests on 10,000 animals is hot, dusty and arduous work.

Proof that the work has paid off, however, in improved livestock and higher beef production for Webb County ranchers, is evidenced by recognition and records.

County Agent J. B. Talcott, an eight-year worker with the Webb

County Beef Cattle Improvement Association, was recently named winner of the Charles Pfizer Animal Science Award. The award brings recognition to the association as well as a plaque and a $250 check to Talcott.

During Talcott's eight years of service, the association has stressed performance testing, fertility testing of bulls, pregnancy testing of cows and maintaining detailed, accurate records.

Results from these tests and records witness their value. On seven herds tested, more than 9,000 head, the average weaning weight of calves has increased from 400 to 430 pounds. The average daily gain of calves has risen from 1.97 pounds in 1957, to 2.12 pounds last year.

Only five bulls are recognized by the Santa Gertrudis Breeders International as having gained over 600 pounds on an official 140-day test; all five in Webb County, one of them gaining a record 682 pounds in a test conducted last year.

The association recently purchased a sonar ultrasonic testing machine for measuring the ribeye area and thickness of fat covering of beef animals, thus providing another tool to aid in the campaign to upgrade their livestock.

Welcomes were extended and new officers elected, among those being elected being Ginny Garland, second vice-president, and Pat Reed, parliamentarian.

New officers were installed in a beautiful red carnation ceremony honoring those who have worked to make Young Homemakers a better organization.

Day-long sessions were closed with a banquet Saturday evening in the Hereford High School Cafeteria. Rev. Kenneth Wyatt of Paducah gave a humorous after-dinner address. At the Awards presentation, Miss Leane Risley was recognized as first runner-up for Area I Little Sister, and the Clarendon chapter was chosen Most Outstanding Chapter of Area I. This places the chapter in competition on the State level for a similar award. The State convention will be held in Austin in January.

Jo Schollenbarger president; Others not shown are: Barbara Orsak, 1st vice-pres.; Audrey Garland, Treas.; Pat Reed, Corresponding Sec. and Mrs. Velma Bourland, advisor. The Young Homemakers are in charge of two departments of the County Fair Friday and Saturday of this week.

Attending the Hereford convention from Clarendon were Barbara Orsak, Donna Tipton, Sherry Semrad, Linda Burris, Pat Reed, Ginny Garland, Leane Risley, Lynn Bourland, and the chapter advisor, Fredda Bourland.

Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Lowe Celebrate Golden Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Lowe were honored recently with a Golden Wedding Anniversary reception and tea given them by their son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. J. Lowe, at Patching Club House. Mr. and Mrs. Lowe were married August 26, 1915 at Lipan, Texas. They made their first home in the Panhandle at Goodnight where Mr. Lowe was dean of the Baptist College and taught. Several years later they moved to Clarendon.

Receiving rooms at the tea carried out the golden wedding motif in various floral arrangements. Mrs. Lowe wore a pewter silk dress and a corsage of golden orchids. One arrangement of golden gladioli and a cascade of matching beads had as its focal point the black derby hat that Mr. Lowe wore on his wedding day.

A white satin cloth covered the table, the sides of which were gracefully draped and looped with heavy satin cord. An immense antique Italian brass epergne overflowing with golden spidery chrysanthemums, daisies, and roses in a Williamsburg arrangement was in the center of the table. A silver service and silver punch bowl were on either end of the table.

From a separate serving table covered with a silver lame' cloth, petits fours were served from a tall four-tiered server, suggesting the traditional wedding cake.

Welcoming the guests on their arrival were Sam and Will Lowe, grandsons of the Lowses, and Mrs. Walter Lowe. Attending the guest register were Cindy Lowe, granddaughter of the Lowses, and Anna Beth Simmons. Other members of the houseparty greeting the guests in the receiving rooms were Mrs. Arthur Howard of Memphis and Mrs. Benton Moreman of Groom.

Presiding at the serving tables were Mrs. Van Earl Steed of Groom, Mrs. Roy Broadway of Wichita Falls, Mrs. Fred Lowe of Dallas, Mrs. W. O. Bower of Port Arthur, Mrs. Jesse Lowe of Lubbock, and Mrs. Douglas Lowe of Wellington. One hundred and fifty-three guests were received during the afternoon.—Rep.

JAYCEE-ETTE NEWS

Jaycee-ettes met in regular session Tuesday evening in the Hospitality room of the Farmers State Bank.

During the business meeting plans were completed for the operation of the concession booth at the County Fair. The group also voted to make the curtains for the Museum.

Patsy Robertson was in charge of the program. She introduced Attorney Bill Lowe who presented a most interesting and informative talk on "Wills." A question and answer period followed. All the girls enjoyed the program very much and are more fully aware of the importance of having a will.

Present were Brenda Higley, Ann Hommel, Pat Wallace, Minnie Gerdes, Frances Johnson, Nancy Kidd, Patsy Robertson, Frances Hill, Theola Leeper, Doris White, and Pat Anthony. Hostesses were Patsy Robertson and Minnie Gerdes.—Rep.

Bronchos Lose Squeaker To Claude 27-22

By Tom Higley

Clarendon showed considerable improvement over the previous week when they tangled with the Claude Mustangs last Friday, and, despite a last-half rally, lost to the Mustangs, 27-22.

Mac McClellan continued his torrid pace as he scored one touchdown and added a two-point conversion and gained over 100 yards on the ground to pace the Bronchos in the loss.

Also breaking the scoring column for the first time were Archie Smith and Richard Thornberry. Thornberry also scored a conversion.

Clarendon led 8-6 at the end of the first quarter, but two quick second period scores by the Mustangs put the Bronchos behind at half-time, 21-8. Claude returned in the third quarter to notch another touchdown before the Bronchos started their fourth-quarter rally.

McClellan, a 130-pound sophomore, scored on a five yard dash, Smith ran four yards and Thornberry caught a ten yard pass from quarterback David Mooring for his touchdown.

Defensive standouts for the Bronchos were guard Mike Horton, back Odell Louis, back Lance Gardner and tackle Pete Campbell.

The tackle situation, shown to be weak against Gruver two weeks ago, was greatly improved against Claude. On defense, Lewis, Smith, Thornberry and Gray harrasses Claude all night.

Clarendon, with a 0-2 record, meets the Panhandle Panthers in Broncho Stadium at 8 p.m. Friday.

BRONCHO BAND PARENTS NEWS

Band Parents will have their September meeting, the first of the new school year, on September 21st, next Tuesday, at 7:30 p.m. in the Band Hall at the school. All parents of students in the High School Band are urged to attend these important meetings.

Mothers of Band Students met before school started and cut and sewed material for drapes to soundproof the band hall. The club also purchased an air-conditioner to cool the hall.

Our band, we feel, is something to be proud of and the parents should be its most ardent boosters, so let's have all the parents at the meeting Tuesday night.

The Band will travel to Amarillo for the Tri State Fair parade Monday, September 20th. Some parents may be asked to ride on the buses to Amarillo as they are to each of the football games. Let's keep the band growing.

NO SCHOOL CLOSING FOR AMARILLO FAIR

Supt. K. D. Vaughan has announced that school will not be turned out a full day for the Amarillo Fair but buses will run and school will be dismissed early on Wednesday afternoon at 3 p.m. for those who desire to go at that time. Students who skip classes will be unexcused and will not be allowed to make up work. Parents are asked to help in seeing that students do not miss any school as absenteeism cuts down on the money the school receives from the state.

BRONCHO BAND PLANS BUSY SCHOOL YEAR

School began October 30th for most high school students; however, for the nearly 60 members of the Broncho Band, rehearsals began two weeks earlier. The Band takes part in many activities during the year and rehearsals must begin early that the Band may be in top shape for the first football game.

During the fall the Band stays busy preparing a half-time performance for each of the ten football games, playing for pep rallies, the Tri-State Fair parade, and the Hedley Cotton Festival. A highlight of the fall season is the Band's participation in the Inter-scholastic League Marching contests at Canyon.

After the marching season is over, the Band turns its talents to contest work, assemblies, the Inter-scholastic League Concert and Sightreading contest and other Band festivals. A number of Band students participate in the all-region Band and the all-region solo and ensemble contest.

Everyone is looking forward to a successful year with the Broncho Band under the direction of Phil Anthony.

NEWS FROM CITY HALL

By R. L. Gilkey, Mayor

A taxpayer asked me the other day how I found time to be mayor along with practicing my profession. The answer was quite simple, I just don't devote the time to being a good mayor. Under our present form of city government the business of the city is operated by a city administrator. In the absence of an administrator, the present mayor can only do a second rate job.

Last week we had an employee resign and received over a dozen applications for this one job. This week we find that our City Secretary is to move out of town and must also resign. So we are currently taking applications for the position of City Secretary. This is an important job in the city offices.

Some parts of the mayor's job are simple. These are the one time problems, as sewer repair or water line, pick up a stray dog, fine a negligent or reckless driver—these are simple to solve. The difficult jobs are those jobs that the individual taxpayer is not satisfied with the results. For example: "Why is my water pressure so low?" Chances are that same question has been asked of every new administration, and the findings are always the same, usually too small a line from the city's main to the taxpayer's outlet. Another never ending problem is dusting for mosquitoes. Ten percent of the taxpayers can't tolerate the dust because it makes them sick, and ten percent of the taxpayers can't stand the hordes of mosquitoes. Then there is the perennial problem of water runoff from rains with its repeated washing of the dirt roads. There is also a taxpayer who hauls his own garbage because he doesn't want to set cans in front of his house, and his alley hasn't been opened. There's the traffic violator who acts as if it's the fault of the city that he broke the law. No one can say that the job of Mayor of Clarendon is boring or dull. It most certainly isn't.

Clarendon will have the Greenbelt Dam; we'll have a dog pound; that taxpayer will have his garbage service; we're planning on sewer extensions; some paving will be done within a year; we'll have a new City Secretary; we are now installing a coin operated water meter; we're planning on a replacement of obsolete or worn out city vehicles; the rest rooms at the ball park are being completed, and we're still planning on reroofing the old red brick schoolhouse. The old schoolhouse can then be turned over to the planning and beautification committee for use as a civic center or other purposes as they desire.

Progress isn't so slow. It just seems slow.

Recent visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Carmichael and Eddie were Mr. and Mrs. Drexell Williams and children of Bakersfield, Calif; Mrs. Lenora Cowell and boys, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Sanders, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mouser of Pampa; Mrs. Maudie Vaughan, and Mr. and Mrs. John-ny Vaughan of Springhill, La.

C. R. DEBORD GINS FIRST SALE OF COTTON IN DONLEY COUNTY

C. R. DeBord of Hedley brought in the first bale of cotton from the 1965 crop to the West Texas Gin at Hedley last Wednesday. The cotton was grown on the M. C. DeBord place at McKnight.

W. W. Wiggins, mgr. of the gin, reported that the 590 pound bale was sold to the Hedley Lions Club at 40 cents per pound and it will be used in connection with the annual Cotton Festival at Hedley. The bale was ginned from 2500 pounds of seed cotton and produced 900 pounds of seed.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. McDaniel had as their guest last week, her mother, Mrs. Nora Key of Vernon. She enjoyed visiting friends while here.

New Process Developed For
All-Cotton Fabrics

The recent development of a mechanical process for manufacturing durable press and wash-wear fabrics has been hailed as a major breakthrough by a number of textile industry leaders, reports Mrs. Lynn Parks Stiles, Texas A&M University Extension consumer education specialist.

This process reduces the amount of tensile and tear strength loss in resin-treated and cross-linked cottons — a major stumbling block for manufacturers until now.

Micro-stretching, as the process is called, is a patented development of Raduner & Co. of Horn, Switzerland, and is purely mechanical finishing of fabric. The inventor is Dr. Alfred Lauchenaer, research director at Raduner.

The process will lower production costs without sacrificing quality. In general, it will improve the performance of fabrics made from cotton. The mechanical treatment can be put into operation at any point in the fabric processing procedure, but it always must be done before the curing step.

Now wash-wear performance is made possible for the first time in lightweight fabrics for sheer blouses, handkerchiefs, print dresses, sleepwear and other products which until now have not been able to withstand chemical treatments.

Since this process is a mechanical method — not chemical — it is immediately applicable to all current durable press wash-wear fabrics and dimensional stabilization treatments.

COTTON ROOT ROT MAY BE THE CULPRIT — Homeowners who find shrubs and ornamentals dying during the warm season may discover a fungal disease at the "root" of their problem. The fungus is known to infect 2,000 species of wild and cultivated plants, says Extension Plant Pathologist Wendell Horne, Texas A&M University. There is no satisfactory chemical control for the disease but homeowners are advised to use plants which are resistant to the root rot. Local county agents can supply a list of these plants, says Horne.

Hackberries harbor many pests.

The storm clouds don't have to be very dark before we lose sight of our fair weather friends.

Someone mailed us the following: "I saw an old friend last week. Years had gone by since we visited together. Meanwhile he had done quite well in business. The inside of his calling card carried this fine message:

There are two days in every week about which we should not worry. Two days which should be kept free from fear and apprehension.

One of these days is yesterday, with its mistakes and cares, its faults and blunders, its aches and pains. Yesterday has passed forever beyond our control.

All the money in the world cannot bring back yesterday. We cannot undo a single act we performed; we cannot erase a single word that we said yesterday.

The other day we should not worry about is tomorrow, with its possible adversities, its burdens, its large promise and poor performance. Tomorrow is beyond our immediate control.

Tomorrow's sun will rise, either in splendor or behind a mask of clouds — but it will rise. Until it does, we will have no stake in Tomorrow, for it is yet unborn.

This leaves only one day—Today. Any man can fight the battles of just one day. It is only when you and I add to the burdens of those two awful eternities of Yesterday and Tomorrow—that we break down. It is not the experience of Today that drive men mad—it is the remorse and bitterness for something which happened yesterday, and the dread of what tomorrow may bring. Let us live but one day at a time.

The other day an interested citizen was giving one governing board down the country for not doing anything. Afterwards we were wondering if perhaps they might be doing something after all. In this day and time when some governing group meets and fails to up expenditures and taxes it could just be that they are doing the people the greatest favor of all.

It seems that most folks think this state senate redistricting amendment is a good thing. Anyhow we decided to go along and vote for it even after we had almost drawn a line against voting for any more amendments. We had just about made up our minds to join the hold the line conservatives. Take for instance the four year term amendments—at the time they looked all for the good. But, when one takes the long look it appears to have been for the bad. In one sweep it took away one half of the voters say-so, and gave the politician twice as long to get politicky.

One trend of thinking that worries us most of all has been growing worse for the last several presidents, both Republican and Democrat. This danger concerns the attitude of the people that the program of the president is all good and that the mean boys are the members of Congress that tend to block his great plans. This line of thinking could lead to trouble and dictatorship. Actually about the only voice we have is through our congressmen.

AGRONOMIST RECOMMENDS FALL FERTILIZER — Dr. Elton Cook, agronomist at Texas A&M University's Blackland Experiment Station, Temple, says farmers should consider applying fall fertilizer. Tests at the Blackland Station indicate there is little difference in yield resulting from the time the fertilizer was applied.

A good breakfast will help a dieting teen remain healthy and still lose weight. Miss Louise Mason, Texas A&M University Extension foods and nutrition specialist, stresses the advantage of starting the day right. Recent breakfast studies show that a skipped breakfast only accentuates teen-agers' hunger, causing overeating at later meals. A good breakfast will help eliminate the urge to nibble between meals, Miss Mason adds.

Play it safe—while at play! As careful as you may be you are going to run into a dangerous situation sometime during your adventures into the great outdoors.

It can happen when you're walking, sitting, lying down, boating, skiing, fishing, swimming, shooting, hunting — or merely observing.

Fact of the matter is danger lurks everywhere — indoors, outdoors, at home or abroad.

Too often people are caught unprepared when the surprise incident happens.

How do you prepare yourself for the unexpected? That's mighty hard to do unless you are anticipating trouble. But there are a few precautions you can take, a few items you can carry with you, that will minimize the danger.

For instance, if you're headed for an area where snakes may reside — stick a snake bite kit in your pocket, tackle box, or gun case. We carry one in the trouser pocket everytime we hunt or fish. In addition there's one in the fishing tackle box, and the ammo box or the gun case.

We've had only three encounters with snakes, but one was enough to impress this angler with the importance of being prepared.

Once a rattler wraps itself around your arm you'll not forget this little precaution.

However we suggest you don't wait until something happens to form the habit of carrying along a snake bite kit. They're small, not much larger than a medium sized pocket knife and their weight is nil.

If you are going boating—then good life preservers are a must.

We used to think it foolish to wear a life jacket while fishing with the old buddy in a safe boat well equipped with flotation.

But not after the little 14 ft. fiberglass rig hit a submerged boulder and knocked both of us overboard—and one of us unconscious.

It's a peculiar sensation to awaken 10 to 12 feet under water and not knowing which direction is up. Teaches you one thing though—that a life jacket or ski belt can be a man's best friend.

One doesn't shy away from life jackets after an experience like that. In fact he seeks them out, and is even mighty careful about his choice.

Let others chide you if they like, call you sissy or "fraidycat"—you just wear that jacket anyway. At least you won't end up in the briny deep.

Nowadays you can buy a cigarette-pack-size pair of inflatable water wings; or an inflatable shirt. They'll keep you afloat providing you're conscious enough to squeeze the pack or pull the cord on the shirt when the accident happens.

But with a good life preserver already on you're as close to 100 percent safe as you can get and still be in the water.

Storms create big problems.

You'll be surprised how suddenly a storm can get into high gear. If your motor conks out, or the boat springs a leak during a storm you're in real trouble, even on a relatively small lake—not to mention a Texas-size one.

That's when you need to call on flares. Most people think of flares in terms of big boats and the Atlantic or Pacific waterways—or maybe the Gulf of Mexico. But they're mighty handy on lakes—when the helping hand of a friend is needed.

Genus makes a compact "Life-saver" kit that resembles the tear gas pen that women are beginning to carry in their purses. Works on the same principle but is a little more potent. It will eject the flare some 350 to 450 feet and can be seen as far as 60 miles away.

If you've been stranded on the lake in a sinking boat, or with a burned out motor, or the boat afire, or even with a broken shear pin, it's a helpless feeling—even if a storm isn't brewing.

Too many times boats will pass you by when you hail them—or just wave right back at you in a friendly situation—not realizing you're in need of assistance. But when a flare is shot skyward there's no mistaking that signal—even on the Fourth of July.

Put one in your tackle box — along with the snake bite kit.

All of which reminds us of the importance of having some type of noise-making equipment handy.

You can buy all kinds of horns for your boat. The squeeze bulb type lasts the shortest—since rubber deteriorates quickly on the water and in the hot sun. Those that are air or gas powered are better. But eventually they'll play out. The electrical type—the storage battery operated lasts longer. And of course the best is the hand operated siren. It seems to always work.

If you can't afford a horn get one of these squeeze balls that have a built in piercing whistle. They're cheap and can be replaced often with out great expense.

Mainly what you want is something with which you can attract attention. Of course you can always resort to the old standby—a man's shirt or a woman's petticoat—waved in the breeze. If there's a storm coming there will be plenty of breeze.

Whatever the weather — be careful.

Most native plants are best raised from seed.

Wash-wear performance in lightweight fabrics for sheer blouses, handkerchiefs, print dresses and sleepwear is now possible for the first time, thanks to a new mechanical process in producing all-cotton fabrics. This process, says, Mrs. Lynn Parks

Stiles, Texas A&M University Extension consumer education specialist, reduces the amount of tensile and tear strength loss in resin-treated and crosslinked cottons. Cottons are now able to withstand chemical treatments when manufactured the new way.

WILDLIFE ABUNDANT ON ARANSAS WILDLIFE REFUGE

If your sightseeing tastes run to deer, wild turkey, great blue heron, collared peccary, caracara—or several hundred other types of wildlife—then the Aransas Wildlife Refuge should be on your list of Texas places to visit this year.

This National Wildlife Refuge covers 47,261 acres on Blackjack Peninsula, about 75 miles north and slightly east of Corpus Christi off State Highway 35. The Refuge was established in 1937 for the protection and production of all forms of Wildlife. It is administered by the Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife under the U. S. Department of Interior.

Visitors are asked to register at Refuge headquarters, located eight miles southeast of Austwell, Texas (Refugio County).

Summer visitors are encouraged to plan visits for late afternoon when more wildlife can be observed from the Refuge's 25 miles of shell-surfaced roads. Visiting hours are from 8:00 a.m. to sunset, daily.

Occupants of vehicles bearing a Land and Water Conservation Fund sticker are admitted free.

For all persons over 16 years of age, there is a 25c fee, effective about June 1, 1965. Picnic areas are available in the Refuge.

For complete information on the area, you may write to Refuge Manager, Aransas National Wildlife Refuge, Austwell, Texas 77350, or Director, Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife, Washington, D. C. 10240.

PROPER STOCKING IS GOOD PRACTICE

Proper stocking rates coupled with other good range management practices are keys to successful and efficient ranching, says

County Agent Ronald Gooch. He explains that stocking rates should be based on available forage and not on expected rainfall and grass crops.

Rainfall is erratic and unexpected drouth conditions are likely to occur one year out of every five or six. With this in mind, farmers should inspect pastures during August or September and again at the start of growing season to determine stocking rates.

The amount of forage produced on a pasture is in proportion to rainfall retained on the land and intensity of grazing. Research reveals that a minimum of 2,000 pounds of plant material per acre is required to reduce soil erosion and maintain soil temperature.

In order to keep pastures in a good state of production, Gooch recommends that producers adapt a "low base herd" grazing program. In this type program the herd size is maintained so that about three-fourths of the forage is utilized.

During good years when excessive forage is available, calves can be kept on pasture longer before going to market or fast gaining high grade stockers may be purchased to utilize extra forage. If drouth conditions are encountered the herd can be culled down to the low base herd size.

When deer and antelope are grazing the area, livestock stocking rates should be adjusted to maintain forage for their use. It is important that livestock and wildlife not be in competition for available forage, Gooch concludes.

Eliminating potential poisons in the home will help prevent a needless tragedy, says Mrs. Patsy Reynolds Yates. The Texas A&M University Extension family life education specialist emphasizes the danger to young children if household poisons such as insecticides, bleaches and cleaning agents are left within reach. Young children, curious and prone to explore, will put anything into their mouths. Aspirin, a common household medicine, was the leading offender in a 1961 study of child poisoning.

SHRED AND PLOW UNDER GRAIN SORGHUM STUBBLE—Farmers in many areas of Texas, but especially those in the Black-lands of Central Texas, are advised by John Box, Extension agronomist, Texas A&M University, to immediately shred and plow under after harvest, their grain sorghum stubble. This plant residue, he adds, is a valuable by-product of the grain harvest provided it is properly utilized. It is a top source of organic matter, he says.

Best-photographed tornado was the one that hit Dallas in 1957, of which 550 different photos are known.

Cotton

County
Fairs
Go
Together

Our County Fair will reflect many things—and one of them is the agricultural revolution we are going through here in Donley County as well as the industry as a whole. Within the last few years we have seen practically the last of hand operation go out of cotton harvesting in this area. West Texas Gin has been in the forefront of this revolution just as we have been in the vanguard of agricultural progress since our organization. We urge you—Go to the Fair. See the many and varied exhibits that will be on display.

We are proud to have received the first bale of 1965 cotton ginned in Donley County. This first bale was ginned for C. R. DeBord Wednesday, September 8. It weighed 590 pounds with 900 pounds of seed.
