NEWS FROM CITY HALL

by R. L. Gilkey, Mayor

Mr. George Kiker met with the City Council last Tuesday night to present the audit for the year 1964. It was an extremely detailed audit and the council was well pleased. It will be published in next week's paper. Please look it over carefully. Notice that the city has a large amount of funds in excess of our requirements at this time to meet our obligated debts. We don't have much cash on hand, but we are in sound financial shape. There is an extra copy of the audit at City Hall. Look it over if you wish. You'll be pleased also.

An interesting sidelight of the audit was the tax collection rate, only 88%. It appears that next year we'll be required to hire a firm to properly value the property for the equalization board.

The equalization board, consisting of Frank Thomas, Shelby Bell, and M. P. West, met Monday night. Some of the valuations were reduced, some were increased, and some were not changed. Those persons whose valuations were changed will be notified to appear before the equalization board August 10th if they so desire.

You probably wonder how well the city is functioning without an administrator. It is functioning very well. All the essential business is being carried out. There are some services that aren't being done just yet, such as painting the water tower, adding sewer extensions, a little paving, and other small services which each citizen deserves. Just now we can't do some of these items, but they will be worked in later. A new administrator? Yes, we need one. We're looking for one. There is a place for such an office in this city. An administrator plans and carries out these jobs and services for the city. As taxpayers we have a right to these services, otherwise why would we place these taxes on ourselves? And we want the taxes administered properly, by a person trained in the big business of city affairs.

Some of us will still have our doubts about city administrators. Do this: Look at Clarendon's past, look at Clarendon now, look at the future, and don't forget to look at the audit next week. Then make up your own mind.

Departments in the fair will include: Flower Show, Merchants Exhibits, Community Agricultural Exhibits, Home Economics Exhibits, Needle Craft Exhibits, Fine Arts Exhibits, Canned Goods Exhibits, and Home Made Baking Exhibits. Advertisements for the fair catalog are currently being sold. The catalog should be available around August 15th.

All residents and communities in Donley County should be making plans to exhibit and support their fair. Let's make this one of the best fairs ever, stated County Agent Ronald Gooch.

A Museum Is In The Offing For Clarendon and Donley County

by Tom Higley

Cooperation between the Clarendon City Council and the Donley County Historical Survey Committee (DCHSC) has insured at least for the present, a museum in the City Hall. Permission from the city was granted two weeks ago for the use of the old American Legion room in the north portion of the building.

Future plans call for the moving of all city offices from their present locations to the abandoned school buildings, south of Prospect Park. At that time, the museum will be enlarged to take in all of the upper portion of the present City Hall.

Will Chamberlain, chairman of the DCHSC and a charter member of the Vertebrate Paleontology Society, plans to exhibit historic and pre-historic items in the museum. "This will be a museum operated by and for the citizens of Donley County," he said.

"Approximately 20 percent of the Lower Pliocene beds are unworked in Donley County," Chamberlain continued. "They are located in the northeast portion of the county and we feel they could be worked and the fossils found there could be placed on exhibit in the new museum."

The current city hall was built in 1918 by the Clarendon Young Men's Christian Association. The organization, with 40 charter members, received its charter from the state of Texas on February 17, 1917. In December of 1923 several large debts had been acquired and according to official records, the YMCA was "not able to pay the debts against it and the deed was conveyed to W. A. Sorrell, Mayor, and the commissioners and their successors in office." The city said they would assume the debts, totaling nearly $2,000.

"We will be fortunate to have this building without any expense to the city or county and a chance to safeguard and store some of the history of Donley County," said Chamberlain. "We plan to make this an educational museum housing many of the pre-historic specimens of the area."

No less than 10 scientists and scientific groups have "worked" the fossil beds of the county since 1895 when Mr. Cummings, working for the state, discovered some fossils here.

In 1899, Dr. J. W. Gidley began work here with William Kendall as his assistant and found the first Plio Hippius fossil which can now be seen in the Field Museum in Chicago.

College and university scientists arrived in 1912 with Dr. Richard Swan Lull of Yale and Dr. Barnum Brown of the American Museum of Natural History. Lull worked on the RO Ranch and Brown on the JA Ranch.

Mongolia Johnson, also of the American Museum of Natural History did extensive work in 1928-29 in the county and the Frick Laboratory of the American Museum of Natural History arrived in 1930 and stayed until 1960, working in the late fall and early spring.

Two University of California scientists arrived in 1931: Dr. R. A. Stirton and Dr. Sam P. Wells.

"Also doing work in the county has been the Panhandle Plains Historical Museum of Canyon," Chamberlain said.

Donley County is fortunate. Few areas in the state are blessed with as much history—pre-historic and later—as this county.

Many of the finest fossils found to date and now on display in the leading museums in the United States came from this county.

County history, such as Old Clarendon Town and the Fort Elliott-Mobeetie trail and other historical places will soon be covered by Greenbelt water and will be gone forever. With the coming of the museum portions of that history will be preserved.

Chamberlain hopes to have the museum open to the public by August 1.

THREE RURAL TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS IN COUNTY DURING JUNE

The Highway Patrol investigated three rural traffic accidents in Donley County during the month of June, according to Sergeant J. W. Wilson, Patrol Supervisor of this area.

These wrecks accounted for one injury and an estimated property damage of $1,320.00.

The rural traffic accident summary in Donley County for the first six months of 1965 shows a total of 28 crashes resulting in no persons killed, six injured, and an estimated property damage of $13,915.00.

"As of the first of this month, there had been a total of 1,040 fatal crashes in Texas taking lives of 1,261 persons," the Sergeant stated. This is approximately two percent less than for the same period of 1964; however, if past trends continue, we will in all probability exceed the all time record high of 3,006 persons killed in traffic crashes experienced in Texas last year.

Texas was fortunate over the 4th of July week end in that the predicted number of persons were not killed, but we cannot brag, as 25 persons were killed over the holiday while in the rest of the nation we experienced a great increase over last year, and set a new all time record for deaths over the 4th of July holiday just as we did the previous Memorial Day holiday. The veteran Patrol Supervisor concluded that with the vacation season well underway more vehicles will be traveling streets and highways, and he called on all motorists to become more thoughtful in regard to complying with traffic laws in an effort to reduce the rising trend of traffic crashes.

Mr. and Mrs. Delvin Batson and granddaughter and Mrs. Ike Batson, all of Amherst, visited Mrs. J. R. Batson, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Leathers and boys and other relatives Sunday.

Mrs. Odell Barker visited her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. James Burleson and grandson at Dimmitt last week. She also visited an uncle, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Lane at Hereford last week end.

Telescope In the Sky

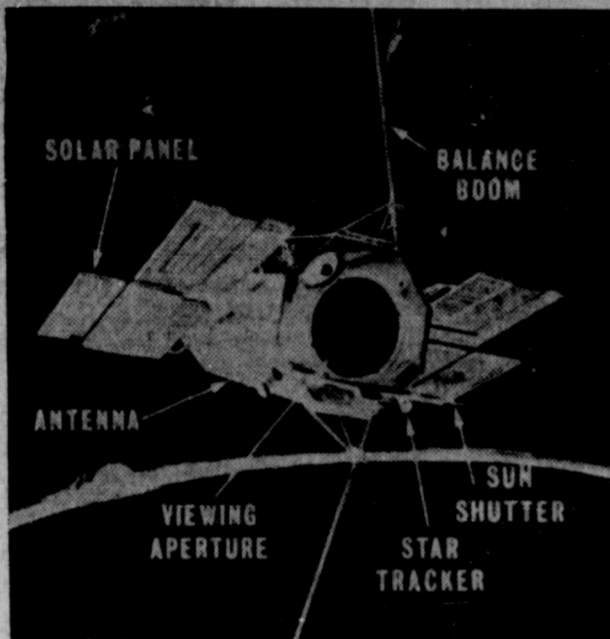

WASHINGTON — Interstellar clouds. What are their physical characteristics? What elements do they contain? Are they the birthplace of new stars? How are stars born? How do they grow and why do they die?

These are some of the questions the National Aeronautics and Space Administration hopes to answer when it lifts the first of its Orbiting Astronomical Observatories (OAO) late this year or early next.

Astrophysical theory believes the answers might be held by the gamma ray, X-ray, ultraviolet and radio-wave radiation that never reaches the ground.

WHATEVER the case, astronomy's requirements are outstripping present capabilities of ground-based telescopes and astronomers are looking toward satellite-borne telescopes to extend their knowledge of the universe.

Space astronomy, as this new branch of science is called, avoids the limitations of classical astronomy by eliminating "poor seeing," a term used by astronomers to describe blurring of a stellar image by motion of the air and by haze and smoke, etc., in the earth's atmosphere. Achievement of an observatory with large optics, precise pointing, and long lifetime above the blanketing and distorting effects of the earth's atmosphere will provide astronomers with a powerful new tool.

NASA PLANS several launches of the observatory, which will be the major space observatory for optical observations of celestial objects during the next several years.

Both U.S. and foreign astronomers are expected to propose and carry out "guest observer" observational programs, as is done with ground-based observatories.

As conceived by NASA and outside scientists, the OAO vehicle is a standardized platform for astronomical research. It is equipped with standard telemetry equipment, power sources, and attitude control systems. To this the experimenter adds special electronic systems pertaining to his experiments.

Early OAO's are instrumented to perform a survey and produce maps of the celestial atmosphere in the ultraviolet, X-ray, and gamma regions of the spectrum and to perform photometric and spectrophotometric studies of the ultraviolet light emitted by hot stars and nearby gas clouds, hopefully unlocking some of the secrets of the universe that have mystified man for centuries.

revenues do not come up to these expectations, or if expenditures substantially exceed them."

League suggests that the Committee on State and Local Tax Policy "look at many available revenue-raising possibilities in the course of its studies." SPECIAL SESSION REJECTED—Governor Connally has rejected requests for a special legislative session to deal with rising car insurance rates in Texas.

State Representatives Carl A. Parker and J. D. Weldon, both of Port Arthur, requested such a session to investigate the rate increases averaging 13.4 per cent which were authorized by the State Board of Insurance to take effect August 1.

Connally said he doubts any practical benefits would be gained from a special session at this time, although he shares concern over the increases. The governor made three principal points:

Texas' liability rates after the August increases will be lower than those of 34 states and the District of Columbia.

Two recent legislative inquiries already have been conducted on rate-making methods and have determined no fault with the Insurance Board's formulae which are available for public scrutiny.

The Legislature is willing to give "little support" to stronger laws to curb rising auto accidents which bear directly on insurance rates.

APPOINTMENTS ANNOUNCED—David L. Greenberg was named by Governor Connally as judge of the new county court No. 1 of Galveston county. He is a law partner of Galveston Sen. A. R. Schwartz.

Connally appointed Sen. Walter Richter of Gonzales to the board of control of the Southern Regional Education Board and

Rep. Don Cavness of Austin to SREB's Legislative Advisory Council.

Truett Latimer, former member of the State Legislature from Abilene, is new executive director of the Texas State Historical Survey Committee. He succeeds George Hill of Austin. COURTS SPEAK—State Supreme Court has agreed to review the case involving the state's right to tax coin-operated vending machines on military reservations. Third Court of Civil Appeals, overturning Austin District Court, earlier held that the state had the power to collect the tax on Fort Hood machines.

High court backed Amarillo Court of Appeals in ruling that Moore County District Court must hear the suit challenging boundaries of county commissioner's precincts.

DESEGREGATION PLANS APPROVED—U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare reports that 625 of Texas' 1,370 school districts have submitted statements of compliance with the 1964 civil rights act which received federal approval.

Another 67 Texas districts have submitted acceptable voluntary desegregation plans and 13 more have court-ordered plans.

Deadline for integration of schools receiving federal aid is Sept. 1, 1967.

TEXAS ECONOMY PROBED—University of Texas Bureau of Business Research turns up these interesting facts and figures in a new study of the Texas economy over the past decade:

Personal income per capita rose from $1,585 to $2,175; real purchasing power increased some 18.8 per cent compared with 24.7 per cent for the nation;

Texas per capita income dropped from just under 90 per cent of the national figure in 1954 to just over 85 per cent of 1964.

More than 65 per cent of all Texas personal income remains in the form of wages and salaries. Manufacturing supplies 13.18 per cent of personal income; petroleum and natural gas producers pay 3.20 per cent; wholesale and retail trade provide 13.01 per cent; and government wage and salary payments, 14.05 per cent.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

STUBBLE MULCHING

Stubble Mulching is the basic conservation measure where wind erosion is a problem. The fundamental of the practice is to keep a dead residue on the surface until conditions are such that another crop will give reasonable protection.

There is a job to be done everywhere in controlling both wind and water erosion, getting water into the ground, reducing crusting and reducing evaporation.

To the extent this job cannot be done satisfactorily with growing crops and crop rotation that improve soil structure, then stubble mulching is applicable regardless of whether the problem is wind or water erosion or maintaining a satisfactory level of production.

Much greater progress has been made in the adaption of machinery and proving the economic merits of stubble mulching in the lower rainfall areas where wind erosion is the most common problem. Sweeps or blades are the only implements that will do a thorough job of leaving residues on the soil surface. Thirty inch sweeps are considered about the minimum size that will do the best job of stubble mulching. Remember that anything but the best is not satisfactory in dryland soils where rainfall is uncertain and wind erosion is most severe.

Your Donley County S. C. S. personnel will discuss stubble and its advantages at any time.

Texas Research League warns that another fiscal "crisis" looms for state government in 1967, when new taxes of $40,000,000 a year may be necessary.

Simple arithmetic points to a "sizeable" money problem, says the league. It notes that while Texas' new fiscal period will begin September 2 with a general revenue surplus of some $97,800,000, it will end August 31, 1967, with little more than $1,000,000 in the fund. Gov. John Connally's budget staff has estimated a balance of about $4,200,000.

Comparing the shrinking surplus with some non-recurring revenue measures agreed on by the 59th Legislature, TRL researchers conclude, lawmakers in 1967 may have to pass a $107,200,000 new tax bill.

League admits the figure may be higher or lower. Its staff acknowledges that sales tax revenues are running well ahead of official estimates this year and if it keeps up, the new tax requirements may be reduced to $80,000,000.

Actually, general sales tax collections this year are "much higher" than in 1964, Comptroller Robert S. Calvert reports. Collections since the current fiscal year began last September 1 total $164,200,000, compared with $150,600,000 for the corresponding period a year ago.

TRL observes: "An $80 million tax bill is no small matter, but neither is it a really serious crisis for a state with the untapped tax resources and growth potential of Texas. This is, of course, an optimistic—as well as an unofficial—estimate and the tax required might well be higher if

WHY NOT A PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE?

While the "Voting Rights Bill" was under debate in the House of Representatives, I was deeply shocked, dismayed, and disturbed when an amendment which I offered failed of passage. The amendment was very simple. It required that every person presenting himself to vote would be required to take an oath to defend the Constitution of the United States and to swear or affirm that he was not a member of any organization advocating the violent overthrow of this government. The amendment further provided criminal penalties against anyone swearing falsely or with intent to deceive.

It further provided THAT MEMBERSHIP IN THE COMMUNIST PARTY OR AN AFFILIATED ORGANIZATION BY ANYONE TAKING SUCH OATH WOULD BE PRIMA FACIE EVIDENCE OF FALSIFICATION OR INTENT TO DECEIVE. In sort, any Communist or member of an affiliated organization

taking the oath could be assessed a jail sentence and a substantial fine. At the present time, there is no prohibition of any kind against Communists and those seeking to destroy the Constitutional government of this country from voting. The so-called "Voting Rights Bill" opened this door wider. It was my feeling that there should be some safeguard placed in the bill. Hence, I offered my amendment. I was not only dismayed and shocked when the amendment failed, but I was also dismayed and shocked at the obvious and open attempt to prevent any debate on the subject and to rush it to a vote without the membership having an opportunity to thoroughly understand it or to discuss it.

The oath that would have been required under my amendment was the same identical oath that is required of members of Congress when they are sworn in, with one exception: my amendment would have required further statement that the person wanting to vote was not a member of an organization advocating the violent overthrow of the Constitutional government of this nation. I would support a Constitutional Amendment requiring this addition to the oath taken by members of the United States Congress.

It has always been my feeling my belief, and my philosophy that the right to vote carried with it a corresponding responsibility. Hence, how could anyone desiring to participate in the electoral processes of this government refuse conscientiously to subscribe to the form of government that creates that right?

I feel so deeply on this subject that I am presently preparing a separate bill to accomplish the result which I sought to attain by my amendment. It would be my fondest hope that those individuals, those groups, and those organizations in this country who proclaim themselves champions and advocates of the Constitution would rise up in full support of such a measure, whether it bear my name or the name of others, and let the voice of the people in this country be heard. Let us provide at least one effective weapon against these ideologies of Godlessness, hatred, and enslavement, all dedicated to the destruction of the basic philosophy of the freedom and dignity of the individual.

If support for this undertaking is forthcoming, you may rest assured that the voice of the people will be heard in the halls of Congress and the needed action will be taken. It is by this method that we can effectively bring out into the open these individuals and organizations who are agencies of the destruction of our way of life and everything for which we stand.

COTTON AND FEED GRAIN MEASUREMENTS

Measuring is now in full swing. Notices will be mailed to all producers as soon as possible after acreages are computed. Any necessary adjustments must be made prior to September 1, 1965. Any excess cotton left standing after this date will be subject to penalty at a rate of 21 cents per pound.

NOTE: Any grain sorghum on diverted acres will be counted as such unless plowed under as green manure.

FAILURE TO PLANT COTTON

Failure to plant at least 75% of the 1965 cotton allotment will cause a reduction in future cotton allotments, unless a request is filed and approved by the County Committee stating that the failure to plant was caused by reason beyond the control of the operator. The request must be filed by September 15, 1965. Cotton that was planted and not standing at the time your farm is measured should be pointed out to the reporter so that it can be measured for history purposes.

WEEDS ON CR LAND

Control of noxious weeds is a requirement for compliance with the soil bank program. If sunflowers or other noxious weeds are growing on your CR land, you will need to spray or mow the infested area. Failure to do so could result in a violation of the contract.

CLARENDON COLLEGE ISSUES CHECK LIST FOR NEW STUDENTS

The Registrar's office of Clarendon College has issued a check list of things to do and dates to remember which will be of special interest to all freshman students planning to attend CC this fall.

A copy of the student's transcript must be forwarded to the Registrar's office before registration.

A copy of the student's ACT score must also be on file at the college. July 24 is the deadline for making application to take the test on August 7.

Dormitory reservations should be made within the next few days if the student wishes to live in a dorm.

Those students who wish to commute should inquire about the possibility of car contracts, which will greatly minimize the cost of traveling to school.

The student who would like to participate in the Work-Study program should make inquiries as to the jobs that are available and leave on file information concerning his abilities, interests, and experience.

A Notice of Intent must be on file from any freshman who wants to take advantage of Pre-Registration August 23-31.

All freshmen who have never attended college are required to be present for freshman orientation on September 7 from 9:00 A.M. to 4:00 P.M.

Regular registration will be held on September 8, with classes beginning on September 9.

Application for admission and completion of health card data prior to registration will greatly facilitate this procedure. These forms will be found in the back of the current college catalogue which may be secured from the Registrar's office along with a copy of the fall schedule of classes.

CONTROL OF INSECTS ON VEGETABLES

The control of insects attacking vegetables is often made more difficult because of improper identification of the pest. Their control, points out County Agent Ronald Gooch, is very important since even minor damage may lower the crop's value or render it unfit for sale.

In order that vegetable growers may have a ready reference for identifying the more common insects attacking vegetables, research and extension entomologists of Texas A&M University have prepared a handbook on the subject. Gooch said the publication, B-1019, "Insects Attacking Vegetable Crops," is available without cost from his office.

Specific control measures for the different insects are not included in the publication, the county agent said. But, he added, MP1675, "Texas Guide Controlling Insects on Commercial Vegetable Crops" which does list the recommended control measures is available from his office.

Persons interested in these and other publications on many agricultural subjects are invited to contact his office for copies. They are free, he said.
