Pathfinder Club Observes Guest Day Friday Afternoon

Members of Pathfinder Club observed Guest Day Friday afternoon, September 24th, at Patching Club House. Hostesses for the occasion were Mesdames Genoa Lowe, C. G. Stricklin, and L. N. Cox.

In the absence of the president, Mrs. Morris Ledger opened the meeting with Miss Mabel Mongole giving the invocation. Mrs. Ledger introduced Mrs. Frank Phelan, Jr. who presented a program on Kahlil Gibram telling something of his life and discussing some of his prose and poetry.

Kahlil Gibram lived from 1883 to 1931 and is known throughout the world as the Immortal Prophet of Lebanon and the Savant of His Age. It is widely recognized that he was responsible in great part for many social, political and religious reforms throughout the East. As experts at the University of Oklahoma phrased it, Gibram could write timeless truth in a way that makes the reader feel he is taking a walk in a quiet wood, or bathing in a cool stream; it soothes the spirit. But he could also write with a scorch-like fire.

The prose given by Mrs. Phelan included "The Bride's Bed," and "Peace." "The Life of Love," and "The Beauty of Death" were poems given by Mrs. Phelan. Each was read in a very dramatic manner.

The tea table was accented by a beautiful arrangement of Peace roses and a silver service. Mrs. L. N. Cox dispensed coffee while Mrs. C. G. Stricklin served cake.

The next meeting will be October 8 when Mrs. Dick Shelton and Mrs. Morris Ledger will be hostesses. The film "Go View The Land" will be shown by Mrs. George Benson. —Rep.

There is no such thing as an all-purpose rifle.

Nevertheless, for financial reasons the average hunter must make one weapon do for all his hunting needs.

Let's say he wants to hunt mule deer in West Texas or Colorado, whitetail deer somewhere else, even antelope. In that case he needs a rifle that will adequately cover his needs.

Then let's consider the .30/06 With Texans it is still the most popular of all hunting rifles.

This time-honored weapon will do the job even on the bigger mule deer and the huge black bear. And it's adequate for white-tails and even antelope within certain limitations.

Nowadays, however, there are other rifles just as good, like the .308 and the .243. But to operate within full potential and satisfy all the needs, the weapon demands a sight that will give comparable performance.

Today the trend is to scope-sight. Under almost all circumstances the scope will do the job better than will conventional iron sights. But a fixed-power is, at best, a poor compromise.

Suppose you have a four-power (4x) sight. It isn't quite strong enough for antelope shooting, yet at times it is a mite too powerful for hunting whitetails, particularly when shooting at short range, in fairly heavy brush, or when shooting at a fast moving deer.

So what's the answer? Nearest thing to an all-around sight is a variable!

Modern engineering improvements have made the variable scope adequate for almost all hunting needs. And the price tag is coming down to compare favorably with fixed-power scopes.

You'll pay more for the variable, but the old saying that "you get just what you pay for" certainly is apt here.

Early variables weren't too favorable. For one thing, they tended to be unnecessarily bulky. For another, the size of the crosshairs changed size as you switched power. And in damp weather they often fogged up and were practically worthless.

Any resemblance between this first model and modern-day variables is purely coincidental. At first glance it is difficult to tell a variable from a fixed-power scope anymore. And when you change power the crosshairs remain constant in size.

Modern scopes are fogproof and greatly improved. Sturdy mounts make them almost as durable as iron sights. Sure, the scope is sticking up there just begging to be knocked out of alignment, but it takes quite a blow to throw one off anymore.

One model even has a range-finder built into the scope. In long-distance shooting, like with antelope, you actually can tell how far the game is away. So, if you know the range your rifle is sighted in, you can compensate for any added distance by holding slightly high, to offset any drop of the bullet. Or aim lower at closer targets.

Most variables range from about 2 1/2 X to 7 X or 8 X or even 9 X. This means you have two-and one half times the magnification of your normal eyesight, and with 8 X you have eight times.

But magnification is just part of the scope story. A quality glass has the ability to gather and intensify light. This makes it much easier to use early in the morning and late in the day or during heavy overcast. These are the times when iron sights tend to blur.

With a scope it's also easier to pick out game standing still in underbrush. Good scopes almost seem to "see" through the brush. Only real drawback is that a scope is difficult to use on running game at close range, such as when hunting deer. But this is more a matter of experience than anything else . . . as we quickly learned.

Idea is to leave both eyes open when you raise your weapon. The power should be at the lowest setting possible, to give you a wider field of view (as the power increases, the field of view decreases). With both eyes trained on the target, you can readily pick it up in the scope. Then it is just a matter of leading it the correct amount and squeezing the trigger.

In long-range shooting, when after mule deer or antelope, you can dial the power up to its strongest magnification. Also, if you want to study a deer for antlers, you can twist the dial to full power and look it over.

A scope never will take the place of binoculars, in spotting wildlife, since the twineye picture is much more in perspective and you can see more. But a scope will serve double duty in an emergency.

When buying a variable for all-purpose work, you should consider the reticule. Medium crosshairs are the best for all-around use. Fine crosshairs are almost worthless for quick shooting after whitetails. And coarse crosshairs, dots and posts tend to cover up the game in long range shooting.

All modern-day rifles are tapped and drilled to take top mounts. So putting a scope on your rifle requires mere minutes. The time it takes can add much to your hunting pleasure, convenience and success.

CATTLE ON FEED INCREASE
Recent reports show that United States cattlemen have substantially increased numbers of cattle on feed.

Ed Uvacek, livestock marketing specialist and assistant professor in the Texas A&M Economics and Sociology Department, says the U. S. total on July 1 was 7,531,000 head and 354,000 in Texas.

This is a 19 percent rise above year earlier levels in Texas. The north central states are up 5 percent, and the 32 cattle-state total is higher by 9 percent.

Uvacek noted a heavier national concentration of cattle on feed in the 500 to 900 pound categories this year. Indications are for slightly later marketings from feedlots.

A time-on-feed breakdown shows considerable more lighter animals this quarter in the nation. This, Uvacek added, will probably result in increased marketings for the October-December quarter.

Marketing intentions in Texas from July 1 to Sept. 30 are reported to be 260,000 head, or about 25 percent more compared to the same period a year ago.

"Our best estimate would indicate that this figure is somewhat over-estimated and that only about 220,000 head will be marketed during that quarter, with the bulk coming later," the specialist said. "Indications are that about 265,000 head, or 31 percent more cattle, however, will be marketed from Texas feedlots in the last quarter of this year."

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford

Texas voters, by decisively defeating a proposed constitutional amendment to increase the number of State Senate seats from 31 to 39, removed one possible reason for a special legislative session this year.

Federal courts control two other legal issues which could require lawmakers to come back to the capitol for another 1965 powwow. Since no senatorial districting act has been passed at the regular session, adoption of the amendment would have meant a virtually automatic special session call to decide how the eight additional Senate districts were to be divided.

Proponents of the defeated proposal promptly tagged its rejection a loss for rural areas.

Eight metropolitan counties accounted for enough votes to block it in the light-turnout, September 7, election. But some rural areas voted against it, too.

Thirteen incumbent Senators will be jammed together into six districts under court-ordered redistricting.

The amendment, if adopted, would have given all incumbents a chance to retain their jobs. Now, at least seven Senate veterans are certain to be eliminated at the polls next year.

Suits challenging Congressional and House of Representatives redistricting by the 59th Legislature and attacking constitutionality of the poll tax still could require a special session.

Congressional redistricting case was heard by a special three-judge federal court at Houston last Thursday. Same court also conducted a pre-trial hearing on the legislative re-apportionment suit. A ruling that either act is unconstitutional conceivably could carry with it a mandate that lawmakers re-do their work before the filing deadline for the 1966 election. If the poll tax is outlawed, Texas will be left without a voter registration act. That is, unless the federal court, which will hear the case here in mid-November, decrees some sort of emergency plan for 1966 elections.

Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr, continuing his opposition to the federal government's suit to ban the poll tax, last week fired off letters to all congressmen asking them for evidence to support their findings (in 1965 Voting Rights Act) that the Texas levy violates constitutional rights.

FEDERAL EDUCATION AID PLANNED — State Board of Education has accepted administration ground rules for participating in new U. S. elementary-secondary education act which will bring about $60,000,000 in federal funds to public schools.

At the same time the board approved proposals to triple Texas' migrant school pilot program to reach 18,000 children in 40 districts. It also set up special programs for at least 3,000 adult migrants.

Children whose families follow the crops will get intensive, six-months schooling. Adults participating will receive basic education and training in fundamental homemaking and occupational skills.

Board named Ben R. Howell of El Paso its vice chairman to replace Emerson Stone of Jacksonville who resigned. Successor to Stone, who represented Anderson, Cherokee, Grimes, Henderson, Houston, Madison, Montgomery, Nacogdoches, Polk, San Jacinto, Trinity and Walker Counties on the board, will be appointed at the agency's November meeting.

Forty-five districts were warned of accreditation violations.

Eagle Pass district was officially notified it will lose accreditation next July 1 unless substantial progress is made. Eagle Pass Supt. J. I. James assured the board the district already is hastening to correct shortcomings.

STATE SURPLUS GROWING — State government started its new fiscal year on September 1 solidly in black. Surplus was $136,800,000, according to Comptroller Robert S. Calvert. This is nearly $40,000,000 more than previously estimated.

State revenue for the fiscal year was $1,800,000,000 — $150,000,000 more than the year before.

WATER SUIT FILED — Altus, Okla., attacked constitutionality of new Texas law prohibiting transportation of underground water to another state in federal court suit filed here.

City has approved $2,000,000 in bonds to develop underground water supply on the Texas side of the Red River before the Legislature passed a law to ban pipelining water across the state boundary.

TEXAS TOPS IN SAFETY PROJECTS — Texas leads in projects and expenditures designed to promote safety on federal aid highways.

Office of Highway Safety, Bureau of Public Roads, announced the achievement through the vacation White House here. 27 Texas high-accident safety improvement projects have been programmed totalling more than $15,400,000.

APPOINTMENTS ANNOUNCED — Gov. John Connally named Jerry M. Kolander of Amarillo to membership on the Texas Youth Council. He succeeds Robert S. Tate of Austin, recently named to the new Mental Health and Mental Retardation Commission.

Connally also announced these appointments:

- V. F. (Doc) Neuhaus of Mission, J. H. Bain of Stockdale and C. E. (Fonny) Bentley of Abilene to the Finance Commission of Texas.

- Hector Moreno of San Antonio to the State Board of Pharmacy.

- H. A. Albert of Austin, John L. Dishman of Houston, Dee E. Wheeler of Fort Worth, Clayton Evans of Austin, L. R. Wynn of Amarillo and Joe Low of Dallas to the new Polygraph Examiners Board.

- Dr. William J. Kemp of Haskell to the State Board of Dental Examiners.

Governor reappointed Dr. Sam H. Rabon of Kingsville to the Dental Examiners Board; Roy Wiese of Brenham to Pharmacy Board; Dr. Richard L. Stratton of Cuero, D. S. Riley of Big Springs and Jose R. DeLeon of Corpus Christi to the Hospital Licensing Advisory Council; and Everett J. Grindstaff of Ballinger, J. R. Salmon of San Angelo and Cumbie Ivey of Robert Lee to Upper Colorado River Authority.

Texas Tourist Development Agency named Keith Elliott, former San Antonio, Dallas, Houston and Lubbock newsman and magazine writer, head of its new news and features bureau and Sam Godfrey of Dallas to work with Texas communities in guiding development of tourist facilities.

TTDA also appointed Ben F. Holub, Jr., former Galveston and Port Arthur newsman, as travel promotion specialist and promotion specialist and promoted Walt Warner, former San Antonio newsman, to assistant executive director of the agency.

LAW ENFORCEMENT CONFERENCE — More than 450 law enforcement officials representing all of Texas' 254 counties will be in Austin on September 23-25 for the 15th Annual Attorney General's Law Enforcement Conference.

District Attorney Bill Waters of Pampa, president of the District and County Attorneys Association of Texas, will open the meeting.

Principal speakers will be Louisiana's Atty. Gen. Jack P. F. Gremillion and Texas' Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr.

Changes set out in the new Code of Criminal Procedure and recent Supreme Court decisions will be focused on during the conference.

Most yeasts die after the alcohol concentration of a fermenting liquid reaches four per cent; at this point only wine yeasts can continue fermentation until the alcohol concentration reaches 15 per cent.

WTSU BUFFS CHALLENGE ARIZONA STATE SATURDAY NIGHT

The West Texas State Buffs are looking for another victory when they host Arizona State in Buffalo Bowl Saturday night, October 2. Odd makers looking at comparative scores rank West Texas the heavy favorite.

Coach Kerbel, looking past comparative scores, faces the fact that he has beaten the Sun Devils only once in five tries. Buffs nipped Ohio University 7-0 and Bowling Green 34-0. Arizona State dropped a 24-6 decision to Brigham Young and fell before Utah State 13-0.

An enthusiastic crowd of spectators were on hand for the game at Buffalo Bowl last Saturday night. The defensive unit and punting ability of the team has been outstanding while the ground attack has been somewhat ineffectual with the offense depending mostly on quarterback Washington.

Game time at Buffalo Bowl Saturday night, October 2, will be 7:30 p.m.

NEW AUTO INSPECTION STICKERS NOW BEING ISSUED

"There is a touch of Texas tourism in the 1966 Texas vehicle inspection sticker," said Colonel Homer Garrison, Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, as he announced the new vehicle inspection period to begin on September 1, 1965.

"On that date, all official inspection stations will begin issuing the colorful new sticker, a part of which is a replica of the flag of the Lone Star State," he continued.

In making this announcement, Garrison urged motorists to secure new stickers as soon as possible even though they are not required by law until April 16, 1966.

Garrison noted that this new inspection period marks the beginning of the 16th year of compulsory vehicle inspection in Texas and that during that time, vehicle defects as causative factors in motor vehicle traffic accidents have decreased continually.

During 1965, the reduction brought this rate to an all-time low, which compares most favorably with the lowest rates in the nation.

Mr. and Mrs. I. M. Roper of Darrouzette visited the week end with their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. George Schollenbarger. Mr. and Mrs. Keith Schollenbarger and Chris were also visitors on Sunday.

NEWS FROM CITY HALL

by R. L. Gilkey, Mayor

In our last council meeting, the aldermen amended the division of the $1.45 tax per $100 valuation as follows:

- General Fund $0.94
- Interest & Sinking Fund 0.35
- Bond Retirement 0.06
- Adair Hospital Trust 0.10

This division was recommended by our auditors and will allow approximately $6,000 more funds to be used for city improvements in the coming year. Currently we are working on the budget so that this additional money can be used to the best advantage for the taxpayer.

Included in next years budget will be approximately $450 for the construction of a dog pound. We have been slow in controlling the dogs this year, but it will be easier next year.

The next time you go out for a drive, go by the Little League field to see the new rest rooms. This building was constructed entirely by donations from the citizens. This has been needed by both the ball players and spectators for several years. Our thanks to every person who made a donation to this cause. The city will try to maintain it in such a manner that you'll always be proud.

As mayor it is my pleasure to acknowledge October 3rd to 9th as Fire Prevention Week and proclaim such in the City of Clarendon. Let each of us take a few hours during this week to clean up possible fire hazards about the home, such as cleaning out the attic or garage, or replacing defective wiring. Let's take a few hours for real Fire Prevention. Secondly, let's use this week as Fireman Appreciation Week also. Our volunteer firemen do an excellent job. This is truly a public service, a voluntary job, that these men obligate themselves for our benefit. We should thank them every week, but we don't. Let's do it during Fire Prevention Week.

WARNING ISSUED IN REGARD TO FIRES

Fire Chief B. J. Land is asking for the cooperation of the public in general in regard to fighting fires. He said volunteer fire-fighters had been hampered in fighting fires by the crowding of sightseers around the fire area and also by getting in the way of fire trucks trying to reach the scene and the stringing of hose.

We hope everyone will understand the situation and not hamper the fighting of fires in any manner as violators are subject to heavy fine and tickets will be passed out to violators if such action continues. Every minute counts in fighting a fire and the blocking of streets etc. can mean a big loss that could have been averted otherwise.

Do You Believe In Girls?

Girl Scouting in Clarendon is again becoming a reality. Some 80 girls have made application to become Girl Scouts and have been divided into five troops. Many interested women have started working toward good scouting in the community.

Girls in the second and third grades are Brownie age. Mrs. Tom Cook, leader, and Mrs. Steve Reynolds, assistant leader will meet in the Presbyterian Church basement each Thursday at 2:30 p.m. with one troop. Another Brownie troop with Mrs. B. G. Ridenour, leader, and Mrs. Bill Wise, assistant leader, will meet at the Canteen each Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 p.m.

Girls in the fourth, fifth, and sixth grades are Junior Scout age. Mrs. Don Altman, leader and Mrs. Tommie Saye, assistant leader, will meet at the Canteen at 4:15 each Friday. Another Junior troop, Mrs. W. L. Tatum, leader, and Mrs. Craig Morris, assistant leader, will hold meetings at the Canteen each Thursday at 4:15 p.m.

Girls in the seventh, eighth, and ninth grades are Cadette age and Mrs. Gayle Neal and Mrs. Warren Hardin will be co-leaders of this group. Meetings will be held at the Canteen at 4:15 p.m. each Monday.

Girls in the tenth, eleventh, and twelfth grades are eligible to be Senior Scouts and anyone interested can contact Mrs. Bright Newhouse for information.

Any girl 7 through 17 is eligible for the many opportunities that Girl Scouting can afford. If you have a uniform you would like to sell or donate, please contact one of these troop leaders. Many other women have volunteered their time as a troop committee member or helper in some way. Certainly girls are here to stay and it is our responsibility as adults to see that these girls grow into womanhood trained in every way possible to be good citizens of this community.

We solicit your help and cooperation to make Girl Scouting a success here in Clarendon.

Belvedere Is Completely New For 1966

The intermediate size Plymouth Belvedere for 1966 has a wholly new appearance, major chassis improvements and a wide range of optional equipment. A production version of the famous 426-cubic inch hemispherical head V-8 engine will be offered in 1966. There are six Belvedere body types and 18 models. Shown here is the Satellite two-door hardtop. Sedans, hardtops and convertibles will have a 116-inch wheelbase, and station wagons a 117-inch wheelbase. Fully unitized bodies with curved glass windows and fresh body lines make the new Belvedere look longer and lower than its 1965 counterpart. The standard V-8 engine in the Belvedere series has 273 cubic inch displacement with a two-barrel carburetor. Other engine options besides the 426 "hemi" are the 318 and 361-cubic inch V-8s using regular fuel, and a high performance version of the 383-cubic inch V-8. CARING FOR NON-STICK COOKING UTENSILS

The new non-stick cookware utensils are a joy to clean and use, says Mrs. Elsie P. Short, home management specialist, at Texas A&M University.

All non-stick utensils should be conditioned the first time they are used by applying a thin coat of cooking oil or shortening. If they appear dry from repeated use, an occasional oiling will improve them.

Non-stick utensils may become stained if high heat is used to fry foods. This causes fat spatters to burn on the surface of the pan. These stains can be easily removed by boiling one cup of water, one half cup of liquid laundry bleach, and two tablespoons of baking soda in the pan.

Mrs. Short says to wash the pan and treat it with cooking oil to recondition. This formula removes the stain and eliminates sticking, a common complaint after food has burned in the pan. Avoid extreme high heat, as this may crack the non-stick coating. And, Mrs. Short says, remember to use nylon coated, rubber, wood, all non-stick and plastic coated metal spoons and spatulas with non-stick coated cookware.

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 18TH DISTRICT

By Congressman Walter Rogers

THE INFORMATION GAP

For more than a day after the Senate passed its version of the omnibus farm bill there was not to be found in Washington a detailed summary comparing the House and Senate measures. The reason for the delay was that the farm bill is a very complex piece of legislation and even among the experts there are sometimes differences of opinion as to the meaning of certain provisions. Even though summaries of the bill have now been prepared, persons not familiar with farm legislation would have difficulty understanding them. The words are English but the meaning is Greek. I am reminded of the farmer in the Panhandle who wrote to me earlier this year to say that regulations of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) were so difficult to understand he thought he might get out of farming.

It is difficult to pose a practical answer to the problem. It is absolutely essential that the Government make itself understood. The people certainly have a right to understand as well as well as to be told the regulations, whether enacted into law or imposed administratively, under which they must live. A summary of regulations written in unintelligible language does not serve the public.

I am going to suggest to Secretary Freeman and others in the Agriculture Department that its best information specialists be put to the task of preparing pamphlets and other material explaining — in everyday language easily understood — the provisions of the farm program soon to take effect. I am familiar with the kind of information available to explain the present program, and I am convinced that a much better job could be done to explain it. The new program will cover a four year period. American farmers can't be expected to make the proper personal decisions open to them unless they can understand the program's alternatives.

Too often in the Federal government there is a tendency for "experts" to decline to share their specific knowledge with others. Each agency and department has on its staff men who specialize in very limited areas of that office's jurisdiction, and they become steeped in the most detailed and obscure precedents and rulings affecting their specialties. Specialists of this type on the legal staff of regulatory agencies pose a most difficult challenge for lawyers in private practice representing clients on the other side of a question. The agency specialists have become experts at taxpayers' expense; the private attorneys, who must represent clients in a broader spectrum of matters, are at a disadvantage. This same problem exists in other branches of a Federal department. Bureaucrats talk a specialized language beyond the ken of the layman. They tend to become impatient with persons not so well versed as they.

The "information gap," as you might term it, is a serious problem when Americans must deal with highly complex laws and regulations. The people can't be expected to feel that the government is truly theirs when all they know of it is the need to meet certain government-imposed obligations they do not clearly understand. The tax laws are an example of the kind of regulatory jungle that needs to be clarified in the statutes and better explained to the public. The Internal Revenue Service has made progress. Much more helpful publications are now available to taxpayers seeking assistance in making out their returns. In the matter of taxation, it is obviously unfair for the government not to make every effort to explain the law clearly. A taxpayer who does not claim the deductions for which he is eligible is overpaying his share of taxes.

I will continue my campaign to bring clarity to government publications explaining the details of government programs. Too many government information specialists are engaged in promoting the public relations of their department and too few are doing the hard work of translating complex regulations into simple English.

Texaco Expands in Texas

...for the mutual benefit of the State, its people, and the oil industry.

Dynamic Texas—biggest oil state in the nation—breeds the kind of confidence that creates a stable economy... and encourages companies to expand.

Texaco has demonstrated this confidence in Texas time and again through heavy investments.

And who benefits?

Texaco benefits. So do the people of Texas. Because Texaco ranks number one in gasoline sales in Texas. It provides more gasoline taxes for the State Treasury than any other company. These taxes help to make possible a steadily expanding number of schools and schoolteachers, and enlargement of present facilities so that the young people of Texas can look to a broader scope of opportunities in the Texas tradition.

For Texaco, this climate of confidence has resulted in Texaco's increasing its operations in Texas.

There's more to come because Texaco continues to grow in Texas. As you drive around the State, notice the many new Texaco Service Stations that are springing up. They bring you top-quality products and service you can trust.

Growth like this would be impossible without this great State's encouragement to expand and develop—a partnership in progress between Texaco and the people of Texas that has persisted for over 60 years. TEXACO INC.

1966 Imperials Have Exclusive Seating

The 1966 Imperials have new interiors with seating arrangements exclusive among domestic production cars, exterior styling changes, front and rear, a new 440-cubic inch engine and engineering refinements contributing to unmatched riding quietness and comfort. A new feature in four-door models is a front seat that looks like a conventional bench-type seat but actually is made up of two completely independent units, each with its own center arm rest, seat track and seat adjusting mechanism. There are four Imperial models in two series, the Le Baron four-door hardtop, the Crown convertible, the Crown four-door hardtop shown above, and the Crown Coupe two-door hardtop. Top quality claro walnut inlays are used liberally across the upper half of the instrument panel, in the steering wheel center section and door trim panels of all 1966 Imperial models.

of precautions. This from our own experiences driving along the pasture roads; now and then we hear a locust and wonder if it could be a rattlesnake. Often we stop and back up to be sure. But, when we hear a rattlesnake we always seem to know for sure. We never seem to wonder if it could be a locust. Wonder why?

Our neighbors have a pretty cat by the name of Mr. Tuttle. Cats don't seem to go by the old saying What's In A Name, because last week Mr. Tuttle became the proud mother of three little kittens. It happened in the family garage.

Mr. Tuttle was pleased and admirably meowed— Daughter Susan looked on and seemed so proud— But Father Neighbor protested long and loud— That two was too many and three was a crowd.

To America with love... The 1966 Chrysler

Could be we're getting too emotional. But it isn't very often you get a chance to follow an all-time sales record year with a new Chrysler like this one.

Sure, our '65 was great. But the '66 is even better.

It looks better. Moves quicker. It's got a beautiful new front end and a very dramatic new rear.

It's got a bigger and more zesty group of V-8 engines. From a 383 cubic inch to a 440 TNT with twin exhausts and twin snorkels. (A "snorkel" is an air intake horn for the carburetor — does great things for performance.)

The interiors, all up and down the line, are more luxurious and comforting. Take our new shell bucket seats, for example. It's almost as if they had been custom-fitted for you.

One thing we didn't even think about changing.

It has to do with money. Five of our Newport models (real Chryslers — not junior editions) are priced just a few dollars a month more than the most popular smaller cars with the same equipment. This includes features like power steering, power brakes, a 383 cubic inch V-8, automatic transmission, radio and many standard items like safety door handles and seat belts.

Move up to Chrysler... it's getting easier by the minute.

HILLTOP NOTES

News From Clarendon College

WHO AND WHAT

There's a new look up on the Hill this fall, and we like it. There are some new faces among the faculty, (Mr. and Mrs. Selvidge in Psychology, English, and Drama) and some other faces in new places—(Mr. Neece in day classes and Mrs. Moore in the Registrar's office). There are numerous new faces among the student body, about 153, in fact. And the most pleasant thing about this observation is that so many of them are female faces. Right, fellows? And to these new personalities some seventy-six returning students from last year, and what do we have? Bulging classrooms!

We're pleased to see Clarendon College expanding and improving, not only in size, but in every other way. On behalf of the college and the town, we would like to issue through this column a very warm welcome to every student enrolled at Clarendon College.

HERE AND THERE

Campus Chatter

Well, good ol' Clarendon College is back in session again. It's good to be back, and it is good to see familiar faces again. The new faces are even more welcome. Right boys??? This girl-starved institution is finally getting a better ratio. Returning boys from last year seem to be well aware of the situation and are quick to take advantage of it, although the freshmen aren't hiding behind books. I have noticed that some of the boys are continually late for classes — it seems they always have some excuse.

Boys, don't be fooled if the girls seem to be offended by all your curious attention. Look at the twinkle of pleasure in their eyes.

There does seem to be a new vogue this year. Has anyone noticed the number of pipe smokers? If this keeps up, a new club may have to be formed. Oh well, it does give the college a new aroma.

If first indications mean anything, this will be a real swinging year. Here's hoping.

WHEN AND WHERE

Aggie Club Dance—A Successful Failure

by Jimmy Blackerby
Hidden talents came to light at the Aggie Club dance last Thursday evening. The scheduled band did not appear, so the Aggies immediately started circulating. They roped in everyone who looked as if he wanted to tap his toes and dragged him to the bandstand. Mr. Reed led the talent parade with Bob Call, Mike Smith, and Felipe Velesquez. The Sandstorms, a brand-new group to most of us, took up the beat and displayed its talents in a memorable performance. We were disappointed that the other band did not show, but since the new talent has been discovered, rumors are circulating about the possibility of an Aggie Band. How about it, Aggies?

THIS AND THAT

Defynitions

by the College Nit-Wit

During a vocabulary test the other day, one of Mrs. Hamilton's bright freshmen defined the word "mugwump" as a man who sits on a fence with his mug on one side and his wump on the other. Discovered on a Zoo paper the other day: Mosquito—a small insect designed to make us think better of flies.

Overheard in the hall on Monday morning at 8:25 (complete with groans): The morning after is when getting up gets you down.

Do you know what a moron is? It's something which, in the wintertime girls wouldn't have so many colds it they put.

Have you ever experienced moral indignation? We'll is's actually just jealousy with a halo.

Entirely new styling of the 1966 Fairlane is dramatically displayed in the photo of the Fairlane 500/XL 2-door hardtop, above, and the Fairlane GT convertible, below. Indicative of the broadened family and sports appeal of the 1966 Fairlane is the new model selection — four series instead of two and 13 models instead of eight. The two new Fairlane series — the Fairlane 500/XL and the Fairlane GT — are available in convertible and 2-door hardtop models designed for sports- and luxury-oriented customers. Simulated hood louvers and the famed Ford GT racing stripes above the rocker panel are among distinguishing features of the Fairlane GT. All 1966 Fairlanes will be in Ford dealer showrooms beginning October 1.

John Lemons, a new papa, says that a baby is something that gets you down in the daytime and up at night.

A neck is something which, if you don't stick out, you won't get into trouble up to.

Mr. Neece declares that being baldheaded has its advantages. When he is expecting company, he has only to straighten his necktie.
