Local Dealers To Show New Car Models Here This Week End

Local Automobile Dealers have a big week end ahead for them with the showing of the 1967 models today and Friday. This is the year for many style changes so it will be an exciting week end for the public also.

Dealers showing their new lines today are Chamberlain Motor Co., Alderson Chevrolet, AAA Motor Co., and Bartlett Motor Co. Showing Friday will be Palmer Motor Co.

New safety features are being stressed by all car manufacturers as standard equipment and this is said to have brought about a slight increase in prices in all models.

Chamberlain Motor Co., which now features three major GMC lines, will be showing some of the 37 different model Buicks in nine series. The various series are Special, Special Deluxe, Skylark, and GS 400, and the Sportswagon, LeSabre, Wildcat, Electra 225 and Riviera. The Oldsmobile line includes the F-85, Cutlass, Delmont 88, Delta 88, 98 and Toronado. The Pontiac line includes Bonneville, Executive, Catalina, Grand Prix, LeMans, Tempest and GTO. Alderson Chevrolet will be introducing the Camaro as Chevrolet's sixth line of cars. The six lines includes 48 new models of Chevrolet, Chevelle, Chevy II, Corvair, Corvette and the Camaro.

Chamberlain Purchases Oldsmobile Dealership

Fred E. Chamberlain, Jr. announced this week the purchase of the Oldsmobile Dealership from Homer Estlack, owner of Estlack Machinery Co., who has been the dealer here the past 22 years.

Chamberlain Motor Co., one of the largest volume dealers in this entire area, will have an even wider selection of cars and trucks to choose from as the dealership now includes Buick, Oldsmobile, Pontiac, Opel and GMC trucks.

Fred Chamberlain, who has been in the car business here for over 12 years, has built his business to the extent that he now employs fourteen personnel, which is considered the largest for any retail business here.

During the past year, Chamberlain has delivered over 500 cars here which means that Donley County itself has realized several thousand dollars thru registration taxes derived from these automobiles. Chamberlain stated that the showing of these models this week end would be the biggest in the history of the business and even though he has a large showroom space, the area will be crowded with the new Buicks, Oldsmobiles and Pontiacs.

Bronchos Trample Dragons 33-0

Approximately 700 fans, including a large Clarendon delegation, cheered the Clarendon Bronchos in their second win of the season Friday night in Paducah. At the final gun, the Bronchos defeated the Dragons 33-0. Fullback Archie Smith received the opening kickoff for the Bronchos and returned the ball 30 yards. Five plays later, his running mate, wingback Larnce Gardner, bucked 30 yards for the initial score. Smith kicked the extra point, making the score 7-0 after less than three minutes of playing time. Later in the first quarter, Gardner crossed the goal line again for the Bronchos but the points were nullified by a holding penalty.

Early in the second quarter, tailback Mac McClellan slipped by right end for 10 yards and pay dirt. Smith then split the uprights for another point for the visiting Bronchos and the score was 14-0. Shortly before the half ended, McClellan scored again, scooting across the goal line from 7 yards out. The alert Dragons blocked Smith's attempt to kick the extra point, leaving the score 20-0 at half-time.

In the third quarter, Paducah held Clarendon to only one TD, and that score came from the defense. Lineman Gale Gray recovered a Dragon fumble in the end zone for the six points. Smith's kick was wide.

The fourth quarter began with Clarendon out front 26-0. Highlighting this quarter was McClellan's thrilling 95 yard punt return for the final touchdown of the game. Once again, Smith added the extra point with his talented toe and the Bronchos were victorious over the Dragons by a score of 33-0.

Bronchos To Tangle With Groom Tigers At Groom Friday Night

This week the Clarendon Bronchos face a traditionally tough foe, the Groom Tigers at 8 p.m. Friday in Groom. The Tigers have a 1-1-1 record and Clarendon has a 2-1 record.

According to scouting reports, Groom will have one of the largest teams Clarendon will face this year. The Tigers lost only 4 players from last year's team which won the class B regional title. Coach Jeff Walker reported that the local coaching staff felt the Bronchos showed their best team effort so far in beating Paducah 33-0 last Friday night.

"Except for some hustling mistakes", said Coach Walker, "the boys held mistakes to a minimum. Our boys are finally showing the kind of teamwork, cooperation and winning attitude that we've been trying to instill in them," he continued, "and that's what wins a lot of games."

"Since Groom will be a tough ball game", said Coach Walker, "we will really need the continued support of all Broncho fans. Thanks for supporting the team so well already this year," he concluded.

One of the major face-lifting jobs on main street in recent months is depicted here with the remodeling of Cliffords' Grocery. Jack and Fred Clifford purchased the grocery business from their father, W. E. Clifford in January 1965 and started in on the big remodeling job. The building on the corner was purchased and cleared for a store parking area and the store itself has been enlarged to comprise a total of 5,175 feet and the overall area of store and parking is 8,625 square feet. A new aluminum front with a change in the door entrance has just been completed to finish up the major portion of the complete job which is certainly a credit to the main street of Clarendon.

At the Amarillo Tri-State Fair last week, rabbits exhibited by Tim Saye, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Saye, took top honors in the Youth Division. Sixty rabbits were entered in this division. TIPS FOR HARVESTING COTTON GIVEN BY NCC Close cooperation between the producer and ginner is required to achieve the highest bale value preserve fiber properties, and insure the best gin operation, reported the National Cotton Council.

For his part, the grower should not harvest cotton containing more than 10 per cent seed cotton moisture or 8 per cent lint moisture. Cotton containing excessive moisture or green leaf should be delivered immediately to the gin and the ginner notified of its condition.

The ginner should check the moisture content of each trailer load and group those which require drying and cleaning. This will allow him to select gin machinery and drying temperatures so that he can properly process cotton at different moisture levels, the National Cotton Council points out.

Lint moisture content should be kept between 6 1/2 - 8 per cent at the gin stand and only enough cleaning machinery used to obtain maximum bale value, not just the highest grade. Total bale value is the product of price times weight. Price is based on grade, staple, fineness, and area reputation or strength and length uniformity. Weight includes moisture and trash as well as lint.

Ginning at low moisture levels is the primary cause of fiber breakage—the major damage sustained by fibers during the ginning process. The drier the cotton, the greater the damage. However, regardless of moisture content, the more cotton is worked mechanically, the greater the amount of fiber breakage.

Specific harvesting and ginning recommendations for local areas may be obtained from extension services and USDA ginning laboratories.

HIGH PLAINS TURKEY A-OK

Texas Parks and Wildlife Department personnel, shadowing wild turkey flocks in eastern Panhandle riverbottom areas, report the 1966 turkey hatch is favorable with large broods observed daily.

Tallies on turkey hens with poults in tow are not fully complete as yet, but biologists believe the 1966 hunting season will be as good as 1965, a top year for Panhandle sportsmen.

Hiking can be fun, especially if you follow a few rules of safety. Be sure to let people know where you plan to go and how long you will be away. Always hike with someone. Be sure you are physically fit for the hike, and don't overdo. Dress for the occasion with sturdy hiking shoes, preferably with rubber soles. Take along or wear long pants and a long-sleeve shirt to avoid being scratched or bitten by insects. Take a sufficient supply of fresh water or purify water along the way.

False walls are created with alternating solid-colored panels laced to brass spring-tension poles. The panels can be hemmed and grommeted at a canvas shop or at home.

Please accept our apologies.

WINNING COMBINATION — The skillful interplay of stripes and solids gives an important fashion look to this two-piece cotton knit costume. Brass stripes are combined with powder blue in the low-waisted, easy-fitting dress and matching jacket. A perfect outfit for the young woman-on-the-go, it's by Renee Firestone of California.

LOCAL MUSEUMS REFLECT HISTORY OF AREA

The growing number of museums in Texas—from 82 in 1964 to 243 today—reflects the historical renaissance created by the increasing interest of Texans in their heritage.

The establishment of county historical museums has long been encouraged by the Texas State Historical Survey Committee. Now the agency is expanding its services to offer professional guidance to small museums: the first Texas Institute for Small Museums will be Sept. 30-Oct. 1 and 2 at Woodville.

Small museums are worthy of this support, for they make valuable contributions to Texas' culture, education, and tourist industry.

There is much work to be done in local communities to sell their tourist attractions... and the small county or community museum can fill a great need here, for museums are prime tourist attractions.

Each county and city has a story to tell their origin and history, how they got their names. Textbook facts need to be transformed into colorful realism.

Visits to museums and seeing their tangible reminders of the past give children (and adults) an understanding of how our ancestors helped make Texas what it is today.

Every county and city has tales of settlers and trails blazed, and small museums can tell these stories in an effective, entertaining fashion.

RODS IN COMBO

Ads often offer "combination" casting and spinning rods.

Such a rod, if of high quality, can be used as a makeshift, or in an emergency. But for best results use casting rods for casting and spin rods for spin fishing.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford

Far flung operations of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department have been placed under new administrative leadership.

Commissioners have named J. R. (Bob) Singleton as executive director. He replaces J. Weldon Watson who resigned last June.

Singleton had been serving as director of Region IV with headquarters in La Porte.

He picked Robert G. Mauer-mann, Region V director at Rockport, as chief deputy.

In his first press conference, Singleton said he is considering recommending a change in the Commission's controversial policy on shell dredging.

He did not disclose exactly what he has in mind but said any such proposal would be "in the field of broad policy." His own close observation of dredging operations, he added, have convinced him that the Commission's 1963 and 1964 orders permitting shell dredging up to 300 feet of live reefs under close department supervision result in "extremely insignificant" oyster kill. The issue has been heatedly debated between dredgers on one hand and fishermen and conservationists on the other since the old 1,500-foot-minimum-distance-from-reef policy was abolished.

A statewide tour of department facilities, particularly the parks, is planned by Singleton in order to familiarize himself first-hand with problems and needs.

Singleton declined to express his views on "closed door" meetings of the three-member P-W Commission. However, he did say "The Commission sets policy. My duty is to implement and carry out that policy."

AG RULES — Not only may a county cut its tax rate when the reason for the tax disappears, but, according to Attorney General Waggoner Carr, it must. He pointed to the law which prohibits the use of tax funds for any purpose other than for which it was levied.

Carr also held that, while a city may prohibit the sale of alcoholic beverages at any time, it may not prescribe a lesser penalty for such an offense than is provided by state law.

A district court has exclusive jurisdiction over all suits on behalf of the state and county for the collection of penalties on delinquent personal property taxes, although the court may have the power to share jurisdiction in a suit against property for the actual taxes, Carr ruled.

BIG BEND AIRPORT PLAN-NED — Federal money will be available for building an airport adjacent to Big Bend National Park for commercial and general aviation, confirms Charles Murphy, Texas Aeronautics Commission director.

Daniel Beard, National Park Service Southwest regional director, said $450,000 is expected to be provided by the U. S. Government.

Money will go to land acquisition, planning and designing and actual construction. T.A.C. will supervise the work, including awarding of contracts, Murphy said. State will have to pay the cost of constructing terminal facilities and auto parking accommodations, as well as airport operation.

Texas funds are not now available and will require legislative appropriation or transfer from other source. Arizona's share of the Grand Canyon airport constructed under similar terms was about $160,000.

STUDY RESULTS — Attorney General Carr reports that a two-month study of Texas Highway Department records reveals no indication or evidence of price fixing among asphalt producers' sales to the state.

Carr's staff made the study at the request of DeWitt C. Greer, state highway engineer. Request followed the filing of lawsuits in other states alleging antitrust violations by asphalt producers.

PROGRAM HAS BOOST — Texas' marketing program got a boost when John C. White, Commissioner of Agriculture, received more than $45,000 in donated equipment to be used as traveling showcases.

These contributions from farm commodity groups, individuals and industry signaled a "new era in Texas agriculture, marketing and education," White said. Gifts included two large trucks, two power generators, two mobile trailers, exhibit material and operational funds.

SHORT SNORTS

Gov. John Connally approved Neighborhood Youth Corps projects for Canutillo Independent School District, El Paso; City of Snyder; and Advance, Inc. in San Antonio.

State will earn about $2,000,000 more in interest on its time deposits this year due to a one-half per cent increase, State Treasurer

Jesse James estimates. James said interest collections under the 4½% rate should be $10,600,000, compared to $8,700,000 for the fiscal year which ended August 31.

Texas' oil production allowable was boosted for October to 33.5 per cent of potential. Raise was first in five months. October percentage allows maximum oil production of 3,154,384 barrels a day, compared to September allowable of 3,125,028 under a 33 per cent factor.

State Board of Health has withheld action on 80 requests for federal hospital construction funds until Congress appropriates money for distribution. Since only about $17,500,000 in federal funds will be available for Texas, State Board will have to sift through all the applications to find the most pressing ones.

Auto inspection period for 1967 has officially opened, says Col. Homer Garrison Jr., Department of Public Safety director. Inspections will continue at 5,500 official inspection stations thru next April 15 when the 5,500,000 Texas vehicles must display new green and white stickers.

Chrysler Offers New Series for 1967

Chrysler cars are attractively changed in appearance for 1967 with new metal sculpture, new front and rear designs and semi-fastback roof styling for two-door hardtops. A new series of Newport Custom cars, available in two-door hardtop, four-door hardtop and four-door sedan models, are offered to broaden Chrysler's coverage of the medium price market. The other four series—Newport, 300, New Yorker and Town and Country wagons—are retained, with even stronger separate styling identity than in 1966. Chrysler engines have significant improvements with the 440 cubic inch engine, which becomes standard in 300 series cars as well as New Yorkers, completely new for 1967. New standard features for 1967 include an impact absorbing steering column, a dual brake system with a warning light, new windshield wipers with non-reflection metal parts, and a redesigned left outside mirror with remote control. CAVEAT EMPTOR OR SKULDUGGERY AT THE CROSSROADS

Dear Fellow Texan: "Caveat emptor" is a Latin phrase meaning "Let the buyer beware." "Skulduggery at the crossroads" is an old western phrase meaning "keep one hand on your pocketbook and your other hand on your gun." The people of this country should take definite heed to both of these expressions before they are led into a trap commonly referred to as the "Truth in Packaging Bill." It could be said that the "Truth in Packaging Bill" is a modern day expression meaning "the people are so stupid the government must protect them from trading among themselves." About the only "truth" associated with this measure is the use of the word and its popular name title. As soon as the people find out what is going on the title will become an unpopular name. The bill has been widely and notoriously advertised as a bill to protect the consumer. This approach is supposed to have an emotional appeal that will cause the populace to accept the measure at face value without any investigation as to its real purpose. The real purpose of this bill is to give the Federal government further bureaucratic powers of life and death over a substantial portion of the business community of this country. It is designed to add many more employees to the public payroll and to force absolute conformity to Federal standards in the packaging and distribution of goods, wares, and merchandise. In other words, the man who has built his business on the basis of honesty and integrity will be required to package his goods under the same standards as the crooks and mountebanks. The proponents of the bill seem to feel that they have been divinely anointed with great knowledge and understanding not enjoyed by the public generally. They seem to be confident that the average housewife is completely ignorant in the ways of the marketplace and totally unversed in reading, writing, and arithmetic. These self-appointed saviors are dead set on saving you from yourselves, even if it ruins the country. They fail to realize that this grandiose plan of theirs has been used in Russia for a number of years and has not been successful, even under the communist philosophy. Certainly, it could not be successful under the free enterprise system. About the only thing it can accomplish is: (1) it will put another burden and yoke on many small businesses which could very well bankrupt them; (2) it will definitely require many, many changes in packaging procedures of manufacturers and processors that will require increases in the price of consumer goods; (3) it will definitely increase inflationary trends and all to the burden of the old people and those on fixed incomes who are presently beset by inflation; (4) it will stifle incentive and innovation in the sale of goods to the American public and will jeopardize many businesses associated with the sale and distribution of goods, wares, and merchandise.

I remember quite well an experience I had in Russia in 1955.

I was in Leningrad and desired to purchase a Russian doll for my young daughter. The only doll available was a cheap replica of dolls that had been produced in this country before 1920. The arms and legs were held in place by rubber bands. The doll could have been purchased in any store in this country for fifty cents. I was quoted a price in Russian rubles that was equivalent of $9.00 in American money. I told the NVD that I would not pay that price. He asked what I intended to do. I told him I was going to Moscow and would shop around. He began to laugh. I inquired what was so funny. He said, "The quality and the price are the same all over Russia."

An American story along these lines: One of my sons was in a supermarket and had his slide rule with him. He began to use it to make quick calculations as to difference in price and content in different packages. He was in the toothpaste department when another customer tapped him on the shoulder and said, "Which toothpaste do you get the slide rule with?"

I like America as it is intended to be with the least possible governmental interference in the daily lives of the people. I would say to all of the people that any time fancy legislation comes forth with a "tearjerking" title, you had better "caveat emptor" and put one hand on your pocketbook and the other hand on your gun.

Little gems they are! And to the fisherman they're like beautiful strings of pearls.

They're little and often practically unnoticed. But they produce some of the state's finest yet unheralded fishing.

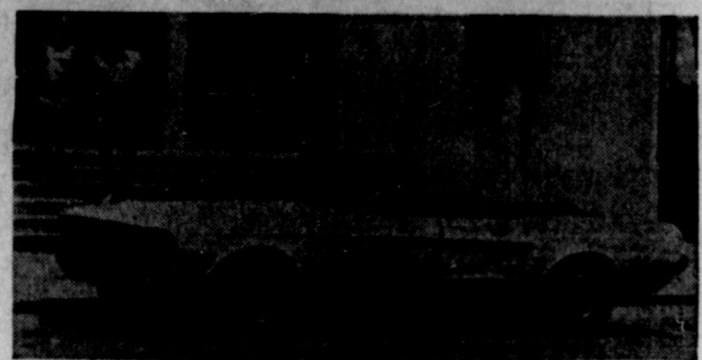

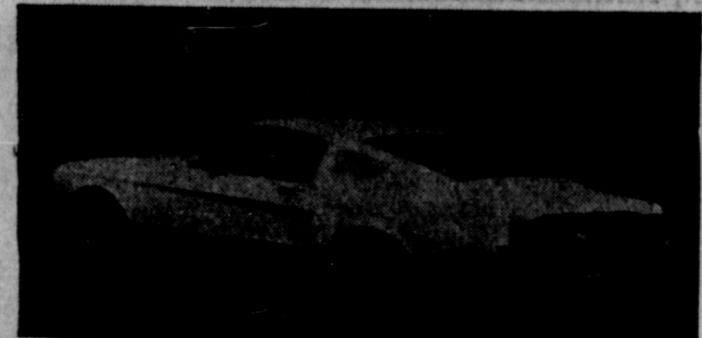

These little gems are the countless hundreds of stock ponds and potholes over Texas ranging from an acre to 10 acres in size. These strings of pearls are the winding rice canals that supply water for rice field irrigation.

Many of the larger ponds, those 10 acres or so in size, are fished regularly either on a per day basis or by members of private fishing clubs.

Most of the smaller ponds and the rice canals can be fished by simply getting permission of the landowners.

What do these ponds and canals yield? Fine bluegill, bream and perch action plus some astonishingly large black bass, blackies running as large as six pounds.

This is one kind of fishing that requires no special equipment. Standard baitcasting, spincasting or spinning gear will do the trick. It's also the kind of water

Featuring new sheet metal for the first time since its introduction in April of 1964, the Mustang for 1967 is sportier in appearance and livelier than ever before. The 2+2 Fastback model (above) has a new roof line and concave rear panel while the convertible (below) illustrates the thrilling new hood line and deeply inset grille. All Mustangs for 1967 have two-inch wider front and rear tread for improved handling. Options for 1967 include a 320-horsepower, 390 CID V-8 engine and Select Shift Cruise-O-Matic transmission for manual or automatic gear shifting.

that can be worked with fly tackle.

Except in the case of the larger ponds, all the fishing can be done from the bank.

On the larger ponds, a small johnboat or canoe will put the angler within reach of every foot of water.

Unless the water area is quite small and badly overfished, the little gems will produce more fish in a given amount of fishing time than large lakes that cover many square miles. This is simply because on the small ponds an angler can cover all the water and all likely spots.

Consequently these little gems are ideal areas where you can give youngsters their first taste of angling.

Fishing, as delightful as it is, becomes a bore to a youngster if fish are slow to bite or are lacking. But in the little ponds the bream and perch seem to have unending appetites and offer youngsters a lot of exciting action.

Baits that produce results on the big lakes are also fish getters in the ponds and canals. And the method of fishing also is the same.

Ponds have flats, shallows and deep holes just like the big lakes.

Most of the man-made stock ponds are dug in such a manner that the deep troughs are close to and parallel to the bank. These troughs may run six to 10 feet deep with the shallows in the middle just a couple of feet in depth. And most of these ponds have small foot bridges or shallow bars on which the angler can cross to reach the areas that can be waded.

Rice canals are six to eight feet deep and 20 to 30 feet wide. Their length depends on how large a rice area is serviced.

Every year more and more landowners are opening their ponds to fishing. Usually fishing rights are given to friends and folks who ask permission. Owners have found that without a reasonable amount of fishing pressure on the ponds, the waters quickly become over-stocked. Such ponds produce a lot of fish, but on over-stocked ponds fish are stunted and small.

Unless the owner wants to go to the trouble and expense of cleaning a pond every few years with nets or chemicals, the sensible way of pond management is to permit a reasonable amount of fishing.

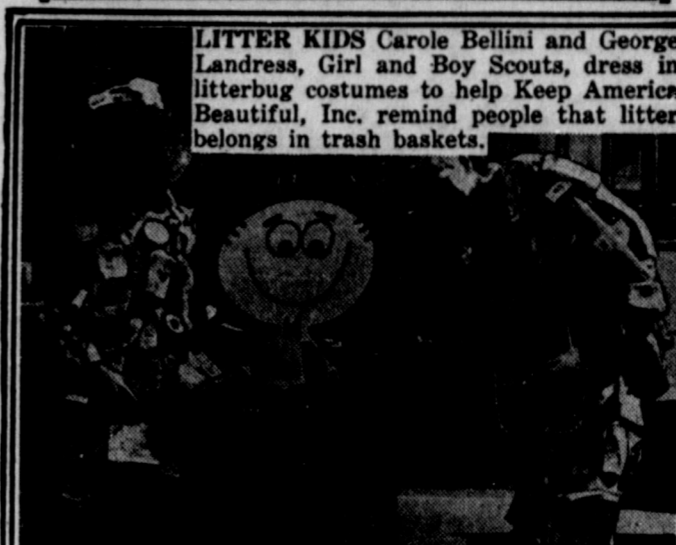

Anglers will find fishing permission rarely denied if they show the courtesy to ask permission to fish and promise not to deface or damage property.

DPS WANTS TEXAS RANGER RELICS

The Texas Department of Public Safety is interested in securing authentic objects used by former Texas Rangers as any period in history to be permanently placed in a public museum being developed at Department Headquarters in Austin.

Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., DPS Director and Chief of the Texas Rangers, asked anyone interested in contributing such items as guns, knives, belts, badges, spurs or any other authentic Ranger items not completely deteriorated, to write him at Box 4087, NAS, Austin, Texas 78751.

"We are attempting to preserve for posterity in this museum a top-flight collection of Ranger mementos to symbolize the glorious tradition of the oldest police force on the North American continent with statewide jurisdiction," Garrison said.

"We feel that this museum can provide an invaluable service for the State of Texas by commemorating for present and future generations the historic bravery of the Texas Rangers in preserving law and order and protecting the people of Texas from frontier days through the space age."

Garrison said the museum is to be established at a central location in the Department of Public Safety Headquarters and will be opened for public viewing upon its completion, the date of which has not yet been determined.

"We hope we will be able to obtain from public-spirited Texans a collection of Ranger paraphernalia that will become one of the most outstanding historical tourist attractions in the state," said Garrison.

WORKING MOTHERS NEED TO PLAN TIME

Time savers and housekeeping shortcuts are important to all mothers, but especially valuable to the working mother. Here are a few ideas from Mrs. Wanda Meyer, Extension home management specialist at Texas A&M University. Written schedules can improve your efficiency. You may not want to run your home on a stopwatch timetable, but it does help to write down everything that must be done, and then assign an approximate hour for doing it. This not only gives you an idea of the scope of your job, but helps you to see and eliminate non-essentials. Allot yourself an extra hour in the morning to accomplish a few tasks. Many mothers prefer to get up early rather than face a messy kitchen and unmade beds at the end of the day. Some women keep up with the ironing by doing a few pieces several mornings a week. Others prefer to save this task for evenings or weekends. Remember that no-iron fabrics and wash-and-wear clothing save lots of time and energy. Plan menus for the entire week so that there's no last minute meal planning every afternoon after work. Do main marketing once a week. Stock up on staples, canned and frozen goods, and then fill in with fresh fruits, vegetables and meat as needed during the week. Lists kept in strategic places help to jog your memory. For instance, a pad and pencil hung on the kitchen wall make it possible for you to jot down needed items when you think of them. A blackboard or bulletin board in the kitchen makes a fine place for notes and family communications. It also provides a convenient spot for posting special chores to be done by the youngsters, and for tacking up menus. A busy mother can leave messages for the family.

PREPARE FOR OLD AGE WITH A HOBBY

The compulsory retirement plan of industry today poses a problem for the millions of people reaching older age. Many of these persons face a rather empty future, for it is difficult to stop suddenly the mental and physical machinery that has been geared to business competition, states Miss Lucille Moore, Extension recreation specialist at Texas A&M University. Taken away from his job, whether it be manual or mental, the individual finds too many hours in the day and too much time to do nothing. The wise person foresees this inactivity by preparing himself for retirement with a hobby. It is not good to lose interest in life, says Miss Moore. A satisfying hobby or two will not only keep curiosity and zest alive, but very often will create a small amount of financial support. Age is more or less an individual problem just as it is a normal growth problem. Many persons at 30 suggest physical and mental characteristics of aging. Others at 70 may reveal a wrinkled skin which is offset by a sprightly walk and a mental agility.

Perhaps one of the greatest problems of growing old is the feeling that one is no longer needed, that usefulness is over. Everyone wants to be a contributor, whether it is in business, the home or the community. The end of a long life of service and activity needs a compensatory substitute. This is why the development of a hobby is encouraged. Accept the challenge of retirement by getting ready for it now. The younger years may be the more productive ones, but wisdom and experience come with emotional maturity and there is great satisfaction in pursuit of an interest that will keep you happy mentally and occupied physically, says Miss Moore.

Even little fires kill little trees. Help prevent forest fires. Keep Texas Green.

HELP CONQUER THOSE FEARS

Small children associate the white uniform worn by doctors and nurses with pain—and fear of the pain often changes to fear of the uniform.

Mrs. Patsy R. Yates, Texas A&M University Extension specialist, explains that research studies have borne out this fear theory.

Two enterprising Florida nurses, however found an effective solution to the problem.

They switched to pastel cotton dresses when they had to care for very small sick children.

The same toddlers who were frightened of nurses wearing starched, antiseptic looking uniforms wanted to be picked up when the nurses wore house dresses in soft colors.

Children between 18 and 33 months-old were especially responsive to the change.

The success of the nurses' venture into pastel colored dresses and uniforms has prompted several other hospitals to decorate a children's ward with cotton sheets in colorful printed patterns.

"They've simply recognized that a colorful, homelike atmosphere is important to hospital patients of all ages," says Mrs. Yates.

"YOUNG IS A FEELING!" FASHION SHOWS SET FOR 1966 STATE FAIR OF TEXAS IN DALLAS

Exposition of Young America will be theme of the 1966 State Fair of Texas Oct. 8-23 in Dallas, with "Young Is A Feeling!" carrying out the idea in the popular free fashion shows daily in the Women's Department. Left, Phil-Mode's Sir James Coats foretell a bright fashion future in a petit version of the fur-collared plaid for busy juniors. Center, Justin McCarty does a mandarin collared knit in flashing shades of rust and olive. The brilliant rust is used again in the tall cloche by Asbury Millinery Co., and a real emerald centers the pin from Zales. At right, Donovan-Galvan's pale lettuce knit is done with a slim skirt and diagonal swirls across the overblouse bodice. The Carnaby cap is a paisley print in lettuce, ice blue and violette.

BUYING EGGS

Do you ever hesitate before the egg counter in the store and try to decide whether large, medium or small size eggs are the better buy? Here's some information on buying eggs from Mrs. Gwen Clyatt, Extension consumer marketing specialist at Texas A&M University.

Eggs are commonly priced per dozen so if you are mathematically inclined, you can easily figure the cost per pound or ounce of the different sizes of eggs. Just divide per dozen by the weight of the size of eggs you are considering. On the average, small eggs weigh 18 ounces, medium eggs weigh 21 ounces and large ones weigh 24 ounces per dozen.

While not as accurate, the simpler method of the 7-cent rule comes close enough. Buy the larger size egg is the difference in price is less than 7 cents per dozen. For example, if large eggs are selling for 63 cents per dozen and medium eggs are 59c, you will get more egg for your money by purchasing the large ones. If, however, small size eggs were selling for 45 cents, your best buy would be the small eggs.

Supplies of turkeys are increasing and you can buy any form of turkey you want. Among new turkey products are gravy with turkey and turkey—read the label carefully since the ingredients are mentioned in descending order by volume. Egg prices are holding firm at about the same level as last week.

For beef selections look to store features. In most cases the cuts are ideal for pot-roasts, meat loaves or casseroles. Old-fashioned hoop cheese and cheese slices of cheddar, swiss and pimento are featured in some stores.

Citrus fruits are on the market but supplies will be light until the new crop becomes available in volume in October. Apples, red and white grapes, pears and cantaloupes are among the best fruit choices.

Cauliflower and broccoli are of excellent quality and found in most produce departments. Eggplant, carrots, mustard greens, corn, sweet potatoes and green beans are other good choices.

EASTEX CROP EXTRA GOOD—OF RATTLES

East Texans are finding a pretty fair crop of large rattlesnakes this year.

The Texas Parks and Wildlife

Department reports most of the big reptiles are canebrake rattlers, but often called by another name.

Most of the counties in East Texas, either have or are subject to playing host to three species of rattlers; the tiny pigmy rattler, the large timber rattler in north-east Texas counties; and the much more common canebrake species.

Newspaper and word-of-mouth accounts of large snakes, where the dead or captured reptile may be examined, or where a picture has been made, bring to light the true canebrake, but often called by the misnomer, timber rattler. The Department reports the two reptiles are closely related.

Robert Downs of Jefferson ran over one with a truck, then finished the job with a gun. It measured 58 inches and had 20 rattles.

Both the timber and canebrake rattler have black tails. Chief difference in the two snakes is the dark stripe behind the eye of the canebrake, lacking in the timber species. Timber rattlers have large dark patches on the back, while the canebrake has crossbands that resemble a lightning flash. Both are extremely toxic.

News From Clarendon College

PRESIDENT SPEAKS

Members of the CC student body met in the first assembly of the year to hear Mr. Kenneth Vaughan, President of the College. President Vaughan extended a cordial welcome to all students and briefly outlined what they could expect from the college faculty and facilities and the benefits to be gained from a college education.

He spoke on the future building plans of the college, which will include dormitories, student union building, cafeteria, and a complete academic plant. He expressed hope that construction would begin sometime during the 1966-67 school year.

President Vaughan, in discussing the benefits of a college education, pointed out some of the advantages of attending Clarendon College. "Our college is unique in that students can, and do, get individual attention; it is a college where the faculty cares about its students," said Mr. Vaughan. "Many opportunities are offered to young people here," he stated, "and those who desire to be successful will take advantage of these opportunities. Success is a ladder, not an escalator. Unfortunately, many students do not realize this."

Statistics show that fifty percent of students who enroll in college will never finish their education. Mr. Vaughan expressed his concern about this frightening fact and said he hoped that this figure would not hold true for our college. He concluded his talk by reminding the students and hrad work and study are necessary for a successful college career.

CC GET-TOGETHER

by Emily Neece

A "get-acquainted" party for faculty members and students at CC was a big success last Tuesday evening when a large crowd gathered at the park to feast on watermelons. Identification name tags took care of the getting acquainted, and the hungry students took care of the melons. When everyone was full and contentedly sighing, the faculty announced—of all things—a watermelon eating contest! In the boy's event, David Kendrick won the prize. When asked for a statement, David, who was a little green in the face, said, "Wish I hadn't eaten so much!" The girl's contest found sophomore Charlene Gray the victor. Her reply was, "Well, that ruined my diet!" The next event was watermelon rolling. The players had to roll the melons with their heads to the finish line. Jim Norris, who won the contest, was overheard to say, "I knew my head was good for something!" Bulldog sweatshirts were awarded as prizes.

After the contests the students gathered at the Canteen for a record hop sponsored by Mr. Ellerbrook and Mrs. Moore. The main topic of conversation—"When is the next party?"

BULLDOG BANNER STAFF MEETS

The Bulldog Banner staff met last week to organize. Sue West, a freshman student from Childress, has accepted the position of Banner editor. She has had past experience in this field, so she will be a competent and valuable member of the staff.

Mrs. Bill Lowe, who is a University of Texas journalism major, met with the group and discussed some of the features of a good publication. Her talk was interesting and most helpful, and the Banner staff appreciated Mrs. Lowe's taking the time to attend the meeting.

Members of the staff are looking forward with Sue and are enthusiastic about the prospect of producing a terrific college paper. Her staff of co-workers will be completed and announced soon. Mrs. Moore is the faculty advisor for the Banner.

ANNUAL EDITOR ANNOUNCED

Marsha Maxey was selected as the editor of this year's Clarendon College yearbook. Marsha was chosen from other well-qualified students on the basis of her past experience in annual editing. She and her assistant editors and the staff members will soon begin work on the yearbook, and all are predicting an excellent edition. Mr. Ellerbrook and Mr. Tucker are faculty sponsors with Mrs. Noonkester, Mrs. Bromley, Mrs. Naylor, Mrs. Selvidge and Mr. Grant serving as consultants.

On September 21, the Dogetts held an initial organizational meeting. Mrs. Moore opened the session by expressing her desire for a large student membership and the hope that every area high school would be represented in the club. The purpose of the club was outlined, stressing the fact that its main functions are to promote school spirit and to work as a service organization. Nina Snyder, who was a CC cheerleader last year, urged student participation saying, "The boys play better when there is a lot of school spirit, so let's show them we're behind them all the way." Mrs. Moore, who serves as co-sponsor with Mrs. Selvidge, read the constitution and by-laws prior to the election of officers. Students elected to office include: President, Nina Snyder, Groom; Vice-President, Marilyn Philley, Wellington; Sec. Treas., Charlene Gray, Clarendon; Reporter, Sue Hill, Hedley; and Historian, Catherine Ivy, Memphis. These officers have accepted a big responsibility and much will be expected of them.

Honorary memberships were conferred upon members of the Bulldog basketball team, and it was announced that try-outs for the positions of cheerleaders will be held on September 28.

AGGIES CHOOSE

Reported

The Clarendon College Aggie Club met on September 23 to elect officers for the coming year. Officers elected are as follows: President, John Grady; Vice-President, Bernie Green; Secretary, Charlene Gray; Treasurer, Bill Beck; Reporter, Rita Reed.

The Aggie Club is boasting a new look this year as it opened its roster for the first time to members of the fairer sex. As noted in the slate of officers, the two charter female members were promptly put to work. They will bring both charm and talent to the club.

The sky is clear in Seattle only 80 days a year on the average.

BACK TO THE REVOLUTION

This month, according to preliminary estimates available from the Texas Education Agency, 2,530,083 pupils will return to classes in Texas' fast-flung public school systems.

Many of them, primarily the younger ones, will be unaware they are the beneficiaries of a revolution in education. New concepts of learning, new equipment, better teachers, more comfortable classrooms and better textbooks will be the order of the day for many of them—although not all of them.

The so-called "revolution in education" bears some thought, as classes begin again. It was in 1957 that the Russians launched their Sputnik I satellite. So, this year is one decade after the event.

And what an event! The lofting of Sputnik was greeted here at home, we all remember, with loud and erroneous outcries that the public schools were not doing their job—that, in the paraphrased words of some critics, "that the schools were turning out uneducated children."

The baseless criticism still continues, despite the fact that the U. S. is ahead, or at least, even with the Russians in space science. Of course, earth-orbiting satellites are a poor means of measuring educational attainment. For example, knowledgeable people realize now that the Russians were first into space primarily because they had worked hard to develop heavy thrust rocket engines. The U. S. could have done the same, easily as soon as the Russians, but didn't.

But back to the matter at hand—the education this year of 2.5 million young Texans in the state's public schools. Public education in Texas is indeed better than it was 10 years ago.

Why? The outcries of education's critics in 1957 helped build a fire under public willingness to finance better schools. And that is one reason why the schools are doing better jobs today. Years before Sputnik I, teachers and administrators went unheard as they cried out for funds necessary to upgrade education and to keep it relevant to the changing times.

The parents of 2.5 million kids in Texas public schools this year, as with their counterparts all over the nation, look to the schools for much. And the schools, by and large, will supply very much.

It's a good time to remember, however, that the schools can't do everything to make Johnny the perfect specimen of happiness, wise in all things, matchlessly prepared to meet and conquer his future.

The home still must play its part and so must the church. Society in general, the busy streets and the open cities, are learning experiences for Johnny, too. What he sees and hears in those "classrooms" may impress him as much or maybe more as the science lab or English class.

Life is just too complicated to measure out a child's education in sharply defined segments and areas. The school teachers can't do it all but they are trying harder.—Texas School Report

BEEF CARCASS EVALUATION

Carcass traits are an additional tool that can be used in beef cattle selection along with production and other traits, according to Frank A. Orts, Extension meat specialist at Texas A&M University.

Beef carcass evaluation is not really a new procedure, as some breeders have been involved in some type of carcass evaluation for about 10 years. It involves a critical study of those attributes of the beef carcass which increase its retail value. These attributes are also genetically linked and therefore can be used as selection and breeding criteria, says the specialist.

The carcass characteristics which are normally studied are ribeye area and ribeye area per hundredweight, fat thickness and fat thickness per hundredweight, quality grade, percent kidney fat, chilled carcass weight per day of age and yield of closely trimmed boneless chuck, loin, rib, and round. The last attribute can either be actual cutout or estimated cutout using one of several formulas.

Orts says that in order to be considered desirable from a retail standpoint, a carcass should have at least 2.0 square inches of ribeye per hundredweight of carcass if eighteen months old or younger, have no more than .11 inches of fat covering over the ribeye per hundredweight, grade at least minimum choice, and yield at least 49 percent of the carcass weight in boneless closely trimmed chuck, loin, rib, and round. From a production standpoint, a carcass should have a chilled carcass weight per day of age of at least 1.25 pounds for steer carcasses.

Purebred breeders are encouraged to cooperate with breed associations in their carcass evaluation programs. If this does not apply the Extension Service will assist any producer, whether purebred or commercial, in obtaining carcass information.

Orts advises that one should never make a decision about an individual sire without having data from at least ten of the sire's offspring. Herds can also be evaluated in addition to sires.

Orts suggests a visit with the local county agent for more information on carcass evaluation.

SEVEN RURAL ACCIDENTS IN DONLEY COUNTY DURING AUGUST

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated 7 accidents on rural highways in Donley County during the month of August, according to Sergeant J. W. Wilson, Highway Patrol Supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in two deaths, ten persons injured and an estimated property damage of $3990.00.

The rural traffic summary for this county during the first eight months of 1966 shows a total of 46 accidents resulting in 7 persons killed, 26 persons injured, and an estimated property damage of $25,105.00.

September first marked the beginning of the 1967 motor vehicle inspection period. As in previous years, the period will end on April 15, 1967. Motorists are urged to have their vehicles inspected in routine visits to garages and thereby eliminate the necessity of having to wait in line at a later date for an inspection sticker.

The Sergeant stated, "With the hard summer driving coming to an end, fall is an excellent time to have vehicles safety checked for the winter months ahead."

THE NEW LOOK FOR COLLEGE MEN

College men will appear neater and more dressed up this fall. The neat look is in. Fall suits will sport more matching vests. New colors include pumpkin and golden tones. Blue, gray and olive still continue to be traditional favorites. Neat herringbones and hopsacks are the favorite fall fabrics. The classic three-button, natural shoulder suit is still preferred by most.

Loquat trees will not grow in salty soil.

BUICK ELECTRA 225 TWO-DOOR HARDTOP— Buick's Electra 225 series for 1967 features a long, low side profile. Its classic lines are emphasized by a sweeping contoured line running the full length of the all-new body. A newly-designed roof line adds to the car's smartness. Buick's new 430 cubic inch V-8 engine with four-barrel quadrajet carburetor powers the Electra 225.
