Large Crowd Expected For Celebration

Barbecuing Job To Begin July 3rd

County Agent Flip Breedlove says that his department is all ready to go with the barbecuing for the Fourth of July. The barbecuing will start about four a.m. on the morning of the third and Breedlove says that he and his crew should have all the meat barbecued by nine or ten p.m. on the third.

Lee Shaler is chairman of setting up the serving lines on the courthouse lawn and will get all this done on the second of July. Wood hauling detail is Lee Palmer, Carl Naylor, Joe McMurtry and Joe Robinson.

The captains for the serving are Ruby White (Ashtola Community); Roy Blackman (Chamberlain Community); Red Estlack; Molly Ritter and P. C. Messer. These captains will have fourteen servers each and four butchers. The serving will start promptly at eleven a.m. on the courthouse lawn on the 4th. Mr. R. E. Drennan, County Judge, will have charge of directing all chow lines and seeing that everyone has plenty to eat.

Ernest Kent and Odos Caraway are chairmen for seeing that the old timers are fed.

J. B. Melton will have the beans cooked to a perfection and will start on the third.

The barbecuing committee will be Flip Breedlove, Pete Land, Hubert Rhodes, John White, Loyd Reid, Homer Bones, Geo. Shullenburger, Bill Lane, Doyce Graham, Bob Baxter, Lacy Noble, Ted Shaller. The onion peeling detail will be headed by Stanley Westbrook, local Vocational Ag. Teacher.

The five hundred pounds of beans are being donated by Gunn Brothers of Amarillo and (See Barbecue, Last Page).

Old Fiddlers Contest To Be Held

An Old Fiddlers Contest will be held the afternoon of July 4th at about 4:30 p.m. in the center block of main street. Several of the old time fiddlers plan to be here for the occasion and you will have an opportunity to hear some good old fiddlin' music.

Ernest Kent will be in charge of the contest again this year, so if you are interested in taking part in the contest he will be glad to hear from you.

Greenbelt Water Authority Makes Application For Loan

A new application for loan from the Housing and Home Finance Agency has been made by the Greenbelt Municipal and Industrial Water Authority.

The action was taken by the board of directors, representing Paducah, Childress, Quanah, Memphis, Clarendon and Hedley, in an effort to obtain the necessary funds to proceed with preliminary planning for a dam on the Salt Fork of Red River in Collingsworth County.

The application requests a loan of $59,000 which would be sufficient to allow engineers to complete studies necessary to begin construction of the dam.

This will replace an application made earlier this year for a more extensive survey. Realizing the importance of the water problem to the six cities involved and to the development of West Texas, directors submitted the new application in an effort to speed up planning procedures.

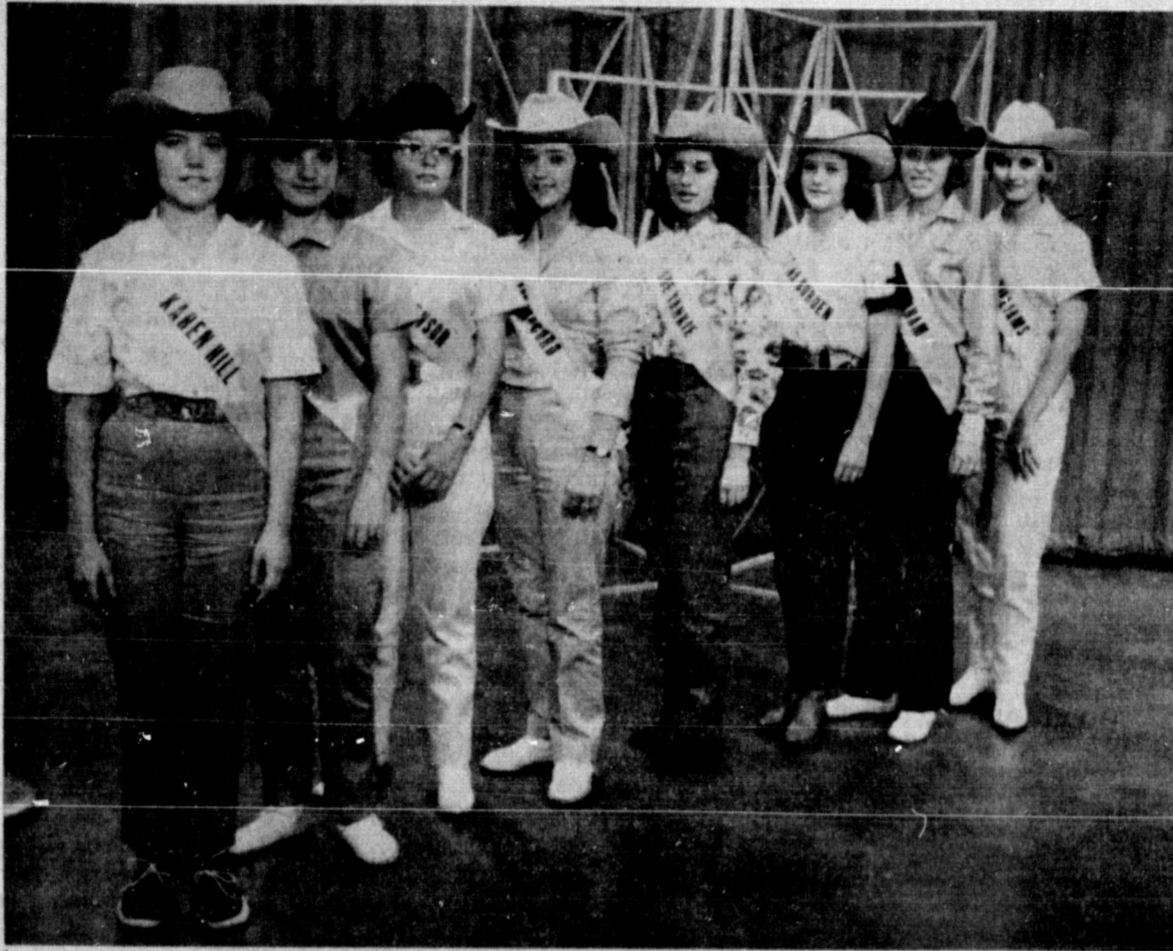

Directors agreed on a plan whereby the construction of the dam would get underway sooner, then when actual demand for the water by member cities becomes a fact, the treatment plant and distributive system could be constructed under another financially favorable plan.

The government loan is not a grant, but funds made available through the government for development purposes. There is (See Water District, Last Page)

New Ordinances Will Be Effective July 10

The two ordinances, one An Ordinance Regulating Garbage and the other An Ordinance Prohibiting the Erection of Signs in a Given Area Along Highway No. 287, will be effective on July 10, 1962. We shall expect everyone to comply who is affected by either of these ordinances.

We do not plan to empty barrels in the residence district after this date. Barrels in the residence district may be kept to burn in, if so desired, since there is no ordinance against burning, but these barrels will not be emptied by the City. If ashes are to be disposed of they must be emptied into regulation cans. City Commission

Interest Mounting In Rodeo Queen Contest

With only a few days remaining before the deadline, voting in the Rodeo Queen contest is picking up and is expected to become quite heated as time draws nearer for the announcement of results Monday afternoon, July 2nd.

Queen contestants are now selling tickets to the rodeo, barbecue and for Pete Borden's Hand Made Boots and each contestant will receive 100 votes for each ticket they sell. The contestants are urging everyone to buy their tickets early and from them. Mrs. Bertha Bradshaw, Mrs. Bill Porter and Mrs. Edd Sawyer are in charge of the Queen Contest.

At the last count Monday of this week the standing of the contestants are as follows: Regina Borden 3813; Brenda McAnear 3584; Sue Yankie 3445; Connie Grady 3252; Carolyn Graham 1789; Sue McCord 1721; Connie Williams 1700; Sharon Henson 1625; Karen Hill 1451.

The Queen contestants will be admitted free to all the dances along with their dates and they will receive free barbecue July 4th.

The queen contest will end Monday, July 2nd, at 2 p.m. No votes will be accepted after that time. All contestants must have their votes in to qualify as a contestant. All contestants must have their horses in town by Monday and those who do (See Queen Contest, Last Page).

Legion To Sponsor Dances All Three Nights

The local Legion Post, headed by Ernest Kent, is sponsoring the Celebration Dances all three nights at the Legion Hall.

Emmett Allen and his Sunset Ramblers will furnish the music and we understand that Emmett has re-organized his band with some of the best musicians obtainable in this area. The dance will start at 9 p.m. The admission charge will be $1 per person.

This Is Your Annual Celebration Edition

Clarendon business firms are extending a warm and hearty welcome to one and all to come to the Rimrock Roundup and celebration, as evidenced by the large number of ads in this issue of the Leader. Turn through your paper and read all the words of welcome from your local merchants and make plans to be present for each and every event during the three day gathering.

As always, it has been a pleasure to print this larger issue of the Leader. We especially want to thank the merchants for turning in their ad copy early. Without their cooperation, we would have been unable to bring you these extra pages.

We hope this will be the biggest and best celebration ever held for each and every one of you.

Since local business firms will be closed on Wednesday there is a possibility that your Leader may reach you 2 days late next week. We will do our best to have the Leader out Thursday, but should you not receive it at that time, you will know we could not get all the type set and press runs made in such a short time.

Remember, your Leader may not reach you until Friday or Saturday. Thanks.

Clarendon Merchants To Close July 4th

It is our understanding that all merchants will close all business houses in Clarendon July 4th. Excepted will be some of the cafes and service stations. Businessmen agreed to close four holidays out of the year and July 4th was one of the four. Plan to do ample shopping on Monday and Tuesday so you will have sufficient supplies to last through Wednesday.

The majority of businessmen and other residents will not be taking a vacation that day but have one or more jobs to perform to make the celebration a big success.

Locals Raise $3,257.80 For Screwworm Control

The Animal Health Committee for Donley County has forwarded $3,257.80 to Mr. Marvin J. Bridges, Director of the Screwworm Control Program in Texas. Bob Head, Treasurer of the Association forwarded the check this past week.

County Agent Flip Breedlove discussed the screwworm situation with officials at the Mission plant this past week by telephone. We have had some screwworms in Donley County and we expected some this year says Breedlove. The new plant at Mission, Texas, will start production on the first of July and seventy-five million sterile flies will be available where only twenty million have been available in the past. Breedlove was told by the assistant director of the program that they were getting all flies well under control in South Texas and trying to eradicate the fly in the area where they over-winter. This will give us protection, however, we will have some screwworms this year said the assistant director.

The program is progressing on a state-wide basis in good shape and the stockmen will see many good benefits from it in the years to come. The states of New Mexico, Oklahoma, Mississippi, and Louisiana are now in the process of organizing to start eradication of the screwworm.

Ernest Kent is anticipating the largest registration of Old Timers in recent years as they gather at the Mulkey Theatre at 9:30 a.m. the morning of July 4th. He has a good program outlined for their entertainment. All qualified Old Timers will be eligible for the free barbecue but all will be served at the noon meal in one line. Come early and have a good time, Kent stated.

FIRST RODEO PERFORMANCE TO OPEN FESTIVITIES MON. NIGHT

Indications now point to one of the best celebrations ever to be held here as plans are completed for the Rimrock Roundup July 2nd, 3rd and 4th.

The first rodeo performance is set for Monday night, July 2nd at 8 p.m. with performances set for 8 p.m. the nights of Tuesday, July 3rd and Wednesday, July 4th. An afternoon performance is scheduled for 2 p.m. July 4th.

Contestants will be doing their best to win the money in each rodeo event and also the two free saddles which will be given to the top roping and riding contestants. The saddles are being donated by Chamberlain Motor Co., Knorrp Insurance, The Donley County State Bank and the Farmers State Bank. The saddles are on display at Greene Dry Goods Co.

Local people are reminded that it will save time and less confusion if you use the north gate at the Rodeo grounds and leave the

Mayor And Sheriff Issue Annual Celebration Warning

Mayor H. T. Burton and Sheriff Truett Behrens issued their usual warning in regard to the celebration to be held here the first of the week and are urging the full cooperation of everyone present to make this an enjoyable occasion with no mishaps.

Streets will be congested and more time should be allowed to reach your destination. If you plan to drink, please use moderation and don't get on the streets or highways in your car. Behrens pointed out that the innocent might be injured due to your carelessness.

Both Burton and Behrens are again reminding parents and youngsters in regard to the shooting of fireworks within the city limits. If you want to shoot fireworks take them to the country and do not endanger others. The state law in regard to fireworks carries a very heavy fine and punishment for shooting fireworks from a car or near a vehicle of any sort.

We will be compelled to enforce these laws regarding fireworks so we are hoping to receive one hundred per cent cooperation, added Sheriff Behrens.

We are looking forward to a comparatively peaceful celebration this year and hope, for the good of everyone concerned, that everything goes well, was the Sheriff's final comment.

east gate for visitors and rodeo contestants. Everyone including all contestants, etc., must have a ticket before they will be admitted inside the main rodeo grounds. The Jaycees have practically all the painting done at the rodeo grounds and general clean-up work has been completed at the arena this week.

Pete Borden reports he has a few car parking spaces left but Ray Palmer says all the box seats have already been taken.

The stock for the Rodeo is being furnished this year by Alvin Koonsman of Snyder who purchased Morris Steven's stock last year. Morris will be on hand to help with each performance of the rodeo. Rodeo fans are urged to come out the first night as the stock will be good and fresh and the contestants will be tough which should turn out a mighty good show.

Youngsters are reminded also by W. J. Adams that a kids' event will be held at each performance loaded with plenty of excitement.

The Rodeo Headquarters will be set up Friday morning in the Knorrp Insurance building which was formerly occupied by the School Tax office. All rodeo and celebration business will be handled from this location.

Men who have accepted assignments at the Rodeo and who will see that you see a first class performance are: Arena flag bearer, Don Thornberry, Dick Shelton; Girl Sponsor, Mary Ann Sawyer, Virginia Browder; Arena Director, Morris Stevens; Pickup men, Don Thornberry, Butch Terpen; Flag Judge, Pete Bromley; Bronc Judge, Cowboy Johnson; Timers, Fuzz Fain and Johnny Rex McClellan; Barrier Judge, Leland Lewis; Calf Roping Chute, Gordon Moore, Jack Lewis; Contestants Gate, Lee Palmer; Barrell Race, Bill Bradshaw; Unsaddling Chute, Pete Borden and crew; Calves in Chute, Steve Shelton and Jim Robinson.

A parade will be held at 1 p.m. July 4th. Entries will assemble north of the Donley Hotel and are asked to be on the lot by 12:30. The Jaycees will be in charge of the Parade and say this will be the largest and best ever held. If you want to enter, see one of the Jaycees.

Old timers will register at the Mulkey Theatre Wednesday morning, July 4th, promptly at 9:30. Ernest Kent who will be in charge of the old timers reported that various recognitions (See Rodeo, Last Page).

POST OFFICE DEDICATED — V. E. Bell, Real Estate officer for the Postal Department of Lubbock delivered the address at dedicatory services of the New Post Office here last Saturday. Mike McCully served as master of ceremonies. Other postal officials present were Mel Benesch, service officer and A. W. Tfanmiller, Inspector of Amarillo, and the owner of the building, Melvin W. Jackson of Dallas.

HEDLEY NEWS

Mabel Bridges

The F.W.&D. Railroad announces the depot at Hedley will be discontinued Tuesday, June 28, 1962, will be last day of operation. Agent Carl Morris will take a vacation before making plans for the future. Insufficient business seems to be reason for closing F.W.&D. service in Hedley.

V. C. (Si) Wood died quietly in his sleep at his home in San Diego, Calif., Sunday night. Mrs. Wood, the former Pauline Pickett had arrived in Hedley Sunday afternoon for a visit with her parents, the J. B. Picketts. She called her husband and talked to him. He was fine Sunday night. Monday the message came. He was found by a neighbor apparently asleep in his bed. Mrs. Woods and her sister, Mrs. Willis Thomas of Plainview, flew back. Robert Pickett drove the Woods car through. Mr. and Mrs. Woods moved to Calif., in 1941. He was a mechanist.

Funeral services were held Friday morning June 22 and burial was in a cemetery for Veterans in San Diego. Survivors are his wife, Pauline, San Diego; and his mother, Mrs. Lorena Wood, his sister, Mrs. E. E. Rice of Memphis, and other relatives. The friends extend deepest sympathy to the family.

Mrs. Woods will return home with her brother and sister for a while.

Mrs. Mattie Jewell, wife of the late Frank Jewell died suddenly at her home in Whitesboro, Tex., at 8:30 Tuesday morning, June 19. Funeral service was held Thursday morning at 10 o'clock from the Methodist Church in Whitesboro. Surviving are two daughters, one son, 6 grandchildren, three sisters and four brothers, and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Jewell who attended the funeral. Mrs. Jewell has visited quite often in Hedley and made a number of friends who extend sympathy to the family.

Mrs. Woodsin Holbrook and daughter, Ann, of Mansfield, Ark., visited the Hobart Moffitts and other Hedley friends Friday. Mrs. Holbrook will be remembered in Hedley as Miss Irene Beaty.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Haskin and four boys of El Paso visited the James Evans the first of the week. Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Simmons visited in the J. R. Adamson, Sr., home Sunday. A sister, Mrs. Bob Lewellen, Santa Anna, Calif., returned home with them for a visit.

How can this car have so much extra—and still be almost low-priced? Answer... it's a Buick...in name, styling, quality and resale value. Yet its price is right close to many models of the "low-priced" cars. So before you do any buying, come see how little extra it costs to get all the extra values included in LeSabre's surprisingly low price. Some examples...finned aluminum front brakes—safest made! A 401-cu. in. Wildcat V-8. Exclusive Advanced Thrust engineering that moves the engine forward—gives you straight tracking, flat cornering—and a nearly flat front floor! Turbine Drive automatic transmission—smoothest there is! And lots more you'd never guess LeSabre gives you. Your Buick dealer's great trades make LeSabre an even greater buy right now! BUICK LESABRE IS THE BUY

Helms-Klinnert Nuptials Solemnized

Wedding vows were exchanged recently in the First Baptist Church, Clarendon, Texas, by Miss Leveta Ruth Helms, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Helms of Lelia Lake, Texas, and Roddy Klinnert, son of Mrs. R. T. Stegall of Hedley and Carl Klinnert of Oklahoma City, Okla. The Rev. Gene Grace of Hedley was officiating minister for the double-ring ceremony.

Traditional nuptial selections were presented by Miss Andra Pinkerton, organist, and Miss Sue Alexander, soloist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white floor-length gown of lace over satin. The gown was fashioned with long sleeves and a scalloped neckline.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Cleta Koontz and bridesmaid was Cheryl Stegall. Best man was Lloyd Messer and groomsmen was Doyle Baggett, both of Hedley.

Other attendants were Vicky Boswell, flower girl; candlelighters, Becky Boswell, Randy Thomas, and Eddy Helms; and ushers, Joe Darnell and Larry Helms, both of Hedley.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlor. The couple will make their home in Oklahoma City, Okla. —Rep.

Mr. and Mrs. Troy Wiley and boys of Amarillo and Mrs. C. E. Underdown of Clarendon have returned home after spending last week with Mr. and Mrs. Leo Underdown and children and Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Thomason and baby at Abilene, also with Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Carroll and children at Lubbock.

We urge everyone to come next Sunday. We are going to have a very interesting program. —Rep.

REHEARSAL DINNER HONORS WEDDING PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Bradshaw were hosts Wednesday evening for a rehearsal dinner honoring members of the Pinkerton-Bradshaw wedding party. The dinner was held in the Bradshaw home. Mrs. Bradshaw was assisted by Mrs. Bill Allen and Mrs. A. J. Emmons.

The meal was served buffet from a table laid with a white damask cloth and centered with an arrangement of daisies and carnations accented by a miniature bride and groom beneath an archway. Guests were seated at quartet tables decorated with daisies.

Andra and Dennis presented each of their attendants with a gift.

Attending were Rev. and Mrs. W. R. Lawrence, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Pinkerton, Sandra, Ray, and Linda, Miss Andra Pinkerton, Dennis Wayne Bradshaw, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bradshaw, Pat and Mike, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Pfeiffer, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Hopkins, Mrs. W. O. Griffin, Margaret Hill and Davis Hill of Westminster, Jimmy Zaring of Adrian, Lynn Spier, Jerry Barrett, Sharon Williams, Dwight McAnear, Agatha Wallin, Alfred McNabb, Douglas Bradshaw, and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Bradshaw.

ASHTOLA COMMUNITY CENTER NEWS

Ashtola Community Center will have a bake sale the 4th of July. Pie and cake will be sold by the serving or whole. We hope that anyone wanting a good homemade dessert will come to the Ashtola tables to buy.

Each family of our community is asked to bring 2 pies, 2 cakes, or a pie and a cake. Cookies or iced cup cakes also sell well. Please wrap your baked goods in plastic or saran wrap. You may leave them at Mrs. Van Knox's or Mrs. Slaton Mahaffey's on the evening of the 3rd, or bring them to the tables on the Courthouse square by 9:30 the 4th.

Pinkerton-Bradshaw Vows Exchanged Thursday Evening

The First Baptist Church, Clarendon, Texas, was the setting for the ceremony Thursday evening, June 21, which united in marriage Miss Andra Faye Pinkerton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Pinkerton, Clarendon, and Dennis Wayne Bradshaw, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Bradshaw, also of Clarendon. The Rev. W. R. Lawrence, pastor, officiated.

Double-ring vows were exchanged by candlelight before an altar decorated with colonnades topped with urns of white gladioli and Killian daisies accented by tiered candelabra of wrought iron with white tapers and greenery. Centering the altar was a satin covered kneeling bench. Pews along the bridal aisle were marked with white and mint green streamers. Tapers were lighted by Linda Pinkerton, sister of the bride, and Pat Bradshaw, nephew of the groom. Miss Shirley Mann registered the guests.

Mrs. Joe Pfeiffer, organist, played a nuptial prelude and the traditional wedding marches and accompanied Jerry Barrett who sang "O' Promise Me," and "Wedding Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of lace and silk organza. The fitted lace bodice was designed with a rounded neckline and long sleeves. The bouffant skirt was fashioned of organda over taffeta and was street length. Her veil of illusion was attached to a beaded tiara. She wore a pear necklace and carried a bouquet of white orchids and stephanotis atop a white Bible. Love knots were tied in the streamers cascading from the bouquet.

Miss Sandra Pinkerton attended her sister as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Bill Bradshaw, Miss Agatha Wallin, and Miss Sharon Williams. Their dresses were identically styled of mint green brocade and featured a fitted bodice with rounded neckline and slim skirt. Each wore a matching halo hat with short veil and white accessories and carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations.

Attending the groom as best man was his brother, Bill Bradshaw. Groomsmen were Lynn Spier, Jerry Allen, and Larry Hopkins. Mike Bradshaw, nephew of the groom was ringbearer. Ushers were Ray Pinkerton, brother of the bride, and Douglas Bradshaw, brother of the groom.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Pinkerton chose a dress of pink dacron accented by embroidered trim and white accessories. Mrs. Bradshaw wore a dress of coral silk with black accessories. Each wore a corsage of white gardenias.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlors. Background music was provided by Mrs. Ray Hennigh of San Angelo. The bride's table was laid with a white linen, cutwork cloth over mint green. The centerpiece was a tiered arrangement of small colonial bouquets of mint green and white daisies and baby breath. The tiered wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom encircled by a lace heart and accented by silver wedding bands, forget-me-nots, and a blue bird of happiness. Appointments were crystal. Presiding at the table were Miss Deanna McAnear and Miss Connie Martin.

For the wedding trip to points in Oklahoma and Texas the bride wore a jacket dress of mint green embroidered linen with white accessories. Her corsage was taken from her bridal bouquet. The bride is a graduate of Clarendon High School where she was active in many school activities. The groom is a graduate of Clarendon High School and attended Clarendon Junior College after serving a year in the U. S. Navy. The couple plans to continue their education at Clarendon Junior College this fall where the bride holds a scholarship in music and the groom will continue his work toward a Veterinary of Medicine degree.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding were Mrs. Ray Hennigh and Suzan of San Angelo; Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Meier and Russell of Darrout; Mrs. Cap Boney, Mrs. Erles Pittman, both of Morse; Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Woodruff and family, Linda Abel, Amarillo; Mrs. W. O. Griffin, Margaret and Davis Hill of Westminster; Mr. and Mrs. Woody Williams and Carol of Lubbock; Mrs. A. W. Covington, Clovis, N.M.; Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Leverton, Mrs. Sue Bergner, Stinnett; Mrs. Edgar Skypala and Patti, Hereford; Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Little League News

By JOHN PAYNE

Action was fast and furious in Little League play last week. Instead of any team gaining a stronghold on first place, we now have the Yanks and Cubs still deadlocked for that position with the fast charging White Sox only 1/2 game behind the leaders.

The game of the week was last Tuesday night as Gardner of the Yanks bested the Cubs' Sloan in a pitching duel 3-2. However, Gardner was saved in the last inning by a triple play pulled off by the Yanks. Sloan allowed only one hit, but brilliant base running and fielding by the Yanks proved to be disastrous for the Cubs.

Thursday's game was a high scoring affair with the White Sox bombing the Gold Sox 17-13. Errors and bases on balls were extremely evident as Steve Land pitched the win and Larry Green absorbed the defeat, his second of the year.

In Friday's doubleheader, the Gold Sox lost their fifth consecutive game as the Cubs were victorious 14-8. However, in this game the Gold Sox proved to the fans that if they can get some pitching, they can be tough as their hitters started belting the ball. However, the usually weak hitting Cubs pounded out 13 hits. Players such as Thomas and Kidd as

The Clarendon Intermediate Girl Scouts joined Memphis this year for their day camp program, meeting at Giles each day, Monday through Friday. Thursday evening, a program was given for parents and friends by approximately 40 girls. Cooking out, hiking, singing, making bird houses, buddy burners and sand casting were a few of the many things enjoyed by the girls. Assisting Mrs. Dick Shelton, Leader, were Mrs. Richard Gilkey, Connie McMurtry, Mrs. Joe Robinson, Mrs. Ray Palmer, Pamela Palmer and Jill Benson. The above picture shows the girls ready to leave for camp. They are (standing left to right) Mrs. Joe Robinson, Jill Benson, Linda Palmer, Dana Estlack, Janny Robinson, Mrs. Ray Palmer and Pamela Palmer. BATTING RACE - MAJORS

1 B. Reese, Yanks	16	8	.500
2 J. Moore, Cubs	17	8	.471
3 McClellan, W.S.	16	7	.438
4 Sloan, Cubs	13	5	.385
5 Monroe, W. S.	8	3	.375

Players must be at bat at least 8 times to qualify. The batting race is as hot right now as is the pennant fight. Jim Moore moved up to second behind Benny Reese of the Yanks. Mac McClellan is right behind the leaders and is the leader in runs scored with 11, one more than Reese has. Sloan, after a slow start, has come along fast. Right now it's too early to predict a winner as several boys got off to a slow start.

The schedule for this week will be: Thursday (tonight) June 28: Pirates vs. Dodgers, 6:00 p.m. Yanks vs. White Sox, 7:30 p.m. Friday, June 29: Pirates vs. Indians, 6:00 p.m. Cubs vs. Gold Sox, 7:30 p.m. Last Wednesday an all-star team was chosen, and it will be announced in next week's edition of the Leader.

Cub Scout News

The Clarendon Cub Scouts Animal Fair was held in the City Park Monday night with 35 entries showing before a crowd of 75 people. First place ribbons were given to the entries as all 35 entries were different with no duplications.

There were 15 different kinds of dogs, 4 cats, 4 rabbits, 3 ducks, 3 horses, 2 goats, 1 calf, 1 gold fish, 1 ant collection, 1 terrapin collection and 1 bantam rooster.

I take this means to thank my many friends for the many cards and letters and beautiful flowers and for your prayers while I was in West Texas Hospital. May God bless everyone. Mrs. A. T. Tolbert

GRASSROOTS OPINION VIRGINIA, MINN., MESABI DAILY NEWS: "Everybody — including the wild liberals — know that giving away the nation's patrimony, paying out more than is warranted by productivity and all of the devices which provide government hand-outs must sooner or later be halted, or catastrophe will engulf America. It is only because the many have been thrifty and saving that it can go on at all."

JULY PLENTIFUL FOODS IDEAL HOT-WEATHER FARE

College Station — There's delightfully cool summer eating in store for Texas homemakers who shop the "plentiful foods" route this July, suggests the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The July list features tender turkey, exceptionally economical and ideal for warm-weather sandwiches, salads, or patio barbecues. Turkeys in storage are more than 40 percent higher than a year ago. Live turkey prices have been running the lowest since 1942.

Then, consider these additional menu sparklers: milk and all dairy foods; a galaxy of summer vegetables from local and commercial gardens; fresh, juicy peaches; a bonanza of cantaloupes; and frozen, refreshing orange juice.

All are on the July list of plentiful foods, as determined by the Agricultural Marketing Service in cooperation with producers and the food trade. Supplies of each exceed normal trade needs.

Consumers who buy and serve plentiful and in-season foods, often, stand to take advantage of lower prices, broader selection for quality, special retail promotions and ready availability throughout the week.

VALUABLE GUNS DESCRIBED IN MAGAZINE STORY

Today's old guns are those involved in some period of history, or which were owned by men who made that history. This is the story of Henry Stowers on gun collectors in the April issue of Texas Game and Fish magazine.

In this article the author presents the pictures and the history of some of these guns. He deals specifically with a gun collector who owns a buffalo gun with a value of $4500.

"Fake antiques are the bane of both dealers and collectors," Stowers writes.

One of the first things a collector should learn is to evaluate the gun's condition. He cites the set of standards adopted by the National Rifle Association.

Many collectors have found their hobby financially profitable. Some spend time on restoring them to their original finish. Others find their guns more valuable left in the condition in which they are found.

The article is illustrated with a number of pictures of valuable guns from the collection of guns now owned by Col. Leon Jackson, Dallas gun collector and appraiser.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Morris returned Thursday of last week from a trip to Thalin, Wichita Falls and Fort Worth. They were accompanied by Mrs. Patsy Morris and son, Killy, of Amarillo. Father's Day, all the Morris family were together at Carl Morris' in Wichita Falls.

AUSTIN — Texas' crime situation looks a little better. FBI reports covering the first three months of 1962, based on statistics from the 12 largest cities, show major crimes down 6.7 per cent. Across the U.S. in cities of comparable size, major crime rates rose one per cent. Texas' crime rate actually is down in number of crimes reported from 1961, despite a population growth during the year of some 200,000.

OUT OF JOBS — Finding a job in Texas is a little easier these days. Texas Employment Commission reports April unemployment at 4.3 per cent of the labor force as compared to 5.4 per cent a year ago.

Average factory wages rose from $91.21 a week last year to $96.10 this April. Range was wide, however, depending on the industry.

Leatherwork was the lowest paid, an average of $52.13 a week. Oil workers got the most, an average of $132.07 weekly.

Number of Texans working outside agriculture now has passed the 3,000,000 mark. Houston had 19,800 unemployed; Dallas 16,000.

Statewide, 375 persons are working at agriculture. This makes the total working force 3,629,400.

TOO MANY COLLEGES?—Dr. Ralph Green of the Texas Commission on Higher Education thinks the Legislature should quit creating four-year, state-supported colleges.

He told a House Committee on Saving Taxes that 20 state colleges are about enough.

Legislators have extended state support to four new colleges in the last four years. Biggest of the new ones, the University of Houston, will enter the state system this fall. This will substantially increase the state's higher education bill.

U of H now ranks second in size to the University of Texas. WATER SUPPLY — Texas enters the summer with its major reservoirs 76 per cent full.

Texas Water Commission reports that May rains couldn't keep up with use and evaporation, so the water supplies shrunk by 291,000 acre feet.

As June opened, supplies were 76 per cent of capacity, compared with 83 per cent a year ago.

LIVESTOCK RULES AMENDED — The Texas Animal Health Commission, after hearing pleas of livestock market operators, relaxed rules designed to speed up the eradication or at least control of brucellosis (undulant fever).

Commission action amending the rules came just before they were to go into effect June 15.

Before the change, the rules would have required testing for brucellosis before cattle could be moved from one market to another.

As amended, the rule says the cattle may move from one approved market to another approved market without having to take the test. This was put on a trial basis.

Restriction of movement was opposed by representatives of the big stockyards at San Antonio, Fort Worth and Houston. Auction markets also had an ardent champion present.

James D. Sartwell, president of Houston's Port City Stockyards, said the economic effect of the proposed rule could be "dangerous," particularly so in view of "the predicted downturn in cattle prices now beginning."

Sartwell said Texas' cattle inventory includes many so-called "two-way" cattle, entirely dependent on market conditions, which are sold as either stocker or slaughter animals.

Most of these two-way cattle, he said, also are "trader" cattle and loom large as a volume moving from interior markets, purchased by a trader and consigned to the terminals for resale.

He saw danger to this cattle movement in the proposed regulation.

G. C. Hagelstein of San Antonio's Union Stockyards felt livestock leaving any market should meet the requirements of its destination. But he said he was interested in protecting the industry and didn't believe the regulation did that.

John M. Lewis, general manager of the Fort Worth Stockyards, thought the Commission proposal would "strangle" the price-making terminal markets.

Charles Davis, operator of auction markets at Wichita Falls and Mineral Wells, suggested that animals should be tested when going "to the country" — but not from market to market. He called the rule unnecessary and a waste of time and money.

Norman Moser, commission member from DeKalb, said he didn't want to impose anything on the industry that would be harmful.

Dr. R. G. Garrett, the Commission's executive director, didn't oppose the amendment but believed it would delay the testing program.

SAFE FOURTH — Gov. Price Daniel urged the 5,000,000 Texas drivers to help hold down the traffic death list during the July 4th holidays.

"Slow down and live" is the theme of the traffic safety campaign by which Texas traffic people hope to hold down the death rate below the statisticians' predictions.

July 4th comes on Wednesday this year, so fewer Texans will kill themselves on the highway than when the holiday falls near a week end.

CROOKED HOLES — Tedious job of checking suspected oil wells in East Texas continues. Railroad Commission and Attorney General's Department spokesmen say it will take several months to finish the job.

Four more oil operators were enjoined from interfering with Commission checks of their wells. In two weeks, only 23 wells have been checked out of "several hundred" that Atty. Gen. Will Wilson thinks will have to be investigated before they can write an end to the East Texas investigation.

Wilson has obtained donations from major oil companies to finance the surveys to see if holes were diverted so as to reach oil under someone else's lease. So he has taken over direction of the surveying from the Railroad Commission.

FIRING RESUMES — There was only a brief respite from campaigning after Democratic primaries.

John Connally, the Democratic nominee for governor, and Jack Cox, the Republican nominee, both had their chance to talk at the meetings of their respective state executive committees Saturday, convening to canvass the returns.

Campaigns will start in earnest September 18th, when both parties have their state conventions.

But the two young gubernatorial nominees both have state campaign headquarters in operation in Austin. They sound like they plan all-out campaigns in the summer and fall.

Sen. John Tower will be a major campaigner for the Republicans. Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson and Sen. Ralph Yarborough will take to the stump for the Democrats.

They are beginning to make this look like a two-party state. Whether the label sticks depends on what the voters say on November 6th.

SAFE DRIVING PLAN — The State Board of Insurance will hold hearing June 29th on automobile insurance rates and rules. High on the agenda will be proposals to revise drastically the "safe driving insurance plan" by which those with accidents or traffic law violations pay more, while those without them pay less.

Statisticians say the plan has cut rates for 78 per cent, raised them for 22 per cent. But the complaints about the plan being received by legislators indicates that even those who save aren't too happy with the possibility that one slip might run up their rates.

Drastic revision is possible. Without revision of the plan, a rate cut is in the cards. But if penalty provisions are reduced, it may wipe out the chance of a rate cut.

Board members and the insurance industry are divided as to what to do. Largest of the insurance agents' associations is taking a poll of its members to see what they — and their customers — think should be done about it.

The explorations of Sir Walter Raleigh in 1584 were responsible for the founding of Virginia.

Wagon Race, Special Event At Rodeo

Something new under the Clarendon sun will be added to the special events of The Rimrock Rodeo in Clarendon July 2, 3, and 4. A familiar event in the Play Day sessions of the Amarillo Riders and like Posse Riding Clubs, few people in this area have seen the WAGON RACE.

A little red wagon, a twenty-foot length of rope, a horse, and two riders are the necessary equipment for this rough-and-tumble time event. The rope is securely fastened to the wagon tongue with the opposite end looped over the horsebacker's saddle horn. The rider in the wagon lies flat on her tummy or sits upright and away they go to round a barrel at the farther end of the arena. If you think it isn't 'western' try it!

This wild-and-wooly specialty act will be featured in the Tuesday night, Wednesday afternoon and night shows at Clarendon's Fourth of July Celebration. Nell Henry and Emma Wheeler from the Leather & Lace Riding Club of Pampa will be one team. Florence (Grandma) Reynolds and her daughter, Johnnie Robinson, from Fritch will be another team of riders. And Dora Waldrop and her partner, Glenda Whisenant, from Amarillo will be the third team. The rider in the wagon usually tumbles out as the barrel is rounded but she must be in the wagon when they cross the finish line.

For fun and excitement, be sure to see the WAGON RACE at The Rimrock Rodeo in Clarendon next week!

would be made for the oldest, one with largest family, coming greatest distance, etc. A good speaker for the occasion is anticipated. Old Timers are reminded too that the barbecue will be free for all who qualify. If you are 75 years of age regardless of how long you have lived here or in this area you are eligible and if you have been a resident of Donley County 60 years regardless of your age, you are eligible for free barbecue. Kent says all old-timers will be served in a special line.

Kent will also be in charge of the Old Fiddlers Contest which will be held on main street about 4 p.m. July Fourth. Contestants are welcome to enter and should contact Ernest Kent. The big rush will come at 11 p.m. when the barbecue will be served at the court house lawn. A charge of $1 for adults and 50¢ for children will be made for the barbecue. The barbecue ticket does not include free admittance to the rodeo. You will have to have a barbecue ticket to receive a plate in the chow line.

Tickets for the barbecue along with rodeo tickets, tickets for the Pete Borden Hand Made Boots, etc., will be for sale by the nine Rodeo Queen contestants and also at the following business firms: Household Supply, Palmer Motor Co., West Texas Utilities, Pete Borden Boot Shop and Knorrpp Insurance. Buy your tickets prior to the time you will need them and save standing in line.

Dances will be sponsored each night of the celebration by the American Legion and will be held at the Legion Hall.

Bill Porter, President of the Outdoor Entertainment Association is asking for the cooperation of everyone in making this a most successful and enjoyable celebration all the way through. Porter has put in some long, hard hours, along with the officers and directors and other committeemen, and all should be complimented for their efforts. All Clarendon merchants are being asked to put their flags out each day of the Celebration, so if your flag is not clean and ready to be set out, now is the time to get it ready.

no interest charged by the government, but the total amount becomes due and payable upon completion of the project.

Prior to making the new loan application, directors consulted with Si Freese and Jim Nichols, consulting engineers of the Freese, Nichols and Endress engineering firm of Fort Worth.

Representing member cities at the recent director's meeting were Dr. S. H. Townsend, Childress; Roland Walden, Quanah; Kenneth Tooley, Paducah; Andy Anderson, Hedley; Carol Knorrpp, Clarendon; and Wendell Harrison, Memphis.

not have a place to keep their horses may leave them at the Clarendon Veterinary Clinic but must do their own feeding. All girls who have horses will ride in the grand entry each performance of the rodeo.

The winner of the queen contest will be announced Monday night, July 2nd, and will be crowned on the night of July 4th.

Queen contestants can bring their votes to Mrs. Bradshaw at any time and receive tickets to be sold. Mrs. Bradshaw is located at the law offices of William J. Lowe.

Former Resident Dies In Oklahoma

L. M. (Lige) Campbell, an early day rancher and former Donley County resident, born in Indian territory, died Monday, June 18, in a Tulsa hospital at the age of 89. Funeral services were held last Wednesday at Vinita, Okla.

Campbell ranched in Texas and Colorado in his early years, returning to Oklahoma City from Clarendon in 1924. For the past 20 years he lived in Whiteoak where he operated an upholstering business until his retirement about 5 years ago.

Campbell is survived by his wife, Della, a son, Floyd and a grandson, Bud, both of Muskogee and a granddaughter, Betty Crandell of New Jersey.

Lige Campbell and Della Reid were married at Lelia Lake in 1903.

Mr. and Mrs. Buster Campbell, a nephew, attended services for Mr. Campbell. They had visited him some two weeks prior to his death.

SISTER OF LOCAL LADY DIES AT AMARILLO

Funeral services for Mrs. Edna Fowler of Amarillo and sister of Mrs. E. W. Gerner of this city, were held Monday at Amarillo. Mrs. Fowler died Saturday in an Amarillo hospital.

Other survivors include her husband, J. F. Fowler, two daughters, a brother, and another sister, Mrs. John Gerner of Amarillo and four grandchildren.

Judy Lynn LaGrone is visiting in the home of her aunt and family, Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey Hommel, while her brother, Gary, is visiting with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Thompson. Both are children of Mr. and Mrs. Odell LaGrone of Canyon.

PALEONTOLOGIST DIES AT ALBUQUERQUE

Will Chamberlain received word the past week that Charles H. Falkenbach, an off and on resident of Donley County for a long number of years, had passed away at Albuquerque, N.M., June 8th.

Mr. Falkenbach, a widely known paleontologist for the Frick Laboratory, the American Museum of Natural History, New York City, was well known in Donley County as the man who opened up the Judge J. R. Porter Pliocene Fossil Quarry on Carroll Creek in the early thirties. From these quarries, his men secured nearly ten thousand specimens for the above museum.

Mr. Falkenbach started fossil collecting at the age of 14 when he joined Dr. Barnum Brown in a collecting expedition to Cuba. From that year on, he was in the field collecting in many foreign countries and nearly every state west of the Mississippi. He was in Donley County for 25 different summers. His home was in Espanola, N.M.

He is survived by his wife and son, Charles Falkenbach, Jr.

VISIT WORLD'S FAIR

Mr. and Mrs. Emmett O. Simmons, James Emmett and Ann Beth recently visited the World's Fair at Seattle, Washington. They drove to Denver and then flew on to Seattle and returned home in the same manner. They reported the Fair on the scientific side and wonderful in every respect.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Yates of Roaring Springs were week end guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey Hommel and family.

Mrs. Carra Adkins of Carnegie, Okla., and Mrs. Lena Adair of Shawnee, Okla., are visiting their sister, Mrs. C. E. Underdown.

Rain Total Is High For June

According to our official weather observer, our rain total for the year has surpassed the June total for 1961 with a total of 10.03 inches. The total of 9.20 inches was recorded through the month of June, 1961. The total for the month of June this year so far with two days to go is 5.93. In 1961 the total for the month of June was 3.53.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Blair and grandson, Miller Morris, of Amarillo visited in the C. B. Morris home a short time Friday, as they were returning from a vacation in Tenn.

ARMY'S NEW SECRETARY TO ASSUME POST JULY 1

CYRUS ROBERTS VANCE (right) looks attentively as Secretary of the Army Elvis J. Stahr, Jr. acquaints him with Army business to prepare him for the role of Army Secretary when he succeeds Mr. Stahr July 1. President Kennedy announced Mr. Vance's appointment, subject to Senate confirmation, May 20. Presently serving as general counsel for the Defense Department, the 45-year-old former Naval officer and Yale-educated Wall Street attorney entered government work in 1957 as special counsel of the Senate Preparedness Subcommittee, then headed by Vice President Johnson. Mr. Stahr resigned to accept the presidency of Indiana University.

Prize Money Decision Of Two Judges

Rodeo, unlike other professional sports, has no category as such, of umpires or referees. Instead, prize money division rests on the opinion of two cowboy judges drawn from active contestant ranks.

To the spectator, watching decisions of these two men, identified by their stripped vests, the sport's riding rules might seem complex at first glance, but actually only a few simple factors govern qualifications.

The action of rider and animal, after complying with these basic requirements, make up the judges' minds how the ride will be graded.

In the saddle and bareback bronc riding events, the cowboy must keep his spurs touching his mount over the shoulder points until the first jump out of the chute is completed.

Through the remaining seconds of the ride, the cowboy's free hand must not touch the animal at any time. On saddle broncs, loss of a stirrup also brings disqualification.

Bull riding rules differ only in that the rider is not required to spur his mount — and so long as he has part of the braided rope he holds on with, in his hand when the final whistle sounds — it shall be considered a qualified ride, even though he may be in mid-air at the time.

Rider and animal are graded separately, with a 20-point spread allowed in both categories. Figures normally used are from 1 to 20 for the rider, 65 to 85 for the animal. Thus average action might be marked 9 for the cowboy, 71 for the animal. The combined figures of both judges decide the final marking.

In roping and steer wrestling events, governed by the stop watch, start and finish are signified by flag-fall. One flag at the scoreline starts the clock, the other, carried by the field judge, stops the watches.

In roping events, after dropping his flag, the field judge must allow five seconds to elapse, to determine whether the animal is securely tied, before nodding complete approval. If the animal struggles free during the waiting period the roper receives no time.

Before time is allowed in steer wrestling the animal must be flat on its side, all four legs extended in the same direction.

By a curious coincidence, Citizens Public Expenditure Survey reports, last April 16, the deadline for paying federal income taxes, also was Tax Freedom Day. Up to that day, the typical citizen had been working to support government — federal, state, and national. Taxes now add up to 29.1 per cent of the net national product, which is the total earnings of all businesses and individuals in the country.

Bucking Stock Key To Successful Rodeo Show

Good bucking stock is a key factor in any rodeo's success — providing such animals for professional cowboy contests has been the business of Elra and Jiggs Beutler, father and son, from Elk City, Oklahoma, for over three decades.

At 63, Elra can claim seniority among the nation's rodeo stock contractors, in the game which last year comprised over five hundred rodeos in thirty-six states and four Canadian provinces, with prize money totalling over three million dollars. The Beutler & Son string handled twenty of this number during 1960, over a six state area.

Jiggs, 36, literally grew up in the cowboy sport and was an active contestant himself until a few years ago when a badly fractured arm sidelined him from further competition. His current role is that of arena director, keeping events moving at a proper pace and supervising handling of stock in the chutes.

His father may be termed dean of rodeo's arena pickup men. These are the riders who swoop into capture bucking horses and aid the cowboy in dismounting at the end of each timed display of riding skill.

Despite his years, Elra is considered one of the best in his hazardous occupation, of avoiding flying hooves and head-on collisions. Proof of his ability may be seen in that, for two successive years, the cowboys themselves have voted him to serve in that capacity at the National Finals Rodeo, year-end "world series" of rodeo to name national champions.

Only the top in hand-picked bucking stock from over the nation and the seventy-five high money winning cowboys of the season reach the finals, a ten go-round contest held in late December.

On the family ranch, outside Elk City, are more than 200 head of bucking horses and bulls that comprise the current Beutler & Son contract string, valued into six figures.

Checking shelter potential of limestone cave near Kansas City, Mo.

SHELTER PROGRESS RAPID

The national civil defense program of surveying fallout shelters for up to 60 million Americans is ahead of schedule, and should be completed before the end of 1962, according to officials of the Defense Department's Office of Civil Defense.

By October 1 OCD expects to have in the hands of local civil defense authorities complete information on the number and location of shelter spaces available in each community.

From information obtained by the Federally-financed National Shelter Survey, local civil defense officials will know also how many persons in each community could be sheltered, how many could not be sheltered under present conditions, what additional space could be modified into shelter areas, how much it would cost, and similar data. Local architects and engineers surveyed shelter areas under contract to the Army Corps of Engineers or the Navy Bureau of Yards and Docks.

Under present plans, civil defense authorities receiving this information would then be responsible for marking shelter areas with a nationally-standardized sign. They would stock shelter areas with specially-prepared 14-day supplies of food, water, sanitation and medical items, and fallout detection instruments—all provided by OCD.

The shelter survey, marking, and stocking program, announced last August and put in operation Dec. 1, 1961, is the first part of a broader plan to provide fallout shelters for virtually all Americans over the next five years.

potential in the spooky gelding, brought the animal on slowly. Jake lost his fear of hauling and arena hurly-burly in the process, learned to conserve his spine-jolting actions until the gate flew open.

In the intervening months, those prospects purchased with him, dwindled away one by one as they lost their desire to buck. Knight admits now Jake is worth $10,000 and more to him.

So far, the hump-shouldered Brahma bulls in rodeo contests present no such problem. A part of the nation's cattle industry, they can be found in almost every sector of the country. Once purchased, the best are screened for the arena, the remainder resold.

Rodeo bucking stock lead a good life. Their actual working hours are capped into a few minutes each year. Well fed, and cared for, as a category, the horse especially, outlast other types by years.

Among examples are Roanie, a 28-year-old roan gelding, belonging to Andy Jauregui of Newhall, California; Try Me, 29-year-old bay saddle bronc, twice chosen for rodeo's championship playoffs, the National Finals, from the Christensen Bros., Eugene, Oregon string and Inflammation, Oral Zumwalt's great bareback bronc who was retired this spring at Missoula, Montana, with fitting ceremony after spending 27 of his 33 years flat-tening cowboys in the Northwest.

Cowboys themselves have great respect for the honest bucking animal. This accounts for their decision some years ago to acknowledge the horse hardest to ride each season with the "bucking horse of the year" award. The selection is made from the collective stock contracting strings in the United States and Canada.

Donley County Leader, 43 a year in country.

Constant Hunt For Wild Horses & Bulls

No rodeo is better than its bucking animals — and for that reason — a hunt for outlaw horses and bulls with special talent in unseating a cowboy, goes on year-long, throughout the professional sport's season.

The men who make a business of providing such animals, there are some forty-five such stock contractors in the Rodeo Cowboys Association in Denver, have a woefully small surplus from which to draw at present.

In the past twenty years ranches which raised horses in vast numbers gradually have disappeared from the scene. These herds, from which rodeo drew many of its bucking prospects, have been supplemented in great part by the pickup truck and jeep.

Where once bucking horse prospects were purchased in carlots, now the stock contractor finds an individual animal. The shortage has made the search a day-to-day, overlook-nothing enterprise, fiercely competitive.

Oldtimers freely admit the present day bucking horse is ranker and harder to ride than when horses were plentiful. They have to be, for the current crop of riders have perfected the art of staying aboard.

With quality higher and quantity lower, the old rule of supply and demand has reached the rodeo arena. Value of a top bucking horse today can run into five figures, astronomical when little over a decade ago a thousand dollars was top price for such an animal.

Jake, a 9-year-old sorrel gelding, voted 1960's "Bucking Horse of the Year" by rodeo's top twenty bronc riders of that season, was purchased at Miles City, Montana in 1956.

Along with some thirty other prospects, he cost Harry Knight a total of $3,000 plus transportation costs to the home ranch at Fowler, Colorado.

For two years Knight, who from the first thought he saw

Bareback Bronc Riding Youngest Of Contests

Youngest of professional rodeo's standard event's bareback bronc riding has become one of the most hotly contested, with its annual world champion averaging over $16,000 each season for the past decade.

And, because bareback bronc riding techniques, or style, differs from rodeo's other riding event — saddle bronc and bull riding — few cowboys in the game find themselves equally successful in any chosen two of them.

There are some notable exceptions, of course, two of them being 1960's world champion all around cowboy Harry Thompkins of Dublin, Texas, and Oklahoma's great title grabber Jim Shoulders of Henryetta.

Thompkins' great double talent is overlooked by many who consider him only as the game's stylist in bull riding, while Shoulders always has claimed he enters bareback bronc riding only "to win entry fees for the bulls," despite the fact records belie his words.

A bareback rider braces himself close against the leather rigging cinched atop the bronc's withers, keeping legs and feet forward, literally dangling over the animal's shoulder points.

The high-spurring action which follows is a result of timing his leg movements with the animal's jumps. If ever the cowboy lets his feet slip back he loses purchase on the rigging handhold and is an easy target for a fall.

The saddle bronc rider, in direct contrast, moves his legs forward and back, from the bronc's shoulders to the saddle's cantle, staying close to the animal. His balance and timing largely come from purchase on the braided rein attached to the animal's halter.

In bull riding, the feet seldom are moved except to maintain their grip behind the animal's forelegs, since the event's rules require no spurring.

Bareback bronc riding was accepted universally as a standard rodeo event around 1940, but in the intervening years it has grown to one of the most heavily populated in the sport's competition.

EAST DUBUQUE, ILL., REGISTER: "A government is not an earner — but merely a spender — a distributor of our taxes. Anything that President Kennedy or any President for that matter, says he will give to the people, he must first take from them. In such a process we inevitably grow poorer for the vital point that many miss, is that the money comes from all of us."

Brahma Bulls Vicious Animals

When it comes to getting rid of a burden no other animal has the furious concentration of a Brahma bull.

Used in rodeo contests since the early twenties, the hump-shouldered cattle, which originated in India, even will use their heavy horns as a scythe to sweep a rider from their back — and when this and other murderous tricks succeed — they'll try to gore the fallen cowboy on the ground.

Because a bull will fight a horse as well, pick-up men cannot be used as they are in saddle bronc and bareback bronc riding events.

The cowboy, therefore, must get away from the bull as best he can. His only bulwark against injury is the rodeo clown, an accomplished matador in baggy pants, who distracts the mad-dened animal.

With the big odds in the bull's favor, rules are much simpler than in other riding events in rodeo. They call only for the cowboy not to touch the animal with his free hand — at anytime during the ride — to be clear off the ground, still holding to some part of the bull rope when the eight-second time signal is sounded.

The aforementioned rope is a flat-plaited, ten foot length of manila, noosed around the bull's middle and held taut by the rider's hand. It can be a slim brace, indeed, against the calculated conceptions thrown by the Brahmas who can buck and spin like a top, adding direction changes a half-dozen times, violent enough to pretzel a spine.

From the time a cowboy settles on a bull's back in the chute — and pulls his rope tight — there is the added peril of falling beneath the churning hooves weighted with over half a ton of infuriated beef.

Until after he's back to safety at the ride's conclusion, the cowboy is engaged in the most dangerous, competitive contest known to man.

Finals Highest Accolade Of Ability

To the rodeo cowboy, the words, "he made the Finals" is highest accolade of ability.

The National Finals, year-end playoffs for cowboy world championship titles, has drawn rodeo into national focus as a professional sporting event more than anything else in its hundred-year history.

In two years, he Finals have come to be termed, ineptly, a classic. The competitive crescendo — the final night televised nationally — has been attended by thousands, seeing the finest projection of the sport possible.

A ten-year dream, the king-sized contest finally reached the drawing boards in the summer of 1958 when a Finals Commission was appointed by the sport's administrative body, the Rodeo Cowboys Association.

Plans called for a contest between the sport's fifteen high money winning cowboys in each competitive event, to meet the hand-picked animals of North America's rodeo strings, thus to determine national titlists for the year.

There was to be no make believe, no "added attraction," only simon-pure rodeo presented in its true light of competition.

Myriad worries of selecting a site, care and transportation of bucking stock, along with a hundred other details equally important, all were erased when the first chute gate swung open in the newly built Coliseum at Dallas on December 26, 1959.

From the very first animal that lunged into the arena the tempo of combat was higher than ever before in rodeo annals. Nothing but professional pride in their prowess could have withstood the battering cowboys went through during the entire contest.

Bruised and limping, the finalists hauled off and rode more heretofore "impossible" bulls and broncs in an exhibition of raw courage that prize money and titles alone could never have produced.

This was their rodeo, created by and for the men in the big hats, and they were determined to prove its worth.

1960's Finals were equally dramatic. Memorable highlights include Harely May's tremendous, yet unsuccessful, bid for the steer wrestling championship, and Duane Howard's bull ride the final night which cinched individual high money honors of the contest for the Minnewaukan, North Dakota cowboy.

May, from Oakdale, California, who went into the contest in fourth place, threw down ten steers over thirty-one seconds faster than anyone else there, to come within $299 of the title throne, with the outcome in doubt until the final steer.

In future prospectus, the Finals returns to Dallas this year, but the following season will seek another location. An early provision in its charter was the decision to change the contest site frequently to provide better acquaintance with rodeo in true perspective.

For the additional world championships awarded in single steer roping and team roping, requiring outdoor arenas, Finals are held earlier in other locations, over the country.

In 1961, Santa Maria, California, hosts the tandem roping event, with Laramie, Wyoming, chosen as the single steer roping site.

Friendly Rivalry Among Cowboys

Rodeo began as friendly rivalry among cowboys on the open ranges of the west a century ago.

The lonely, and often dangerous life offered a little outside entertainment, so the cowboys found it in routine pursuits of their livelihood.

A horse they couldn't master became a further test of skill for other cowboys encountered on roundup or at railroad shipping points.

Often a summer's wages were won or lost on the outcome between man and animal so intense was interest in the competitive contests.

One such inter-camp contest was held at Deer Trail, Colo., in the fall of 1869 among the Hashknife, Mill Iron and Campstool cowboys, with one, Emelie Gardenshire, emerging victor and being awarded the mythical title of "champion bronco buster of the plains."

In 1883, Pecos, Texas, held a Fourth of July celebration, roping longhorn steers down the main street. Five years later, Prescott, Arizona, charged admission to a "cowboy contest."

The succeeding years have brought rodeo to a sport of national dimension. Beginning with the American Junior Rodeo Association, for youngsters, it stretches on to the National High School Rodeo Association, thence to the National Intercollegiate Rodeo Association, ending with the professional Rodeo Cowboys Association.

Attendance at these rodeos runs into the millions. In 1959 and 1960, the Rodeo Cowboys Association alone held over 500 contests annually with prize money each season topping $3,000,000, reaching from Edmonton, Alberta, in Canada, to Kissimmee, on the southern tip of Florida.

As rodeo grew in stature so did the roster of events, yet saddle bronc riding remains the classic contest. Also included in the present professional category are bareback bronc riding, bull riding, steer wrestling and calf roping.

Many sectors of the country, notably in the far southwest, add team steer roping to their arena agenda. The tandem roping event consists of a cowboy roping the steer's head while his partner catches the animal's hind feet, against the stop-watch.

Junior and scholastic rodeos number additional events for their boy and girl contestants.

Prize money winnings have soared as well since early day contests. In 1907 the saddle bronc riding winner received $75 and a trophy saddle, the runner-up, $25, at Cheyenne Frontier Days, one of the first major rodeos.

In 1960 the Cheyenne event winner pocketed $1,984; the year's world champion saddle bronc rider, $20,832.

SAD, BUT TRUE

"Say! yelled the farmer, who owned the pond, "don't you see that sign: No Fishing Here?"

"I sure do," said the disgusted fisherman. "The fellow that printed that sign knew what he was talkin' about!"

Rodeo Secretary Is Most Valuable Person

The arena secretary is one of professional rodeos most important figures, yet few people, even inside the sport, are fully aware of the job's magnitude, etched as it is, against the background of actual contest.

Accurate transcript of the entire rodeo, both financial and competitive, rests in the hands of the secretary, from the opening hour of entry taking until the last cowboy winner is paid off after the final go-round.

From one to ten days before a rodeo, a denim-clad girl or man will jerk a battered portable typewriter and brief case out of a car and plunk them down on an empty desk or table—and for the course of the rodeo in that town—this, then becomes rodeo contestant headquarters.

Actually the only resemblance to the usual office will be the telephone and through ensuing hours it will be one of the busiest lines in that town. From fifty to three-hundred and fifty individual entries will be taken.

Once the entry deadline is passed, and stock and position drawn for contestants, many will call back to find out what animal and placement they have received in the "draw."

In the short time-span, the secretary is responsible for a mass of details and money that would put the workload of many permanent office staffs to shame.

Each of the contestants will enter from one to five contest events, and his name must be placed correctly on the roster for each. Then, when the rodeo judges conduct the drawing, the name and number of each animal must be placed by the name of the cowboy who draws it. All of this time, entry fees are being collected, releases signed and passes issued.

From the time the office opens until the first performance is over, the secretary collects all entry fees, usually amounting to far more than the rodeo purse money. This entry fee money may run as high as $35,000 and at the one-day Coliseum rodeo in Los Angeles, the secretary collects more than $20,000.

When each cowboy has competed on a head of stock, a go-round is completed and the secretary must have the payoff checks ready, deducting the part of the purse money that goes to the cowboy's group insurance policy, and adding the entry fees.

Then, when the rodeo ends, complete entry lists and results must be filed immediately with the Rodeo Cowboys Association in Denver.

All official duties must be carried out under a detailed and strictly policed set of rules and regulations written by the R.C.A. There are seventy-three pages in the rodeo Rule Book and the arena secretary must be familiar with them all.

Along the way, daily deadlines for printing program inserts have been met, payoff figures read-justed if injured contestants are refunded their entry fees, work-sheets made up for livestock handling, messages delivered and information given to newspaper reporters.

The men and women who carry out these duties so ably are career rodeo folk. Many are wives of contestants or stock contractors. Some are ex-contestants. But all have a common factor—a deeply instilled knowledge of rodeo and a dedication to their trying tasks.

For the arena secretary there is little glamor in rodeo, and certainly no fame. But no one in rodeo can be more highly regarded than those who "keep books." Any rodeo's efficient smoothness starts at the rodeo office.

Denver, Colorado, Headquarters For Rodeo Association

On the third floor of a brownstone office building, in the heart of Denver's financial district, there is a door that says simply, RODEO.

Beyond that portal, there lies a whole wing of offices, a busy fifteen-person staff, the latest in office equipment, and five flashing phone lines.

Behind this look of normal, efficient operation, lies perhaps the strangest organization on the current business scene.

This is the headquarters of the Rodeo Cowboys Association, nerve center of a sprawling professional sport that each season means countless millions of dollars in commerce, charity, admissions and prize money.

What makes the organization so strange is that the Association and the sport it administers, promotes and protects, is governed by a nine-man Board of Directors, active rodeo cowboys. Each represents a contest event and is elected by his fellow rodeo hands who enter that contest.

Thus, somewhat reluctantly, a steer wrestler finds himself grouped with other board members at the conference table in some ornate hostelry, grappling with the relative dangers or benefits of network television exposure, or discussing premium-risk ratios of rodeo contestants' accident insurance with underwriters' actuaries.

As the name implies, the R. C. A. began as a contestant organization. In the unlikely locale of Boston, Massachusetts, in 1936, a group of cowboys refused to compete for what they felt was unfair prize money distribution. The rodeo management negotiated and thus the Association came into being, its thirty-six charter members pledged to betterment of the sport.

In the years that followed, however, rodeo committees, peopled mainly by civic groups donating time and services to the local contest, discovered the Association's aims, and theirs, coincided. They came to lean on the R. C. A. to administer the sport on a national level.

The world the Association directs encompasses more than five-hundred community-sponsored rodeos, a cowboy contestant roster running into thousands and over three million dollars in annual prize money.

The complete financial picture of rodeos, scattered through thirty-six states and four Canadian provinces, cannot be tabulated. But the tri-million dollar prize money total is a small portion in the overall scene.

Bank clearings in Colorado Springs during that city's annual rodeo week in 1959, showed a dollar volume of $9 million. This topped Christmas week in the same season, $8.6 million, and Easter week, as well, with $8.2 million dollars.

In the past decade, the R. C. A. expanded within itself. In 1952, its own newspaper, RODEO SPORTS NEWS, began publication. A former world champion saddle bronc rider edits rodeo news for the more than 10,000 paid subscribers.

In 1955 a service bureau for rodeos and news media was created, the Rodeo Information Commission, and when the first National Finals Rodeo reached the drawing boards in 1958, the Association set up a Commission to handle the "world series" affairs.

And latest, but not least of the Association-backed agencies is the Rodeo Foundation, a high level advisory board to aid in directing the sport's vast and complex ramifications.

So, from its original concept to demand a fair shake for the cowboy, the Association and its intermeshed agencies blend the interests of all rodeo segments—committeemen, stock contractors and contestants—into a single goal—what's best for Rodeo.

Steer Wrestling Depends On Good Horse

Rodeo's steer wrestling is a combination of scientific "know-how," picked up in a bruising apprenticeship, and another even more important factor—the horses used in the event.

One of rodeo's only two contests where three animals and two men are involved directly in the action—the other being team roping)—back of every steer wrestler's winning streak are three to five odds the horse he rode played a major part in finding the paywindow.

From other steer wrestlers, some of the top hands even conduct "schools" a part of each season, and through constant practice, the proper moves to bring a steer around and twist him to the ground may be mastered. But without a good horse under him the cowboy still winds up among the "also rans" in actual competition.

Three things make up a "solid" steer wrestling mount. He must be quiet at the barrier, breaking instantly and quickly on cue, with speed to overhaul the racing quarry, and most important, the ability to let his rider down properly on target. The same requirements are asked of the hazer's mount, who, with his rider, keeps the steer running straight.

The angle at which the steer wrestler's feet hit the ground after leaving his horse often makes the difference between a winning or a losing run. Properly executed, the feet should strike at a 45-degree angle to the steer's trajectory to start the inward arc which at its end allows the cowboy to tilt the animal's head upward, twisting slightly, and thus use the steer's own weight to cause the fall.

Once free of the rider, the horse must pick up speed, widening to the left to evade the action behind him.

Probably the most famous of all steer wrestling mounts was the little, brown mare, Baby Doll, owned by Willard Combs of Checotah, Oklahoma. Before her sudden death late in the summer of 1960, cowboys had set a record of over $400,000 won from her back during a six-year career in the nation's arenas.

Lacking great speed, the Doll made up for the loss with short cuts almost human in perception. She foresaw the right moves before her riders and took advantage of them without a signal.

Right of way on entering a roadway requires a vehicle entering a roadway from a private road or driveway to yield to vehicles on the roadway.

Saddle Bronc Riding Most Popular Even

A hundred years ago the cowboy matched his riding skill, and often his life, against outlaw horses in cow camps and on roundups from Montana to Mexico — rodeo brings this struggle to the modern day arena as key-stone of its competitive event roster.

The saddle bronc rider in professional rodeo today, unlike his predecessor, must abide by a stringent set of rules, with the odds stacked in the animal's favor, but the basic combat between the pair remains full strength.

No longer does the outlaw bronc fight snubbing post and blindfold to be saddled. Instead, he waits in boarded chutes, his efforts conserved for the upcoming action.

Nor must he buck until will and breath are gone, as in the past. His span in the arena now lasts only a predetermined eight or ten seconds before the whistle sounds and pick-up men swoop in to halt the ride. It has been proved an animal's action slows with further time allowance.

The saddle snugged against his withers, double-rigged, is built to specifications, policed by the Rodeo Cowboys Association. Only one rein, a braided length of manila, is allowed for the rider's purchase, attached to the wide leather halter on the horse's head.

When the chute gate opens, the modern cowboy must have his spurs against his mount, over the shoulder points, until the first jump is completed. This is designed as further disadvantage for the rider. If he leaves his feet braced forward a moment too long, the next jump will pry him out of the saddle like a slingshot.

All within the next second the cowboy must find his timing with the horse's jolting leaps, coordinating rein and spurs, to make the smooth, polished ride which brings high marking from the judges.

Clowns Play Important Role At Rodeos

Of all rodeo competition bull riding is the only event in which animals deliberately attack their riders.

The rodeo clown, although his baggy clothing and painted face are mirth-provoking, has a deadly serious purpose in the arena.

When a cowboy comes down from a flailing fifteen hundred pounds of bucking bull the clown must divert the animal's attention from his prey.

To do so, the clown relies on his stored-up knowledge of bovine behavior, and the cleated shoes he wears to prevent slipping.

Often his judgment errs in split-second timing, and broken bones or loss of an eye may be his reward. The bull makes no distinction in targets.

Danger for the cowboy begins in the chutes where the bull may crush a leg or use its horns to club the rider on his back. Once in the arena the rider must depend upon the clown for safety.

Any moment in the required eight-second journey that often seems to stretch an eternity, the clown is poised to rush in as a protector.

The weight of churning hooves present an even greater danger than the bull's heavy horns, to a fallen rider, so the clown must draw the animal away in as straight a line as possible.

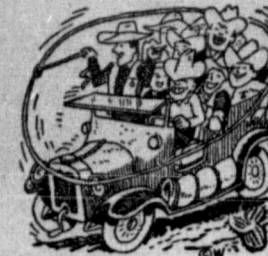

Once the cowboy has reached a vantage point of safety, the clown may underplay his own perilous role, with spaced rushes to sanctuary on arena chutes or fence, as the bull rages against his foiled plan of destruction.

But under the masking grease paint that caricatures his face, the rodeo clown is well aware of his constant partnership in danger.

Young Cowboy Talent Given Chance To Start

Professional rodeo long has been confronted with the problem of giving young cowboy talent a chance to get started.

As living costs soared in the past decade so have initiation fees in the Rodeo Cowboys Association, which governs professional contestants such as does the P.G.A. in golf. The original $25 fee jumped to $50.

A youngster, with perhaps high school and college rodeo experience, faced with this cost, was loathe to tangle with the top hands. So the Association devised a permit system, whereby for $10, he could compete in pro ranks until he'd won $1,000 all told, in competition.

In 1960, 3,709 such permits were issued by the R.C.A. The contesting cowboys who made up the board of directors, and voted in this rule, could easily have their ears pinned back by the very apprentices they encouraged.

The classic permit story still is Jimmy Clary of Purcell, Oklahoma, who entered the one-head bull riding at Phoenix, Arizona, in 1958. When the dust settled — so to speak — and the judges turned in their books — Jim Clary had won the rich event and $1,325.

In the eight-second ride, young Clary went from fledgling permit holder to a man faced with a decision: he choose joining professional ranks by buying his $50 membership card, and has been a threat ever since.

The permit holder not only has the chance to get started but when he wins his thousand dollars, he's in a fair position to decide on his career — unless things come as fast and furious as they did for Jim Clary.

Larry Kane, the 115-pound bronc riding sensation who was rodeo's "Rookie of the Year" in 1960, went from permit holder to the National Finals in one year's span. He earned $6,337 in the first four months of his pro career, which will be, perhaps, a long standing record for the youngsters to shoot at.

FARM NEWS

from County ASCS Committee

1962 COTTON PROGRAM

If you are unable to replant your cotton and do not have at least 75% of your allotment left in cotton, it will be necessary for you to tell the reporter who measures your cotton what land was planted to cotton, but was destroyed for reasons beyond your control, such as rain, hail or sand. This is necessary to protect your cotton history.

JULY 2 IS DEADLINE FOR NEW WHEAT FARM APPLICATIONS

Farmers who wish to be considered for a new wheat farm allotment for 1963 on a farm which does not have a wheat allotment should get in touch with the ASCS County Office right away. Such farmers have until June 2 to file applications for such an allotment. (Because the usual program deadline of July 1 occurs this year on Sunday, the 1962 deadline is extended to the end of business on Monday, July 2.)

Under the wheat allotment-marketing quota program, a "new farm" is a farm on which there is no wheat acreage history, including acreage considered as wheat under the Conservation Reserve or the Great Plains program, for any of the years 1960, 1961 or 1962.

GRAIN SORGHUM PRODUCERS

If you plan to plant grain sorghum on the land where your cotton was destroyed or on any other land and the grain sorghum exceeds your base, this will make you ineligible for a loan on the grain sorghum and on the bary. You will not receive any pay on the diverted acres for barley or for grain sorghum on any farm you own or operate. However, you can sell the grain sorghum on the open market.

PERFORMANCE

We are ready to measure cotton, Gr. Sorghum and Diverted acres. If you are ready for measurements, please let us know and it can be measured within a few days.

IT'S THAT TIME OF THE YEAR

College Station — Few aromas do a better job of whetting jaded summer appetites than those coming from a backyard barbecue. The backyard chef has a wide array of meats available but because of very favorable prices, F. Z. Beanblossom, poultry marketing specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, suggests broilers.

In addition to the broilers for chick-n-queing, the specialist says you'll need to plan a complete menu. Potato salad or corn-on-the-cob go good with chicken and a mixed green salad, an appetizer tray, sliced bread or rolls and a beverage will make for eating suited to the taste of just about anyone, adds Beanblossom.

The sauce used during the chick-n-queing process is mighty important. If you don't have a favorite recipe, the specialist suggests you pick up a copy of MP-312, "Let's Have a Chick-n-que" from your county extension office and try the sauce he likes. The publication also contains other information which outdoor cooks can use to advantage.

Included is a discussion of grills and barbecue pits. Hints on cooking, including starting the charcoal fire and heat requirements. Beanblossom, in the publication, also calls attention to safety hints which can help make the affair event more pleasant and enjoyable, including the tools you will need to do a first class job.

And this final reminder from the specialist, don't cook the chicken too fast. Allow plenty of time for the job and when it is finished, you'll put a product on the table that you and your guests will enjoy and discuss for weeks to come.

CITY ORDINANCE
 AN ORDINANCE RELATING TO GARBAGE AND TRASH, BEING ADOPTED FOR THE PRESERVATION OF THE HEALTH, SANITATION AND SAFETY OF THE PUBLIC, PROVIDING FOR THE COLLECTION, REMOVAL AND DISPOSAL OF GARBAGE, TRASH AND RUBBISH WITHIN THE CITY OF CLARENDON, TEXAS; DEFINING TERMS; REQUIRING ALL OWNERS, OCCUPANTS, TENANTS OR LESSEES OF RESIDENCES, CHURCHES, SCHOOLS, COLLEGES, LODGES, AND COMMERCIAL, INDUSTRIAL, BUSINESS, OR OTHER BUILDINGS WITHIN THE CITY TO PROVIDE CONTAINERS AND RECEPTACLES WITH COVERS FOR GARBAGE AND TRASH; SPECIFYING THAT CONTAINERS AND RECEPTACLES BE PLACED AT CONVENIENT LOCATIONS ON THE PREMISES WHERE THEY MAY BE EMPLOYED AND THE CONTENTS REMOVED AT REGULAR INTERVALS; FIXING SCHEDULES OF REASONABLE CHARGES TO BE MADE

AGAINST OWNERS, OCCUPANTS, TENANTS, AND LESSEES OF BUILDINGS AND PREMISES RECEIVING THE SERVICE; REQUIRING THE CITY HEALTH OFFICER OR HIS AUTHORIZED REPRESENTATIVE TO MAKE PERIODIC INSPECTIONS OF BUILDINGS, PREMISES AND ALL PLACES WHERE GARBAGE, TRASH AND RUBBISH MAY ACCUMULATE AND ENFORCE AND ADMINISTER THE PROVISIONS OF THE ORDINANCE; PROVIDING A SAVING CLAUSE IN THE EVENT ANY PART OF THE ORDINANCE SHOULD BE DECLARED INVALID OR UNCONSTITUTIONAL; REPEALING ALL ORDINANCES OR PARTS OF ORDINANCES IN CONFLICT HEREWITH; PROVIDING AN EFFECTIVE DATE; AND DECLARING AN EMERGENCY. BE IT ORDAINED BY THE BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS OF THE CITY OF CLARENDON, TEXAS THAT:

SECTION I
 The accumulation of garbage, waste, refuse, trash and other deleterious substances on the premises of private residents, businesses, and commercial institutions and in streets and alleys constitutes a public menace and nuisance and greatly increases the danger of the spread of infectious, contagious and epidemic diseases, and it is imperative and urgent for the preservation of health, safety, sanitation, peace and public welfare that proper and adequate regulations be adopted to require property owners, tenants, occupants, or lessees to secure containers and receptacles of sufficient size and material in which to deposit garbage and trash for collections and removal at regular intervals.

SECTION II
 The term "garbage" as used in this ordinance shall be held to mean and include all animal or vegetable matter, such as waste material and refuse from kitchens, residences, grocery stores, butcher shops, restaurants, cafes, hotels, rooming and boarding houses, and other deleterious substances.

The term "trash" as used in this ordinance shall be held to mean and include rubbish, such as feathers, coffee grounds, ashes, tin cans, paper, boxes, glass grass clippings, leaves and tree trimmings.

SECTION III
 That every owner, occupant, tenant or lessee using or occupying any building, house, or structure within the corporate limits of the City of Clarendon, Texas, for residences, churches, schools, colleges, lodges, commercial, business, or other purposes shall provide and maintain garbage and trash containers of sufficient size and number, as hereinafter specified, to hold the garbage and trash that will normally accumulate on the premises.

SECTION IV
 Each of said owners, occupants, tenants or lessees shall provide and maintain a container or containers for garbage and trash not less than ten (10) nor more than thirty-two (32) gallons capacity, constructed of galvanized metal or other materials, which may be approved by the City of Clarendon, with a tight-fitting lid or cover, with sloping sides so that the top is larger than the bottom, and with handles sufficiently strong for workmen to empty conveniently.

SECTION V
 The lids or covers of all containers shall at all times be kept secure and fastened so that flies and other insects, rodents and animals may not have access to the contents thereof, and said lids or covers shall only be removed while the said containers are being filled or emptied as the case may be.

SECTION VI
 (a) If the house, building or premises from which the garbage or trash is to be collected and removed is adjacent to an alley, the owner, occupant, tenant or lessee of said premises is required to keep the garbage and trash container at a point on the premises adjacent to the alley in order that it may be easily accessible to the one collecting and removing the garbage and trash. In the event it is not practicable to collect and remove the garbage and trash from an alley, the owner, occupant, tenant or lessee of the premises shall place the container at such point as an agent of the City shall find and designate to be the most accessible for such collection and removal.

(b) In the event trash is of such nature that it cannot be put in the containers, any approved container must be so constructed and so tightly enclosed as to prevent trash from blowing therefrom. It may be carefully placed in bundles under fifty (50) pounds.

(c) At the option of the owner, occupant, tenant, or lessee of any commercial or business building, whose daily trash accumulation is over one-half (1/2) cubic yard, and approved container suitably located for the collection and removal of such trash may be provided. Tree limbs, trunks, and hedge cuttings shall not exceed five feet in length. (5 feet)

SECTION VIII
 The collection and removal of garbage and trash from houses, buildings and premises used for residential purposes shall be made as often as the City shall deem reasonable and proper. Fair and reasonable charges for this residential service shall be and are shown in terms of dollars and cents for a calendar month as follows:
 WHERE no separate water meters are maintained:
 Single family residences . $1.00
 Triplex and duplex apartments,

each unit 1.00
 Garage apartment 1.00
 Group housing 1.00
 Three or more family apartment, each apartment 1.00

The normal accumulation of garbage and trash in houses, buildings and premises used for business and commercial purposes is hereby found and determined not to exceed five (5) cubic yards per day, and in the event that the garbage and trash to be collected from any such house, building, or premises exceeds five (5) cubic yards per day, then and in that event the owner, occupant, tenant or lessee will be required to additional pay proportionately for such excess unless such garbage and trash are collected and removed under a permit duly granted and issued by the City Commission or their authorized agent or representative.

SECTION VIII
 The fair and reasonable rates for collecting and removing garbage and trash from buildings and premises used for schools have been found to be a minimum of $40.00 per month from September through May, and a minimum of $5.00 per month for the months of June, July and August.

SECTION IX
 The maximum service to be rendered in the various residential classes herein specified shall be once each week and the maximum service for commercial business institutions herein provided shall be six each week. Any additional service requested and rendered in excess of the maximum provided herein shall be charged at the rate of $1.00 per trip. Should any place of business not be specifically designated by name, such error or omission will not relieve the owner, occupant, tenant or lessee of the binding effect of this ordinance, but the same charge shall be made as that entered against a business of a like or similar nature.

SECTION X
 All garbage and trash that is mixed with water or other liquids shall be drained and wrapped before being put in the containers.

All animal matter that is subject to decomposition shall be well wrapped in paper or other combustible material before being deposited in the container.

SECTION XI
 As a convenience to the public, the City of Clarendon shall include fees for the service herein provided on the monthly water bills, the charges fixed herein for the removal and disposal of all garbage, or rubbish, trash shall be entered by the City of Clarendon against such owner, occupant, tenant, or lessee using or occupying any building, house, or structure, receiving such service and said person who shall fail or refuse to pay the charge herein specified within ten (10) days from the date same shall become due and payable, shall have his service suspended and the City Health Officer or his authorized representative shall be notified immediately for appropriate action in accordance with the provisions of this ordinance, but if there be no monthly water bill the same shall be charged on a statement rendered for such purpose conveying such period of time as the City Clerk shall deem expedient.

SECTION XII
 Every owner, tenant, owner, or lessee of a house or a building used for residential, business or commercial purposes is required to maintain constant supervision and surveillance over the garbage and trash containers and receptacles on his premises and if either the garbage or trash containers and receptacles should not be emptied and the contents removed by an agent or representative of the City of Clarendon or other duly authorized person, for a period of ten days, he shall notify the City Clerk in writing of this fact within five days.

The collection, removal and disposal of all garbage, trash and rubbish shall be carried on in a systematic and efficient manner, keeping the entire City in a clean and sanitary condition.

SECTION XIII
 It is hereby made the duty of the City Health Officer or his authorized representative of the City of Clarendon to make inspection trips at regular intervals to determine whether or not garbage, trash, and rubbish is being properly collected, removed and disposed of as required by the provisions of this or any other ordinance is being violated, appropriate and timely action shall be taken to insure a full compliance with its said provisions.

SECTION XIV
 Should any part, section, subsection, paragraph, sentence, clause, or phrase, contained in this ordinance be held to be invalid or unconstitutional, such holdings shall not affect the validity of the remaining portion of the ordinance and such remaining portion in all respects shall retain in full force and effect and the Board of Commissioners hereby declares that it would not have passed the invalid or unconstitutional part had it known it was invalid and that it would have passed the remaining part that is not invalid.

SECTION XV
 This ordinance shall be held and construed to be cumulative of all other ordinances affecting the health, safety, peace and sanitation of the public in the City of Clarendon except in those instances where the provisions of this ordinance are in conflict with the provisions of ordinances heretofore passed and all ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict with the provisions of this ordinance are expressly repealed.

SECTION XVI
 The fact that the health and safety of the public are being jeopardized and vitally affected daily by the accumulation of garbage and trash and rubbish in and on the premises of residences and on premises of businesses, commercial and industrial enterprises and on streets, alleys, thoroughfares and public places of the City of Clarendon, that such accumulation creates a danger of the spread of infectious, contagious and epidemic diseases and that the present ordinances and regulations are insufficient to afford adequate protection against such menace there is an urgent public need in the preservation of the health and safety of the people and an emergency is created and imperative public necessity requires that this ordinance be passed finally on the date of its introduction and that it become effective and in full force and affect immediately after its passage as provided by law and the Charter of the City of Clarendon and it is so ordained. Calf Roping Highly Skilled Cowboy Event

The most highly tuned man-and-mount combination in professional rodeo, perhaps in any competitive sport, is the calf roping and his horse.

So close are the outcome of many calf roping contests that less than a second will separate first and fourth places.

A winning team, broken up because of the horse's unsoundness, often will drop completely from the event's standings, and because the perfect combination of timing between the pair seems rare, a roper and his mount on a "hot" streak appear unbeatable.

A concrete example is world champion Dean Oliver of Boise, Idaho, who, on a sorrel gelding called Mickey, which he bought late in 1959 from a fellow contestant, set a new rodeo record of winnings in 1960 of $28,841.

The pair served early warning they were after the 1961 crown, too, by jumping into the money lead again.

True, Oliver, who can be considered the greatest calf roper on the current scene, had won the title twice before, in 1955 and 1958, but his efforts never have been matched so fully, as by the chunky, little Mickey. Their harmony at work appears effortless.

Countless hours have gone into a calf horse's training. From the time the roper nods for his calf until his hands snap away from the tie signifying "time," the horse is making a series of moves, each one of equal importance.

Starting with his manners in the "box" the enclosure behind which horse and rider wait until the calf has reached a given scoreline, he must be alert, yet quiet.

Almost completely on his own, when signalled he must position his rider quickly for the throw at the ducking, twisting calf, then slam to a stop and keep the rope taut when the roper leaves his back.

Here, many a roping is won or lost, for the horse must keep the right amount of constant pressure on the rope — too much and the calf will struggle — too little, and the animal may do the same, costing the roper precious seconds.

Value of a consistent calf horse cannot be tabulated. The roper knows he may spend far more than the sale price to find a suitable replacement.

FAULTY AND DANGEROUS

The Chamber of Commerce of the United States has succinctly and compellingly summed up the main arguments against providing medical benefits under the Social Security system, to be financed by increased SS taxes. They run like this:

The proposed program is compulsory. Employees and employers would have to pay for it whether or not they wanted to participate.

It is not needed. Private insurance plans are available in ever-increasing numbers for those needing and wanting health insurance. The Kerr-Mills Act of 1960, which provides aid under a federal-state system for those who cannot afford a private plan, hasn't been given a chance to prove its effectiveness.

It would pervert the Social Security system. For the first time, a beneficiary would be forced to accept part of his benefits in the form of government-paid service instead of cash. He'd have no choice in the matter.

It is unfair. A young married couple would be forced to pay higher Social Security for a lifetime to finance health benefits for wealthier older citizens who have contributed relatively little to the fund. It can be added that people of large means can, and do, draw Social Security payments, so long as they don't work at a paying job.

It is illusory. Many aged people seem to think the program would take care of all their medical costs. In fact, it would cover only a part of hospital and nursing home expenses. It is said that for the average older person, only about a fourth of his health and medical costs would be met.

No one minimizes the medical problems of the aged. But those problems would be compounded, rather than solved, by the faulty and dangerous Social Security approach.
