TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — A complete overhaul of the election code is due. Senate already has passed a bill correcting scores of errors in the old law, which was overhauled in haste in 1951.

House members amended the bill to eliminate the "agent form" of paying poll taxes. Instead, prospective voters would have to go to the court house or get a deputy tax collector to certify qualification to vote.

House also refused to require county tax assessors to name civic workers as deputies.

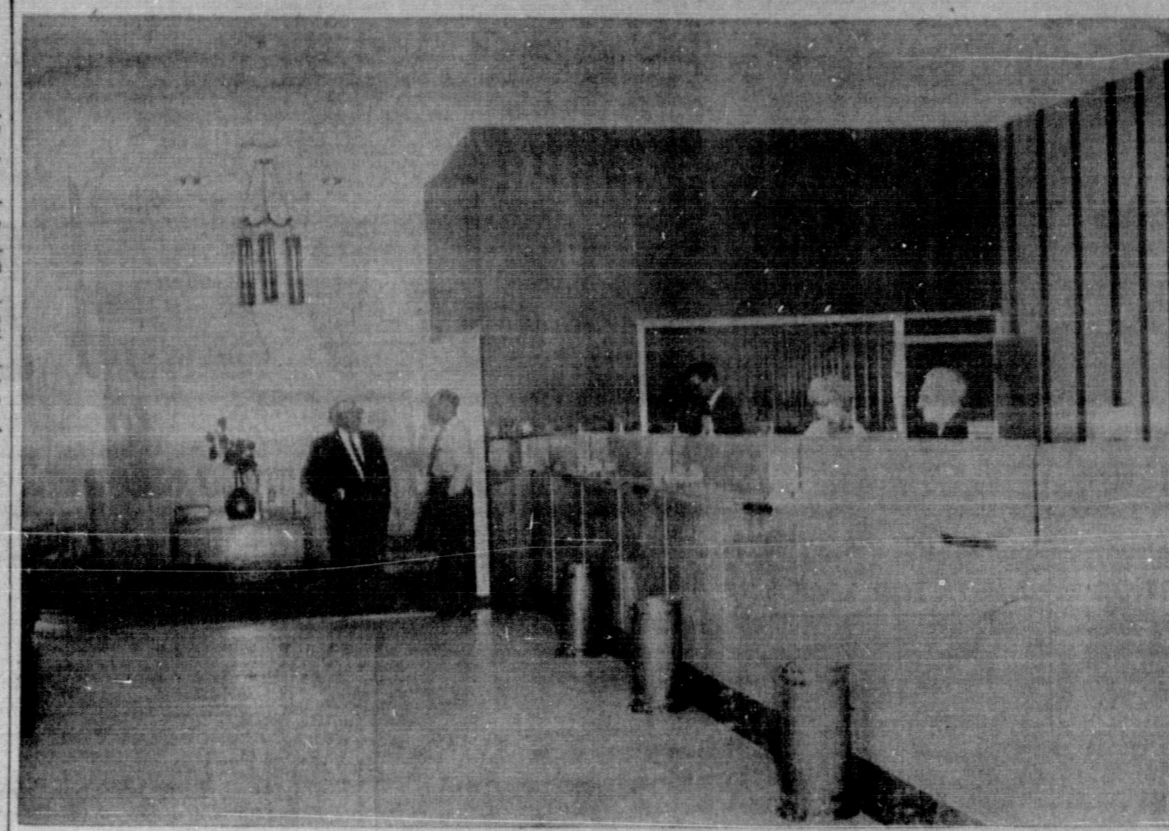

Progress is slow on the proposals to abolish the poll tax as a prerequisite to voting.

Senators passed a proposed constitutional amendment to let the people say whether they want to keep the poll tax. But after some delay, a House committee put it in subcommittee.

Meanwhile, the national constitutional amendment to outlaw the poll tax in election of President, Vice President, Senators and Congressmen has been ratified by 30 states. When eight more ratify it, use of the poll tax in Texas would be out the window.

Sen. Abraham Kazen, Jr., of Laredo envisions the possibility that the 1964 election could be held with state officers elected by poll tax holders federal officially by everybody.

SHORTEST SESSION? — A modern-day record for short legislative sessions may be set if Lt. Gov. Preston Smith and Speaker Byron Tunnell can get legislators to wind up their business by May 7.

A May 7 adjournment has been filed. But the Constitution would allow them to work until May 27 if they can't finish by the 7th.

Both houses have been making fast progress on "local and uncontested bill" days.

BIG BILLS PENDING — Length of the legislative session hinges on the three biggest issues yet unsettled.

One is the House-passed tax bill to provide $32,000,000 to finance Gov. John B. Connally's higher education, tourist and industry-catching programs.

Then there's the appropriations bill, which is being worked out in conference committee headed by Sen. Grady Hazlewood of Amarillo and Rep. Bill Heatly of Paducah. It allocates the funds to each agency for spending during the next two years.

And there is the loan regulation bill, which Speaker Tunnell and Governor Connally consider a "must." It may be in trouble since the Senate bill, which mustered a bare majority, was changed considerably by a House subcommittee.

RURAL DEVELOPMENT ACT — Rep. Joe Cannon of Mexia told the House State Affairs Committee that Texas' rural counties are in "tremendous trouble" and need help from the state.

Cannon appeared on behalf of his bill, co-sponsored by Rep. H. G. Wells of Tulla, which would apply to nine-tenths of the counties in Texas. Specifically those with less than 45,000 population.

Bill would require State Comptroller to compile a list of the low-population counties and set up a rural development fund. It would be built up through a refund of two per cent of all taxes collected by these counties.

Rural development fund would provide about $2,000,000 annually that could be spent to lure industries to counties that lack money to advertise their attractions.

Reps. J. Collier Adams of Lubbock, Ben Jarvis of Tyler and Donald K. Shipley of Houston are on the subcommittee studying the bill.

DROP-OUTS DEADLY — Some startling facts about the high school drop-out problem have been revealed by the Texas State Teachers Association. They stated that "Drop-outs face a dead end in a world where education and its skills in the employment field are becoming a necessity."

Victor Sumner of the Texas Education Agency predicted that in the next five years about a third of a million young Texans will leave high school between ninth grade and graduation.

He estimated this fatal step would cost these youngsters nearly $75,000,000,000 in lifetime income.

"People in the employment field tell me that the hard core of unemployment now is composed of drop-outs from 20 to 30 years ago," Sumner stated.

CODE OF ETHICS — Tighter rules over the private business activities of state officials has been the talk of the Capitol since William J. Murray, Jr., resigned from the Railroad Commission. Murray said he made more than $1,000,000 in oil deals while regulating that industry.

Reps. Bob Eckhardt of Houston, James Nugent of Kerrville and Travis Peeler of Corpus Christi introduced a bill to outlaw investments by state officials in the fields which they regulate. Old Code of Ethics law — passed in 1957 — merely called on them to disclose any such interests.

Rep. John Allen of Longview, chairman of the House State Affairs Committee, named a subcommittee to go over the bill. To tighten up the tightening up. He indicated that he will try to bring the bill out for House action quickly.

Bill would prohibit legislators from appearing for pay before state boards and commissions while they are considering appropriations which are the lifeblood of state agencies.

MURRAY SUCCESSOR SPECULATION — Big guessing game these days is "Who will Connally appoint to fill Murray's place on the Railroad Commission?"

Eugene Locke, Wally Scott, Jr., and Claude Brown — all three members of the State Democratic Executive Committee — have been mentioned. Also discussed have been U.S. Rep. Joe Kilgore and Secretary of State Crawford Martin.

Scott has withdrawn his name. Others who have oil or gas interests which would have to be divested before they could accept an appointment are expected to do the same.

Murray's empty chair — which also is perched on top of the slant-hole oil well investigations — is a hot seat.

SECURITIES REGISTRATION — State Securities Board granted investment permits in Texas totaling $25,000,000 last month. February total ran only $17,000,000.

Thirteen of the 42 companies granted the right to sell stocks in Texas were Texas firms.

HOUSE BILLS — Beetles better beware if Conroe Rep. David Crews' bill to cause forest landowners to pay for their extermination becomes law.

Victoria Rep. Dick Cory's bill authorizing district judges to provide jurors' meals in the jury room, rather than dismiss them, is ready for Governor Connally's signature.

House endorsed a bill to require school boards to advertise for competitive bids on purchases totaling $1,000 or more.

Kerrville Rep. Jim Nugent gained approval of his bill to set up strict supervision by the Secretary of State for charity fundraising organizations which solicit $10,000 or more a year.

Women's rights gained a small victory when the House passed bills, authored by Rep. George Cowden of Waco, to allow a woman to make contracts concerning her own property.

A bill by Rep. Don Kennard of Fort Worth to increase longevity pay for firemen and policemen across the state was given a second chance when Senate Counties Committee chairman Martin Dies, Jr., of Lufkin "fired" a subcommittee that couldn't reach a decision on the bill and set up a new committee.

FEWER GRASSHOPPERS EXPECTED IN 1963

COLLEGE STATION — Grasshopper infestations in the Western and Midwestern states may be much lighter in 1963 than last year, according to a report of the USDA.

The report says the 16 range states surveyed had a total of 7.8 million acres of infested rangeland last fall as compared to 13.5 million acres a year earlier. The USDA's Agricultural Research Service, which conducted the surveys in cooperation with the states, considers an infested acre one that has a population of eight or more adult grasshoppers per square yard. Infested acreage in Texas was listed as just over 67,000 acres. In 1961 the acreage exceeded a half million acres.

Last years cold, moist spring along with an unusually wet summer is given credit for reducing the grasshopper population, the USDA says. This relief from hopper infestation and good growing conditions resulted in last years high forage yields on the rangelands.

A more accurate picture of the grasshopper population will be obtained this spring with surveys of newly hatched insects, and areas needing control operations will be pinpointed.

In spite of good prospects for fewer grasshoppers this year, ARS encourages ranchers to continue control measures against this pest. Small infested areas should be treated before the grasshoppers leave their breeding grounds to avoid insect build-ups later in the season.

The ARS reminds that in countywide programs on rangeland it will finance up to one-third of the cost of grasshopper control operations. Similar aid is available in countywide programs for controlling the pest on roadsides and technical assistance can be obtained by farmers in controlling outbreaks.

Vows were exchanged against a background of greenery and candelabra centered with an archway marked with white satin bows. Organist was Walter Maynard and soloists were Vi Bledsoe and Johnny Burnett. Candles were lighted by Pam Tims of Claude, Texas.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Billy Wayne Radke, wore a floor-length gown of Chantilly lace and tulle over taffeta. The princess bodice was fashioned with a sabrina neckline outlined with white lace daisies and long sleeves tapering to petal points over the hands. The bouffant skirt was accented by tiers of lace. Her veil of imported silk illusion was attached to a crown of lace and sequins and she carried a cascade arrangement of white roses and stephanotis centered with gardenias atop a white Bible.

Mrs. Glen Reeves of Clarendon, Texas, attended the bride as matron of honor and Aline Bourge of BeHon, Texas, was bridesmaid. Their dresses were of red embossed taffeta and they wore matching veil hats and white gloves. Each carried a net fan centered with two gardenias.

Glen Reeves of Clarendon, Texas, attended the groom as best man and Dan Tims of Claude, Texas, was groomsman. Ushers were David Huddleston of Dimmitt, Texas, C. W. Cornell of Clarendon, Texas, Clyde Morgan of Midland, Texas, and David Stout of Lubbock, Texas.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in Fellowship Hall of the church. The refreshment table was centered with the bride's bouquet flanked by tapers in silver candelabra. Appointments were silver. Miss Marcia McGregor served the wedding cake while Mrs. LeRoy Obriant dispensed punch.

For the wedding trip to Carlsbad Caverns, Carlsbad, New Mexico, the bride chose for traveling a blue wool suit accented by white accessories and the corsage from her bridal bouquet. The couple will be at home at 309 N. Broadway, Dimmitt, Texas.

The bride received her B.S. degree in Elementary Education from Mary Hardin-Baylor College, BeHon and is presently teaching in the Dimmitt school system. The groom attended West Texas State College, Canyon, where he received his B.S. degree in social studies. He is also teaching in the Dimmitt school system.

HEDLEY NEWS

Mabel Bridges

Gene Allison and Clifford Johnson attended the meeting of the Greenbelt Water Authority in Childress last Thursday night. Dep. U.S. Marshall Glenn Beverly, now of Amarillo, visited Hedley friends Tuesday.

The Charles N. Johnson family of Matador visited the C. L. Johnson over the week end.

The Hedley Fire Department held a Ladies' Night Meeting at the Lions Club Hall Monday night.

The Hedley American Legion Post now has 92 members. Their 1963 quota was 91. Next meeting is May 14th.

Several Hedley Lions and Lionesses attended the District Convention at Shamrock last week. The club will be 21 years old in May. They will celebrate with a Ladies' Night meeting May 23rd.

Mrs. Larry Crump, formerly Miss Delores Messer, was honoree at a bridal shower in Kendall Hall Saturday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock. Cut flowers carried decoration of spring. The table centerpiece was a low bowl of pink peonies.

Mrs. Sandra Moffitt served the guests. Miss Delores Sanders presided at the register. Thana Nell Davis played soft piano music during the tea hour. Many beautiful and useful gifts were received.

The young couple is at home in Sunray where the groom is employed. Hostesses were friends of the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Cotton Darnell and family spent several days visiting Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Armstrong in Madisonville last week. The ladies are sisters.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Stiles and children of Olton spent the week end with Mrs. Jess Stiles.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Wall attended the funeral of Mr. Peters in Wellington Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bridges and children of Amarillo spent Monday with their mother, Mrs. Mabel Bridges.

Mr. and Mrs. Winifred Luttrell of Oklahoma City are the parents of a fine little daughter born April 27 at Odom Hospital in Memphis. She weighed 7½ lbs and is named Billie Joe. Hedley grandparents are the Clyde Hoggards and great-grandmother is Mrs. Altie Hoggard.

Despite the dry weather, there are some good gardeners. Mrs. Altie Hoggard has gathered a ripe tomato from her garden on April 27th.

Sorry to report Abe Holland is in Veterans Hospital in Big Springs receiving medical care. We wish him a speedy recovery. His son, Otis, is with him.

Ralph T. Moore writes in the Oregon Voter: "For the first time in this century there is little or no cohesion in domestic or foreign policy in these United States. And both allies and enemies have moved into this vacuum of indecision, the former through the compulsions of necessity, the latter in response to the beckonings of golden opportunity. Our drifting first this way then that generates a distrust among our allies abroad and a confusion among our own people at home that bodes ill for the future . . ."

TUCKER, GA., DEKALB TRIBUNE: "It has been said that the power of words is one of the world's most potent powers and judging from what it costs to put words on paper for the public to read, the statement doesn't surprise us. Fortune Magazine reports that it costs $2 for every word the magazine prints. Before his tragic death, Ernest Hemingway was paid up to $1 per word for his writings."

Federal Employees Are Recognized

The Clarendon Post Office has taken official action to implement the Post Office Department's new program for negotiation and consultation on grievances, working conditions, personnel practices and other related matters. Postmaster Mike McCully reported today.

The move — developed by the Postal Service under President Kennedy's historic Executive Order 10988 of Jan. 17, 1962 — officially recognizes federal employee organizations for the first time. Recognition is based on results of the largest nationwide labor management election, held June 15-July 1, 1962, in which 451,000 postal employees participated. Official results were issued to each post office by the Post Office Department in Washington.

Here are the results at the local post office: United Federation of Postal Clerks was given National Exclusive Recognition.

"Exclusive" recognition was acquired by employee organizations having a clear majority of the vote in a particular craft unit under prescribed voting procedures. The postmaster will negotiate with these organizations, holding regular meetings and working out written agreements on matters affecting all employees in the craft unit represented regardless of employees' membership status.

National agreements give local employee organizations the right to deal with the postmaster on local working conditions, personnel practices and in resolving interpretations under the local agreements.

At the same time, the National agreements reiterate Executive Order 10988's ban against strikes, discrimination. They set forth management's prerogatives which are not subject to negotiation — such as the budget, assignment of personnel, work technology or — of course — any matter determined by Congress, such as pay rates. Postal management, under the Executive Order, also retains the right to direct employees, to hire, promote, transfer, suspend or separate employees in accord with Civil Service regulations.

A report of the President's task force on Employee-Management Relations in the Federal Service — submitted to the President on Nov. 30, 1961, before the issuance of Executive Order 10988, said: "representatives of the... employee organization... made it clear they are aware of these limitations and are quite content to negotiate within them."

Postmaster General J. Edward Day was a member of this task force.

The employees of the Clarendon post office, now receiving official recognition at the local level for their employee organization, join with employees in more than 30,000 post offices throughout the nation in acquiring official recognition under the President's labor - management order for federal employees.

Ten employee organizations representing seven postal craft units — letter carriers, clerks, rural carriers, maintenance-custodial, motor vehicle, mail handlers, special delivery messengers — have been recognized. The number of organizations represented at each post office varies, according to the election results.

FEED LIVESTOCK BY FERTILIZING PLANTS
COLLEGE STATION — Fertilizing pastures is one of the best ways to feed your livestock, according to W. F. Bennett, extension soil chemist, Texas A&M College.
The chemist says that one of the major problems in Texas agriculture is providing adequate plant nutrients for good growth of both plants and livestock. If soils are deficient in minerals the plants grown on them will be low in nutrients and the animals that eat these forages will not be able to produce at their best, he says.
As proof of this, Bennett says that for years lime, nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium have been applied to our pastures and crop lands and the livestock fed from this forage has been healthier and had better conformation and finish than those fed from poor, wornout land.
Though progress in restoring nutrients to land may be slow, livestock producers can gain much profit from the improvement of their soils, Bennett says. The use of soil minerals for livestock feed production is especially important on soils that have been partially or wholly depleted of nutrients, he adds.
A tool in the development of better forage producing land is the soil test and Bennett recommends it as the first step in planning a sound soil improvement program.
SELECT SMALL MOTORS WITH CARE
COLLEGE STATION — It's easy to make mistakes in selecting small electric motors, since many types and sizes are available, says Henry O'Neal, extension agricultural engineer, Texas A&M College.
If properly selected for the job to be done, an electric motor will give years of trouble-free service, he says. Errors in selecting motors for specific jobs can result in large repair bills.
In selecting a motor one should know the horsepower requirements and electric service available (whether it is single-phase or three-phase) and operating voltage, (whether it is 110 or 220 volts).
A 1/2 horsepower or larger motor should be connected to a 220 volt circuit, says O'Neal. Sizes smaller than 1/2 horsepower can be operated on 110 volts. Some motors are called "dual voltage" motors. This means they can be connected to either 110 or 220 volts by changing some wiring.
The machine to be driven should be considered next because different types of equipment require different amounts of power for starting. A small fan, an emery wheel, or a bench saw is easy to start, while an air compressor or a deep well piston pump requires more power. Such equipment uses two to four times as much power for starting as is needed for running the load.

To meet these varying conditions, manufacturers make different types of motors, O'Neal explains. They are designed for easy starting loads, medium starting loads, and hard starting loads. Motors for easy starting loads cost less than others, he says, and if you select a motor by price alone; you may not get the one needed for a particular job.

FARM NEWS

from County ASCS Committee

Final Dates To Remember

May 6 — Final day to appeal your normal wheat yield and prove actual production

May 13 — Final day for Small farm wheat producers to sign to participate as allotment man for 1964 wheat

May 21 — Wheat Marketing Quota Referendum — VOTE ON THIS DATE

Meetings Set To Explain 1964 Wheat Program

Mr. Flip Breedlove, County Agent, has arranged to have two meetings held on May 14, 1963, for the purpose of explaining the 1964 wheat program. Mr. James Murphy, Farm Management Specialist for the Texas A. & M. College Extension Service will be the guest speaker.

The first meeting will be at the Goldston Community Center at 2:00 p.m. and the second will be at the Hedley Lion's Den at 8:00 p.m.

Please make your plans to attend one or both of these meetings as they will be most beneficial.

Voting Eligibility

Any producer who has a farm wheat acreage allotment shall be eligible to vote in the wheat referendum, except, that a producer on a farm with a wheat acreage allotment of less than 15 acres shall be eligible to vote only if the operator on such farm files with the county committee an election in writing on the reverse side of Form MQ-24 to be subject to the wheat marketing quota for the farm. Such election shall be filed with the county committee not later than 7 days prior to the date of the referendum. For example, since the referendum is to be held on May 21, the signed Form MQ-24 shall be delivered to the ASCS County Office before the close of business on May 13 or, if mailed, must be postmarked on or before May 13.

Vote!!!

The right to vote is available. Having the right to vote and to vote your personal convictions is one of the rarest privileges we have. Think it over. Make it a point to cast your vote in the referendum on wheat marketing quotas.

Wouldn't it be better if 100% of the farmers involved would cast a vote?

Whatever your choice may be, VOTE that way on May 21.

Services Held For Dr. Howard Weatherly

Dr. Howard E. Weatherly, son of Mrs. Will Pickering, Clarendon, who lived in Malibu, California, was found dead at his desk in his office by his secretary Wednesday, April 24, in Beverly Hills, California. He was associated with the Beverly Hills Medical Clinic.

Dr. Weatherly was born January 20, 1911, in Liscomb, Iowa. He was reared there until he attended the University of Iowa. He was a noted Neuropsychiatrist, received his specialized training in Iowa and Boston Psychiatric Hospitals and in child psychiatry at the Institute for Juvenile Research in Chicago. He had been on the teaching staff at Harvard University, Universities of Iowa, Illinois and presently was Clinical Assistant Professor of Psychiatry at U.C.L.A. He was a Veteran of World War II, serving in the Southwest Pacific. He was a noted speaker on his specialty in Europe and South America.

Surviving is his mother, Mrs. Will Pickering of Clarendon, Texas.

Funeral services were held in the First Methodist Church Saturday, April 27, at 2:00 p.m. with Rev. J. V. Patterson, pastor, officiating. Interment was in the Citizens Cemetery with arrangements under the direction of the Murphy Funeral Home.

Pallbearers were Joe Ritter, Nolie Simmons, Gler. Williams, Victor Smith, George Green and George Hillis.

PHONE 874-3844

Postmaster's Corner

We have been receiving real fine cooperation from our patrons in obtaining completed Form 1093, Application for Post Office Box. We cannot make mass distribution of these forms because our supply is limited, and many of them would be lost if they are not picked up at the window, filled out and left with the clerk. It only takes about three minutes of your time, and it would help us immensely if you would do this at your earliest convenience. There are still a few rural boxes that have not been moved to the right hand side of the road in the direction of the carriers travel. I cannot emphasize too strongly on how serious the Postal Department is about this matter. No exceptions can be made, and I feel sure the Department will take more drastic action after May 1st.

We want to deliver your mail at the earliest possible minute, but much of your mail is being delayed due to insufficient address or wrong address. We have plenty of Change of Address forms for notifying your correspondents, magazines and newspapers, etc. This also takes only a few minutes of your time, and it will speed up delivery as well as prevent wrong delivery. Another big problem in preventing delays is the immediate identification of mail by class and special service. For example, many large flats and odd-size articles bearing first class postage, and intended as first class mail, receive third-class processing because the customer or the accepting employee has failed to endorse the "FIRST CLASS," or the endorsements are not distinctive, and they miss first dispatches. This is also true in air-mail and special delivery services. We have stickers available for large mailers who use quantities of large flats. Diligent effort on the part of everyone is necessary to assure improved handling.

Many of you are reading every day of the proposed cut in appropriations for your postal service, and you really don't give it any thought. I believe the press keeps referring to only 68 of the larger offices. I think you should know in advance that it is also going to curtail service right here in Clarendon. This will not effect me personally; in fact, it will even give me a little more fishing time, and I know you wouldn't want to see this happen. So — if you are interested in maintaining service as usual, it isn't too soon to stand up and be heard — not here, but up where it counts.

I have noticed many, many people come in to mail their mail in the drop boxes by the counter. If you have no other business at the counter, and you don't just need the exercise of opening the door, the lobby boxes receive the same pickup service. You may also rest assured that mail deposited in the outside letter boxes will be processed according to schedule. These boxes are placed for your convenience, and you had might as well take advantage of them.

Blowin' Out the Corners

It is always good to know that this column does get around. Our friend, Eddie Watson, says that he looked down on the desk of one of his superior officers at his base in Florida and saw one of our columns which had been placed beneath the glass. Being so far away from home it gave Eddie a funny feeling. It makes one wonder how it came to be there....

Also, this column has been appearing in The Plains Record of Plains, Texas. Almost with the first appearance we got a letter from Fred Lynn, a reader from down Oklahoma City way. Editor Johnny Moore grew up in our home town. It is with great pleasure that we use the following quote from his editorial column called Moore or Less; "It's comparatively easy to legislate socialism, but it's almost impossible to unlegislate it once we have it."

The above items give forth with an idea for a contest. If you know of some place that is further away than Florida drop us a line to the editor of this paper. Give the approximate distance in miles from the Texas Panhandle. To the one reporting the greatest distance we will send a free copy of our book Blowin' Out The Corners. Just one book as a prize but we will report the second and third places in a later column....

In Sunday School, a little fellow was asked; "Who was with Adam in The Garden?"... His prompt answer was, "Little Joe."

Now and then we meet someone who doesn't know what he is going to say next, but says it anyway.

We may be a fine upstanding citizen, but that makes little difference to a banana peel.

Some of the busiest folks in town may only be picking up the beans they have spilled.

It's almost a ten to one bet these days that when someone slaps you on the back he is trying to make you cough up something.

A contented neighborhood is said to be one in which everybody thinks he is getting along just a little bit better than everyone else.

One fellow thought himself so important that he should have; A for attendance, B for being present at all times, C for can't get along with me, and D for danged if I give them a chance to find out.

If we make our peace with the present, As moments so swiftly pass by. We'll need have no fear for the future, Nor over the past shall we cry.

The toughest of all secrets to keep is the opinion we have of our own self.

The OLD RANCHER

BRUSH CONTROL AND RESEEDING HELP ME GET MORE OUT OF THIS PASTURE.

BRUSH CONTROL Donley County farmers and ranchers who have Great Plains Conservation contracts have already made plans to spray over 7,000 acres. They have learned that they, too, can get more out of their pastures when brush is controlled.

Sometimes I feel I did my three sons a disservice by not making their home on a farm. In a modern push-button home it is not hard to understand why young people sometimes miss the point of life. On a farm, they would learn that if they wanted to eat they would have to plant the seed and then labor mightily until their muscles ached to see that seed bear fruit for their use. In more primitive times, they would have learned that failure to labor thus would have resulted in a hungry winter."

LIBRARY NOTES:

EDITH BARNES

A memorial gift has been given to the library in memory of Mrs. Claude Darden.

It is a shame that the book "Charles" by Victoria Lincoln, was not in the library earlier. The senior class in high school wrote their term themes on the lives of English writers.

Author Lincoln proves again that a biography doesn't have to be dull and boring to give the reader a pretty clear picture of the person being written about and the times in which he lived. The author says that the book is a novel but the readers are going to know more about Charles Dickens after reading "Charles" than a lot of regular biographies of him.

Quoting: "Like Shakespeare, he found the beauty of life in saints, innocents, sots, bores, brutes and knaves, and filled his canvas with that full range which is the only true realism. He knew that the spoiled whines of the pessimist are as false as Pollyanna's fixed smile. He refused, as he said, to dissipate his readers' energies in a sterile gloom, and as a result he managed to get public action on universal education, the right to strike, slum-clearance — all manner of such new, revolutionary notions — while he was turning out works of art which were also good, phenomenally popular entertainment."

"Charles" is a love story, a success story, a story of the pagant of Victorian England from its black slums to its splendors of conspicuous waste. It is, unlike most novels written today, a story with moral standards because, like Charles, through all my own flops and prayers, and gettings-up-again, I still believe that people are worthy to be free and to be loved and that Christ was not a charming ideal-ist who showed bad judgement." Cub Scout Troop Number 7, with their den mothers, Mrs. Barbee and Mrs. Simmons helped the library celebrate National Library Week by visiting and looking over the books for their age group.

A library friend gave the library eleven adult and children's books. Thank You!

A memorial gift has been given to the library to be dedicated to the memory of Mrs. E. W. Bromley.

TOTAL PERFORMANCE:

IF YOU KNEW WHAT HE KNOWS...YOU'D BE DRIVING THE 1963 TOTAL PERFORMANCE FORD

Ford is traditionally the nation's Number One police car. The reason: Total Performance!

When it comes to cars the police don't take chances. Put yourself in a State Trooper's shoes. Every day you must patrol hundreds of miles in your cruiser. Mileage and time grind into a man and his machine, but when the bell rings you've got to be ready. Chase. Turn. Corner. Quick stop. You've got to be able to do it all if you're going to do your job.

Listen to a trooper list the reasons why he prefers a Ford and you realize how difficult it is for any car to measure up to his standards. The car must be strong... it has to stand up to big mileage. It must be silent... when you practically live in a car a rattle can sound like a kettle drum. It must be swift... powerful enough to catch any car on the road. It must be sure... dependable even in the face of the unexpected. Strong. Silent. Swift. Sure. A four-word outline of total performance. The police demand it. That is why they choose the total performance Ford. Why should you settle for anything less?

Whatever your special demands and needs, the total performance Ford is the car most likely to satisfy you all the way down the line. You can prove this for yourself.

First, look at Ford's astounding record in open competition this year in the grueling Daytona, Riverside and Atlanta 500's, and in the demanding Pure Oil Performance Trials. Only a car with total performance could roll up so many impressive wins.

Second, before you buy any new car, test-drive the solid, silent Super Torque Ford. If you haven't driven one lately, you can't really know what a new Ford is like. Make this important discovery—if it's built by Ford, it's built for performance... total performance.

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 18th DISTRICT

By Congressman Walter Rogers

A NEW FEDERAL ROLE

Benjamin Disraeli said: "The health of the people is really the foundation upon which all their happiness and all their powers as a state depend." His words were quoted last week during two days of House debate culminating in the passage, by a vote of 288 to 112, of H. R. 12, the health professions educational assistance bill. It would provide, if also approved by the Senate, a three-year, $175 million program of grants for the construction of teaching facilities for medical, dental, osteopathic and professional public health personnel, as well as for pharmacists, optometrists, podiatrists and nurses. The bill also sets up a three-year, $30 million program of loans for students of medicine, dentistry and osteopathy. The American Medical Association supported that portion of H. R. 12 calling for construction grants but declined to support the provision for student loans. The American Dental Association supported both of these key provisions of the bill. Other smaller medical and dental organizations took varying positions.

I voted against H. R. 12. As constituents who have followed my record know, I have long opposed federal aid to education measures that seemed to me to be in conflict with State and local government responsibilities. H. R. 12 was labeled a health measure, not an aid to education measure. But the fact remained that it would establish a new program — amounting to approximately one-third of the program urged by the Administration — in which the Federal government would assume another role in education.

Were he alive today, Disraeli might also be concerned about the health of government, that of the United States as well as of his native England. The American system depends upon a separation of Federal, State and local authority. H. R. 12, in my opinion, constitutes one more invasion by the Federal government into a realm of activity that properly rests with States and private organizations supporting medical training.

The principal argument advanced by supporters of H. R. 12 during hearings conducted by the House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee (on which I serve) and during the House debate was simply this: There is a growing shortage of doctors and dentists and other professional health care people in this country. I don't argue with the fact that a shortage exists. I do argue with the conclusion that the shortage should be remedied by legislation of this sort.

Why does the Federal government move into fields such as these? It is not alone because there are strong advocates in Congress of greater centralized government. I believe that Congress is generally responsive to what the country wants, to the desires expressed by the people. The responsiveness of Congress to the will of the people is at the core of our system of representative government. But Congress more and more often is called upon to provide solutions that individual citizens or other levels of government should provide. Many State legislatures are feeling the pinch for revenues and look to Washington for help, although I am strongly of the opinion that the fact States are pinched for funds does not justify offering solutions from Washington. Cities, too, are looking to the Federal government for help — as witness city pressure on the Congress to pass the Mass Transportation Bill. This measure, already approved by the Senate and pending action in the House, would provide massive Federal funds to help metropolitan areas solve congestion problems — problems that have developed because the cities declined for too long to do anything about them. Now they are calling for help from Uncle Sam.

Abrogation of State and local responsibility — this attitude of "Let George (or Uncle Sam) Do It" — is one reason, a big one, for the increased centralization of power at the Federal level.

I have been deeply honored and pleased to represent the Panhandle of Texas in the Congress because of my conviction that the great majority of our fine citizens have a keen knowledge of fundamentals that made this country great. Our people take pride in doing things for themselves, in being financially responsible, in exercising initiative and resourcefulness. The independent spirit of the pioneer lives on in the hearts of the present generation of Texans of our area. Certainly there are differences of opinion among our Panhandle people, but I have found a heartening unanimity of support for the free enterprise system, for the Constitutional separation of governmental powers and States' rights, for self-reliance.

If the sites involved are large enough to justify fencing, a cross-fence will be profitable. An example of this would be a hardland site which grows primarily buffalograss and blue grama, as compared to a mixedland slope site which is dominated by little bluestem and switchgrass. In this case, the hardland site will get the most grazing yearling and will be damaged. Therefore, it would be important to fence the areas apart and control grazing on each site according to the plants' capabilities.

By Shredding
We have many acres of sand sagebrush in Donley County needing control measures. This brush is one of the few that can be controlled by shredding.

In determining the time of the year for shredding the brush, a look at the physiology of a plant is important. In the dormant stage of growth, the plant has abundant food storage in its roots. At this period of time control is impossible. After the plant begins to green up and begins to manufacture its own food, the root reserve is used up. At this time, shredding the green leaves will put the plant at such a low reserve that it may die or be greatly depressed. To have the best luck with shredding, application the first and third year will be advantageous.

In Donley County, shredding brush will be approximately from May 15 to July 15. For further information concerning this practice contact your local Soil Conservation Service Office.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

Cross-Fencing
Cross-fencing entails dividing a pasture into one or more parts where controlled grazing can be practiced. This is very important in the overall management of rangeland.

Many ranches have much area that never gets grazed. This seems to be quite a loss of land. Further, the correct stocking rate on the entire pasture will tend to overuse and damage the portion being grazed. Thus, it is very important that the cattle graze the area fairly evenly.

Some pastures have almost a natural line between range sites.

In cross-fencing pastures, a permanent water supply must be in every area. This may increase the number of water supplies needed and be an added expense.

However an advantage will be having the cattle in small enough an area where they can be doctor, fed and observed easier. Also, these pastures can be rotated occasionally to allow the better grasses to improve.

The Donley County Soil Conservation District stresses the importance of cross-fencing in your overall range management. For further information, contact your local Soil Conservation Service Office.
