This is how the Jim Riley pickup looked after colliding with three automobiles and an iron post Monday afternoon in a melee extending from Chamberlain Motor Co. thru town to JC's Steak House. Harry Miller, driver of the pickup, was accompanied by Riley.

DWI Charges Filed In Connection With Wild Driving Spree

There was excitement aplenty along highway 287 thru Clarendon from Chamberlain Motor Co. to JC's Steak House shortly after 1 o'clock Monday afternoon and as a result two local men were jailed and four cars and a pickup were damaged in collisions.

The spree started at the east side of town when a pickup belonging to Jim Riley and driven by Harry Miller crashed into the side of a car driven by Mrs. Lamar Aten of Lelia Lake pushing her car into another owned by Chamberlain Motor Co.

The Sheriff's department and Highway Patrol were summoned but before they reached the scene, they met the pickup coming toward town. Sheriff Cornell stated that he tried to stop the pickup but received no cooperation. Patrolmen Duane Nichols and Lee Johnson joined the chase thru town making every effort to stop the pickup which was using both sides of the highway at times.

The chase was concluded at JC's Steak House when the pickup veered off the highway, struck the J. C. Stepp car, hit the big post to the west of Herman Cross' Gulf Station, bounced off and plowed into the side of a car owned by Eddie Jeffers of Claude which was parked in front of the Steak House. Fortunately no one was injured, but damages ran high to the Aten and Jeffers cars and Riley's pickup. The Stepp car received considerable damage but the Chamberlain Motor Co. car received minor damage.

Both Miller and Riley were placed in the county jail. Riley was charged with intoxication and fined $100 and costs in County Court; Miller was charged with DWI and aggravated assault and received a $50 fine and costs and 6 months in jail on the first charge and a $25 fine and costs and 6 months in jail on the second charge with jail sentences to run concurrently. Another charge of DWI was filed against Riley Tuesday in Justice Court pending action of the grand jury. Riley received a five year sentence and a $1,000.00 fine for DWI in District Court last November which was suspended. This was Miller's first DWI offense.

Officers stated it was a miracle that no one was injured in the melee.

Are You Liable For $200 City Fine?

If you are one of the guilty persons dumping trash etc. improperly at the City Dump Ground, you are liable to a $200 fine.

The City recently prepared an east-west runway in addition to the north-south runway at the dump ground to improve the airport facilities. This necessitated a change in the entrance to the dump from the south side to the northeast part of the grounds.

During the past two weeks, some guilty persons have been operating their vehicles improperly on and across the runways and also dumping trash along the runways. The City is issuing warning that offenders in the future will be fined, so if you want to stay out of trouble, use the northeast entrance to dump your trash in the proper place and help keep the airport facilities more attractive. A warm up ramp has been paved and three permanent tie-downs have been completed at the airport.

ALL MOISTURE HELPS: MORE IS NEEDED

Rain the first of the week improved the moisture outlook some but more is needed to get ready to plant a crop and bring the grass land along as it should be. Some areas received more beneficial amounts with the Ashtola-Country Club areas receiving the most.

At the same time, we experienced a quick change from summer to winter again and a trend back to spring. Last week the mercury climbed to 98 degrees and a low of 34 degrees was recorded early Tuesday morning. Some light frost was reported in low areas.

In the moisture department, our local weather observer measured a total of 27 inch which brings our total for the month to .87 and the year's total to 1.98. During the spell Ashtola received .72 inch, Country Club .62, Hedley .40 and Lelia Lake .27 inch.

Historic Mound Near Alto

The home site of a tribe of Caddo Indians who lived about 1000 A.D. near Alto, in Cherokee County, today supports a forest of small trees. This is the site of Texas Forest Service Indian Mound Nursery, located six miles southwest of Alto, along State Highway 21 where it crosses the Neches River.

Only a granite monument atop a 30 feet high, "L" shaped mound testifies to the Indians' having been there. A portion of the mound and surrounding area was excavated in 1940 by the Department of Anthropology of the University of Texas. Although no important artifacts were found, items of pottery, flints and sites of several houses were located. Archaeologists believe the mound was used as a place to worship their sun god. Occasionally, pieces of pottery and flints are unearthed as the area near the mound is cultivated by nursery personnel.

Presence of several constantly flowing springs nearby probably accounts for the Indians' use of the area. Availability of surface water for irrigation was a major factor in selecting the area as a state tree nursery.

To the citizens of nearby Alto goes a large amount of credit for their part in purchase of the 173 acres in 1940.

The nursery produces tree seedlings for reforestation in Texas. Initial production in 1940 was about 10 million seedlings. Maximum capacity is about 21 million seedlings which are sold to Texas landowners at cost.

Trees are to be used for reforestation and windbreak planting; none are sold for ornamentals or for landscaping.

Supplying tree seedlings for reforestation and windbreak planting is but one of the many ways your Texas Forest Service, now celebrating its 50th Anniversary, performs its obligation to Texans.

The grandest "Great Society" which we could build would be to both discipline ourselves and to teach our children a good lesson in old-fashioned thrift...

If we can't believe anything that we hear and only half of what we see, then we need to be real careful what we think about.

A successful social climber might be one that learns to get along with those they cannot get ahead of.

The greatest boon to modern day politicians was when they learned the secret of spending the income of future generations.

Uncle Jay Bob says that he finds it real hard to run one's own business.... It seems a lot simpler to go down on the street corner and run the country.

The thing that worries most employees these days is the number of unemployed folks still on the payroll.

It is always a bitter dose when we have to swallow our own medicine.

No matter how bright we think we are, there are always some folks who would like to polish us off.

Disappointment is not always as bad as it seems.... Sometimes it is the sand on the track that keeps us from going into a spin.

LIBRARY NOTES

EDITH BARNES

Here's hoping that even though National Library Week is almost over, April 25th through May 1, each of you will not only remember but practice this year's themes, "KNOW WHAT YOU'RE TALKING ABOUT — READ," and "OPEN YOUR FUTURE — READ." If you do you can indeed be assured that the more you learn through reading the more you will want to know about more and more different subjects. In proclaiming National Library Week Governor Connally said, "while all Texans do not have the opportunity for advanced academic education, the library is every man's university."

It is unusual for a book to jump from number six on the Best Seller's List to number two in one week but "Up the Down Stair Case" by Bel Kaufman is no ordinary book. Even the title makes no sense until you read where one of the students in school is caught and punished because he went up the down staircase.

Quoting "Up the Down Staircase" describes from the inside what goes on in a large metropolitan high school. With genuine warmth and shrewd comic touches, it shows what happens when a teacher's ideals run smack against the inadequate facilities, the lack of communication, the gobbledook and pedage, the trivia in triplicate" (any one who has ever had to fight the battle of bureaucracy and red tape will love that expression—"trivia in triplicate")—all that stands in the way of good teaching.

It is a wise and witty book; funny and poignant and highly original. Nothing quite like it has ever been written.

Who ever went to school, taught in school, has children in school, will immediately recognize the incidents (Assembly, Open School, Midterm exams, Faculty Show) and the types of teachers and students he has known.

"The pupils themselves speak, in their own words, about many things such as education."

The Teachers, too, speak with their own voices, as they try, against almost insuperable odds, to go up that down staircase. "UP THE DOWN STAIRCASE" tells a story of real people, and tells it with...ve.

The Texas State Government has sent the library some pamphlets about employment opportunities for high school graduates and last semester seniors.

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 18th DISTRICT

By Congressman Walter Rogers

GOLDFISH, FLAG POLES, AND SIT-INS

I remember quite well when I was at the University, the marathon dance fad swept the country. A poor bedraggled couple would dance, or perhaps "stand and shake" would be a better term for it, until they dropped from utter exhaustion. The two who avoided total exhaustion longest would win the prize.

The fad caught onto the extent that there were some pretty sizeable money prizes being offered to the nuts who had little enough sense to strain their mental and physical facilities in such a manner. It was the prize money that probably appealed to most of the college students who participated, and there were a great many. Food and lodging were hard to come by in those days, and I suppose some of the folks thought that since they had no place to go and nothing to eat, they might as well dance and maybe win a prize.

A few years later it became the popular fad to eat goldfish, without benefit of the frying pan, that is. Just simply reach into the fish bowl, grab one by the tail, and swallow him whole. This practice did not last too long, probably due to the lack of participants who were willing to pay the price for a little publicity or a shortage of goldfish that increased the price to the extent that only the well-to-do could enjoy the game. I have always suspected that it was the desire of the individual to be noticed that prompted most of these crazy ideas.

Then, along came the flag pole sitting era. Some screwball with nothing more to do would pack a light lunch, tuck a pillow under his arm, skin the nearest flag pole and perch on top of it until inclement weather or total exhaustion drove him down. I don't know who finally won the title, or who presently holds it, but I do think that the prize should have been a minimum of two years in some mental institution.

After the flag pole era came the practice of seeing how many people could get into a telephone booth. I don't know how many finally succeeded, but I was of the firm opinion when this was going on that the best solution to that problem would be to lock the telephone booth after they were all in and disconnect the telephone.

Then came a period when Russian roulette was popular. This was discontinued, I understand, because too many were losing the game and the ranks of the "kooks" (formerly known as nuts, screwballs, and crackpots) were being thinned alarmingly. It is also pointed out that those who lost the game and received the publicity which they were seeking, were unable to enjoy it.

We are now going through another similar era in which these same type eccentrics are engaging in marches, demonstrations, and sit-ins. They daily parade in front of the White House or any place that they think they can receive attention. They pose as representing all shades of political spectrum, the economic spectrum, and the political spectrum. They invade the halls of the Nation's Capitol and other public buildings, and engage in what they call civil disobedience. In a great many instances, this so-called civil disobedience is nothing less than a violation of criminal statutes and ordinances for which the participants should be held responsible. Their actions and deeds encroach upon and invade the rights of honest, law-abiding citizens who are the basic strength of this nation. The laws of this Nation and all of its States provide for proper hearing and redress of the grievances of any individual citizen or any group. It was never intended by the founders of this Country or those who firmly believe in its Constitution that the practices being employed at the present time should be tolerated.

A great number of these people are doing nothing more or less than seeking publicity. They look forward to the appearance of their names in newspapers and periodicals, or their faces on television. Their right to do this would not be challenged by anyone so long as they do not violate the rights of other individuals and the public. When their ac-activities do so they should be dealt with accordingly and without delay. A good dose of no publicity and a night or two in the County jail might be a proper remedy. At least it would test their sincerity.

As one member of Congress so ably put it to a group of kooks who had invaded his office: "If you are sincere in wanting to protect my rights, I wish you would go shave and take a bath first."

NEWS FROM CITY HALL

by R. L. Gilkey, Mayor

Let's sharpen our driving habits. This is a little advance warning to all of us. In just this past week we have had a car theft, speeding, reckless driving, drunk driving, accidents because of careless and negligence, improper parking and other similar infractions of good driving habits.

How many of us have asked ourselves, "Is a city policeman really necessary?" For one, I can think of a few people that might be alive today if we had had a city policeman a few years ago. All of us have fallen into the habit of just "bending" the traffic rules a little bit, but we are still good and honest drivers.

No, the new policeman isn't making a job for himself. That job has been there for a long time and we have neglected it.

Our driving shows it. Here are a few of the major violations: cutting across traffic for a parking place to our left, double parking, or improper parking, U turns in undesignated places, slowing at stop signs, failure to give right of way, speeding and others. How many of us have pulled that U turn for a parking spot? How many times have we just stopped cars at an intersection to talk to a friend? How often do we park "almost" between the lines? (Or how often have we found a parking space "just about big enough" but not quite because the "other fellow" didn't park correctly?) WE ARE THAT "OTHER FELLOW."

Our teen-agers are aware that the policeman means business. Let each one of us in the entire county remember it. He is not here to be arbitrary. His job is simply to enforce the law and he's doing it. We really want it that way, I think. We want to stop these traffic violations. Of course, we don't want to be the one to get a ticket while our friend is doing the same thing and getting away with it. The violator will get caught if he keeps it up, and so will we.

So, let's sharpen up our driving habits. The long arm of the law is keeping an eye on us as we drive in the streets of Clarendon.

You might not like the above article. Facts are one thing, opinion is another. This column is meant to be informative and sometimes you won't like the information. In the following issues you can expect the report of the city's annual audit for 1964, the city's budget for 1965 (in October), information about the Green Belt Dam as it progresses, and other pertinent city topics or activities.

LITTLE LEAGUE NEEDS YOUR SUPPORT

To support the work of Little League and help it grow is to build a memorial not of stone or marble but a memorial that can be found in the eyes of a boy and his hopes for the future.

When asked to help, don't give the excuse "I don't know anything about baseball." A very small percent of the Little League workers over the nation have had any previous baseball experience. We are not in the program to teach baseball or to make these boys major league players. The main purpose of the program is to try to instill in the boys character, courage and loyalty. This is the prime goal and any other idea of the program is strictly not supported by the Little League Foundation. In its best perspective and for fullest enjoyment and benefit to the children whom it serves, Little League directs its dedicated efforts of adult volunteers into a pattern of leadership and good conduct as befits an organization in service to youth.

A worthy goal for us as adults would be to learn more fully how boys may be nurtured toward the molding of well-balanced, sound-minded citizens of the future whatever the walk of life into which they may venture. Don't criticize the imperfections of our leagues, because any thing built with human effort has its faults. Consider the good and help achieve the goal above. In the past the majority of Clarendon has unselfishly supported our program. This year involves more than 150 boys and the building of a new playing field. This worthy cause needs your support both physically and financially.

Biggest job of the 59th Legislature—writing the $3,600,000,000 biennial budget for state government—was being wrapped up in conference committee this week.

Conferees were playing a game of "beat-the-clock" to wind up before Easter holidays.

If they fail to make it, such important issues as teachers' pay raises and balancing tax measures would be postponed until dangerously late in the session.

Both Lt. Gov. Preston Smith and House Speaker Ben Barnes urged committee chairmen to turn on the speed.

Rep. Bill Heatly of Paducah, chairman of the House group, doubted the task could be completed by April 15, previous deadline set by Barnes. But Heatly said 15 solid hours of work would do the trick—if conferees can find the time between busy floor sessions.

Completing the 59th legislative meeting by the end-of-May cutoff time may depend on whether the conferees find that 15 hours for showdown decisions on vital money matters.

REDISTRICTING NOW OR NEVER — Sub-committee chairmen of the House redistricting committee huddled this week to compare notes on how legislative and congressional districts should be carved up under the order.

Senate already has passed two versions of a plan to increase its membership from 31 to 39 to help the work along.

Indications are that the House plans to give big counties the minimum representation allowable. This to make the painful task of reapportionment as easy as possible on rural areas which must yield representation any way you look at it.

State lawmakers are hopeful congress soon will pass a bill authorizing a 15 per cent variation above and below the mathematical average population per district. Speaker Barnes, on advice of Texas congressmen, predicts U. S. Supreme Court would yield that far in a one-man-one-vote edict.

APPROVED — First federal grant for a Neighborhood Youth Corps project in Texas has approval.

Governor Connally announced clearance of all state preliminaries to grant of $135,570 from U. S. Labor Department for Corpus Christi Independent School District. Program will enable 675 youths from low-income families to stay in school. They will be employed on part-time basis at $1.00 an hour—or 83 cents, considering required hours of counseling and vocational guidance.

Wage is an exception from regulation requiring federal minimum wage to be paid on corps projects. Such exceptions, Connally noted, can be made on presentation of "convincing evidence."

COLLEGE LOANS APPROVED — State-financed college loan plan has final legislative authorization for submission to Texas voters.

If statewide election carries, an $85,000,000 bond program will be established, enabling students from junior college to graduate and medical school level to borrow funds to complete their higher education.

Rep. George Hinson of Mineola, author of the proposed constitutional amendment, estimates up to $32,000,000 will be borrowed in next two years.

FLOOD CLEARS WEED — When flood gates broke at Corpus Christi, near Mathis, thousands of acre feet were lost and the lake level dropped drastically.

However, not every thing was damaging, says a Parks and Wildlife Department biologist.

Dropped level left high and dry thousands of hyacinths, which the department had been trying to eradicate for years. A nuisance to fishermen, the plants had been almost impossible to control.

three months of 1965 shows a total of 11 accidents resulting in no persons killed, two injured, and an estimated property damage of $3,900.00.

The final entry in the 1964 Texas Traffic book has been entered and closed with an astounding record. Yes, an all time record of 3006 persons were killed, 182,081 persons were injured, and there was $486,846,000.00 property loss. This compares to the 1963 record high of 2,729 persons killed, 161,543 persons injured, and an estimated property loss of $432,715,000.00

Since the death count of 2,254 in 1960, Texas has gained each year steadily. The Sergeant stated, "If the death count increases during the last six years of this decade as it has during the first four years the death count will stand at 4134 in 1970." What is the remedy? Only you, Mr. Motorist, hold the answer.

INSECT CONTROL

Good insect control means healthier and more productive home gardens. As an aid to home gardeners, entomologists of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service have prepared information which should help in the fight against insect pests, reports County Agent Ronald Gooch.

The new publication, L-642, "Control of Insects in the Home Garden," is now available without cost at my office, Gooch said.

Among the topics covered in the publication are discussions of the three groups of insects which normally cause trouble in the home garden. They include those with sucking mouth parts, those with chewing mouth parts, and those which live in the soil.

Each group, says the county agent, requires a different control method and often a different insecticide. Dusts and sprays are discussed as are insecticides used in combinations. The entomologists have prepared tables showing the amount of each recommended insecticide needed to make even a small amount of spray, and have listed safety precautions regarding the use of the most commonly used materials, Gooch said.

For your copy, visit, call or write the county agent's office. And, reminds the agent, copies of other publications are available on many other subjects in the field of agriculture and home economics.

"Once you've typed on an electric portable, you'll never type on a manual typewriter again!"

Coronet

Electricity lets you underline a full row of words just by holding down the key, rat-tata-tat, just like that. The same is true for dashes, spaces, dots and the letter "X" for crossing out.

Electricity lets you type as fast as you want even if you're a speed champ. And there's no jumbled letters, no jumpy lines, no uneven spacing.

Electricity does the work for you. There's no pounding the keys. And you can adjust the touch from featherlight to the same as a manual's.

Electricity gives you an expert's even touch on the keys. All letters are typed with the same even blackness... your typing looks perfect.

You adjust a dial and can make up to ten carbon copies. More important, the tenth is just about as clear and readable as the first.

SMITH-CORONA CORONET—Crisp, modern styling. Four decorator colors. Full office keyboard. Choice of many type styles. Lightweight all-steel carrying case. ONLY $10 DOWN.

Tree Improvement Research Is Year Round Work

If you see a man scaling a pine tree like a monkey, chances are he is a part of the Texas Forest Service tree improvement team. It isn't unusual for him to spend most of a working day in the top of a pine tree. He's even patient when yellow jackets are on the move since he is usually 80 feet above ground.

His job is part of an over-all Service effort to produce high quality forest trees for Texas landowners. Focal point of this activity is the forest genetics laboratory at Texas A & M University, headed up by Dr. J. P. van Buijtenen. The principle field laboratory is the Arthur Temple Sr. Research Area west of Alto in Cherokee County. However, all the "piney woods" serves as a laboratory to these "tree improvers."

The program is financed by both state and federal governments and by forest products industries. Interest is centered in developing strains of pines to meet the demands of industry and forest landowners. Much progress has already been made in producing a drought resistant type. This will permit survival of planted pine seedlings on dry sites and during long periods of drought and in extending the range of pine. Also under investigation are quality trees of low and high specific gravity, and trees that are resistant to Southern pine beetles and tip moth.

Work in tree improvement is time consuming and entails much cross pollination. Since most pine tree flowers are near the top of the crown, a worker must climb each tree several times a year. First, he checks on flower growth. When flowers are about ripe, he bags them to keep out foreign pollen. Next, he applies pollen from another selected tree just as the flowers ripen. On his next trip, after the flowers are set, he removes the bags. Eighteen months later, he picks the special cones. With 50 or more flowers in each pine top to care for, this is a time consuming job.

A light sectional alloy ladder is used to climb the tall trees. A climber carries 10 foot sections of ladder with him as he climbs a tree. Near the top, however, he leaves his ladder and crawls with only limbs and a safety belt to aid him. A rope harness is used for the descent. Enroute down, he disassembles his ladder.

Some day fruits of the labor of these Texas Forest Service men will pay off for Texas woodland owners. Already benefits are on hand.

WHEAT

Don't forget that the final disposition date for wheat is May 1, 1965. Any wheat not reported to this office as destroyed by this date will be shown as wheat on our records.

The wheat cover on diverted acres must be destroyed by May 1, 1965, in order for it to be classified as diverted acres.

CLEAN TILLAGE

If you plan to keep your diverted acres clean tilled this summer, please come into this office and sign an application for approval of the county committee to do so. Remember, that a cover must be put on the diverted acres this fall.

ACP

Producers are now signing applications for cost-share assistance for seeding forage sorghums, primarily on diverted acres. To qualify, 10 lbs per acre planted in normal rows and 15 lbs per acre drilled or broadcast must be seeded. Cane, millet, sudan, and such forage sorghums are acceptable.

Some producers who have made application to carry out this practice are: Joe B. Leonard, Oscar Moore, Roy Jewell, John Stephens, and Pat Roberson.

Time is approaching for giving thought for controlling competitive shrubs. Please be reminded that Donley County is governed by the Herbicidal Law and Regulations. We suggest you consult the County Agent for full details. The deadline for seeding grasses under ACP is June 1, 1965.
