Hot weather and high utility bills

The fact that hot weather and high utility bills go hand in hand apparently is being proved again by West Texans.

Electric energy usage in the West Texas Utilities Co. system soared to new records this past week as temperatures throughout the territory hit the 100 degree mark.

A new record was set on Monday, July 25, when UTU customers used 19,286,000 kilowatt hours during a 24-hour period. This record was broken the following day when consumption totaled 19,318,000 kilowatt hours. The old record was 19,216,000 KWH recorded on July 23, 1981.

The peak demand this year still had not reached the all-time record of 994,000 kilowatts, which was set at 5 p.m. Aug. 27, 1982. Peak demand is the largest amount of electricity being used at any given moment during the day. Highest peak so far this year was 982,000 kilowatts on Tuesday, July 26.

"We expect the demand to go higher, but we should have no problem supplying our customers' needs," said Don Welch of Abilene, WTU vice president and director of customer services.

WTU's on-system generating capacity currently is 1,059,000 kilowatts. This means that with last year's peak demand the Company had a reserve capacity of 6 per cent, while the safe reserve is considered to be 15-20 per cent.

To assure a reliable supply, WTU has contracts to purchase power when necessary from neighboring electricity from neighboring Oklahoma Power Station comes on line in late 1986. This station, now under construction near Vernon, will increase WTU's generating capacity by about one-third.

MRS. EDDIE STRICKLAND

Strickland attends ACWW

Conference in Canada

Mrs. Eddie Strickland formerly of Onida, South Dakota has just returned home after she and 1700 other women from 43 nations of the world, assembled at Vancouver, B.C., Canada, June 19-29 for the 17th triennial conference of the Associated Country Women of the World (ACWW).

She was one of the seven women representing the South Dakota Extension Homemakers Council at the conference. The National Homemakers Extension Council is one of the many constituent societies of ACWW.

For Mrs. Strickland attending this conference fulfilled a dream of many years—to attend a meeting of Country women from all over the world. She says she is truly a "country woman," enjoying the farm and the pheasants, deer and birds in rural South Dakota.

The international organization of ACWW represents country women and homemakers of all races, promoting friendship and understanding among its members. Its grass roots approach has been effective in developing countries and the ACWW is one of the non-governmental organizations of the United Nations with consultative status.

The challenges of the 20th century living were compared by the visitors and delegates who represented nearly nine million members. They shared ideas, mutual problems and goals through speakers and area information sessions. Although she did not attend the conference, Queen Elizabeth II of England is a member of the association. The queen sent a telegram which was read at the opening of the conference.

One of the highlights of the trip was visiting the beautiful and world famous Borchart Gardens in Victoria, British Columbia's capital city on Vancouver Island. She attended a tea in the world famous Empress Hotel and the last night of the conference an outdoor salmon bake was attended by thousands.

This trip was made possible by a gift from her daughter, Mrs. Sharinne Strickland Weiler. Mr. Strickland visited in Onida, South Dakota with their son, DeJuan and his family, while Mrs. Strickland attended the conference.

and killed his 15 year old girl friend after she refused to return his engagement ring.

Several years ago, the Stricklands came to Clarendon with some friends, who purchased one of the first lots sold at Greenbelt. Mrs. Strickland stated, "there wasn't even any water in the lake at the time."

Later they purchased that lot from their friends and put a camper on it. After selling their home in Plainview last August they returned to Clarendon and purchased the "Caraway" home at 702 W. 5th, she added "We enjoy living here very much."

Lois and John McVicker are the proud great grandparents of a baby girl born Friday, July 29th to Marty and Kim Giles. Last Wednesday, the McVicker's had company from Graham, Texas, Windy McQueen and grandma McQueen, Wednesday evening. They served 22 guests, ice cream and cake on their patio in honor of Rev. O.C. Edwards 76th birthday. Everyone had an enjoyable time. Happy birthday (belated) Bro. Edwards!

The Fire Department will hold their meeting Tuesday evening, August 2 at City Hall. Fire Chief, Stony Craft will check over the equipment for safety precautions. Stony has been in school for the last week in College Station. The new addition to the fire station is coming up nicely but is not quite finished.

A special thanks to Alta Reynolds for assisting me with the feeding the 27 people. Also a special thanks to Lola Bartell for the beautiful pink carnations.

By using some of your energy you can save electrical energy. Simply by adding insulation, caulking around windows and doors, and adding weatherstripping you can help to keep the cool air in your home. Stopping cooling loss will help your home to operate more efficiently. Also, consider installing an Energy Efficient Heat Pump Cooling and Heating System in your home. If you want more information call your WTU Local Office.

Mooring fights sand

We are now past the major wind erosion season, but it is time to think about preparing for the next one. The photo above shows how David Mooring has virtually eliminated the need to "fight" blowing sand.

David planted rye to control wind erosion. Then using his rolling cultivator he cleaned a narrow strip on the top of each bed. Here he banded his herbicide and fertilizer and planted cotton. The number of tillage operations has been drastically reduced and the net income should increase accordingly. For more information about Mooring's method of erosion control contact David or the Soil Conservation Service about other types of wind strip cropping.

THIS TAYSTEE bread truck was found abandoned Sunday morning between Paul Bell's home and Jack Land's home. It had been stolen in Wichita Falls.

WART TREATMENT

Warts are among the most common viral skin infections. In fact, one in ten individuals has warts-with teenagers being afflicted more often than youngsters or adults. But a wart does not stay on the skin forever. The great majority of warts appear and then disappear within a two-year period. Seldom does a wart remain on the skin for longer than five years.

Physicians may remove warts via surgery or other procedures such as electrodesiccation (wart dehydration with electricity). Or they may prescribe a wart removal product to be applied directly to the wart. A variety of wart removal products are available without prescription. These preparations are relatively safe for use by most persons. Diabetics and individuals having circulatory problems should consult a physician before using the nonprescription products.

Most of these wart removers contain salicylic acid - the same mild acid that is in similar products designed for removal of corns. Repeated application of a wart remover - often for several weeks - causes layers of the wart to be loosened and removed. Soaking the affected body part in warm water prior to application of the wart remover helps soften the skin and hastens this process.

the same poem except that the spelling m. shaped her legs even greater. So "Boo" went back to South Ward Building and found the paper plate clock that Miss Stevens always had her second graders make to learn to tell time. As soon as you mastered the skill you were given your clock. Buddy's clock was still there and even though he still couldn't give us the time Boo gave him the clock.

Bill Lowe helped present the Brick Awards. The Lowes claim that these bricks were located from an anonymous rancher who bought the bricks blown off the 3rd floor of the high school building in the storm. (Jeff Walker should be checking for any recent demolition.)

A secret ballot was cast by the class for the man and woman who had changed the least. While ballots were being counted Fleetwood Cornell was awarded a brick for the man with the most grandchildren (with a total of 15). Yvonne Howerton Barker was the grandmother to eleven bring her a brick for that gender. The two traveling the farthest were also presented bricks. They were Lila Mae Allison Simpson from Bethany, Connecticut and Claude Hearn of Spokane, Washington. When the ballots finally were counted the class mates who had changed the least were Javan Tucker of Denver, Colorado and Dorothy Anne Kennedy Bagwell of Claude.

Faye Sullivan Durkee was the birthday girl, confessing to 39 and "go on", and she got a cake and birthday song. Ralph Morrow honored the hard working planning committee with silver wine coolers from the class. This hard working crew consisted of Dorothy Anne Kennedy Bagwell, Jeane Spencer Bartlett, Claude Hearn, Helen Porter Lowe, and Bill Lowe.

Because Dorothy Ann Kennedy Bagwell of Claude had so persistently dug for names and addresses for this event, fellow planner, Jeane Spencer Bartlett encircled Dorothy Anne with a necklace of a trinket spade so she can "keep on digging".

The floor was opened to all who wanted to speak and each class and all the faculty were represented. A spokesperson for the spouses expressed their appreciation for being included in such a memorable occasion.

Stewart. Peggy claims she's moved 30 times in 40 years and therefore could not locate the poem, however, she gladly wrote another.

"Boo" Helen Porter Lowe confessed to her office of historian, but her usual filing system has prevailed and the class history was no where to be found. She did however retain her "Memory Book" and shared with us some unique tidbits. Bill Lowe had written:

"Roses are red,
Violets are blue,
Cowboys are bow-legged
And so are you.

Buddy Ryan followed with and we must have guidance. We go to the Information Bureau. To our surprise we find Billy Nell Warren, Ladell Tankersley, and Jane Wilson eager to answer our many questions.

Like all other people who visit Washington we want to see the Capitol. On arriving we see two very dignified gentlemen leaving the building. At a second glance we recognize them as Mr. Billy Lowe and G.G. Reeves. They inform us that they are Senators; furthermore they tell us of the fact that Harold Donnell, James Clark, and Calvin Naylor are employed as ship architects in the Naval Building.

Since we are not used to the busy life of a place like the Capitol City, we feel the need of rest. We check with a travel agency. We are surprised to find out that it is managed by Chester Talley and Billy Smith. They tell us Faye Sullivan is also employed by the agency. While visiting with them we learn that Bill Mooring and Ralph Morrow own a Dude Ranch in Colorado. This sounds like a good place to relax. We call a taxi and to our surprise the driver is none other than Rogers Hester. When we get on the plane, we find the pilot to be Arlis Ray Allison and the co-pilot is Billy Jack Land. The next voice we hear is a familiar one. Ailene Poss is giving instructions to all the passengers.

After a few days we decide to go back to Clarendon. It seems that some of our classmates decided to settle down in this quiet little town. A visit to the High School brought more surprises. We find that W.C. Gunter is assistant football coach. Yvonne Howerton is teaching math and Jean Spencer is working in the school office. We learn that the school has finally bought new typewriters so there is no longer the race down the hall to make sure of getting a good typewriter.

When we are leaving the High School we meet Imogene Spencer. She has just returned from New York after getting another novel published. We learn that even though she is no longer going to school, she is still trying to get the girls dress code changed. In her hand is a petition she has brought for the girls to sign so she can present it to the School Board at their next meeting.

As to the truth of these predictions, time alone can answer this great question. The original Class Night had a poem written by Peggy

We pulled Dorothy Anne off the ceiling long enough to present her with red roses. She then went to the piano and played as Jack Shelley and other led the singing of the Class of 43 Alma Mater, sung to the tune of "On The Road To Mandalay".

The Benediction was given by L.B. Penick. Dancing and visiting followed the closing of the program. Claude Hearn and Jeane Spencer Bartlett's husband Harry were especially helpful in printing materials for this special occasion. Without the favors left by the First Bank & Trust this report would not have been possible because Naomi forgot her equipment for note taking. Thanks to the Simmons and McNabbs.

Frank Lyle celebrates 103 birthday

The family of Frank Lyle gathered Sunday, July 31st to celebrate his 103rd birthday. Mr. Lyle had lunch and spent the afternoon at his daughter and son-in-law's, Velma and Charlie Hearn's, home. He was joined by his family. Mr. Lyle's sons, Thad Lyle and his wife Mary and Kenneth Lyle and his wife Anna from Dallas, Texas. Grandchildren with him were: Claude and Pat Hearn from Spokane, Washington; Duane and Mayrene Hearn of Brownfield; Chester and Doris Gregory, Borger; Billy and Dolia Hearn and Kari and Jennifer from Houston; Mickey and Shirley Thomas and children. Scott, Holly and Heather, Laredo; U.G. and Eva Lee Swinney and Dennis Swinney of Clarendon; and friends Alvia and Minnie Bell Hicks of Clarendon and Ode Koontz of Clarendon.

Her husband wanted a divorce, because he was, he said, "tired of working on our marriage". Sonia Johnson was shattered.

But she has prevailed. Sonia Johnson is now a heroine of the Equal Rights Movement. And she begins her dramatic true story with the realization "of being happier than I have ever been in my life".

"From Housewife to Heretic" is much more than her account of that heart-rending year. It is an insider's view of the present day Mormon Church and its male dominated hierarchy. It is a fascinating account of a woman's gradual, even unwilling, progression from self-denial to activism. It is above all, a story of loss and rebirth, despair and fulfillment—a book for millions of women trying to reconcile their belief in feminism with their belief in the family and religion.

3. Am I Getting Paid For This? by Betty Rollin. "Am I Getting Paid For This?" is a love story about work by the author of "First, You Cry". It is the part funny, part not-so-funny story of her 3 careers—first acting, then writing, then television news broadcasting at NBC—and what work itself came to mean to Betty Rollin.

This is a book for women of all ages, who will warm to this charming, smart and funny woman who for the longest time didn't know where she was headed, but who finally found her way, with thanks to—as she puts it—"need, nerve, and a few kind friends".

4. Where Have I Been? by Sid Caesar. In the 50's, Sid Caesar, one of the funniest men in the world, presided over a group of comic geniuses who dominated the screen and stage today. With the help of friends and colleagues Caesar developed original television comedy that rocketed him to stardom. These were the "Glory Years".

But when "Caesar's Hour" ended in 1958, the nightmares suddenly began. The combination of devastating insecurity and the pressure of success led to a dependence on alcohol and pills that soon became an addiction.

Change did come at rock bottom. When in 1978, an attempt to revive his act with Imogene Coca fell through the drinking increased and Sid fled to Canada. A meeting with the right doctor helped him to confront his disease, and a sustained effort to rebuild body and mind began.

1943 Class reunion

The Clarendon Class of 1943 assembled for a three day encounter of fun and festivities in Amarillo July 28th, 29th and 30th, with some hale and hearty hold overs for breakfast at Villa Inn on Sunday the 31st. This reunion had almost 4 years of advance planning and the program was so unique and enjoyable that all of Clarendon should have a chance to share in it. Never would we be able to bring the entire warmth, fun, and fellowship so there is an apology for the compromise of effort.

The kick off began with an early arrival patio supper at the home of the Harry Bartletts on Gainsborough Road, on Thursday evening.

Friday night a bus load of class mates and their spouses were transported to Palo Duro Canyon to see the show "Texas".

Registration actually began at 1 p.m. Saturday afternoon at the Villa Inn with visiting and reminiscing until all arrived for the buffet dinner and dance.

Forty-six of the Class of 43 and spouses and class mates from 1938 to 1945 along with faculty to be named brought the gathering to 135.

Mr. and Mrs. L.B. Penick and Mr. and Mrs. McHenry Lane of Pampa, Edgar Mae and Mable Mongole of Clarendon, Coach and Mrs. O.C. Warden of Ranger, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Robbins of Amarillo, Lucille Polk Naylor of Hereford and Mr. and Mrs.

A.B. Turner of Dallas along with greetings from Marguerite Goodner brought joy to the assembly.

Claude Hearn as master of ceremonies introduced the faculty guests and called for a count of the class of 42 and each class represented before and after. Fourteen of the graduates started first grade and finished together. Memorials to those class mates who are deceased were read in loving tribute. Those remembered were: Billy Ray Bell, Wendell Bullington, Harold Donnell and Bob Word.

The following original class prophecy was read by the original class prophet, Ara Paulk Garland.

Prophecy
A prophecy is commonly supposed to be a rather dangerous undertaking, not to be lightly entered upon. But I do not hesitate to attempt this because I know that each member of this illustrious class is amply gifted with the virtues necessary to the fulfillment of class legend. Thus I call freely with no fear, upon your store of courage, wisdom, and sense of humor, and kind audience, upon your patience which past attendance to graduation has given you.

I ask each of you to join with me in a trip over the United States in the year of 1953. As we go through Clarendon our attention is drawn to an eloquent lady on the courthouse lawn, who from all appearance is non other than our old friend June Gibbs. We are told by a bystander that she is the celebrated leader of the anti-cigarette drive, and that she is now publically rejoicing over the overwhelming defeat in the recent election of the Camel-Chesterfield combine which is under the leadership of W.G. Adams and Claude Hearn.

Upon reaching the airport we receive, much to our surprise, our tickets from a dignified gentleman, whose only resemblance to the Gayle Pyeatt of our school days is that Pyeatt grin. Before boarding the plane, we see two airplane mechanics pass hurriedly by, but on recognizing us, they come back to say a few words. They will be remembered as Troy Moffett and Billy Moreland. When we take our seats, who should take our tickets but the mischievous Helen Porter. Upon learning our identity, Helen tells us that she has been married twice and now has designs upon an old flame, Billy Ray Graham, that celebrated Civil Engineer.

When we glance into a newspaper we read that Bob Word, proprietor of the largest tailoring establishment in the Southwest, leaves today to join his wife and four daughters in California for a vacation. Mrs. Word is the former Miss Katherine Brinson.

Turning to the religious section we find a write-up on the departure of Dr. Ernest Thompson to Central Africa, where he goes in attempt to teach the young colored people. Accompanying him are Mr. H.C. Shaw, Ted Tomlinson who will assist in the enterprise.

After a long flight we dismount in the city of New York. We are greeted by a sign which informs us that Miss Lila Mae Allison's House of Dressmaking is unexcelled throughout the nation. Two of her employees are her former classmates, Jean Williams and Floree Talley.

As we go a little further, we are attracted by a familiar voice. We see a neat little business establishment with the sign "Fresh Sea Foods" and behind the counter is our old friend Jack Riley, yelling "fish" with all his might. From Jack we gain much information concerning our classmates. He tells us that Miss Mary Nell Keys, a very fine looking young lady, who thinks that nature has ordained that she shall be a poet, has forsaken that idea for the call of romance, and is going to be married to Johnie Beard who has fallen heir to a 200 acre citrus ranch in California.

Jack also tells us that Ray Graham who has long been interested in the hydraulics portion of Physics is planning to leave immediately for the dry lands of Idaho. Here he will try his newly patented invention for bringing water out of the ground. As a natural result the wide areas of sagebrush will take on the aspect of a proverbial rose garden. He takes an old classmate, Peggy Stewart, to do his stenographic work. He has also chosen Glen Robertson, Javan Tucker and Ray Rumpy to help try out the invention.

Once more we pick up a newspaper. It has a new editor, Mr. Victor Smith, who plans to improve the paper to the greatest extent. Some of our friends are his employees, namely, Weldon Moody, Billy Ray Bell and Buddy Ryan.

There are articles of interest, Miss Dorothy Anne Kennedy has invented a new cosmetic guaranteed to remove all blemishes from the face in fifteen minutes. Her business manager is Lewis Underdown.

Miss Frances Adkins, who was known throughout the school as a natural and skillful mixture of ribbons, straw, and flowers, has opened the new millinery shop. She has several stores located in other cities. They are under the management of Frances Phelps, Ara Paulk and Louveta Cowan.

We must flee to other parts of the nation. We have tarried too long. A taxi is called. The driver looks familiar and finally we come to the conclusion that it is Jack Shelley.

Again we take a ride in a big airliner. This time our destination is Washington D.C. Voices are heard saying that the City Manager of New York is on the plane. It is not long until we learn that this gentleman is Mr. Jimmy Butler. His secretary is with him. She is our old classmate Miss Katherine May.

This is strange city to us

Lewis Ranches to participate in Texas Ranch Roundup

More than 200 real working cowboys, wagon bosses, cooks and immediate ranch family members will compete in events patterned after activities on a working ranch at the Wichita County Mounted Patrol Arena here August 19-20 in the 1983 Texas Ranch Roundup.

The ranch hands from 14 of Texas' largest ranches will compete in this third annual event for the best ranch in Texas title, as well as the honor of being named the top hand in Texas.

The Moorhouse Ranch headquartered in Benjamin will return to defend the title its ranch hands won last year. The Moorhouse team will face tough competition, not only from the 12 other ranches which competed last year, but also from newcomers—hands from the Four Sixes Ranch in Guthrie.

In addition to the Moorhouse and Four Sixes Ranches, other participating ranches include R.A. Brown Ranch, Coldwater Cattle Company, Cowan & Son Circle Bar Ranch, Double U Hereford Ranch, Lewis Ranches, Pitchfork Land & Cattle Co., Sharbauer Ranches, Renderbrook-Spade Ranch, Swen R. Swenson Cattle Co., Tongue River Ranch Corporation, U Lazy S Ranch, and the W.T. Waggoner Estate.

In combination, these ranches sprawl over an area half the size of New Jersey, some 2.5 million acres of Texas ranch land. The "best ranch in Texas" battle isn't based solely on the grit and gumption of the cowboys in the arena. A ranch queen contest, a talent contest, and a ranch cookin' contest also figure into the final tally, since they mean additional points for ranches winning these events and additional colorful Texana for spectators.

The roundup opens Friday, August 19, with the performance at 7:30 p.m. Teams of cowboys from each ranch will compete in saddle bronc riding, team roping, team branding, wild cow milking, team penning and a wild horse race. The dance at 9 p.m. features Mountain Smoke.

On Saturday, jackpot roping and barrel racing, two events outside regular competition, will begin at 8 a.m. A ranch food cookoff, the talent contest, and the ranch queen contest are featured Saturday afternoon before the final roundup events that evening at 7:30 p.m. The Mountain Smoke band will again perform at a dance Saturday at 9 p.m.

Points will be awarded to ranch teams in each event and tallied to determine the best ranch, while team members from each ranch will cast top hand votes for individuals from competing ranches. The winning ranch will take home a traveling trophy, a bronze sculpture by Lex Graham. The top hand will receive a hand-tooled saddle.

Roundup tickets are as follows: reserved seats $7.50, general admission, $3. Tickets to the dances are $6 per person each evening, and tickets to the Saturday afternoon contests are $3 general admission.

Tickets are available at Wichita Western World, The Cow Lot, Holts Sporting Goods, Cruse Western Wear and Cuttys, all in Wichita Falls; Hughes Western Wear in Vernon, and Frontier Western Wear in Bowie.

Postal Service projected surplus for this year $500 million

The following statement was issued Friday, July 8 by Robert L. Hardesty, Chairman of the Board of Governors of the U.S. Postal Service, at the Board's July meeting in Austin, Texas:

At the outset of this meeting I want to say a few words on a subject that has received a great deal of attention in the newspapers and broadcast media over the last few months—postal rates, and when they're going to go up again.

The first point that needs to be clarified is that it is the Board of Governors of the United States Postal Service—not the president or the Postmaster General or the Postal Rate Commission—that determines when a new rate case will be filed. To date, no such filing has been made—or authorized.

Because the Board has the key responsibility in this area, I believe we owe the mailing public a clear and candid explanation of what and the West Texas Boys Ranch, San Angelo.

Participating for the Lewis Ranches will be Bob Boston, Team Branding, Team Penning; Johnny Hill, Saddle Bronc Riding, Team Roping.

our thinking is on this subject, and what the public should expect in the weeks and months ahead.

Since the fall of 1981, when the price of a First-Class stamp was set at 20 cents, postal rates have remained essentially unchanged. During this period the Postal Service has enjoyed substantial surpluses. In Fiscal Year 1982 the surplus was $802 million. As for fiscal year 1983, which still has three months to run, I am pleased to announce today that we are now projecting a surplus of approximately $500 million for the year.

These figures reflect the success of postal management, with substantial support from the Board, in raising productivity and controlling costs. But they also are attributable in large part to an unexpected and spectacular drop in the inflation rate.

For these reasons, I am also pleased to announce that the Board has determined that there is no need for a general rate increase until October of 1984—at the earliest. In other words, the effective date of any increase is at least 15 months away!

As proud as we are of last year's surplus of $802 million and our success so far this year, we have to keep these figures in perspective.

First, this is a $24 billion a year business with 675,000 employees. This year's projected surplus of $500 million is less than our payroll for a single two-week period.

Second, our projection for this year is of a surplus significantly lower than the one we enjoyed last year, and we are rapidly approaching the time when we expect losses in each accounting period. Based on present projections, our loss next year could exceed $1 billion.

This Board has tried to spread out rate increases to give both mailers and the Postal Service the benefit of rate stability. We know that rate increases can't be postponed forever, but our goal has been to keep them at least three years apart.

Since last winter we've carefully monitored the financial performance of the Postal Service to determine whether and when a postal rate increase may be needed. Long-range strategic planning is absolutely vital because we cannot put new rates into effect as soon as we determine they are critically needed. The process of setting new rates takes 10 months or more.

None of us welcomes a rate increase. Yet, none of us wants to jeopardize the financial health of a service that is vital to the well-being of this country and every one of its citizens.

The figures we have seen over the last few months have been exceptionally strong. Volumes have climbed, and the overall inflation rate has remained at a low level. These circumstances have made it possible for us to defer filing for a rate increase during the past six months.

Our decision to defer a filing may entail a need to borrow. We recognize that every month a rate increase is deferred represents a significant saving to mailers, and we want to stretch out the time between rate increases to the maximum that prudence and good business judgment will allow. We also know that postponing a rate increase encourages—indeed, it requires—self-discipline and creates a powerful incentive for all of us to cut costs and increase productivity.

We have had but one objective throughout this process: To ensure that the United States Postal Service remains the best postal system in the world, moving more mail at lower rates than any other. I want to assure the mailing public that we will continue our efforts toward that end.
