Following an open date last Friday night, the Clarendon Bronchos will play hosts to the Canadian Wildcats in their first conference game of the season at Broncho stadium Friday night. Game time will be 7:30 p.m. Coach Jeff Walker has been putting the Broncho squad thru the paces the past two weeks in preparation for the conference opener. With the right attitude and a strong determination, the Bronchos are looking forward to adding this game to the winning side of the ledger after taking their first win of the season over Groom two weeks ago. The Wildcats have been improving as the season moves along and certainly will be no push over. They defeated the Panhandle Panthers 24-20 in a close game last Friday night, while the Bronchos were defeated by Panhandle by a slim margin earlier in the season. Be sure to be in the stands Friday night and give the Bronchos your whole-hearted support which will go a long way in helping them win their first conference contest. The Broncho B squad will play the McLean B team Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. The Jr. High Colts play Wellington here tonight in Broncho stadium at 7 p.m.

C.H.S. Homecoming Set For November 7

The annual Clarendon High School Homecoming has been scheduled for the week end of November 7th as announced by Basil Smith, president of the alumni association. This date was set up after college football schedules had been released and at the time West Texas State University had an open date for November 7th as did Texas Tech. Since arrangements have been made for the Homecoming the two colleges have announced that they will have a game on that date and it is hoped that alumni of CHS will in no way allow this to interfere with their Homecoming attendance. A good program with a number of activities is being planned; the details will be announced next week. The traditional homecoming football game between Clarendon and Memphis will get things underway Friday evening, November 6th. Following the game, sandwiches, cokes, and coffee will be served at the Canteen. This will provide an opportunity to get-together and have a real "gab fest". Various activities are planned for Saturday, November 7th, beginning with registration and climaxing with a banquet and dance. A business meeting of all exes will be held at 3 p.m. Plans are underway to select a Homecoming Queen. Candidates will be taken from the classes of 1910 and each tenth year from that date. Kappas are planning a Style Show and Tea for Saturday afternoon to be open to the public and everyone whether you are a Kappa, ex-student, or not is invited to attend. All exes are urged to make plans now to attend this year's Homecoming, see a good ball game, meet old friends, and enjoy the fun, visiting, and fellowship together. Any new addresses or change of address should be turned in to Genella Eads, Clarendon, Texas so that current material regarding Homecoming can be mailed out.

The Clarendon Junior High Colts will play another home game on Broncho Field when they meet Wellington at 7 p.m. Thursday night (tonight). Everyone is urged to come out and help the Colts get back in the winning column again. The Colts tangled with Skellytown last Thursday night in a game played at Skellytown and came out with an 8-8 tied score. Don Mooring ran 55 yards to make a touchdown on the first play of the game. Ray Fields scored the extra points for an 8-0 lead. Skellytown scored late in the second quarter with a 30 yard run and passed for the extra points. This tied the score 8-8. The Colts lost the ball late in the third quarter by fumble. They were threatening on the 10 yard line when the game ended. Jaycees To Promote Christmas Program

The Clarendon Jaycees decided last week to undertake their regular Christmas Programs. These include the Toys for Tots, the Living Christmas Card, and the Christmas Decorations Program.

In connection with the Toys for Tots, the Jaycees ask that anyone who has repairable, broken toys or good used toys they wish to donate, please contact one of the Jaycees. The toys will be repaired and used to give to children who would not otherwise have a Christmas.

The annual Living Christmas Card is a program whereby those who wish can donate money to the fund established by the Jaycees, instead of sending Christmas cards. A Living Card will be published in the Donley County Leader with a list of the donors and the Jaycees will use the money donated to buy groceries and food for the needy.

The Christmas Decorations is an annual drive to decorate the town and stimulate interest in making the houses and businesses in town attractive for the holiday season. The Jaycees and the Chamber of Commerce will work together in making our town attractive.

Clarendon Jr. College Prexy Stresses Trends In Education

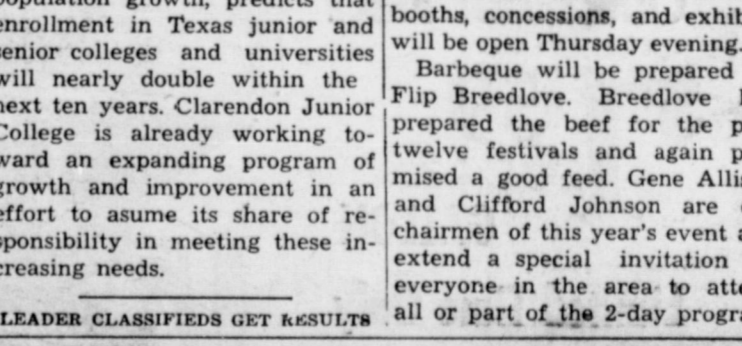

In a recent welcoming address to the student body at Clarendon Junior College, President Kenneth D. Vaughan stressed the growing importance of educating our society beyond the high school. The dramatic change in Texas since World War II is startling and forces new emphasis upon every level of education. Twenty years ago the majority of Texans lived in rural areas—today almost 70% live in metropolitan regions. Unskilled or semi-skilled laborers, who have in the past constituted an important economic element in the state, find vocational opportunities quite limited today. And the situation will become more critical. Unless the number of trained persons increases rapidly, Texans face the bleak prospect of seeing huge segments of population become literally unemployable, the victims of mechanized revolution. Mr. Vaughan presented some sobering statistics from "Education: Texas' Resource for Tomorrow," the Governor's committee on Education Beyond the High School. For every 100 third graders enrolled in 1953, only 54 graduated from high school in 1963. Only 35 of the high school graduates enrolled in college in 1963. And it is estimated that only 16 out of these 100 third graders will become college graduates. According to the report, the average life-time earning power of one who completes his elementary education is $184,000.00. The average life-time earning power of the high-school graduate is $247,000.00. The average life-time earning power of one who has two years of college is $293,000.00, and the average college graduate will earn $417,000.00 in his life time. President Vaughan uses these figures to illustrate to the students that each year spent at Clarendon Junior College is worth $23,000.00 in potential earning power. A forecast, based on normal population growth, predicts that enrollment in Texas junior and senior colleges and universities will nearly double within the next ten years. Clarendon Junior College is already working toward an expanding program of growth and improvement in an effort to assume its share of responsibility in meeting these increasing needs.

John Alexander tells us that they have a cat that can whip a rattlesnake. Anyway only recently the cat and a large rattlesnake became engaged in a quarrel in their back yard. It seems that the cat would arch his back and come in close causing the snake to strike but would always dart out of its path. After a lengthy battle after this fashion the snake either in defeat or disgust moved out of the yard toward the weeds.

Speaking of snakes we have seen far less than usual this summer, and far more of the roadrunner birds. We never see the speedy bird without recalling Dan True's motion picture of the fight with the rattle snake with the roadrunner coming out victorious. Perhaps with some help from the cats the snakes will become even more scarce. This we all can hope, but in the meantime those who know their snakes tell us that early fall is one of the most dangerous times to step near or on a rattlesnake. At this their shedding season some say they often bite with little or no warning. Watch carefully and step lightly through the weeds from now until the real cold weather comes.

Our good friend John Butler loaned us a copy of his favorite magazine from which we are

FARM PONDS

Farm Ponds are most frequently constructed for storage of stock water. The storage capacity must be adequate to meet the water requirements of livestock. Surface evaporation, seepage, and silt deposits must be taken into account, also.

The life and usefulness of a pond can often be extended for many years if silt bar deposits are prevented from filling up the lakes. These may reduce the water storage to a mere mud hole. This silt usually comes from cropland or raw gullies which does not have needed conservation treatment, such as terraces or grassed waterway to control water runoff.

Quite often pit ponds are more successful than impounding dams. These pit ponds are usually dug where the water table is high and the springs or seepage furnishes the needed water.

For recommendations as to engineering design, contact your local SOIL CONSERVATION OFFICE.

PLANT WINTER PASTURE — COVER CROPS

Fall sown cover crops are the best protection of cultivated land against erosion by wind and water. Nothing can take the place of cover crops. These extend the length of your growing season about sixty days and make the cost of feeding cattle less regardless of location, rainfall, soil, or the kind of farming or ranching that goes on. Growing cover crops will improve the quality and quantity of your grazing and increase your calf crop. Added organic matter will improve your soil and water holding capacity of soils seeded to small grains will be another benefit. Cover crops will help the land, the cattle, and you.

"Most domestic quarrels could be stopped by the timely use of arms."

We noticed in the paper that a South Texas pastor had gone into court for an order to prevent a woman from singing offbeat notes in the choir. He managed for the court order but at last count she had ignored the judge to the tune of being in contempt of court eighteen times. The preacher wondered what now?

the obligations freedom imposes. Freedom of the press is one of the most basic of American rights guaranteed by the Constitution.

The foundations of press freedom were laid early. One of the significant events was the trial for libel, in 1735, of a New York printer, John Peter Zenger, who was accused of vilifying the tyrannical royal Governor, William Cosby.

and you gentlemen of the jury is not of small or private concern; it is not the case of a poor printer nor of New York, alone; No! It may, in its consequence, affect every freeman that lives under a British government on the main of America.

What is the right of the press? More than two centuries ago, the immortal English jurist Sir William Blackstone defined press freedom as "in laying no previous restraint upon publication, and not in freedom from censure for criminal matter when published.

Virtually all American presidents have been subjected to scornful and bitter criticism from some segments of the press.

"I deplore the putrid state into which our newspapers have passed, and the malignity, and the mendacious spirit of those who write them ... these ordures are rapidly depraving the public taste".

Based on my own experience, I would certainly concur with this observation by a noted Washington correspondent whose expressions recently appeared in a national business magazine.

In the Texas Panhandle, we are fortunate to have an excellent selection of daily and weekly newspapers doing their best to serve their readers and their communities.

GIVE WOOD FURNITURE PROPER CARE

Too much wax, oil and polish can actually dim the beauty of wood finishes, says Mrs. Wanda Meyer, Extension Service home management specialist at Texas A&M University.

Furniture manufacturers themselves point this out. The best cleaning care, according to the American Walnut Manufacturers Association, is to wash furniture with suds and water.

When all surfaces are thoroughly clean, use any preferred type of finishing wax.

Polishes or waxes applied too often tend to build up a film which reduces the beauty of the original finish.

HERE AND THERE

The faculty of Clarendon Junior College journeyed to Hedley last Tuesday afternoon to participate in the T.S.T.A. meeting. Local officers were elected and ballots were cast for state officers. Mr. Weldon Day, Dean of the college, was elected president of the local group. Mrs. Sue of Delta Kappa Gamma Society,

There is a new musical group on the campus—The "Starfires". The combo is composed of Billy Wilkerson, Graham Bowen, and Doug Mitchell, all of Wellington, Brady Druett of Lakeview who M.C.s the group, and Mike Nabers, a high school junior from Memphis. They have played for dances at Memphis and Clarendon and are available for bookings over the area. We're looking forward to enjoying some good music from the group on the campus.

Mrs. Velma Weaver, speech, art and music instructor, has been quite busy these days. She is the state director of chapter activities of the local group. Mrs. Sue of Delta Kappa Gamma Society, International Organization of Women Teachers. A regional meeting was held in Amarillo last week end for all the local chapters of the twenty-six counties of region nine. Mrs. Weaver presided over the President's Workshop and dinner on Friday evening and over all the general session on Saturday. She has served as chairman of the committee on music in the past and was the recipient of an achievement award at the state level for her outstanding work. A big round of applause for this busy and talented instructor from CJC.

WHEN AND WHERE

The college choir will participate in the Hedley Cotton Festival next week. They are to have a fifteen minute spot on the program on Friday afternoon, October 16, at 2:30. We've been eavesdropping out in the hall during rehearsal and it is our humble opinion that they are very good! There will be 22 voices in the choir at Hedley, under the direction of Mrs. J. Weaver. Mrs. Jessies Adams will be the accompanist.

The Judson Training of the First Baptist Church hosted a "Getting To Know You" hot dog supper at the City Park last Tuesday evening. Guests of honor were college students and their guests, faculty members and their families. Approximately fifty persons attended and enjoyed the evening immensely. Rev. Lawrence, pastor, welcomed the students, urging them to enter into the affairs of the local churches and to find a church home while they were going to college here. Postmaster's Corner Longer post office window hours, expanded delivery services and large scale extension of the ZIP-coded parcel post speedup are planned for Christmas, Postmaster General John A. Gronouski has advised the local postmaster, Mike McCully.

Mr. Gronouski outlined to the Clarendon postal head, three major steps he has taken "for the best Christmas mail service the Postal Service has ever had."

1. Expanded post office window hours Dec. 5 to 26 as deemed necessary by the local postmaster.

2. A six-day week Dec. 7-31 for parcel post deliveries, instead of a five-day week.

3. Completion by Nov. 1 of Phase III of ZIP Code parcel handling at about 130 more "sectional center" post offices (strategically located mail massing points), providing faster delivery up to 24 hours or more for parcels with ZIP Code.

In Phase I and II, approximately 75 offices with receipts of $5 million annually and above activated faster Zip Code sorting and dispatch by Sep. 1. The 130 in Phase III includes offices with receipts of $1 to $5 million.

In addition, many other sectional center offices with smaller receipts will have the program in operation by early December, in time to help speed delivery of Christmas gifts mailed with the ZIP Code. Among the latter group will be the Childress Sectional Center through which the local Post Office dispatches and receives mail, stated Mr. McCully. Mr. McCully further states that he is completely sold on the ZIP Code, and he is looking forward to the real job it is going to do for his patrons.

The Postmaster General told Mr. McCully the Christmas plans are part of a nationwide program to bring postmasters into more responsible positions in postal management as "real partners in providing better mail service at all levels."

SCREWWORMS ON THE MOVE IN TEXAS

Screwworms are on the move again in Texas, says Flip Breedlove, County Agent, and with favorable, moist weather and ranching operations creating conditions ideal for the insect's development and migration, screw-worm eradicators consider few areas of the state completely safe from the threat of outbreaks.

Since last September, when a 53-day screwworm-free period in Texas was ended, infestations have been reported in southern, western and northern sections of the state. How severe a buildup can be expected will depend largely on whether livestock producers use protective measures on their animals and report infestations to eradication headquarters so that emergency treatment can be started. Although the buildup in infestations began several weeks later than during most years—shortening the time screwworms will be a major problem before cold weather limits their activities—damage can still be extensive and control cost high. Outbreaks are treated by concentrated aerial release of sexually sterile flies and spraying of nearby herds—an expensive operation. Dolph Briscoe, Jr. of Uvalde, president of the Southwest Animal Health Research Foundation which cooperates with state and federal agencies in the program, said the current buildup in cases presents a real challenge to the livestock industry. He expressed confidence that producers would not want to take risks that could jeopardize the program's progress, pointing out that Texas has had only about 100 cases this year, compared to many thousands in previous years. Briscoe urged stockmen to take special precautions in handling their animals and to use preventive smears that will protect against infestation. Samples of larvae collected from infested wounds should be sent to eradication headquarters for positive identification. Specimens should be collected from deep within the center of the wound, because larvae and other blowfly larvae (which remain near the surface) may inhabit the same wound. All livestock producers are urged to mail in worms for identification when found in their cattle. If you do not have mailing containers, they can be secured at County Agents office.

LIBRARY NOTES

EDITH BARNES

A memorial gift has been given to the library to be dedicated to the memory of Mr. Pete Kunz.

Leonard Sanders in the "Fort Worth Star-Telegram" has this to say: "In too many current political and national affairs books there seems to be a gross lack of responsibility—an ignorance as to the proper frame of criticism. By such loose writing, creating distrust and national schism, these authors obviously are defeating their avowed purpose. Now is the time for discerning, thoughtful readers."

"... it is time for liberals and conservatives together, at the community level, to start talking about ... issues, to discover how much they agree and how much they disagree; and how much they both have to learn in order to be able to talk accurate, responsible good sense."

A better truer statement was never written but they forgot the most important thing—how are they going to get people to do this; where are those interested enough to try going to find unstated, unprejudiced material to use as a basis for seeing how much each side agrees and disagrees with the other and how much each has to learn to look at the issues with any degree of good sense.

We have books, magazines and newspapers at the library supposedly giving the reader the absolute truth about each candidate and the issues. This unfortunately is not the case. If a liberal is doing the writing every thing comes up roses for his side and there is nothing except bad to be said about the conservative, if the conservative is doing the writing you simply reverse the whole process.

In the long run maybe the best method is to have voted for the same party your folks and their folks voted for and that you have voted for all your voting life, then you will have never had to dig from books etc. for some knowledge that will assure you that at least you have tried to vote "accurately and with a measure of responsible good sense."

I repeat though that there is material in the library for those who are interested be they conservative or liberal.

from County ASCS Committee

EMERGENCY GRAZING AND HAYING PERIOD EXTENDED

The period for emergency grazing on soil bank land @ 1.00 per acre per month, and haying on diverted acres or soil bank land has been extended from October 31, 1964, to December 31, 1964. Some producers have been confused about the diverter acres being released for grazing October 1. This definitely does not release soil bank land. The charge is the same as before and this definitely does not mean that diverted acres can be hayed or harvested without charge. If you have any questions please do not hesitate to discuss them with us.

ACP

We have received another allocation of funds for cost-sharing for 1964. If you have a practice you would like to carry out this year, come by the office and make application.

The per person limit has been raised from $1000 to $1500. This is the amount of cost-shares a producer may earn during 1964. This will also be the per person limit for 1965.

We want our farmers and our county to benefit with sound conservation measures carried out with ACP assistance and hope we can use all of the 1964 allocation allotted to us.

SOIL BANK

We are approximately 75% complete with making soil bank payments. If you are grazing soil bank acreages under the emergency grazing program, your annual payment statement cannot be completed until we know you are no longer grazing.

A THOUGHT

Some people think charity is giving to others—the advice they can't use themselves.

COTTON FARMERS CAN FIGHT PINK BOLL WORM, BOLL WEEVILS

Cotton farmers should begin thinking about accomplishing cultural practices which will reduce or prevent winter carry-over of pink bollworm and boll weevils, says Flip Breedlove, County Agent.

In areas of the state where stalk destruction is recommended, this practice should be carried out immediately after harvest. In Northwest Texas low temperatures generally eliminate the need for fall stalk destruction to reduce pink boll worms. However, overwintering boll weevil populations can be reduced, especially if harvest is completed before frost and there is still green cotton in the area.

Late season infestations of these ravaging pests are developing in some areas of the state, report Weldon Newton and Phillip Hamman, Extension entomologists, Texas A&M University. These "buildups" have been especially noticeable in the Colorado River area and South Central Texas.

Stalk destruction not only reduces pink bollworm and boll weevil populations through mechanical destruction but also destroys feed supplies and breeding places, thereby greatly reducing the number which survive the winter, explain the entomologists.

Early stalk destruction is both economical and effective. Stalk shredders are highly recommended since these machines kill many pink bollworms left in the field after harvest. Rotary-type shredders have been found to kill 80 to 80 per cent of the pink bollworm larvae while flail-types have killed better than 90 per cent. Thus the flail-type shredder should be used if at all possible, says Newton and Hamman.

Furthermore, the residue should be plowed under to a depth of at least six inches within five days after shredding, advise the entomologists.

However, in the Trans-Pecos area stalks should be shredded and left on the surface where they are exposed to sun and warm temperatures. Fall cultural practices should be followed as usual. Land preparation and pre-irrigation should not begin until soil temperatures approach those required for planting. Pre-irrigation at this time will flush out pink bollworm adults and also permit rapid decay of turned-under plant residue which might be harboring pink bollworm larvae, they say.
