School Survey Results Released

Would you be alarmed if, in your local high school, 70% of the students had been involved with alcohol to some extent within the past year? Or 11% with marijuana? How about if 50% of all Junior High school students had an opportunity to take a drink, and did, within the past year?

According to a recent survey taken in Donley County Schools, the above percentages are the exact numbers that represent what may be happening in Donley County schools.

In March, 1989, the Donley County Extension Program Council Executive Committee, along with the Extension Service, sponsored a Drug and Alcohol abuse survey for the 4th through the 12th grades in Clarendon and Hedley Schools. Although it took longer than expected to analyze the survey results, the follow is the results from some of the survey questions.

A total of 382 students were surveyed, with no one grade level having a significant larger percentage of students. In fact, the 9th grade had the highest, 12.6 percent of the total, while the 12th grade had the lowest with 8.9 percent of the total. Females accounted for 53.4 percent of the total number surveyed. The ethnic break down of those surveyed shows 84.2% Anglo, 7.4% Mexican-American, 5.8% Black, and 2.6% other ethnic background.

As we looked at family structure the survey indicated that 76 percent of students lived with both parents. This is a very positive number since research tells us that families with both parents at home are generally more stable.

The survey indicated that 51.2% answered that their friends did not smoke cigarettes, compared to only 37.4% that answered that their friends did not drink alcohol while 87.4% said their friends did not smoke marijuana. You might ask: "What difference does it make what their friends do or don't do?" Again, research shows that youth, for example, are more likely to drink if their friends drink, or not drink if their friends do not drink. The same goes for smoking cigarettes or marijuana. Students also indicated that 89% of their friends do not use any other kinds of drugs, such as cocaine, uppers, downers, or other hard drugs.

The survey conveys that alcohol use is a major problem with youth in the county. The survey asked students, "In the past year, have you used alcohol", and on a county basis, grades 4 - 12, 44.5% answered "YES". Break that down by high school, junior high, and elementary, and the figures look like this: high school - 70%; junior high - 50%; and elementary - 6.2%. This compares with only 23% that said they had smoked cigarettes in the past year, and 6% that said they had smoked marijuana in the past year (11% in high school).

Of course, some students may have had only one drink in the past year while others had several. But the bottom line is that they had an opportunity to drink and did.

In the survey results, 25% of the students said they did not feel comfortable about talking to their parents/guardian about drugs, and 22% answered that it was easier to talk to a new acquaintance after a drink of alcohol. Surprisingly, of those students that said they had used alcohol in the past year, 59% were females. Fifty percent of the students that lived with one parent or neither parent reported use of alcohol in the past year. Of those that said they did smoke cigarettes, 31% skip class; of those that used alcohol, 25% skip class; and of those that smoked marijuana, 50% skip class, which indicated that use of drugs and/or alcohol is very much related to low self-esteem.

The results of the survey were compiled by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service at Texas A & M University. There is no guarantee that the survey is 100 percent accurate, but all indications point to very truthful answers by students, and percentages are closely in line with those of other counties that have used the survey.

Library Acquires New Equipment

The Burton Memorial Library recently acquired a second computer terminal designed to serve the public as an electronic card catalog. The terminal allows a patron to discover holdings within the local library as well as discover titles available at the 20 libraries of the Harrington Users Group—the group of libraries throughout the Panhandle which share a common data-base of titles.

By viewing the terminal screen, a patron discovers which library has a specific book, if the book is available, the call number of the title as well as other bibliographic information necessary for research. If a book is not available locally, the patron may either request the book through interlibrary loan or may use his borrowing privileges at 20 of the member libraries of the Harrington Users Group.

Throughout the Panhandle, over 500,000 separate records of individual titles are stored in the computer which represents over 1,200,000 items available to the patron of the Burton Memorial Library. Locally, the library houses approximately 21,000 items which include books, magazines, records, audio tapes, and VHS video cassettes.

The acquisition of this second computer terminal was made available through a grant received by the Texas Panhandle Library System of which the Burton Memorial Library is a member.

Bryan Rhinehart, a library volunteer, tries out the new computer terminal at the Burton Memorial Library.

The Way We Were

by Naoma Spann

This is the third of a series of articles concerning the Goldston Community. A reunion is being planned for July 15th at the Clarendon Community Center. Residents and friends-past and present-are urged to attend. Registration will begin at 10 a.m. and will be followed with a Pot Luck Luncheon. Drinks, cups, etc. will be furnished by the reunion committee. Everyone is asked to bring a dish or two to be spread community style.

The community of Goldston was probably no "worse-off" nor "better-off" than any of the neighboring communities of Donley County, but the time during the late 20's and the 30's were extremely hard.

The Great Depression was in full swing at that time and great "Black Dusters" shocked and tormented the residents. Sandstorms carried one farm to another, and the meager little farms held little hope of prosperity. The farmers were thankful for a few milk cows, chickens, hogs, and vegetable gardens.

But those hearty pioneer men and women could "bleed blood out of a turnip" and very few people can now say they ever went hungry. The vegetable gardens not only put fresh food on the summer tables, but stored food for the winter. Cellular walls were lined with canned goods, and potatoes, onions and pumpkins were stored there. Plums and grapes, picked from the creek, would be made into juice or jams and jellies. Hogs would be butchered in the fall and would be smoked or salt-treated for winter storage. "Brooder houses" were started early in the spring and the little baby chickens were nurtured until they were frying size. The ladies shared recipes and ideas.

"Grandma" Dilli will long be remembered for the bread recipe she shared. "Grandma" added a delightful spark to the community. She was the mother of Joe Dilli and came from Germany. The treasured recipe can probably still be found in many homes.

Goldston was a community of love and togetherness. One's neighbor's need was another's problem. They pooled their labors-at hog-killing time, in repairing a windmill, or putting out a prairie fire. They rescued the snow-bound and the stranded, and a kind neighbor woman gave many a newborn baby the first swat. The women would spend their winter months piecing quilt tops and during the summer would gather at different homes for quilting parties. It was always a race to see who could finish the most quilts. "Forty-two" and "eighty-four" parties were the entertainment for the older set, and the young men and boys spent much of their free time hunting.

President Franklin D. Roosevelt eased the economy some by innovating the WPA (Worker's Progress Administration). The WPA was jokingly called "We Piddle Around", but the organization did accomplish its mission of providing jobs. The Goldston school house sprouted new toilets with "WPA" written smartly on the back.

Fossil digging also instigated jobs, and the land in and around the Goldston area was an archeologist's dream. An eastern company, managed by Stewart and Margaret Johnson, worked through West Texas State University on this project. The digging crew was composed of R.O. Reynolds-foreman, "Doc" Howard, Edd Mooring, Lloyd Reynolds, Tullis Davis, and Fred Patterson. It is remembered that the remains of a mastodon and a prehistoric horse were among the finds. Artifacts of the Johnson Rig are in the Archives of The Panhandle Plains Historical Museum in Canyon.

The old adage that "adversity builds character" is certainly true of those noble residents who struggled during this era of time in the Goldston community. This heritage should be treasured and remembered. Come and be a part of these remembrances on July 15th.

Fever Treatment Debate

A recent issue of Physician's Weekly carries a report in which two different views are presented on the treatment of fever.

Dr. Jerry Kruse of the Family Practice Department at Southern Illinois University takes the position that a fever often provides useful information in diagnosing and following an illness and, therefore, should not be treated in most cases. He indicates that a fever lowers circulating levels of iron in the body, hampering bacteria from obtaining the nutrients they need to cause or continue an infection. The elevated temperature may also kill heat-sensitive viruses and assist the body's natural infection fighting defenses.

Dr. Paul Mankus of the Medical College of Wisconsin believes that physicians should always try to make their patients as comfortable as possible. According to Dr. Mankus, fever-reducing medicines such as acetaminophen may also help prevent dehydration and avoid fever-related seizures in children.

Whether or not fever-reducing medicines should always be used will probably continue to be debated. Future research will hopefully provide more answers to this important question.

Medical Center News

May is considered to be Nursing Home Month of the Year. We always start the month by having a May Day Party for our residents. Friday, May 5, 1989 - 35 residents, some friends and family members enjoyed their annual party.

The dining room was beautifully decorated with spring colored fringe hanging from the ceiling-blue-green-pink-white, and large honey combed balls.

We wish to thank Mr. & Mrs. Creed Smith, Clarendon; Mr. & Mrs. Weldon Petty, Hedley; and Mr. & Mrs. Bill Cox of Pampa for the wonderful western music, that everyone enjoyed. We all did some singing, hand clapping and patting of our feet.

We wish to Thank Buster and Hazel Campbell, Pat and Jimmy McAnear, Hugh Mahaffey, and Larry White, our administrator for the Grilled Hamburgers. Our special thanks to Debbie Hollan, Bill

Bernard, Onita Sanders, Willard Hudson, and Nell Vitarille for helping to serve the food and feeding some of the residents.

With our hamburgers we had Home Made Ice Cream; vanilla, strawberry, chocolate, and banana nut. Everyone had a wonderful time.

Many thanks to all the employees who cooperated so well and made this party a big success.

Next week we will honor all of our Volunteers. We haven't words to express our Gratitude for all the time and wonderful things that our Volunteers do for our residents.

WOULD-BE BANKERS HAVE BEEN MULTIPLYING LIKE RABBITS.

Don't allow yourself to be misled by apparent similarities. Just because so many others are hopping to include the word "bank" in their names doesn't mean that they are actually bankers. Savings Banks, Thrift Banks, stockbroker "bank" accounts, etc. try to blur the difference between them and real bankers. But they don't always offer you the experience or, sometimes, the security of bankers. In fact, the only place you'll find a banker is The Bank, where your deposits are Federally insured up to $100,000. As for multiplying, our Full Service Bank is always ready and able to offer the newest ideas to help your money reproduce.

Garden Club Forming In Clarendon

An organizational meeting of the Clarendon Garden Club will be held Sunday afternoon, May 21st at 2:00 in the Art Room of the Fine Arts Bldg. at the Clarendon College campus.

The Club is being formed for the expressed reason of helping the city refurbish the City Park by reestablishing the flower beds.

The work and monies spent will also help to meet the city's obligations if its attempts are successful on its application for the Parks Department Grant.

Several short range plans and long range plans will be discussed during the meeting.

Care for the Park's flower beds was taken care of by a garden club during the past and during that time the beds were an attractive and aesthetic asset to the city.

Short range plans include the establishing of several small beds of flowers to begin the project even though the main thrust will take place after the decision of the State Parks Department.

Refurbishing of the Park will take place even if the grants are not forthcoming.

Those who are interested in helping or joining but cannot meet on Sunday can call James Edwards after 5:00 at 874-2574. Both working and supporting memberships will be discussed on Sunday.

Birth Announcement

Shannon and Jesse Thomas would like to announce the arrival of their son, Dustin Lee Thomas, born April 28, 1989. He weighed 7 lbs. 4 oz. 20" long. Proud grandparents are Cal and Carol Thomas, and Mitchell and Mary Martin, all of Clarendon.

Local Economy Growing

According to the State Comptroller's Office, retail economic activity in Donley County is up 8.38% over 1988. The figures are based on sales tax receipts.

Clarendon's retail economy was up by 9.51%. Hedley was down a bit, with a loss of 1.46% compared to the previous period. Howardwick was up by 1.21%.

The local economy appears to be doing as well or better than that of the state as a whole. Texas was up 11%, but that figure is for the entire first quarter of 1989.

The statistics confirm a frequently-heard observation that Kearney appeared busy in March and April. There were few available parking places in front of some buildings. In fact, some merchants are complaining about employees who park in front of the store, making customers have to search for a parking place.

Statewide, the improvement was spotty. Alpine turned in another remarkable performance with a 32% improvement. Several counties in deep East Texas did well. The state's large cities performed about average for the state.

In this region, Dickens showed a -69.57% change. Dimmitt was up 46%. Carson County was up 23.43%. Claude was virtually unchanged. Castro County (Dimmitt) was up 27.8%. Cochran County (Morton) was up 29.31%. Childress--which had slipped badly in the last year-- was up 11%.

Every quarterly report for many months has shown Clarendon with a growing economy.

Country Club News

If you have been missing out on the Country Club, then you just don't know what you're missing!

This last weekend, approximately 100 men participated in a 2-Man Scramble. After a full day of golf, a delicious steak dinner was served to all the participants followed by a great Calcutta. While the men were playing in Clarendon, ten Clarendon lady golfers were playing in Shamrock. Out of the ten, six came in winners! Then Sunday, most of those same ladies were in Childress for a "prison benefit" and some of them were winners! If you have ever thought of learning to play golf, this is the very best time. Eddie Baker is always there to give lessons.

In the Shamrock Partnership, in the Championship Flight, Kelly Hardin and Carrie Howell were 4th. In the 3rd Flight, Cheryl Johnston and Laurie Mooring were 1st, Carol Hinton and Lynette Keel were 3rd, and Sandra Eads and Wanda Nazworth were 4th. In Childress on Sunday, Theresa McClellan and Wanda Nazworth played on the winning team with a 16 under. Wanda Nazworth won closest to the pin on #4 hole. Laurie Mooring and Melona Cummings team shot an 11 under. Judy Bland and Sussie Blackman's team was 7 under. Judy chipped in for an eagle! Congratulations!

The Club's Entertainment Committee has spent hours planning "special" events. They just had their "Spring Fling '89" and Silent Auction to raise money for carpeting. They are planning a Children's pool party in June, a "Shrimp Peel", a big Bar-B-Q Chicken Poolside Picnic and much, much more. Come out to see all the improvements - meet Larry and Rita Presley, the new manager and his wife.

Coming up: May 28th (Sunday at 5:30 p.m.), the EC will have a KRAZY GOLF-KRAZY DAY-KRAZY DINNER. You don't need to know how to play golf-come on out-we promise a great time! The pool will be open, and there will be a summer filled with fun for all ages!

Farm Loan Guarantees

The Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) may guarantee loans made by eligible agricultural lenders to family farmers and ranchers for farm ownership, improvements, and operating purposes.

Guaranteed loans are made and serviced by legally organized private lending institutions, such as commercial banks, Federal land banks, production credit associations, insurance companies, and savings and loan associations. FmHA provides the lender with a guarantee not to exceed 90 percent of any loss of principal and interest on a loan. The use of an FmHA guarantee may enable a private lender to serve, or continue to serve, a farmer who cannot be served on a wholly conventional basis due to risk factors.

All applications for FmHA guaranteed loans are treated with equal consideration, without regard to sex, race, color, religion, handicap, national origin, or marital status.

Individuals, partnerships, joint operators, legal resident aliens, corporations, and cooperatives that do, or will, conduct family-size farming or ranching operations are eligible to borrow. A "family farm" is considered to be one that a family can operate and manage itself. More than a 50-percent interest in corporations, joint operations, partnerships, and cooperatives must be owned by U.S. citizens or legal resident aliens, and the entity must be managed by a U.S. citizen or legal resident alien.

Farm Ownership loan funds can be used to buy, improve, or enlarge farms. Used may include construction, improvement, and repair of farm homes and service buildings; improvement of on-farm water supplies; installation of pollution control or energy conservation measures; refinancing debts; clearing or improving farmland; and establishing or improving forests, providing for production of fish under controlled conditions; and establishing nonagricultural enterprises that help farmers supplement their farm income.

Operating loans can be used to pay for items needed for farm operations, including livestock, poultry, farm and home equipment, feed, seed, fertilizer, fuel, chemicals, hail and other crop insurance, family living expenses, minor building improvements, water system development, hired labor, pollution abatement, and methods of operation to comply with the Occupational Safety and Health Act.

Soil and Water loans can be used to develop, conserve, or make proper use of land and water resources, including development of wells or other sources of water, irrigation systems, drainage improvements, and improvements associated with forestry, fish farming, land protection, or pollution control.

The interest rate on a guaranteed loan is negotiated between lender and borrower. It cannot exceed the rate given the lender's average farmer customers by more than 1 percent.

Terms for repayment vary according to loan purpose and nature of security. Farm ownership and for the drawings. They will be giving away a Zebco 33 reel with graphite rod and several gift certificates good for merchandise or gas. You need not be present to win.

other real estate loans may run up to 40 years. Chattel loans for operating purposes or lines of credit may range from 1 to 7 years and in some cases may be extended for 15 additional years.

Real estate loans (farm ownership and soil and water) have a loan limit of $300,000. Production (chattel) loans have a limit of $400,000.

The guaranteed loan is a lender's loan. The loan is made and serviced to conclusion by the lender. If everything works well and the borrower is able to repay the loan, no taxpayer's money will be used except for administrative expenses. If a loan fails, FmHA will reimburse the lender with Federal funds under terms and conditions specified in the guarantee.

There are two types of guarantee commitments, the Loan Note Guarantee and the Contract of Guarantee. The Loan Note Guarantee is the signed commitment issued by FmHA setting forth the terms and conditions of the guarantee of a fixed loan amount. The Loan Note Guarantee may be used as the instrument of guarantee in all loan programs and is readily marketable by the lender in the secondary market. The Contract of Guarantee is the signed commitment issued by FmHA setting forth the terms and conditions of a revolving line of credit. The Contract of Guarantee (line of credit) is used for specific operating loan (OL) purposes only and may not be sold in the secondary market. Holders (investors) of Loan Note Guarantees are protected by the full faith and credit of the U.S. Government.

Information on procedures by which loans are guaranteed may be obtained by lenders or prospective borrowers from FmHA county offices. Farmers may apply directly to private lenders or make preliminary inquiry through FmHA county offices. Applications ultimately are received and processed by lender institutions, subject to FmHA approval.

Watch Out for Your Wallets-Electric Rates are Rising Again

Electric rates will increase from 20-87% over the next seven years for most Texans. Why? The Public Utility Commission, which is supposed to keep utilities from building unneeded electric plants and passing the cost on to us, has failed to do its job.

What difference does it make? Try the following simple test:

Multiply your current electric bill by 41% and add it to this month's bill, or worse try multiplying your current bill by 87% and add it on to your current bill. If you live in the H.L.&P. or C.P.&L. service areas rate increases of this size are in your future over the next 4-7 years, and rate increases of similar magnitude may loom for the consumers in Texas Utilities' service area. Look at their past performance. They are promising no more than a 20% increase, but remember, they also promised that their $9.1 billion Comanche Peak plant would only cost $700 million.

Why are rates going up? The culprits are a series of unneeded and overbudget power plants that have been completed or which are being built even though alternative ways to produce or save electricity like cogeneration and conservation are abundant in Texas and cost 1/3 to 1/2 as much as completing and operating these big new plants.

We don't need these plant-a recent study has indicated that we would have 23% more power than we need if none of these plants were completed, and plenty of power into the next century. Some utilities have as much as 67% more power than they need.

It's not just your electric bill that will be affected. Think about what an increase of that magnitude will mean to your grocer, or to your local taxing bodies. The price of everything will increase to cover these dramatic electric rate shocks. Such increases in the cost of electricity mean that business and industry have to cut back on labor costs and will have less to invest in new processes. High electric rates will make Texas much less attractive to new industries. According to Public Citizen's 1985 study, entitled Risky Business, 850,000 to 1,250,000 jobs will be lost in Texas over the next 30 years due to the high cost of electricity.

Why has the PUC allowed this to happen? Consumers are simply overwhelmed by the utilities resources. Utilities have the right to hire as many witnesses, experts and lawyers as they want and pass on the bill to you and me. As an example, H.L.&P. has spent over thirty million dollars so far trying to prove that just one plant is needed. Compare that to the PUC's $8 million budget for regulating all electric and telephone utilities, or to the paltry $700,000 the state allocates to its consumer counsel to protect us from all the big utilities.

A coalition of consumer and business groups have been studying this problem for several years. We believe there are four simple steps that can be taken to prevent rate shock from damaging our already fragile economy in Texas.

What can you do?
Contact your legislators and ask them to:

1. Prohibit a utility from billing its customers for generating plants consumers don't need.
2. Keep the utilities from building unneeded and overbudget plants by requiring them to prove every two years or so that their construction plans are still wise, and the plants are still needed.

3. Change the current laws to require utilities to provide power from the cheapest source first.

4. Balance the legal playing field by limiting the amount of legal fees a utility can recover to no more than the annual budget of the Office of Public Counsel.

And finally you can write or call Public Citizen of Texas at 1205 Nueces, Austin, Texas 78701 or 512/477-1155 for more information.

Free Skin Cancer Screening Clinic Coming

The Harrington Cancer Center will co-sponsor a free skin cancer screening clinic Saturday, May 20th from 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. in the downstairs clinic area at the Center. The American Academy of Dermatologists, the Texas Dermatological Society and the American Cancer Society will also participate as co-sponsors in the clinic.

Amarillo and the High Plains region lie in the area of the country where skin cancer is prevalent. Being aware of the effects of sun on human skin makes it possible for a person to learn to control skin cancer by the use of sun screens, covering the exposed parts of the body and staying out of the direct sunlight whenever possible.

Specific populations are more at risk for being skin cancer patients. Heavy sun tanners, farmers and construction workers who spend their days in the sun and those who use tanning booths often show signs of skin cancer. Sun exposure can happen even when the body is covered when the rays of the sun penetrate light-weight or light-colored clothing or the rays are reflected from clothing onto the face even though a person is wearing a hat for protection.

The skin cancer screening, done in a private exam room, covers mole checks in exposed and unexposed areas. Physicians will check any part of the skin for abnormalities. If an abnormality is found, the participant is referred to his or her doctor for additional examination.

The physicians will ask for a family history of skin cancer when they examine a person who participates in the free clinic. They will also check on a history of x-ray treatments for acne or other skin conditions. And they will look for any pigmented spots which have changed size recently, and they will determine each participant's skin type in its ability to tan or burn.

Information on skin cancer will be provided, and registered nurses will be available to teach skin self-examination. Dermatologists will also be present to answer any questions.

For information, call The Harrington Cancer Center at (806) 359-HOPE, or the American Cancer Society at (806) 353-4306.

Greene Backs Are Here

What is a Greene Back? Greene Backs are simply a way for you, the consumer, to receive money back for your investment at Greene Dry Goods! Here is how it works:

For every $20.00 purchase, you receive one Greene Back, with a redemption trade value worth $1.00. During the Spring Clearance Sale, the Greene Backs can be saved toward the purchase of one of the major prizes to be given away at the conclusion of the sale, on June 24, 1989. The customers with the most Greene Backs will be able to purchase these prizes with their Greene Backs.

However, everyone can be a winner! If you are not one of the major prize winners, you can save your Greene Backs, and use them as trade coupons toward any purchase, with a value of $1.00 per Greene Back. These can be saved until December 31, 1989, their expiration date. Therefore, if you do not use them during the summer and fall months, they can even be used toward your Christmas purchases.

To keep this fair, all Greene Backs will be endorsed with the customers name upon receipt of the Greene Back. It will also be initialed by a sales clerk. The sole purpose of this will be to prevent any one person from using other customers Greene Backs to purchase a prize. You must use your own Greene Backs! We want this to be fair for everyone!

The prizes for our winning customers, to be purchased with their Greene Backs, will be enjoyable trips to luxurious vacation spots in the United States. Please come in during the next two weeks for more information on your possible vacation destination!!

DOORPOSTS

Deuteronomy 6:7-9

The Recipe

by Mack Garrison

2 cups flour
 1 cup milk
 1/2 cup shortening
 1 teaspoon salt

"Is this all you add to the bowl?," the little girl asked her mother.

"Yes, dear that's it. Now just put...No! Wait a minute, I almost forgot the 'most important ingredient!'"

"What's that?" the young cook questioned.

"The leavening of course! Why those biscuits wouldn't turn out at all without it."

"What would they be like?" the little girl asked again.

"They would be hard and tough and they would probably run together and become a mess. And not only that, they wouldn't taste very good. They would just be well, bland. Yes, just bland."

This mother was teaching her daughter a very important cooking lesson. Don't leave the leaven out.

Paul tell us in I Cor. 5:6b, "Know ye not that a little leaven leaveneth the whole lump?" Is this not true in all things whether it be biscuits or life?

Many things have been recorded in the Word of God about leaven and it's spiritual meaning. Leaven is often referred to as sin.

But there is another spiritual picture, if you will, of leaven. Jesus talked about leaven in relation to the Kingdom of God. In Matt. 13:33 Jesus spoke this parable to His disciples: "The Kingdom of heaven is like unto leaven, which a woman took and hid in three measures of meal till the whole was leavened."

Notice that Jesus said "three" measures of meal. Usually when a Hebrew woman measured meal for a daily portion she would use a premeasured vase or cup. One measurement almost always meant one days-worth of bread. Three measures of bread would be what a woman would use when preparing a meal for more than just her family. This would be quite a large amount of meal. Also notice that Jesus said the leaven was "hid" in the meal. And from this unseen substance the whole lump would be leavened and rise.

Jesus refers to us in many different ways in His Word. He calls us salt and light. Here He calls us "leaven".

So just think what a little righteous leaven would do for this old sin sick world and nation we live in today? If we were but the power and example that we are supposed to be, then this whole lump of sin would have to feel our presence!

Science tell us that leaven, whether yeast, soda, or baking powder, makes quite a stir in what was formerly a restful, mellow, rotting dough. Isn't this what we should be to this world: a stirring, uplifting, unnerving presence among those who would just as soon we weren't here?

I was once told, "I wish the Lord would just come on back and take you people so you would quit causing so much trouble!"

Leaven! Should we not be leavening the whole lump?

Like the Christian "do gooder" that goes along on a school party unaware that it is going to be a sex and drinking feast. He gets in the way. Why? Because of him? NO! Because of Jesus and his leavening power!

So here's the recipe, world. You bring the lump and we'll bring the leaven!

Dirty '30s

This article was published by the Briscoe County News and was written by Jack Craft. John L. Garner thought it might be of interest to everyone who remembers the depression.

The depression of the 30's left a heritage of mingled memories. The old house with the side rooms, the barns, the sheds and the cow pens are long gone from the old home place. I found an old snuff bottle or two and some red rock from the top of the cistern about where I think our house sat. The hill over to the east was closer than I remembered. I hollered a couple of times and it echoed back just like it did when I was a country boy during the great depression of the early thirties.

They were hard years, but many of the memories are happy ones. Memories of things like snow ice-cream, the smell of shoe polish and ly soap on Sunday morning, town boys spending the night and sleeping on beds in the yard, smoking cedar bark, doing without nice things and not knowing the difference.

About all the real excitement we had in those days was when a cat fell in the cistern or a candle fly got in the lamp globe. We had 18 cats and Daddy milked four old half jersey cows to feed them. The hawks and skunks ate most of our chickens, and about all we lived on was okra, rotten-ended watermelons, cotton-tail rabbits and clabber.

Mama wore tennis shoes and underwear made out of flour sacks. Once she was crawling through a barbed-wire fence and tore her panties right where it said "Light Crust Flour".

If there was any underarm deodorant on the market we didn't know about it, and we had no air conditioners. If we got galled, we would slap a handful of starch wherever it would do the most good and forget it.

In 1933, we all took the itch. Every night we would apply a liberal amount of sulphur and grease to our bodies, slip on a suit of long-handle underwear, and crawl in bed. Scratching kind of broke the monotony and gave us young folks something to giggle about. Daddy never did catch the itch. Mama said it was because he dipped snuff.

When we went to town we would cut off the motor and coast from the hill to the forks of the road to save gas. Once we were in town an hour before we noticed the dead chicken on the running board of the car. We forgot to kick it off on the way.

The only way you could tell a rich man from a poor man, was that the rich man had two cars standing on blocks, instead of one.

The out-door restrooms we had were not very relaxing or comfortable, and not places for deep thinking or long time planning. Usually I was trying to beat a wasp or stomp a centipede to death with a Sears Roebuck catalogue while fighting a cold updraft or 120 degrees of heat.

On winter nights we huddled around a red-hot wood heater, roasting in the front and freezing in the rear. Daddy read Zane Grey books to us by a coal oil lamp. I can remember like it was yesterday when Daddy was out of money for gifts on Christmas Eve He went out in the yard, fired the shotgun, came back in the house and told us Santa Claus had committed suicide.

The chickens roosted in a circle around the top rim of our drinking water barrel and my job every night before going to bed was to go out and turn them all around to where they were facing in.

Yes, I remember the depression.

I can't forget the bad things, like people not having new clothes very often, like some people not having enough food or enough medical care, or enough money to hold things together.

But, I remember good things too, like people coming over to visit on the porch at night, without wondering what they wanted. Like a stranger stopping on the road to help you fix a flat. Like people just pulling together.

The great depression, as bad as it was, had a little good in it. I'm glad I was there then, and I'm glad I'm here now. I just hope I don't catch the itch again.

Long Term Care - A Legislative Priority

"Long Term Care" refers to a broad range of medical, social, and supportive services for persons who need help with daily self-care tasks and who are likely to need this assistance for an extended period of time. Long term care may be delivered in institutions such as nursing homes or facilities for the mentally retarded or in the impaired individual's home. Other settings for long term care might include personal care homes, foster homes, or adult day care centers. "Meals on Wheels," congregate meals, and respite care are other examples of long term care services.

Already a sensitive issue, funding for long term care will become an even greater concern as the nation attempts to cope with the aging of the baby boom. Texas services are not meeting the current demand, much less projected needs in the future. Supportive legislative action is necessary.

For example, federal regulations allow persons with incomes at or below $1062 a month to be eligible for Medical Assistance Only (MAO) so that Medicaid will pay for their nursing home care. Medicaid regulations allow for states to apply limitations, however, and the Texas eligibility cap is far below the federal maximum. Texans with incomes over $707.15 a month are not eligible for MAO in nursing homes.

Eligibility for other long term care services, such as Community Care for the Aged and Disabled, or CCAD, is tied to the Medicaid nursing home cap. CCAD services are designed to prevent or delay institutionalization and financial and functional eligibility requirements are set by the Texas Department of Human Services (TDHS) according to the availability of funds, which in turn depends on state and federal appropriations. Many more community based services could be provided if Texas would designate sufficient matching funds to draw down the necessary federal dollars to the appropriate state agencies.

There is widespread consensus that the eligibility cap for Medicaid in nursing homes should be raised. Senator Chet Edwards has introduced a bill to this effect. However, if the MAO cap is increased without a corresponding change in CCAD eligibility, persons who might otherwise be maintained at home will be more likely to enter nursing homes. Raising the MAO cap unilaterally will reduce the effectiveness of CCAD as an alternative to institutionalization. It will prevent people from exercising their preference to "age in place," which decreases costs while increasing life satisfaction.

Other action pending on the long term care front is the repeal of prior legislation that would have placed liens on the estates of certain Medicaid recipients. This measure has proved so unpopular that numerous bills, S.B. 1, H.B. 201, and H.B. 21 have been filed to revoke it.

Gray Panthers is concerned about quality long-term care and asks your support for legislation that will meet changing needs in Texas. Contact your local representative with your comments, questions, and requests. Gray Panthers networks are operating in Austin, San Antonio, Dallas, El Paso, and Houston. Contact your local network or the Austin office, (512) 458-3738, for more information.

Founded in 1976 in Lubbock, Llano Estacado Winery is one of over two dozen wineries now operating in Texas. In just over ten years, it has grown from a commercial experiment to become a producer of award-winning wines on a national level. The deep, sandy soil, good water, hot days and cool nights of the Texas Panhandle contribute to excellent growing conditions for wine grapes. Complimentary tours and wine tasting are available daily. Life in Clarendon

Some people are fun to know. There's a hay farmer east of Clarendon that is just plain fun to be acquainted with. Now he can tell about "the incident" better than anyone else, but the tale is just to good to wait for him to write it down.

Donley County seems to have a bountiful supply of coyotes. And one of these mangy creatures started swinging by Ronnie's house at odd hours every evening, causing his dog to bark and generally disturbing the peace, sometimes waking the kid and even his wife. But Ronnie couldn't seem to catch the interloper until one night when he had been working late. Old Ronnie was getting ready for bed, and not really thinking about coyotes when all the usual commotion started up.

Now Ronnie knew that old Wiley Coyote wouldn't wait around for the pleasure of being shot at, so he had no choice but to stage a little "come as you are" party. In planning a quick, informal, impromptu reception he forgot that Dixie and baby Amanda were sound asleep, as all good Baptists should be at two- in-the-morning.

Now Ronnie cheated a little bit on the "come-as-you-are" part. He did stop and take time to pull on some boots, and grab a high-speed rifle. Just as he swung open the front door, Old Coyote ran past the butane tank. A few more feet, and the pest would be behind cover, so there was no time to wait. No time for indecision. So Ronnie shouldered his weapon in the middle of the living room floor and squeezed off a shot just above the butane tank. That's when the party started!

Baby Amanda must have had her feelings hurt from not getting an invitation, because she started shrieking. Or maybe the party had just gotten too loud for her taste. Ronnie claims Dixie screamed a bit, too. Mama wasn't quite sure what was happening, but found she had some ambivalent feelings, as well as a question or two hundred.

Now Ronnie isn't one to wait for feminine interrogation, so by the time Dixie reached the living room, he was already checking Coyote's blood pressure. And she discovered that the screen wire in the storm door had been recontoured somewhat--something like a giant funnel--and pulled almost off the door frame.

Now by this point Dixie wasn't in the world's best mood, but what she saw next really topped things off. When she looked out the front door, through the mist and freezing drizzle, she saw her husband poking his gun barrel at a dead coyote. The coyote was in full fur, but Ronnie was wearing his BVD's and his boots.

That's where the story gets a bit confusing. There is conflicting testimony as to what Dixie said just then. Ronnie says he's not sure whether the varmint died from the bullet or from screen-door shrapnel. Dixie says the canine turned around and saw Ronnie out in the rain in his shorts and boots and laughed himself to death.

In any case, that's life in Clarendon.

The information given herein is some of the more important information obtained from the survey, but is not a complete summary of the survey. Donley County Extension committees will continue to evaluate the survey and are already planning ways to address some of the problems related to the survey results. The Extension Service and committees realizes that the survey is only a tool that will serve as a bench mark to understanding where we are and what direction we need to go. The survey has no real answers to the problems of youth in the county we face but does ask some questions which will be addressed in a follow up article.

A special thanks to Clarendon and Hedley school administration and teachers whom without their cooperation this effort would not have been possible.

If you have questions about the survey or would like more information, contact the Donley County Extension Office at 806/874-2141.

Mosquito Control

If you're one of those people who have wasted time and money trying to control mosquitoes after they've reached the flying stage, it's time for you to take a closer look at the situation.

When you think about it, the real source of your mosquito problem isn't the hordes of adult mosquitoes hovering around your patio. It's the standing water where mosquitoes breed around your house and in your neighborhood.

Look carefully at the water in your birdbath or rain gauge. You may see hundreds of "wrigglers," the larval stage of the mosquito. It doesn't hurt to state the obvious. Empty standing water regularly, and you'll keep mosquitoes from reaching adulthood, the stage of their lives when they fly and bite.

Dear Friends:

We live in the greatest part of the United States, the Texas Panhandle. And, regardless of where we went to college - or if we went - each of us can claim West Texas State University as 'our University' because it is the University of this region.

You are aware the Texas Senate passed a resolution authorizing a study of whether West Texas State University should merge with either the University of Texas or Texas A&M systems. Also, there is a House resolution that includes studying a merger with Texas Tech University.

Now 'our University' is undertaking that study, and it is destined to have a dramatic impact on the Texas Panhandle - whatever the findings. An important part of the West Texas State University Regents study is to investigate the pros and cons - reacquaint ourselves with all the wonderful things about West Texas State University, and define what we would like to see happen in the future.

We want to know what you think! Take time to study the enclosed questionnaire, and then check your answers. We welcome your comments. Please return the completed questionnaire to me no later than June 5, 1989.

Thank you so much.
Sincerely yours,
Winfred Moore, chairman

The Solution Is Near at Hand.

Chances are very good that the mosquitoes biting you were born within a few yards of where you were bitten. Watering cans, buckets, clogged roof gutters, saucers under potted plants, old tires and plastic wading pools are just a few of the potential mosquito maternity wards around your home. Even such minute sources as water in vases provide safe places for female mosquitoes to lay their eggs.

Once found, these seemingly harmless water collectors should be emptied, removed or turned upside down. Cut old tires in half or puncture them to let water drain out. Remove standing water as often as possible, since it only takes from 5 to 10 days for a mosquito egg to turn into a hungry adult. (Even then, only the females go looking for blood, to get the protein needed to produce eggs.)

Community Actions. What works in your back yard can also work throughout your neighborhood. You may want to consider lowering the mosquito population over several square blocks by organizing a neighborhood survey of mosquito-breeding sites.

People are always surprised at how many previously unnoticed pools and puddles of standing water, such as water in tree holes, these surveys turn up.

Denying Entry. Keeping mosquitoes out of your house is as simple as closing all the "mosquito doors." Make sure your window and door screens are in good repair. Small holes or tears can be mended with clear caulk. Screens should fit tightly and be inspected once a year. Soft, removable caulk closes gaps around windows, and weather-stripping seals around doors.

If you have an ornamental pond, there are a couple of ways you can enjoy it without contributing to a mosquito population explosion.

The first, most natural way is to add to the pond a few mosquito-eating fish, such as Gambusia or goldfish. Another non-toxic mosquito control that works in both man-made and natural ponds is a parasite called Bacillus thuringiensis israelensis, or BTI for short. BTI is lethal to mosquitoes, but harmless to most other aquatic species. It is commercially available at agricultural supply stores under the names Tecknar, Bactimos, Vectoba and Mosquito Attack. BTI is more expensive than other products, but it is less toxic and more selective, so it damages the environment less.

Repellents are the final line of defense against mosquitoes. The most widely sold repellents contain "Deet" (short for diethyltoluamide), which works well. Whenever possible, apply repellents to your clothing instead of directly onto your skin, to minimize absorption into your body.

If you are chemically sensitive or prefer not to use chemical mosquito repellents, an alternative home remedy might work for you. Pennyroyal, eucalyptus, cedar and citronella oils are the traditional non-chemical choices.

Traveling Texas

One of the most beautiful drives in the nation, El Camino del Rio (the River Road), winds its way over steep mountains and through narrow canyons as it follows the Rio Grande between Lajitas and Presidio in West Texas. The stretch of river adjacent to the road is a favorite with rafters, who can often be seen from one of the many spectacular vantage points along the road such as this one. Tourism Division, TX Dept. of Commerce photo.

Saved from devastation in a Greek shipyard just a few years ago, the tall ship Elissa sails once more after 8-years of restoration by the Galveston Historical Foundation. The 400-ton, square-rigged barque was built in Scotland in 1877 and now serves as a museum of 19th century maritime technology. A fully operational sailing ship, Elissa periodically ventures out on the open seas. She is open daily for tours at her berth in Pier 22 in Galveston. Tourism Division, TX Dept. of Commerce photo.

BUYING GUIDE

Bradward on Classifieds

Here is one of Bradward's grandest secrets. Please tell everybody. You really can turn "straw into gold" with classifieds.

Where? BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES. If you classified can hit the right audience, with the right offer, at the right time, you can win big.

Would you believe a classified could bring an advertiser $10,000 in two days? This one did.

"PARTNER WANTED. I have just obtained the exciting Mrs. America franchise for New York. Already showing extraordinary potential income. My partner could not raise his $10,000. Can you? Call me. Let's talk. (000-0000)". (Thank you, John Caples.)

This ad was pulled after two days because the man had the $10,000 he wanted.

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES is the finest marketplace for ideas and money and people to come together.

What would this advertiser have paid as commission to a money finder? Ten percent? That is $1,000 right off the top!

What did this man budget for his classified? About $110 for a seven time run. Scads cheaper than commissions.

If your business opportunity is worth knowing about, tell everyone in BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES.

Many readers scan BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES for months until they find just the one that makes sense for them.

Write the best ad you can. Tell enough to interest a truly qualified prospect.

Have your ad run several times. Part of the glory of classifieds is you never know which edition will be the one your qualified reader will see.

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES presents new inventions, technology, marketing scenarios, franchises, mergers and acquisitions, partnerships, and fresh business ideas.

Your newspaper has dozens of success stories to share about BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES.

Classified Ads make you money. Use 'em.
