New Farm to Market Road for Hedley

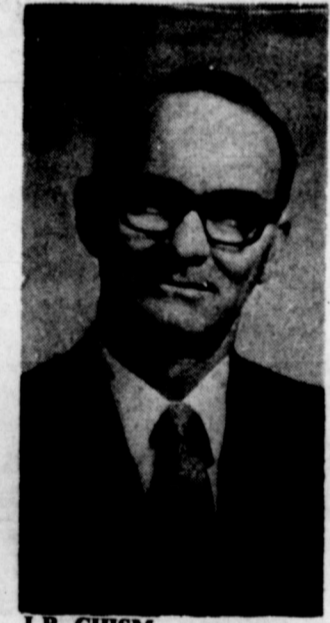

State highway officials have approved construction of a new five mile Farm-to-Market road 4.5 miles north of Hedley.

According to Childress District Engineer Lewis H. White the new road will be constructed on F.M. 2471, from three miles east of F.M. 1755 to F.M. 1932, and continuing on east to the intersection with F.M. 2695.

White said the road would be constructed to regular farm road standards and would be consistent with other farm-to-market roads in the area.

Construction will involve grading, drainage structures, base and surfacing to improve the current narrow dirt road to a paved 20-ft. surface. The location will follow the existing county road.

White indicated that plans were underway and that the work could possibly be let to contract in November of this year.

FRANK THOMASON

Frank Thomason Barber for 48 yrs

Frank Thomason has been a barber, a tonsorial artist of the highest degree, for 48 years. He began his trade at barber school in Amarillo in 1929 and then went to Wellington where he put up his barber pole and left it there ever 32 years.

While Frank was in Wellington, he developed quite a reputation for being a speedy barber. The saying went by men in town that a man could stop at a red light in front of the barber shop and jump out and have a shave before the light could change! One day, Frank gave a shave to a stranger passing through town. when he was done, the man just sat there grinning. Frank wondered if maybe he wanted more than just a shave but the man assured him, he had received more than he bargained for. "I was told by a man in a hotel lobby in Oklahoma City about you and everything about you and everything they said about you is true! You could give me a shave in 2 minutes!"

Frank has a razor he has had with him for around 35 years. It's an old Twin-Hinkle brand razor made in Germany. Frank was able to shave faster than a red light with it all of those years until the 9/16" blade is now worn almost to the back side! Good equipment and skill are what it take to be a good barber.

Frank decided to become a farmer for awhile. He bought a two story house and farm from Chamberlains and decided that farming took more out of him than he was ready to give up. Fourteen years ago, Frank's tractor ran over him and his posthole digger broke his leg. "I was just mighty lucky to get out from under there alive," he said. Before he could recover well enough from that accident to return to barbering his steady customers, a jack fell out from under a truck and he broke both bones in his right arm requiring many stitches. You can't cut hair, much less shave in 2 minutes with a broken arm, so Frank "retired awhile", long enough to recover.

"Hair cuts were 50 cents when I started out, but the depression brought prices down to about 25 cents but that was about 2 years and then they started going back up." Frank said. "Fourteen years ago when I had to quit, I was getting about $1.50 and now I only get $3."

Frank's shop sports several beautiful antiques. One is a mint condition cash register "I have rung up many a dollar in that thing," Frank said. He also has a very old barber shop pedestal type sink and an old chair. "I used to have six chairs," Frank lamented, "and I hauled them off the dump because they were so old and worn out. Then I find out I could've taken them to Amarillo and sold them for $100 a piece! I didn't ever think they were valuable antiques." Frank gets a hold of a good piece of equipment and he doesn't let it go. He had a neck duster that started out about 5' long but Frank wore it down to about 2'.

"It was the nicest, softest brush I ever had," he said regretfully. Franks Barber Shop is located next door to Owens Boots and the theatre. He is open from 7 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday-Friday. Come by for a good old fashioned hair cut.

No-Tillage method increases yield

Bushland, Texas-Growers can make money switching to reduced and no-tillage since labor and fuel are saved and yields are increased. Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and USDA researchers at the Research Center at Bushland have developed reduced tillage methods for several cropping systems.

Using no-tillage in a wheat-to-sorghum sequence increases yield up to 1000 pounds per acre and saves 10 dollars per acre in tillage cost. Less and smaller equipment is required resulting in depreciation savings of another 10 to 15 dollars per acre.

Researchers Paul Unger, Allen Wiese and Jack Musick developed this cropping practice for the Southern High Plains. In this system, atrazine and 2, 4-D at 3 and 1 pound per acre active ingredient are sprayed on standing stubble after wheat harvest to kill weeds and volunteer until sorghum planting next spring. If grass weeds are present after wheat harvest, sweep plowing, applying 1 quart of paraquat or 1.5 pints of Roundup will control the pests.

In cotton country, either Roundup or paraquat must be used instead of 2, 4-D. Care must be taken to avoid damage from drift anywhere. Igran or propazine can be used preemergence or atrazine postemergence to control weeds in sorghum.

Dr. Wyatt Harman, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station Research Economist, says growers stand to gain up to 60 dollars per acre by using the no-tillage system compared to conventional disk tillage. He points to seven years of study by Dr. Unger, USDA Soil Scientist who found that sweep tillage in the fall period from wheat harvest to sorghum planting increased dryland sorghum yield 450 pounds per acre over disking. In the same study, no-tillage increased yields another 600 pounds per acre over sweep tillage. The researchers say similar yield increases could be expected with corn.

Jack Musick, USDA Irrigation Engineer, found the same 1000 pound per acre yield advantage for sorghum that was given two summer irrigations. Musick says "Keeping stubble from an irrigated wheat crop on the soil surface is like a pre-irrigation". "Both add about 2.5 inches of water to the soil profile," he continued. With dryland wheat, less stubble is produced and with a smaller amount of surface mulch, soil water storage is not as good.

Double cropping sorghum after wheat harvest is another no-tillage system that works. Sorghum is seeded directly into standing stubble immediately after wheat harvest. Ron Allen USDA Agricultural Engineer says a straw chopper on the combine is a must because it eliminates poles of straw that plug planters. Allen says a grain drill eill plant the sorghum if there is 5000 pounds per acre of stubble or less on the surface. With higher amounts of straw from wheat that yields more than 50 bushels per acre, planting is easier with disks in front of unit planters. Seed should be about 1 inch deep for fast emergence.

After planting, irrigation will germinate sorghum, wheat volunteer, and weeds. Volunteer and weeds are controlled by spraying 2 pounds per acre of atrazine in an oil-water emulsion spray carrier when the sorghum is 6 inches tall. In five years of research, Allen found sorghum double cropped using no-tillage yielded 500 pounds per acre more than sorghum planted after conventional tillage of disking and rebedding.

Glean, a new herbicide released in 1982, can help growers reduce tillage in continuous wheat or wheat that is going to be fallowed.

Applying the herbicide at 0.66 ounce per acre with paraquat or Roundup will control weeds in the stubble and prevent broadleaf weeds from emerging in the summer. Volunteer wheat is not killed by Glean. Wheat that emerges and has not tilled can be controlled with one pint of paraquat or 0.66 pint of Roundup according to Dr. A.F. Wiese, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station Weed Scientist.

These systems will work under dryland, furrow irrigation or sprinkler irrigation. According to Wiese beds have to be rebuilt about every two crops with furrow irrigation. He says this can be done quickly by shredding stalks or stubble and re-building beds with a disk bedder or sweep rod weeder. Tight soils can be broken up at this time by chiseling anhydrous ammonia into the middles.

The scientists all agree that no or limited-tillage can play a big part in reducing production costs and increasing yields. Conventional disk or sweep tillage dries the soil to six inches. No-tillage will help save soil moisture from recent rains that fell during June. Reggie Jones, a USDA Soil Scientist who studies conservation of soil and water at Bushland says saving an extra inch of soil water is worth 300 to 400 pounds sorghum grain or two to three bushels of wheat on the next crop.

Information and programs of Texas A & M University and USDA are available to all regardless of race, color, national origin, age, sex, or handicap.

Public Notice

Southwestern Bell, in accordance with the rules of the Public Utility Commission of Texas, hereby gives notice of the company's intent to implement a new schedule of telephone rates in Texas, effective July 27, 1982, unless otherwise determined by the Commission.

It is expected that the requested rate schedule will furnish a 13.4 percent increase in the company's intrastate revenues.

A complete copy of the new rate schedule is on file with the Public Utility Commission at Austin, Texas, and with each affected municipality served by Southwestern Bell, and is available for inspection in each of the company's public business offices in Texas. The Commission staff has contended in the past that all rates are subject to change as a result of Southwestern Bell's rate application.

Notice to El Paso Area Customers

Effective January 1, 1982, Southwestern Bell adopted the Mountain States tariffs in effect for El Paso County. Southwestern Bell proposes to merge the separate El Paso tariffs with its tariffs applicable to the rest of Texas. The resulting new rate schedule is on file with the PUC and the El Paso area municipalities served by Southwestern Bell, and is available for inspection at our El Paso business office.

Notice to Customers of Other Telephone Companies

The filing includes, but is not limited to, proposals to increase rates for interexchange private line and foreign exchange (FX) service. Changes in such rates would also affect customers of other telephone companies because such companies provide interexchange private line and foreign exchange service in accordance with rates specified in Southwestern Bell's tariffs. While Southwestern Bell has proposed no increase in long distance rates, any change in those rates would also affect customers of other telephone companies.

Aviso Público

Southwestern Bell, en conformidad a las reglas del Public Utility Commission (Comisión de Servicios Públicos) de Texas, por la presente hace saber su intención de establecer un nuevo arancel para servicio de teléfono en Texas con vigencia a partir del 27 de julio, 1982, a menos que la Comisión haga otra determinación.

Se espera que el nuevo arancel que se ha solicitado rendirá un aumento de 13.4 por ciento en los ingresos intraestatales de la compañía.

Una copia completa del nuevo arancel se ha archivado en las oficinas del Public Utility Commission en Austin, Texas, al igual que en cada municipalidad afectada y servida por Southwestern Bell, y cada una de las oficinas de la compañía para negocios con el público en Texas tiene una copia para lectura pública. En el pasado, la Comisión ha sostenido que toda tarifa está sujeta a cambios que resulten de la manera en la cual Southwestern Bell aplique sus tarifas.

Aviso a Clientes en la Región de El Paso

Con vigencia a partir del 1o de enero de 1982, Southwestern Bell ha adoptado las tarifas de Mountain States efectivas en el condado de El Paso. Southwestern Bell propone unir las tarifas de El Paso con sus otras tarifas que se aplican al resto de Texas. El nuevo arancel que resulta de esta unión se ha archivado en la Comisión de Servicios Públicos (Public Utility Commission), al igual que en las municipalidades de la región de El Paso servidas por Southwestern Bell, y está disponible para inspección pública en nuestras oficinas de El Paso.

Aviso a los Clientes de Otras Compañías de Teléfono

El registro incluye, pero no se limita a, propuestas para aumentar las tarifas para servicio de línea privada entre centrales telefónicas (interexchange private line) y servicio de central telefónica extranjera (foreign exchange FX). Cambios en dichas tarifas de servicio también afectarían a clientes de otras compañías de teléfono porque dichas compañías proveen los servicios ya mencionados en conformidad a tarifas especificadas por Southwestern Bell. Aunque Southwestern Bell no ha propuesto un aumento en las tarifas para larga distancia, cualquier cambio en las mismas también afectarían a los clientes de otras compañías de teléfono.

Basketball, football, and cheerleading trophies won while the ex-students were on these teams were also on display. After two hours of reminiscing and getting "reacquainted," the group disbanded at 11:30 a.m. Later that afternoon, they met for a hamburger cookout in the back yard of Dr. and Mrs. R. L. Gilkey. While visiting and enjoying the "Will Lowe and John Moore Burgers," the group also enjoyed three hours of taped music which was popular in the period from 1968-1972.

Awards were presented as follows: Most Changed Female-Sheliah McAnear Babbitt; Most Changed Male-Mitchell Fedric; Least Changed Female-Pat Hastey Allen; Least Changed Male-Greg Bowling; Most Successful Female-Betty Drom-goole Tyler; Most Successful Male-Will Lowe and John Moore (tie); Youngest Looking Female-Susie Price Shadle; Youngest Looking Male-Randy Hill. Sheliah McAnear Babbitt, Bette Hudson McAnear, Teresa Altman Watson, Vickie Ferguson Annis, and John Moore all have three children each.

Local students to attend seminar

The Texas Farm Bureau Citizenship Seminar for junior and senior high school students will be July 19-23 on the Baylor University campus in Waco.

Planning to attend from Donley County are Lori Robinson, daughter of Don and Maxine Robinson and Gina Spier, daughter of Bill and Darlene Spier. Both students are from Clarendon.

They were chosen to represent Donley County because of their leadership ability, scholastic achievement and character, said Lacy Lee Noble, Donley County Farm Bureau president.

The seminar, which runs for three full days, is designed to give these selected high school students a better understanding of the various forms of government and their responsibilities as citizens. Comparisons of the different kinds of economic systems are outlined in lectures, discussions and films presented by outstanding authorities in government, history, and economics.

Several excellent speakers will be at this year's seminar. They include Dr. Clifton Ganus, president of Harding University, Searcy, Arkansas, who will cover "Understanding and Preserving our American Heritage."

Alex Shekhal, a Russian immigrant who now lives in Waco, will discuss "The Real Russia" as he left it five years ago. Glenn J. Kimber, vice-president of the Freeman Institute in Salt Lake City, Utah, will speak on "Miracle of America."

Dr. Thomas Cunningham, family life specialist from Stillwater, Oklahoma, will speak on "Citizenship and the Family." The topic of Jack Jackson's speech will be "The Price of Free Enterprise." He is an instructor with American Airlines in Fort Worth.

Students attending the citizenship seminar will be eligible to enter the Texas Farm Bureau Young Speakers for Free Enterprise contest.

THE MOTHER EARTH NEWS

BE A BACKYARD BEEKEEPER!

You can grow your own honey, even in the heart of a city, in the suburbs, or on Third Avenue in Smalltown, U.S.A. One MOTHER-reader did, although he lived less than two miles from downtown San Francisco. And if you're lucky, like Gregg was, you might be able to start your hive with a "free for the catching" wild swarm!

Gregg told us how he enlisted the help of a veteran beekeeper/catcher to snag his first springtime cluster of bees. The swarm had settled on a limb that protruded from a hedgerow in the parking lot of a florist's shop. The amateur apiarist set a garbage can under the churning mass of insect life, placed his hive on top of that, grinded his teeth, and—following his instructor's directions—shook the bee-covered branch down hard.

The insects dropped, still clustered, into the hive. Gregg slid the frame (a support which would later hold honeycombs) into place, put on the lid, and the swarm was his! From there it was simply a matter of waiting until the evening of the following day (to allow the bees to get used to their new house and to be sure that they'd all returned from their daytime explorations), then nailing a strip of board over the hive's entrance, and carrying his prize home.

By the time November rolled around, the city bees had provided their keeper with 50 pounds of delicious ambrosia... over and above the winter food supply that was left in the hive for the insects. And, by the following September, after adding some supers to the hive, the urban apiarist had harvested another 100 pounds of golden honey.

Gregg believes that city bees can be even more productive than their country cousins. His hive, which sits on top of a large crate in the back yard, is enclosed by a six-foot-high fence that surrounds the property. Therefore, the honey-makers are protected from overly curious children and animals (and vice versa). Furthermore, since the insects must fly high to clear the fence foraging, they aren't particularly noticeable to next-door neighbors.

Another advantage this city dweller claims to have is the close-range availability of a steady supply of flowers for his bees to work on right up till winter. Country apiarists often have to rely on one main "honey flow" in the spring when crops and fruit trees bloom. But, since many downtown yards are landscaped with season-long ornamental blossoms, shrubs, or trees, Gregg feels his bees have a distinct advantage.

All in all, Gregg has found out that backyard beekeeping is a wonderful (and inexpensive) way to bring a little "country flavor" into big city life! Perhaps you will, too!

25,000 Standing cotton acres

Donley County was hard hit by hail, wind and rain in the past weeks that knocked out thousands of acres of cotton planted. Most of the cotton has been replanted with something. Cotton was the best and most popular choice because the Treflan down would prevent something else from coming up, such as a feed. 2500 acres of maize and several hundred of guar have been planted. Two farmers have put down peanuts as well.

Since the Federal Crop Insurance date is long past, many farmers may not insure their crops unless with private agencies. But with the incredible high cost they have already outlaid to replant, it is not likely farmers will be able to afford insurance.

Most of the wheat is up near the Jericho-Groom area and missed the storm damage. The wheat crop is likely to be good. If we don't get a frost until late November (or next February, as one farmer quipped), the cotton just planted has a good chance of making it.

The 25,000 standing acres of cotton is down considerably from the 46,000 up this time last year. It is expected that Donley County will not be eligible for any disaster funds as a result of Secretary Blocks investigation of the area last week. The ASCS office will announce next week if there should be any news.

August 2nd is the LAST date to certify the new crops being planted now. Mrs. Eads at the ASCS office has recommended that farmers come in at once because it takes about 1½ hours to process a farmer and time is simply running short to certify the new crops.

Someone in the ASCS office remarked that it was the first time they had ever seen a tractor bogged in mud up to the top of its wheels with the sand fighters attached at the same time. That is the statement of weather and field conditions for Donley County.

Veterans Turning To Mobile/ Manufactured Homes - VA Loans UP

By Lisa Drake
Consumer Affairs Advisor
Manufactured Housing Institute

The Veterans Administration reported recently that the $15 million in mobile/manufactured home loans guaranteed by the VA in February this year represents an 18 percent increase over the same month in 1981.

George Alexander of the VA Loan Guaranty Service reports that VA loans for single-section mobile/manufactured homes are averaging $19,000, while the typical multi-section home loan tops $22,000.

"Clearly, the VA is playing an important and expanding role in helping Americans purchase affordable mobile/manufactured housing that they want and need," Alexander said. "The mobile/manufactured home is a vital source of decent, quality housing for veterans, and all homebuyers."

Walter L. Benning, president of the Manufactured Housing Institute, points out that "With less than four percent of potential homebuyers even able to qualify for loans to purchase site-built houses today, more and more people are seriously considering mobile/manufactured housing. In fact," he says, "some experts predict that, by 1990, fully 75 percent of all new housing will be factory-built to some degree."

If all the hamburgers Americans eat each year were stretched out side by side, they could circle the earth four times.

Heat's On

Wherever and however you picnic — lakeside, dockside, on the beach or in the park — you want a fun and delicious meal that's easy to prepare and easy to carry. Here's one just right... an appetizing, out-of-the-ordinary meal that goes along in only four containers!

The key is pita, the popular unleavened pocket bread. Pita is perfect for picnicking: you add the filling right before serving, so the bread is enjoyably crisp and crunchy, not soggy as made-ahead sandwiches can be. Using pita bread, your whole picnic is easy as 1-2-3-4:

One, slice the pita bread in half and store in a compact plastic container.

Two, use a second container to hold the pita filling. Recipes for two delightfully appealing fillings are given below. Chicken Pita Combo features chicken combined with apples, raisins and walnuts. Tuna Pita Mombos wakes up tuna with the taste surprise of Swiss cheese and alfalfa sprouts. Either of these easy-to-make fillings can be whipped up fresh the morning of the picnic or prepared the day before and refrigerated.

Three, in a third container mix Vegetable Medley. This is a lightly seasoned vegetable dish that's also easy to prepare, using fresh or frozen vegetables or even leftovers. Since this is a marinated dish, it's best refrigerated overnight to allow mingling of the flavors.

Four, use a fourth container to carry along Razz-a-ma-jazz, a cool dessert designed to tempt anyone. With the tangy fruit flavors of raspberry gelatin and applesauce, it's a cooling, refreshing outdoor treat.

These recipes have been especially developed for carry-along convenience. Well chilled beforehand, the foods will keep for several hours. Once you arrive at your picnic site, park the containers in a shady spot until you're ready to eat.

LEARNING BAKING SKILLS IS REWARDING

Summertime means kids have extra time for activities to develop their skills. Adult supervision is important with these activities, especially with baking.

The following two recipes will test your kids' baking

It is important to use plastic food containers with tight fitting seals. These are lightweight, easy to carry, and they seal in freshness. Pictured is the Tupperware Quartet Set™, which stacks neatly in its own carrier with handle.

Enjoy an on-the-go pita picnic... easy as 1-2-3-4!

Pierces visit Clarendon

Coy and Mary Pierce flew in from Sunnyvale, California to visit their aunt, Mrs. Glen Adkins and join in the 4th of July festivities. Mrs. Guy Pierce arrived from San Antonio to join in the reunion with her son, daughter-in-law and sister. The group took in the play, Bar-B-Que, parade, fiddlers contest, rodeo and dance. Coy rode Sheriff Jimmy Thompson's horse "Blue" in the parade with his cousin, Doyle Hall. A lot of memories were rekindled when Coy viewed the old jail site, where he was born while his father, Guy Pierce, was Sheriff. Visiting with friends, relatives and eating Alta's good cooking sparked the promise to do it again in 1983.

CONSTANT COMPANION

"Pain" is defined simply as "to hurt" or "to suffer." For the person having pain, it is much more. For the elderly person having arthritis, pain may become a constant companion. Pain at any age may affect our sleep, how we eat, our attitude toward our work, and even our outlook on life. Although pain has served a useful role in many people's lives, it is something that most of us do not wish to endure for any length of time.

Non-drug approaches to relief of pain have met with some success in the elderly. Physical therapy, exercise, and biofeedback are sometimes of value. Headaches and neck pain, for example, are often relieved as one learns to reduce muscle tension through biofeedback techniques.

On the pharmacy shelves are many products used to reduce pain. Undoubtedly, the best known is aspirin...up to twenty-thousand tons consumed each year. Aspirin is effective in mild to moderate pain of both acute and chronic natures and is an ingredient in many combination-type products. Acetaminophen (known better by several trade names) is an effective alternative to aspirin but does not relieve inflammation. Each year new prescription medicines become available to help individuals cope with the constant companion.

Medical Center News

July 3rd we all enjoyed our 4th of July celebration with some music and singing provided by Bud White on guitar, Jimmy Adams on violin, Jerry Chambliss on piano, Wayne Chambliss on guitar and Tammy White and Tandra Phillips singing.

Most all of the residents were able to attend and we thank them for the beautiful program. We were led in the pledge of allegiance by Jerry Chambliss, then residents were served their noon meal.

The meal was graciously provided by the C.L. Morton family and was barbeque from the Shriners. Harlan's Flowers sent beautiful flowers.

All the residents enjoyed playing Picture Bingo. We had cards with several different kinds of pictures from various magazines. As the different objects were called off, they could cover that picture. The first to cover all pictures on the cards was the winner. We played three games. Then all drew numbers and had their fortunes told. Winners were Ann Taylor, Edna Hudson and Gladys Diggs.

CHILDREN SING

Other people that we wish to thank are the children and their leaders from the Methodist Church that came and shared their vacation

Bible school songs with us. Leaders Pat Archuleta and Melody Price brought fourteen children to us. They were: Katrina Leathers, Shannon Mondragon, Robert Skinner, Richard Franklin, Emily Courtney, Jeffrey Henson, Jason Sharer, Athena Bell, Andrea Edwards, Kelly Messingill, Jenny Porter, Shannon Myers, Jason Archuleta and Richard Franklin.

JULY BIRTHDAYS

Mrs. Bertie Speed was born July 5th, 1897 and was 85.

Mrs. C.L. Morton brought a delicious cake, ice cream and punch for her mother's celebration.

The table was covered with a white table cloth and a beautiful flower arrangement that said "Happy 85 Birthday" and a punch bowl with Happy Birthday napkins and cups.

Other July birthdays were: Emma McAlister born July 16, 1884; Ann Taylor, July 18, 1900; Martin Thornberry, July 27, 1914 and Ira Stavenhagen, July 31, 1902.

The Lions Tale

by Gene Alderson
The Clarendon Lions Club held its regular meeting at noon on Tuesday at the Lions Hall. There were 24 members and 2 guests present. Following the meal, Boss Lion Paul Bivens announced that there would be a director's meeting at 6:05 p.m. tonight to make plans for the Lions year which runs from July 1, 1982 to July 1 1983.

Lion Alderson then introduced Ben Clifford who has recently returned from a trip to London, England. This was quite a trip for a young man to undertake on his own, however from listening to his account of his experiences and the point of interest that he saw, it appeared that Ben is well on his way to becoming an accomplished traveler. He is already making plans for his next trip.

Clarendon has 3 in "Texas" cast

Three former Clarendon residents are part of the huge cast and crew that makes the Paul Green outdoor musical such a success.

Lee Stribling, a former Clarendon resident, is the box office manager. His is a fast-paced and arduous job seeing to the requests of thousands of people for reservations.

Don Stribling, another former Clarendonite, sees to the needs of the large nightly audience at the concession. Kim Word, a singer among the many beautiful ladies in the cast. She gets up at the crack of dawn to practice before the show opens and then is there each evening an hour before the show starts and is one of the last to follow the tail lights of cars winding their way up the steep road out of Palo Duro Canyon Park. Kim is the granddaughter of Judge and Mrs. W.R. Christal.

The "TEXAS" Musical Drama opened June 16 of this year and has been drawing large crowds ever since. As of June 19, more than 5500 people have been treated to the spine-tingling sound, light, and pagentry that have made the show famous. Nestled near Canyon in spectacular Palo Duro Canyon State Park, the Pioneer Amphitheatre annually hosts visitors from all of the United States and many foreign countries.

This season is the seventeenth for Paul Green's drama of pioneer farmers and cattlemen, told by eighty singers, actors, and dancers with support from sixty technicians and hospitality personnel.

"TEXAS" will play every night except Sunday through August 21. To get more information about the show, or to reserve tickets, write Box 268, Canyon, Texas 79015 or call 806-655-2181.

Beginning in January, hundreds of applicants auditioned for places in the company, and those selected have been rehearsing since May 23. Several of those chosen have roots in this area.

Daze of Our Lives

by Jean Burchett

Through the years Hubby has had an unrealistic view of our marriage. When he was sixteen he read a story about a guy who weighed 190 pounds and his wife weighed 95. When he came home from work she would meet him at the gate and he would pick her up and carry her in the house. It so happens I weigh 96 pounds and Hubby flaps the scales at 185. "Close enough," Hubby says.

But there the pictures ends. For one thing we've never had a gate. For another I've never been at home to meet him and to think of the neighbors watching as he tries to string me around to get me on his shoulder is out of the question. Nevertheless, he has never let go the idea that we have the perfect marriage and insists we have never argued. "We DISCUSS!" he says heatedly.

Although I have told him his attitude is unhealthy and blow off to him when I feel like it he has never responded in kind leaving me to feel like a nerd. (Whatever that is, the kids say it.) So I almost dropped my teeth the other night when he said, "It's not really fair that you always get to tell your side of the story, never mine. If I could string words together like you can I'd give people an ear full."

I looked up from the book I

DON STRIBLING

LEE STRIBLING

was reading and peered over my glasses. "Have at it," I said. "I'll write it down. What do you have on your mind?"

He wrinkled his nose a time or two, shrugged, and grinned a bit sheepishly. "I was kidding, honey. You know you never bother me."

I sighed, and went back to the mystery in print.

"Except..." he stretched full length on the couch and crossed his ankles, "when you eat. Like tonight at the restaurant. I waited on you to finish until I could have read the current Almanac and three newspapers. And I've never mentioned this... but, well, did you know you chew like a squirrel?"

I squelched the retort that anyone who ate like a horse would naturally notice someone who ate like a squirrel. I laid my book aside, put my elbows on my knees and rested my face in my hands.

"And those little old knee-high stockings you wear—I hate those things. You sort of ball 'em up when you take 'em off and sling the blasted things everywhere. I found one in my adding machine today."

"Oh for crying out..."

Held up his hand for silence. "And you butt in when I talk. Either that, or you don't pay attention. The other night I told you Roy McCoy was predicting snow. There was a long lull and when it hit you I had mouthed something you said from your fog. "Roy McCoy said it might snow!" Now that really kept the conversation going."

"But I—"

"I'm doing the discussing," he waved for order. "During those times I feel I could spit a gold nugget between your feet and you'd look down and say 'uh huh'. Another thing, do you remember the day I installed my new Genie garage door opener? You hopped in the pickup and said, 'Just let me squeeze the button...not drive in.' I KNEW you'd drive in. No. I KNEW you'd TRY to drive in, just like you did by taking the side of the door and one fender. But I LET you."

"You're good," I murmured, choking back a wild desire to laugh.

"I know," he sighed deeply. "There's probably a hundred women in this town who'd love to have me."

"Name ONE," I taunted. "None," he popped up from the couch. "You'd tell it all over the country. That's another thing, you're not long on keeping things to yourself."

"Does that bother you?" I asked seriously.

"Honey," he flipped on the TV. "how many years do I have to tell you? YOU DON'T BOTHER ME!"

Our marriage may not be perfect, but you'll have to admit, it's uh—different.

Fish Tales

By KATIE DVORAK

Fishing hasn't slowed down that much on Greenbelt Lake, according to the fishing reports. Herman Mooring weighed in a 9 1/4 lb. channel cat caught by Richard Ponder from Dumas, a 7 lb. blue cat, and Bill Mooring caught a 5 lb. black bass this past weekend.

6 1/2 lb. black was caught by Maxey Osburne from Amarillo. White bass and a few walleye have also been caught. The walleye are slowing down because of the warmer water temperatures.

There is plenty of bait and it is guaranteed, says Herman. He still has some Shakespear rods and reels, the good quality ones, for sale at a great price. He also got in some new skies, but sold a pair first thing before he could put a proper tag on them.

The bass pond is doing just great. The fish are growing and the Inland Fisheries have treated the pond again for algae.

Now that there are more boats on the lake, remember to observe a few boating safety rules. You should wear a life jacket while the boat is in motion on the lake. You MUST have one in the boat as a matter of state regulations. You should watch swimmers, and downed skiers and not run over them. You are legally responsible for the wake your boat leaves behind. Don't drink too much alcohol in the hot sun because you won't realize the affect it is making on you and your judgement will be impaired should you need quick reflexes.

When fishing, watch before casting so you don't hook a skier. When boating and skiing, don't get near swimmers or fishermen as a matter of both safety and courtesy. Always have a spotter in the boat if you are towing a skier.

Please give the paper a call, or contact Herman at the bait shop with any fish tales you might have to relate. We are interested in Clarendon fishermen, you know!

The ice cream parties are going full blast, one was held at the Country Store the 7th, and promoted by Darlene Ball, Virgil McPherson and cake was made by Eva Hansard and just whoever dropped by the store had free ice cream and cake. Wind-Electric Energy Seminar August 7

Dr. Bui Cooper, Director, Division of Engineering, Technology and Architecture Extension, Oklahoma State University, announced that the fifth Wind Electric Energy Seminar will be presented in Amarillo, August 7 for the convenience of people living in the southwestern and panhandle areas of Oklahoma and Texas. This very popular seminar is designed especially for people interested in the installation of a wind-turbine generator at their home. Dr. Cooper reports that the seminar will be very beneficial in answering such questions as how to select a machine, evaluate costs and benefits, and anticipate and avert potential problems. This will be the last offering of the Wind Electric Seminar this year.

Peter M. Moretti, Professor of Mechanical and Aerospace Engineering and leader of this seminar, has had extensive field experience as a program manager in the US Dept. of Energy. He has also been an energy consultant to both the Solar Energy Research Institute and Rockwell International. Dr. Moretti is also very active in research on alternative energy economics.

Professor Moretti stated that types of turbines, local wind resources, machine performance, television interference, noise, safety, utility hook-up, costs, benefits and incentives will be covered during this one-day seminar.

SELF-CONTROL CAN BE THE SMARTEST THING YOU DO THIS SUMMER...

Self-control can be the smartest thing you do this summer. Sometimes you have to cut down on the things you like, that takes self-control. Self-control is important when you overindulge in too many calories. Or when you over cool your home. It can be tough on your pocketbook if you set your thermostat too low on hot summer days. WTU recommends setting your thermostat at 78 degrees or higher. Clean or replace your air conditioner filter at least once a month so your unit will operate as efficiently as possible.

Stop by your WTU local office today, and pick up your FREE copy of "Make your Home More Energy Efficient" you'll be glad you did. ...
