

Centennial Countdown - Donley County - First 100 years

Charles Rhea was born in Weiser, Idaho, 1897, but was raised on a farm in Hood County, Texas. Visiting his cousin Tillie Anglin he had a few tales to tell concerning this area in the days of Colneal Goodnight. Charles Rhea went one year (1916) to school in Silverton, he lived with his aunt Laura Wallace that year. He then joined the service in WWI, returning home to Hood County where the rest of his family lived.

Charles' father, Charles William (Bill) Rhea, came out to this country in 1870. "I've heard my Dad (Bill Rhea) say 'he was the first foreman that Col. Goodnight ever had.'" My Dad was just hunting a job, and he just went to Goodnight looking for a job. He made about $10.00 a month they were just getting started and Goodnight was just getting with the J. A. people. There wasn't any fences at that time. Dad ran a fencing crew there for awhile. He worked three or four years and he went back to Stephenville County and married my mother and they moved to Idaho in 1881.

"The J. A. was English people that furnished the money and Col. Goodnight furnished the know how. That's how come they were partners. My dad lived at the ranch headquarters as he wasn't married at the time."

"One of the English Lords came out here to visit. Over in England they are used to ordering their servants around like dogs, you know. They brought the Lord out on a stage (coach). The English Lord told one of the cowboys,

"go over there and pick up my grip", and this old cowboy pulled his gun out and said "No so and so is going to talk to me that way". If they hadn't stopped him, this old cowboy would have shot him!"

One other visit of the English nobility to the wild and woolly J. A. ranch ended up in near disaster.

"Dad and one or two of the cow hands went out in the breaks to see some of the cattle; and while there they stumbled onto a skunk, better know to the cow hands as a 'polecat'. The Englishman had never seen an animal of this sort and thought it was about the prettiest kitty he had ever seen. He walked up close to pet it. Mr. polecat let him get within a few feet of him, but as his contacts with the human race had been somewhat limited, decidet he'd got close enough; so the skunk turned around, hoisted his tail and let his Lordship have a full dose of what polecats are famous for! "To say the Englishman was surprised, would be putting it mildly, and after he had wiped some of the perfume off his face with his handkerchief, and could see a little, the Lord was heard to remark, "my, my, my, what an odor!" This was a standing joke among the cowboys for a long time, and any time something offensive bobbed up, they'd use the expression, "my, my, what an odor, what an odor."

Back in the 60's and '70's in the last century there were very few churches, and none at all in the wide open spaces where big cattle ranches were located. So, in the summer months about once a year a travelling preacher would make his rounds, and hold a big arbor meeting on some of the ranches, including the J.A. and Goodnight's. Dad told about one such occurrence on the Goodnight place where the preacher held a meeting of about a week before moving on. He left with a few dollars in his pocket that the congregation made up, and was on his way to another cow camp further up the creek, where, with luck, he might collect a few more bucks.

There was one of the cowpokes there at the ranch who had a small amount of schooling and could read and write something that the majority of the hired hands couldn't do - and he told Dad that that preacher business looked like a pretty good racket, so he thought he'd try. He quit his job with Goodnight, bought him a Bible

Cotton crop looks good

ASCS office has stated that, although there are grasshopper and lice problems working over the crops, the over all view of the area cotton crop is looking in excellent condition. The rain came at a good time to help give the crop the boost they need.

About 7.4 million acres were planted in cotton in Texas this spring, which is more than half of the nation's crop of about 14.2 million acres.

Texas has the potential range of 325 to 350 pounds of lint per acre, with a probable 400 pound mark if needed rain comes and insect damage is limited.

Cotton in the High and Rolling Plains and western areas had good rain in the early planting time and these nice August rains are helping tremendously. Dryland crops have suffered from the unusual dry, hot winds we experienced this summer.

Frank Lyle honored on 101 Birthday

Frank Lyle, born in Georgia where he worked in the cotton fields as a youth, lived in Percell, OK for several years then flew on land destined to remain the "no-man's land" in Oklahoma. After giving it a good try, Frank moved to Amarillo in 1910 to go into business indoors for a change. He and his bride of seven years opened a pool hall in Amarillo, but decided that Clarendon would be a better location. Then a city ordinance was passed prohibiting the running of a pool hall, so the Lyle's moved to Tucumcari, N. Mex. to run another pool hall. However, legal proceedings had succeeded and he had permission to reopen his business in Clarendon. The trip back was quickly made and their business opened in the basement of a building on Kearney. Again city law interfered and Frank was out of business.

Lyle loaded his family into a 7 passenger Buick and headed for California via Oklahoma to say farewell to family. The lure to Clarendon was too strong, and he never made it to California.

This time, his job was to work with Bill Miller as a windmill. Frank and his wife raised four boys and one daughter in Clarendon.

August 1 was a special day this month to Frank; he turned 101 years and is still able to get around on his own, keep himself active and eat his fair share at the dinner table.

A special birthday party was held at the First Christian Church for this special city resident. Those attending were: Scott and Holly Thomas from Sandy, Utah. Kari & Jennifer Hearn, Billy Hearn from Houston. O.D. and Mayrene Hearn from Brownfield. Chester Gregory and Dennis Swinney of Borger.

Charmiare Lyle, Neal Williams, Vickie Purcell, Vela Gregory and Othel Veda Elliott of Gruver. Dolia Hearn of Houston, Mr. and Mrs. W. Bernabe, V.G. Swinney, O.D. Koontz, Dorothy White Hall, Bud and Carmen Wright, Roberta Pittman, Alta Adkins, Pauline Jones, John W. Barley, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Barnes and boys, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Hicks, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Hawkins, Frank White Jr., Lloyd, Jessica, Amy and Heather McCord, Slim Phillips, Della Allen, Athalee Dodson, Opal Borden, Dorris and Chester Gregory, Claude Hearn, Richard Finch, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Elliot and Paula Lowrie

Hightower votes for tax bill

I voted for the Hance-Conable substitute tax bill rather than the Ways and Means Committee bill. I did so only because I thought it was in the best interest of the District. The tax relief plan proposed by President Reagan and passed by the House is clear evidence that the American people are closing ranks behind a bi-partisan program to restore the strength of the economy.

I voted for it only after I had been released from my earlier commitment to support the Ways and Means Committee bill. In exchange for a commitment from the committee's chairman to provide relief for small royalty owners and producers from the oppressive burden of the windfall profits tax not provided in the Hance-Conable bill at that time, I agreed to support the rival bill approved by the House Ways and Means Committee. Subsequently President Reagan amended his proposal to provide essentially the same relief and vastly improve his entire plan.

CCC offers sorghum for sale

Farmers and other interested persons will be eligible to purchase sorghum from the Commodity Credit Corporation starting July 31, 1981.

CCC will offer sorghum for unrestricted use sale at market prices, but not less than the formula price which is 115 percent of the county loan rate for sorghum where stored plus 97 cents per hundredweight carrying charges.

The minimum quantity that will be considered for acceptance is 560 hundredweight.

Offers will be received and sales will be made on a first come, first served basis.

Interested persons should contact the county ASCS Office as soon as possible for further details.

The people of the 13th Congressional District who have contacted me on the two proposals, overwhelmingly favored the President's plan, even though there is great similarity between the two. They believe that it is important to show unity behind the President in solving our severe economic problems. I share this conviction.

It was clear that the public supported the President on this issue. I supported the Administration on this bill. I believe that it is in the best interest of the nation. Many Democrats joined me in this support with a determination to give President Reagan

Great Plains Conservation program 25 years old

August 7, 1981 should be a historic day for farmers, ranchers, soil and water conservation district directors and all of us who depend upon agricultural products for our food and clothing. The date will be the silver anniversary of the Great Plains Conservation Program.

Jim Donaho, District Conservationist, for the U.S. Soil Conservation Service in Clarendon said this week. Just 25 years ago on August 7, 1957, President Eisenhower signed into law the bill authorizing the program.

Donaho said, "It is available to producers in the ten Great Plains states—stretching through the Nation's breadbasket from North Dakota to Texas".

GPCP helps farmers and ranchers solve problems with technical and financial aid based on conservation plans tailored to each farm or ranch.

Grass seeding, terraces, gressed waterways, livestock water facilities, cross-fences and livestock grazing programs are among GPCP practices on which a landowner can receive technical and cost-sharing assistance.

The conservation practices in a GPCP plan are scheduled to be applied over 3 to 10 years. The U.S. Department of Agriculture has assigned leadership of the program to the Soil Conservation Service.

"All problems aren't solved in the Great Plains," Donaho said, "but since the program has been in operation...

What ever you decide, give Wendy or Pat McCombs a call at 874-2861.

ion, wind erosion has not caused the tragic damage of the dust bowl days of the 1930's and the drought of the '50's. The terrible drought of 19810 however, threatened approximately 11 million acres with wind damage, while the disaster didn't happen in 1980, the drought and the resulting threat shows that we can never let our guard down when it comes to protecting our natural resources."

Major benefits have accrued to GPCP participants. Benefits to the region and Nation include reduced dust in the air, improved water quality, wildlife benefits, and a more stable food supply.

Wind erosion continues to be a serious problem, however, throughout the Great Plains states despite many significant gains. The threat of drought and poor weather conditions are constantly with us. The Great Plains Program continues to be needed to battle these problems.

The Cost of Living in the Texas Panhandle decreased by 3.34% in June, an annual rate of 4.0%. This is the largest decrease in the index this year, and offsets a slight May increase. Three of the six monthly surveys this year have shown decreases. In June, rising medical and housing costs were offset by declines in clothing, transportation, utility, and food costs.

Security Federal Savings president Aubrey Steele said, "Including June's decrease, there has been an overall increase in the cost of living of 4.8% since the beginning of 1981. That compares to just over 5% at this time last month. We can trace a major portion of the price relief to lower fuel prices."

Clothing costs decreased 3.11% due to sales on selected undergarments. This is the first monthly decrease since February.

Transportation costs decreased 1.94%, marking the third monthly reduction in a row. Since March, transportation costs have dropped 4.52%. This is due to lower gasoline prices.

Utility costs are down 1.46% this month due to a decline in electrical fuel adjustment charges. Gas and water rates remained constant. Utility costs have risen a total of 2.67% since the first of the year.

Food prices declined 1.4%. Among the major causes was a lower cost of ground beef, leading to a reduction of meat prices of 2.5%. Produce dropped 1.81%, largely due to lettuce and onions. Shelf items cost 0.95% less because of cola (down 15.41%) and sugar (down 7.95%).

Housing costs increased

2.11% for a net rise this year of 6.38%.

Medical costs rose 0.31% in June, the smallest rise all year.

Steele adds, "This survey reflects the local area's relative economic stability. Also, we use a different 'market basket' than the national surveys do, which paints a more accurate picture of conditions here." The Security Federal Savings Cost-of-Living Survey is prepared using 303 Panhandle price indicators.

Planting Acreage Down For Most Texas Crops

AUSTIN--The latest estimates on planted acreage for Texas' major crops indicate farmers cut back on most crops, Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown has reported.

Wheat was the only crop with a significant acreage increase, Brown noted.

According to the June report from the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service, Upland cotton acreage is forecast at 7.4 million acres, a 6 percent decrease from last year.

"Although we have had adequate moisture statewide, we've had too much rain in some spots," Brown said. "So much, in fact, that several harvest and seeding operations were delayed or stopped altogether."

Sorghum acreage is forecast at 4.8 million acres virtually unchanged from 1980, although 8 percent up from preliminary estimates in January.

QUICK QUIZ

Are you a powerhouse when it comes to facts about energy? This quiz can help you tell.

1. Nuclear breeder reactors are run on (a) scarce fossil fuels (b) an otherwise unusable form of uranium (c) rabbits?

2. Breeder reactors cause (a) a great deal (b) an average amount (c) practically no air pollution?

3. Breeder reactors emit (a) more (b) less (c) the same amount of radiation as coal plants?

Answers: 1. (b) The breeder reactor runs on an otherwise unusable form of uranium we have in abundance, already mined, and so can provide America with electricity at stable prices. In addition, it can produce new fuel which can be used in today's light water reactors and other breeders.

2. (c) Breeder reactors have minimal environmental impacts. According to the experts at Westinghouse, breeders emit no sulfur dioxide, nitrogen oxides, carbon monoxide or other air pollutants. Breeder reactors emit less radiation than a similarly-sized coal plant because coal is naturally radioactive.

3. (b) Breeder reactors do not pollute the public interest. How research and technology affect the public interest. Writers who explain misunderstandings of the science of nuclear power are the Consumer Science Center, an industry directorate says the Consumer Science Center.

West Texas Utilities Co.

Research and Development are two of the biggest words in the energy business. Glen D. Churchill, president and chief executive officer of West Texas Utilities Company, declares.

"We're not 'just' interested in new sources of energy, we're 'vitaly' interested," the WTU president said in discussing his company's R&D activities.

Churchill said that when a new, practical source of energy for conversion to electricity, or a new economically feasible method is developed, it will be done by, or at least welcomed by, the investor-owned electric utility industry.

WTU's interest in new energy sources didn't develop overnight, the Company president explained. Long before the perceived fuel crisis developed in the early 1970s, electric companies, including WTU, were seeking the most efficient and least costly methods of producing and distributing energy. WTU, for example, developed its generating system logically by using low-priced West Texas natural gas as boiler fuel for its power plants.

The fuel adjustment provision, though long authorized to allow the utility to pass fuel cost increases to customers, never had to be utilized. Both the customers and WTU were doing well under those conditions.

But the honeymoon ended in the mid-1970' as the fuel crisis began. With gas shortages viewed as inevitable, the Texas Railroad Commission ordered utilities to begin phasing out natural gas as a boiler fuel. The state order was lifted later, but a rule under the federal Fuel Use Act still calls for eliminating gas fired plants by 1990 unless exceptions are made. WTU's current plants apparently qualify for exemptions, but it can build no new gas-fired plants.

Until something better comes along, coal and nuclear are the only options, but nuclear actually is no option for WTU for several reasons. There are no suitable sites in the area, and the cost of an optimum-size plant is out of the question for a company as small as WTU, Churchill said.

Coal, then is the answer for WTU in the foreseeable future. Planning of the company's coal-fired Oklaunion plant near Vernon is complete, and actual construction is slated to start next year.

Fortunately for WTU and its customers, two other members of the Central and South West System will be partners in the huge Oklaunion plant, which would have been too large for WTU to build alone. Under the agreement, WTU will own 350,000 kilowatts of the first 640,000-kilowatt unit, Central Power and Light Company will own 115 and Public Service Company of Oklahoma 175. The fourth CSW company, Southwestern Electric Power Company, will not participate.

Beyond coal, WTU is taking part in a number of studies and research projects aimed at developing new energy sources at feasible costs.

Other major efforts toward improving the overall outlook for future fuel to generate electricity for the Company's wide service area are positive in nature Churchill listed a number of these.

Gasification research in which WTU is involved is being done at the La Palma Power Station in South Texas to produce gas from coal and/or heavy oil in order to use gas-fired boilers without conversion.

Success in this field would be a major gain for WTU since its existing plants are gas-fired. This research is being done in cooperation with other companies which form Central and South West Corporation, the parent firm of WTU.

The Abilene-based firm is involved in geothermal exploration in South Texas and in the Big Bend region. Again it is a joint venture with other CSW companies. A team of professors from the University of Texas at El Paso also are participating in exploration into this unique area of energy research.

Solar experiments are being planned for the Paint Creek Power Station. A proposal has been prepared for Department of Energy to convert one unit of the plant to solar heat through the use of mirrors, storage facilities and other technology already known.

West Texas Utilities is participating in fusion nuclear research through the Texas Atomic Energy Research Foundation and the University of Texas. Because of the tremendous cost of building nuclear plants for the foreseeable future the WTU efforts in that direction will be joint basic research only.

Churchill and his West Texas Utilities team are convinced that they will continue to meet the challenge of the future in providing all of the power needed for home, business and industry in the 52 West Texas counties the company serves.

FACTS & FIGURES

To hold oil imports to 1978's 8.5 million barrels a day means holding domestic conventional oil and gas production at current or higher levels—which will cost about $40 billion per year by 1990.

MOST POPULAR DRUG

The most commonly used drug in America is so familiar to us that we may forget how important and valuable it really is. Those who keep records tell us that we ingest about 20 tons of aspirin every day.

There are four distinct properties of aspirin that render the medicine helpful:

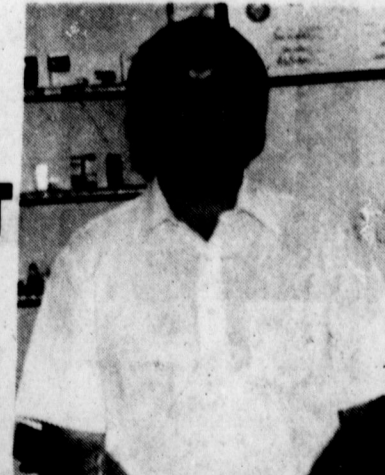

- (1) ANALGESTIC: Aspirin relieves pain produced by headaches, muscle strain, menstrual cramps, and other maladies.
- (2) ANTIPYRETIC: Relief of fever in infants, children, and adults has popularized aspirin as a household remedy.
- (3) ANTIINFLAMMATORY: Because aspirin relieves inflammation, it is considered by many to be the drug of choice in the treatment of degenerative arthritis and rheumatoid arthritis.
- (4) PLATELET CLUMPING INHIBITOR: A relatively new use of aspirin lies in the discovery that one or two aspirin taken daily will prevent the blood's platelets from clumping together and possibly producing heart attacks.

The next time you hear "take two aspirin and call me in the morning" you may better understand why aspirin has become America's most popular drug.

THE MICROWAVE HOTLINE

From the Microwave Cooking Center of Campbell Soup Company

Easy Snacks The Kids Can Cook!

Cooking with a microwave oven is so simple and safe, older kids can create plenty of tasty treats all by themselves.

As with any appliance, it's wise to teach your children the basics of safe operation before letting them use the microwave oven. Gather them together for a mini cooking class in your kitchen and review the fundamentals of microwave cooking. Begin with a "show and tell" demonstration that will familiarize them with all the features and controls of the microwave oven. Then pass along these smart pointers:

1. Always get permission before using the microwave oven, and ask questions if you're not sure about how to use it.
2. Use only the appropriate dishes and utensils. Do not use any metal containers and be sure to remove any forks or spoons before you turn on the microwave oven.
3. Read the recipe carefully and follow it exactly. Check the power setting, cooking time, suggested arrangement of food and special instructions before you begin.

4. Get in the habit of using a potholder when turning a dish or removing food from the microwave oven. Even though a dish may not be hot to the touch, this is a sensible practice to follow.

5. To avoid the possibility of burns, always lift covers on hot dishes with the opening AWAY from you, so the steam can escape safely.

6. Never put non-food items in the microwave and never run it while it's empty.

7. Keep the microwave oven clean. Wipe it off when you're finished cooking.

Give your children an A+ education in microwave cooking, and let them discover for themselves how easy, fast and fun it is to create their own special treats. Here are two simple dishes that are perfect for young chefs. They're from an exciting cookbook, Cooking With Confidence in Your Microwave, by the Microwave Cooking Center of The Campbell Soup Company. To order your copy of the cookbook, send a check or money order for $7.95 for each copy, along with your name, address and zip to: Microwave Cooking, P.O. Box 1408, Maple Plains, MN 55348.

One place that might be good to go to combines the beauty and serenity of the country with all the amenities of a metropolis. It is Milwaukee with 128 parks where you can enjoy boating, skiing, fishing, tobogganing and picnicking, yet usually only minutes away from a comfortable hotel.

Frank and Mary Cannon and Lisa visited Dennis and Lovetta Harrison Friday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Jenkins of Amarillo were supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. W.R. Chaney.

"PIX" for cotton

Use of Pix, a growth regulator, looks promising in cotton this year because of the early wet weather, points out a cotton specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. When applied as the first few white blooms appear, Pix reduced plant height, increases lateral branching, and makes for a more uniform crop that allows for more effective defoliation and harvesting. Past studies have shown that lint yields were equal or higher than untreated plots when adequate moisture was available during the early bloom period. However, using Pix when cotton is under stress can reduce yield.

Mr. and Mrs. George Enness of Dallas spent the weekend with her aunt, Mr. and Mrs. W.R. Chaney and they all went to Amarillo Saturday and had supper with Mr. and Mrs. Dean Chaney.

Frank and Mary Cannon took Jeremy Jones to Amarillo Thursday to meet his mother, Mary Kay Jones of Dalhart. Jeremy spent a week with the Dennis Harrisons and helped with hay hauling.

The Owens family reunion was held this weekend in Clarendon. Mrs. Richard Cannon's brother, Mr. Rufus Pool of El Cajon, CA, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Patterson of Lubbock, Mrs. Vernis Parsons of Hereford, Mrs. Ella Mae Childers of Plainview, Nelda Turner of Lubbock, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Owens of Leota, Kansas, Mr. and Mrs. Spon Owens of Alabama and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis James Owens of Midland and Mr. and Mrs. James Owens of Clarendon.

Everyone had a wonderful time. Frank Cannon brought Mrs. Rufus Pool out to visit awhile with Mr. Harrison Friday. Lots of Memories of our yesterdays.

Mrs. Billie Hicks hosted a baby shower for Janie Griffin Saturday afternoon. Luz Taylor and Bessie Broome were dinner guests of Bud and Carmen Wright Thursday.

Let's Be Thankful

OUR CLEVER CHEMISTS

Americans have a lot for which to thank our good fortune and our good researchers. Some American scientists discovered a collection of chemicals that can keep our food safer, our roads safer, our hospitals safer, and our public buildings safer.

The chemicals are chlorofluorocarbons, also known as CFCs. They are the refrigerants that keep food from spoiling in our homes and in the refrigerated trucks and trains that take farm products to market.

They are the refrigerants found in air-conditioned cars, and studies show that such air conditioning helps keep drivers alert.

Hospitals mix CFCs with the chemicals they use to sterilize medical equipment. Without chlorofluorocarbons, the sterilizing chemicals would be too combustible to handle.

Public buildings are protected from fire by a fire extinguishing gas which is a CFC. The gas is nontoxic, so it can be used where there are still people present. It is particularly useful in libraries, museums, telephone exchanges and government facilities where valuable property would be as damaged by water as by fire.

Local EMT's honored by PEMS

Four Clarendon EMT's were named EMT's of the month for June 1981 by the Panhandle Emergency Medical Services System for their excellence on call on June 20, 1981 when a local man received lower leg injuries in a skiing accident at Greenbelt Lake.

The four are Bill Hodges, Jim Mincey, Edie Robertson, and Delbert Robertson. An account of the incident and the honor were announced in the July PEMS Bulletin.

Each month, PEMS selects the EMT and/or Paramedic who has achieved excellence beyond the normal realm of training, from a list of accounts sent in as nominations. It is their way of bringing particular attention to those persons who devote their time and talent to providing Emergency Medical Services to their communities, people who otherwise would not receive recognition for a job well done.

Congratulations to these EMT's! They are only the second ones to receive this award!

Clarendon Press feels that each and every citizen should be aware of their local laws and ordinances. The Press is not making any statement for or against these ordinances.

To continue with the ordinance to adopt and establish the revised civil and criminal ordinances of the City of Clarendon: The penal code on pages 28-42 of Book I of the Ordinance Book.

Chapter I provides the establishment and duties of the city health physician.

Article 4 of this 1908 chapter provides that the city health physician should treat "sick or wounded on the streets of the city and taken charge of by the police officers, and all persons found within the city who are infected with a contagious or infectious disease and without a place of permanent abode, to remove the same to such quarantine camp or pest house as may be established and give them proper medical attention as long as such attention is necessary; and further, he may employ such guards and nurses as the conditions and numbers of said patients may demand."

Article 5 allows the physician to destroy or remove from the city all "furniture, wearing apparel or bedding or property of any kind whatsoever...suspected of being infected with pestilence..."

Article 7 places the home of a quarantined family under the yellow flag with no one at all under any circumstance to enter or leave that house.

Article 9 calls it a misdemeanor, "and upon conviction shall be fined not less than 5 nor more than 100 dollars" for failure to report a contagious or infectious disease or to take proper measures to disinfect against it.

Article 11 provides a fine of not less than 5 nor more than 100 dollars to be levied upon anyone bringing an infectious person or infected property into town.

Chapter II outlines what is a public nuisance and places penalties upon them.

Article 13 calls anyone who "throws, places or deposits or cause to be thrown, placed or deposited in any alley, street, square, sidewalk or gutter or lot...the carcass of any dead animal or fowl, any putrid or unclean meat of any kind, or any fish, hides, skins, melon rinds, vegetables, or bones of any offal, dung or filth of any kind or any soap, dishwater, waste water, or any unsound or offensive matter of any kind, or any matter liable to become offensive, or shall permit any such matter to remain on or about any premises...he shall be deemed guilty of a nuisance."

Article 14 states no one can allow waste water (if offensive) into the street, alley, sidewalk of gutter or else be considered a nuisance."

Article 16 deems guilty of public nuisance anyone who sweeps "refuse matter of any kind whatsoever" into the street, alley, sidewalk or gutter.

Article 17 deems guilty of public nuisance anyone who keeps their premises in an unhealthy or offensive to others condition.

Article 19 says "That if any person in this city shall keep or cause to be kept, any distillery, tannery, brewery, tallow chandlers', soap boilers', dyers', or other establishment, hotel, eating house, restaurant, boarding house, ordinary drinking saloon, beer saloon, livery stable, or other establishment or premises in such manner as to be unhealthy or offensive, or in such manner as to produce offensive odors, or in such manner as to discharge any foul, nauseous, offensive or unwholesome liquid or substance into any street, alley, lot, gutter, or other adjacent ground, public or private,

Article 25 provides that anyone who leaves any waste water running as that is a public nuisance.

Article 26 provides the penalty for being declared a Public Nuisance; a fine of not less than 5 nor more than 100 dollars, "and each day that such nuisance shall continue, after complaint has been made, shall be deemed to constitute a separate offense."

Chapter III prohibits anyone from interfering with the city scavenger or be guilty of a misdemeanor.

Chapter IV outlines the regulations of maintaining a cesspool or vault unless constructed under the direction of the city and provides a penalty against it.

Chapter V defines vagrancy and provides a penalty of a misdemeanor of not over $25. This chapter was written in 1908.

A vagrant is defined in Article 36 as:

1. "An idle person who lives without any means of support and who makes no exertion to obtain" a job.
2. "Any person who strolls idly about the streets" without a job or home or business.
3. "Any person who strolls to tell fortunes or to exhibit any tricks not licensed by law."
4. "A common prostitute."
5. "A professional gambler."
6. "Any person who goes about to beg alms who is not afflicted or disabled by a physical malady or misfortune."
7. "An habitual drunkard who, being a married man, abandons, neglects or refuses to aid and support his family."

BY KATHY DVORAK
Remember Tuesday when we had that nice rain? No one would guess that that day was FREE day to have been out in a little boat up Styrofoam water wagon fishing! But that is exactly where Stina Cain was, fishing.
Out in the shallow water, yes, shallow water, Stina pulled in several nice sized black bass, four in fact. The total weight of the four fish was 25 pounds!

Being wet and miserable from the rain didn't stop Stina from continuing fishing. At 11:00 a.m., he saw some bass working ahead in the weeds and he paddled over to investigate. On his old, worn for the wear plug, Stina pulled in a giant 8 lb. 4 oz. black bass! Almost beating the record Jerry Mann holds for his 9 pounder

STINA CAIN and four fish total 25 lbs., with the big 8 lb. 4 oz. bass on the right of the string of fish.

Windy Valley School and Community reunion

Windy Valley School and community reunion was held Sunday July 26, 1981, in Lion's Club Building, Clarendon, with 121 friends, neighbors, former teachers and students attending. Registration started at 9 a.m., a pot luck feast was served at 1 p.m. and visiting went on until 5 p.m. After deciding to make the reunion an annual affair following officers were elected: Lacy Noble, President; A.J. Garland, Vice-President; Jimmie Lee Cole Matheson, Secretary-Treasurer.

A brief history of Windy Valley School was given by Clarence Ayers who started there in 1910, when the one room school house was 5 years old, with Mr. U.J. Boston, Clarendon, as the teachers. Community growth brought need for a larger building and in 1914 another room was added. Two more rooms were added in 1923 and this structure served the district needs until consolidation with Lelia Lake in 1939. All students from Windy Valley have attended school in Clarendon since the consolidation of Lelia Lake with Clarendon in 1961. About 1945, the red brick fourroom school house that for 40 years had been the center of community activities was dismantled by Mr. Henry Stogner to become parts of several Clarendon homes.

Special guests, former teachers, were: Jessie Ingram, Amarillo; Zula Logan Culp, Lubbock; Agatha Taylor Darnell, Borger; Vera Brinson Deweese, Elida, NM; Iva Hinkle and Wilma King Batson, Clarendon. Letters of regret were received from Bryan Thomas, Robert Dillard, Eunice Johnson Halbert and Helen Baley Gray.
The Bowling family had most members present, 13. The Skinner and Noble families both had 11 members present, with 5 of the Noble family having attended Windy Valley School. Virgie Skinner Carver, Salton Sea Beach, CA., came greatest distance, a few miles further than Buck Noble, Hotville, CA. Lora Skinner Dunlap had the pleasure of sharing her birthday with a host of relatives and friends.

This special day was enjoyed by all and plans for the 1982 reunion are now being made, date and place to be announced later.

HEATS ON

BY KATHY DVORAK
Since ancient times, the onion has been heralded as a strength-building food that also had healing qualities. Tons of these flavorful bulbs were fed to the pyramid-builders of ancient Egypt.
One cup of chopped onions provides 20% of the adult need for vitamin C with few calories. One medium onion has only 38 calories and contains small amounts of calcium, iron, protein, thiamin and riboflavin. Green onions have only 14 calories per two medium onions and they provide 10% of the daily need for Vitamin C.
The Bermuda is a mild, sweet-tasting bulb, large, flat-shaped and usually golden in color.
Spanish onions are jumbo, globular, and fawn colored. Sweet, juicy and good raw or cooked, they are the most commonly found onion on the market.
Yellow onions are cooking onions. They are golden-yellow colored, round and good to chop or slice.
Red onions or Italian onions are a rich red-to-purple color and add zest to salads.
White onions are silver-skinned. They're best cooked.
Green onions are colorful for adding to salads, toppings, cheese and egg dishes.
Chives are the fine-topped member of the onion family.
Leeks are also mild-tasting best used in soups and stews or raw as a relish.

Shallots are a delicate-tasting cousin of the onion and garlic. Like garlic, the reddish brown skinned bulb is divided into cloves. They offer a subtle, yet tangy taste.

ONION SOUP
Saute thinly sliced onions and add to condensed beef broth, season to taste and heat well. Top with a toasted round of French bread and a liberal sprinkling of parmesan cheese.
FRENCH FRIED ONIONS
Dip sliced rings of a large sweet onion into pancake batter and deep fry until golden brown.
HONEY-GLAZED ONIONS
Boil small white onions until tender, drain. Turn in butter and honey or molasses until well glazed. Goes good with beef roasts.
STUFFED ONIONS
Remove some of the center from large Spanish onions and fill with chopped cooked mushrooms and seasoned bread crumbs. Seasoned chopped spinach or flavored rice also make excellent onion stuffing.
DRY ONIONS
Slice onions very thin or chop them small. Separate each ring and piece of onion. Place on cookie sheets, thinly spaced on sheet so they aren't piled on top of each other. Set oven on warm, prop door open to let moisture escape and dry until onions are dry, crisp but not brown. Turn them over once during drying time. 50 lbs. of onions will dry into 4 quart jars full of dried flakes. What an easy way to store onions!

Look before you reap.

There are many good ways to make your money work for you. And some not so good. So don't leap into anything without taking a long, hard look. Especially if you have no savings in reserve.
And if you don't have enough savings, look into U.S. Savings Bonds. Because Bonds do make sense.
They guarantee the interest. They're guaranteed against loss, fire and theft. And the Payroll Savings Plan is a sure, easy way to guarantee savings. Federal income tax may be deferred and there's no state or local income tax.
A little is set aside each payday for U.S. Savings Bonds. Your savings will grow until you're ready to reap the rewards of regular saving.
Saving is one of the most important financial decisions you'll ever make.

A cumulative investment of $60 to $70 billion is needed for synfuel plants capable of producing a million barrels a day by 1990, say experts at Gulf Oil Corporation. The need for capital is intensified by inflation: drilling rigs, offshore leases, etc., have gone up more rapidly than the Consumer Price Index.
Enhanced recovery techniques designed to squeeze more oil out of older fields have added about 385,000 barrels a day to U.S. oil production.
