30,000 CHICKS ARE HATCHED WEEKLY

Is Your Ego Worth Two-Bits?

When you receive a letter from a clipping bureau telling you that they have an "important" news item concerning you, and for which you can invest 25 cents to satisfy your curiosity, it is likely to be but a small local item clipped from your local paper. This form of racket has sprung up over the nation the past few months and has caused no end of disappointment. Some have mailed the 25 cents and received nothing more than a three line local from their home paper. If you want to see your name in print read often, subscribe to the Leader and get triple your money's worth.

When Hailstorm Hit Palo Duro Canyon - Just 400 Years Ago

An interesting account is given of a hail storm in Palo Duro Canyon in July of 1538 according to historian Castaneda of Coronado's expedition. Here is the description taken from Winship's history, page 506, the original being on file in a Catholic library in Spain:

"While the army was resting in this ravine, a tempest came up with a very high wind and hail, and in a very short space of time a great quantity of hailstones, as large as bowls, or bigger, fell as thick as raindrops, so that in places they covered the ground two or three spans in depth. And one hit the horse, or I should say, there was not a horse that did not break away except two or three which the negroes protected by holding large sea nets over them, with the helmets and shields which all the rest wore; and some of them dash-

WHAT HAS HAPPENED?

The United States contains six per cent of the world's area, and seven per cent of the world's population!

That seven per cent normally consumes 48 per cent of the world's coffee, 58 per cent of its tin, 56 per cent of its rubber, 21 per cent of its sugar, 72 per cent of its silk, 42 per cent of its pig iron, 47 per cent of its copper, and 69 per cent of its crude petroleum.

That seven per cent operates 60 per cent of the world's telephones and telegraphs, owns 80 per cent of its motor cars, grows 60 per cent of its cotton, and produces 70 per cent of its oil.

That seven per cent own half the world's gold.

But that seven per cent, possessing such a giant share of the world's goods, can't keep its own house in order! Those are the figures and that is the indictment of an English economist writing in the Sphere.

His conclusion, uncomfortable as it is, ought to strike home to every American. America has the means and the might to make the wheels of industry turn. America has the cotton, steel, wheat, copper, oil, and man-power to feed, clothe, and house her citizens like the kings of the earth.

America has the power! What has happened to the machine?

THE PRESS SURVIVES.

If all the utterances of the prophets of doom could be compiled into a single volume they would provide some delightfully amusing reading. The extreme pessimist, thank God, is usually wrong. The dreadful dreadful things he sees ahead rarely happen. The hopeless outlook he presents is usually tinged by his own jaundiced disposition.

We recall particularly right now the forecast uttered several years ago by a representative of metropolitan journalism. A dismal future he predicted for newspapers large and small. The radio, he believed, would soon supplant news print and printers ink as the medium to convey knowledge and information to the general public. That was almost 15 years ago.

What he did not visualize was the fact that people are not likely to lose their interest in the printed word. They hear speeches and news comments on the radio but this merely whets their interest for the more detailed and more accurate reports which follow in the press.

It is further to be realized that the printed word alone leaves an accurate record of what has been reported. It can be considered at leisure. It offers no opportunity for a brilliant orator or an excited announcer to convey a distortion in interpretation.

The press, we hold, has lost none of its appeal and influence with changing times. True it may be unable to tell people how to vote. In the heat of a partisan contest over candidates and issues people are disposed to do their own thinking.

But by presenting the facts without fear or favor the press can still exert a profound influence upon the course of public affairs. So long as it adheres to the principles of ethical and honest journalism and keeps abreast of the currents of change in this changing world its place is assured.

We predict that it will go on for years to come and provide its critics with many opportunities to predict its early demise.

Bandits forced a messenger from a large Chicago firm to give up a satchel containing $35,000. But their net "haul" was only $20. The satchel was filled with checks for deposit in the bank. Knowledge may be power, suggests Ima Fizzle, but she can't understand how a prize fighter can make more in five minutes in a ring contest than a college professor can in a college in a lifetime.

Your friends think you are right. Your enemies think you are wrong. You have to prove it to all the others, and that's a mighty big bunch to convince.

I never could stand people who high-hat old friends after they get into the big money class. A few nights ago Kate Smith sang, "There Ain't No Moon." Now what has that big husky puddin'-footed, corn fed country gal done with the moon that "come over the mountain" since her salary has grown to $8,000 a week? Shame on you Kate!

Why, Missus Jones!
When a mule kicked over a nest of duck eggs, Mrs. Willie E. Jones of Sanderville, Ga. quickly mended the cracked shells with adhesive tape, and placed them back in the nest. In due time they hatched, but the ducks had heads shaped like a jackass, supposed to be a birthmark, prenatal or other influence.

Back in our kid days it was the custom to make kids pants out of the discards of the grown-ups. At this time, kids would refuse to wear such hand-me-downs. The pants are merely made into suits for the women folks. Except where the husband is scrawny and the wife built along an elephant streamline.

You Darn 'Tootin'!
"The story is that I plan to resign my office in favor of some one else is branded as a malicious lie and rumor" by Tom Maher, sheriff up at Forest Lake, Minn. In rebuttal, about all that can be said is that Tom is mistaken so far as we are concerned, but his jumping to conclusions has killed several votes down here in Texas where officers are sold, but never "turned over."

'Member way back when the butcher gave away liver? It's a fact. Now that we have learned that liver is the most nourishing portion, liver takes a price seat along with the highest part of the carcass.

History may record as love's most lasting impression, tracks of the lipstick.

'Member back when you were led behind a building and had the dickens whammed out of you for some mere trifle? Of course you do! The only thing to get a licking in the modern family is the ice cream cone or all-day sucker. And they are just as well off for it.

Deadly Recipe
(Oh well, it WAS rather good the first time I read it.)
One stewed prune, one picked peach, one date.

Saturate these well with brandy or gin. Place in the seat of a high-powered car and leave on the road for 30 minutes. Then garnish with broken glass, gravel, splintered wood and serve cold on a stretcher. Also very attractive in light-colored box trimmed with flowers.

If you do not have enough business, advertise. If you have "enough," then you are on the down grade.

FRUSTRATED DREAMS

I've laid my dreams aside. My skies are gray With hopes long unfulfilled. Time runs away To shores I cannot reach, or know, or see. But O the grief, the grief time left with me.

Since dreams have fled, stern duty took their place And how unwelcome, til upon her face There came a smile, and in my heart unsought; Petaled a flower of love, by duty brought.

—Jessica Morehead Young.

A PRAYER FOR COURAGE

God make me brave for life, Oh, braver than this! Let me straighten after pain As a tree straightens after rain, Shining and lovely again.

God make me brave for life, Much braver than this! As the blown grass lifts let me rise From sorrow with quiet eyes Knowing Thy way is wise.

God make me brave—Life brings Such blinding things, Help me to keep my sight, Help me to see aright That out of the dark, comes light.

—Grace Noll Crowell.

"America beautiful lies in the hands of the gardeners."

The gardeners are gladly welcoming the return of spring for the second time this year.

Several large Chinese Elms have shed their dead foliage and are a lacy green again. Two very noticeable ones Monday were at the Charley Murphy home and on the Clampitt lawn. Some of the apple and cherry trees are not only donning their green, but are blooming again. The cherry tree at the Mulkey home is conspicuously beautiful with its many blossoms and tender green leaves.

Numerous shrubs that have been set this year were still dormant when the severe freeze came, so now these are displaying their first leaves. There is a row of maples recently placed around the curb of Mrs. G. W. Antrobus' lawn that are leafing, also several shrubs that she has used in re-landscaping that are unfolding their green buds.

Do not neglect to glance at the gorgeous array of tulips in Mrs. Mollie Gray's back yard. There is a colorful clump of tulips in the Boston yard too, in fact, there are several lawns showing blooming tulips. They did not droop their heads permanently as the majority of the iris after the snow storm.

No lawn or flower garden is complete without its lily pool, bird bath and bird houses. The frogs are eagerly croaking their love calls in the pools this week. Fill your bird baths, for the school children are joyously announcing the return of the orioles, mockingbirds, and scissor tails. The robins have been in town for several weeks, and some members of the gay singing wren family have been inspecting the wren houses that are to let at the Prewitt's and Joe Goldston's lawns. So perhaps that spring is really here to stay.

Mr. and Mrs. John Lynch have gone to Lusk, Wyoming to spend the summer. Lynch alternates in his fossil work, here in winter and north for the summer.

EXOTIC RITUALS

By H. V. Crumley

Sacrificial Prostitution of Virgins
Tyre and Sidon, cities long since destroyed, along with their colony, Carthage, represented a land called Phoenicia. The people that lived here had long since forgotten God and had turned to idol worship. Their two main idol gods were El and Baal. In the worship of these idol, rites were performed that would chill the minds of any person that claimed to be in any degree morally upright. Even the most vile among us to-day would resent any of the rites that were performed in worship of their idols.

These people believed that when they had a crop failure that it was due to the fact that their idol Gods were angry. Nothing, they believed, would quiet the wrath of their gods but the things that were most dear to them. Hence, believing this, the mothers would kill their first born and offer them on the altar which burned with fire. Only male children would be offered in this way. If the first born was a girl, then as soon as it was possible to do so, and as soon as nature would allow, they would force them to open prostitution in their temples. If a maiden was no longer a virgin then she must offer her chastity in the temple. All this was done in hope that the gods anger would soon die, and again they would be allowed to reap a bountiful harvest.

It is no wonder that the eternal Heaven Father sent down upon them from heaven, fire and brimstone that completely destroyed them as well as their cities. If God destroyed those people that followed after brutish passion,

Childress Nips Rally To Oust Hedley Out of Tie For First Place

A 9th inning rally that fell short gave Childress a 6 to 4 win over the Hedley baseball club in Hedley Sunday and nosed the Donley County entrants in the Hall County league out of a tie for first place.

Childress' short stop Williams started the fireworks in the first frame when he scored from second on a bad throw when he stole the bag after singling.

Hedley scored in the second, eighth and ninth innings. In the last of the ninth D. Simms singled for Hedley, Meadows walked and L. Leggett brought them home with a single.

Childress checked the threat with a double play, Williams to Compton, catching Leggett at second and Simms at first.

A NEWS "SCOOP"

The farmer's oldest son went into the offices of the Weekly Bugle to have an obituary inserted: "And what was the date of your father's death? I knew that he had been sick for almost a month but I hadn't heard that he had passed on," said the editor. "Well," replied the youth, "Pa ain't dead yet but he will be dead before morning, and I thought you might get it in this week's paper if you'd put it down now." "Oh, but that won't do at all," replied the editor. "Why, your father may be much better in the morning." "No, he won't though," said the farm boy. "Our doctor says he won't and our doctor knows what he's giving pa."

Finger-tip control of all operations, from the comfortable driver's seat, and automotive steering mean easier driving, time-saving operation. The Oliver Variable Speed Governor Control enables you to use only the fuel needed for the work.

Oliver builds the "70" in two fuel types for maximum fuel economy—the "70" HC with high compression engine for gasoline, and the "70" KD with engine designed for kerosene or distillate. Pick your fuel and your "70". Get modern low-cost tractor power. See us today about a demonstration.

There is Always Worship Fellowship :: Service

With hearts aglow with the glad message of Easter it would seem unnecessary to urge any christian to be in the worship hour of his church the following Lord's day.

However, people are so constituted that they want to relax after a mountain top experience, and as a result, go into the valley. What a fine thing it will be if all will capitalize on the exhilarating experience of last Sunday to reach a higher height in the Christian life. It ought to be done, and we are happy to believe that it will so be. Great Christians are grown by the constant effort. Christian people are to add to their faith virtue; and to virtue knowledge; and to knowledge temperance; and to temperance patience; and to patience godliness; and to godliness brotherly kindness; and to brotherly kindness love. This is the Bible plan of growing in grace. There are few parking places on the road to heaven. People who park usually get off the road.

Regular services at the Baptist Church Sunday. Your presence will greatly stimulate the interest in the service. The church needs you, and we feel that you need the inspiration of the church.

If Electric Service Should Fail...

WEST TEXAS COLUMNIST WRITES AN "AD" ABOUT THE DISCOMFORTS POINTS and PERSONALITIES

by doris pope

(It is through the courtesy of the Hamlin Herald that we are permitted to reprint the following article, written by that paper's able columnist, Doris Pope, which appeared in a recent issue of the Herald. We are deeply indebted to her for so accurately describing the after-effects of this spring's unusual storms.)

Now with everything at our finger tips with just a click of a switch, we are inclined to take too much for granted. However, there are times when we are forced to stop and think what a world it would be without such conveniences—you know, we kinda get a taste of the "good old days" that we hear dad and grand-dad talk about. That's what happened to Hamlin folks Saturday afternoon when the electric current was dead from 2:10 until 5:40.

Low, gray rain clouds made lights almost a necessity in order to carry on business, so when the current went off, the sale of candles increased a thousand per cent. We stayed in the dry goods stores awhile observing the effect of candle lights, and it struck us as rather amusing when people grabbed a bolt of material, a pair of socks or some other merchandise and ran to the front door, holding the article up and squinting, trying to see what color it really was—just like in the "good old days." (Maybe that will account for some of the terrorizing colors people are wearing.)

And the poor kids, how they did miss the Saturday afternoon picture show! It's really a shame that they didn't have some stereoscopic parlor pictures to look at like ma and pa had—back in the "good old days."

We wandered over to two of our beauty shops and found dozens of women and girls draped on the floor, chairs and stools, literally sticking their heads in the fire to dry that new wave set. That reminded us that back in the "good old days" grandma didn't shampoo her hair in the winter or in rainy weather; she just rolled it up on curlers.

We noticed the barber shops also felt the lack of electricity. You know back in the "good old days" they weren't bothered with all those little electric gadgets 'cause grandpa just turned a bowl down on pa's head and started cuttin'. The finishing touches were accomplished with the old blue and white shaving mug and razor.

We stopped in to see how the drug stores were making out with their Frigidaire motors stopped and their candle light. Somehow or other they didn't seem too happy about it. Now we could rave on and on about this, but what's the use? Printing presses were stopped, bank machines halted, in fact, there wasn't a business house in Hamlin that did not feel great lack of electricity. And when the current finally did come on after three and a half hours, people gave whoops and hollers that made the Indians back in the "good old days" look like sissies. Robert Montgomery and Virginia Bruce Co-Star In "The First Hundred Years"

Modern Marital Comedy to Play at Pastime Theatre For Two Days

A new light comedy team makes its debut in "The First Hundred Years," opening Wednesday at the Pastime Theatre, in the persons of Robert Montgomery and Virginia Bruce. Montgomery, who achieved his screen reputation in this type of domestic comedy-drama, comes to the new picture following his work in the highly successful "Live Love and Learn." Miss Bruce is teamed with him for the first time and receives one of her best acting opportunities as the wife who refuses to give up a remunerative career to make a home for her husband.

As Miss Bruce's partner in a New York theatrical agency, Warren William returns to the debonair note he struck in such films as "The Dark Horse" and the Perry Mason stories. Also featured in a hand-picked supporting cast are Binnie Barnes, in the role of a predatory actress with designs on Montgomery; Alan Dinehart, as the lawyer retained by William for Miss Bruce; Harry Davenport, Nydia Westman, E. E. Clive, Torben Meyer, Bodil Rosing and Irving Bacon.

Richard Thorpe, who achieved fame for his direction of "Night Must Fall," in which Montgomery also starred, and who followed with three comedies, "Double Wedding," "Man-Proof" and "Love Is a Headache," directed "The First Hundred Years." Norman Krasna, who produced "Big City" from his own original story, did likewise on this picture.

"The First Hundred Years" is a modern domestic comedy-drama with a New York locale, based on the problems that arise when a wife who has a successful and established career as a New York theatrical agent, cannot bear the thought of relinquishing her independence and her financial and professional background in order to make a home for a husband who earns considerably less money than she.

The entire action takes place in modernistic settings including the wife's impressive office, her apartment, two up-to-the-minute night clubs, the Newark airport, a Superior Court judge's chambers and a New Bedford shipyard.

Sulphur Springs, Texas, April 20.—Gerald C. Mann, Dallas attorney and native of Hopkins County, will open his formal campaign for attorney general with an address before a state-wide rally here Saturday, April 30.

of the rally and homecoming are making arrangements to care for a crowd of more than 25,000.

Reports already indicate that practically every town in East Texas will have representation here as this section of the state honors a noted son. Born and reared in Sulphur Springs and Hopkins county, Mann has gained state and national recognition in many fields of activity. Although this is the first time he has sought an elective office, he has served the people of Texas by appointments as assistant attorney general, Secretary of State, and as Washington representative of the Texas Planning Board. As Secretary of State he wrote and sponsored the present Texas Securities Act that has driven the fraudulent stock broker and racketeer from the state while at Washington with the Planning Board he worked with government agencies on the old age pension plan and obtained many millions of dollars for the state in W.
