Boulter to present Oliver North slide show August 12

Congressman Beau Boulter announced that he will show a copy of the slide presentation given by Lt. Col. Oliver North before the Select Committee on Iran at a public forum in Donley County called to discuss aid to the contras.

The meeting has been scheduled for Wednesday, August 12 in the cafeteria of Clarendon Junior College at 6:00 p.m. in Clarendon. All interested citizens are encouraged to attend.

The 57 slides, used by North to detail the Soviet Threat in Nicaragua, were entered into testimony recently in the Iran-Contra hearings on Capitol Hill although they were not allowed to be shown publicly at the time. Boulter has undertaken an effort to show the slides throughout the 13th Congressional District which he represents.

"I am pleased to present these slides for public viewing to the people of my district," Boulter said, "and am looking forward to an open and frank discussion on the need for America's involvement in Central America."

"Communists in Central America have promised to export their revolution northward through Mexico," Boulter said. "Already the Soviet Union has pumped more than $16 billion into the region and have stationed thousands of Communist military advisers there," he added.

Boulter says that the enormous Soviet infusion into Nicaragua represents a significant threat to the United States' national security especially considering that this action is being undertaken literally "in our own backyard." Clarendon, Congressman Boulter points out, is closer to Communist Nicaragua than it is to Washington, D.C.

The meeting is open to any interested citizen.

Film series at Calvary Baptist Church

Starting this Sunday night, August 16, at 7:00 p.m., the Calvary Baptist Church in Clarendon will be showing the first of a six part film series. The Turn Your Heart Toward Home film series was developed by Dr. James and Shirley Dobson.

The first film which will be shown Sunday night is entitled, A Father Looks Back. This film emphasizes how swiftly time passes and it appeals to parents to "turn their hearts toward home" during the all important child-rearing years.

We must realize that Satan's #1 target today is the home. The Bible says that Satan is a destroyer and he wants to bring heartache and ruin to each marriage and to each family. We need to be on guard for the cause of the family today.

Don't miss this powerful and challenging film series. By seeing these films you will be moved to take action. Your family may be depending on it.

9-1-1 hearings to be held in Clarendon August 20

The 9-1-1 Task Force of the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission will hold a hearing in the Donley County Courthouse, Thursday, August 20, at 4 p.m. Representatives of emergency services and the general public from the southwestern Panhandle are invited to attend the one-hour meeting.

According to Wayne Hughes, Special Projects Coordinator for PRPC, the meetings are being held to determine the level of interest in emergency telephone services for the Texas Panhandle region.

"This is something everyone will have to take ownership in," Hughes said. "Everyone in the region will benefit from having a three-digit number to call in case of emergency. We just want to make sure everyone knows what kind of work has to be done before it can become a reality."

Legislation passed in this session allows councils of government like PRPC to form region-wide emergency communications districts. A provision of the legislation also allows up to fifty cents per month to be added to the private customer's phone bill to finance the system.

"We don't see that to be a major problem," Hughes said. "Who wouldn't be willing to spend six dollars a year to make sure their family has almost immediate access to emergency services?"

The 50-cent surcharge goes into effect in the counties and cities in the region when commissioners' courts and city councils vote to join the communications district. The planning commission staff sees that as an early priority for a Panhandle-wide emergency communications district, if it is approved by the planning commission's board of directors.

The approval could come during the PRPC's annual assembly, Sept. 10, when a representative of the task force reports to the gathering of elected officials from around the 25-county region. The district would have a board of governors made up of phone company representatives, emergency service personnel and private citizens.

"The Panhandle is already in a leadership position where this issue is concerned," Hughes said. "We're finding that a lot of our ideas are already being copied downstate. That's a tribute to elected officials from this region."

During Thursday's hearing, Jay Stanford, executive director of the State Advisory Commission on Intergovernmental Affairs will explain House Bill 911, which made the statewide emergency communication system possible.

The majority of the time will be devoted to hearing oral presentations from those who attend the meeting.

HELP SLOW YOUR ELECTRIC METER DOWN THIS SUMMER.

Set Your Thermostat at 78° or Higher.

The recommended thermostat setting for summer cooling is 78° or higher. Portable fans or ceiling fans can help you feel comfortable at higher thermostat settings. Don't forget to turn fans off when you leave the room.

Tightly Seal Air Leaks in Your Home.

Make sure all cracks around windows, doors, pipes and wiring are tightly sealed with proper caulking and weatherstripping. Also, R-30 insulation in the ceiling, and R-16 insulation in the walls is recommended to adequately insulate your home.

Check Your Filter Regularly.

A dirty filter could keep your air conditioning system from operating as efficiently as possible. Clean permanent filters according to manufacturer's instructions, and replace non-permanent filters.

For more information on how to help slow your electric meter down this summer, call your local WTU office.

Tri-State Fair Entries sought

When you think of a fair, the first thoughts that come to mind are the carnival midway, cotton candy, candied apples and special stage shows and attractions. The fair is composed of all of these ingredients, but probably the more important aspects of a fair involve the events where people match their individual skills, goods and animals against each other for prizes, ribbons and other special awards. The 1987 Amarillo Tri State Fair, scheduled for September 21-26, will offer over $50,000 in awards to winners in the competitive judging events. In addition to the traditional livestock judging, there will be competition between hundreds of people in the areas of art, literary, aquarium, photography, ceramics, 4-H baked goods, vegetables, canned goods, breads, cakes, cookies and

Everywhere we are surrounded by images and advice that tell us: this is in. Lakeview United Methodist celebrate 90th anniversary

During the waning years of the last decade of the nineteenth century many Methodist people were settling in the lower portion of the Panhandle of Texas. Settler, ranchers, and farmers were establishing their homes in the "Cotton Country" of Hall County.

However, Methodists of Hall County are also celebrating One Hundred years of religious leadership this year. "In 1887 the first Methodist congregation was organized as a Church in the County of Hall by the Reverend G.W. Harris, in the dugout of J.H. Lafferty. For sometime the only members were Mr. and Mrs. Lafferty and their daughters, Misses Sarah Lou and Fronia. Mr. Lafferty was a Local Preacher, lived at the time on John Mann Creek in the present Webster Community: "I of which now has become a part of the Lakeview United Methodist Church. Mr. Lafferty was the first pastor of the Lakeview Methodist Episcopal Church, South. The Lakeview Methodist Church was known as Union Hill in 1897 and located about three-fourths of a mile west of its present site in Lakeview.

The first baby to be born in the Lakeview Community was Lola Davenport who's father, Mr. D.H. Davenport donated the land for the town. Mrs. Lola (Davenport) Duval has been an active life long member of the Church.

On Sunday August 23rd will be a special day in Lakeview. Many former members and friends of the Church will be joining together in worship of our Lord Jesus Christ. Special singing will mark part of the worship service, similar to the days of yore when people gathered at the Church for a hymn sing. Hymns lifted the spirit of the people and brought them together in closer fellowship.

Several former Pastors have been invited to take part in the celebration; the Rev. Russell and Elsie McNally, Reverend James Hall and Agness, and Rev. Albert Lindley and his wife Peggy, and the Rev. Rita Richards. They will express their joys of Church life as they remember during their tutelage of the congregation during their pastoral years. In addition to that, former members and friends will relate a vignette of their experiences of Church life as well. A panel discussion will highlight the afternoon celebration.

Following the morning worship the women of the Church will provide a delicious meal for everyone in worship attendance. For Good, "down on the farm home cookin'" one must indulge in the victuals of the culinary art of these Lakeview Homecoming event. If you desire to share in the meal please call or write for a reservation is requested. The Rev. Virgil and Jean Smith are currently serving as pastor in charge at Lakeview.

The Church is planning for the future by continuing its witness to the community in ministry to Christ at home and around the world by its missionary gifts for the cause of Christ our Lord.

About 35,000 people work in the twin towers of the World Trade Center in New York City. Another 80,000 visit on business each day.

TENSION HEADACHE

If you're bothered by headache that seems to have its origin at the base of your skull, you may be suffering from tension headache.

Tension headaches can be caused by an irritation of the nerves in the area of the spine immediately under the skull. These are called the suboccipital nerves. They pass through small openings in the spinal column to muscles in the surrounding area. Any abnormal pressure or dysfunction of neck and muscles can irritate the nerves, causing tension.

The tension doesn't cause the headache. To treat this form of headache, attention should be paid to the bone and muscle structures. They should be returned to normal balance so they can function properly again.

Medication is not the answer to tension headaches. Aspirin and other painkillers may give you temporary relief - but they won't solve the problem. Once the source of the problem is found and treated, THEN you can get the relief you need.

Get garden pesticides out of clothing

When you're dusting the roses or spraying the trees, it's easy to get pesticides on your body as well as the plants. Taking a shower removes the pesticides from you -- but what about your clothes?

"Spills and spray from common garden pesticides contaminate clothing, so it must be specially treated to avoid potential health hazards," says clothing specialist Dr. Ann Beard.

"It's best to change clothes in the garage, if possible, and put contaminated clothes aside before going inside to shower," advises the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service home economist.

"Don't put the clothes in the hamper to wash with the family laundry," she cautions. "Research shows that pesticide residues are transferred from contaminated clothing to other clothing, especially when laundered together."

Pre-washing will help remove pesticide particles from the fabric, advises the specialist. You can pre-wash clothes outdoors by hosing them down or soaking them in a bucket, or bring them inside to machine wash on the pre-wash cycle.

She emphasizes that pre-washing is highly recommended when a wettable powder-type pesticide concentrate spills on clothing, because it clings to clothing fibers. "Pesticide residues from less toxic or dilute pesticides can usually be washed out in one machine washing," said Beard. "However, use both pre-washing and several machine washings on spills from wettable powder or concentrated liquid pesticides."

According to the specialist, how you machine wash the clothes is important too. Washing them in hot water will remove more pesticide than washing in warm or cold temperatures. Cold temperatures in particular, are relatively ineffective in removing pesticides from fibers.

Use either a liquid or powder, heavy-duty detergent containing phosphate carbonate to wash clothes. Laundry additives such as bleach can be added, but they don't help remove the pesticide residues.

Beard also advises using a full water level on your machine, even if you have only one or two contaminated garments. That will allow the water to thoroughly flush the fabric.

The heat from either line-drying or machine-drying will provide further chemical breakdown of pesticide residues, she adds.

"After you've washed the clothes, a pesticide carry-over to other laundry loads is possible," notes the specialist. "Rinse the washing machine with an empty load using hot water and detergent, just as you did the contaminated clothes."

"Exposure to garden pesticides can cause skin rashes, headaches, nausea and a number of other problems," says Beard. "It just makes good sense to adequately wash gardening clothes so these hazards are minimized."

Texas low-level Radioactive Waste Disposal Authority

Because of last minute legislation which was passed during the closing days of the Special Legislative Session, a new state-wide search for a low-level radioactive waste disposal site has been cancelled -- at least for the immediate future. "This legislation is an important step towards locating the disposal facility on the most suitable site available to us," explained Rick Jacobi, General Manager of the Texas Low-Level Radioactive Waste Disposal Authority. The potential site is located approximately 40 miles southeast of El Paso on state-owned land in Hudspeth County.

Senate Bill 62, which was sponsored by Senator Judith Zaffirini (D-Laredo), directs the Authority to give preference to state-owned land in its search for a disposal site, and compels the General Land Office or the University of Texas to transfer the land to the Authority. The General Land Office oversees almost one million acres of state-owned land while the University of Texas oversees more than two million acres. Additionally, the bill provides for stricter controls and safeguards in the operation of the site.

The site selection process is currently being held up by a law suit filed by El Paso County, which borders Hudspeth County to the west. The suit is seeking to prevent the selection of the Hudspeth County site.

"I can't understand the concern of the El Paso County government," Jacobi said. "The site in Hudspeth County will not impact El Paso. It will, however, have some very positive economic benefits on Hudspeth County, including 40 permanent jobs, an annual payroll of almost $2 million, an operating budget of $2.5 million, and grants to the local governments of $400,000 or more annually." The Authority was directed this year by the Legislature to give preference to local businesses for equipment and supplies and to hire from the local communities to fill positions at the site.

The Hudspeth County site was selected because it meets the federal and state criteria for siting a low-level radioactive waste disposal facility, including groundwater that is more than 500 feet deep, excellent soil conditions, small annual rainfall and sparse population.

Last June, the Authority announced plans to begin a new state-wide site search after the Texas General Land Office chose not to transfer the Hudspeth County site to the Authority for use as a disposal facility. Attempts to pass legislation directing transfer of the site died in the closing hours of the 70th Legislative Session when Senator Tati Santiesteban (D-El Paso) threatened a filibuster against the bill.

The enabling legislation subsequently passed in the Special Session will help the state avoid millions of dollars in penalties which could be imposed if the state misses federally-set deadlines. "Each state has been directed to operate its own low-level disposal facility by Jan. 1, 1993," Jacobi explained. "Failure to meet this deadline could cost the state as much as $35 million in penalties."

Low-level radioactive waste is produced by hospitals, universities, oil field service operations, and nuclear power plants. Texas will produce more than 30,000 cubic feet of these wastes this year. By 1992, the volume is predicted to increase to almost 100,000 cubic feet per year. If the supercolliding super conductor is built near Dallas, an additional 30,000 cubic feet would be produced each year in the state.

"Only low-level radioactive waste will be disposed of at the site," Jacobi explained. "This waste is composed of ordinary items such as gloves, metal products, coveralls, resins, tools, and paper which have come in contact with radioactive materials. Low-level radioactive waste does not include spent nuclear fuel or high-level radioactive waste products from fuel reprocessing plants."

Senior citizen discount hearing aid catalog announced

The publication of a new Senior Citizen Discount Hearing Aid Catalog has been announced by American Health Service. American Health Service is an organization serving the hearing needs of the American public through the sale of brand name hearing aids at substantial savings direct by mail. They specialize in the sale of replacement hearing aids to existing hearing aid users and focus their attention to senior citizen groups, clubs, organizations, associations, and individuals according to Mrs. Irene Galletto, Supervisor of Customer Service for American Health Service.

Unfortunately hearing aids do not last forever. In fact, according to "Facts About Hearing Aids" published by the Council of Better Business Bureaus, Inc., Washington, D.C. 20036, "it is estimated that the average life of a hearing aid in daily use is about three years." Mrs. Galletto noted that the catalog contains many models of hearing aids made by leading manufacturers and that when buying a replacement aid direct through American Health Service savings can amount to as much as 60% compared to retail prices.

With the limited income of most senior citizens, and the spiraling inflation in today's economy, this catalog can bring welcome relief to senior citizens on a limited budget and in need of a new hearing aid. If you wear a hearing aid, or know someone who does, you can send for a free copy of the catalog by writing to American Health Catalog, 1413 Golf Road, Waukegan, IL 60087.

Bee Stings

During the summer months, hundreds of North Americans will be stung by bees, wasps, and other stinging insects. For most persons, the consequences of a sting will be painful but uneventful. But for individuals allergic to bee venom, a single sting can impair health and even result in death. Systemic reactions can include a sudden drop in blood pressure, breathing spasms, and a shock-like state.

Persons who are allergic to the venom of stinging insects should consider the following:

- * Ask a physician about immunization against bee stings with a commercial extract of venom made from insects in the hymenoptera family.
- * Ask a physician about a prescription-only emergency kit that contains an injectable medicine (epinephrine) and an antihistamine that helps one cope with allergic reactions.

- * Some authorities suggest avoiding sweet-smelling perfumes and also avoid wearing bright-colored clothing.
- * Avoid areas where stinging insects are likely to be present (e.g., barns and flower gardens).

PAYING THE PRICE

Some years ago a bridge was built over a great river in one of the western states. It was decided that once it was officially open to the public, a $1,000 prize, along with several other gifts, would be given to the 100th car to drive across the new span.

A crowd had gathered, and excitement was high. At last, the car that would be number 100 was seen in the distance. The crowd began to cheer as the car approached the other end of the bridge. But then something happened. The car came to a halt, paused a moment and then made a U-turn in the middle of the road. It began heading back in the other direction.

A police car raced after the car. Once apprehended, the driver was asked why he turned around. "Oh," said he, "when I saw the sign about a $1.00 toll, I decided I didn't want to pay the price." Little did he know what that small price could have gained for him!

Many folks lose out spiritually because what God asks of them looks like too high a price to pay. Oh, but what they might receive in return for the small price God asks for them!

"Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither have entered into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for them that love him" (1 Cor. 2:9). You'll never know what you're missing when you won't pay the price!

City Minutes

The Board of Aldermen of the City of Clarendon met in regular session on July 28, 1987, in the Board Room, City Hall at 7:00 p.m.

Members present were Mayor David Davidson, Aldermen Lloyd McCord, Benny Osburn, and Gene White.

Members absent were Aldermen James Thomas and Steve Smith.

Others present were City Secretary Donna Edwards, Lanny Edwards and Bob Cowan.

Minutes of the July 15, 1987 meeting were read and approved.

Motion was made and carried to sell the City's 1975 Ford Packer trash truck to Mr. Bob Cowan and Mr. Lanny Edwards for $800.00.

Upon lengthy discussion of the motel bed tax an ordinance was drawn up for the City to levy a 7% motel bed tax.

Mayor Davidson presented his objections to resolution voted on at the July 15, 1987, meeting. These objections were received by the City Secretary July 16, 1987, in writing as prescribed by law and thereby vetoed the resolution as passed. The objections are as follows:

1. Cablevision of Texas did not refer to the correct city ordinance in their resolution concerning their franchise term.

2. The City ordinance must be amended in order to change the franchise term of Cablevision of Texas.

3. It is not in the best interest of the City of Clarendon to change the franchise term from five to fifteen years without charging an additional three percent (for a total of five percent) franchise fee.

After further discussion of the issue Ordinance #186 was amended to extend the franchise agreement to 15 years and to increase the franchise tax to 7%.

There being no further City business at this time the meeting was adjourned.

THANK YOU

We would like to thank each of you for your prayers, food, calls, visits and flowers since I broke my hip. Everyone has been so wonderful. God bless each of you.

TCTA praises Governor

Leaders of the Texas Classroom Teachers Association have commended the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Speaker of the House and Texas Legislature for keeping education funds intact at least for the next biennium.

"In spite of an 11th hour attempt to cut deeply into education funding, and thanks to pressure applied by TCTA members, teachers' salaries, the career ladder, prekindergarten and kindergarten, and the class size 22:1 ratio will all be fully funded during the next two years," TCTA President Wendell Whittenburg said.

The TCTA President commended Governor Bill Clements for "signing into law the largest tax bill in the history of the nation and keeping his promise that 'schools will open September 1.' By signing the bill, education survived the budget ax," Whittenburg said.

The TCTA President said the Legislature's and Governor's decision to preserve education funding would insure that reform would continue. "Efforts to improve our school has just started and not ended. What has occurred as a result of House Bill 72, passed in 1984, was just a down payment on a long term process. We can't lower our expectation for school reform and neither should we lower our commitment to it."

TCTA is an organization representing 25,000 members with headquarters in Austin. The group is holding its annual Leadership Conference in
