Hedley school helps parents with social security numbers for children

Hedley Schools will be working with the Social Security Administration to aid parents in securing Social Security numbers for their children. The Tax Reform Act of 1986 requires taxpayers to show the Social Security number of each dependent age 5 or older that is listed on the tax returns that are due on or after January 1, 1988.

The school will be sending home forms to fill out and parental permission requests to sign in order that personnel from the Social Security Administration may verify date and place of birth from school records.

This procedure should save parents a great deal of time and hassle in securing these numbers for their children.

Forms will be sent home in the near future.

If you have questions, call Glyndol Holland at Hedley Schools 856-5323.

Masonic Lodge backs public schools

The Clarendon Masonic Lodge wishes to join with other organizations in visiting our public schools here in our county.

The operation and control of our Texas public schools has been delegated to local school boards and officials by the citizens of a given community. If we are to maintain the control and operation of our schools, then we must be informed concerning their needs and local problems. If we fail as citizens to support our schools locally, then someone else will do it.

Masonic Lodges state wide have backed our public schools since the early 1900's, therefore it is our duty that we take an active part in visiting our schools March 2 thru 6th.

Shamrock's St. Patrick's celebration March 13-15

By Bill Howe

"Irish Pride Forever," the theme chosen to spark Shamrock's famed St. Patrick's Celebration in 1987, will take on new meaning when proud Irishmen by the score, most sporting Donegal beards, with beauteous collans on their arms, arrive for the festivities March 13-15.

Irish pride begins to swell in this little oasis of the Eastern Panhandle as St. Patrick's Day approaches and celebration fever takes over... a phenomenon repeated 41 times since the first celebration in 1938.

It all began when George Nickel, an early-day postmaster homesick for his native Ireland, created the Irish tradition shortly after the turn of the century when he named the postoffice "Shamrock."

The late Glen Truax, a Shamrock High School bandmaster, gave it life in 1938 when Shamrock Boosters Club, a group of live-wire businessmen, latched onto his suggestion that a town with such a fine Irish name should capitalize on it with an annual St. Patrick's Day Celebration so grand it would attract thousands of visitors and world-wide attention.

That's why thousands continue the tradition year-after year by crowding into Shamrock to partake of the Irish-flavored program designed to please every Mick and Lassie.

In preparation to properly host the crowd of up to 20,000 visitors expected this year, city officials have donned their green underwear, the editor of the local newspaper is taking pills to turn his beard green and committee heads work night and day to fine-tune the program for the biggest Irish community celebration this side of the Emerald Isle itself.

In fact, as the final count-down begins everything in Shamrock is turning green, including the special edition of The Shamrock Texan devoted to the celebration and the colorful store banners and street streamers provided by Shamrock Kiwanis Club.

The head Irishman for the 1987 party is Jim Davis, aided and abetted by Assistant General Chairman Ray Morgan.

A pre-St. Patrick's Celebration banquet, featuring the appearance of Kent Hance, former U.S. Congressman, as keynote speaker, will open the festivities Friday night, March 13, at National Guard Armory.

Amy Hester, Miss Irish Rose of 1986, will provide vocal entertainment, and the Happy Hatters of Dumas will complete the banquet program.

The meal, catered by Butch Cogburn of Shamrock, will be served by members of Shamrock High School's Junior Class.

The Irish begin celebrating in earnest Saturday, March 14, with the Old Settlers Reunion, the hour-long street parade featuring the famed Hardin-Simmons University Cowboy Band and led by the green-clad Shamrock High School "Pride Of The Irish" Band under the direction of Darryl Kaire.

In rapid succession, visitors will witness and enjoy the Donegal Beard Judging, the Miss Irish Rose Contest, the 10-K-Run, the One-Mile-Fun-Run, an all-day carnival, TRA Team Roping, Barrel Racing, the Chili Cook-off, Water Polo and Pumper Races.

Events following the parade will be held at High School Auditorium beginning at 2:00 p.m.

A popular celebration feature will be the Ministerial Alliance Program in High School Auditorium at 7:30 p.m. featuring the Royalheirs.

The annual St. Patrick Celebration dance at National Guard Armory will feature the music of the Clyde Logg Band beginning at 9:00 p.m.

There also will be a Teen Dance at the Coca-Cola Building, 104 South Houston Street, starting at 8:00 p.m. Sunday events will include a Cowboy Church Service featuring the Rev. Dennis McKinny at Yarborough Horse Sale Arena on U.S. Highway 83 at 10 a.m., TRA Team Roping finals at Brashear's Arena at 11:00 a.m. and Calf Roping at Sheriff's Posse Arena at 12:00 noon.

The Irish tradition continues to thrive in Shamrock and although Nickel and Truax have passed on, their names will continue to live forever in this quiet stop along Interstate Highway 40.

Anglin and Thomas display quilts at Clarendon Library

By BOB WILLIAMS

When Ada White was born in the little settlement of Rock Springs, Texas, in 1870, times were hard and survival placed a premium on frugality. "Making do with what you've got" was not merely a way to save up for a few luxuries; "making do" was a necessity. Families recycled table scraps through the pigs and chickens to make bacon and eggs. Ladies of that time saved every spoon of grease to make lye soap. And every scrap of cloth was sorted and stored for "quilt scraps". For "everyday" use, such scraps were sewed together into a "crazy quilts", with little pattern or order, other than maximum utilization of materials. But poverty never prohibited art, and frugal pioneer ladies also made "fancy quilts". Such quilts, carefully crafted in dozens of patterns, were frequently used in place of bedspreads and beautified what was often an otherwise drab bedroom. Fancy quilts were works of art, and could be given proudly as a gift (without causing a burdensome expenditure of hard-to-get cash).

Tillie Anglin and Opal Thomas keep this old craft alive, and several of their quilts are on exhibit at the Clarendon Library. One quilt illustrates several of the historic patterns used in a "block" quilt. Block quilts were composed of blocks of a similar pattern (but with different color-coordinated swatches in each block) that were set together to form a larger cover. Some quilts (such as the Texas Star) had no such obvious sections, but had a single pattern that dominated the whole quilt top. But any kind of "fancy quilt" could be a work of art.

Quilting was (and is) a labor intensive activity. Each little patch of cloth, which may contain less than two square inches, is cut to size using a cardboard pattern. These little patches are then sewn together into blocks or sections. Then the blocks or sections are set together into the "quilt top". The top is placed over a cotton (or, occasionally, wool) bat, which is in turn laid over a large piece of fabric that will become the quilt back. Then the layers are quilted together—by hand, historically—following patterns in the piecing or in geometric designs. Women took great pride in their small, regular stitches. Often a quilt of almost 50 square feet would not have an area larger than three square inches between rows of stitches. The actual quilting is time consuming work. But the results were often stunningly beautiful. Why not drop by the library and see Tillie Anglin and Opal Thomas' quilts on display?

4-H clothing project and fashion show planned

All Donley County youth interested in participating in the 4-H clothing project and Fashion Show will need to mark your calendars for Tuesday, March 10, 1987, from 4-5 p.m. Plan now to be at the sign-up meeting in the courtroom, upstairs at the old courthouse.

A brief overview of what each member can expect from the fifteen week project will be discussed. Also, plans for tours, workshops, and a sewing schedule will be reviewed.

Groups will be divided by age and/or sewing experience, and induced to instructors (4-H leaders). Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socioeconomic level, race, color, sex, religion, handicap or national origin.

In order to participate in the upcoming Clothing/Fashion Show youth must currently be in the third grade and/or 9 years of age as of January 1, 1987.

All parents and/or interested leaders are encouraged to attend this first meeting.

BILLY RAY JOHNSTON at Medical Center surprise going-away dinner

Medical Center News

Thursday evening, Feb. 26, employees of Medical Center Nursing Home were hosts for a surprise going-away dinner, honoring Billy Ray Johnston. After guests were gathered in the dining room, Sue Leeper, D.O. N., called Mr. Johnston at home, that there was a need for him to come to Medical Center. Larry White, a participant in the devious scheme to get him to Medical Center went to pick him up, and together they hurriedly went to the facility to take care of the "problem". He was definitely surprised to find Board members and their spouses, employees and families, and many friends. A bountiful Mexican dinner and all the trimmings were served to approximately 70 guests. Employees and friends presented him with a porcelain eagle, and a beautiful framed picture. The residents gave him a special coffee mug, and the Donley County Hospital District presented a very appropriate plaque. Mrs. Dikki Howell, president of the Board of Directors, acted as Master of Ceremonies. The remainder of the evening was spent visiting, and Mr. Johnston received many expressions of best wishes. He assumed his duties March 2, as Administrator of the Health Care Unit of Park Place Towers in Amarillo. He is replaced at Medical Center by Larry White as Administrator.

The world's longest railway tunnel is in Japan. It stretches 33.1 miles.

Think About This

Motivation - that is the key to getting things done. If we all pulled together, for a common goal, "The betterment of Donley County" there would be no end to the things that could be accomplished.

If the county officials could pass a resolution that there could not be any 'negative' attitudes in Donley County - can one imagine what it would be like to have 'positive' thoughts and actions.

If negative 'rumors' were never repeated, stopped at point of origin, replaced with positive facts, it wouldn't be long before every county in Texas would be studying Donley County.

A negative rumor: Thursday someone asked "why is the Chamber of Commerce trying to stop another business from going back into a vacant building?"

A positive answer: "The Chamber works diligently towards getting new businesses in Donley County, it would never do anything as foolish as trying to keep a new business out."

Lets think positive and get motivated and work towards getting Donley County on the move.

Cull open and skipper cows

Pregnancy testing and culling of open and skipper cows (those calving every two years) is one of the quickest ways to improve the reproductive performance of the beef herd, says Ronald Gooch, Donley County Extension Agent.

This has been shown by field demonstrations conducted by the Extension Service in numerous counties.

One such demonstration in Central Texas involved cow herds that were pregnancy tested for at least two consecutive years. In the first herd, no culling was done after pregnancy testing, while in the other herd all skipper and most open cows were removed. A few open heifers were kept in the latter herd to maintain cow numbers. Pregnancy rates before culling were 83.6 percent and 83 percent, respectively. The nutrition and health status and level of bull fertility were essentially unchanged during the two-year study.

In the second herd, pregnancy rates after culling went up 95.3 percent in the second year, while pregnancy rates in the herd without culling remained near 84.5 percent.

This clearly shows the importance of pregnancy testing and culling open and skipper cows, Gooch points out. Obviously, replacements can be costly, but an economic analysis shows that these initially high costs can be recovered within two to three years and that total dollar income will be higher than without culling.

Gooch emphasizes that in addition to pregnancy testing and culling, other management factors also must be considered for a profitable beef herd. These include timely supplemental feeding, necessary reproduction vaccines and highly fertile bulls.

WOULD-BE BANKERS HAVE BEEN MULTIPLYING LIKE RABBITS.

Don't allow yourself to be misled by apparent similarities. Just because so many others are hopping to include the word "bank" in their names doesn't mean that they are actually bankers. "Savings Banks," "Thrift Banks," stockbroker "bank" accounts, etc., try to blur the difference between them and real bankers. But they don't always offer you the experience or, sometimes, the security of bankers. In fact, the only place you'll find a banker is The Bank, where your deposits are Federally insured up to $100,000. As for multiplying, our Full Service Bank* is always ready and able to offer the newest ideas to help your money reproduce.

THE ONLY PLACE YOU'LL FIND A BANKER IS THE BANK.

Watt's Happening In Hedley

by Peggy Watt

Our grandson, Langly brought his parents, Leon and Linda Couch from Lueders to spend the weekend. They spent Friday night in Memphis with Linda's parents, Albert and Edith Ivy and visited with mother and daddy, Lola Brown and Moon Mullins Saturday and spent Saturday night with us and attended morning worship services at the United Methodist Church Sunday. They also visited with Tom and Opal Clendennen while they were in town.

Alden White of Amarillo stopped by a few days ago. He has some land adjoining ours North of Hedley and since the boys moved their cattle off the land before Christmas, he hadn't seen us. He just stopped by to see if we were alright.

Tom and Carol Johnson of Quanah visited his parents, Blackie and Shirley Johnson and grandfather, Walter Johnson. They attended morning worship services at the church of Christ Sunday. Matt Martin and Kendra joined them.

Paula Clendennen of McLean visited her parents, Tom and Opal Thursday. Tony came up from Stamford with Leon and Linda and spent the weekend with his folks.

Doyle and Sandra Baggett of Claude visited his mother, Mrs. Clara Mae Baggett Sunday.

Laqueta Cox attended the drama production of "Royal Family" at Amarillo College recently. The play is about the Drew-Barrymore family who reigned in Hollywood during the early part of the century. Laqueta's son, Carl Cox portrayed Hubbert Dean, the playwright. She spent last Saturday night with her mother, Mrs. Edna Rucker in Childress. On Friday, she went to Stinnett and helped Pick move home.

Mrs. Amelia Holly has been moved to the Turner Convalescence Home in Childress. She's had series of transient strokes.

Woodrow and Ora Pearl Farris are both ill. They have the flu and are having a hard time getting rid of it.

Margaret Holland celebrated her birthday Sunday. All her children were home to help with the celebration. Doyle and Judy Clendennen, Darren and Misty, Mike and Cindy Chilton, Kandi and Kristi, and Mike and Tammy Wagner and Jamie all of Pampa and Ronnie and Marilyn Boin, Jena and Doug of Texhoma joined Henry and Nancy Stephens and Brannon in the home of Otis and Margaret Holland for the day. Margaret told me that she is younger than Blackie, too. I have about decided that everybody in town is younger than Blackie. I know I am, but will catch him before the year is out. Actually he is only eight months and five days older than I am, and when you get to be our age, that little doesn't make any difference.

Red Hill took Red Doherty to Amarillo to the doctor Friday. He will be going back for further artery by-pass surgery probably next week.

Bill and Candi Hoggard of Clarendon visited their Hedley grand parents, Clyde and Mildred Hoggard while school was out in Clarendon part of last week. Tim and Jody Wington, Felicity and Joe of Wellington visited along with Alan and Melissa Beasley, Benjamin and Alice and Jim and Cecilia Lemons of Brice. Felicity and Candi attended morning worship at the Baptist Church with Mildred.

Rachel and Jennifer Chapman of Amarillo visited in Hedley during the weekend.

James Lee Potts celebrated his birthday with a party Saturday. The kindergarten and first graders joined him in cake, ice cream, and koolaid. Rachel and Christina Woodard also attended. I know James Lee is younger than Blackie, since he is only seven.

Mrs. Betty Dwight of Amarillo spent the weekend with James Edward and Timberlee Potts and James Lee.

J.T. Lamberson and J.T. Jr. attended the horse sale in Shamrock Saturday. J.T. told me the horses sold pretty good, but that he didn't buy any.

Virgil McPherson and his brother, Windred McPherson of Amarillo spent a few days in Las Vegas last week. Virgil told me to tell some man in Clarendon that he doubled his money for him, but have forgotten who the man was. So, if you sent five dollars to Las Vegas with Virgil, see him and collect your ten bucks.

Kathy Richardson of Lawton, Oklahoma came and stayed with Opal while Virgil was gone.

Jessie Roland shopped in Clarendon last week. She and her sister-in-law, Ethel Favor met Ethel's daughter, Alice Paschal and sister, Oma

Ray in Amarillo for lunch and a visit Monday.

Billy Mullins of Stamford spent the weekend at home with his parents, T. and Nancy Mullins, Steve and Dan. Bob and Mildred Jewett of Estelina visited their children, T. and Nancy Mullins, Steve and Dan and Randy and Rhonda Shaw and LaRae Sunday.

Joy Stone, Suzy Mills, Jordan and Scotty, and Cindy Henderson and Kerri of Childress visited with Flossie Wood and Jane Sunday. Flossie is another one who has the flu. She's been sick for about a week. She told me she was going to the doctor Monday.

The University Interscholastic League Literary competition will begin in March. The drama department at Hedley High School will begin One-Act Play competition at Paducah on March 19 and 20. They will present "Quiet Please" a comedy by Howard Bauremann. The cast includes Calvin Holland as Jeff Harris, Steve Mullins as Judd Harris, Karen Grump as Catherine, Anthony Carson as the Reverend, Scheli Holland as Jessie and Carol Glover as Mattie. The play is under the direction of Miss LaMoss Springer.

The play will be presented on March 17 in the high school cafeteria.

The classes at Hedley school took their fourth six weeks tests last week. The report cards will be out by the time we go to press so I'll have the honor roll students next week. I can hardly realize that in just twelve more weeks school will be out. This is one year that I'm not ready for it to happen. As the number of children we have at home decreases, the more reluctant I am for them to finish school.

Hedley Drama Club

The Hedley Drama Club invites the public to a "Night of the Arts", March 17, 1987, at 7:00 p.m. in the Hedley School Cafeteria. Each family attending is asked to bring a covered dish for a "dinner theater" atmosphere. Everyone will dine and will then be entertained by the Drama Club. Two plays will be presented: "Quiet Please"—the 1987 high school one-act play and "Hessie of the Hills"—a production of the Hedley Jr. High Drama Club.

In order to pay for travel expenses and supplies, the Club will be charging admission of $2.00 for adults and $1.00 for students. Please come out and dine and be entertained by the junior high and high school students.

Hedley family loses belongings in fire

Tom and Marilyn Gough lost their home to fire Friday. They lost everything they owned except the clothes they were wearing. Tom and Marilyn both work in Amarillo and have taken their children, Becky and Steven to her parent's home to await school time. A motorist passing saw the fire and reported it. Tom wears size 36x32 pants, 17-17 1/2 shirt and size 11 1/2 shoe. Marilyn wears size 10-12 dress, blouse and pants and size 8 or 9 shoe. Becky wears size 10-12 girls clothes and size 8 ladies shoes. Steven wears size 5 slim jeans and 6 shirt, 12-13 boys size shoe.

They also need sheets, blankets, dishes, any furniture. At the present time they are staying with her parents, Don and Emma Bramblett, but hope to be able to move before too long.

A fund has been started at the Hedley City Hall for the Gough family. Also the old Stafford Grocery building has been designated as a collection point to receive household furnishings for Tom and Marilyn. You can bring any donations Wednesday, Thursday, or Friday. If you need someone to haul your donations call 856-5270, 856-5436 or 856-5389.

Lion's Tail

The Clarendon Lions Club held its regular meeting at noon on Tuesday at the Lions Hall. Twenty-two members and guests and Lion Sweetheart Jessie Adams were present.

Following the regular opening ceremony. Vice-president Larry Hicks called the meeting to order in the absence of the Boss Lion. Listen to Wisdom

Look around you my friends, the 'Old Saints' of our churches of today are passing away. The ones who set in their places in church each Sunday and pray for you and me in our needs, always concern for others. Their faith has been the backbone of their churches. We are losing the wisdom that years have given them. Sometimes we should set with them and listen to what they have to say. Young people, listen to the old people in your family. They have been through the trials that you are going through now. They can tell you if what you will have to do to receive victory in this life. They didn't have what you have now, but they came through enough trouble to be an inspiration to you if you will listen. If you base your freedom on drugs or alcohol or other things of this world or anything that is degrading to your body, then listen to some of the older people and see why they can't get the job they want. Because most jobs require a record of your life and the good jobs goes to the one who's life has been free of drugs and things. Learn to say no to drugs and depend on God to lead you. Then, success will be yours in this life and the life to come. Put Him to the test and see. Amen.

Congressman Beau Boulter Reports from Washington

Now that the 100th Congress is underway, I would like to update you on several of the major activities I will be involved in during this session.

My efforts in Congress will center around three areas, which I believe are vitally important to the interests of the 13th Congressional District and the state of Texas: deficit reduction, revitalization of the domestic oil and gas industry, and improvement of the agricultural economy. Bringing each of these issues to the forefront of the congressional agenda will be my top priority during the 100th Congress.

Shortly after being elected to Congress in 1984, I formed the Grace Caucus, a coalition of Members of the House of Representatives devoted to reducing the deficit by cutting federal spending. Through meetings with public officials and private industry, the Caucus has helped focus Congress' attention on the budget deficit.

Early last summer the Caucus introduced a legislative package that included 14 deficit reduction proposals. By the end of the year, Congress has passed 5 of these bills, for a total savings of $52.3 billion over 5 years. The Caucus has had some successes during the 99th Congress, yet much remains to be done, and the Caucus is planning similar legislative initiatives for the 100th Congress.

Another area of concern to Texans is the state of the domestic oil and gas industry. As you know, 1986 was the worst year the oil and gas industry has experienced in decades, with the loss of over 55,000 jobs for Texans in the energy and service-related industries.

Last year, as it became apparent that the industry was in severe trouble, I formed a coalition of Congressmen to study the problems facing the oil patch, and to work with industry leaders to put forth potential solutions to the crisis. In addition to introducing legislation to aid the industry, the Task Force worked last year to ensure that the industry did not take a "big hit" during consideration of the tax reform bill. Our efforts culminated in a meeting I had with the President and his key Cabinet members at the White House this past summer.

Recently I was selected to chair the House Republican Energy Task Force, which is an official arm of the Republican Research Committee. I am now organizing an agenda for the Task Force that will focus on legislative solutions to the current oil patch crisis. We will be meeting with administration and industry officials to plan our legislative efforts and to help increase national awareness of the problem. I am honored to have been chosen to chair the Task Force and am looking forward to the many challenges it will present.

Everyone in Texas is aware of the depressed state of agriculture and the need to promote realistic policies which will bring about a return to prosperity in rural America. In agriculture, I believe this prosperity lies in getting our share of the expanding world markets. American farmers are the world's most efficient and productive, and they can compete if we in government put the right policies in place. Low inflation and interest rates, as well as a "level playing field" in world trade, are of critical importance if we are to compete.

In our efforts to achieve fair trade, we must remove trade barriers abroad, and effectively counter unfair to American farmers and ranchers is our government's subsidization of foreign agricultural production. Through our participation in multilateral development banks such as the World Bank, our tax dollars are funneled to "developing" countries like Argentina for the express purpose of increasing their ag exports. I am appalled by this practice and have introduced the "Foreign Agricultural Investment Reform" (FAIR) bill to end this type of lending activity. My legislation has been endorsed by the GOP Agriculture Forum and several major farm organizations. The FAIR bill was passed by the Senate last year, and I am optimistic about its chances in the House this year. While there are many problems facing agriculture, I believe passage of this legislation will be a big step in the right direction.

With the many complex issues confronting the Congress, we have our work cut out for us. I have only touched on several of the issues which are of particular interest to our state. There are numerous others as well. However, I do not believe that we are confronted by any which cannot be overcome by hard work and diligence on our part. I would like your guidance and suggestions as the 100th Congress resumes. Please keep me apprised of your thoughts on how I can better serve you.

I hope to hear from you soon.

"Forgiveness ought to be like a cancelled note, torn in two and burned up, so that it can never be shown against the man."

David McClain, master printer at Print Shoppe

In July, 1986 The Print Shoppe secured the services of David McClain as printer.

The McClain family came to Clarendon from Amarillo where David has worked in the graphics industry since 1976. He began his training at age 20 with the Watchtower, Bible & Tract Society's publishing offices in Brooklyn, New York; for a total of 14 years in the printing trades. His experience includes sheet-fed letterpress and offset as well as web offset printing, camera, paste-up and design; ink manufacture, typesetting and bindery.

Asked what he enjoyed most about the business David responded: "Designing a new job and seeing a quality finished product is very gratifying." As to the least enjoyable aspect he admits: "I'm limited by a lack of formal training in commercial art, something I'd like to correct one day."

Formerly employed with Whitney-Russell Printers and the Amarillo Independent School District, Mr. McClain gained considerable background in forms design and printing for financial and government agencies.

The McClain family resides at 515 E. Third and consists of wife-Gloria who is employed with the Burton Memorial Library; daughter-Jennifer age 8 and son-Patrick age 7; second and first graders respectively in the Clarendon Elementary School. In parting, Mr. McClain remarked: "We've enjoyed the people and environment in Clarendon and hope to see The Print Shoppe flourish and remain for some time to come."

Three Financial danger signals

Many farmers who were forced out of business during the past few years did not have enough equity capital to finance a "capital hungry" farm operation, say two agricultural economists with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the Texas A&M University System.

Dr. Wayne Hayenga and Dr. Danny Klinefelter, economists-management, say that other producers also may be approaching the same situation without realizing it.

They note that farm operations fitting these descriptions may be candidates for failure:

1. Your lender owns more than half of your business.
2. Your short-term loans and accounts payable have increased each year for the past three years.
3. Your interest bill is more than 20 percent of your sales.

"You can easily determine if your lender owns more than half of your business by looking at the net worth statement entries of total assets and liabilities. This factor is critical because of earnings on the assets used in the business," they say.

Traditionally, the economists note, earning rates on agricultural assets are 4 to 6 percent. "A farmer earning the high rate of 6 percent on all assets, but paying 12 percent interest on half of his assets, has nothing left. If earnings fall below 6 percent or asset values decline, but interest rates stay at 12 percent, the owner's equity declines to the point he is unable to finance the business," they warn.

Hayenga and Klinefelter suggest that producers look at their last three years' net worth statements. Without a major increase in business size, if short-term loans and accounts payable consistently increase, sooner or later farmers will not be able to keep the loans and accounts current without increasing income, or refinancing land or long-term assets. When this happens, short-term debt will not be renewed and suppliers will demand cash before delivery, the economists caution.

Research indicates that when interest charges are more than 20 percent of sales, there is less than 20 percent chance the business will survive more than five years. "When interest charges are that high, there is not enough income from the business to pay off expenses, so losses occur. To continue in business, the farmer must finance the previous year's loss and losses even more in the second year. This cycle is repeated until the business is unable to be refinanced," Hayenga and Klinefelter say.

While the three factors may not apply to all business, if any one exists for any business, a detailed business analysis should be started, they recommend.

$80 million in unclaimed money

The Texas Treasury has about $80 million in unclaimed money, safe deposit boxes, oil royalties and stocks and bonds that it wants to return to about 100,000 Texans.

Persons who find their name on the list may reclaim their property by calling the State Treasury, toll free at 1-800-321-2274 or by writing to the State Treasury at PO Box 12608, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas 78711.

"There is no set time limit for making a claim," Treasurer Richards emphasized. "We will hold the account in the owner's name forever." Listed from Clarendon are: Bowley, Horace Mont; Brown, Bob; Brown, Richard; Brown, Susan Palmer; Chamberlain, William R.; Keller, Gabrielle M.; Linville, Mary P.; and McAnear, Ronnie.

Mutual Fund Sales Shatter All Records

Sales of stock, bond, and income mutual funds in 1986 totaled an estimated $211 billion, nearly double the all-time one-year sales record of $114 billion established in 1985.

The Investment Company Institute, the national association for the industry, based the 1986 sales figure on actual sales of $193.8 billion through the end of November. Sales of equity (stock) mutual funds in 1986 were $53.0 billion, double last year's all-time high of $26.8 billion, and exceeding the combined total for these funds in 1984 and 1985. Even more dramatically, bond and income fund sales of $158.4 billion in 1986 exceeded sales of these types of funds for the previous seven years combined.

Total net assets of all funds, including money market and other short term funds, also soared to new heights. Assets are expected to reach $730 billion by year end compared to $495 billion at the beginning of 1986 and only $95 billion at the beginning of the decade.

Although sales increased in every category, international funds reflected the most dramatic increase, jumping 307 percent to $7.6 billion. Sales in corporate bond, single-state municipal bond, Ginnie Mae, income, and growth and income fund categories also rose by more than 100 percent each.

Institute Vice President and Chief Economist Alfred P. Johnson offered two reasons for the record sales volume: "First of all, stock, bond and income funds paid an extremely attractive rate of return relative to that available on competing products. Second, mutual funds have created products and services which met the changing needs of American investors," he said.

Total industry assets at the end of November were $715.2 billion, compared to $484.6 billion in November, 1985.

The world's longest tunnel made for a road is in Switzerland and stretches 10.2 miles.

The story is told of a little crippled girl who underwent an operation in an effort to try to get her to walk again. Complications set in, though, and she needed a blood transfusion. She had a rare blood type, and the only person they could find to help was her 12 year old brother.

Would he help his little sister??? Well, he thought about it a moment, then swallowed hard and said, "Okay, I'll do it!"

The nurses rolled him in beside his little sister and he watched them tie him to her with a strange looking tube. After a moment of silence, he looked up with wide eyes and asked the doctor, "Doc, how long will it be before I die?"

How long..... "What?"

No one had thought to tell him the details. Here was a little guy ready to die for his sister. What a sacrifice!

You know, the Bible says Jesus Christ knew all the details, but He gave His precious blood anyway! Won't you come and learn more about the One who gladly lived... and died, for you???

Texas plains economics for 1987

Low oil prices and overbuilt real-estate markets will cost Texas almost 34,000 jobs—0.5 percent of the state's total employment—in 1987.

These job losses will be distributed unevenly among the state's six economic regions. The regions that depend most heavily on the energy industry—the Plains, the Gulf Coast and East Texas—will suffer most from the statewide slowdown. All told, these regions will lose 61,500 jobs.

Elsewhere, Texas will add 27,800 jobs in 1987. But the construction slowdown will retard economic growth in the Central Corridor and the Metroplex, and the Border region, weathering Mexico's recession, will stay barely on the plus side for the year.

The Plains felt the full force of last year's drastic fall in oil prices. The region lost 19,800 nonfarm jobs in 1986—a drop of 2.9 percent. Another 2.1 percent decline is expected in 1987. These declines are the steepest in the state for both years.

Losses in the energy and construction industries were especially severe. The Plains lost 17,000 oil and gas jobs in 1986, a decline of 17 percent. Exploration and drilling employment fell 30,000 jobs below its 1982 peak.

Oil-related job losses have hit the Midland-Odessa area hardest. These two cities lost a bigger share of total jobs—about nine percent—than any other Texas cities.

The Plains' agricultural economy, concentrated in the northern half of the region, has also been on the downswing. Worldwide oversupplies held down crop prices, and weak prices, compounded by farm credit problems, reduced farmers' cash receipts and income. Retailing and other area businesses suffered accordingly.

Problems in energy and farming are reflected in lower land values. Some farmland is worth only 60 percent of its 1981 value, and the average price of West Texas land fell more than 10 percent during the first three quarters of 1986, according to the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas.

But the Dallas Fed also reported that 27 of the 31 Plains banks it surveyed expected land prices to stop declining in 1987.

The Plains has overcome adversity in the past, and has the fundamental strengths to rebound again. The region remains among the most productive agricultural areas in the U.S. and will retain its competitive advantage in farming and farm-related manufacturing beyond 1987.

'87 farm income to be up slightly

Agricultural income may increase slightly in 1987 from the depressed level of recent years, says a Texas Agricultural Extension Service economist.

"Higher livestock prices, reduced production expenses and large government payments are expected to support a moderate rise in farm and ranch incomes," points out Dr. Carl Anderson. "Export levels during the new year will be a key factor in determining the final outcome."

Farm exports should increase considerably due to the sharp drop in the dollar, much lower crop prices and the Export Enhancement Program, says Anderson. Adding to prospects for more trade are improved global economic conditions, slow rates of inflation and increased economic activity in developing countries. Softening the demand, however, are debt problems in several countries.

insulation of many importers from changes in world prices, and increased productive capacity in key markets.

"Abundant crop supplies continue to dampen the likelihood for any sustained rally in prices," notes Anderson. "Feed grain and soybean harvests will probably increase world crop supplies even though wheat, rice and cotton stocks may decline slightly. In the U.S., the crop harvest is expected to be almost a trifle smaller than the year before."

"Livestock producers are expected to fare a little better in 1987," says the economist. "The outlook is for sharply lower beef output and slightly more pork. Total meat production in the U.S., however, may remain large as poultry output expands."

Livestock producers should experience increased returns in the first half of 1987 as supplies tighten, demand strengthens and feed costs decline. The U.S. cattle inventory and breeding hog numbers in 1986 are at the lowest level in more than 20 years, Anderson points out.

For 1987, cattle and hog prices should average above '86 levels despite continued increases in poultry product output. Crop prices likely will remain at reduced levels during the first half of 1987, with prices in the second half depending on crop production and trade activity. However, prospects for abundant agricultural supplies suggest continued pressure on farm incomes, according to the economist.

"Managing the farm and ranch business to reduce financial exposure while realizing maximum income remains central to maintaining an economically viable business," says Anderson. "Success depends largely on careful management of capital by spending money where returns are highest and using marketing skills to benefit from price rallies. Stretching operating expenses, evaluating farm program options for maximum benefits, and taking a close look at highest returns from alternative enterprises are critical to protecting the financial position of agricultural operations." County Extension agents can provide further information on managing for profitability.

Lighten up with beef barbeque

A tender, juicy steak cooked to perfection needs only a luscious green salad and a warm French roll to become a delicious feast. Steak and salad, America's favorite duo, can be a dieter's friend when chosen and prepared with calories in mind. Since salad dressings can contain many hidden calories, use herbs such as basil, oregano, or tarragon mixed with lemon juice or flavored vinegar for a low-calorie dressing.

Select cuts of meat with little visible fat, and trim the remaining fat after cooking. If you marinate the steak before grilling for extra flavor and tenderness, use an oil-free marinade. Tarragon, chopped onion, and wine flavor this marinade recipe. The wine and lemon juice help tenderize the top round, a lean yet less tender cut of beef.

As a piece of beef cooks, water and fat cook out of the meat. If you start with a piece of meat that does not contain much fat, such as a well-trimmed piece of top round, watch cooking time carefully so that you do not lose the juiciness so characteristic of beef. Cook to rare, or not past medium, to prevent a dry texture. Place the meat on a preheated broiler, or hot coals, so the exterior browns quickly, holding in the juices. This recipe gives the ingredients and techniques for enjoying a juicy, grilled beef barbeque while controlling calories.

LIGHT BEEF BARBEQUE

1/2 cup dry red wine
1/2 cup water
2 Tbsp. lemon juice
2 Tbsp. finely chopped onion
1 tsp. dried tarragon
1/4 tsp. pepper
1 pound beef top round steak

Mix all ingredients except steak. Trim outside layer of fat from steak. Place steak in glass baking dish. Pour marinade over steak; turn to coat. Cover and refrigerate, turning steak occasionally for 24 hours, no longer than 48 hours.

Cook steak on barbeque grill 4 inches from medium hot coals 12 to 15 minutes per side for rare or until desired doneness. Turn steak only once and baste occasionally with marinade. 4 servings.

For free information on cancer call 1-800-4-CANCER

When Laurie Johnston of Austin called the toll-free telephone number 1-800-4-CANCER she expected to get free, accurate information about cancer. After all, she had called the Cancer Information Service (CIS) several years ago and knew it was a place where she was able to get answers to her questions about cancer prevention, detection, diagnosis, treatment and rehabilitation.

But on her most recent call Laurie was surprised to find even faster service with the 1-800-4-CANCER number. She had the immediate option either to talk to a counselor about her questions or to order free publications.

Since 1976, the specially trained CIS counselors at the University of Texas M. D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Institute have answered questions about cancer from more than 124,000 Texans speaking English or Spanish. Callers to the CIS can receive accurate information on prevention, detection, treatment, treatment facilities, rehabilitation and other services for cancer patients and their families. And, if requested, literature about cancer, in English or Spanish, can be sent.

By using a computer and the Physician's Data Query (PDQ) data base, the CIS has the most current information available about cancer, its stages (which describe how much cancer there is in the body and where it is located) and conventional treatment options. The information is compiled by the National Cancer Institute from physicians' treatment methods used throughout the United States.

When someone like Laurie calls the 1-800-4-CANCER number, they get two recorded messages. The first message directs callers to punch 1. The second message tells callers to dial 1 again if they wish to talk with someone about their questions. Or, the message tells them to dial 2 if they wish only to order a publication.

Since Laurie had a question about a relative's surgery for breast cancer, she chose the option to talk to a counselor. The counselor discussed the treatment options for her relative's type of breast cancer and sent Laurie brochures, a printout from the PDQ data base and materials on coping with cancer in the family.

"CIS counselors are caring, committed and extremely well-trained in communication skills and researching all aspects of cancer," says Emily Parnell, the phone service supervisor for UT M. D. Anderson Hospital's CIS.

"I think one of the best things about the CIS is that our staff and volunteers are not doctors but are laymen talking laymen's language. We can interpret medical terminology for callers," Parnell says. She adds that the counselors can offer callers options and alternatives for treatment as well as tell them where they can get further information.

Counselors are available to talk to callers from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. on weekdays. During other weekday hours and weekends, callers are directed to the national CIS line in Maryland.

Because the reputation of the CIS has grown so rapidly in the last few years, the Texas CIS lines are often busy. Parnell encourages callers to keep trying if they reach a busy signal or to call 1-800-4-CANCER during the least busy hours between 11 a.m. and 1 p.m. weekdays.

"The CIS is here to help Texans. We take whatever time is needed to satisfy all of our callers' needs," Parnell says.

Work at home schemes could earn you time in jail

Each year the American public loses millions of dollars through fraudulent schemes operated through the United States Mails. With the increase of unemployment, especially in the oil related industries, work at home promotions have become more prevalent. These promotions are aimed at the elderly, shut-ins, the unemployed, and housewives who want to supplement their family income.

Work at home fraud schemes such as envelope stuffing, home addressing and multi-level marketing sales distributorships always include "opportunities" to earn an unusually high income with relatively small investment and with little or no effort on the part of the customer, and in most cases, by someone they've never even met. They are usually schemes to sell the plan to do the work rather than doing the work itself, and no one has ever become wealthy through such schemes.

Any promotion where the success of any operator (regardless of whether "a product" is offered) depends on recruiting people to recruit more people, etc., to participate in the program is an endless chain or pyramid. These are forms of lottery and violate the Postal Lottery Statute.

There are three elements of a lottery -- consideration, prize, and chance. In typical work at home promotions involving stuffing envelopes, the consideration is usually called an "application or introduction fee" or could be the price of a "startup kit." Consideration in multi-level marketing schemes is the money paid to a promoter in order for the participant to become a distributor and to recruit new distributors. The prize is always the promised "big money" that can be made quickly after the promotion has progressed several levels, and the chance is that investors will not recruit all the people necessary to fill the pyramid and recoup the initial investments much less earn the "big money" prize. In fact, the chance that all participants will receive mail is mathematically impossible. If a scheme requires participants to mail to six new participants, who in turn must mail to six, etc., by the eleventh level of mailing, the entire United States population would be exhausted; and by the thirteenth level, the world population (over four billion) would be exhausted.

The U.S. Postal Inspection Service, who investigates mail fraud and Postal Lottery Statute violations, says that promoters as well as participants in work at home fraud schemes can be found in violation of Federal law even if they did not realize the promotion was illegal when they first got into it. If you receive information about a work-at-home promotion you feel may be in violation of the law, turn it in to your Postmaster or mail it to the Postal Inspector in Charge, P. O. Box 162929, Fort Worth, TX 76161-2929. Remember, if it sounds too good to be true -- it probably is.

4-H needs your help

The Donley County 4-H Clothing Construction and Fashion Show plans for 1987 are set. There is only one slight problem - a lot of eager kids and not enough leaders to go around.

If you have sewing experience and would be interested in helping with this project, you are desperately needed. Volunteering one day a week to have one or two 4-H'ers in your home for instruction would be very helpful. If you are unable to instruct, maybe you would be interested in loaning your machine for instructional purposes. For more information, call the Extension office at 874-2141.

The objectives for this 4-H project are as follows: Build self-confidence and poise by developing self-concept and the ability to make the most of one's personal attributes; Develop judgement and creativity in planning an attractive wardrobe that expresses their individual lifestyle; Gain consumer skills in making and purchasing clothing and accessories and in purchasing and using equipment related to clothing construction and care; Acquire ability to provide proper storage and care for clothing; Learn to make clothing for self and others; Make useful wearing apparel and accessories including needlecrafts; Acquire knowledge of fibers, yarns and processes for making fabric; Practice leadership skills and roles, take part in community affairs and demonstrate citizenship responsibility; Explore career, job and productive leisure opportunities; Develop skills, knowledge and attitudes for lifelong use; and Learn to use accepted practices for mental, physical and emotional health and to respect yourself and others.

Each 4-H'er will be completing a garment to model and enter for competition at the Donley County 4-H Fashion Show at Clarendon College on June 20, 1987.

Kathleen and Dock Yankee have just returned from Mexico. They met friends Mary and Joe Nash at San Antonio and flew with them, via Braniff to Mexico City. From there they flew Mexicana to Puerto Escondido (250 miles down coast from Acapulco) where the Nashs had left their converted greyhound bus. After a week there at the beach the four went to Oaxaca via Puerto Angel for a week of shopping, eating, and side trips (ruins at Mitla), etc. A couple of days spent in Puebla then back toward U.S. by way of Zimapan-Cuicatlán de Valles and the hot baths-Victoria-Matamoras. TIME-SAVING TIPS UP OFF THE FLOOR

When you get down to it, cleaning linoleum can be easier if you heed these hints. Start by moving as much furniture and rugs as possible. Next, vacuum or sweep under immovable objects. If sweeping, spray the broom with a static spray to catch dust balls that might otherwise get away.

Use a good, all-purpose cleaner that removes grease, heel marks and food stains—yet needs no rinsing. Formula 409 all-purpose spray cleaner, for example, is made to be good for all vinyl, linoleum and tile floors.

Between big floor cleaning jobs, sweep or vacuum regularly. Wipe up spills as soon as they occur to keep the floor looking its best—and keep you up off the floor.

What is Triple C Center?

Many questions have been asked as to what Triple C Center is. Some of the questions have been: What church are you a part of? What do you do there? Is this a ministry or a business?

In answer to these questions and others you may have: Triple C is not affiliated with any church. Triple C Center is a non-denominational faith outreach. It is a combination ministry and business; with ministry being the high priority.

Triple C has a tri-fold purpose: Youth Center, Coffee House, and Christian Bookstore.

The youth center part is going great. We have video games, pool, many free table games, and badminton and volleyball. We have just acquired.

Jeannie Mondragon, Gary English, LaJuana Tucker, and Wanda Rolls are some of our volunteers. They put in much time in supervising parties, games and activities, as well as providing free treats and food out of their own pockets.

In addition, Jeannie has a Teen Bible Study every Saturday night, with treats and games that follow. Gary supervises every Friday night with lots of good singing (practicing anyway) on our P.A. system. La Juana takes care of our Kid's Klub that meets every Monday afternoon, and Wanda fills in wherever. There's good music to listen to, video to watch, and a host of other activities. These people care-how about you?

Our Coffee House is open. We have a limited amount of equipment and by faith will be fully equipped within the next year. We do serve corn dogs, cheese nachos, chili burritos, apple annies, coffee, tea and soft drinks. Many times our treats are free, and all kids are made welcome.

In the Bookstore department we have a few Bibles-some giant print, a few books, and a few gifts. We are in the process of adding a complete line of American Greeting Cards, and gifts. Also, eventually, we will have soundtracks, tapes, and records. All the materials will not be religious, but it will be rated G.

A year ago we did not have a building. We have come a long way from scratch, and have a way to go. Also, we are beginning a used book exchange. Bring in your used books and get credit on any used books we have. All books will be screened.

What is the Triple C? A place with an atmosphere rated G. A place with music rated G. A place with reading material rated G.

Now this may sound like a square place to be, but ask someone who hangs out here-and they will tell you-this is a place of peace, of joy, of laughter, and of good times.

Come, on in-you will be welcome.
