Grandparents Day: It all started in West Virginia

By TERRI WINEFORDNER

Every National Grandparents Day, Marian McQuade pauses to remember the woman she calls her "wonderful little grandmother."
"She looked just like Granny Clampett -- the same size, dressed the same way, everything the same," the Oak Hill, West Virginia woman says. "I remember she worked all day doing the things everyone on farms had to do in those days: milking cows, feeding chickens, fixing breakfast, doing the washing by hand. Then she'd put on a clean apron, or turn her apron around, and we'd take a glass of jelly and go see somebody who was sick a couple miles down the road. She always had time to do that."
"That's the main thing I remember about her."

It's memories such as these that have driven the 70-year-old mother of 15 to work with the elderly in nursing homes and to be a delegate to the White House Conference on Aging, besides serving on a wide variety of state foundations and commissions on the needs of the elderly.

Through her work in the field of aging, McQuade conceived the idea of setting aside a special day honoring people like her grandmother.

"I've worked in nursing homes for so long, and it seemed there was so much loneliness," McQuade says. "Grandparents Day (provides the opportunity for) such a wonderful reunion to keep families together and give youngsters a sense of curiosity about their roots."

McQuade's crusade to have a special day declared nationally in honor of grandparents began in 1973, when she wrote letters to the governors of all 50 states. At that time, she says, she still had four or five children at home and they did all the stuffing of envelopes.

Her husband, Joe, provided the money. "He never objected and doesn't yet," says McQuade.

Former West Virginia governor Arch Moore declared a state Grandparents Day soon after receiving McQuade's letter, as did many other governors.

"Nearly every one of them sent a beautifully worded proclamation," recalls McQuade. "Even (then California governor) Ronald Reagan made a proclamation. He said he'd see that all aging groups in the state would celebrate Grandparents Day."

That same year, U.S. Senator Jennings Randolph of West Virginia introduced a bill in the Senate to establish a National Grandparents Day. The bill failed to pass the House, however.

The undaunted McQuade made repeated trips to Washington, D.C. and elsewhere to lobby in support of a National Grandparents Day. At the 1976 Republican National Convention in Kansas City, she appealed personally to President Gerald Ford, to whom she had written earlier.

Ford's reply, says McQuade, was, "Well, since you asked me twice, I'll just have to do it."

But Ford was defeated by Jimmy Carter in the 1976 presidential election, so it was back to Congress for Marian McQuade. This time, she was joined in her efforts by Atlanta businessman Michael Goldgar.

By 1978, the pair had sold Congress on their idea. The lawmakers passed a bill, which was signed by President Carter, declaring the first Sunday after Labor Day as National Grandparents Day.

"When I started out, I was thinking about May," said McQuade. "I was thinking about May, springtime. But there are already so many holidays in May, then weddings and graduations. Senator Randolph suggested September or the fall because there aren't so many holidays and it's still good weather."

But the true significance of celebrating Grandparents Day in the fall, McQuade believes, is that the people being honored are in the figurative autumns of their lives.

Even though Grandparents Day has been an official national day of commemoration for nine years, it has yet to achieve the prominence and traditional status of Mothers or Fathers Day. But thanks to the passionate conviction and persistence of people like Marian McQuade, there can be little doubt that recognition will eventually come.

THE BULL

THE BEAR

...OR THE BANKER?

Stock market investments can be very inviting. Everybody, it seems, knows "this guy" who knows "this other guy" who made a real killing in a big bull market. Of course, behind every Cinderella story there's another tale—of uncertainty and vulnerability.

Unfortunately, the stock market often takes a downward turn. The rampaging bull can become a lumbering bear, changing dreams of an easy "killing" into harsh reality.

Not so at our bank. In addition to an impressive range of investments—such as our new money market accounts—we offer things that stocks and mutual funds can't. Like risk-free protection of principal. Assured rates of interest. And the soothing security of Federal Deposit Insurance by the F.D.I.C.

So, while we won't promise to make you rich overnight—we will place a risk-free guarantee on your tomorrow.

Mae Naylor stopped to visit with the Greens enroute to Amarillo to bring Royce Hall home from the hospital. Duane will be back to help his mother come in from West Cliff Manor the first of this week.

Thursday Melba Risley attended a luncheon honoring Dessa Day hosted by the Rebekah Sunday School class at the Fellowship hall of the First Baptist Church.

L.A. and Rose Lee Watson went to Amarillo Tuesday for a doctor's appointment.

The Ashtola Reunion Saturday was a smashing success with 57 former Ashtola residents or their guests registering. We felt fortunate that the rain held off until Sat. night as we did not need a frog noisiering water-wading affair. There was ninety hundreds in our rain gage and more on the back side of the place. Heard that they got as much as two inches toward Naylor's place at Hedley. Ashtola got another inch Monday night of this week.

My cousin, Rev. Russell Morris from Moshi Tanzania called Saturday morning to extend greetings to all of Ashtola because he could not be here in person for the reunion. Will retire from mission field in November. His replacement is already there studying Swahili language.

What is multiple sclerosis

Multiple Sclerosis, a disease of the central nervous system involving the brain and spinal cord, affects up to 500,000 people in the United States, where 200 new cases are diagnosed each week. There is a high incidence rate in the Texas and Oklahoma Panhandles.

MS generally shows its first symptoms in men and women between the ages of 20 and 40, when they are just starting their families and careers. Symptoms include excessive fatigue, numbness and tingling, weakness, loss of coordination and balance.

vision problems, and bladder and bowel problems.

The Panhandle Chapter sponsors research into the cause and cure of multiple sclerosis and provides services to those people in the area who have MS. Some of these services include private and group counseling, water exercises twice weekly, support group meetings both social and educational, home and hospital visits, peer counseling by phone, medical equipment, a bi-monthly newsletter, and distribution of literature. The chapter also provides professional and public education.

Your Children Listen to Your Hidden Messages

What parents say and what children hear frequently resembles the miscommunication of a childhood game called "telephone." Every time you talk with your children, you are giving at least two messages. First, you are giving the verbal message—the words you are saying. Second, you are giving a hidden message—what your children perceive you to be saying. It is important to remember that what our children hear as the hidden message is not necessarily what we want them to hear. Some examples:

If you say, "I cannot depend on you," children may hear that you do not think they have any character, and never will.

If you say, "You are nothing but a dreamer," they may hear that they are not in touch with reality, and that their ideas do not work.

If you say, "Do not bother me now," you may be implying that the child is incompetent.

If your hidden messages are basically negative, your child may suffer a loss of self-confidence and self-esteem. But you can use positive hidden messages to build these qualities instead. Examples:

If you say, "I like the way you..." you are giving the message that the child pleases people by what he or she does.

If you say, "You are very good at..." you are giving the message that the child is competent and reliable.

When you say, "I enjoyed doing..." with you" you are saying that your child is likeable and fun to be with.

When you say, "It was nice of you to..." you are telling your children that they are caring individuals.

Children do not often miss the hidden messages—in fact, they usually listen to the hidden message even when they ignore what you say!

Ways to Treat and Prevent Diaper Rash

Diaper rash is due to the irritating effects of urine and fecal material on the skin. Bacteria are in some way involved. Treatment and prevention of rash involves keeping contaminated diapers away from the skin and minimizing the growth of bacteria in the diaper.

• Change diapers frequently and especially a few hours after the infant's bedtime.

• If disposable diapers or a diaper cleaning service is not used, use an antibacterial diaper prewash soak such as ½ cup Borax in a gallon of water.

• Cleanse the diaper area with a mild soap each time a soiled or wet diaper is changed.

• Apply a protectant cream or ointment to the diaper area. Safe and effective ingredients are numerous and include allantoin, aluminum hydroxide, calamine, glycerin, petrolatum, zinc oxide, and shark liver oil.

• Powders containing talc, corn starch, kaolin, or calcium carbonate help keep the diaper area dry. Care should be taken to prevent powder inhalation by the infant.

"Rapids, here we come!"

Following one year's preparation and training, the Quivira Girl Scout Council Canoe Interest Group achieved the group's primary goal of white water canoeing by taking a trip to San Marcos and canoeing on the Guadalupe River. The group was first formed in August of 1986 as a continuation of the Silver Paddles Session at Resident Camp. During the year the girls and adults have been certified in three Red Cross courses: Fundamentals of Canoeing, Basic Water Safety and Basic Rescue. The instructor, Margaret White of Pampa, trained the girls in procedures and maneuvers used in canoeing. The trip to San Marcos represents a culmination of many hours of instruction and practice on area lakes including Lake Fryer, Lake Greenbelt, Lake McClelland and Lake Meredith.

During the six day excursion, the group had the opportunity to canoe the rapids, ferry the canoe from one side of the river to the direct opposite side and surf the canoe in calm holes formed at the bottom of the rapids. Those who went on the trip were Lanetta Werhan from Borger, Paula Goff and Torie Donnell from Canadian, Toni Breitting from Clarendon, Jamie Fowler, Patsy Preston, Jessica Smilie, Tracey Reeves and Margaret White from Pampa and Shaliss Boyd from Stinnett.

The trip proved to be a memorable experience for all involved and they are looking forward to helping new canoeers discover canoeing. A new Canoe Interest Group will be formed this fall. Any adult or girl (12 years or older) with an interest in canoeing can contact the council office at (806) 669-6862.

Make it milk for lunches

There's no doubt that children and teenagers need plenty of calcium, but they're now less likely to get it from the small square milk carton that used to be a part of every school lunch.

The availability of fruit drinks in pouches or individual serving size cartons means children don't have to buy milk to go with their sack lunches. In many high schools, students also have the choice of getting a soft drink from a machine.

"The question for parents is whether they think their child is getting enough calcium each day for good health," says Dr. Dymple Cooksey, a nutritionist with the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service.

"Children ages one through 10 need 800 milligrams of calcium a day," she says. "This requirement can be met with three servings of dairy foods as part of the everyday diet."

"Due to increasing bone length and development, adolescents 11 to 18 years old need 1,200 milligrams of calcium, which can be met by eating four servings of dairy foods daily," she adds.

One 8-ounce cup of milk, which is the amount contained in a milk carton served in schools, is one serving. A 1 1/2 ounce piece of cheese or a cup of yogurt are also equivalent to one serving, according to the nutritionist.

"According to recent U.S. Department of Agriculture studies, many young people don't get enough calcium daily," states Cooksey. "In fact, females over 11 years of age were reported as one group at greatest risk of calcium deficiency, which can lead to osteoporosis in later years."

"If your child drinks milk at breakfast and dinner and eats other dairy foods throughout the day, a sweetened fruit drink at lunch may not interfere with adequate calcium intake," she notes.

When children and teenagers don't drink milk at school or home, the nutritionist suggests that they be offered more dairy products in meals and snacks.

Cheese sandwiches, cheeseburgers, cheese and crackers, string cheese, cheese pizza, flavored yogurts, milk shakes, ice cream and milk-based puddings all add calcium to the child's diet, she explains.

"Giving children calcium supplements in pill form is generally not a good idea," warns Cooksey. "Calcium supplements can have side effects, so you should check with a physician before giving them to your child."

"Dairy foods are the best and most abundant source of calcium in our food supply," says the nutritionist. "In addition, they contain lactose and vitamin D which enhance calcium usage by the body."

Drinking while driving becomes illegal

AUSTIN (AP) - Drinking alcoholic beverages while driving, a practice that one official calls a deadly Texas tradition, became illegal Monday, August 31, 1987 under a new state law.

The "open container" law is among about 750 new ones that go into effect Monday or Tuesday. You are expected to know what is in all of the new statutes dictating what you can do, what you can't do, what you have to do differently and what you have to pay more to do.

In addition to the drinking-while-driving ban, the can't-do list - which seems to be longer than the can-do list - includes prohibitions on late-term abortions, improper payments to college athletes, smoking at public schools and keeping a vicious dog.

The vicious dog law includes a canine capital punishment provision.

The can-do list includes driving golf carts on some public streets and putting more alcohol in candy.

The list of things that will cost more to do includes buying or renting a motor vehicle and staying in hotels or motels. As of Tuesday, the state tax on buying or renting a vehicle increases from the current 5 percent to 6 percent.

The state's hotel-motel tax goes up to 6 percent from 4 percent. This year's major tax change, increasing the sales tax to 6 percent, is effective Oct. 1.

The open container law was among the more keenly debated issues during the past several legislative sessions. Sen. Bill Sarpalus, D-Amarillo, won approval for it this year. The law makes it a Class C misdemeanor to get caught drinking an alcoholic beverage while driving.

"It's a weak bill," said Ross Newby, executive director of the Texas Commission on Alcohol and Drug Abuse. "By allowing the passenger to drink in the car, it makes it easy for the driver to hand it over."

In fact, a driver can legally carry an alcoholic beverage. The law only makes it illegal to drink it and be "observed doing so by a police officer."

"It's one of the weaker open container laws," Newby said. "But it is an attempt to help educate the public."

He acknowledged there is something traditionally Texan about downing a beer behind the wheel. "It's a long-standing tradition that has killed a lot of us," Newby said.

Department of Public Safety spokesman Mike Cox said it could prove difficult to enforce the open container law, but DPS troopers will try.

"We appreciate the law's intent, and we believe the same sort of people who are conscientious enough of safety to wear seat belts are the same sort of people who will abide by this law," Cox said.

The abortion bill also was the product of several years of debate. Rep. Mike Millsap, D-Fort Worth, won approval this year for the law that makes it illegal, in most cases, to abort a fetus during the final three months of pregnancy.

The Millsap bill goes into effect Tuesday. It allows abortions at any time if the pregnancy becomes a severe health threat to the mother or if the fetus has a "severe and irreversible abnormality."

Among the miscellaneous and curious bills was one initially written by Rep. Ron Wilson, D-Houston, and rewritten by Rep. Ron Givens, R-Lubbock. Thanks to the efforts of Wilson and Givens, as of Monday, the alcoholic content of candy can be 5 percent by volume. Under the old law, the maximum was 0.5 percent.

The change was a result of federal action eliminating the 50-year ban on the interstate sale of candy with alcoholic content in excess of 0.5 percent.

Sen. Grant Jones, D-Temple, was the author of the bill that allows golfers to drive their carts on some public roads near the links beginning Monday.

Also effective Monday is the ban on smoking and use of tobacco products on public school campuses, a measure sponsored by Rep. Jim McWilliams, D-Hallsville, who thought it was wrong for schools to have designated smoking areas for students.

Starting Tuesday, universities that wind up in trouble with the National Collegiate Athletic Association can sue boosters or other people who committed the acts that got them in trouble. Sen. John Montford, D-Lubbock, got that bill passed in the wake of football scandals at Southern Methodist University and other schools.

TSTAINED PRIDE IN excellence

A Matter of Discipline

The Texas State Teachers Association, along with this newspaper, is proud to sponsor this series of articles to help parents instill pride and excellence in our children's school careers.

Parents want to rear children to be responsible, caring members of society. Discipline is, of course, part of this effort.

Some parents worry that they may not be using discipline effectively.

Will sparing the rod spoil the child? Should you give your child nothing but kindness and patience in hopes of avoiding any psychological damage? Should you reward your children every time they do something right? Too much physical punishment can be harmful to a child and often doesn't accomplish the goal. Besides, the parents don't want their children to fear them.

Indulgence and reward don't always work either when used separately. How can you find the right balance for your child so you can deal constructively with his behavior? Here are a few suggestions.

Talk with your children. Ask them why they aren't doing what you are asking them to do. Maybe they've had a bad day or have been bullied by someone and they are choosing to ignore you as a way of asserting themselves. They may not respond to reason, though. If so, explain the consequences of disobedience and then follow through if they still choose to disobey.

Think carefully about your feelings toward discipline and behavior. Do you have clear, reasonable rules? Do you enforce them as soon as you find they have been broken? Are there specific times for curfews, TV cutoff, homework, bedtime?

Encourage your children to respect proper authority. Explain to them that there are some things that can't be changed and that these are rules that must be obeyed.

Remember that children need firmness. Set limits for their actions that they aren't ready to set for themselves. This doesn't mean that you always should try to impose your will upon your children. Find areas you know your child can decide for him/herself.

Teach your child to be cautious. They can plan to avoid trouble by steering clear of fights, by not carrying money and other valuables to school, and by not joining in when other students disrupt class. If your child does get into trouble in school, make sure you have all the facts before you act. Talk with everyone involved.

Watch for signs of chronic misbehavior—poor grades, truancy, drifting. Many children misbehave when they are trying to act like adults too soon. They feel they can make decisions for themselves when they really aren't ready yet. Some are influenced by questionable companions or use drugs and alcohol. That may be the time for you to get outside help. If you see your child slipping into behaviors that you can't correct by yourself, outside help may be your next step. Talk to teachers and counselors for referrals.

There's a lot of hard work involved in disciplining children. Your children may have been misbehaving for some time. They may not think you mean it when you start to correct them after all this time. Don't give up. Sometimes, when you think you are making the least headway, children surprise you and do what you ask.

Remember, an important factor in your child's self-image is what they think you think of them, and their self-image is a major factor in how they act and what they do.

Ekleberry wins Washington D.C. tour

Marj Ekleberry of Clarendon and Kiley Lambert of Groom won the recent Washington DC, Youth Tour contest sponsored by Greenbelt Electric Cooperative. They were part of a delegation of 70 young Texans selected to make the 13-day tour to see their government in action. The other young people were sponsored by other electric co-ops across Texas.

The gathering point for the Texas delegation was Austin, where delegates boarded two chartered Greyhound buses. In Washington they met approximately 1,000 youngsters, winners of similar contests in 38 other states, all sponsored by electric cooperative.

One of the tour groups' days is traditionally designated Rural Youth Day by the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association. And NRECA arranges a full day of activities designed to help tour members gain a better understanding of their government and to be better citizens now and in the future. The program includes "Energy Battle" in which teams of selected tour members compete in an event reminiscent of the popular "College Bowl" television program of yesterday.

On other days, they see the U.S. Senate and House of Representatives in session and view the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution and Bill of Rights in the National Archives.

They visit George Washington's home at Mount Vernon and the Washington Monument. And they pay their respects at the Lincoln, Jefferson, Iwo Jima, and Vietnam Memorials.

They witness the impressive changing of the guard ceremony at the Tomb of the Unknown in Arlington National Cemetery. And this year, two members of the Texas group were permitted to place a wreath at the Tomb.

After an event-filled and educational week in Washington, they began their return to Texas. Atop Lookout Mountain near Chattanooga, Tennessee, they conducted an early morning devotional on Father's Day.

THE JUVENILE DIABETES FOUNDATION (JDF) INTERNATIONAL was founded in 1970 by parents and friends of diabetic children who were convinced that, with research, diabetes could be cured. They were determined to make that cure happen in their children's lifetime.

Today the nucleus of dedicated volunteers has grown. JDF is now a voluntary not-for-profit health agency with chapters from coast to coast, in Canada and abroad, and membership in the tens of thousands.

JDF's determination to cure diabetes continues because...

- Diabetes is the third leading cause of death by disease.
- Diabetes is the leading cause of new cases of blindness.
- Diabetes greatly increases the chances of heart attack, stroke, kidney failure, gangrene and nerve damage.

At present, diabetes can only be treated, not cured. That is why the Juvenile Diabetes Foundation has as its primary objective the support and funding of research to arrest the complications of diabetes and to find a cure.

Congressman Beau Boulter Reports from Washington

WHY WE NEED THE SSC

If the United States wants to maintain its role as the world leader in the area of technological advancements, it is essential that we fully fund and support the proposed Superconducting Supercollider.

This month more than 200 colleagues and I introduced a bill on the floor of the U.S. House of Representatives to do just that.

When historians characterize the benefits derived from the Superconducting Supercollider (SSC), I have no doubt that they will consider the SSC one of the most significant scientific undertakings in the history of the United States.

The SSC will prove to be as valuable to the advancement of American technology as the space program has been. Whether we realize daily the benefits that we enjoy as a result of the space program, the comforts and benefits are readily available to us. The space program has provided substantial benefits in the past in the fields of medicine, education, computer science, engineering and advanced electronics and the SSC will provide the same benefits in the future.

I am absolutely committed to the Superconducting Supercollider project. The investment Congress makes in this project will be repaid many times over in new technologies and understanding of the nature of energy and matter.

I am equally committed to bringing this to the Panhandle.

The largest particle accelerator in the nation currently creates collisions that yield 2 trillion electron volts. The proposed SSC will yield collisions creating 20 times that much voltage. It will be unquestionably the most concise, powerful, and advanced scientific research investment in the world and will insure that the United States remains the world leader in technological achievements. Projects such as the Superconducting Supercollider will improve virtually every aspect of life as we know it today. The SSC represents an undertaking that we in Congress must support if the U.S. is to remain in the forefront of scientific achievement.

Texas — and more so the Panhandle — is clearly the single best site put forth in the competition by any state on technical merit alone. In addition, the Panhandle is much more cost efficient. Local inducements put together by the Panhandle group, including reduced utility costs and physical properties are highly competitive and will place Amarillo at the top of the list in this competition. The geographic profile offered by the Happy site will best suit a project of this magnitude.

In Washington, my colleagues and I have been faced with two battles. First, we must see to it that Congress fully funds this project. We must also educate other congressmen, whose states are not submitting proposals for the SSC, on the value of the project to the entire nation. Then, my Texas colleagues and I are prepared to do all we can to see that Texas becomes the home for the world's largest atom smasher.

The obstacles are formidable but not impossible to overcome. And I am confident that the remaining hurdles will be cleared.

The Superconducting Supercollider will usher in a new era of science in the United States. It will provide us with the capability to build on existing knowledge so that we can better understand the forces and structures of God's great universe.

In my recent meeting in Happy and on a helicopter tour earlier this summer, I have seen firsthand the proposed location. And I am gratified by the tremendous support that the organizing group has attracted from people in the Panhandle.

When the Happy site is eventually selected — and I am hopeful that it will be selected — the benefits to the area will be immediately evident. New jobs will be created — 10,000 during construction of the 52 mile loop. An additional 4,000 scientists, technicians and support staff will be required once the facility is operational. The project is expected to cost six billion dollars to construct and will require an annual operating and maintenance budget exceeding $250 million.

Microwave For Kids

Today the whole family contributes their cooking skills at mealtime. Even kids are learning their way around the kitchen. The best way to start kids cooking is to let them use an easy recipe and a safe and simple appliance, the microwave oven.

Have the kids prepare Chocolate Toffee Sauce, a recipe developed by the Banquet Foods Test Kitchens.

It's a quick and easy dessert sauce, that is just right for serving with a frozen prepared cream pie.

Dessert for the family can be ready in minutes, compliments of the kids.

Chocolate Toffee Sauce

- | | |
|-----------------------------------|---|
| 1 cup marshmallow creme | 1 package (14 oz.) Banquet Frozen Cream Pie, Ready-To-Serve, any flavor |
| 3 tablespoons caramel topping | Butterflake chips |
| 1/4 cup miniature chocolate chips | Miniature chocolate chips |
| 1/2 teaspoon vanilla | |

In medium microwave-safe bowl, combine marshmallow creme, caramel topping, chocolate chips and vanilla. Heat, covered, on HIGH 1 to 1 1/2 minutes or until hot, stirring once. Serve sauce over pie. Sprinkle with butterflake chips and miniature chocolate chips. Makes about 3/4 cup sauce.

PROPOSITION NO. 1 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 104 proposes a constitutional amendment to allow the legislature to provide a guarantee for the Texas grain warehouse self-insurance fund. The guarantee of the fund may not exceed $5 million, and when the fund reaches $5 million, the guarantee will cease. The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to provide for the surety of a grain warehouse fund to be established by the grain industry for the protection of farmers and depositors of grain in public warehouse facilities."

PROPOSITION NO. 2 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 60 proposes a constitutional amendment to permit rural fire prevention districts in counties with populations over 400,000 to levy a tax at a rate not to exceed six cents ($.06) per $100 property valuation for the district, if the voters of the district approve the tax.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment to raise the maximum property tax rate that may be adopted by certain rural fire prevention districts, but only if approved by the districts' residents."

PROPOSITION NO. 3 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 48 proposes a constitutional amendment to extend the school ad valorem tax exemption for elderly persons to the surviving spouse of a person receiving the exemption. If a surviving spouse is at least 55 years old at the time of death of the person receiving the exemption, ad valorem public school taxes could not be increased as long as the homestead remained the residence homestead of the surviving spouse.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment to limit school tax increases on the residence homestead of the surviving spouse of an elderly person if the surviving spouse is at least 55 years of age."

PROPOSITION NO. 4 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 5 proposes a constitutional amendment to allow the legislature to create programs and make loans and grants of money for development and diversification of the economy, elimination of unemployment and underemployment, stimulation of agricultural innovation, promotion of agricultural enterprises, and development of transportation and commerce. Bonds or other obligations payable from ad valorem taxes must be approved by the voters in the political subdivision seeking such funding sources.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment authorizing the legislature to provide assistance to encourage economic development in the state."

PROPOSITION NO. 5 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 65 proposes a constitutional amendment to permit the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation to contract with the Texas Turnpike Authority and to contribute money to the costs of turnpikes, toll roads and toll bridges of the Authority. The amendment would authorize the governing body of a county with a population over 400,000, a county adjoining such county, and any city or district located in or partially in such county to make agreements with the Texas Turnpike Authority and levy ad valorem taxes to pay part or all of the principal and interest on Turnpike Authority bonds and to pay maintenance and operating expenses of the Turnpike Authority, if the voters approve the tax.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment authorizing agreements between the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation and the Texas Turnpike Authority and the governing bodies of counties with a population of more than 400,000, adjoining counties, and cities and districts located in those counties to aid turnpikes, toll roads, and toll bridges by guaranteeing bonds issued by the Texas Turnpike Authority."

PROPOSITION NO. 6 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 4 proposes a constitutional amendment to allow the legislature to establish three separate development funds. A Texas product development fund could be established to aid in the development and production of new or improved products in the state. The amendment would authorize the issuance of up to $15 million of general obligation bonds to provide initial funding for the program. A Texas small business incubator fund could be established to foster and stimulate the development of small businesses in the state. Small businesses operating under the program would be exempt from ad valorem taxation. The amendment would authorize the issuance of up to $10 million in general obligation bonds to provide initial funding for the program. A Texas agricultural fund could be established to promote the production, processing and marketing of agricultural products produced primarily in Texas by small Texas agricultural businesses. The amendment would authorize the issuance of general obligation bonds in the amount of $100 million outstanding at one time to carry out the agricultural fund program. The legislature could require review and approval of the issuance of bonds and the use of bond proceeds.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment authorizing the legislature to provide for state financing of the development and production of Texas products and businesses."

PROPOSITION NO. 7 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 55 proposes a constitutional amendment to authorize the legislature to provide for the issuance of $400 million in general obligation bonds to be used for loans to local governments for acquisition, construction, repair, renovation, and equipment of public facilities or for grants to local governments for planning public facilities. The amendment would also permit the issuance of revenue bonds for the same purposes to be repaid from excess revenue from repayments of loans made under the amendment and from other revenues pledged to the retirement of revenue bonds. The amendment also authorizes the legislature to provide for review and approval of the issuance of the bonds and the use of the bond proceeds.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment providing for the issuance of general obligation bonds to finance certain local public facilities."

PROPOSITION NO. 8 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 56 proposes a constitutional amendment to allow the legislature to authorize the issuance of up to $500 million in general obligation bonds to be used to acquire, construct, and equip new health and mental retardation institutions or to repair existing institutions. The amendment also authorizes the legislature to provide for review and approval of the issuance of the bonds and the projects to be financed by the bond proceeds.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment authorizing the issuance of general obligation bonds for projects relating to corrections institutions and mental health and mental retardation facilities."

PROPOSITION NO. 9 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 9 proposes a constitutional amendment to provide that a state legislator is eligible to serve in another state office even if the compensation of the office was increased during his legislative term or even if the appointment is made in whole or in part (including Senate confirmation) by the legislature. The legislator could not, however, receive the increased compensation approved during his legislative term.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to provide that a member of the legislature is eligible to be elected or appointed and to serve in a different state office but may not receive an increase in compensation granted to that office during the legislative term to which he was elected."

PROPOSITION NO. 10 ON THE BALLOT

Subsections (d) and (e) of Section 1 of Senate Joint Resolution 12 propose a constitutional amendment to allow the legislature to exempt from ad valorem taxation all tangible personal property except structures which are used as residential dwellings and property held or used for the production of income. This exemption would be in addition to the personal property homestead exemption already established by the constitution. If the legislature authorizes the exemption of additional personal property from taxation, under this amendment, local political subdivisions may pass resolutions providing for taxation of such property unless the property is exempt from ad valorem taxation under another law.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to allow the legislature to exempt from ad valorem taxation certain personal property not held or used for the production of income."

PROPOSITION NO. 11 ON THE BALLOT

Section 1, Subsections (f) and (g) of Senate Joint Resolution 12 propose a constitutional amendment to exempt from ad valorem taxation goods, wares, merchandise, and ores other than oil, gas and petroleum products. These items would be exempt from taxation only if they originated outside the state and were located in the state for a period of 175 days or less for purposes of assembly, storage, manufacture, processing, or fabrication. Such property could be taxed by a county, school district, or municipality if the governing body of the political subdivision took official action to provide for the taxation of the items while they were located in the political subdivision. If the governing body of a political subdivision took official action to tax the items before January 1, 1988, the tax would be effective for the 1988 tax year. If the action were taken after January 1, 1988, and before April 1, 1988, the tax would become effective January 1, 1989.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment providing for the exemption from ad valorem taxation of certain property that is located in the state for only a temporary period of time."

PROPOSITION NO. 12 ON THE BALLOT

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment permitting spouses to hold community property with right of survivorship."

PROPOSITION NO. 13 ON THE BALLOT

valorem tax of up to ten cents ($.10) per $100 valuation of the property located in the district.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to allow for the creation and establishment, by law, of special districts to provide emergency services."

PROPOSITION NO. 14 ON THE BALLOT

This proposed amendment would allow the legislature to pass laws granting state prosecutors the right to appeal in limited circumstances.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment giving the state a limited right to appeal in criminal cases."

PROPOSITION NO. 15 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 35 proposes a constitutional amendment to abolish the office of county treasurer in Gregg County and transfer the duties of that office to the county auditor or an elected official designated by the commissioners court. The amendment would also abolish the office of county treasurer in Fayette and Nueces counties if a majority of the voters in those counties vote in favor of the amendment. In Fayette County, the functions of the treasurer would be transferred to the county auditor or the officer succeeding to the auditor's functions. In Nueces County, the powers, duties, and functions of the treasurer would be transferred to the county clerk.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to provide for the abolition of the office of county treasurer in Gregg, Fayette, and Nueces counties."

PROPOSITION NO. 16 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 6 proposes a constitutional amendment to allow the commissioners court in a county with a population of more than 150,000 to establish more than one Justice of the Peace court in each Justice of the Peace precinct, i.e., to provide for the election of more than one Justice of the Peace in each Justice of the Peace precinct.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment providing that certain justice precincts may contain more than one justice of the peace court."

PROPOSITION NO. 17 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 26 proposes a constitutional amendment to allow the legislature to define by law those municipal functions that are governmental and those that are proprietary. This authorization would apply to laws passed by the 70th Legislature, 1987, and by future legislatures in regular or special session. A municipality is liable for damages arising out of acts committed under its proprietary functions, but not its governmental functions. Definition of such functions by the legislature would clarify the liability of a municipality in civil lawsuits filed against it.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment authorizing the legislature to define for all purposes the governmental and proprietary functions of a municipality."

PROPOSITION NO. 18 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 18 proposes a constitutional amendment to authorize the legislature to provide for the creation, operation, and financing of jail districts. The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment relating to the creation, operation, and financing of jail districts."

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to authorize the legislature to provide ad valorem tax relief for certain offshore drilling equipment that is not in use."

PROPOSITION NO. 21 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 17 proposes a constitutional amendment to provide for legislative involvement in the executive branch of government by permitting the legislature to include the speaker of the house of representatives in the membership of an agency or committee that includes officers of the executive branch of government and performs executive functions. Under current law, the legislature is not allowed to exercise any powers in executive matters under Article II of the Texas Constitution, which provides for the "separation of powers" into three distinct departments.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment permitting the legislature to include the speaker of the house of representatives or the speaker's appointee in the membership of an executive agency or committee."

PROPOSITION NO. 22 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 53 proposes a constitutional amendment to allow the legislature to limit the term of office of a gubernatorial appointee to a vacancy in a state or district office to a partial, temporary term if the appointment is made on or after November 1 of the last year of the governor's term and the governor is not reelected. Under this amendment, the legislature may provide that the tenure of such an appointee would end sooner than the term would normally expire.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to allow the legislature to limit the authority of a governor to fill vacancies in state and district offices during the end of the governor's term if the governor is not reelected."

PROPOSITION NO. 23 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 54 proposes a constitutional amendment to authorize the Texas Water Development Board to issue an additional $400 million in water development bonds. Of the $400 million authorized, $200 million would be designated for conservation and development of water resources, $150 million would be designated for water quality enhancement, and $50 million would be designated for flood control. The amendment also authorizes the legislature to provide for review and approval of the issuance of the bonds and the use of the bond proceeds.

The governmental entity must be located wholly or partly in the county, and the governing body of the governmental entity must file a written work request with the commissioners court.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to permit a county to perform work, without compensation, for another governmental entity."

PROPOSITION NO. 25 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 5 proposes a constitutional amendment to allow the Legislature to authorize Randall County to levy a tax for the benefit of the Amarillo Hospital District. Any such tax could be levied only on property located outside the City of Amarillo and outside the South Randall County Hospital District. The tax could not be more than 75¢ per $100 property valuation and would be effective only upon approval by the voters in the area to be taxed. If the tax is authorized by the Legislature and approved by voters, the Amarillo Hospital District is to serve residents of part of Randall County. If a tax is levied under this provision, Randall County must repay the State for the cost of publication of this amendment.

The proposed amendment also permits the legislature to authorize a hospital district to change its boundaries or jurisdiction if the district was created or authorized by a constitutional provision that includes a description of the boundaries or jurisdiction of the district. Any change in the boundaries or jurisdiction of such a hospital district would become effective only upon approval of the voters in the district.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment authorizing the legislature to permit the Amarillo Hospital District to serve certain residents of Randall County, to authorize Randall County to provide financial assistance to the district, and to authorize certain hospital districts to change their boundaries or jurisdiction with voter approval."

If the proposition fails, the members will be elected from these districts.

The referendum will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The State Board of Education shall be composed of members who are appointed from districts instead of elected, with equal representation throughout the State of Texas."

The referendum will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The legalization of pari-mutuel wagering under the Texas Racing Act on a county-by-county local option basis."

A New Twist On Credit Card Fraud

Recently, a number of Texans have been the victims of a new twist in the ever creative world of the telemarketing con artist.

THE PITCH

You receive a telephone call from someone claiming to represent a travel agency. You are offered a vacation package—travel, accommodations, meals, entertainment—at a bargain price.

Sounds interesting, doesn't it?

But you've heard about travel package frauds so you start to refuse. Before you can finish, the salesperson says they will send the materials for your consideration. There will be no bills for 30 days.

What have you got to lose? You have 30 days to check out the package. If you don't like it, it hasn't cost you a cent.

You tell them to send you the material.

"Fine," says the salesperson, "now if you'll just give us a credit card number for verification I'll have your information materials in today's mail."

THE SCAM

You look over the materials, decide the package is not for you, and return everything before the deadline.

But on your next credit card bill you are billed for the vacation you declined. Not only are you billed for it, but you have never heard of the company listed on the statement.

HOW IT WORKS

In order to use credit card services, companies must show a bank they are credit worthy. This allows them to become part of a bank card system and get a merchant identification number. Many of these "travel companies" cannot qualify, so they contract with a third party who can get a merchant identification number and can borrow money from a bank. These third party companies process the vendors' charge slips for a fee, which can be as much as ten per cent.

VIOLATIONS OF THE LAW

The sudden appearance of the processor's name on your bill creates a problem—obviously, it makes it very difficult for you to dispute the unauthorized charges since the name on the billing slip is different than that of the merchant who called you.

The use of a new name may violate the provisions about full disclosure of the Truth in Lending and/or Fair Credit Billing acts, as well as the Texas Deceptive Trade Practices Act and the national rules promulgated by the credit card industry.

Moreover, in all likelihood, charge slip processors are violating more than full disclosure provisions: several have been found to sell their slips to other processors in different parts of the country. This means that you can get double or triple billed for products or services you never ordered or used.

November election contains record number of proposed amendments

AUSTIN—The November election ballot will contain a record number of proposed constitutional amendments, Secretary of State Jack Rains announced, after drawing numbers to determine the order in which the 25 amendments will appear on the Nov. 3 ballot.

For the first time in Texas history, Rains said, two statewide referenda will be presented to voters. By law, those will follow the constitutional amendments, he said.

Local issues, if any, will follow the statewide questions. At least four counties have already decided to place local-option horse racing before their voters.

Gov. Bill Clements issued a proclamation designating the order for the two referendum propositions sent to voters by the Legislature.

The propositions, in the order of ballot appearance, are:

- SB 86: Provides for retain the State Board of Education as an appointed—rather than elected—body. Unless voters approve this proposition, the board is scheduled to return to an elected group with equal representation throughout the state of Texas in 1989.

- SB 15: Legalization of pari-mutuel wagering under the Texas Racing Act on a county-by-county local option basis.

Rains' drawing of paper slips out of a cowboy hat, set the proposed constitutional amendment ballot order as follows:

- HJR 104: Provides for the surety of a grain warehouse fund to be established by the grain industry for the protection of farmers and depositors in public warehouse facilities.

- HJR 60: To permit raising the maximum property tax rate that may be adopted by certain rural fire prevention districts, but only if approved by the districts' residents.

- HJR 48: Permits limiting school tax increases on the residences of the surviving spouse of an elderly person if the surviving spouse is at least 55 years old.

- HJR 5: Authorizes the Legislature to provide assistance for encouraging economic development.

- HJR 65: Authorizes agreements between the State Department of Highways and Transportation, and the Texas Turnpike Authority and the governing bodies of counties with a population of more than 400,000, adjoining counties and cities and districts located in those counties to aid turnpikes, toll roads and toll bridges, by guaranteeing bonds.

- HJR 4: Allows the Legislature to provide for state financing of the development of Texas products and businesses.

- SJR 55: Authorizes the issuance of general obligation bonds to finance local public facilities.

- SJR 56: Authorizes issuance of general obligation bonds for projects relating to corrections institutions and mental health and mental retardation facilities.

- SJR 9: Provides that a member of the legislature is eligible to be elected or appointed to serve in a different state office but may not receive an increase in compensation granted to that office during the legislative term to which he was elected.

- SJR 12: Allows the Legislature to exempt from ad valorem taxation certain personal property

- SJR 12, Part 2: To allow the Legislature to exempt from ad valorem taxation certain property located in the state temporarily.

- SJR 35: Permits spouses to hold community property with right of survivorship.

- SJR 27: Allows for the creation and establishment, by law, of special districts to provide emergency services.

- SJR 34: Would give the state of Texas a limited right to appeal in criminal cases.

- HJR 35: Permits the abolishment of the office of county treasurer in Gregg, Fayette and Nueces counties.

- SJR 6: Providing that certain justice precincts may contain more than one justice of the peace court.

- SJR 26: Allows the legislature to define for all purposes the governmental and proprietary functions of a municipality.

- HJR 18: Relates to the creation, operation, and financing of jail districts.

- HJR 88: Authorizes the issuance of general obligation bonds to fund undertakings related to a superconducting super collider research facility sponsored or authorized by the U.S. government, and to make appropriate grants.

- HJR 96: Allows the Legislature to provide ad valorem tax relief for certain offshore drilling equipment that is not in use.

- SJR 17: Permits the Legislature to include the speaker of the House or speaker's appointee in the membership of an executive agency or committee.

- SJR 53: Permits the Legislature to limit the authority of a governor to fill vacancies in state and district offices during the end of the governor's term if not re-elected.

- SJR 54: Authorizes the issuance of an additional $400 million in Texas Water Development bonds.

- HJR 83: Allows a county to perform work, without compensation, for other governmental bodies.

- SJR 5: Authorizes the Legislature to permit the Amarillo Hospital District to serve certain residents of Randall County.

TO LAUGH AGAIN

Oh Lord my children don't laugh anymore. The laughter has gone out of their eyes. My heart is breaking because of the pain that I see. What can I do? What can I say to restore some of the happiness that has gone out of their lives? We have gone so far away from You and sometimes You seem so far away that there is no way we can return. Have mercy on us and guide our lives back into the fellowship of our God and Savior. Show thy children the way and give a reason to laugh and play again, to enjoy that fellowship that You bring to all Thy children who seek You.

"In Order To Form A More Perfect Union"

September, 1987 marks the 200th anniversary of the signing of the most important document in the history of our country, the United States Constitution. The World Book Encyclopedia and The World Book Year Book both feature new articles about the document.

- Do you know?
1. What two delegates to the Constitutional Convention became U.S. Presidents?
 2. Which signers of the Declaration of Independence also signed the Constitution?
 3. Who was called the "Father of the Constitution?"
 4. Who actually "wrote" the Constitution?
 5. When was the Constitution signed?
 6. What state did not send representatives to the Convention?
 7. In what order did the delegates sign the Constitution?
 8. Which three leading delegates refused to sign the Constitution?
 9. How many delegates signed the Constitution?
 10. Which renowned American statesman did not attend the Convention?

The 1987 World Book Year Book honors the 200th anniversary of the world's oldest written Constitution by devoting its largest section to a two-part feature entitled "The U.S. Constitution: 200 Years of History."

The World Book article on the Constitution is so clearly written that the U.S. Bicentennial Commission recently ordered 500,000 reprints to use in their efforts to help inform the public of this important document.

Answers:

1. George Washington and James Madison.
2. George Clymer, Benjamin Franklin, Robert Morris, George Read, Roger Sherman, and James Wilson.

WHAT TO DO

Since processing charge slips is lucrative—one processor handled more than $500,000 in slips in less than two weeks, for a 10% cut—it is unlikely to go away any time soon. You must, therefore, be on your guard constantly. Check out all telemarketing sales pitches before you agree to anything.

To dispute any unauthorized charges, notify the credit card company in writing as soon as possible. You must describe the problem and indicate that you have tried to correct the situation with the merchant/vendor. Most banks do their best to investigate charge back requests and honor the legitimate ones.

Most important, treat your credit card numbers as carefully as you treat your cash. DO NOT give your numbers to anyone except reputable business you know and trust.
