Bumper cotton crop and good prices!

By BOB WILLIAMS

The 1987 cotton crop in Donley County looks like it may be the best in years. Although farmers reduced their cotton acreage somewhat due to the Conservation Reserve Program, the remaining cotton land is growing a bumper crop. And cotton prices are relatively high. Ronnie Gooch, County Extension Agent, says, "This crop has the potential to be the best in the twenty-two years that I've been here." David Lowrie (Clarendon college biologist who has provided insect-scouting service for many farmers this year) says that from an entomologist's point of view the crop is made. "It's too late now for the bugs to do much damage." (Lowrie is also a rookie cotton-grower this year.)

Officials at the ASCS office estimate that Donley County farmers will harvest about 25,000 acres of cotton. Using the old rule-of-thumb of bolls-per-inch, farmers expect from one-half bale-to-the-acre up to two bales, with many farms averaging more than a bale-to-the-acre. Earl Shields, manager of the Paymaster Gin at Lelia Lake predicts that the county may produce 17,000 to 18,000 bales.

Cotton prices improved markedly since last year's harvest. Current market reports in the '60s have some farmers smiling "like a mule eating prickly-pears". But as one local farmer cautioned, "The crop isn't made until the money's in the bank." Area growers are hopeful—but solemn.

The Great Unknown in farming is weather, and everyone who has commented on this year's prospects has carefully modified predictions with words like "potentially", "might", and "could". Weather holds a tremendous threat to the crop, even yet.

This year's Spring rains were a mixed blessing. They provided the moisture necessary for good growth, but those same early rains delayed planting, so that much of the cotton is immature. That immature cotton needs hot, dry weather to mature and a later-than-usual frost. Earl Shields is hoping for warm weather until at least the middle of October. With such weather the cotton should have both good mike and good grade.

The crop has not yet escaped from the danger of other weather-related problems, however. A violent hail could demolish both yield and quality. Wet weather could delay harvest and discolor the fiber, causing lower prices. But everyone from farmer to merchant hopes that weather conditions will permit a large crop of high-quality fiber at high prices. The County badly needs the economic lift such a harvest would provide.

Farmers and ginners remain highly optimistic. Area farmers are checking over their strippers, getting ready to get the bolls out of the field as soon as possible. Several producers will be using burr extractors on their strippers. Burr extractors reduce ginning costs and leave more organic matter in the field. They may also help quality in some cases.

Area ginners are also working hard to be ready for harvest season. Wandell Luttrell and his crew are working until 8:00 in the evenings to get the Clarendon Gin in perfect shape. Chemically defoliated cotton could roll into the gin almost any time.

Paymaster Gin has added six new module makers, and is trying to line up custom harvesters to speed up the harvesting process. They have also added two-stage cleaning system to try to get customers' lint into the highest possible grade. They expect to gin their first bale around the second or third week of October, from cotton defoliated by a recent hailstorm. There were about 1,200 to 1,500 acres effected.

Prospects for the 1988 crop year are not quite so rosy. Ronnie Gooch, county agent, reports that boll weevils turned up in almost every trap used in monitoring insect populations in the county. Weevils had been exterminated from the county in past years through an expensive diapause program, as their re-invasion is particularly bad news. They appear to have moved in from areas to the east and south. Boll weevils will probably overwinter here, requiring an extensive (and expensive) program to eradicate them. Such a program will raise production costs significantly in the future.

Old-timers are also dubious about the prospects for 1988 due to their expectation that good crops and good prices in 1987 will encourage over-production and low prices the following year. The phenomenon is all too familiar to many producers.

David Davidson, President of the Chamber of Commerce, recommends that area farmers consider using some of the proceeds from this year's crop to diversify. He points to statistics from the Texas Department of Agriculture, that only 6% of what Texas' farmers and ranchers produce is actually processed in Texas. Shippers and processors outside the state make far more from Texas agricultural products than do producers.

"Texans will probably approve amendments to make it easier to get the money to build mills and processing plants. We need to be ready to take advantage of those amendments right here in this area." In addition, individual producers must diversify to thrive.

Davidson's sentiments are similar to those of many producers, and echo the conclusions of most ag-economists. As an A&M researcher said recently, "In the long run, we cannot compete with a Chinese coolie in cotton production or an Argentine peon in grain production—unless our cotton farmers are willing to work all day for bowl of rice, or our grain growers are content with a plate of frijoles."

All area residents can give thanks if a bumper crop and an unusually high market gives the local economy a reprieve. But so long as the county's prosperity depends on cotton, cattle and grain there can be no real economic security for either local farmers or Clarendon merchants.

By RICHARD GRISHAM

CHS "Fighting Broncos" open their district 2A season this Friday night at home as they take on Canadian at 7:30 p.m. The much improved Broncos will try to extend Canadians current losing streak to three in what promises to be an exciting match-up.

The Broncos' JV will travel to Canadian Thursday night for their game which is slated to begin at 7:30 p.m. The JV has chalked up two upset victories in a row and are hungry for more.

Make a night of it and come out to the games to show your support to the "Fighting Broncos." Go Maroon and White Go!

FIRST BALE OF COTTON ginned at West Texas Gin, Hedley was for Virgil McPherson. This bale was hand picked on four acres of cotton within the city limits of Hedley. The seed cotton weighed 2260 pounds and ginned out to 570. Estimated price for the cotton is 70 cents per pound. Shown in the above picture is Rogelio Branino, ginner; Phillip Wiggins, gin manager and Virgil McPherson.

Bronco Football

By RICHARD GRISHAM

The Bronco Varsity Football team, with upset on their minds traveled to Childress Friday night to take on the Bobcats and Zebras. The hard hitting Broncos had a difficult time trying to compensate for a tough Childress team, several questionable calls, and a very slow clock as Childress won 42-6.

The only score of the first quarter came on a short run by the Bobcats with the point after good. Broncos defense played extra tough and forced two turnovers on fumble recoveries to thwart Childress drives.

The Broncos defense continued to hang tough as they forced a third fumble which was recovered by Cory Pounds. The drive was topped off by a Bronco TD on a fake punt pass from Brad Shadle to Danny McCampbell with the point after failing. The score at that point was 7-6 Childress. Childress came back with their own TD on a 3 yd. run with the PA good. The score 14-6 Childress. The second period ended on a very controversial drive by Childress which allowed them 6 plays in the final 16 seconds. Broncos defense held tough and only allowed a 3 point field goal. Score at the intermission was 17-6 Childress.

Bronco JV upsets Valley

Bronco JV took on the underdog roll as they traveled to Valley Thursday night and scored an upset victory of 14-6.

Bronco's stingy defense was on the move again as they allowed only 6 points by Valley. Last week the defense blanked the Childress JV.

The Valley Patriots scored their only touchdown in the first quarter on a pass with the point after attempt failing. From that point on the Bronco defense was not to be outdone. A second first half touchdown drive was foiled by a Jonathan Stewart interception who then brought the ball out of the end zone. The score at halftime was 6-0 Valley.

Clarendon came out in the second half bucking for an upset and waited no time in proving it. Randy Allen took the opening kickoff 80 yds. into the end zone for the Bronco's first score. The point after by Jason Slavin was good. Score 7-6 Clarendon.

The Broncos iced the game on a three yard run by Richard Graham for a touchdown and the point after by Slavin was also good, making the score 14-6. The hard hitting Bronco defense had three fumble recovery by Mark Austin, Che Shadle and Jason Sharrar, and an additional interception by Randy Gaines. "Way to go Guys!" Those Ramblin Broncos are on the move!

Hedley Cotton Festival underway this week

The 35th Annual Hedley Cotton Festival will be underway in Hedley this weekend, October 9th and 10th.

Friday starting with the Senior Class breakfast at the Lions Den and continuing throughout Friday and Saturday and will end with the coronation ceremonies of the Cotton Festival Queen, crowned by Lions District Lieutenant Governor, Virgil James. There is a complete schedule on page 4 of this weeks Clarendon Press, sponsored by Security State Bank.

Last years parade was rained out.

hopefully good weather will hold for the rest of the week, and the parade can take place on schedule. Hedley probably has the largest little parade in the state, if a poll could be taken, we doubt if there is a bigger parade in the state, larger than Hedley's according to their population.

Hedley has a lot of community spirit and it shows in the amount of floats their community has in the parade.

Don't miss the Hedley Cotton Festival this weekend.

TEAMS exit level test to be administered

During the 1985-1986 school year, the Texas Education Agency (TEA) instituted the Texas Educational Assessment of Minimum Skills (TEAMS) assessment program. This program, mandated by House Bill 72, passed by the Second Called Session of the 68th Texas Legislature in July 1984, measures minimum basic skills in the areas of mathematics, reading, and writing in Grades 1, 3, 5, 7, 9, and in mathematics and English language arts in Grades 11/12. The test given to eleventh and twelfth graders is an exit level examination and both the mathematics and English language arts sections of the test must be passed by students prior to their receiving a high school diploma.

The TEAMS exit level test is administered at least twice each school year. For the October 1987 test administration, eleventh graders will be tested for the first time and students who previously have not demonstrated mastery on both sections of the test will have the opportunity to retake the assessment instrument. The results will be aggregated by grade and subject and reported for each campus, school district, service center region, and for the state.

In addition, out-of-school individuals who have met all graduation requirements except for passing both sections of the exit test will be permitted to take one or both sections during this and subsequent administrations. According to Section 101.2 of the Texas Administrative Code, districts are required to publicize the designated dates, the precise location(s), times, and actions former pupils interested in retesting should take to assure access to the testing area and availability of the testing materials. Your district will be provided with separate administration materials for these out-of-school examinees. Results will be reported to the individual and to the district from which the individual expects to receive a diploma.

Letter to the Editor

[Editor's Note: This article was edited with the knowledge of the writer]

For many years I have had the conviction that the town of Clarendon should be, and could be, the "Sweetheart" town for the traveling public between Dallas-Ft. Worth and Denver and for traffic on Highway 70. Even though having such a conviction, I have not discussed this thought with anyone other than Mary, with the apparent feeling of why should we get involved in promoting Clarendon? It has been about the same community that it now is for a long time and people in general seem to be reasonably well satisfied, so why suggest activities that would bring about change even though it could be very beneficial to the Community!!

During the month of August Mary and I traveled through hundreds of small towns in the U.S. and Canada. We took particular interest in seeing the appearances of these communities as we traveled through. Many were rather bland and unkept and left the impression that no one cared about appearances - they did not impress one as being progressive and caring. However, a majority of the towns were very attractive with well-maintained homes and buildings and a profusion of flowers, shrubbery, etc. One could tell that the people had a lot of pride and cared and were willing to put forth the efforts required to show that they did care.

Ever since we returned, I have felt that I should write this letter, but have been busy, so delayed until "tomorrow", thinking that eventually something would happen and I would stop procrastinating and get it done.

Well!! Something did happen on September 6 when we received our "Reader's Digest" and read the article entitled "Kids Who Saved A Dying Town"!!! In many ways the description of Royston, Georgia, reminded me of our town. I am not saying Clarendon is a dying town, but there is a lot of evidence to support a statement saying that it is taking its share of lumps. The article should be MUST reading for everyone in town.

Clarendon could benefit by some group becoming very enthusiastic about Community improvement.

Clarendon, the oldest town in the Panhandle, with its rich heritage, location, historical buildings, growing museum, the Low House, modern Junior College buildings, attractive homes as well as many other assets, has the potential for being the "Sweetheart" town with many benefits as mentioned earlier.

Careful planning, limited promotion, positive action, unselfish participation, "can do" attitudes, and Community support could certainly bring about such recognition with many benefits to the entire Community. Any promotion would naturally need to include all of Donley County and its many assets.

If a dedicated, imaginative teacher and five students in Royston, Georgia, can develop a program that made a difference in their town, Clarendon should be able to come up with an active enthusiastic group that could do the same.

The placing of half-barrels and pretty flowers in the downtown area has added a lot and is certainly a step in the right direction. Other improvements should follow.

Developing a five year plan or something similar for promoting, beautifying, and generally improving the Community, should be a challenge for Clarendon!!

Sincerely,
Goodwin Bray

WTU has another fuel cost refund

West Texas Utilities Co. customers will receive another fuel cost refund this month.

The refund, requested by the Company, was approved by the Public Utility Commission of Texas and will total about $4.6 million. This includes actual over-collections of fuel costs from December 1986 through July 1987, plus interest.

The refunds will be credited to customer bills. A typical residential customer will receive a little more than $7. This is the sixth refund made to WTU retail customers since the summer of 1985.

The fuel rates charged to customers have been adjusted with every refund, but the price of natural gas, WTU's main power plant boiler fuel during the period, has continued to decline.

Meanwhile, WTU is expecting a decision by the PUC in November regarding the Company's request to increase its base rates. A hearing in the case ended September 16 and a final order from the three-member PUC is expected in time to apply any rate change on December bills.

The Company had requested an increase to add $50.3 million in annual revenues, which would bring the new coal-fired Oklahoma Power Station into the rate base.

Pam Fletcher attends 39th annual county treasurers conference

Donley County Treasurer Pam Fletcher joined some 164 other officials and numerous guests at the 39th Annual County Treasurers' Conference. The keynote address was delivered by the Honorable Jim Mattox, Texas Attorney General. The special guest speaker was John Bryant, U.S. Congressman from the 5th District, Dallas.

"County Treasurers have the major responsibility for handling and investing county funds," said Pam Fletcher. "It's an ever changing business that requires staying on top of the latest in money management and legal requirements for government fiscal accountability."

County Treasurers who attended the conference also heard various speakers on such subjects as payroll, accounting, investment alternatives, computer software applications and public relations. The annual conference is one of the educational programs sponsored by the County Treasurers' Association of Texas.

Texas Fire Data facts for 1986

Fire departments in Texas reported 92,737 fires which killed 281 people, injured 2,344 and destroyed more than $434 million in property during 1986, according to data from the Texas Fire Incident Reporting System (TEXFIRS).

When compared to fires reported in 1985, the number of fires increased less than one percent in 1986, but fire-related fatalities increased 13.8 percent, property loss and civilian injuries increased 7.3 percent, while injuries to fire service personnel decreased nearly 12 percent.

Residential properties suffered the most damage from fire. Of the 24,492 building fires reported during 1986, 75 percent of the fires and 44 percent of the property loss occurred in residences. In addition, 95 percent of the structure fire fatalities and 78 percent of the injuries occurred in residences. In 1986, residential fire fatalities increased 23 percent over 1985 and civilian injuries increased 11 percent.

The major cause of fire in residential properties involved careless cooking. Incendiary or suspicious fires ranked second. Among fatal fires in residences, the most frequently reported cause involved the careless use of portable heaters. Fires of an incendiary or suspicious nature and careless smoking both ranked second as causes of fatal fires in residences. Injuries in residential fires usually resulted from careless cooking, while the greatest amount of dollar loss resulted from incendiary and suspicious fires.

2nd annual jail and bail successful

Xi Lambda Xi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi held their second annual MS Arrest Jail & Bail Saturday at Texas Saddlery. Thanks to Clarendon XLX raised $700.00 to fight Multiple Sclerosis in the Panhandle. A special thanks goes to Texas Saddlery for the use of "the jail". Also a special thanks to all those "arrestees and arrestors". The "jail" was a busy place with the Sheriff and Deputies making arrests, warrant officer issuing warrants, judge and bailiff was pronouncing sentences and the clerk and collectors keeping up with bail.

The "prisoners" were provided a "last meal" and a telephone to use to call all of their FAITHFUL friends, relatives and neighbors in order to raise their bail. Many were surprised to find out just who their friends really are.

Bud Lovelady served as honorable judge. KLSR provided radio coverage. XLX members furnished food.

Everyone got into the spirit and XLX would like to thank all of you for your participation. Once again, THANKS CLARENDON or behalf of the Multiple Sclerosis Foundation.

NEWS OF FAMILIES

According to the Philip Morris Family Survey, majorities of families are satisfied with the following key elements that affect the quality of family life:

- Close friends and family (95 percent).
- Spousal relationships (89 percent).
- The way family members support each other (86 percent).
- The way interests of each family member are respected (86 percent).
- The way family finances are handled (86 percent).
- The balance between pleasures and troubles (85 percent).

Of the 213 deaths that resulted from residential structure fires, the vast majority (27 percent) were children ten years old or younger. Among the 57 fatalities in that age group, 72 percent (41 fatalities) were children younger than five years of age.

Fires of an incendiary or suspicious nature represented a major cause of fire during 1986. These fires increased 13 percent over 1985, while the estimated dollar loss decreased 2 percent. Civilian fatalities from these fires increased 53 percent and civilian injuries increased 26 percent over 1985, while fire service fatalities decreased 50 percent and fire service injuries decreased 20 percent.

For further information about the fire problem in Texas, please contact the State Board of Insurance, State Fire Marshal's Office, Information Section, 1110 San Jacinto, Austin, Texas 78701-1998, or call (512) 837-1428.

Lions Tail

The Clarendon Lions Club met in a regular meeting in the Lions Club Hall at noon Tuesday, October 6, 1987. There were 21 Lions and the Lion Sweetheart along with 5 visitors present. After a very delicious meal the Boss Lion Jim Shelton opened the meeting in due form. Lion Tamer P.C. Messer introduced the guests as follows: Mr. David Smith, Clarendon, a guest of Lion Donald Smith; Lion L. B. Penick, a former member of Clarendon Lions Club from Pampa; Lion Rocky Lucas, Pampa; Lion Ed Wiens, Pampa; and Lion R. Bagley, Pampa; all are members of the Pampa Evening Lions Club. We are always glad to have these visitors.

There was no program this time and the Boss Lion made several announcements. He reminded the Club of the Banquet to be on the 20th of the month, and also there will be a cleanup day in the Lions hall, Saturday, October 10, 1987, all Lions are invited to help. There being no further business the meeting was adjourned.

TSTA/NEA PRIDE IN excellence

The School Team

This is the final part of a series sponsored by the Texas State Teachers Association and this newspaper to help parents to become a part of the total school team. We hope we have offered helpful advice to young parents and friends of education. This final series is about all the school employees who work behind the scenes to give your child the best education possible.

It takes a lot of good people working together to make a good school. The first person who comes to mind may well be your child's teacher, but it's important for you to know everyone who is important to your schools.

The school secretaries and clerks are indispensable. They do all the things that secretaries and clerks in most businesses do, but they also do a lot more. They are the key people to whom everyone comes for information. Students ask them everything. Parents phone constantly. Teachers ask about all kinds of rules and records. They type correspondence and tests. They make sure attendance records balance. They help find lost books and soothe over little hurts. They register all visitors and new students. They occasionally find lunch money when someone loses it. And sometimes, they keep track of their school's budget.

The maintenance staff keeps the school running. They operate the boilers and air conditioners to make classrooms comfortable. Who fixes the broken oven so your children can have hot lunches? The maintenance staff. Who fixes a stuck window so the class can get fresh air? The maintenance staff. Who remodels the classroom so it can be more effective or fixes the roof? The maintenance staff.

The transportation service is the group who takes your child to and from school and on special field trips. In some districts, each bus driver is responsible for as many as 400 children each day! That means he or she has to know each child to make certain everyone is safe and well-behaved. Bus drivers are responsible for keeping the buses running and ship-shape.

School aides are very special people and they help in many different ways. There are teachers' aides who help the teachers and let them spend more time in direct instruction. Some schools have library aides, cafeteria aides, clerical aides and playground aides. If there's an important job to be done, aides help do it.

How can you measure the value of a school nurse who's always there to bandage a sore thumb or take a temperature. School nurses teach and heal in many ways. The librarian helps uncover a vast new world that the children will explore for a lifetime. The cafeteria workers make sure your child gets a balanced, nutritious lunch. And the counselors who guide children in making important decisions. And, of course, there's the principal who tries to help all these people work together so your children get a better education.

By mentioning these people, we're sure we've left out others who deserve to be cited. The point is this: your children's classrooms are certainly the focal point of their education, but it is the whole school family that supports learning and makes it possible for your child to get a good education.

Christmas cards

benefit cancer patients

The Edith Ballew Circle members of the First United Methodist Church are pleased to announce that we will be selling the Harrington Cancer Center Circle of Friends Christmas cards once again this year. These cards were drawn by school children from throughout the Panhandle. The financial assistance provided by this program is available for all individuals who live in the Panhandle area and are treated in any of the Amarillo health care facilities or programs. Over $20,000 has been distributed to cancer patients and their families. A portion of the benefits from the sale will go to the Edith Ballew Circle. Through various local projects we try to use this money and other resources to reach out to the community in service.

Cancer is a traumatic experience to every family it touches and the financial burden can be devastating. Today cancer touches one out of every three families. Your purchase of the Christmas cards provides the opportunity for you to share in helping your friends and family who may have cancer, as well as enjoy sending the beautifully designed cards by children who have given of their talents of love because they care.

The cards will be available beginning October 15 from any Edith Ballew Circle member and at several locations in town, including Wallace Monument, First Bank & Trust, and James F. Hayes & Co.

GOD'S WORD - or - OUR TRADITION

The story is told of a so-called "preacher" who stood before a small town church one Sunday morning several years ago... He lifted his Bible high in one hand and said, "We should stop paying so much attention to this," as he threw the Bible down on the floor, "and start paying more attention to this," as he lifted up their denominational creed book with his other hand!!!

And God says, "You hypocrites, rightly did Isaiah prophesy of you, saying, 'This people honors Me with their lips, but their heart is far away from Me. But in vain do they worship Me, teaching as their doctrines the commandments of men.'" - Matthew 15:7-9

What would you have done if this would have happened in your church? Would you have walked out? Would you have stood up and confronted that "preacher"? Or would you sit back and passively receive it because you don't submit to Bible authority either, or you are just too Bible ignorant to know the difference? Jesus said, "He who rejects Me and does not receive My sayings, has one who judges him; My word will judge him on the last day!" - John 12:48 For that reason, friends, perhaps it's time we repent of our rebellion, educate ourselves, and kick every "preacher" out of the pulpit who glorifies the traditions of men above the Word of God and teach them what it means to make an honest living!!!

Ashtola-Martin news

By Naomi Green

Clifford and Stella Jewett went to Panhandle Tuesday to see Bula Furgerson, Cliff's sister. They had a nice visit there and went on to visit their cousins Georgia, Ray and Kelly Lane and their daughters and their husbands went to Las Vegas for five days. Linda and Jim Bagrich and Barbara and Danny Mason of Amarillo were the lucky gamblers. Stella said their money went into the machines faster than it came out. Everyone won some, some more than others.

Dennis and Loretta Harrison were gone nine days to Vion National Park, Brice Canyon, Utah. They visited the Painted Desert, Petrified Forest, Grand Canyon and were in Santa Fe and got to see a former Clarendon resident, Debbie Lowry.

Thelma Hall entered High Plains Baptist Hospital Friday. She came home Monday and is doing very well.

Last Tuesday Bill Stafford of Amarillo visited his Aunt and Uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Spivey.

Ruth and Benny Clay went to Levelland Tuesday to see Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Porter. They returned Saturday.

LaRue Pitman of Amarillo came last week and took her parents to Amarillo for doctors appointments. They got a good report. LaRue spent two nights with them.

Mary and Christel Green and Cara Briething and Lynn Williams attended Cadet Senior Program Level Training at Pampa Girl Scout Little House Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Green, Christel and Little Jerry made a trip to Portales, N.M. Sunday.

Lindsey "Hoss" Watts and Charlotte Payne spent the weekend with their grandparents the H.A. Greens. Beth brought them Friday and came after them Sunday.

C.I. Casteel went with Mr. and Mrs. Bill Stevens of Lubbock to Arkansas to see Mr. Casteel's ninety-plus years of age brother, Emmett Casteel.

Jimmy Bennett of Amarillo visited with Bill Florine Bennett Monday.

Steve and Dorothea Reynolds spent the weekend in Midland with Greg, Cindy, Jason and Kelley Bunyon.

Mrs. Ann Bunyon went to Midland Monday to spend the week with Greg, Cindy, Jason and Kelley Bunyon.

Marie McCracken spent last week with Frank Reynolds in Albuquerque, N.M.

The following letter was received by Naomi Green who shares it with all readers.

"Dear Mrs. Green,

I know you are probably a busy woman but would like to ask a favor of you. I saw in your column last week that Arlie and Dean Wood had been in your area. Would you please contact Mr. Watson and get their address from him? Arlie and Dean have been friends since our teenage years. I lost track of them over the years. I graduated from C.H.S. in 1930. For several years I drove a Sinclair gas truck for Frank Hommel. I know a lot of people in your community. I was a classmate of Paul Talley-Harold Hamm ran the 880 with me in track. Knew the Easterling boys and Charlie Hearn well. Ask Charlie if he remembers the night we spent in the little hotel in Silverton during a bad snowstorm about 1964. We were on our way to Dallas from California and I think the Hearn were coming from Hereford. The Highway Dept. was bringing stranded travelers in all night. I delivered gas to the old Talley Service Station and Store. I was a classmate of the late F.L. Behrens who I understand later taught at Martin. I was also a classmate of Claudine (Smallwood) Todd. I could go on and on but don't wish to bore you. I will be grateful if you can find time to do this for me. I realize that we old-timers are on the bell-lap (a track term for the last lap of a race). If you wish to publish this in your paper you have my consent.

Yours Thankfully

How about that fan mail all the way from California!

Viola Graham returned Sunday from a visit with her son, Mr. and Mrs. James Graham and sons, Matt and Todd in St. Louis, Missouri.

They saw Barbara Mandrell at the Fox Theatre and spent one day at St. Louis Art Museum.

At Busch Stadium, in a crowd of over 55,000 they saw the Cardinals clinch a tie for the National League Eastern Division title with Mets loss.

They were watching Cardinals and Montreal Expos. When Cardinals won, fans let out a collective cheer, and fireworks pierced the clear October sky. Cars honking continuously, ringed the stadium in voluntary grid lock.

They saw the sights in Union Station, visited a Fudge Factory, and drove over surrounding areas viewing the beautiful foliage.

Stumbling

"... if you run, you will not stumble." (Prov. 4:12)

A small pebble. A loose shoelace. A shout from the sidelines. All are insignificant in themselves. Yet such small things can cause a runner to stumble and lose the big race.

Sometimes we stumble in our Christian lives, too, and the results can be equally disastrous.

Usually the cause of stumbling is a very minor thing, like a little stone on the track. Someone makes a nasty remark to you; you fail an exam; no one says thanks when you have done a good deed. Nothing very important. But such things can make us stumble.

Friends have become enemies; churches have split; wars have been started; faith has been lost—because of overreacting to incidents that ordinarily would be forgotten in a few weeks. Before you get upset by such a pebble on the track ask yourself, "What difference will this make a hundred years from now?"

To separate the egg white from the yolk, break the egg over a small funnel. The white will glide through, the yoke will remain.

The cause of stumbling could be compared to a faulty shoe. Paul tells us to wear the shoes of the Gospel of peace. If our steps are directed by the Gospel, if we have God's peace in our lives and are concerned to spread it to others, we are not as likely to stumble over incidents that could otherwise cause friction and unrest.

Most often the cause of stumbling is that we fail to keep our eyes on the track ahead. We look around—to see if we are ahead of others, to acknowledge the cheers or boos of the crowd; and we stumble and fall. If we keep our attention focused on Jesus, the chances of stumbling are diminished.

Christ is able and willing to guide us in ways that will reduce the probability of stumbling. "He is able to keep you from falling..." writes Jude (v. 24).

If you stumble in a footrace, other runners will pass you and you most likely will lose the race. But if you stumble in the race of life, you have not lost everything. You get another opportunity, a chance to recover and go on to win.

For when we stumble, Christ is there to pick us up and set us on the right path again. John assures us that "if any one does sin, we have an advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous" (1 Jn. 2:16).

Let us do our best to avoid stumbling. But if we fall, Christ sends us on our way again with an encouraging word: "Neither do I condemn you; go and do not sin again" (Jn. 8:11b).

National 4-H Week OCTOBER 4-10

Donley County joins in 4-H activities

Donley County 4-H members are gearing up for a lot of special programs and activities the week of October 4-10, National 4-H Week.

Theme of this year's observance is "4-H For Youth For America". Some of the planned activities for 4-H Week include radio spots on KLSR, 4-H Window displays at West Texas Utilities and The Nook, and distribution of flyers with information about 4-H on them.

Donley County boasts some 115 4-H members who are among more than 305,000 in Texas and 4.5 million across the country who will participate in the week-long celebration.

In celebrating National 4-H Week, we recognize that 4-H is truly a people development program, says Terry Floyd, county 4-H program coordinator with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the parent organization of 4-H. 4-H helps young people develop skills that will be useful in the real world. It helps them discover their strengths and weaknesses. If exposes them to activities in a variety of career fields and helps them to build positive self concepts for directing their lives. And, most importantly, 4-H'ers learn and have fun doing it. And families can add to the fun by learning and growing together.

Learning doesn't stop with the 4-H member and family. Volunteer leaders learn new skills while sharing their expertise with young people, notes Floyd. Through a network of volunteer leaders, state land grant universities, state and local governments and the U.S. Department of Agriculture, 4-H has been able to stimulate youth to develop life skills.

Some thirty-five adult volunteer leaders work with 4-H boys and girls in Donley County through three different 4-H clubs.

4-H'ers can choose from different home economics and agriculture project and program areas designed to help them prepare for the future, adds Floyd.

More information about the 4-H program is available at the county Extension office.

4-H is distinctly American

4-H is as American as baseball or apple pie - or the U.S. Constitution, now 200 years old.

4-H, an American educational program for youth began around the turn of the century, points out Terry Floyd, county 4-H program leader with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System. In fact, it followed on the heels of a Corn Club organized in Jack County, Texas, in 1908 and has flourished ever since.

The nation boasts a total of some 4.5 million 4-H youth between the ages of 9 and 19. More than 305,000 of these are Texans.

More and more 4-H'ers are coming from urban areas, notes Floyd. In Texas, about 66 percent of the 4-H youth now come from larger urban and suburban areas. The remainder of Texas 4-H'ers live on farms or ranches or in towns of under 10,000 population.

Adult volunteer leaders are a valuable asset to 4-H as they give freely of their time and talents in assisting in the educational efforts of the 4-H program. There are 620,000 4-H volunteer leaders across the country, and 30,000 of these are in Texas.

The 4-H program also receives widespread financial support from various businesses, corporations and foundations all over the nation. The Texas 4-H Youth Development Foundation garners support from the private sector, both individual and business, to support many 4-H activities.

The 4-H program has enjoyed much success in the past, but the groundwork must be laid now to face the challenges that lay ahead, Floyd emphasizes. Challenges are plenty as 4-H strives to assist youth along the road of life and to prepare them to be the leaders of tomorrow's America.

SHANNON MYERS

Shannon Myers takes first place

Shannon Myers, daughter of Johnnie and Carolyn Myers of Lakeview, took first place honors with her Cabbage Patch Bread at the Tri-State Fair District I 4-H Bake Show.

Shannon competed against eighteen senior 4-H'ers from across the Texas Panhandle. She received fifty dollars premium money, a plaque presented by the Texas Wheat Producers Association-Executive Director Bill Nelson, and a purple rosette presented by the Tri-State Fair President Lynn Griffin.

In 1967, Carl Yazstremski won the batting title in the American League with a .301 batting average.

A xenolith is a fragment of rock included in another rock.

4-H continues vital role

No one can question the fact that young people are the future of America, and the 4-H program is continuing to play a vital role in preparing youth for the future by providing training in leadership, citizenship and coping skills.

Thus the theme of the upcoming National 4-H Week, October 4-10, "4-H For Youth for America," points to this country's richest resource, its young people, says H.T. "Tom" Davison, state 4-H program leader with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System. The Extension Service is the parent organization of the 4-H program, an informal, out-of-school educational program for youth between the ages of 9 and 19 that is based around local clubs.

"Through 4-H we try to provide youth with opportunities to learn and experience what life has to offer. We also lay the groundwork to help 4-H members explore opportunities for personal growth and to gain skills that will be useful in later life. 4-H also helps youth to deal with stress and to learn to help others. We like to say that 4-H takes up where school leaves off," Davis points out.

Texas boasts some 305,000 4-H members; nationwide, 4-H is more than 4.5 million members strong and is the nation's largest youth organization. More 4-H members today live in the suburbs and cities of more than 50,000 population.

Recent research shows that former 4-H'ers are more likely to assume community leadership, political and other citizenship roles than people who participated in other youth organizations. 4-H membership teaches youth that the community and giving to the community are important.

Vital to the 4-H program are volunteer leaders.

Volunteer leaders are the backbone of the 4-H program as they provide the organizational leadership for local 4-H clubs as well as training and resources in a host of subject-matter areas. Almost 620,000 volunteer leaders support the 4-H program nationwide, with more than 30,000 of those in Texas. Davison estimates that the time, travel and support contributed by these volunteer leaders across the U.S. is valued at more than $1 billion a year.

Looking at the 4-H program in Texas, Davison notes that the most popular project area is foods and nutrition. Other projects that attract large numbers of 4-H'ers include energy, embryology, health (eye care) and safety.

The number of 4-H clubs and special interest groups in the state total more than 3,300.

Volunteer role in 4-H program is rewarding

One of the most rewarding things an individual can do for tomorrow's leaders is to serve as a 4-H adult volunteer today.

Volunteers not only give leadership to 4-H experiences for youth, they keep the program relevant to local community needs and interest, points out Terry Floyd, county 4-H program coordinator with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the parent organization of 4-H.

Today, twenty-nine 4-H adult volunteers in Donley County work with 111 members from 9 to 19 years old. These volunteers share their skills and experiences by assisting young people in a variety of 4-H projects and activities.

With National 4-H Week set for October 4-10, this is a special time to recognize and applaud those volunteer leaders who give so much to the 4-H program, notes Floyd.

Volunteers do not have to be experts in specialized subject matter areas. They can rely on the Extension Service staff in the county and at Texas A&M University, the state's land-grant university, to provide them with training, educational materials and resources to use in the 4-H program. The land-grant system makes 4-H uniquely qualified to meet both the constant and ever-changing needs of young and older people alike.

The 4-H volunteer corps is almost 620,000 strong nationwide; more than 30,000 volunteers support the 4-H program in Texas. Volunteers are the backbone of a basic and cost effective system which delivers practical educational experiences to some 4.5 million members in the United States. The time, travel and support volunteers contribute is valued at $1 billion annually.

The 4-H program provides many opportunities for growth and stimulation for adults and helps them attain enjoyment and self-fulfillment. So help prepare the young people in our communities for tomorrow by joining the ranks of 4-H volunteers.

For more information about the 4-H program and its many opportunities, contact the county Extension office at 874-2141.

EXTEND A HAND OF WELCOME

Foil balloons electrically conductive

Many party supply stores, gift shops, and grocery stores sell foil balloons. The balloons are used as decorations for parties and are often given to youngsters as toys and gifts. These popular balloons are usually filled with helium and float at the end of strings, with smiling faces, pictures, or other decorations printed on one side.

The combination of foil construction material, helium, and a string presents a need for caution on the part of people who use these balloons. The warnings are similar to those given about children flying kites in the vicinity of overhead power conductors or where any other unplanned contact with high-voltage power might occur.

Foil is electrically conductive, and since the helium causes the balloon to float upward, the balloon could accidentally contact overhead AC power conductors. This could cause a fault in the power system and could also injure anyone holding the balloon's string. While we do not normally think of string as being dangerously conductive, in certain cases it can be, and the injuries can be severe.

The most frequently reported problem (several cases have been documented by power companies in California) follow this scenario:

The balloons are used at a party tied together in groups of four, five, or six. They are released, either accidentally or on purpose and float up into overhead power conductors. They establish a phase-to-phase contact with the power being conducted.

This may interrupt power and burn the power conductors and cause them to fall to the ground. These grounded conductors may cause arcing which presents a severe to people and to the environment.

Please be aware of this hazard when you or your family and friends use these balloons; make sure the occasion remains a happy one, free of injuries.

Salvation Army fund drive

A goal of $700.00 has been set for the Donley Salvation Army Service Unit Fund Drive which will kick off on October 8, 1987, as announced by Paul Bivens, Service Unit Committee Chairman.

Funds collected in the drive will be used to pay for The Salvation Army's services to the underprivileged through the current fiscal year.

In order to hold expenses to the minimum, the Service Unit has decided to use a direct solicitation, through the bank statement mailing, this year. Chairman Bivens ask that you give serious thought to this request so that this local volunteer organization can continue these worthwhile services.

The committee, composed of business and civic leaders, carries out a year-around program to help people with emergency needs. In the name of The Salvation Army whom it represents, the committee helps with such basic necessities that families or individuals may require in a temporary crisis.

The Service Unit also acts as liaison for The Salvation Army's state-wide program which includes summer outings for boys at Camp Hoblitzelle, care for predelinquent girls and unwed mothers, help for paroled prisoners, relief in major disasters and other services.

Home Economics program area committee meeting

The 1987-88 Home Economics Program Area Committee held a planning meeting on September 25, 1987, at the Golden Acorn Restaurant: County Home Economist Terry Floyd welcomed the members and thanked them for their attendance. Members present were: Patsy Leffew, Suzy Hall, Nancy Kidd, Anita Mooring, Fay Vargas, Susan Henson, Robbie Hill and Eureka Mays.

The purpose of the committee was explained to the members. The committee's role is to plan Home Economics related programs for the 1988 calendar year, help carry out the plans, and evaluate the results. The critical issue to be addressed in 1988 is the lack of nutrition education with low income families being the target audience. A nutrition film strip was viewed by the members. They then shared individual program ideas that would hopefully provide nutrition education for low income families which would enable participants to make food choices that will result in adequate nutrition and improved health status.

1988 program plans were adopted as follows: to hold a Health Fair in the spring; agent to provide monthly Senior Citizen nutrition programs in Hedley and Clarendon; offer 4-H food and nutrition project October thru December; offer "Fit For Life" twelve week course in January; and hold a "Nutrition Day" in the summer of 1988 in conjunction with the Community Action commodity distribution.
