Donley County Museum Visited By Thongs Last Sunday Afternoon

Pioneer Life Is Pictured In Exclusive Room Settings Using Furniture Of Turbulent Days When Indians Roamed The Panhandle

The dozens who had never availed themselves of the opportunity to visit the Donley County Museum here, were astounded and visibly pleased when they entered the building housing the priceless articles Sunday afternoon.

Displayed in showcases were hundreds of relics dating from the prehistoric down to pioneer days. The articles include practically every article used except an old-fashioned cook stove. Utensils, wearing apparel, jewelry, weapons of defense and many other articles are included in the list.

A "parlor" redolent of days of fifty years ago is fitted out with wall lamp, chairs and other "bric-a-bac" and not the least is the family organ. This organ owned by Fred W. Rathjen is attracting a lot of attention as it reminds one of Sunday afternoon singings and courtship days.

Another room is fitted up in exact replica of a bedroom of a half century back. The bedstead has a trundle bed beneath, the real article that saw hard service for years. Other articles include washstand, bowl and pitcher, bed vessel and other articles that make the ancient bedroom complete.

Every westerner likes a saddle. In the exhibit is a fine collection of army, cowboy and side-saddles. This list is complete in detail, even to the rawhide rope made by Joe Horn in his prime as a cowpuncher.

Spinning wheel, ox yoke and many other articles are shown picturing the advent of the pioneer into the Golden West when dangers called for manhood and womanhood seldom found in this modern age. Guns galore are shown of varied type that goes along with the ox yoke days.

Plant, bird and animal life from foreign lands are shown as well as hand work of beautiful designs.

The prehistoric list includes horse, camel, rhinoceros, saber-toothed tiger, phosaeur, turtle and other fossils, some of which are partially complete and mounted.

Visitors heard J. C. Estlack speak on buried cities of the Panhandle as the first speaker. Mayor W. H. Patrick paid tribute to the ladies for their foresight in gathering the collection, their energy and skill in arrangement. Will Chamberlain as the third speaker confined his remarks to paleontology. He illustrated with photos the horse, deer and other fossils remains taken from the nearby area, easily credited with being the richest fossil field of the kind known. Introduction of speakers was made by Mrs. J. D. Stocking.

The ladies are profuse in their thanks for the assistance given them in collecting the hundreds of specimens. On the other hand, the public is deeply indebted to these good ladies for their civic pride in giving to the county an idea that has blossomed into a museum second to few in the state.

Wants State Job

G. A. JERRY SADLER...seeks place on State Rail Com.

EAST TEXAS MAN ASKS FOR PLACE ON RAIL COMMISSION

Believing that modern warfare, with all its attendant horrors, cannot be conducted without huge quantities of oil and the products of oil, G. A. Jerry Sadler, candidate for Railroad Commissioner, has included a strong plank in his platform on that issue.

Sadler is making a daylight to midnight campaign to see the voters and his record and age are such that his friends believe him well qualified to administer the duties of the high office of Railroad Commissioner.

The Longview man is thirty years old and a native of Hickory Grove, in Anderson County. It was from this same county that John H. Reagan, Texas immortal, came to become the first chairman of the Texas Railroad Commission after its creation by the great James Stephen Hogg.

Jerry Sadler promises to use his efforts to control monopolistic trends in business. He promises to "ride the broncho of monopoly, to boot him and spur him on the sides and flanks and if necessary, to pull the bride off and hit him over the head. And I won't pull leather," he declared in his opening speech.

Friends of Sadler have adopted the slogan, "Put Sadler in the Saddle."

Mother-Daughter Banquet Presents Snappy Program

Attendance Exceeds Former Records Though Ticket Sales Stopped

One hundred and three plates were laid for the Mother-Daughter banquet in the Home Ec. department of the school Tuesday evening. Ticket sales were stopped Monday though the demand continued after the capacity of serving was exceeded.

The program as outlined in the Leader last week was followed closely with extra numbers added. Lights were dimmed and candles were used. Spring flowers from San Antonio were used in an impressive decorative scheme. Between numbers, group singing of familiar numbers was directed by Mrs. Millard Word with Mrs. Allen J. Bryan at the piano.

New officers elected were Dorothy Powell, president; Mrs. J. R. Porter, vice president, and Mrs. H. T. Burton, Ethlyn Drennan and Edith Shelton compose the Board of Directors.

NIGHT WATCHMAN CUTS FIRE RATE

Fire Insurance Rates Are Based Upon Protection Measures

In complying with requirements of the State Fire Insurance Commission, the insurance rate is much lower, the saving being far less than the cost of the night watchman. The advantages of this service is set out below by the City Commission of Clarendon.

"Owing to some discussion having arisen in respect to the matter, it affords the City Commission pleasure to state that our Night Watchman, Mr. Alvin G. Lane, has given very excellent service. There are located in the business district of the City, 9 stations that show to have been punched every hour from 9 o'clock p. m. till 6 o'clock a. m. For more than the past 12 months there has never been a single omission in a visit to these 9 stations each hour. This strict attention of the night watchman affords protection to our business people from night prowlers and also detection of any fires that might break out.

Not all of the business houses are supporting this service as they should do in cooperation with the City of Clarendon, and the Commission feels that if they better understood this efficient service, that all of the business houses would be willing to contribute a reasonable sum toward its support, as it has a direct bearing on the fire insurance rate in our town." City Commission.

Clarendon F. F. A. Annual Dinner Held

First of Kind Goes Over In Big Way to Make It An Annual Event

This first father-son and guest event of the F.F.A. boys was held in the chapter room in the dormitory building. "Jelly" McGowen presided with the ease that would come from one thoroughly trained.

F. R. Phillips, professor of agriculture in West Texas College at Canyon, and O. T. Ryan, district supervisor of F.F.A. work were the principal speakers.

Ray Palmer gave a resume of the work completed the past season. J. R. Gillham, instructor in vocational agriculture in the high school, and director of local F.F.A. activities, maneuvered his boys to a start in acquainting the crowd of more than a hundred with what was being done along the line of real constructive effort. These boys are credited with putting on the best part of the program. The dinner served was all that could be desired. Waiters were young ladies of the Home Ec. department and acquitted themselves nobly.

T. J. Rumpy Dies At Home Tuesday

Beloved Citizen Served As Sunday School Leader Fifty-Three Years

Funeral services were conducted at the Methodist church here at 4 p. m. Wednesday for Thomas Jacob Rumpy aged 72, who passed away at his home south of town Tuesday afternoon from heart failure. In the absence of his pastor, Rev. J. Perry King, pastor of the Baptist church conducted the service in which he paid a fitting tribute to this beloved man and prominent citizen.

Attending the casket were his close friends and neighbors, A. O. Hott, L. R. Dean, H. A. Harrison, R. W. Moore, H. M. Reid and J. B. Estes. A profusion of flowers attesting the high esteem in which the deceased was held, was in charge of Mesdames Alene Skinner, Frank Reid, Roy Blackman, Bill Todd, John Aduddell, Gilbert Mann. Interment was made in the Citizens cemetery.

Mr. Rumpy was a native of Randolph county, Alabama where he was born February 1, 1866. He married Alice Josephine Perry in DeKalb county, Ala. on November 27, 1884. To this union ten children were born, five of whom, with the mother, survive. They are O. B., Melvin and Jim Rumpy of Clarendon, the daughters are Mrs. E. A. Edmondson of Clarendon and Mrs. W. C. Gregg of Amarillo.

The family came to Texas in 1902, locating in Collin county, then to Taylor county in 1906 and to Donley county in 1919. Mr. Rumpy became a member of the Methodist church at the age of nine. He served as a Sunday school superintendent for approximately 53 years of his life. He was a member of the W. O. W. organization and held church membership in Clarendon. He was held in high esteem by all who know him, and friends who lived neighbor to him in the Chamberlain community the past 19 years say he never had an enemy.

Perry E. Johnson Dies At Home In Groom

One of the few remaining old-time Panhandle cowboys, Mr. Johnson was one of the founders of Groom. He came to the Groom section in 1887, and for the past thirty years was a leading business man of the town he helped to start. He is survived by his widow and one son, Perry E. Johnson Jr.

FEED ALLOTMENT ACREAGE HAS NOW BEEN ENLARGED

Reduces Soil Conserving Crop Acreage

County agent H. M. Breedlove received word from the state office that the acreage allotted to feed for Donley county for 1938 has been increased. This will decrease the acreage to be planted to soil conserving crops, he said.

The estimated increase in feed acreage for the county is approximately 10,000 acres. Farmers who have had their cropping plans figured out for them by the county agent's office for this year should contact the county agent before they get too far along with their planting so that they might see how much this increase will effect their cropping plan.

Cropping plans will be mailed to all farmers as soon as the cotton listing sheets are returned from the state allotment order. It was necessary that the listing sheets be returned due to the fact that a new law was passed in regard to the program in which a cotton producer in 1938 must be allowed to plant as much as fifty percent of his planted plus diverted in 1937 as long as this acreage does not exceed 40 percent of his tilled acreage. It was necessary that the state allotment board make this increase on those work sheets that were entitle to the increase.

City Championship Golf Tournament

Beginning qualifying Sunday, golfers will take to cowpasture pool with all the vim a man can muster. Ira Merchant is defending 1937 championship. Contenders are M. P. Gentry, Paul Greene, Alex Cooke, Billy Cooke, Bill Cooke, Dude Gentry and several others who are expected to enter the melee between now and Sunday. Expected heavy entry in the rest of the flights. All those interested in golf are expected to see the contests, all open to the public.

"King Fish" Doss Palmer has shined up his niblic and is back to give the boys a real race for this and other honors.

Dr. Hicks Moves Dental Office to McLean

After practicing here for some three years, Dr. A. W. Hicks has moved his dental office to McLean where he and his family will make their home in the future.

Dr. Hicks is skilled in his profession, a good citizen and Clarendon's loss in the removal of this estimable family, is McLean's gain. The many friends of both Dr. and Mrs. Hicks regret very much their going, though Dr. Hicks is of the opinion that a larger field is the only inducement. The best wishes of our people go with them to their new choice of location.

Politicians Will See Queen Crowned At Martin Tonight

Varied Program to Attract Office Seekers With Cream Supper Added

Office seekers who attend the political rally at Martin tonight will have an added interest in that the affair will be sponsored by the junior and senior classes of that school.

A queen will be crowned with due ceremonies and much formality, we are informed. Naturally this will be the school queen, an American girl, rather than the usual affair of swapping money for a crown in a foreign land.

Ice cream will be dished up in copious quantities according to the custom of the old West about which we hear so much.

The funds accumulated will be used in paying the expenses of an educational trip of the students to Palo Duro State Park, and farther, provided the funds will justify such a venture.

CONGRESSMEN IN NEED OF RELIEF.
(They're Giving Their Time and Energy)

Something must be done to save our poor congressmen. For months now, they have been attending the regular session of congress, many of the doubtless with strained vocal cords. To ease their burdens, of course, they have had comfortable chairs and lounges, air-conditioned offices and assembly halls, abundant secretarial help, $10,000 a year in salary, and even free rides to save congressional legs the strain of carrying congressional paunches between office and meeting place.

Yet, worn as they are, a group of the hardier souls of our house of representatives has decided that they personally will inspect our coast defense this summer to assure themselves that we as a nation are safe from invasion.

Instead of remaining in Washington to watch the rising play of the temperature they will start upon a journey which will take them to Maine, then to Alaska, next Hawaii and finally through the Panama canal.

They will deliberately expose themselves to the dangers of frostbite, the possibilities of volcanic eruption in Hawaii, even that their ship may sink at sea. Wisely, however, they will cruise in the most palatial liners, as befits the safety and the dignity of a congressman.

They will pause in their travels to see for themselves just what the nation has in the way of defense. They will appraise with the skill of congressional eyes the value of those defenses. They will see, and they will know. How? They are congressmen, aren't they? And when they have seen, perhaps they may be persuaded to say a few words.

Of course, the jaunt will cost a lot of money. But why think of that? They are giving their time and energy, aren't they? Let us not be commercial about it. Shouldn't we as taxpayers be willing, even anxious, to dig a little deeper into our pockets for this worthy cause?

So that proper recognition may be accorded the spokesmen for these self-sacrificing gentlemen, may we mention the names of Chairman Vinson of the house naval committee and Chairman May of Kentucky? You might like to support one, or perhaps both, for the presidency.—Lubbock Avalanche.

Hobbies and Penalties.

It's alright to work hard on your hobby, but the fellow who works just as hard on another hobby is a nut. Most hobbies are collecting stamps, Indian relics, butterflies, rocks and often silly things like can labels. The worst form of hobbies is that some get to the point when they will steal an article for their collection, but would never take anything else for all the world. I one time knew a kindly old lady who made bonnets her hobby. She was very old and no one called her hand on the subject, but her stealing habits were a constant source of embarrassment to her daughter with whom she lived. Recently, I asked the wife of a collector if she had any hobby. "No," she said, "but I manage to have a very dirty house all the time." Now was that a fact or a fling at an old man?

TEMPLE OF TRUTH

A guest of George Moore, a very fine youngster of the FFA club Thursday night, I found out that all those boys need to put on an interesting program is for John R. Gillham, their instructor, to act as yell leader, and let the boys tell their own stories based on facts in their personal experiences. Of course friend Gillham will not approve of this classification of yell leader, but he led the talking, call it what you like. It was a great event in my life to mix with those fine, fine young fellows. Those boys are encouraged to do today what many of us were 'whammed' for doing back in the 'good old days.' It's great to know that we are actually making progress in this line. You'll see articles about these FFA boys most every week in the Leader. Keep up with these youngsters pioneering in farm and stock growing.

Already complaints are coming in about chickens, cows and dogs destroying flower yards and gardens. As an example, GW and I keep no hogs or dogs, and we married all the kids off to help out in this garden business. Still some of the

SUMMARY

A REGIONAL MEETING

A Regional meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary of North Texas was held at "The Little House of Fellowship" in Canyon, Texas, yesterday.

"Fellowship in Faith and Work" was the theme of this meeting which was called by Miss Helen Lyles, Director of Religious Education, and an Episcopal United Thank Offering worker whose home is in this community house, a student center.

Miss Lyles conceived the idea of having this gathering (after visiting the various W. A. branches) for the purpose of inspiration, cooperation and fellowship among the members.

The results fully justified the undertaking, and in spite of a violent, almost blinding dust storm representatives from Lubbock, Pampa, Amarillo, Plainview, Clarendon, and Canyon, of course, attended. Nine ladies from Clarendon, Mesdames Bagby, Gentry, Jefferies, McClelland, Patrick, Ryan, Smith, Trent and Word, braved the elements and arrived in time for the opening services in the little chapel of "All Saints" next door. Bishop Seaman, and the Rev. Messrs. Ellis of Plainview, and Suell of Pampa, also came.

After the opening service, beginning with the hymn, Glorious Things of Thee are Spoken, with Mrs. Millard Word at the Organ, the Bishop made an address, giving a brief history of "The Little House of Fellowship."

Miss Lyles, who lead the service, then welcomed and introduced the guests to each other. Mrs. Catterall of Houston, the Bishop's sister, gave a talk on the U. T. O. of which she was treasurer for 25 years in the diocese of Texas. And at 12 o'clock the Noon Day Prayer and Meditation was held by the Clarendon branch, led by Mrs. J. B. McClelland.

After the luncheon, which was served most efficiently by the Canyon ladies in "The Little House of Fellowship," the afternoon session was opened by Mrs. Seaman with a devotional service and address. "A Model Business Meeting," was demonstrated by the Lubbock branch, led by Mrs. R. Wilson, which was followed by "Inspirational Talks," by Mrs. F. W. Catterall of Houston and Mrs. Geraldine Green, Dean of Women, Canyon College.

The Closing message was given by Miss Helen Hickman which with a summary of the day by Miss Lyles, ended the program.

After a rising vote to Miss Lyles, the Benediction by the Bishop, the meeting adjourned.

Over 150 boys representing Memphis, Childress, Quail, Estelina, Lakeview, Samnorwood, Kirkland, and Clarendon competed in the annual Memphis District F.F.A. leadership contests held at the college April 30th. The contests were under the direction of J. R. Gillham, District F.F.A. Advisor.

Clarendon successfully defended its chapter conducting and news-writing championships, when Homer Speed, winner of the 1937 area contest was declared champion news-writer of the district. PROPOSED NYA CANNING PROJECT

(By Regional NYA Director)

NYA Officials met Monday afternoon with the County Commissioners' Court and the County Agent for the purpose of discussing a proposed part-time Resident Training Home Economics Project for girls, to be located in Clarendon.

The purpose of this type project would be to select girls within a reasonable radius of Clarendon, primarily those living on farms or in small rural communities, who are finding it difficult to take advantage of the NYA Work Program because of the difficulty of reporting to a project. The Resident Training Project would enable them to remain in Clarendon at a Cooperative Home set up for this purpose, for two weeks of each month, which would enable them to work their allowed time for the month.

This project would be operated on this plan: The girls would attend the Resident Training Project fifteen days each month. They would then return home for a fifteen day period. While the first group is at home, a second group would attend the project. The two groups would then alternate until the project is completed.

The Project would be divided into two distinct phases of work and training. A Work Project would be set up, such as the proposed canning plant, which would enable the girls to earn approximately eighteen dollars during the two weeks they are on the project. This would be sufficient wages for the girls to pay for their room and board and leave between eight and nine dollars for incidental expenses.

A qualified Home Mother would be placed in charge of the cooperative home where the girls would live. Training classes in various phases of home-making would be conducted in the home, at times when the girls were not on the work project, under direct supervision of the Home Mother. These classes would consist of courses in economical marketing, home gardening, canning and preservation of food, dairying, poultry raising, personal health, and hygiene, family recreation and use of leisure time, relationships of the individual to the community and the nation, and other such related subjects. As further training in the home, the girls would take part in the maintenance of the home, by cooking their meals, making the home more attractive, planting their own garden, raising poultry for use at the home, etc.

On the Work Project the girls, under close supervision, would operate a county canning plant for the purpose of canning local surplus foodstuffs. Additional training would be given the girls on this project in the canning and preservation of food.

All persons interested in having meat and vegetables canned should get in touch with the County Agricultural Agent as soon as possible so that the need for a local cannery can be determined.

GARDEN GLANCES

"America the beautiful lies in the hands of the gardeners." The lawns are appearing in their spring attire once more. If the weather doesn't deal us trouble again, garden glances will be worth your time this week end.

Mrs. McCanne's and the Carroll Knorpp's lawns with their closely clipped grass and blooming annuals are quite pretty. And Mrs. Ruth Kennedy is having her lawn leveled, sodded and relandscaped. The George Bagby back yard has extensive rock work, that indicates much planning. He is exceptionally successful with nasturtiums, asters, and many of the tedious annuals.

The iris are the most noticeable blooming plants this week. Some of our iris growers here remind one of the famous iris gardens of Long in Boulder, Colorado, and the cuts in the Garden Magazines. The grounds at the Adair Hospital are well kept, and quite an asset to a small place like Clarendon. The evergreens are mostly native cedars, but when these are trimmed, they have the appearance of the more expensive ones secured from the nurseries.

It is quite a revelation when one

AT THE FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH
J. Perry King, Pastor
There is Always Worship Fellowship :: Service

The idea of Mother's Day originated with Miss Ann Jarvis, of Philadelphia, in 1906. This idea grew in favor and gained momentum until President Wilson issued a proclamation calling upon the American people to observe the second Sunday in May as a day to make the Mothers of the land happy and to commemorate the memories made sacred by those mothers who have departed this life. This is indeed a high and holy and worthy ambition on any body's part. It ought to be done not once a year but every day in the year. It is better once a year than not at all. It is better while our mothers live than after they are dead. It is fine to give expression to appreciation while our mothers live. It is noble to live an appreciation in commemoration of their memories after they are dead. So, whether in appreciation or commemoration let it be done worthily, and in a manner calculated to make motherhood happy.

Like every other high and holy day, even the Lord's Day, Mother's Day has been grossly degraded and violated by well intentioned people. Mother's Day was never intended to make people sad. No day ought to be observed that will do that. There is enough sadness in the world without adding insult to injury. Let the flood gates of love and joy and happiness and holy memories be thrown open wide next Sunday and bathe in the beauties of your mothers life whether she be living or dead. Make it a happy day, it can be done.

The First Baptist Church will be happy to have you at the Teaching and Training services and in the Worship hours, both morning and evening.

makes a study of the lawns and observes the work, expenditure, and results realized by the home and garden lovers of Clarendon.

The Legion has landed, and the situation is well out of hand! Luscious Louise Hovick (center) wreaks havoc between the two toughest guys in the outfit, Victor McLagien (right) and Brian Donlevy, who trade punches and wisecracks in 20th Century-Fox's comedy, "Battle of Broadway"

"BATTLE OF BROADWAY" GRAND COMEDY OF LEGION IN NEW YORK

When the Army, Navy and Marines land next Sunday night at the Pastime Theatre, the audience will be completely out of hand.

The merry military onslaught by all branches of the service, of course, was the robust and riotous "Battle of Broadway," which is based on the American Legion's "unconventional convention" in New York. Victor (Sez you) McLagien and Brian (One punch) Donlevy arrive on the Gay White Way in the Legion vanguard—to see what makes the cosy little village on the Hudson River so popular.

Not since Mademoiselle from Armentieres was a mere slip of a girl, not since "What Price Glory" and "The Cockney World" has there been such heck-raising on the screen. McLagien and Donlevy, both honest-off-screen veterans, lend more truth to this film than play-acting could ever devise.

These bottle-scarred veterans know all the maneuvers - - - and when they lay siege to beautiful Louise Hovick, "Battle of Broadway," like the Battle of the Marne, becomes nothing more than a whole collection of fights conveniently filed under one heading.

The cast of the film includes Raymond Walburn, Lynn Bari, Jane Darwell and Robert Kellard.

The lusty screen play by Lou Breslow and John Patrick combines business with pleasure for Vic and Brian. Walburn assigns them the task of breaking his son's romance with a chorus girl while they are in New York. Louise pretends to be Bob Kellard's fiancee, to save the real affair, and the boys have a grand time trying to steal her away from Bob, and each other.

A good deal of the fun may be credited to George Marshall, who directed, with Sol M. Wurtzel executive producer.

Grasshopper Control Fight Underway

COLLEGE STATION—The fight to combat the worst grasshopper infestation in history is under way with the arrival of 37 carloads of bran and 14,800 gallons of sodium arsenite from federal sources, according to R. R. Reppert, entomologist of the Extension Service of Texas A & M College and state grasshopper control leader.

Texas has been assigned 7000 tons of bran and 140,000 gallons of sodium arsenite by the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine, which administers the government's grasshopper control program. This material will be matched by farmers who will receive allotments of poison mash through county agricultural agents and county grasshopper control committees.
