Farmers Home to elect new county committee members

The Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) will begin accepting nominations July 1 for election of county committee member under new rules that make it easier for farmers to qualify as candidates and to vote, Marvin Crabtree, said today.

FmHA county committees perform a variety of duties for the U.S. Department of Agriculture's credit agency, including deciding whether an applicant is eligible for a farm loan.

"One important change broadens the definition of a farmer to anyone who has an interest in a farm in the county as owner, tenant or sharecropper," Crabtree said. "The new definition also includes the spouse of an eligible farmer. An old requirement that more than half of the candidate's income must come from the farm operation has been dropped."

"The nominating period has been extended to 45 days from the previous 25 days, thus allowing more opportunity for people to run for the committee," Crabtree said. "At least three eligible farmer voters, including the nominee, must sign the petition."

Two of the three committee members are elected by farmers in the county and one is appointed by FmHA. One of the elected seats is to be filled for a three-year term at this year's election, which is scheduled for September 30.

"Another important change this year is that one member of the committee can be an active FmHA farm borrower, or be eligible for a FmHA farm loan," Crabtree said. "Previously, this was not allowed." Anyone interested in running for the committee can obtain a petition and other information from the FmHA county office at 410 S. Kearney, Clarendon, Crabtree said.

Wonderful problem

Clarendon College has a wonderful problem and could use your assistance.

No Vacancy signs are in order for the Men's and Women's dormitories at Clarendon College for the Fall Semester 1988. All of the dorm rooms have been reserved since early summer and requests for rooms continue to arrive with admission applications. Clarendon College's enrollment is on the upward trend with 486 students in Summer Session I classes; this represents a 64 student increase over last summer. Our fall and spring enrollments have increased regularly for the last 5 years.

Perhaps you can help us with this wonderful problem. If you have a room or rooms to rent to a college student, please contact Dean of Students Tex Selvidge (874-3571) as soon as possible. Parents of young ladies wanting to attend CC are especially interested in placing their daughters in nice homes. Dean Selvidge will be glad to discuss possibilities with you.

Immunization clinic to be held July 25th

The Texas Department of Health is charging money to help with the cost of keeping the clinic open. The amount of money charged will be based on family income and size, and the ability to pay.

Attention ladies

This is something which all women in Donley County should be interested in and plan to attend.

Jerry Burghorff and Mike Thomas of the Department of Public Safety will conduct a self defense class on July 18th and 19th at the old gym.

Class will be from 7 - 9 p.m. and there is no cost. There will be no pre-registration just come to the old gym.

Not many weeks ago a niece of or of our local citizens was raped, had her throat cut and the attacker set the house afire. Fortunately, she got out of the fire and lived.

We hope nothing like this would ever happen in our city, but it pays to be prepared. Plan on attending this self defense class.

Lower phone rates set for elderly disabled Texans who are poor

AUSTIN—Reduced telephone rates go into effect July 1 for older disabled Texans who live in poverty, according to state officials who worked out the plan with telephone company representatives in response to recent legislation.

Under Tel-assistance Service, phone companies offer a 65 percent reduction in the basic monthly local charge. The reduced rate does not apply to installation, touch-tone, custom calling, long-distance or similar charges.

"The program was established by the Legislature, which required all 66 telephone companies that serve Texas consumers to participate," said Marlin W.

Johnston, commissioner of the Texas Department of Human Services.

The Texas Public Utility Commission is responsible for rules governing participation by telephone companies. The human services department will take applications for the service and determine eligibility. The department will furnish telephone companies with a monthly list of eligible Texans.

To be eligible, a person must live in Texas, be the head of a household, be at least 65 years old, be disabled and have income at or below the federal poverty level. The 1988 poverty level for a one-person household is $480.83 per month. The income limit for a two-person household is $644.16; a three-person household, $807.50; and a four-person household, $970.83. For each additional person, add $163.33 per month.

A person may have only one telephone line and may not have optional extended area service. People without telephone service must pay installation charges.

Johnston said application forms will be mailed to potentially eligible Texans in the department's files. Telephone companies will mail information about Tel-assistance service to all customers starting in September.

Application forms and information are available by calling a toll-free number, 1-800-343-8353.

IT'S A FACT!

A fighter aircraft that can hover in midair and has wings made of cloth is part of America's defense team.

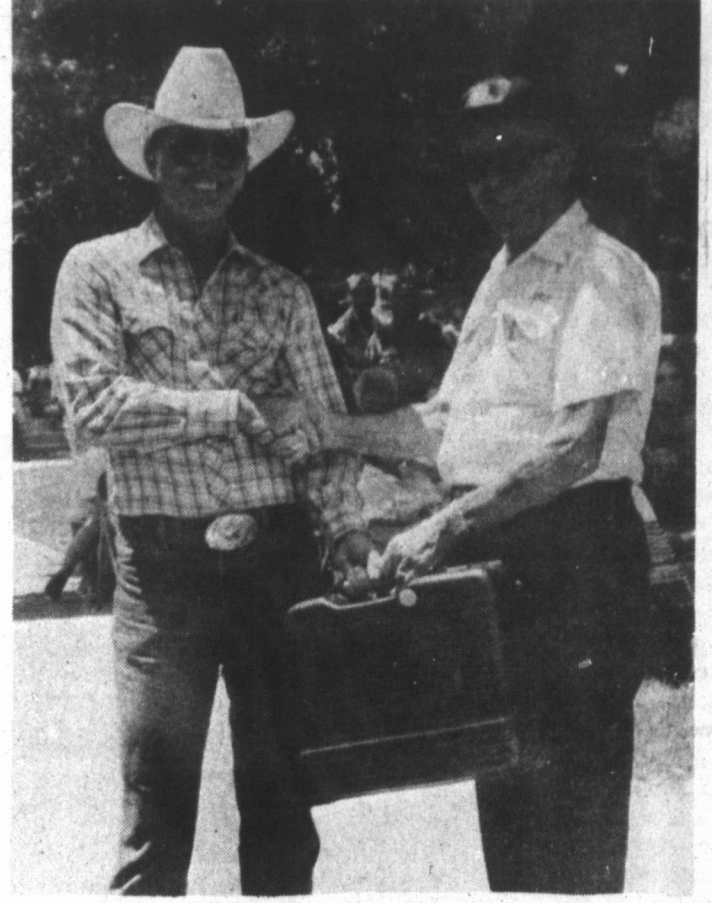

The AV-8B Harrier II, built by McDonnell Douglas Corp., depends on directional nozzles, which thrust powerful jets of air, for its ability to take off from extremely short runways, to land vertically and to virtually stand still in midair.

More than 27 percent of the tactical fighter—including the entire wing—is made of cloth-like composite material that is both stronger and lighter than metal. The carbon-fiber and epoxy-resin material is hardened with heat.

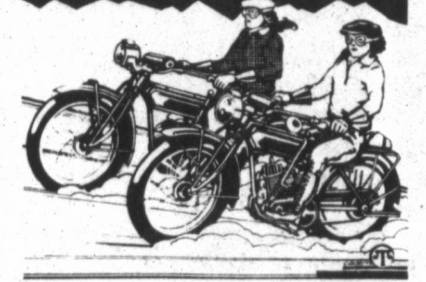

When U.S. Marine Corps troops need support, the Harrier II provides almost immediate response. Its short takeoff and landing capabilities mean the plane can be based near front-line troops rather than on a distant ship or at a far-away airfield. That difference in basing can mean the difference between minutes and hours for air support, and ultimately, it can mean the difference between victory and defeat for allied forces.

Did You Know?

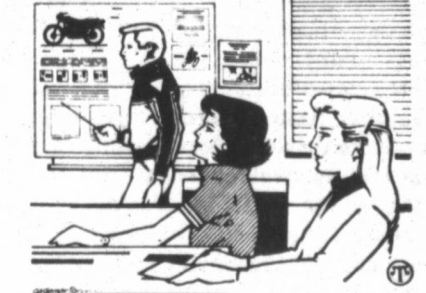

It's a little known fact that the first people to ride a motorized vehicle up Pike's Peak were women. In 1916, Augusta and Adeline Van Buren, descendants of this country's eighth president, rode their Indian motorcycles up Colorado's famous mountain during their New York to California motorcycle trip.

Women have been a part of motorcycling ever since. In 1985, women accounted for 8.7% of all motorcycle owners, totalling over 500,000 units. That's quite an increase from the early 1960's when women owned only 1% of the motorcycles. This trend is continuing, with the major motorcycle manufacturers reporting 30% of sales on some models to women.

But why are women riding more? One reason is learning to ride is easier and safer than ever. The Motorcycle Safety Foundation has been promoting and recognizing rider courses since 1974, and reports that 36% of MSF course attendees are women. The course teaches fundamental skills such as shifting, turning and braking, and also emphasizes use of proper gear: approved helmet, eye protection, long sleeve shirt or jacket, pants and boots.

The reason there are so many sur-names of Smith today is that during the Middle Ages the name was used for all metalworkers, or smiths, which means "to beat."

Pet Pointers

Saving the life of an orphaned kitten or puppy can be quite rewarding. There is, however, a right way and a wrong way to take care of an animal that has lost its mother. The wrong way includes feeding a newborn kitten or puppy cow's milk. Cow's milk, while sufficient for calves, lacks the proper nutrition for a young kitten or puppy, and the lactose it contains can sometimes even be harmful to their digestive systems.

Feeding a kitten or puppy a milk replacer formulated especially for its species is the right way to take care of an orphaned animal. Different mammals have different nutritional needs. A kitten, for example, needs considerably more protein than a puppy. The researchers at Pet-Ag have formulated KMR for kittens and Esbilac for puppies to precisely match mother's milk in solids, fats, protein and carbohydrates. In fact, Pet-Ag has been providing milk replacers for 50 years, and is a leading supplier for our nation's zoos.

You can use milk replacers to provide extra nutrition for undernourished animals, and, by adding to solid food, help to wean nursing kittens or puppies. Moreover, KMR contains taurine, an important nutrient that helps kittens' eyesight. KMR and Esbilac, which can be adapted to suit other small orphaned mammals, can be found in pet stores and veterinarian offices.

Career, Family, Stress Examined In Working Women's Survey

Working women can enjoy their work while maintaining a quality home life, according to the No nonsense® Women's Attitude Survey. The Gallup Organization interviewed 1,000 working women, aged 18-54, about their attitudes toward their jobs and families, and the comfort or stress found at home. The sample represented the more than 55% of American women who work outside the home.

Dr. Harriet Braiker (a clinical psychologist and author of "The Type E Woman: How to Overcome the Stress of Being Everything to Everybody") developed the survey questionnaire and analyzed the results.

- 75% of the 1,000 working women interviewed rated the quality of their family relationships as "very good."
- 23% rated their family relationships as "fairly good."

"Overall, these positive responses are evidence that households with working women are not suffering a decline in their quality of life," said Dr. Braiker. "In addition," she said, "the more satisfied women were with their jobs, the more satisfying their perception of their home life."

However, there seems to be a price attached to juggling a family and career. Dr. Braiker also found that 75% of all the women interviewed experience Type E stress. Not surprisingly, more mothers—married and unmarried—labeled themselves as having Type E stress than either DINKS (Dual Income No Kids) or single women without children.

"The stress that comes as a result of managing both a family and career is not necessarily bad. Rather, it can be a byproduct of high motivation and a strong sense of purpose," said Dr. Braiker. "Working women find support in their families."

- 80% of the women surveyed reported their families are a source of comfort rather than stress.

"Despite the fact that a high percentage of women report suffering from Type E stress, the women in the No nonsense survey seemed reasonably successful in 'having it all' by their own report," Dr. Braiker said. "However, too much stress can be a health hazard. Women who are Type E sufferers need to learn coping skills in order to avoid stress overload and its negative effects."

NOTIFICATION

This notice is being furnished as required of all public water systems in the United States by the Environmental Protection Agency in 40 CFR 141.34.

The United States Environmental Protection Agency [EPA] sets drinking water standards and has determined that lead is a health concern at certain levels of exposure. There is currently a standard of 0.050 parts per million (ppm). Based on new health information, EPA is likely to lower this standard significantly.

Part of the purpose of this notice is to inform you of the potential adverse health effects of lead. This is being done even though your water may not be in violation of the current standard.

EPA and others are concerned about lead in drinking water. Too much lead in the human body can cause serious damage to the brain, kidneys, nervous system, and red blood cells. The greatest risk, even with short-term exposure, is to young children and pregnant women.

Lead levels in your drinking water are likely to be highest:

- if your home or water system has lead pipes or
- if your home has copper pipes with lead solder, and
- if the home is less than five years old, or
- if you have soft or acidic water, or
- if water sits in the pipes for several hours.

The city of Hedley purchases its water from Greenbelt Water Authority. This water source has been found to be well below acceptable limits for lead. Regular tests are conducted to maintain this. The Texas Health Department and the City of Hedley are working together to provide a safe and potable public water source. The city of Hedley has in the past removed all known lead piping from its distribution system and will be on the look out for any lead piping remaining.

If your drinking water is determined to have high levels of lead, or if you suspect lead contamination, you can do the following to minimize exposure:

1. Flush each cold water faucet until the water is as cold as it will get before using the water from this faucet to drink or for cooking. This is especially important if the water has set in the pipes for several hours. Please remember other household water use such as toilets, bathing, and laundry will flush water thru the pipes and reduce the time the tap should be flushed.
2. Do not use hot tap water for drinking or cooking. Hot water dissolves lead faster than cold water. Especially avoid using hot tap water to make baby formula. If hot water must be used for drinking or cooking, use cold water after flushing the tap and heat.
3. Make certain only materials conforming to the federal law regarding lead content are used for any plumbing repairs or new plumbing work in your home.

If the City becomes aware of any source of lead contamination within the City's distribution system, corrective measures will be taken.

Cooking for HEALTH & FITNESS The Microwave Way

Can you really have your cake (or in this case, cheesecake) and eat it, too? Is it possible to indulge in a delicious cheesecake dessert and still avoid excessive calories and fat?

Yes, say home economists at Whirlpool Corporation. They offer this recipe for Lemon Cheesecake as an example of a low-cal way to satisfy that urge for something sweet without feeling guilty. What's the secret? The recipe uses low-fat cottage cheese and yogurt instead of the traditional cream cheese and sour cream.

Hofstra Lemon Cheesecake also provides a healthy dose of calcium, needed to keep bones and teeth healthy. Since many adults do not routinely drink milk, it is important for them to find adequate substitutes in order to reach recommended daily calcium levels.

This recipe was developed by nutritionists at the Hofstra Health Dome, where "Enlightened Eating" is a top priority. Similar recipes can be found in a series of three brochures, developed by Whirlpool Corporation for consumers. The brochures, titled Nutrition for Fitness and Health, describe how the correct use of appliances for cooking, storing and preserving foods can help retain essential nutrients.

HOFSTRA LEMON CHEESECAKE
(Total cooking time: 16 min.)

- 2 cups low-fat cottage cheese (1% fat)
- 2 egg whites
- 2 whole eggs
- 1/2 cup plain low-fat yogurt
- 1/4 cup honey

- 1 tbsp. grated lemon rind
- 1/2 cup fresh lemon juice
- 1/4 cup flour
- Fresh fruit, for garnish (strawberries, kiwi, etc.)

In a food processor, combine cottage cheese, egg whites and eggs. Process ingredients until smooth. Add yogurt, honey, lemon rind, lemon juice and flour. Process a few seconds longer to blend ingredients thoroughly.

Pour mixture into 2-quart glass measure. Microwave on MEDIUM power (50%) for 16 minutes, stirring every 2 minutes. Cool mixture to room temperature.

Pour into 8 dessert dishes or stemmed glasses. Garnish with fresh fruit. Makes 8 servings.

During the Middle Ages, the year began at various dates in different times and places. In England it was not until 1751 that January was restored to its place as first month, as it had been during the Roman era.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

WHEREAS, the Sixteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States addresses the power to lay and collect taxes, it was not intended by its framers, as evidenced by the history of its adoption, nor by the ratifying states to permit taxation by the federal government of interest income on the general or special obligations of the states or their political subdivisions; and

WHEREAS, the Tenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States was intended to reserve all powers not specifically delegated to the United States by the Constitution to the states, and thereby contemplated a mutuality of respect between the federal government and the states as respective sovereigns; and

WHEREAS, Congress has enacted legislation which operates to tax or restrict the states' issuance of general or special obligations and the income on the income and proceeds; has enacted retroactive tax legislation and other such legislation detrimental to the states;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the Legislature of the State of Texas, the Senate and the House of Representatives concurring, to memorialize Congress to propose an amendment to the Sixteenth Amendment to the United States Constitution so as to prohibit Congress from enacting legislation providing for the collection of income taxes retroactively; to ensure that the right of the states to finance the public purposes established by them may not be infringed; to prohibit Congress from taxing directly or indirectly the income derived from general or special obligations issued by or on behalf of the state, their political subdivisions or authorized authorities, and to prohibit the taxation of the proceeds of or income on the proceeds of the issuance of these general or special obligations; and to prohibit Congress from restricting the issuance of general or special obligations by or on behalf of the states; and,

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, by the Legislature of the State of Texas, the Senate and the House of Representatives concurring, that Congress is memorialized to propose an amendment to Article XVI of the Constitution of the United States of America by adding at the end:

"The right of states, their political subdivisions or authorized authorities to issue general or special obligations for public purposes as declared by them, free from taxation directly or indirectly, shall not be denied by the United States." and, that the Texas Secretary of State forward official copies of this resolution to the President of the United States, the Speaker of the House of Representatives and the President of the Senate of the United States Congress and to each member of the Texas Delegation to the Congress, to the Chairman and members of the Ways and Means Committee of the House of Representatives, Chairmen and members of the House and Senate Finance Committee of the Senate of the United States with the request that this resolution be officially entered into the Congressional Record as a memorial to the Congress of the United States of America.

FMC guarantees that Ammo will control labeled insects on cotton when used according to label directions. But that's not all. FMC also guarantees dryland cotton farmers that a program of fleahopper control followed by Ammo for worm control will increase yields compared to untreated acreage. Take A Walk!

What type of exercise requires no special equipment, can be done almost anywhere at any time by anyone, costs nothing, and has the lowest injury rate of any fitness activity? Walking, of course! According to M. Jay Porcelli, D.O., a regular program of walking will increase flexibility, strength and endurance.

"Walking is probably the best antidote for aging!" says Dr. Porcelli, an osteopathic physician. "It's an aerobic exercise which benefits large muscle groups, gives the heart a healthy workout, strengthens bones, increases energy levels, and helps control high blood pressure."

Dr. Porcelli offers several cautions for walkers. "If you have chronic medical problems, be sure to check with your physician before beginning any fitness program. Be sure to wear loose, comfortable clothing and supportive shoes."

Before walking, be sure to stretch your hamstring, calf, upper thigh and low back muscles. "When you begin to walk, go slowly for about five minutes to warm up your muscles," Dr. Porcelli suggests. "Then you may gradually increase your pace to a brisk level for five to 30 minutes. Be sure to allow five minutes more for a cool-down period of slow walking at the end of your exercise period."

Once you have started a program of walking, how do you make sure you stick with it? "You have to make exercise a habit," Dr. Porcelli explains. Begin by walking at the same time over the same route every other day for a few weeks. Once you have this habit established you can vary your routine a bit. Finding a partner to walk with also is a good strategy.

"In nice weather walk outside and enjoy the great outdoors," Dr. Porcelli recommends. "But on extremely cold or hot days, find an indoor area like an enclosed shopping mall for your walk. The important thing to realize is that no matter what your age, right now is the perfect time to get up, get out, and get fit by adding a regular walking program to your life!"

Laundry Scents Sense
Here's an idea that makes "scents" —freshen your clothes, towels and linens with lavender. According to the Fragrance Foundation, people are using beautiful, interesting fragrances to add a whole new sensory dimension to their homes in many new (and old) ways.

One company understands what the Europeans discovered centuries ago—lavender adds a clean, fresh scent when used in the wash. Airwick Industries uses lavender oil from southern France in its Lavender Sachet Fabric Softener & Freshener, giving laundry a lingering scent of lavender while it softens. The fresh scent of lavender makes clothes and linens nice to be near, and even lingers on, scenting drawers, closets and other places where laundered items are stored. The only lavender fragrant fabric softener, Lavender Sachet is an easy way to combat musty odors. As in days of old, lavender is always a fresh idea.

Elisha had been a tower of strength to Israel. When the prophet became ill for the last time, King Joash, not a particularly good king, and certainly not a godly man, nevertheless came to Elisha's bedside, brokenhearted over the old prophet's condition. But Elisha was not interested in just a sympathy visit. He was not dead yet. He was still the Lord's prophet, and he still had a message from the Lord to the king. He graphically told Joash that the Lord would deliver Israel from the troublesome Syrians.

"Then he (Elisha) said, 'Take the arrows,' and the king took them. Elisha told him, 'Strike the ground.' He struck it three times and stopped. The man of God was angry with him and said, 'You should have struck the ground five or six times, then you would have defeated Aram (Syria) and completely destroyed it. But now you will defeat it only three times'" (II Kings 13: 18-19, NIV).

Again, Joash (Jehoash in some versions) was not a man of great faith (verse 11), and apparently did not believe that God would deliver Israel.

Such lack of faith caused him--and causes us--to give up too soon. In verse 25, we see that Elisha's prophecy was true to the letter. Joash defeated Syria three times, but Syria was not destroyed, and continued to plague Israel over the years. But notice, God cares for, and wants to bless His people, even though their king left much to be desired.

In II Kings 4:1-7, Elisha performs a miracle for a godly widow who owes a debt incurred by her dead husband. She has absolutely nothing of value except a pot of olive oil. He tells her to borrow pots from her neighbors--"not a few" (verse 3)--and begin filling them with the oil from the one pot she has. The oil filled every vessel she borrowed, giving her enough to pay her debt and have money left over to live on (verse 7). But when there were no more borrowed vessels, there was no more oil. One can hardly escape the conclusion that had she borrowed twice as many pots, there would have been twice as much oil.

How very, very typical of our loving Father to want to bless us with more than we can, or will, accept--to want to bless us more than we want to be blessed.

"O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, thou that killest the prophets, and stonest them which are sent unto thee, how often would I have gathered thy children together, even as a hen gathereth her chicken under her wings, and ye would not!" (Matthew 23:37)

"Bring ye all the tithes into the storehouse, that there may be meat in mine house, and prove me now herewith, saith the Lord of hosts, if I will not open you the windows of heaven, and pour you out a blessing that there shall not be room enough to receive it" (Malachi 3:10).

How do we "borrow not a few" pots; that is, how do we prepare ourselves to receive the bounty God wants to give us?

The context of the verse from Malachi concerns tithing, but we might generalize the teaching to say that the first thing the Lord wants from us is obedience.

But probably the best single verse to answer our question comes from II Chronicles 7:14, a verse often--and properly--used at revival time, and a verse King Joash would have done well to heed: "If my people, which are called by my name, shall humble themselves, and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their wicked ways; then will I hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin, and will heal their land."

IS IT POSSIBLE...
first century Christianity in the twentieth century?

First century Christianity is not only possible, but actually exists today when people follow the New Testament! One of the beauties of genuine Christianity is that it is not bound by time, culture, tradition or any other physical element. God designed it to fit in any age and to flourish in every culture. New Testament authors, guided by the Holy Spirit, likened the Word of "SEED" which when planted in the human heart would bring forth fruit in any place and time. But the Bible also makes it clear that we must not be led astray by the doctrines and traditions of men. There is "one body, one hope, one faith, one baptism..." - Eph. 4:4-5 The churches of Christ seek the restoration of original Christianity by way of a complete return to the teachings of the Bible. We can have genuine Christianity as the Bible presents it! We can all be, just Christians! Why not investigate the churches of Christ???

Bible Correspondence Course

seeded crops (cotton, grain sorghum, corn), ACR, and conserving use acreage (CU) is Friday, July 15, 1988. This applies to farms not participating in the 1988 Farm Program as well as participating farms.

Payment yields

The Donley County ASC Committee will be looking closely at farms reported to them by county office spot-checkers, that are not using normal cultural practices. Participating farms should prepare a good clean seedbed and plant the crop in a timely workmanlike manner. Payment yields will be reduced on those farms that are determined not to be planted and worked in a manner that is customary for the county. If payments are to be received, a good effort must be put forward by all producers.

Conservation reserve program maintenance

If you are approved to participate in the CRP Program, you need to remember that haying and grazing of the CRP acreage will result in the loss of program benefits. Failure to control weeds and soil erosion on CRP acreage will also result in a reduction. Even if you have not established a cover on the acreage, you are responsible for controlling erosion and growth of weeds.

Measurement service

We are now accepting requests for measurement services for spring seeded crops, ACR and CU. Let me encourage you to use this service if there is any doubt about the acreage you need to certify. This office will guarantee all official measurement services. This is cheap insurance for program benefits. Please be prepared to identify where your crops are planted on a county office photocopy while requesting this service.

Failed acreage responsibility

You must file an ASCS-574 prior to the destruction of any crop that has failed. Failure to certify the crop and filing the form prior to destroying the crop will affect your deficiency payment and possibly your crop acreage base in 1989.

Conservation reserve program

The next Conservation Reserve Program Sign-up will be held July 18th through August 5, 1988. Donley County will not hold a sign-up because we have already accepted all acres in the program that we are permitted to accept. Acreage is not eligible to be offered for land physically located in this county or any other county which has reached their limit. Eligible acres physically located in another county that is still accepting offers but administered in this county will be accepted.

Mid-Year crop and livestock reports

Beginning June 1st, representatives from the Texas Agricultural Statistics Service will be contacting farmers and ranchers to help set the 1988 planted acreage estimates and mid-year livestock inventories. Thank you for your efficient and timely response to these much needed surveys.

FmHA accepting emergency loan applications

Donley County was declared eligible for Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) disaster emergency loans on February 5, 1988. Generally, that means that farmers who have lost at least 30% of their production due to the blizzard and freeze are eligible for FmHA loans. Proceeds from crop insurance and the PIK program are taken into account when determining eligibility.

FmHA County Supervisor, Marvin Crabtree is urging farmers who are interested in receiving an emergency loan to get their applications into FmHA as soon as possible. The deadline is October 5, 1988.

The FmHA office is at 410 South Kearney in Clarendon. The telephone number is 874-3552.

Women Buy More Medicines

In general, women purchase more medicines (prescription and nonprescription) than do men. Some market researchers have explained this observation based on the belief that women are more interested in health matters than are men. They point to the fact that women make more visits to physicians than do men. Others believe the difference occurs because women seem to be better informed about health matters and may be more inclined to act on the information that they have acquired.

A recent study in the journal Medical Care indicates that much of the medication taking differences of men and women can be explained on the basis of women's pregnancy and child bearing roles. The two-year study of over 800 men and women showed that women consumed the greatest variety of medicines during the so called "child-bearing years." Researchers found that, when they eliminated female-specific diagnoses and drugs used to either prevent or treat female-related conditions, the difference in medicine use by men and women was virtually eliminated.

One of the reasons pharmacists see more women than men is because women, in addition to shopping for themselves, also tend to shop for family members.

Hot Water Dispenser

The alarm never rings... you are needed at work in 20 minutes... the pipes are cold... will a cup of hot chocolate have to wait?

We've all waited for hot water, using the stove top or maybe even the microwave oven. There's an alternative for today's busy lifestyles — a hot water dispenser is a real time saver in the preparation of meals or a quick cup of your favorite hot beverage.

The hot water dispenser provides up to 60 cups of approximately 190°F water per hour. Home economists from Whirlpool Corporation suggest it is ideal for quick preparation of foods calling for hot or boiling water, such as instant soups, cereals, beverages and freeze-dried casserole dishes featuring rice or pasta. It also comes in handy when warming baby bottles, loosening jar lids and blanching vegetables.

The unit is usually placed next to the sink faucet and can be installed easily and quickly by any do-it-yourselfer. The stainless steel tank holds two quarts of water. The unit's anti-liming system helps minimize lime build-up enabling the hot water dispenser to be used in hard, soft, city or well water areas.

For a very reasonable price, a hot water dispenser can enhance any cook's kitchen, while freeing up valuable time in today's fast paced world.
