City moves closer to management contract

The City of Clarendon took another step toward contracting with the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission for city administration services last week.

A committee composed of Mayor Tex Selvidge and Alderman Smiley Johnson will work with the (PRPC) to come up with a plan and schedule of completion for city improvements.

The formation of the committee follows a called session of the board last Monday, October 23, in which the aldermen held talks with PRPC representatives Gary Pitner, Jarrett Atkinson, and Colby Waters.

Atkinson said the commission has been offering city management services for about 1 1/2 years. Bovina was the first city to contract with the PRPC, and they have found the service so useful they are now seeking a full time city manager, he said.

"We were initially hired by Bovina to develop personnel policies," he said. "Now we've basically worked ourselves out of a job."

Under the proposed agreement, the city would contract with the commission to have a PRPC employee serve as a part-time City Administrator for an estimated $32,539 per year. The Board of Aldermen would still set policy for the city and oversee the city administrator. The city administrator would oversee daily operations of the city including the areas of personnel and business and financial matters.

The administrator would be in Clarendon two days a week and would do a lot of work over the phone.

"Business still goes on when the [administrator] is not there," Atkinson said.

School district still hearing questions about expulsion of student

A Clarendon High School student's expulsion for bringing a gun to school ended this week, but questions still are being asked about the incident.

Four weeks ago, 17-year-old G.J. Martindale left his shotgun in his vehicle when he became sick after going dove hunting. The gun was sniffed out by drug dogs during a random search of the high school parking lot on October 3.

The school expelled the boy to an Alternative Education Program and reported the matter to the Donley County Sheriff's Department.

The expulsion was upheld by the CISD Board of Trustees on October 13.

CISD Superintendent Monty Hysinger said

some people are still wondering why the school called local law enforcement, but the school really had no choice.

"We just did what the law requires," Hysinger said last week.

Federal law, Texas law through the state education code, and CISD policy all require law enforcement to be notified in this type of situation.

"We have to report any felony. Do people want us to determine which felonies to report? We want it to be a fair system."

The only discretion the local administrators had was in the disciplinary action at the school.

Under the federal Gun-Free Schools Act of 1994, the school is required to expel for a period of one year any student who is determined to have brought a firearm to school. The law does allow the superintendent to modify the length of expulsion from one year based on local circumstances.

The local student was expelled for four weeks - roughly eight percent of the one year maximum.

In a similar situation reported by the Associated Press, a student in Crescent, Oklahoma, was suspended for one full year when he left a .22 rifle in his pickup after going target shooting.

Recent articles in the AMARILLO DAILY NEWS and the DALLAS MORNING NEWS have said

Donley County has been divided over the Martindale situation, but Hysinger doesn't see it that way.

"I don't think it's divided the county," he said. "It ought to bring us together because the people see we're trying to protect the kids."

The superintendent said a lot of people have thanked the school for the way the situation was handled.

The future of Martindale's case will be decided November 13, said County Attorney Stewart Messer. That's when a local Grand Jury will meet to determine if the boy should face criminal charges.

If the jury "no bills" the case, that will be the end of it, he said.

New PA joins local clinic

Clarendon Family Medical Center announced this week the addition of a new physician assistant to its staff.

Kim McMillan, PA-C, began work at the center last Thursday.

McMillan grew up in Crete, Nebraska, and obtained her Bachelor of Science in Psychology from the University of Nebraska - Lincoln in 1998. She attended physician assistant school at the Des Moines University Osteopathic Medical Center and graduated in June of this year.

McMillan and her husband Curt currently live in Amarillo but are looking at the possibility of moving to Clarendon.

Mr. McMillan is an engineer for Gilbert Construction.

"I'm very grateful and excited to have Kim here," said Dr. John Howard.

Dr. Howard said he has been very gratified by the support of the community and encouraged by the growth of the local clinic since his arrival in January of 1999.

The clinic has been operating as an independent clinic - free from the Baptist/St. Anthony's system - since January of this year, and the doctor is predicting a bright future for local medical services.

"I envision working with the hospital district to broaden the scope of services offered here," he said.

He foresees the possibility of having visiting professionals providing optometrist and dental services as well as implementing telemedicine to provide 24-hour health care.

A new clinic for the community is another possibility that is still on the drawing board, Howard said.

TXU and AEP announce joint 130-MW wind power project

TXU Electric & Gas and American Electric Power (AEP) jointly announced Tuesday a new 130-megawatt wind power project.

The contract establishes TXU Electric & Gas as one of the nation's leaders in wind power purchasing with contracts to buy 361.5 megawatts from various wind power projects. In announcing this agreement, AEP distinguishes itself as a premier national developer of wind power projects with plans to continue adding to its portfolio.

AEP is the parent company of AEP-West Texas Utilities, which provides electricity to Clarendon and Hedley. TXU is a local provider of natural gas services.

TXU Electric & Gas will buy power produced by the 130-megawatt Trent Mesa Project in West Texas for at least ten years. AEP will develop, own, operate, and maintain the project. AEP will also be involved in the project's construction. Financial terms of the contract were not disclosed.

AEP plans to begin construction of the 87 wind turbines in November on a West Texas site just south of Interstate 20 about 24 miles west of Abilene. AEP expects more than 515 million-kilowatt hours of electricity will be generated annually at the site, enough to supply about 30,000 homes for TXU Electric & Gas customers. TXU Electric & Gas customers should begin receiving energy from the project after its completion in August 2001.

The Trent Mesa Project is the fourth major wind power agreement reached by TXU Electric & Gas. Including this agreement, TXU Electric & Gas has contracted to purchase more than 1.3 billion-kilowatt hours of renewable energy annually from several wind farms in West Texas. TXU Electric & Gas projects it will have enough wind capacity from these agreements to fuel approximately 75,000 homes.

"TXU Electric & Gas is a national leader in supporting wind power," said Steve Phillee, who directed this project while vice president of TXU Electric Energy Supply and is now chief executive of TXU Australia.

"Under the Texas deregulation law, this places TXU Electric & Gas at almost twice the amount of renewable energy initially required under the new State of Texas legislative mandates. The Trent Mesa Project is another indication of the clean and

Gossip divides county over sheriff's race

With less than a week to go now, I don't think there is a person around who can't wait for this year's elections to be over.

I for one am sick and tired of Al Gore and the Democratic Party trashing Texas and depicting our great Lone Star State as some third-world nation. To hear them tell it, Texas kids are starving and dying of debilitating illnesses. I half expect to look out my window to see raw sewage running down the street because Texas is supposedly so polluted.

But every time I look outside, the sun is shining and things look just fine to me. (Well, last week it was raining, but that was fine too.) I even e-mailed my old college roommate who now lives in Austin. I thought since he was more near the center of Gov. George W. Bush's influence, maybe he was catching the brunt of these terrible conditions. He reports that things are fine down there, however.

I suppose Al Gore may be exaggerating about our state.

Closer to home, the race to become Donley County's next sheriff just seems to get nastier by the day. And as your editor, I feel as though I've been caught in the crossfire.

Am I for Bill Holden who does some freelance photography for this newspaper, or am I for Butch Blackburn whom I've known forever and have worked with through the Sheriff's Department? The answer - I'm not telling. I'll quietly cast my ballot and keep my mouth shut. I just wish more people would do the same.

I love Donley County, but one of the biggest challenges we face as a community is that of gossip. People just seem to have a constant habit of talking about things they don't know about and passing along second or third hand information - or disinformation as the case may be.

I can respect people who have a difference of opinion about the candidates in this race when that opinion is based on the issues or hard facts. Unfortunately, in the course of this campaign I have heard misstatements and comments not only about the character of both men but their families as well. That is despicable.

I have worked with both Butch Blackburn and Bill Holden, and they have both been decent and honorable in their dealings with me.

It is interesting also to note that the "mudslinging" that is so often mentioned does not come from candidates for the most part. It comes from their supporters.

Rush Limbaugh has often said that people would much rather vote "for" a candidate than vote "against" a candidate. I think that holds true for local elections as well. I just wish we could have had a nice clean race.

On almost a daily basis, I get hit from both sides about this election. Everyone who has had a negative experience with Deputy Blackburn or Sheriff Jimmy Thompson has a gripe and wants to tell me about it. Anyone who latches on to some rumor or allegation against Bill Holden has to bend my ear for half an hour or so.

One person this week openly questioned the way I run this newspaper when I didn't want to investigate or report her pet peeve. Frankly, I'm sick of the whole thing.

Why don't I print such and such about candidate X? Why don't I say this or that about candidate Y?

Well, the answer to both of those questions is that I have to work with the winner. Whoever is the next sheriff, this newspaper has to cooperate with that person to get information out to the citizens of Donley County.

Newspapers in larger cities can get away with endorsing local candidates for office, but we can't do that here. When this election is over and done with, we will all still be living together. We'll see each other at the Post Office or the Dairy Queen or elsewhere. (I don't foresee running into Al Gore anywhere.)

I told both Mr. Blackburn and Mr. Holden at the outset that I did not want to take sides and that I would tell neither whom I was voting for. I have tried my best to be fair to both candidates. By doing so, I hope that I have been able to maintain a friendship with both men.

After all our county has been through lately, however, some friendships will definitely be strained. That's a sad state of affairs, and it didn't have to be that way.

I hope informed voters will turn out in droves next Tuesday. Look at the records of both candidates, read their profiles in last week's newspaper, and then cast your ballot. But for the sake of being neighborly, let's stop all this petty bickering.

And finally, I would like to say that my office is closed to those who want me to listen to them about this election. If you have something to say, put a stamp on it and drop it in the mail. If it's a good letter, I'll print it.

In the meantime, I've got work to do.

Quotable

Texas Gov. George W. Bush making fun of Vice President Al Gore's claim of inventing the Internet:

"If he's so smart, why do Internet addresses begin with 'W'?"

Voting earns you the right to complain

I'm not going to write about who you should vote for President, Representative, Sheriff, or even Commissioner. Instead, I'm just asking that you go and vote next Tuesday.

Even though this year's presidential race has been too close to call, I have heard numerous people say, "What does it matter if I vote?" or "My vote won't make a difference anyway."

The truth is your personal vote does matter. When added up with others' votes, it can make a difference. It can help to make a change in our local, state, and federal government, or it can leave an incumbent and their policies intact.

Voting is truly a privilege, and it is one that people in repressed nations would love to obtain. We have it good here in the United States. If we don't agree with a particular ruling party's decisions, then we are able to vote them out of office and select a person who we think will do a better job.

Our Founding Fathers believed voting was one of our most important civic duties. And as Americans, we are envied around the world for our governmental freedoms. But, as apathy continues to increase among voters, we actually are at risk for losing many of our freedoms.

Not voting is actually worse than voting for a candidate that you may not particularly like or support. Even though you may care about the issues, not registering to vote, or even worse, not casting a ballot, is just downright shameful.

Think of voting not so much as a choice, but rather as a duty. As an American, voting is your price for being free and having the wonderful privilege of choice.

Take care of your American birthright by voting. There are millions of other people who would love to have all of the opportunities that are given to you. Take pride in that, and do your part in keeping America free. Please, go vote next Tuesday.

WANT A CHANGE? GO VOTE!

Candidate Holden responds to recent letters

I am writing this letter to advise your readers of the facts pertaining to the sheriff's race here in Donley County. Let me answer some of the questions my opponent's supporters have raised during the campaign. My qualifications, residency, the car I drive, military service have all been attacked by supporters of my opponent, people, some of whom, I have never met.

As I have stated numerous times before, I will not get into mudslinging. Butch is a hardworking person and has served the county well, but I must however in my defense address questions and statements that have been made. First, let me say that I have the support of many voters within the county because they see a need for change. They want Donley County to remain a safe community in which to live. They see a need for us to modernize the sheriff's department and make it a "user friendly" department. Most of all they believe that I am the person to do this without raising local taxes.

Sheriff Thompson, whom I admire for his years of service to this community, as expected hand-picked his successor. Sheriff Thompson made remarks about my opponent's training. I expected the sheriff's department employees, their families and friends, and the volunteers of the department to also support my opponent. Change is hard to swallow, and with new blood comes change.

I have clearly voiced and explained my objectives for the future of the Sheriff's Department. Some have called these "big city" ideas; I call them progress. Is supporting our students with a school-taught drug education and prevention program a big city idea? How about having a sheriff who will devote his time to the department and serving the community and not running a business or farm? One who will hold monthly meetings with our senior citizens on safety issues, learning what their concerns are? A sheriff who will attend as many meetings held throughout the county getting the word out on matters of interest to all of us? A sheriff that will have a zero tolerance drug policy for the county? I don't think these are big city ideas.

Second, I understand the need to let the public know about each candidate's qualifications. The sheriff and Butch's supporters have stated that Butch had 700 hours of training and some 25 schools. Please note that my resident policy academy training alone was 826 hours. I have enclosed a partial list of my 100+ schools for your review. These courses do not include on-the-job training or some of the specialized schooling or most of my education through the military.

The next sheriff must possess the necessary skills in administration and leadership, which I believe I have. He must have a vision and goal for the department and work to see those goals completed. I am asking the voters to take a long look at the choices for sheriff. Both candidates are nice guys. Both have the basic qualifications for sheriff. Both have the respect of the community and care about the people in the community. But you are not qualified for the position of sheriff just because you have lived here all your life. In my opinion, your education, law background, leadership, administration experience, qualifies you to become Donley County's next sheriff. I believe I possess these qualities and have stressed them from the beginning. I believe this so much that I have not accepted funding from any group or organization for my campaign. I have also pledged to contribute part of my salary, should I become sheriff, to update the Sheriff's Department. Yes, folks, I will put my money where my mouth is. That's commitment!

I look forward to the opportunity to serve Donley County with pride. In closing, I would ask all citizens to get out and vote on November 7 and cast your vote for change and modernization.

William "Bill" Holden,
Clarendon

Let democracy work

Let democracy work. Stick to issues. May the best man win without the sign stealing, backstabbing, and mudslinging. I am not proud of the way the sheriff's race has been run.

Don Stone,

Lady asks who wants 'a sheriff from New Jersey?'

I've kept quiet and watched this election. But now I've got something to say. I've worked with Butch Blackburn for over two years, and he has not once bad-mouthed his opponent. But his opponent has slung mud from the beginning. Butch is honest, and he will do what is right. His hands are tied at this time, but those of you think he can't or won't do the job should walk in his shoes for one week. Yes, I'm prejudiced, but which one of you wouldn't be if you had seen the hours this man works over and over for this community and county. A lot of which he's never gotten paid for.

You say he hasn't joined your organizations. Maybe that's because he's trying to keep you safe instead. How do you know he won't bring this office into the 21st century? You haven't given him a chance to prove himself yet.

And who wants a sheriff from New Jersey? Would you want your hot sauce from New Jersey? Get a rope. Texans, get out and vote.

How well do you know Holden's background by the way? Maybe some of you should check courthouse records or check out his claims of what he is qualified to do on the Internet. Some of us have, but our mouths are tied shut by the law, which we proudly try to serve and protect. In reference Holden's mother-in-law's letter, who by the way doesn't live here nor can she vote here, maybe Butch's mother-in-law would like to write a nice letter, too. She doesn't live here nor can she vote here. You say Holden gives 110 percent. Butch gives 150 percent.

Get real Holden supporters. If you want Holden for sheriff, then Donley County will be the one that suffers the consequences and you will get what you as Holden's supporters deserve - less than the best.

Clairece Hoggatt,
Hedley

Lady hurt by criticisms of Deputy Blackburn

It really hurts and angers me to see someone as honest, hardworking, and dependable as Butch Blackburn being put down and verbally abused by the very people he has sworn to protect and serve. Butch takes his job as deputy sheriff very seriously and does not deserve this kind of treatment. The mudslinging going on in this campaign is not coming from Butch. He has conducted himself as a gentleman throughout all this mess. In fact, I don't know how he has kept his composure as well as he has. The general public just does not know all the things that have been said and done to hinder and hurt Butch. It has been said that only people who are afraid they can't win fairly try to make others look bad. Only by making someone else look bad can they look good. I sincerely hope this is not the case. Why does there have to be any negative talk of any kind? Just let each candidate run on his own merits.

I believe Butch has proven his devotion to his job by the countless hours he works each week to make Donley County a safer place for all of us to live and raise our families. He wants the drug business stopped just as bad as anyone else. He has children in school here, too. It is not an easy thing to do, but it is being worked on. One man cannot do it alone. It takes all agencies working together to get anything done. Until drug trafficking is stopped on a national level, all communities will have a problem.

Several comments have been made about Butch not volunteering or not joining organizations. I would just like to ask, when does he have time? He has been working seven days a week at the sheriff's department, sometimes 16 or more hours a day. Since June 25, he has had maybe three days off. And don't forget, he has a wife and children at home that would like to spend some time with him. He has not even had much time to campaign because he is working such long hours, and he cannot campaign when he is on duty.

There have been statements about Butch's supporters being his friends and family. Well, of course, his friends and family support him, as do Bill Holden's friends and family support him. In fact, I think one of the longest letters supporting Bill in the paper a couple of weeks ago was from his mother-in-law, who by the way does not live in Clarendon. I see nothing wrong with this. If your family and friends do not support you, then you are in trouble. Yes, those of us who work at the sheriff's office support Butch because he has proven to us that he is a capable and strong leader. He is fair in his dealings with everyone. No matter who you are. A lot of people in Donley County support Butch, and they are not all related to him or to those of us who work here.

As for experience, we all know Butch has it. He is a fully certified Texas peace officer. He has attended numerous schools and classes to keep up to date on all matters of the law. Being a sheriff is more than just sitting in an office all day, delegating jobs to others. Being sheriff means being out in all kinds of weather all hours of the day and night involved everything from chasing wayward cattle to hardened criminals.

I would just like to ask the voters of Donley County one question. Who is better qualified for the job than Butch Blackburn? Butch has proven himself capable of handling the job. He has worked here in the Sheriff's Department and knows how it works. He knows what it takes to get the job done. In my opinion, there is only one candidate fully qualified to be the sheriff of Donley County, and that is Butch Blackburn. I hope the voters of Donley County will think long and hard before voting, but please do get out there and vote.

Cheryl Phillips,
Clarendon

A sheriff or politician?

Do the citizens of Donley County want a sheriff or a politician?

Personally, I want a sheriff who is trustworthy, dedicated, honest, dependable, and experienced!

Butch Blackburn has lived in Donley County for 38 of his 40 years. He knows our county backward and forward. I would say that he knows most all of the people who live here and most importantly where they live and exactly how to get to their house, business, or rural location in case of an emergency.

Butch has been in law enforcement for 20 years with 19 of those years being right here in Donley County. He has approximately 730 certified hours with the State of Texas, and he is the only candidate running for sheriff who is TCLEOSE (Texas Commission On Law Enforcement Officer Standards and Education) certified.

Butch averages 130 hours of logged time per pay period as chief deputy (not counting the countless number of hours not logged or compensated for that he takes calls at home and/or gets out to assist on his time off). Butch is available anytime day or night to fulfill his duties as a law enforcement officer to serve and protect our community. He takes his job very seriously because he cares deeply about this county and takes pride in protecting it. So, you ask, why does Butch not nominate himself to every volunteer position available? Because he has dedicated himself to serve and protect you the citizens of this county, which I might add is the most important volunteer work anyone could ever donate to this county. If you want to compare volunteer hours, I think you would find more donated hours from Butch Blackburn than you would care to count.

In closing, I would like to raise some questions in your mind that need to be addressed that I am very concerned about.

1. Do the people of Donley County know for a fact all of the details regarding the opponent's military history?

2. If the opponent is elected sheriff, the county will be out the expense of nine months of schooling and not to mention that while he is in school five days a week for nine months. Who will be the sheriff during that time? Crime will not stop and wait for school to be out!

3. If the opponent is disabled, what will that do to our county's insurance plan? If he is not disabled, why does he have handicapped tags on his vehicle? And if he is disabled, what is the disability and could it hinder him from being able to fulfill his duties to serve and protect our community in an emergency situation?

4. The opponent has promised to implement a "drug awareness program" funded with grant money. If by chance the grant money is not available, can Donley County afford it? I don't know about you, but I had rather my taxes not go up any higher.

My vote, support, and total confidence is in the only qualified, experienced, trustworthy, dedicated, honest, and dependable candidate for sheriff of Donley County - Charles "Butch" Blackburn.

Sheriff says department has not been 'lax'

From 1981 through September of 2000, the Donley County Sheriff's Office has booked 7,603 people into its facility. In the year 2000 from January through September, the sheriff's office has dispatched 376 ambulance calls, 58 fire calls, and recorded 1,443 pages of logged entries (which includes every transaction the sheriff's office has received).

I, William J. Thompson, Sheriff of Donley County, do not believe that anyone can justifiably call us a "lax department."

Over these 19 years, we have handled everything from murders to class C misdemeanors. Below you will find a list of the arrests made during my term as Sheriff of Donley County.

DWI/DUI (including boating while intoxicated and flying while intoxicated): 1,632. Arson: 3. Resists/Evading/Escape Arrest: 77. Other Alcohol Related Arrest (including minor in possession, minor in consumption, contributing to the delinquency of a minor, selling alcohol to a minor, making alcohol available to a minor, selling liquor in a dry county, possession of liquor to sell and transporting alcohol in a dry county): 168. Criminal Trespass (including interfering with railroad property): 136. Disorderly Conduct, Reckless Conduct, Deadly Conduct, and Reckless Driving (including stalking): 442. These numbers are from the official jail records of the Donley County Sheriff's Office.

Butch Blackburn has been an active part of what has been accomplished by the Donley County Sheriff's Office since 1981. He is capable and has been involved in handling every type of charge mentioned on this list. I urge the voters to get out and vote for Butch Blackburn on November 7.

Thinks written forum is the best, fairest type

I would like to begin by saying that, like Steve Sell, I appreciate your printing these letters. Your policy regarding these letters gives Donley County a fair and invaluable forum for public discussion and debate. I consider a written forum to be the fairest type.

I don't understand why in politics today the emphasis is put on aiming criticism at the person raising the question, questioning the validity of the question and even disputing the place in which the question was raised rather than just answering the question in a straightforward and direct manner.

I make no apology for raising my question as to whether Mr. Holden has received disability benefits since moving to Donley County in this forum, rather than in a phone call to the Holdens. This way, I was able to be certain that my question was not misheard due to my thick Texas accent, and no one is going on my word alone as to the response. After living in a rural area for a while, people learn to be skeptical of second hand reports of conversations. I was in hopes of getting thru this without being accused of lying. Obviously, it did not work out well for me in this respect as I was accused of writing a letter that contained "made up mistruths" and "misleading personal comments" and went against the teachings of our Lord. But it has worked out well for me in that it is all a matter of easily accessible public record. I feel that the majority of those who would believe these charges who will re-read my original letter will agree that not one sentence fits those descriptions. I simply explained my reasons thoroughly and raised a logical, relevant question in a manner in which all that would have been necessary to have quelled any doubts would have been a straightforward, direct answer on the subject of disability benefits, not retirement.

Often in politics today the manner in which a question is answered the first time can become as important as the actual answer to the question.

Says Holden not certified

As a citizen of Donley County, I have watched the sheriff's election with interest. One of my concerns is the qualifications of Bill Holden. It is my understanding that he is not a certified Texas peace officer and the Donley County Sheriff's Department could not even hire him as a deputy if he were to apply.

Do the citizens of Donley County really want or need a sheriff that is not a fully certified Texas peace officer?

Jeff Cook,
Clarendon

Deputy says Blackburn is 'more than qualified'

I have continued to read the [letters] in the newspaper with great interest. We have all read the pros and cons for each candidate for Sheriff. Now I would like to add my feelings.

I have spent a large part of my adult life in law enforcement, starting in 1975 as a Deputy for Hemphill County, later as City Marshall in Vega, Texas, and then as Police Chief in Shamrock, Texas. I have seen all types of law enforcement and speak from those experiences.

First of all, an officer has to go by the law when working any case. It is the job of the officer to take a report, investigate with what information he has and then to present the case to the Attorney. There are instances when an officer can make an arrest immediately, but as a general rule it must be for an offense committed in the officer's presences.

Next, as far as the "Good Old Boy" deal. I have been here since April and haven't seen that. If anyone had a problem and needed attention, it has been given to them no matter who they are or what family they come from. Sheriff Thompson nor Chief Deputy Butch Blackburn have ever interfered in any way with an investigation or arrest of anyone I have dealt with.

As far as the speed of trucks through our town, there are two units in the department equipped with radar. One of those is assigned to me. The radar is on at all times, and at times I even run stationary radar. To this date, I have written one speeding ticket on 287 in Clarendon. I am sure that there are trucks speeding through town but it is most difficult to hide a marked unit with lights on it in order to issue a ticket. I will assure you that if a truck is caught speeding through town, it will be issued a ticket.

You have been made many promises in this race. In the long run, it is you the taxpayer that will pay the bill on these promises. I have been trained in the grant writing process and have used some of those grants. I have learned one thing: if you use enough of those grants not knowing how to read them, you will soon have people in higher places telling your sheriff how to run his department. I am not saying there aren't some good grants out there, but to arbitrarily promise to use those grants to fulfill a campaign promise? I don't think so.

If you think that the person you elect sheriff is going to sit in a chair in an office and administrate only, you are wrong. There are places that this is possible but not in Donley County. This position requires a working sheriff. This man will be on calls just as the deputy is. If there is fighting, he will be in it too. Since I have been here, Sheriff Thompson and Deputy Blackburn have been called out to assist me on many occasions, and most of them have required physical effort of some type. When the chips are down, I would want one of these two at my back.

There are laws that must be followed in dealing with any crime, and that is most especially true of dealing with narcotics. There is a huge civil liability in these dealings and a case must be done step by step. If a step is missed, it could bankrupt this county. We all want this problem cleaned up, and if you think it's frustrating to you, try being an officer dealing with it. Chief Deputy Blackburn wants to do something about this problem and will, but he will do it with regards to the taxpayers of Donley County and their liability.

Butch Blackburn is more than qualified to be sheriff of Donley County. He knows the people and the county. He knows what roads can be driven in a car and what roads can't. He is familiar with those who have past medical problems and those who might cause problems. I have found him to be caring and trustworthy. He has given all he has to this county and their welfare. Butch knows the laws of the State of Texas and enforces them fairly and honestly. He only needs continuing training not re-training. I urge each of you to look at what this county needs and the man. I personally know that Butch Blackburn fills both.

Bruce Burrell,
Clarendon

Holden better qualified to be Donley's sheriff

I am writing this letter again because you did not print my last letter. I feel it important that the voters have the facts when they vote for any office. However, I would like to comment on the sheriff's race here in Donley County if I may. I think it stinks that personal attacks have to be made in any race. To see it here is pitiful.

Reading your paper and seeing all of the mudslinging, I finally have chosen a candidate for sheriff. I have read Mr. Holden's qualifications and have known Butch and his dad for years. It appears that they both have the basic education necessary, in my opinion, to be sheriff. It appears Bill Holden has much more education and supervision experience than Butch, but Butch has lived here longer. I hated to see and hear Butch's supporters personally attack Mr. Holden on a regular basis not only in your newspaper but on the streets as well. I have heard stories from them that would appear in the Dallas news' "best seller" section. This tells me that Butch's supporters agree with a lot of the voters that Bill Holden would be better qualified to be our sheriff. I am going to vote for Bill Holden, not only because he is better qualified but also to send a message that mudslinging will not be tolerated in Donley County.

I would also like to comment on Butch's ad in the paper. 1) I have read in Butch's ad that he has started to implement a plan on dealing with drugs. I thought that was the sheriff's job. 2) Why did you wait until an election year to do something about the drugs? Are you actually going to arrest those known for dealing drugs if you are elected or will they continue to deal poison to our kids? 3) Mr. Holden says he will be a full time sheriff. Butch has told others that he has other commitments. It sounds to me that he will be a part time sheriff. I feel that the pay stinks for the Sheriff's Department, but when you sign on to take that position, you know what you are getting in to and you should devote all your time to that position and not have other commitments.

Finally, I have seen the overwhelming support from the employees of the Sheriff's Department, and I understand why they are supporting Butch. They have an interest at stake in this race - their jobs.

Blackburn is the man who knows the county

Deputy Blackburn has many attributes on and off the job, but what impresses me is his knowledge of our county and its residents past and present. Some of you may not connect this knowledge to law enforcement. But I have awakened Butch in the wee hours on more than one occasion, and he's always come up with the needed information.

I encourage everyone to get out and vote November 7, 2000, and remember: "Butch Blackburn is the man who knows Donley County - the man Donley County knows."

College turns out another entertaining performance

Those who missed the play at Clarendon College this past weekend missed a great show. Lie, Cheat and Genuflect turned out to be an entertaining farce expertly performed by student actors.

Robert Benson stole the show as Billie Buckle, but how could he not? He was the one who got to dress up in a nun suit. Jason Myers, as Tom Buckle, could talk rings around any auctioneer, and Jason Cloyd made a wonderfully comical-sinister "Pizza-Face Petrillo."

The play was full of physical comedy and pratfalls--when they brought out the huge syringe of "novocaine" you knew someone was going to get stabbed with it, and Robert stumbled hilariously around the stage with his numb legs. This kind of comedy requires split-second timing and hours of rehearsal, and it was obvious that these students had put the time in. Congratulations, y'all, and thanks for a fun evening.

The High School Carnival came off nicely, despite the somewhat soggy weather. I have been told by my roving reporter that the "Soak the Coaches" booth was the most popular. The coaches volunteered (or more likely were volunteered) to allow anyone with the price of a ticket to throw wet sponges at them. My reporter anticipates some form of minor payback for soaking Coach DeMar, but claims it was worth it.

wash out of the fields first.

There are lots of new books at the library. Carolyn Blackerby has promised me some of them as soon as they get into the catalog and get everything pasted inside. Some of the others I already read. I bought them, read them, and wanted to keep them handy but not necessarily in my garage, so I took them down to the library and donated them. Okay, yes, at least one of them was a book I bought twice because I forgot I'd already read it. Carolyn appreciates every book that comes in because it means more library funds that can be spent on other items like children's books or magazines. So if you have any around, especially newer ones, you know what to do with them when the stacks get too high.

It was a sad weekend with the death and funeral of Jack Roach. I didn't know Jack well. He and my older son only became friends toward the end of the summer after Rhys had regained most of his mobility from knee surgery, but Jack was a charming young man with a sweet nature. The depth with which he will be missed can be noted from all the friends who returned to Clarendon from colleges in and out of state to remember him.

Our thoughts and prayers are with Jack's family and all those who will miss him.

National Dean's List

A total of six students from this area are among the approximately 140,000 students included in the 23rd annual edition of The National Dean's List, 1999-2000.

Todor Boinovski, Sheldon Smart, and Euraline Williams, who all attend Clarendon College, were named to the list. Sabra Campbell and Walker McAnear, who attend Texas Tech University, and Johnnie Sparks, who attends Baptist Bible College, were also named to the list.

Students are selected for this honor by their college deans, registrars, or honor society advisors and must be in the upper ten percent of their class, on their school's Dean's List, or have earned a comparable honor. Listed students are eligible to compete for $50,000 in scholarship awards funded by the publisher and may also use a referral service for future employment opportunities.

In memory of Eddie B. Weatherthorn, $150 has been donated to the True Church of God in Christ from the RO Ranch and the family of W.J. Lewis.

I don't want any... even if it does taste like chicken

I was talking to a friend the other day about the squirrels who were eating the birdseed out of his bird-feeders.

"I remember eating squirrel when I was a kid," he told me.

My response was, "YUCK!"

"You'd probably like it. It kind of tastes like chicken - but with a different texture," he said.

No, thank you very much. I don't think so. I've heard that statement before. In fact, anytime someone wants you to eat something - and you don't want to - they always tell you that it tastes like chicken. Have you noticed that?

"Here...try some of this."

"What is it?"

"Just try it!"

"What is it? It has legs and looks like it might have been a frog at one time."

"Try it! It tastes like chicken."

I know that some folks think frog legs are wonderful. I think they are wonderful too, as long as they're still attached to the frog and hopping around in my garden. I simply can't make myself eat them...no...I don't think so. Even if it's cooked in a fancy manner and served on a silver platter, my brain still knows that it's a frog! If God had meant for me to eat frogs, I would be a Roadrunner.

I first learned my lesson about that trick phrase "It tastes like Chicken" many years ago. A group of friends invited me to go with them to the Rattlesnake Roundup in Mangum, Oklahoma. I didn't have a clue as to what a Rattlesnake Roundup was...I thought it was a cute name for an arts and crafts show. When we arrived on the site of the roundup, I heard a noise that sounded a lot like a million dried beans being shaken in a giant tin can.

"What's that?" I wanted to know.

"The snakes, silly," my friend said. "Let's get on over there and eat some."

Excuse me? Eat some? Eat some what? Surely they didn't expect me to eat snake! But, that was exactly what they expected me to do.

"Don't worry," they said, "It tastes like chicken!"

here as saying that it did not taste like chicken. Well...OK...maybe just a little...but the consistency was like chewing on a rubber band. Then there was the visual factor - all those skinned snakes lying around on the chopping block.

My mind sent an urgent message to my stomach, "Hey...stupid...you just received a piece of snake."

"I did not. It tastes sort of like chicken," replied my stomach.

"Well, if you believe that, then you'll believe anything. It's a snake, mister...one of those long, slimy, slithering things..."

"Excuse me a moment...I need to go and get rid of this item...be back with you shortly after she comes out of the restroom."

Ever since that experience, I have been very, very afraid of "It tastes like chicken." Did you watch that TV show "Survivor"? Remember when they got really hungry and they caught some rats? What did Rudy say to Gervase when he handed him a charcoal-grilled rat?

"Come on buddy. Try it. It tastes like chicken."

I rest my case. If anybody ever tells you "It tastes like chicken" a red flag should appear in your brain, and you should do several things immediately.

First of all, clamp your mouth tightly closed. It's also wise to shut your eyes. Don't open up for anything!

Second, leave the premises and refuse to come back until you are served a proper meal - such as a Big Mac and fries.

Third, cross the person who tried to feed you something that tasted like chicken off your friend list. They are not to be trusted!

My theory is if it tastes like beef, it better have lived in a pasture and said "Moo", and if it tastes like chicken, it should have had feathers at one time and laid eggs. Otherwise, don't try making me eat it because my lips are sealed!

Lady Bulldogs finish season Broncos battle Bobcats into double overtime

By Sandy Anderberg
The Lady Bulldogs played Trinidad State College Friday night, October 27 at home. The Lady Bulldogs lost that match 6-15, 6-15, and 7-15. Off their usual 90 percent plus serving percentage, the Bulldogs couldn't get things rolling. Laquisha Washington and Lynde Peterson led kills with 3 each. Cecilia Moreno had 2, and Brandie Cornelius had 1. Moreno had 4 assists and Shelly Miller had 3. There were 2 blocks by Washington and Cornelius. Peterson also served 1 ace.

The missed serves and coverage errors seemed to be too great for the Bulldogs to win this match.

In their last match of the season, the Lady Bulldogs traveled to Garden City, Kansas, to square off against Garden City Community College. Even though the Lady Bulldogs served an almost perfect game (46/47), they lost this match 4-15, 9-15, and 5-15.

Washington, Peterson, and Moreno each had 2 kills, and also added 1 block each. Cornelius had 1 kill and served 2 aces. There were 6 assists coming from Peterson and Moreno.

Coach Reed commended her players for continuing to work hard this season.

"The girls did a good job this year, and we are looking forward to next year."

The Lady Bulldogs will only lose 1 player, sophomore and middle hitter Laquisha Washington.

"We'll have five returning next year, and that experience will be in our favor," said Reed. "We'll miss Laquisha next year; she's done a great job for us."

The Broncos were ready to fight for a victory Friday night against the Sunray Bobcats. Stacking up over 300 yards passing, the Broncos took the Bobcats down to the wire in one of the best 2A games of the season.

Falling short by six points in the 2nd overtime, the Broncos lost 47-41.

"This was certainly an exciting game," said Head Coach Roger Hoeltzel. "It was a thrill to see our kids come back from being three touchdowns down and tie the ball game up in the 4th quarter and go into overtime. They battled the entire game."

The Broncos' game began just the way they wanted it to. On their first series, the Broncos drove the ball the length of the field, and senior Colt Floyd took the ball across the goal line on a 4-yard run. After having to punt the ball and turning it over on downs, the Broncos failed to score again before the half. The Bobcats answered with three TD's before half time.

The Broncos got things started again in the third quarter when Floyd hit Senior Josh Williams with a 77-yard touchdown pass. Floyd then connected with Sam Holton for the 2-point conversion. That brought the Broncos within 13.

In the fourth quarter, after a Bobcat touchdown, Holton caught a 63-yard pass from Floyd. Nathan Floyd's kick was good for the extra point.

After recovering a fumble, the Broncos scored again, this time on a 3-yard run by Colt Floyd. The kick by Nathan Floyd was good. This put the Broncos only down by six.

The Bobcats then coughed up the ball on the 2-yard line, and freshman Dusty Martindale ran it back 94 yards for a touchdown to make the score all even at 34.

The Bobcats got the ball first in overtime and scored on an 11-yard pass. On the Broncos' possession, Martindale scored on a 25-yard run, and Floyd's kick was good to take the game into a 2nd overtime.

The Broncos failed to score in the second overtime, and Sunray got the ball on the 25-yard line. Trussel ran it in from nine yards out to steal the victory away from the Broncos.

The extra time on the field took its toll on the Broncos.

"The kids were really exhausted after the game," said Hoeltzel. "They gave everything they had the entire game. That's the way it's been all year. To come so close and to not get over that winning hump was a disappointment for everybody."

The Broncos will face the Hornets next Friday night at Highland Park. The Hornets have some size and a little speed. Hoeltzel feels our chances of a win are good. The Broncos will mix up the offense, going with both the run and the pass.

Don't count the Broncos out; they'll fight until the very end.

Let's get out and support the Broncos!

Clarendon Colts lose to Sunray, 14-20; will play at Highland Park this Thursday

The Jr. High Colts traveled to Sunray Thursday where they lost to the Bobcats, 14-20.

Up against the Sunray eighth grade team, the Colts played hard and were very successful at times. The Colts were again faced with moving players to spots they hadn't played before, something they've had to do all year long.

The Colts' first score of the game came on a 75-yard kick return by Michael Butler. The extra point attempt failed.

Late in the game, it was 4th down with about a foot to go when Butler broke and ran 70 yards for the touchdown. Chase Thornberry scored the 2-point conversion.

The Colts then had the opportunity to tie the ball game, but they came up short after trading fumbles with the Bobcats.

"The kids played very well," said

Coach David Towner. "They played hard and nearly brought the game to a tie."

The Colts will play the Hornets Thursday, November 2 at Highland Park. This will be the Colts' last game of the season. Good luck. Go Colts!

CHS to honor seniors

Clarendon Seniors will be honored at the Highland Park pep rally in Bronco Gym Friday at 3:00 p.m.

Clarendon Senior football team and cross country members along with Senior band members will be recognized at 7:10 before the Highland Park football game.

CHS teams run in district meet

By Sandy Anderberg
The Broncos and Lady Broncos competed in the District cross-country meet in Canadian, October 23.

Drew Sell and Bryan McFarland ran for the varsity team. Bryan finished 14th with a time of 21:26.

Freshman Drew Sell finished 10th in the 3-mile course and will advance to the Regional meet next Saturday to be held in Lubbock. Drew's time was 20:14.

"It was a really good race and lots of good competition," said Coach Steve Schmidt. "We're very proud of Drew, and we are glad he has the opportunity to advance to the Regional meet. His practice time has been limited due to his commitment to football."

If Drew places in the top 10 at Regionals, he will be allowed to advance to the State meet which will be held in Round Rock, Texas.

The Lady Broncos also ran in this meet and placed 6th as a team. Although the Lady Broncos did not advance anyone to the Regional Meet, the Ladyies were successful during their season.

JV Broncs lose to Sunray

The Bronco junior varsity went up against the Bobcats after the Jr. High game. The Broncos lost that game 0-46. No team statistics were available at press time.

This was the last game for the JV team. They finished the season with a 4-2 record overall. They were undefeated until the number of injuries increased on the Varsity team. Several key players on the JV team were moved up to fill the vacancies. The 2 losses occurred after those moves. All JV players will be moved up for the final two Varsity games this season.

Congratulations on a great job this year, Broncos!

Deer, turkey, quail seasons opening November 4

I was disappointed when I went to the lake last Sunday. I was thinking the lake should have risen two or three feet, and to my chagrin, I saw that about half a foot of a rise.

Lake Greenbelt is in dire need of water. All of the other lakes around, with the exception of Lake Mackenzie, all had good rises in depth. There is still more talk of rain this weekend, so maybe there is still a chance that Lake Greenbelt could receive additional rainfall to help the lake rise.

November 4 is the day hunters across the Texas Panhandle have been patiently waiting for. It is opening day for general deer, turkey, and quail season.

Deer and turkey seasons run through January 7, 2001, and quail season runs through February 25, 2001.

Opening day for South Texas deer and turkey season is November 11 and runs through January 21, 2001. It looks like it's going to be a better than average year. Good luck to all and remember to take a kid hunting.

Deep Diver crankbait. I fished shallow for the bass and about 15' deep for the walleye and sandies.

Fishing Tip of the Week:
Look for walleye to start moving to shallow water to feed.

Catch a few fish for supper and release a few fish to ensure another great fishing day. Good luck to all!

Lady Colts run in district c-c meet

The Lady Colts participated in the last cross-country meet of the season. The District meet was held in Canadian on a rainy and chilly day.

Finishing just one place out of a medal was Laura Dziedzic. Her time of 15:16 was good enough for a 6th place finish.

April Ballard was 15th with a time of 15:46, Anndria Kidd was 19th with a time of 16:09, Lauren Floyd was 23rd with a time of 16:28, Haley Shelton was 26th with a time of 16:47, Melanie Johnson was 27th with a time of 16:48, Jessie Anderson was 36th with a time of 17:08, Shanna Shelton 53rd with a time of 18:30, Claudia Thomas 58th with a time of 18:42, Meghan Gribble 63rd with a time of 19:00.

This effort by the Lady Colts was good enough for a third place team finish.

Congratulations, girls, on a great cross-country season!

Library board meets

By Sharon Knox

Friends of Burton Memorial Library met October 12, 2000, at 4:00 p.m. at the library meeting room.

Members present were Amy Auken, Martha Smith, Mary Douglas, Sue Church, Carolyn Moffett, Carolyn Blackerby, Leslie White, and Sharon Knox. Guests present were Roger Estlack, Helen Estlack and Ayesha Abdullah.

Our goal for Friends of the Library this year is to put books and people together.

Ayesha Abdullah and Carolyn Blackerby told us about the Literacy Council workshop that they attended in Oklahoma City on September 21-22, 2000. The Clarendon Literacy Council volunteers are available to tutor students in reading and studying for the GED.

Four new computers are on the way to the library. Helen Estlack told us about new software for our library to work on genealogy and local histories. The theme for the grant proposal was "Teaching an Old Town New Tricks." Clarendon is one of the oldest towns in the Panhandle, and there is interest in recording our history. Our grant depends on collaboration between young people and older people in the community.

Our next meeting will be Thursday, November 9, 2000, at 4:30 p.m. at the library meeting room. Dora Ross, a grant writer, will be our speaker. The public is invited to all Friends of the Library meetings.

BSA Foundation reaches out to family caregivers

AMARILLO – BSA Foundation is making a concerted effort to bring awareness, support, and recognition to local family caregivers by celebrating National Family Caregivers Month in November.

NFC month honors the more than 25 million Americans who care for a family member or friend with a chronic illness, injury, or consequences of old age. The value of these caregivers often goes unrecognized and unsupported. The BSA Foundation wants to change that.

In honor of these unsung heroes, BSA Foundation is hosting the Family Caregivers "Lunch & Learn" Educational Series, November 10, 27, & 30, 2000, from 12:00-1:00 p.m. at the Harold Smith Auditorium, BSA Health System, 1600 Wallace Blvd., Amarillo. The lunch is free, but you must RSVP at 212-7648.

"Recognizing that caring for someone else is difficult, we wanted to give family caregivers the confidence and support needed to care for their loved ones at home," stated Mac Brown, Director, BSA Foundation.

The "Lunch & Learn" educational series features "Home Care Basics" covering tips and basic skills needed for emergencies "Transfer Techniques" teaches the safe way to lift, transfer, and use equipment in order to protect everyone from injury, and "Hiring a Caregiver" explores the resources available, pitfalls to avoid, and questions to ask when selecting an outside caregiver. A complimentary lunch will be provided.

Family caregivers provide more than $196 billion worth of free services each year and form a safety net that literally holds the American health care system together.

For more information, contact Elaine Vivens, BSA Foundation, 212-7648.

son said. The aldermen would also outline specific goals to be achieved by the administrator. Colby Waters is the man most likely to serve that position. The Pampa native is currently serving Bovina and is familiar with Clarendon having gone to Greenbelt Lake many times growing up. Waters said the city administrator position can take some of the work load off city employees and can benefit citizens also. "This position gives the city one person to come to instead of going to all the [aldermen] individually," Waters said. Aldermen see several benefits to contracting with the PRPC. They say it gives the city the chance to see if an administrator is useful to Clarendon without getting involved in a hiring process or making a longterm commitment to someone. The contract is paid on a monthly basis, and the city can cancel the agreement at anytime. "We just want to have the best for the people of Clarendon," said Alderman Billy Jack Land. Mayor Selvidge echoed Land's comments and praised City Secretary Janice Barbee and City Superintendent Jim Roberts saying, "I don't know what we would do without them." Aldermen Mac Stavenhagen agreed and said both Barbee and Roberts should be included in setting goals for the city administrator. The money for an administrator is already in the current city budget. In other city news, the board held its regular meeting on October 24. The 1999-2000 city audit was discussed, and the board voted to have Gordon Maddox conduct the audit. The aldermen also discussed the old TxDOT building and set up a time to look at the facility.

commitment of TXU Electric & Gas. "We began our commitment to wind power in the early 1990s, sending out requests for proposals to develop wind farms. In just a few months' time, we have announced three major agreements that firmly establish wind power as a viable energy option, and we are pleased to add this agreement to our energy portfolio," Phillely said. "We believe that wind power has become more commercially viable in today's market. We see exciting opportunities in North America as natural gas prices continue to remain volatile. We are very pleased to work with TXU Electric & Gas on this project," said Dwayne L. Hart, AEP Energy Services Vice President of Business Development and Strategy. Myers selected new Armstrong County Agent

CLAUDE - Scott Myers has joined the Texas Agricultural Extension Service as the agricultural agent in Armstrong County, according to an announcement made jointly by Judge Hugh Reed and Extension's district director, Bob Robinson of Amarillo.

The new agent holds two degrees from Texas Tech University, where he earned a master of agriculture and a Bachelor of Science in agricultural education. He was a graduate assistant in agricultural education and taught welding and building lab sections.

Myers earned certification as an instructor in hunter safety education and was involved in Tech's Collegiate FFA activities. He completed his student teaching at White Deer High School, where he coached the school's first horse judging team and taught introductory agriculture. He is a graduate of Clarendon College, where he earned an associate degree in agricultural business and was a member of the school's livestock judging team.

Before taking the Armstrong County post, Myers managed a purebred cattle operation where he oversaw herd development, animal nutrition, AI and embryo transfer efforts. He was also involved in cattle marketing and exhibiting livestock in national competitions.

The new agent has been involved with area 4-H and youth programs and has judged numerous livestock competitions. Myers was honored last year as a "Friend of 4-H" for his service in Hall County, where he coached the local 4-H junior and senior livestock judging teams.

A native of Hall County, Myers maintains his family's cow-calf operation. As a youth, his own 4-H experience included the local and state livestock judging contests. He received the Gold Star Award. He was a member of FFA, where he earned the Star Chapter Farmer and Lone Star Farmer Degrees. He was involved in the Boy Scouts and achieved the rank of Eagle Scout.

Scholarships offered to Clarendon students

COMMERCE - Texas A&M University-Commerce has developed a scholarship program for students attending community colleges including Clarendon College.

The scholarship assistance, consisting of two scholarship programs, are for students in Phi Theta Kappa Honor Society and for other students who have maintained at least a 3.0 grade point average. The scholarships are for the 2001 Spring Semester, and interested students need to apply by Friday, December 1.

"We at Texas A&M University-Commerce are excited to be able to offer these scholarships for students at Clarendon College," said Suzanne Woodley, assistant dean of Enrollment Management at A&M-Commerce.

"A&M-Commerce recognizes the importance and impact of transfer students to our university. We have transfer articulation programs that help students in transferring from a community college," Woodley said.

Transfer students, who account for more than 50 percent of new students at A&M-Commerce this fall, are successful with higher than average graduation and retention rates when compared to national college statistics, she commented.

For more information on the scholarships, call A&M-Commerce at 1-888-868-2682.

Crime victim pilot study becomes operational

AUSTIN — Texas Attorney General John Cornyn announced this week the launch of Texas VINE in Childress and Collingsworth counties. The VINE (Victim Information and Notification Everyday) system is an automated victim notification system that provides users with direct access to information about offender jail status and court events 24 hours a day, seven days a week. A live operator will also be available to give technical assistance.

"Too often the attention is focused on the criminal and not the victim," said Attorney General Cornyn.

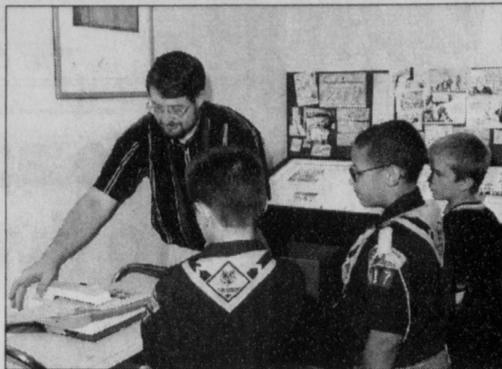

"The Texas VINE pilot study gives us the opportunity to determine whether this technology can be used effectively to give victims the information they want and deserve."

Texas VINE is a pilot study funded by a two-year grant from Governor George W. Bush's Criminal Justice Division. In addition to Childress and Collingsworth, the Texas VINE pilot study will run in El Paso, Harris, and Dallas counties.

State law requires that crime victims be able to obtain information about the status of a case, including whether an offender has been arrested, charged, or released and whether court dates have been set or rescheduled.

The VINE program originated in Kentucky in 1994. The program was developed in response to a tragic case in which a victim, Mary Frances Byron, did not receive notification. Ms. Byron had been previously raped by a man who had been her boyfriend. When the offender was released on bail, Mary's parents were not notified as promised. Ms. Byron was murdered on her 21st birthday outside the mall where she worked.

The Texas VINE pilot study in Childress and Collingsworth is a collaborative effort between officials in those counties and the Attorney General's Crime Victims' Institute. The local project team is led by District Attorney Randall Sims, Project Coordinator, Childress County Sheriff Darin Smith, and Collingsworth County Sheriff Russell Lee.

Horse Club hit the trails at local ranch

The Donley County Horse Club hit the trail on October 10 at the Shelton Cattle Company located in Ash-tola.

The Horse Club met at Stan and Melanie Shelton's house ready to ride. But first things first, the riders enjoyed hot chocolate and donuts. Then traveled to the Kelly Place and hit the trail led by Stan and Audrey Shelton.

The riders enjoyed beautiful landscape, learned history of the famed JA Ranch, and saw a variety of wildlife such as turkey, deer, coyotes, and, yes, even wild donkeys.

Stan and Audrey took the young riders on an adventure of steep hill climbs, up and down deep riverbeds, and over several rough and rocky trails.

After a long ride, everyone enjoyed a hot lunch that Melanie had waiting for all the Horse Club.

The Horse Club appreciates the Shelton family for their time and hospitality.

Everyone enjoyed the wide-open spaces and cannot wait for other fun events in the future.

Vote Blackburn For Sheriff

To the citizens of Donley County:

I want to be your sheriff. The only promise that I will make to you is that I will do the best that I can to fulfill the obligations of that office. Part of that obligation is to make this county very unpopular to law breakers. That most definitely includes illegal drug traffickers. This is a growing problem in our community and must be addressed in an aggressive manner. I have already taken steps to initiate such a program.

I guarantee that all that come in contact with me will continue to be treated in a fair and equal manner. It is my desire that Donley County remains a safe place to live and raise our children. Your support will be greatly appreciated.
