Play It Cool

Children should "play it cool" on hot, summer days.

Too much summer fun can result in dehydration, so parents should make sure their children have plenty to drink before sending them outdoors, says a scientist at the USDA's Children's Nutrition Research Center.

"Once they become dehydrated, a singly drink will not instantly replenish their body's need for water. It is important that parents "tank up" children before they become preoccupied with play and ignore that parched throat," said Dr. Rob Shulman, an associate professor of pediatrics at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston.

Dehydration is a condition where the body's water loss exceeds intake. The body depends on a consistent water content for healthy functioning of cells and tissue.

Parents should watch for symptoms including lethargy, nausea, complaints of dizziness, confusion, severe thirst, a dry mouth or decreased nutrition. In infants, one of the first signs of dehydration is a consistently dry diaper.

Children normally drink at least six 8-ounce glasses a day. The amount of liquid children need during the summer depends on the climate, how long they are outdoors, and the degree of activity.

Although the body needs water to keep from drying out, an array of drinks can complement nature's ultimate refreshment.

Most juices make ideal thirst quenchers and safeguard the body's water supply as well, said Janice Stuff, CNRC nutritionist.

Stuff does not recommend drinks that contain high levels of caffeine such as iced tea, a Southern favorite, and some soft drinks. Caffeine is a diuretic, so instead of replenishing the water, it can promote dehydration.

Children use a lot of energy, and there is nothing wrong with drinks that contain sugar, if given in moderation.

She encourages parents to alternate these beverages with more nutritious offerings including orange juice, apple juice, milk, and, of course, water.

According to Shulman, children drink more than adults per pound of body weight, and they need to drink more frequently. "Parents need to be aware that children can dehydrate much faster than adults," he said.

The Clarendon News will be closed Thursday the 2nd and Friday the 3rd for the holiday.

Low-Interest Loans Available

Low-interest emergency loans are available to eligible farmers and ranchers in 18 Texas counties that were declared federal disaster areas due to freeze or excessive rain between Sept. 1 and Dec. 31, 1991, Texas Agriculture Commissioner Rick Perry today said.

In making the declaration, U.S. Secretary of Agriculture Edward Madigan named Briscoe, Clay, Collingsworth, Floyd, Motley and Young counties as primary disaster areas.

In addition, Armstrong, Baylor, Gray, Hall, Jack, Montague, Palo Pinto, Stephens, Swisher, Throckmorton, Wheeler and Wichita counties were declared contiguous disaster areas.

Cottle, Crosby, Dickens, Donley, Hale, King and Lubbock counties were included under the same disaster under a previous disaster designation.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture was unable to confirm that sufficient losses were sustained in Childress and Hockley counties due to the drought and freeze between Oct. 1 and Dec. 31, 1991 to designate those counties as primary disaster areas.

These declarations allow family-size farm operators in both the primary and contiguous area to apply for emergency assistance from the Farmers Home Administration.

To be designated as a primary disaster area, the Farmers Home Administration determines if a sufficient number of farmers in each county suffered losses of 30 percent or more. The counties designated as contiguous disaster were declared so because they were adjacent to the primary disaster area, but did not have the same extent of losses.

Each loan application will be considered on its own merits, taking into account the extent of losses, security available, repayment ability and other requirements.

For more information, producers should contact a local FmHA county office.

FIRST CAR TO ARRIVE - at the Donley County Courthouse, Monday, June 29, 1992. The pit stop was sponsored by The Clarendon Merchants Association. Tom Miller of Dallas with Interstate Batteries stated "Small towns like Clarendon is what the drivers enjoy the most in the race, as they really roll out the red carpet for them."

Blood Drive to Be Held

Traffic accidents will injure many travelers during this holiday season. Coffee Memorial Blood Center is having a blood drive July 3rd at Chamberlains Motor Co., from 10:00 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., to help fill this extra blood need. Free hot dogs and Cokes will be given to donors. Chamberlains Motor Co., First Bank and Trust, and the Donley County State Bank have donated money so that each donor receives a T-shirt as well.

Because the blood is split into several components to be used, one pint can help save the lives of several people. Red blood cells are used for accident victims, in surgery and for people with anemia. The plasma is made into medicines to treat people in shock, hemophiliacs, and medicines to fight infection. White cells are given to those who cannot produce the white cells, which fight disease. Platelets are used to control bleeding in people who cannot make their own.

Giving blood is a simple process. The needle for every donation is new so there is no risk of AIDS from donating.

Youth Finds Winning Ticket

A local Clarendon boy found a $200.00 Winning Lottery ticket Wednesday evening outside of a local lottery business. Justin, age seven, picked up some already scratched tickets just to have a look and the winning ticket was among them. Justin's dad said he cashed the ticket in but that the money was Justin's since he was the one who found it. Justin wants to use some of the money to have a pizza party with some friends and then put the remaining money in savings.

Turtle Race Scheduled

Donley County will maintain a long tradition Friday, July 3, when children race their turtles in a classic reptile derby. The race, sponsored by Henson's, is open to children from anywhere with any native tortoise; (water turtles are not eligible).

Children will be divided into age groups. Children between ages zero to five will race in a novice category. Children between six and nine years of age will be in an intermediate group. And the "old pros" will be between ages 10 to 14. The race is set for 3:00 p.m., but participants will want to be a few minutes early for registration and pre-race visiting. Spectators are welcome at the annual event. For further information contact the folks at Henson's.

Be Safe on Summer Trips

It's vacation time and time to start thinking about our summer travels and those year long planned vacations. Major Vernon Cawthon, Regional Commander of the Texas Department of Public Safety, says, "With some pre-planning on our parts, our summer travels can be made a lot easier and a whole lot safer."

Major Cawthon suggests that before you take to the road that you first check out yourself or other drivers in your group to ensure that everyone is well rested. Do not push yourself to the limit, ensure that you take proper breaks and spread the driving out over short distances. Ensure that all drivers feel good physically and emotionally and that no driver is taking medication or has had any alcoholic beverages to drink.

Make a check of the vehicle to include tires, brakes, belts, hoses, wipers, lighting and fluid levels and include spare parts for any minor repair that might unexpectedly come up. Remember to use your headlights to allow other drivers to see you in adverse conditions. At night, do not over-drive your headlights. Over 50% of all traffic deaths happen at night. Also, remember that at night, our eyes take 4 to 7 seconds to re-adjust to night conditions after facing bright lights.

Keep posted on weather conditions. Adverse weather can affect your ability to see and be seen. In bad weather, slow down and put on the low beam headlights. If conditions warrant, it is advisable to stop and take a break. Be alert to traffic conditions and if you are traveling at night and especially on the weekends, be aware that a lot of drivers sharing the road with you are either fatigued or intoxicated. Alcohol impaired drivers cause at least 50% of all fatal accidents. One of your best defenses against the drunk driver is your safety belt, but it is only effective if you and all your occupants wear them.

Let's all work together to make this summer a safe one on our Texas highways. Driver friendly, it's the Texas way.

MISS DONLEY COUNTY - Mandy Floyd, daughter of Johnny and Terry Floyd, of Clarendon, was one of the many people to greet the drivers in "The Great American Race."

Senior Citizens News

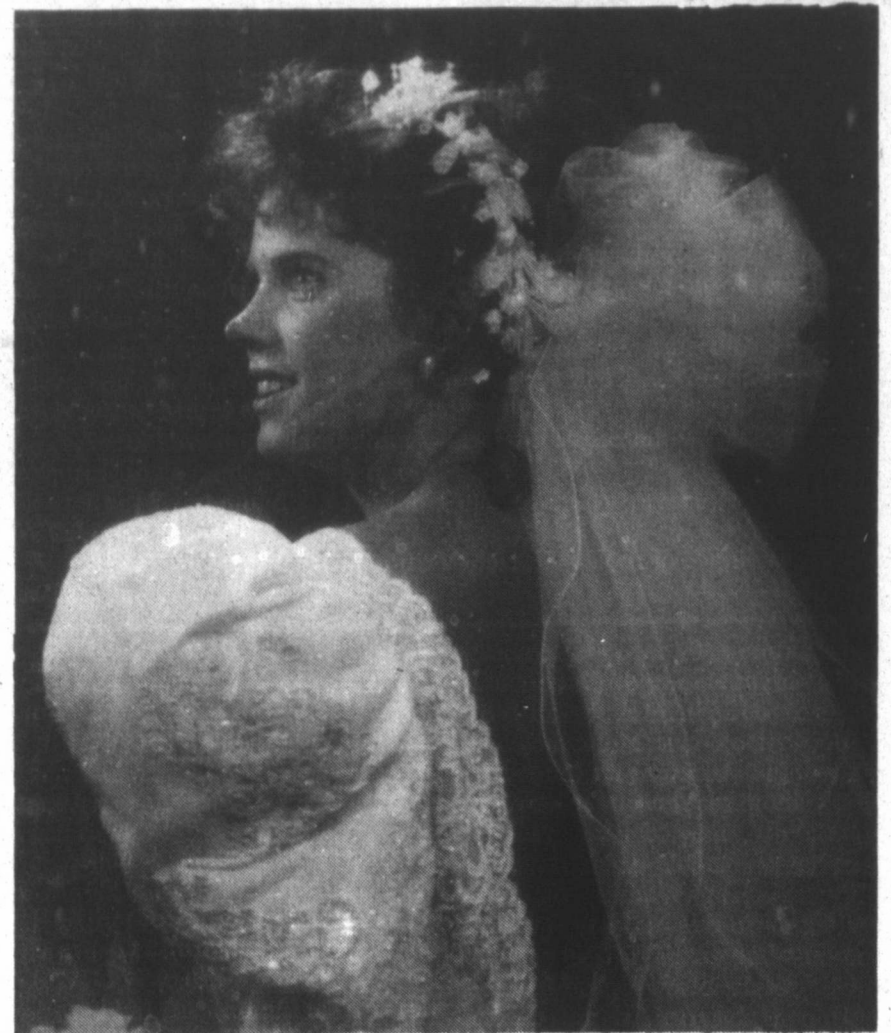

You must come by the Center and see the quilt now on display which has been donated to the Center to be used as a fundraiser this summer. Carol Hill made the top in the Pioneer Patch design, Verdie Tipton and Ann Bunyan donated the backing and padding then assembled the quilt and the Quilting Club quilted it. It will be raffled off September 31st at the monthly Birthday/Anniversary Supper. The tickets are $1.00 donation or book of 6 tickets for $5.00. A big Thanks to these ladies for such a lovely item which reflects a great deal of handwork and time.

On Thursday, June 25th, a group of sixteen Senior Citizens made a trip to Turkey, Texas, to visit the quaint "Hotel Turkey". They left in the afternoon and Jr. Brumfield drove the Ford Van for us. They took the scenic tour around the Lake at Quitaque, visited the Bob Wills Museum, enjoyed the "baby alpine goats" and Pot-Bellied Pigs that are pets of the hotel owners, then enjoyed a most delicious "home-cooked meal" back at the Hotel at 6:30 p.m. which included live entertainment and a tour of the hotel conducted by the Hostess who gave the history of it all. We hope to take another group to Turkey sometime this summer. If anyone would like to go, just call Nova at the Center so we can start another list for later.

To the Editor and to the Taxpayers of Donley County:

Last week the Clarendon Independent School District published a notice in the newspaper that they were accepting bids for a computer system for the kindergarten and/or primary grades. The school provided a list of specifications for the computers and criteria for the vendors to meet.

I have been told that at the same meeting, several of our teachers asked for nominal raises and were turned down. It is my understanding that the administration claimed they lacked the funds for these raises. In light of the fact that we do not have the money to promote good teachers, I wonder where the school will come up with what is reportedly about $125,000 or more for a computer system?

But even beyond the questions of raises and availability of money, I have serious reservations about the wisdom of the proposed computer purchase.

Am I the only taxpayer in Clarendon who feels this way?

I believe the board's goals of wanting to introduce the children of our community to the world of computers is very progressive and they are to be commended for this. The students need computer skills to prepare them for higher education and for the job market. What I question is the wisdom of their specifications and the reality of some of the requirements for the bidding companies.

The bid specifications call for "Micro Channel Architecture" bus. This is a very specific hardware specification. The MCA was supposed to take the industry by storm. In reality, it has met with little enthusiasm and very few manufacturers have adopted it. It failed to meet expectations of increased speed, but met everyone's expectation of increased price.

PC Magazine (June 26, 1990, pp. 113-114) said this of Micro Channel Architecture:

Well, we're here to tell you that if you're a single user, upgrading today from your friendly ISA (Industry Standard Architecture) machine to a 32-bit bus architecture it is simply a waste of valuable resources. No, we're not kidding.

And we're not just saying that the extra performance isn't worth the money. Through rigorous testing at two PC Magazine locations—PC Labs in New York and PC LAN Labs in Florida—we found that in single-user DOS environment, and in network setups with up to a dozen workstations, no significant performance premium exists. When you consider the relatively small number of add-in boards for EISA and MCA, these architectures seem even less appealing. For now, and for some time to come, ISA is still your best bet.

As for medium-to-large local area networks, EISA and MCA do have the capability to add speed and functionality. But MCA's limited industry support and EISA's market immaturity are yet more deterrents to investing in them.

Most of the same vendors that offer MCA and EISA also offer Industry-Standard Architecture, which is still the wise choice.

Another bid specification the bidding company was supposed to meet:

"An important specification which must not be overlooked in the bid is the requirement that any bid must include on site maintenance for 24 hours per day, seven days per week, for three years.

Wow! Wouldn't that be nice! For the price of these computers, the company will move a technical support person and his bedroll into the school for the next three years! I have a couple of questions: Who is going to feed this person? And seriously, should taxpayers trust a company that will make a wild, unrealistic claim like that.

It does not matter whether the money for this system is coming from federal, state or local taxpayers. Ultimately, the money will come out of our pockets. It is the responsibility of the board to use that money as wisely as possible.

KCR Corporation (or many other vendors) could supply equipment as specified. However, KCR has already advised the school system, through the technology committee, that the boards' goals for the students can be met at a vastly lower expense. KCR cannot in good conscience—and will not—bill the taxpayer for the system specified. Therefore if the board persists with the present specifications, KCR will not submit a bid.

We strongly urge every-tax paying citizen in Clarendon to be at the next school board meeting to show your support for or opposition to this waste to your elected representatives on the school board.

Sincerely,
Terry Bernabe

Hotline Installed

In a statement that called upon the people of Texas to "make a difference" by speaking out on ways to improve the operation of Texas public schools, State Auditor Larry Alwin announced today that his Office has installed a toll-free hotline for citizen input: 1-800-TX-AUDIT.

The State Auditor's Office, an agency in the legislative branch serving as the independent auditor for the Texas state government, is currently conducting an audit of Texas' public schools and funds. The audit, known as MAPS (Management Audit of Public Schools), will provide the Legislature with an in-depth look at how our school districts spend their money and how our spending habits compare with those in other states. Between now and November, auditors will analyze data from 1,043 school districts and will physically visit at least 50 school districts to conduct management audits.

Alwin state that citizen tips from the hotline could point auditors in the right direction. He said, "Teachers, parents, and students can tell us first-hand about school programs that are working. They can also tell us where our tax dollars are not being spent wisely."

Alwin said the MAPS hotline is in response to citizen reaction over the past month. "People from all over the State have been calling us to report everything from outrageous administrators' salaries to the fraudulent misuse of school bus fuel." He emphasized that his Office appreciates the phone tips and that "each and every suggestion is being considered."

Life From Yesterday

Submitted by Roeda Rattan

I like to read old letters. Aunt Nan, who lived in Rochester, Indiana, wrote telling about grocery prices in the 1880's. A slab of bacon sold for 6 cents a pound and 100 pounds of flour sold for 65 cents. Today a slab of bacon sells anywhere from $1.20 to 1.30 a pound and a 5 pound bag of flour sells for about .80 to 90 cents. Also, in the fall of 1920 cotton was selling for 6 cents a pound. Meral and Roeda Rattan went to work as ranch hands on the Van Eaton Ranch and were paid $65.00 a month.

group went on down to the bottom of the Canyon. There everyone saw all the beautiful, handy work of God in His creation of this area. It is a beautiful place to get near to God and feel the Awe of His beauty and might. It would be worth your time and money to go there, if you have not seen this place.

The food at the Hotel is delicious and ample.

After everyone had eaten, the proprietor, Jan Johnson, told us an interesting story about how she became interested in his Turkey Hotel and this part of the panhandle. Everyone enjoyed it very much.

The tour of the hotel showed us a beautiful replica of the early Texas Panhandle Hospitality.

Those taking this tour were: Luther and Agnes Brumfield, Emma Shannon, Ruby Thompson, Louise Dickenson, Al and Leona Musgrove, Mary Lee Longon, Madilyn Jones, Inez Stone, Olace Hicks, Ann Estes, Ruby Jewel Hardin, Irene Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Eanes.

Everyone wants to especially thank (Junior) Luther Brumfield our efficient, courteous, careful and helpful bus driver.

Dear Editor

Donley County has the opportunity to become a Historic Community. Part 2 of a series.

Local Preservation is a National Park Service publication series that provides technical information concerning the national historic preservation program established by and administered under the authority of the National Historic Preservation Act.

Two terms need to be defined for reference by readers of the Local Preservation Series, because they are used in Series in ways that, while consistent with the definitions in the National Historic Preservation Act, could be misleading.

The Act defines historic property to mean "any prehistoric or historic district, site, building, structure, or object included in, or eligible for inclusion in the National Register." Thus when we refer to "historic properties" we mean to include archeological sites and culturally important places of significance in prehistory—that is, sites and places used during the thousands of years that American Indians occupied the continent before the coming of Europeans—as well as properties used during the "historic" period since the arrival of Europeans.

The Act defines historic preservation to mean "identification, evaluation, recordation, documentation, curation, acquisition, protection, management, rehabilitation, restoration, stabilization, maintenance and reconstruction, or any combination of the foregoing activities." Thus when we refer to "historic preservation activities" we have a very wide range of activities in mind. Some kinds of activities may not be possible under some circumstances, however; for example, Congress has not recently permitted use in these papers refers to whatever range of the above activities is permitted by the laws and regulations governing the program under discussion.

Bus Tour Taken

Thursday, June 25, thirteen Senior Citizens boarded the bus and three in a car, at 2:30 p.m., heading for Turkey, Texas. Upon arriving at the Turkey Hotel the reservations for dinner were affirmed. Then the group went to the Bob Wills Museum. Music from his tapes was played while the tour was taking place.

After the Museum tour everyone stopped for drinks at Allsup's. The Citizens then returned to the bus and went to Quitaque, then south to the Caprock Canyon State Park. Many didn't know where the bus was headed. It seemed to me that the tour was getting a long way from the dining place and that everyone might be late getting back. I didn't say anything, I didn't want to show my ignorance.

On the way down to the bottom of the Canyon the bus stopped at a rest stop and picnic area near a lake.

After about half an hour the

ANN HARPER and her brother James Levaras

Bicycle Restored

James Donald Levaras of Ft. Worth, brother of Ann Harper of Clarendon, brought her a surprise Thursday.

He rebuilt this 1950's Western Flyer X-53 from the ground up. Ann had found the bike at a junk store in Sayre, Oklahoma a year or so ago, and saw the possibilities.

Don, who rebuilds old Cushman scooters as a hobby, took on the new task.

After putting in over 100 hours and a lot of hard work and searching for different missing parts and pieces, here she is finished.

Don has a magazine which shows a new 1958 Western Flyer X-53 at a cost of $76.95. This one is thought to be a 56 or 57 model.

Don has also rebuilt a 1955 Crown Victoria Ford which stays at his moms in a big barn in his home town of Athens, Texas.

Ann says if you see her on her new toy wave and she'll honk and wave back.

Our Fourth, 1898

Industrial West, July 8, 1898

Our national holiday was spent in loyal holiday style, and everybody seemed to enjoy themselves. There were people here from Amarillo, Claude, Swisher, Gray and Hall Counties, the latter furnished nearly a hundred.

The parade, headed by the Clarendon Brass Band, Masonic, Odd Fellows, Woodmen and Circle societies, decorated buggies and uniformed boys on donkeys all made an imposing appearance.

At the courthouse after singing "Star Spangled Banner" Rev. Sherman lead in prayer. Then Attorney Ware of Silvertown read the Declaration of Independence and commented very patriotically upon it. After more music Judge Veale, of Amarillo, was introduced and made a fine speech. The part that struck us most favorable was his position in opposition to a war of conquest as now being advocated by the national administration and many leaders in both parties.

Dinner was next served of which there was an abundance that all enjoyed with the exception of the barbecued beef, much of it being spoiled from being killed so long before hand and the warm, rainy weather.

The chief attraction after dinner was the ball game between Clarendon and Memphis, umpired by Editor Johnson of Memphis, Clarendon won, scoring 11 to their 9.

A wrestling match between Roy Galbreth of Memphis and Nath Bozeman of Clarendon was won by Bozeman.

About the only thing to mar the pleasure of the day was an accident to Nora Lane, a 12 year old niece of H.W. Taylor, who was struck in the face by a ball. While severely hurt, she is recovering.

Our Celebration

(July 4, 1900)

The Fourth dawned cloudy and cool and but for a heavy shower in the early afternoon, would have been all that could have been desired so far as the weather was concerned. Even as it was everybody seemed to enjoy themselves, and the program was carried out, except the trap-shooting in the evening and the slow mule race.

People began to arrive the day before, the train from the south bringing in a goodly number from Memphis and a few from Childress. Next morning the train from the north brought in several coach loads from the road, the majority being from Amarillo and Claude, among whom were the members of the Amarillo Band with their instruments, and who furnished the music for the day.

Hon. W. B. Ware delivered the address of welcome.

The dinner was ample and Townsend had excellently performed his work in barbecuing the meat.

The newspaper men present were J.R. Gaut, of the Western Advocate, Guy McDonald of the Amarillo Daily times, and H.B. Martin of Hall County Herald.

The horse races were won by the following:

First race - 1st prize, $25. Lew McClelland; 2nd, $15, Joe Beaty; 3rd, $2.50, Charley Jowell.

Second Race - 1st prize, $15. C. Jowell; 2nd $10., Luther Johnson.

Burro Race - 1st prize, $5, M. Adams; 2nd $2.50, Paul Jones; 3rd, $1, Paul Atterbery.

Nath Bozeman; 2nd $5, Lovelless; 3rd, $2.50, Will Jones.

In the bicycle race Ivy Lipsy won first prize, $10; and a fell named Brash from Amarillo, 2nd, $5.

The ball game was won by Amarillo by a score of 17 to 13.

Negotiations are being made for having some good baseball games on that day.

J. S. Hayter, secretary of this committee, tells us that all arrangements are not complete, but that there will be plenty of fun, drinks, and all accompanishments for everybody. In fact the committees are hard at work perfecting all arrangements for holding a great Fourth in Clarendon.

Clarendon has always been the best place to spend the Fourth in and people over the Panhandle regretted very much not being able to come to Clarendon to spend the Fourth last year.

Pledge of Allegiance To The Flag

I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America and to the Republic for which it stands, one Nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.

The original author of the pledge was Francis Bellamy, who was born at Mount Morris, New York, May 18, 1855, and died August 28, 1931. He was ordained in 1879 at the Baptist Church in Little Falls, New York. The pledge he wrote was first used at the dedication of the World's Fair Grounds in Chicago on October 21, 1892, the four hundredth anniversary of the discovery of America, and has been recited from that day to this, with some changes, by school children throughout our land. Reverend Bellamy's original wording was altered slightly by the First and Second National Flag Conferences in 1923 and 1924 and his work was officially designated as the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag by Public Law 287, Seventy-ninth Congress, approved December 28, 1945. On June 14, 1954, Flag Day, President Dwight D. Eisenhower signed into law House Joint Resolution 243, introduced by Representative Louis C. Rabaut of Michigan, which added to the Pledge of Allegiance the compelling and meaningful words "under God".

Articles From the Past

The following articles are reprinted from The Donley County Leader, July 2, 1974. The Clarendon News would like to thank Mr. and Mrs. George W. Estlack for sharing them with everyone.

Clarendon Museum Has Interesting Collection

By the late J.C. Estlack

The Donley County Museum of Clarendon, Texas was started in March of 1936 being sponsored by the ladies of Les Beaux Arts Club. The Museum is maintained by voluntary contributions. The principal object was to preserve to posterity the priceless articles of pioneer days.

Soon after the Museum sponsors found that articles of rare value and interest were to be found in many homes. Within a few months there was on exhibit several thousand articles ranging from prehistoric times to those of the pioneers of some forty years ago.

The oldest articles are the fossil remains of animals living in this section millions of years ago.

The exhibit, in the main, consists of articles from the homes of our first settlers. A majolica pitcher dates back more than four hundred years. It, along with other articles of the family were buried during Civil War times in Virginia.

One room is fitted up to represent a room of the average home of a half century ago. The organ, marble top bureau, a wash stand of similar type, old style bedstead and a trundle bed. The coverings are largely hand-made and represent rare skill of the mothers of pioneer days. A comb on the bureau is one given Lafayette by George Washington in 1775.

In glassed cases are articles such as silverware, jewelry, fans, shoes, dresses, and many other reminders of the days of fifty to one hundred years ago. The large case showing the dresses and other 'finery' are of special attraction to the ladies. Every dress is a work of the finest material.

Next we pass to the post, kettles, and pans. Lots of them showing all types of coffee grinders turned by hand. One marvels of the strength and endurance of the mothers of former years when one chalks up her achievements with her rude 'weapons' with which she fought privation and hardships of pioneer days.

The most interesting exhibit of the fathers is the fourteen nicely initialed shaving mugs. Many, or most all of them bear the name or initials of the owner. Some date back more than a half century.

Indian women had their trials. This is attested to by the Metates, manos, and other utensils of the old pioneer. War and hunting implements are included in this exhibit.

Saddles regular and side saddles, ox yokes, plows of early make, blacksmith tools, bullet molds, and guns in variety tell something of the hardihood of the forefathers.

In fact when you see the exhibit in the Donley County Museum, you may make the journey round the rooms beginning with prehistorics, and trace man through all the ages of developments down to within thirty years ago. The cattle industry brought saddles, bridles, and branding irons. You may see most any type of these.

Home life is pictured in a manner that will recall to elders their childhood days. Did you ever pump up and down on a churn? Did you ever see mother 'paddle' out her washing? These and dozens of other reminders will be seen in the exhibit of thousands of interesting objects.

No admission charge is made. The museum is open to the public every Monday afternoon. School groups may visit the Museum most any day by appointment.

This Museum is a monument to the enthusiastic desire of a small group to please and inform the thousands who visit the exhibit. The exhibit is on the ground floor of the large college building on the hill in the west part of the city. You are welcome to see and enjoy it to your heart's content.

The Donley County Leaders Editor's Note: How wonderful it would be if we could again have a Museum in Clarendon. Yes, this was a fine exhibit for our community and was located in the College building of older days. A tornado, fire, and finally vandalism brought about the return of items to their owners - that is what were left. The late Will Chamberlain made every effort to keep a Museum and placed a collection in the upper floor of the Old City Hall. However prior to his death again articles were returned to owners or heirs. There are still many priceless articles in the area and a fine Museum is possible - if everyone worked at it.

Note: Today Clarendon has one of the finest museums in the area. "Saint's Roost Museum" will be having their annual membership drive, Sunday, July 5, 1992 from 2 to 5 p.m. Cake and ice cream will be served, wagon rides will be available and a game of Water Polo will be played for your entertainment. Admission and entertainment is free for all. Go out and enjoy a great day of fun and fellowship.

Technique Main Factor, Not Strength

Young baseball players aspiring to be the next Nolan Ryan should worry less about arm strength and more about pitching technique, say an orthopedic surgeon and sports medicine specialist at The Methodist Hospital.

"Teenagers think if they get stronger with weight training, they can throw harder," says Dr. William J. Bryan, who is also a team physician for the Houston Astros. "That's not true at all. Arm strength has nothing to do with being able to pitch well. If that were true, Arnold Schwarzenegger would be Nolan Ryan."

"Pitching is kind of like golf," Bryan continues. "You don't hit the ball farther because you're stronger, you hit it farther because your mechanics are better."

Ironically, Bryan says, pitchers usually have the weakest arms and the strongest legs on major-league teams.

He says parent of young player should encourage their kids to learn the fundamental and forget about throwing fast. Trying to throw beyond one's ability is a frequent cause of injury and soreness in pitchers, especially adolescents.

"It's rare for a seven- or eight-year-old to hurt himself by throwing too hard because kids that age can't throw very fast any way, and Little League regulations prohibit throwing too frequently," says Bryan. "But when a kid turns 13 or 14 and is able to throw faster, there's a good chance of injury."

Bryan encourages parents to use instructional videotapes to teach kids proper pitching techniques. Some of those techniques include: Having a definite pause at the "gathering point" of the pitch, when the leg is up, to gain momentum for the delivery; Fully extending the arm behind the back before delivering the pitch; Keeping the body "closed" and using the entire body, not the arm, to throw the pitch; Keeping the chin and the shoulder opposite the pitching are "tucked in"; and Landing smoothly, not bouncing, after delivering the pitch.

For players who ignore the warnings and injure themselves trying to throw too hard, Bryan says rest is the best therapy.

Boot Hill Cemetery at Boys Ranch

For many years, the old Boot Hill Cemetery at Boys Ranch has been a famous landmark, known all over the country. Hundreds of people have visited it to see the spot where men of Old Tascosa who died with their boots on were buried.

For a time about all that remained in the cemetery were known all over the country. Hundreds of people have visited it to see the spot where men of Old Tascosa who died with their boots on were buried.

For a time about all that remained in the cemetery were three partly destroyed headstones, a few sunken spots and a marker erected by the State. In 1949 a restoration project was instigated. About 26 cowboys who were slow on the draw are buried at Boot Hill.

The first to be buried at Boot Hill was Johnny Russell. The second victim was Fred Leigh and in April 1884 there was Valley King, Chilton and Sheets... all killed in one of the greatest smalltown gun fights of the west. The story of that fight and the subsequent funeral is declared one of the most moving stories of western history. Boy's Ranch Roundup.

Stage All Set For Fourth Of July Celebration Here Tomorrow - 10,000 Expected

Clarendon wears an expectant air of preparedness on the eve of the big Fourth of July Celebration and those who have ring-side seats for the big fight at Dayton tomorrow have nothing on Clarendon and Donley County people when it comes to happy anticipations. Practically every arrangement for the Celebration tomorrow has been completed. It is reported that dinner in great abundance has been prepared, that thousands are working a little harder today so they may get away for the big event on the Fourth of July, that the band is in fine fettle, that the speakers have polished off their addresses until every preparation is guaranteed to bring applause from the thousands who will be our guests for the big day, that the races in the afternoon are further from a foregone conclusion than any turf event has ever known, that the dusky ball teams of Clarendon and Amarillo are whetting their razors for gore (figuratively speaking), and that any person who comes to Clarendon's Fourth of July Celebration and goes away hungry or who isn't hoarse from wild applause when the day is over is not fitted for citizenship in this grand and glorious republic and ought to be deported on the same ship with the Bolsheviks. I.W.W.'s pro-Germans, etc. If you don't remember all the above or you don't believe it—Just come and see.

The first thing on the program will be a parade by the boys and girls agricultural and canning clubs for this county...

The parade will break up at the Courthouse at which place the band will give the morning concert preceding the speaking.

Hon. Tom Connally will deliver the address of welcome to the Soldiers and Sailors of Donley County after which Capt. E. A. Simpson will make the address.

Inasmuch as there has been no preparation for community singing there will be none except the songs of the boys and girls agricultural clubs of the county.

Those bringing dinner baskets please deliver them to the committee of ladies at the courthouse as soon as possible.

The program in the afternoon will be in line with the events already announced except for the ballgame between the Clarendon and Amarillo negro teams bids fair to be the most exciting and interesting single event of the day. The races and ballgame will be held at the fair grounds. Clarendon, July 3, 1919.

NOTICE!

To Donley County Taxpayers

Be aware of decisions facing the Clarendon School Board!

Do Kindergarteners need $125,000 in computers when the School claims it cannot give teachers career ladder promotions?

Are Micro Channel Architecture and Local Area Network good choices, or a waste of taxpayers' money?

Are the School Trustees responsive to the voters or someone's "rubber stamps" that do what they are told?

Attend the School Board meeting July 9th. Ask questions!

To whom it may concern:

KCR Corporation bears no malice toward any member of the Board or anyone else. However, we do feel strongly about the issues raised. We hope that everyone in our community is working toward the common goals of excellence in education and responsible administration.

Members absent: Alderman Bobbie Kidd.

Others present: City Superintendent Jim Roberts, City Secretary Sue Howard, Ernie Johnston, Neita Draper, and Dr. R. L. Gilkey.

Motion was made by Alderman David Pitts, seconded by Alderman Mac Stavenhagen, to charge $100.00 for dumping a 16 foot flat bed trailer of building trash when contractors want to use our roll off container from BFI. Motion carried.

Discussion followed concerning dumpsters for several residents.

Discussion concerning lots in the City that are not being kept cleaned by the owners. City Secretary was instructed to write letters to several that we have had complaints filed against. The Board of Aldermen gave 30 days for the land owners to take action. If the City has to clean the lots, the land owners will be fined $250.00. A lien will be placed on the property of the owners failing to pay the fines.
