2 Christi Ross returns with a few thoughts about this year's election.
4 Popcorn is a great tasting snack and is actually - gasp! - good for you.
7 Another big win last week secures a playoff spot for the Broncos.
8 And watch out for what slithers around the corner.

All this and much more as The Enterprise reports in this week's pre-election edition!

PCS to now taking Angel Tree names

Panhandle Community Services will begin accepting applications for their annual Angel Tree Project for Donley County residents only on November 10. Applications for infants and children will be accepted through November 28.

At the time of application, please include the child's age, clothes and shoe size.

From December 1 through December 15, the interested citizens of Donley County may come in and choose their angel or they may give a donation to help with the purchase of gifts. The gifts need to be wrapped and back to Panhandle Community Services, located at 416 S. Kearney, on or before December 15.

For more information, please call (806) 874-2573.

Old Bronco annuals are for sale at CHS

The CHS annual staff needs to remove old yearbooks in order to make way for new ones.

For a limited time, they have 2004 to 2007 yearbooks to sell. The price is $10 per book. If you are interested, contact Mrs. Taylor at Clarendon High School at either 806-874-2181 or taylor.suzanne@clarendon.k12.tx.us.

CC Bulldogs to hold Spaghetti Supper

The Clarendon College men's basketball team will host a Spaghetti Supper on Monday, November 10, at the Bulldog Gym from 5 to 7 p.m.

The cost of the meal is $5 per plate, and proceeds benefit the men's basketball program.

Following the supper, the Bulldogs will play Trinidad at 7 p.m.

Events planning committee to meet

The Chamber of Commerce will hold an Events Planning Committee meeting on Thursday, October 30, at 5:30 p.m. at the Burton Memorial Library to discuss Late Night Shopping. The public is encouraged to attend and help plan this year's event.

Shot clinic to be held here Nov. 20

The Texas Department of State Health Services will hold an Immunization Clinic one Thursday, November 20, at the TDSHS office at Five Medical Drive in Clarendon.

The immunization clinic will be open from 10 to 11:30 a.m. and from 1 to 2:30 p.m.

All clinic times are subject to change or cancellation due to weather conditions or scheduling conflicts.

Voters head to polls next Tuesday More than 500 early ballots already cast locally

Voters in Donley County and across the nation will go to the polls next Tuesday, November 4, to cast ballots in this year's General Election.

In addition to voting for presidential electors, local citizens in two precincts will decide contested races for the office of county commissioner.

In Precinct 1, incumbent Democrat Commissioner Ernest Johnston is being challenged by Clarendon Mayor Mark White, a Republican; and Precinct 3 incumbent Republican Commissioner Andy Wheatly is being opposed by Democrat Henry Stephens.

Early voting, which began last

Monday, is already drawing a big turnout in Donley County, according to County Clerk Fay Vargas.

As of Tuesday morning, 511 people had already cast their ballots with 50 of those being mail-in ballots.

Vargas said the last time early voting saw this kind of turnout was in 2000 when the county had a hotly contested election for sheriff.

This year's close presidential election is drawing many people to the polls, but Vargas said some folks have given other reasons for voting early.

"We've had several tell us that they are afraid they might be out of town or even be dead on Election Day," she said.

In fact, one voter who cast her ballot early has already died, Vargas said.

Most local races are unopposed this year. Two incumbent county officers - Sheriff Butch Blackburn (D) and Precinct 1&2 Justice of the Peace Connie Havens (D) - have no opponents.

Linda Crump (R) is unchallenged in her bid to become the next County Tax Assessor/Collector. Incumbent Wilma Lindley is retiring at the end of her current term.

County Attorney Landon Lambert has filed as a write-in candidate to keep his current post and is the only declared candidate for that office.

Another race of local interest is that of US Rep. Mac Thornberry (R) of Clarendon challenged by Roger Waun (D) for the 13th Congressional District seat. State Rep. Warren Chisum (R), District Judge Stuart Messer (R), and District Attorney Luke Inman (D) are also running unopposed for their offices.

Texas Secretary of State Hope Andrade reminds all voters to bring their voter registration certificate with them to their proper polling place to expedite the voter check-in process; however, if their registration certificate is unavailable, the voter will still be allowed to vote with a valid I.D.

Early voting continues in the Donley County Clerk's office inside the Courthouse Annex through Friday, October 31, from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Election Day will be Tuesday, November 4, at the following locations: Box 101 - Clarendon College Bairfield Activity Center; Box 102 - Howardwick City Hall; Box 201 - Donley County Courthouse; Box 301 - Assembly of God Fellowship Hall; Box 303 - Hedley Lions Club; and Box 401 - Clarendon Church of Christ Family Life Center.

Check your voter's registration card to see which location you must vote at. The polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. on Election Day.

Nutty details

Clarendon first grade teacher Buffie Smith and her students listen as Mike Newhouse explains the process of growing and harvesting peanuts. The first grade teachers are planning a series of visits to Newhouse Farms to see the entire process of growing and harvesting one of Donley County's major crops.

Tips for older workers returning to workforce

Experience Works, a nonprofit organization that trains older workers and helps them find employment, is noticing an increase in the number of older adults heading back to work. Since January 2008, the number of 65+ workers has increased nationwide by 434,000, according to the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics.

"More and more we are seeing older adults who can't make ends meet so they are seeking out employment to help pay for the increasing costs of everyday living," said Phyllis Gipson, Experience Works Business and Community Liaison for Texas. "For the seniors in our training programs, who are often on fixed incomes, it can come down to a choice between food and medicine. They need to work."

She offers the following five résumé writing tips for older adults seeking to re-enter the workforce:

Give it some punch: Start your résumé with a tag line that emphasizes your desired outcome in your new position.

Stick to the core: List your accomplishments and experience from your work history in terms of core competencies related to the position you seek, not based upon chronological order. The biggest error made by many older workers is to list all of their duties and responsibilities over the years, even those that have no relevance to the position sought.

Keep it brief: Your résumé should be no longer than two pages. Arrange your accomplishments in bulleted action items, not paragraphs.

References do not belong in a résumé; employers will ask for those in their application or at the time of the interview.

Leave it out: As an older worker, you should de-emphasize dates and years in your résumé.

Accentuate the positives: Emphasize the positive attributes of your age and experience including your accumulated experience, strong work ethic, ability to make a contribution immediately, and your familiarity with relevant computer software and other technology.

If you are an older worker seeking employment or if you are an employer interested in recruiting older workers, please contact Stephanie Gauthier of Experience Works toll-free at (877) 781-9953 or visit www.experienceworks.org.

Wreck claims life of Clarendon man

A two-vehicle collision claimed the life of a Clarendon man Saturday morning in Lelia Lake.

Herman Mooring, age 87, was pronounced dead at the scene by Justice of the Peace Connie Havens after his brown 1994 GMC half-ton pickup was struck by a semi-truck, according to Department of Public Safety Trooper Chris Ward.

Mooring was southbound on Denver Street shortly after 11 a.m. and came to complete stop at the intersection with US 287, witnesses told authorities.

"They said he sat there for a minute and then pulled out like he was going to cross the highway," Ward said.

A maroon Peterbilt truck was eastbound on US 287 and struck Mooring's pickup squarely in the passenger side door. The pickup came to rest facing north and blocking the westbound lanes of US 287. Mooring was not wearing a safety belt and was ejected from the vehicle, Ward said.

"He was very likely killed on impact," Ward said.

The Peterbilt came to rest blocking the eastbound lanes, and traffic was blocked on the highway from about an hour, according to a dispatcher's report from the Donley County Sheriff's Office.

The driver of the Peterbilt, 35-year-old Ken Smith of Comanche, Okla., was not injured.

Ward said the DPS was preparing to do a speed analysis as of Monday morning, but his judgment was that Smith was "probably doing pretty close to the 55 mph speed limit."

Assisting with the accident in addition to the DPS and the sheriff's office were the Texas Department of Transportation, the Clarendon Volunteer Fire Department, and the Associated Ambulance Authority.

Services were held Monday for Mooring, who lived in Donley County much of his life and formerly owned Mooring Bait & Tackle at Greenbelt Lake.

Drivers asked to look out for trick-or-treaters

Texas drivers are asked to drive safely around areas where children are likely to gather this Halloween. And trick-or-treaters are asked to make sure they behave safely as well.

"We're expecting more children and adults to be out on Halloween this year because it falls on a Friday. Slow down and watch for pedestrians. If you're planning to attend a Halloween party, please designate a sober driver," said Col. Stan Clark, interim director of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

"Pedestrians should make sure to look both ways before crossing a street, and they should choose costumes that will be easy for drivers to see," Clark said.

According to a press release from the Texas Department of Transportation, the CDC found that the number of deaths among young pedestrians (ages 5-14) is four times higher on Halloween evening than any other evening of the year. Data from the USDOT shows that:

Fatal collisions between motor vehicles and young pedestrians (under 15 years of age) happen most frequently between 4 p.m. and 8 p.m. - prime trick-or-treating time.

Eighty-four percent of deaths among young pedestrians occurred at non-intersection locations (indicating children are most likely to dart and dash from mid-block into the street).

Halloween is also one of the year's most dangerous holidays on the road due to alcohol-related crashes caused by those who drink and drive after parties and festivities. Two-thirds of all highway fatalities at Halloween are alcohol-related. Don't even think about getting behind the wheel if you're impaired.

Don't use a cell phone while driving through neighborhoods. A single distraction could lead to a tragedy.

Stay below the speed limit.

Pay attention to what's happening on sidewalks and roadways. Watch for children darting across streets, especially between parked cars.

Be extra alert when pulling in and out of driveways.

Do not assume children can see you or are paying attention. You need to take that responsibility.

Do not pass other vehicles that have stopped in the roadway. They could be dropping off children.

WARNING: The following column is an editorial (i.e. an opinion, a point of view) and may contain ideas with which some readers may freely disagree. It could be harmful to liberals, socialists, and other small mammals. Read at your own risk.

Country will lurch to left under Obama

In less than seven days America will make one of the most important decisions in its history. Will it be John McCain or Barack Obama for the next president? If you believe the pollsters, the answer to that question is a foregone conclusion – Obama, big time.

What would that mean for the United States? Well, on the one hand you have the history-making element of a President Obama. It will fulfill the Dream of Martin Luther King, Jr., as well as prove once and for all that anyone – no matter his color, creed, or background – can be anything in this country.

An Obama presidency will also very likely mean change for the United States – change on the order of Franklin D. Roosevelt and Lyndon B. Johnson. Those two presidents, while respected by most Americans and historians and revered by the liberals in the Democratic Party, decidedly moved this Republic to the left of its foundations and drew it more closely to the ideals of a socialist state. A President Obama would pull it further in that direction.

The Democratic Party is to be respected in one sense. It has finally nominated a candidate who stands for the leftist ideology that is embedded in the party. Hillary Clinton – in addition to being a shrill witch – would have governed much like her husband – give lip service to “centrist” ideas, act “tough” on foreign policy, throw conservatives a bone occasionally, but then put someone like Ruth Bader Ginsberg on the Supreme Court.

President Obama will not do that. Say what you want about him, but he will stay true to his political stripes. He will pursue policies that punish achievement, favor programs designed to “spread the wealth,” tell the American people they can do nothing without the government, and then make sure the government is there to tell them what to do and take care of them from the cradle to the grave.

And if the country survives President Obama, which it will, he will likely be enshrined in the Parthenon of our “great” presidents – FDR, LBJ, and BHO. Except he doesn’t like to use his middle name much, making it just BO, which doesn’t sound that good. But I digress...

Roosevelt and Johnson enacted programs that made entire generations and entire classes of people dependent on the government. In return, the Democratic Party gained a permanent voting block among those dependents. Obama will follow suit. He’ll give a “tax break” to 95 percent of Americans, even though 40 percent of Americans don’t pay federal income taxes as it is. He’ll make sure every American has health insurance whether they want it or not and make every working American pay for it.

There have been many accusations thrown Obama’s way attacking his character. At the very least, he exercises poor judgment when choosing his friends. At the worst, he has close relationships with people who hold starkly anti-American views, and perhaps he even shares some of those views.

The most recent accusation to come through this newspaper’s e-mail box is that Barack Obama is the anti-christ. I’m not buying into that at all since in my lifetime the anti-christ has been proclaimed to be Mummam al-Gaddafi, Saddam Hussein, Osama bin Laden, and even George W. Bush to name a few. Calling Obama the anti-christ is a bit of hysteria setting in on the right.

There are more than enough reasons to oppose Obama without getting into his past or into the rumors that swirl around him. Just look at his ideas. They are out of step with the principles that have made America great.

This Republic was built on the concepts of personal Liberty, equal Justice, and bountiful opportunities. The federal government’s role, as outlined in our Constitution, is to protect our freedoms and our rights from not only enemies abroad but also from the government itself. The free market coupled with the charitable nature of our people can solve most any problem this nation faces domestically, and our federal government is meant to deal with threats from outside our borders.

The problem in this election is that the party that usually stands for all of the greatest ideals of our nation has let us down for the last eight years. The Republican Party was permissive of policies that encouraged banks to make bad loans, which poisoned the capitalist system. The Bush administration and Congressional allies – while rightly pursuing terrorists abroad with zeal – wiped their feet on the Bill of Rights and wrongly abused the Liberty of the American people. And the GOP has presided over a federal government that is fiscally out of control, spending money we don’t have and borrowing money we can never repay.

Those factors make it hard to vote for John McCain. The best thing to do would be to elect a Libertarian and get someone in the White House who has actually read the Constitution and believes that is the law rather than an archaic guideline, but that is not going to happen.

Instead America is left with the choice between Barack Obama – who will definitely pull us further from our Founders’ vision – and John McCain – who may just keep the status quo but at least says he wants to correct some of the excesses in our government.

Who will it be? That’s up to the people who get out and vote, and we’ll know their answer next week.

Remember the past when you vote

By Christi Ross
With Election Day 2008 coming up, I can’t help but think of one of my great uncles. I never met him, but I am grateful each and everyday for his love of this great country. You see, my great uncle, Lloyd Whitten, served in the U.S. Navy during World War II, and he never made it home.

Through the years I’ve heard countless recollections about this family hero, and I’ve come to realize that his love of God, family and country led him to the South Pacific in order to protect and preserve the freedoms which we all enjoy today.

And now, during this time of monumental importance, how can I best honor and serve this man’s memory when it is time for me to cast my vote on November 4th?

I want to make sure this fine man did not sacrifice his life in order to see his country turn its back on the basic principles on which it was founded.

In Lloyd’s time, people who were honest and worked hard were rewarded. Ambition and success were traits to admire, not penalize. If someone truly needed help, neighbors and friends pitched in and helped them get back on their feet. If you worked, you ate; if you didn’t work because you chose not to work, you didn’t eat.

Hard work and dedication resulted in success, which in turn benefited the local economy with jobs, which then benefited the entire community and county. You didn’t take away one man’s money and give it to another. If you wanted it...you went and earned your own.

Morals and values were respected and upheld during Lloyd’s time. You followed the rules and obeyed the law; if you didn’t you went to jail rather than be given a bailout check or hefty raise. Decisions were made based on right or wrong, not on public opinion polls or study groups.

People trusted each other, and business was often done simply with a handshake and the promise of a man’s word. If you did not keep your word, you were shunned, and your good name was gone. People worked together for the common good rather than just for their party or team. Folks didn’t quit when a situation was daunting; they worked until they found a solution. Jobs were done right and with pride. Leaders worked to resolve situations rather than to fabricate conflict.

Families were celebrated and valued during Lloyd’s time. Dad, Mom and the kids were working partners when it came to running the farm or business. Families had a budget; and the rule was if you didn’t have it, you didn’t spend it. Respect, character, and courtesy were demanded. It took everyone to often do chores or large jobs, and the spirit of teamwork trained the youth to follow directions first. And later, they learned that achievement brought the opportunity to lead.

Would my Uncle Lloyd even recognize his country today? I doubt it. It saddens me that he died fighting for a democracy which is now getting ready to throw everything away.

As you get ready to vote next Tuesday, think of my Uncle Lloyd. Think of the countless American patriots who fought and died in the Revolutionary War, the Civil War, the World Wars, Korea, Vietnam, and now the Middle East.

These loyal souls did not fight and die for class warfare, uncontrolled government spending, extremist social agendas, and a weak military.

They fought for a country which believed in free enterprise and individual initiative. They fought for a government which served the people, not one in which the people were turned into working servants. They fought for individual freedom, responsibility, and ability. They fought as one, so that many would enjoy peace and prosperity. They fought because they were proud of their country, not because they sought likeability and acceptance by other foreign countries. They fought for local governmental control rather than for a federal entity which tries to smother the states’ ability to govern.

And, they fought for you, me, and our future generations. Remember them as you cast your ballot. Then, vote to preserve our freedoms and constitutional rights.

Vote Republican November 4th and honor those who have given you liberty and opportunity.

Christi Ross is a committee member of the Grundy County Republican Party in Iowa and a former columnist for The Clarendon Enterprise.

Voting is a right and responsibility

In just a few short days, the historic 2008 Presidential campaign will reach its conclusion as Americans cast their ballots to help elect the next Commander-in-Chief. This is one of the most consequential elections in a generation. Our nation is at a critical turning point on many issues that will directly impact every American citizen. Yet, voting is a right that too many in our nation take for granted.

One of the most important instruments of our democracy is the right to vote. In the early years of our republic, voting was restricted to a small, select group of people – predominantly, males who owned property – but over a period of many generations that right was extended across the barriers of race, sex, and class. Following a brutal Civil War, African-American and other non-white males were granted the right to vote in 1870 with the 15th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution.

Fifty years later, after the tireless and courageous efforts of suffragists like Susan B. Anthony, Lucretia Mott, and Elizabeth Cady Stanton, voting rights were also extended to all women. In 1964, the 24th Amendment banned poll taxes in federal elections, thereby extending the vote to all Americans, regardless of property ownership. And in 1971, all citizens 18 or older were granted suffrage.

So many Americans in our nation’s history did not have the opportunity to vote, and so many others fiercely struggled to ensure that no American adult today would be denied that right. I would urge every Texan to consider the critical challenges we face in the 21st century and to look at voting as, not only a right, but also a responsibility.

When the next President of the United States takes office in January of 2009, he will immediately face the most serious economic crisis since the Great Depression. The American people will look to the White House for leadership to bring stability to our credit markets and ensure economic stability for every family and business. The next President must lead the effort to overhaul our banking regulatory system so our country is never put in this precarious position again. Therefore, citizens must educate themselves on each candidate’s tax proposals and economic plans and cast their vote for the candidate who will keep their taxes low and help them balance their budgets.

Over the past several years, Americans saw an unprecedented spike in energy prices that has made it burdensome for many families to keep gasoline in their vehicles and to heat their homes. This year, we will spend about $700 billion to import energy from nations across the globe, some of which are hostile to our interests. Even as energy prices fluctuate, the next Administration must make American energy independence an urgent national priority. Though the Presidential candidates are united in this goal, they have distinctly different ideas on how to achieve it. Prices at the gas pump and home heating costs affect every American family, and voters should learn how each candidate intends to raise the domestic supply of oil, invest in new, clean technologies, and lead our nation into an era of energy self-sufficiency.

One of the most solemn responsibilities of the President is to protect our homeland and keep every American safe from harm. Our next Commander-in-Chief will lead our Armed Forces and make critical decisions directing operations in the Global War on Terror, including in Iraq and Afghanistan. Citizens must carefully consider which candidate will best safeguard America from foreign and domestic terrorism and military threats.

President Dwight Eisenhower said, “Politics ought to be the part-time profession of every citizen who would protect the rights and privileges of free people.” In the days leading up to this historic election, I encourage every eligible voter to consider their priorities and values, to learn about the candidates, and to stay involved in the political process by casting their vote on November 4.

Five CJH students attend science WISE workshop in Amarillo

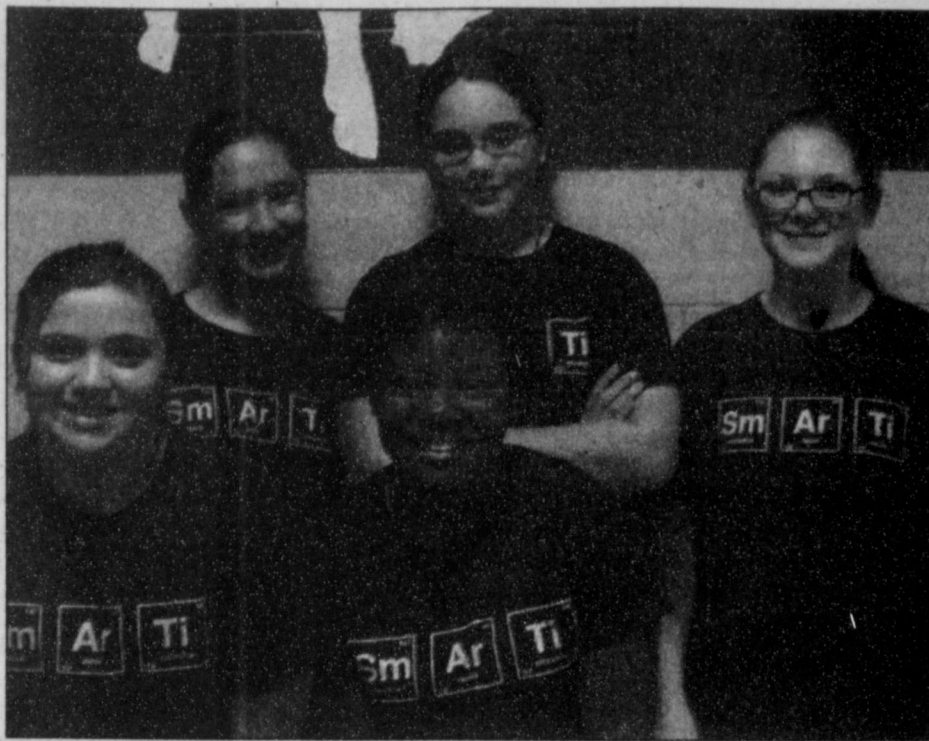

Five Clarendon Jr. High students participated in the 2008 WISE workshop (Women in Science Endeavors) on October 25.

The workshop was held at the Amarillo Area Center for Advanced Learning. WISE participants were Minnie Buckhaults, Iesha Trevino, Z'hanah Bassett, Bryce McCary, and Taylor Nowlin. The students were selected based on their academic achievement in science, and their interest in a science-related career.

The young ladies participated in activities meant to stimulate knowledge and excitement in science. The activities related to a variety of professional fields including engineering, medicine, environmental sciences, and mathematics.

Students also enjoyed guest speaker NASA Flight Director, Holly Ridings.

WISE was sponsored by Xcel Energy, West Texas A&M University, Pantex, Bell Helicopter, and Amarillo ISD.

Clarendon Junior High Students attending the WISE workshop were (back) Bryce McCary, Taylor Nowlin, Minnie Buckhaults, (front) Iesha Trevino, and Z'hanah Bassett.

CISD Trustees amend budget for construction

The Clarendon ISD Board of Trustees met in regular session October 14 at 7:00 p.m. in the Functional Living Center.

Among the items considered on the board's agenda, a motion was passed to approve the sale of four tax delinquent properties.

A public hearing was held on the district's 2008 School FIRST Rating and the annual financial management report. CISD received a rating of superior achievement.

The board amended the budget to reflect change orders related to the construction project, bringing that total line item to $1,383,996.

Trustees authorized the installation of a new center field, right field, and left field fence on Hart-Moore Field at the ballpark, and the budget was amended by $9,000 for this expense.

Do not wait to get your flu shot

Texas Department of State Health Services (DSHS) officials are encouraging everyone over six months and older to get a flu shot now.

"Don't wait for cold weather to get your flu shot," said Dr. David Lakey, DSHS Commissioner. "A flu shot before the holiday travel season begins is one of the best ways to protect yourself and your family from flu and its complications and to reduce the spread of the virus."

Lakey said getting a flu shot now is especially important for children who will be receiving a vaccination for the first time because they will need two doses of flu vaccine at least four weeks apart.

People at high risk of having serious flu complications are especially encouraged to get their annual flu shot as soon as possible. These groups include children ages 6 months through 18 years, those 50 and older, people with chronic and medical conditions, residents of long-term care facilities, and pregnant women.

People who live with or take care of those at increased risk of flu complications and people who have close contact with children younger than 6 months also should get vaccinated every year.

Each year in the United States about 200,000 people are hospitalized and 36,000 die from flu complications. About 100 of those who die are children.

A nasal-spray flu vaccine, which contains live weakened viruses, does not cause the flu either and is an option for healthy people ages 2 years to 49 years who are not pregnant.

Call your health care provider, 2-1-1, or your local health department to find out where to get a flu shot in your community.

Clarendon Church of Christ DO WE BELONG TO GOD OR A PARTY?

Some folks like Pepsi and some like Coke. That's what makes the world go round. Everyone has different opinions. An opinion from one is as good as another. The only thing that should never be tinkered with is the Bible or God's word. It is flawless and complete (2Tim. 3:16-17). Jesus said it will make us free: (John 8:32) "And you shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free." In God's truths we find out that certain acts are sin. Matt. 5:21 reiterates that murder is wrong. Paul in the first chapter of Romans tells us that homosexuality is wrong. Paul tells us that lazy people shouldn't eat: (2 Thessalonians 3:10) For even when we were with you, we commanded you this: if anyone will not work, neither shall he eat.

Probably everyone who reads this agrees that these are sins and should not be committed by anyone, especially God-fearing folks. Yet, how is it that God-fearing folks would not do these sins personally but will support a candidate or vote for someone who does support these acts? Abortion is murder, just because I wouldn't commit one personally can I vote for someone, who will be in power, to continue this atrocity? Most people I know aren't homosexuals and would never entertain the thought of committing this sin. Why then would this same person vote for a person that will continue to enable this practice? Most people I know work or have worked in the past for what they have and frown upon people "mooching" off of others. Why then vote for someone who will promote this practice to maintain a voting block?

It is called hypocrisy. A Christian can't be personally involved in these sins nor join hands with anyone else in ways that would continue or promote these practices. It is called sin also. Paul tells us in Ephesians 5 that we can't have fellowship with works of darkness. If these aren't works of darkness please explain how they are not! If voting for people who continue these practices isn't having fellowship with darkness please write me or call me and help me with an explanation.

Friends, please don't let your spirituality be checked at the voting booth door. Think about what you are doing. Because your parents, grandparents and others have always voted a certain way doesn't justify anything. I wouldn't tell anyone how to vote, but the Bible will tell you how you can't vote! Think about this and pray before you vote. Our actions have eternal consequences.

Popcorn: The healthy snack that tastes good too

By MaryRuth Bishop, County Agent

It's hard to believe a snack food that tastes so good can actually be good for you! With suggestions from organizations such as the National Cancer Institute (NCI), the American Dental Association (ADA), and the American Dietetic Association (ADA), there's no doubt popcorn is a perfectly sensible snack to fit into any meal/fitness plan.

Popcorn is a whole grain food that makes it a complex carbohydrate that is not only low in calories but a good source of fiber.

Popcorn is low in calories – only 31-55 calories in one cup of unbuttered, and when lightly buttered, one cup still only has 133 calories.

Popcorn has no artificial additives or pre-servatives and is sugar-free.

Popcorn contains energy-producing carbohydrates.

Popcorn is ideal for between meal snacking since it satisfies and doesn't spoil an appetite.

Popcorn inspires creativity. While there's no doubt hot buttered popcorn is pleasing to any palate, popcorn also can be enjoyed when combined with seasonings, spices, and other foods like raisins, fruit, and cheese providing a nutritious, delicious snack.

Ideas for using popcorn:
Top soup or salad servings with popped popcorn.

Season plain popcorn with garlic powder or seasoning salt.

Combine popcorn with dried fruit and nuts to create your own custom snack mix.

Offer different portion sizes in re-sealable, airtight bags.

Remember, popcorn is a favorite with students throughout the day and year!

The folklore of some Native American tribes told of spirits who lived inside each kernel of popcorn. The spirits were quiet and content to live on their own – but grew angry if their houses were heated.

The hotter their homes became, the angrier they'd get – shaking the kernels until the heat was too much. Finally they would burst out of their homes and into the air as a disgruntled puff of steam.

Each kernel of popcorn does contain a small drop of water stored inside a circle of soft starch. (That's why popcorn needs to contain 13.5 percent to 14 percent moisture.) The soft starch is surrounded by the kernel's hard outer surface.

As the kernel heats up, the water begins to expand, and pressure builds against the hard starch. Eventually, this hard surface gives way, causing the popcorn to explode.

As it explodes, the soft starch inside the popcorn becomes inflated and bursts, turning the kernel inside out. The steam inside the kernel is released, and the popcorn is popped!

For more information on popcorn, contact MaryRuth Bishop at 874-2141 or try talking to a pre-school child. We had lots of fun learning about popcorn last week!

Indian summer now upon us

We can look forward to Indian Summer for the next few weeks. It is described as warm weather following a freeze and heavy frost like occurred Friday morning. Trees are beginning to turn colors; mums are in full bloom; and if you were lucky enough to find pansies for sale, they are also showing colors. I love fall. The only drawback is that winter is close behind.

I enjoyed visiting with Donna and Bobby Murdock who are back from spending the summer in Colorado. They will stay around here for a couple of months and then move their house down south. It's too cold in the Panhandle. Ah, the life of a retiree!

On Sunday, November 2, we end daylight saving time again. You know when we change our clocks back one hour as in "spring forward, fall back." I don't understand the concept even though it was proposed by Ben Franklin all those years ago, and he was a very smart man.

With all those daylight hours I saved this summer, I should have time for a project or two. Oh well, my body is going to wake up when it wants to no matter what the clock says.

After the longest, most expensive campaign in political history, we finally get to vote on November 4. Please take advantage of this right and cast that vote!

Carol Carden is home and, according to Ken, is doing well with her knee replacement surgery. Keep her in your prayers as she continues this process.

Hedley School holding wellness day Nov. 5

Happy Halloween, everyone! Hope all the little goblins, ghosts, and witches have a very safe and happy Halloween.

The Hedley School is having a "Community Wellness Day" on November 5. They will have flu shots from 11:00 to 1:00. They will check blood pressure, blood sugar, cholesterol, oxygen, and other things. They will also have mammograms. Please call school nurse Tanya Burton at 856-5323.

Well, folks, we have a very big "Thank You" to give out. I have had some calls stating that the citizens of Hedley are very appreciative of the deputy that has been patrolling around town. Just the sight of him has been very calming to a lot of folks. We all want to say a very big "Thank you. Glad to have you here."

Okay, folks, winter is coming; and if you have animals outside, please prepare them. They need shelter, water, and food just like you do. If you have a dogs chained up and living outside, then please make sure they have a decent shelter. It is going to be freezing this winter. If you can't buy one, then build one. They need warmth too.

The Hedley Senior Citizens is trying another fundraiser. We are raffling off half a beef that was donated by Casey Cobb of the Hedley Feed Lot. We will be selling tickets and then have a steak dinner on the Sundaybefore Thanksgiving. November 23, right after church to give it away. We also plan a pie and cake auction with Clovis McCary as the auctioneer. We need pie and cake donations and then people to buy them.

Remember you will be helping the elderly. You don't have to be present to win the beef, but we hope you come out and enjoy the dinner and auction with us.

Two earn Hedley science recognition

Sam Lovely (left) and Jonathan Edmonson (right) will become the 9th and 10th members of the Hedley High School Science Hall of Fame on Friday, November 7th, 2008.

The 6:00 p.m. ceremony will take place in the science room. The pair had stellar careers on the Hedley UIL Science team, helping win four straight district crowns from 2005-2008.

Lovely was Biology district champion three times and overall district champion in 2006.

Edmonson placed first overall at district in both 2007 and 2008. In addition he was Chemistry district champion both years, and Physics district champion in 2008.

Both students tied or set school records in invitational and district competition during their careers.

Lovely won more district and invitational Biology titles than any student in school history, and he tied the highest district score ever in Biology.

Edmonson set a record in invitational Chemistry score last year by being the first Hedley student with a perfect score.

Lovely placed 5th overall and won the Biology contest at the Region I competition in Levelland.

Edmonson placed 1st overall and won both the Chemistry and Physics portions of the contest.

They combined to lead the team to the regional championship and a 4th place finish at the state contest in Austin.

These fine students continue their education. Sam is attending Clarendon College, and Jonathan is attending Texas Tech where he is majoring in Chemistry.

ALT to produce classic 'Dracula'

Amarillo Little Theatre is pleased to present the classic thriller "Dracula" as its second Mainstage production of the season. Originally produced by ALT in October 1989, this production is sure to be a hit with ALT audiences of all ages.

This is one of the great mystery stories and is generally considered among the best of its kind. This play recalls the wonderful old classic thrillers that leave more to the imagination than today's "over the top" horror movies.

Lucy Seward, whose father is the doctor in charge of an English sanatorium, has been attacked by some mysterious illness. Dr. Van Helsing, a specialist, believes that the girl is the victim of a vampire, a sort of ghost that goes about at night sucking blood from its victims. The vampire is at last found to be a certain Count Dracula, whose ghost is finally laid to rest in a striking and novel manner. This show is pure, suspenseful fun.

ALT has assembled a terrific cast for this production featuring some familiar veterans as well as some exciting new performers. The cast includes Shawn Walsh as Dracula, Don Washburn as Abraham Van Helsing, Michael Westmoreland as Dr. Seward and newcomer Kalan Coulson as Lucy and supporting cast members Joanna Kimbell, Ryan Sustaita, and Don Shipman. "Dracula" is being directed by Allen Shankles, assisted by Art DeMar. Technical Director is Gregg Dunlap with Scene Design by Tana Roberson. Live music accompanist for the production is Jennifer Biles.

Performance times and dates are at 8 p.m. October 30, 31 and November 1 and at 2:30 pm Sunday, November 2. This production is rated PG for subject matter.

Tickets are available by calling (806) 355-9991.

Cattle fed distiller's grains maintain beef flavor, tenderness

AMARILLO - The availability and use of wet distiller's grains in beef finishing diets continues to increase as the ethanol industry expands, and some Texas AgriLife Research scientists are trying to determine if that will affect consumers' meat purchases.

While much of the research focus has been on the energy value of the distiller's grains relative to the corn it replaces, recent questions have been posed on how they may affect beef quality, said Dr. Jim MacDonald, AgriLife Research ruminant nutritionist.

The concern is based on the premise that replacing corn, which is primarily starch, with distiller's grains, which has essentially no starch, will reduce blood glucose and negatively impact the marbling of beef cuts, MacDonald said.

MacDonald and others conducted a study funded by the $1-per-head beef checkoff, Texas Beef Council, and a cooperative agreement between the U.S. Department of Agriculture-Agriculture Research Service and AgriLife Research.

In the study, 54 steers were fed dry-rolled corn or steam-flaked corn-based finishing rations with or without 35 percent wet distiller's grain, he said.

The goal was to determine the effects of the corn processing and the inclusion of distiller's grain on marbling attributes, sensory attributes and shelf-life of beef loins.

The final data indicated that feeding 35 percent wet distiller's grains in both of the finishing diets may decrease the shelf-life of beef, but likely will have little impact on beef taste and quality, MacDonald said.

In the study, a single one-inch thick steak was removed from the 13th rib end of the loin from each animal, MacDonald said. The steaks were vacuum-packaged and aged for 14 days prior to freezing. Sensory analysis was performed at Texas A&M University with trained panelists. The beef was judged for palatability attributes such as juiciness, tenderness and flavor.

"When you add distiller's grains to steam-flaked corn-based diets, it does not negatively affect palatability attributes," MacDonald said.

"In fact, our panel found those steaks with distiller's grains to be slightly more tender."

The results indicate that the corn-processing method affects sensory properties of steaks; but while consistent, the differences were minimal, MacDonald said.

Sensory differences also were detected in steaks from steers fed differing levels of dietary wet distiller's grain plus solubles; however, the differences were slight, MacDonald said. It is unknown if the levels detected by expert, trained sensory panelists would be detected by consumers.

Another finding of this study was that distiller's grain byproducts increased the muscle concentration of linoleic acid, said Dr. Stephen Smith, AgriLife Research professor of animal science at Texas A&M University.

Increasing the concentration of linoleic acid in beef makes it more susceptible to producing a warmed-over flavor if it is stored in the refrigerator after cooking, Smith said.

The addition of distiller's grain byproducts to finishing altered the activity of enzymes important in the deposition of marbling fat also, he said.

As a result, beef from cattle fed distiller's grain byproducts was higher in saturated and trans-fatty acids, and lower in the monounsaturated fatty acid, oleic acid, than beef from cattle not fed distiller's grains.

Smith said even though palatability attributes were not affected by distiller's grain byproducts, the composition of the beef changed quite a bit.

Steaks from steers fed distiller's grains may be darker in color and were more susceptible to lipid oxidation after five days of storage, MacDonald said.

But incorporation of wet distiller's grains into steam-flaked corn-based diets does not appear to affect beef quality differently than incorporation into dry-rolled corn-based diets, he said.

These results indicate that feeding wet distiller's grains to feedlot cattle may impact the shelf-life of beef, but likely has minimal effects on beef taste and quality, MacDonald said.

Broncos grab playoff spot with win

By Sandy Anderberg

The intensity of the game was almost unbearable at times, but the Broncos reigned supreme in a fight to the finish as they destroyed the Wheeler Mustangs 35-27 at home Friday night.

They stood firm throughout and gave the fans a thriller until the end in the 4-1A matchup. Determination spread over the entire team and those in attendance as the Broncos fought hard to not be denied the win.

"It was such an important game for us," head coach Gary Jack said. "It had to be one of the biggest wins at home in a long time that really meant something. It secured a spot for us in the playoffs."

Alton Gaines smoked the defense early on and scampered 92 yards for the first Bronco score, and Aaron Gordon added the extra point. Wheeler answered back to tie the game at seven, but the Broncos pushed on, and Gordon caught a 23-yard pass from quarterback Johnny Gaines to go up by seven. Alton Gaines added the last touchdown before the half on a 51-yard run.

"We played well early," Jack said. "And things were rolling our way at 21-7 in the second quarter."

Wheeler got a break and cut into the Broncos' lead after a fumbled ball went into the end zone, and the Mustangs recovered it for a touchdown to cut the lead to seven.

"That fumble in the end zone gave them not only a score, but a swing in the momentum," Jack said. "And then our fumble in the third quarter put us behind going into the fourth."

But the Broncos regrouped and stayed strong against Wheeler and realized they were at the point where they had confidence in what they were capable of doing. Despite allowing the Mustangs to score once in the fourth quarter, the Broncos rallied back and gained new momentum when their opponent missed the extra point to only go up by six.

"We led most of the game and then lost it early in the fourth," Jack said. "But we faced a little adversity and settled down to score to retake the lead. The kids have matured enough throughout the years to know that even though we're down, they can come back and score. They had confidence in what they could do, and they did it. That missed extra point by Wheeler was huge for us."

Johnny Gaines got the Broncos on the board again with a one-yard run in the fourth, and then Alton Gaines sealed the deal from three yards out to make it 35-27. Wheeler tried to go down the field with time running out but could not manage to find the end zone.

"Our defense stepped up so much that we put them in a spot they don't like, and that's passing the ball," Jack said. "Johnny Gaines was able to grab an interception with only seconds left in the game to end any chance they had to score."

Jack listed several players who played extremely well both offensively and defensively.

"Dylan Wright, Tré Brown, R.J. Nino, Danzel Wilson, and Derrick Shelton were outstanding. Stephino McCampbell did a great job at tight end, also. I just can't give them enough credit. Our receivers and running backs did a great job, too. Glenn Weatherton, Jesus Hernandez, and Aaron Gordon made some great catches for us all night. Johnny Gaines is doing a great job at quarterback, and it's all coming together."

Defensively, Jack named many Broncos with several tackles. Danzel Wilson had eight tackles; Johnny Gaines had 10 tackles and one interception; Chris Crump 11 tackles and caused two fumbles; Tré Brown six tackles; A. Gaines seven tackles and one caused fumble; Derrick Shelton five tackles and one recovered fumble; Mike Crump seven tackles; Dylan Wright four tackles.

"Johnny (Ballard) had three tackles for us," Jack said. "And he was playing on a bad ankle. He really wasn't 100 percent, but he played tough inside. Aaron Gordon had one tackle defensively and one interception. He's doing a great job all around."

The Broncos will have Memphis at home next week in their last home game of the season. The game will begin at 7:30 p.m. and will be broadcast live on KLSR-FM 105.3.

Drugs in the News

Vitamin Cream May Protect the Skin

Dermatologists have felt that antioxidant vitamins (A, C, and E), if applied in some manner to the skin, might be helpful in reducing the incidence of skin cancer caused by exposure of the skin to ultraviolet (UV) rays of the sun. A new study reported in the Journal of the American Academy of Dermatology indicates that a cream containing vitamins A and E, combined with a substance called ferulic acid appears to protect against sun-related damage and reduces the risk of cancer-associated changes in skin. Ferulic, an antioxidant, is believed to have the ability to reduce the risk of cancer of the stomach and other organs of the body. In the study, researchers applied the vitamin/ferulic acid cream to the skin of adults and then exposed them to radiation similar to that produced by the sun. The group was compared to adults who received a cream with no active ingredients (placebo). The vitamin/ferulic acid cream reduced skin redness and almost completely blocked a specific type of UV-related damage. Researchers concluded that this type of antioxidant cream could be used as a supplement with sunscreen products.

Colts suffer first loss of season

Wheeler was able to do what no other junior high team has been able to do this year when they defeated the Colts 42-20 on their home field. The loss was the first for the Colts, but they are determined to not let it happen again.

Forrest Yelverton was able to account for all three touchdowns the Colts made and also connected on one two-point conversion.

"We had a bad night," coach Alton Gaines said. "It just wasn't our night. We got done to us what we've been doing to every team so far this year. We lost this game as a team, and we'll regroup and come out strong next Thursday night."

The Colts will play Memphis at home October 30 at 5:00 p.m.

Obituaries

Mooring
Herman Edward Mooring, 87, died Saturday, October 25, 2008, at Lelia Lake.

Services were at 2:00 p.m. on Monday, October 27, 2008, in the First Baptist Church in Clarendon with Rev. Lance Wood, Pastor, officiating. Burial was held at Citizens Cemetery in Clarendon. Robertson Funeral Directors of Clarendon.

On August 29, 1921, Ed and Goldie had a son and they named him Herman Edward Mooring. He grew up and went to school in the community of Goldston. In February of 1943, he joined the United States Navy. He married Anita Lois Cook on September 12, 1944 in Clarendon on a ten-day leave. On Thanksgiving Day of 1945 he was discharged from the Navy as a gunner's mate. Herman and Anita moved to Amarillo where he worked for ASARCO for 30 years. After his retirement as an assistant superintendent in 1976, he became a partner and later sole owner of Mooring Bait and Tackle of Greenbelt Lake. He was a member of the First Baptist Church in Clarendon.

He was preceded in death by his parents; a brother, B.J. Mooring.

Survivors include his wife, Anita of Clarendon; a son, Robert Lynn Mooring and wife Cheri of Amarillo; a daughter, Rita Ann Craddock and husband Bill of Canyon; two brothers, Bill Mooring and wife Nova of Clarendon, and Arlis Mooring of Edmond, Oklahoma; three sisters, Juanita Dickenson and husband Brownie of Midland, Naoma Spann and husband Joe of Wichita, Kansas, and Genella Eads and husband Jack of Clarendon; two sisters-in-law, Mary Jane Smith of Clarendon, & Tina Mooring of Atlanta, GA; five grandchildren, Zack Craddock and wife D'Ann of Channing, Britney Stephens and husband Shawn of Irving, Tyson Mooring and wife Erica, Clint Mooring and Macey Mooring all of Amarillo; 2 great grandchildren, Kaitlyn and Kynley Craddock.

The family requests memorial contributions be made to the First Baptist Church in Clarendon or Citizens Cemetery Association, PO Box 983, Clarendon, Texas 79226

Congressman Mac Thornberry

Part of the answer to the challenges we face is really pretty simple... Focus on doing what's best for the country and never take for granted how incredibly blessed we are to be Americans.

Working together, we can and will have a more secure and hopeful future.

I'd appreciate your support on November 4th.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Without public notices in the newspaper, you're left guessing.

Public notice is your right to know about the issues that directly affect your life. And, you can easily find public notices in your local newspaper. Without public notices in the newspaper, you're left to guess about what the government is doing in your community and how elected officials are spending your tax dollars.

Your local newspaper fulfills an essential role in serving your right to know. After all, it shouldn't be your responsibility to know how to look ... where to look ... when to look ... and even what to look for in order to be informed about public information. It is the government's responsibility to notify you of public information, and your local newspaper is the most accessible place to find it.
