Farm Labor Will Be Available Soon In Donley County

Donley County farmers who need to employ year-around farm laborers to produce their 1943 war crops should make application to Claude Moore, rural rehabilitation supervisor for the Farm Security Administration.

The Farm Security Administration, it was announced, is preparing to transport volunteer farm workers into this county to fill orders placed by the farmers.

Farmers desiring to employ year-around workers, it was explained, will sign a request, stating the wages and housing facilities offered, and the kind of workers needed here. Wages will be based upon those prevailing within the county.

The FSA plans to transport hundreds of workers into the Panhandle-Plains area this spring from the poorer farming areas in other states, and make them available to farmers who need their labor.

One of several training centers to be established in the Panhandle-Plains area, where the workers will be schooled under the Texas Vocational Agriculture Department's war production training program, will be set up in Donley county, it was learned. Twenty of these workers are expected to arrive here within the next week or 10 days.

Donley County farmers are being urged by Mr. Moore to place their orders for workers as quickly as possible. Orders will be filled as the applications are received. He said the FSA can give no assurance that late orders will be filled immediately.

"Individuals and family groups who have volunteered for employment as farm workers are motivated by patriotism," said Mr. Moore. "Farmers will find them anxious to do their part in helping produce food for this nation and her allies."

He said these workers will expect weather-proof housing with adequate furnishings for keeping house. Because it is necessary to transport them to this county by train and bus, it will be impossible for these people to bring more than their clothing and bedding, he explained.

The supervisor urges farmers who expect to hire year-around workers to make any needed improvements to their housing facilities immediately.

"Experience has shown that farm workers will not contract to work on places where they have no facilities for preparing meals, doing their laundry and on farms where there is a lack of plenty of good drinking water. We might as well face these facts now and avoid disappointments later on."

Mr. Moore said he will be glad to explain complete details of the FSA's recruitment and transportation program to all farmers who are interested in employing year-around workers.

The Farm Security office is on the second floor of the Goldston building in Clarendon.

GORDON BAIN BUYS PHILLIPS 66 AGENCY FROM BALLEW

Announcement was made this week of the purchase of the Phillips 66 Agency by Gordon Bain from Charlie Ballew. Mr. Bain, who was raised here in Donley county, is well acquainted with this kind of work, having been an agent for an oil company down on the south plains a few years ago.

Mr. Bain proposes to give his friends and patrons of this agency, the very best of service - a continuance of the same fair policy extended by Mr. Ballew.

Mr. Ballew is disposing of his business in order to enter Uncle Sam's armed service, and states that when he gets through with the Japs, he will be coming back to good old Donley County.

GRADE THREE TIRES CEASE TO EXIST

The Donley county War Price and Rationing office announced this morning that a grade three tire classification has ceased to exist. Used or re-capped tires have taken the place of the Grade Three tire that was available to "A" card holders.

The grade three new tire made from reclaimed rubber has been reclassified as Grade 2 tire, and those who drive 560 miles a month are the only ones now eligible for this tire.

COMMERCIAL & INSTITUTIONAL USERS OF FOODS TO REGISTER FROM MARCH 1st to 10th

Commercial eating places and other institutional users of foods are being registered from March 1 to 10, inclusive, the Donley County War Price and Rationing Board reminded today in announcing highlights of rationing regulations for institutional users.

Regulations which commercial eating places and other institutional users of food follow in obtaining supplies of foods now being rationed and those to be rationed in the future are consolidated into a single food program, effective March 1st.

Highlights of the program:
1. All institutional users, such as boarding houses, hospitals, jails, canteens, restaurants and hotels, must register under the new program. Even though they have rationed foodstuffs on hand, they will not be permitted to use them after the registration period. (See COMMERCIAL, Page 5)

6,507 Rationing Books No. Two Issued Past Week

According to a complete tabulation by the Donley county Rationing office, 6,507 Ration Books No. 2 were issued in the registration past week. 2,032 declarations were filed and 3,925 excess cans of processed foods were declared.

The teachers of the Clarendon Public Schools and other helpers over the county are to be complimented on the way the signing up was handled.

Point rationing started off on its initial run the first day of this week, and grocery stores have reported that buying of rationed items has been slow but is gradually picking up as each person becomes more accustomed to the new way of buying.

Some discussion regarding dried beans for planting purposes has been brought up, and the local rationing office issued a statement this morning saying that this was being worked out and would be announced at a later date, but it has been understood that no points will be necessary to purchase them for planting purposes.

Grand Jury Returns 3 Bills

As a result of action by the grand jury Monday, three bills were returned. One against Elmer Smith for theft for over $50 and two bills against Fred Rowe for forgery.

Each party pleaded guilty before Judge A. S. Moss Tuesday, and Smith was sentenced two years in addition to a two year suspended sentence, and Rowe was sentenced to two years—one year for each bill.

All court matters were cleared and court was dismissed until the October term, unless something should come up between now and that time.

The court term is still divided into two terms but each one extends to the beginning of the next, therefore allowing the court to dismiss any business anytime during the year.

ACCEPTED FOR SERVICE

The following young men from Donley County were accepted at Lubbock Monday for Army and Navy service: Virgil Siddle Jr., Alton DeBord, Roy Bulls, Oscar Smith and George Reeves.

VISIT HERE SUNDAY

Mr. and Mrs. John Harris of Claude and son Fred Wayne, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Patching of Goodnight, Miss Eva Patching of Amarillo and Mr. and Mrs. John M. Bass and small son Johnny Fred of Amarillo, visited Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Patching, Sunday.

The World Day Of Prayer

On Friday, March 12th, the women of Clarendon will observe the World Day of Prayer in services at the Baptist Church between 10 and 12 a. m.

Since 1927 the 1st Friday in Lent has been set aside for a universal day of prayer by Christians. This day is observed by groups on all six continents. The offerings are set aside for various interdenominational activities.

The first of the Day of Prayer services takes place in the Fiji Islands while we are going to bed the evening before. As the sun journeys on its way prayer is being made at sometime during the day in some part of this world. In 1942 praying groups were reported from more than 50 countries—among them, Hawaii, Japan, China, Siam, Australia, the British Isles, Africa, Canada, the South American nations, and the United States.

May we join with these faithful ones again in 1943 in their prayer with this theme, "Father, I pray that they may all be one."

ANOTHER WHIZZER ARRIVES MONDAY

We never know when to expect one of those things, but one blew in Monday night with a strong tail wind. The mercury dropped to 11 degrees and a light snow fell. Tuesday night the mercury shot downward to 5 degrees which is not considered very hot to start that Victory garden.

A large number of apricot and peach trees that had been enjoying our little spell of spring weather stuck their blossoms out a little too soon and that much of our much needed fruit crop was lost.

Most everyone would like to see a repeated visit of the whizzer type.

RED CROSS VOLUNTEER SERVICE

"During March the American Red Cross will appeal to the American people for $125,000,000. It is for their sons and brothers and husbands in the armed forces. It is to guarantee the health and safety of our fighting men's loved ones at home.

The American people never have let their Red Cross down and they will not do so now. In all conscience they can not, for these millions of dollars will underwrite Red Cross war responsibilities for the year ahead - obligations charged by Congress."—American Red Cross News Service.

Drafting of Dads Is Likely To Be Started In May

JERICHO LADY HAS BROTHER LISTED IN CASUALTY LIST

The war department made public the names of 570 United States soldiers wounded in action in the Southwest Pacific area since early November. The list included Pfc. Buster Luster and gave his sister, Mrs. Mae Foshee of Jericho, as the next of kin notified.

FORMER CITIZEN ENJOYS LEADER

The Leader is in receipt of a letter this week from Mrs. Gertrude C. Swan, former resident of Clarendon, who is now living at Wellington, Kansas. We quote a portion of the letter in order that her many friends here may know that she is thinking of them.

"I enjoy reading the paper as it is like a letter from home, and you can hear from old friends and neighbors. Kindest regards to all. Respectfully, Mrs. Gertrude C. Swan.

WASHINGTON, March 3—Officials said Wednesday it would be a "pretty reasonable guess" that some local draft boards will start taking fathers of children on May 1 or shortly thereafter, and that inductions of married men with children would be fairly general by early summer.

The first fathers to be inducted probably will be those in recently classified "nondeferable" occupations, one informed but unquotable official said.

He added that a number of boards have reached the bottom of their reservoirs of single men and will have to start taking fathers as soon as orders are issued from Washington instructing them to do so. Some boards already are taking married men with children, he acknowledged, but only those who became fathers after Pearl Harbor or at a time when induction was imminent.

It could not be learned whether plans call for taking men with few children first and those with large families later.

It was pointed out that the drafting of fathers would not start simultaneously in all parts of the country because of the regional variations in the number of single men available and the varying necessity for deferring workers for war industry and essential agricultural work.

Better Mail Service Is Announced

Serving patrons of their various mail routes out of Clarendon is a big job when so many of the train schedules cannot be maintained. Beginning Tuesday, carriers had their wishes granted when Postmaster J. C. Estlack announced to them that each Star Route carrier could wait until the 7:33 train arrived from the south up until 12 o'clock. This train is usually from one to three hours late.

The change was made promptly when the local postmaster explained the matter to chief clerk H. K. Coale of the railway mail service.

For many months patrons had received their papers a day late because rules of the postal department did not permit carriers to delay departure more than one hour. The time of leaving had been set at 8:30 a. m. years ago. But this is war time. The Postal Department is straining every effort to make the mail service more efficient in every department.

The new change will likely be in force during the duration, the postmaster said.

Gene Worley Would Keep Production Up

Attacking strikes in war industries, Rep. Eugene Worley, Monday of this week, introduced a bill to "guarantee the continuous production" of war material, regardless of how long labor disputes run on.

"It makes my blood boil to see a petty, trivial dispute stop or even slow down the production of these plants," Worley told the House, referring to the threatened strike at the Boeing plant, as he described his legislation.

"One day's production of bombing planes could have saved Java. A week's production at our present rate might well have saved our raw rubber resources. Lack of air power contributed largely to our first setback in Africa," he declared.

"It is clear that the fault in these disputes lies somewhere between management and labor," he (See GENE WORLEY, page 8)

Production Sign-Up Gets Underway As Farmers Plan Crop Goals

Texas farmers began signing their names to production plan sheets this week in nearly all counties.

Delayed several days ago because county goals on grain sorghums, soybeans and Irish potatoes were revised to meet new and larger figures, they were telling community leaders the amount of food and feed they could be depended on to help beat the Axis.

Commenting on the sign-up campaign, the state USDA War Board appealed to Texas farmers to plan for maximum production despite shortages which already exist and others which might hinder production later in the year.

"If farmers will plan and plant for maximum production, I firmly believe that steps will be taken to get the crops harvested," B. F. Vance, chairman of the board said in encouraging full speed ahead for Texas farmers.

He added that food is too important to the war program for any of it to be wasted and for that reason "we can be reasonably sure it will be harvested, regardless of the difficulties."

More than 8,000 leaders, representing every farming community in the state will cooperate during the sign-up campaign to obtain pertinent production information from Texas' 418,000 producers of Food for Freedom.

According to current trends, production pledges will be completed in less than a month's time.

After individual plan sheets are made and sent to the state AAA office for tabulation, they will indicate whether all goals have been pledged or exceeded.

Under this year's war production program, Texas farmers and ranchers are being asked to produce more pork, beef, eggs, milk, poultry, soybeans, peanuts and grain sorghums than they produced during 1942.

This is the club boy's annual event and Breedlove urges that all people come to the show in Clarendon and see the work of the boys in fattening livestock.

"This is a year's work for the boys," Breedlove said, "and this is their show to let the people of the county see what the farmers of tomorrow are doing."

The judging of the sheep will start at nine thirty in the morning and the swine judging will follow immediately. The judging of the calves will be at one thirty in the afternoon. When all judging is completed the livestock will be loaded out for the Amarillo show.

PAMPA FLYING SCHOOL TO HOLD OPEN HOUSE SUNDAY, MARCH 7

Colonel Daniel S. Campbell, Commanding Officer, of the Pampa Army Flying School is having open house at the airport from 2:00 to 5:00 p. m. this Sunday, March 7th.

In a letter to the Leader, Garnet Reeves, manager of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce, writes thusly: "Speaking for the entire citizenship of Pampa, we wish to join Colonel Campbell in this invitation to be our guests Sunday. We hope to see you and a large number of your fellow citizens at the Pampa Army Flying School next Sunday."

Symbolic of the role the Red Cross is again playing, the 1943 Red Cross War Fund poster depicts the organization as a mother ministering to the needs of the men of the United States armed forces and the victims of war throughout the world. The poster is an appeal to all men and women for contributions to the War Fund. Lawrence Wilbur, noted illustrator, designed the poster. Helen Mueller is the model.

OUR QUOTA IS NOT ENOUGH!

The Donley County quota for the American Red Cross War Fund has been announced as $2,700. We will raise this quota here in Donley County. In fact, we are so certain it will be raised that we have not the slightest hesitancy in putting the above heading on this editorial.

This war in which our great nation and her allies are now engaged is being fought by men who love freedom; men who are willing to lay down their lives to preserve all those things which we sum up as "the American way of life."

The American Red Cross uses the talents of many individuals in bringing recreation, comfort, messages, and counsel to our fighting forces the world over, and to the families of these men on the home front. Comparatively few have the privilege or the special experience necessary for rendering such services in person to the men of our armed forces. But that does not mean each of us cannot make a direct contribution in this great and necessary work.

Not one of us can escape the personal responsibilities of an "all out" war. Every man, woman and child can and must make some real contribution to the ultimate victory that will be ours.

The American Red Cross actually is an auxiliary of the military forces of the United States. It is a humanitarian and morale-building arm upon which our fighting men lean heavily.

The multiple services rendered by the Red Cross to our Army and Navy, both at home and abroad must continue and be expanded. The same is true of the many services made available to the people who remain at home—services that no other organization is equipped or trained to give.

All of us know this. That is why we say our quota in the present Red Cross War Fund campaign is not enough.

That is why we are confident the people of Donley County will prove the heading on this editorial wholly correct. We will meet our quota—and then some.

THE LEGISLATIVE GRAPEVINE

By Grady Hazlewood

EDITOR'S NOTE—The following is first of a series of articles being written by Senator Grady Hazlewood of this district to better inform the people of what is taking place or about to take place in the Texas legislature.

Your Texas Legislature, now in its seventh week, is ready to square off and fight it out on pending bills. You might wonder how legislation could be controversial during war times but this is usually true in the Texas legislature. And it is not surprising when you consider how very large Texas is which naturally gives us a great contrariety of interests.

Some members of the legislature from the large cities were elected on dripping wet platforms and advocate the open saloon and sale of liquor by the drink. There are those from industrial areas who are outright against old age pensions, while others from the heavily populated Negro and Mexican areas believe strongly in pensions but oppose the payment of an average of more than $12 to $15 per month because if paid more the recipients would feed all their children also. In the Panhandle and West Texas the standards and costs of living are much higher and thus the demand for higher payments. And then there are those who are spendthrifts with the State's money because their particular districts are paying very little tax money for the support of the state government. You will remember that natural resources are bearing the greater portion of the tax burden for Texas' general revenue fund together with the cigarette and liquor taxes.

Strangely enough bills curbing the liquor traffic may find easy going this session. What a paradox to have the wets and dries joining hands in complete accord in these matters. Reason—the wets fear almost state-wide prohibition thru the local option route and are willing to make many concessions. They remember the last war.

The redistricting bill would give the Panhandle and West Texas four or five new representatives and one new senator, but the senate redistricting bill, of which the writer is co-author, is in a subcommittee with the "pallbearers". The public does not know it, but this bill is already dead. Just another case of East Texas Vs. West Texas, and everyone knows where the votes are. The heretofore thickly populated sections of Texas have the votes in the Senate and only with these same votes can they ever be deprived of this disproportionate representation.

The writer is author of Senate Bill 81 which he passed thru the senate the past week exempting all members of the U. S. armed forces of World War II, with honorable discharges, and the children of all members who were killed or died in service, from the future payment of all tuition, fees and charges in all of the state supported colleges and universities in Texas. The bill also included all members of the WAVES and WAACS.

PRIZED BOOKS ARE BIBLES

A tenth century manuscript of the four Gospels started the University of Texas' famed rare book collections, which now totals 35,000 volumes and ranks as one of the world's outstanding American and English collections.

In 1894, Judge Alexander Watkins Terrell, author of the bill in the state legislature which created the University, returned to America after several years as United States ambassador to Turkey. He brought with him the library's first gift Bible, a Greek manuscript, written in vellum.

Some of the most beautiful books in the Stark and Wrenn collections of rare books, housed on the fourth floor of the University Main Building, are Bibles, hand illustrated and illuminated. Several, like that given by Judge Ter-

Casualty in Tunisia Battle

DESPITE THE BOMBS of Nazi planes these British engineers set about repairing a bridge and ford vital to Allied transportation near Medjez-el-Bah. The enemy had dynamited both in retreating and tried, with bombs and shells, to prevent their being repaired again. But the men, stripped to work in the river, stopped only to carry out their casualties, such as the man pictured here who had been hit by a bomb fragment.

rell, are examples of the pre-printing era.

Included in the Stark collection is a page from the Gutenberg Bible, first book ever printed with movable type. The Gutenberg Bible has gone down in history as the forerunner of all printing, and was printed in 1456 at Mainz, Germany.

A volume containing the New Testament and the Psalms which is believed to have once belonged to Queen Elizabeth is also to be found in the University's collection. The book was printed by Christopher Barker, who held a monopoly for Bible printing under the Tudors, and is sealed with a silver clasp upon which is engraved the Tudor rose.

Perhaps of most interest to Americans is a Bible printed in Geneva, Switzerland, during the reign of Henry VIII and brought to America by William White, leader of the Mayflower settlers. Henry had forbidden the publication of Bibles in England, so the books were printed in Switzerland and smuggled into Britain. White owned a Bible printed in 1588. He carried it with him when he left England and went to Holland and from there on to America. Contained in the family record in the Bible is the name and birthdate of Peregrin White, first white child born to European parents in the New England settlement.

The University's collection of rare books also contains the first issue of the first edition of the King James version—a volume which has come to be known as the "Great He" Bible. When the book was first printed, it contained a typographical error in the book of Ruth, where the word "he" occurs when it should have been "she." The University's copy is one of the few such Bibles in existence, since the printers soon corrected the mistake.

AMERICANS LIKE THE TRUTH

Labor today is the most powerful single group in the nation. It can make or break the war effort. Labor leaders, by demanding their pound of flesh during the emergency, can bring disastrous inflation which would wipe out a half century of labor gains, together with the savings and standards of living of every man, woman and child in the country.

Is it any wonder that Captain Eddie Rickenbacker has asked labor to make sacrifices along with the rest of us, forego extravagant overtime demands, help to protect the working rights of men returning from war, cease disruptive jurisdictional strife and make-work tactics; are these things too much to ask of labor at a time when the country is fighting for its very life? They most certainly are not.

The public agrees heart and soul with every word that Rickenbacker has uttered. Those who attempt to discredit him as a labor hater, will hurt labor, because the words he has spoken were born when he was very near to death. Men near death think and speak the truth. And Americans like to hear the truth, no matter how unpleasant.

Mrs. W. A. Davis is visiting her daughters, Mrs. John Black and Mrs. Baker at Amarillo this week.

That Extra Something!
...You can spot it every time

THE dry cold air and the exertion of skiing bring a mighty thirst. Ask an expert ski instructor what's the perfect drink to find at the end of a ski run. Ice-cold Coca-Cola. For ice-cold Coca-Cola not only quenches thirst, it adds refreshment.

A quality drink made the quality way, Coca-Cola offers all the difference between something truly refreshing and just something to drink. A special blend of flavors gives it a taste all its own. Coca-Cola had to be good to get where it is.

Your own experience, many a refreshing experience, tells you the best is always the better buy.

Wartime limits the supply of Coca-Cola. Those times when you cannot get it, remember: Coke, being first choice, sells out first. Ask for it each time.

DIRECTIONS.
Reading instructions as to what the individual should do in case of a bomb raid, the suggester suggests that if an incendiary bomb falls, it is best to have a shovel and a bag of sand handy. And we might add that if it is an explosive bomb, the sand won't be needed.

WAR STORY.
"This war in Africa is nothing as compared with the Zulu war when I was a young man," the grouchy old colonel stated to a lady friend. "Why, in battle I was struck by a spear thrown by a buck Zulu, knocked down and pinned to the ground for three days!" The lady gave a chirp of surprise and commented thusly: "Mercy me, Colonel, that must have hurt terribly!" You know men. Well the Colonel reared back on his dignity and explained that "it did hurt a little, my dear, but only when I laughed."

PREPARATION.
A lot of folks are getting ready for the skimpy meat days when the ration gets well under way. They simply go eat a special turkey dinner at a chain drug store. Then they know they can never equal that form of skimping in the family home.

Buy more stamps and bonds and build a victory garden, folks. See you next week.

FAREWELL PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Smith and family entertained with a party Friday night in honor of their son and brother, O. A., who left Sunday morning for his final examination before his induction into the service.

Those attending the party were: Floyd, Lloyd, Boyd, Orrin and Lorene Brock, J. T., Bobbie and Ina May Brock, Ruth, Ernest, Artie, James and Irene Vick, Bill and Juanita Mooring, Hugh and Peggy Stewart, Jimmie and Bryant Johnson, Thelma Pierce, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Roberson and children Pat and Daphne, Bailey Mansfield, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Fulton and children, Niel and Sue.

PATHFINDER CLUB

Henry Ward Beecher said "Men must read for amusement as well as for knowledge." With this quotation heading their program, the members of the Club gathered at the home of Mrs. Ernest Hunt in pleasant anticipation on Friday, Feb. 26th. They had been asked to each bring a book for the Victory Book Campaign, and they came with their book gifts until quite a goodly number resulted.

Routine business was brief. The announcement was made that owing to war conditions which include gas and tire rationing, no district meeting will be held this spring. Instead a one-day business council will be held with Club executives at some place to be announced later.

Mrs. H. T. Burton, Defense Chairman, made an announcement of the return visit of the WAAC recruiter on March 10, and urged attendance, saying the meetings were both interesting and instructive.

Nelda Sue Burton added to the pleasure of the program with a piano solo, "To My Dearest."

Mrs. J. R. Porter reviewed "Young Man of Covacas" by Thomas Ybarra. To quote an expression from the author, "A story suffers nothing in the telling" by Mrs. Porter. This has been called the "South American Life With Father," and to quote again, "There's a chuckle on every page of Mr. Ybarra's story of his hot-blooded Venezuelan father and his Boston-bred mother."

The hostesses, Mrs. Hunt and Mrs. H. T. Burton, served twenty-five members and nine guests—Mesdames Johnnie Johnson, Gene Noland, Joe Goldston, Joe Ritter, L. Guy Ament, B. G. Watson and Misses Ruth Donnell, Nelda Sue Burton and Louva Hunt.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Edd Dishman and Mrs. R. E. Ferguson, in the Ferguson home, March 12th.

WIN ONE S. S. CLASS

The Win One S. S. Class of the Methodist church met in a business and social meeting at the home of the president, Mrs. Lon Rundell Monday afternoon. Mrs. John Goldston gave the devotional—Christian light and prayer. Mrs. C. C. Powell distributed 24 night shirts for Red Cross to the ladies to make.

Delicious refreshments were served during the social hour to Mesdames U. J. Boston, C. L. Benson, J. R. Porter, C. C. Powell, A. A. Mayes, B. L. Jenkins, John Blocker, J. T. Patman, Van Eaton, A. G. Lane, Walter Taylor, C. D. McDowell, G. T. Palmer, J. O. Quattlebaum, John Goldston, D. O. Stallings, and hostess, Mrs. Rundell.

WINDY VALLEY CLUB

The Club met February 17 with Mrs. Clarence Ayers as hostess. Two quilts were quilted.

Those receiving polly-anna gifts were Mmes. Dell Barker, Charlie Molder, Mamie Mills, W. F. Barker, I. M. Noble.

Those present were Mmes. W. F. Barker, John Swinney, Mamie Mills, Mamie Brogden, Charlie Molder, Daught Swinney, J. E. Kidd, Carl Barker, Dell Barker, Harvey Shaw, John Hutson, Clarence Ayers and Bert Ayers.

The next meeting will meet March 3rd. Mrs. Charlie Molder will be hostess.

KILL KARE KNEEDLE KLUB

Mrs. W. A. Land entertained the needle club at her home Thursday afternoon. The usual needle work and visiting, also special songs were sung until a lovely refreshment plate was served to guests, Mrs. Cecil Thomas and Anna Rez Bryan, Mrs. M. E. Thornton, and members, Mmes. Horzer Mulkey, H. C. Brumley, W. B. Sims, W. A. Massie, Sam Lowe, Eva Draffin, Buel Sanford, R. R. Dawkins, and hostess, Mrs. Land.

Red Cross—

the Goldston community. The quilt that Mrs. Vincent made and donated was turned in by the Dorcas-Althean Sunday School class. Members of this class did the quilting.

Naomi Morris turned in a pair of pajamas, which she made during her vacation here.

Again we want to thank Mrs. D. O. Stallings for the many samples of night shirts she has made.

Mrs. Clyde Bridges is doing wonderful work with the Red Cross in Hedley. She has called this week for over a hundred garments, also scraps for quilts. Mrs. Bridges told us that the cotton buyers and farmers had given over 25 lbs. of cotton to the Hedley Chapter, and we thought it most interesting to know that some of the Hedley ladies are carding this cotton for the quilts. We were happy to know that the ladies from the McKnight and Bray Communities are working through Hedley.

We are sorry to lose Mrs. Johnny Blocker and Mrs. Jack Molesworth, who have been taking afternoons at the Red Cross room.

We are very glad to have Mrs. Floyd Lumpkin back again. She is taking alternate Thursdays.

We do hope that everyone who has the opportunity will hear Mrs. Elba Ballew give her splendid talk on the work being done by the American Red Cross.

HOME SERVICE

Mrs. C. A. Burton The war is bringing some strange developments. One of these is a statement from Red Cross that there is being a sudden increase in requests for divorce from men in the service. The explanation of this fact is that allowances to wives are compulsory for service men in the four lowest grades of the service, even though the servicemen may have been separated from his wife and may not have supported her for some time. Warning is given that local chapters are not to have any part in these proceedings.

This statement from another release from the Red Cross will be of interest to many parents: "Before an inquiry is made concerning a soldier overseas station, sufficient time should be allowed for his mail to have been forwarded. He cannot direct or receive mail while in transit, and mail sent after his arrival overseas will take considerably longer to reach this country than it would in normal times; three or four months cannot be considered unusual. Likewise, mail from members of the Navy, Marine Corps, and Merchant Marine will be delayed many months because ships are away from their bases for long periods during which mail cannot be forwarded.

Plans for discharge of certain classes of men have been given out. Key men in industry, and men 38 years of age and over. The regulations governing these discharges are too lengthy to be given here, but I shall be glad to give them personally to anyone interested.

No discharges are given by the Navy on account of the 38 year age, since men in the Navy were volunteers, hence are not supposed to be wanting discharges.

Charley Murff and son of Brice were in Clarendon Sunday. Mr. Murff is postmaster at Brice, succeeding his father who was postmaster there for some 32 years.

March 1-10, unless they have registered.

2. Institutions which have more than one establishment, such as a chain restaurant organization, have the option of registering all units on one registration form with the local War Price and Rationing Board for the area where it has its principal business office, or of registering such establishments separately with the local board for the area where the establishment is located. Until now, such organizations could group their unit registrations much as they chose.

3. Coffee, sugar and processed foods come under the program at the start and meat will be included in the program when meat rationing opens.

4. New bases are used for computing the institutional users' allotment of coffee and sugar.

5. Allotment periods for all rationed foods are two months each for institutions, beginning March 1st.

Group 2, institutions of involuntary confinement—In such institutions, the problem of controlling the supply of rationed foods is simplified by the circumstance that they have a relatively stable population, and even more so by the fact that they severally operate on a per person food budget. At the time of registration applicants in group 2 declare the number of persons served during December, 1942, the base month in most institutional user calculations. The local War Price and Ration Board multiplies this figure by the allowance per person. The first allotment for the two-month period beginning March 1 is twice the figure thus obtained. The same allotment is granted for the second period.

The allotments for all periods after the first and second will be based on the number of persons served during the two calendar months preceding the date on which applications for new allotments can be made.

Group 3, general group of restaurants and other eating establishments—Problems and operations of the third, or general group of institutional users of rationed foods are more complex than those of boarding houses and institutions of involuntary confinement. The third group includes, for example, restaurants, cafeterias, hotels, refreshment stands and charity establishments. The order determines the amounts of rationed foodstuffs that group 3 institutions may obtain upon the following bases: 1. The quantities of sugar, coffee and processed foods used during December are multiplied by a percentage or "factor", which is determined in accordance with the nation's supplies of rationed foods.

2. The number of persons served during December is multiplied by an allowance per person for each food item.

3. The smaller of the two figures obtained under the two calculations described above becomes the institutional users base.

The allotment of each rationed food for the first period, March 1 to May 1, is twice the base for that food. The same allotment is also given for the second period.

A supplement to the new general rationing order which will be filed shortly will contain the "allowance per person" figures and the "December use factor" to be applied by group.

Under rationing, OPA decided, the amount of rationed foods which a restaurant, and a restaurant patron, can get should not be increased merely because unusually large portions of that food were served in the past. Rationed foods are too scarce for that. Therefore, the per person allowance of rationed foods served becomes a primary consideration in setting the basis for the restaurants food allotments.

EAT WHAT YOU NEED— AND STOCK UP FOR WINTER

• A food shortage in the U. S. A.? It won't happen here if we all grow Victory Gardens. It takes a lot of hard work to have a good garden, but you will be rewarded with fresh vegetables on your table all summer—and a supply of canned goods on the pantry shelves next winter.

Grow the vegetables you won't be able to buy at the corner grocery. Plan a garden of your own or join up with your friends. Everybody will be gardening. If you had a Victory Garden last year, have a bigger one this year. And be sure to ask us about International Harvester's 84-page booklet, "Have a Victory Garden." It's a honey!

County Chairman Aid W.A.A.C. Recruiting

"The desired maximum of recruit production for the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps can be attained only by the utilization of every means of communication and influence," stated Lieutenant Colonel Marvin B. Durette, Commanding Officer of the West Texas Recruiting and Induction District.

County Chairman of the West Texas District are anxious that eligible women contact them for any information regarding enrollment in the WAAC.

"West Texas can place 584 additional fighting men on the battlefield by meeting its quota of WAACs for this quarter," said Lieut. Colonel Durette.

"While chairmen in several West Texas Counties have been able to report that their quotas have been reached and in some cases exceeded, WAAC enrollments have not come up to expectations," Lieut. Colonel Durette further stated. "It's up to the County Chairmen to see that WAAC information is made available to all interested women."

Any details concerning enrollment procedure, requirements, or advantages and opportunities offered by enrollment in the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps may be had by writing to the West Texas Recruiting and Induction District offices in Lubbock or contacting the United States Army Recruiting Stations located in Amarillo, Big Spring, El Paso, Odessa, Pampa, Plainview and Sweetwater.

Texas Farm Products Purchased By FDA

College Station, March 4—Large war-time purchases of Texas farm products during January were reported today by E. L. Upshaw, Austin, state representative for the Food Distribution Adminis-

CASABLANCA CONFERENCE—President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill with high-ranking Army and Navy officers of America and Britain. Here were worked out plans to bring the Axis to unconditional surrender.

Among the larger items were 3,200 bundles of hog casings and 2,040,048 pounds of other meat products; 13,795,000 pounds of livestock feed; 57,535 bales of raw cotton; 1,571,715 pounds of dried whole eggs; 11,800,000 pounds of milled rice; and 2,600,000 pounds of shortening. Other purchases included 1,500,000 pounds of soybean oil; 6,000 gallons of concentrated grapefruit juice; 120,000 pounds of uncolored oleomargarine; 288,950 pounds of wheat flour; and 40,000 pounds of oleo oil.

These commodities were bought for Lend-Lease, territorial food programs, Red Cross and other special programs.

Upshaw added that many Texas farm products are shipped to terminal markets outside the state and are purchased by FDA at these concentration points.

TRAGIC COMEDY

If the people of this country really wanted to control inflation, they could do so.

The country is faced with rising prices. Why? Read the headlines in the newspapers of a single day. A million and a quarter railway workers demand further wage increases. Hundreds of thousands of coal miners demand additional wage increases. One faction of shipyard workers announce they will withdraw their "no strike for the duration" agreement if a National Labor Relations Board decision favors another labor faction. And then, labor leaders call on the President to reduce the cost of living.

They all blame the farmer who is short of machinery, short of farm labor, unable to pay war wages, but charged for everything he buys on a war-wage scale.

Can the result be other than higher prices instead of lower? The situation would be comical if it were not tragic.

Unless we, as individuals and collective groups within the nation, show less greed and more love for our country, it is a total waste of time to talk about controlling inflation—no power on earth can stop it, until the explosion comes.

Texas University Turns Out Many Skilled Workers

There's an assembly line at the University of Texas, too, but it's turning out skilled workers rather than machines.

A minimum of 700 war plant technicians are being trained in special courses offered throughout the state by the University, war training officials have revealed. Workers are being trained as draftsmen, engineers, radio repairmen, aircraft designers, marine architects, sanitary engineers, chemical production supervisors, electrical experts, metallurgists, and personnel supervisors as well as to do a host of other jobs necessary in a war economy.

The courses are government-financed, but the University directs the work and provides instructors. So far, nearly 9,000 persons have completed courses—more than 6,000 of them having taken courses since July 1, 1942.

The majority of the courses have been offered to fit workers for special jobs in the aircraft or shipbuilding industries, since in these two industries there exists a shortage of skilled employees.

Requests for University-directed courses have come from private industry—many persons already working have been selected by their employers' for further training at the University—by the Civil Service Commission, and by both Army and Navy.

Stock raising plays an important part in our war program. We are proud to live among a group of Americans who know the value of better breeding and feeding ideas, and put them into practice so that they can produce the best stock animals that can be had. We can truthfully say . . . Our stockmen are doing their part toward the problem of producing food for Freedom.

The Home Economics Department

By Miss Maurice Berry

Yes, you have your Ration Book No. 2, but are you prepared to use it so that your family will get a nutritionally balanced diet?

Preceding the three days of rationing, the Home Economics girls prepared posters and exhibits, some of which were placed in the hall of the High School Building where registration took place. One very interesting table exhibit was the canned and bottled foods, illustrating the rationed and unrationed products. Around this table were cards showing the point value of the various size cans. This is one thing for the consumer to remember; the more scarce a food is the higher the point value, although the food value and price may be the same. Another exhibit of interest showed how much of the various foods one needs to eat daily in order that the eye sight will not be impaired.

The Home Economics Department prepared recipes and point value of the foods rationed. Through the courtesy of Mr. Larimer, of the Commercial Department, 750 copies were made so that one copy could go to each family who registered.

Thursday, two of the Home-making girls, Ruth Patman and Edith McCrary assisted Miss Berry in serving sandwiches and coffee to the registrars. It was interesting to note how few of that group used sugar. Could it be that rationing has changed their taste?

Many attractive posters were made. Among them were those that demonstrated the importance of food to good health and to victory. Then, we have the placards showing the need of victory gardens, which seem to be the most popular of all. This is probably because many of the girls are preparing real victory gardens as a Home Project. This is an effort that should be encouraged and followed by every family in Texas. We must remember that to be well fed, we must grow our own vegetables and can all surplus foods. To win the war we must produce not only food for our own family, but for at least one man in service. Now is the time to plant a victory garden.

BALLOONS USED LIFE RAFTS FIRST

... Boats Yesterday and Today ...

A score of years ago, when balloon races each year were an important part of the American scene, pilots who sometimes received sudden duckings thought up the life rafts which today are saving many aviators' lives. The balloon (left) was an inflated, ready-to-use raft in its rigging. Today the rafts, like the one on the right flanked by two employees in the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company plant in Akron, are stowed aboard planes in compact packages, and inflated automatically and speedily in case of an emergency.

Target ranges surrounding the world's largest bombardier school, Midland, Texas, are larger in area than the state of New Jersey.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN AMERICAN BUSINESS
By John Craddock

The American drug store is returning to just that—instead of being the combination restaurant, juke-joint and miniature department store that it had become in recent years. Two concurrent developments are bringing this about: First, there is a growing shortage of the non-drug items such as clocks, watches, toasters, waffle irons, flashlights, small electric appliances, and there are sharp restrictions on ice cream, flavoring syrups and candy. Second, with a shortage of doctors who are being called into the armed services, the druggist is regaining his place as the advisor to the public on treatment of minor ailments. Moreover, the shortage of doctors has helped the druggists in their promotion and sale of pharmaceuticals and preventive medicines, particularly vitamin products.

There was good reason for the increased variety of non-drug items sold in drug stores. The people have demanded drug stores near at hand, but have not provided enough strictly drug business to make the operation of a store profitable. The average drug store last year did between 60 and 65 percent of its gross volume in non-drug items. About 20 percent of their sales were of magazines, cigars and cigarettes, and candy. Now, with shortages of non-drug items the druggist must rely more and more upon strictly drug sales for his livelihood. This may become less difficult than it has been because more people will be treating their own ills and will be buying preventive medicines. But it is estimated that 5 percent of the 57,492 drug stores in the country will go out of business by the end of the year.

BRAINS VS FIRE—American bomber and pursuit planes to be flown by pilots in action on battlefronts all over the world are being equipped with a new fire prevention device developed by the Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator Company. It's a new "pressure transmitter" weighing only 15 ounces that eliminates the need for piping raw gasoline and lubricating oil to indicating meters in the cockpit of a plane. Thus these volatile liquids are kept beyond the protective fire wall. According to W. J. McGoldrick, vice-president of the company's aero division, all U. S. aircraft must be equipped with such protection, but shortages of raw materials and difficulties of manufacturing had resulted in serious shortages of previously used equipment. The new design is simple, it is reported, and will save hundreds of man hours in the assembly of every airplane while reducing the cost of pressure indicating equipment by more than a thousand dollars in the case of larger planes and several hundred dollars in single-motored craft.

The secret American bombsight is so constructed that it may be quickly and completely destroyed if plane is shot down over enemy territory.

The manufacture of butter, cheese, and concentrated milk products in Texas has increased from production valued at $81,000 in 1900 to $16,373,909 in 1940, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reports.

March Proclaimed Recruiting Month For WAACs

AUSTIN, March 4—Gov. Coke Stevenson of Texas has joined four other chief executives of states comprising the Eighth Service Command in proclaiming March as Women's Army Auxiliary Corps Recruiting Month.

The action followed an appeal for complete civilian co-operation in the WAAC recruiting drive issued by Major General Richard Donovan, Commanding General of the Eighth Service Command.

"Whereas Major General Donovan has requested all patriotic citizens to observe March as WAAC Recruiting Month, and to bend every effort toward the stimulation of enrollments in the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps," Governor Stevenson wrote.

"Whereas, Texas is an integral part of the Eighth Service Command, and charged with a large share of the responsibility of furnishing womanpower for the WAAC, and,

"Whereas—Texas has always fulfilled its obligations to the nation, and its people recognize the need of utilizing the skills and aptitudes of women as well as men in the service of our country during this greatest of all emergencies;

"Now, therefore, I—do hereby proclaim—March as WAAC Recruiting Month in Texas, and call upon all citizens for sincere participation in, and wholehearted support of this vitally important effort."

Similar proclamations were signed simultaneously by the governors of Arkansas, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Louisiana.

Army officers said the proclamations would touch off continued and intensive recruiting campaigns to fill the Eighth Service Command's quota of 8,000 WAAC enrollees during the first quarter of 1943.

TO THE PRODUCERS OF DONLEY COUNTY:

Walter J. Flynt, Secretary
Donley County ACA

I should like to talk to you about Crop Insurance in this article. Cotton is a gambler's crop. Cotton can promise more, and make less, or promise less and make more than any other crop grown. This is the reason that during a war with high prices and high living costs, farmers cannot afford to take a chance of losing a crop without protection.

This program was offered for the first time in 1942, and is the first time in history a widespread program has been offered to farmers that will cover all natural hazards that will destroy or partially destroy a cotton crop. This program is designed to give farmers a cash income when crops are destroyed by unavoidable causes. With Cotton Crop Insurance cotton farmers can't be broke, because he will have at least enough income to carry on another year. Insurance must be a good thing, as more than 40,000 Texas farmers insured in 1942, covering more than 54,000 farms.

No other Insurance offers the coverage that the government offers under this program. Not only is it insured against all natural hazards, but it is insured from the time it is planted until it is weighed in at the gin. This seems to me full protection. From the time a farmer puts his good seed into the ground until he harvests his crop, he is risking his money, time, labor, seed and wear and tear on his machinery.

If after paying into the Corporation over a consecutive period of years, an amount equal to the indemnity on the farm if you had a total loss, your premium will be cut in half. This would mean that you could take 75% insurance for a little less than twice what 50% insurance would cost you. This provision is put in the program to encourage farmers to keep insuring every year, and only is good

Red Cross Needs $125,000,000 To Finance Wartime Program

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Faced with the greatest wartime program in history, the American Red Cross will launch its 1943 War Fund appeal for $125,000,000 on March 1, Chairman Norman H. Davis has announced.

Pointing out that the bulk of the fund will be used to expand Red Cross services to the men of the armed forces and their families, Chairman Davis urged every American man and woman to contribute to the fund.

With the approval of President Roosevelt, who also is President of the American Red Cross, the month of March is being observed as Red Cross Month. Walter S. Gifford, president of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, is chairman of the Red Cross 1943 War Fund.

"Red Cross services to our armed forces and to the needs of distressed civilians on the battle and home fronts can be supplied only by great expenditures and sacrifices," Chairman Davis said. "We are exerting our utmost efforts to accomplish these tasks with the least possible drain upon the resources of the people in funds, time and energy. We must never falter in our determination to meet these definite obligations. The Red Cross is confident that all our people will be generous in their support of the 1943 War Fund."

More than 65 percent of the fund received by the national organization will be devoted to meeting Red Cross responsibilities to the armed forces. These include the Red Cross overseas club program, recreation and hospital program, the stationing of field directors at all foreign and domestic military camps and bases, the huge surgical dressing production program, and the blood plasma project which recently was expanded to a total of 4,000,000 pints at the request of the Army and Navy.

Chairman Davis pointed out that the 1943 program will be vastly greater than the accomplishments of last year, in which the Red Cross aided millions of war victims through its foreign war relief program; gave aid to thousands of prisoners of war; collected 1,500,000 pints of blood for the armed forces; produced $20,000,000 surgical dressings, and aided more than 1,500,000 servicemen and their families.

The $125,000,000 quota, he said, will finance the local, national and international work of the Red Cross for the entire year, barring unforeseen emergencies.

CIVIL SERVICE INFORMATION

Making sweeping changes in examinations recently announced to facilitate recruiting, the Civil Service Commission liberalized the requirements for photostat and blueprint operators to include persons with 3 months' experience or 80 hours' appropriate training, and revealed that it will no longer be necessary for accounting and auditing assistants to take a written test, according to Mr. Hayes local civil service secretary at the post office.

Men and women who have had 2 to 4 years of technical experience or college study in agriculture are sought for government work in Washington, D. C. and other parts of the country.

Salaries, including overtime pay for a 48-hour week, range from $1971 to $2433 a year.

when a man has an unbroken period of years. It shows the Crop Insurance Corporation that you are really trying to make a cotton crop, and that you are on a low risk farm.

From information from the Marketing Quota clerk, we find that to date that farmers in this county have ginned 14,666 bales of cotton. This is approximately 1,666 bales more cotton than was made in 1941.

The Secretary of Agriculture has decided to take Marketing Quota off of wheat. This means that wheat farmers are not forced, under penalty of not being able to sell their wheat without paying a high tax, to stay within their allotments. The reason for this change is that much feed is needed for livestock in all sections of the country, and wheat is very good feed if fed right, and is especially high in protein.

Community Committeemen are now out in the field with War Board Plan Sheets, and Farm Plan Sheets. Please try to contact your committeeman, and make a date with him so that he will not have to hunt you up. (Continued from Front page) went on. "Now it seems strange to me that if a buck private or an officer fell down on the job he would be court martialed, how then can the guilty parties who knowingly contrive to slow down or stop production be permitted to go scot free?"

He said that while he was on active duty with the Navy he saw the need for more planes, and commented that he went on one mission with 11 planes when 100 were needed.

"It seems that there are still many who spend more time thinking of fat profits than they do about Hitler and Hirohito," Worley told the House.

"There are still some in this country who believe that they have God-given right to cash in on the tragedy of war," he said.

Worley's bill, quite similar to one he introduced shortly before Pearl Harbor, provides that if findings of the War Labor Board are violated by either management or labor and that if it might cause an interruption of production the government shall take over operation of the plant in question.

"My bill would guarantee the continuous production of any war weapons regardless of how long labor and management might be involved in dangerous and delaying disputes," he said.

FEEDING THE DAIRY HERD FOR MORE MILK PRODUCTION

A well-balanced feeding program for a dairy herd should comprise about one-third hay or silage, one-third pasture and one-third concentrates. This is the suggestion of G. G. Gibson, dairyman for the A&M College Extension Service.

A Jersey cow weighing about 1,000 pounds will eat about 20 pounds of dry matter in roughages daily. If this is obtained from tender green grass containing 85 per cent of water, the cow would have to eat 134 pounds of grass. If gotten from silage she would have to eat 60 pounds daily. The sum of this is that one pound of hay is equivalent to three pounds of silage, and about six pounds of green grass based on the dry matter contained.

Hay should be fed the year round, Gibson advises, even when cows are on good pasture. In that case they will not eat much hay, but the moment the pasture begins to fail they start eating more, if the hay is before them. Experiments show that production of milk was maintained more evenly where cows had access to hay at all times.

Good green grass is the best and cheapest feed for a dairy cow. But, Gibson points out, the catch in that is that a high producing cow cannot hold enough grass to entirely meet her requirements. Accordingly, it is necessary to feed some dry roughage and concentrate feeds additionally.

Since a pound of digestible nutrients from roughage is as valuable as a corresponding amount of concentrates, and usually much cheaper, as much as possible of the feed requirements should be sought from roughages. Dairy-men agree that more of them fall down on the roughage requirement than on any other part of the herd feeding program, Gibson says. Pasture management designed to control brush and weeds to permit grass to grow, plus one ton of hay and three tons of silage per cow will correct this. If silage isn't available, provide two tons of hay.

CIVIL SERVICE ANNOUNCEMENT

Written civil service examinations are not required for bacteriologists, auditors, accountants, technical and scientific aids, marketing specialists, multilith cameraman-plate-makers and multilith press operators Mr. Elmer G. Hayes, local civil service secretary emphasized today, urging qualified men and women with appropriate education and experience to file their applications with the Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C.

Salaries range from $1752 to $6500 a year for these positions.

In answer to many inquiries for foreign civilian service, Mr. Hayes pointed out that Pearl Harbor and Panama jobs remain open for skilled tradesmen and laborers who are not engaged in war work of equal skill.

Free training programs taught by expert commercial instructors and sponsored by federal agencies in Washington, D. C. to give clerical employees better opportunities attract many stenographers and typists seeking higher training and work at the same time, Mr. Hayes said.

Women 17½ years old, and up, may take the stenographer-typist test at any first or second class post office and begin work within 96 hours in Washington, D. C. at $1752 or $1971 a year.

Texans drink a lot of "soda pop"—enough to put the Texas non-alcoholic beverages industry out in first place in the nation, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research has found. The 307 non-alcoholic beverage plants in Texas in 1940 manufactured products valued at $24,459,290.

Training for the cadet bombardiers at the Midland AAF Bombardier School, Texas, includes the bombing of Tokyo. "Tokyo" is a scale-model reproduction of the real thing, set up on the school's vast prairie target range.

Leaders To Help Explain Rationing

Texas' 60,000 neighborhood and community leaders serving as links in the nation's human chain of communication will be called on to help acquaint rural families of the state with the "why" and "how" of rationing, Director H. H. Williamson of the A&M College Extension Service has notified county extension agents.

Leaflets explaining the rationing program are being furnished the Victory leaders, through cooperation of the Office of Price Administration. The OPA recently announced that actual rationing of commercially processed fruits and vegetables will begin March 1, and retail sales of the foods to be rationed will be frozen beginning February 20.

In his letter to the state's 562 county workers, Mr. Williamson emphasized the need for helping farm families increase their home-produced food supplies and spend their food coupons wisely. In spite of the limitations on the purchase of certain foods, bountiful home production and wise buying will assure well-balanced, nutritious, and protective diets, he said.

Point rationing will make living and buying more complicated to many homemakers. They will have to figure and budget to pay for products twice -- with money and with ration stamps. However, planning meals by the week will aid in stretching both stamps and money and in saving time, worry, and energy.

"Rationing is for the protection of us all. It is the only way every one can be assured his fair share of the food available," Director Williamson observed.

Only four state universities outrank the University of Texas in the size of their libraries, Donald Coney, librarian, has announced. Texas, with 702,000 volumes, is listed after Illinois, with 1,307,000 volumes; Minnesota, 1,222,000; California, 1,171,000; and Michigan, 1,169,000.

About The Butter Situation

College Station — An average American ate 16 pounds of butter last year, but he will be lucky to get 13 pounds during 1943, Louise Bryant, home management specialist for the A&M College Extension Service said in a radio broadcast this week.

In areas where the population has increased considerably because of war industries, consumers can expect even less than 13 pounds, unless better means of distribution are worked out or butter is rationed, the specialist speculated. She explained Secretary Wickard's recent order providing that 30 per cent of the nation's butter supply is to be reserved for military and lend-lease use. This does not apply to farm families who make butter at home or to small creameries. It affects creameries which produced more than 12,000 pounds of butter in any one month since January of last year.

Of the 30 per cent of U. S. butter supplies reserved, two thirds will go to U. S. fighting forces, one third to U. S. possessions, the United Nations, and to the Red Cross.

Cigarettes in the hands of careless smokers lead the list in causes of fire and damage in the home.

The cost of hired laborers and hired machines on a farm and the part of the board which is purchased for hired laborers are deductible. The value of products furnished by the farm and used in the board of hired laborers is not a deductible expense. Rations purchased and furnished to laborers or sharecroppers are deductible as a part of the labor expense. Amounts paid to persons engaged in household work to the extent that their services are used in boarding and otherwise caring for farm laborers are deductible, but amounts paid for services of such employees engaged in caring for the farmer's own household are not deductible expense.

Amounts expended in the development of farms, orchards, and ranches prior to the time when the productive state is reached may be regarded as investments of capital. The cost of planting trees, as well as the amounts expended by a farmer in the restoration of soil fertility preparatory to actual production of crops and the cost of liming soil to increase productivity over a period of years are capital expenditures; but the cost of commercial fertilizers, the benefit of which is of short duration and which have to be used every year or so, even after a farm reaches the productive state, is deductible as an expense.

Amounts expended in purchasing work, breeding, or dairy animals are regarded as investments of capital and may be depreciated unless such animals are included in inventory.

Farm Labor Program Is Announced

Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard, national food administrator, has called on the A&M College Extension Service to assist with a gigantic program for the placement and training of farm and non-farm labor for tending and harvesting 1943 crops. G. E. Adams, vice director, and C. Hohn, assistant state agent, said recently upon their return from a St. Louis conference devoted to the government's new program designed to remove some of the hazards from the farm labor situation.

In general, the program involves the recruiting and placing of local rural labor, promoting more efficient use of all farm labor that is available, and the placement of non-farm youth in the Victory Farm Volunteers and the proposed Women's Land Army composed of non-farm women. Mobilization of a crop corps of 3,500,000 workers in the United States this year is regarded as probable.

A survey of labor resources available and of possible labor needs during various seasons of the year will be made by county Extension Service offices over the state. Use of Texas' "human chain of information" to farm families, set up last May by County Agricultural Victory Councils, will be sought.

"Our food situation may become so serious that farmers will welcome the help of inexperienced labor," Mr. Adams said.

Greater Demand For Cotton

An actual shortage of some staple lengths of cotton, a shortage of cottonseed products and a potential demand for all the short staple length cotton that is now on hand should completely eliminate the "bugaboo" of a cotton surplus, Dr. A. B. Cox, University of Texas cotton marketing expert, has declared.

"On December 31, there was on hand in the United States, about 17,500,000 bales of lint cotton," Dr. Cox explained. "Consumption and exports from January 1 to July 31 will approximate 7,800,000 bales, leaving a carryover of about 9,700,000 bales in the United States."

At the rate of present consumption and export there is need for a total carryover in mills and channels of trade on August 1 of from five to six million bales of cotton of the qualities being used, Dr. Cox estimated. However, the bulk of the cotton which may therefore be considered "surplus" is of shorter than 3/8 inch staple.

"Experience after the last war, when we had a similar accumulation of low-grade cotton," Dr. Cox said, "showed there was a tremendous demand in Europe for that cotton immediately after the war ended, for they wanted the cheapest cotton they could buy. Advice indicate that so far not many cotton spindles in Europe have been destroyed."

At the present rate of consumption, there will be an actual shortage of cotton of the 15/16 and 31/32 inch staple lengths, Dr. Cox asserted.

"The excess supply of cotton in the United States on July 31, when measured in terms of United States consumption and an additional disappearance for the year of 1,500,000 bales, will not exceed 4,000,000 bales, and the bulk of that is low grade short staple cotton in the hands of the government," Dr. Cox declared.

In the meantime, an alarming shortage of cottonseed products makes the need for more cotton obvious. The dairy industry in Texas is suffering from an acute shortage of feed, and the government has taken all linters for munitions, and still the demand is not equalled, Dr. Cox said.

Federal Income Tax Information

Series No. 9

A farmer who operates a farm for profit is entitled to deduct from gross income as necessary expenses all amounts expended (other than those constituting capital expenditures) in the carrying on of the business of farming. The cost of feeding and raising livestock may be treated as an expense deduction insofar as such costs represent actual outlay, but not including the value of farm produce grown upon the farm or the labor of the taxpayer. Also deductible is the cost of seed, minor repairs to farm buildings (other than the dwelling of the farmer), and small tools used up in the course of a short period.

The cost of fuel and oil used for farm work, as well as repairs and maintenance of farm machinery, is deductible as a business expense; but the cost of farm ma-

Fireless Cookers Again On Job

College Station — With another World War in progress, the fireless cooker is coming into its own again.

Hazel Phipps, specialist in food preparation for the A&M College Extension Service, says reports are reaching her about increased home-construction of this inexpensive, safe, and efficient device. In Denton County, for example, Mrs. Edna W. Trigg, county home demonstration agent emerita, has been besieged with requests for help in making fireless cookers. She is an "old hand at the job," she says, for she helped with the construction of hundreds of cookers as one of the pioneer county Extension agents during the first World War.

A fireless cooker is simply a well-insulated box which keeps the heat in and the cold air out, Miss Phipps explains. It is best suited to the preparation of dishes that need long slow cooking—such as baked beans, soups, stews. Or it can be used for cooking the less tender cuts of meat and cereals.

With the aid of the cooker, busy homemakers can put certain types of dishes in the cooker, go about her farm work during the day, and in the evening find the main part of her meal ready to eat, the specialist continues. Canteen workers can use fireless cookers to keep food warm when it is cooked in one place and served in another.

Directions on constructing and using a fireless cooker can be obtained from any county home demonstration agent.

Scat, Gremlins!

You say there ain't no such thing as farm gremlins? Maybe not—but our boys in the air forces are well acquainted with these imps who ice airplane wings, frost windshields, and slyly drink gasoline out of the tanks. Farmers who are part of the "ground crew" in World War II are having plenty of troubles too—tires wearing out, truck motors needing new parts, not enough gasoline, etc. Whether from gremlins or not, the troubles are all too real. The County Farm Transportation Committee says if you have troubles that are hampering transportation of vital farm produce, be sure to see them immediately and they'll do their best to help. And, study the booklet, "America's Trucks—Keep 'Em Rolling."

More Milk For Butter Is Goal For Dairymen

A shortage of butter for civilians has cast its shadows of late. This was most noticeable because it came at the season's low production period and prevailing high demand.

The amount of butter which can be made depends upon the volume of milk produced. Texas dairymen have been asked to produce two per cent more than they did in 1942. Some may be inquiring how they can do it, faced as they are with less labor than in normal times.

County Agent H. M. Breedlove of the Texas A&M College Extension Service says that the best know way is attention to better feeding. A small, well-fed herd may produce as much, or more, milk than a large one less well fed. Weeding out unprofitable cows return larger profit on feed.

"The cheapest feed for a dairy cow," Breedlove said, "is good permanent pasture of the kind which enables her to get all she wants in about two hours of grazing. But as permanent pastures will not last the year 'round, temporary pastures should be provided for as a supplement. Sudan grass serves best in summer and early fall, and small grains, such as oats, barley and wheat for winter and early spring. Further, a cow needs some concentrated feed along with pasture to provide milk-making elements not furnished by grass alone.

"When pastures are lacking, sil-

Teachers' Conference Limited To One Day

CANYON, Feb. 24 — School teachers of the Panhandle will limit their annual Northwest Texas Conference for Education to a single day this year—March 19. The sessions will be held in Amarillo under the direction of Dr. A. M. Meyer of West Texas State College, president of the Conference.

Wartime problems of the public schools will occupy most of the attention of the teachers. General sessions will be held in the morning and in the evening. There will be luncheon at noon and sectional meetings starting at 3:30 o'clock. Most meetings will be held at Amarillo High School and in the First Baptist Church.

Featured speakers this year will include Dr. L. A. Pechstein, dean of the College of Education at the University of Cincinnati; Dr. Bernice Moore, sociologist of the University of Texas; and F. L. Moffett, president of the Texas State Teachers Association.

COUNTY USDA WAR BOARDS SET UP LOAN PROGRAM

College Station, March 4—Machinery has been set up and funds are available for supplemental agriculture credit through the County War Boards and the revived Regional Agricultural Credit Corporation to encourage maximum production of essential war commodities, it is announced by the State War Board.

Most of the County War Boards have approved loan representatives for the "R.A.C.C." and laid plans for loans to be made and serviced.

This new source of credit "is not a substitute for other sources nor is it intended to compete with other lenders," the announcement states. "Loans will be made if they enable the borrower to engage in or increase his production of essential agricultural commodities. The purpose is to supplement other sources of credit where needed."

Individual loans will be made to qualified producers whose farming operations afford "every reasonable assurance that the indebtedness will be repaid." Loans are for one season, with renewals under proper circumstances. The interest rate will be five per cent and collateral will be first liens on commodities, livestock or other items financed. Loans are not for debt refinancing, purchase of real estate or extensive improvements.

Under one phase of the program, encouragement is given to production of certain high risk war crops or essential crops the farmer might not otherwise undertake. Under special terms of loans on specified crops, the liability of the borrower is limited in cases of crop failure where diligent application of good husbandry practices and terms of the agreement have been followed.

A "greenhouse" is not only a place where plants are raised. It also is the name given to the bombardier's nest in the nose of a bombing plane.

Texas Grain Mill Industry Grows

Texas is close to the top nationally in the manufacture of flour and other grain-mill products, ranking third in number of employees and fifth in value added by manufacture, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reports.

Data on the Texas grain-mill industry came as the result of a series of census studies now being compiled by the Bureau, directed by Dr. A. B. Cox.

"The total number of establishments engaged in milling grain products has declined since 1900," Dr. Cox pointed out, "but this is to be expected in an age of consolidation and concentration of industry. The 67 establishments in business in 1940 employed 2,649 persons as compared with the 815 workers in 120 plants in 1900."

The salaries and wages of flour mill workers in 1940 amounted to $3,412,811, while products manufactured were valued at $41,250,858 and the value added by manufacture was $9,869,230. Among 106 Texas industries, milling ranked 12th in number of employees and 8th in the value added by manufacture.

"The milling industry includes establishments engaged primarily in the manufacture of flour, meal, and feed from wheat, corn and other grains, including mills whose chief products are cracked and ground grain for stock and poultry feed," Dr. Cox explained.

Flour, milling is one of the pioneer industries of Texas, but it has been revolutionized in recent years by scientific milling processes. Its extra-ordinary growth in recent years is largely explained by the development of high-protein hard wheat on the Panhandle plains, Dr. Cox declared.

Texas gained 36.3 per cent from 1930 to 1940 in number of wage earners as compared with a United States gain of .52 per cent. The grain-mill industry declined 24.8 per cent in value added by manufacture for the United States as a whole during this decade, but Texas "held its own," as value added by manufacture remained substantially unchanged, the Bureau report indicated.

Care For Trucks Not In Service Is Urged

Specific rules for the care of trucks not in service were issued today by N. F. Nelson, District Manager, Office of Defense Transportation, division of motor transport. Trucks temporarily idle should be properly cared for to insure against their deterioration, he said. Careful maintenance will preserve them for re-entry into useful war work.

The first rule calls for storage places which give the trucks complete protection from the weather. As an added precaution, they should be covered by paper or cloth to keep dust and dirt from getting into the moving parts.

Cooling systems should be drained and flushed and the fuel tanks and lines also should be emptied to prevent sediment formations.

An ounce of lubricating oil should be poured into each cylinder and the engine slowly turned over to give the cylinder and piston walls a protective coating. Oil should be applied also to all other moving parts which are accessible, while grease should be left in transmissions and differentials. Unpainted parts of the chassis should be coated with grease.

Mr. Nelson recommended the clutch be disengaged and the emergency brake released. Batteries should be removed for periodic servicing. They should be checked every three weeks during hot weather, every six weeks in cold weather.

Tires should not be deflated but wheels and tires should be removed and stored in a horizontal position in a cool, dark place.

And another thing that seldom turns out as expected is the automobile on the road ahead of you.

Ten Thousandth Training Plane Built In Texas

The ten thousandth of North American Aviation's training planes, known as "Texans," now is in service, J. H. Kindelberger, president of the aircraft firm, announced this week.

Production of more than 10,000 planes of one series, all evolving from and perpetuating the same basic design, is believed to be a world's record for aircraft output. The total includes both complete airplanes and equivalent airplanes produced as spare parts, Mr. Kindelberger explained. The planes are used by the air forces of 27 United Nations.

Since September 1, 1941, the Texans have been produced exclusively by North American's Dallas division, which delivered its first three planes of the trainer series on April 7, 1941. Before the Dallas plant was opened, the trainer was built at North American's California plant at Inglewood.

"Completion of that ten thousandth plane was a significant milestone in the American aviation industry," Mr. Kindelberger said. "When ten thousand airplanes of one basic type can be built in such a short span of time, there is reason for sound optimism that American's aircraft industry can do the unbelievable job expected of it to assure the United Nations of airmadas of the size, speed and striking power necessary to clear the skies of Axis planes throughout the world."

CHARLEY ALLEN is a business man... and a good one. But such gymnastics aren't exactly his line. Hopping, he finds, is hard work... and detracts from his business. However, it's an excellent test of his sense of balance although it doesn't make much sense:

Charley Allen is proving that he is qualified to do business with the bureaucrats.

Many West Texans in all walks of life are being introduced to a new variation of the old "hop, skip and jump" remembered from school days. It never became popular with top athletes who considered it "silly"... even "crazy".

Revival of this form of gymnastic in conducting the Nation's domestic affairs in time of emergency, and while fighting for survival, likewise is believed ridiculous by more and more thousands of people.

The hop-skip-jumpers, long bent on pet socialistic experimentation, are waging a fierce fight to "save face". But West Texans and all Americans are asking:

Why haven't brains and know-how come to the top in domestic affairs as they have in military affairs?

Our country needs men and women with training and experience in production and distribution problems to fill the vital posts just as the war has proved it needs trained and experienced men to lead our armies on the field of battle.

Of course we're proud that our industry has met every test and that it is filling Uncle Sam's wartime requirements ahead of schedule in addition to your normal peacetime needs... all without rationing and without increase in cost.

It is the accomplishment of experienced, trained men and women under well-balanced business management—the system that made America great.
