George C. Betts, Director, Veterans' State Service Office, Austin, Texas, announces that his department is daily extending services to include veterans of World War No. 2 and their dependents.

Mr. Betts states that dependents are entitled to death benefits on a war base. Widows and minor children are eligible for pension, with six month's death gratuity pay, and pensions are also payable to the veteran's mother and father, in the event they are cases as being dependent within the meaning of the law. If the veteran was not survived by a widow or minor child, in

1942 CONVENTION STORY GIVEN TO LIONS CLUB

The story of the 1942 District Convention of Lions Clubs in District 2-T, held last week at Odessa, and participated in by delegates from the Clarendon Club, was the main feature of Tuesday's luncheon program of the Clarendon Lions Club.

Lion Lee Bell, who with President McHenry Lane and Cap Morris represented the local organization, at the convention, made the report. Graphically, Lion Bell outlined the entertainment and business sessions of the Odessa meeting, and called it one of the most inspiring conventions it had ever been his privilege to attend.

New members introduced to the club were Dr. J. Gordon Stewart, Bill Weatherly, Tom Helton and George Wayne Estlack. Initiation was announced for a later date.

Lions Ted P. Dudley and H. "Hop" Hall of Hedley were visitors for the day and the former made a personal invitation to the Clarendon Lions to attend the Charter Night program of the newly organized Hedley club on the evening of June 4th at the high school auditorium in Hedley.

Lion Morris made an announcement concerning the new all-county drive for scrap metal for war use, under the direction of the war board of the county.

Lion Miller announced the annual Memorial Service, sponsored by the American Legion, next Sunday evening at the First Christian Church at 8:45, with Rev. E. L. Moody, pastor of the First Baptist Church bringing the message. City churches are participating by calling in their regular evening services, and a union choir will furnish the music.

BALLEW AND SMITH NAMED DISTRICT FFA OFFICERS

Jack Ballew and Joe Smith were named secretary and second vice-president of the Memphis FFA district for 1942-1943 organization in a meeting of that group at Memphis Thursday, May 21st. Smith is president and Ballew vice president of the local FFA Chapter for 1942-1943. The two youths represented the local chapter at the annual spring meeting.

The FFA Chapters of the district were scored on their accomplishments for the past year at the meeting, and for fourth consecutive year, Clarendon was awarded Lone Star Chapter rating, the award given annually to outstanding groups throughout the state. The local chapter did not participate for state ranking this year after having been selected as the outstanding group in the state for the past two years.

Rev. J. O. Quattlebaum returned Tuesday from a business trip to Slaton.

FFA MEMBERS DO PART IN VICTORY FOOD PRODUCTION

The forty five members of the Clarendon FFA Chapter did their part in the "Food For Victory" production during the school project year from July 1 1941 to May 25, 1942. They provided through their projects enough food to provide beef, pork, eggs, clothing, mutton, dairy products, and the trimmings for thousands of soldiers.

In pork projects alone, they produced and marketed over 152,000 pounds of top swine. Forty five boys fed out 582 pigs to reach this total. Fourteen boys produced a total of 17,000 pounds of beef, seven boys produced twenty two bales of cotton, fourteen produced 31,000 gallons of milk from 33 registered Jersey cows; thirty two produced 208 tons of grain sorghums, from 210 acres, fifteen produced 90,000 eggs from 528 pullets, twelve boys produced and marketed 2,950 pounds of mutton from 33 lambs, forty five members produced 882 weaner pigs from 68 registered sows, two produced 210 pounds of wool and 3 lambs from 18 ewes, and an addition twenty seven are now in charge of a "victory" garden on their home farm. Chapter members also paid for and provided six registered boars and three registered Jersey bulls for community patrons in building up by their members and the up livestock production.

The Food Stamp program, Mr. Boyd said, helps to assure farmers a fair return for those products which they are being asked to produce in greatly increased quantities to meet the food needs of the United Nations. Currently serving more than 3,324,000 persons over the entire country, the program gives farmers a fair return for those products which they are being asked to produce in greatly increased quantities to meet the food needs of the United Nations. Currently serving more than 3,324,000 persons over the entire country, the program gives farmers wider domestic markets for their crops, and at the same time adds needed foods to the diets of public-aid families.

ALLRED OUTLINES HIS PLATFORM IN SENATE RACE

AUSTIN — All-out support of the war effort, benefits to men in service and "planning now" for the readjustment to come after the war were set forth in the platform of James V. Allred in filing for a place on the ballot as candidate for junior United States senator.

Allred's platform calls for uninterrupted production of war materials 24 hours a day, seven days a week. He said he was against strikes or slowdowns by either capital or labor, unreasonable profits and cartel agreements.

For men in the service, Former Governor Allred proposes insurance without deduction from pay, transportation without cost from the training camp to the nearest town or city, laundry service without cost, employment and educational opportunities upon discharge.

He called for immediate efforts to provide for all persons or concerns dislocated under the war economy and extension of government credit to little businesses thus affected; and after the war a program to provide employment and readjustment to an industrial and agricultural economy.

"We must write and enforce a peace that shall insure our children against the recurrence of the tragedy of war," he said. Allred opens his speaking campaign with a rally in his home town of Wichita Falls on June 2.

RUMORS UNFOUNDED THAT COTTON ALLOTMENT WILL BE INCREASED HERE

Persistent rumors that cotton allotment will be increased were branded as unfounded today by Walter Flynt, ACA secretary who said that his office had not been notified of such action.

Flynt said that should such action be taken farmers would be notified as soon as possible.

John Goldston was carried to St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo for medical treatment Wednesday afternoon. No report had been received on his condition today.

FOOD STAMPS FOR JUNE ANNOUNCED

Irish potatoes, apples and pears are removed from Blue Stamp list.

Blue stamp foods available during June to families taking part in the Food Stamp program in Donley County were announced today by Mr. Dan L. Boyd, Area Supervisor of the Agricultural Marketing Administration.

The foods for June are the same as those listed for May except for fresh apples and fresh pears, removed because of a seasonal short supply position, and Irish potatoes, removed because of increasingly favorable price positions no longer warrants additional market support. With these changes, the complete list, as issued by the Agricultural Marketing Administration for the period June 1 through June 30 in all stamp program areas, is as follows: shell eggs, butter, fresh oranges and grapefruit, sweet potatoe, fresh vegetables (does not include Irish potatoes), corn meal, dried prunes, hominy (corn) grits, dry edible beans, wheat flour, enriched wheat flour, self-rising flour, enriched self-rising flour, and whole wheat (graham) flour.

REVIVAL CLOSED AT METHODIST CHURCH SUNDAY

As previously announced the revival of the past week at the Methodist Church came to a close Sunday at the evening service. Rev. C. E. Jameson of Carlsbad, New Mexico, and well known in the Panhandle of Texas, was the guest preacher, and brought some powerful, old fashioned gospel sermons during the week, at the morning and evening hours.

Rev. J. O. Quattlebaum, Jr., pastor of the church, said the series of services brought a fine spiritual tone to the members and visitors who furnished a good attendance for all the services. The immediate, visible results were one conversion and addition to the church, with some others in prospect.

The singing of the young people at the evening hour was an inspiring feature of the meeting. Showing their appreciation for the fine, brotherly ministry of Rev. Mr. Jameson, the congregation gave him a suitable free-will cash purse at the close of the series of services.

The course is given for the purpose of summer projects which the girls start during this time and check them in in September. The class meets twice a week and if the work is approved one-half credit is given.

At this time the girls are busy with Red Cross sewing, but after that is completed they plan to re-decorate the dressing room which was damaged by the storm last spring.

County-Wide Campaign Launched For Scrap Iron June 1 To 6

Donley County citizens will roll up their sleeves for vigorous participation in the "scrap to whip the Jap" drive, scheduled for June 1 through June 6.

Forrest Sawyer, chairman of the salvage committee said this morning the campaign would be the largest ever attempted in this community and old scrap metal, is expected to pour into concentration points as every person makes a special effort to aid in the war program.

Meetings have been held this week and all civic clubs and charitable organizations have been asked to cooperate in the drive. The clubs will collect scrap and funds for its sale will be pledged to the organization's efforts.

The vital point, leaders of the movement declared, is to get the material to factories where it can be turned into war goods.

Mr. Sawyer is being assisted in the campaign by C. B. Morris, R. Y. King, Charles Lowry, Charles Rains, W. C. Payne and Clark Cook. Additional aid will come through workers in the county-wide communications system recently set-up by H. M. Breedlove. The communications system will furnish approximately 150 leaders for the movement.

The drive is a program of the people themselves, the county chairman said, but is being sponsored by the USDA War Board of which Nolie Simmons is chairman. Others on the board are J. E. Burch, secretary; Forrest Sawyer, Olle Hommel and H. M. Breedlove.

The vacant lot in front of the court house and south of Dawkins machine shop will be one of the concentration points for the Clarendon vicinity. There will be one of the concentration points for Hedley, Ashola, and Lella Lake.

Letters are being mailed to every person in the county advising them to stack the old iron. Several of the organizations plan to erect signs by their salvage piles in order that donors may give to any group they wish. In this way needed money will be received by the Red Cross, USO, Navy Relief, etc.

HOWARD STRAWN IS AIR FORCE LIEUT.

Howard Strawn, former Clarendon High School football star, last week received the coveted silver wings and a Second Lieutenant's commission in the United States Air Corp Reserve.

Strawn was graduated from the Air Force Advanced Flying School Training at Luke Field, Phoenix, Arizona, and received his commission in ceremonies Thursday morning, May 21.

Strawn is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Strawn and after completing high school here finished Clarendon Junior College and attended Texas Tech at Lubbock.

Navy Club Is Arranging Store Design For Men In Service

The Navy Club of Donley County is arranging a pre-Flag Day window display, comprising pictures of local men who are serving with the armed forces.

This display will be shown in Green's Dry Goods Store from Wednesday, June 10 through Sunday June 14. It is requested that pictures of your sons, husbands or brothers, serving in the army, navy, marines or coast guard, be submitted to Mrs. D. E. Caraway at her home on East First street on or before June 9th. Your pictures will be carefully handled and protected, and you may call for them at Mrs. Caraway's on Monday, June 15th. Upon submitting the picture, it is further requested that you place a small card or slip of paper at the bottom of the photo, giving the name and rate of the man. It is believed this display will be of great interest to all local persons, and the co-operation of the relatives will be greatly appreciated.

The Navy Club has started a collection of scrap metal at the Dawkins Blacksmith shop. Contributions to this collection may be made by taking your salvage to this location. At the close of the drive, this metal will be sold, the proceeds to go to the navy relief society. Mr. Forrest Sawyer contributed the first load of iron, which has been placed at the base of the Navy Relief sign that designates the location of this salvage center. This collection serves the double purpose of supplying our fighting men with vital equipment and affords you an opportunity to further aid a worthy and important cause.

OUR ARMY—THE FINEST EVER

In recent weeks it has been the fortune of this writer to see a great many soldiers and sailors in several sections of the country, and found from their own testimony that since they come from every part of the nation, they were truly a cross-section of our armed forces—an average without question.

This observation leads us to the conclusion that the armed forces of the United States in 1942 are without doubt the finest from any standpoint that has ever worn the uniform of this country, except that of courage, and they are not behind in that noble quality.

Soldiers and sailors in past wars have been called more or less sordid in morals, lustful and profane, and no honest observer would assert that our forces today are totally without that unfortunate tendency. But, as a group, they are fine and clean, intelligent and resourceful, respectful and reverent to the point that they are better fitted to defend the better ideals of life and civilization than any army ever was at any period of time.

We ought to thank God for such an array of splendid young manhood. The finest army and navy ever to represent America deserves the top-notch support of a high-grade citizenship.

HEADS UP AND BE READY TO DELIVER

It will be well for the people of this community to keep an alert attitude about any effort to secure participation in the war effort, by the location of some government establishment for Clarendon.

One thing is certain, if some branch of the government service, the army or the navy, should decide to consider our community, an inspection will be made, and we will be told, clearly and fairly what will be required of us—and don't let anybody tell you that we'll get something for nothing.

The government services do not permit a "skin-game" in matters relative to field, camp or industrial sites, and Clarendon will be fully protected in all matters, in line with that policy.

Misinformed, ill-advised, and sour-grape folks that have a perverted attitude about co-operating with the war victory program, do not deserve the tolerance of thinking people, and should be accorded no credence, whatever.

Keep your heads up, be co-operative, and stand ready to deliver if and when our community gets a concrete proposition from the army, the navy, some bureau, or some accredited contractor with our government. And don't be too impatient—many cities in Texas have labored and waited a year before achieving their community aims.

RUMORS—TOO MANY OF THEM

There has been a rumor afloat that work on the fields and camps

designated in the Panhandle, have been cancelled, or held-up, when as a matter of fact full speed is being made by the huge force of workmen to put them into service at the earliest possible moment.

Rumors of this citizen being in trouble with the government, and that citizen having been arrested — and all of them baloney.

Check your rumors, dear people. This is no time to believe the unpalatable things you may hear. And if you don't believe them, you certainly shouldn't repeat them.

There are altogether too many rumors going the rounds over this country.

Economic Highlights

Happenings That Affected the Dinner Pails, Dividend Checks and Tax Bills of Every Individual National and International Problems Inseparable From Local Welfare.

Last January, an official announcement said that the United States Army would reach a total of 3,600,000 men by the end of 1942. Since then, the actual size of the army and precise plans for its expansion have not been announced, inasmuch as they are military secrets of the first order. Some commentators have forecast that in time the army might total nine or ten million. The best available information seems to indicate that a total of at least 6,000,000 will be attained.

That is obviously going to have a revolutionary effect on the man power of this country. However, there is no factual evidence to support the scare rumors which say that every physically fit man under 36 is certain to be placed in uniform. Selective Service heads are making a genuine effort to create an army of the size needed with minimum dislocation of American family life.

Here is how matters shape up at this time, according to published statements:

First, practically all available single men in the 25-35 year bracket have been called. Many who were given temporary deferment for occupational reasons are now being summoned. In time, women and older men will replace thousands of young men in defense industries.

Second, the Selective Service Boards are placing in the 1-A classification all men who have no genuine claim for dependency. That includes men with wives, men who contribute little to the support of their households, and men with means. Almost all of these men will be in uniform by the end of the year, unless they are unable to pass the physical examinations or perform vital work in war industry.

Third, it is universally believed that Congress will soon approve a bill providing government grants to dependents of service men. These grants, as now projected, are small — around $50 a month for a wife and child. But they will make it possible for the Selective Service Boards to call thousands of men who are now deferred for economic reasons.

Fourth, a new draft classification, 3-B, has been adopted. And that is a matter of very great importance. At the present time, men with genuine dependencies are classified as 3-A. The 3-B classification is for men with genuine dependencies who, in addition, are employed in war work. The hope is that thousands of men who now have non-war jobs will shift to war jobs, in order to obtain the 3-B deferment. Some observers say that eventually the Selective Service Boards will operate on the "work or fight" policy which existed in World War I. In other words, a man will be given the choice of going into the army, or leaving a non-war occupation for a war occupation.

The industries which are classified as essential to the war effort are definitely limited in number. Lawyers, store clerks, newspapermen, wholesalers, advertising men, etc., have no claim for deferment. Deferment is given only to men who hold a job which is directly and absolutely necessary to the production and transportation of the raw and finished materials which are involved in war.

What this all adds up to is plain. If you are a single man, under 36, in reasonable health, you will go into the army unless you are virtually irreplaceable in some war industry. If you have dependents who look to you entirely for support, you will be deferred for the time being — but there is a strong likelihood that in time the continuance of your deferment will depend upon your obtaining a job in war industry. If you have minor physical defects, you are not exempt from military service. The original physical standards have been relaxed, and men with defective eyesight, hearing, feet, etc. are being called to the colors and assigned to non-combatant jobs.

Many a problem remains to be worked out. An army of 6,000,000 men would mean that four to six times that number would be needed in industries manufacturing and transporting supplies. On top of that, agriculture must be kept going, and on an expanding scale, inasmuch as we are sending tremendous quantities of foodstuffs to our Allies. Selective Service heads, such as General Hershey, have advised the Boards to exempt enough farm labor to keep food production up to the necessary level. But, reports say, in some areas the draft is virtually denuding the farms of labor. Furthermore, farmers cannot pay the high wages paid by war industry, and workers are naturally taking jobs in war factories instead of on farms. This seems to be one of the most serious of the unsolved problems.

It is probable that the immediate course of the war will have a direct bearing on army expansion plans here. If, for instance, Russia continues to hold the Germans, and Japan is stopped in the Pacific, a U. S. army of the largest size possible will not be necessary. If, on the other hand, Germany manages to crack the Russian defense this summer, and if Japan continues to win victories, you can look with assurance to Army expansion on a tremendously accelerated scale.

THIS BUSINESS OF Living

BY SUSAN THAYER

Drama . . . Power . . . and Dreams

Bonnie May managed our village beauty shop for five years, and many women insist her permanents were the best they ever had. But today the beauty shop has a new manager. Bonnie May is doing riveting in an airplane factory in a war-industry city 80 miles away!

"It's wonderful," she says. "I have never enjoyed working so much. Of course, I do the same thing over and over again. But I don't mind. I'm part of a group of men and women who are making planes that are necessary to our Army. So I feel important, even if I only add rivets. I get a big thrill every time I see one of the finished planes that I've helped build! It certainly beats shampooing and setting hair, and I feel sorry for women who have to keep on doing ordinary jobs in stores or offices or even at home when so many exciting things are going on!"

What's happening to Bonnie May is that she's getting a new understanding of the meaning of modern industry. Industry had seemed to her, as it had to the majority of women, something far away, quite outside the orbit of her own life. It was a business made up of wheels and pulleys and gears and noise and confusion, she thought—of no interest to a dainty, well-dressed girl until its finished products, nicely wrapped in cellophane, appeared on the shelves of a Main Street store!

For years Bonnie May was spared the workaday aspects of this great, driving force that was changing not only her own beauty shop business and her home but the whole world. But she was also deprived of the drama—the stimulating power—the daring dreams of the vast wonder working machine that is modern industry, developed largely by the skill and vision and hard work of American men.

But the day of women's industrial innocence is passing. When millions of girls like Bonnie May begin punching time clocks in hundreds of factories, the 20th century way of life depends, will mean something to women as a whole.

Never again will the work that goes on in the factories of the world be a mystery to us. It will never again seem too complicated, or too hard, or too dirty for women to have a part in—something for men only. Because of this wartime experience there will be greater understanding, greater appreciation, greater cooperation between the men and women of America.

Garden Glances

Presented weekly by the Garden Club

"America the beautiful lies in the hands of the gardeners"

The Mock orange trees are flowering gaily at home of Bill Greene. The terraced, well trimmed lawn and other flowers are given a more attractive appearance by the clean new white covering that has recently been given to the house.

Bright colored poppies and beautiful red roses blooming in the garden of the Ralph Keys home add to the landscape of the grounds as much as the redecorated exterior adds to the house. Clarendon citizens as a whole are glad that so many are interested in taking good care of their homes and grounds.

A number of huge trees are flowering in the yard of Judge A. T. Cole giving a gay aspect to the landscape.

Larkspur poppies and roses are producing very bright splashes of color in the garden of Lee Holland.

The victory gardens are indeed a thing of interest to most people now. It is a very good good plan to visit your neighbors and friends gardens it will be an incentive and will also afford a time for some casual bragging.

The J. H. Hurns, the Humphreys and the Andrew Jays all have marvelous gardens. They are indeed a credit to the owners.

The red roses at the Ralph Grady home are some of the very prettiest of the season.

TURKEY PROGRAM IN TEXAS IS GROWING

COLLEGE STATION — The intensified program of turkey improvement, begun in Texas in 1933, is paying dividends, says George P. McCarthy poultry husbandman of the A. and M. College Extension Service.

On the basis of figures from the USDA Bureau of Agricultural Economics, McCarthy says the average weight of turkeys sold in Texas in 1931 was 13.2 pounds each. In 1935, the average weight was 14.2 pounds, and in 1941 it had increased to 15.2 pounds per bird. Calculated on the 3,476,000 turkeys sold, the increased poundage in 1941 over 1931 was 7,352,000. Figuring the increase on an average selling price of 17 cents a pound, the improvement program was worth 1,249,840 to the turkey producers of Texas.

McCarthy attributes this in The gross income on turkeys sold in Texas in 1941 was $9,747,000.

IF YOU WANT TOMATOES THIS FALL, BETTER CAN

COLLEGE STATION — Civilians will have difficulty in buying processed tomatoes over the grocery counters this fall and winter, forecasts Jennie Camp, of the A. and M. College Extension Service. An abundant crop in Texas is indicated, but advance orders from the Quartermaster General's department of the United States Army will absorb practically all of the 100 million cases of tomatoes processed in the nation this season.

In view of this, Miss Camp says, "every patriotic housewife, institutional manager and dietitian; every school lunch room supervisor, and restaurant and hotel dining room manager should collect and get in readiness immediately every available glass and second hand tin container, and see that sealing supplies for these are on hand. They should obtain the latest approved recipes, improvise water bath containers for processing tomato products, and supply themselves with some kind of efficient juicer and pure-making equipment so that as many persons as possible may have tomatoes 'some way every day,' unless citrus, melons, raw cabbage or strawberries are available as substitute."

Miss Camp suggests that farm housewives and other buyers should pool their needs under the neighborhood, community and county agricultural Victory leaders, interview local wholesale and retail vegetable distributors and contract with them to supply the high quality tomatoes they will need in addition to what their own gardens will produce.

Ripe or green tomatoes are a rich and cheap source of vitamin C which prevents bleeding gums, loose teeth, sore joints, and loss of appetite and weight. Ripe tomatoes have abundant vitamin A which guards against "dry eye" and night blindness.

LUMBER SHIPMENTS

AUSTIN — Through unfilled orders mount at Southern lumber mills and shipments also increased, production eased off 8.1 per cent during April from April, 1941, figures, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reports. Production amounted to an average of 305,962 board feet per unit, still 2.6 per cent above March.

Shipments gained 30.2 per cent to 390,990 board feet per unit weekly, and unfilled orders in the end of April climbed to an average of 2,082,656 board feet per unit, up 71.8 per cent above April, 1941.

The Low Down FROM HICKORY GROVE

I know some gents in the electric business. They are nice kind of ducks — most of them are — but, like any place else, you might run into one that would make you hesitate about letting him hold your gold watch and chain, especially if the same thing about a plumber or a dentist or anybody. Personally, if I was crowded enough I could say plenty about a dentist I had prowling around amongst my rickety teeth not so long ago.

But instead of teeth, I will get to kilowatts. I tinkered around with kilowatts for quite a spell, and I never did run into an out-and-out onery hombre, or a Jess James, like some windy folks call 'em. It riles me when High Places sound off with abuse and say Govt. should barge in and take the business. It sounds too much like Adolf.

If you had to hunt around for a safe person to hold your new watch or to run your business, you would not do most of your looking there on the breezy Potomac.

Yours with the low down,
JO SERRA.

LONGER CAR LIFE TO BE OBTAINED BY CONOCO PLAN

PONCA CITY, Okla. — A new service to motorists, designed to prolong the life of motor cars and make tires last longer, is being introduced by Continental Oil Company through its local dealers. It was announced here today by Will A. Morgan, company advertising manager.

"The new service," Mr. Morgan stated, "will be announced to the public in a series of advertisements to start this week in The Clarendon News.

"Knowing that regular inspection and proper lubrication are absolutely vital to the long-life of cars now operating, dealers in Conoco products throughout the country are organizing Once-A-Week clubs among motorists, with the idea of making thorough checks of each car on regularly specified days every week. Conoco dealers will keep careful records of tire serial numbers, grease and oil change periods, and all information necessary to the proper servicing of the car. They will remind motorists when lubrication and other services are needed, and will do everything possible to help the motorists get the maximum life from their cars at the least possible cost and trouble," Morgan said.

COTTON INSURANCE PROGRAM PLANS TO BEGIN JUNE 3

COLLEGE STATION — Ground work for the 1943 cotton crop insurance program will be laid by Texas agricultural leaders in Dallas, Wednesday, June 3.

Regional AAA directors and coordinators are cooperating with the Department of Agriculture's insurance agency in making arrangements for the one-day session. Leading cotton growers, warehousemen, processors of cotton and cottonseed, and representatives of farm, trade, bankers and other agricultural organizations have been invited to participate in discussions.

Representatives of Federal Crop Insurance Corporation will explain the operation of the cotton crop insurance program and request recommendations that will improve the program, making it even more acceptable to cotton growers.

In announcing the meeting, Donald L. Cothran, state crop insurance supervisor, explained that similar discussion meetings are being held in other major cotton producing states during May and June and will replace a national conference. Reducing expense and travel time in interest of economy are reasons for state conferences, he said.

Texas cotton growers led all other cotton farmers in the nation in all-risk crop insurance which is offered for the first time this year. Approximately 54,252 farming units in the state insured 1,488,690 acres against all unavoidable hazards. On national basis, 172,000 farming units, comprising more than a million and a half acres, were insured.

The Cenotaph, a monument honoring the heroes of the Alamo, was erected in 1936 in San Antonio at a cost of $100,000.

POWER

... after 10 YEARS of Competition between Two Theories

Countless thousands of tons of strategic materials were wasted in building unnecessary socialized plants and transmission lines that duplicated existing systems adequately serving the public.

Here are the results of this long conflict between two theories—free enterprise as against tax-free competition built with tax dollars:

- Today, in time of America's greatest need, the country's electric operating companies are supplying over 90 per cent of all the power commercially generated;
- Last year they paid $510,000,000 in taxes, enough money to equip 2,400,000 soldiers or build 9,273 fighting planes;
- The average home now gets over twice as much electricity for its money as it did 15 years ago.

It represents American genius at its best. In little more than two generations, an "experiment," at which wisecracks scoffed, has become indispensable in American homes and in America's war effort. It has been possible simply because America's electric companies have been built and operated the American way—by good business management.

Out of the dead cold ashes,
Life again.
—Evolution (John B. Tabb).

We are wondering why, in the last several years, so much petty hate and jealousy has arisen in this once small friendly town of ours. Perhaps its caused from the strain and worry that war brings, perhaps not. But it seems to us that now, of all time, that people should overlook such things. Petty hate and jealousy is the cause of all this turmoil, strife, bloodshed, and material loss that is going on here and abroad. Why make it worse by quibbling over non-essential things? Why not learn to mind our own business and keep our mean and hateful thoughts to ourselves? Everytime we get angry or jealous, let's stop and put ourselves on the other end of the line; let's stop and remember (it won't take a second) to "do unto others as you would have them do unto you."

We are thinking that maybe a new phrase should be added to the wedding ceremony that would read, "... until death, or draft, do us part."

New fashions are appearing on the horizon of the late and some of them actually sound a bit sensible, while others, being a bit too novel, probably won't show up much around here. One is "garden beanies" for your head. These are felt skullcaps made in such amusing shapes as daisies, tomatoes, fourleaf clovers, and so on, representing each garden product exactly, even to the stem.

Another is fancy cotton skirts as the basis of many a summer wardrobe; wide and plaided, widely striped, or appliqued with bright cotton flowers cut out to look very real. They are worn with white cotton blouses.

Still another is gold safety pins with rosebuds on the ends, a tiny diamond set in the heart of a rosebud. They're to pin your bib and tucker.

And lastly is a new color combination, pink and gray. With your gray suit, a pink taffeta blouse with a fringed bowtie at the neckline, and a pink rose atop your straw hat.

News item: Highest price ever paid for the screen rights of a story was recorded in Hollywood this week with the closing of a deal between 20th Century Fox Studios and Author John Steinbeck. Studio paid $300,000 for "The Moon Is Down." Even more than the incomparable "Gone With The Wind."

School's out. College students are coming home again. Maybe they'll help to fill up the gaps in social life. We hope so because this month is marking the close of so many clubs and partying isn't going to be done too much this summer. A great many of the students are coming home wagging a bit of paper whereon is much scribbling that says for the time being they are through school and must go out and do their bit toward furthering knowledge. Most of them were so glad to get home that when we ask about their plans, they say they are going to stay right here in rooid old Clarendon for a while. But we say that it won't be too long before they'll be wondering how we "year arrounders" stand it.

A most joyful and happy person these days is Mrs. Bill Greene whose son, Paul, is planning to return to the States again soon. As you all know Paul has been defending the Furma Road in China for the past eight months or so. It seems that the other day Paul wrote a friend in Memphis asking him to get him a certain kind of a car. He'll feel like Rip Van Winkle when he returns to find that nearly all methods of transportation have been frozen.

Perhaps you have noticed that in the windows of several homes and downtown businesses is hung a banner with a single star in the middle; a blue star, a silver star, and a gold star. We knew that they had something to do with men in service but we only found out the other day what the different colors mean. The Blue star denotes a member of the family in the armed forces; the silver star means a member of the armed forces has been wounded or taken prisoner; and the gold star, of course, means a loss of life.

We've been wondering what happened to all the waste paper that everybody has been diligently saving and giving to Boy Scouts, Salvation Army or selling it to the junk man. Well we found out and we thought maybe you might like to know, too.

After the junk man takes it to the paper packer's warehouse and there a huge conveyor belt loaded with waste paper passes by a line of 20 or 30 trained women; one picks out white paper; others, wrapping paper, corrugator board, cardboard. Each grade — and there are dozens — is then chopped up and collected in large wooden bins. The bins go into a baling press and the waste is compressed and baled and sent to the paper mill which mixes all the papers of specific grades into a huge vat.

The finished product falls into three classes. One is cardboard, which is made from any and all waste paper. Others are corrugated board and solid fiber board. These are stronger and must be made from good wrapping paper, old corrugated boxes, and new wood pulp.

The cardboard finally ends up as the protective cylinders which go around every shell made in America. The corrugated or solid fiber boxes carry food and equipment to our soldiers, sailors and marines.

So you see, your waste paper does help!

Dalhart, Early Applicant Wins Big War School Project

So many of our readers might have some idea as to how communities get army camps, and other government war establishments, we are printing below a story of "How Dalhart Got Her Glider School", written by Ed Bishop of The Dalhart Texan. Dalhart enjoys the particular distinction of having been the first Panhandle city to begin her campaign for such camp, in a banquet given Hon. Eugene Worley in the early weeks of his election to Congress. Other cities in the district began later campaigns and some notably received official announcement of their selection ahead of Dalhart, by dint of hard work and repeated personal presentations of their claims before army staff officials at Washington. These were Amarillo, Borger, Pampa and Childress.

By ED BISHOP
 Publisher, The Dalhart Texan
 Well it's here! The thing we've been talking about. The thing we've been wondering about, has at last been confirmed. Senator Tom Connally and Congressman Eugene Worley's office authorized the public confirmation of the location of an air school near Dalhart, to cost in excess of $5,630,000!

Now that we know definitely the school is to be located here, the past history may be of interest to many, who of a necessity, never heard a great deal about it. Perhaps some think that politics brought it about. Others may feel that some of our big friends brought it about. Both assumptions are incorrect.

In the basement of the Central Methodist church, following a banquet in his honor, Gene Worley told several interested citizens that government army projects were in no way connected with politics. "All I can do for you is to present your brief, showing the location, etc., of Dalhart" was the way he put it. I was first to disagree with him. I firmly believed that the "big shots" decided the location, etc., of these projects. Today, I am just as firm in my opinion that if the politicians have had no more to do with other projects than the one located in Dalhart, Gene was 100 per cent correct!

Editor Bishop is undoubtedly correct in his revised opinion about the selections of sites being without dictation of Congressman Worley, or any other high elective official. But it is just as true that Congressman Worley and Senator Connally have worked untiringly for the interests of all aspiring cities in this district. Secretaries in these two offices have left no stones unturned in the proper and continuous presentation of every reasonable claim any town might have, as they have also facilitated the conferences with proper staffs and bureaus of every delegation that has come to Washington.

Read Editor Bishop's story, and remember that Dalhart backed up its claims with the passage of a sixtieth thousand dollar bond issue to purchase the land for the flying school site. No city may expect to be given an army establishment without a sizeable expenditure in the nature of a gift or subsidy.

For almost a week they kept Herbert Peoples, Elmer Elliott, Herman Steele, L. L. Swim, and perhaps a few other local citizens busy. They investigated and when I say investigated, I mean it in all that it implies. They said very little. In fact hardly anyone knew what they were particularly interested in until they had been here several days. Every courtesy was shown them. They wanted no publicity and they received none. They neither asked for nor sought entertainment, any recognition — nothing except the cooperation of local citizens in getting the information they wanted. This was given them as near 100 per cent, as possible.

When they left they said neither "yea" nor "nay." Then anxious days of waiting took place. We had specific instructions not to take it up with Washington, yet every friend in nearby towns said we were foolish not to follow it up. When the committee went to Chicago to see Rock Island officials several of them thought it might be well to go on to Washington, but Worley's office advised against it.

In the meantime Herb Peoples' telephone kept busy. Calls from various government officers in numerous towns and cities came in day and night, asking more information, seeking title to land, wanting briefs, statistics and still more information. They got it as promptly as Herb could deliver.

Then silence! Not a word from anyone. A lot of local talk. The news reached other communities. They sent committees to Washington and were told the school would be located at Dalhart. Still no confirmation. We called Washington. Still no soap. We were told to be patient, but it was a trying job.

The confirmation came in a confidential call to the mayor. But no public announcement was permitted. In the meantime announcements came from Del Rio, Childress, Pampa, Ardmore, Okla., and other towns. We felt safe, but not quite safe enough. Then yesterday the public announcements came from Del Rio, Childress, Pampa, Ardmore, Okla., and other towns. We felt safe, but not quite safe enough. Then yesterday the public announcement came, and despite the "I-knew-it-all-the-time" folks, there was a sigh of relief.

The above is written so the public may understand that politics played no part in securing this project for Dalhart, and that no matter what is told you on the contrary, that is the truth. Gene Worley's office did everything it could in keeping us posted and to Mrs. Altavene Clark, secretary, we are deeply grateful. Senator Connally wired confirmation, which was appreciated. Several local parties inform us that the same announcement was received from Senator W. Lee O'Daniel.

Dalhart was selected for this school due to its geographical location, available transportation facilities, etc., and I feel that the friendly attitude of local citizens and the splendid cooperation given officials had some bearing upon the final decision.

DO YOU KNOW TEXAS?

By Garland Adair

A reader of this newspaper can get the answer to any question of fact by writing to A. Garland Adair, Curator, Texas Memorial Museum, Austin, Texas.

Worth Remembering: These beautiful lines written by Edmund Travis, of Austin, are inscribed on the cornerstone of the Tribune's new twelve-story building: "A free press is the protagonist and preserver of all rights, the foe and destroyer of all tyrannies. It insures every good cause a hearing and every false doctrine a challenge. It is the servant of religion, philosophy, science and art; the agent of truth, justice and civilization. Possessing it no people can be held in intellectual or political bondage; without it none can be secure against any form of government."

INSCRIPTION: — The following is the inscription of Austin's monument in the state cemetery at Austin: "Stephen Fuller Austin, the Father of Texas, was born in Wythe County, Virginia, November 3, 1793. Died in Brazoria County, Texas, December 27, 1836. Wise, gentle, courageous, and patient, he was the founder of a mighty commonwealth." It is said that Provision Governor Henry Smith made the first State Seal of Texas from the imprint of a large brass button, cut from his overcoat. The seal consists of a five point star, encircled by olive and live oak branches and the words, "The State of Texas."

By DICK COOKE

Not being exactly a movie fan. Not being exactly intelligent. But being highly critical I wasn't entirely pleased with "How Green Was My Valley."

In the first place it would have had to be in technicolor for me to understand how it could have been green and peaceful. The little boy didn't get much fun out of life because his pop kept him scared to death all the time. He wondered his way all through the play with big eyes and numerous beatings, interspersed with all sorts of tragedy. Including the singing.

Most everyone liked it so it must have been an awfully good show but to me it was just a long list of incidents which had very little beginnings and no endings at all. For instance it made quite a lot about the little boy falling in love with the blond girl. And then later after her husband was killed he went to live with her. The rewriters must have gone out for lunch about then for it didn't even mention his coming home to supper after that. As far as I know he didn't ever eat again and I think he needed it too, working in that mine the way he did.

Most of the show was taking up with eating and drinking and singing. Whenever any one got killed there was a choir around convenient to sing.

Then the poor girl that was in love with the preacher. Whatever happened to that affair. It would have suited me more if the writers hadn't dropped her husband down into the mine and let her have the preacher. Of course, this couldn't have been in the two-hours of the show but they could have left out some of the singing and drinking. If I had been doing the rewrite I could have gotten rid of the husband by telegram for he was in Canada.

Probably the reason the writers didn't have him die in Canada was that they felt they would have to transport their choir overseas and bring along someone to hold his head in their lap while he expired to soft music. And then when the show ran its length it just stopped. I was all set for all of the characters to die one at a time and was not entirely displeased at the prospect, but after the father died it was all over. I was all set for the deaths because the picture opened with a man tying up his belongings and saying he has been in the valley for 50 years. He was, of course, the little boy, but when the show ended the little boy's age must have been at least 35 years — short of the opening scene. I will always wonder what happened in that fifty years but I ain't going back to see.

Anyway I'm glad so many people liked it.

It was said of the Texas Rangers that they "combined the fighting qualities of three races: they could ride like Mexicans, trail like Indians, shoot like Tennesseans and fight like the devil."

Texas popular designation, "Lone Star State," is deprived from the single star on the Texas flag.

13,204 NEWSPAPERS

The Clarendon News is one of 13,204 newspapers published in the United States. From the smallest weekly to the largest metropolitan daily, these newspapers have but one aim, to bring the news to their readers, and each has its own particular niche to fill.

The field of news varies widely, of course. The big dailies cover news of national and international significance, gathered by vast organizations from the ends of the earth. But you will also find in the big publications many pages daily devoted to news of interest only to the people of their own cities. A resident of Amarillo will find more to interest him in the Amarillo News than in, for instance, the Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

The News, along with 10,000 other weekly and semi-weekly newspapers, strive to fulfill the demand for local news. Of all the thousands of publications throughout the nation, only local papers are concerned with local activities. So, in spite of the multiplicity of publications our readers could read each week, we feel that The News gives them something they want which they could not obtain in any other way.

This local reader interest is what makes this newspaper the ideal advertising medium for Clarendon business firms. In no other way can they reach as large a number of potential buyers as effectively.

Side Glances On Texas History

By CHARLES O. HUCKER University of Texas Library

"Remember The Alamo" Not only is the slogan that sparked Texans in their victorious Battle of San Jacinto, the 106th anniversary of which is being commemorated this week, being widely quoted and paraphrased in the war of the Pacific, but other parallels may also be drawn between the Texas Revolution and World War II.

In his "Letters from Texas," published in 1853, W. B. Dewees, member of the Texas army in 1836, relates the tactics General Houston employed in retreating before the advancing Mexican forces until he could entrench himself in some spot he could hold and from which he could attack—just as MacArthur retreated to Bataan.

The "scorched earth" policy, so successfully used in China and Russia in this war, was also invoked by General Houston, who derided the towns through which the retreating Texas army passed burned to the ground.

A copy of Dewees' "Letters" is found in the extensive Texas Collection of the University of Texas Library.

Scorned For The White Flag Like General Wainwright, Houston rejected the enemy's proposal that he surrender.

"Immediately after the fall of the Alamo" Dewees wrote, "Gen. Santa Anna sent Mrs. Dickenson and Col. Travis's servant to Gen. Houston's camp, accompanied by a Mexican with a flag which bore a note from Santa Anna offering the Texans peace and a general amnesty if they would lay down their arms and submit to his government. Gen. Houston's reply was 'True, sir you have succeeded in killing some of our brave men, but the Texans are not yet whipped.'"

"General Houston, not wishing to jeopardize the country by risking an engagement with the enemy at Gonzales, instantly ordered a retreat to the Colorado river. All of the families west of the Colorado fled eastward with great haste. The Texan forces set fire to Gonzales previous to leaving the place and burnt it to the ground, in order to prevent the Mexicans from reaping any advantage from any place they might find there."

Dewees quoted from memory Houston's address to his troops at the encampment at Columbus on the Colorado on March 25: "Fellow Soldiers:—The only army in Texas is now present. Travis has fallen with his men at the Alamo. Fannin's troops have been massacred at La Bahia!—There is here but a small force, yet it is the only army that Texas can offer. We might cross the river and attack the enemy! perhaps we might be victorious but again we might be overcome. If we are overpowered by Felsola's army which has, without doubt, been largely reinforced during the past night by the army under Santa Anna, we have no other army to retreat back upon! I cannot expect reinforcements! I have called for volunteers but almost in vain. There are but a few of us, and if we are beaten the fate of Texas is sealed! The salvation of the country depends upon the first battle with the enemy. For this reason I intend to retreat, and I shall continue to retreat, till I find I can beat the Mexicans in battle, if I am obliged to go even to the banks of the Sabine."

"After having closed his address he ordered an instant retreat to the Brazis River," Dewees went on. "All the buildings were then set on fire, and we immediately took up our line of march for the Brazis."

"Many persons have greatly blamed General Houston for this, but, under the circumstances of the time, it was, in my opinion, the wisest movement he could have made."

"The Texan army moved down the prairie between Buffalo Bayou and the San Jacinto river, until they reached the crossing of the San Jacinto, where they came in contact with the Mexican army under Santa Anna. On the 21st of April, the ever memorable battle of San Jacinto was fought. The Texans were victorious, and after having sustained a loss of comparatively nothing, succeeded in capturing the Mexican General, Santa Anna and all the army, who survived the battle."

100 Years Ago In Texas "Many of the officers of government have arrived in this city and the remainder are daily expected. Houston may therefore be regarded as the present Seat of Government although the archives are not here. We understand the citizens of Bastrop and Travis counties are still determined to oppose the removal of the archives, and not a team can be engaged to bring them down. Most of the families that had fled from Austin during the prevalence of the alarm here, returned but the city is exceedingly dull and scarcely any business is transacted in the place."

Telegraph and Texas Register (Houston), April 20, 1842. (University of Texas Library facilities are available to all citizens of Texas upon request.)

RURAL FAMILIES TO LEARN ABOUT PRICE FIXING

COLLEGE STATION — The government's new program to keep the cost of living from spiraling upward ranks with mobilization of man power and physical resources and the current transportation bottleneck as one of the three current major programs to win the war according to Director H. H. Williamson of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service.

He announced that the Texas Extension Service is giving leadership to the general educational work to acquaint rural people with the General Maximum Price Regulation, especially as it will affect farm and ranch families. The Office of Price Administration will administer the order and State and County USDA War Boards will cooperate.

"No Texas farmer or farm woman can be left in the dark about the necessity of our fighting the battle of inflation and how we can win it," he said. The information will be sent to every farm and ranch family in the state by means of the new human chain which County Agricultural Victory Councils and the Extension Service have set up in every county. Thousands of community and neighborhood leaders designated in the past three weeks will help spread the facts about the inflation menace.

This new educational job is right in line with extension's streamlined war-time job, the Victory Demonstration, Director Williamson pointed out. One objective of the Victory program is to assist in winning the war by helping farm and ranch families "understand the 'why' and 'how' of adjustments rural people must make to the war-time situation."

Field workers of the various agricultural agencies will hear details of the program at some one-day sectional conferences scheduled in Dallas, June 1; Houston, June 2; San Antonio, June 3; and Big Spring, June 5.

Kennedy's History of Texas" was criticized in an old manuscript reprinted in part in the Texas Almanac of 1858, for referring to "Texans" instead of "Textians." "Textians," reads the manuscript, "has more euphony and is better adapted to the convenience of the poets who shall hereafter celebrate our deeds in sonorous strains."

I GIVE YOU TEXAS by BOYCE HOUSE

Honored with an invitation to speak to the Brotherhood of Baptist Temple in Houston recently, your columnist declared on that occasion:

One result of the crisis with which we now are confronted is that religion is coming back into its own—or rather, more accurately, because religion has never been away; men are coming back to religion.

They are returning to the faith of their fathers and mothers and are singing the hymns they knew in childhood: "On Jordan's stormy banks I stand"; and "It's the old-time religion"; and "Onward, Christian soldiers, marching as to war, with the cross of Jesus going on before."

This is true because Christianity speaks to the hearts of men. It consoles troubled minds and wounded spirits.

And even in the darkest hour through all eternity. For do we not have the promise, "I am with you always—even until the end of the world?"

And so in the fierce fires of war, there is being burned away the dross of selfishness and materialism, leaving the pure gold of patriotism, service to others, and devotion to God.

There has been some controversy as to what the first name of Captain King of Texas was. (He was at the head of a force of Texans who were slaughtered before the capture of Goliad with its subsequent massacre). Whether the first name of that warrior was Amon or Aaron, Texas has a new Captain King now—Capt. Tom King, former State Auditor, and perhaps the biggest man in Uncle Sam's fighting forces: six feet four and a half and weighing around 260. King received his commission last week in the Army Air Force and immediately reported for duty.

In lighter vein: Have you men of middle age heard of the new 5-B classification? It's Bald, Bridgework, Bifocals, Belly and Bunions.

An explorer, who was asked to name the bravest man he had ever known said, "It was the chap who took a taxi to the bankruptcy court and invited the driver in as a creditor."

And as a slogan to win the war, how about the one a Glade-water man suggested: "Stop yapping and start scrapping!"

And equally concise was the Taft darkey who looked over the questionnaire with its many blank spaces and wrote just one line: "When you're ready, so is I."

Newspapers give free and gladly of their space for the Red Cross, Salvation Army, USO, War Bonds, clean-up campaigns, Boy Scouts, church and school activities—in other words, they are always constructive. This suggestion by the Sulphur Springs News-Telegram editor is worthy of consideration:

"They say time about is fair play. So the next time you are prone to criticize 'the editor,' why not do as he has done so

CHICKEN FARMS STILL BOOSTING PRODUCTION

AUSTIN — Texas chicken farms are still boosting production to meet the increasing demand for eggs, as 1,301 carloads were shipped to market in April, almost three times the shipments of a year ago, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reports.

Of the total April shipments, 147 cars were intrastate movements, while 854 cars went to other states.

The out-of-state shipments went in greatest numbers to the Eastern states of Massachusetts, Rhode Island, and Connecticut, which received 395 carloads—almost half of the total interstate shipment.

Contrasted with the increasing shipment of eggs was the sharp decline in poultry shipments. The number of carloads of dressed chickens fell from 43 a year ago to 11.5, and of dressed turkeys from 10 in April, 1941, to 3.5.

USED CARS AND HOW TO KNOW THEM

CUSTOMER: Both these cars appeal to me, but... SALESMAN: You won't find a better second-hand car anywhere than either of these. Wonderful buys! CUSTOMER: If I only knew how the engines had been treated... what oil the ex-owners used. SALESMAN: This one, I don't know. But this red job I happen to know had nothing but Conoco Nth motor oil from its first mile! CUSTOMER: Well, why didn't you say so! Conoco Nth! I'll take the red job, of course! First of all, whoever owned that car knew what was best for a car when they used Conoco Nth. With Conoco Nth in the crankcase, I'm sure the cylinders and moving parts were protected by OIL-PLATING—lubricant that doesn't all drain down at every chance, but stays on the job. SALESMAN: Well, that'd sell me the red one. CUSTOMER: Why, man, Conoco Nth can help keep an engine so clean of sludge and carbon that it easily ought to mean good long life. I'm going to cash in on this car's value—and keep on using Conoco Nth.

You can cash in, too. Cash in by getting all the engine life and good oil mileage that are winning sensational sales success for Conoco Nth oil. See Your Conoco Mileage Merchant today! Continental Oil Company

The following highlight the important phases of the order and the attached interpretation concerning Farmers and Ranchers: 1. Farm residential construction or remodeling costing less than $500.02 per farm during a twelve month period may proceed without authorization. There is no cost limit or authorization needed for repair and maintenance for the farm residence. Farm homes destroyed by fire, flood, earthquake, tornado or enemy action after December 31, 1941 may be rebuilt without permission. 2. $1000.00 may be spent without permission on each farm for production buildings during a twelve month period. There is no restriction on the ordinary maintenance and repair of these buildings such as re-roofing, painting, structural repairs, etc. 3. If a farmer does a building or remodeling job himself, or if the labor is supplied at no cost by his family or neighbors he does not have to figure labor costs into the total cost of the building. 4. For all farm building projects exceeding the cost limitations outlined herein, the farmer should consult his County United States Department of Agriculture War Board and follow its instructions to obtain authorization for the work. Application form PD-200 will be furnished by County Boards. The order defines MAINTENANCE as "the upkeep of a building, structure, or project in sound working condition." "Repair means the restoration, without change of design, of any portion of a building structure, or project to sound working condition when such portion has been rendered unsafe or unfit for service by wear and tear, damage, or other similar causes." Important Rulings From Office Of Price Administration

According to information received by J. R. Gillham, secretary of the Clarendon Chamber of Commerce, from the Office of Price Administration, a number of Clarendon business men are faced with the possible loss of their licenses or right to do business for failure to comply with the "Ceiling Price" regulations. In addition to the suspension of license to do business, the violators are subject to criminal penalties.

The War Price and Rationing board with whom the statement of Maximum Prices must be filed is the County Rationing Board composed of J. R. Bulls, Ed Kinslow, and C. E. Lindsey. The list of cost of living commodities is available free of charge to any and all merchants at the local chamber of commerce office.

Ceiling price regulations apply to all articles sold except sixteen types of commodities, the major portion of which are farm commodities. A list of these is available at the chamber of commerce or war rationing board.

A number of questions regarding interpretation and application of the General Maximum price regulations have been officially answered by the OPA board. A number of the more important appear below.

1. Q. What merchandise must carry a posted maximum price in a retail store?

A. On and after May 18, the maximum prices of all items listed as "cost of living commodities" must be publicly and prominently posted or marked in every retail establishment.
