Two Small Donley Boxes Force County Judges Race To Run-off

By DICK COOKE
Two of Donley County's smallest voting boxes, the total votes in both numbering less than 40, rose to a place of great importance in Saturday's election when their belated tally forced the County Judge's race into a run-off.

Ironically the two boxes, Smith and Giles, were reported after local political leaders had conceded R. Y. King a majority. His nearest rival, Walker Lane, had gone home to bed Saturday night and spent all day Sunday morning defeated. Lane and Harry Brumley with a total of 859 and King with 866 had a margin of 3 votes. The three votes difference wasn't so killing but the fiery incumbent judge was running like a prairie fire and was leading all boxes as they were reported.

But then Sunday afternoon Smith reported and the bombshell fell. Lane received only one vote in this box but King got only two and Brumley's led that ticket with eleven. The combined Lane and Brumley vote was raised a net total of ten votes and King's majority had vanished, he was now three votes behind Utopia, or a win without a run-off.

It took exactly 24 hours more for Giles to come through with a clinching report that a run-off was necessary. Here Brumley, although hopelessly out of the race, aided Lane. His nine votes matched King's nine and Lane's six pushed King that many more ballots further away from the top.

So the two little boxes, so far away from the county seat that they almost think they belong to Hall County, cost King a clear-cut victory in the first primary. From their total of 38 votes, the present judge got 11 and his opponents twenty-seven.

So rapidly were other county races over that excitement was negligible. G. G. Reeves was the first victorious candidate when his Clarendon vote was announced shortly after seven. Reeves collected a total of 520 against his opponent's Forest Sawyer, 333.

The David Johnson and Mrs. Margaret Thompson race for county treasurer wasn't very interesting. Mrs. Thompson took the lead with a wide margin in the first reported box and all additional reports added to her total. The final tally showed the incumbent, Mrs. Thompson with 1,228 and Johnson with 527.

Out in precinct 1 Slaton Mahafey ousted incumbent J. H. Hermemeyer for the county commissioner's post. Hermemeyer won his home boxes but not by a wide enough margin and Mahafey's solid Ashton, Wilson and Martin votes turned the trick.

L. A. Muse was elected constable of precinct 2 over Tom Roberts 67 to 151. Despite getting every vote in his home box, Ben Chamberlain, challenging Marvin Hall for commissioner of Precinct 4 was nosed out by Glenwood and Skillet. Chamberlain and Hall split the Watkins' six votes. The final count gave Chamberlain fifty against Hall's seventy.

W. T. Link, Clarendon attorney, greatly outstripped his three opponents in the Donley County voting on the Chief Justice of the Court of Civil Appeals race. Link's home folks gave him a 1,412 count against his opponents 247.

E. L. Pitts, Lubbock, and E. C. Nelson, Amarillo, got only 50 and 125 votes respectively out of the 1,659 votes cast in this race.

Donley County Asked To Furnish Fourteen Men During Drive For Navy Recruits In August And September

Enough men to equal the crew of a submarine and sub chaser now building will be enlisted from the Amarillo navy recruiting district each month during August and September, Chief C. M. Norman recruiter in charge of this district announced today. The district includes Armstrong, Briscoe, Castro, Carson, Collingsworth, Dallam, Deaf Smith, Donley, Gray, Hall, Hemphill, Hansford, Hartley, Hutchinson, Lipscomb, Moore, Ochiltree, Oldham, Parmer, Potter, Randall, Roberts, Sherman, Swisher and Wheeler counties.

Sponsoring the campaign to enlist at least 195 men from this district each month will be American Legion Posts and civic organizations in each county. Committees have been organized and supplied with Navy recruiting literature. Individual members will be designated "Volunteer Navy Recruiter."

A monthly quota of volunteer enlistments for naval service has been assigned each county, based on population. Exact figures on complements of naval vessels are secret, Chief Norman said, but certain figures may be used for recruiting purposes. In the Houston Navy recruiting district, comprising the Southern half of Texas, a recent slogan was "Wanted, 1,000 Volunteers for Replacement of the Cruiser Houston."

Donley County with a population of 7,487 is asked to furnish 7 volunteers each of the two months. The recruiting slogan for this county is "Donley County Navy Enlistments will equal enough men to man a navy gun."

Potter County with a population of 54,265 and a quota of 50 men per month will have for a recruiting slogan, "Potter County will enlist enough men in the navy to man a sub chaser." Other counties will have appropriate recruiting slogans based on their monthly quota.

Navy enlistment ages are from 17 to 50 years. Unskilled men have opportunity to attend navy trade schools. Qualified skilled men may be enlisted as petty officers with monthly pay ranging from $78 to $126.00. It is necessary that application for enlistment be made before induction into the army.

MERCHANTS TOLD TO FILE COST OF LIVING LIST

All retail merchants in Donley county were reminded today by C. E. Kinslow, chairman of the Donley War Price and Rationing board, that they must file with the local board by August 10 a list showing cost of living articles and their ceiling prices which the merchant has added to his stock since July 1.

"The filing of such lists by the tenth of each month is made mandatory by General Maximum Price Regulation No. 1," Kinslow pointed out.

He also called attention to the fact that many retail merchants still have prices, which should have been in the hands of the Donley Rat Board not later than July 1.

"Failure to file that list is a violation of the General Maximum Price Regulation," Kinslow said "and we have been advised that the state office of Price Administration staff is now making a field survey to determine how many merchants have not filed this list."

The results of this survey, he said, are to be turned over to the OPA compliance and investigation department, for immediate attention. Any merchant who still has not obtained a copy of the General Maximum Price Regulation, or of Bulletin No. 2 "What every retail merchant should know about the GMPR" can get copies by applying to the office of the Rationing board.

Kinslow stressed that compliance with Price Control is an essential duty in winning the war "on the Home Front."

DONLEY MEN PASS EXAMS FOR ARMY

The entire group of Donley County men sent to Lubbock Saturday for physical examinations were accepted and one, Gerald Ambrose Bland, Hedley, chose to be immediately inducted into the army.

Bland was sent from Lubbock to Fort Sill, Okla. They are Claud Lee Pegram, Earl Emory Porter, Hedley, William Frances Goode, Clarendon and Charles Otis Coughran, LeHa Lake.

W. W. Noblett was in Oklahoma City on business this week.

FRUIT INCLUDED IN AUGUST FOOD STAMP LIST

Blue stamp foods listed for August and announced today by Mr. Dan L. Boyd, area supervisor, Agricultural Marketing Administration, include a number of fresh fruits and all fresh vegetables, thus offering participants a healthful and varied hot weather diet. Fresh pears have been added to the August list of Stamp Program foods which are those obtainable nationally by participants in areas where the program is in operation.

By placing fresh pears on the list at this time, Mr. Boyd pointed out, producers will have a broader outlet and greater assurance of a fair return during the period in which pears will be in heaviest abundance on the nation's markets. Also the pears will be a palatable addition to the variety of foods made available to public-aid families through the Stamp Program.

With this addition, the complete list of Blue Stamp foods issued by the Agricultural Marketing Administration for August 1 through August 31 in all stamp program areas is as follows: fresh pears, peaches, plums, apples, and oranges, all fresh vegetables including Irish and sweet potatoes, shell eggs, butter, corn meal, hominy (corn) grits, dry edible beans, wheat flour, enriched wheat flour, self rising flour, enriched self-rising flour, and whole wheat (Graham) flour.

PAUL GREENE WILL RETURN HOME BY THIS WEEK-END

Paul Greene, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Greene, who has been with the famous AVG Flying Tigers in China will return home this week-end.

Greene telephoned his parents from Washington, D. C. Tuesday afternoon advising them he was in the States and would be in Clarendon within a "day or two." An instructor at Randolph Field, San Antonio, Greene joined the AVG last summer and sailed from San Francisco to China, July 18, 1941. He has seen much service in the China war since December 7, and was shot down in an early air battle.

Donley County Again Gives W. Lee O'Daniel A Majority Of Votes

With a credit balance of fifty-five votes, W. Lee O'Daniel again won a majority vote in his United States Senatorial race in Saturday's first primaries.

The incumbent senator's vote was counted at 916 while his opponents combined total reached 861.

Coke Stevenson was clearly the Donley County people's choice for governor with a total of 1,124. His nearest opponent, Hal Collins had 612.

Donley County gave newspaperman Boyce House the best vote for Lieut. Governor with 529. Harold Beck, who is in the run-off with J. Lee Smith, was next in popularity with 152.

George H. Sheppard was an outstanding choice for comptroller with 1,363 votes and Jessie James had 546 to head the list for state treasurer.

Bascom Giles ran away from Neil Day in Donley County with 1,098 for land office commissioner and Gerald Mann easily recaptured his Attorney General's race from Jim Hair by 1404 to 159.

With 1098 votes L. A. Woods held his state superintendency over Charles Terguson who had 380.

Evidently forgetting J. E. McDonald's bolting the Democratic party in 1940, Donley County gave him more votes than Bill Corry. McDonald had 604 to Corry's 561, in the commissioner of agriculture's race.

E. O. Thompson was high, 721 to 478, over Baker Saulsbury in the Railroad Commissioner's race.

Long time campaigner P. Brooks lead the local ticket for the unexpired term of Railroad Commissioner. Brooks got 348 to 259 for his nearest opponent, Leo Moore. Harry Graves was high, 1127 to 174 in the Judge of Criminal Appeals race. Walter Strength was his opponent.

OLD TIMERS OF DONLEY PICNIC IS AUGUST 14

The annual Donley County Old Settlers picnic will be held this year, Friday, August 14, W. I. Rains, president of the association, said this week.

Hundreds of Donley residents gather each year at Tate Grove for the annual get together of old timers, and popular demand erased the doubt of discontinuing it this year because of the war.

Following the customs a lively program will be given throughout the day. The only requirements for membership to the association is that one has been a resident of Donley County for at least 20 years.

Everyone attending the picnic must bring their own basket lunch, Mr. Rains stressed. "This fact is highly important," he concluded.

Mr. and Mrs. Whitfield Carhart returned to their home in Greenville Tuesday after spending several days here with Mrs. Carhart's mother, Mrs. R. A. Chamberlain.

SUSPECT HELD IN CAMERON LUMBER YARD ROBBERY

Sheriff Guy Wright said this morning that a suspect is still being held in the county jail for questioning on the Cameron Lumber Company robbery last Thursday night in which over $1050 in checks, currency and money were taken.

According to sheriff Wright, the burglar gained entrance thru a window in a bathroom. The window was unlocked and the screen was not latched, the officer said.

Forty dollars in bills, $14.85 in coins and around $1,100 in checks were taken from the store.

CARROLL B. HUDSON IS ELEVATED TO RANK OF SERGEANT IN MARINES

Carroll B. Hudson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Major B. Hudson of Clarendon, has been promoted to sergeant in the United States Marines, it was learned this week. Squadron on the Pacific Coast.

Almost Complete State Tabulation Fails To Give O'Daniel Majority

For the first time in his political career, W. Lee O'Daniel faces a run-off for an office.

The former governor must face James V. Allred in the August Primaries. The unofficial state count gave O'Daniel 473,522; Allred 315,978 and Moody 178,733.

Other important run-off candidates are James Lee Smith and Harold Beck for Lieut. Governor; Jesse James and Gregory Hatcher, treasurer (a possibility of a Jesse James majority is seen); Judge E. C. Nelson and E. L. Pitts for Chief Justice of the Court Appeals, Amarillo, and Pierce Brooks and Brauford Jester, Railroad Commissioner, unexpired term.

ROLLE BRUMLEY BUYS INTEREST IN GOLDSTON BROS.

Rolle Brumley this week purchased interest in the Goldston Bros. Jewelry Store and will become a partner of Joe Goldston, long time Clarendon jeweler, it was announced this morning.

Mr. Brumley is a graduate watchmaker and engraver, having finished Bradley Horological Institute of Peoria, Ill. He was formerly employed by Goldston Bros. He and his family recently returned to Clarendon from McCamey where he was engaged in the oil business.

The purchase was made from Mrs. Tom Goldston who continued with the business following the recent death of her husband.

The new firm will be known as Goldston and Brumley.

ELIGIBLE TIRE USERS CAN'T DRIVE OVER 40

Persons speeding along on Government controlled tires will be deprived of their casings if they exceed 40 miles per hour, according to an OPA announcement this week.

According to the announcement persons eligible for tires that exceed 40 miles per hour will be reported by state highway police. The Department of Public Safety is cooperating with the OPA in the drive and reports from this county will be forwarded to the state office by patrolman Bill Abbott.

SECRETARY CLARK FROM WORLEY'S OFFICE HERE

Mrs. Altavene Clark, the attractive and efficient secretary to Congressman Eugene Worley, visited a few hours in Clarendon Tuesday morning of this week when she came here with Judge Marvin Jones.

Mrs. Clark, a former secretary to Marvin Jones, while he was congressman from this district, has been making a remarkable record in handling the affairs of Congressman Worley while he has been on duty in the Navy, and she came to Clarendon to look after certain matters pertaining to the interests of this community.

She will return to Washington the latter part of this week. While here she asked The News to transmit her thanks for the splendid support of Congressman Worley as evidenced in Saturday's vote, when the county gave Worley 1532 votes to 155 for his opponent.

FALL FAIR PLANS TO BE FORMULATED TUESDAY

County Agent H. M. Breedlove announced this morning that plans for the Donley County Fair would be laid at a meeting of the board of directors at his office Tuesday night at nine o'clock.

This year's fair will be combined with the annual fall pig show.

Carroll Lewis of Lella Lake is president of the association. L. E. Thompson returned Sunday night from Toronto, Canada where he attended the International Lions Convention.

STEVENSON VOTE HEARTENING INDICATION

Except the most partisan, Texas voters generally will agree that the top-heavy vote of confidence given Coke Stevenson in his re-nomination to the Governorship last Saturday is the most heartening sign noted on the Texas political horizon for many years.

Whatever we may say, there has been some grounds for the jibes thrown at Texas voters for some of our voting vagaries in the past decade or two, and now in spite of a bitter and abusive attack on our chief executive, he has come through unscathed and with a huge majority of the citizenry backing him and his solid, constructive ideas of state administration and policies of government.

Governor Stevenson is to be congratulated that victory came to him without any active, strenuous campaign, as a deserved tribute to a conscientious public servant and a sound exponent of intelligent Democracy.

More than that, Texas is to be congratulated that the results in the governor's race seems to presage a return to a saner attitude in political judgment on the part of the voters of this state.

May further evidences of the desirable condition be manifest on August 22, and in the months to follow.

SYMPATHY FOR THE RUN-OFFEEES

When we consider the feelings of those candidates who after Saturday's returns find themselves faced with a run-off, we cannot but be moved in sympathy.

Think of the prospect of facing four more weeks of campaigning in the wilting heat of a Texas summer. Think of going all over the ground again in nerve-racking anxiety of making proper approach to His Majesty and Her Majesty, the Texas voter, in search of votes.

Yes, our sympathy wells up within us, and our feelings for the poor candidate would almost overwhelm us, except for the thought that we, the voters, have also to undergo another four weeks—that prospect sweeps away the pangs of sympathy for the candidate. Anyway, "misery loves company," so we'll all probably be able to bear it.

WICHITA COUNTY VOTED DRY SATURDAY

By a majority of near three hundred votes, Wichita County voted out the legal sale of liquor in Saturday's election, which developed into one of the hottest fights ever staged in Texas.

The dries predicated their campaign on the issue of protection to the soldier boys at Sheppard Field near Wichita Falls, and the social standards of the city, while the wets did battle on the slogan of "personal liberty", and the usual arguments that drying up liquor by local option only brought the bootlegger into the picture, losing to the city, county and state all the taxes paid in by the liquor traffic as it stood prior to the election.

Another reason why the dries fought so hard was to honor the memory of Senator Morris Sheppard, for whom Sheppard Field is named. They contended that since Senator Sheppard stood for outlawing the liquor traffic, it was only fair that Wichita voters close the whiskey and beer shops contiguous to the big training center.

The News congratulates the voters of that county for this salutary campaign and on its successful culmination. There remains, now, the larger task of seeing to it that the local option law is rigidly and efficiently enforced. This is an obligation on every good citizen of Wichita County, and one that cannot be neglected or evaded. Any other course is to defeat and defy the law and bring disrepute on enforcement of every law.

There will be more such elections and the extension of dry territory in the Southwest as the weeks come and go.

A CHARTER FOR COTTON—CONSTRUCTIVE PLANNING FOR A POST-WAR WORLD

From the standpoint of the South, the most important piece of post-war planning was the adoption of "A Charter For Cotton," by the Texas State-wide Cotton Committee and presented for the first time at the 3rd Annual Cotton Research Congress at Dallas on July 9th, last.

The News sincerely believes this pronouncement is the most constructive utterance for a sound agriculture and world-wide access to needed raw materials that has come from any quarter. Read it:

A CHARTER FOR COTTON

The responsible leaders of the United Nations have repeatedly declared that the enjoyment by all countries, great and small, of access on equal terms to the trade and to the raw materials of the earth is one of the fundamentally essential after-the-war objectives.

Specifically, they declared this in the Atlantic Charter, signed at sea on August 14th, 1941, by the President of the United States and the Prime Minister of Great Britain, and they reaffirmed it in the Declaration of the United Nations, signed by twenty-six countries on January 2nd, 1942, and in economic pacts with Great Britain, with China, and with the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, signed respectively on February 24th, on June 2nd and on June 11th, 1942.

Endorsing these declarations unreservedly, and proposing the practical application of the principles they embody, we affirm:

FIRST—That cotton is the most important textile fiber used by man; that its manufacture is a major industry in nearly every country; that it constitutes more than half of the total of all fibers of all kinds consumed annually in the world; and that it is, therefore, one of the most essential of the principal raw materials of world industry and world commerce.

SECOND—That considerably more than half of the best cotton land and cotton production capacity on the earth is within the boundaries of the United States.

THIRD—That access by all countries, great and small, on equal and equitable terms, to American cotton, the product of more than half of the earth's cotton-growing area, is an absolutely essential part of the program set forth in the declarations of the responsible leaders of the United Nations for the establishment and maintenance of a prosperous and a peaceful world.

FOURTH—That access on equal and equitable terms to the markets of the world by the cotton producers of the United States is quite as essential a part of this program.

FIFTH—That such accessibility in each case is within the control of the Government of the United States to a determining degree and that in order to attain the declared objectives of the United Nations, cooperating together after the war, it is essential that the governmental policies of the United States, especially those affecting its commerce with the rest of the world, shall be formulated and applied with these objectives primarily in view.

Economic Highlights

Happenings That Affected the Dinner Pails, Dividend Checks and Tax Bills of Every Individual National and International Problems Inseparable From Local Welfare.

Both here and in England, millions of people seem to consider themselves completely qualified experts on military tactics and strategy. They know precisely what is wrong with the United Nations' High Commands, and they are convinced that they could remedy matters in short order if they were put in charge. That widespread attitude underlies the aggressive demand that the British and the Americans immediately open a second front in Europe.

In theory, the second front would be of immense benefit to the Allied cause. It would divert men and machines and supplies from Hitler's Russian and African offensives. It would give the conquered people of France their opportunity to rise up against their conqueror and help destroy him. It would mark the start of a real effort to break Axis power at home — where Axis power must eventually be broken.

So much for theory. In actual fact, opening the second front would be one of the most hazardous operations in all military history. According to all reports, the Germans have done wonders in fortifying their continental positions. In France alone they have plenty of air support. 300,000 seasoned troops which have been rigorously trained in preparation for an Allied invasion. These troops have abundant equipment of the first quality, and they have plenty of air support. Their supply lines are secure, and they lie across land, not across water. The Germans have massed a gigantic amount of heavy artillery, much of it taken from the Maginot Line, along the French Coast, and every possible invasion point is a fortress.

As military history proves again and again, an over-water invasion of enemy-held territory is the most difficult of all martial operations — even after their complete victory at Dunkirk, when British military power was all but destroyed, the Nazi generals didn't feel confident enough of success to make the attempt. The enemy positions must be "softened" first by days and perhaps weeks of artillery fire — and guns do not exist which can adequately shell the German positions from the British side of the Channel. As a substitute for artillery, dive bombers would have to be used — and their losses would be enormous.

The losses in men which would follow when the stage of landing operations was reached, is also staggering. Without artillery support, the landing troops would have to advance Collier's, Quentin Reynolds, one of the best informed of war correspondents, draws a vivid and probably accurate picture when he says: "Let those who shout loudest for the immediate establishment of a second front in France... visualize for a moment the cost, in equipment and life. Let them visualize the waters of the Channel running blood red under a white moon, and let them visualize the bodies of thousands of British and American soldiers floating in those waters. If the persuasive eloquence of the second-front brigade is followed, no other result is possible."

This does not mean that a second front is impossible. To the contrary, every really informed military man is convinced that one will be opened in time. But it cannot be opened until everything is ready. That means that, first, there must be many more bombings of Germany and the Continent on the Cologne scale. It means that Allied troops must be given more and better equipment than they now possess. And it means that ways must be found of causing distracting trouble for Germany at home.

Some experts believe that airpower alone may create a second front. They look forward to a time when three, four, five thousand major bombers will be used nightly in raids against the Axis. Major de Seversky is the most eloquent exponent of this doctrine and his recent best seller, "Victory Through Air Power," is a convincing work. The problem involved here are those of production, supply and coordination — and the last two are even more important than the first. We are producing planes on a never-increasing scale. We have not yet solved the difficulties that lie in taking them, their fuel, their crews and their parts to the battlefronts and keeping them flying.

In any event, many of those who demand a second front at once are terribly uninformed. The High Command has not opened a second front simply because it knows that the time is not yet ripe — and because it also knows that the United Nations must not be subjected to another defeat of the Dunkirk, Singapore, Philippines, and East Indies variety. A great amount of groundwork lies ahead before we can really start a sustained offensive drive of any kind against either Germany or Japan.

Before long, definite action to impose a ceiling on wages is likely to be taken, either by Congress or by presidential directive. Washington is really worried about inflation. It is obviously impossible to control and fix prices so long as wages rise. In addition, wages must be limited if purchasing power is to be held down.

More and rigorous controls over the nation's man power in all directions is also to be anticipated. The time may come when workers will not be permitted to change jobs — and when employers will not be permitted to bid competitively for men. This isn't pleasant. But the exigencies of war may make it inevitable.

To feed and clothe the troops in one army corps area requires 98,000 miles of highway and 131 miles of government owned railroads connecting 20,000 buildings of nearly 2,500,000 acres of military reservations.

Wendell Willkie, (center) active in the work of United China Relief since its formation last year, becomes honorary chairman as the organization announces that it will operate on a permanent basis for the duration of the war emergency. Paul G. Hoffman, (left) president of the Studebaker Corporation at South Bend, Indiana, has been named chairman. William R. Harce, (right) vice president of the International General Electric Company, becomes President. With nine agencies now participating in its national appeal, United China Relief will intensify its efforts in 1942 because of China's growing relief needs and her key position in the world-wide situation.

OLD AGE PAYMENTS RECORDS OKEYED BY AUDITOR

AUSTIN — State Auditor C. H. Cavness reported today, after his current examination of the records, that in his opinion all taxes collected for the Old Age Assistance Fund have been properly handled by the State Comptroller and State Treasurer and that every individual old age assistance applicant who has been duly certified by the State Department of Public Welfare has been paid in full the entire amount to which he is legally entitled to date.

The State Auditor pointed out that under the present Federal law, with which the State law must conform, all monthly payments to each individual are fixed by the Department of Public Welfare after investigation of each case to determine actual individual need. He said that the amount of the cash balance that may be on hand cannot legally be used to increase the size of the checks — that any excess cash over the amount necessary to pay the ones on the roll can be used only to increase the number, and that the total cash balance that may be on hand cannot legally be used to increase the size of the checks — that any excess cash over the amount necessary to pay the ones on the roll can be used only to increase the number, and that the total cash balance after the July 1942 checks had been written was only $15,813.96.

The U. S. has appropriated 143 billions for war since Pearl Harbor, about twice the total for all the other wars in our history.

Reflections

By DICK COOKE

There is no rhythm or reason in politics.

There are two essential parts to politics, candidates and voters.

The candidates try to fool the voters and the voters try to fool the candidates.

Both succeed.

Occasionally the best man for an office will win but this is an exception rather than the rule. To establish that precedent the man in question is not entirely honest for he has the people fooled somehow.

In many cases being elected to anything under a district office is an honor but in some cases it is universal pronouncement that the candidate is not worthy of a post in civilian life and so is pensioned on the county.

Hillbilly W. Lee O'Daniel continued his majority winning vote getting in Donley County but his margin was not nearly as impressing as that of two years ago.

In Saturday's primary O'Daniel's margin was a bare fifty-five votes as against a majority lead of 550 in 1940.

The figures for last week-end gave the flour salesman 916 votes and his opponents a combined total of 861. In his last race for governor, O'Daniel captured 1,407 Donley ballots whereas his five opponents, Ferguson, Davis, Hines, Thompson and Sadler, only got 850.

However, there were over 2,300 ballots marked in 1940 and this year only 1,792 citizens went to the polls. The voting decline seemed to hurt O'Daniel more than his opponents. Despite the drop his opposition gained eleven votes whereas the Senator dropped 491.

This tabulation leaves local political experts in a quandary. What has become of the 491 O'Daniel votes? According to many the bulk of the flour man's strength lay in old age pensioners and rabid boosters who won't stay away from the polls for any reason. To this department that doesn't reflect a true picture. True Donley County's population has dropped heavily within the past two years but I don't believe all the ones that have left were O'Daniel supporters.

Parallel of Life:

The other day while slowly taking the long way home up Highway 287 a car traveling west at excessive speed passed me and turned sharply on Highway 18, over the overpass. Soon it was out of sight. Before I had gone a quarter of a mile it re-appeared and in a cloud of dust and a shower of loose pebbles turned back on Highway 287 and continued rapidly on its way.

Soon afterward another car made the same mistake and had to retract to get on the right road. Because or nothing else to do I stopped and waited just to see how many motorists lost themselves off the road for no reason. Within the short space of thirty minutes four cars lost time, gasoline and tires by turning wrong.

Needless to say it was the speeding strangers who missed the road. The conservative drivers had no trouble.

There is no apparent reason to miss the straight west road. The drivers evidently hadn't studied their maps intently or intelligently. The newer, smoother, overpass road looked more inviting so without heed to roadside signs they turned. The fact they were in a hurry is evidenced by the rapid pace they were traveling yet their rush defeated their purpose. Had they slowed down to consult their maps or even to look for the road signs, they would have saved much time, trouble, and money.

How many of us each day are in so much haste to complete our task that we discard little items of high value because the end of the road looms so alluring that it blinds us to the smaller things. Yet by overlooking the smaller things we seldom succeed. But if we miraculously reach the top we find that the foundation is so insecure that our presence is highly precarious and our stay at best can only be short lived. Life is like a jigsaw puzzle, it is not complete unless each piece fits perfectly.

WASTE FAT SAVED
MAY SINK JAP
SHIP SOME DAY

COLLEGE STATION — Waste fat homemakers save in their kitchens for the nation's salvage campaign may one day sink an enemy battleship or help crumble Axis fortifications on fronts the world over.

Grease makes glycerine in home management for the A. and M. College Extension Service. She explains that every ten pounds of fat saved in the nation's campaign will produce one pound of glycerine for gunpowder or other explosives needed in winning the war. The two billion pounds of fat wasted in American kitchens every year would provide two hundred million pounds of glycerine Uncle Sam badly needs, according to the Bureau of Home Economics.

Recently the War Production Board arranged with meat dealers to receive some of this waste fat from housewives, and the A. & M. Extension Service will cooperate with state and county salvage committees in helping every rural family in Texas know its part. Cooperation in the national fat-saving campaign is in line with the war-time Extension program — the Victory Demonstration — to which thousands of rural Texans are pledged.

The homemakers' part in the campaign is to use grease wisely in cooking and take her surplus fats to her nearest meat dealer or freezer locker plant. She'll receive money — probably five cents per pound. Fat should be strained

YOU
by
BOYCE HOUSE

One of Lincoln's favorite poems: If you are too weak to journey Up the mountain, steep and high,

You can stand within the valley While the multitudes go by— You can chant in happy measure, As they slowly pass along— Though they may forget the singer,

They will not forget the song

If you can not in the conflict Prove yourself a soldier true; If where fire and smoke are thickets,

There's no work for you to do— When the battlefield is silent, You can bear away the wounded,

You can cover up the dead.

Do not then stand idly waiting For some greater work to do; Fortune is a lazy goddess— She will never come to you.

Go and toll in any vineyard, Do not fear to do or dare— If you want a field of labor, You can find it anywhere.

An editor's little daughter came home from Sunday School with an illustrated card in her hand. "What is it?" her mother and poured into clean, wide-mouthed cans, such as a coffee can. "Keep the fat in the refrigerator or some other dark, cool place until you have a pound or more," the specialist suggests.

Using fat drippings in preparing food will help in the movement, since it will prevent drawing on commercial stocks of fats and oils. Every tablespoon used means buying less fat.

Some homemakers have mistakenly feared a soap shortage would make it necessary to save their fats for making soap at home. But soap is a by-product of glycerine, Miss Bryant explains, so large supplies will be available.

asked. "Oh" said the child, "just an advertisement about heaven."

Col. C. A. Studer of Canadian in his rodeo association publication. "Round-up," has this modern fable:

Once upon a time there was a mama cow, a papa cow and a little boy cow, and they were a happy trio — until one day the little boy cow wandered away. The papa cow and the mama cow started searching for the little fellow, looking carefully in every crevice and behind all of the hills. They searched all day and walked many miles, but found no trace of their wandering boy.

Finally, just as the sun was setting in the west, they came to a huge bluff. The mama cow looked out across the vast expanse and many, many miles away she saw their little boy grazing contently in the valley below.

Amazed, they stood a few seconds and looked at him. Then the mama cow turned to the papa cow and said, "That goes to show just how far a little bull will go."

Proverbs of France (When France could be philosophically witty):

Speak little and well if you would be esteemed as a man of merit.

Patience is bitter but its fruit is sweet.

There are no miracles to the man who does not believe in them.

And to the "country editors" of Texas and to all you folks, much obliged for the aid and support you gave Boyce House during the recent campaign.

The Low Down
FROM HICKORY GROVE

Somebody will say he represents labor — his heart aches for labor — and he gets elected to something. Of all the known prevarications and truth-stretching, there are few that will surpass this claim of "bleeding for labor." Labor has been so busy tending to its own job, it has paid too little attention to ridding itself of the leeches and spongers.

When some duck rises up and tells a bold and outright untruth that he represents labor, nobody questions him. And now, the slicker is in the saddle. He is gonna be hard to corral and unseat. Catching up with him will be as hard as it was there in Idaho once, where the greatest liar of his time lived. This slippery hombre was picking wild berries when a bear took after 'im, as he tells it. It was nip and tuck. But finally he escaped, he said. But not until he reached the ice. At this point, a bystander thought he had the gent cornered. How did you escape on the ice in July, he asked Well, said Slippery, the bear look after me in July but it was not until December that I fooled him.

A large electric fan contains enough steel to make three .33 caliber revolvers, enough zinc for the zinc parts of an Army motorcycle, enough copper for 77 .30 calibre machine gun bullets and enough aluminum for the aluminum parts of seven gas masks.

War shipments from 432 automotive plants, representing 72 per cent of the industry amounted to $420,000,000 in April, or 46 per cent above that in February.

FOXWORTH - GALBRAITH LUMBER COMPANY

"I Learned about LIGHT in a BLACKOUT!"

That's what a man wrote in a very human letter.

- "We had our first practice blackout here recently," he added. "For twenty minutes, my family and I sat in total darkness. The seriousness of war hit us all harder than ever before."
- "Then, when the all-clear sounded and we turned the lights back on, warmth and reassurance came into the room. That made me realize that whatever I spend for electricity, it's still about the cheapest thing I buy."

- Here in West Texas, where blackouts have been few and far between and the war seems far away, a lot of folks take electricity for granted until something reminds them how dependable and cheap it really is. If yours is an average family, you're getting about twice or three times as much electricity for your money as ten to fifteen years ago.
- The reasons why this service is so cheap and so dependable go back to the way America works—a way we're all fighting for now. A way of life in which free men have an opportunity to create and produce and succeed in proportion to their individual contribution.
- Your Electric Servant grew up that way—steadily making more jobs, serving more homes and people and lowering rates—under efficient business management. Because it has done its part of the job well, West Texas has the electric power to attract military training camps, flying schools and war plants. West Texas today is helping produce the men and material that promises a permanent blackout for the Axis dictators!

LUMBER FREEZE EXTENDED

WPB has announced extension of the softwood construction lumber "freeze" order, due to expire on July 13, to August 13. The order bans sales and deliveries of softwood lumber by producers, but does not restrict sales by lumber yards. WPB's lumber and lumber products is working to complete a study of the softwood lumber supply-demand situation in order to provide an orderly system of distribution, based on the relative essentiality of lumber for war purposes.

CALIFORNIA WEDDING IS OF INTEREST HERE

On June 26th at 4:30 o'clock p. m., the Normandy Wedding Manor, Long Beach, California, was the setting for the impressive wedding ceremony for Wanda Dixon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Dixon of Canadian, Texas, and Lloyd A. Martin, son of J. R. Martin of Clarendon, who is stationed at San Pedro, California as Petty Officer in the U. S. Navy.

The bride was dressed in a honey beige dress suit with powder blue accessories. She wore a gold naval pen on her lapel and carried a small white U. S. Naval Testament. Her corsage was of pink Bavardia and Lilies of the Nile.

Mrs. P. M. Cole of San Bernardino, California, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor and wore a black street length crepe with black accessories. Her corsage was giant gardenies.

The wedding march was played as the bride approached an all white altar arrangement of gladiola and fern. Large palms stood on each side and slender, tapering candles provided light for the single ring ceremony. Strains of "Intermezzo" could be heard continuously as vows were taken.

Mrs. Martin is a graduate of the Canadian High School where she was Queen of Canadian and Miss Lake Marvin. She is an ex-student of West Texas State College, Canyon, where she was chosen as College Beauty. She was drum-major of the West Texas State band and a member of Delta Zeta Chi sorority.

Mr. Martin is a graduate of Clarendon High School. He is an ex-student of West Texas State College, Clarendon Junior College, and the University of Arkansas.

They are at home in Long Beach.

EDWARD BLAIR OZIER AND LOUISIANA GIRL ARE MARRIED JULY 4

Of interest here is the marriage of Miss Mary Frances Manning, niece of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Browne of Alexandria, La., to Edward Blair Ozier, son of Mrs. O. B. Ozier also of that city, and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Ozier of Clarendon.

The lovely ceremony took place in Alexandria, July 4 at the home of Rev. and Mrs. R. H. Harper. The Rev. Harper read the wedding ceremony before an improvised altar of pastel gladiolus and daffodils.

To the strains of the traditional wedding march, the bride entered with her uncle who gave her in marriage. She wore a simple white frock with a corsage of orchids. Her maid of honor and only attendant was Miss Margaret Stokes. Billie Vice served as best man.

Only a few close relatives and friends attended.

For all your days prepare, And meet them ever alike: When you are the anvil, bear— When you are the hammer, strike. —Edwin Markham.

Sometime ago our friend Richard (he calls himself ADVERTISING MANAGER AND REPORTER AND ASSISTANT EDITOR, ETC.) told us that the only way to find out what people thought of your column was to skip a week. Well, we skipped last week and we don't guess they thought much of anything because we haven't at this time, and here it is nearly paper day again, heard either yea or nay from any of our numerous readers. (Well, we can build up our own ego, can't we?). We even went to all the trouble to see if our weekly sales of papers had fallen off because of its absence, but no, they were much the same as usual. We shouldn't try it again because it really is a bit discouraging. Especially after rushing home Thursday and sitting within hearing distance of the telephone all evening so that we might be able to readily soothe the disappointed when they called to ask why. It looks as though we are going to have to change our title from SOCIETY EDITOR, COLUMNIST AND FRONT JANITOR TO FRONT JANITOR, SOCIETY EDITOR, and COLUMNIST, MAYBE.

About a month or so ago we gave a version of the doughboy's dream girl as Dorothy Kilgallen sees her — short, with a tiny waist and plenty of curves, dresses in jumper frocks and shirt-waist dresses, wears an old fashioned "barrette" or hair ribbon in her hair. We think that June Melton is a pretty good example of this composite picture.

Someone else thought this up, we didn't. Prizes given at a golf tournament: First prize, a new tire; second prize, a case of coke; third prize, $1,000.

Tomorrow you'll wear: Patch pockets of fur, now that wool-on-wool is not allowed — diagonal lines, in closings, pockets, and buttons — velveteen jumpers, for grown-ups as well as daughters — bright colored dicekeys with dark fall suits and silk dresses. Stripes, plaids, checks, and pastels will rival the usual whites — novelty gloves, many of them handmade — black and silver, especially smart in costume jewelry — pocket flaps to match your collar — soft fabric bags to match your dresses and suits.

Speaking of bags, we saw Isabel Wright carrying one of the most attractive bags we have seen this season — a large sort of triangular shaped affair made of bright plaid fabric material.

Have you been up in your attic or down in your basement or dug down in the bottom of that old storage closet for those old phonograph records? Maybe a lot of you are like we were for a while, not understanding exactly what the records were wanted for. They will all be melted down and made into new records and passed out in the various army camps around over the country and even abroad to provide entertainment for the soldier boys.

Maybe you're thinking that if the boys are fighting they won't have time for such foolishness. But they can't fight all the time and maybe playing a record now and then will help that lonesome feeling after a day of hard drilling. You won't only be helping "just soldiers," you'll be helping your son, your brother, your sweetheart or husband, or maybe the boy next door. Remember that when a fellow's in the army, he doesn't just automatically turn into a robot. He's still human and just like everyone else enjoys a bit of entertainment now and then. The World's Great Larder

Did anything ever bring such satisfying success to hunger as properly fried chicken? Lay a piece of chicken, fresh from the frying pan, covered with crisp brown crust, on a big dinner plate. Plop down beside it a heap of fluffy white mashed potatoes and a helping of fresh green peas. Add contrast, in taste and color, with a spoonful of current jelly, red as the fruit itself. Then pour the gravy—gravy made in the frying pan with milk, thickened with flour and stuffed with bits of liver and gizzard. There, my friends, is combination in which a fonder wholesome flavor is subtly blended to produce perfect satisfaction!

Any one who's lived in the South or Middle West knows what I'm talking about. Others, who contend that young chickens should be cooked under the broiler or broast of fancy French methods, have something yet to learn. And this is the summer to learn it! For the poultry producers of this country, like our manufacturers, have stepped production up to almost unbelievable levels and young, fryable chickens are so plentiful they'll be the Department of Agriculture's "Victory Special" from July 15 year. But word went out to the farmers that still more chickens and eggs are needed, so the hatch to 26.

Last year was a record hatch this year is 16 per cent higher than last. This means that 50 million more hens are on the job this year, producing so many eggs that we can send 3 million dozen overseas every day and still not miss them.

The farmers of the United States, like the manufacturers, have never known how much they could produce because they never had a market that demanded the limit. Now the lid is off. Now they can really step on it and results are amazing.

Today we're producing enough food to send billions of pounds to our allies—and to feed a great army, better than any army has ever been fed before and still eat pretty well at home. Thank you! So far, sugar is the only food that's been rationed. They say that coffee, and certain other things may be rationed soon. But even so, we will have plenty to eat and send overseas because this is the United States—a country in which nature and man cooperate to produce as mankind has never produced before!

The tools of war pour from our factories, making this the "Arsenal of Democracy." At the same time, the farmers and food processors are making it the world's great larder!

LIBRARY NOTES

(By Mrs. C. A. Burton)

In a list of the ten leading current library favorites from the public libraries from twenty-six large cities we found seven of them on our shelves as follows and in this order: "The Moon Is Down," Steinbeck; "Dragon Seed," Pearl Buck; "The Sun Is My Undoing," Marguerite Steen; "King Row," Henry Bellamanna; "The Keys of the Kingdom," A. J. Cronin; "Windswept," Mary Ellen Chase; "Pied Piper," Nevill Shute.

We have one three of the ten non-fiction favorites, "Mission To Moscow," Joseph E. Davies; "Inside Latin America," John Gunther; "Berlin Diary," Shirer. However, we have quite a few of the popular non-fiction books not listed in the ten.

An interesting discussion lately by a reviewer was to the effect that so few of the books being read today would be counted good ten years from now, especially books of fiction. This reviewer gave the books of World War I as proof of that fact. The two most widely read and still read were Eric Remarque's "All Quiet On The Western Front," and Ernest Hemingway's "Farewell To Arms." While these were war books, yet they were in reality passionately anti-war—so much so that "All Quiet On The Western Front" was banned by the Nazis and Remarque became one of the large number of literary refugees to this country. Of course both of these are on our shelves and both being read while it is probably true that the large number of present day favorites do not contain far as the literary value, yet they do contain for us much interest at the present time, and we are eagerly reading them. There is a waiting list for most of them with us.

In the June meeting of the American Library Association in Milwaukee, which was the first war meeting since 1918, there were present 2800 librarians, trustees, editors, publishers, and friends of the libraries. Despite wartime restrictions on travel, members registered from every state in the Union, from six Canadian provinces, and seven Latin American republics.

Some of the interesting echoes from this meeting were the following: A grant from the Coordinator of Inter-American Affairs enabled the American Library Association to establish the Benjamin Franklin Library in Mexico City.

American libraries are being organized in Montevideo, Uruguay and Nicaragua. The A. L. A. will operate a project called Books for Latin America, the purpose of which is to send books by American Authors to Latin American libraries. An appropriation of $140,000 will probably be supplemented by other amounts and the project will be operated from an office in Washington.

The establishment of an American Library in London has been suggested but as yet no plans have been perfected.

Hundreds of trained librarians are employed and millions of dollars are being spent by the government for two very large library systems which now serve American soldiers, sailors, and marines in nearly all parts of the world. Libraries in the camps and on board ship are contributing more to the training and recreation of the armed forces than ever before.

But possibly the greatest service books have rendered is the help that they have given in bringing to the people of the U. S. an understanding of the meaning of this war. The hundreds of thousands of copies of books by Shirer, Stone, Gunther, and others have had their influence in bringing unity to the nation. It must be remembered that the reading of one copy of a book may result in a broadcast that reaches hundreds of thousands of people. Lecturers, editors, radio commentators all have used books and quoted from them. The influence of books upon public opinion is greater than we realize.

Farm Notes

You producers have noticed that when a reporter comes to your place to measure your farm, he asks you for your correct address including the route and box number, if you are on a route, or your box number if you are in town. The reporter should also ask you for your first name and middle initial. Since the checks will be mailed directly to the producers from the Disbursing Office at Dallas, Texas, it is very necessary that producers give their full name and complete address, to prevent any delay in the delivery of the check. It is impossible for us to obtain this information without your help, so we are asking your cooperation in the matter. No application will be submitted until all information is inserted correctly.

If all the soil building allowance is earned for a farm, it will be eligible to have an application for payment of the conservation check to be submitted at an early date, that is, sometime in September or October. If the soil-building allowance is not earned the papers will have to be held in the county office until the close of the program year which is November 30th.

Many wheat producers will be interested in the wheat crop insurance program due to the disastrous invasion of greenbugs, hail, heavy rains and extended drought in the last several years. We are now in a position to offer a full coverage insurance at a very cheap rate for this type of insurance, but only on a three year policy. A letter will be mailed to each wheat producer in the near future explaining the 943 program more fully.

COLLEGE STATION — Grow winter legumes will help Texas farmers maintain their peak productive strength.

Drawing on present soil fertility without replacing may result in declining food and fiber production later in the war and post-war period when most of the world will be looking to American farmers for food and clothing. George Slaughter, chairman Texas AAA committee, said.

Planting winter legumes, mainly vetches and winter peas, is recognized as one of the best methods of restoring productive vigor to soils.

The seedlings also are needed to replace nitrogenous fertilizer which is being diverted to manufacture of munitions. The only effective substitute for fertilizer diverted in this manner, the AAA official explained, is the growing of legumes that transfer nitrogen from the air to the soil.

Present crop reports indicate that seed production this year will be more than twice that of 1941 and supplies soon will begin to move from the Pacific Northwest to Southern countries.

The Agricultural Adjustment Agency, which long has encouraged the planting of winter legumes, already has arranged for farmers participating in the program to obtain seeds and pay for them later out of payments earned under the AAA program.

For the seeding of winter legumes, cooperating farmers can earn AAA payments which practically cover the cost of the seed, Slaughter said.

A good deal of discussion followed the President's explanation that his meeting with England's Prime Minister was at Shanghai, but those who were familiar with James Hilton's "Lost Horizon" were amused at the implications. The interesting thing about it to me was the fact that so busy a man as our President was familiar with the Hilton stories, and that reminded me of a statement from a speech delivered by trans-Atlantic telephone at Milwaukee by the librarian of the City of Westminster Libraries, London. He commented on the large number of books being read by the people today and said, "Detective stories and romances have slowly played their humble part in the preserving the peace of mind and mental health of thousands of people."

Enough steel to build 44 Liberty Ships in 1942 has been saved through the banning of beer cans and the rationing of beer bottle caps.

Startling Improvements Are Due For Post-War Automobiles

How the post-war automobile design may be revolutionized as a result of increased use of wood-plastics and improved power plants is shown in this artist's sketch of one kind of car that automotive experts believe will be popular.

That new automobile you are hoping to buy when the war is over is going to be a "little honey." At least that's what the leading designers call it.

It will be a "honey," they say, because it will be the "sweetest running job" which the famous automotive industry has ever turned out. It is expected to be a marvel of compactness, lightness and economy.

William B. Stout, noted automotive engineer, who is one of the leading authorities for this picture of the post-war automobile, predicts it will be constructed almost entirely of new kinds of plywood and plastics, will weigh from 500 to 1,000 pounds and will be powered by an aviation-type engine to give plenty of power and about 50 miles to a gallon of gas!

Experts predict that the automobile industry will call for less metal in favor of new forms of forest products as automobile production picks up after the war.

Whereas approximately 4,000,000 cars was the greatest number ever produced in this country in one year, experts believe that post-war production may easily run to 6,000,000 or more. The supply of new kinds of materials will be ample, the engineers point out, because of America's great annual potential forest growth.

Most of the wood to be used in the post-war automobile, however, will bear little resemblance to the lumber used in houses. Instead, much of it will be so-called "compregnated" strips of wood, as many as 100 to an inch, bonded together with synthetic resins and then squeezed at a pressure of 1,000 pounds per inch until its thickness is reduced by half, and its strength is quadrupled. Much of the other use of wood in automobiles will be in the form of plastics manufactured by a chemical process from ground wood pulp.

Even the tires may be a resilient synthetic made from wood plastics, and the windshield and windows may be made from transparent, shatter-proof forms of other by-products of wood.

Only major part of the car certain to be made of metals will be the engine, which Mr. Stout believes will weigh as little as 60 pounds and be installed at the rear. It will probably be air-cooled, he says, and will be only about 10 inches high — but it will be a mighty midget, able to out-perform the "Goliath" power-plants which are conventional in the models of today.

FREE SERVICE OFFERED FARMERS

According to county agent H. M. Breedlove of the Texas A. and M. College Extension service the Agriculture Marketing Administration of the United States Department of Agriculture offers free classification and news service to farmers organized in groups according to the kind of cotton that they grow.

All cotton will be classed free of charge for farmers requesting that this service be given them. County agent H. M. Breedlove stated that he was mailing out cards to all cotton farmers in Donley asking the varieties of cotton grown and the acres that they expected to have this year.

These cards should be filled out at once the county agent said so that they can be sent in to the state office. All farmers growing certain varieties will be grouped and the different groups sent in to the state office asking that their cotton be classed free of charge.

This service will not be available unless it is requested by the farmer. These cards being mailed to farmers at this time must be in my office in five days or they will not be considered the county agent said.

I am organizing the county on a county wide basis and will group the different varieties and this will speed up the formation of the groups. We are handing this by mail to save you time and rubber for your car. But be sure to mail in this card that will be inclosed with a letter of explanation of the entire set-up. Fill this card out and have it in my office in five days for this service.

BICYCLE QUOTAS REVISED

Following issuance of a WPB order that further restricts production of Victory model bicycles, OPA has cut quotas of bicycles already announced for rationing during July. The quota previously announced for July and August is reduced to 25 per cent and the August quota withdrawn, with announcement of a new quota for the month to be made later. The July state quotas for the entire country now total 45,000 as compared with the original quota of 230,000 for July and August.

Old Record Drive Faltering As The American Legion Pleads Earnestly

In a written statement to local newspapers this morning, B. C. Antrobus, Adjutant of the Aubyn E. Clark post of The American Legion, earnestly pleads for old phonograph records.

Antrobus' statement said: "The American Legion has always had the co-operation of the public in anything that was good and right, and we are still expecting this cooperation from you.

"So far our records for the fighting men drive has been more or less of a failure, on our quota of 2,500 records we have only collected to date $58. We are a long way from our goal, are you going to help us put this over or are you going to let us down?"

"If you are not familiar with the purpose of this old record drive, it is simply this. We collect the old records and then ship them in to a point and they are melted and made into new records, and in turn sent into the army and other organizations for the amusement of the fighting men, the men in the service do not get the old records, but new ones of their own choice. Surely you can help this much on this drive.

"This is my last appeal through the local papers as this drive is over on the first day of August.

"So don't forget but go now to the cello or attic and dig out those old records and phone 68 and I will send some one after them."

TIRE INVENTORY EXTENDED UNTIL AUGUST 1

G. E. Kinslow, Chairman of the Donley County War Price and Rationing board, announced today that automobile tire and tube sellers have been granted an extension of time from July 25 to August 1, in which to file with the local board an inventory of all tires and tubes, both new and used, that were on hand as of June 30.

"This is the second extension of time granted for this report," Kinslow explained, "because of the late arrival of the necessary forms."

These reports must be filled by all persons who sell new or used tires and tubes and retreaded or recapped tire of whatever kind, not mounted on a vehicle. The purpose of the inventory is to provide a fund of information to assist in charting the future course of rationing.

"Similar reports must be made by each tire seller in each calendar quarter hereafter," Kinslow explained, "but in the future, the reporting forms will have to be obtained from our local board office by the tire dealer. They will not be mailed to the dealer hereafter, as they were for this first report."

"America the beautiful lies in the hands of the gardeners"

Perennial phlox are blossoming in the yards of Mrs. A. H. Baker, J. P. Pool and Bryan Armstrong.

The Frank White, Jr., garden is attractive with its well-kept lotus. The bright pink phlox produces a splash of color in the front flower beds.

The walk way at the home of the J. W. Rhodes is bordered with many vari-colored flowers. An orchid and rose colored crepe myrtle are blossoming in the yard at the S. C. Bell home.

The blue morning glories are flowering in the gardens on the trellis in the city but the most attractive of vines at this time is the lace vine which is showing its lace beauty in many gardens. Among these are the gardens of the A. L. Chases, the U. J. Bostons and the A. G. Lanes.
