Former Clarendon Woman Critically Injured As Three Die In Car-Bus Fire

Rescued from a flaming funeral pyre that once was a luxurious Bowen Mainliner bus, Mrs. Clyde Holtzclaw, formerly of Clarendon, was suffering this morning in an Amarillo hospital from shock, burns and broken bones, received when the bus and an automobile crashed head-on three miles east of Claude at 12:53 this morning.

A report from Amarillo at noon today gave her condition as critical.

The bus-car crash ended in flaming death the lives of three other persons and injured several of the eleven passengers who had taken passage on the carrier.

Burned beyond recognition was a man passenger and also unidentified was the driver of the car that, according to state police officer, Bill Abbott, crashed into the bus on the car's left side of the road.

Ima Jean Holbert, Amarillo, also died in the collision and her body and those of the two men were not recovered from the smoldering ruins until several hours after the wreck.

The victims were brought to Clarendon by Womack and Buntin and Son Ambulances, where authorities are endeavoring to establish identification. One clue pointed to the passenger being an architect from Dallas.

The two men victims are at local funeral homes pending identification and the body of Miss Holbert was returned to Amarillo.

According to state officers, Abbott and R. C. Johnson, who were called to the wreck immediately, the car had been stolen from a beer joint in Amarillo shortly before midnight. A night watchman in Claude estimated the automobile was traveling about 75 miles an hour when it passed through that city.

The officers said so great was the impact that the light automobile was driven midway into the bus. The bus was entirely upon his side of the road, the officers said.

The bus driver, Homer Penrod, was severely injured and is in an Amarillo hospital.

Paul Moore of Clarendon was the first at the scene of the accident. He gave all aid possible and notified officers.

Mrs. Holtzclaw, the former Betty B. Halle of Clarendon, was rescued by James Johnson, a soldier formerly living in Groom. Johnson braved the roaring flames to bring Mrs. Holtzclaw to safety.

Mrs. Holtzclaw is the daughter of W. B. Halle of White Deer who is formerly of Clarendon and is the sister of Mrs. Clyde Martin who is in the beauty business here.

LOCAL DELEGATES TO LIONS MEET AT ODESSA

Clarendon Lions Club was represented at the District 2-T 1942 Convention at Odessa the first of the week by President McHenry Lane, Lee Bell and Cap Morris.

President Lane served on the important resolutions committee of the convention, and all delegates enjoyed the inspiring program and fine entertainment of Odessa.

Murry Fly, deputy district governor of Odessa, was lectured by District Governor for the ensuing year, succeeding H. C. Pender of Lubbock to that office.

Donley County Citizens Are Asked To Donate Liberally To "Poppy Girls"

Donley County citizens are asked to contribute liberally of dimes, quarters and dollars to the "Poppy Girls" this year as the money will aid the victims of the present war, as well as those of the first World War.

The Clarendon Legion Auxiliary rapidly is completing arrangements for the annual observance of Poppy Day on Saturday, May 23, when memorial poppies will be distributed throughout the city by auxiliary members.

Funds collected on Poppy Day will be used in the work the Legion and Auxiliary are doing for the disabled of both wars and for needy families of men in the service as well as those of veterans.

The Auxiliary have had 20 years experience in aiding servicemen and their dependents. They are able to make every dollar do maximum service in this field. Their volunteer workers have had long training and know the quickest and best methods of bringing relief to veterans and their families.

Veterans of the present war are naturally turning to the Legion and Auxiliary for aid, and we want to give them the benefit of our services. The increased burden calls for increased funds. It is hoped that the public will be generous on Poppy Day this year.

The Clarendon Auxiliary this year will also decorate all war victims graves at the local cemeteries. They urge that anyone wishing to give flowers for this Memorial Day observance, May 30, to please advise some Auxiliary member.

RAIN CONTINUES TODAY WITH OVER INCH RECEIVED

Over one-inch of moisture had been received early this morning from two days of precipitation and heavy leaden clouds continued to pour down rain on Donley County farm and ranch land.

The moisture was hailed and highly beneficial to spring planting and garden plots but fears were expressed that continued rain would necessitate replanting of much of the cotton crop. Most producers are just now completing planting.

PIONEER SERVICE AT METHODIST CHURCH FRIDAY

Friday morning at 10:00 o'clock, a service for the Pioneer residents of the community will be held in connection with the Methodist revival. Rev. C. E. Rev. J. O. Quattlebaum has asked The News to extend a special invitation to old-timers of all denominations, or no denomination to attend this service and take part.

The revival services, which began Sunday morning, have had a daily increase in attendance and interest, as the well-known preacher, Rev. C. E. Jamison, developed his gospel messages. The young people have been furnishing the music for the evening services.

According to plans the meeting will close with the Sunday night service. Week-day services are held at ten in the morning, and eight-thirty in the evening.

FUNERAL SERVICES HELD FOR FATHER OF LOCAL MAN

FOUNDER OF THOMPSON BROS. STORES IN MEMPHIS, HEDLEY AND CLARENDON SUCCEMBUS

Funeral services for George M. Thompson, 77, father of L. E. Thompson of Clarendon, were held Saturday morning at 10:30 o'clock at the First Baptist Church in Memphis by Rev. Sid F. Martin, pastor.

Death came suddenly late Thursday afternoon as Mr. Thompson was working in the flower beds at his home in Memphis.

Mr. Thompson first came to the Panhandle Plains area in 1884 and was employed as a cow hand on the LX Ranch near Amarillo. He was one of 16 hands making a drive of cattle for that ranch on the long overland trail to Dodge City, Kan., when that roaring frontier town was the cattle market and shipping point for a vast territory.

He first came to Hall County in 1901, purchasing land near Memphis and engaging in farming. Disliking farming, he returned to his former home town, Alvord, and opened a drug store. He sold the store in 1906 and leading his family and possessions in a covered wagon, again set out for Memphis.

Shortly after his arrival he opened a hardware store in a building constructed of native stone and located on the northeast corner of the public square. The store has been in the same location since and is now operated as Thompson Brothers by his sons. In 1912 Mr. Thompson and associates erected a modern three-story building, which now houses the hardware store and the Memphis Hotel.

Surviving relatives include his wife; three daughters, Mrs. Grover C. Wilburn of Dallas, Mrs. Bryan Baldwin of Mineral Wells; four sons, E. P. and Geo. M. Jr. of Memphis, L. E. of Clarendon and C. O. of Burkburnett and several grandchildren.

Miss Zella Cross left Saturday to spend the summer at her home in Canyon.

Bill Abbott, one of the arresting officers, said the lunatic chased two women at their homes and then came to a downtown garage. He threatened the woman bookkeeper who called officers and was, when the officers arrived, assaulting a garage mechanic with a large club.

The man was subdued and placed in jail and his insanity hearing was held Saturday.

Eleven Donley Persons Injured In Automobile Collision Sunday Night

EXCESS HOLDERS OF SUGAR TOLD TO WATCH STOCK

Donley County's approximate 135 persons refused booklets because of excess sugar were warned this week by Max L. McCullough, region OPA Administrator, to place their won use of sugar lest their supply be exhausted before they are permitted books.

McCullough said his office had received reports that some persons who registered excess amounts of sugar were of the opinion that rationing books would be issued as soon as their stock was exhausted. No books will be issued until a sufficient number of ration periods has expired during which the consumer might have purchased the amount equal to his excess.

Consumers are urged to keep watch on their ration books as, in the event they are lost, new ones cannot be issued until two months after the date of application.

Persons who had a surplus of sugar in their possession when they registered for rationing have an "easy out" members of the rationing board announced yesterday.

Such surpluses may be turned over to the charitable institutions without the loss of ration books or any further action.

Miss Ruth Donnell, clerk of the board, also asked that persons having books for men entering service please turn them into the board as soon as the owner leaves.

The American Legion will sponsor a Memorial Day service at the First Christian Church, Sunday evening, May 31, it was announced today by the Rev. M. M. Miller.

The Rev. E. L. Moody, pastor of the First Baptist Church, will be the principal speaker.

All Clarendon churches have been asked to suspend their evening services in order that their congregation may join in the Memorial service.

In making the announcement, Rev. Miller said it was more important now than ever before for persons to attend this service.

Van Brawley is in Dallas this week for medical treatment.

Clarendon citizens expecting drastic reductions in retail prices brought about by the ceiling regulation which became effective Monday are doomed to disappointment.

So little will current prices be affected that only in some instances will they be noticeable at all, it was learned by a cross-section survey Monday.

Out of the hundreds of items sold at grocery stores the housewife will find only slight reductions on about six staples. Tea, corn, tuna fish, bananas, coffee, etc., lead the list. Naturally, prices vary with each store but in the main reductions will come on the same items.

Singling out tea and tuna one grocer declared that since March both prices had advanced and the result will mean a mark-down of 11 cents on tuna and about 3 cents on tea.

Persons led to believe that a great savings would result in grocery ceilings should be advised as soon as possible, the majority of grocersmen believed.

Dry goods will also remain at about the same level although one leading store declared that some lines would be discontinued because the stock was not marked up as the market advanced but was left at the original profit price. This means, of course, that replacements would cost more than his ceiling price of the highest prevailing price in March.

Hardware and furnishings still obtainable is not expected to advance or decrease in price. O. C. Watson of Watson & Antrobus declared that so far as he knew, no price change would be affected by the ceiling. L. E. Thompson of the Clarendon Thompson Company, said he doubted any price change but that his entire stock would have to be inventoried before he could make a positive statement.

Drug stores believe that most of their current prices will not be disturbed.

All grocery items with the exception of eggs, poultry, mutton, lamb, fresh fruits, come under the ceiling. Practically all articles in dry goods are under the ceiling.

Another phase of price control starts on July 1 when no one may charge more for certain services sold at retail (such as laundries and automobiles and radio repair) than the highest price charged in March. Exempt from this are dentists, doctors, lawyers, barbers and beauty shops.

Monday was one of the local the boards busiest days, according to Miss Ruth Donnell, clerk, who said today that forty-seven new and retreaded tires were issued.

Of the list twenty were new tires in the tractor, truck and bus group, eight were retreaded tractor bus and truck tires and nineteen passenger tires were issued.

Over $66,322 for extra food was spent with Donley County merchants through the government's surplus commodity food stamp program, it was revealed today by A. C. Donnell of the local office.

The figure represents approximately $29,000 in blue stamp purchases and over $37,000 in orange stamp sales.

PANHANDLE CITIES LOOM IN VICTORY PROGRAM

Recent announcements by the war department at Washington substantiates reports that more army establishments are coming to the Panhandle. Childress and Pampa have been "blessed" with army camps costing "over three million dollars," and "under three million dollars," respectively. Pampa in addition, is reputed to have a great industrial plant coming that will employ three to five thousand men.

These announcements coupled with those already made covering huge establishments at Amarillo, Borger, Dumas, St. Francis, is going to give the Panhandle more war expansion than many another more heavily populated section of the nation.

There are said to be several other "plums" coming into the area which will still further enlarge our section's part in winning the war.

An interesting sidelight on the mass of civic work done in connection with Amarillo, Pampa, Childress and all other Panhandle towns in securing government projects, which has cost thousands of dollars and weeks of intensive free work by public spirited citizens, is that coming from a high army officer who startled a meeting of citizens in a town where a project had been secured and where the work had already started. He told them a story of the boy whose mother cooked two chocolate cakes of which he was immensely fond. She said, "My son, this cake here on the right, is yours; eat it when it cools", and went about her other duties. The lad didn't wait for the cake to entirely cool, ate it and then in enthusiasm for his mother's effort, ate the other. The result was a severe stomach ache. Pointing to the moral, the officer warned that the men before him were apt to find themselves much in the position of the lad. Gorging themselves on the good brought to their community they were likely to find themselves suffering from a painful ache in the stomach. The officer further told the men who had fought and won for their community that they were heroes today, but, since the public mind was sometimes fickle, petty local jealousies, and animosities would likely be turned on them over this or that personal difference, or inconvenience, due to the expansion, until they might at times wish they had never had a part in advancing their community.

WHY WE MUST WIN

Do you love your church? Remember that if Hitler wins this war there will be but one church in all the world, and Hitler will be its god.

Are you a Freemason, or a Lion, or a Knight of Columbus, or an Odd Fellow, or a Knight of Pythias, or an Eagle, or an Elk, or a member of any of the other fraternities? You will not be if Hitler wins this war.

Do you believe in the sacred character of marriage? Remember that in Germany Hitler has ordered all women to bear as many children as possible, whether married or not. Your wife and daughters will be subject to his orders if he wins this war.

Do you value your right to choose your vocation, work where you please, change employers at pleasure, bargain with your employer for wages, live as a free and independent citizen? If Hitler wins this war you will stay where he tells you to stay, work at what he orders, accept the wages he apportions you, lose every vestige of your independence.

In Hitler's land there will be no individualism—nothing but the state, which will order every detail of the life of every person.

All right then. You know what to do.—The LION Magazine, March, 1942.

RESTRICTED TRAVEL IN THE OFFING

In the light of recent developments over the nation and the reaction of Washington authorities, it is altogether possible that in the coming months a person will have to have an authority card before he can buy a ticket on plane, train or bus to go anywhere.

Already the transportation facilities of the country are taxed by movement of troops and munitions, along with domestic supplies, and the situation is not expected to grow better until the war is won.

Travel other than necessitated by business or government, should be limited and will likely be rationed at an early date. Personal or vacation travel is not likely to survive the summer.

CONCERNING SUNDAY FUNERALS

When the ministers of Pampa recently passed a resolution opposing Sunday funerals in that city, they were merely trying to follow the lead of many cities of the nation where funerals on Sunday are prohibited by law.

Not often is it necessary for funeral services to be held on Sunday and families will contribute to a sound custom when they plan for Saturday or Monday services in deaths around the week-end.

1942 may be Clarendon's time to advance—to get on the march. Her loyal citizens will write the verdict in deeds and co-operation.

Economic Highlights

Happenings That Affected the Dinner Pails, Dividend Checks and Tax Bills of Every Individual National and International Problems Inseparable From Local Welfare.

As Congress settles down to the intricate task of formulating a national economic policy for wartime, it is obvious that the road ahead is a rock one, alive with pitfalls. All are agreed that new and heavier taxes are necessary. But there is a wealth of disagreement as to just what groups should be forced to bear the bulk of the burden. And there is an equal amount of disagreement over such vital matters as wage and farm price ceilings.

The seven-point program laid down by the President in his recent message to Congress and the speech to the public which followed it, provides important groundwork. Only a relatively small proportion of the nation's newspapers went on record as being 100 per cent for or 100 per cent opposed to that program. The bulk of them approved it with reservations. Those reservations will afford fuel for red hot Congressional debates in the weeks to come.

Here is how matters shape up at the present time:

1. Most economists are agreed that it will be impossible to stabilize the cost of living until very strict controls are imposed on farm prices. The President seems to share this view. But the strong Congressional farm bloc is apparently determined to fight that with all its power, and it has a good chance of coming out on top.

2. In many quarters the belief is held that it will be impossible to stabilize wages without additional legislation. The President said that he feels no such legislation is necessary. Congress will be watching labor with a careful eye, and if any widespread demands for wage boosts arise, it is likely to slap through a tough law of jig time.

3. The proposal that tax laws be so framed that no individual can net more than $25,000 year will probably not be adopted. However, it is also probable that upper-bracket taxes will be so stiff that no one will be able to net a great deal more than that. This proposal is of little importance as a revenue producer — there aren't enough big incomes to make a visible dent in the cost of government.

4. Many are not convinced that voluntary War Bond sales will be adequate. The President intimated that forced saving plan might have to be adopted if the people don't buy more heavily. The figures on future sales will tell the story here. If purchases don't rise sharply, forced savings will be inevitable.

5. Most important of all, a great many experts of all political persuasions, are dead certain that a workable tax policy will have to hit the lower-income groups far harder than current proposals call for. As Time says, "One economist's estimate is that the farm and labor groups, whose 1939 income was about $45,000,000,000, will be earning at the rate of $80,000,000,000 by this year's end. Out of this $35,000,000,000 increase, the present federal taxes and all the proposed tax increases would catch only some $1,500,000,000; according to this figure, the total federal tax bill on the $80,000,000,000 would be only $5,000,000,000. Meanwhile there is not much blood left in the rest of the turnip; businesses and business men will be earning $35,000,000,000 by year's end (up only $5,000,000,000 or so over 1939), will pay $20,000,000,000 — 60 per cent — to the government."

Just how to tap these income groups is a very potent question now. Many of the most influential commentators, after looking the problem over from all possible points of vantage, have come to the conclusion that the sales tax, much as it may be feared in some political circles, is the only feasible solution. Columnists Raymond Clapper and Walter Lippman belong to this school. Mr. Clapper recently wrote: "Now we get at the rich through the income tax. They pay far more heavily than the poor, proportionately — The other half of the job is to get at the expanding buying power now going into the lower-income groups — The only practical way left to get at this money is through sales taxes and compulsory savings." Mr. Lippman wrote: "Until there is a tax bill which reaches the lower incomes, which have recently been in the aggregate greatly increased, and until there is a compulsory savings plan, the Administration ought not to pretend that it is dealing with inflation."

This gives an idea of what Congress is up against now. Even a year ago, a sales tax would have had about as much chance of passing as the proverbial snow ball would have of surviving the heat of Hades. But war is a revolutionary force, and it produces its upheavals in the legislative halls no less than on the field of battle. So a sales tax, ranging from 2 to 5 per cent, is a definite possibility today.

Military authorities are said to believe that Hitler has the men and the equipment for one more grand offensive. If that offensive can be beaten, they reason, the Fuehrer will be on the way to eventual defeat and disaster. That is why every effort is now being given to supplying Russia with an ever-increasing stream of the implements of war. Hitler must break Russia if he is to win his global war. The Russians seem completely confident of their power to stop him if they receive adequate equipment.

Stalin has said that American and English help has reached gratifying proportions. This year the destiny of half the world may be decided in the U. S. S. R.

First class petty officers in U. S. naval service receive $84 per month base pay and an additional $34.50 if they have dependents.

A BOOMING BUSINESS

YEARS AHEAD...by Our Calendar

Natural Gas in the Gulf South today was planned and provided for years ago. Fortunately this farsighted planning has made possible this efficient fuel for war production now.

It's a big undertaking to locate, produce and deliver a continuous dependable supply of Natural Gas for more than three hundred cities and towns and to industries in the Gulf South. It takes careful planning in advance to anticipate the needs of the future. It takes, too, the fine skill and knowledge of engineers, draftsmen, survivors, prospecting and drilling crews and many other workers. All of these men work YEARS AHEAD of today's needs.

This has been made possible by seasoned management—men with vision—men with the ability to measure tomorrow's requirements today. Because of this preparedness your Natural Gas Service is not only DEPENDABLE today, but is efficiently serving industry with a minimum use of critical materials—materials vitally needed for production of guns, battleships, and other implements of war.

KEEP ADVERTISING GOING ENGINEER ADVISES INDUSTRY

Business was advised to continue advertising during the war and to formulate postwar plans of distribution of products to meet an expectant enormous demand for goods of many types after the emergency by Harold Vinton Coes of New York, vice-president of an engineering firm, in a speech in New Orleans before the American Gas Association. "Experience has shown that no company that has discontinued advertising permanently has been able to hold a position of leadership in its industry or to maintain its position in the markets. Once a position is lost through failure to continue advertising aggressiveness, it is almost impossible to regain it. "Use your advertising as a morale builder not only for your customers but for your own organization," Coes urged as a change of emphasis. "Resort to institutional advertising, focusing attention on the industry, on your own business, what has been accomplished, what you hope to accomplish, with a view to keeping the industry and its component parts ever before the public pending the time when you will need them and they will need you. "Do not be caught without a plan and policies," Coes cautioned. "Even inadequate or incomplete plans are better than no plans."

Opinion throughout the country believes that one outcome of the war will be a revival of the smaller towns as trading centers if small towns businesses take the initiative in advertising and pushing their business at a time when it is more convenient to trade at home than to go to larger cities for merchandise.

During the administration of Texas Governor L. S. Ross, (1887-1891) Texas received $1,000,000 from the Federal Government to reimburse the state for its expenditures for border protection.

Garden Glances Presented weekly by the Garden Club

"America the beautiful lies in the hands of the gardeners"

Wisteria and honey suckle vines gaily adorn the cottage of Johnny McMahon's, giving a cherry greeting to the motorists. Floyd Lumpkin's home also presents a lovely rose which brightens the path of the traveler.

The C. C. Gilbert home is more beautiful with its lovely purple wisteria hanging daintly from the white walls of the Spanish bungalow. Primroses, roses and numerous flowers dot the grounds and the rock garden.

White washed trees, various, bright colored beds of small flowers, shrubs and vines at the Lovell home remind one of a typical Old Fashioned Garden.

Two lively roses are flowering in the yard of W. A. Land. A delicate white rose is blooming profusely in the garden of J. W. Rhodes.

The home of the Fred Buntin's is gradually taking the appearance of a home that has been well landscaped. I am sure it will soon be very lovely to look at, and an asset to the surroundings.

TEXAS OUT-O'-DOORS

Heep Big Fish

J. C. McGlothlin had a lot of fun the opening day of the fishing season, reports the Wood County Record of Mineola.

First he caught a five-pound bass. Then, with a fly rod, he hooked a nine-pound grackle that according to all the evidence put up one whale of a fight.

The evidence is McGlothlin's broken fly rod.

New Dope on Bullfrogs

In wartime all sources of food are important, and the bullfrog, never held in disrepute by food fanciers, has assumed even more importance as a vital natural resource.

For years many Texans have advocated a shortening of the season on taking frogs, which now may be giggered at any time of the year. Two local bills introduced during the last two sessions of the Legislature failed to pass, however.

The supply of frog-legs at Texas restaurants and hotels is in danger of diminishing because, in the opinion of Game Department biologists, the supply of these cold blooded animals is being rapidly depleted because of over-hunting.

Bullfrogs will not thrive in captivity. This has been demonstrated time and again. But if their native marshy habitat is properly managed the frogs will multiply and the landowner can get a fancy price for his product.

To assist land owners in properly managing their property for bull frog production the Game Department recently issued a bulletin on this subject, written after considerable research by a Field Biologist.

You may obtain a copy free of charge by writing the Game Department, Austin.

One interesting fact recorded in his bulletin is that Texans are estimated to consume 300,000 pounds of bullfrogs annually.

"Buckle down—to work for Uncle Sam"

BEFORE washing a garment, remove breakable buttons and buckles. Pearl buttons or jeweled buckles haven't the stamina to face washing machines or hard scrubbing. Broken or missing buttons can ruin a costume, or, if unmatchable, necessitate the purchase of a new set.

Then put the money saved into U. S. SAVINGS STAMPS—to help button up Hitler! Every pay check should be budgeted to include generous help for Uncle Sam.

Random Reflections By DICK COOKE

With a drive for $750 under-way for USO funds and with so many persons not knowing just exactly the functions of the USO this column will devote space to this worthy cause in hopes it will aid collectors in obtaining money.

The USO operates clubs for soldiers both in and outside the United States. Primary aim is entertainment for the lonely boy who is seeking some friendly place to go; the soldier or sailor who likes company and other social life and the soldier who wants to associate with civilian families in town, through the help of USO.

There is no charge for the uses of clubhouses, dances, games, etc. There is now no admission charge for any of its circuit shows. Refreshments for parties and the free cookies are generally provided by women volunteers. Candy and cigarettes and food are sold at the snack bar as they are sold by army canteens. Every thing cannot be free. It would take hundreds of millions of dollars to give each man a package of cigarettes free daily. All distribution is free to men on outpost duty and on maneuvers. Because of limited space the numerous other functionings of the USO cannot be given here but some of it's aids go to the wives of servicemen, and helps women war workers.

It must be a plague, Virginia Anderson in The Shamrock Texan says, "It is certainly amazing the way a rumor can take effect and spread over town. We have been asked why The Texan didn't trace a certain rumor that was rampant last week. "We did ask authorities the truth of the matter and found it absolutely false. The Texan doesn't print rumors and the fact that you believe a rumor doesn't make it the truth. The bad part about rumors is that the person telling them makes them sound so plausible because he thinks it's the truth. And if you'll notice most people telling a rumor have absolute information from authorities! Very strange."

Texas' most important products are oil, gas, sulphur, cotton, wool, mohair, wheat, corn, grain sorghums, citrus fruits, truck crops, poultry, livestock, lumber, milk, dairy products and iron ore.

The first native Texan elected Governor of Texas was James Stephen Hogg, (1891-1895).

ALLRED LAUNCHES ACTION PROGRAM FOR WAR, PEACE

James V. Allred, who resigned a lifetime appointment as United States district judge to re-enter active political life as a candidate for United States junior senator, has based his campaign on vigorous support of President Roosevelt's war and peace program.

For winning the war, the former governor has sounded the demand "There must be no strikes, no slow downs, no violations on the part of either capital or labor to interrupt war production." He challenged unconscionable war profits, and denounced "cartel agreements and trading with the enemy."

In calling for "uninterrupted production," Allred reminded the people of his own spirited fight as Texas governor against sit-down strikes.

"I mean these commitments now, just as I mean what I said in 1937 when sit-down strikes were sweeping the nation," he declared, "I was the only governor in 48 states to speak out on this subject then, before it was popular. I said there would be no sit-down strikes in Texas and there were none."

The candidate affirmed all-out support of President Roosevelt's war program and "the Atlantic Charter for winning the peace," and stated, "I will undertake to frustrate the designs of those who will attempt to sabotage President Roosevelt's peace plans, just as they crucified Woodrow Wilson."

Allred, who at the age of 19 left a draft-exempt job to join the United States Navy in the first World War, blasted as "false propaganda" reports that President Roosevelt would hold open for him the federal judgeship which he resigned to enter the senatorial race, or appoint him as judge in some other district, declaring such reports "a reflection upon the President and myself."

Hitting the campaign trail with the vigor that characterized his successful bids as two-term Attorney General and Governor of Texas, the black-haired, 42-year-old candidate said he would take his program to the people "just as I always have, looking them in the eye, speaking from the record."

Allred said he had pitched his battle "upon the highest plane against inexperience, of accomplishment against failure, of respect for Texas."

He said that he would not employ personal abuse but would deal with the written record.

Although the four children who were riding in the back seat suffered only minor bruises and shock, Mr. and Mrs. English were badly cut and bruised and the baby suffered a broken arm.

The occupants of the other car, which turned over five times, were also seriously injured. One girl sustained a broken collar bone and severe cuts while one of the boys suffered a badly mangled arm.

Book Club Has Annual President's Dinner And Installation Program

The 1926 Book Club ended the club year 1941-1942 with a formal president's dinner in the High school home economics rooms.

During the new year the club proposes to learn more about our neighbors to the south, to develop a friendlier spirit toward them, and a deeper appreciation for these people.

A South American and Pan-American color scheme was carried out in the room and table decorations. Mexican designed covers, napkins and fiesta dishes were used to carry out this motif. Baskets of colorful spring flowers made lovely center pieces. Artistically arranged on tables around pottery, baskets and various what-nots, typical of these countries.

For the table program, Mrs. John Knorpp sang "Down Argentina Way," then Mrs. Knorpp and Mrs. Frank White, Jr., dressed as Spanish Senoras led the group in singing three well-known Mexican folk songs, "El Rancho Grande," "Tahitian Love Song" and "La Golandrina." Mrs. Allen Bryan accompanied at the piano.

Mrs. Knorpp, as outgoing president, very charmingly expressed her thanks to the club for the loyalty and cooperation shown throughout the year and presented each of her officers with a badge. A Mexican designed table mat tied with a red ribbon, in appreciation of their services during the year. The incoming president Mrs. Frank White, Jr., was presented with a miniature gavel. We must not hope to be mowers, and to gather the ripe golden ears, Unless we have first been sowers, And watered the furrows with tears.

It is not just as we take it, This mystical world of ours, Life's field will yield as we make it. A harvest of thorns or of flowers. — Goeth.

The principal headache for women right now is the price and supply of hose. Everything one goes one hears talk of what to do when the hose supply plays out. The popular nylon hose are playing out. Silk hose are also becoming scarce, are expensive and of poor quality. Rayon hose, recently introduced to the market, appear to be durable but eighteen hours is required for them to dry properly. Hence, the ankle is taking an important place in the wardrobe of the working girl and the housewife. Although the local women seem to be a little backward in appearing in public, there are a few who are more "brazen" than the rest. Taking a sort of a poll to find out why they seem backward, we found the real reason to be that "hubby" doesn't like socks. Well, so what? Maybe we don't like his cuffless pants or smelly pipe either.

We overheard Mrs. Fred Cook telling some one that her son, Fred Jr., called her long distance the other day from South Carolina and that in her excitement she could think of nothing to talk about except the weather. Young Fred is with the Headquarters Squadron of the 21st Bomb Group stationed at Columbia Air Base in Columbia, South Carolina. Mrs. Cook said they had planned to go to see him soon but since the rationing of gas in the east, the trip would have to be called off.

Mrs. Oreta Culp Hobby, wife of former Texas governor, William P. Hobby, Friday was appointed by Secretary of War Stimson to be director of the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps.

The corps, established by legislation introduced by Rep. Edith Nourse Rodgers of Massachusetts, will be composed of women volunteers for military service with the Army, not in the Army, to replace enlisted men who are now performing non-combatant duties as typists, telephone operators, clerks, and laboratory technicians.

Local recruiting offices will be ready to receive applicants from candidates for the first officer's training school in about two weeks and the school, to be located at Fort Des Moines, Iowa, is expected to be opened within two months.

Two lovely children are Douglas and Sandra Shelton, young son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Shelton. Douglas, who is well on his way toward being tall dark and handsome, won the award this year given by the Legion Auxiliary for the best citizen in the South Ward School. Sandra, quite the opposite of Douglas, is short and sturdy and extremely fair.

Last week we ran an article about Lt. Dorcas Easterling, sister of Mrs. J. Gordon Stewart, who is with the Army Nurses Corps in Cebu. A letter for Lt. Easterling, heavily censored, follows in part:

"At last the chance has come I've been waiting for and that is to tell you that I'm OK—"

"Am not in the same place as before and am out of Manila. Still doing practically the same work, operating room supervisor at night. Work is OK—"

"Am here with two girls from Beaumont that I run around with; having nice living quarters; showers; and plenty of food to eat—"

"Climate here is good. Not too hot, not too cold. Have not had Dengue fever or Malaria, two outstanding tropical diseases as you know—"

Mrs. Stewart expressed belief that her sister was no longer in Cebu since several letters that she had written were returned this week.

LIBRARY NOTES
(By Mrs. C. A. Burton)

So very very attractive are the spring lists of new books for the boy and girl and the tiny wee people. But — they take money. At the sixth annual Children's Spring Book Festival, sponsored by the New York Herald Tribune, the choice was more difficult than usual because the books submitted were of unusual excellence. Three prizes of $200 each and then four honor books from each of the three groups were chosen for young children, for middle-aged children, and for older children. Prominent among the judges were Pearl Buck and Munro Leaf.

The prize winner for the youngest group was "Mr. Tootwhistle's Invention" written and illustrated by Peter Wells who with his wife and two children live in Chappaqua, N. Y. He has done much work on comic strips and illustrating children's books and magazines and his hobbies are making and selling model boats. A review says if the children laugh as loudly over the illustrations as two secretaries and an editor did when it came to the office, then the parents will make them read it out in the yard.

The winner for the middle-aged group is "We Have Begun to Fight" by Commander Edward Ellsberg, author of "On the Bottom" and other books. As a salvage officer, he took part in raising the U. S. Submarine S-51 and is designer of the system used by the U. S. Navy for salvaging submarines. He is now back in the service.

The award for the book for older children was won by Rosamond Van DerZee Marshall for "None But The Brave." Miss Marshall is a sixth generation American of Dutch-English ancestry but grew up in France. She is an expert Alpine climber, with twenty-one new routes to her credit in the Swiss and Italian Alps. She now lives in Chappaqua, N. Y. This is her first book for younger readers.

The twelve books given honorable mention all sound just as good.

On the twenty-fourth anniversary of the founding of the Red Army, General Douglas MacArthur cabled Joseph Stalin saying, "The Hopes of civilization rest on the worthy banners of the courageous Russian Army." A review says, "Within the next few months the greatest crisis in world history will take place. The key to that crisis is Soviet Russia. Many people know this and wish to understand more about this country. "Mission to Moscow" by our former Ambassador to Russia Joseph E. Davies, is generally recognized as the best book equipped to give this information. Here we can find the reason for the Red Army's magnificent resistance and counter-attacks, why they have taken everything that Hitler could throw at them and come back fighting, to shatter the legend of Nazi invincibility."

The name of Joyce Kilmer who wrote "Trees" and who died in France in 1918 will be given to an Army Camp being established at Shelton, the poet's birthplace near New Brunswick, N. J.

A hitherto unnamed peak in the Great Smoky Mountain National Park has been named Mount Lanier by the Board of Geographical Names. Sidney Lanier, the confederate soldier-poet spent many of his boyhood summers at Mountvale Springs only a few miles from the mountain peak.

Thirty thousand new public buildings have been built by the WPA in six years, reports Howard O. Hunter, Commissioner of Work Projects. Of this total only 130 are libraries, but 832 more libraries have been reconstructed or improved and 64 additions to libraries have been built.

The Institute of International Education is offering a graduate fellowship Canadian for study in the U. S. during the academy year of 1942-43. All fields except law are included. Candidates must be 30 years of age and unmarried under the tenure of the fellowship.

Harpers have extended the time for their non-fiction contest to June 1. And the time was extended because of the request by many authors in view of delay of transmission of manuscripts from remote points.

Dodd Mead's fiction contest for war novels only closes Oct. 15. Stories must be not less than 50,000 words in English but not limited to Americans and the awards is $1,000 cash.

The War Writer's Committee announce that it is nine years since the "burning of books" by Germany because for 290 years the claim for political authority to exercise control in such matters has been submitted to and even advocated by writers, it is the Nazi philosophy.

The three books of fiction which led the best seller list are Steinbeck's "The Moon is Down," Pearl Buck's "Dragon Seed" and Mary Ellen Cheser's "Windswept." All of which are on our shelves.

The compliance with constitutional mandate, the Texas legislature passed an act providing for a state university, during the administration of Oran M. Roberts, (1897-1899).

TERRACING SHOWS INCREASE HERE

By H. M. BREEDLOVE

Terracing for the current year is practically over and over 16,000 acres of land in the county had contour and terrace lines run for the first time this year. Of the above mentioned acres over eleven thousand were run by the office of the county agent and the rest of the acreage was run by farmers themselves. A very close estimate of the amount of money that the farmers will receive for soil conservation practices and carrying out approved practices on their land is about $13,500. This will mean that the terracing and contouring of the above acreage will give the farmers doing this work this money in addition to the amount that they received last year.

In Donley county there is 576,000 acres of land and of this acreage there is 161,000 in cultivation. In the entire county there is over 110,000 acres of farm land that either has contour lines or terrace lines on the farms. This leaves a total of 51,000 acres yet to be contoured or terraced, however it is well to believe that some of the sandier soils do better with strip cropping to stop the blowing than they do with terracing.

Farmers in Donley County state that in almost every case the yield has been increased from 1-3 to 1-2 more where the land is well terraced. Contouring, strip cropping and strip cropping all in harmony with each other are the best practices that we have in this county to combat the water and wind erosion the county agent pointed out.

Wiser use of land and equipment in the producing the wartime food is also the aim of the AAA farm program. The practices under the program tend to encourage more of the conservation practices and encourage live at home programs. The payments also act as levers to continue farmers to carry out soil conservation practices in converting from crops with big reserves to crops that the country needs to increase quickly for the war effort. A parity of 13.5 cents per bushel will be made to wheat growers who are cooperating but no parity will be made to cotton growers because of their 1941 return.

Mills for grinding wheat and corn were established by the first white settlers of Texas. Manufacture of lumber also began at an early date.

HOMEMAKERS MAY SUBSTITUTE FOR COOKING SUGAR

COLLEGE STATION — By observing several simple rules, homemakers successfully can substitute honey or molasses for part or all of the sugar required in their favorite recipes.

It takes about 1 1/2 cups of molasses or sorghum to equal one cup of sugar in sweetness. Each cup contains approximately one-fourth cup of water so the liquid in a recipe should be reduced in proportion. In products which are leavened, about one-fourth teaspoon of soda should be used for each cup of molasses or sorghum.

Molasses and sorghum burn easily, so the temperature for baking should be lower than the temperature for baking mixtures made with sugar.

Rules for substituting honey for sugar are quite similar. Mixtures with honey brown easily and high heat changes the flavor of honey, so cooking temperatures should be lowered. A cup of honey gives approximately the same amount of sweetness as one cup of sugar, so the exact amount may be substituted. However, each cup of honey, like molasses, contains about one-fourth cup of liquid, so the liquid requirements of the recipe should be reduced one-fourth cup for every cup of honey used.

Use approximately one-eighth to one fourth teaspoon of soda per cup of honey in baked products such as cakes or quick breads.

DAN MOODY OPENS SENATE CAMPAIGN AGAINST O'DANIEL

Dan Moody, former Texas Governor, this week opened a crossroads campaign for the office of United States Senator and in a written statement to newspapers bitterly attacked many policies of W. Lee O'Daniel, one of his opponents in the race.

Moody's statement: "It is my plan to make a personal speaking campaign over Texas. The people are entitled to have the candidates come before them and make their speeches and tell where they stand, what they stand for and the reasons for their stand. I want to go to the cities and towns of Texas and speak in the auditoriums, on the courthouse squares and in the parks. There I can meet the people face to face, give them opportunity to ask me questions, and answer their questions from the platform. Hecklers, for whom I have always tried to have a ready answer, will add interest and enthusiasm to those meetings.

"If Senator O'Daniel thinks he can defend his record as Governor and United States Senator, I challenge him to meet me in joint debate in any community or communities in Texas where he thinks the going will be good for him. I will treat him as a gentleman, and I assure him that so far as I am concerned the proceedings will be conducted with dignity. He can leave his band at home, because there will be enough fur flying to hold the attention of the crowd without the aid of an orchestra. I will be glad to give him both the open and close of the arguments.

"There are many issues which he and I can debate, among them the following:

"I shall denounce, and he may defend, his entire isolationist record by which he has made his contribution to delaying national preparedness.

"I shall condemn, and he may defend, the attitude manifested by him while Governor of Texas, when in a speech made by him during National Defense Week, he said: "I don't think we are near war. We have a lot of howling in Europe, but they aren't going to do us any harm over here." That statement was made about ten days before the program to fortify the island of Guam was defeated. It was just such an attitude that prevented preparation for the defense of that island, and left a little band of heroic marines to defend it unto death or capture.

"I shall attack, and he may defend, his speech and vote in the United States Senate in favor of the proposal to disband the trained army and send it home, in spite of the urgent appeal of President Roosevelt and Chief of Staff General George Marshall that his proposal be not adopted. As against their appeal Senator O'Daniel pleaded with the Senate not to extend the draft with the words, "Please don't do it," which received the applause of isolationist senators.

If his plea had been followed, think what the result would have been to this nation.

"I shall contend that all people are entitled to work in the defense of our nation, and advocate a program to prevent strikes and fix hours of labor in defense industries that will enable our country to produce every needed machine and material of war; and he can continue his program of abuse and agitation carried on in an effort to make newspaper headlines and keep the questions alive for political purposes.

"I will show that he rendered his country a disservice if it is true, as he boasts, that last year he prevented the government's building a pipe line from Texas to the Atlantic coast for the purpose of making available greater quantities of gasoline and oil for shipment to our battle fronts. The railroads are doing a splendid job in moving gasoline and oil to the East, but they cannot do it all. Their services should not be dispensed with but as a matter of national defense the pipe line should be built to supplement railroad and tanker service in getting gasoline and oil to the places where it is needed in the defense effort. Proper precautions should be taken, and I am sure will be taken to see that the line is operated for the public welfare and not for the benefit of any private interest, either during or after the war.

"I will call on him to explain why he was not at his post of duty to vote against the bill enacted, but later repealed, to pay pensions to members of Congress.

13,204 NEWSPAPERS

The Clarendon News is one of 13,204 newspapers published in the United States. From the smallest weekly to the largest metropolitan daily, these newspapers have but one aim, to bring the news to their readers, and each has its own particular niche to fill.

The field of news varies widely, of course. The big dailies cover news of national and international significance, gathered by vast organizations from the ends of the earth. But you will also find in the big publications many pages daily devoted to news of interest only to the people of their own cities. A resident of Amarillo will find more to interest him in the Amarillo News than in, for instance, the Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

The News, along with 10,000 other weekly and semi-weekly newspapers, strive to fulfill the demand for local news. Of all the thousands of publications throughout the nation, only local papers are concerned with local activities. So, in spite of the multiplicity of publications our readers could read each week, we feel that The News gives them something they want which they could not obtain in any other way.

This local reader interest is what makes this newspaper the ideal advertising medium for Clarendon business firms. In no other way can they reach as large a number of potential buyers as effectively.

This idea of rationing has a lot of folks upset. Scuffling around with the truth so as to get a sugar card is annoying. They are in the same boat with the nice old lady who was horrified with the idea that something good could be said even for the devil. "You gotta admit," said the new minister, "that keeping busy and on the job is a good trait. You know the devil don't loaf," he said.

"Alright," says Henry, "what has that to do with rationing?" "Well," I says, "if rationing of cloth will get rid of the sissy pleats in men's pants, it is saying something good for it. And furthermore," I says, "if we all cooperate maybe we can put some pressure on mama and the girls and slow 'em up before they grab everything — pleats or no pleats — and we go back to kilts."

"With the horse and buggy coming back on account of no tires, and runaways again in prospect, is another reason too," I says, "for cooperating with the government and maybe doing something about rationing mama a less scary regalia, before a lot of folks get run over or killed."

This sugar shortage isn't so bad. For one thing, it's caused me to renew acquaintance with East Texas ribbon cane.

And try sprinkling a little salt on your grapefruit instead of sugar. It's different — but good.

Only "fly in the ointment" is the rubber shortage — and me just having changed over from a belt to suspenders and acquiring the knack of thrusting my thumbs in them and rearing back with the feeling of importance which that gives.

An inscription in a cemetery in France: Here lies Pierre Victor Fournier, inventor of the Everlasting Lamp, which consumes only one centime's worth of oil in one hour.

Machinery has always mystified me, probably because there are only two machines I can operate: a typewriter and an automobile.

How anyone, therefore, could have a steady enough hand, keen enough eyes and sufficient patience to take the delicate springs and screws of an ordinary watch cut — much less one of these wrist watches — is beyond me.

My time piece recently needed a little adjusting and I happened to mention to a Fort Worth jeweler that it had been overhauled recently in Austin.

A gentleman slipped on the stair of a subway and started to slide to the bottom. Halfway down, he collided with a lady, knocking her down, and the two continued their way to the low car landing.

After they had reached the bottom, the lady, still dazed, continued to sit on the gentleman's chest. Looking up at her, he finally said politely, "Madam, I'm sorry, but this is as far as I go."

Tom King, who was in the office of state auditor longer than any other man, didn't grow up down along the Rio Grande. He was employed quite a few years back now, to audit the books of a big mercantile establishment near the border.

"Oh, that's for pelon!" (this writer doesn't guarantee the spelling) — replied the manager.

Though having not the least idea in the world what pelon was, King didn't wish to betray the fact so he waited a while, then returned to the item and inquired cautiously and received the same reply. By now, the manager had sized up the situation and was secretly amused.

And for the first time he made acquaintance with one of the quaint customs among the Texas citizens of Mexican ancestry: when the family buys a week's supply of groceries for cash or settles a bill that has been running a while, the merchant "throws in" a sack of candy or some other little gift.

Olive drab sweaters turned in since last Monday included those knitted by Mrs. Louis Wells, Mrs. Ernest Kent, Mrs. H. D. Lane, Mrs. G. E. Griggs, Ione Wall, Mrs. F. L. Goldston, Hattie Palmer, and Mr. Bert Smith. Taking out the o. d. wool were Mrs. Paul Slaton, Vivian Taylor, Mrs. Bill Hilliard, and Frances Buck.

Cutting and Sewing One of the very nicest donations the Production Room has had is a quilt given by the Pioneer Club at Giles. The club furnished their own material and work and it is indeed greatly appreciated.

Mrs. Heckle Stark took out ten hospital pajamas to be completed. They will be issued to the Presbyterian workers, Mrs. C. T. McMurry, sewing chairman, asks that any club or individual wanting sewing should call at her home, telephone No. 80.

Mr. Frank Hermesmeier of Jerico gave the Red Cross a large box of old clothes some of which are suitable for families in need and the rest will be made into quilt scraps.

The Methodist, Presbyterian, and Baptist ladies have been more than faithful in helping Mrs. Boston with the cutting. The ladies that have given so much of their time include Mrs. J. M. Acord, Mrs. L. H. Skilton, Mrs. Cal Merchant, Mrs. J. A. Warren, Mrs. Fred Cook, Mrs. A. L. Chase and Mrs. John Potts.

Production Room News The Hedley workers of the Donley County Chapter of the American Red Cross are opening their new production room today (Thursday) according to Mrs. Clyde Bridges, chairman of that division. Miss Molesworth has gone down for the opening and to take them material.

Mrs. George Norwood and Mrs. Floyd Lumpkin arrived in their uniforms Monday afternoon looking very neat and attractive.

To many of you who live out of town the production room hours are not convenient but if any of you want any material of any kind from the room, call any of the chairman and they will be glad to come down and open the room for you. Heretofore the room has not been open on Wednesday afternoons but starting this week the room will be open on Wednesday the same as any other day from 3 until 5:30 o'clock.

News Briefs The following paragraphs are excerpts from the Red Cross News Letter published at St. Louis, Mo.:

"Did it seem a trifling thing to you when the WPB took the cuffs from men's trousers to save wool? In total war there are no trifles. Cuffs average about 2 per cent of the total cloth in a man's suit. The cuffs from 19,500,000 pairs of men's and youth's trousers — about four months stock — would make more than 300,000 suits.

"Or put the saving in terms of uniforms. There's about 5.18 pounds of wool in a soldier's uniform, about 24 one-hundredths of a pound in a pair of trousers cuffs. Nine pairs of cuffs would equal enough cloth for a pair of army trousers, 12 pairs would give the material used for an average army coat. Twenty-one pairs of cuffs, then, and you have a soldier's uniform."

"Garments made in connection with the production activities are never sold by the Red Cross. These are given to the recipients, i. e., men of the Armed

Side Glances On Texas History

By CHARLES O. HUCKER University of Texas Library

STRANGE BEDFELLOWS Privacy was not one of the conveniences afforded by the rigors of early Texas society, but it must have been somewhat of a shock to the fastidious Comte de Saligny, charge d'affaires from France, have his room at a wayside Texas inn entered unceremoniously by a "Yankee" and to be forced to share his bed with an utter stranger!

This anecdote is related by Mrs. M. C. Houston, an English woman, who with her husband made a visit to Texas in 1843. Her account of the trip, "A Yacht Voyage to Texas," is one of the valuable items in the University of Texas Library's 30,000-volume Texas Collection.

Dispute or Compromise "The traveler in Texas must set out prepared for every species of discomfort," Mrs. Houston wrote, "his bed, if he should happen to procure one, will be disputed, or, if he should happen to prefer a compromise, perhaps shared, by some other traveler.

"The late Charge d'Affaires of his French Majesty, chanced to be traveling up the country, in this primitive republic. He was fresh from the luxuries and agremens of a Paris life, not among the least of which may be reckoned the comfortable beds which are everywhere to be enjoyed.

"On arriving at one of the halting places at night, he retired to what he doubtless imagined would be a solitary couch; and though the winds of heaven were whistling through his log-built chamber, and the bright stars peeping through the roof, the fatigue of the journey soon closed his eyes in slumber. He had not, however, slept many minutes, when he was awoke by the entrance of a most formidable looking individual.

"It was a stout Kentuckian, duly armed with bowie knife and pistols; and who, while in the act of disencumbering himself of his upper garments, said, in a coarse, but not unfriendly voice, 'Well, stranger, I guess I'll take the inside of the bed, if it's the same to you? I believe the Parliaman preferred passing the night on the floor, to the misfortune of having a Yankee between the wall and his nobility.

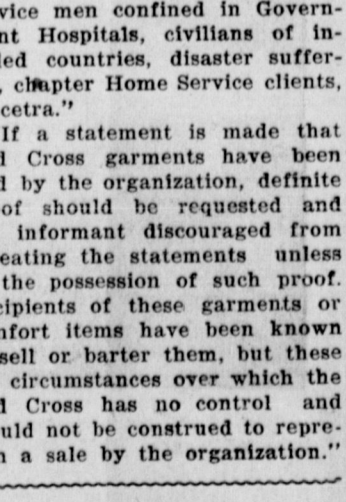

"No inkeeper in this country would ever dream of sending away a traveler on the plea of want of room, as long as one bed remained in his house unoccupied, except by two men."

100 Years Ago In Texas "Board of Health — we are glad to notice the board of health has been re-established and its members have resumed their labors. Notwithstanding the commendable exertions they have already made, many nuisances of a dangerous character remain unabated. We find in several localities pools of water thrown from kitchens, which if permitted to remain, will surely engender pestilence. We think if the committees would occasionally make their visitation just at dusk, when the wind is lulled, they would (if there is any sensitiveness in their olfactory organs) discover many nuisances that have heretofore escaped their notice."

"If a statement is made that Red Cross garments have been sold by the organization, definite proof should be requested and the informant discouraged from repeating the statements unless in the possession of such proof. Recipients of these garments or comfort items have been known to sell or barter them, but these are circumstances over which the Red Cross has no control and should not be construed to represent a sale by the organization."

WAR PRODUCTION HITS FARM HOME CONSTRUCTION

COLLEGE STATION — Recent War Production Board orders affecting construction of farm homes and buildings mean rural families in Texas may build little and repair much for the duration of the emergency. Purpose of the orders is to restrict the sale or use of materials necessary to the war effort.

There are a few exceptions to the order. For example, a farm building which costs less than $1,000 and will not be used for residential purposes may be built if materials are available. However, cost of several new buildings within any 12-month period must not exceed $1,000. All agricultural construction exceeding this figure must be authorized by the War Production Board. Individual applications should be filed with County U. S. D. A. War Boards for transmittal.

New farm residential construction which will cost less than $500 is also exempt from the order. Mrs. Bernice Clayton, Extension Service specialist in home improvement, says this means many farm families will need to do considerable repair on their homes to keep them in good shape and to protect health during the war period.

Farm residences costing $500 or more must be approved by WPB unless buildings damaged or destroyed by "fire, flood, tornado, earthquake, act of God or the public enemy" must be reconstructed or restored. Then no permit is necessary.

LIONS CLUB RESPONSIBLE FOR FINE PIG STRAIN

One year ago, the Clarendon Lions Club bought the first registered chester white sow for use by Clarendon FFA members in club work. Today Jr. and Gene Bulman, C. G. Kirkland, Joe and Bobbie Harold Smith, Calvern Davis, Chester Seaton, Frank Jackson, J. F. White, Douglas Jarrell, Ralph Morrow, Herschel Brinson and B. Spier, own twenty-three registered chester white sows and gilts that are being bred for fall pigs. The excellent type of animals along with their unusual show winniness have added much to their popularity.

A large number of local youths are feeding chester barrows for the fall fairs and shows and market. They are Joe and Bobbie Harold Smith, B. J. Green, G. C. Kirkland, Ralph Morrow, B. J. Land, Charles Smith, Claud Siddle, Fancher Davis, Billy Reid, Richard Dingler, Jr., and Gene and Gene Bulman, Bud Addudde, J. F. White, and Ralph Davis. They are feeding a total of fifty eight top chesters for the fall shows. Herschel Brinson, B. Spier, Raymond McKee and Fancher Davis are securing weaner gilt pigs this spring to produce brood sows.

According to J. R. Gillham, local FFA adviser, there are still a few very excellent gilts and barrows available if other youths are interested in securing them. Any youths interested in securing chester whites or any other breed should contact Gillham at an early date.

SEASON OF BABY SICKNESSES IS APPROACHING

ASTIN — The season of the year when the most complaints are received on account of diarrhea and dysentery or "Summer Complaint" is here and Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer has issued a warning to parents in regard to this, and offers the following suggestions to prevent its occurrence among babies. The chief causes of diarrhea include impure milk, water and contaminated foods, overfeeding, fever from any cause, too much sugar or cream in the diet, overfeeding.

Mother's milk is the safest food. However, if other milk must be used, the supply should be clean and pure. The water should be clean, pure and boiled. Any other articles of food should be fresh and clean and no unsuitable articles of food such as cake and candy should be given.

If a feeding formula is used, it should be one prescribed by a physician and it must be prepared with extreme attention to cleanliness and kept cold until used. The baby should be fed at regular intervals and should not be forced to eat when he is not hungry. The baby should be kept cool and comfortable in hot weather, should not be overclothed and should be given plenty of clean water to drink. Any infections which develop in the nose, throat, ears or other organs should receive prompt attention from a physician.

If diarrhea develops, feeding should be stopped or greatly diminished and an abundance of water should be given. Cathartics should not be given except on the advice of a physician. If the diarrhea does not improve within a short time, a physician should be called and a complete examination should be made.

Three three F's, flies, fingers and food are the three sources of danger to the baby. Flies carry disease germs to the baby and to its food. Fingers and hands that are not thoroughly washed before preparing the baby's food are likely to be germ carriers also. All milk and water that is intended for the baby should be boiled for five minutes, then carefully covered and kept in a cool place until used.

CONSERVING FARM ACRES EXPLAINED

By WALTER FLYNT

There seems to be quite a bit of confusion as to how much conserving acres or government land will be on each farm. And why they have not been notified by the county office.

In the latter part of November and first part of December, Community Committeemen contacted farmers to sign up 1942 Farm Program Plan Sheet. This sheet contains, as well as a commodity report for defense purposes, the cotton allotment in Section 1. Erosion resisting or soil conserving acres (government land) in Section IV near center of page, and Soil Building Allowance in lower right corner. These were the official notice of allotments, but as some farmers seem to have misplaced these forms, I will try to explain how to arrive at the government acres.

This year the government land is determined on a percentage basis for all farms in the county. No matter how small or how large — 20 per cent or 1-5 of the total cropland must be devoted to a non-depleting crop or land use through out the year. If the operator expects to receive payment on the cotton allotment. In the amount a producer fails to plant this 20 per cent the same per cent will be deducted from his cotton payment.

On this government land may be planted any of the following crops if used in accordance with the instructions herein stated. Any biennial legume including new seeding (seeding qualifies the crop as government land regardless of any other use of the crop). These crops are: alfalfa, sweet clover and field peas.

Sudan grass and millet used for pasture regardless of height when stock are taken off. (Use qualifies these crops as part of government land).

Any sweet sorghum, sudan, millet, oats, rye or barley, either left on land or plowed under will qualify as government land. Barley, rye and oats plowed under early will count 2-3 acreage plowed under if replanted to a soil-depleting (cotton, maize, kafir, corn, etc.) counts full acreage of government land if replanted to conserving crops. (Cane, sudan, and peas, etc.)

Summer fallowed acres is government land if plowed before the 15th of June and clean tilled throughout the year.

Forest tree strips cultivated in government land.

The only time idle land is government acres is when new terraces are constructed on them in the 1942 crop year.

Sweet sorghums, oats, rye, barley or millet cut green for hay is government acres provided a strip 1 rod wide (5 or 6 rows) left standing between each 5 rod strip; (25 or 26 rows) harvested. This regulation applies to all except cane and in this crop the one rod strip may be planted to sudan late cane and left on land or can be cut provided there is a stubble left standing 12 inches high.

These uses of the crops explained above qualify them for government land but if no other uses will qualify.

If any producer has misplaced his allotment sheet or farm plan sheet if you will drop us a card we will send a sheet with cotton allotment, government acres and soil building allowance.
