RETIRED LUMBER-MAN DIES HERE MONDAY

A. A. Mayes, 63, retired Clarendon lumberman, died suddenly at his home here early Monday morning.

Mr. Mayes was working in his yard when he was stricken with a heart attack. Death came almost immediately.

A native of Texas where he was born January 13, 1880 at Coffman, Mr. Mayes had been a resident of Clarendon for twenty-six years having moved here while connected with the Foxworth-Galbraith Lumber Co. He retired from that organization about a year ago.

Funeral services were held at the First Methodist Church in Clarendon Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. The Rev. J. O. Quattlebaum read the ceremony.

Pallbearers were J. T. Patman, E. F. Smith, S. Powell, Dr. T. H. Ellis, W. S. Bagby, and C. M. Ballew.

Interment was in the Citizens Cemetery with Buntin Funeral Home in charge.

Survivors include his wife.

ANSWERS TO HOME CANNING SUGAR PROBLEMS

The following questions and answers on home canning were issued May 8, 1943 by the office of price administration to help housewives know how to get and use sugar allowance for this purpose. Coupons for buying sugar for home canning are available at the local ration board now on Thursdays and Fridays of each week.

Q.—Does the sugar allowance of "one pound of sugar to each four quarts of finished fruit" mean that I must can all fruit with the same weight of syrup.

A.—No, but you must make an average of four quarts of finished fruit for each pound of sugar you get. You may, if you wish, put up some fruit or fruit juices with no sugar at all, and make a heavier syrup certain others.

Q.—Must I declare the number of quarts of fruits and vegetables I have on hand when I apply for sugar for home canning?

A.—No. However, the available supply of sugar for home canning is limited, and local boards may ask for information about your supplies and needs of home canning fruit in deciding how much sugar you will receive for this season's canning.

Q.—I ask a friend who has a pressure cooker in her kitchen to do my home canning for me, if I supply all ingredients, and get back all of the finished fruit she puts up, without surrendering ration points?

A.—Yes. If you contribute either the ingredients or the equipment or part of the labor required to can fruits and vegetables, you may acquire them without surrendering ration points.

Q.—May I give away as many quarts of home-canned vegetables as I wish if they re-

"Who Is Forging The Eternal V?" This is the title of a pageant chosen by the college graduating class to replace the conventional speaker for the commencement exercise. The pageant is to be presented at 8:30 Monday evening, May 24, in the auditorium of the First Methodist church. It is a marvelous production, an apex of two more years of education for life today. The eternal V is represented by forty students chosen from the college and including the entire graduating class. Eighteen different countries are depicted by students in gay costumes bearing flags from each country they represent.

The pageant was written by Betty Sue Kimbrough. The graduating class joins her as she dedicates it first to her brother, "Somewhere Overseas," and next, "To All the Other American boys, who, as he, have set aside their individual plans and ambitions in order to forge the Eternal V which will carve the way to a better tomorrow; and to every American on the home front who is an indispensable part of the V."

The dramatization of this pageant is directed by Mrs. McHenry Lane and the musical selections are directed by Mrs. A. B. Turner. Bill Andis is the narrator.

The pageant is divided into two episodes. The first episode depicts the surrender of six European countries to the Axis powers. The question is asked, "Who will help forge the V for Victory?" The second episode shows the answer of 130,000,000 Americans from all walks of life in response to Uncle Sam's call for help.

The first episode contains the following characters: Peace — Betty Jo Bartlett, America — Basil Smith, Mexico — Pauline Bain, South America — James Earl Hott.

Canada — Louise Skinner, England — Geraldine Jordan, Austria — Sara Beth Lowery, Australia — Charlyn Davis, Czechoslovakia — La Rue Shadle.

France — Mary Williams, China — Maxine Robertson, Russia — Maurice Risley, Holland — Hazel Bingham, Denmark — Nellie Endsley, Poland — Edith Neff, Greece — Joan Hillman, Germany — Billy Lowe, Japan — Dwight Blair, Italy — J. F. White.

The Second Episode contains the following characters: Soldier — Max Rhea, Sailor — Redell Henson, Sailor — John Earl Ryan, Marine — Harold Donnell, Chaplain — Jack Riley, Nurse — Frankie Hommel, Doctor — G. G. Reeves, Ranchman — H. A. Harrison, Farmer — H. C. Shaw, Miner — Charles Smith, Defense Worker — Annie Ree Porter, Merchant — George Moore, Secretary — Charline Knox, Teacher — Bobby Harold Smith, Minister — Rex Moore, Mother — Lola Marie Ayers, Child — Inell Cox, Boy Scout — Max Keys, Girl Scout — June Atterberry, Truth — Betty Lou Naylor, Liberty — Buena Walker.

"Who Is Forging The Eternal V?" will inspire every American who hears it to stand a little taller, live a little bigger, and serve a little better because of his realization that he is a part of the Eternal V.

Diplomas will be awarded 14 members of the graduating class after the pageant.

POPPY DAY SALES HELPS DISABLED WAR VETERANS

How the memorial poppies which will be worn to honor the war dead on Poppy Day next Saturday will bring help to war's living victims was explained today by Mrs. Ralph Andis, Secretary - Treasurer of Aubyn E. Clark unit of the American Legion Auxiliary.

Mrs. Andis is one of the many volunteer workers who will distribute the poppies on the streets here Saturday. She said:

"I hope everyone understands what becomes of the coins they contribute when they take a poppy from an Auxiliary worker. I wish every one could know the need for those contributions, especially this year when the war is increasing that need so greatly.

"First let me say that every penny of the money paid for poppies goes into the rehabilitation and welfare work of the American Legion and Auxiliary and because this work is performed by volunteers, it goes a very long way.

"Disabled veterans and children left fatherless by war are the special concern of the Legion Auxiliary. It is for them the poppy dimes and dollars are given, not so much for their material needs as for their human needs.

"Only the billions of the government can bring adequate relief to the nation's disabled defenders and their families, but there are things which the government with all its billions cannot do. It cannot provide the understanding and personal attention that so often are such a big factor in a disabled man's rehabilitation; which so often hold his family together until he is able to return home.

"This the Legion and Auxiliary are doing with the help of the money you give on Poppy Day. By wearing a poppy you aid the disabled as well as honor the dead."

80 PER CENT OF MARKET BASKET NOW CONTROLLED

Hammering home its fourth major blow against the rising cost of living in a single week, the office of price administration this week end brought more than 80 per cent of the average market basket under price control.

The principal feature of this sweeping offensive against inflation lies in the fact that nearly every American housewife was enlisted in the common struggle.

Announcement of market ceiling prices in terms of dollars and cents armed the vast forces of women with their most powerful weapon.

The OPA's four major steps in the cost of living battle were:

1. Establishment of specific dollars and cents prices on a variety of dry grocery items on Monday, May 10.

2. Disclosure of cents per pound prices on beef, veal, mutton and lamb on Wednesday, May 12. (These prices become effective on Monday, May 17. Pork previously was brought under identical controls.)

3. Announcement of maximum prices on soap — case by case, box by box and brand name by name — on Friday, May 14. (These prices become effective May 24.)

4. Establishment of specific dollars and cents prices on a wide assortment of canned fruits, fruit juices, vegetables, vegetables, vegetable juices and baby food on Monday, May 17.

Fixing of specific ceilings on groceries (items 1 and 4) was completed on a trade area basis. This was termed "community pricing", inasmuch as prices in one area were not necessarily the same as those in another. Prices on soap and meat, however, were announced nationally, with meat prices varied according to zone and class of store. Soap prices are the same all over the nation.

When community maximum pricing for small independent stores is completed, the office of price administration will set top prices for chain and other large volume food stores. When the first group of community ceiling prices was announced, OPA emphasized that, although these prices were the top that might be charged in local trading areas, large volume stores with lower ceiling prices must maintain the lower prices.

Some people apparently got the impression, said one OPA official, that all stores would be permitted to raise their prices to the community ceiling. This is entirely in error, however, he declared, as OPA has stressed in all its announcements concerning community pricing that the plan is designed to "hold the line" and that present ceilings must be maintained or lowered.

CUSTOM SLAUGHTERING RESTRICTIONS EASED

Certain restrictions on custom slaughtering of home produced livestock for consumption on the farm were wiped out May 15 when the office of price administration amended its meat rationing regulations. Under the ing Olympic will rotate in turn among the Bombardier schools.

Not a stunt, but serious competition controlled by all the rules of precision bombing, in which Americans excel, the bombing Olympic is designed to give students confidence and experience with the weapons with which the Axis is being blasted off the battle fronts.

Contesting teams will include pilot, student bombardier and student photographer. All bomb releases will be scored by photographer. Each school will be represented by a bombing instructor who will fly with a rival team as a judge. The bombardiers will drop five bombs each. Competition will begin at 8 a. m. and continue until all teams have completed their missions.

The target will be regulation practice bombing target, 300 feet in diameter, constructed on the Childress Flying Field.

As an added inducement to accuracy, Lt. Col. L. H. Dalton, director of training at Childress, announces a pickle barrel will center the target.

Lt. Col. John W. White, commanding officer of the Childress school, newest of Texas big four, and Lt. Col. Dalton will be hosts to the Bombing Olympic.

THE NEW FRONTIER

Every great war opens a new frontier. Prior to the first world war, the frontiers were geographic. The civil war was followed by the great westward trek of war-weary men and women looking for new opportunities and a new life. With the close of the current conflict, at least a major portion of the new frontier, like that of twenty-five years ago, will be in the industrial field. But instead of automobiles, it will lie this time in the scientific development of the nation's natural resources. Research men of the coal, metal mining and oil industries, working quietly in laboratories surrounded by military secrecy, have lifted the veil of the future. They have seen the new frontier in all its promise, and enough hints regarding its mature and extent have leaked out to stir the imagination of the man in the street.

The miracles of the sulfa drugs, derivatives of coal, are just one phase of the coming revolution in discovery and research. Rubber synthetics are multiplying almost by the score, along with plastics and other materials, each of which can easily mean the establishment and growth of an entire new industry. Beyond these is a vast realm of discovery of which the public as yet knows nothing. There is a petroleum synthetic, for example, that is effective for its purpose even when diluted in a ration of one part of 100,000,000; it is handled in a "concentrate" of .01 per cent. The future will see 100,000-mile tires, 20,000-mile lubricating oil, 50 to 70-mile-to-the-gallon gasoline, and sealed cooling systems with petroleum-product liquids in both cars and planes.

This country has just begun to grow.

FARMERS FED UP

Many large dairies have gone out of business. More and more is the nation having to rely for its food on the family farm where the members get up in the early hours, milk the cows, tend to the farming during the day, milk the cows at night, and at a late hour call it a day, go to bed, and get up to do the job all over again, seven days a week.

If the farmer worked the short hours and received the high pay of workers in war industries who are constantly striking for even higher wages, those workers would probably be paying a dollar a quart for milk.

Nature's requirements on the farm recognize no artificial production limitations and slow-down sabotage.

There are two good places to put strikers today — in the Army and on the farms. They would then get an idea of what real work is.

"At the end of this war American business will have its greatest opportunity to help put the better world for which we are now fighting on the healthy economic basis which will keep it better."—Paul G. Hoffman.

SHOES — No. 17 stamp in War Ration Book One good for one pair through June 15.

MEATS, ETC. — Red stamps E, F, G, H remain valid thru May. Red Stamp J becomes valid May 23.

PROCESSED FOODS — Blue stamps G, H, J, remain valid through May.

WHAT IS "HOME-CANNED"? Foods are "home-canned," says OPA if — (1) they have been canned in a separate building or shed, which is a farm home has equipped for canning purposes, provided that the owner has first obtained permission from his local board to use such facilities.

FARM MEAT REGULATIONS

New meat rationing regulations provide that a farm and his family may consume meat raised on any farm he owns or operates, and may transfer meat from one of his farms to another to provide food for members of the household, without giving up ration points, even if the meat is not slaughtered on his farm. However, if the farm owner does not live on a farm, he must give up ration points for any meat he consumes elsewhere. Under the original regulations, a farmer who brought his own cattle to a custom slaughtering plant had to surrender red point stamps for the meat, while if he killed and dressed an animal himself the meat was "ration-free." A farm or ranch employer who feeds his employees in a bunkhouse or dining hall may now use meat and other rationed food raised on his farm on the same basis as if the employees were fed in the household.

SUGAR ALLOWED FOR CANNING

Sugar for home canning will be limited to one pound for each four quarts (or eight pounds) of the finished product and may be secured on written application to the housewife's local board. Each person is allowed not more than 25 pounds. Any family can apply for sugar to put up jams, jellies, and preserves at the rate of five pounds per person. Last year, sugar for preserves was limited to one person per pound.

CEILINGS SET ON MARKET BASKET FOODS

Maximum prices now being established by OPA for the market areas of about 130 cities are expected to cover 80 per cent of the foods in the family market basket by June 1. These maximums will be top prices in each principal city and its "market area," which the district offices of the OPA have defined. By June, the OPA expects to complete prices for the first 160 cities and then undertake the same job for other localities. Community wide top prices are intended to simplify regulations for the storekeeper and the housewife and to make the consumer a partner in the enforcement of wartime price ceilings.

OVERSEAS PARCEL POST

Packages now may be mailed to a soldier overseas if a request is received from the soldier and the envelope bearing the OPA cancellation mark is presented at the time of mailing. Formerly, the approval of the commanding officer was required. Current restrictions as to weight and size of packages remain in effect.

FIGHT POTATO BLACK MARKET

OPA investigators are being sent into major shipping centers of the early crop of white potatoes, and into approximately 30 of the country's principal terminal market areas in an effort to prevent black market practices. Maximum prices for country shippers of early crop potatoes in the South and Southwest range from $2.40 to $2.50 a hundred weight, except for Florida where the maximum is $3.10. Some arrests have been made.

FARM MACHINERY RATIONING

At their discretion, state war boards can now cancel county quotas on any or all types of farm machinery according to revised farm machinery rationing order issued by the war food administering. If a state board exercises this authority, farmers will be required to locate the machinery they want to buy before they are given a purchase certificate. Furthermore, county farm rationing committees may set the expiration date of purchase certificates, any time between 10 and 60 days after issuance, or may cancel the certificate after the holder has had a reasonable time to buy the specified machinery.

MUST CARRY DRAFT CARDS

Selective Service registrants who were 18 years old on or before November 13, 1942, must have their local board classification cards (Selective Service Form No. 57), as well as their registration certificate (Form 2), in their possession after May 13. Men without both cards are liable to fine and imprisonment, selective service headquarters warned.

FREIGHT RATES REDUCED

More than $350 million will be saved annually by a reduction in railroad rates that goes into effect May 15. In most cases the savings will be reflected automatically in reduced prices through the operation of existing maximum price regulations. Added to current actions to roll back the cost of living, these freight reductions will contribute substantially to the prevention of inflation.

TWINE AND ROPE FOR '43 HARVEST

Farmers can expect reasonable supplies of hay rope, binder twine, and other cordage for harvesting their 1943 crops. However, farmers are warned to buy only what they actually need and to conserve supplies now on hand. Many substitute materials are being used and supplies will require more careful handling than in the past.

GAS FOR FURLOUGHS

Members of the armed forces on leave or furlough for three days or more may get a special gasoline ration (up to five gallons) for personal errands when other means of transportation are not available. The ration is obtained by presenting pass, leave, or furlough papers to a rationing board.

COTTON HOSIERY

Here's what your full fashioned cotton hosiery will be like according to recent WPB specifications — (1) length not to exceed 30 inches; (2) length of welt no more than 3 1-2 inches; (3) not less than 16 stitches to the inch for seams; (4) no more than four colors for any one style during each six months period; (5) no more lace bands, lace stripes, fancy designs or numbers in the welt or afterwelt. Full fashioned rayon hosiery must now have cotton reinforcement in the toe.

SAVE FEED PROTEINS

Livestock and poultry raisers are urged to conserve livestock feeds, especially those of high-protein content, by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Feed manufacturers are voluntarily limiting the proportions of proteins in various types of feeds, and farmers or ranchmen who mix their own are asked to do likewise. They are also requested to conserve purchased protein by liberal feeding of grain and nutritious roughage. Poultrymen are advised to make no further expansions in commercial broiler production, to maintain a balance

WAR COSTS INCREASE

War expenditures by the U. S. government during the month of April amounted to $7,290,000,000, an increase of $178,000,000. Daily expenditures averaged $280,000,000 in April compared to $263,400,000 in March. From July 1940, through April 1943, $94,000,000,000 had been disbursed for war purposes by the U. S. government.

HAM PRICES REDUCED

Maximum retail prices for all parts of processed hams (bone-in) and processed picnic hams, have been reduced from one to three cents per pound by OPA. One third of a ham may now be sold in slices, to accommodate consumers who do not have enough points to buy a larger piece.

HEARINGS ON GAS RATIONS

New rules permit local war price and rationing boards to conduct hearings to revoke gasoline rations if — (1) the motorist is charged with speeding (driving over 35 miles an hour); (2) the motorist is charged with abuse of his tires; (3) an applicant for a new gasoline ration is believed to have committed a previous violation; (4) a ration holder charged with violation demands return of his book before a written notice of hearing can be sent him.

SAVE TYPEWRITER RIBBON SPOOLS

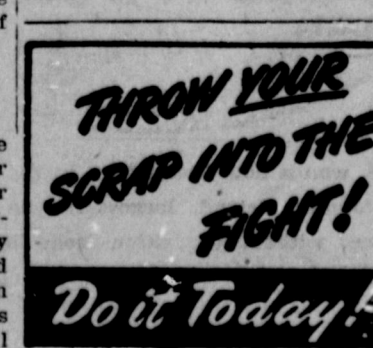

Saving typewriter ribbon spools will postpone the day when ribbons must be wound on wooden MORE — MORE — MORE TOWN AND FARM Gal — 3 — "carriers" says WPB. All materials for ribbon spools are scarce and substitutes for steel — such as paper — have not proved satisfactory. Typists are asked to turn a used spool when buying a new typewriter ribbon.

WAR ALARM CLOCKS AT $1.65

The new war alarm clock will be sold for not more than $1.65 exclusive of tax. WPB is allocating materials for 1,700,000 of these clocks to ease a national shortage.

ACTION TAKEN TO HALT BUTTER SPOilage

Texas and Louisiana district OPA offices have been authorized to reduce the point value of some grades of country butter where slow movement during flesh milk production seasons threatens waste or spoilage. Temporary ration point reductions may be authorized for farmers who produce ten pounds of butter or less per week. The farmer must apply to his local board if he wishes to reduce point values. Retail stores must secure the same authorization.

Washington, D. C. AID TO RUSSIA

It is now permissible to reveal that several months ago about 300,000 tons of shipping were tied up in the Persian Gulf waiting to be unloaded.

This represented a super attempt to aid Russia, and although some ships were tied up for weeks, it was not the fault of the War Shipping Administration or the army. This was an attempt to show good faith to Russia when she was under terrific siege, when the battle of Stalingrad was in the balance.

In some cases ships rode at anchor 50 to 60 days in the Gulf of Persia, waiting to unload, their crews idle.

Basic reason for this delay is that port facilities along the Gulf of Persia are backward if not medieval. There were no modern docks or cranes, and to unload locomotives without cranes is almost impossible. Also the railroad running north from Basra to the Caucasus is a meandering affair, never completely finished, originally built to reach the Shah's hunting lodge rather than port facilities on the Caspian.

Very little had been done by the British to improve this line, until American engineers got busy. Even before Pearl Harbor, when we first started sending aid to Russia, American railroad men were rushed to Basra. But it was a tough job, and was still unfinished last fall and summer. At that time the Nazis were knocking our Murmansk convoys off Norway into smithereens. So, to keep faith with Russia, ships were piled into the Gulf of Persia.

Today the situation, though still difficult, is greatly improved. In fact, hard hitting Lew Douglas, dynamo of the War Shipping Administration, has nepped up unloading facilities in India, South Africa and other had bottlenecks where previously U. S. ships had to wait three and four weeks to unload.

WORRIED OVER RAILROADS

Certain Washington officials acquainted with railroad operation are worried about temporary breakdowns of the transportation system, and consequent serious delays in moving war materials.

While it is admitted that the railroads are doing a "grand job," there is no overlooking the fact that the burden is proving too heavy.

Most serious is the situation in westward freight traffic. The country's railroads were built with the idea of moving traffic eastward, with bigger facilities as traffic moves east. But today, with a Pacific war to supply the westward movement is greater than ever.

Breakdowns have occurred on single track western lines, requiring re-routing in a circuitous manner, with delays of days and weeks in some cases. A transcontinental freight movement which once was accomplished in five days is now requiring ten and fifteen.

The remedy seems to be an increase in the centralized control of traffic. This smells like government operation, from the railroads' point of view, and they shy away from it. But officials in ODT who have no railroad connections regard such control as necessary for the wartime job.

Note: The burden for meeting these problems falls on the shoulders of V. V. Boatner, director of the division of railroad transport in the ODT. Boatner has now shifted to a "without compensation" basis so he can act as consultant for the railroads and be paid by them, while still officially working for the government.

FARMER CHENNAULT

Freshman Rep. Charles E. McWash MERRY ROUN CONT Kenzie of Louisiana expected to get a first hand report on the war in the Far East when he shook hands with his most distinguished constituent, Gen. Claire Chennault, leader of American forces in China, who is visiting in the United States.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS
by BOYCE HOUSE

At Matamoros (across the river of course from Brownsville) you can dine — or could years back — in a setting that was truly glamorous, out in the open with an unbelievably big moon made of new silver so low that it was barely above the tops of the twin palm trees and a marimba band played soft melodies. At one time, more strident than the Mexican songs, memories stirred of Texas gridirons for it was:

"We'll roll old Blankville in the sod, in the sod, Rah, rah, rah!"

At a nearby table, a Mexican aviator was talking in English to two Americans. He was describing a flight at night over Louisiana swamps:

"I could see lights glimmering in the waters. No, it was not the reflection of the stars; it was the moonlight hitting the eyes of the alligators!"

They have tellers of tall tales in all countries.

There has been considerable talk from Austin in criticism of the "short work week" over the nation.

Well, the shortest work week that I know anything about is right down in Austin under the dome of the Capitol.

Just sit down and take a stub pencil and the back of an old envelope and figure it out for yourself. State department employees come to work at 8 and get off at 5, with an hour for lunch. That figures out eight hours a day. But they're given 15 minutes in the morning and 15 minutes in the afternoon for coffee so that cuts down the time on the job to seven hours and a half.

But we're not through figuring yet. That seven and a half hours a day is for Monday through Friday. On Saturday they get off at noon and, of course, don't have to come back till Monday morning.

Assuming that a department employee works what time he is actually at his desk — and that's a pretty violent assumption in some instances — then he works 41 1-2 hours a week.

But wait! We haven't allowed for two weeks' paid vacation, sick leave and all the numerous holidays that state departments take off. Figure all this in and, Mr. Taxpayer, you will do well to get 36 hours of service per week from hundreds of your state department employees.

If our state bureaus would suspend most of the holidays for the duration and if they would work on Saturday afternoons and give the public the same type of service that the public gets from private business and private industry, then those departments could get along with one fourth less employees than they now have. This would release a great number of people for work in airplane factories and it would save the tax payers over a million dollars a year.

The average business man, in these days of war taxes and labor shortage and stress and strain, is working from 60 to 70 hours a week. The farmers always have worked 72 hours a week on the average and they are working harder than ever now. Would it be asking too much for our state government to go on at least a 48 hour basis? Really, somebody ought to break it gently to the bureaucrats at Austin that there is a war going on.

MERRY-GO-ROUND

The carpet in the state department reception room, where Secretary Hull holds press conferences, is bordered with swastikas.

William B. Lewis, chief of OWI's radio bureau, resented "Time's" calling him "smooth, dapper," and one of the "soap salesmen" in OWI. He called "Time's" Washington bureau threatening to write letters of protest to important people. "Write one to us," said Felix Belair, Jr., head of the bureau, "if it's good, we'll print it."

Murder IN THE KITCHEN

CRIME DOESN'T PAY. Not even in the kitchen. Are you guilty of things like this?

SUSPENSE

There's suspense in this "Who Dun It," but there's no mystery as to who committed the crime.

This housewife is anxiously waiting for the cauliflower to cook, but she might just as well relax and count this day lost. It's as lifeless as an autumn leaf and just as brown, for she's murdered Vitamin C. And ignorance of the laws of good nutrition is no excuse.

"Cauliflower" say home economists at Revere's Experimental Kitchen must be cooked with care. Long soaking in water before cooking, destroys Vitamin C, because it's water-soluble. Rinse the flowerettes quickly in running water and cook covered in a small amount of boiling water. Add a little lemon juice to keep the cauliflower snowy white.

United Gas Pipe Line Company Moves To Aid Consumers On Rates

By offering a wholesale rate schedule which was approved by the Federal Power commission, the United Gas Pipe Line company helped avoid delay in any rate reductions which retail consumers may receive and also saved the expense which would have been incurred in extensive hearings on the rate reduction question.

This was brought out in the text of the Federal Power commission's recent opinion, which said that amended wholesale rates charged by the company will be reduced $2,195,287, on the basis of 1942 revenues.

The opinion relates that the commission inaugurated a general investigation of the company's wholesale rates in December, 1939, and upon completion of its field work assembled its material in exhibit form, showing conclusions reached.

"United had also completed its exhibits," the opinion continues, "preparatory for a hearing in these proceedings, and on December 11, 1942, filed an application for a pre-hearing, as provided in section 50-59A of the provisional rules of practice and regulations under the Natural Gas act, as amended."

"The application was granted and after an exchange of exhibits, the date and place of such conference was fixed for February 10, 1943, in the federal building at Shreveport, La."

"As a result of this conference United agreed to file, and on April 1, 1943, did file with the commission amendatory contracts effecting a reduction of rates for resale gas, for domestic and commercial consumption in the sum of $2,195,287 annually, based upon revenues for the year 1942. Prior to the filing by United of the amendatory contracts the complainants and intervenors were fully advised of the details of the proposed rate reduction at conferences held in the commission's offices in Washington, D. C., on March 22 and 23, 1943.

"We have accepted for filing the rate schedules submitted by United and by the attached order make them applicable to sales and deliveries of natural gas (for resale for domestic and commercial use) on and after either March 20, March 26, April 10, 1943, as provided in the established monthly billing periods."

"The proceedings have been carried out with the full cooperation of the original complainant, Louisiana Public Service commission. By the procedure followed in these matters, the company, the consumers, the commission and the tax payers are saved considerable expense that would have been incurred if the matter had proceeded to formal hearings."

"There is also avoided the delay reductions that might otherwise have occurred."

"In arriving at the amount of the reduction which United agreed to make, the staff applied the principles laid down in our decisions in natural gas rate cases, included the elimination of write-ups, the determination of the proper depreciation reserve and allowance of a 6 1-2 per cent rate of return, etc."

Issuance of the commission's order does not automatically assure rate reductions for consumers in communities which receive gas sold at wholesale by the United company. The Federal Power commission has no jurisdiction over rates charged by the municipalities or companies selling gas at retail to consumers and the commission order does not in itself alter the retail rates.

The rest-pause that refreshes

Welcome in peace...
more welcome in war work

ASK plant managers what a rest-pause means to workers in war production . . . more work-contentment. And contentment increases output. Add refreshment to a rest-pause and the feeling of contentment is increased. That's a reason why you find ice-cold Coca-Cola so welcome in war plants.

Ice-cold Coca-Cola goes beyond just quenching thirst to bring you refreshment. Its delicious goodness always delights your taste. Here is a drink made with a finished art, quality you count on. The only thing like Coca-Cola is Coca-Cola, itself.

Letters from plant managers from coast to coast emphasize that the little moment for an ice-cold Coca-Cola means a lot to workers in war plants. It's a refreshing moment on the sunny side of things . . . a way to turn to refreshment without turning from work.

Try ice-cold Coca-Cola with your lunch. You'll like the way its taste and refreshment add to the pleasure of eating.

The best is always the better buy!

Mother, your children know you love them with all your heart and soul, and would give them anything you have. We know and realize you have worked and slaved all your life for us. We realize the fact more than ever as the days go by. That is the reason I am trying to help you all I can.

When you and Dona Mae write again I would like to know if you are still receiving my bonds. Be sure to keep them in a good safe place so you will have them when they are needed.

I am sure you have heard from all the kids since I have because all the letters I received this morning are over two months old. One thing I can say: my family certainly is good to write. Dona Mae heads the list, Bless her heart — she must write me twice a week, I prize them all I, mother darling, I guess I very highly.

Until I hear from you again, I will be looking forward to receiving more of your good letters. I will pray every night for your protection and guidance through life.

Yes, mother, your letters answered all my questions. Thanks a million. A son who loves mother from the bottom of his heart.

Your sailor son, ALVIS D. KOEN.

P. S. — Tell everyone hello and that I am OK.

original regulation, a farmer who brought his own cattle to a custom slaughtering plant for slaughter and dressing had to surrender red point stamps for the meat, while if he killed and dressed the animal himself on the farm the meat was point-free. This situation has been entirely eliminated, and the farmer and his family may now consume meat raised on any farm he owns or operates without giving up ration points.

The feeding of employes on farms and ranches also has been simplified. The farm or ranch employer who feeds his employes in a bunk house or dining hall, operated apart from the employer's household, no longer is required to register as an "institutional user" and may use meat and other rationed food from his farm's production on the same basis as employes who feed their employes in the household.

quire no sugar in canning them?

A. — No. But each person in your family may give not more than 50 quarts of home-canned fruits and vegetables without collecting ration stamps. If you wish to give away more than that, you must collect ration points from the person to whom you give them although you need not ask for money payment for this food unless you wish.

Q. — How many jars of jams and jellies may I give away?

A. — Jams, jellies and preserves are not rationed, and you may give away as many jars as you can spare out of your allowance of five pounds of sugar.

Q. — What is the point value of home canned food?

A. — Home canned food has a point value of 8 points per quart and 4 points per pound or per pint.

Q. — May I sell canned fruits which someone else puts up for me?

A. — Yes. But you must collect ration stamps at the rate of eight points per quart for every sale you make, regardless of who does the canning.

Q. — I usually can several hundred quarts of fruits and vegetables to sell through the local farmer's market. May I continue to do so under rationing?

A. — Yes. You may continue to sell home canned fruits and vegetables, but you must collect 8 ration points for each quart sold.

Q. — What do I do with the ration stamps I collect for sales I make of home canned food?

A. — You turn the ration stamps in to your local ration board any time during the first ten days of the month following the sale.

Q. — Must I make any special report when I turn in the ration stamps I collect for food I sell?

A. — No. But you must keep a record of your sales.

Q. — How do I get sugar for canning fruit for sale?

A. — You apply to your local board on OPA Form R-315 for the amount of sugar you will need, at the rate of one pound of sugar for every four quarts of finished fruits.

Q. — May I also apply for sugar for making jams and jellies for sale?

A. — No. You may have only enough sugar for preserving fruits for the use of your family — not more than five pounds per person.

The banquet table formed a V, at the apex of the V huge centerpiece of red, white and blue blossoms, flanked by white tapers. Down the length of the table were white tapers with clusters of white blossoms at the base. The delicious three course dinner proved that a little ingenuity can produce miracles in spite of "points" and "rationing."

In a simple ceremony read Saturday night, May 8, at the home of Judge G. Baker, Miss Pauline Riley and Sgt. C. W. Hafenstine exchanged marriage vows. The couple was attended by Judge G. Baker of Harlingen.

The bride wore a becoming suit of white sheerklein with black and white accessories. Her corsage was of sweetheart roses. Mrs. Hafenstine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Riley of Clarendon, was reared near Clarendon and attended Clarendon high school and junior college; also Texas Technological College at Lubbock. For the past several months, Mrs. Hafenstine has been employed by the U. S. Engineers at Amarillo.

Staff Sgt. Hafenstine, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Hafenstine of Topeka, Kansas, attended high school and college at Manhattan, Kansas. For a number of years, before entering the service, Sgt. Hafenstine was connected with Sears and Co., Topeka, Kansas. The couple will be at home in Harlingen.

Business Policies Can Also Be Applied To Church Policies

By Rev. J. O. QUATTLEBAUM JR.

"Business Policy" is a much used term and has a significance recognized by most every one. It is a good term, it need not represent a hypocritical attitude as some think but one of human interest in those whose good will and business is desired. It is often reciprocal in trade. It is expressed by friendliness to customers and helpfulness to those who may or may not directly be helpful in return. It is a valuable asset in business. Would it be sacrilege to invite the same attitude toward the churches of Clarendon?

If church people were more alert, watching their neighbors attitude, they would be offended or hurt that the church is taken for granted and so little of that thoughtful "policy" shown it. People in and out of the church may never drop a round for a friendly visit to the services of the churches of their friends. Yet these same people would be wounded if their place of business were never visited by those thus slighted.

It would warm the hearts of the minister, the choir and membership to have business men who may not be members of any church, and those who are of some other church attend a service just to show a neighborly interest.

The prophet Isaiah said of some people, "They helped every one his neighbor; and everyone said to his brother, Be of good courage." — [Is. 41:6]. We should have that spirit in every town and community. "All for each and each for all" is bound to be an attitude that will help build a good town.

ing failures" experienced by so many homemakers who haven't the advantage of these tested recipes for washing used by laundries as the right type of pan is for cake making at home!

All these are reasons why washing done at the professional laundry eliminates the "washing failures" experienced by so many homemakers who haven't the advantage of these tested recipes for washing.

Besides controlling the temperature of rain-soft water, using the right supplies for each type of fabric and separating cottons, linens, wools, silks and rayons from each other, professional laundries also separate colors very carefully.

For instance, white cotton and linen articles are separated into three groups! Colored articles are separated into five general groups: 1. light pinks, lavenders, tans; 2. light blues, greens and grays; 3. yellows; 4. dark brown, blue, purple, green and black; 5. dark red and orange. Then, these are washed and ironed by the tested recipe for wool, cotton, linen, silk or rayon, according to their fiber content.

Garden Glances

A delicate pink rose of the climbing variety covers a large space on the porch at the E. W. Adams home on the Amarillo highway. Also other colorful flowers add a gay spring touch to the grounds.

Roses are blossoming profusely at the home of M. P. Gentry and George Ryan. The climbing roses over the fences give a special glamour to the surroundings.

Honeysuckle roses and other dainty small flowers brighten the yard at the home of J. W. Rhodes.

The R. R. Dawkins home is quite attractive with its well kept lawn shrubs and red roses. The Duke home is a good example of how a little paint, a few rocks put into a curb and a well sodded lawn can change the appearance of a home.

Victory gardens are progressing nicely. The potatoes are blooming, cabbage heading and the beans are about ready for use, while English peas, various greens, radishes and onions have been in use for some time.

Garden Club will meet at the home of Mrs. H. C. Brumley, Monday, May 24, at 4 p. m.

These four young women have been judged the most beautiful students enrolled in Texas State College for Women, Denton, by a jury of army officers and are featured in this year's Daedalian, college yearbook. Miss Lillian Hutchens (upper left) represents the senior class of TSCW; Miss Mar Gween Ball (upper right) the sophomore; Miss Jean Wilson (lower left) the freshman, and Miss Margary Brewer, the junior. Miss Brewer's home is at College Station while the others live in Fort Worth.

Only women who worried along with old-fashioned cooking recipes have known the awful uncertainty and frequent failure which were daily occurrences before science, in the form of tested recipes for cooking, came to grace our culinary efforts with success every time.

Just the right blend of ingredients and temperatures is as important to successful washing as it is to successful cake baking.

In principle, the washing and ironing methods followed by professional laundries today are very much like tested recipes for cooking. For, the whole washing and ironing procedure followed in modern laundries is first tested by the American Institute of Laundering at Joliet, Ill. These experts work with controlled temperatures, length of time required for washing articles clean and safely, and the separation of all articles according to their color and fiber contents just as carefully as a homemaker sifts flour, separates whites from yolks of eggs and sets her oven at 350 degrees F. when the recipe so states!

Then, too, professional laundries use rain-soft water just as religiously as a homemaker uses heavy cream for whipping. Even the right type of washer or ironing is as vitally important to the tested recipes for washing used by laundries as the right type of pan is for cake making at home!

All these are reasons why washing done at the professional laundry eliminates the "wash-

SELECT CHICKS WHICH GROW FEATHERS FAST

COLLEGE STATION — Chicks which grow feathers fast is a good guide in selecting breeding stock to produce better broilers.

According to H. H. Weatherly, poultry husbandman for the A. and M. College extension service, chicks which grow feathers fast are the ones which reach market as broilers free of pinfeathers. Fast feathering birds may be identified by a simple check of the number and size of the wing feather quills of day-old chicks. One with a wing showing seven well developed primary and seven well developed secondary sheaths will feather out with wing and tail feathers long before the chick with shorter quills and only a few short secondaries.

Flash being a primary factor in broilers, the meatier birds should be selected when the fast feathering chicks are four to six weeks old. At that age they have made their best gains and it is easier to differentiate between the fast and slow growing ones than it is later.

Breeding stock may be selected from the meaty, fast feathering chicks when they are six to 12 weeks of age. This is done by the simple rule of measuring the width of each chicken's breast between the producer's thumb and finger. Breast meat is the most valued part of a broiler, so it is important to choose breeders well provided with meat on that part of their bodies.

These steps in selection of breeding stock for broiler production applies to both male and female, although it is not necessary to choose the females as carefully.

GARDEN CLUB ANNOUNCEMENT

The Garden Club will meet in the home of Mrs. Harry Brumley, Monday, April 24 at four o'clock.

TOMATO GROWERS SHOULD GET READY TO FIGHT WORMS

COLLEGE STATION — Now that tomatoes are, or soon will be setting fruit, growers should prepare to fight the tomato fruit worm, says Paul Gregg, grower of the A. and M. College extension service staff.

Tomatoes are the most economical and best all-around source of vitamin C. In addition they are a valuable cash crop to Texas farmers. Tomato growing in Texas follows the sun from the Rio Grande Valley in mid-winter through the gardens and fields of east and north Texas in the spring and early summer.

Gregg, who is assistant extension entomologist, says that millers are active now in these areas. They fly from one tomato patch to another, laying their eggs in the terminal part of the tomato plants. The eggs will hatch in three to five days and the young worms start feeding on the immature fruit. They cut holes in the tomatoes, and go inside and feed. A single worm will damage or destroy three to five tomatoes.

An early application of poison is extremely important to check damage by the pest. If the worms get into the tomatoes poison will not reach them. For best results start control treatment soon after the fruit is set or about the time the tomatoes are the size of a marble. Dust the plants thoroughly with calcium or lead arsenate one part, and hydrated lime one part, or with a mixture of one part cryolite and two parts sulphur. Dust at five to seven day intervals until about three weeks before the tomatoes ripen.

Unlike citrus, which also is a source of vitamin C, tomatoes do not lose the strength of the vitamin in heating or canning. Don't let the worms cut production.

SEABEES NEEDED FOR NAVAL WORK IN CONSTRUCTION

The Navy's Seabees, "They'll Build the Bridge to Tokyo" the Seabees are the rugged lads who do the navy's emergency construction work on gases, camps, harbors, etc., under wartime conditions outside the continental limits of the United States. The Seabees urgently need men between the ages of 18 and 50 who are skilled in the building trades such as: blacksmiths, bulldozer operators, carpenters, concrete workers, electricians, mechanics, pipefitters, riggers, steel workers, welders and many others.

Lt. Parrott, civil engineering officer will be in Amarillo on May 22 and 23 to certify men for the seabees. Men should have two letters of work reference at the time they report to the Amarillo office and those between 18 and 38 must have 1-A draft classifications. Filling out application papers for interview with Lt. Parrott does not obligate the applicants in any way.

The army also offers opportunities in the army engineering corps.

HOW TO COMBAT HOUSE FLIES TOLD

AUSTIN — Leaving behind wherever it goes a trail of sickness, suffering, and death, the common housefly has made its annual descent upon this community and is at present trying to force its unwelcome presence into every home and business establishment.

Advice received from Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer, as to how best to combat this menace to public health among our citizens, states that complete elimination to house flies is imperative because typhoid fever, tuberculosis, summer complaint, cholera, intestinal diseases, and many other serious ailments are spread from person to person by the visit of the house fly.

"The most effective measure for control is to prevent breeding," Dr. Cox said. "Flies breed in filth and the removal and destruction of all waste matter will deprive the fly of a breeding place. One female fly lays from 600 to 1000 eggs during its life time and in a season which begins in spring and runs through into the fall of the year, she and her descendants will number countless thousands.

"Destroy all breeding places for flies," Dr. Cox advised. "Manure piles, garbage, and other organic filth furnish the required warmth and moisture necessary for the propagation of the fly. Inasmuch as they not only breed in filth but frequent such unclean places as open privy pits, it should not be necessary to urge that flies be kept from contact with food, drinks, and kitchen utensils."

The State Health officer urged that all windows, doors, and porches be screened so that flies cannot gain entrance to homes and business establishments. The destruction of breeding places and proper screening can eliminate the danger of the fly in homes and public eating places.

The congregation of the Presbyterian Church was delighted Sunday with a splendid sermon preached by The Rev. Tom Bradley of Dallas. Up to date, no minister has been assigned to fill the vacancy created by the departure of Rev. M. M. Miller.

Mr. Allen Bryan was in Amarillo Monday on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hagler and daughter, Mary Esther, spent the week end in Altus, N. M.

TEXAS FARMERS CAN MEET THEIR GOALS — IF — ?

COLLEGE STATION — Given favorable seasons and extra labor for peak requirements, Texas farm families should be able to reach most of their war food goals, C. E. Bowles, specialist in organization and cooperative marketing for the A. and M. College Extension service, makes this observation on the basis of a forecast recently released by the state agricultural statistician for the U. S. department of agriculture.

According to the forecast, the inventory of beef animals now on Texas farms and ranches is above last year's record. Cattle and calves marketed in 1942 were 29 per cent above sales in 1941. Likewise, sheep and lambs went to market in record numbers in 1942, but on January 1, 1943, Texas still had more sheep and lambs than in any previous year.

Indications are that the 1942 spring pig crop is 30 per cent above last spring's record crop. The 1942 pig crop was 58 per cent above the ten years average. Continued comparable increases cannot be expected, Mr. Bowles believes. The labor shortage is one factor, and in addition, farmers are now being squeezed between skyrocketing feed prices and ceiling prices on meat.

A record number of chickens on Texas farms is 17 per cent above a year ago and 44 per cent above the ten year average. Hens are laying more eggs than in February, 1943, and the baby chicks hatched that month were 21 per cent above the average for the past five years. Bowles says the picture for milk is not so encouraging. While the number of cows milked on Texas farms increased four percent a shortage of machinery, Texas during 1942, the production per farmer are increasing their food cow declined enough to offset and feed acreage by six per cent tre increase in cow numbers. In spite of reduced labor and over 1942.

Here are 6 Ways YOU Can Help In The WAR EFFORT

Buy War Bonds and Stamps . . . as many as you can, as often as you can.

Assist farmers to grow more food for our Allies and ourselves.

Salvage all the rubber, iron, tin and fats you can for Uncle Sam. Observe both the letter and the spirit of rationing regulations. Contribute what you can afford to the Red Cross and other organizations.

Write letters often to men in the service to build morale.

THE LOW DOWN FROM HICKORY GROVE

If we had a memory that was not blurred by so much grand valavar and comment — radio, etc. — and one problem after another, we could savvy easy enough why one obstreperous person could work up to where he could tie up a business, like coal.

We brought the whole mess on our ownself. We bred the scab on our own nose. We did not maybe exactly do it ourself but we sat with our hands folded and let the other guy do it for us.

I have in mind Detroit — and the first sit-down. A sit-down in France. Ever since that day when our Govt. started playing ball with the Rocket Boys there in Michigan, we gone from had to worse. We been knee-deep in trouble ever since.

But now we can make up our mind to one thing — we gotta put the USA back onto an old fashioned American basis — or we are sunk. Like after green apples — it is always castor oil.

Yours with the low down, JO SERRA.

HOME SERVICE

Mrs. C. A. Burton We have had many inquiries about delay in delivery of War Bonds purchased by servicemen. In answer to a letter the following information was given: Men in the army service are given the opportunity to purchase bonds under a plan known as the army pay reservation plan. Specified portions of pay are voluntarily authorized by the service man. When the Treasury department mails the bond to the man or other individual specified by him. If he so requests, the treasury department will hold bonds in safekeeping at no expense.

Inquiries concerning non-receipt of bonds should not be made earlier than ninety days after the date of the last pay deduction in payment for the bond. The same procedure applies to men in the navy, only inquiries are sent to a different address. Although there is delay in the issue of bonds due to the tremendous pressure under which the treasury department is working, there is no loss of interest as bonds are dated from date of their elast payment.

Rather exhaustive directions are given for sending packages to prisoners of war in the various countries of Europe. It is stated that this still does not apply to prisoners in Japan because of lack of transportation facilities.

The Red Cross will accept contributions for Standard Food Packages for general distribution to designated nationalities of United Nations prisoners of war other than American. The reason for this is that these are provided for by the army and navy, a large number of articles for their comfort being furnished.

DOAN'S PILLS

Don't Neglect Them! Nature designed the kidneys to do a marvelous job. Their task is to keep the flowing blood stream free of an excess of toxic impurities.

When the kidneys fail to function as Nature intended, there is retention of waste that may cause body-wide distress. One may suffer nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feet tired, nervous, all worn out.

Frequent, scanty or burning passages are sometimes further evidence of kidney or bladder disturbance.

The recognized and proper treatment is a diuretic medicine to help the kidneys get rid of excess poisonous body waste. Use Doan's Pills. They have had more than forty years of public approval. Are endorsed the country over. Insist on Doan's. Sold at all drug stores.

Cpl. J. W. Goodman, former Clarendon High School football star who together with L. B. Hartzog and Woody Spencer joined the Marines immediately after Pearl Harbor, writes to the News this week.

The letter:
Dear Sir:
I thought I'd write a note and let you know I had received my first Clarendon News and certainly enjoyed reading it.

Pretty soon I will have been on this island one year. It does not seem that long though. For some reason time has gone by pretty fast for me. However, it's beginning to pass slower.

L. B. Hartzog and I have been together ever since we left, January 1942. Went through Boot Camp, Telephone School, and then over here. He's doing fine. Woodie Spencer is also here.

I've been operating a switchboard for nine months. I like it fine, too. I was in the line crew for a time, also. I think telephone work is O. K. all-around. I am chief operator now.

Well, I'll close now. It is now one forty-five a. m. I'll be on until four. So long, and I hope to be seeing Clarendon before too awfully long.

Sincerely,
CPL. J. W. GOODMAN.

I just got your Easter card yesterday. It was very nice, and I was very glad to hear from you.

Did you know that it is almost Mother's Day. I wish I could send you something, but as you know, I can't send anything but my love and best wishes, which isn't a lot to send in payment to the greatest mother in the world.

Yes I got the registered letter from Paul. I also got a letter from Mrs. Sawyer. I was surprised to hear from her. I have just answered her letter. She wanted to know if she could send me anytime. Mrs. Lola Barnes has received word from her son, R. L., who is serving overseas. He says that he is well and that everything is fine. Another son, Edd, is in a veterans hospital in Long Beach. He has been there for several months.

A letter from Alvis D. Koen, R. M. First Class, to his mother: To my precious beloved mother:

Mother my darling, I haven't received mail in quite some time; neither have I been able to send any, but to show you your son is always thinking of his precious mother I am writing every chance I get. Only the One above knows when I will be able to mail this or when you will receive it, but my prayers are for your humble guidance and protection through these many hard and trying times.

I sincerely hope this finds you and the rest of the loved ones well and able to carry on with the many burdens of life which this war stricken world has bestowed upon us. Things are looking much better on the battlefronts but the end is not yet in sight. With Gods helping hand we will be blessed with a great and glorious vicennes will be enjoyed once again by everyone. What a great day that will be. Our many sacrifices and hardships of today will be greatly rewarded for those who live to see it.

Mother darling I hope you have received the first payment of my allotment by now. I made it out in January and they said you would receive the first payment around the first of March. The housing allowance should be reaching you in the near future. Of course that depends upon how long it takes them to put it through. My commanding officer heartily approved it. It is in Washington, D. C., now for approval. I have got my fingers crossed, hoping and praying it will go through because it will mean so much to you and Dona Mae.

Mother, precious, its time I sign off for this time, so until I am able to write again I will remember you and my loved ones in my prayers.

From one who loves his mother more than words or actions can express.

Your Loving Son,
ALVIS,
Alvis D. Koen, RMIC USN,

SAN FRANCISCO, CALIF.
March 20th

Ten days elapsed and still no mail. Neither have I been able to send any, but my hopes are high. I know I have mail some where on the way, and that's all that counts. All I hope is that it doesn't take too long for it to reach me.

I do hope this day finds my precious mother well and able to carry on. Somehow I feel confident that my allotment has reached you by now. Sure hope so because I have been unable to send you and Dona Mae money due to circumstances I am not permitted to state.

Mother, darling, you are all I have left to live and fight for, and what's mine is yours. Precious, if you and Dona Mae get in a tight, cash my defense bonds. I wont care one bit. They are yours any time you need them. Above all I dont want you and Dona Mae to suffer for the need of money. What little money I have and my life fighting for your safety and happiness is all I have to offer. I am thankful I have that much to give. If the occasion ever calls for either or both I will gladly give without hesitation. Above all mother, do not hesitate to use the bonds if you need them. If I am blessed to pull through, I will get along somehow. I always have.

I have no idea when I will be able to mail this but when you do hear from me again you will know my prayers are always with you and my loved ones.

From one who loves his mother
