INTEREST AND ENTHUSIASM WORTHWHILE

For several years, now, we have witnessed a growing interest and enthusiasm in the growth and progress of the Donley County Fat Stock Show, and kindred activities connected with the livestock industry. This is a desirable condition and should continue.

The fact that Donley County is one of the most suited areas for the breeding and feeding of high grade cattle, hogs and sheep, is important, but it is not as important as the intelligent effort and enthusiastic drive now being exerted by our club boys in this constructive field of endeavor. The county has long boasted of cattlemen of fine capacities, but the early training of youth in the most approved and scientific methods of livestock culture, is the basis of faith for tomorrow in Donley.

The annual Fat Stock Shows, the Swine Shows, the Poultry Shows, the regular studies and development of the 4-H and FFA club members, all constitute the power house of interest and enthusiasm, which is being turned into profits from year to year.

As we give effective backing to the work of our club boys, and the livestock program in Donley County, let us remember that we are promoting a new order of prosperity for all of our people, at one and the same time.

Interest and enthusiasm in livestock operations is certainly worth our time and loyalties.

IF THE GODDESS OF LIBERTY TURNED AROUND

With all the weak-kneed quibbling going on in Washington over the lend-lease bill, we are glad the Goddess of Liberty on Beddoes Island in New York harbor, faces out to sea.

What would she witness if she were to face about South-west toward Washington? What expressions of regret and sorrow would darken her hopeful features, as she viewed the petty mouthings and dissensions on Capitol Hill?

The News hopes the calm judgment of a free people will so impress itself on the hesitant, appeaser group in congress, that the lend-lease bill will pass much earlier and by a much larger majority than now anticipated. This bill will go down in history as the sword that unshackled the awesome power of Democracy to the final, ultimate and complete destruction of autocracy and aggression.

DICTIONARY'S TOUGHEST FOE

Do you know the best safeguard against tyranny?
It's a free press.

Look around. Do you know a single example where there exist both a dictator and a free press?

It's like Editor Grove Patterson said in his tribute to Benjamin Franklin:

"The only thing that will keep one man or a group of men from stealing a government and administering it in the interests of a privileged few is a free press."

There's the old adage, you recall—"Evil doers like darkness." They thrive on it.

Turn the searchlight of publicity on them, and their days are numbered.

As long as the press of America is unthrottled, America will be a democracy.

If the gag is ever applied—better watch out!
Keep your press free, and it will keep you free.

Liberty and an unshackled pen go hand in hand.
Long live the spirit that demands and insures freedom of the press.

—(Waxahachie Light).

CHARACTER THE FIRST AIM

Over the proscenium arch in the auditorium of a new high school is this motto: "Character Is the First Aim of Education."

Formerly we defined education in terms of accumulated knowledge and skills. More recently we have become aware of a missing link between education and character. Clever knaves and intelligent rascals are not assets to society. What youth learns from the educational process is not as important as what youth becomes as a result of education.—Lucius H. Bugbee.

HISTORY OF LIBERTY

"Liberty has never come from government. Liberty has always come from the subjects of it. The history of liberty is a history of resistance. The history of liberty is a history of limitations of government power, not the increase of it."—Woodrow Wilson.

Somewhere in the mind of every American citizen lurks this grim and disquieting question: "Will the United States enter the war?"

About every writer and speaker in the country has been attempting to satisfactorily answer that question for some time. You can find irresistibly logical arguments which make our entry into conflict seem inevitable, as death and taxes — and you can find equally logical arguments which attempt to prove we are in small danger of being drawn in. And, as the debate rages on, a good many Americans who make no pretense to being experts find themselves sinking deeper into confusion.

The standard polls still indicate that the American people are opposed to war, even as they favor aid to England with "all steps short of war". At the same time, the American people, going by the same polls, are convinced that if England falls we may be next on Hitler's list of victims.

The arguments that support the theory that we cannot long keep out of war are obvious enough. We have dropped all pretense of neutrality — we are simply non-belligerents, committed to the hilt on England's side.

We have damned the dictators in unequivocal terms. The leaders of both the political parties, the President and Mr. Willkie, are aggressively pro-British and anti-Nazi. And we are about to embark on a new policy which will give England and her allies our utmost moral and material support — a policy which Hitler, if he is seeking a fight with this country, could logically construe as a declaration of war in effect.

On the other side of the fence, the arguments have not been so well publicized. In a recent issue, the United States News summed up five principal reasons for believing that this country is not going to war.

First, says the News, the United States can aid Britain more by not fighting than by fighting. Britain, in other words, needs supplies, not men. If we entered the war it would be impossible to send much abroad, as our own under-supplied military establishments would need all our factories could produce.

Second, the U. S. can help her own defense more by staying out of the war. The arms we send England may be lost, but we will not lose men so long as we remain a non-belligerent. And we will find out if our arms and planes are adequate for modern war. England, in other words, will be the proving ground for the products of our factories.

Third, through the lend-lease policy, the U. S. can exert its major effort in the war. Actually taking up arms against the Axis would not permit us to do more.

Fourth, the fact that all-aid-for-England policy apparently has the support of a nation which is also committed to maintaining peace, is construed in Administration circles as proof of the fact that its plans and actions are sound.

Fifth, according to his intimates, the President really hates war, meant what he said during the campaign, and will do everything possible to prevent war. He believes that his policy offers the surest road to peace, and in this he is backed by large numbers of his political opponents.

All of this does not take into consideration the fact that the Axis might make war on us, thus plunging us into the conflict whether we want to fight or not. Military and political experts, for the most part, don't think that likely at this time. They point out that Hitler doesn't make a particular point of "saving face." As he has said himself, he will not be badgered into taking steps he believes dangerous. The experts argue that Hitler will not wage war against us until and unless it suits his time-table. And it is obvious that he has enough troubles on his hands now without asking for more.

Time, which heals all wounds and solves all arguments, will prove the soundness or weakness of these various contentions. In the meantime, there are many thoughtful observers who feel that we will be in war before the year ends — perhaps within six months. Joe Martin the Republican leader in the House, is said to feel that. All the people can do now is wait and see.

Removal of the "moral embargo" against shipment of airplanes to Russia was purely a diplomatic move. Russia is an air-tight dictatorship as Germany or Italy, and has played ball with Hitler. But the British and U. S. governments still hope that Russia may yet be weaned away from the Axis. Lifting the embargo was obviously designed to drive a wedge between Hitler and Stalin.

Fear has been expressed that Russia will buy planes here and send them to Germany. That fear is largely groundless, in that British and U. S. Army back orders will keep our factories busy indefinitely. They won't be able to take on new business.

Mr. and Mrs. Rolle Brumley of McCamey are here visiting with Mr. Brumley's parents, Mrs. and Mrs. Harry Brumley.

We wonder why Martha Ann Clark is being called Martha Claud? Could it be that they were seen at the show together? Betty Jo: Gee he's even better looking than the other one. Anita: Gosh, he must be a handsome guy; but gee Indiana is a long way off.

Father: "Come in, son. Who's with you?"
 Son: "I'm alone dad, sighed the boy; "My voice is changing."

First Boy: "Let's play college, what d'say?"
 Second boy: "All right, I'll get a pipe and you get daddy's check book."

Mr. Wilson: "Were you copying his paper?"
 Buford: "No, sir, I was only looking to see if he had mine right."

F. G.: "Going to have dinner anywhere tonight?"
 Inez: "No, not that I know of."

F. G. "Gee, you'll be awfully hungry by morning."

Porter: "Get me another glass of ice water."
 "Sorry, sub, but if I takes mo' ice, dat corpse in de baggage car ain't going to keep."

We were about to drive off when someone suggested that I look into the tank to see if I had enough gas. It was pretty dark, so I lit a match and leaned over the tank. I brought the match directly over the tank to enable me to see if there was any gas left. I saw that there was plenty. So I got in the car and drove off.

SPORT

At a basketball and pie supper combination in Goodnight, the Lella Lake girls were victorious over Goodnight girls with a score of 20 to 14.

Lella Lake held the lead thru out of the game. After the half, all of the Lella Lake seniors played together for one quarter. The game was played very quietly. Good sportsmanship was shown throughout the game by both teams.

The Lella Bluebirds went to Goodnight Friday night to play their last game of the season. The score at the end of the game was 22-17 with Goodnight in the lead.

At the first of the game, the Bluebirds scored three fast goals, but as the game progressed, it seemed they were losing interest because they allowed their opponents to gain a 13-12 lead at the half. One time during the last half, the Bluebirds gained the lead, but they did not hold it long. It seemed every time that the Goodnight team made a goal the Bluebirds would become just a little more un-interested, until the final whistle stopped the monotonous playing.

EDITORIAL

On February 22 many people will remember George Washington the General, the Father of our Country, and the president; but few will remember George Washington the man. He was a great soldier, equally as great a statesman, greater as a leader, of men, but most of all, he was a great man. He who fails to see the humanity of Washington falls utterly to grasp the meaning of his life. The rules by which he governed his life were simple. They are as applicable to our lives as they were to his.

1926 BOOK CLUB HOST TO ANNUAL DINNER PARTY

Tuesday evening, February 18, the 1926 Book Club members with their husbands and numerous guests met in the Women's Club Room for their annual dinner party given each year to entertain husbands and friends.

After the sumptuous three-course turkey dinner, served in the patriotically decorated room, Billie Ralph Andis opened the program with a Dr. I. Q. quiz game, followed by a Bingo session. After the enjoyable program, the rest of the evening was delightfully spent in games of forty-two at the conclusion of which, high score for men went to Chas. Lowry, high score for women went to Laura Penick and chair prize was awarded to M. R. Allensworth.

Approximately fifty members and guests attended the affair of which Virginia Bryan, Thelma Bennett, Edith Ballew, Jewell Grady, Lella Mae Smithy and Clotiel Ray were hostesses.

MRS. HOWZE IS HOSTESS TO GARDEN CLUB MONDAY

The Garden Club met Monday, February 17, with Mrs. J. H. Howze as hostess.

Mrs. May Prewitt as leader of the program discussed "Colonial Gardens" and Mrs. George Ryan gave a description of Mount Vernon Gardens as seen when she visited there. She supplemented her description with some lovely pictures of the gardens and grounds. "The Outstanding Beauty of the Tulip Tree" was visualized in a fascinating manner by Mrs. John Goldston.

At the conclusion of the program, the club members and guests were invited into the dining room for refreshments. The patriotic color scheme was effectively carried out with red carnations and candles forming the center piece. The Valentine motif was carried out in the decorations with "Dan Cupid" shooting arrows from the nut cups and the program written on red hearts. A sumptuous meal was served from attractively arranged card tables to thirty-seven guests.

The members of the B. Y. P. U. wish to take this opportunity to thank the ladies of the Church for their splendid cooperation in making the banquet a success.

Prehistoric Movie To Be Shown Here

Various forms of animated dinosaurs. These huge creatures lived more than 200,000,000 years ago and became extinct about 60,000,000 years ago. So life-like is this animation that the animals appear, on the screen, to be twenty to thirty feet high, forty to sixty feet long, and thrilling battles ensue when rival species meet and fight unto death. Proof that these animals did live and exist is found in the many pictures of the workmen in the Texas Panhandle excavating the bones.

The West Texas State College, in collaboration with the Government and the Smithsonian Institution, have crews of skilled workmen excavating the huge fossil remains. These are transported to the laboratories, cleaned and assembled, and sent to the Smithsonian Institution.

These and hundreds of other interesting scenes will be shown at College auditorium, Thursday, Feb. 27 at 7:30 p. m. as a benefit for the High School Annual.

THE WOMACK FUNERAL HOMES To Have Others Advance Standards

The Womack Funeral Homes have retained the old-fashioned business virtues of Honesty and have added the good qualities of this age - - - That is Progressiveness, Efficiency and Alertness to new ideas. The result has been an institution that you can trust to serve you with considerations and complete satisfaction. This institution has been accorded the overwhelmingly preference in Donley County the past fiscal year. Ask your neighbors? And they will tell you why.

Within Your Means!

While the equipment of the Womack Funeral Homes is of the most complete and finest in this locality, the prices have been most reasonable (ask those that have been served). Due to the extra large volume of business maintained by the Womack Funeral Homes, it is beyond a reasonable doubt that this institution is in a position to bring finer funeral facilities at a more reasonable price to the territory in which it serves.

WHY BE WRONG?

Many untrue stories about the Womack Institutions are told by soberless and malicious or misinformed people. Possibly no other institution is so little understood. You no doubt have questions that you would like to ask. Why not come to us for the right answers. Many will suffer by not first securing a Womack Policy before they increase in age and require a higher assessment rate.

Does Your Burial Policy Itemize A Complete Service?

$150.00 FUNERAL POLICY: To furnish Steel Grey Silver Embossed Mole Skin Hinge Cap Casket, with interior of beautiful Crepe with Two-Tone handles of Beautiful Appearance and Quality. To furnish LADY'S DRESS OR SHROUD with all UNDERGARMENTS and HOSE, or MAN'S SUIT with all UNDERGARMENTS and HOSE. To perform Professional Embalming Service to said Policyholder, and perform Plastic Surgery when necessary. To furnish one Cherished Memories Book in Leather Binding and to further furnish Pulpit Register Stand for carrying on of said Cherished Memories Book. To furnish Acknowledgment Cards beautifully designed and of the very finest quality materials. To furnish Printed Funeral Notices of said funeral notifying friends and acquaintances. To furnish our new Modernistic Chapel Tent and additional cemetery equipment, composed of Lowering Device, Green Grass, Chairs, Automatic Grave Mound, and one Chromium White Metal Grave Marker with Raised Bronze Finished Letters; also a strong outside wooden case for the burial of said casket. As well as lining the grave. We use New Modernistic Funeral Flags to insure right-of-way with our procession. AND ANY OTHER SERVICES THAT MAY BE DEEMED NECESSARY BY THE BENEFICIARY IN CARRYING OUT THE DESIRED WISHES OF THE DECEASED, so long as it does not call for a more expensive casket.

WHY?

Why has this Donley County Institution grown to be the Largest in the Panhandle? There must be a reason.

Why was the Womack Burial Association the First Burial Association to bring a complete funeral service policy?

Why have the sick and suffering been denied the privileges of Ambulance service on the scale as offered by The Womack Institution?

Why was the Womack Institution the First to introduce the playing of Chimes, Vibra Harp, Organ and Quartet music at the graveside services?

Why has the Womack Funeral Home served more Donley County families than any other institution during the First Complete Fiscal Year of business?

Others Will Have to Advance Their Standards.

WHY HAVE SO MANY CLARENDON CITIZENS DEMANDED THE WOMACK SERVICE?

To render a Greater Service, a New Modern up-to-date Funeral Home will be opened in Clarendon to Better serve their many friends and Policyholders.

DR. E. F. HAMM SUCCUMBS TO HEART ATTACK

Clarendon lost its second physician in recent weeks when Dr. E. F. Hamm succumbed to a heart attack at his home here last Saturday morning about 11 o'clock. He was 65 years old and a prominent Clarendon physician and surgeon.

Dr. Hamm has made his home here, with his daughter, Ruth for the past two years, and had previously practiced in this city from 1910 to 1920. Before returning to Clarendon he practiced in Mexia. He had been associated with Dr. B. L. Jenkins who attended him at the time of his death.

Dr. Hamm had attended L. H. Mullens the night before, and didn't become ill until several hours before his death. Dr. Jenkins had already arranged for his removal to the hospital and at 11 o'clock when the ambulance drove up Dr. Hamm died before the attendants reached the door.

Funeral services were held at the home Sunday morning with the Rev. J. O. Quattlebaum, Jr., officiating.

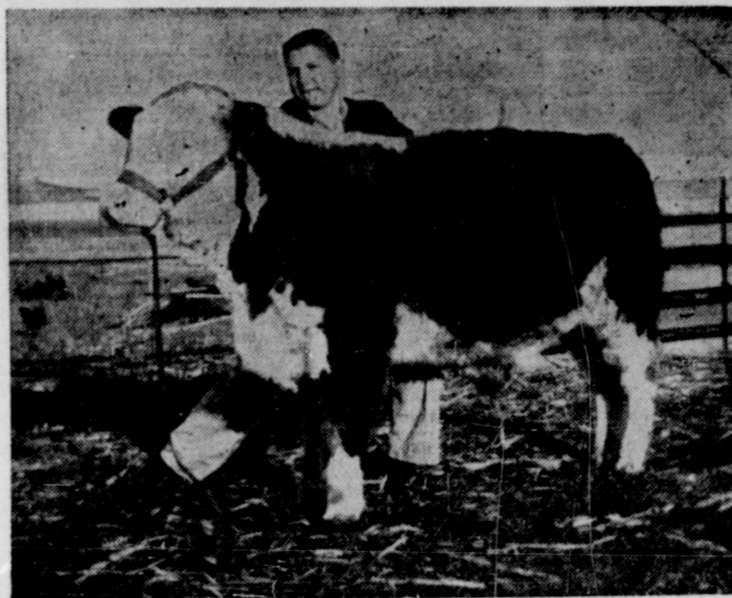

The body was taken to Mexia where he was buried Tuesday beside his wife.

Survivors beside his daughter here are two sons and daughter of Houston, Bob, Ed., and Mary, and one married daughter, Margaret, of Indiana.

The Buntin Funeral Home had charge of the arrangements.

Clarendon lost its first doctor early in December when Dr. Mark Stricklin met his death in a highway accident.

Clarendon And West Texas-CENTER OF The American Cattle Industry And Ready To Feed The Nation!

GOOD food is as important as good guns. Food for the Army is the backbone of Uncle Sam's fighting forces.

And, IF this nation becomes involved in Europe's war, it is quite probable that a West Texas beefsteak will have much to do with the outcome.

It's a tribute to West Texas' FFA, 4-H Clubs, and livestock producers that this region is prepared NOW to meet the national emergency IF and WHEN it comes. Beef is on hand, not on order.

It's an additional tribute to these producers that the quality of West Texas beef has been vastly improved in recent years to retain leadership in the world market. Both in quality and in quantity West Texas stockmen are setting the pace and now are in a position to be of tremendous service to this county.

The cattle industry means much to Clarendon and all West Texas.

It brings millions of dollars into circulation each year, a part of which every single home in one way or another.

These are some of the reasons why Your Electric Servant gladly joins in making possible a special edition devoted to the interests of the FFA, the 4-H Clubs, and the cattlemen in general. We believe they are the "the salt of the earth", an important factor in the development of West Texas, and an absolutely necessary link in the national defense program.

YOUR ELECTRIC SERVANT IS PREPARED NOW TO FILL THE WARTIME NEEDS OF THE COUNTRY AND THE PEOPLE IT SERVES WITHOUT GOVERNMENT SUBSIDIES THROUGH EXPENDITURE OF TAX FUNDS. THE ELECTRIC INDUSTRY IS AMONG THE NATION'S BIGGEST TAXPAYERS—AND CONTRIBUTES OVER $400,000,000 EACH YEAR TO SUPPORT OUR LOCAL, STATE, AND FEDERAL GOVERNMENTS.

Perhaps a future Kentucky Derby winner is included among the frisky colts shown in the lower photo; Texas-bred, they are owned by Judge Alfred McKnight

HEREFORD SHOW HEADS FAIR'S LIVESTOCK

DALLAS — For the third consecutive year, the National Hereford Show will feature the growing Livestock Exhibit of The State Fair of Texas, it has been announced here by Frank P. Holland, director in charge of livestock. Premiums have been increased for this breed of cattle and the record breaking sum of $39,000 will be offered the largest amount of premium monies ever offered by a fair for one livestock classification.

This will also be the first time that the National Hereford Show has been held in the same city for three consecutive years.

The increase in premiums and distribution of the awards will bring many additional animals to the 1941 Livestock Show. John Henry Dean, superintendent of the National Hereford Show has said. Mr. Dean said that more than 800 animals were shown in 1940, and that early indications pointed to more than 1,000 prize herefords in the 1941 show.

Harry L. Seay, President of the State Fair of Texas, and Roy Rupard, Secretary, are now at work on plans to enlarge practically every department of the Livestock Show, and the prediction is that the 1941 Livestock Show will be one of the largest shows of its kind ever held in America.

COUNCIL OF CHURCHES URGES RETURN OF PROHIBITION

The Federal Council of Churches, comprising twenty-four Protestant denominations and some 25,000,000 members, which held its annual fall meeting at Atlanta City, N. J., during the week of December 1940, urged all church organizations to unite in promoting an educational campaign to fight for a return of national prohibition.

A resolution suggested that the campaign should be planned so as to set forth the moral problems involved, more particularly those relating to our churches, our schools, and safety on our highways, and in fact "the entire social order."

The second resolution adopted expressed grave concern over the possible "exploitation by liquor interests and commercial vice" of men from military camps.

Another resolution proposed that Congress establish a commission on "peacetime reemployment." The Rev. Jesse M. Bader, of New York, secretary of the council department of evangelism, suggested in a speech

H. J. EDINGTON SENDS LETTER OF INTEREST

A most interesting letter was received by the News this past week from H. J. Edington of Clarendon who is visiting in San Gabriel, California.

Mr. Edington writes the following:

"Sam'l Braswell Jan. 22 Clarendon, Texas.

Dear Sir and Friends: "I have felt that I should drop a few lines to the News. I receive it each week and I look forward to the next issue.

"Homer Mulkey had to answer the call and you lost a friend. I lost a friend, the crippled children lost a friend, in fact everyone that was acquainted with Homer lost a friend.

"I have been here a month now and have had such a fine time.

"We took in the Rose Tournament and it is worth while to see, and I estimated that 1,000,000 saw the parade. The floats were so fine and so much work had been done on them. The one of Lincoln was the best. There was applause when it passed and some hats removed. Every city in this part of California had a float and a band. A great many were mounted. Seats were erected from the curb to the buildings and a seat on these was $2.00.

"This is the 52nd year of the Rose Parade and it is larger each year. The line of march was five miles long and the floats were lined up in a part so that for two days thousands went to see them.

I have visited with an old chum that I had not seen for years. We were born in New Lexington, Ohio, and went to Nebraska and took homesteads in 1887. We both married in Nebraska but he returned to Ohio. After several years I moved to Colorado and then to Texas.

We got together in Los Angeles and visited another one from New Lexington. I also visited several friends from Colorado.

January 31st "I have had the flu so did not finish the letter. I was quite sick for four or five days and am pretty nervous today. O feel fine now, have had a fine visit and have been over a lot of this country around Los Angeles. The Colorado picnic is Feb. 9 and I expect to take that in. I have felt one earthquake shock—not a heavy one. Traffic is so heavy that it is dangerous and some are injured or killed every day. This part of California is level or rolling. Towns have sprung up everywhere. Los Angeles is the largest and growing fast. These towns all had different ideas about width of streets and size of blocks and direction of streets. Years ago Los Angeles felt the need of a harbor so took in a strip of land 15 or 20 miles long and part of the way one-half mile wide to San Pedro. This was the best harbor between San Francisco and San Diego. They bonded and built this, that was before U. S. took the job of building harbors. The Federal government has now improved the harbors at Long Beach, Wilmington and other points.

A. & M. INSTRUCTOR PUBLISHES BOOK

COLLEGE STATION — Chris Groneman, instructor in the department of industrial education at Texas A & M College, is the most recent member of the college teaching staff to publish a text book.

His work, "General Bookbinding," just off the press, is profusely illustrated to show the various steps in bookbinding.

"In Los Angeles they have issued bonds for everything and taxes are terribly high. Los Angeles is the big shopping center and they have widened the streets and tried to straighten them.

"Some of the smaller towns are Spanish and have been handed down from one generation to another for 178 years and they don't care for wide or straight streets. I have been to see the Mission that was built years ago.

"There are a lot of government contracts here and thousands have come here to work in the factories, but if they are not good mechanics they can't get work.

"Some of the old timers tell me they would like to be back where they have spring, summer, fall and winter. This climate is fine — but it gets old when it is the same all the time."

Safety Lanes To Be Discontinued, Garrison Says

AUSTIN — Operation of the safety lane, one of the most popular safety features of the Highway Patrol, will be discontinued after Feb. 21, it was announced today by Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., State Police director.

"The enormous volume of traffic accompanying defense projects has caused a depletion of Highway Patrol manpower to such an extent that the safety lane must be discontinued at least temporarily," Colonel Garrison said. Garrison said two of the safety lane personnel will be stationed in Houston, two in Corpus Christi, and one in Abilene. The new assignments will become effective Feb. 21 when a current vehicle inspection campaign is completed in Corpus Christi, and several pending requests for other cities will be cancelled.

More than 1,500,000 drivers have taken their vehicles through the safety lane since it was started in 1937. And in that time the percentage of collisions traceable to mechanical failure has dropped from approximately 16 to four per cent.

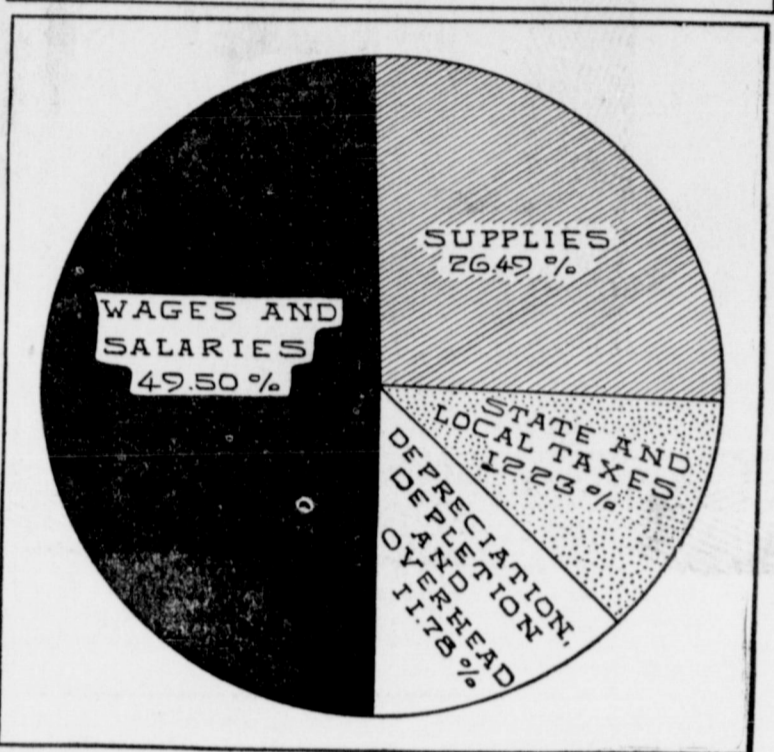

The safety lane, conducted by Highway Patrolmen in conjunction with local officers, has tested brakes, lights, horns, mufflers, steering, and windshield wipers in more than 100 Texas towns and cities. Originally there were two safety lanes, but one was discontinued under the reduced appropriation effective Sept. 1, 1939. "This was a difficult choice to make," Garrison said, "but the demand for additional traffic control around defense projects can not go unanswered."

186,817 MATTRESSES COMPLETED UNDER PROGRAM

COLLEGE STATION — Mattresses completed on February 1 under the 1940 and 1941 cotton mattress demonstration program in Texas totaled 186,817, according to reports compiled in the office of Mildred Horton, vice director and state home demonstration agent of the Texas Extension Service. Applications for 1940 totaled 191,999; 1941 applications are still being filed and no report on the aggregate number is available from county home demonstration agents.

DALLAS — Texas workers receive half of the money spent in the production of Texas Oil, according to a booklet just issued by the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association. The booklet, entitled "Important Facts About Texas Oil," is now being distributed by the association from its headquarters in the Continental Building here.

Wages and salaries to Texas oil production workers amount to 49 1/2 per cent of the net cost of producing the average barrel of oil in Texas, the booklet shows. One-eighth of the net cost dollar goes to Texas tax collectors for state and local taxes. Supplies cost about 26 1/2 per cent, while depreciation, depletion, overhead and Federal taxes make up the remaining 11 per cent.

To this net cost must be added an extra one-eighth of the price of the oil which is paid as royalty to the Texas farmer or rancher who owns the land on which the oil is produced.

Texas petroleum workers and Texas farmers together receive $400,000,000 a year in wages and salaries and lease and royalty payments from the Texas petroleum industry, the book shows. Of this huge sum, the workers get $273,000,000 annually and the farmers and other land-owners $128,999,999. The $400,000,000 paid the two groups of Texans in four-fifths of the total value of all crude oil produced in Texas. Texas tax collectors get from the petroleum industry an additional $75,000,000 a year.

These huge sums are spent and re-spent in Texas to benefit every Texan, the book points out. "Fortunately for Texas and its people," it states, "the development of this great natural resource has not only revealed the existence of underground supplies of oil and gas to last for many years, but also has created a permanent home industry which directly provides living for one-sixth of the State's population. Directly or indirectly, practically everyone living in Texas today shares in the distribution and redistribution of money created by this one industry. Every Texan has a stake in the future of this business."

COUNTY OFFICIALS STRESS FARM-TO-MARKET ROADS FOR DEFENSE

Most of the story was written in Sun Valley, Idaho, where Hemingway loves to go to hunt. He was married on Nov. 21st at Cheyenne, Wyoming, to Martha Gellhorn, whom he met behind the lines of the Loyalist Army during the Spanish Civil War. She is a foreign correspondent for Collier's and is his third wife. He is 41 years old, weighs 210 pounds, is a good boxer, an excellent shot, and recognized as one of the greatest living writers. He sometimes re-writes paragraphs 60 or 70 times — and from this comes unusual perfection.

One of the new books as you see is by the popular humorous writer, Clarence Buddington Kelland. He says "his youth was better and hard — made so by cruel parents — who refused to allow him to attend the public school barefooted." He says that more by stealth than by labor he succeeded in passing through grammar school and part of high school, but then he was "detected" — so he took up the study of law. There he says he was never "detected" — so far as he knew no one but his parents ever discovered the fact. So after a year he became a reporter — and then a magazine editor.

Mr. Kelland's magazine articles are well known and he is president of the Dutch Treat Club. Besides this new book, "Dreamland," which is uproariously funny, we have his "The Steadfast Heart," "Dynasty," "Sudden Jim," "Rhoda Fair," and "Conflict."

"Keeping Mentally Fit" by Joseph Jastrow is another of our new books — and it is described as "everyman's guide to sound psychological theory to an understandable basis." For more than thirty years Dr. Jastrow was Professor of Psychology in the University of Wisconsin, has been president of the American Psychological Association, and has written many books on psychology. So we feel that this volume will be worthwhile to our readers.

Ellen Glasgow, was recently awarded the Howell's Medal for Fiction, presented every fifth year by the American Academy of Arts and Letters. She has a new novel to be published in March by Harcourt, Brace, called "In This Our Life." It is said to be a novel of modern times ending a few days before the outbreak of the war in Europe with a tidewater city of Virginia as the scene. Several of Ellen Glasgow's books are on our shelves.

Anne Pence Davis, a Texas author, was honored for her "distinguished contribution to Southern Letters during 1940 at the Southern Authors Luncheon recently in New York. It was the occasion of the tenth annual luncheon sponsored by the Southern Women's National Democratic Organization in New York of which Clara Driscoll Sevier is a vice president at large.

Somerset Maugham will bring out a new novel in the spring which he calls "Up at the Villa." We have his "Of Human Bondage," and "Christmas Holiday."

The Clare Tree Major Children's Theatre company of New York is to be in Amarillo again soon, playing "Hans Brinker or the Silver Skates," the well-known story by Marj Mapes Dodge. If all our children have not read it, then they should. A comment on this production said that most dramatists for children neglect the opportunity to incorporate vital facts on manners and human relationships which he introduced without any sacrifice of the dramatic interest or any loss to the story. But Mrs. Major always takes these factors into account, therefore her presentations are always character building. "Chad Hanna" by Walter D. Edmunds, author of "Drums Along the Mohawk," has been filmed. It is a story of New York State when the 19th Century was young.

A committee of educators headed by Dean Helena B. Watts of Webber College, Mrs. Roger W. Babson's financial school for women at Babson Park, Florida, named the ten outstanding women of America for 1940 as follows:

Words cannot express the sentiments that are conveyed by a glowing bouquet of flowers. Whatever the occasion be, contact our local representative and immediate service will be given you by the Panhandle's leading florist. Cunningham Floral Co. Amarillo Represented by Douglas-Goldston Drug Company.

Mildred H. McAfee, president of Wellesley College, sociologist; Helen Hayes, actress; Clare Booth, playwright and author; Marion Janet Harrean, member United States Board of tax appeals; Marian Anderson, singer; Anne Lindbergh, flier and writer; Helen Flanders Dunbar, physician, psychiatrist, member of Columbia University faculty; Deanna Durbin, motion picture star; Alice Marble business woman and tennis star; Carson McCullens, author. It was interesting to see how many authors were in the list.

TEXAS FARMERS' COOPERATIVES INCREASE

COLLEGE STATION — Charting of 75 new cooperatives in 1940, increased the number of farmers who are members of some type of cooperative to about one third of the total engaged in agriculture in Texas, says C. E. Bowles, extension cooperative marketing specialist.

Reviewing the year's developments, Bowles says the total of farmers' cooperatives business organizations now number about 840. Of those chartered within the year, 41 were set up to gin cotton, nine were associations to prepare and market fruits and vegetables; six were rural electric cooperatives, and the remainder were for processing and marketing various farm produce and for buying farm supplies. One half of the 22 cooperative refrigerator food lockers were put into service in 1940.

The specialist says the volume of business handled through the cooperative organizations totals several million dollars yearly. The saving to Texas cotton growers through ginning their own cotton in 1940 is estimated at $2,000,000.

Farmers' cooperatives, despite some opinion to the contrary, are among the most successful businesses in the country. "Some do fail," Bowles concedes, "but their record in this respect is far better than that of business in general."

"Farmers set up their cooperatives to help themselves to better returns for their crops and to bring within the reach of their families some of the comforts of life," he adds. "Cooperatives apply democratic principles to business and seek to narrow the spread between themselves and their customers who consume the products of the farm."

65 PER CENT TEXAS WHEAT NOW UNDER C. C. C. LOAN

COLLEGE STATION — Texas wheat producers placed 65 per cent of the wheat they produced in 1940 under the government loan, receiving an average of slightly more than 64 cents a bushel with protein premiums taken into account.

Of the 29,355,000 bushels of wheat produced in the state last year, 19,039,000 were placed under the Commodity Credit Corporation loan, Charlie L. Thomas, state AAA committeeman and Pampa wheat grower, announced. The total amount loaned in the state was $13,955,523.

Ochiltree county led the state in number of farm-storage loans and the total number of bushels placed under the loan, the committeeman said, with 145 farm-storage loans on 398,981 bushels. Addition of 1,689,129 bushels of warehouse-stored wheat brought the total to 2,088,110 bushels for which the growers received loans totaling $1,556,570.

Hale county was first in the number of warehouse loans, making 1,478 loans on 1,017,159 bushels.

The final report on the loan in the state follows: 727 farm-storage loans on 1,593,216 bushels; 19,021 warehouse loans on 17,446,299 bushels; total, 19,748 loans on 19,039,515 bu.

Why Must They Starve?

A National Committee Has Been Formed for Food Relief in Stricken Nations

A National Committee of 400 leading Americans with former President Herbert Hoover as Honorary Chairman, has been formed to find a way to feed millions of starving people in the invaded countries. Already 1020 auxiliary committees in various cities throughout the country have organized to support the movement.

Of the 37,000,000 people in Finland, Belgium, Holland, Norway and Central Poland, great numbers are facing death from starvation and disease. America could put an end to this.

The Committee states that no money, supplies or ships, are requested, and that its purpose is to bring the facts before the public and invite an expression of opinion concerning the plan.

1. Will there be actual starvation in Europe this winter?

Yes. Under normal conditions Belgium imports 49 per cent of its food, Holland 33 per cent, and Norway 57 per cent. These imports are now cut off by British and German blockades. Central Poland is from 30 to 40 per cent deficient because of the tri-partition of Poland. Finland, not occupied but partially blockaded, normally imports 22 per cent of her foods; she has also lost one-tenth of her best soil. In all countries unusually severe weather destroyed much of the grain crops; military mobilization prevented planting and harvesting, invasion destroyed storage and equipment, and disrupted transportation. Unless food is imported many thousands will starve, and many more will die from disease, before the next harvest. These people need protection of native food from seizure by occupying armies as well as protection for imported foods.

2. Can this famine be prevented without helping Germany?

Yes. The Hoover plan, which operated effectively in the last war, provides for absolute control of native and imported food by a Neutral Commission, assisted by a great number of volunteer patriotic nationals. Supplies will go directly to the hungry people for whom they are intended—and to no one else.

3. Does this plan aid the Allies?

Yes. Feeding these democratic peoples will maintain their courage, sustain allegiance to ideals, rebuild morale, increase England's prestige as a humanitarian nation and salvage native supplies from absorption.

4. Will Germany profit if it breaks the agreement?

No. The plan provides for only 120,000 to 140,000 tons of imported food to be on hand at one time. The Germans use ten times that much each month. If Germany committed the maximum violation and seized the entire supply, this would furnish them food for only three days, and relief would end.

5. Will Germany feed these nations?

No. Every country at war measures its supplies, military and food, by the necessities of war. Since Germany does not know how long the present war will last, it is not likely to feed these countries at the risk of depleting supplies needed for the German army and people.

6. Will feeding workmen in these countries strengthen Germany?

No. Workmen whose labor is useful to the Central economy of Germany will be fed by the Germans—many of them in Germany itself as deportees. But their women and children will be left unprotected for. A new Europe cannot be built from physical and mental wreckage.

7. Will starving people revolt against Germany?

No. Military resistance is impossible when disarmament of a nation is complete. A single tank can easily subdue an entire area. It is barbarous to even suggest that naked-handed women and children could join in fighting against modern weapons.

8. Would Germany keep the agreement?

Yes. The whole plan is predicated upon the fact that relief will terminate if there are violations by Germany. Pestilence, already appearing in the occupied areas, respects no boundaries. It would sweep all countries—Germany as well as the rest. Germany knows this, and would keep the agreement if for no other reason than its own self-interest. Agreements made by the present German Government since the outbreak of the war in September, 1939, permitting relief in Poland and other occupied areas, have been scrupulously kept.

9. Will importation of food weaken the British blockade?

No. Under this proposal Britain would pass food ships through the blockade—one by one. All food would be turned over to the Neutral Commission for checking and distribution. If Britain discovered that food was being misappropriated by Germany, or any one else, imports would cease.

10. Will increasing the general food supply in Europe release German products for making munitions?

No. Under the Hoover proposal for complete control of domestic and imported supplies, and the return of the equivalent of basic foods already taken, less rather than more products would be available to Germany. When food arrives at ports of the five countries it will be received, cared for, and distributed directly to those in need by a neutral organization, made up of Americans and citizens from other countries which are not at war.

11. Did the British support feeding in occupied Belgium during the last war?

Yes. At first Britain was opposed, but after public opinion became positive the British Government consented—with misgivings. When, however, the Belgian Relief Commission, under Mr. Hoover, functioned so efficiently and fairly, responsible British leaders expressed unqualified satisfaction. After searching investigation had proved that no supplies were diverted to Germany they described relief operations as a miracle of organization. Eventually they contributed more than $100,000,000 to the project.

12. Will this plan deprive Americans of food, or involve us in war?

No. The people we relieve will pay for their own food. We ask no donations or government appropriations. If there should be no surplus of food in the United States, necessary supplies will be purchased in South America. Nor is America asked to send its ships into war zones. The neutral organization, as previously was the case, will operate its own ships under its own flag. Rigorous censorship in these small countries prevents the people from pleading their own cause. But faith in humanity and democratic ideals can be restored—to bear fruit in a better day—if the free people of America speak in their behalf.

You are invited to write to the Committee, and to request your friends to do the same in order that public opinion may find full expression. Communications may be sent to National Committee on Food for the Small Democracies, 420 Lexington Avenue, New York, N. Y.

KEN MAYNARD TO RIDE IN RODEO AT FT. WORTH

FORT WORTH — "Ken Maynard rides again" — Those words have been emblazoned on the front of movie houses all over the country for 19 years.

Ken Maynard will ride again in 1941 when he makes a personal appearance at the world-famed rodeo in Fort Worth during the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show, March 7-16. Announcement from John B. Davis, secretary manager of the show, of Maynard's coming will revive fond memories held by two generations of American boys.

Those teen-age boys of 1922 will remember their hard riding, straight shooting screen idol who has played in so many western thrillers that he doesn't know the exact number — possibly 250.

Those boys grown-up will have the opportunity to see Maynard in some more straight shooting and trick roping. He will ride in the grand entry of the rodeo on his famous horse, "Tarzan", a palomino, and will do the big-horse catch in roping seven racing horses with one lasso. With a 44-40 caliber gun he will bring back memories of the Wild West shows where he learned the art of trick roping. He got into the rodeos as an active contestant and took part in the 1921 rodeo at Fort Worth before he entered the movies. This year he will be back in his favorite sport, the rodeo. Boys of the past 19 years who used to sit through three showings of his western pictures will have seats in the Fort Worth coliseum because "Ken Maynard rides again."

CENIZO IS NOT PURPLE SAGE

Cenizo, a south Texas native shrub, is not a member of the sage family although sometimes it has been erroneously called purple sage.

Sadie Hatfield, Extension Service specialist in landscape gardening at Texas A. & M. College says it has no sage-like odor, and its lavender blossoms more closely resemble snapdragons and pentstemon blooms than sage.

MASONRY DURING CIVIL WAR

The simple notation, "On this night Bro. Williams escaped from prison," on the records of Zerubbabel Lodge No. 15, Savannah, Ga., is all the written evidence that remains of a remarkable story of Masonic devotion between men of the North and South that took place during the Civil War. It concerns L. J. Williams, a member of Downsville N. Y. Lodge No. 464, who learned from first-hand experience of Masonic brotherhood.

Mr. Williams had received only the first two degrees when he enlisted with the Union forces at the beginning of the war. Early in the hostilities he was taken captive and confined in prison near Savannah. Later, he was allowed to communicate with friends in the North, and eventually word of his plight reached the ears of his home Lodge officials.

This Northern Lodge immediately requested Zerubbabel Lodge to confer the Master Mason Degree upon Mr. Williams. True to their Masonic obligations, these Southern Masons complied. Dressed in his worn Blue uniform, the enemy prisoner entered the lodge room and was made a Master Mason by the men in Gray. All the working stations were occupied by Confederate officers.

That night Mr. Williams escaped from prison. At least that is the official story. According to Mr. Williams, however, a group of men intercepted him as he was being returned to prison following the degree, put him in a boat and left him on neutral soil. He then made his way to the Union lines.

Mr. Williams never knew the names of the men who thus liberated him. The secret never was revealed by the Southern Masons. The only clue being that terse entry in the records of Zerubbabel Lodge.

Johnny Grady, who is attending school in WTSC in Canyon, visited friends and relatives here over the week-end.
