FOOD STAMP PLAN FOR DONLEY GETS GOVERNMENT OK

The last bit of preliminary federal red tape connected with establishment of a Surplus Commodities Food Stamp program in Donley County was cut away this week, as Cong. Gene Worley notified local interests that final government designation had been given to Donley County on the program.

Along with four other Panhandle counties, Donley County was assured participation in the program recently by a Federal Surplus Commodities representative in Childress, but the government stamp approval was necessary to start the ball rolling toward setting up the plan here. With approval granted, Cong. Worley reported that the program should be in full operation in the county within one month.

A. opening ceremony, the Greenhand initiation ceremony, a drill in parliamentary procedure, and the chapter closing ceremony as used in their chapter conducting contest.

COURT OF CIVIL APPEALS TO HEAR PHELPS LAND CASE

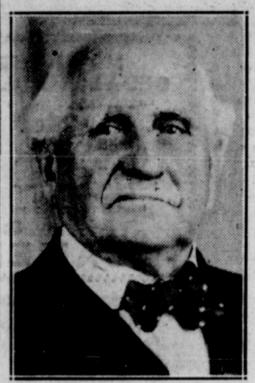

A long court fight seemed in the offing this week over the price which Donley County is to pay for a 17-acre tract of land involved in the coming local overpass project, when an appeal was filed from a county court verdict awarding Mrs. Jackie Phelps, owner of the tract, $2464.08 for alleged damages to her property through the construction of the overpass.

Taylor of this city, is the new society editor and office assistant of the Clarendon News. She replaces Miss June Power, who with her mother, Mrs. Gladys D. Power, moved to Memphis Monday of this week.

COLORFUL CAREER OF JUDGE FIRES CLOSED BY DEATH

Judge A. J. Fires, known as the "father of Childress," and one of the Panhandle's earliest leaders, died in Wichita Falls Sunday morning. He was 81 years old, and had been in retirement because of ill health since 1936.

JUDGE A. J. FIRES

Texas, arriving in the state in the summer of 1886. After drifting around for some time over Central and West Texas, Fires made his way to Vernon, where he heard that a new county was soon to be formed from what was then part of Donley County. He then went to Childress in an old covered wagon, arriving at the old city, a small assembly of sod huts, late in 1886.

During his lifetime, Judge Fires won an enviable reputation as the leading criminal lawyer of the Panhandle section. During his entire practice he defended 123 persons charged with murder, and only two of them were finally convicted and sent to prison. In the early days Judge Fires was associated in law practice with Temple Houston, son of Sam Houston, and the two presented one of the most colorful teams of lawyers in Texas.

COURT OF CIVIL APPEALS TO HEAR PHELPS LAND CASE

A long court fight seemed in the offing this week over the price which Donley County is to pay for a 17-acre tract of land involved in the coming local overpass project, when an appeal was filed from a county court verdict awarding Mrs. Jackie Phelps, owner of the tract, $2464.08 for alleged damages to her property through the construction of the overpass.

The tract concerned was the last stumbling block some weeks ago to the letting of a contract on the project, and the way was finally cleared by condemnation proceedings which were instituted. A jury of view verdict awarding $3786 damages was appealed to county court by the county, and this week the county court judgment was appealed from to the Court of Civil Appeals at Amarillo, where it will be heard at some future date.

Tom Coke Connally and wife of Amarillo were Easter guests in the Henry Williams home.

CLARENDON F. F. A. CHAPTER WINS MORE HONORS

Clarendon dominated the F. F. A. District Leadership Contests held here Saturday, winning sweepstakes honors with first place in senior chapter and second place in junior chapter conducting contests. Competing in the meet were 150 F. F. A. boys from Quitaque, Memphis, Estelline, Lakeview, Turkey and Clarendon.

Victory at Saturday's meet gave the local boys almost a clean sweep of district leadership competition, as they had previously won first in news writing and second in one-act demonstration contests at Quitaque in January, when the first half of the annual leadership contests were held.

Lee Christie, Ray Robertson, C. G. Kirkland, H. A. Harrison, Jr., J. F. White, Redell Hensoff, Charles Smith, Frank Mahaffey, and Donald Thigpen are members of the senior chapter conducting team which won Saturday. On May 3 this group will represent the Memphis District in Area 1 contests, to be held this year at Memphis. C. G. Kirkland will represent the district in the news writing event, and boys from Quitaque and Turkey will enter demonstration and public speaking contests.

BAGBY MAKES MOVIE OF CONNALLY'S THIRD OATH AS MAYOR

Following his plan of making a moving picture record of important historical events of Clarendon and community, George Bagby, local moving picture enthusiast, planned and "shot" a short reel picture of the third induction into the mayor's office of Tom F. Connally, Monday morning at the City Park.

CLARENDON F. F. A. CHAPTER WINS SWINE CONTEST

O. T. Ryan, Area Supervisor of Vocational Agriculture for the 53 Northwest Texas Counties in Area 1, has announced that the Clarendon Chapter won the area Swine Production Contest sponsored by the Texas Swine Breeders Association for 1940. The local chapter won this honor last year, then went on to win a prize of $100 given by the state association to the state's top-ranking chapter in Swine Production.

The Clarendon youths fed out 612 pigs and produced over 130,000 pounds of pork in 1940. Each member of the chapter owns one or more registered sows, and over half of them own registered Hampshire. Each youth provided a self-feeder for his pigs, and all but two chapter members provided a pasture for one or more swine projects.

The youths featured home grown grains in their feedings; they fed over 400,000 pounds of grain sorghums, and supplemented this feed with tankage, alfalfa, cottonseed meal, and minerals. Each youth exhibited one or more head in the spring or fall stock show, and each member mated his sows with the registered boars provided by the chapter.

DONLEY MAN ON FAIRS COMMITTEE FOR SWINE MEN

E. BALLEW REPRESENTS AREA ON SWINEBREEDERS FAIR PLANNERS

Elba Ballew, well-known Hampshire hog breeder of Donley County, was in Dallas and Fort Worth Friday of last week to attend a meeting of the Fairs Committee of the Texas Swinebreeders Association, with committees representing the State Fair at Dallas and the Fat Stock Show at Fort Worth. The meeting was relative to improved arrangements for placements and showings in the two big shows of Texas, both of which have had great enlargements of swine events in the past year or two.

Mr. Ballew was recently named as a member of the Fairs Committee of the Texas Swinebreeders, made up of breeders over Texas and ex-officio members including E. M. Regenbrecht of College Station; D. S. Buchanan of Buda; and Fred R. Cotten of Weatherford. C. L. Franz, Canyon, is the chairman of the committee, with E. S. Ballew, Clarendon; Mack Morgan, McKinney; H. L. Knust, Clifton; Ray Wilson, Dallas, as members.

This is a merited honor for Mr. Ballew and Donley County, proving just how the swinebreeders of this county rate in statewide circles.

RITE HELD FOR JAMES B. MILLER HERE MONDAY

He was a widower, Mrs. Miller having died many years ago.

Survivors include one son; John Stanley Miller, of Washington, D. C.; four sisters, Mrs. L. L. Gore of Canyon, Mrs. T. R. Moreman of Hedley, Mrs. Rannas Graves of Ryan, Oklahoma, and Mrs. Eula Cox of Clarendon; and two brothers, Houston Miller of Canadian and Marvin Miller, who resides in Missouri.

MACHINES HARNESSSED FOR CHARITY IN DONLEY WHILE BEING USED FOR DESTRUCTION ACROSS THE GLOBE

Hardly a week passes but some kindly deed by warm-hearted neighbors in Donley County brings a realization of the blessings of living in a land of good people and golden hearts. While science and its machines are harnessed for destruction in other parts of the globe, here in Donley they are harnessed and used in the extension of neighborly good cheer.

COMMISSIONERS COURT MEETS THIS WEEK

In regular session Monday, the Donley Commissioners Court considered several matters of importance in county affairs.

In a session lasting all Monday afternoon, and attended by members of the hospital operating board, the Court discussed the hospital problem at length, they passed unanimously a resolution offered by Commissioner Tollett and seconded by Commissioner Hall as an interim arrangement to take care of county patients while the injunction is pending.

Also considered by the Court were several routine matters affecting county management. On a motion by Commissioner Reeves, the body ordered the transfer of $5,000 out of the jury fund and $2,000 out of the permanent improvement fund into the county general fund. A motion by Commissioner Hermesmeier, to accept the bid of the Donley County State Bank to be depository of county funds during the fiscal year 1941-42, that bid being the best duly submitted, was unanimously passed. Another motion by Commissioner Hermesmeier, authorizing the issuance of warrants against Adair Road District No. 1 to take up outstanding bonds Nos. 10 and 11, due October 1, 1941 and October 1, 1942, respectively, and accrued interest, passed unanimously. Closing its session, the Court examined and approved monthly and quarterly reports of County Treasurer Margaret V. Thompson, and quarterly reports of County Clerk Helen Wiedman and Justice of the Peace, Weatherly.

HEAVY RAIN, SOME HAIL FALL ON NORTH COUNTY AREA

A thunderhead which moved across much of the Panhandle, including the north half of Donley County, brought rains of varying intensity and considerable hail to the area Tuesday afternoon.

The thunderhead missed Clarendon by a few miles, but laid heavy rainfall on farm and range lands north of the city to the north county line. No measurement of the rainfall was taken, but it was reported that enough water fell in a short time to raise the water level three feet in the Country Club lake. Other lakes and stock tanks benefited also by the shower. Some hail accompanied the thunderstorm, but there was no severe crop damage reported.

Rainfall during Saturday night, when a light thundershower passed over Clarendon and part of the county, was reported to have been about one-sixth of an inch.

CITY "CLEAN-UP" BEGINS HERE NEXT MONDAY

MAYOR INVITES CITIZENSHIP TO UNITE IN INTENSE CIVIC EFFORT

In line with other Texas cities and with an annual custom, Clarendon's 1941 "Clean-Up Week" begins Monday, April 21, and closes April 28.

Mayor Connally has asked the News to invite the citizenship to co-operate in one of the most intensive campaigns ever put on in Clarendon in the removal of all waste, rubbish and trash, and a general cleaning up of all premises. City wagons will be furnished to haul off, free of charge, all rubbish collected and piled in the alleys by Monday, April 28. No hauling will be done until the 28th.

Let's make Clarendon the cleanest and most sanitary city in the "Southwest", urged the Mayor.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Smith of Los Angeles, California, are visiting this week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Weatherly. Mrs. Smith will be remembered as the former Winnie Weatherly, Kenneth Weatherly, a grandson of Mr. Weatherly also of Los Angeles, will be here this week.

SCHOOL FACULTY RE-ELECTED

Members of the faculty of Clarendon city schools and Clarendon Junior College for the current year will be given contracts for the school year 1941-1942, school board members decided Monday night, in the first board session since the April 5 election of board members.

Since the meeting was the first since election, canvassing of election returns was in line of business, as was reorganization of the board. The latter business was taken care of just as the teacher appointments, with the status quo being maintained. O. C. Watson will serve another year as board president, with Allen J. Bryan as secretary. Other board members are Odos Caraway, C. J. Douglas, Van Kennedy, J. R. Porter, and E. R. Andis.

SELECTING A SENATOR A SERIOUS JOB

As pointed out by Clarence Ousley in a most timely article appearing in Wednesday's Star-Telegram, the job of selecting a senator, successor to the lamented Sheppard, is one of unusually serious import for Texas voters.

Texas has been represented in the upper house at Washington by such high grade ability and patriotism since the Lone Star State entered the union, that it behooves every citizen to consider well his vote in the approaching special election to fill the vacancy in the senate.

There are others, but the outstanding candidates for the coveted post are Governor O'Daniel, Attorney-General Gerald C. Mann, and Congressman Martin Dies, and one of this trio will fill the gap left by the untimely death of Morris Sheppard.

As the News sees it, Governor O'Daniel has the best chance of election, with Gerald Mann and Martin Dies not far apart, but sadly behind in popular favor.

Texas is due to witness a lurid campaign to enliven the next three months, and every voter should plan now to do his best in providing a representative in the senate that will carry on the high traditions of Houston, Mills, Bailey, Culberson, and Sheppard.

EARLY HONOR FOR SHEPPARD

An early recognition and honor for the services of the lamented Senator Sheppard of Texas, came this week in the announcement of the war department that the new army air field at Wichita Falls is named "Camp Sheppard".

It is pleasing to all Texans that this honor should go to our departed public servant at such an early date, and we take it there will be general approval the nation over, for the senior senator from Texas stood high in the regard of thoughtful citizenship, North and South, East and West.

MOST BEAUTIFUL SPRING IN MEMORY

With the outlook dark the world over, here in the Panhandle and the Southwest, we are witnessing the most beautiful Spring in the memory of most of our citizenship.

We ought to feel extra grateful for the privileges we enjoy and our patriotism should swell up to a new high level under the influence of sunshine, luxuriant verdure, galaxy of flowers, and abundant carpeting of grass.

What a Spring!

POLITICS IN THE DRIVER'S SEAT

Economic Highlights

Happenings That Affected the Dinner Pails, Dividend Checks and Tax Bills of Every Individual. National and International Problems Inseparable From Local Welfare.

It has become obvious to all you have plenty of time—you must often take the most expensive way when the days are flying by and a deadline for delivery is at hand. The cost of most raw materials is on the rise. Long ago, top government officials said that no one is going to get rich out of this war. That will be pretty largely true. Through taxation, the government can control and limit income just about as it pleases.

A number of thoughtful friends of labor are of the opinion that the strikes are, in a sense, suicidal—that they may alienate public good will to the extent that the immense gains made by labor during the past eight years may be lost. Every poll indicates that the public is "fed up" with what it regards as labor racketeering. They indicate an overwhelming majority of citizens favor some sort of forced mediation by government that will prevent strikes. As Raymond Clapper, a columnist who certainly has never been anti-labor, recently wrote, "Don't think that thousands of families, into whose homes conscription has reached, will not support the Roosevelt Administration if it is driven to take the hard-boiled way. Mr. Roosevelt will have public sentiment fully behind him."

This feeling is obviously shared in government circles. According to columnist Alsop and Kintner, "Such episodes as the Allis-Chalmers strike have filled the Congress, the best of all reflectors of public opinion, with violent resentment. The demand for strong measures to deal with the labor situation would have produced results long ago had not the House and Senate leaders struggled manfully to hold their followers back. The demand will soon grow too pressing to be ignored."

In short, unless labor "listens to reason," you can look forward to severe laws to control strikes. The late defiance of Secretary Knox and Commissioner Knudsen by a CIO leader in the Allis-Chalmers strike, was almost universally condemned by the nation's press. And the threat of far more important strikes in our most vital industries has caused some meaningful fist-clenching in Washington.

As the President has said, profiteering industry will also get short shrift. Government, controlled through the priority system, can literally choke any business into submission. If worst comes to worst, he can use the power to commandeer. Labor leaders are mistaken if they think they can get away indefinitely with holding up the defense program. This is more than an arms drive—to millions of Americans it is a crusade. And they mean to see it through.

The Low Down FROM HICKORY GROVE

You will tune in every once in awhile and get somebody who is saying he is talking in simple language so everybody will understand him, or he is talking to the plain people. I have always sort of wondered to myself if he could maybe be referring to me. I am not so extra sure whether it would be a compliment or if it might cast some doubt on my I. Q. The more I think about it, the more dubious I become.

I was talking to Henry about it—Henry lives across the street—and I says, "Henry, who are

CONNALLY SEEKS ACTION TO HALT LABOR STRIKES

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Rising to the floor of the Senate last week, Senator Tom Connally urged his colleagues to give heed toward halting labor shut-downs in national-defense plants. Connally emphasized his interest in getting immediate legislative action on the problem.

"It seems to me," said the Texas Senator, "that fundamentally there is no difference between the employer refusing to go on and produce and the employees refusing to proceed with these plain people, anyway?" There is one thing you can say for Henry, he is polite, so he says, "Jo, the best thing for you to do is to look it up in the dictionary." So I did. My dictionary says, plain people are more or less homely people—unlearned—lowly.

Brother, the next gent who starts his palaver about addressing himself in plain language to the plain people, is gonna get tuned-out—and pronto. Yours with the low down, JO SERRA normal production. So, if I had my way about it, I would adopt a provision directing or authorizing the President, through the Secretary of War or the Secretary of the Navy, to take over any plant which has a contract for the production of essential national-defense articles, arms or ammunitions, where disputes between the employer and the employees, or other labor disturbances, are impeding and delaying production."

Law exists now for the government to take over plants where the owner refuses to cooperate in the defense drive; Connally feels that the law can and should be amended to take a hand in cases where employees refuse to cooperate and tie-up defense production.

"There is a law against striking against the United States," remarked Senator Connally. "If the government should take over a plant as it did during the World War, governmental boards would determine in each particular factory what is a fair wage and what are fair working conditions."

Connally's legislative record has long been considered as friendly to labor; yet at the present time he considers "the Union of the United States as Union Number 1 in this country, which is superior and permanent to any other union."

THE WHIRLWIND!

Published by the Students of Lelia Lake High School, Lelia Lake, Texas

HOMEMAKING NEWS

The second year homemaking girls are progressing very well in their cooking this semester. They have completed the study of a breakfast. Everyone of their laboratories has been a success. If you had only tasted of their biscuits you would not have any doubts. They had a sunrise breakfast Tuesday evening as a laboratory. Everyone of the girls enjoyed it.

The first year girls wore their dresses one day this week and they all were very pretty. They are going to start another project in about a week.

Miss Armstrong, district supervisor, came one day last week and visited the second year class. She said that the homemaking papers were among the best she had looked at in her district. That shows that they are above the average.

On Saturday, April 12 the first and second year homemaking girls have been invited to attend the Future Homemaking of Texas meeting at Hedley. The meeting will begin at nine o'clock and last until late in the afternoon. The program is to consist mainly of recreation.

W

March the 29th the presidents of each class in high school met and had a discussion. The presidents were of an opinion that most of the students wanted to rest on April the first. The teachers then decided that everybody would take the day off and celebrate "fools" day.

A picnic was decided on and the day was spent at Salt Fork near old Clarendon. Many interesting old relics were found. Lois Reynolds won grand prize for an old slipper. Some of the other relics were a horse shoe, rocks, flint, wick holder of an old lamp, and old fork.

Although most everyone came back with blistered faces, the day was thoroughly enjoyed.

Tuesday morning there was a small explosion in the homemaking room while the lunch room workers were cooking with a pressure cooker and the top blew off. Several of the workers were slightly burned.

W

The senior class wish to express their appreciation to the Clarendon Furniture Store for the use of the furniture which they will use in their play, "Hobgoblin House."

W

Tenderfoot tests will be given by Mr. Wilson the first of next week.

W

An investiture service will be held here April 17 for the Lelia Lake scouts. The Memphis scouts will be in charge. The boys will invite their parents to come.

W

The junior and senior teams have joined together in volleyball and are now playing together. The volleyball team has played several games with Clarendon and Giles.

W

In the near future the girls plan to play playground ball. Definite plans have not been made.

W

For every ghostly manifestation there is always some plausible explanation. Come Friday night and see "Hobgoblin House" to find the answers.

W

Now that we have had our April Fool fling, we are completely over that foolish feeling. All we have now is that certain indefinable something called spring fever. There is quite an epidemic of it over all the school. The symptoms of it are longing looks on the faces of people looking out the window, the reluctance with which the students come in at noon and morning and the drowsy, half-hearted response in class.

He is an active member in the senior class — has very black hair and dark eyes—never lets people get the best of him or run over him—might someday be a great poet at the rate he is going—always making witty remarks—gets lots of enjoyment out of talking to the girls in study hall and also bothering the English teacher—could not get along without him in "Hobgoblin House."

EASTER

Easter is the Christian spring festival commemorating the Resurrection of Christ.

Easter is derived from Ostara, the divinity of spring of the ancient Norsemen who was welcomed in a festival of celebration on her annual return, reclothing the earth with greenery and flowers. From this festival rose the symbols of the Easter egg and of the Easter rabbit.

The decoration of spring wells with flowers was in token of the returning flow of water as a life-giving necessity and the custom of baptismal cleanliness, purification and regeneration. Every rite has a physical basis. The coloring of the Easter eggs was borrowed from the rays of the Aurora borealis—the northern light—and the dawning hues of the Easter sun.

Besides being commemorative of the Resurrection of Christ from the dead, the Easter festival of modern times is a memorial of the Christian passover from the old Dispensation of the moral law to the New Dispensation, wrought by the sacrifice for unity or atonement in the innocent death of Jesus Christ upon the Cross.

In the latest bulletin from the University of Texas was this statement: "If you are in the lower one-fourth of your class you are advised not to attend the University are in the upper one-fourth of your class, pupils are warned that the load will be difficult."

You can ask this lower one-fourth if they intend to finish school and attend college. Oh yes, their mama and papas are saving money for them now. They are planning for their boy or girl to be a success, but what is that boy or girl doing to help. Well, frankly they are talking and having fun in the study hall. Oh sure they have an hour and thirty minutes but they just can't get busy. Still they just can't understand why they made D. Well, so what, D is passing isn't it?

Several years from now, these lower one-fourth of the girls and boys will still be making D. Maybe not on a report card but they will always be several steps behind those who make use of time.

Could you improve?

HOMEMAKING NEWS

On Saturday, April 12, the Future Homemakers girls of the District met at Hedley. The morning session was a business meeting in which it was decided to have the next district meeting at Lakeview with Clarendon in charge of the program. The vice president of the meeting was Anita Cook, one of the Lelia Lake seniors. Next year one of the Lelia Lake girls will have the office of president.

The afternoon session was composed of singing and games. Everyone had a nice time at the meeting.

W

The senior play which was presented last Friday night is said to be the best that has ever been presented at Lelia Lake. The seniors are proud of this fact. From the way the audience cheered, screamed and laughed, it must have really been funny and exciting.

The proceeds from the play were $29.95. These proceeds will be used for graduation exercises and other things the students will need for the last of school.

W

The senior class has received its announcements. They are very attractive and the seniors seem very well pleased. Their next big problem is to pick out the color for their caps and gowns.

W

A letter to the senior class from the president of the senior class of West Texas State College in Canyon was received last Monday. It was an invitation to attend a Vocational clinic. The different kinds of vocations will be discussed. Some of the vocations are Agriculture, Air Hostess, Dentist, Doctor, Home Ec. and many more.

opened that closet door, I almost screamed." A school girl: "I wish they would put on that play again." A school boy: "Its the best yet."

W

Lelia Lake seemed to be a busy place Tuesday for making pictures. Several people had their cameras and were seen out making pictures. The Juniors and Seniors and the teachers were all out together for a group picture.

W

By the looks of the school rooms, spring is here. All of the rooms have had some flowers setting around in the windows and on the desks, which really does give a more cheerful appearance for both teachers and students.

LIBRARY NOTES

(By Mrs. C. A. Burton)

This statement by Herbert H. Lehman, Governor of New York, seems worth passing on to you:

"The richest asset and the final support of the state is the citizen. The best conservation is his continual growth in mental power, character, and civic spirit. Public libraries are essential to a democratic state because reading and study promote these great ends. Libraries provide generous opportunities for all for richer understanding of contemporary life, for mastery of circumstances, and far greater social and civic usefulness."

When the Mother's Club made their annual gift to the library, I determined that that amount should go into children's books, but pressing needs along other lines prevented it at the time.

But this list of children's books which have just been received is the result of that decision.

"Hello Judy" by Charlotte Becker—a lovely book of stories and pictures for the tiny reader.

"Crybaby Calf" by Helen Evans—very similar to the above: "Dog of His Own" by Laura Z. Hodson—story of Mikey and his dog which children will love; "Indians and Cowboys" by Tonsey Sanford—and the title tells its story; "E-Tooka-Shoo" by Richard Wilt—an Eskimo story; "Gulf Coast Treasure" by Maristan Chapman—a mother "Glen Hazard" story for boys; "You're on the Air" by William Helgier—a radio story for boys; "Wings for Carol" by Patricia O'Malley—an airplane story for girls—but the boys and girls will enjoy both of these; "Clara Barton" by Mildred M. Pace—the story of the woman who was the founder of the Red Cross—a story which seems so timely just now; "American Wild Flowers" by Cecile H. Matesch— with lovely color plates. Children's books are almost as expensive as those for grownups, so lists are made and remade many times in order to keep within our budget, yet meet the needs of inquiring young minds.

The Wilson Library Bulletin carries the statement that eighty-six rare early American books for children have recently been presented to the Library of Congress by Frank J. Hogan, the Washington barrister-bibliophile. Among them were the ten new England Primers containing that famous rhymed alphabet beginning "In Adams fall we sinned all", and ending "Zachens he did climb a tree". Do any of you remember?

For the first time a woman, Susannah Shane of New York, is the winner of Dodd Mead's Red Badge Detective Story Contest. And Louis Adamic's "From Many Lands" won the John Masefield Award of one thousand dollars for the outstanding book of 1940 on racial relations.

Dr. Lydia Wahistrom, one of Sweden's leading historians, says the Nazi argument can have no appeal whatever to the Swedes, who will, to the last man, hold fast to their time honored traditions of democracy. Swedish readers at the moment are enjoying recent translations of Clarence Day's "Life With Father" and Christopher Morley's "Kitty Foyle".

Archibald Mac Leish, Librarian of the Congressional Library in Washington will head the United States delegation to the Inter-America Writer's Conference to be held at the University of Puerto Rico April 14-24.

Of the ten current Library Favorites in the twenty-seven largest cities of the United States, we have the following seven: "For Whom the Bells Tolls" by Ernest Hemingway; "Sapphira and the Slave Girl" by Willa Cather; "Mrs. Miniver" by Jan Struther; "Kitty Foyle" by Christopher Morley; "The Family" by Nina Fedorova; "Iqhw Green Was My Valley" by Richard Llewellyn; and "Gone With the Wind".

Hitler's "Mein Kampf" comes second on the non-fiction list, and "One Foot in Heaven" by Hartzell Spence is sixth. "Out of the Night" by Jan Valtin still leads.

Kentucky lost her most gifted writer in the death of Elizabeth Madox Roberts a few weeks ago just as "Not By Strange Gods" her first collection of stories in eight years, was being released, record in the Library.

Boone's Trace in the 1770's. She had her roots deep in the soil of the "Pigeon River Country". She spent several years in Colorado and was in her early thirties when she entered the University of Chicago in 1925. Since then she has written a number of books including "The Great Meadow" and "The Buried Treasure", which are on our shelves. They are quiet studies of Kentucky, of small-town life, of plantations with their woods and hills with unsophisticated men and women engaged in simple community activities. She wrote of the Kentucky people "with the sensitive touch of one who has become the voice of a forgotten race."

"A pathfinder in the art of fiction" "Of Human Bondage" and "Christmas Holiday". Galley Two Library Notes. Mrs. Somerset Mugham is almost a figure in the interior decorating field as her husband is in the world of letters. She has pursued her career for twenty years and takes credit for originating rooms done in all white. Gray-haired, distinguished in appearance, Mrs. Mugham has spent almost as much time in this country as in England since the last war. She is here at present to raise funds for British relief. Two of Somerset Mugham's books are on our shelves, "Of Human Bondage" and "Christmas Holiday". A much appreciated addition to our vertical file material was recently given us by Wayne G. Christian, a reprint of an article from the January Journal of Paleontology. This article had been prepared by Mr. Christian and C. Stewart Johnson and is an account of the fossil excavations near Goldston. We are so pleased to have it as a permanent record in the library.

Enormous Ice Production Record Made By Servel

If the combined ice production of all the refrigerators manufactured by Servel, Inc. in the past twenty years were to be formed into one icicle a foot square it would measure 240,000 miles long. L. E. Thompson, Manager, Thompson Bros. Hardware Co., said today. This icicle would be long enough to reach from the earth to the moon and then extend a couple of thousand miles on the other side.

"We have received in one of our communications from the manufacturer of the gas refrigerator many interesting achievements concerning the company and its product," Mr. Thompson said. "As you know this is the only refrigerator which makes ice with no moving parts in its freezing system, cannot wear out or make noise. It is a refrigerator that will stay silent, last longer."

"The giant icicle that would reach beyond the moon would weigh about one trillion, four hundred billion pounds. The daily production would provide a twenty-five pound piece of ice for every third family in the United States every day, winter and summer. If this were broken down into ice cubes it would cool a glass of beverage for every man, woman, and child in the United States, plus one for everybody in the British Empire, including India, and still have some ice cubes left over."

"Some interesting facts on the Servel factory workers show that more than 4,000 people are on the payroll. Of that number almost one-fourth have been with the company ten years or more. Taking the group that have been with the company ten or more years there are more than eleven thousand six hundred man years of experience alone behind the Servel refrigerators."

"Contradicting the criticism leveled at industry that it has no place in its ranks for men forty years of age or over, a recent survey of Servel's personnel showed that about one-third of all its employees are in the 40-plus age group."

"This should be of interest to women: not only do the housewives play a large role in designing this great refrigerator but in the factory at Evansville, Ind., more than five hundred women employees help make this product that women use."

"Data on some of the materials used revealed that a steel and copper tube long enough to girdle the earth at the equator could be made of the amount of tubing used in the past ten years in Servel refrigerators. A freight train loaded to capacity would be nine miles long if the sheet steel used in a year were brought to the factory all at one time."

CHAPEL

To carry out the thought of Good Friday Rev. King delivered the chapel exercises. Although his talk varied it was mainly about Easter. It had been quite a while since he had spoken at school and it was enjoyed very much.

Louis Chamberlain played his contest number, first on the trombone then baritone. The students can readily see how he won first on both instruments.

BR CHAPEL

The chapel program was given Friday by the sixth grade, section two. The program committee was Billy Ollier, chairman, with Jr. Martin and Gene Adams.

The program was as follows: Group of songs by Leroy Butler; Piano solo by Billie Fay Hardin; Play, "Henry's Crush", written by Guida Myrl Miller; Reading by Sylvia Fay Morgan; Clarinet solo by Jimmy Douglas; Play, "Wild Cat Willie".

The classes enjoyed the program very much.

As the Hedley restaurants could not take care of the lunch demand, everyone took lunch and ate in picnic style. The afternoon session was made up of recreational entertainment. The Quill chapter had charge of a very interesting program in which each school participated by presenting a number on the program. Each event was of such a style that everyone could take part. This made it more interesting and no one felt that she was being left out. The area song was practiced in readiness for the state rally.

The next F. H. T. meeting will be an area meeting held next fall at Amarillo. The next district meeting will be at Lakeview next spring with Clarendon in charge of the program.

Jo Word had as her guest this weekend her roommate at WTSC, Martha Ritchie of Ft. Worth.

WHO CAN DRIVE BETTER, BOYS OR GIRLS

GIRLS OF COURSE) Tooter Johnson: Boys of course, because girls can't think fast enough.

Helen Porter: Girls, because boys are always trying to show off and have more wrecks.

Lorraine Brock: Boys, because they don't get as excited as girls do.

Billy Thornberry: Boys, because women are always trying to see what other women are wearing and, therefore, don't pay enough attention to their driving.

Bill Andis: Boys, of course. I haven't seen a boy yet who drove onto Main Street and couldn't drive off, but I have seen and heard of girls. Two, to be exact!

Dorothy Kennedy: There's no doubt about girls driving best. Boys just can't get the job done.

George Watson: Boys, because they have more sense.

Kitty Ruth Baley: Girls, because they think more about the safety of other people and therefore are more careful.

Laverne Phillips: Girls, because they have a one track mind.

James Earl Hott: Boys, because when a girl is driving a car she's always grimping and never looks where she goes.

June Miller: Girls, because they are never in a hurry to get where they are going.

Statistics show that women have fewer car accidents than men. It is hard to make figures mean anything because the average woman driver spends less time at the wheel than the man and she drives at a more favorable time. So you see women are better drivers than men think they are.

HOME ECONOMICS

The future Homemakers of Texas in District 7 of Area 1 met at Hedley, Sat., April 12. There were seven schools represented: Memphis, Quail, Estelline, Hedley, Clarendon, Lakeview, and Leta Lake. There were approximately 150 students present.

The morning session began at 10:00 with Nell Cunningham of Lakeview as president and Wilma Henson, secretary. A welcome address was given by W. C. Payne, Superintendent of the Hedley school. After a business meeting, the morning session was concluded with songs by the group.

BAND WORKING FOR WACO

The band members have already started putting up a sweat by practicing and marching for the National Band Contests to be held in Waco. They are determined to go as high as a 2nd division at Waco, which is pretty good. They are going to soon find out what real competition really is, but they are going to be real competition for some other bands, too. The medals which came this weekend were on display in Douglas and Goldston window Monday and Tuesday. There were 28 medals received out of 31 entries.

The band had the annual picture taken last Thursday. About 15 more members have been added since last year.

F. F. A. YOUTHS ENTERTAIN WITH PICNIC

Approximately thirty F. F. A. members entertained their girl friends with a picnic the afternoon of Friday, April 11. The members and guests met at the gym at 4 p. m., where they enjoyed games of volleyball, and played baseball and other games until six p. m. An Easter egg hunt was held at six, and the picnic lunch was served at seven. Pat Grady and Wilma Henson won the award for the two finding the greatest number of eggs when they presented 52 eggs to the judges.

"THE NEW YORK TIMES"

The library subscribes for the Sunday edition of the New York Times. Each Tuesday morning a new edition is on the rack. It is so large that it is put on two bars and contains ten sections. This paper furnishes a wide variety of news.

A short review for the paper for Sunday, April 13, 1941 will give a fair estimate of what it contains.

Section I. News! News! News! All of this section is news. The headlines were: "Greeks Beat Back German Panzer Assault; Russia Rebukes Hungary over Yugoslavia; Denmark 'Voids' U. S. Accord on Greenland." Not only does it give the news of the war front, but is informative as to the situations existing at present in the United States. It also shows the latest fashions in everything.

Section II. Women's news of all sorts comes to us through this section of the paper. Clubs, sports, fashions, operettas, society, flowers, and weddings of interest are all discussed here.

Section III. If you are interested in the financial status of the world, look in Section III. It not only gives the Stocks and Bond prices, but the financial standing of all the major countries, and the major manufacturing forms of the world.

Section IV. A review of the news of the past week is summed up here for the convenience of those who read only the Sunday paper.

Section V. Sports, the thing that catches everyone's eye, are in full detail; there are eight pages of interesting sports and pictures.

Section VI. This part is a review of the best books of the week. Of major importance is Winston Churchill's "Blood, Sweat, and Tears".

Section VII. Even a pictorial magazine similar to "Life" is included in this paper. It gives the latest news in pictures.

Section VIII. Another section of pictures that won photographic prizes is given.

Section IX. This part gives the latest things in dancing, art, and radio, including important happenings of the stage and movie world.

Section X. To forget your troubles, turn to Section X. That is what it is for—Recreation! It includes things of interest for everyone and from all over the world. It is the last few pages of this 150 page newspaper.

Society

The T. N. T. Contract Club gave their formal Easter dance April 11, 1941, at the Opera house. There were approximately 75 people present and each lady was in her formal attire. The dance floor was speckled with the many beautiful dresses fluttering around. The music was furnished by a nickelodeon and from the gay spirits one could observe a gala time was being had.

COLLEGE BANQUET

The college banquet will be held April 18, 1941, in the Home Economics Department. The following program will be presented:

Toastmaster—Eugene Putman Talk to Faculty—Carl Morris Response—Mr. Burton Piano Solo—Francis Hott Address—Mr. Drennan "God Bless America" Group

The banquet will be followed by the usual dance with added attractions. The dance will be held in the gym and will be open to the entire student body. The added attractions for the evening will be a floor show by some of the students.

Carroll Hudson of Canyon was in town over the weekend.

"JEVER**YES, "JU" STYLES ALL THE WHILE"

Jever hear that History repeats itself Not in styles of the gay nineties But in styles of the early nineties?

Hair dresses done in pig tails Tied with ribboned bows Of many different widths and hues—

Are Invading Junior High. There's Johnnie Johnson with Her short pigtails two Done up in yellow bows, And Paty Molesworth with her Inlaid plaits

Adorned with a ribboned plaid Even Marilyn Mahyer has laid Aside her curls for styles Of her mother's girlhood days. Then there's Guida Merle With her short braids in red ribbons tied.

Also La Ruth Young with Her hair slick and Bralder tight. On her hair no ribbon is seen, But a heret green Holds each plait in place. On Bonnie Rowe's hair so fine A red rose doth entwine.

And many, many styles Of former days are seen. It is rumored that even High School girls these fashions Doth favor.

Jever see history repeat itself If you haven't— Then you just haven't been to Junior High.

WHAT DO YA KNOW?—PLENTY—WE WRITE THE GOSSIP ! ! !

Jean Taylor and Victor seem to have a pretty good time in the study hall. Kenneth Lyle says his brother has a good car. Wonder if Betty Ann thinks so. Seems as though certain people were having trouble with class rings Sunday night. Who was the nice looking boy in Amarillo that Annie Ree was seen with? Friday the band was there? Ha Kay is kinda stepping high rating J. B. Long and the "Green Archer" both in one night.

Seen at the College play Friday night: Mary Nell Keys and Billy Thornberry. Oh my goodness.

Pat Grady and Carl Morris seem to be that way again. At least Naomi said, quote, "Pat is in our car more than I am", unquote.

Why was G. D. Shelly wanting to take Sue to the "Green Archer" Tuesday night? We hear Calvin Salmon has been going with the girls again. What's come over you Calvin. Spring fever?

Didn't Colie really enjoy his part in the play? I bet Walda Fay did.

Who wrote their phone number on the blackboard in the study hall? Anyway, the number is 270-M.

Why does Anna Lynn go around singing "I'll Never Love Again"? She certainly got over Harley in a hurry.

Who was the white and black lilly running around school Tuesday morning?

Miss Betty Jo Caraway entertained the play cast, their guests, and faculty members with a party consisting of delicious food and dancing afterwards.

The guests arrived after the play and discussed their success, and ate the food prepared by their hostess. The table was covered in a lace table cloth, with a patriotic centerpiece consisting of a mirror to reflect the ship and the American flags. At each side of the mirror were red, white and blue candles in star holders.

Plates of various sandwiches, potato chips, coffee, hot tea, leed tea, nuts, pickles, chocolate and white cake, were the things most interesting.

After the dancing and friendly chatting the party ended quietly, so that everyone would be able to go to school the next day.

ARE YOU DOING YOUR PART?

In a recent classroom discussion of the importance and ways to increase school spirit a conclusion was reached that the whole idea was based around friendship. Friendship among the students bring them closer together which naturally brings more enthusiasm and harmony in anything undertaken. Friendship tends to make things more pleasant which in turn will make work easier. Everybody knows that the more interested they are in work the easier it seems to be.

School spirit can publicize a school as quickly as a football team or band, or another outstanding organization. Are you doing your part to create more school spirit?

Side Glances On Texas History

By CHARLES O. HUCKER University of Texas Library

"If you kill me it will be like a spark in the prairie — make big fire! burn heap!"

A jury of Texas frontiersmen once sat in court at the little town of Jacksboro and deliberated the fate of an Indian who threw that threat in their faces.

It was in 1871, when Jacksboro was still a frontier town. The Indian was Satanta, veteran council chief of the Kiawas, who with another chief, Big Tree, had led a raid in which seven Americans were massacred.

It was perhaps the most dramatic trial in the history of Texas — and so significant that finally the president of the United States had to step in to settle the case.

According to the principles of justice, there was no question about it. For two years the Kiowa had preserved a peace which Satanta himself had made with the United States government; and now Satanta and Big Tree with 150 warriors had attacked a wagon train, killed and scalped six drivers outright, tied a seventh to a wheel of a burning wagon — and had come to Fort Sill to boast about it.

Immediately General W. T. Sherman, who was then in the territory, had clapped them in irons. And there he kept them, despite the pleas and threats of Kicking Bird, the greatest of the Kiowa chiefs, who personally came to demand their release.

So early in July Satanta and Big Tree were shipped down to Jacksboro for trial. On the fifth it got under way before an audience which included directly a packed court room and indirectly the rest of the nation.

Two Indian chiefs on trial was a curiosity in itself; and when that trial might presumably touch off a general Indian uprising, it was of significance to everyone in the country.

With the formal evidence presented — Satanta himself had admitted his guilt at Fort Sill — the jury was ready for retire.

But then, dramatically, Satanta rose to have his say. Still handcuffed, he spoke in the Comanche language, common among the plains Indians, and thundered his threat into the face of the court.

"I am a big chief among my people," he said, "and I have great influence among the warriors of my tribe. They know my voice and will hear my word. If you will let me go back to my people, I will withdraw my warriors from Tehanna. I will take them all across the Red River, and that shall be the line between us and the pale faces. I will wash out the spots of blood and make it a white land; there shall be peace, and the Tehannas may plow and drive their oxen to the banks of the river."

That was his bargain, and this was his challenge:

"But if you kill me it will be like a spark in the prairie — make big fire! burn heap!"

It was with that threat in their minds that these frontiersmen retired to reach a decision. They knew — and the nation knew — what responsibility was upon them. Their deliberation was short. And when the foreman gave their verdict to the court it was — murder in the first degree, punishable by death!

It is said that, after a deep wondering silence of several minutes, joy broke forth in that court room. However, subsequent pressure and the danger of shaky Indian relations brought commutation to life imprisonment from Governor E. J. Davis, then an outright parole from U. S. President Grant. Satanta and Big Tree were released.

Thus the possibility of outright war between the Indians and the white men was apparently averted for the time.

To end the story, however—it happened that Satanta so flagrantly violated his parole that in 1874 he had to be taken to the Texas state penitentiary; and there shortly after war he either committed suicide or broke his neck trying to escape.

Continued rapid growth of the junior colleges is revealed by the Junior College Directory 1941 published by the American Association of Junior Colleges, which shows that enrollment in these institutions has doubled in the last six years and now totals 236,162.

This growth continues a rapid curve of advancement which has multiplied junior college enrollment four-fold in the last twelve years, the figure having virtually doubled between 1929 and 1935, and having more than doubled in the six years since. Enrollment totaled 54,438 in 1929 and 107,807 in 1930.

Increase for the last year is 20.5 per cent. The jump was from 196,710 in 1940, a growth of 39,452 for the year. This was almost equal to the 41,122 increment reported a year ago, which was the maximum ever reported.

The enrollments given are for the previous completed academic year; that is, the enrollment reported in the 1941 directory is for the college year 1939-40.

The number of junior colleges is now 610, an addition of 35 for the year and an addition of 205 since 1929. The directory contains the names of fifty-five institutions which were not listed a year ago, but twenty others have been dropped on account of change of status of one sort or another. Fifteen institutions are listed as having started junior college work in 1939 or 1940.

Average enrollment in 595 junior colleges for which figures are given is 397. There are 195 institutions with enrollments greater than 300, as compared with 164 of this size last year; forty-six exceed 1,000,000 compared with thirty-three last year; and eighteen exceed 2,000, as compared with twelve last year. Of the eighteen largest, twelve are in California, three in Illinois, and one each in Texas, Wisconsin, and the District of Columbia.

California continues to lead both in number and size of its junior colleges. Texas is second in number, and Illinois is second in enrollment. Junior colleges are found in forty-four of the forty-eight states, only Nevada, Wyoming, Rhode Island and Delaware being without them.

The ten states leading in the number of their junior colleges are California, 6; Texas, 43; Iowa, 36; Oklahoma, 30; North Carolina, 25; Kansas, 24; Missouri, 24; Illinois, 24; Pennsylvania, 26; Massachusetts, 23.

The ten states leading in enrollment are California, 86,357; Illinois, 19,589; Texas, 15,085; Missouri, 8,143; North Carolina, 6,602; Massachusetts, 5,993; Kansas, 5,798; Georgia, 5,635; Oklahoma, 5,409; Mississippi, 5,205.

Forty-three per cent of the 610 junior colleges are publicly controlled, and they have 71 per

3-Way Plan Aids Many Groups

More cotton clothing, less cotton in the warehouse, more food on the pantry shelf — those are the aims of the new Supplementary Cotton Program of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Not only farm people, but also merchants, manufacturers, laborers, and others who help turn cotton into finished goods will be assisted by the three-fold plan. Under this program, farmers who make a further voluntary reduction in their cotton acreage in 1941 may earn cotton stamps, which they can use in their local stores to buy cotton goods. A special $3 payment also will encourage home food production. Symbolic of what the program offers are the cotton coat and dress worn by the farm girl above; the row of cotton bales, of which there is a surplus of more than 10 million; and shelves of home-canned food direct from the family garden.

about going to serve their year in the army.

The army is quite rigid at first. When you are getting used to obeying orders and all of the military courtesy, etc. But as time goes on, you will become accustomed to it and everything is on time. You get up at five o'clock and all of your meals are served at a scheduled time.

We think that we are in the best Brigade and the best Regiment that could possibly be, and of course quite naturally, we all think that we are in the best troop.

We feel quite sorry for the people there in the dust, as we can fish and swim in the Gulf.

It is already as warm here as it is there in mid-summer and the sand never blows.

We are in the Cavalry Brigade and the only one in the United States that has only horse transportation. We start on the 10th of June for three months maneuvers.

We will be glad when our year is up and we can return home.

We are all quite satisfied and always glad to get the hometown paper and to hear from the folks there.

Garden Project Started At NYA Resident Center

Securing a "loan" of one-half block of land adjoining their part-time home, girls at the National Youth Administration Clarendon Resident Center will have an abundant supply of fresh vegetables this summer through a gardening project, according to Harold V. Hamilton, Area 1, Director.

Tomatoes, sweet peas, peppers, eggplant, cabbage, and head lettuce, are already in hot beds, with radishes and leaf lettuce in frame gardens. Other vegetables that will be produced are onions, peas, lima and green beans, mustard, rape, cucumbers, cantalopes, beets, yellow and white squash, okra and turnips.

Surplus from the garden will be canned. A related course of instruction will be under the supervision of Miss Lillian Ewin, Vocational Education Instructor.

Miss Eula J. Burleson is project supervisor.

The land was secured from W. H. Cooke, Jr., and the City of Clarendon donated old pipes to be used for sub-irrigation purposes.

Girls at the Resident Center have just completed a second course of Red Cross First Aid under the direction of Bill Riney, State Highway employee, according to Harold V. Hamilton, Area 1, Director.

F. F. A. Boys Are Marketing Fryers

Cooperative marketing of fryers brooded by the local F. F. A. chapter as a chapter project, and of battery brooded individually owned birds is proving successful for Clarendon F. F. A. youths. Several hundred birds have been marketed by the youths during the past ten days, and several thousand more will go on the market within the next few weeks.

The youths raise the fryers in batteries and only the best of balanced feeds are fed to insure tender birds. The boys purchased their birds from the Clarendon Hatchery, a member of the Texas Baby Chick Association.
