Contractor Agrees To Finish College Repairs In 25 Working Days

WORK BEGUN WITH LARGE CREW HERE MONDAY MORNING

NEILL SINGLETON, AMARILLO CONTRACTOR, TO DO REHABILITATION ON SCHOOLS

For a flat fee of $2,500.00, the Clarendon school board closed a contract Friday night of last week, with Neill Singleton, Amarillo contractor, to do the rehabilitation construction on the College administration building and the dormitory, according to the plans and specifications of Guy Carlender architect, previously accepted by the board.

Singleton will do the job at cost, furnishing the crew, the machinery and tools, and attending to the details of book-keeping, social security, workmens compensation insurance and builders' risk. He will pay all long distance phone calls and telegraph bills, do all the hauling, assuming full responsibility for the job, and promises to complete the work in twenty-five working days.

Preliminary work was begun Saturday, and Monday morning a large crew of skilled and rough labor was on the job to give the community a demonstration of swift, driving work, according to the contractor.

In the plans the dormitory is to be finished with the top story taken off, while the College building is to remain in its same general form, although the top is to be divested of ornament and streamlined across. If it can be done on the funds available the auditorium will be enlarged and modernized. This will be left to later decision after the board finds how the money is holding out.

Anyhow, school board, faculty and contractor have conspired to disappoint any scholastic who hoped the vacation would be prolonged by delays in construction work. School will definitely begin on Monday, September 1st, says O. C. Watson, president of the board—and Supt. Burton and his staff will be on the job for the opening in the rebuilt buildings.

Rev. J. V. G. Anderson and daughter, Virginia, of Cache, Oklahoma, visited here with old friends Saturday. Rev. Anderson, a former teacher in Clarendon College, is now Chaplain in a C. C. C. camp in Cache.

DONLEY COUNTY TO PARTICIPATE IN ALUMINUM DRIVE

Clarendon and Donley County residents will be given a chance to take part in the nation-wide movement to collect scrap aluminum for defense purposes, it appeared this week. County Judge R. Y. King, named by Gov. O'Daniel as ex-officio chairman of the drive in Donley County, said Wednesday that while no organized movement is planned within the county, these citizens who have scrap aluminum on hand will be given the opportunity to turn it in for use by the government.

Over the nation, drives to secure scrap aluminum to relieve a threatened shortage of this vital defense material have met with considerable success. Last month, the government placed Mayor LaGuardia of New York City in command of all civilian defense efforts, including the gathering of aluminum. Mayor LaGuardia has started organizing each state for this drive and other civilian defense works, and has set July 21 as the date for the beginning of the nation-wide aluminum drive.

Donley County people who have some aluminum to spare around their homes or places of business, in the form of worn-out pots and pans, etc. may turn it over to the government, Judge King said, by bringing it to the county agent's office in Clarendon. All contributions will be welcomed, and each piece will go a little further toward having the pinch in supply of this metal, used in aircraft manufacture.

Other civilian defense plans set up by Mayor LaGuardia include the formation of local aircraft warning services in each community of the United States, and organization of law enforcement groups for defense purposes. Plans for both these activities are being worked out on a state-wide basis in Austin.

Local participation in the aircraft warning service setup is not planned at present, Judge King said. He indicated that such an organization might be set up at some later date, if the national emergency reaches a more critical stage.

Mr. and Mrs. George Wayne Estlack and Foy Fronabarger left today for a week's vacation in Colorado.

100 LEGIONNAIRES AT DISTRICT MEET HERE WEDNESDAY

American Legion members and their wives from over most of the Panhandle were in Clarendon Wednesday afternoon and night, for the regular monthly convention of Legion District No. 18, for which the Clarendon post and Auxiliary were hosts.

Over 100 local and visiting Legionnaires were in a group which enjoyed an outdoor feed at City Park to start the evening's program. Following the spread, a business session was on the schedule, with a talk by Col. E. A. Simpson of Amarillo as the high point in the program. Pointing his remarks toward the national defense program, Col. Simpson urged every Legionnaire to dedicate themselves to full and complete cooperation with the country's defense effort. In this connection, he stressed the importance of the current drive for scrap-aluminum which the Clarendon post plans to help open in Donley County next week.

After the business meeting, Legionnaires and their wives moved to the Legion Hall, where a dance filled out the social side of the day, and concluded a highly successful program of entertainment. Friona was selected as the next host city for a monthly convention.

CONTRACTS MADE FOR COUNTY ROAD MACHINES

Contracts which will give Donley County the use of two Diesel road maintenance machines, one on a time-payment, the other on a rental-purchase basis, were signed by the County Commissioners Court in its regular meeting Monday, July 14.

In the first contract, the Commissioners entered into a time-payment agreement with the J. D. Adams Machinery Company, for the purchase of one Adams Heavy-Duty Diesel grader and equipment, price $6950. The grader will be paid for in installments, after an initial down payment of $1100, of $2200 yearly, plus interest at 6 percent.

The second tractor deal was made with R. B. George Machinery Company of Amarillo, providing for the use by the county, on a rental-purchase basis, of one second-hand Caterpillar No. 1 Diesel Auto Patrol grader and equipment. As first rental payment on this equipment, the county agreed to put up $366.96 cash, plus a trade-in of one used gasoline tractor and one small grader. Five other payments of about the same cash amount as at six month intervals beginning in November of this year.

Other business taken up by the court was mostly routine, with examination and approval of reports from various county officials occupying most of the time during the session.

PAUL GREENE WILL FLY WITH CHINESE AIR FORCES

Paul Greene, until last week an instructor at Randolph Field air base, left Amarillo Wednesday night to go to the Far East, where he will take part as a flier in the fight of China against Japan.

With one other Randolph Field instructor, Greene signed a contract last week for a year's service with an air training school at Rangoon, Burma, to train Chinese pilots for service against Japan. He flew to San Francisco from Amarillo after a brief visit here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Greene, and will catch a boat for the East next week.

A graduate of a private flying school at San Diego, California, Greene was transferred to Randolph Field early in 1939, receiving his "wings" there in July of the same year. He was then recommended for basic training duties, and has since been serving as a flying instructor at Randolph. Under the American policy of all-out aid to China in her battle against Japan, Greene was released from his work in this country and placed on the reserve list for one year in order that he might accept the China service position.

He will be stationed at Rangoon, according to present plans, and will train pilots to fly the new type fast pursuit ships which are now going to China under the Lend-Lease act.

MRS. W. T. LOWE IMPROVING AFTER OPERATION

Mrs. W. T. Lowe, who underwent an emergency operation in Nashville, Tennessee last Friday is reported to be improving nicely. Mr. and Mrs. Lowe have been visiting for the past two months in Arkansas, Kentucky, and Tennessee and were at the home of their granddaughter, Mrs. Lamar Hicks in Nashville when Mrs. Lowe was taken ill.

Mrs. George Matheson returned home Saturday from Decatur where she has been visiting her daughter for the past several months.

NEW SHIPMENT OF YARN FOR DONLEY CHAPTER OF RED CROSS IS HERE

A new shipment of yarn for the Donley County Chapter of the American Red Cross has arrived, Miss Charlotte Molesworth announced this week. The quota of knitted garments for this chapter is 240 and anyone taking a sweater to be knitted will be greatly appreciated. The new yarn is in brown and green and seems to be of a finer quality than that received before. Anyone wishing to knit a sweater may call Miss Molesworth at 365 and she will be glad to deliver the yarn with directions to them.

Capt. and Mrs. Knox Dunlap and daughter, Mary Pauline, are visiting this week with Mr. and Mrs. Paul Shelton. The Dunlaps, who have been stationed for the past two years in Hawaii, have been transferred to Camp Barkley at Abilene.

SECOND LOTTERY FOR DRAFTEES TONIGHT AT 7

Selective Service headquarters announced this week that the lottery for newly registered men of 21 would be July 17.

Secretary of War Stimson will be invited to draw the first number from the same glass jar out of which thousands of numbers were taken in the draft lottery last October when priorities for service were determined among 16,500,000.

Col. Charles R. Morris of Elizabeth, N. J., the man who blindfolded President Wilson preliminary to drawing the first draft number in the World War, will be present to fix the blindfold over Secretary Stimson's eyes when the ceremonies start at 7 p. m. tonight.

As the numbers are drawn out of the melon-pink capsules—cobalt blue were used in October—they will be read aloud and entered on a master list. As soon as possible after the drawing is completed, copies of this list will be furnished to the country's 6,500 Selective Service Boards for their guidance in integrating the latest group of registrants among the men already on their lists.

The system works out as follows: After the July 1 registration the melon-colored cards of the new registrants were shuffled and a registration number written on each, ranging from 1 to the highest number registered in each district.

Numbers corresponding to these will be drawn in the lottery. If the first number drawn, for instance, is 47, then the man in each of districts holding 47 will be assigned "sequence number 1." All the men holding the second number drawn will be assigned "S-2," and so on until all the registrants in each district have sequence numbers. That will determine the order of the new registrants among themselves.

Their integration among the registrants already on the rolls will be figured on a mathematical basis. Officials explained the system, using as example a district with 2,000 old men on the rolls and 200 new ones to be integrated.

In that instance there would be 10 old men for every new one. The man holding "S-1" would be placed after the first group of 10 old men; S-2, after the second group and so on until the last man on the list would be S-200.

Mrs. Jack Molesworth left this week for Junction, Texas, where she will visit with her parents for the next month.

Accident Victim

GEORGE W. KAVANAUGH

G. W. KAVANAUGH FATALLY INJURED IN AUTO CRASH

George W. Kavanaugh, former Donley County superintendent and a resident of the county for a number of years until 1940, was killed instantly Saturday night, when his automobile overturned at a curve on U. S. Highway 82, six miles east of Sherman. The car left the road at high speed, reports indicated, and rolled several hundred feet from the road before stopping. Kavanaugh was found dead in the wreckage, while a passenger in the car, Richard Reel of Amarillo, was thrown from the vehicle and was uninjured.

A prominent figure in Panhandle rural school circles for many years, Mr. Kavanaugh was widely acquainted in rural Donley County, having taught school in the Martin community for some years before being elected county superintendent in 1936. This position he held until September 1, 1940, when he resigned to accept the superintendency at Spade Consolidated school.

Kavanaugh had been attending school at Canyon this summer, and was on a business trip to Austin when the fatal accident occurred. Surviving are his wife; two children, Patricia and Barbara Kavanaugh; a sister, Mrs. Jewel Shannon of Clarendon; his mother, Mrs. Lillie Kavanaugh of Shamrock, and five brothers, Ed Kavanaugh of Bonham and M. S. Kavanaugh, Allen Kavanaugh, Ray Kavanaugh and Paul Kavanaugh, all of Shamrock. Funeral services were held at Dodd City, near Bonham, Monday afternoon.

July 3 - 4, Dates Set For Next Years' Celebration By Unanimous Vote

Clarendon's 1942 annual 4th of July Celebration and Ranchers' Rodeo, will be held, Friday and Saturday, July 3-4, according to the unanimous vote of the Committee in session Monday afternoon at the Legion Room in the city hall.

There was general agreement that the celebration should remain a two-day affair, patterned after the general plans of this year's event.

Work will begin early in 1942 on the program and plans for the celebration, as it was decided to hold the first general meeting early in February, within two weeks after the 1942 annual chamber of commerce banquet and elections.

Mark your 1942 calendar up for the celebration now. July 3 and 4 are the dates.

Rayburn Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rayburn Smith, has been assigned to Company "4" of the Corps of Cadets at the United States Military Academy. Young Smith received his appointment to the academy in June and enrolled July 1st as a member of the Class of 1945.

LIONS PROGRAM IS TOURNAMENT FILM IN TECHNICOLOR

With President McHenry Lane in the chair, the Clarendon Lions Club, had a technicolor motion picture program Tuesday at its weekly luncheon at the Clarendon Hotel.

Program Chairman Patman presented Lion Keith Lowell, who furnished the program made up of technicolor movies he made of an interesting vacation trip in the National Parks of the Yosemite and Glacier regions, and an elk hunting trip he made in the Northern Rockies. The pictures were good and the views inspiring.

Report of the regular monthly club directors meeting was read by Secretary Lane, and ratified by the club.

Dr. J. Gordon Stewart was a guest of the day. Tall-twister Tunney Kent assumed the duties of his office with precision and results.

FAVORS REPORTS ON HISTORIC SESSION

Worried only about the prospects of making a living, Rep. Ennis Favours of Pampa returned home this week from a historic and record-breaking session of the Texas Legislature, which adjourned Independence Day after 145 days in regular session. Rep. Favours' employment worries are based on the fact that his pay stopped with adjournment of the regular session, and will not start again until January, 1943, unless a special session is called.

The Legislature managed to pass a historic group of bills during its session, longest in Texas history. Among these, in addition to the largest single tax bill ever passed by the body, were measures raising the legal load limit to 38,000 pounds, tightening up on drivers' license rule, enlarging state institutions for care of insane, curbing strikes in Texas industries, and prohibiting appropriations out of

JOHNSON ACCEPTS ELECTION VOTE AS CANVASSED

Washington, July 16—In good sportsman manner, Congressman Lyndon B. Johnson this week cheerfully accepted the official vote canvass that showed Governor V. Lee O'Daniel barely defeated him for U. S. Senator.

Johnson's sentiments were contained in a statement issued here shortly after he telegraphed congratulations to the senator-elect. It said: "I wish to repeat a statement made shortly after the official canvass of the votes cast by Texans in the senatorial race. It is: 'A public servant worthy of his hire would not preach Roosevelt and Unity all over Texas and then spend the remainder of his term fighting and contesting before an overburdened senate for the 18 months' job.'"

"A year from now there is another decision to be made. "I accept cheerfully the official results certified Monday at Austin that Governor O'Daniel was elected United States Senator. I shall cooperate with the new Texan Senator behind the Commander-in-Chief in meeting the defense problems ahead.

"My personal gratitude to all those who voted for me is based on the knowledge that I was an instrument for expression of their great love of country as well as their appreciation of their Commander-in-Chief and the wisdom of his course in defending their liberties and their homes."

Practically unknown outside his own district at the start of the campaign, Johnson polled 174,279 votes in a breath-taking campaign under a "Roosevelt and Unity" banner. In unofficial returns over the post-election weekend, he led the governor by more than 5,000 votes, the only candidate whom O'Daniel has ever trailed. However fleetingly, in an election count. Monday's official canvass of the returns gave O'Daniel a final lead of 1,311 votes over Johnson.

Ruth Hamm who has been visiting in Mt. Vernon, Ill., returned home last week. Her sister, Mrs. Tommy Curry and daughter, Shirley Jean, returned with her and will visit here for several days before going on to Houston where she will visit with friends.

22-Year Record For Rainfall Is In Danger As July Watermark Climbs

Rainfall in Clarendon will break a 22-year record for quantity for the first seven months in the year this year, if July precipitation records creep up another inch or so, an examination of weather observer Joe Goldston's records of rainfall during the years since 1919 discloses.

With Tuesday's shower thrown in for good measure, this year's rainfall already has raised the watermark in Mr. Goldston's gauge to the level of 23.65 inches, and about one more good rain will shoot the seven-month total above the high mark for the 22-year period of 25.12 inches in seven months. This record was set 'way back in 1925, before either the Depression or the Dust Bowl had ever been heard of by Panhandle and Donley County folks.

Rainfall this year has come on Clarendon, by months, as follows:

January	.50
February	1.80
March	2.01
April	2.80
May	6.28
June	6.89
July (to date)	3.37

Moisture fell on Clarendon 62 days since January 1. Mr. Goldston's records show, with May and June accounting for the major portion of that total. In May, the sun got just an even break, with rain falling 15 out of 30 days, while June was just a bit drier with only 14 days or nights.

But back to the records of past years for some figures which might serve to settle some arguments or revive the memories of long-time residents about pre-Dust Bowl weather in these parts:

In 1919, rainfall through July 31 was 17.24 inches; in 1920, 12.08; in 1921, 20.24 1921 may be remembered by some as the year when it rained so much in June—that month holds the record for the period with 11.37 inches. 1922 rainfall during the period was 16.11 inches; 1923, 14.14; 1924, 11.52; 1925, 25.12; 1926, 17.85; 1927, 6.97; and 1928, 17.91. The following year, 1929, marked the beginning of a downgrade in rainfall, probably the same dry season which lead in later years to Dust Bowl conditions all over the Plains area. Rainfall for that year was 12.12 inches; in 1930, 10.67; 1931, 11.02; 1932, 12.52, and 1933, 5.34. Mr. Goldston's records do not include a month-by-month tabulation for years from 1933 to the present, but residents of this area do not need figures to recall to mind the dry years of that Dust Bowl period, which seems to have come to an end, at least temporarily, this year, when "too much rain" is being heard from farm areas for the first time in many, many years.

AUDITORIUM PROSPECTS 1941

It seems that in the rehabilitation of the tornado-damaged buildings of Clarendon Junior College and High School, there is a bare possibility that an enlarged and modernized auditorium can be constructed as a part of the Administration building.

For many years Clarendon has suffered from the lack of an adequate auditorium for school and college purposes and for the community uses, as well. If the board is fortunate enough in shaving building costs in other respects so that this need can be realized, we may congratulate ourselves, that out of the cost and sacrifice of the storm of June 9th, will come a real benefit.

An auditorium under the supervision of the school, would come as a real boon to the community, for an auditorium, like so many other community facilities, must have a proper and responsible supervision, else it might become a burden and a nuisance.

An enlarged and modernized auditorium in connection with our schools would be counted among the outstanding civic achievements of 1941. May it be realized.

UNITED CIVIC ACTION NEEDED

In conversation with a Clarendon banker a few days back, he told this writer that in his opinion, our community needed more united action—more unanimous effort toward community and county-wide progress.

The News accepts this opinion, with one reservation. By such a statement there is no admission that there have been any serious differences on local problems, for such is not the case. What we have suffered from is a lassitude and inertia which has prevented aggressive community movement necessary in these days of keen rivalry and competition between towns and counties.

We need a more united civic spirit and action—and the unanimous personal interest and backing that will guarantee the success of our adopted projects.

To this desirable end, let us all give of our time, our thinking and our efforts.

ICELAND'S AMERICAN OCCUPATION

One of the smartest moves of the Administration for national security, was the occupation of Iceland. In spite of the jingoists who claim that it will put us in a "shooting war", the fact remains that it is in the Western Hemisphere—check it up on a globe, if you don't think so—and we cannot leave any valuable defensive base unoccupied in this Hemisphere if we would be safe.

When Britain occupied Iceland, Hitler blazed and declared that it was in the Western Hemisphere, and an intrusion on the spirit of the Monroe Doctrine, thereby stumbling into one of the isolated truths he has uttered since he embarked on his effort to enslave the world. Now he calls our occupation an invasion of the Eastern Hemisphere and an attack on Europe.

We need more enterprising and daring movements if we are to survive and shape the freedom of the world of tomorrow.

Economic Highlights

Happenings That Affected the Dinner Pails, Dividend Checks and Tax Bills of Every Individual. National and International Problems Inseparable From Local Welfare.

What is probably the most authoritative criticism of the government's handling of the defense program, has recently appeared. It came from the House of Representatives' Military Affairs Committee. Sixteen members of this Committee voted to publish the report, while nine voted to suppress it.

The report criticizes, among others, Secretary Ickes "for putting petty quarrels above national interests," to use David Lawrence's phrase. This criticism is based on the Interior Secretary's handling of the aluminum problem. To quote the report directly, "The aluminum industry relies on power—electric power. Unwillingness of some government officials to provide hydroelectric energy from government dams in such an emergency as exists today is at least shortsighted. Whatever the merits of any controversy between so-called 'monopolies' and the Administration, it is the sense of this Committee that a squabble at this time on the subject of monopoly is a tragic and sorry spectacle." The report also largely absolves the aluminum interests of blame

YOO-HOO TEMPEST IN A TEAPOT

It is no complimentary commentary on the seriousness and depth of congressional and popular mind in America that the "Yoo-Hoo" disciplinary episode over in Arkansas, brought out a wasteful use of valuable time in Congress, and a useless waste of National time and attention.

If we are going to get ready for eminent, all-out defense of Democracy and American institutions, it is not going to pay us to nose-in on minute discipline administrations of our army officers, and it is going to pay us less to allow ten-thousand-dollar-a-year representatives in Congress to pre-empt costly moments in either house in seeking to personally capitalize incidents like General Lear's imposition of a penalty for gross disrespect for ladies by soldiers of his command.

We opine that the general knows his business or he wouldn't be a general. We declare that the soldiers are not softies, and as they have later testified, they "can take it". America would be in a heck of a mess, if either of the above statements were not true.

The News doesn't charge that Congress has never before indulged in trivialities. It has, but is time to stop.

America needs better discipline in its armed forces. It needs more attention to serious business by its Congress, and all the people. "Yoo-Hooing" doesn't come under the head of serious national business.

for inadequate production, when it says: "All testimony before this Committee was to the effect that the Aluminum Company of America not only used its own money for expansion, and lowered the price, but of its own initiative trebled its production."

Far more important is the section of the report which says by inference, that the Administration has harmed the national defense effort by refusing to sidetrack political projects which are unnecessary and unwise at this time. To quote directly again, the House Committee says: "Emphasis over the last few years has been made on social reform rather than national security. As a nation, we seem to have forgotten that without national security, social reform might well prove meaningless."

So the country has been given high official authority to back up the many and varied criticisms of the handling of defense that have been made by economists, business men and others who have no connection with the government. The report cites a long list of cases which prove in its opinion, that the Administration failed to assist maximum expansion of our productive facilities. It criticizes the Administration also for failing to coordinate the defense effort "under a single responsible head." It believes, in other words, that there has been too much division of responsibility, and that the men charged with various major defense jobs have not been given the powers that are necessary to achieving maximum results in a minimum of time.

This does not mean that our defense program has bogged down. The obvious truth is that noteworthy progress has been made in many fields, especially that of airplane production. By comparison with the last war, we are doing very well. But, in the view of almost all experts, that is not enough. The arms that were needed to equip a field army in 1917 would scarcely equip a division today. This is a war of machines, and the nation which gets the most from its industrial plant will probably be the victor. The fact that potentially we can outproduce all other powers will do us small service if the limit of output is not secured.

Very strong pressure is now being exerted on the White House to abandon social reforms for the duration of the emergency, and to coordinate the whole defense drive under one head, as was done in the last war. Some think that Mr. Roosevelt is at last coming toward the view that this must be done again now. In the meantime, criticism such as that of the

ERNEST HUNT GETS SOME FINE RODEO ACTION PICTURES

Among our camera hobbyists Ernest Hunt got some shots at the Celebration rodeo here, of which he is justly proud, and they mark him as having stepped up his skill in no small degree in the past year or so. If you are lucky enough to get a look at his pictures you will see a number of action pictures that many a Hollywood camera "pro-fesh" would be boastful of.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Darnell of Vigo Park are visiting this week with Crockett Taylor.

NOT ALL PIONEERS RODE IN COVERED WAGONS . . .

● Establishing and maintaining a Dependable Natural Gas Service requires years of pioneering—in exploring for Gas fields, drilling and producing Gas, and bringing it to market—often under the most difficult working conditions.

● The covered wagon pioneers were famed for their resourcefulness, their pluck and determination to succeed. The story of the development of Natural Gas Service is likewise one of courage, persistence, and accomplishment in the face of odds.

● And the pioneering is not ended. The employes of this Company and associated Companies are constantly at it . . . exploring new fields, far from home and comfort . . . "roughnecking" on drilling location . . . building pipe lines through forest and swamp . . . all to help perfect and preserve the reliability of our service and make it available to still wider markets.

COTTON ACREAGES BEING CHECKED BY AAA CREWS

Donley County cotton acreage was being measured this week by AAA crews, who were checking on compliance of farmers with AAA quota allotment regulations as a preliminary to the opening next month of the Cotton Stamp Plan on a county-wide basis.

The Cotton Stamp plan rewards cotton farmers for reduced cotton acreages by paying them Cotton Stamps, which are good as cash on the purchase of manufactured cotton goods. Each farmer's allotment of Cotton Stamps will be based on the acreage reduction of cotton land on his property, as shown by the measurements of land now being taken, over his 1941 allotment or his 1940 crop, whichever is larger.

Measuring crews went to work last week, it was reported by Walter J. Flynt, county ACA secretary, and an increased crew will continue measuring until all cotton acreage in the county has been recorded. The job ought to take about four weeks, Mr. Flynt said, but farmers in the county who are eligible may begin receiving their Cotton Stamps about August 1.

More than $5000 in stamps has been sent to the local ACA head already, and several times that amount likely will be given out by the time all farmers have applied for and received their share.

Application blanks for the stamps are available now at Mr. Flynt's office in the county agent's building in Clarendon, and farmers who wish to get in their applications ahead of the first issuing date may do so now, provided their land has been measured.

COTTON ACREAGE IN TEXAS OVER 8,352,000 ACRES

Cotton acreage in cultivation in Texas on July 1, 1941, is estimated by the Crop Reporting Board of the United States Department of Agriculture to be 8,352,000 acres. The acreage on July 1, 1940, was 8,873,000 acres and the 10-year (1930-39) average acreage was 12,542,000 acres. Assuming a 10-year (1931-40) average abandonment of 2.5 percent, the area to be harvested this year will be approximately 8,143,000 acres, compared with 8,472,000 acres harvested in 1940.

Frequent and heavy rains throughout the preparation and planting season have made this one of the most difficult seasons from the standpoint of getting crops up, chopped and out of the grass. In all districts, including the irrigated acreage in extreme West Texas and the Plains country in the Northwest, planting and cultivation have been hampered by the excessive rains. The unfavorable conditions have resulted in some intended acreage not being planted, some loss from floods, general lateness and unusual variation in stages of development within communities.

Moisture is ample in the Northwest and favorable for rapid development of the crop, but a considerable acreage remained to be planted in late June. All areas were needing open, sunny weather for proper development and fruiting and to facilitate cultivation. The first report on the condition of the crop and probable production will be made August 8.

For the United States the estimated acreage of cotton standing July 1, 1941, is 23,519,000 acres, compared with 24,871,000 acres on July 1 last year, and a ten-year (1930-39) average planted area of 23,952,000 acres.

Side Glances On Texas History

By CHARLES O. HUCKER
University of Texas Library

The Texas Mustang In Easy (?) Lessons

That the wild mustangs which overran Texas in the days of its early settlement were wiry and wily creatures of the prairie is a fact that everyone knows anything about the state's early history thinks of as obvious. One gentleman, however, and with good reason—went so far as to remark that "the wit of the country appears to be largely invested in the horses."

This somewhat cynical gentleman was the author of a little anonymous book titled "A Visit to Texas" which was published in New York in 1834 and from which the quoted observation is taken. A copy of the now rare little book is in the Textbook Collection of the University of Texas Library.

Now our author spoke from experience; for, although when he reached Texas early in the 1830's he knew only enough about the Texas mustang to profess that in the future it might become "a valuable article of export," he soon bought one of his own—a small white one, newly broken in—and quickly learned the real facts of mustang life.

He Loses No Time

The very first morning, for instance, he had his first lesson in mustang temperament—an experience which immediately "laid the axe at the root of all that confidence and attachment which a traveler loves to exercise towards his horse." He was trying to lead it onto a ferry boat on the Brazos River when suddenly it "sprung at me like lightning, clearing the ground entire, and making a leap of about eight feet. I jumped aside and barely in time to avoid his feet, with which it seemed to me he designed to beat me down," the author wrote.

Having had his confidence thus shaken at the beginning, he found it utterly dispersed by two incidents that immediately followed: One, when the "little flying brute" broke away in the middle of a vast prairie and led him a four-hour chase; the other, when it dropped to its knees without warning, threw him over its head into a swamp and made him lead it, the remainder of his journey, a distance of thirty miles. At last then he realized that his mount was quite an "accomplished rogue" and even more than that—a very demon incarnate.

A Round-Up

The extreme versatility of the horse was not apparent, however, until near the end of the author's stay in Texas, when he participated in a friend's round-up. The little mustang knew the business far better than the rider and—apparently having determined "to show me how impudent and provoking a mustang can be under the mask of faithful and untiring service"—proceeded gleefully to do as he pleased, jerking to and fro after stray cattle so quickly as almost to throw the author into the midst of the herd. "I thought for some time that I should never get my bones back whole to Anahuac," he wrote.

Already he had come to regard his demoniacal mount with considerable awe, but this evidence of its extreme cleverness and utter irresponsibility was too much. When he was ready to leave for the United States he very probably was more than glad to part with it for twenty dollars—saddle, bridle and all.

100 Years Ago In Texas

"We hope our subscribers will bear with as much patience as possible, the disappointment in not receiving their papers by the last mail. The fault was not ours. It was owing to the carelessness, or something worse, of the Postmaster in this city. We suppose, however, he has his reasons for not sending them; inasmuch as the mails, at east some of them, did not leave until some fifteen hours after the papers were placed in the post office; and from his attempting afterwards to conceal the fact of the papers not being sent. We will endeavor to prevent the like happening again."

"The 'Weekly Galvestonian' of the 9th of June, as an evidence of Gen Houston's popularity, says, that 'four-fifths of the newspapers in the Republic, have declared in his favor.' Now, what is the fact? Out of the ten newspapers at present published in the Republic, the two small sheets of Galveston city; the Red Lander, of San Augustine; the Gazette, of this city; and the little thing of Matagorda, containing the Fat Boy's lamentations, in all, six, have hoisted this flag, with an aggregate circulation of much less than the Telegraph alone, and not one-fourth of its influence. It is the moral weight of the press in

FARMERS ALLOWED TO CUT DOWN ON EXCESS ACREAGE

It is permissible for Donley County cotton producers to dispose of cotton to comply with the supplementary cotton program to bring their acreage reduction in line with the reduction indicated on their intention sheets, Walter J. Flynt, Secretary of the Donley County AAA committee, has announced.

This is made possible, Flynt explained, by the recent amendment to the 1941 Agricultural Conservation program which provides that acreage will not be considered as planted to cotton if the cotton is disposed of before reaching the bolting stage or within 10 days after the notice of the seeded acreage is given, whichever is later.

"Under no circumstances, however, may a cotton producer receive cotton stamps for reducing more acreage than he signed on his original intention sheet on the cotton stamp program," Flynt said.

"To make this ruling clearer," Flynt said, "assume, just for illustration to bring out my point, that a cotton producer has a 1941 cotton allotment of 50 acres, planted 50 acres in 1940, and to receive cotton stamps, indicated a reduction of 2 acres. This would permit 48 acres to be planted to cotton for this year. However, when the cotton acreage was measured, he showed 49 acres planted. He would be allowed to dispose of 1 acre to come within his intended 48 acres but he would not receive cotton stamps on more than 2 acres since this was the amount signed on his original intention sheet."

Under the original definition of cotton, the acreage of cotton disposed of below the acreage allotment would still be classified as acreage planted to cotton. The amendment also provides that if cotton is seeded but does not reach maturity, the smaller of (1) the acreage seeded to the community, which ought alone to be counted, not the little village machines, both destitute of circulation and intellect."—The Texas Centinel (Austin), July 7, 1841.

BEAT SUMMER HEAT WITH SALT DOCTOR ADVISES

Austin, Texas—If your work is such that it causes excessive perspiration, add a pinch of ordinary table salt to each drink of water you take to help prevent heat cramps. This is advised by Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, to prevent a possible increase in the number of heat victims as the Texas thermometer hits 95 degrees and above. Laborers, mechanics, farmers and white collar workers whose work causes them to sweat profusely, are in danger of having their body salt content become deficient with resulting heat cramps or heat fog. Salt is a prominent constituent of sweat; the body may lose as high as 40 to 50 grams of salt during hot days.

In industry, a method of preventing heat cramps is to take a tablet of pure salt or mixture of salt and dextrose with each drink of water. Workmen whose duties require muscular exertion should be especially careful to add more than the usual amount of salt to what they eat and drink.

Salt deficiency may be prevented by taking salt in various ways. Where prepared tablets are not available, table salt may be added to each drink of water. Milk is a source of salt and will help to make up for the deficiency caused by sweating. Alcoholic drinks should be avoided.

Heat cramp is characterized by pains (cramps) in the abdominal region, headache, and in severe cases, by nausea and vomiting. The body temperature remains about normal, likewise the pulse rate; but salt losses occur without the knowledge of the individual until there is a deficiency; then the abdominal muscles begin to cramp.

Vitamins Called Out For Health Defense

By BETTY BARCLAY

Draftee number 1 on the nation's food defense program is Mr. Vitamin. The daily glass of orange juice and the daily salad take on new importance in the light of our nation's need for better food for better national health.

Draft boards are finding young men unfit for service, often as a result of malnutrition. The nation's attention is centering again on this condition which came to light with the first World War.

It's up to the women in the home to help here, for they buy the food and plan the meals. The rule to follow is—be sure your food is giving you and your family an adequate supply of the elements needed, especially those vitamins which are not stored by the body but must be eaten every day.

One of these vitamins—vitamin B—is being added under government supervision to breads and other cereal products. Vitamin B is found naturally in certain other foods, such as oranges, yeast and peanut butter.

Vitamin C is another vitamin that the body does not store. Most important every day sources of this vitamin are the citrus fruits—oranges and lemons. These fruits are fortunately available every day in the year, for growers in California have discovered that the near-tropical climate of that state permits the growing and harvesting of these fruits all year round.

In the winter and early spring months, the Washington Navel orange comes to market. It is course the building and ownership of small homes of sound value and quality in the popular-priced field. This will supply a real demand for quality homes at low cost.

This home was designed by the Home Planning Department of Wm. Cameron & Co., Inc. and is one of more than fifty attractive home designs created especially for the Southwest and offered exclusively to Cameron customers.

The general construction work is being done by John M. Bass. Sub-contractors are: Speed Brothers, concrete installations and Ralph Decker, painting, decorating and paper hanging. Furniture and furnishings for the open-house week will be provided by Clarendon Furniture Company.

In keeping with Clarendon's long-established policy of providing good-quality materials at the lowest possible cost, a policy based on a seventy-three years of home-building service in the Southwest, the "TEXAN" will be built of materials equaling, and in most instances exceeding, the quality standards set up by the Federal Housing Administration. The FHA has already issued a commitment to insure the mortgage upon completion of construction, and FHA inspectors will be on hand to inspect and approve the construction as it proceeds.

The materials, in addition to FHA-approved sound-quality lumber, include the famous Step-Saving IDEAL Flawless Kitchen and other IDEAL Built-in Cabinets and Woodwork, IDEAL Windows, Doors, Screens, and other items of IDEAL Standardized Millwork. Minnesota Brand Paint was selected because of its exceptional ability to withstand the strong sunlight and other severe weather conditions of the Southwest. Choice selections of Cameron's "1941 Smash Hit" wallpapers will be used. Effective termite shields will be built into the foundation to exclude termites and all other crawling insects. This house will contain six rooms and will be of frame construction. Floors will be of oak. The roof will be of Red Cedar Shingles.

The home will be open for inspection the week of August 24, according to present plans, Mr. Wyatt said.

THIS BUSINESS OF Living

BY SUSAN THAYER

What Are We Defending?

There's a lot of talk these days about "defense." In fact, it seems sometimes as if it were the only thing people are talking about. And millions of Americans are busy in actual defense work—the men in uniforms—the thousands in defense production.

But did you ever stop to think what it is we are preparing to defend against the dangers that beset the world today?

Our country, of course! The seaports and airports—the factories of Detroit and Cleveland—the cornfields of Iowa—the oil fields of Texas.

But defense of our material resources isn't all. We're preparing to defend our kind of civilization. That's where we women come in. A good many thousands of us are working in plants and factories these days. But our biggest job is to help defend what we call the American Way of Life, which assures us the right to say what we please, as we please, when we please . . . to go to the church of our choice . . . the right to elect the men and women who govern us and, finally, the right to produce and do business according to the principles of free enterprise.

It was our system of free private enterprise that enabled us to develop this vast continent and build up in less than 200 years the highest standard of living the world has ever known. It is the same adaptable system that is enabling us now to build armaments at a much higher rate of speed than they did in the countries of regimented economy . . . and this same free enterprise will enable us to adjust ourselves, with the least possible disturbance, to the post-war period when we can turn once more to the production of peacetime commodities and lift our standard of living still higher.

Actually, our way of life—with its basis freedoms of worship, of speech, of press and assembly, of representative democracy and free private enterprise—will be more difficult to protect in the days to come than our towering cities and our rich countryside. To defend it we must mobilize not only our military and industrial power but our state of mind . . . our faith in this heritage of freedom which has been handed down to us from our ancestors who fought for it . . . our determination to keep it at all costs. And that is where we women have our biggest part to play. We are natural morale-builders in our homes and in our communities. If we women have implicit faith in the American Way of Life, and talk and act that faith, then this government "of the people, by the people, for the people shall not perish from the earth."

TEXAS OUT-O'-DOORS

Dove Seasons Indefinite

AUSTIN, Texas, July 17—Replying to numerous inquiries concerning dates for the opening of the dove season and dove hunting regulations, the executive secretary of the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster Commission, has announced that definite information cannot be furnished immediately due to the fact that federal regulations on mourning and white-wing doves have not yet been released. The state law was set during the recent session of the legislature. It is hoped that federal seasons and regulations will conform.

The seasons and regulations as established by state law must not be confused with the federal regulations, which probably will be announced within a month. State regulations and seasons are somewhat different than they were last year. The shooting in the northern zone will start Sept. 1 and end October 31. The remainder of the state, with the exception of a section in southwest Texas, will shoot from Sept. 15 to Nov. 15.

In the southwest area of Webb, Zapata, Starr, Hidalgo, Willacy, and Cameron counties the season will be shorter. It opens Sept. 15 and closes a month later, on Oct. 15, and hunting will be allowed only on Sundays, Tuesdays and Thursdays. The shorter season and staggering shooting of only three days each week was deemed necessary to help the white-wing doves, which are more scarce than mourning doves. A small area along the border has been made a sanctuary and no hunting will be allowed there.

In the six-county area of southwest Texas hunting will be allowed only from noon to sunset. In the remainder of the state hunting will be legal from 7 a. m. until sunset.

The daily bag limit is twelve white-wings or mourning doves or an aggregate of 12 both. The possession limit is the same as the daily bag limit. Shotguns larger than 10 gauge are prohibited and all shotguns used in dove hunting must be plugged to a three-shell capacity. However, the Game Department is reminding hunters that these are state regulations and federal regulations to be announced may differ.

Fish Didn't Have A Chance

A six-pound yellow cat which lived in the Llano River proved too piggy for his own good and, as a result, honors of catching him go to two youngsters. The fish took both their hooks at about the same time.

The boys, Vernon Gavitt, 11 and Jim Merkel, 12, were fishing in the river in the city of Llano. They were using pole and line. Suddenly each felt a jerk on his line and started hauling it. They soon found the same catfish had hooks from each line firmly embedded in its mouth. The boys, according to the Austin American-Statesman, nearly lost the fish when one line broke when the cat was near the bank. Young Merkel grabbed the prize with his hand and received several bad cuts from the fish's fins.

Ticks Killing Deer
 Ticks are so abundant in the piney woods of east Texas that they are killing deer this summer, a biologist of the Game Department has reported to the executive secretary. Keepers of several hunting clubs along the Neches River have found fawns killed by ticks. It is not unusual to find deer so decimated by ticks that these deer can easily be run down by dog or man. In other instances ticks create open sores, particularly around the ears and eyelids. These sores are easily infected with screw worms, and eventually result in the death of deer.

Gulf Has Sailfish Sport
 How plentiful are sailfish in the Gulf of Mexico off Texas? That question is being pondered by many experts on the coast. Several have reached the conclusion that there are many more of the sporty sailfish than it has been thought. They declare there has not been enough fishing for them to establish Texas' Gulf waters as a sailfish center. Royal Ferris' performance recently renewed talk of sailfish. That sportsman came in with a pair of huge sails recently. One measured seven feet, six inches and the other seven feet.

Pass Hips Fishing
 The cutting of the pass through Padre Island at Muddock's Landing by the Game Department has produced another ideal spot for fishermen. Catches of trout, red and pike are rather consistent at the pass, according to reports from the coast. The pass was cut by the Game Department's dredge, A.E. to keep the lower Laguna Madre from becoming too saline for fish.

INFLATION MAY BE NECESSARY SOON ECONOMIST SAYS

COLLEGE STATION, July 17.—Enough controls are available to check inflation in this country during development of the armament program, but the vigor of their application will be limited within the boundaries set by public opinion, according to W. E. Morgan, economist of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service.

Inflation means a rise in the general price level. If enough of the increased consumer buying power, entailed by expanding employment and rising wages, could be siphoned off so that the amount left for spending stays in line with the supply of consumer goods, there would be no reason for prices to get out of hand. To do this the government could take the surplus buying power in the form of taxes, or it could be saved and loaned to the government. Alternate methods are direct price controls and rationing of consumption.

"While public opinion now seems to favor government action to prevent inflation," Morgan explains, "such action will require individual sacrifices which many persons have not considered. When some of the more stringent controls are applied, with consequent reduction in consumer buying power, many persons will prefer to take chances with inflation rather than undergo the immediate cost of preventing it."

It is not likely people of this country would adjust themselves easily to the burden of diverting one half or more of the national income, as in Britain and Germany, to the war effort, Morgan says. To the public's unwillingness to assume the full burden of maintaining an elaborate military machine without a few years to think it over add the fact that it is humanly impossible to foresee all the changes in fiscal policy which future events will prove to have been desirable.

"This leads to the conclusion that a certain amount of price inflation in the United States is inevitable, but it should not be too difficult to hold it far below the limits to which it went in the first world war. If the current defense effort can be managed in such a way as to hold the price level fairly close to its present position the dislocations in economic activity which will occur in any event, will be greatly minimized."

FARMERS ADVISED TO DISPOSE OF RUINED COTTON

"It might be advisable", Walter J. Flynt, secretary of the Donley AAA committee has announced, "that in cases where Donley county cotton producers will suffer total or partial loss of their 1941 cotton crops because of excessive rains, insects or abandonment, to dispose of the acreage on which cotton will not be harvested."

In explaining this point, Flynt said that a high acreage of cotton with a low lint yield per acre because of factors such as these, will, in all probability, affect cotton yields on individual farms under the 1940 agricultural conservation program and probably will have a direct effect on cotton insurance since an extremely low yield might affect premium rates.

Producers should remember, however, that acreage will be considered as planted to cotton this year if the cotton is not disposed of before it reaches the bolls stage or within 10 days after notice of the seeded acreage is given, whichever is later. This would not change the basis for cotton stamps to be issued on a farm since cotton stamps cannot be obtained on more acres than was shown on the original intention sheet.

Texans On Range Tour In Idaho

Texas ranchmen and AAA officials who attended the recent National AAA Range Conference and Tour in Idaho inspected range conservation work in that state and compared it with work done in their home state. Here Charles McCann, ranchman from Victoria, extreme left, is seen with M. C. Puckett, ranchman and state AAA committeeman from Fort Stockton, R. M. Evans, national AAA administrator, and Howard T. Kingsbery, ranchman and state committeeman from Santa Anna.

A noted Texas criminal lawyer was defending a man accused of stealing an automobile. "This boy", the perspiring advocate said in conclusion, "is as innocent as a new-born babe; he is as pure as the dewdrop that sparkles at morn on the petals of a rose."

While the jury was deliberating, the attorney went over to his hotel room to put on a fresh shirt and when he felt for his watch, he remembered that he had put it on the table in court so he would not speak beyond his allotted time. Hurrying back to the courtroom, he found only two or three spectators and the only man inside the rail was his client—and the watch wasn't there.

The lawyer said, "Bill, you thieving blankety-blank, give me my watch!"

(As a matter of fact, the attorney's partner had taken charge of the time-piece).

All the testimony has been submitted in a murder trial out in west Texas. The judge told the lawyers for both sides:

"There will be no time limit for argument; each lawyer can take as long as he wishes."

One attorney, noted for his booming voice and his liking for speech-making, said:

"From here on, it's a battle of wits."

"You're half right", murmured this columnist, at the press table.

About people you know: Tom King, who recently completed his second term as State Auditor, is leaving Austin and returning to Dallas, his former home, to re-engage in his profession of public accounting. . . E. F. Woodward is one of the best known marksmen in Texas, recently hitting 199 out of 200 targets in the state trapshoot. . . Rep. Mack Allison of Stephenville has made a remarkable record for a first-termer, being author of an orchard and nursery bill which assures the public stock free from disease, author of a bill for two new dormitories at John Terleton College and of three bills affecting Hood and Erath Counties. He supported the omnibus tax bill, truck load limit bill, anti-strike bill and the bill helping farmers by clarifying the carriers' act. This columnist used to know Rep. Allison as a rural school teacher in Eastland County, and a mighty enterprising one, too.

A reader sends in the following, asserting that it is actually a copy of the Texas Dutchman's (the names have been changed): I am writing of my will mine-sister that des lawyer went he should have to much money he ask to many answers about the family. DALHART—The official opening of the Rita Blanca Lake, Sunday, will be the most colorful and complete of any lake opening to date with a day crowded with thrilling and interesting events and all free to the public.

Festivities begin Saturday night at Legion Hall when the XIT committee presents a costume dance commemorating a week of "dressing up" campaign, preparing for the XIT Celebration. At 2:30 o'clock the Honorable Marvin Jones, former congressman of the Panhandle and now a federal judge, will be principal speaker of the dedication ceremonies. Representing the government on the program will be H. H. Finner, A. W. Fanning, Alan F. Furman, W. J. Caserta and Wilson Cowan, the man who drafted the Panhandle Lakes law. 34,500 MEN LISTED IN REGISTRATION ON JULY 1

Total Selective Service registration in Texas on July 1 was 34,530. General J. Watt Page, State Director, announced today following tabulation of reports received from the State's 351 local boards.

Senators At Play

IF I WERE TWENTY-ONE

I would understand that though a great American has said that opportunity knocks but once that opportunity is knocking all the time in all lives where there is any brain power cooperating with the physical strength.

I have often read of young men and young women inheriting fortunes from their kindred. I never have heard of such fortunes doing permanent service to those who came into possession of them.

I would not be ambitious to build a home half as big as a township. I would not do this if I had the money. I would not put this in my plan.

I would not be moving every month of the year. I would not object to my habitation having a name. I would think it were a delight to remember the old trees and the grass.

I would not be repudate a debt. I would never lie to anybody. I'd know something about the sky. I would know all that science could tell about the beginning of everything.

I would attend all patriotic celebration. I would not object to belonging to social clubs but I would remember that my home was the
