First Snow Light But Real Chiller

Our first snow of the season blew in Tuesday morning and was a real chiller even though the temperature didn't drop any great amount and the snow only measured .10 inch of moisture. The high temperature Tuesday was a cold 31 degrees, and the low Wednesday morning was 23 degrees. December has started out a little better than November with a total of .17 inch of moisture recorded to date. This type of weather is rough on livestock and has brought the cotton harvest to a stand still.

NEW CONSERVATION STAMP TO BE ISSUED

Conservation leaders here are looking forward to issuance of the world's first range conservation postage stamp by the Post Office Department in Salt Lake City, Utah, Bland Draper, local Soil Conservation Service man, said today.

The commemorative 4-cent stamp, printed in 3 colors, will be issued February 2 at the American Society of Range Management's annual meeting at Salt Lake City.

The stamp will go on sale at the post office here on the following day, February 3.

The stamp is in two parts. One part is a reproduction of the famous drawing, "Trail Boss," by Charles Russell, the distinguished artist of western life. The other part shows a modern range conservation scene.

The new stamp, Draper said, symbolizes the development of range conservation from the pioneer days of the open range to today's scientific management techniques.

Those who are interested in a "first-day cover," a souvenir envelope, can mail addressed envelopes plus a money order or certified check for the number of stamps required to the postmaster at Salt Lake City, Utah, who will place the range conservation stamp on the envelopes, cancel with a special cancellation mark used only on that day and at that place, and mail as addressed anywhere in the country, Draper pointed out.

LOCALS DONATE GRAIN TO BOYS RANCH

Ray J. Noblitt informed the Leader yesterday that a number of local citizens and business firms along with local elevators had donated 23,000 pounds of grain to feed stock at Boys Ranch.

He said additional grain would probably be donated to finish out a big truck load. Grain donations are beginning to shape up similar to the beef club that furnishes the beef each year for the ranch, Noblitt stated. Approximately 1/2 million pounds of grain is required to feed the animals each year at the ranch and it certainly is a help when this grain is donated through small contributions by individuals over the entire area, he added.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Scott have returned home from Lubbock where they attended the funeral of her brother, Jodie Kee.

HOSPITAL NOTES

Patients as of Wed., Dec. 7th: Judy Thompson, Mrs. J. F. Roberts, Mrs. Margaret Dishman, Miss Mary Howren, Fannie Reynolds.

In the past only a very few farmers have voted — and those few determine what happens to YOU — Make this year different — You help decide what kind of program you'll have by voting in the December 13th from 8:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m.

Report Practice Promptly—1960 ACP

The 1960 fund drive for the Boy Scouts of America that was conducted in the Clarendon area, has been closed. DIMINISHING RETURN

A tax can reach a point of diminishing return. In other words, it can become so excessive that it produces less and less revenue, and thus defeats its purpose. That, a the president of the National Gasoline Association of America now points out, may be true of the gasoline tax.

The history of this tax can be fairly described as one of more and more gouging of the consumer. From 1949 through 1959 there were 62 separate state tax increases, plus a rise of from 1.5 cents to 4 cents a gallon in the federal tax. This totaled an overall jump of more than 40 per cent. By way of contrast, the actual price of gasoline at the pump rose only 4.5 per cent—making the rate of gasoline tax increase nine times that of the gasoline itself.

The result is that the American motorist has become gasoline price conscious to a greater degree than ever before. And he too often blames the oil industry, whereas the true blame belongs to government. That aside, he is expressing his resentment in a highly practical way. The new "compact" cars — which are primarily bought for economy reasons — are accounting for 25 per cent of this year's domestic car production. In addition, there will be about two million small foreign economy cars in this country by the end of the year. This trend has led to the prediction that by 1964 annual gasoline sales will be 4,500,000,000 gallons less than would have been the case if compacts were not in the picture. And what that will do to gasoline tax revenue to government is certainly obvious.

You can lead a horse to water but you can't make him drink. You can increase gasoline taxes to any level, but you can't stop motorists from economizing.

According to Chain Store Age, more specific new drugs have been released in the past 20 years than in all previous medical history. About 80 per cent of prescriptions written today are for drugs that did not exist 10 years ago. The magazine credits heavy investments by drug manufacturers in research — which has totaled about $1 billion in the last decade — as the main cause of this avalanche of medical discoveries.

The refreshment table was laid with a red linen cloth and a centerpiece featuring a tiered arrangement of white chrysanthemums and red carnations with red satin ribbon. Silver appointments and the silver service completed the setting. Misses Frances Mann, Martha Jo Risley, Jackie McClellan, and Frances Wallace presided alternately at the table.

A soft musical background throughout the evening was provided by Misses Judy Thompson and Frances Wallace at the piano.

Hostesses for the courtesies were Mesdames L. L. Wallace, James Gouldy, P. C. Messer, Victor Smith, Lloyd Risley, George Thompson, H. M. Breedlove, Glenn Wallace and C. A. Pitts.

Approximately forty guests registered and a number who were unable to attend sent gifts. Out-of-town guests included Mrs. Garvin McCaskill Mrs. Ruth Barnett, and Mrs. G. S. Witt, all of Amarillo; also Mrs. George Henry and Mrs. Carl Daves of Wellington.

ASHTOLA TO HAVE XMAS PROGRAM FRIDAY

Everyone is invited to come to the Ashtola Community Center Friday night, Dec. 9th, at 7:00 p.m. for the Christmas celebration. We are inviting every community, our town, everyone. All are urged to attend and make it a Christmas jubilee — a county-wide old fashioned get-together for a holiday supper.

There will be a program, singing, readings, etc., in which our talent will be assisted by people of Clarendon and Chamberlain Community.

Everyone bring a well filled basket for the supper — enough for your party and two extra.

Each person attending bring a gift for the tree. The gifts will be numbered and drawn. Each lady bring a gift for a lady and so specify on the package. Each man bring a package for a man. These adult gifts are to cost about a dollar. Bring a child's gift for each child, cost 10c. The community center will furnish a sack of goodies for each child present.

Some of our ladies worked Sunday afternoon and Wednesday night at the center preparing the decorations for the party and tree.

Plan now to meet your friends at this county-wide Xmas party Friday night, Dec. 9th. —Rep.

The man of distinction in Japan is the man who plays golf, according to reports of visitors to that country. Contrary to the custom in the U.S., where secretaries cover up with "in conference" reports when the boss is on the golf course, Japanese secretaries report their bosses' whereabouts with great pride.

The fact that he is playing golf means that he has, in a sense, arrived — and is indeed "a man of distinction."

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 18TH DISTRICT

By Congressman Walter Rogers

THE DARK CONTINENT

No area on the face of the earth today presents more of a question mark than the burgeoning, teeming continent of Africa. To most of us, the territory has presented an impression for many years of a place where our missionaries work and endure untold hardships, and a place overrun with wild animals and primitive peoples. In a manner of speaking, it is difficult for some of us to realize the continent is assuming a position of such importance that its present and future determinations could spell the difference in the concepts of freedom or slavery in other parts of the world. This situation was brought about by the fact of the granting of independence and the privilege of self determination for virtually all the countries of the continent, starting in 1957 when Britain granted independence to Ghana. From this point a great wave of nationalism has asserted itself in every political subdivision of Africa. Certainly no one who believes in the dignity of the individual in a democracy would deny this right to any country or group of countries. Their status of readiness and ability for self-government is what poses the tremendous question in the world today. Let us look at some of the factors which contribute to the riddle.

The continent is almost four times as large as the continental United States. Because it is impossible to traverse some parts of the continent, it is difficult to accurately assess the population, which is estimated to be something over 220 million people. Literacy is also difficult to assess, but it is assumed that approximately 95 percent of the people cannot read or write. There are more than 700 languages spoken on the continent, very few of which are written at all.

The continent is rich in abundant natural resources which are principally unexploited because of the lack of capital and of the lack of qualified labor force. The natives generally eat adequately, though their diet is unbalanced and erratic. Although the countries of Ethiopia, Liberia, the Union of South Africa, and the United Arab Republic have known independence for some time, most of the African countries did not experience it until the past decade, and the bulk of them in 1960. Despite the fact that each African country has an established boundary, the chief political divisions are tribal, and the tribe is the dominant factor in African life. Their food, shelter, and welfare are sought tribally. Food is obtained principally from hunting and frays, although a few of the nomadic tribes do a small amount of cultivation and raise small herds.

In a sense, the prospect of independence is incomprehensible to the African mind, and there was considerable belief that independence would automatically solve the majority of their problems. It is difficult for the average native to understand the benefits and problems of working in a society and they cannot be employed for any length of time to become stable. Their transactions were once almost entirely by payment in kind, but have come to be principally cash, which they have little idea how to accumulate or earn. Employers have come to adopt a system they call "target employment", i.e., they hire a man to do a job where the payment will be not necessarily a certain wage or amount of cash, but whatever amount the native needs to purchase his current need. Presumably a man who wishes to buy a horse could hire out and end up chopping 40 acres of cotton in exchange, never knowing the value of his horse or of his work.

The most valuable commodity in Africa is education and one who possesses even a small amount of it is automatically set above his brothers and, in a manner of speaking, is marked for leadership. To me, this is a hopeful sign and I trust it points the way toward the future to the end that intelligent, enlightened leadership culminates in the prized right of self-assertion in democracy. Should these newborn nations hitch their wagons to the red star of communism, the tragic results would be obvious.

Baby-Sitting Tractor Drivers

"Don't Be a Baby-Sitting Tractor Driver!"

That's the startling — and vitally important — title of an article by Dick Pfister, a farm safety specialist, which appeared in the July 16 issue of the Michigan Farmer.

Since 1950, he writes, more than two dozen pre-kindergarten age children in the single state of Michigan have died in tractor accidents — and so the total for the country as a whole must be of horrifying size. Of extreme significance, 3 times as many Michigan children under 5 years of age have been killed in farm tractor accidents as have men in such age groups as 20 to 24, 30 to 34, and 40 to 44. Many of the accidents involving young children occur when the child is riding in towed equipment.

Teen-age youths also have had a bad tractor record, with a mounting toll of injury and death. The overly-young tractor driver is definitely accident-prone.

As Mr. Pfister sees it, "This farm accident problem calls for a family approach." Every member of the family should understand and recognize hazards, and help in finding ways to reduce or eliminate them.

The farm equipment people have given every effort to making their products safe. And they are safe, if properly used and maintained. But the makers can't control the users — and it's on the users that the ultimate responsibility falls.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Added to the list of lively topics for the next Legislature is the carving out of a new Congressional district.

Final figures in the national census show Texas entitled to a 23rd congressman. State's population rose 24.2 per cent — to 9,579,677 — making it the sixth with Mr. and Mrs. Carl Barker. Viola and Mike Graham came in the afternoon.

Norman Kennedy of Amarillo visited Jerry Shields Sunday. Mrs. Meyers, Mrs. Rhoades and Mrs. McDaniel were in Memphis Saturday.

Week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Mixon were Mr. and Mrs. Otis Mixon and family of Amarillo, Mr. and Mrs. Baynard Carthel and family of Plainview, and Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Turner and children.

Mr. and Mrs. John Helton spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Forest Helton in Amarillo.

Week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Self were Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Null and son, Robert Densel Oswald of Chickasha, Okla.

Mrs. W. W. Raney visited relatives in Amarillo Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hardin and Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Hillis visited Monday night with Mr. and Mrs. Ira Self.

most populous state in the nation. Even though population increase accounts for Texas' getting another representative to Congress, population will not be the sole consideration when lawmakers decide where to put the new district.

Population of Texas districts ranges widely, from about 227,000 to 614,000. It is highly unlikely that the legislature will undertake to rearrange the districts statewide so as to even out the differences. This would inconvenience too many incumbent congressmen, taking from their districts counties where they are popular and adding counties where they are unknown.

Nor is it expected that Dallas County, the state's most populous district, with 614,000, will get the extra congressman. Dallas now sends Texas only Republican to Washington, and a Democratic legislature likely will not want to create an opportunity for another GOPer to be elected.

Texas' biggest congressional district — and the nation's biggest — area-wise, is the 16th, stretching all the way from Ozone to El Paso. But if El Paso, the only metropolitan area, were taken out, what was left would be short on population for a district.

After the 1950 census, the Legislature ducked for awhile the question of what to do with the extra congressman by having him serve "at large" (the whole state). Later Harris County (Houston) was given the extra congressman. OIL FLOW UPPEP — Texas Railroad Commission has set the December oil allowable at 2,819,379 barrels a day on a nine-day producing pattern.

For the past seven months the state has been limited to eight producing days.

Independent producers, most of whom have been strong for holding production to eight days in previous months, recommended nine for December.

Earlier, TIPRO (Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners) had asked the Commission to consider whether the sharp cut-back in Texas production during the past two years actually had improved the supply situation or enabled other producing areas to grab some of Texas' share of the market.

"CONTROVERSIAL" BOOKS ADOPTED — In the enormous and often touchy job of adopting textbooks for public schools, the State Board of Education rejected one and accepted two of three books against which protests had been raised.

Board asked the publishers of the history text, "Texas and our Spanish Southwest," to correct errors before it reconsiders the book in January. Two other books criticized by J. Evetts Haley and a committee known as Texans for America were accepted by the Board.

These are "Language for Daily Use" for grades 7 and 8 and "The Stockmen's Handbook". Haley's committee said the language book was based on too limited a vocabulary and the stockmen's book was too welfare state-ish in its discussion of farm issues.

Seven books opposed by Texans for America already had been eliminated by a teacher-composed advisory committee which screens textbook offerings before they are considered by the Board of Education.

LOCAL HELP TO AGED, ILL — A plan that would divide part of the responsibilities for care of the aged and mentally ill, between state and local government, may be proposed in the next Legislature.

It would take a constitutional amendment approved by the people to put the plan into effect.

Legislative Budget Board has tentatively approved a recommendation whereby the state would split with a city, county or district the cost of such programs as out-patient care for mental patients and nursing home care for elderly patients.

It is felt that this approach might be more economical and effective for some patients. Nearly-recovered mental patients, for example, could be released from bed space at expensive state institutions and get treatment as needed from a nearby clinic.

PERJURY RULING REAFFIRMED — Court of Criminal Appeals refused to reconsider its 2-to-1 decision that former Insurance Commissioner J. Byron Saunders could not be convicted for perjury as a result of testimony before a legislative committee.

But it did not make the opinion final. Travis County District Attorney Les Proctor is filing a second motion for re-hearing in hopes of keeping the issue alive until after the first of the year.

At that time one of the members holding in Saunders' favor, Judge Lloyd Davidson, goes out of office. If incoming Judge W. T. McDonald took the other side, the scales would be tilted and Saunders' conviction upheld.

OUT-OF-STATE TAX DENIED — Texas cannot collect a tax on the premiums of an insurance policy sold to a company in Texas by an out-of-state firm not licensed to do business in Texas.

Third Court of Civil Appeals ruled that this would conflict with U.S. Supreme Court decisions now in effect. A Texas law requires purchasers of insurance from companies not licensed in Texas to pay a tax equal to 5 per cent of the premiums. This is higher than the tax on companies licensed in the state.

Appeals Court suggested hopefully that the Supreme Court might reconsider its position so that the Texas law would become valid.

SHORT STORTS — Secretary of State Zollie Steakley has issued a charter for Houston Baptist College to be built by Texas Baptists on a 200-acre site in Harris County. College is to open its doors by September, 1962. It already has a $3,000,000 endowment for buildings . . . Department of Public Safety reports a 7 per cent decrease in Texas traffic fatalities this year as compared with the same period last year. Number of death-causing accidents dropped 9 per cent . . . Some parts of Texas had the wettest October on record, and all parts of the state except the southwest portion received a above-average rainfall last month. State Board of Water Engineers reported that Corpus Christi and Victoria had the wettest October ever. Amarillo had rainfall 16.42 inches above normal by the first of October . . . Unusually heavy moisture is blamed by Texas A&M experts for the state's generally poor pecan crop this year. Horticulture Professor Dr. Ben ton J. Store says why wet weather makes bad pecans is not fully understood. Most growers just call it "blight" . . . For ranchers, however, the rainy weather is mostly good news. U.S. Department of Agriculture says Texas ranges are going into the winter in "above average" condition.

Can Our Youth Be Fooled? American youth is being wooed by the Communists.

J. Edgar Hoover of the FBI, reports: "In 1959, the Communist Party, U.S.A., launched a major campaign with youth as its target . . . The purpose . . . was to devise a program to attract young blood — teenagers, students, and working youth — to the ranks of the Party . . . The Party began operating what amounted to a regular lecture bureau, with Party spokesmen seizing every opportunity to project their views on campuses across the country."

"Further illustrating the tremendous drive the Party is making to infiltrate student groups is the agenda for a youth conference the Party held in Chicago, June 11-12, 1960. The major points on the agenda for the two-day conference were (1) 'mass developments on the campus' and (2) 'left-student developments'.

Discussed in relation to these points were ways and means by which young Communists could exploit such controversial issues on campuses, a civil rights, academic freedom, and other so-called peace issues."

The Communist threat from without must not blind us to the Communist threat from within, which, if successful, would wipe out the very things Communism professes to promote, namely, civil rights, academic freedom and peace issues.

CLARENDON

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 18TH DISTRICT

By Congressman Walter Rogers

DEAR SANTA
Dear Santa Claus:
It hardly seems possible that Christmas is here again, but the calendar reminds me that you will be making your annual trip in a very short time. In fact, we don't really need a calendar to remind us any more, because the department stores start mentioning it around Halloween.

I was just thinking how different my letters to you are than they used to be. As I remember, the things I asked you for (and which you nearly always remembered to bring me) were things that I was thrilled to have, but deep down I always knew that they were things I could do without. This year I am really hopeful that you can see your way clear to bring us some things which are really necessary for us to keep going.

One thing we would like to have very much is some foreign aid. We have sent some of this as gifts several times, but there doesn't seem to be any for domestic consumption. It occurred to me you might have some at the North Pole.

Another thing which we used to have a lot of but can't seem to locate these days is a supply of State's rights. We are not asking for a large supply because we don't want to appear selfish. In fact, they don't even have to be brand new; we would be tickled with some used ones.

When I started writing this letter, my wife told me she wanted me to ask you for a few fringe benefits or a few travelers checks, or anything else you might have which would help balance the household budget. She has already changed her mind, however, and would like instead a new arithmetic book — one of those kind which everybody seems to be using these days to balance their budget, no matter their income.

I don't know what sizes they come in, but it would be nice if you could bring us a little package of debt reductions. I would be happy with the size that would fit into my wallet, and my wife would be delighted with the handbag size. Come to think of it, those are the two places we need it most anyhow.

We could use a lot of things, but I don't want to make this letter too long because I know you have so many requests from all over the world. I know you have more calls for this from folks everywhere than for any other single thing, but I can't close this letter without telling you that we want it too more than anything else and, as you have probably already suspected, it is true world peace. I do hope that you will dispense it generously on Christmas Eve.

My neighbor just dropped by to take my order for a Christmas tree. When I told him what I was asking you for, he reminded me of something with which I wholeheartedly agree, after due reflection. It was that you can't bring us any of these things we have asked for, even though you are a kind and wonderful fellow. He says the only way we will realize these desires is to really pitch in and work for them. My wife also agrees, and we have decided we are going to do just that. Since we hope to get these things otherwise, there really isn't much need of mailing you this letter, but I am going to anyhow. You will hear from us again next year if we can still afford the postage. We wish you and Mrs. Claus a Merry Christmas, and you can certainly expect your usual fruitcake and coffee when you visit our children on Christmas Eve.

Yours very truly,
J. Americus Jones

SCHULL ABOARD USS LEXINGTON

Western Pacific (FHTNC) — Robert B. Schull, seaman apprentice, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul W. Schull of Clarendon, Tex., is serving aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Lexington operating with the Seventh Fleet in the Western Pacific. The carrier departed San Diego, Calif., Nov. 1, and is scheduled to visit Guam, the Philippines, Hong Kong and Japan during the seven-month cruise.

Mr. and Mrs. James Earl Hott of Houston announce the arrival of a daughter Nov. 24. The little miss weighed 8 lbs., 4½ oz., and is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Hott and Mrs. Ralph A. Brubaker of Hollywood, Calif. She was given the name of Lisa Gay.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvis Bentley of Amarillo announce the arrival of a daughter, Cheryl Ann, December 2. Cheryl weighed 5 lbs., 6 oz., and is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fontayne Elmore of Clarendon and Mr. and Mrs. George Bentley of Brownfield.

S-Sgt. Leeroy Todd and family are visiting in the home of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Wilkerson. They will spend 14 days here and then will visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Todd at Verdun, Okla. Todd is stationed at England AFB, Alexandria, La.

This is about birds... "screw" birds. Birds you've seen, but seldom read about. They are called several names... most of them unprintable. Hunting season is a good time to mention them. If you recognize yourself as one of these birds... well and good... especially if you're man enough to change your feathers, or least change your thinking or your attitude.

All of us have our faults. None of us possesses all these failings... thank goodness. But, if you are one of these birds... maybe you shouldn't go hunting at all. Maybe you should stay home and give some thought to correcting your faults.

On the other hand, maybe you can do something about it. If you can you'll gain the respect of your hunting companions as well as all other men and women in the field and on the stream.

First bird we want to call attention to is the heavy-footed FENCEHAWK. He rides the fences for all they are worth. He spreads the barbed wire enclosures so wide you could drive a truck through them.

Crawling through one of the openings he makes in a barbed wire fence is a snap. In fact, he is so heavy footed and so strong armed that he pops the staples clear out of the posts.

Then he is wont to say, "They just dont make them staples like they usta!"

Another fine-feathered friend is the SNIPEFLICKER.

He's the bird who tosses away cigarette stubs and cigar butts with reckless abandon.

This addleheaded snipeflicker has cost Uncle Sam (that's you and me, Bub) millions of dollars in fire damage to timber and wildlife.

He's not careless in our book. He's just one bird that doesn't give a hoot. If his grandchildren have no place to hunt, it makes no difference to him. What the heck does he care about the future! He won't be here anyway. This bird's even worse than the MIGRATORY LITTERBIRD. That creature has the same attitude, true enough. Also — the same lack of respect for the property of others. And the same lack of appreciation of what has been made available to him by the farmer, or the parks board, or the game and fish commission. He's a litterbird wherever he goes.

Often wonder what his home looks like inside... don't you? Betcha there are banana peels everywhere, apple cores all over the house and empty beer cans scattered about every room.

Goodness knows what the messy place really looks like. Sure couldn't be a very tidy spot... inside... judging by the way this bird litters up the outdoors.

There are plenty of other creatures of the woods and waves.

For example... the REDEYED SWALLOWER... better known as the BOOZEYBIRD.

No need for him to wear heavy hunting clothes. He's fired up internally.

Why be a comfortable 98 degrees, body-temperature bird, when you can feather your nest with 100-proof alcohol and feel oh so light-headed?

Actually this bird isn't light-headed, he's empty headed. There are just no brain cells in that ivory-covered skull. Couldn't be, or he wouldn't be out hunting in that condition.

And, anyone who hunts with him better be a ROADRUNNER and in the finest trim. Otherwise he'll never make it back to camp... alive.

This BOOZEYBIRD, incidentally... more often that not... is part SNIPEFLICKER and part LITTERBIRD. They seem to team together in the roughest sort of way. The REDEYED SWALLOWER also has many traits common to the LARGEMOUTH GROUSE... a very loquacious and vociferous animal. Much of his time is allocated to complaints that are reminiscent of the BELLYACHING BULLFROG, who's not even a part of the feathery tribe.

While we're at it, let's not overlook the DIMWITTED WOODSRUFF. He's the hot-tempered animal who clobbers the park fountain if it fails to work. He does so with the park bench and he doesn't care which collapses first, so long as his temper is not restrained.

You've seen this bird I know. I'm talking about the SNEAK-EYED WOODPECKER. He transfers shrubbery from the field to his own front yard.

Not to be overlooked is the LARGE-POCKETED CAMP-ROBBER. He is known to have carried off the grate from the roadside barbecue pits, to appropriate it for his own use. Neither does he think anything of totting all the extra state park firewood home with him.

Then there's the REDHATTED LOON who doesn't know the difference (or care) between a 12-point buck and the farmer's choice Jersey Cow. He's the farmer's delight. But only if the cow is heavily insured.

Too, let's not forget the ROOSTER-TAILED WATERTHRASHER. He's the speed demon of the waterways. This gink "wakes up" the fishermen with mammoth man-made waves. He boils them up as close to the angler's boat as the law allows... if not closer.

All these birds are fun-spoilers for everyone else. Evidently all they are out for is a lark.

These birds are not legal game. But more than one hunter thinks they should be. Among those who think so are the farmers whose cows are killed; the landowners whose fences are torn down; and the hunters whose lives are endangered.

Let's not spoil the fun for anyone. As we take to the field for a day of pleasant hunting, let's be more considerate of "the other fellow". Let's give thanks to those who make this great sport possible. And let's do our part to make it an event for all to enjoy and to live to remember.

Blowin' Out the Corners

Excuses are such feeble things; Seldom worth believing. Often with self pity rings—Most always deceiving.

Elbert Hubbard once said that we should; "Never explain—our friends do not need it, and our enemies won't believe us anyway."

Someone else put it this way. "An excuse is the skin of reason stuffed with lies."

Each of the above statements may be a bit on the extreme side but it is a fact that most of our excuses are a cover up for our real reasons.

For instance, Mrs. Smith is having a selling party. Instead of telling Mrs. Smith that we don't want to buy anything we begin a build up of the busy life we have the next few days. The preacher mentions our not being in church. Instead of telling him that we had other interests that were more interesting we suddenly remember all of the ailments that have been aggravating us lately.

The fellows plan a fishing trip for the week-end. Instead of telling the little wife that for the moment fishing holds more tug on our heart we try to convince her that we are the most over-worked person at the office.

All this creates a real problem. If we should suddenly quit all of our cover-up talk and be perfectly honest about everything we would likely be the most unpopular fellow in the neighborhood. And now while you are thinking up your excuse for going fishing, we will think up one for getting off on this subject . . . Best Of Luck.

Middlebury, Vermont, Independent: "J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, says 'Just as through research and positive action we have isolated and conquered the germs of so many dread diseases, so can we remove the slaughtering who litter our highways with broken and battered bodies. But it cannot be done by showing pity or offering excuses for those who wantonly violate the basic rules of traffic safety.'

"Two of the greatest dangers on our roads are the drunken and reckless drivers. Why should anyone feel compassion for them? Their actions show as much disregard for law and order as the acts of a burglar who follows a carefully laid plan to steal in the night. Also, in many instances, they are a far greater threat to human safety."

In a recent year U.S. oil and natural gas production was valued at about $10 billion — more than the combined value of all other minerals, metals and fuels.

True luck consists not in holding the best of the cards at the table: Luckiest he who knows just when to rise and go home. —John Hay

To hear music should fill the heart
With dreams, with hopes, and wishes.
But some these things do not impart,
It sounds more like falling dishes.

To me most any kind of loud and screeching music sounds terrible. It makes little difference even if according to good taste it is supposed to be good. It almost has to be soft, touching, and simple if we are to enjoy it.

Sacred music is our favorite. Even the deeper negro spirituals thrill my heart. Songs telling the love of our Creator for His children and songs expressing our love for Him lead the list. Songs by male quartets bring a real joy. But we will settle anytime for a ladies' trio or even a solo. Standing out above all the church songs we remember is one lady's rendition of the Lord's Prayer.

We never grow tired of the old love songs, especially those with a deep and touching message. The beautiful songs of Stephen Foster are as thrilling today as when we first heard them.

Guess we just came along too soon to be able to enjoy the rock and roll. Likely we were born too late for some of the other varieties.

We realize that we could never make a professional judge of music. Our brand of music appreciation comes only from the response of our heart to certain strains of music. If we hear music and are filled with love, joy, and thanksgiving, then we like it.

Small Birth Defect Victim Is A 'Prop' As Mother Lectures

Kathy Houle, of Mt. Clemens, Mich., a pretty blue-eyed brunette "going on five," poses today with perfect self-command as her schoolteacher mother lectures on the heart-breaking topic of birth defects.

Kathy doesn't mind being one of her mother's lecture "props." Mother and daughter are dedicated to the proposition that since 250,000 infants are born yearly with significant birth defects—and 34,000 babies annually are stillborn or die within the first month because of birth defects—the more widely the subject is discussed, the healthier for the nation.

The National Foundation, which financed the development of both the Salk and Sabin polio vaccines, is now supporting research and patient care for birth defects and arthritis through the New March of Dimes.

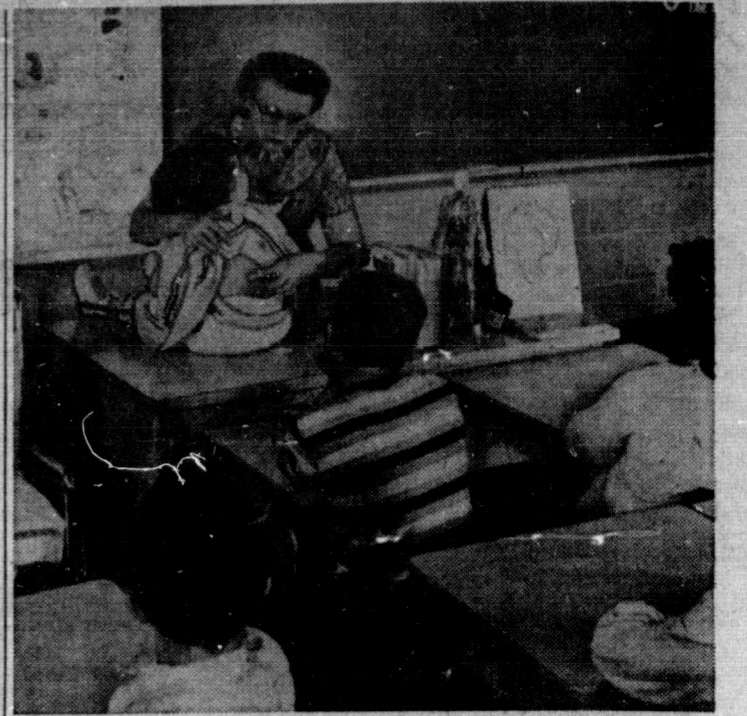

Kathy has ample reason for her devotion to the cause embraced by her mother and herself. The child was born with the forbidding birth defects of an open spine and excess fluid on the brain. When only weeks old, Kathy underwent major surgery three times.

Doctors told the parents: "Enjoy the baby while you can. She may not be with you for long."

It was a miracle that Kathy survived. But since she did, both the child and her grateful mother, Mrs. William W. Houle, a Michigan grade school teacher, want to shed light on this often "taboo" subject.

"Tens of thousands of mothers are mistakenly ashamed of having given birth to a malformed infant," Mrs. Houle says. "Tragically, many parents hide these innocent children away from public view—in- stead of seeking medical advice and therapy.

"When Kathy and I set out

on our lecture tours to adults, we describe in detail such birth defects as an open spine and excess fluid on the brain. These and other such major birth defects are the largest unmet childhood medical problem in the United States today.

"Then, we tell parents that they rarely need fear having a second defective child because birth defects are not always hereditary. But when Kathy and I talk to groups of small fry, we concentrate on persuading the youngsters not to shun handicapped children which with thoughtless cruelty they often do. And not to be afraid of them."

The Houle-Kathy lecture "circuit" includes parent-teacher groups, and associations of school principals. The audience for this unique mother-and-daughter team is expanding. They can't fill all the requests for bookings.

Kathy, described by her doctors as "strong and healthy today" despite a bladder involvement due to the spinal defect, gets around nimbly on her crutches and leg braces. She has all the traits of any normal child of her age and is devoted to her two collies, to her adoring brother Douglas, seven, and to her dolls, in that eccentric order.

THOMPSON BROS.
Hardware & Farm Equipment

Since the end of World War II, the Federal government has spent more than $85 billion for veteran's benefits of one kind or another. This is more than three times as much as the U.S. spent for this purpose from the Revolutionary War to World War II.

GEORGE'S WIFE
By "Sarah"

I was mighty proud of George yesterday. He came home from selling a few bales of cotton with the news that the farmer doesn't have to pay the 25c handling charge per bale of cotton any more. He was sad about it though, and we ask why he wasn't happy instead. His answer put me on a chase, and we haven't gotten the answer yet. He said we still were paying the 25c but we will never know where or just how we are doing it.

The cost of the paper work on a bale of cotton is 75c, the Commodity Credit Corp. absorbs 50c of this cost, and somebody some where pays the 25c.

It wouldn't worry us so much if it was just our little crop being taken care of so nicely, but these figures we worked up are sorta disturbing, knowing all along who is paying all of it.

Most farm magazines this month agree on the estimated bales of cotton we will produce from the 1960 crop, based on the allotted acres they gave us. Which is 14,553,000 bales. At 75c per bale handling cost runs $10,814,750.00. The C.C.C.'s 50c cost is $7,276,500.00, the 25c cost to someone is $3,538,240.00.

The estimated bales for 1961 is 15,562,000 bales. C.C.C.'s cost $7,781,000.00 the other 25c cost is $3,890,500.00 for a total of $11,671,500.00, for this item alone.

With the next to the darkest cloud looming over the head of President-elect Kennedy being the farm problem, and Mr. Sam C. Hanna's article of yesterday saying; he quotes the Nashville Mayor "this state is being ruled by the hog lot and the cow pasture," referring of course to the re-shuffling of the voice of Congress, when the majority of Americans were farmers . . . hence with the loudest voice in Congress a century ago.

They are after us in earnest, we see no difference though because the farm has been run from city thinkers for several years now, what we need is to go back to the century old laws and put a few real live dirt farmers in Congress for a change.

As long as a few like George are taking this 25c stenograph work as another privilege taken away from him, we feel that things are looking up.

DISCOVER POSSIBLE NEW USE FOR WHEAT

College Station — USDA scientists have discovered a possible new use for wheat. In laboratory tests, acid-modified wheat flour has proved equal to commercial sizing material for imparting strength to paper.

Some papers sized with modified flour gained 43 percent in bursting strength, 20 percent in tensile strength and 93 percent in folding endurance. Papers treated with modified-flour size were comparable to papers treated with widely used commercial sizes in brightness, opacity, freedom from discoloration and other desirable properties.

Successful chemical modification of wheat flour by reacting it with ethylene or propylene oxide was first reported by ARS in June of 1959. It was found that these chemically modified flours mix readily with water to form a free-flowing paste, a quality desirable in industrial paper making. USDA chemists also reported that chemically modified flour could be stored with a moisture content of 5 percent or less.

On the basis of recent performance tests with laboratory-scale equipment, it is expected that at least one of the acid modified flours will perform satisfactorily in high-speed paper-making machines, according to workers at the ARS's Northern Utilization Research and Development Division, Peoria, Ill.

Northern Laboratory scientists believe that if modified flours are introduced into the paper-making industry, substantial new markets for wheat could develop. Their interest in wheat flour for this purpose is based on availability of flour as a raw material in large quantities at relatively low cost, and the broad industrial potential of a material that combines starch and gluten, both valuable for adhesive qualities.

Versailles, Ohio, Policy: "Feel sorry for top men in the nation and in business for the many decisions they must make?"

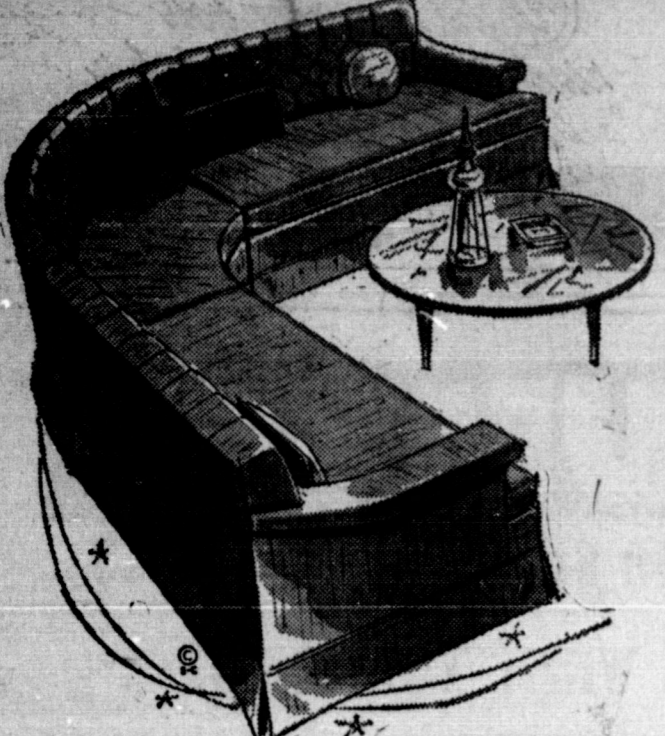

"Then keep a little of that sympathy for yourself if you are a motorist," advises Jack Tutwiler of the Darke County Automobile Club.

"The local AAA official points to a recent study of the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads, showing that a motorist in typical city traffic must make a decision and take some action in an average of three times a minute.

"And many of these are life-saving decisions," the automobile club leader points out."

How Wasteful Can We Be?

The Department of Agriculture earmarks $756 million to remove land from production.

The Commodity Credit Corporation budgets nearly $2.5 billion to remove surplus produce from the market.

The U. S. Department of Interior requests $216 million for dam building and irrigation programs to add more land to the productive capacity of the country.

And advocates of this philosophy seem to win votes by promising more of it.
