Information Complete for Feasibility Report on Red River Dam

Carroll Knorpp, director of the Greenbelt Municipal and Industrial Water Authority, received word this week from Freese, Nichols and Endress, consulting engineers of Ft. Worth, that they had received all eight of the logs of the core borings of the Collingsworth Dam Site on the Salt Fork of the Red River.

The logs of borings, together with the topographic maps of the reservoir sites and the five year record of the quality of the river water, will enable us to complete the feasibility report on the Greenbelt project. We anticipate that the report will be completed within ten to twelve weeks, Freese stated.

Freese stated that a five year record of the chemical quality of the river water was needed before judgment could be passed on the feasibility of the water supply. The time required for obtaining a sufficient record of the quality of the water has been used to advantage by securing the creation of the Authority by the Legislature; obtaining water rights from the State Board of Water Engineers; the topographic mapping of the possible reservoir sites, and the core boring of two dam sites, all at a minimum cost to the member cities of the Authority. The State Board of Water Engineers, the U.S. Geological Survey, and the Bureau of Reclamation have expended approximately $68,000 for mapping the reservoir sites, for core boring the dam sites, for making flow measurements, and for half of the cost of analyzing the daily samples of river water. The member cities have spent approximately $8,500 for collecting water samples and paying half the cost of analyzing the samples.

Another favorable development during the time we have been waiting for a sufficient record of quality analyses, has been the creation of the Texas Water Development Board and the authorization of the board to loan 100 per cent of the cost of a Texas water supply project not to exceed $15,000,000, Freese added.

ASHTOLA RURAL STATION TO CLOSE ABOUT SEPT. 1

According to information received by Ray Moore, Postmaster of Ashtola, Postmaster plans to close Ashtola Rural Station on or about Sept. 1. Patrons now receiving mail at Ashtola will be served by Carrier of Rural Route 1, Clarendon, Texas.

Due to the fact that the present location of Ashtola Rural Station is being absorbed by the widening of Highway 287, and there being no other satisfactory location available, the Post Office Department feels that it will be to the best interest of all concerned to close the Ashtola Rural Station.

There are some fourteen (14) families now receiving their mail at Ashtola Rural Station, who should make arrangements to erect mail boxes prior to Sept. 1, 1961.

It is also planned to change the line of travel of Rural Route 1 beginning at the corner of Mrs. S. G. Evans farm going north and east through the edge of the S J Ranch and returning to the present line of travel at the corner of the Geo. Bagby farm and the S J Ranch. This change is being made to avoid crossing the lake between the Hardin, Rhoades and Bagby farms.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Carroll and children, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Underdown and daughter of Lubbock and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Lewis and children of Amarillo were holiday visitors in the home of their mother, Mrs. C. E. Underdown.

Crowd Estimated As Largest In History of Celebration Here

Clarendon was jam-packed with visitors here July Fourth for the free barbecue, parade, rodeo and other activities. In fact, the crowd was estimated as the largest to ever take in the celebration here.

The gate count at the rodeo the afternoon and night of the fourth and Flip Breedlove's report of an estimated crowd of ten thousand people at the barbecue verifies the above statement.

Visitors were here from practically every state in the union. Following the barbecue, the court house lawn and the city park was loaded with visitors.

Flip Breedlove and his crew did an excellent job on the barbecue, along with their cooking chore at 3 a.m. the morning of the third. J. B. Melton and his bean and fruit crew did a fine job with the cooking of the trimmings and Bill Todd and his onion peeling helpers had a 6 a.m. crying session, peeling and slicing several hundred pounds of onions in a very short time.

Following the barbecue, Kearney and Sully streets were jammed with spectators who witnessed the western parade which was acclaimed as one of the best. The Martin community float won first place, Ashtola second and Goldston community third. Prizes were $25, $15, and $10.00. Judge R. E. Drennan and J. G. McAnear expressed their appreciation for the wonderful turn-out of parade entries.

Entrance at the Saturday night and Monday night rodeo performances were about average but the crowd was overflowing at the afternoon and night performances. Only one injury marred the rodeo performances. Bob Ellis, local truck operator, received a broken leg when thrown from a saddle bronc Tuesday night. Roy Crutchfield reports that he is very thankful that the arena fence held when one of the unruly bulls made two attempts to come thru with Roy's red car as the target.

In the Rodeo Queen contest, Miss Janis Smith, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Smith, was presented as Rodeo Queen Tuesday night; second in the contest was Miss Jeanette Crutchfield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Crutchfield; third was Jackie McClellan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John McClellan. Miss Smith received a $50 Savings Bond and Miss Crutchfield received a $25 bond. The contestants worked hard for their votes this year selling tickets to the rodeo etc. making it more of a personal contest. Beta Sigma Phi Sorority was in charge of the contest.

A large crowd was on hand for the Old Fiddlers Contest Tuesday afternoon and Ernest Kent reported one of the best contests ever held here. C. B. Buckner of Shamrock was the first place winner; Ray David, second, and Jack Pritchard, third.

After the dust had settled from the last rodeo performance, Douglas Shelton, president of the Outdoor Entertainment Association, expressed his appreciation for all the assistance he had received from everyone throughout the entire celebration. He also expressed his thanks for the various donations of prizes, beef, food and other items.

Sheriff Truett Behrens joined in with the expressions of appreciation, thanking the highway patrolmen, volunteer firemen, constable's department and all other officers who helped the sheriff's department handle the crowd during the celebration.

Rodeo Contest Results And Top Winners Announced

HAPPENINGS THAT AFFECT THE FUTURE

The crises in the world, and the areas of crisis, are seemingly endless. One inevitable result is that events of very great importance may be submerged and obscured simply because there are so many of them. Our eyes and minds cannot focus on a dozen situations at once. This is true, or has been true until very recently, of Portugal, the problem the ancient Portuguese empire faces, and the significance of it all to the beleaguered Western Alliance.

This problem — and it is one which may erupt into chaos at any time — was highlighted briefly when opponents of the regime seized the liner Santa Maria, and held her with passengers and crew for almost two weeks until lack of food and fuel forced them to take her to port in Brazil. This had comic-opera overtones. But there is nothing of comic-opera in Portugal's present predicament, in what may happen if and when the Salazar government falls and a vacuum is created in the vital Iberian Peninsula — a vacuum which the Communists would be more than glad to fill.

The essence of the story is told by Claire Sterling in a late issue of The Reporter — and The Reporter, it should be noted, is a magazine of liberal persuasion, with small use for dictators, which Dr. Salazar indubitably is. But his is an unusual sort of dictatorship. For one thing, as Mr. Sterling writes, "Though Salazar's regime is more or less standard totalitarian model, he himself has been unusually free of the totalitarian ruler's classic stigmata." He did not come to power through war, for one thing, and he is totally without the personal flamboyance one usually associates with the man on horseback. On top of that, says Mr. Sterling, "His foreign relations have been dignified and correct, his financial policies safe and sound, his repressive measures no laxer than Franco's but considerably less obtrusive." Most important, whatever one may think of him, he has stood solidly with the West in the cold war.

ANNOUNCEMENT
Welcome To Clarendon!

Tunnell Pharmacy, successor to Bob Moss Pharmacy, began operation as of July 1, 1961. All of us are, indeed, fortunate to have the Tunnell family come to Clarendon as merchants, citizens and friends. May we take this opportunity to extend our good-will to the new operators of The Rexall Store, and at the same time ask you to come in and get acquainted.

May we take this opportunity to thank you for the many years of fine support and friendship you have shared with us. We would like to assure you that Richard Tunnell will bring you the same type of professional pharmacy and drug service that has been our policy throughout the years. Once again, we say welcome to another fine family to our community.

Sincerely,
Mr. and Mrs. Bob Moss

nified and correct, his financial policies safe and sound, his repressive measures no laxer than Franco's but considerably less obtrusive." Most important, whatever one may think of him, he has stood solidly with the West in the cold war.

The seat of trouble lies in Angola — Portugal's long-held African colony. Events there, and portents, are very similar to those in the Congo. There has been ferocious violence. The natives, of whom only one per cent are even relatively literate, are on the march. Portugal is in grave danger of losing Angolo, which is at the heart of the empire. Mr. Sterling describes what that would mean in these vivid words: "Portugal's independence on its overseas empire is almost literally a matter of life or death. With that empire, Portugal is a nation of 20 million people, with a territory of nearly a million square miles, a balanced budget, and a highly protected market for a quarter of its exports . . . Without the empire, Portugal would be a country of just over 9 million people, with a territory of 35 thousand square miles, a considerable annual trade deficit, and a chronic depression . . ."

What has caused bloody revolt in Angola? Mr. Sterling writes, "Dr. Salazar's spokesmen say that (it) is solely the work of foreign agents, and they may not be far wrong." But there are other elements—notably what Mr. Sterling describes as "a novel kind of white revolutionary" in Angola who has grievances against Salazar and the Portuguese mainland for economic reasons. They, in substantial numbers, appear to think independence, with all the Congo-type hazards that would go with it, is the better course for them.

Portugal is a member of NATO, and something of a cornerstone of that unique and delicately balanced structure. Salazar, difficult as he has been for other Western nations to deal with, and authoritarian and harsh as he is in attitude and policy at home, has never deviated from his stand at the side of the West. And there is almost no question, as Mr. Sterling points out, that if Angola goes, Salazar goes too. He is old and is highly vulnerable on a number of counts. No one knows who his successor would be. Then, to compound the difficulty, there is every likelihood that Franco of Spain would fall too—and he is another chief government, dictator though he is, who has taken an unbroken anti-Communist line.

"But the core of the matter is much more important than the fate of this 71-year-old dictator. When his rule comes to an end, we will have to help his country, which, like Angola, although to a different degree, can truly be called underdeveloped. For Portugal, and indeed the whole Iberian Peninsula, is an essential part of the West."

RANCHMEN SHOULD BE ALERT TO PLANT INVADERS

B. J. Ragsdale, associate extension range specialist, reports that he has received many inquiries regarding certain poisonous plants which have created serious rangeland problems in other states and countries. Two of these plants, Halogeton and Alfombrillo, have received much attention lately, and many questions have been asked about them.

Halogeton has been reported in the states of California, Nevada, Idaho, Wyoming and Colorado. It is found on salty soils of semiarid regions, especially where the soils have been disturbed and the native plant cover reduced. Sheep are the most frequent sufferers of Halogeton poisoning, but cattle may be affected. Livestock seldom eat toxic amounts of this plant if other desirable forage is available, Ragsdale says.

Ranchers of northern Mexico consider Alfombrillo to be their greatest poisonous plant problem, continues Ragsdale. This plant is reported only in the states of Chihuahua and Sonora, Mexico. It has been found within 7 miles of Antelope Wells, New Mexico, 85 miles southwest of El Paso, and 20 miles south of the Arizona border, but there is no known record of it north of the border. Alfombrillo requires a slightly acid soil, and according to research conducted to date, the soils in the border areas of Texas are alkaline.

To date, neither Halogeton nor Alfombrillo present a problem to Texas ranchers. But, Ragsdale concludes that ranchmen should be on the alert for range invader plants. Local county agents should be notified of findings.

ANOTHER BIG REASON BEHIND THE BIG BOOM IN FORD SALES:

No other wagon can match Ford's features (or popularity!)

There's a whole wagonload of reasons why more people are buying Ford wagons than any other make.

First, there's more room. Ford's extended load deck is the longest and widest in its field. The tailgate opening is seven inches wider than last year, too.

There's more convenience. You can have an electrically controlled roll-down rear window in any Ford wagon... it's standard in all Country Squires and 9-Passenger Country Sedans. In their field, only Ford wagons have all seats facing forward.

There's more distinction. The Country Squire (shown above) is the one and only wagon in its field with body panels that look like mahogany, wear like steel.

There are more savings, too. Ford's Ranch Wagon is America's lowest-priced,* full-size wagon. And like all Fords, every Ford wagon is built to be more service-free: goes 30,000 miles between chassis lubrications, 4,000 miles between oil changes, brakes adjust automatically, mufflers are made to last three times as long as ordinary mufflers, and the finish never needs waxing.

STOP putting off that station wagon you've always wanted. SWAP for a '61 Ford wagon now while your Ford Dealer's celebrating record-breaking sales. SAVE with the wagon America loves most... made by FORD... America's station wagon specialists for 32 years!

BLOWIN' Out the CORNERS

By Uncle Zeb

Living within our means was once the popular theme of the generation. Our fathers and grandfathers not only preached it, but in most cases practiced it. In those days this was not only the best policy but the only way to keep out of serious trouble. It hasn't been so long ago that those in politics dared make long speeches on the subject. The following is a quote from a speech made by a prominent person on Oct. 19, 1932. "If the nation is living within its income its credit is good. If in some crisis it lives beyond its income for a year or two, it can usually borrow temporarily on reasonable terms. But if, like the spendthrift, it throws discretion to the winds, is willing to make no sacrifices at all in spending, extends its taxes up to the limit of the people's power to pay and continues to pile up deficits, it is on the road to bankruptcy."

Unbelievable as we might think at first glance these words of advice and predictions came from a speech made by Franklin Delano Roosevelt. In 1932 he was standing in the open door leading toward a wild period of taxing and spending. The crisis which he spoke of as being worth the risk of deficit spending was only the beginning of many such emergencies that have seemed to justify our tax and spend policy.

We wonder how often these emergencies have developed largely because of a desire of one party or the other to stay in office. Each administration through the years has continued to out-spend the one it succeeded. Even with his liberal ideals we wonder what Mr. Roosevelt might think of some of our present day reckless spending.

Finding fault is one of the easiest jobs of all. The main reason being the fact that we have inside information on where to look for them.

The fellow who is always finding fault with everything about him, would be the fellow, who when he speaks, everyone will doubt him.

It's better to say something good about a bad man, than to say something bad about a good man.

When we did the sowing we shouldn't blame other people for the harvest.

If we can't see ourselves as others see us, then it's time we made a formal introduction.

It's mighty hard to cover up our faults, sometimes it's easier to do away with them.

It is said that only a fool cannot be angry, but he is very wise who will not.

It is always easy to see the silver lining in the other fellow's troubles.

It takes a lot of courage not to pretend that we have it.

It's all right to take life as we find it, but it's bad if we leave it that way.

It is easy to see the funny side of a thing when it's happening to the other fellow.

One of the worst faults is to not admit that you have any.

"It is a good horse that never stumbles.

And a good wife who never grumbles."

There is an old proverb which says "There is no saint without a past, and no sinner without a future." It helps sometimes to try putting our own self in first one place and then the other. A bit like trying on a pair of shoes for size.

Having long since forgotten the speaker we have remembered the following little verse from a talk heard during our high school days,

"There is so much good in the worst of us, And so much bad in the best of us; That it behooves the most of us, To talk about the rest of us.

My mother used to illustrate it by comparing it to the "Pot calling the kettle black." Whichever comparison we try to turn into a rose will certainly leave a thorn in our hands.

In our scrap book we have a little clipping which says, "I once read a book about a man called Jesus who went about doing good. I was greatly concerned when I realized that I spent my time merely going about." According to our margin note this gem came from the column of the late Lewis Nurdyke. Both the thought and the memory we cherish.

It was Starr Daily who used these lines: "The faults of others disturbed him greatly; His own disturbed him not." Some folks find fault as if they were bragging on themselves, and pay a compliment as if they expected a receipt.

Ye Old Franklin
 Ever been to Franklin, Texas, at the western tip of the state? No, we don't have our directions confused. We mean west, not east.
 The Franklin of West Texas is a wonderful town with most everything that a town of over 130,000 population should have.
 It's on the Mexican border too, for an added attraction.
 Never heard of this Franklin? Well, that's probably because they now call it El Paso! But it was named Franklin way back when it was first settled.

McCully-Welch Nuptials Read in Church Service

In a candlelight ceremony performed Saturday morning, July 1, 1961 in St. Mary's Catholic Church, Clarendon, Texas, Miss Mary Frances McCully, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mike McCully, Clarendon, became the bride of Richard O. Welch, son of Mrs. Richard W. Welch, formerly of Electra, Texas, now residing in Dallas, Texas.

Rev. Bartholomew Bester, pastor, read the double ring ceremony before the altar which was decorated with four gladioli and mum arrangements in white urns and four candelabra with eight white twisted candles. Before the statue of the Blessed Virgin Mary was an arrangement of pom pom mums, and the pews of the center aisle were decorated with small arrangements of pom pom mums.

Mrs. C. S. Williams of Clarendon presented the pre-nuptial music, and among the selections rendered were "The Rosary," Nevin; "Ave Marie," Schubert; "Thee Our Father," Albert Hay Malotte; "Come Holy Ghost," "On This Day O Beautiful Mother," Lambillotte; "Panis Angelicus," Cesar Frank; and "Holy God We Praise Thy Name."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an imported chantilly lace in bridal white. The gown was designed with a figurine bodice, scalloped sabrina neckline, and long sleeves tapered to petal points over the hands. The bouffant skirt of lace swept to the full back which was composed of layers of alternate tiers of pleated tulle and lace ruffles sweeping to a formal train. Imported illusion fell from a lace coronet cascading to misty tiers below the waist, and she carried a cascade of white carnations.

Miss Marilyn Royce of Tyler, Texas attended the bride as maid of honor. Miss Melissa McCully, sister of the bride, served as maiden of honor, and Mrs. Gene Odom of Amarillo and Miss Janice Klement of Muenster served as bridesmaids. The attendants were identically styled dresses fashioned with bodices of celeste lace, cap sleeves and rounding necklines. The bouffant skirts were accented by cummerbunds of celeste silk organza in folds and were composed of four tiers of silk organza ruffles topped by a self material rose. Each wore a pill box type hat of pleated celeste organza and carried a colonial bouquet of shasta mums.

Dave Candish of Austin served the groom as best man. Groomsmen were Presley Sheppard of Dallas, Mike McGann of Austin, and Richard Bell of Clarendon. Ushers were Presley Sheppard, Mike McGann, and Shelby Bell.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Odos Caraway, grandfather of the bride. The refreshment table was laid with a white cloth and decorated with a centerpiece of fugi mums and shasta mums, with gypsophila, crystal candelabra and white tapers. Mrs. Presley Sheppard of Dallas and Mrs. Mike McGann of Austin presided at the table. Mrs. Norris Miller of Oklahoma City presided at the bride's book.

For traveling the bride chose an ivory boucle sheath with brown and gold accessories.

The bride is a graduate of Clarendon High School and a graduate R.N. of St. Paul's School of Nursing in Dallas. The groom is a graduate of Electra High School, received his B.S. Degree from S.M.U., Dallas and is a member of Delta Mu of Sigma Chi fraternity. At the present time he is employed in the laboratory for the City of Dallas.

After a short wedding trip to points in New Mexico the couple will be at home at 210 Lancaster, Dallas, Texas.

State Library and Archives Building Nears Completion

Within a few weeks the tourists and school children who flock to Austin will be able to get a lesson in Texas history by visiting the most beautiful of all the new buildings on the state capitol grounds.

It is the State Library and Archives Building, now nearing completion on a site directly east of the Capitol.

For many years history-minded Texans decried the fact that the priceless early documents of the state had no real home. Finally these documents were moved from a mouldy basement to a Quonset hut. There many feared for their safety.

Now, the new edifice provides the state's historic documents with a magnificent home. In addition there are quarters for the State Library and the General Land Office.

More interesting to the visitor will be the way in which Texas history is dramatized in the architectural decor of the building. On each side of the entrance are six large flagpoles. From them will fly the flags of the nations which have ruled Texas—France, Spain, Mexico, the Republic of Texas, the Confederate State of America and the United States.

Embedded in the stone of the front are bright-colored mosaic shields. These also represent the same six nations. Smaller bronze emblems decorate the heavy metal doors at the front. Across the back of the structure, even larger shields, bearing the six nations' seals in colored ceramics, are mounted on the fact of the building.

Pink granite, the "official" stone for state buildings, is used for the entire exterior. Carved in the granite across the left front are these words:

"The People of Texas do now constitute a free, sovereign and independent republic and we fearlessly and confidently commit the issue to the decision of the Supreme Arbiter of the destinies of nations." (Texas Declaration of Independence, 1836)

On the right front side is carved: "All political power is inherent in the people and all free governments are founded on their authority and instituted for their benefit." (First Constitution of Texas, 1845.)

Although the building has four floors, there are seven "stack floors" where the building is divided for storage of books and documents.

One end of the main floor will be devoted to the library. There you will find a charge desk and a large reading room.

Another large room will house the archives. In it there will be a large work room where researchers may look at old papers.

Land Office, to be on the third and fourth floors, will have a separate entrance at the south end of the building. (Building faces west.)

First floor lobby, like the Capitol rotunda, will be a Texas showcase. In its terrazzo floor is the familiar wreath and star emblem of Texas. Main walls are polished granite and upper wall is sandstone. Above the center of the area is a huge, spectacular oval light fixture of red, white and blue colored glass in a sunburst design with a border of 50 stars.

Museum cases, recessed and lighted, are built into the walls around the lobby. Opposite the lobby entrance is a large bronze screen with 15 blocks on which are wrought designs that present a panorama of Texas development. There's an Indian with tomahawk, branding irons, dueling pistols, the first Capitol (a small frame house), an early locomotive, and a windmill on the prairie. Last block shows a gushing oil well.

Building of the State Library and Archives Building was authorized by the Legislature in 1957 with an appropriation of $2,500,000. Project has been carried through by the State Building Commission for which E. E. McAdams is chairman and Gov. Price Daniel and Atty. Gen. Will Wilson are members.

Admiral H. R. Nieman is director of the Building Commission.

State Archives Building is the fourth of the new edifices erected since the building program began in 1957. It is neither the largest nor the most expensive, but because of the historical designs, it is attracting the most attention. Those who have had an advance peek believe that it will, as intended, be a fitting residence for the heritage of Texas' 125 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Jess Hefner and girls of Hedley visited Friday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Hefner.

Ray and Lloyd Hefner of Amarillo visited Saturday afternoon with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Hefner.

Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Fields of Amarillo visited Sunday afternoon in the A. O. Hefner home.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvis Bentley and children of Amarillo visited thru July 4th with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fontayne Elmore.

Visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Ayers this week were their daughter Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Nolen of Arlington.

PRISON GUARDS NEEDED

O. B. Ellis, general manager of the Texas Department of Corrections, reports that the prison system is in urgent need of officers.

Physically fit men 21 to 55 years of age are desired. They must have a 10th grade education at the minimum.

J. N. Crawford Jr., at the Huntsville prison, is in charge of hiring.

The man who gets down and out has only one way to go—up.

A hen-pecked husband is just an average man who gets too much of a good thing in the way of a better half.

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 18TH DISTRICT

By Congressman Walter Rogers

Sugar

Last week I introduced H. Res. 364. This Resolution calls for the creation of a Select Committee of nine Members of the House of Representatives to conduct an investigation of the sugar program. I had hoped that this would not be necessary, but after patiently watching blocking tactic after blocking tactic employed by the sugar interests who now have a strangle hold on this part of our economy, I concluded that the American people were going to be robbed of the facts and the American farmer of his right to produce sugar unless exceptional action was resorted to.

Obtaining passage of this Resolution will be, no small task. The present powerful sugar interests will resort to every possible device to continue their control of this lucrative business. Although the American farmer can produce more than enough sugar to meet the demands of this country, these sugar interests are so powerful that they are forcing the importation of 45 per cent of our domestic needs, or approximately 4.5 million tons. At five cents a pound, that would amount to $450 million, which explains the jealousy with which this control is guarded.

Until this year, Cuba was providing approximately three million tons, of the approximate value of $300 million. This was taken away from Cuba, but the sugar interests in control blocked the assignment of any of it to the American farmers; farmers who have been bitterly assailed as recipients of Federal subsidies, yet who are denied by law the right and the opportunity to produce a product which can be produced in abundance. The requirement that this country import 45 per cent of a product that can be produced in abundance by loyal, patriotic American citizens, cannot be justified.

The American people have been misled to believe that the sugar problem is somewhat akin to the Einstein theory, thermo-nuclear energy, or cancer research, insofar as complexities are involved. The sugar interests would lead you to believe that it is a problem of such vast complications that it can only be understood by a scientist. I would warn you that the only science involved in the sugar problem is the science of a few monopolists lining their pockets with gold at the expense of the American farmer.

As I said, obtaining passage of H. Res. 364 will not be a simple task. But I would venture the prediction that if this Resolution is passed and the full facts surrounding the sugar transactions during the past several years are made public, it will produce a rather sordid picture.

Mining Ghost Town

Head for them that hills men, they've found silver.

Matter of fact, they're mining it at Shafter, Texas, right now.

Most interesting however, is the ghost town of Shafter itself. It's located in Presidio County in far west Texas, near the Mexican border.

You can wander along the river gulch and find old mining machinery in the deserted homes of the former silver miners. Seeing it is just like reading an historical book or western novel.

GEORGE'S WIFE

By "Sarah"

Seems as if the grab for power is the characteristic which distinguishes this Administration from all preceding ones. Old timers in Congress say that the FDR and Truman Administration were novices in comparison.

Did you know the White House aides have been devoting the past month to making promises in exchange for votes for Federal aid to education and other measures building government power? Congressmen from anti-New Frontier they "will be taken care of" with Federal judgements or other Federal Jobs.

Some Congressmen, willing to sell their votes are fearful that promises made privately may not be kept. They want an announcement issued to the press that Congressman "X" is to get the promised post on a specified date.

They know that the Administration will have a hard time wiggling out of those kind of promises, once they are made. However, Kennedy aides are reluctant to make public promises of jobs, public revulsion might boomerang.

The Administration proposes that legislation passed by Congress be "flexible. The Executive branch could raise or lower specified income rates within limits. The Secretary of Agriculture would have a free hand to decide the production quotas and selling prices for each of several hundred commodities and to allocate the proper share to each farm; setting severe penalties for non-conformists. The President could reorganize the bureaus and agencies of Executive Branch.

To illustrate the difficulty of congressional veto (which would have to be done within 60 days) the power of the Secretary of Agriculture would be so great that a Congressman would fear that his opposition to directives concerning one set of commodities would inspire retaliation concerning the commodities produced in his district.

The Secretary of Agriculture has all but thrown in the towel on his broad sweep for complete control of agriculture. And my Farmer friends, this will be about the only one excepting Federal Aid to Education that hasn't gone by blue print. If we do not control our Rep. in Washington, they just might trade our vote for a poppy field in Outer Mongolia.

RODEO BARBECUE KICKS OFF SHAMROCK SHOW

A Chuck Wagon Barbecue will be the kick-off event of the Shamrock Sheriff's Posse Rodeo and Quarter Horse Show scheduled there July 6 thru 8.

Site of the barbecue has been changed to Elmore Park, sponsored jointly by the Shamrock Chamber of Commerce and Sheriff's Posse, the meal will begin at 5:30 p.m.

More than 200 personal invitations have been mailed to quarter horse exhibitors throughout the Golden Spread and entries are already being received. The quarter horse show is set for the second day of the rodeo, July 7, and the public is invited to see the beautiful animals, some of which will be in the $5000 class. The $400 worth of trophies to be awarded the winners in the quarter horse show have arrived and are being engraved by Hales Jewelers. They will be on display soon.

A bicycle, shotgun and table service to be awarded at the final rodeo performance July 8, are on display in the building north of Farris Apparel.

AIR FORCE RESERVE BEING ORGANIZED IN CHILDRESS

A new Air Force Reserve outfit is being organized in Childress and there will be plenty of good openings for qualified people in an area of slightly over a 50-mile radius of that city, announced Lt. Col. James E. Ragsdale, of Childress, designated Commander of the new unit.

The new Reserve unit will be the 9416th Air Force Reserve Recovery Squadron and will operate a civilian airport as a military base in the event regular military air bases are knocked out by enemy action.

Col. Ragsdale said there will be paid positions for Reserve airmen in 11 different career fields.

"The airmen we need now are administrative specialists, safety technicians, air operations men, communications specialists, safety technicians, air operations men, communications specialists, ground radio operators, wood workers, plumbers, heavy equipment operators, air policemen, firefighters and medical doctors, nurses and technicians," Col. Ragsdale said.

"These will be paid positions with training two days a month and an annual two-week tour of action duty," he added.

At present, only former servicemen are eligible for enlistment in the new unit, but they can be from other services—not just the Air Force.

For administrative purposes the new 9416th Squadron will come under the 8598th Air Force Recovery Group, Fort Worth. The Squadron's official birthday will come on July 1, 1961, but much of the groundwork is being accomplished now and enlistments are being accepted.

People in this area interested in obtaining additional information may contact Col. James E. Ragsdale, P.O. Box 790, Childress, Texas.

FARM NEWS

from the County ASC Committee

ACP PROGRAM

Assistance is available through the ACP program to plant summer legumes; build tanks, terraces, etc. Secure a prior approval before the practice is carried out.

DIVERTED ACREAGE UNDER FEED GRAIN PROGRAM

Diverted acreage under the 1961 Feed Grain Program must be devoted to permanent or rotation cover of grasses and legumes, summer cover crops, winter cover crops or protected summer fallow provided weed or erosion control measures as prescribed by the county committee are carried out. Grazing of the diverted acreage is not permitted and no crops may be harvested from the diverted acreage.

PERFORMANCE

The county office has started measuring your feed grains and diverted acreage, cotton, and soil bank base crops. The Feed Grain Program will cause a large increase in the amount of performance and office work; therefore, your cooperation is needed in order to assure you of accurate measurements and prompt service in the office.

Adjustment credit shall be given for areas of regular shape with not more than four sides. One side or one end of the disposition area shall be parallel with the rows or field boundary when row crops are destroyed in a square, rectangular, or trapezoidal pattern. The restriction may be disregarded when the crop in an entire field or subdivision is destroyed in disposing of excess acreage, or when disposition of excess acreage is made between adjacent terraces or between the field boundary and a terrace within that field or subdivision — provided the within field perimeter of the area is parallel to such terrace. Otherwise, adjustment credit may be permitted as follows: The minimum area which may be disposed of and deducted to adjust the acreage shall be one-tenth (0.1) acre and must be at least four normal rows in width. Credit shall not be given for any area less than the minimum, unless the total excess for the farm is less than the minimum in which case the minimum shall be the amount of the excess. Remember when you receive a notice of acreage in excess of your allotment, please notify this office of the disposition of excess and pay a fee of $4.00 per farm plus $2.00 for each plot over one within 15 days from the date of the notice.

Contract Is Awarded for New P. O. Building

Construction of the new building for the Post Office at Clarendon, Texas was further advanced today with the announcement by Postmaster General J. Edward Day that a contract has been awarded to Melvin W. Jackson, et al, 3629 Colgate Street Dallas 26, Texas, to build and lease the building to the Post Office Dept.

"The signing of the contract represents another step toward implementing President Kennedy's program for the construction and modernization of postal facilities throughout the nation during this year. Under this program private industry will invest the capital to build new facilities for lease to the Department," Mr. Day said. "In addition, contingent upon the availability of funds, the Post Office Department is going ahead with the modernization of postal space in Federal buildings."

Under terms of the Department's Commercial Leasing Program the successful bidder will construct the new building at Fourth and Kearney Streets and lease it to the Department for ten years, with renewal options running up to 20 years, at an annual rental of $7600.00 for the basic term.

The Department's capital investment is limited substantially to postal equipment, while the building remains under private ownership, with the owner paying local real estate taxes.

This formula utilizes the resources and investment funds of private enterprise for needed postal buildings.

The new masonry, air conditioned building at Clarendon will be constructed on a site containing 11,500 square feet. The building will have an interior space of 3,903 square feet and ample paved areas for parking and movement of postal vehicles.

Mrs. Bertha Wilkins left Wednesday morning for her home in Roswell, N. Mex. after a visit with her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hommel.

SOCIAL SECURITY BENEFITS AVAILABLE TO WIDOWS AT AGE 62

"Widows should apply for social security benefits as soon as they are 62," Hal Geldon, Social Security Manager advised today. "It would be even better if they applied a month or two before they are 62. Of course no one should delay, but widows in particular should be careful to apply for benefits promptly."

A woman's benefit based on her own account, or on the account of a living husband is reduced if she applies before age 65, but a widow's benefit is different. Widows' benefits are not reduced and the full amount is paid at age 62.

"So, if you are a widow," Geldon explained, "And you were once paid a lump-sum or monthly benefits, you should apply again when you are 62. In fact, you can speed your first check by applying thirty or sixty days before."
