FARM NEWS

from the County ASC Committee

OUR NATION'S AGRICULTURE

American agriculture has advanced more in the past 50 years than in all the prior years of our history. One hour of farm labor produces four times as much food and other crops as it did in 1919-21. Crop production is 65 percent higher per acre. One farm worker produces food for himself and 25 others.

American Agricultural abundance is a powerful force for world peace. Our food and other farm products are helping or helping to relieve hunger and to promote economic growth in the newly developing countries of the world. Our wheat is providing an additional 5 billion loaves of bread a year for the people of India.

COTTON AND FEED GRAIN PERFORMANCE

The crop reporters are measuring cotton, diverted and feed grain acres. Notices of the measured acreages are being mailed as soon as the results are compiled by our office personnel. If you receive a notice you do not understand, please come to the ASCS office and we will be glad to explain it to you.

NATIONAL FARM SAFETY WEEK

The Nation's economy is dependent upon the continued well-being and progress of our State's Agricultural population. Accidents from farm work causes needless suffering, distress and loss of life each year among our rural families.

ACP CONSERVATION PROBLEMS

Check your conservation problems and contact the office if we can assist you. This is your program and we are here to help you. Why don't you drop in and see how ACP can help you with all problems.

SISTER INJURED IN FALL

Mrs. Pear Teague, sister of Mrs. T. M. Shaver and who makes her home with Mrs. Shaver, was injured in a fall Sunday breaking her hip. She was transferred to an Amarillo Hospital Monday for surgery and is reported improving satisfactorily at this time.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Johnson and son, Eddie, of Dallas, and Charles Waggoner of Mesquite visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Jones Monday.

Beef Cattle Program Planned for Youth

County Agent Flip Breedlove says that a big beef cattle program is planned for all 4-H club and FFA members in the Pan-handle of Texas on the eighteenth of August.

The meeting and field day will be held on the Hess Ranch south of McLean. Mr. Hess and Geo. Saunders will be hosts and will furnish a beef for barbecuing and all the trimmings.

Flip Breedlove and his crew will prepare the meal for the club members. All 4-H club members from Donley County and their fathers will attend the meeting.

The program will consist of selection of beef bulls and club calves, feeding of bulls and club calves, pen for feeding, preparing for the show ring and diseases of beef cattle.

Flip Breedlove, Donley county agent, will be on the program to show how to prepare animals for the show ring and how to clip them and get them ready for showing. This will also be applied to bulls as well as steers.

Dr. Chas. Deyhle of Clarendon will be on the program to explain all types of diseases and ailments usually found in show calves and bulls. Mr. Hess is expecting about four hundred 4-H and FFA members to attend the meeting.

Time for Immunization Before School Starts

Supt. J. R. Cox is reminding parents of all youngsters who will be entering the first grade of school here for the first time of the new policy that was passed here by the local school board early this year.

All pre-school children prior to enrollment in the Clarendon schools shall be immunized against diphtheria, whooping cough, tetanus, poliomyelitis and small pox. A certificate by a physician stating that immunization against the above has been given shall be presented to the elementary principal or home room teacher by the child or his parent on enrollment day.

Since school will be starting in just a little over a month, this should be done now so that your child will be over the effects of the immunization shots, if it has not already been taken care of, Cox stated.

W. W. Pinkerton To Head Commercial Department of College

W. W. Pinkerton, formerly connected with the local schools, was hired by the Clarendon School Board Tuesday night to head the Commercial Department of Clarendon Junior College. He will replace O. E. Patterson who resigned to accept a position in Illinois.

Following his tenure with the local schools in 1960, Mr. Pinkerton has been associated with a publishing company. His many friends here will be happy to learn that he has again accepted a position with the local schools. Supt. J. R. Cox reported Tuesday that at the present time, the local system was still minus one English teacher, a High School Math teacher and a Librarian.

Violent Weather Over Week End Takes Big Toll in Crops

SCHOOL TAX OFFICE MOVED TO NEW BUILDING

Members of the Clarendon Consolidated Independent School District Board of Education met Tuesday night and accepted the new Administration Building which is the first unit of the new building program to be completed. John Jones was the building contractor in charge of construction of the main office building.

The School Tax office which has been located in the Knorpp Insurance building for the past several years, was moved to the new building Wednesday of this week. Supt. J. R. Cox will move his office from the College building to the new building also. In fact, the new building will house the school business office along with the office of the Superintendent and his secretary. All business of any nature with the school will be handled through this office in the future as there will be no downtown office. The new administration building is located at the northeast corner of the college building.

COUNTRY CLUB FAMILY NIGHT JULY 27

Bill Porter, president of the Clarendon Country Club, announced yesterday that a family night would be held at the club on Thursday night, July 27.

All club members may invite as many guests as they wish and all facilities of the club will be open to guests at this time. Members will bring their own picnic lunch and the group will eat at 8 o'clock. Bingo will be the main attraction following the meal. Porter stated that the annual club chicken barbecue date would be announced within the next few days.

Violent weather raked the central portion of Donley County last Friday night and again Saturday night to rack up big crop losses along with heavy damage to fields.

The heavy rain that hit Clarendon about 7 o'clock Friday evening was accompanied by gusts of wind up to an estimated 80 miles an hour. This same storm hit the Lelia Lake area and eastward about the same time with a very destructive hail extending from the Spade Flat area to the county line southwest of Hedley. In the Lelia Lake area burns were blown down and large cottonwood trees were toppled. The roof was blown off the compress at Hedley.

Shortly after midnight Sunday, another violent cloud swept over the area accompanied by a continuous flash of lightning. This storm left hail damage to the west and south of Clarendon.

The deluge Friday night left 2.75 inches of moisture and another .65 was added early Sunday morning.

County Agent Flip Breedlove reported the following regarding hail damage to crops:

Hail damage to crops in Donley County Friday and Saturday nights was quite extensive says county agent, Flip Breedlove.

It is hard to estimate the damage in acres but the hail started north of Lelia Lake and covered a strip about three miles wide and went on down to around Hedley where it was about five miles north of Hedley and three miles west and on south of Hedley to the county line.

It hit again in the Chamberlain community and covered an area about two miles wide around the south side of the community. It also hit in the Spade Flat and caused quite a bit of damage. Light to extensive damage was reported west of Clarendon in the Martin community. Good crops are still left where the hail did not hit and farmers are using all precautions to control insect damage and cotton is fruiting in good shape.

Farmers in the county need a few dry days to work out their crops and get up in shape.

Grass on the ranges in the county is the best in years and cattle are all in good shape. All ranchers will go into the winter with a good crop of grass for wintering cattle.

GRAHAM BOYS MAKE HONOR ROLL AT TECH

From the office of the Registrar at Texas Tech at Lubbock comes the announcement that Wm. Doyce Graham, Jr. is listed on the Honor Roll for the spring semester, 1961 in the School of Agriculture. Students receiving this honor must be enrolled for 12 semester hours or more, and rank in the upper five per cent of the student body.

Graham was taking seven subjects. He completed 17 credit hours, and 46 grade points, and his grade point average for the spring semester was 2.71.

Also listed on the Dean's Honor Roll School of Agriculture for both the fall and spring semesters were Wm. Doyce Graham, Jr. and James Carl Graham.

James Carl completed six subjects in the spring semester with 16 credit hours and 33 grade points making a 2.06 average.

Both of these young men are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Doyce Graham of Ashtola, Texas; and they are making a fine scholastic record at Texas Tech. They both received their first two years of college work at Clarendon Junior College.

Mrs. Odell Duggins has returned home after a visit with her children in Houston. She was accompanied home by her granddaughter, Phyllis Lewis.

GUARANTEE OF QUALITY

A good many attacks have been made against the manufacturers of drugs in recent times. These have dealt primarily with the drugs which are used in doctors' prescriptions.

It is argued, for instance, that brand names or trademarks should be outlawed and that physicians should never prescribe the medication of a specific company, but should only write down the general name of the drug desired.

We would then have what an authority has termed a "drug anonymous" system. There would no longer be any strong incentive for pharmaceutical companies to produce a better product than their competitors, and to spend the huge sums on research that the development of new medicines demand.

After all, in any field of enterprise, the best guarantee of quality is the honor and integrity of the maker. When a concern puts its name on a trademarked product, it is putting its reputation on the line.

There is an interesting practical side to this matter. The Federal Food and Drug Administration is the government's policing agent in this field. FDA Commissioner Larrick has testified that over a 10-year period his bureau "had to take action only four times against any of the 28-well-known companies that produce 87 per cent of the nation drugs, the vast majority of them under trade names. In sharp contrast, the FDA had to take 484 actions against 235 of the 1200 or so lesser-known companies that produce the remaining 13 per cent." The present system is working—to the endless benefit of the ill, a category that includes all of us at one time or another.

ENTITLED TO A CHOICE

There may be a deep significance in the recent U.S. Senatorial election in Texas. The winner, college professor John G. Tower, is the first Republican ever elected to this office by Texas voters. And, partisan considerations to one side, he is an unqualified conservative. He is unequivocally opposed to any and all "welfare state" proposals, such as the compulsory health programs and federal aid to education. He believes in a free market for agriculture, and in the right-to-work laws.

The possible significance of this lies in the fact that it is not an isolated example of a resurgence of traditional conservatism. For example, Senator Barry Goldwater of Arizona, whose views are similar to those of Senator Tower, has developed a remarkably large national following. Great numbers of people, it is clear, are deeply concerned with the drift in this country toward a monolithic, do-everything-for-everybody state, operated on a deficit basis despite crushing and punitive taxes, and are seeking ways to stem the tide.

In any event, all should welcome the rise of reasoned opposition to the centralization of power in Washington. The American people are entitled to a choice—and forthright, personable and dedicated conservatives, liberals, and middle-of-the-roadsers must all join in the political frays if that choice is to exist.

RESPIRATORY DIFFICULTY CAN CUT EGG PRODUCTION

Chronic respiratory disease has developed into the number one problem of the nation's broiler industry. Because this respiratory trouble has had such a dramatic effect on the broiler industry, it is often disregarded as a disease of laying flocks.

In a recent study conducted by one of the nation's leading poultry breeders showed that poor total egg production was more closely associated with CRD than with any other disease. Some poultrymen have found as much as 30 per cent drop in egg production due to this disease.

LEADER CLASSIFIEDS GET RESULTS

PRACTICE SAFETY WHILE SWIMMING

To youngsters, summertime is swimming time. This is especially true of rural children, many of whom have a convenient farm pond available. Unfortunately, many of these swimming excursions end in tragedy. All too often you read stories about children drowning while swimming in a farm or ranch pond.

Most of the drownings, it is said, that occur in farm ponds could be prevented if a few simple safety precautions were taken. The first thing to remember is to never let anyone, adult or child, swim alone. Children should never, under any circumstances, be allowed to play alone anywhere near the pond.

It is also a good idea to keep life preservers handy, and to insist that non-swimmers wear them when playing in the pond. This does not mean plastic bags even though a plastic bag will support a person they puncture very easily making their use hazardous.

Rescue equipment should be kept at the pond. A long lightweight pole is very good for reaching swimmers in trouble. Another item that should be available is a length of light, strong rope. This rope should be at least as long as the pond is wide at its widest point. A lightweight float attached to the end of the rope will help if you want to throw it to a person in distress. Most ponds already have one good piece of rescue equipment — a small boat. If your pond does not, it would be a good idea to get one if at all possible.

BLOWIN' Out the CORNERS

By Jack Zeb

A Statesman will spend his time freely in order to make the taxpayers money go farther. A politician will spend the taxpayers money freely in order to make himself go farther in his time.

At a 4th of July parade in Red River, New Mexico we observed a float displaying an old-fashioned rocking chair. Across the back was a banner reading: Kennedy Rocked Here. Comments along the street seemed to indicate that the president's endorsement of the rocking chair might start a revival of this fast disappearing pastime.

The town was promoting a Free Barbecue. A local citizen had just been approached for a donation. "Wait a minute," he said, "There is supposed to be an 'r' in the first word like Free, not Fee Barbecue." We have always heard that the best things in life are free, but we guess this doesn't apply to barbecue.

Heard someone talking about a certain marriage. It seemed that he had children by a former marriage, she had children, and then along came more children. The wonderful part of the story was that the man was supposed to have commented: "Your children, my children, and our children are all just Our Happy Family. This could remind us again of the sermon we heard entitled 'It Is The Little Things That Count In Life.'"

Read this someplace: "You cannot help men permanently by doing for them what they could do for themselves." Sometimes politicians spend money which belongs to men trying to prove this saying untrue. At least they are trying to prove something.

Mr. Khrushchev has to keep pulling rabbits out of the briar patch in hopes of keeping his people in line. But as the food shortage gets even worse he may have to do some pretty fast thinking in order to keep ahead of them.

In 1957 he was explaining away the lack of production and promising the people that by 1960 he would have the West smothered — not with bombs but with the dust from trailing his production success. In the meantime he was urging them to try eating jackrabbit meat. In his words many Russians preferred it to chicken and insisted that it was even more tender. All this reminds us of the days when wild jackrabbits knew better than to snooze in the daylight hours. This of course was back in the 30's when our own standard of living was hitting pretty low.

The other day Mr. K. was marking excuses for the short delay in his plans to out-produce the West. This time he had enlarged his suggested diet just a bit. He was urging the people to try horse meat. Again he assured the people that those who had tried it couldn't even be pulled away from the table by their ears.

The secret of the success of their Communist propaganda lies in the fact that they keep telling a story over and over. They believe if a lie is told first and often enough thereafter that folks will eventually believe it. One trouble with these lies about the food situation is that the proof of the pudding is in the eating. On top of that an empty stomach does not get much comfort from lies and excuses. Especially when excuses are only the skin of reason stuffed with lies . . .

A recipe for a Forever Wedding Cake recently appeared in at least one Home Demonstration Club Yearbook in this area. The ingredients were as follows:
1 rounded cup of true love.
1 heaping cup of perfect trust and confidence.
A pinch of unselfishness.
A sprinkle of interest in all that the other does.
Mix all the ingredients with two cups of sympathy. Flavor with a bright fireside and a loving kiss. Bake well for all the days of your life.

We like to think that marriages are made in Heaven. We know for sure that God places His stamp of approval on them, and that He cautions man not to tear them asunder. Sometimes we wonder if perhaps we assume that the wedding is forever and stop working at the job of making it lasting and permanent.

In this day when so many marriages do go on the rocks it is certainly no accident when we read of some couple celebrating their golden wedding anniversary. It would go without saying that many occasions of give and take went into those years of successful and happy married bliss. We can believe that when tempers flared up there was also a good measure of understanding and confidence present.

Assuming that our marriage has the blessings of the Almighty; the potential for its destruction lies within the power of each individual. To be madly in love with each other is a good beginning, but the successful and happy marriages may depend even more on our keeping busy day after day at the job of living together . . .

STEADY RISE IN STATE DAIRY PRODUCTION

Average milk production per cow in Texas is steadily climbing toward the national average. In 1950, the average production for Texas dairy cows was 3,390 pounds per cow per year, but in 1960 it was 5,090 pounds. This is still considerably lower than the national figure of 7,004 lbs. per cow, but it does show tremendous gain.

One of the big factors, it is claimed, is the use of the artificial breeding. Many experts believe there is a connection between artificial insemination and the production increase. By the means the dairyman can make use of such advantages as a wider choice of good bulls, spreading the risks involved in proving the worth of young bulls, safe breeding of older bulls to young heifers, and easier control of reproductive diseases.

Take Chances
Progress always involves risks — you can't steal second base with one foot on first.

TOMATOES ARE LIMITED BY NEMATODES

Are your garden tomatoes poor producers? If so, the plants may have been damaged by root knot. Many other vegetables may also be affected.

Root knot occurs in all areas of the state, and is usually more common in sandy soils. The disease is caused by nematodes. Nematodes are small, microscopic worms belonging to a group of animals known as roundworms. Plants damaged by nematodes show a lack of vigor as indicated by stunting, wilting and yellowing of the leaves. Loss of leaves often occurs. Plants may die. Vegetables are usually small and unfit to eat.

To examine suspected plants, carefully remove roots and soil with a shovel. Diseased roots have abnormal galls or knots.

For information regarding treatment see Flip Breedlove, county agent.

Symbol of Freedom

Back in 1776 in this month of July, the original 13 colonies wrote and signed a Declaration which established them as free and independent states.

In the 185 years since then, the United States of America has grown to 50 states and has become the most powerful Nation on earth.

But of more significance today, in a world filled with turmoil, it stands as a mighty bulwark against tyranny and the threat of oppression.

We of General Telephone join with all freedom-loving Americans in expressing humble pride in our heritage and the principles of liberty for which it stands.

Wyatt Earp
We had a most pleasant visit the other day from Hugh O'Brian, known to most of you as Wyatt Earp. He was accompanied by my good friend, Ed Shelton, who originated in Austin, Texas, but who has been well known in Washington circles for a number of years because of his fine Texas friendliness and his outstanding abilities.

Hugh O'Brian is entitled to the compliments of the people of this country who are sincerely interested in youth. As sincerely interested, I might say, as Hugh O'Brian. This outstanding professional of the entertainment industry spearheaded a movement in 1956 to help provide inspirational opportunities and projects for deserving youths. He established the Hugh O'Brian Youth Foundation, a non-profit corporation designed to seek out and provide opportunity to potential leaders. He has stated this in the following terms:

"Today in America there is a need for diligent search for undiscovered or disregarded leadership potential. There is a middle group, long neglected, neither delinquent nor developed, that needs encouragement and attention.

"The purpose of this Foundation is to seek such youth and provide opportunities for its leadership potential to come to life and grow."

A discussion of this program with Hugh O'Brian would convince anyone that he was never more serious, even when he undertook to portray Wyatt Earp, which he did with such perfection.

Those of us in the Panhandle well know the great work that can be done with youth because of our close association with world famous Boys Ranch, headed by a virtual human dynamo, Cal Farley. There are many areas in which work can bring about fine accomplishments for the betterment of this country. I salute all of these dedicated men who have contributed and are contributing so much to this cause.

Salesmanship

The prestige of the United States in world affairs has been a hotly debated issue for the past several years. It has become more heated since the November 1960 elections, primarily because of charges and countercharges made in the preceding campaigns. Many factors can cause the loss of prestige, but one indispensable item in preserving it and rebuilding it is salesmanship. Secretary of Commerce Luther Hodges recognizes this and is advocating programs that could be most beneficial to the welfare and the economy of this country, both nationally and internationally.

A fine reporter for one of the Washington newspapers, desiring to be of help in the promotion of such a good program, decided to see for himself just how salesmanship was being practiced in the commercial establishments in the Washington Metropolitan area. His adventures in quest of this material added up to a most interesting and humorous story. It pointed up with great clarity that there is a sad lack in the art of salesmanship in the metropolitan areas. In fact, his good story brought to mind a recent experience of myself and our 14 year old son, Robert. On the day before Easter Jean advised me that Robert needed some new pants for Easter Sunday. I got Robert corralled and into the car and we went to one of the leading department stores in this area. After searching on our own for about ten minutes we found the department where pants were located. We waited another ten minutes and then concluded that our presence in the store had not been of great interest to anyone. Seeing two men casually conversing at a nearby counter, I hesitantly asked if they worked in the establishment. After continuing their conversation for several seconds, one of them inquired as to why I asked. I advised him that I was desirous of purchasing a pair of trousers for my son. He advised me in very clipped terms that I was standing by the pants counter and had been for several minutes. I suggested that it was my thought that perhaps he might be interested in whether the trousers fit the boy, but he quickly assured me that this was a false assumption. He stated that the size was written on the trousers and that I ought to be able to pick out what I wanted. I advised him that I was not compelled to buy the pants and that unless the service improved, I would let Robert go without them. The salesman (?) just smiled, probably realizing that both law and convention in our present-day civilization require this attire. Robert was probably thinking the same thing, because he didn't seem to approve of my threat to let him go without them. His chagrin undoubtedly convinced the salesman that he had me cornered, because he continued in the position that I found him when I interrupted his conversation. In an effort to recover some of the lost ground, I inquired of him how long it would take to put a pair of cuffs on the trousers so that the boy could wear them. He went into a deep study for about two minutes, and then in the tones of a judge pronouncing sentence on the accused, advised me that it would require at least two weeks. I expressed astonishment that such a long time would be required for a very simple operation. He advised me in most condescending terms that he could see that I had no understanding of the situation involved. He said, and I quote, "You must understand that you are required to take your turn." I didn't. What the salesman (?) didn't know was that I had a secret weapon. Robert has some older brothers, so we borrowed a pair of trousers from one of them to tide him over Easter until we could go to a store in one of the smaller communities around Washington where the people have not forgotten real courtesy and salesmanship.

This will undoubtedly seem like a strange story to the people in the Panhandle, where the clerks in the stores have always had the reputation of being most courteous and most helpful to the customers. I sincerely hope that the courtesy and helpfulness on the part of the people in the many small and medium sized towns in this country will infiltrate the metropolitan areas rather than vice versa.

If we lose the art of salesmanship at home in our own business and our own daily operations, how can we expect to sell our way of life in other sections of the world?

SIDE-WHEELERS AT JEFFERSON

Old side-wheeler boats used to churn up from New Orleans to Jefferson, Texas, in the northeast part of the state.

In 1874 a natural barrier in the Red River was removed. This resulted in a lowering of the water level seven feet in Cypress Bayou, thus making it un navigable for boat transportation.

This ended Jefferson's standing as the principal river port and gate-of-entry to Texas.

GEORGE'S WIFE
By "Sarah"

We hadn't given the blast Rep. Will Ehrlie gave the Governor last week, about the new tax proposal, much thought until we received this information from our friend in Amarillo. Governor Daniel has asked us to take 30 million dollars from our priority Farm-to-Market road funds and place this money in the general road fund.

This article has two titles: Real Taxes for Phantom Roads" or "P. T. Barnum Could be Right." And here is what the man says: "After 4 years, the biggest and most expensive construction job in man's history—The National System of Interstate and Defense Hiways — is beginning to take shape. When completed, it will dwarf the pyramids and the Panama Canal in scope and cost.

Since its birth in 1956, the cost of this 41,000 mile "cost to cost" super highway network has ballooned from $27 billion to $40 billion. In simple arithmetic that is $1,000,000 per mile. American motorists paying the cost, in addition to all the general taxes we pay, there is also tax on gasoline, licenses, registration fees, lube oil tax, new car tax, parts and accessories. All for the roads we need and use.

Getting to the P. T. Barnum famous saying, there are 70 million car and truck owners in this country who are buying just 57 cents worth of road for every road-tax dollar that goes into the federal government's pocket.

During the first four years of this highway program, the federal government collected $14.3 billion in automobile tax revenue. Out of this total only $8.1 billion was spent for highways, the rest was spent for everything else but roads. If this money had not been diverted, the $6.2 billion channeled away from roads in the past four years would have bought 6,200 miles of non-stop super highways. Of course, these miles and monies are just a phantom hope now. But the taxes we paid for that purpose were read and came from hard, earnest income out of your pocket and mine."

Why can't we demand fair tax treatment, no more and no less, from the tax dollars already taken, and in some way have an itemized statement from the biggest banker in the world. We would like to know where each dollar is going from here on out.

We wouldn't hand our bank roll over to an irresponsible child to manage, but what we are doing is just as bad. So good luck, Mr. Ehrlie, with your Farm-to-Market fight.

Registration began at 9:00 a.m. Coffee was served in the auditorium from 9:30 to 10:00.

The general session was very ably conducted by Mrs. Alma Perkins who gave the welcome address and who introduced the workshop assistants: Mrs. Velma Weaver, State Music Chairman who directed the music; Miss Mildred Hulsey from Tullia, who gave a very inspiring address on "International Emphases" of Delta Kappa Gamma, stressing the organization's needs and challenges and the vast frontiers open to the society; Mrs. Marie Ward, State Recording Secretary, who expressed her pleasure in being a guest of the workshop.

Group meetings were conducted from 11:00 to 12:00 a.m. Miss Zody Belle Walker from Memphis was in charge of the Constitution study; Mrs. Brunetta Morris discussed problems of Selective Recruitment; Mrs. Velma Weaver was leader for the Chapter Presidents' group.

Shower Honors Miss Koontz

A miscellaneous shower honoring Miss Barbara Koontz, bride-elect of Roy Lee Helms, was held Thursday afternoon, July 13, in the home of Mrs. L. P. Moore. Receiving hours were from 3:30 p.m. to 5 p.m.

Guests were greeted by Mrs. Moore and presented to the honoree, Mrs. D. R. Koontz, and Mrs. J. Helms. Miss Linda Self registered the guests.

A green and white decor was carried out. The refreshment table was laid with a white imported damask cloth and centered with a miniature bride and groom within a lace trimmed heart which was surrounded with white rosebuds. The arrangement was based on a large white heart. Appointments were crystal and silver. Presiding at the table were Elaine Behrens, Sandra Pinkerton, Andra Pinkerton, and Norma Self.

Approximately thirty guests called. Hostesses for the courtesy were Mesdames Joe Pfeiffer, James Gouldy, W. O. Elliott, Price Webb, W. W. Pinkerton, Dude Cornell, Lacy Noble, Mike West, Gene Welch, and L. P. Moore.

Preceding the shower, Miss Koontz was honored with a white Bible ceremony in which a white Bible was presented her by members of the Young Woman's Auxiliary of the First Baptist Church. LEADER CLASSIFIEDS GET RESULTS

NEW S.S. LAW INCREASES BENEFITS TO WIDOWS

The new social security law means increased benefits to widows beginning with the checks received in early September, according to Hal Geldon, manager of the Amarillo District Office.

"There's nothing that they need do except wait for a check with the increase on it. For widows already receiving monthly insurance benefits, the increase is automatic," Geldon continued. "Our payment centers are already figuring the increase with the aid of electronic machines."

This increase will be received only widows and widowers of retirement age. Younger widows, who get survivors benefits because they have young or disabled children in their care, receive a Mother's Benefit. The new law does not change the portion payable to that group. But it's a 10 per cent increase to those widows who are 62 years or older, Geldon said.

SLOWER MOVING AUTO LESS DANGEROUS

Any automobile accident can be serious, but those which involve slower moving vehicles are less dangerous than those traveling at high speeds which can so easily get out of control. The faster a car goes, the greater the impact in the event of a collision. Escape from injury — or death — is practically impossible when a vehicle operating at excessively high speed meets up with another car or some stationary object, such as a bridge abutment. Even those cars with posted legal speed limits often travel too fast to escape serious results in case of an accident.

"Drive unto others as you would have them drive unto you," Sgt. E. G. Alberts, Highway Patrol Supervisor of this area said. "If everyone would remember that speed kills and that courtesy prevents accidents, we could reverse the trend shown in prior years," he concluded.

DONLEY COUNTY HAS TWO ACCIDENTS DURING JUNE

The Highway Patrol investigated two accidents on Rural Highways in Donley County during the month of June, according to Sgt. E. G. Albers, Highway Patrol Supervisor of this area.

These wrecks accounted for one person injured, and a property damage of $940.00.

The Rural Traffic Accident Summary for Donley County during January through June of 1961 shows a total of 14 crashes. As a result of these crashes there were 11 persons injured and one person killed. The estimated property damage amounted to $6,320.00. This compares with the first six months of 1960's total of 20 rural crashes injuring 18 people, killing seven persons and causing an estimated property damage of $18,843.00.

The sergeant advised that the summer Slow Down and Live campaign emphasizes the need for motorists to control their driving speed. Speed control is vital to safety, because of the overcrowded conditions of the highways caused by thousands and thousands of vacation travelers, most of whom are in a big hurry, since vacation time is usually all too short. That hurry attitude frequently steers them into speeding violations — or, worse than that, a serious accident — even death itself!

Mrs. Dan Standley and children, Sherry and David are visiting her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Don Davis. They plan to remain until they can join their husband and father, A/C Dan Standley who left last Tuesday week for Alconbury, England where he will be stationed for the next three years.

Guests in the W. C. Scott home Sunday were: Mr. and Mrs. John F. Harlan, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hefner, Mr. and Mrs. Don Barker and Brenda, Mr. Chester Scott, all of Amarillo, Mr. and Mrs. Ward Grimsley, Bobby and Jerry of Borger.

NEMATODES ARE SERIOUS COTTON PEST

Nematodes damage cotton, more or less, in all areas of Texas. The small microscopic worms are more damaging in sandy or loma type soils where water is a limiting factor.

Nematode injury is often overlooked or mistakenly diagnosed as drought damage and poor soil. Damage may vary from slight to as much as 30 percent of the crop. The root knot nematodes are the most damaging and most easily recognized. Damage by these nematodes result in knots or galls being formed on the roots. Young cotton seedlings can be attacked by the parasites causing them to die or be weakened.

In some areas nematodes damage the roots and provide a gateway for the fusarium wilt fungus to enter. The musarium wilt disease has been moving west in recent years. Specimens have been received at College Station from Wichita Falls, O'Brien and Muleshoe areas.

Other nematodes that cause damage are the dagger, stubby root and stilet nematodes. The root lesion, lance and true spiral nematodes are suspected as causing damage. Special soil and root samples can be checked in the Plant Disease Diagnostic Laboratory at College Station in order to determine kind and number of nematodes.

Nematodes are controlled by certain cultural practices or the use of certain chemicals prior to planting. For further information see Flip Breedlove, County Agent.

FAILURE TO AGREE ON TAX PLAN BLAMED ON LOBBY INTERFERENCE

At Governor Daniel's suggestion, a bill to impose further lobby controls has been introduced.

Daniel has consistently blamed "lobby interference" for the regular session to agree on a tax plan.

Five House members are co-sponsors of a bill that would require that all contributions of $50 or more to be used to influence legislation be reported. It would also prohibit lobbyists from being on the floor of House or Senate during sessions or calling members off the floor during debate.

Sen. A. R. Schwartz of Galveston has said he will sponsor a companion measure in the Senate.

Iron in Wash Water A Factor in Egg Spoilage

COLLEGE STATION — Washing eggs in water containing a high concentration of iron — five to ten parts per million in solution — has been found to increase the rate and extent of egg spoilage.

F. Z. Beamblossom, extension poultry marketing specialist, says the discovery by Agricultural Research Service scientists may help to solve a mystery which has plagued egg producers for years — why washing seems to increase spoilage in some instances but not in others.

Research shows that wash water containing excess iron carries it through the shell and shell membrane into the inner egg tissue. Here, iron reverses the protective action of an egg's conalbumin, the iron-binding protein in egg white, and accelerates spoilage.

Tests made at the USDA's Western Utilization Research Laboratory at Albany, California, established the detrimental effects of excess iron on egg quality. Field tests on several egg farms near Albany confirmed the laboratory findings, according to Beamblossom. At one farm, spoilage was slight, 1 percent or less, in eggs washed in well water containing 1 part per million of soluble iron. Spoilage at another farm, however, mounted to 6 percent a few weeks after eggs were washed in well water containing 5 to 10 parts per million of iron.

Beamblossom points out that scientists have known for many years that washing eggs increased the risk of spoilage, but have not agreed on how to control it. A common practice on most egg farms is to machine-wash all eggs — not just dirty ones — to eliminate the time consuming job of soring.

The specialist says these findings may be very important to Texas egg producers who operate in areas of the state where the well water is known to contain high concentrations of soluble iron. But, he adds, there are many factors which influence egg spoilage and points out that much work is being done in the Poultry Science Department of Texas A & M College on other conditions which may influence the development of Pseudomonas bacteria in eggs.

COMMITTEE TO STUDY AUTO INSURANCE HIKE

The House has authorized a special five-member committee to look into the reasonableness of a 15 per cent raise in auto insurance rates recently ordered by the State Board of Insurance.

Resolution expressed concern that the higher rate might cause many drivers to drop their auto insurance and thus become unable to pay for accident damage.

The only thing mother needs to save for a rainy day is patience.

LIBRARY NOTES

EDITH BARNES

A memorial gift has been given to the library dedicated to the memory of Mrs. Essie Putman. One of our good library friends has given us two new books, both fiction. There is still a lot of good unread fiction as well as non-fiction in the adult section of the library. You folks who shy away from non-fiction are cheating yourselves as a lot of it is much better written than some of the fiction you read, besides it is surprising some of the things you can learn.

How many of you have read Dr. Spock's article in the April "Ladies Home Journal" and gave it some thought? You should not have to be told that not only is Dr. Spock a nationally known pediatrician but what seems to be most important to some folks, he is a father.

In his "Can We Prevent Delinquency?" we come up against that "not enough love" again. He says a majority of the serious and chronic delinquents are boys and girls who have been loved insufficiently, neglected or perhaps abused from early childhood. How can their character disturbances be prevented? Their parents usually suffered the same fate in their youth, got little out of school, grew up irresponsible, impulsive, became poor workers, and made unstable marriages. So the pattern is passed monotonously from generation to generation. . . Before we can make a real dent in the steady production and reproduction of chronic delinquents and criminals we will have to intensify greatly our facilities for reaching these families through expanded social services. This would require increased contributions to Red Feather campaigns and perhaps higher taxes. But I've read that it costs society $30,000 to catch, try and punish just one felon. Thus, a lot of preventing can be done with $30,000."

He along with others, who know, point out that the tragic thing is the folks who need help the most are the know-it-alls who are already perfect in their own eyes, that is.

A memorial gift has been given to the library in memory of Mr. Frank Bourland.

Where The Blame Belongs
What happened to living costs during the late 50's?

A typical answer would be, "Everything went up — way up." But that wouldn't be quite accurate. Take, as one example, a commodity that just about everybody consumes everyday — gasoline. Between 1950 and 1959, its cost rose only 5.5 per cent, as against a jump in the all-commodity price index of 21 per cent.

That statement will cause some eyebrows to raise, for we all know that it costs a lot more to fill a car's tank with gas than it did 10 years ago. However, the reason is not increases in the cost of the fuel itself. Instead, it is vast increases in the tax.

In the 1950-59 period, state and federal gasoline taxes increased by 51 per cent. Today the combined tax averages 10.12 cents per gallon. As a result, direct taxes now equal nearly one-half the retail cost of the fuel itself which at the end of 1959 averaged 21.18 cents a gallon, minus taxes. Even extreme luxuries do not carry so heavy a tax.

So, when you cuss the high cost of motoring, put the blame where it belongs — not on the gasoline, but on government.

After years of tax argument in Texas, debate now seems to have narrowed down to one question.

It is whether to have a sales tax on specified items or one on all but specified items.

First is known as the Pennsylvania-type sales tax. It is favored by Governor Price Daniel as a means of raising $303,000,000 of the $360,000,000 he feels is needed. It would list the items on which a 2 per cent sales tax would be levied. Goal would be to cover all items selling for 50 cents or more except food to be eaten at home, prescription drugs, clothing costing less than $10, feed, seed, fertilizer, books, farm machinery, livestock and gas and electricity used in manufacturing.

Other approach would be a bill like the Senate passed last session. It does not attempt to list all the items to be taxed but applies to everything except the usual groceries, drugs, farm needs.

Aim of both bills is the same: to raise a lot of money with a lot of retail sales taxes. There is no serious attempt to raise the bulk of the needed money by any means other than retail sales taxes.

To some it might seem a Tweedie-Tweedie Dum choice. But not to Governor Daniel and to many legislators. A sales tax that applies to everything except exempt items is, in the governor's eyes, a "general sales tax," against which he is dead set.

Objectors to the Pennsylvania tax contend it would be one long pain in the neck, both for state tax collectors and retail merchants, to keep up with what is in the long, long list and what isn't. Too, they point out that new products are constantly coming on the market and would be tax-free.

Atty. Gen. Will Wilson appeared at the hearing as one of the critics of the Daniel (Pennsylvania) plan.

Legislature is moving swiftly in its short session, trying to avoid re-ploughing the same ground covered on tax bills last session.

Among revenue raising measures under consideration are these:

Governor's Package Bill, by Rep. Charles Ballman of Borger. This would include the Pennsylvania-type 2 per cent sales tax, a provision for a minimum levy of 1 cent per 1,000 cubic feet on gas, a two-factor franchise tax on interstate corporations, a 50 per cent increase in drivers' license fees, a transfer of that portion of gasoline taxes allocated for schools at the end of August each year and a leveling of the tax on coin-operated machines at $10 each per year.

Hinson Package Bill, by Rep. George Hinson of Mineola, frequent sponsor of measures favored by the governor. Hinson's bill would include a sales tax on purchases of $5 or more, a corporate income tax, real estate transfer tax, a severance beneficiary tax on natural gas, a utilities tax and a 1 per cent transfer from the permanent school fund. Estimated yield: $368,000,000.

Gas Tax Bill, by Rep. Bob Eckhardt of Houston. Bill is designed to insure that the state would collect a minimum tax of 1 cent on each 1,000 cubic feet of Texas gas. If the present 7 per cent gas production tax did not supply it, the purchaser would have to pay the difference. Estimated yield: $30,000,000. It is included in the Ballman bill.

Selective Excise Tax, by Rep. Ben Atwell of Dallas. It is similar to the Pennsylvania tax, also, and would yield an estimated $355,000,000.

Escheat Bill by Rep. Charles Hughes of Sherman. This is the well-worn proposal to provide enforcement procedures so that abandoned property, bank accounts, etc., would go to the state.

Battle of the Polls — Two citizens group are engaged in a duel of poll taking, each trying to demonstrate more public support for its tax plan.

Citizens for a Sales Tax announced that of 11,000 persons replying to its post card poll, 83.6 per cent favored a retail sales tax.

Citizens for Fair Taxation, a group which supports Governor Daniel's tax program, immediately declared that the CST poll was heavily weighted with Chamber of Commerce members and not a true reflection of public sentiment.

Citizens for Fair Taxation is at work on a poll of its own.

Spending Bills Pushed — A general appropriations bill and a bill to raise teachers' salaries are moving through both houses with little re-hashing. Senate quickly approved a two-year appropriations bill calling for spending of $2,469,000. It is essentially the same as the Senate appropriations bill in the regular session.

Both Senate and House education committees approved bills that would give public school teachers an across-the-board raise of $810 a year. House passed the teachers' bill on the floor, 141 to 1.

Senate committee also approved education bills providing for educational films, driver education, assistant principals for larger schools, and five days sick leave a year for teachers.

Money Needs Upped — State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert had a new revenue forecast for legislators at the beginning of the session that showed an expected revenue from existing sources at $24,000,000 less than the January forecast.

Part of the difference between the old and new forecasts was due to some $6,000,000 in additional school and welfare payments authorized during the regular session. Most of the rest of the drop was attributed to a decline in revenue from auto sales taxes and franchise taxes.

Calvert also estimated that the general fund deficit at the end of the fiscal year Aug. 31 will be $64,000,000. This is $1,000,000 more than his January prediction.

LITTLE LEAGUE RESULTS

The Little League was hampered with weather elements last Friday with only one game played but it was a good one. The Sox journeyed to Hedley and won their game there 7-5 but the Cub-Lakeview game scheduled to be played here was rained out.

On Tuesday night, the Cubs defeated the Sox on the local diamond 15-7.

VISITS MEXICO CITY

Supt. and Mrs. J. R. Cox returned home last week from a two weeks vacation to Mexico City and points of interest along the route. Two days were spent at Corpus Christi where Mr. Cox reported he got in some good Gulf fishing.

TEACHER TRAINING HIT

Members of the Commission on Higher Education looked over a 140-page report on teacher education courses being offered in state colleges and decided that there was too much folderol.

A number of legislators also have been critical in recent months, both of the content and the amount of time spent on teaching method courses. State Board of Education has recently reduced the number of method courses required for teacher certification.

Commission on Higher Education members expressed hope that the college administrators could and would do for themselves the necessary pruning in education course offerings.
