Bronchos Play Panhandle Panthers Here Friday Night, 8:00 O'clock

The Clarendon High School Bronchos, their spirits high from their 26 to 0 win over Silverton last Friday night, will meet the Panhandle Panthers here Friday night. Game time is scheduled for 8:00 o'clock.

Coach Jinks was fairly well pleased with the efforts of the boys last week at Silverton. He was pleased to see a little more speed in the backfield, but was mildly concerned that his boys could not mount any sort of sustained drive. They either scored from many yards out, or lost the ball.

The Panthers from Panhandle, under their new coach, Ed Linnick, have lost their only two games so far this season. They dropped a 14 to 6 decision to LeFors in the first game and last week lost to Groom, 14 to 0. From results of the first two games, the Bronchos will be slightly favored, but by a very small margin. The two games Panhandle has lost were to preppy solid teams. The Bronchos, on the other hand, lost heavily to powerful Stinnett, and won easily from weak Silverton. From those two decisions, it is still pretty hard for the coaches to determine just what they have in the way of a team.

Coach Jinks reported that the boys came out of the Silverton game in good physical condition. It was feared that power runner Jim Robinson had an injured arm, but reports later were that it was just a pulled muscle and was not serious.

The starting line-up for Friday night's game will probably be the same as started last week which had Bill Hermesmeyer and Leon Gibbs at ends, Charles Stout and Ted Shaller at tackles, Frank Hermesmeyer and Billy Hearn at guards and Steve Richerson at center. Dwight McAnear will be at quarterback, Jim Robinson and Jerry Campbell at halfbacks and Gary Elmore at fullback.

HOMEcoming OFFICERS AND SECRETARIES TO MEET SAT.

Officers and secretaries of the Homecoming Organization are asked to meet Saturday afternoon, September 16 at 2 p.m. in the college Auditorium. This is an important meeting and all are urged to attend. Final plans will be made for the big day, September 30.

Plans Made for Commercial Steer Show

The Clarendon Chamber of Commerce in cooperation with Clarendon FFA and 4-H will sponsor a Commercial Steer Show to be held about this time next year.

The purpose of this show is to encourage more 4-H and FFA members to participate in a practical beef production program. Greater use of home-grown feeds is recommended in finishing beef steers to market grades in current greatest demand. Emphasis on economy in the feeding operation is not only recommended but is a prerequisite for entry in this show. With the great number of feeder cattle produced in Donley County and surrounding areas, it is the purpose of this show to promote the use of cattle grown in this area and fed on feeds raised in this area.

To enter a steer in this show you must be enrolled in Clarendon FFA or 4-H. The steer may be purebred, grade, or crossbred, may or may not be halter broken, and must weigh over 600 pounds at show time.

This promises to be one of our best fairs and horse show in years says E. S. Ballew, Vice-President of the Planning Committee for the Fair. The Planning Committee met on Monday night and completed all plans for the Fair and started the plans for fixing up the sales arena for the bull sale later this fall.

It is planned to petition off the sales arena from the rest of the barn so that it can be warmed and made comfortable for the bull sale to be held in Clarendon December 7. This work will get under way after the County Fair.

COLLEGE REGISTERS 101 STUDENTS MONDAY

A total of 101 students enrolled at Clarendon Junior College on first day of registration last Monday. This is an increase of 17 students over the first registration day last year. Records from the office of the Dean show that the highest previous enrollment for the first day was 91 in 1957. A total of 84 enrolled on the first day last year.

Students were still registering Tuesday and are expected to continue throughout the week. Optimism was high that this year's enrollment will eventually set an all-time record for the college.

Radioactive fallout is under close scrutiny at Texas' two testing stations in Austin and El Paso.

Resumption of nuclear testing by the Soviet Union brought on the 24-hour-a-day shift atop the Health Department building in Austin where sampling devices, working like vacuum cleaners, pull jet streams of air through a filter to measure fallout.

During the four year nuclear test ban, radioactivity got progressively lower. Before the tests were stopped, engineers said it was 50 to 100 times higher. They expect results of Russian shots to begin showing up here within the next few days.

Meanwhile, Gov. Price Daniel announced a survey is being launched in Texas to make fall-out shelter space available over the state. He said Col. R. Paul West of the U.S. Army Engineers at Fort Worth, who has been assigned to survey, will work in coordination with the State Civil Defense and Disaster Relief Division and local civil defense officials.

Survey is part of a national program to locate possible fallout shelter space in existing buildings, tunnels and other protected areas.

Poultry Industry in Trouble
Texas Agriculture Commissioner John C. White organized a conference of southern Agriculture Commissioners in Atlanta, Ga., to "seek ways and means to help save the poultry industry."

White said they will attempt to find ways to relieve the current "disastrous poultry prices" which are at the lowest point in the history of commercial broiler production.

"This is not just a local situation in Texas," White said. "The entire national broiler industry is suffering from a price depression."

He reported poultry prices dropped in the past week to as low as 10.5 cents per pound, or as much as five cents below cost for many producers.

Meanwhile, the Attorney General's Department is studying the record of a special court of inquiry to determine if anti-trust violations are involved in the price decline.

Witnesses testified the trouble is overproduction. Actually the overproduction is not in Texas but in the 21 other broiler producing states.

Phil Friberg, manager of the Western Hatcheries in Gonzales, said 50 per cent of Texas' broiler producers will be out of business if something doesn't happen.

Atty. Gen. Will Wilson wants to determine if "there is any effort to price the Texas poultry producer out of business."

Paper Backs in School?
State Board of Education has launched a study into the question of how much could be saved by using paper-back books in schools, and whether it would be worth it.

"We can't say what the savings will be until the study is made," State Education Commissioner J. W. Edgar said, "but it appears the initial savings will be considerable." He pointed out the principal cost of some books is what's inside, rather than the materials used.

Board authorized the Texas Education Agency to start by asking bids on both soft cover and hard cover editions of one textbook—Vocal Music for seventh and eighth grades. It also authorized the agency to have a qualified laboratory test the wearability of paper backs against hard covers and submit findings.

DAIRY PUBLICATIONS RELEASED

Two publications that should be of interest to Texas dairymen, both young and old, have recently been released by Texas A&M College. The first, a joint publication of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, is the report of a study to determine the necessary ingredients for a profitable dairy operation. The second publication, put out by the Extension Service, deals with the fitting and showing of the dairy heifer.

For the study on factors affecting dairy profits, 100 representative operations were studied in East Texas, and a similar study was conducted in Central Texas. It was found that six factors greatly influence the profits from Grade A milk production. One of the most important of these was high average milk production. In connection with this, it is necessary to have a large enough herd of good cows to insure efficient use of land, labor and equipment. It was also found that milk production costs are lowered by feeding concentrates according to individual cow performance. These and other findings are discussed and explained in B-976, "Planning for Profitable Dairying."

The second publication, MP-503, "Fitting and Showing Dairy Heifers" gives valuable information and tips on preparing a champion. Several months are required to fit and train a dairy heifer for the show, but all of this work and care pays off in the show ring. If a calf is not a winner before the show, she certainly won't win a blue ribbon in the ring. This publication starts with the earliest training of the animal and outlines the steps necessary to come up with a winner.

Both publications may be obtained from County Agent Flip Breedlove or from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas.

THREE RURAL ACCIDENTS IN JULY INVESTIGATED BY HIGHWAY PATROL

The Highway Patrol investigated 3 accidents on Rural Highways in Donley County during the month of July, according to Sgt. E. G. Alberts, Highway Patrol Supervisor of this area.

These wrecks accounted for a property damage of $807.00.

The rural traffic accident summary for Donley County from January through July of 1961 shows a total of 17 crashes. As a result of these crashes there were 11 persons injured and one person killed. The estimated property damage amounted to $7,127.00. This compares with the first seven months of 1960's total of 21 rural crashes injuring 18 people, killing seven persons and causing an estimated property damage of $19,128.00.

"Prior to August 1, throughout the state of Texas, there had been a total of 974 fatal crashes resulting in 1214 persons losing their lives needlessly," the Sgt. stated. This compares with 929 fatal crashes and 1134 lives lost for the same period in 1960. Therefore, in 1961 there have been 45 more fatal crashes resulting in 80 more lives lost, or a 7 percent increase.

With the summer vacation period in its final month and Labor Day approaching, many thousands of people will be crowding in their final visit, outing, etc., before their children start back to school. This means many people will be trying to travel too far in a short time. Many will be carefree and careless in their driving.

The Sgt. listed some facts about last year's Labor Day Weekend and some suggestions to remedy this. There were 22 fatal crashes resulting in 30 smashed out lives over the 1960 three-day Labor Day Weekend. In order to arrive alive at your destination start in plenty of time to allow for delays along the way. Give the right of way, don't take it. Be prepared for the other driver's actions; if he can't or won't stop at an intersection, YOU CAN. REMEMBER, drive with caution so as not to ARRIVE in a COFFIN!

Mrs. A. G. Lane enjoyed a visit from her grandchildren, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ford and family of Ornage, Texas, and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry O'Neal and family of White Deer Sunday afternoon.

SHORT DUCK SEASON DISAPPOINTING, BUT GEESSE HOPES BETTER

Hunters disappointed over the short duck season and low bag limit may find some consolation in the snow and blue geese possibilities. There is every indication in the snow and blue geese possibilities. There is every indication that there will be a heavy migration of these two species into Texas again this year, according to Howard Dodgen, executive secretary of the Game and Fish Commission.

The duck season will begin Nov. 18 and close Dec. 17, running for 30 days only, with a bag limit of 3 per day, and 6 in possession. The season is closed on redheads, canvasbacks and blackbellied tree ducks. Under the seasonal limits offered by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, Texas could have had a 40-day season, for a 2 duck kill. However, the Commission felt that it would be better in Texas to increase the bag limit and shorten the season. This, in effect, will give hunters an opportunity for a better total kill.

These dates also were set because, in surveys of recent years by the Commission waterfowl biologists, this was found to be the big success period of the season.

The goose season will be 60 days, beginning Nov. 3 and closing Jan. 1. The limit will be 5 a day, and 5 in possession. This limit may include 2 Canadas or one speckled belly and one Canada. It may include, in addition, 3 snows or blues, or it will be possible to have 5 snows and/or blue with no specs or honkers.

The duck season will open at 12 noon the first day, and the hours will be from sunrise to sunset thereafter. The goose season will open at sunrise the first day, and will close at sunset.

The short season and bag limit was not unexpected, according to Dodgen. There has been an extreme drought in the Canadian provinces, particularly in that area which is the nesting ground of the Central Flyway. The prairie potholes of Alberta, Manitoba and Saskatchewan were hard hit. The conditions in the Mississippi Flyway are comparable to those of the Central Flyway, but in that flyway the duck season has been set at 40 days with a limit of 2 ducks per day.

In the Pacific Flyway, conditions were a little better, and a longer season and larger bag limit was allowed.

EXTENSION RELEASES PUBLICATIONS ON INSECTS

Are insects eating up your farm profits? If they are, or if they are only nibbling at them, you should read two recent publications of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. One, B-975, deals with insects that attack forage crops, and the other, L-217, tells how to prevent insect damage to farm-stored grain.

For many years cultural practices were the main methods used to prevent infestations of forage crop pests. Insecticides were impractical for many years because the low market value of forage crops did not warrant a cash outlay for them. Price changes and improved production methods, however, have changed all this. Unfortunately, this increased use of insecticides has brought about some problems. Too many people see some insects on their forage crops and grab the nearest "bug killer."

Sometimes this practice gets rid of undesirable insects, but in many cases it either fails to kill the unwanted insects or does kill beneficial ones. If the farmer would take time to identify the insects on his crops, this would not happen. True, he does know many of the more common ones, but there are usually some he is not familiar with. This is where B-975 "Insects Attacking Forage Crops" comes in. The farmer can use this bulletin to properly identify the insects and he can then look in Extension Service publication MP-339 for the proper control measures.

Even after the farmer has harvested his crops and has his grain stored, he is not safe from insect-caused losses. There are many insects that can reduce farm-stored grain to so much useless trash. These losses can be prevented, however. Leaflet L-217 "Control of Insects in Farm Stored Grain" outlines the proper methods for preventing these unnecessary losses.

TEST SOILS NOW FOR FALL CROPS

During the months of May and June, Texas farmers submitted 1,149 soil samples to the Agricultural Extension Service Soil Testing Laboratories, reports William F. Bennett, extension soil chemist.

Bennett points out that the Extension Service maintains these laboratories for Texas farmers to use in determining their fertilizer and limestone needs. Even though soil tests have some limitations in determining fertilizer needs, Bennett says the $2.00 spent on a soil test is the most important money spent in a fertilizer program.

Farmers who are planning fall crops should submit their soil samples now. This will insure receiving the analysis in time to apply the needed fertilizer.

ACREAGE SURVEY STARTING AT LELIA LAKE SOON

Mrs. O. D. Roberts, postmistress at Lelia Lake, Tex., announced today that 1961 Acreage Survey cards will be distributed to patrons of Lelia Lake about Sept. 14.

The Post Office and U.S. Agriculture Departments cooperatively make this survey each year. These reports, directly from farmers, are the basis for official estimates for Texas acreage of all crops harvested in 1961.

To be sure this community is well represented in the survey, Postmistress Roberts urges each farmer patron receiving a card to fill it out and return it to post office or mailbox. The mail carrier working on this project is John W. Swinney.

STOCKMEN TO BE ON ALERT FOR PINKEYE

Pinkeye has been reported from many areas of the state and Dr. C. M. Patterson, extension veterinarian, says stockmen should keep a careful watch for symptoms among their cattle.

Symptoms include watery eyes and swollen and reddened eyelids, Dr. Patterson said. Later the eyeball may become clouded, vision impaired and sick cattle will show discomfort in sunlight, he said. Pinkeye can cause damage ranging from simple irritation to permanent blindness, the veterinarian added.

Dr. Patterson said there are many causes for eye troubles which resemble pinkeye, including several infections, growths, vitamin A deficiency and wind-blown forage and chaff which irritate the eyes. It is best, he said, to consult a veterinarian if pinkeye is suspected so that proper treatment can be started at once and also the cause determined. The treatment varies with the cause, he said.

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 18TH DISTRICT
By Congressman Walter Rogers

Trade with Cuba
Last week I discussed pending investigations of trade policies concerning Red bloc countries in Europe. This week I want to discuss some problems that are very close to our shores and which I feel should be made known to the American people.

On January 3, 1961 this government severed diplomatic relations with the Castro regime in Cuba. For years the Cuban economy has been measurably subsidized because of an agreement under which this country was buying approximately thirty percent of our domestic sugar needs. This purchase amounted to approximately three million tons of sugar per year from Cuba. At a price of $100 per ton, this would mean that this country was spending over $300 million a year for Cuban sugar. This Cuban sugar quota allocation had been withdrawn on July 6, 1960. This constituted a partial economic embargo. Subsequently, restrictions on exports to Cuba were laid down which prevented the shipment to Cuba of any goods unless classified as foodstuffs or medical supplies. However, between October, when these restrictions were invoked, and January 1, 1961 it appears that the United States imported from Cuba $7.5 million worth of tobacco and manufactured tobacco products; $5.3 million was imported in foodstuffs such as lobsters, fruits, vegetables, and so forth; and $2.2 worth of metals. This means that although exports to Cuba other than foodstuffs and medical supplies were prohibited, imports from Cuba were not prohibited. The result was that Castro was obtaining American dollars with which he could purchase any American goods he wanted to buy from other countries.

Between January and April 1, 1961 the United States imported $3.8 million worth of foodstuffs, $6.7 million worth of tobacco, $2.2 million worth of metals and manufactured metal products, and so forth. In other words, Castro has continued to get American dollars.

The record shows that between July 1, 1961 and August 1, 1961 the United States imported from Cuba goods in the amount of $4,142,768. We exported to Cuba goods under the restrictions above referred to in the amount of $338,791. Hence, you can see that our present policy, outside of the sugar embargo, is not hurting Castro in the least. In fact, he may not be hurting because of the following reason: it will be remembered that the three million tons of sugar taken away from Cuba was reallocated to other foreign countries. A substantial amount went to Brazil, which is presently in the news. A substantial amount went to British Guiana and the Federation of West Indies, which is also in the news because of the recent election of a man alleged to be an extreme left winger. Other portions went to other Central and South American countries, many of whom are doing business with Castro. How are we to know that the sugar imported into this country to replace that formerly acquired from Cuba is not in fact Cuban?

sugar transhipped through the other countries?

The Congress is presently considering legislation which would prohibit the shipment in interstate commerce of any goods, wares, or merchandise imported from Cuba. It has been argued that the most effective action that could be taken would be a simple bar of any imports into this country from Cuba. This could be done by specific legislation, or it could be done by this government invoking the provisions of the Trading With the Enemy Act. Many feel that the elimination only of the shipment in interstate commerce of goods imported from Cuba might open the door for illicit trafficking in these goods. In other words, they argue that if the goods are allowed to be imported into the United States, efforts will be made to move them across State lines, either legally or illegally, by comingling or otherwise. They argue that if the importation of these goods into the United States in the first instance is positively and effectively prohibited, the desired result as against the Castro regime will be achieved without the danger above mentioned. The matter is being studied by a Committee of which I am a member at the present time, and you can rest assured that if I have my way there will be no doubt but that the goods cannot be imported into the United States in the first instance; that any importation of the goods into the United States will be in violation of the law; and that if any of the goods do come into the United States illegally, then any transportation of them within a State or across State lines will be in violation of the law.

Bronchos Stampede Silverton With Easy 36-0 Victory

The Clarendon High School Bronchos featured the running of Jerry Elmore, Gary Campbell, Jim Robinson and John Cearley along with the passing of Dwight McAnear to roll up a convincing 36 to 0 win over the big but slow Silverton Owls at Silverton last Friday night.

The Bronchos exploded with five long scoring plays and held the Owls without a serious offensive threat in handing the Owls their second shut-out of the season. The closest the Owls could get to the Broncho goal line was when they recovered a Clarendon fumble on the Clarendon 25 yard line late in the game. However, the Owls did chalk up 10 first downs as compared to 13 for Clarendon.

The Bronchos lost little time in denting the score column in the first quarter. The Bronchos kicked off to the Owls and after gaining two first downs the Owls punted and the Bronchos put the ball in play on their own 30 yard line. On the first play, Elmore shot off tackle and outran the Owl secondary for 70 yards and the score. Robinson made the extra points. A little later the Bronchos took over on their own 35 and after one play picked up five yards, McAnear hit Campbell with a pass and the fleet little halfback gathered it in on the 50 and raced down the sideline all the way to the end zone. The conversion was no good but the Bronchos led 14-0 at the end of the first quarter.

The Bronchos struck again midway of the second period. They recovered a fumble on the Silverton 25 yard line and from there McAnear hit Robinson with a pass on the Owl 10 with nothing between him and the goal line. This time Elmore made good the conversion with a run around left end and the half ended with the Bronchos commanding a 22 to 0 lead.

The Bronchos continued the rout in the second half. Shortly after the second half began, Robinson turned in what was perhaps the best play of the game. The Bronchos took over on their own 18 yard line after an exchange of punts. The hard running halfback took a hand-off from McAnear, shot through the line, eluded three secondary defenders and raced 82 yards for the score. This time McAnear took care of the conversion himself with a run around right end.

Coach Jinks got all his squad into the ball game. It was hard to pick out any particular outstanding defensive boys, but Bill Hermesmeier made a number of jarring tackles as did Leon Gibbs. Reserve lineman Robin Green also did an outstanding job while he was in the game.

Mrs. E. H. Gerner returned home Saturday from Borger, Texas where she has been visiting her son, Bill, who is hospitalized at North Plains Hospital. Bill, who is employed at a chemical company, was burned about the face and arms when acid was accidentally spilled on him and a co-worker, Paul McAlester, formerly of Clarendon. McAlester, however, was less seriously burned.

As August went and September came, Life with the Sales Tax just won't be the same. Everyone seems to be sort of "shook," Both those that take, and those who are "took."

Our plans to make one more quick trip to the mountains had nothing to do with the sales tax. But as we pulled out early on the morning of September 1 there was a certain thrill in thinking that we wouldn't have to pay the new tax for a few days. It didn't work out that way because in Dalhart it seemed expedient to have a cup of coffee. With a few extras added in we wound up paying our first state sales tax. Three days later as we returned home our second pay-off to Mr. Texas happened in this same friendly Panhandle town...

We were never any good on detours and the road through Clayton has been no exception for us this year. I don't believe we have been able to negotiate it even one time without some kind of mistake. The cops have been generous and next year the streets will likely be beautiful.

The Clayton and Springer ranching country never looked more prosperous. We never saw the cattle look fatter or the grass taller at any time which we remember.

Once some years back we were talking with a young lady in her pre-teen years. Looking over the crowd in the school auditorium she remarked, "Not many fur coats in this little town, is there?" As we looked over the miles of good ranching country between Clayton and Springer we thought that there were likely many more fur coats than towns along this good stretch of country.

The merchants in New Mexico were feeling sorry for those in Texas. One remarked: "It's bad enough to be the tax collector, but to be the assessor-collector, judge and jury would be too much." The selective part caused him to panic.

Even if one was serious about running away from the sales tax it wouldn't do any good because every direction would find just about the same thing true. It did help to run from the heat, except the results of that experience over the Labor Day week-end paid off almost too good.

Leaving out on the first day of September we were patting ourself on the back as we enjoyed the cool mountain air. On Saturday the 2nd we talked home and the weather was both hot and windy and our spirits continued to mount. In the afternoon of that same day we talked with our own weatherman, Don Peoples in Red River. He and his wonderful family were resting up a bit. He seemed so happy and confident about everything that we went to bed thinking all would be well. Don, how could you do this thing to us?

Through the night the rain pattered on the roof in typical mountain shower fashion. The weather was just right for sleeping. Next morning when my wife looked out and shouted snow we hardly moved at first yell. Finally we did peep out and never before have we seen such rain-drop size lugs of snow drifting down. Draped against the green mountain sides it was a glorious sight.

The snowflakes had quite a battle for their right to stay on the warm ground but before the day was over from 2 to 6 inches had accumulated. Up to a foot or even more was reported on the higher elevations. The horses and tote-goats got a rest and all in all activities were brought to a sudden halt.

Typical of the many happenings included our neighbor next door. He left Houston Friday and arrived in Red River at 5:15 a.m. Saturday morning. Slept 2 hours and left by jeep for a pack-in trip 65 miles away to Letir Lake. Caught a mess of fish for supper. Then by midnight their sleeping bags were soaked. Before they could get out next morning a foot of snow had fallen.

Moments to remember from our Labor Day trip include several enjoyable experiences.

The most serious impression from the trip came as we met many cars with their headlights on in recognition of safety on our highways. Each time we checked our speed, our headlights, and our determination to drive carefully.

For sheer beauty we will long remember the large patches of purple asters along the highway near Eagle Nest. They were the wild mountain variety and appeared in many places but not in such abundance as near this town. We always confuse purple with blue and we naturally couldn't help thinking of the beautiful fields of our own Texas Bluebonnets downstate.

The grandest sight of all would have to be the snow-laden pines and aspens. Only here and there at the very top of some mountain had the aspens started turning. For the most part the trees were caught napping in their bright green summer dress as the earliest snow in many years slipped up on everything and everybody. With all the leaves to hold the flaky sticky snow the aspens were bowed to the ground and in some cases broken or pulled over. Two to 6 inches of snow gave a real Christmas touch to the mountains and the trees.

The most perplexing moment was watching 10 little boys, all neighbors from Amarillo and Cub Scout age, trying to spend one dollar each for something in the way of a souvenir to bring home. And trying to do it in a short time.

Most exciting moment was being the first ones out over Red River Pass next morning after the snow had stopped.

Our biggest thrill came on the way home as we stopped off to watch the Boys Ranch Rodeo.

GEORGE'S WIFE

By "Sarah"

Texas is taking a lot of ribbing about our sales tax from our out-of-staters. For instance one man said, You Texans have had an awful lot to brag about, now you are just like the rest of us, bet it's took some of the wind out of your sails. What are you going to brag about now?

Another couple, peering suspiciously into the little cubby hole we were putting them into, said, We don't mind paying the tax if we knew it was all going where it is supposed to.

We don't mind paying them either, it's much easier to pay them than keeping up with the extra bookkeeping. The cubby hole is full, a cigar box is filling rapidly, and if it wouldn't corner the market on pennies we would roll out a barrel, then let whoever is to get them, come in with their baskets to fill. It would save some bookkeeping down the line and would be loads of fun as well.

We will be glad when most people get used to the idea though, and we will not have to beg for pennies. It has been some time since we last did that, at least long enough back when a penny would buy more than one chew of bubble gum. There has been more than one baby's piggy bank broken into also. One very considerate father chose to break a whole nickel and taking the rest to his daughter, rather than giving up the one he had. He said he had always emptied his pockets of pennies each night, and he wouldn't disappoint her for even this historic day in Texas history.

With all the fussing about the trouble this new tax makes for us, in all sincerity, we hope it raises the valiant teachers of our children to a higher position in our society, money-wise that is. We have always held them in the highest possible regard, with or without it, most especially those who saw our two through school.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

WILDLIFE FOOD PLANTING
Wildlife food planting should become a more important practice in the Donley County Soil Conservation District.

Wildlife food planting means planting a desirable type food for the particular type of wildlife you wish to encourage. In this district, this would mean quail and dove being the primary species.

This type of planting would usually mean that your land could support greater numbers than nature alone would support.

For quail, some of the species that could be planted include: switchgrass, sand lovegrass, alfalfa, small grains, grain sorghums, clovers, vetch, skunkbush, sand plum, to name a few.

As a general rule the plots should be one-half to 3 acres in size and one plot per 100 acres or so.

This is the type of thing a lot of landowners could participate in with a small cost. If interested in this type of conservation contact your local Soil Conservation Service assisting the Donley County SCD.

DEFERRED GRAZING
Deferred grazing on your grass should mean postponing grazing for a period long enough to improve the vigor of your better grasses and let them mature a seed crop.

For a lot of ranchers within the Donley County SCD deferred grazing is a regular conservation practice for them. Some of these ranchers include Joe McMurtry, Fraser Ranch, T. L. Roach and Son, T. C. DeSpain, S. J. Cattle Co., Hagy Ranch, and many others.

For deferment to be effective, it should be done during the growing season. If improved vigor and increased growth is wanted, deferment should begin in early spring. If a seed crop is needed, defer later in the summer. All grazing animals should be removed since one cow or horse could destroy almost all the seed crop of your scarcer tall grasses such as Indian grass, Sand bluestem, and Switchgrass.

Short grass country needs three or four months of deferment, mid-grasses need four to five months, and tall grasses five to six months. Periodic deferment is good even on ranges in good or excellent condition.

For help in planning a deferment program contact the Soil Conservation Service office assisting the Donley County SCD.

CARRIERS TO DISTRIBUTE 61 ACREAGE SURVEY CARDS
Postmaster Ray Moore announced today that Rural Mail Carriers will begin distributing 1961 Acreage Survey Cards to patrons on their routes about September 14.

The Post Office and U. S. Agriculture Departments cooperatively make this survey each year. These reports, directly from farmers, are the basis for official estimates for Texas acreage of all crops harvested in 1961.

To be sure this community is well represented in the survey, Postmaster Ray Moore urges each patron receiving a card to fill it out and return it to his mailbox.

Rural mail carriers working on the project are: Lynn Payne of Route One, Bob Baird of Brice Route, John Swinney of Naylor Route, Mrs. C. Huffman of Jericho Route, and Alta Adkins of Palo Duro Route.

Poultry manure may be applied to the soil in either a processed or an unprocessed form. Processing usually consists of drying the material to a moisture content of approximately 10 to 12 percent for satisfactory packaging and storing. This dried material is usually ground or shredded. Some work has been done in other states to develop a way to process poultry manure into pellets. This form makes it easier to market and apply to the soil in known quantities.

Before applying poultry manure to soils, the needs of the soil should be determined, as should the chemical composition of the manure.

POULTRY MANURE IS GOOD SOIL IMPROVER
Poultry manure has been used as a fertilizer for many years, but only recently on a limited commercial basis. Due to the increasing size of poultry operations, thus an increased supply of poultry manure interest in its use as a commercial product has been on the increase.

Research indicates poultry manure is worth approximately $6 to $8 per ton for inorganic fertilizer materials. This represents almost 5 million dollars worth of poultry manure annually as a by-product of the Texas poultry industry. Commonly used litters such as wood shavings, cane pulp and other organic materials add considerably to the value of poultry manure because they improve the friability, structure and hot dogs and frosty-cold! Dr Pepper

Eugene Noland. How long has it been since you have read a non-fiction book?

Reading fiction, even light fiction is fine, but it would be more than fine if each reader read some non-fiction from time to time.

Take books which have to do with war as a for-instance, folks say that they don't want to read about it, as it is too unpleasant, all they want to do is forget it.

If putting a thing out of your mind made it automatically cease to exist everyone would be in favor of this method of solving all problems. Unfortunately this is not the case in the major crises.

Reading and learning about a problem puts you in a position to do something constructive about it. Ignoring or pretending it isn't there never brought about a solution to anything of any importance.

The Texas State Library sent out a pamphlet with suggestions for small libraries. They say 65 percent of money spent for adult books should be spent for non-fiction. That seems rather foolish when such a very small percentage of our adult readers ever check out anything except fiction.

They also strongly suggest regular "weeding" of worn-out, unused and out-of-date books.

Hailey's "The Final Diagnosis" has been made into a movie, only it has been re-titled "The Young Doctors."

Author Hailey knows his subject well as leading magazines have been printing articles for some time now about the slipshod methods of some of our medical laboratories. In fact less than a year ago Time magazine printed a long article in its Medical section. The title is self explanatory, "Larceny in the Lab."

Another memorial gift has been given in memory of Miss Mary Howren.

ICBM STAND-IN SAVES TEST DOLLARS

Just as a Hollywood star has a stand-in, so does an intercontinental ballistic missile.

The stand-in — a unique version of the ICBM — is currently undergoing silo launcher mechanism tests at an Air Force Base. It's much cheaper than using the real thing.

Called a "Water Bird," the replica is an iron shell identical in size and shape to the missile. It has a capacity of 28,000 gallons of water and simulates the missile in dimensions and loaded weight. Electrical, launch, platform drive, and balance systems tests are conducted on an underground silo emplacement. After the Water Bird replica is lowered into the silo, water is pumped into it, providing the same weight distribution as a fully fueled missile.

The tests insure that silo equipment specifications meet exacting tolerances. The Water Bird also provides realistic training for Air Force launch crews before they are assigned to opera-
