

BRONCS HOST MCLEAN FOR HOMECOMING

Booster Club Seeks Lighting For Football Field

The Broncho Booster Club is sponsoring a lighting project at the football field.

The project is spearheaded by David Mooring, President of the organization.

There is a definite need for adequate lighting. Some of the present poles are cracked or broken and are impossible to climb. The new standards will be 70 feet in height and support 96 individual fixtures to give superior overall lighting on the field.

Many individuals have already contributed much in time, money, and labor to get this project underway. This includes Darrell Lefew donating over $500.00 in steel and many hours of labor and machine time. Earl Ford and Billy Jack Land, assisting on lighting techniques and labor on installation of fixtures. Wayne Riggs and Texaco, securing over $6,000 worth of steel for $300.00. Junior Putman, digging the trenches for the underground wiring. Norman Lefew, welding of the standards.

School Superintendent, Jeff Walker, stated "This is lighting that is greatly needed and the school just does not have the funds for financing such a project. These lights have been needed for years and thanks to some hard working individuals, it appears it will be possible."

Walt Knorpp has been designated Finance Chairman of the project and is making an earnest plea to all interested in Broncho Boosters to "please donate one lighting fixture at a cost of $35.00. Or, if you feel that you can afford two or three fixtures, it would be greatly appreciated."

Knorpp stated that "it would give each individual a great deal of pride to walk into the Broncho Stadium and see one of their light fixtures."

Anyone interested in donating a light fixture, please call Walt Knorpp at 874-3521 or drop by Knorpp Insurance Agency.

We need and appreciate all the help we can receive on this project.

NEW STADIUM LIGHTING will be in the offing when the Broncho Booster Club stage a drive among Broncho fans for the some $8500 in funds needed. Shown here Booster Club president David Mooring, Superintendent of Schools Jeff Walker and Broncho Coach Jerry Wilson look over some of the large steel pipe already obtained for the new facilities from Texaco, Inc.

Friday night October 10, has been set for Homecoming as the Varsity takes on McLean for the first home conference game of the season at 7:30 p.m. in Clarendon.

The senior class is selling mums for the occasion. They are $4.50 for the large ones with a number or the 'C' on them, or $3 for the small ones. Everyone will want one for the game. Place your order with any senior for the size of your choice.

There will be a dance for high school students only after the game in the high school cafeteria. It will be from 10 to 12 o'clock.

At the pep rally Friday afternoon at 3:30, the football queen will be announced. The football team selects the queen.

Everyone is invited to join the pep rally.

The Clarendon Bronchos will be looking for their third victory of the season Friday night when they host the Tigers of McLean at Broncho Stadium for Clarendon's 1975-76 Homecoming. The Tigers have a record of 3-1 defeating White Deer 7-0, Leffers 21-20 and Silvertown 13-6. McLean's only loss is a 28-0 loss to Groom. McLean returns twelve young Tigers that started at one time or the other last fall. The Tigers have only five seniors and four juniors on the squad this year, so much of the responsibility will have to fall on the shoulders of a strong sophomore class.

Operating the Wing-T attack for McLean will be Marty Dunivan (5-10, 165, Senior) who is one of the top triple threats in District 2-A. He will be backed up by Rick Lowery (6-1, 165, Junior) who is also a capable signal caller.

The running backs will consist of fullback Gary Dunner (5-10, 170, senior), halfbacks, Curtis Simpson (5-9, 165 soph.), Sam Haynes (5-9, 160, soph.) and Jeff Mathney (5-9, 160, soph.)

Heading up the forward wall will be Dean Tren (6-0, 181, senior) guard who is the quickest down man on the team and end Morse Haynes (6-0, 165, senior) with good hands and speed.

Other guard candidates are Todd Darsey (5-8, 150, senior), Chris Moore (5-10, 165, junior), and Glen Oldham (5-9, 160, soph.)

Two of the top line prospects are tackles Randy Kennedy (5-10, 170, soph.) and Ken Parker (6-0, 190, soph.). Both started both ways as freshmen last year.

Rounding out the forward wall will be center Scott Haynes (5-9, 175, soph.) with one year of starting experience behind him.

In a pre-game interview Coach Wilson stated, "Any time a team is 3-1 they have to be a good ball team. We're going to have to get out there and have a good effort from everyone in order to come out on top."

Congressman Jack Hightower of Vernon, in this area to take part in the 24th annual Hedley Cotton Festival, will be honored at a coffee and informal meeting in the community room of the Farmers State Bank in Clarendon Saturday morning at 10 o'clock.

The coffee is being sponsored by the Donley County Democratic Committee with Miss Mary Cook, chairman, in charge.

Among those attending the coffee will be members of the Donley County Hospital District Board and other citizens interested in the future of the hospital.

Congressman Hightower will be briefed on the present situation of the hospital which is now closed and asked to investigate possibilities of federal help in the matter.

Gerald Knight, administrator for the hospital, said that he would prepare a resume of the hospital's fiscal condition and present status for the visiting Congressman to take and study.

The coffee is open to the public and all Donley County and area residents are invited to attend.

Congressman Hightower will make brief remarks about current legislation before Congress and take advantage of the visit here to visit the medical center facilities and become better acquainted with the problems facing the Donley County Hospital District.

Although a 22-bed nursing home facility is being operated, the adjoining 20-bed hospital, opened some five years ago, is now closed due to the lack of a medical staff and financial conditions that plague the new hospital district.

In addition to the bonded indebtedness of some $560,000, the district has outstanding bills amounting to around $130,000.

BUSINESS OF THE WEEK

Goodman Furniture To Celebrate 21st Birthday

Goodman Furniture will celebrate its 21st birthday the 13th of October.

On his return from the service after World War II Billy Goodman went to work for Frank Heath in his furniture store. He worked for Heath until he sold out to Frank Thomas and decided at that time to go into business for himself.

Ivon, Mrs. Goodman, had saved all the allotment checks sent her while Billy was in the service and with other savings the Goodman's had a start on the capital they would need for a store of their own.

With the encouragement and assistance of Emmett

Simmons and the Farmers State Bank they opened the store with as little stock and capital as they thought was possible. Ivon's mother kept the children, four and eight years old, and the store opened for business on October 13.

Business was good from the beginning and the Goodmans, Ivon and Billy, have been the store's only employees for the entire time they have been in business. They enjoy working together and each does whatever needs to be done. "I could not have gotten along without her," Billy said, "we just work as a team."

Billy was born in the county and it has almost always been an asset. Once however it was not. He later found out a potential customer had gone to Amarillo, although he would have liked to do business with them, "because you are just a kid and I didn't know whether you knew what you were talking about." He, Billy, did know but that time he lost the sale. "It's kind of nice though," he commented "to be just a kid no matter how old you are."

"Each successive year has been better than the one before," Billy said. "Of course some year it may not be, but it has held up for 21 years and that is a pretty good record."

The store carries a more or less balanced inventory, and Goodman has furnished several homes completely at one time from the store. Sometimes the deliveries have been made to considerable distances, as far away as San Angelo. He has made a practice of taking furniture to the buyer and many young couples have made use of this 'extra' when they set up housekeeping.

General Electric appliances were the ones the store started out with and they have proven to be the choice of many customers time and again. Goodman's also carries Kroehler and Chromcraft furniture. Morning glory bedding and Roper ranges among other lines.

Firth and Evans & Black Carpets, small appliances and mirrors and lamps as accessories are featured too.

The store does not really have an interest in used furniture and only handles it as a trade in on new purchases.

With justifiable pride Billy said his repeat customers were some that bought from him the first week they were in business. With a trade territory that includes Claude, Amarillo, McLean and Shamrock the Customer that comes back again and can keep the store in business.

Ivon Ellis and Billy Goodman were married in 1940. Ivon was born in Oklahoma and moved to Lelia Lake in 1933. Billy was born in Donley County and attended Clarendon schools. They have two daughters Rhonda Goodman, of Amarillo and Janet (Mrs. Bobby Lewis) of Lubbock and three grandchildren. Shane, is nine, Nicci, is three and Jennifer is one year old.

Billy is at this time recuperating after having had surgery twice and spending 29 days in Amarillo in the hospital. He is not really up to par yet, but is getting along so well the Dr. does not want to see him for three months. Every day he feels stronger and is spending a lot of time at the store.

After returning home Billy and Ivon learned that at least three churches had prayer services during the time he had been so ill. Well wishers come in the store to visit him, and cakes and other delectable things keep showing up at the Goodman home. Billy said he could never adequately thank the wonderful friends and neighbors for the prayers that helped bring him home and the gifts of friendship and love that have meant so much to him and his family.

A celebration was held this past weekend honoring Janet on her birthday and all the Billy Goodman family enjoyed the fun and festivities.

BRONCHOS DUMP IRISH

The Clarendon Broncos battled the Shamrock Irish to defeat them last Friday night 14-7 at Shamrock. The Broncos now stand 2-1-1 for the season.

Late in first quarter action the Broncos set up a drive that resulted in a superb Gary Jack to Eddy Eads touchdown pass. Barry Shaffer plunged over the stripe for the two point conversion making the score 8-0. The Broncos second tally came early in the second quarter when Gary Jack connected with receiver Barry Shaffer making the half-time score 8-0. Shamrock's only score came in third quarter action. The Irish recovered a confused fumble and returned it for their initial touchdown of the night. The fourth quarter was dominated by the strong defensive units of each team. However, the Broncos offense managed to score an apparent touchdown with three seconds left on the clock, only to have it called back on a holding penalty leaving the final score 14-7.

"We were again pleased with our offensive attack this week, however our defense wasn't as aggressive as they have been previously. We felt like our kicking game kept Shamrock in the hole much of the game," stated Coach Wilson. Wilson cited Barry Shaffer as having his best performance of the season. Shaffer gained 121 yards in 23 carries.

The Broncos will be looking to up their District standing as they tangle with the McLean Tigers Friday night at Broncho Stadium Game time.

Get the most "freeze" for your freezer!

There's probably no more stalwart household servant than your electric freezer—think of the variety of healthy, flavorful meals it's helped serve up to your family! Make sure you're getting the most "freeze" for your freezer by following Reddy's consumer tips:

Don't overload: Efficient freezing calls for adding no more unfrozen food at one time than 2 or 3 pounds per cubic foot of your freezer's capacity. This ensures unfrozen food will freeze within a healthy 24 hours and that your freezer isn't overloaded.

Take advantage of sales: Avoid overstocking with commercially frozen food that's always available; use your freezer as your own bargain counter and store foods you can buy on sale. But do allow space for short-time baked goods, leftovers and special party foods.

Lock in flavor: Use moisture and vapor-proof materials especially designed for freezers to wrap your foods. Tightly sealed, these lock in flavor and moisture and prevent "freezer burn" (surface drying) on foods. Don't use wax paper, bread paper or regular cellophane for freezer foods.

Label packages: Date and identify freezer packages so 1) you don't accumulate a lot of mysterious shapes and 2) you'll be able to pick out foods that have been in the freezer longest.

McCulleys On Festival Program New First Class Mail Service Launched By Post Office

Playing together for the first time about a year ago, Judy and Mike McCulley not only entertain the listener but thoroughly enjoy the music they make.

This is the third year Mike has been a performer at the Cotton Festival. One year the crowd was so large in the building where he was to play there were anxious moments when the organ could not be found.

Mike has been playing the piano by ear since he was four years old. His father paid for lessons for a number of years and Mike played in the recitals after listening to his teacher play the selection and doing it himself by ear.

Judy has taken piano lessons most of her school days and was persuaded by Mike to learn the organ too. "I am only the manager," he commented, "after Judy took organ lessons."

They have played for the Country Club in Paducah, and in Tucumcari out of the local area and are in demand for many civic appearances.

Mike and Judy, like many musical talents, use their music at home for sheer enjoyment and this is reflected in their performance for others, the pleasure of making music.

Presently McCulley is engaged in a new and profitable hobby; he is the dealer for McBrayer-Day for Baldwin pianos and organs.

The McCulleys are billed as C&W Country Music.

A nationwide Consumer Service Program designed to improve and broaden the quality of mail service was announced today by Postmaster Fleming.

Beginning Oct. 11, the U.S. Postal Service will introduce a program at the Clarendon Post Office and other offices across the nation to encourage mail users to register problems they may have with their mail service.

At the core of the program is a consumer service card, through which problems are identified and which postal managers attempt to expeditiously resolve.

The Consumer Service Program reflects Postmaster General Benjamin F. Bailar's determination that mail services to the public will be "friendly, courteous and efficient, as well as speedy and reliable."

"Good service is a far broader concept than just fast mail handling, as important as that is," the Postmaster General says. "It is also built on employee courtesy, our responsiveness to customer needs, the sympathy and understanding we bring to your own expectations of what good postal service is all about."

Postmaster Fleming urged customers in Clarendon to bring their inquiries and complaints to the attention of postal managers. And if people feel their problems have not been properly handled, the Postmaster said, they should see him personally.

To make it easier for a customer to make a suggestion or complaint about postal service, the new consumer service card will be available at the post office.

According to Postmaster Fleming, the card is two postal cards with carbon paper between them. "One copy goes to me or a station superintendent so work can begin on the problem," he said. "The other goes to Postal Service Headquarters in Washington for cataloging and analysis. The cards will help management spot problem areas and trends and take corrective action if necessary."

The Consumer Service Program was tested earlier this year in Illinois, Massachusetts, Arizona and Rhode Island. Postal Customers in the test found the cards easy to complete and most complaints were resolved to the customer's satisfaction.

The card should take no more than two minutes to fill out. The postmaster also said he and his staff are willing to discuss any problems, including lack of courtesy, irregularities in deliveries or collections, collection box convenience and postal office hours.

"We want you to come to us with your problems," concluded Postmaster Fleming. "The whole point of this service program is to bring your problems and gripes out into the open where we can attempt to resolve them."

The U.S. Postal Service first-class mail service improvement program will go into effect at Clarendon Post Office on October 11, Postmaster Fleming said today.

Under the program, first-class mail will receive service that is equal to or better than airmail.

The major, new service step will extend to all first-class mail weighing 13 ounces or less. "In practical terms, what is service improvement means is that domestic first-class postage now will purchase the level of service that previously only airmail could buy," said Postmaster Fleming.

"Under the new program, there no longer will be an advantage in purchasing airmail postage for domestic delivery," he said.

Priority mail (now starting at weight in excess of 13 ounces), which includes air parcel service, and international airmail are unaffected by the improvement program and continue in their present form, the postmaster said.

"Airmail stamps will be sold for use on priority and international airmail. They can also be used in various combinations with other stamps.

Customers can exchange airmail stamps, and stamped envelopes and cards at full postage value for ordinary stamps, stamped envelopes and cards. Stationery bearing airmail indicia will be allowed to be mailed at the first-class rate, Postmaster Fleming said.

To aid postal customers, maps showing the cities and areas targeted for next and second day delivery for mail from Clarendon will be on display in the post office lobby, the postmaster said.

Mrs. Katie Scoggins of Memphis visited friends in Clarendon Saturday. They were Mr. and Mrs. W.C. Ragan.

Following adjournment, fourteen members and four guests were served delicious refreshments of Brownies and hot rolls coffee and tea by the hostesses, Mrs. Forrest Sawyer and Mrs. J.O. Brandon.

Methodists To Host Mission

The First United Methodist Church of Clarendon will host a New World Mission October 26-30, 1975. The Mission preparation began several weeks ago with the study of the book "Shalom" edited by Dr. George Morris of the Board of Discipleship of the United Methodist Church. The book is being studied by all church school classes from the junior high level through the adult classes. This study encourages the understanding of God's redeeming grace as not being confined only to humanity but also to the whole of His creation.

Missioner for the week will be the Reverend Leslie Lloyd Semple, minister of the Methodist Church of Nedlands, Western Australia, Australia. Rev. Semple was born in Dublin, Ireland in 1916 and migrated to Western Australia with his family in 1928. He has traveled widely throughout his ministry and is well versed in Evangelism and Church Mission Ministries. His church is situated near the University of Western Australia with about 100 students and academic staff as adherents. His wife, Ray will be assisting him during the mission.

The New World Mission is offered to the local church by the Board of Discipleship's Division of Evangelism, Worship, and Stewardship of the United Methodist Church as one of the major programs available to facilitate participation in the church's "Call to Mission and Evangelism" which was issued by the churches of the Wesleyan tradition which met in Denver, Colorado last summer. It reaffirms that all Christians have been commissioned by Jesus Christ to go into all the world and make disciples. Thus, the mission field is the world and the missionaries are all Christians.

The New World Mission is an evangelism that will balance personal salvation with world redemption, renewal of spirit with renewal of history, personal faith with planetary survival, and individual faith with the fate of the universe.

Sunday services will be the regular services of the church with a reception honoring Rev. and Mrs. Semple following the evening worship.

Monday through Thursday there will be a 7:00 a.m. study hour which will be dismissed in time for persons to be at work by 8:00 a.m. A Youth Forum will be held each afternoon by Rev. Semple for all junior high and senior high youth. The Youth Forum will be at 6:45 p.m. The evening Mission Service will follow at 7:30 p.m. with Rev. Semple bringing the message. A "chatback time" will be held in the fellowship hall area following the service so that people may discuss points of the message, question points in the message, or seek additional information about the message from Rev. Semple.

Any group who would like to have Rev. and Mrs. Semple talk to their group may contact the church office by calling 874-3665 to see if it can be worked into the schedule.

A nursery will be provided each evening and the public is invited to attend each service.

CLARENDON CHURCH PANHANDLE'S OLDEST

By Mrs. Lewis Foxhall

In November, 1887, nine men and women pushed through deep snow three miles north of Clarendon to the J. B. McClelland ranch home on Kelly Creek for a celebration of Holy Communion. This was the start of the first Episcopal church in the Texas Panhandle.

Bishop A. C. Garrett of Dallas had sent a clergyman, a Mr. Townsend, to survey the outreaches of his large Missionary District of North Texas, one of three church divisions in the state.

Bishop Garrett, son of a rector of County Sligo, Ireland, had been missionary to Western Canada, among hostile Indians. He arrived in his new missionary field December 31, 1874, at the height of a howling Texas norther. No sooner was he settled in his Dallas hotel than a man was shot dead in the bar.

Shortly afterward he warned his clergy of their special problem: "In no country will his (a clergyman's) garb carry him a shorter way. Every man is taken for what he is worth by the rough standard of downright earnestness and unvarnished truth."

Not many years earlier the outlying Panhandle region of his district had been considered too much the wilderness of Indian and buffalo to venture church work. Any Episcopalians who came this way had to arrange their own services. One religious organization reported in the area was Carhart's Christian Colony at Old Clarendon, near the present city.

Then, in 1876, about 400,000 persons migrated to Texas. Railroads pushed northward and westward. The rolling grassland plains and vigorous climate of West Texas and the Panhandle, ideal for raising strong cattle, attracted so many English to a booming cattle industry that the state passed a law to forbid purchase of more land by foreigners.

Bishop Garrett pleaded with the Eastern church for more men. He needed clergy desperately to answer requests for Episcopal services in the growing region. He believed he could attract to the Episcopal church the English immigrants, most of whom were communicants of the Anglican Church, the parent church in England. (Some of these and their descendants are still leaders in the church.) Response to his pleas was far short of his need.

The Fort Worth and Denver Railway forged its rails to Clarendon and northward. Residents of "Saints' Roost" moved their houses and stores from Old Clarendon, leaving their stone courthouse behind, to settle nearer the tracks that were bringing this cattle raising area prosperity.

Present at that first service in the McClellands' sitting room were Mr. and Mrs. I. W. Carhart, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. McClelland, T. S. McClelland, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Lewis, Miss Katie Lewis (later Mrs. B. W. Chamberlain) and Miss Susie Rogers.

Within five years this group and others it had attracted had built the first Episcopal church in the Panhandle, a small white frame Gothic building. For many years Clarendon was the center of Episcopal church work in the Panhandle.

For years that first church was the only place Episcopalians in the area could go to catch the beauty of the symbolic ritual in their own church. Later the Clarendon group mothered development of other churches in the area. At the time it was one of the more thriving of the Panhandle towns. Its choir presented a play "Down by the Rio Grande" and an operetta, "The Mikado," in Amarillo to help raise funds to build the first mission there.

From its start until now, a determined, independent group of Episcopalians held services regularly, though the same problem that beset Bishop Garrett, a lack of clergy, persistently plagued them. Lay readers, using sermons sent by the National Council, filled in during the long stretches of the clergy's absence.

They have worshiped under some thirty-five clergymen. Ministry of these men has ranged from one service by a minister who was being sent out of the diocese because he had stirred up a racial problem in Quanah, to the thirteen-year residence of the Rev. L. L. Swan from 1921 to 1934.

The number of church communicants in Clarendon, always small in comparison to the other churches in the area, has varied through the years with the flux in population. For a period of about twenty-five prosperous years it had a choir of from 25 to 30. Members paid 25 cents a year dues to have their vestments laundered and to pay the small boys who pumped the organ. These young assistants had also occasionally to be pricked with the organist's hatpin to be kept alert.

During the lean years there have been occasional Sundays with no one in the choir and as few as three communicants to worship with the layreader. But during good and bad years alike the church's traditional services have been celebrated. These include the choral Communion on Christmas Eve in the church hung with bright green smilax and an outdoor Rogation service to give thanks and pray for good crops, another service of England's Anglican church.

In the 1890s, the churchmen carried kindling, coal, prayerbooks and hymnals to warm the cold school house and set up an improvised altar before each service. They sang to music played on a portable organ which reportedly later was sold to Mollie Bailey for her traveling carnival show.

St. John Baptist Protestant Episcopal Church in Clarendon was consecrated by Bishop Garrett on April 24, 1893.

Zealous Episcopalians had begun raising funds to build the church in 1889. They had happily accepted $350 from an elderly Mrs. Groff in Philadelphia in exchange for her right to name the new church in far away Texas Panhandle for the Biblical "voice of one crying in the wilderness."

Denver architects and builders, in Clarendon to erect the Court House, constructed the church on land given by R. E. Montgomery and Morgan Jones, who represented the "Clarendon Town Site Company."

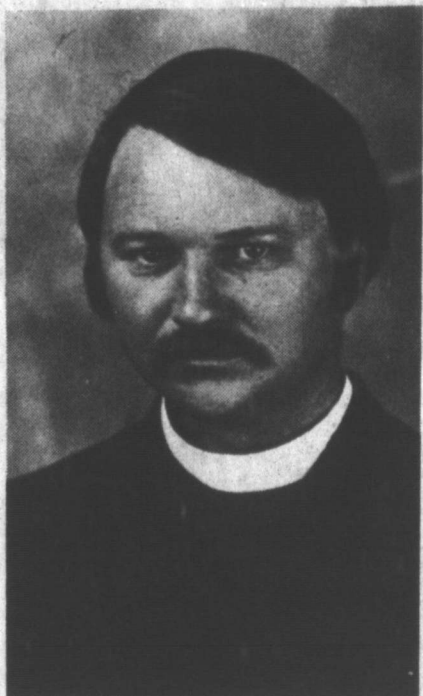

Mr. Montgomery brought the first dance band to play in Clarendon from Fort Worth to give a ball in the old Cain Hotel to raise the first money. Choir members made money here and in Amarillo with musical productions. Funds were given not only by Episcopalians but many other ranch and townspeople.

At the consecration service the altar cloth was Mrs. T. S. McClelland's new damask table cloth, the hangings on the lectern and credence shelf her best hemstitched linen pillow slips. The offering was taken in the McClellands' silver syrup-pitcher plates. Bishop Garrett gave the Communion service to the church.

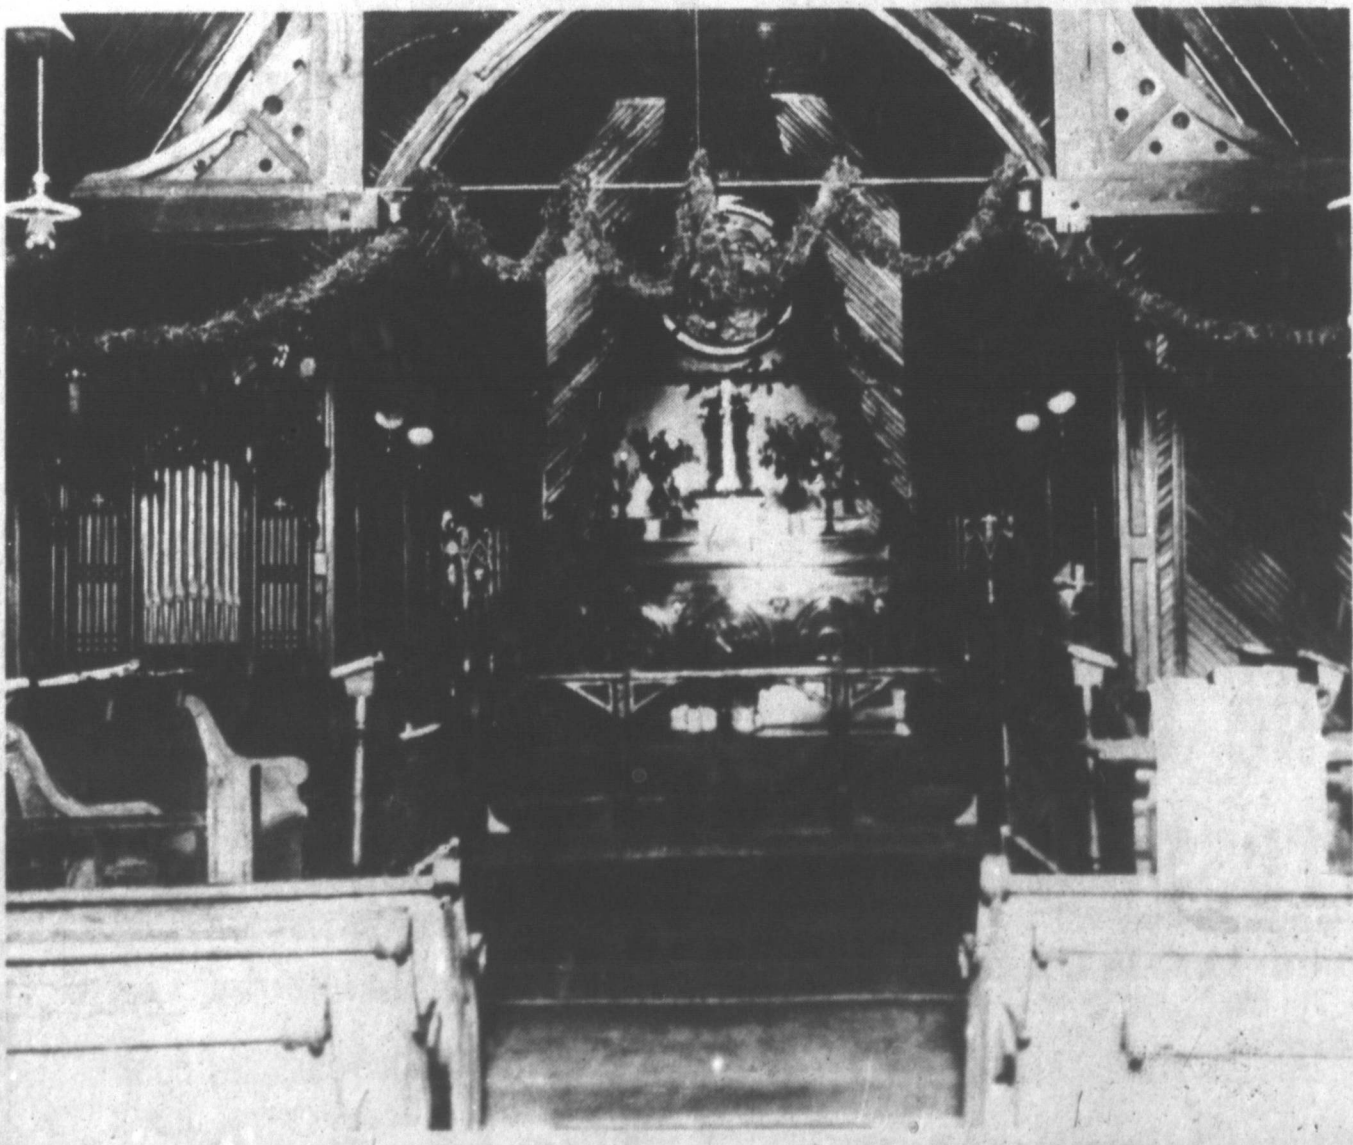

Decendants of charter members, sixth generation, still worship in the church.

First CC Drama Set October 20

The Drama Department of Clarendon College will present its first production of the year on October 20, 1975 in the Harned Sisters Fine Arts Center at the college. The presentation will be the one-act farce Stew For Simon by the noted playwright T.B. Morris.

Included in the cast are Marie Thomas, Pampa sophomore, as Gossip Matilda; Barbara Craig, sophomore from Pampa, as Gossip Ursula; Celia Connell, freshman from Albuquerque, New Mexico, as Gossip Joan; Lizanne Allen, freshman from Mobeetie, as Mistress Eleanor; and Joe Porter, freshman from Wellington, as Simon.

The play is classed as a farce, meaning it is of the type of comedy that requires a great deal of physical action to carry the comedy across. This type of slapstick comedy has been made famous in recent years by such noted comedians as Jerry Lewis and Dick Van Dyke.

The comedy was originally set in medieval England, but Clarendon College Drama Director George Stewart has re-set the script in the American colonies in the seventeenth century, in keeping with the American Bi-centennial.

The production will be a part of the first Clarendon College Fine Arts Evening for the year. These evenings, in which the Fine Arts Division of the College unite their efforts to present an evening of mixed entertainment media were received with great success last year. The Art Department, under the direction of Mrs. Betsy Hawkins, will have an art show in the lobby of the Fine Arts Center during the evening, and the Music Department, under the direction of Mr. James Barnard, will present a mixed music performance utilizing the College Choir, the College Singers, and the stage band.

Religious Thoughts

By DR. JAMES BRANDON

TODAY'S MORAL DILEMMA

One of our national leaders recently discussed the moral decline of our nation in a television interview. He brought the problem right back home: the failure to train up a child in the way he ought to go (Prov. 22:6.) He laid the blame for today's moral dilemma at the doors of our schools, courts, and churches. He said that our schools and institutions of learning in our local communities do not teach moral concepts. He mentioned the decision of the courts to completely separate learning from the moral foundation of the Bible. We expect a person to grow up knowing that he should not lie, cheat, or steal; but never teach him this in our public institutions. How can a child expect to grow up with a strong moral fiber when we don't teach him the Ten Commandments in a class room? Even morality must be learned.

Have we legislated the moral foundation of the Bible out of our learning process? Are we justified in imparting knowledge and learning on the wisdom of a strong moral concepts? Has our system of government with all of its good qualities, in order to protect the seared conscience of a few who don't believe in God, laid the foundation for the moral corruption of our society?

The story is told about a preacher who was discussing this point with a local business man. The business man was arguing against the validity of the moral code of the Bible. To get his point across the preacher picked out the best pair of shoes in the house, stuck them under his arm, and headed for the door. The business man said, "Preacher, that's stealing." Whereupon, the minister replied, "Who said it is stealing?"

If you do away with God's moral law, God's code of moral rightness; you have no basis for morality. If God never said, "Thou shalt not steal;" then what makes stealing wrong? If God never said, "Thou shalt not bare false witness (lie);" then what makes lying wrong?

How can today's youth learn what is right and wrong if the moral guidelines have been taken from their books, their lessons, their schools, or their homes? The result is well educated persons with low moral standards.

The Jewish historian closed out the historical account of the Israelite people in the Book of Judges with these words: "In those days...every man did that which was right in his own eyes" (Judges 21:25). The highest moral standard, the historian was saying, was right as it was interpreted by each man. This period was called the Dark Ages of Israel's history. Right and wrong must be interpreted from the view point of God's law, not man's. Corruption begins when men lay aside God's moral law to follow what is right or wrong as they see it. How do you know what is right or wrong? God says:

"Thou shalt have no other gods before me;
Thou shalt not make unto thee any graven image;
Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain;
Remember the sabbath day, to keep it holy;
six days shalt thou labor...
Honor thy father and thy mother that thy days
may be long upon the land...;

Thou shalt not commit adultery;
Thou shalt not kill;

Thou shalt not steal;
Thou shalt not bear false witness;

Thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's house;
thy neighbor's wife; manservant; maidservant; nor his ox...nor anything that is thy neighbor's" (Exodus 20:1-17).

"The irony of life is that by the time a man has money to burn the fire has gone out."

"Sometimes a man in action, is just one who has suddenly gotten his feet in hot water." Best Wishes Geathel...

By the time we write our next column we hope to be able to say that our little book will be finished and ready to mail. It will be dedicated to my late wife and will have several pages about our life and about her.

I hope no one will mind this little bit of personal things...We just had to bring that life to an end that way...We hope you like it.

Firemen Attend Special School

Last week local firemen from Clarendon joined 427 fire fighters from 49 area towns to participate in the Second Canyon Area Fire Control School, which was held at Canyon.

Classes were conducted under the auspices of the Firemen's Training School, Texas A&M University Engineering Extension Service, and were sponsored by the State Firemen's and Fire Marshal's Association. Facilities were provided by the Canyon Fire Department.

Following a brief orientation, the firemen were transported to the drill field where they fought controlled fires in three separate projects, which included L.P.G. fires, truck spill fires, and house fires.

At the completion of the course, certificates were awarded to Mike Spier, Jimmy McElroy, Billy N. Spier, Clyde Price Jr. and

LETTER TO EDITOR

Dear Editor:

Due to the unusual generosity of very many Donley County citizens last Monday, all the residents of the county may now have all their blood replacement needs taken care of by Red Cross.

Last Monday, October 6, we had our first Red Cross blood drive to include us in the Red Cross blood program. The participation was fabulous. We received way over and above our minimum quota.

Many, many thanks go to the town of Hedley, Clarendon College, the High School, and all of the other selfless donors who contributed 108 units of blood to this splendid cause. Thanks, also to the more than seventy-five workers, both professional and non-professional, who donated many hours of labor to make this bloodmobile a success.

Thanks also to the chairmen who found these wonderful volunteers: Mrs. Melvil Mills and Don Stone. And to the Memphis Coca Cola Bottling Company for donating 200 cokes for the donors, and the Clarendon Church of Christ for donating cups and lemonade, and the Clarendon Senior Citizens for donating so many good brownies, and also helped in many surprising and wonderful ways.

Because of the good will and support of all these essential and vital people, we were able to have a very successful first blood drive. But do not forget: the second half of our blood quota is due in six months. Please bear this in mind.

And so, thanking all who have so faithfully contributed time and blood,

I remain in deep gratitude. The Rev. Pettigraw V. Hamilton

Bronc Buster

By Liz Bromley

Last week, the Bronchos chalked up another victory. They defeated the Shamrock Irish 14 to 7, much to the delight of all Broncho fans. After the 14-14 tie between Clarendon and Quana three weeks ago, a victory was just what "the doctor ordered." Our boys, er, men really shone - all ran like rabbits and trodded all over that Irish clover. Evidently, Tuck was beaming brightly on the Bronchos and not the Irish. All in all, it was an exciting game.

This week is Homecoming - the event in which the maroon and white mums are abundant and all "wayward wanderers" come home for weekend festivities. The theme around High School? Win Homecoming! The seniors are selling mums, so if there's a senior in your neighborhood, don't hesitate to get in touch with him (or her.) Friday night we play McLean here of course, so ya'll come and cheer for the Bronchos!

The Junior Varsity won their game against Shamrock last week here with the close score of 8 to 0. Yeah, B-team! They have really come a long way from what they were at the first of school. Keep up the good work, fellas!

The FHA officers held an officers meeting last week to discuss activities and make plans for club participation. This should prove an exciting year in FHA! Have you heard from your secret sister yet?

FTA members - your dues must be paid by Friday in order to go to the district meeting. Also, get your candy money in, too. Bubba Newhouse was elected to run for a district office in FTA. Congratulations, Bubba.

Annuals are on sale now, at the price of $10.00 each. Contact a member of the annual staff if you would like to purchase one.

Seen around:
Giving blood to the Blood Bank - I saw Anna Gaye Leeper, Shirley Wise, Jack Bell and courageous (ha!) yours truly, Paula Hardin and Ava Hasteley applied, but were turned down. Oh well, it's the thought that counts, gals.

Jim Owens and Ricky Gerner - don't try to tell me you were having a family reunion with your long lost cousins Saturday night.

Junior Varsity Squeeze One By Shamrock, 8-0

The Clarendon Junior Varsity came out victorious again as they defeated the Shamrock Irish 8-0 last Thursday night at Broncho stadium.

The Bronco's only score came on a fine run by Keith Topper, followed by a Brackett to Newhouse pass for the two-point conversion.

The JV's have an open week this week but will be ready for action the following Thursday.

The Colts' 7th grade battled to a 14-14 tie Thursday afternoon against the strong Shamrock Irish.

The 7th graders' next outing will be this afternoon as the Colts clash with the tough Childress 7th at Childress. Game time, 4:30.

Mrs. Lee Muse spent 10 days in Tulsa visiting her son Sid, and family, and returned home Monday, October 6.

Her granddaughter came home from college for the weekend while Mrs. Muse was there and they had a visit also.

The foliage was already beginning to turn. While there she saw "The Hiding Place" site.

Eddie Eads - is it true you are growing shorter?
Joe Engle - Most people drive a bomb. You drive a hearse.
Laura Holland, Keith Topper, Dena Mays, and Clint Robinson - they'd rather switch than fight, right?
Bill Smith - your taste in women is dubious.
Mary Nell McGarity - "I plan to become rich by selling my jokes to manufacturers of fertilizer for corn."

Laurie Stone - Most musical instruments blow out music - yours blows out popcorn!!!
Corky Patterson - have a lovely weekend?
Pearly Butler - Is there some advantage to big feet?
Ann Dickerson - What's your new nickname?
Ronda Sanders - I had a good breakfast!
Virginia Burden - examining the bottoms of one's tennis shoes can be hazardous to one's health, especially if one is standing still.

Ken Slavin - Were you really trying to get away?
David Leathers and Rick White - did you ever get your Dr. Peppers?
Gregg Engle - are you glad you've got friends there when you need them?
Kim Radney - how's fishing?
Kelly Chote - Love your hair! Sound familiar?
K.C. Cates - ever thought of moving out of state and changing your name for health reasons?
Teresa Jack - you don't look 18. More like 21. Does that help?

Freda Holland and Tami Douthit - are ya'll going soul?
Pat Weatherthorn - are you Sandra's cousin or is Sandra your cousin? Tricky family tree! Welcome new students!
Question of the Week - What freshman couple had a wonderful "discussion" coming home on the band bus Friday night?
Quote of the Week: "Love is a rose, but you better not pick it. It only grows when its on the vine!"
Theme of the Week - Win Homecoming!
Cutest Couple - Susan Bright and Corky Patterson.
Until next week --

Shamrock Slip By Colts

Acteens Plan Father-Mother Banquet

The Clarendon Colts 8th grade lost a close one last Thursday night as the 8th grade Irish of Shamrock squeezed out a 12-6 victory.

The Colts' only tally came on an outstanding 65 yard punt return by Terry Putman, which was followed by a unsuccessful try for the two point conversion.

In a post game interview, Coach Bromley cited Lynn Thompson and Terry Putman for their outstanding efforts on offense and Dean Hawkins, John Nichols and Jeff Topper for their excellent defensive efforts. "I felt like we stood around and watched Shamrock too much in order to win," said Coach Bromley.

The Colts' next outing will be Thursday night when they clash with McLean on the road, game time 6:00.

Today in Acteens we had 27 girls counting teachers.

This week we planned for our Father-Mother Banquet on the 13th of October. Each girl is supposed to bring certain kinds of food. The main dish is to be chicken with baked beans, potato salad, and cake.

Those present were Connie McAnear, Terri Sparks, Tamra Day, Lisa Wood, Paula Helms, Judy Adams, Peggy Swearingen, Penny Swearingen, Robbie Wise, Janna Brandon, Millie Hill, Kathran Prude, Martha Barker, Starla Barker, Ruby Callaway, Jenny Lindsey, Laronda Hicks, Fay Weatherthorn, Kim Moore, Adina Mills, Barbra Holman, Christie Thomas, Adrian Youngblood, Mrs. Brandon, Pam Strickland, Judy Davis, and Shirley Wise.

108 Pints Of Blood Donated

Donley County residents can say with a great deal of pride "We supported the blood program, and are now members of the Red Cross Blood Program."

The four nurses from Wichita Falls and the two drivers with the Bloodmobile are highly trained specialists. These professionals complemented Clarendon on their attitude, and that of the entire community.

Starting at 2 p.m. the donors were giving blood until 6 p.m. Instead of the expected 113 prospective donors, there were 137, instead of the 90 units of blood there were 108. The response was overwhelming.

All of Donley County now comes under the protection of the Red Cross Blood Program because the quota was not only met but exceeded. For those who wanted to donate and did not or could not for this visit, the second visit for the year will be some time in March.

One of the donors was Judy Pitman Burlin, of Maine. Her father is Carl Pittman, who is to have open heart surgery Wednesday in St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo. The surgery was not anticipated by the family, but Judy wanted to do her part by her donation. This type of surgery requires 12 units of blood to prime the pump used during the surgery, so one Donley County resident needed blood unexpectedly and is able to benefit from the Blood program unexpectedly. Other members of families living away from the area may be covered also, as was mentioned in earlier articles on the program.

An especially warm thanks is due Don Stone, Ruth Mills, Cloe Ann Newhouse and Rev. Pettigrew Hamilton for their efforts in procuring the services of the wonderful persons helping make the program a success.

Adobe Walls Cub

Scouts To Pow-Wow

The annual Adobe Walls Council Cubbers' Pow-Wow will be held in Pampa at the First Methodist Church on October 25, 1975. The Pow-Wow is an outstanding opportunity for Cub Leaders, experienced, new or prospective, to learn and share ideas. Experienced leaders from throughout the council will be conducting the various activities and sessions.

There will be five sessions: Ceremonies, Games, Crafts & Skits, Administration and Webelos. Each Pack should bring one person who could stay in one session all day. Since different information will be given for the entire period, however, persons could attend parts of each session and still gain some information. There will be a sample of Blue & Gold Banquet held at 11:30 so that your Pack may gain new ideas on how to hold a Blue & Gold Banquet. Each Pack has been asked to bring some exhibits from their Dens and their favorite game for the Mid-Way.

Mr. Chuck Eckhart and Mr. Bob Brown, Chairmen and Mr. Bob Stegar have been hard at work organizing this event. Packs are asked to pay their $3.50 registration fee in advance and register everyone from their Pack at the same time. That deadline is October 15.

Everyone Helps With Festival

Hedley has a population of only 439 persons and the Cotton Festival is one of the best planned and executed events of the entire Panhandle because every one does his share and more to insure its success. Some of the merchants are not directly affected by the celebration such as Mobley's Cleaners, Gardenhire's barber shop and Moffit Hardware and Furniture but these firms close and participate individually.

Stafford Grocery stays open and the store furnishes food products for the booths that are in operation each day of the Festival.

On Saturday morning the Junior Class of Hedley High School serves the breakfast with the same menu as the seniors, and they too use the money for the class treasury.

Especially warm thanks to Don Stone, Ruth Mills, Ann Newhouse and Pettigrew Hamilton for efforts in procuring the ces of the wonderful ons helping mak the ram a success.

Eva Hansard of Eva's Cafe expects to put on extra help Saturday to help handle the expected crowd of visitors.

Seniors Serve Breakfast

An enterprising group, the High School Seniors, will prepare and serve the Kick-off breakfast in the Lion's Den Friday morning 7:30 to 9:30 a.m.

The menu will consist of eggs, bacon, sausage, pancakes, juice, coffee and milk.

Proceeds from the breakfast will fatten the class coffers. Queen Shauna, the reigning dignitary of the Festival, and her court will be served at their own royal table with their sponsors at eight p.m.

The Senior Class of Hedley High School will have Bingo and will serve sandwiches in the Youth Center Building. The Junior Class will have a food booth in the Owl Cafe Building, the Sophomore Class will have a food booth specializing in foot long hot dogs in the Potts Locker Building and the Freshman Class will have the ducking board and basket ball throw.

SENIOR CLASS OF HEDLEY HIGH SCHOOL will serve breakfast at the Lions Den Friday morning, Ricky Brinson, Billy Talley and Jesse Freeman and Linda Swinney.

Barbecue Big Part Of Festival

Doyle Messer insists he is not the Hedley Bar-b-que King but he is in charge of the team that prepares the tasty treat. It requires some time to gather all the necessary materials, get the pit ready and have an adequate amount of wood at hand. The beef is processed by Stafford Grocery after it has been purchased and when the coals are ready it goes over the fire. Usually it takes from noon until 11:00 p.m. to cook and then it must be wrapped and packed for serving. The crew, for the bar-b-que is made up of W.B. Wiggins, Ross Springer, Connie DeBord, Henry Moore, who prepares the sauce, and a large group of wonderful volunteers who work very hard to turn out the delicious meat. Mrs. Kate Stone furnishes the beans and other items on the menu to tempt the palate. Vergil McPherson has always been one of the faithful but has not been able to participate this year as usual because of his health. He will be missed by the group for this year.

Biological Controls Increase
Biological controls are now being used against more than 100 insects and weeds in U.S. food and fiber crops, but chemicals remain man's major weapon against these pests.

Giant Step Forward
American agriculture has advanced more in the past 50 years than in all the prior years of U.S. history.

Ag Researchers Tackle Problem Of Farm Costs

Agricultural scientists are delving into a mixed bag of tricks to help farmers combat mounting production costs, energy shortages, and increasing restrictions on pesticides.

In cotton, for example, researchers are exploring a variety of approaches from new cultural practices to retarding the cotton plant.

One promising approach, reports the National Cotton Council, has to do with shortening cotton's growing season.

Dr. Levon Ray, cotton geneticist at the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, says it's possible to do this through specialized breeding lines.

Short-season cottons tested in three different temperature environments last year yielded mature bolls in a much shorter time than standard varieties, Ray notes.

"Boll maturation periods were shortest in the highest temperature environment and lint quality was not adversely affected," the geneticist said.

Perfection of short-season varieties would mean a reduction in energy inputs, plus an earlier harvest that would lessen the risk of insect infestations requiring heavy use of pesticides.

bicentennial briefs

Farming was so much a part of the Early American life style that Congress was slow in setting up a standing committee on agriculture.

Commerce and manufacturing were already being served by Congressional committees before the need for one on agriculture was recognized.

One senator from Maine, in fact, questioned whether any issues would arise in agriculture which would call for study by a Congressional committee.

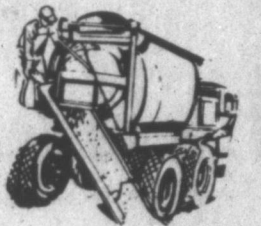

In 1820, the U.S. House of Representatives established a standing committee on agriculture and the Senate followed suit five years later.

A bill establishing a Department of Agriculture was signed by President Abraham Lincoln in 1862 and Isaac Newton was named commissioner of agriculture. Twenty-seven years later, Congress elevated the Department to Cabinet status in recognition of agriculture's importance to the nation's economy.

Farm Dollar Goes Long Way

The farmer's dollar goes a long way in stimulating business activity off the farm, according to a recent analysis by USDA's Economic Research Service.

The survey shows that each dollar spent by the farmer for capital items used in his farming operation stimulates over $2 worth of business in the nation's economy. In addition, more than 660,000 jobs are associated with these purchases.

Farmers spent $7 billion for all capital items in 1971 requiring over $15 billion of business activity. Biggest chunk—$4.9 billion—was for farm machinery.

A Natural Recruit
Cotton supplied about 83% of the nation's military needs for textiles during World War II.

Cotton Still Top Area Crop

Melvin Boothe, president of the Security State Bank of Hedley said cotton was still the foremost money crop for the area with cattle and feed following in that order.

"Things have sure changed since I first started in the bank," Booth commented. "In those days one teller handed out as much as $40,000 a day during the peak harvest season." Today money does not exchange hands as it did then and the economy has changed so the peak season is no longer in existence.

THE HISTORY OF COTTON

Cotton has been around longer than man has been able to record its presence. Four archeological sites in Central Costal Peru, representing a time sequence from about 2500 to 1000 B.B. were compared with similar materials obtained from living wild and cultivated forms of Gossypium barbadense L. The comparison showed that the samples were primitive forms differing little from present day wild forms of the same species.

Although not the earliest cotton recorded for the New World, it appears to represent the earliest stages of cotton domestication yet recorded.

Cotton obtained from the Tehuacan Valley of Mexico dated 3500 to 2500 B.C. was apparently "fully domesticated." There is no doubt it, cotton has been around for a long time.

Grown the world over, where climate permits, for over 5000 years it richly deserves the title "King Cotton" for its economic value.

There is some evidence to indicate that cotton was grown in the Virginia Colony in 1607 and in 1621 cotton wool was listed at 8 pence a pound. The cotton-growing industry in the United States advanced slowly. Tobacco was a more profitable crop and it was a very slow and laborious process to pick the lint from the cotton seed. Only about one or two pounds could be picked a day.

England discouraged weaving and the making of cloth in the colonies to protect the industry at home. The first cotton mill was built in 1787 at Beverly, Mass. Soon others were erected in New England and the middle Atlantic states.

Eli Whitney, graduate of Yale University invented the first cotton gin and applied for the patent in 1793. He was the guest at a plantation near Savanna, Ga., saw workers picking lint cotton from seeds and became interested in the problem. In ten days he had completed the first model of his gin, working in the plantation house basement with whatever tools were available.

Whitney received his patent in 1794, signed by George Washington, but two years afterward an improved model was patented by another man and a costly lawsuit followed. Nevertheless Whitney and his gin opened the door for the prosperity of the cotton growing area and a giant cotton industry was begun.

The American Cotton Belt contains some 700,000 square miles of land, and Texas is in an area known as the fourth district. With rather light rainfall and hot windy weather only hardy vigorous varieties do well here, and the yield depends largely upon the weather.

From the time the small seed is planted in the sun warmed earth in the spring until the snowy bolls are pulled in fall the cotton planter battles wind, water, disease, insects and weeds and hopefully reaps a bountiful harvest.

The harvest is only the beginning of the cotton story for its uses and processing employ millions of people and furnish an amazing number of items the world over.

Continuing Progress
Most of the commercial wheat varieties planted by U.S. farmers today have been developed in the past ten years.

industry, knitting industry, garment industry, textile, mill waste, household and retail distribution industries. Foods such as cooking oils and compounds, salad oils, dressings and margarine, cattle feed and mixed feed for other live stock from cotton. The mistress industry, twines, wicks, carpets, packing oil, absorbent cotton, gauze and bandages and all of the personnel to man the many industries are all dependent for most of their existence on the plant in the cotton farmers field.

This and much more, the hard cash in the till of every local merchant, taxes and the Sunday collection plate are part of what cotton means to all of us.

We abolished the draft.

Due to unbalanced design, most offset harrows plow deeper on one side, causing side draft and uneven disc wear.

But not the Athens 126. Athens engineers designed the heavy 4" x 6" and 4" x 5" steel tube frame on this unit off center to distribute loads evenly across the entire width of the harrow.

And the heavy duty independently-controlled dual wheels are staggered (right wheels to the front, left to the rear) for precision balance.

As a result, the Athens 126 features precise gauge control for level plowing, ample trash clearance, level transport, easy one-man hitching, and excellent flotation—even in soft or boggy soil.

Balanced design virtually eliminates all side draft. Consequently the Athens 126 pulls straight to do a perfect job every time.

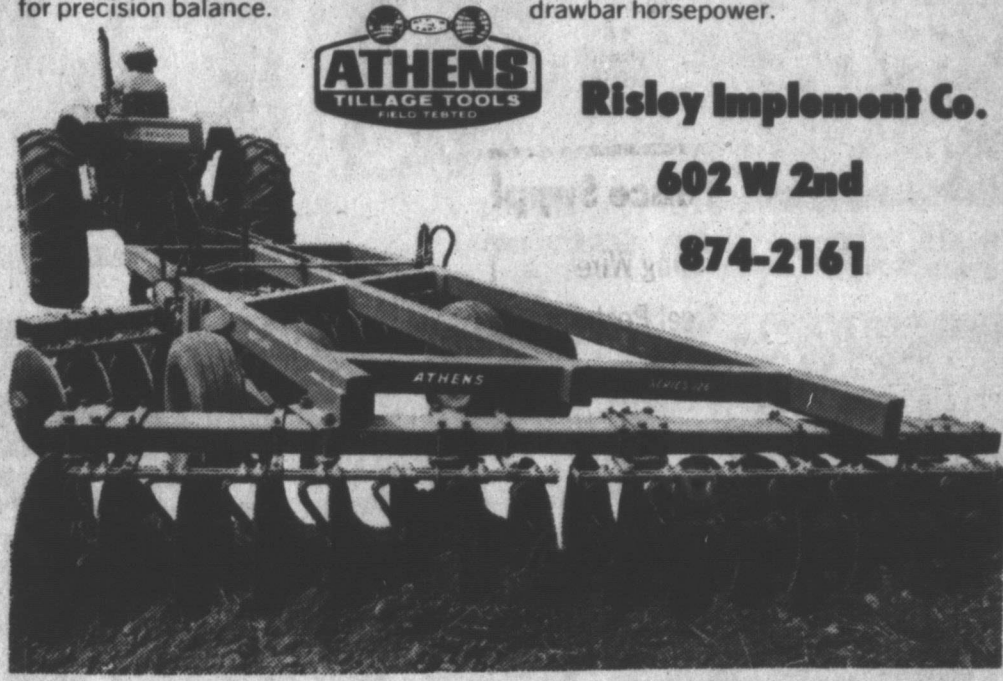

Available in 12'3" to 19' cutting widths. For tractors with 75 to 140 drawbar horsepower.

EDITORIALLY SPEAKING

The Wrong Target

Those unannounced protectors of nameless consumers are at it again.

This time their target is farm exports which they say bring rises in consumer prices.

What they neglect to mention is what would happen to consumer markets if no farm goods were allowed to leave this country.

That mass production on U.S. farms—which has provided us with cheaper food and fiber here at home than in almost any other country in the world—would come to a grinding halt. The American dollar—which has been strengthened through sales of our surplus food and fiber abroad—would buy about as much as the Confederate dollar on today's market. And unemployment would eventually hit most of us—even our unannounced "protectors."

Festival Prexy Cotton Farmer

Woodroe Farris started his cotton farming career in 1926 with about an acre of land and bought his first suit with long pants the same year. He spent $18.50 of the $31 he got for his crop for the suit and bought it from a merchant in Hedley. He was nine years old.

A life long resident of Hedley, Farris has raised cotton ever since his father gave him the first irregular little plot at such a tender age.

Woodroe and his wife Ora Pearl, live on their farm six miles east of Hedley where they have been since 1948. The neat pleasant house is on a small knoll and overlooks the cotton field so important to their lives.

Inside the house there is ample evidence of the well rounded interests of the couple with hand crafts and musical instruments in evidence about the cheer-living room.

Pride and family affection manifests itself in the impressive photographs of the children and grandchildren on display.

A handsome oak piano, a Schaeffer, is a hundred years old and a label on the inside states that it was on display at the Paris Exposition in France in 1878. Mrs. Farris plays the piano and other instruments also.

Ora Pearl Shannon was born at Goldston, went with her parents to McLean for four years and then moved to Hedley in 1931. Ora Pearl and Woodroe were married in 1933 when she was 15 and he was 16 years old.

During their married life much has changed in cotton farming and today with government restrictions on the acreage other crops have had to be incorporated to maintain the standard of living. Feed is a secondary crop.

This year Farris has 123 acres of cotton and he says

ORA PEARL AND WOODROE FARRIS in the cotton field at their home.

"it looks pretty good" years of experience have made the cotton farmer cautious.

Some years have been bad really bad as far as cotton is concerned. In 1970 Woodroe got $20 more for his 80 acres of cotton than the tax bill on the land, and that was with no expenses taken out. But in 1973, just three years later he made 900 pounds of lint cotton on 1.10 acres planted just south of the gin. Conditions were perfect and he sold it for $70. It was Greg 35. That year Woodroe sold 30 bales for a little over $70. He had intended to keep it until after the first of the year but decided the price was right.

Woodroe and Ora Pearl have two children a daughter, Erma Lee Young, with two children, a son Landon nine and a daughter Melissa, five-years-old. Their son, John, lives three miles away and has two children also, Otis Earl Jr. and David Shane. John, like his father, farms. He planted sunflowers this year for the first time, in addition to his cotton and feed.

Center Getting
New Paint Job

Clifford Johnson and Oneil Weatherly's Recreation and Youth Center will have a new face for the Cotton Festival. Some painting is being done inside also.

Mrs. Opal Mann entered the Hall County Hospital in Memphis Monday of last week. We are glad to hear she is out and back at home. Ed Aiken of Quanah was in Hedley last Tuesday taking pictures of Hedley's first bale of cotton. It was raised by Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Wiggins on the James Evans land on the outskirts of Hedley. The bale was ginned Monday and weighed 490 pounds. It will be given away at 5 p.m. Saturday of the Festival October 10.

Harry Boatright was taken to the Hall County Hospital in Memphis Tuesday night. Burt and Kate Stone have been in Amarillo the past week. Kate has been going through the clinic there.

Tracy Sanders has reinstated in the U.S. Navy. He is stationed at San Diego, Calif. The WMU met in the home of Mrs. Willie Johnson Tuesday Sept. 31. Mrs. Betty Williams, president opened. Old business and new business were discussed and disposed of. Correspondence was read. The devotional was given by Willie Johnson using the 19th Psalm.

The first lesson on "God's Unwilling People" was started by Marjorie Rives, the leader. Discussion by group the prophet "Micah." Members enjoying the lesson and fellowship were Mesdames Marjorie Rives, Gertrude Boatright, Betty Williams, Pearl Moore, Alea Altman, Mabel Jones, Verda Hinds and the hostess Mrs. Johnson. The next meeting will be on October 7 at the home of Mrs. Mabel Jones.

Farris is president of the Lions Club this year and is really involved in the Cotton Festival, the Lions Club sponsors the event each year. He and Ora Pearl do their part by participating and contributing their time and effort in whatever way is needed.

Ora Pearl insisted on walking to the cotton field for a picture on a broken foot that had been in the cast since August. This is the spirit of the people who keep cotton as the number one crop and the Cotton Festival as the number one attraction for the fall season.

An insurance agent who works for only one company can only recommend that company's insurance. But no one insurance company has all the best policies.

We are an independent agency. For instance, we handle the excellent property and casualty insurance of the Crum & Forster Insurance Companies. But if your particular situation indicates that another of the companies we handle has a policy that's better, we'll recommend it.

COTTON - A LEADER IN RESEARCH FOR BETTER PRODUCTS

Cotton can be modified chemically to improve its performance. Most man-made fibers are relatively inactive chemically and must be combined with cotton to achieve many of the qualities consumers want.

As examples of cotton's adaptability, the industry's research has led to the development of durable press fabrics and to fabric finishes that repel water and stains.

COTTON - THE NO. 1 FIBER

Cotton has served consumers for thousands of years. It has thousands of uses in clothing and household and industrial items. Many of these uses are related to the qualities that made cotton so ideal for towels... such qualities as absorbency, softness, wet strength, durability, and color fastness.

Consumers consider these and some 50 other qualities important in textile products. When all fibers are ranked on the basis of desirable qualities, cotton comes out No. 1... the most versatile and adaptable one of all.

COTTON COUNTS IN ECONOMY, ECOLOGY, AND AGRICULTURE

Almost everyone can name dozens of ways cotton helps make life more comfortable, more stylish and colorful, and easier. But did you know that cotton contributes significantly in the battle against pollution? Or that cotton accounts for 1.6 million jobs in the U.S.? Or that, without cotton, the balance of production, income, and markets in American agriculture would crumble?

There are other facts that you should know... and we'll be glad to give them to you. Write the National Cotton Council of America, Dept. PA, P. O. Box 12285, Memphis, Tenn. 38112.

May we join the Hedley Lions Club and all of the people of the Hedley Community to issue you a personal invitation to attend the 24th annual Hedley Cotton Festival, Friday and Saturday, October 10 and 11. This is our way of saluting this country's great Cotton Industry and to point out the important part it plays in the life and economy of not only Hedley but the entire nation.

This is a fun time and we have a lot of continuous FREE entertainment and invite all of our friends in Donley County and over this entire cotton producing section to join us for the Festivities. Thanks to all of the fine folks from all over this area who have helped us make this Cotton Festival the tremendous annual event that it is and we are looking forward to having you as our guests again this year.
