Rabies Case Confirmed In Clarendon

Authorities in Austin have confirmed a case of rabies in a specimen from in Clarendon. On Sunday, August 6th, Billie Taylor noticed her cat playing with a bat. She killed the bat with a broom and took it to the Deyhle Veterinary Clinic on Monday. The doctors forwarded the animal to Austin for testing.

Since the cat had not been vaccinated, the veterinarians immediately inoculated the pet and placed it under observation. It will remain under observation for at least 14 days. Since the animal was vaccinated so quickly after the possible exposure, its chances are fairly good. But its odds would have been better if it had received the recommended annual vaccination earlier.

No humans were bitten.

On Wednesday, August 9th, the lab phoned the veterinary clinic and confirmed the presence of rabies in the specimen. Area residents should take normal precautions.

Rhonda Howell, a technician at the veterinary clinic said, "This shows again how important it is to get animals vaccinated." Virtually any mammal can suffer from rabies.

At one time "hydrophobia" [the old name for rabies] was the most dreaded of all diseases humans could contract. Not only was it inevitably fatal, but death was slow and excruciating.

In 1884 Louis Pasteur developed the first primitive vaccine against the rabies virus, although he had no means of isolating the organism. It was a truly remarkable accomplishment. With time, better and better vaccines have been developed, and today's vaccines are far better than those of a decade ago. Yet even today, there is little science can do if the disease is too far advanced.

The first line of defense against the dread disease is prevention. All pets should be vaccinated annually. An unvaccinated pet is an intolerable danger not only to its owner and family, but to the entire community.

Failure to vaccinate pets is against the law. In the event that a Clarendon pet contracted rabies, the owner could face a civil suit if his dog or cat bit someone. And the owner might be indicted for negligence.

The second line of defense against rabies is the exercise of caution with wild animals. Any animal that behaves strangely should be regarded as dangerous. Wild animals would normally flee from humans, but they may act indifferent to the presence of people when the animal is under the influence of the disease. Animals that would normally avoid cities may wander into town. Ranchers and farmers may see animals that are normally secretive. Foxes and skunks may even become aggressive. As the disease progresses, the animal may salivate excessively and as the animals' nervous system deteriorates, the animal may stagger or even snap at imaginary objects in its path. Rabies is a horrible death.

Bats are not necessarily more likely to have rabies than other mammals. Bats can contract the disease, but usually pose little threat to humans. Clarendon residents who find a bat in their home may call the city. County residents can call the Sheriff's Office. Do NOT handle the bat with bare hands. While it is highly unlikely that the bat is diseased, it could be.

Experts on bats encourage people not to kill the little animals wantonly. Most are NOT diseased. Bats generally avoid humans when possible and are harmless to people, despite ignorant superstitions to the contrary. Furthermore, bats do a tremendous service in consuming thousands of tons of insects in Texas each night. Since many of the insects that bats eat are potential disease carriers, the tiny flying mammals may actually contribute to public health.

Unfortunately, many Texans still believe old wives' tales about bats and destroy them. Yet each bat in the area is worth several dollars to farmers because of the insect pests that the bats consume.

Wildlife experts suggest that the state may have to classify bats as "threatened" in most of the state, and some varieties will probably soon be classified as "endangered species".

YARD-OF-THE-WEEK for August 16th, 1989 belongs to Don and Carol Hinton. It is located at 716 Koogle. The person who nominated the yard asked that her name not be used, but a friend described the patio/retreat as "an oasis . . . a little bit of jungle in the middle of Clarendon". The area is shaded by a grand old tree and the yard is filled with flowers and ornamental plants.

Caution Urged As Children Head Back To School

What's yellow and black and has 144 feet? A loaded school bus. Summer Vacation is almost over and children across the state will be returning to school, many aboard big yellow and black school buses. One of the most common sights on our roadways during the school year, these buses can carry from 71 to 83 seated students on any given trip each day.

"Yet as common as they are, every year there seems to be an unfortunate rash of accidents caused by drivers who fail to follow safe driving practices for a stopped school bus," stated Major Vernon Cawthon, Regional Commander for the Texas Department of Public Safety.

State law requires drivers on the same roadway, as a school bus that is topped to load or unload children, to also stop until the bus driver has turned off the flashing red lights. This rule applies unless the vehicle is separated from the bus by a divided highway with a median strip.

The first few weeks of school are the most dangerous, according to Major Cawthon. "This time of year presents safety problems for both the school children and the driver," he explained. "Many youngsters are attending school for the first time and others might be going to a different school, where they are unfamiliar with local traffic conditions. One problem seems to be that during the summer recess, some drivers have gotten out of the habit of being alert for both school zones and school buses."

Public Safety Officials are asking Texas drivers to begin thinking now about the safety of our school children, as the beginning of a new school year starts up. By observing the speed limits in school zones, being alert for increased pedestrian traffic, and watching for school bus activity, we can make this a safe school year for all.

Early Education Clinic

Public schools in Texas provide for the special education of handicapped children ages three to five. Additional, a visually and/or hearing impaired child is eligible for services form birth. These services are provided through Early Childhood special education classes taught by Lisa Thompson at Clarendon Elementary School.

Screening tests and in-depth as-essment of a child's strengths and weaknesses to establish eligibility for these classes will be administered August 18 in the Clarendon Elementary Building. Children whose last names begin with letters A through M will be tested from 9:30 - 11:30 a.m. and children whose last names begin with letters N through Z will be tested from 12:30 - 2:30 p.m. These test will be used to identify children who may need early classroom experiences because they seem to have problems in hearing, talking, seeing, playing like other children, learning about their world, using their hands (using scissors, crayons, pencils, etc.) or who may have a physical handicap. Parents, guardians, physicians, or any person having knowledge of the needs of a particular child, may bring the child for testing or call the Elementary office at 874-3855 for more information.

Low Income Households Eligible

Low income households with a medical need for cooling may be eligible for a one-time cash benefit under the federal Heat Stress Relief Program. The program runs through September, but funds are limited and will be given on a first-come, first-served basis. The one-time benefit may range from $48.00 to $138.00.

Applications, including a form to verify medical need, and further information for persons in Gray, Donley, and Wheeler counties may be obtained from the American Red Cross office in Pampa. Contact the Chapter manager, Katie Fairweather in Pampa by calling 1-806-669-7121.

The funds for the Heat Stress Relief Program are being provided under the low-income home energy assistance block grant and are being allocated on the basis of the poverty rate within each county.

Vandals Damage Cemetery

Vandals recently broke into the Citizens' Cemetery south of Clarendon and them forced their way into the Bugbee family monument. As a result of their actions, the family will have to buy a new door to the crypt.

Sheriff Jimmy Thompson and the Donley County deputies are working on the case. If the vandal or vandals are apprehended, they will face serious charges, possibly even time in prison. Desecration of a grave is a serious offense under Texas law.

Anyone with information about the incident can call the Sheriff's Department. Although no details were available at press time, there may be a reward given to the first person who offers information leading to the arrest and conviction of the culprits.

Charlotte Ann Spears and Monte Todd Hollar were united in marriage on Friday, August 4, 1989, in an outdoor ceremony held at the home of the groom's parents, Gregory Camp, Lewis Ranches. Delmar Wiggs, Baptist minister, performed the double ring ceremony in side a gazebo decorated with white silk flowers, greenery, and dark purple streamers.

Parents of the bride are Charlie and Evelyn Spears of Magdalena, New Mexico. Parents of the groom are Burl and Carlene Hollar of Clarendon.

Maid of honor was Sandra Saulsberry of Magdalena, New Mexico. Brides maids were Minde Hollar, sister of the groom, and Stephani Miller of Childress. They each wore orchid jumpers over darker purple T-shirts, and carried a single white carnation adorned with purple and orchid streamers.

Best man was John Dean Able of Clovis, New Mexico. Groomsman were Billy Wiggs and Chris O'Neal, both of Clarendon. The groom and his attendants each wore gray wranglers and orchid shirts.

The bride's dress was of ivory satin with an ivory lace overlay. She had baby's breath scattered through her hair. Her bouquet was made of white carnations and purple daisies with baby's breath and purple and ivory bows, she presented her mother with a white carnation with purple and orchid streamers, and as she and the groom marched back up the aisle, she presented the groom's mother with a white carnation, also with purple and orchid streamers.

Music for the ceremony was provided by Teresa Colburn, who pre-taped the piano selections.

Dan Hall sang "Wind Beneath My Wings" and "Whisper Your Name". A poem entitled "My Promise of Love to You" was read by Shonda Phillips.

An outdoor reception was held immediately following the ceremony at the home of the groom's parents. The table was covered with a white lace cloth with an orchid underlay. The wedding cake, made by Robbie Hill, and punch was served, along with sausage balls made by Melanie Shelton, fresh fruit from a watermelon fruit basket fashioned by Theresa McClellan, candy strawberries made by Margaret Smith, and purple boot-shaped mints made by Derlene Graham. Presiding over the table were Lynn Wiggs and Shonda Phillips, both of Clarendon.

Doing As Though We Know

The message that Jesus died and was raised is not some abstract theological theory. That fact is the source of all Christian action.

Jesus' willing self-sacrifice touches hearts and minds. John said, "We love because he first loved us", [1 John 4:19].

The historic fact that God raised Jesus from the dead is the source of hope, allowing believers to look to the future with anticipation.

Fact and actions are connected in the hearts and minds of believers. That vital connection is faith.

Faith is not a particularly religious phenomenon. Nor is it irrational. The customer who orders enchiladas at a local restaurant acts on faith that they are made from beef or chicken, not cat meat or prairie dog. The motorist who drives on a two-lane road acts on faith that oncoming traffic will obey the rules and stay on the proper side of the road. Obviously, in most cases, that faith is justified. Otherwise life in communities would be impossible.

Religious faith is equally sensible. And it is equally active. Believing is the basis of action. But the realization that Jesus sacrificed himself and was subsequently raised is revolutionary. It may change every area and every detail of a believer's life. We invite you to join us in exploring the world of Christian faith.

Granddaughter Jennifer Helton from Dumas has been visiting last week with Josie and Doug Burgess and with Lorene and Glen Helton.

Mae and Duane Naylor of Thalia came to Memphis Friday and got Thelma Hall to take her to the Bain family reunion at Dumas. They visited with Naomi Green enroute to the reunion.

Remick Tolbert and his family visited with his great Uncle James Tolbert Friday afternoon. The family is stationed in Ft. Worth but are to be transferred overseas with military soon.

Rev. Russel and Betty Morris were houseguests of the H.A. Greens for the weekend. Russell and Haric attended the Martin Reunion Saturday afternoon and both hosts and guests attended the Ashtola Reunion Sunday.

We had over 87 attended the Ashtola Reunion and were blessed with .90 inches of rain late enough in the afternoon that there was time for the crowd to get away from the low-lying community building.

Because of the passage by the 71st Legislature of Senate Bill 1019, dealing with school finance, the Clarendon School District is faced with the problem of raising local ad valorem taxes. Senate Bill 1019 mandated that in order to receive full allotment of school aid, school districts must make a local tax effort of at least the state average of $0.70 per hundred dollars of valuation.

The 1988 tax rate for the Clarendon School District was $0.64961. However, with state funding in jeopardy, the District will need to raise the tax rate by at least an 8% increase for 1989 in order to show a good faith effort to meet the requirements of Senate Bill 1019. The District receives 80% of its operating money from the state, and officials believe it would be unwise to give up $8.00 of state funds for $2.00 of locally-generated funds.

The Clarendon School District has been able to maintain a low tax rate for the District for many years. But with the minimum tax requirements of Senate Bill 1019, the local District must make a substantial effort to meet the $0.70 state standard or face the loss of a large amount of the total state-allowed entitlement. Therefore, Clarendon's school officials are proposing a rate of $0.69217 for the next year.

For comparison purposes, the Clarendon School District's proposed rate of $0.69217 will still be considerably lower than that of area schools of comparable size. Some area schools and their tax rates are shown as follows:

- Shamrock $1.05
- Wellington $0.99
- Memphis $0.95
- Quanah $0.9439
- Canadian $0.915

Other area schools are also having to raise their tax rate to meet the requirements of Senate Bill 1019. Groom will have a tax rate in excess of $1.20 for the coming year. Hedley is proposing to increase their tax rate to $0.77 for 1989.

Although the 71st Legislature vowed that there would be no new state taxes, they have forced the local school districts, through the mandate of Senate Bill 1019, to raise local taxes.

The Clarendon School District officials solicit your support in this matter so that we can give our local students the same educational opportunity to prepare for the future as other school districts are providing for their students. As Thomas Jefferson said, "The bulwark of democracy is education."

Amigas & No More will be CLOSED for the State 4H Dog Show in Del Rio from 2 p.m. Wednesday August 16th through Monday August 21 st. We will REOPEN August 22nd. Regular Hours 11:00 - 2:00 and 5:30 - 9:00

The Lions Tale

The Clarendon Lions Club met in a regular meeting in the Lions Hall on Tuesday, August 15, 1989. A very delicious barbecued chicken meal was served to 20 Lions and their guests. There were 28 guests present and the Club welcomed them all. The ones responsible for the barbecued chicken were Lion JEM Simmons, Lion Bernabe and Lioness Linda Welch who was supervised by Lion JEM Simmons' daughter Elizabeth. She did an excellent job of supervision. The Club sang Happy Birthday to David Smith. The Boss Lion Todd Knorpp had a few announcements to make and welcomed all the guests. It was suggested that the Club start plans for the Pancake Supper for the first football game here. There being no other business, the Boss Lion adjourned the meeting.

The First Day For A New Teacher

Keeping school in Texas during the 1850's was no simple task, especially for teachers newly arrived in the state. Fortunately one such lady, whose identity now is unknown, left us an account of her first day in a Texas school which subsequently was

The Clarendon Press published in the August 1853 Putnam's Monthly Magazine.

The anonymous teacher described her schoolhouse as a rough log cabin set in a grove of oaks, a pleasant location "were it not infested with legions of gnats, whose bite for venom would do credit to larger insects." The building had a doorway and a single window without sash or glass. Lack of light or ventilation presented no problems, the gaps between the logs admitting fresh air in larger quantities than desired.

Entering the classroom for the first time, the schoolmistress rang her handbell to summon her child scholars. "They came with a whoop and halloo, twenty-five in number," she noted. They ranged in age up to 20 years.

The pupils thronged around the teacher, for new people in the community were considered oddities. Some of the boldest of the girls fingered her dress, wanting to know the price she had paid for the calico. "Others plucked the artificial flowers from my bonnet," the teacher wrote, "and arranged them into bouquets for themselves."

The teacher found the names of her charges to be more than surprising. "I was struck with the love of the high sounding and romantic manifested by the parents," she wrote, noting such names among her pupils as Cleopatra Aletha and Phedora Constantia.

No sooner had the class day begun than a swarm of a dozen or so wasps swooped down from a rafter. Teacher and children precipitously fled the cabin. "The wasps not finding anyone to molest, soon flew away, and we returned to our places," she later wrote.

Back in the classroom, the new schoolmarm began observing that the children were paying more attention to a rafter above her head than to her lesson. Looking up, she spied "an enormously long snake, coiling and uncoiling himself with the utmost sang-froid." Terrified by the reptile, "flight was our only alternative," she wrote. "Setting the example, I was followed by my twenty-five pupils, leaving his snakeship and the nest of young wasps undisputed monarchs of the building."

By now it was noontime, so teacher and children took a lunch break while a man dislodged the serpent using a burning piece of cotton attached to the end of a long pole. In their lunch pails, the pupils found the ever-common Texas cornbread and bacon, quenching their thirsts with drinks from a nearby spring. After their meal, one group of children began playing by imitating the behaviors that they had seen among their elders at a recent camp meeting. "Their shouts, groans and amens made the primeval forest echo," according to the teacher.

Returning to the log schoolhouse after the break, one of the little

Use Of Aspirin During Pregnancy

There is increasing debate as to the safety of aspirin use during pregnancy. Two studies published within the past four years indicate that low-doses of aspirin taken during pregnancy may help prevent problems encountered during pregnancy and fetal growth retardation. According to a recent article in Patient Care, aspirin is the drug most commonly taken during pregnancy.

There is growing concern, however, about adverse effects that could be associated with the use of aspirin during pregnancy. Recent studies are suggesting that aspirin use during pregnancy may be responsible, in part, for prolonged pregnancies, bleeding problems, and congenital defects. Researchers are being cautious, however, since much of the research has not been conclusive. Until more definitive findings are made available, some physicians are recommending that their pregnant patients avoid the use of aspirin.

A recent issue of the FDA Consumer reports that the federal government has recommended new aspirin labeling requirements that warn against the use of aspirin products during the last three months of pregnancy unless there are specific directions to do so by one's physician.

Hedley News

Dot Messer is still a patient in Childress General Hospital where she underwent knee surgery last Wednesday afternoon. We understand that the surgery was quite painful, but that she is recovering nicely. Dot hopes to be back home next week.

The Stewart's patio was the scene of a chili supper Friday night. Sammy Slover provided the meat, and Louise Stewart and Helen Lamberson prepared the chili. A delicious supper consisted of chili, beans, onions, cheese, chips, peach cobbler, cake, and ice cream. The guests were Bob and Jessie Roland, Paul and Sharon Ferguson and grandson, Buster and Verda Hinds, Sammy and Shirley Slover and son Sammy, Betty Morgan, Dorothy Brinson, J. T. and Helen Lamberson, Gary Stewart, Jimmy Stewart and Bradley, O'Neil and Sue Weatherly, Jimmy and Demaris Hunt and Jimmy, Jeanie Gregory and Jindy, Blackie and Shirley Johnson, Dottie Bogue and Kay, Kenneth Swinney, Noah and Chris Solis, Roy Ramirez, Lo Laferty, Virgil McPherson, and Froggie and Louise Stewart.

The Paul Stewarts and grandson Bradley will be leaving Thursday to visit Lisa and Jack Brown in Iola, Kansas.

August 6 was a busy day for Katy Mae Stone. Not only did she have a visit from her daughter Willie from Amarillo, but also a surprise birthday party at City Park. Happy Birthday Kate! We love you. Also celebrating birthdays that day was Connie Solis, Noah Solis, Jr., and Lindsey Hoover. Linda was six years old on August 3. Happy birthday, Babe! Among the guests were Esther Owens, Inez Stephens, Brenda Swinney, Jeremy Gatlin, Mary and her children from Wellington, Linda Hoover, Jamie Hoover, Justin Hoover, S. J. Johnson, Jr., Noah Solis, Sr., Christal Solis, and Chris Solis. Thanks to Inez Stephens for calling everyone for the party and for the beautiful gift, and to Opal Murray for the gifts.

Visiting for three weeks with James and Linda Hoover is their daughter from Big Spring. She is six-year-old Lindsey Nicole Hoover. Also visiting the Hoovers are Inez Owen, Linda's mother, also from Big Spring. She will be visiting for a couple of days. The Hoover's oldest son, Kenneth, will be returning August 18 from his vacation in Odessa. He has been visiting his father in Odessa since June 10, and will return with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James Beard from Big Spring.

Flora Sanders wishes to thank all those at Senior Citizens' Center who remembered her birthday and celebrated with her last week.

The annual Hill Family reunion was held this weekend. We will have a list of those who visited in next week's issue.

Margaret Holland visited Otis in Pampa this weekend. On Sunday morning, they attended the worship service of First Baptist Church, Lefors, and visited with Pastor and Mrs. Lewis Ellis, former Hedley residents.

David Boliver and family are to arrive later this week for a brief visit with Joyce and other relatives.

Dorothy Harris returned Saturday from a visit with Roy on Padre Island. Roy is still harvesting cotton in South Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgel Tisdale are visiting in Decatur with daughter Barbara Bible and her family. The Tisdales plan to return to Hedley on Friday.

Last week's Vacation Bible School at First Baptist Church was a great success. Nearly fifty students and twenty-seven helpers were enrolled. The church was filled to near capacity for Friday evening's family night. It has become a post-Bible school tradition to travel to Wonderland Park in Amarillo, and to have a pizza supper afterward. Fifty-eight schoolers made the trip Saturday afternoon.

We are glad to see Frank Reiger out and about town following his stay in Saint Anthony's Hospital.

Leave news for this column at the Senior Citizens' Center.

Deuteronomy 6:7-9

Greater Things!

by Mack Garrison

Shortly after Jesus had washed the disciples' feet He sat down and began to talk with them. What bewilderment they must have felt! Then He reminded them that He was indeed their Lord and Master and they were right in calling Him thus. He then spoke these ego crushing words: "If I then, your Lord and Master, have washed your feet, ye also ought to wash one another's feet. For I have given you an example that you should do as I have done to you. Verily, verily I say unto you! The servant is not greater than his lord. Neither he that is sent greater than he that sent him. John 13:14-16"

Then just a few moments later Jesus said these words that probably added greatly to their bewilderment: "Verily, verily I say unto you! He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also, and greater works than these shall he do, because I go unto my Father. John 14:12"

"Greater works! Greater works from us whom are far, far below our Lord and Master Jesus the Christ!?"

I can't say that any of the disciples thought such a thing but I do know that if I had been present I would have. How CAN we do greater works than the Master?

Today in this great nation we have something that the disciples didn't have in their time; The whole complete (often ignored) Word of God. And if we were to take this entire Word and look at it as a whole. If we would just allow The Word to show us the "BIG PICTURE" then apply this to history, multiplied by what we have at our disposal, we wouldn't have to wonder what Jesus meant when He said, "You shall do greater things".

When Jesus (God in the flesh) came to Earth, He allowed Himself to be bound by what we call time. Jesus hardly had enough of this time to teach His disciples, plant His Kingdom, and prepare His church for His death when the plan of God was done through the death of Jesus on the Cross. God's plan was never to come and build a fleshly kingdom on Earth. God's plan is much more beautiful than that. He intends to use us, His Spirit filled people, His church to make a difference in this old sin sick world. But are we doing greater things?

If we would put back prayer in our learning institutions. Wouldn't that be a greater thing? Or what if we parents taught our children how to pray and seek God's face once again? Would that be a greater thing. What if we stopped throwing out half of our food and started feeding the hungry and clothing the poor. And what if we began to use our God given technology to get the Gospel message out to the unlearned. Would that be greater things? Maybe if we pulled our voices as one and STOPPED the slaughter of a helpless unborn! Would that qualify as a greater thing? What if we Christians just started trying to show to the world some of the love we are supposed to have for one another. And really show them our Risen Savior. Would that be a greater work?

I am convinced that the only truly great thing that a person can do is to know and love God with all their heart and to do the will of the Father. In doing this we will do those greater things because Jesus will be doing them through us. And greater works are the will of God! Matthew 7:21-27.

Public Notice

Hedley CISD will hold a public meeting for the purpose of a budget hearing for the school year of 1989-90. The meeting will be held in the Hedley School Library on August 21, at 7:00 p.m.

girls, Cleopatra Aletha, asked the teacher, "Please put me in potash." "I have none," replied the teacher, asking, "Why ... do you want to be flayed alive in potash?"

With big dark eyes opened wide, the girl looked up confused at the schoolmistress; then she pointed in her spelling book at a column of words that began with the word, potash. "The mystery solved, I forthwith overjoyed her little heart by advancing her to the desired column," the teacher said.

The day drew to its close and the children headed home, all full of stories for their families about their new teacher. After the classroom fell silent, the young woman turned her own tread toward home, pondering the mountain of ignorance that she had been hired to dispel.

"Amused with the oddity of my situation," she wrote, "I strayed musingly homeward, so absorbed that I narrowly missed being stung by a tarantula in the path."

Thus ended the first day for the new teacher.

Notice Hedley CISD Taxpayers

The final debt payment on the Hedley School facility was made this last spring of 1989. Because of the way an "effective tax rate" formula is figured and since the Hedley CISD will no longer require a tax rate for interest and sinking fund, you the tax payer have been notified of a 18.9% increase in total tax revenues. However, the total taxes you pay in 1989-90 will not be 18.9% over last year's. In reality the actual tax increase compared to last year will be approximately 4%.

NOTICE OF VOTE ON TAX RATE

The Clarendon Consolidated Independent School District

conducted a public hearing on a proposal to increase your property taxes by 8 percent on August 24, 1989

A public meeting to vote on the tax rate will be held on August 28, 1989 at 8:00 p.m. in the Clarendon Public School's Administration Office.

NOTICE OF VOTE ON TAX RATE

The (HEDLEY CISD) conducted a public hearing on a proposal to increase your property taxes by (18.9) percent on (August 17, 1989) at 7:30 p.m.

A public meeting to vote on the tax rate will be held on (August 21, 1989) at (7:30 p.m.).

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING ON TAX INCREASE

The Clarendon Consolidated Independent School District will hold a public hearing on a proposal to increase total tax revenues from properties on the tax roll in 1989 by 8 percent. Your individual taxes may increase at a greater or lesser rate, or even decrease, depending on the change in the taxable value of your property in relation to the change in taxable value of all other property.

The public hearing will be held on August 24, 1989 at 7:30 p.m.

at Clarendon CISD Administration Office

FOR the proposal: Phil Fletcher, Fred Clifford, Venita Sharrar, & Todd Knorpp
AGAINST the proposal: None

PRESENT and not voting: None

ABSENT: Susie Sheilds and Johnny Floyd

The statement above shows the percentage increase the proposed rate represents over the 64.344c tax rate that the unit published on Thursday, August 3, 1989. The following table compares taxes on an average home in this taxing unit last year to taxes proposed on the average home this year. Again, your individual taxes may be higher or lower, depending on the taxable value of your property.

	Last Year	This Year
Average home value	$25,000.	$25,000.
General exemptions available (amount available on the average home, not including senior citizen's or disabled person's exemptions)	$5,000.	$5,000.
Average taxable value	$20,000.	$20,000.
Tax rate	64.961c	69.217c (proposed)
Tax	$129.92	$138.43 (proposed)

Under this proposal taxes on the average home would increase by $ 8.51 or 6.58 percent compared with last year's taxes.

Comparing tax rates without adjusting for changes in property value, the tax rate would increase by $.04256 per $100 of taxable value or 6.58 percent compared to last year's tax rate.

These tax rate figures are not adjusted for changes in the taxable value of property.

CLASSIFIED BUYING GUIDE

Bradward on Classifieds 22

Repetition in the classifieds gets results. Maybe. Depends on what you are repeating. And why.

There are 2 ways of thinking about repetition.

One is to change your ad frequently, at least every 2nd or 3rd time it is printed.

The other is not to change the ad as long as it is effective.

Classifieds are usually changed for one of two reasons. The company president or owner gets tired of the ad. The other is that ad agencies earn commissions by writing new ad copy. So the more ads change, the more profitable the account is to them.

Don't fall into either trap.

Bradward has represented 3 companies, in business for many years, now earning more than $10,000 profit net profit every day. ($2,500,000 each year.) They advertise only in the classifieds and never change a word.

These honorable companies have enough budget to experiment, but they don't.

You can be smart like they are. Don't change your ad as long as it works.

Some companies, realtors or car dealers usually, often continue the same ads even after the property or car is sold.

These smart professionals overprint "SOLD" on their classifieds. Usually this is in heavy bold letters printed diagonally.

We all like to deal with these winners.

"SOLD" means your realtor or car dealer is active, working, successful. What he/she has done for others, by implication he/she can do for you.

Some of the greatest most successful ads of this century have gone unchanged for years: Wendy's "Where's the beef?" RJ Reynolds, "I'd walk a mile for a Camel." Coca Cola's "Pause that refreshes." Bristol-Meyers "Anacin is like a doctor's prescription." General Mills "The breakfast of champions."

Repetition is wonderful and useful. Beats one-time ads hands-down.

Running a classified ad one time usually does not work very well. Be smart like these 3 companies earning that $10,000 each and every day. Repeat, repeat, repeat.

Get yourself a classified that works and run with it! Your newspaper can share scads of success stories of classified advertisers who did just this.
