Train-Truck Wreck Injures Man

On Thursday Morning, September 14th, a Burlington Northern train struck a pickup driven by Leroy Leathers at a private crossing just east of Lelia Lake. The force of the impact destroyed the vehicle and severely injured the driver.

According to the engineer in the locomotive, the pickup descended the hill slowly, but proceeded onto the tracks without pausing; the driver did not appear to have looked up and down the track. Leathers was born and raised in the house near the tracks, living a major portion of his 74 years there.

The force of the impact threw the pickup off of the tracks into the drainage ditch and bent the front plate on the lead locomotive. The train stopped in 53 car lengths. It then pulled clear of the intersection.

Clarendon EMS and Volunteer Fire Department personnel arrived on the scene very shortly after the accident. Sergeant Mike Thomson of the Texas Department of Public Safety praised the skill and speed of the emergency crews. The pickup was so badly damaged that it took several minutes to extricate the driver. As of press time, he was listed in critical condition in an Amarillo hospital.

Virtually everyone at the scene stressed how important it is for motorists to exercise extreme caution at railroad crossings. Vehicle-train collisions are exceedingly dangerous to the occupants of the car or pickup. "Hitting a car with a freight train is about like hitting a coffee can with automobile" said the engineer. He was visibly upset by the accident, but could do little to stop the train in time.

Three locomotives and 56 cars weigh 5,396 tons or 10,792,000 pounds. And that was a relatively light train. Coal trains may have almost twice as many cars and locomotives. And coal trains would weigh more than twice as much. The legal speed limit on some stretches of track may be as high as the legal speed on a highway. Even at 49 mile per hour, a vehicle is traveling at almost 72 feet per second.

Thirty million pounds traveling at 72 feet per second is as close to an irresistible force as anyone is likely to find in West Texas. Yet in the 225 miles between Amarillo and Wichita Falls, trainmen estimate that they see an average of three close calls per trip. Some driver are preoccupied. Some are crazy enough to race a train to the intersection. Fortunately few of these incidents actually result in collisions. But most collisions cause serious injuries or deaths.

Highway Patrolmen, EMS technicians, and railroad employees all told the Press "Tell people to be careful!" That may look trite in print. But their faces were serious. Car-train accidents are not trivial.

This is not the first such accident. There have been several in recent years. According to City Secretary Donna Edwards, Clarendon is still trying to get a crossing signal at the intersection near the Community Center where a fatal accident occurred last year. If approved, it would cost the city and the railroad each 5% and the federal government would pay the balance.

But ultimately each driver must exercise caution. Ask any of the people who have to respond to the emergency calls.

ANN HARPER, in the Norman Petty Studio in Clovis, New Mexico with Mr. & Mrs. Stull.

Ann Harper Records At Famous Studio

Ann would like to announce to the people of Clarendon, that her second recording is available. The title is "Jesus Be The Daddy In Our House", a song very close to her heart. There are nine other gospel songs on her tape.

This time she went to Clovis New Mexico to the Norman Petty Studio. This studio has had some well known people record there, such as Buddy Holly. He did most of his recordings there. Ann even had the opportunity to sing on the same microphone Mr. Holly used. It was a very thrilling experience for her.

Her hearts desire is to return there, to do another recording with live musicians, and songs that are being written for her to do. Mr.

Stull, a partner in the studio, spoke to Ann about this during her last session. He already has the group prepared, and at least two songs already written by a lady he knows in Clovis. There are a few other people busy writing for Ann also. Ann has written three songs herself over a period of 6 years.

The reason for wanting to record another tape with songs written specifically for her and live musicians is that it can be sold in stores in Amarillo, and across the nation.

Mr. Stull has really encouraged Ann to pursue this area in her life. She says her prayer is that "her life will somehow count", she wants to do what God created her to do.

We want the people to know she

How We Met The Author Of "Footprints In The Sand"

by Darell and Ann Harper

On Memorial Day weekend, we went to Red River New Mexico. We arrived late Saturday evening, and were we surprised! There were between six hundred and one thousand motorcycles and riders that had lined the main street on both sides. There were some pretty rough looking characters among them.

We had a hard time finding a motel room, but finally did. The next morning we went to breakfast at a local restaurant and sitting at the table next to us were two cyclists. We notices on the back of their jackets, the words, "Riding For The Son". We also noticed on their bikes outside, a sign that said, "Jesus Is Lord".

About that time, their meal was served to them, and they both bowed their heads to give thanks. When we had finished our meals, Ann went over and told them that we admired them for the example they were setting. They told us they belonged to a Christian motorcycle club and we began to talk.

isn't doing this for the money, God has put music in her heart and she wants Him to use her in this ministry.

The tapes are $8.00 or two for $15.00, the reason for this is she has given so many away to people who want them, but cannot afford them, that is what has been put on heart to do. So the people who can afford them, it will be greatly appreciated.

Come by Clarendon Motor Company for the tapes, or call Darell or Ann at 3687 or 5066.

Ann then handed them one of her cards she passes out which reads "If you meet me and forget me, you've lost nothing. But if you meet Jesus Christ and forget Him, you've lost everything". One of the men in turn handed her his card with the same inscription. He then told us he knew the man who wrote "Footprints in the Sand".

The man's name is Carl Austin. He told us he lived in a small town in North Texas called Wolf City.

Ann took a chance and wrote Mr. Austin after returning home. The only thing she had was his name and the name of the city in Texas. She asked him should he receive her letter to please reply. In about a week she received a letter from Mr. Austin. He said he indeed wrote "Footprints in the Sand". He explained that he had this same identical dream two nights in a row, and on the second night he wrote the dream down. This was the 16th and 17th of September 1976. He later sent it to Guideposts with his name on it, and they in turn, printed it, but left off his name.

That is another long story. If you would like to know all of it, I will write him and ask him to write it out and we will put it in our Clarendon Press.

Guideposts also changed a few of the words in the poem. Mr. Austin was good enough to give Ann and I a copy of the original poem written in 1976. We hope it blesses you reading it as much as it has blessed us.

After receiving two letters from Mr. Austin and getting to know each other, he paid us a surprise visit September 5th. How exciting it was, he is a very special man! We enjoyed having him in our home, and we learned so much about him in the two days he was here.

If anyone would like to write Mr. Austin, I'm sure he would love it. He is a widower and 79 years young and I mean young.

Carl Austin, Box 244, Wolf City, TX 75496.

Mr. Carl Austin from Wolf City, Texas was the honored guest of Darell & Ann Harper Tuesday and Wednesday of this week. Mr. Austin is the author of the poem that is printed worldwide entitled "Footprints In The Sand". Mr. Austin wrote this poem September 28, 1976 and sent it to the magazine "Guideposts" along with his christian testimony and signed both of them. Somehow his name was omitted from poem, and it was published Author Unknown.

My Dream--Sept. 16 & 17th--1976

One night I had a dream-- I dreamed I was walking along the beach with the Lord, and Across the sky flashed scenes from my life.

For each scene I noticed two sets of footprints in the sand, One belong to me, and the other to the Lord.

When the last scene of my life flashed before us, I looked back at the footprints in the sand.

I noticed that many times along the path of my life,

There was only one set of footprints.

I also noticed that it happened at the very lowest and saddest times in my life.

This really bothered me, and I questioned the Lord about it.

Lord, You said that once I decided to follow You,

You would walk with me all the way.

But I have noticed that during the most troubled times in my life, there is only one set of footprints, I don't understand why in times when I need You most,

You should leave me.

The Lord replied, My precious, precious child,

I love you and would never, never leave you during your times of trials and of suffering.

When you saw only one set of footprints, it was then that I carried you.

14 Mellow Yellows

The other day I had another visit with Tom Christian, my rancher friend from Claude, Texas. He was on his way to a meeting, but he was ahead of schedule, so he had time on his hands. We decided to chew the fat for a while. As he sat on the davenport, he told me another of his Armstrong County stories.

"A number of years ago," he began, "we had a kind of a scoundrel in our town. I'd better not tell you his name. Anyway, he was made the executor of a big estate, wound up with most of it and then squandered the money. He was always up to no good."

After this introduction, Tom continued, "Another man over there had 14 home-grown hereford cattle. We used to call them mellow yellows. They were real pretty. Well, these 14 head turned up missing, and no one ever knew what happened to them."

Twenty years passed and still the mystery remained about the 14 mellow yellows that had disappeared.

"No one ever knew until my cousin went over to the western part of the Panhandle where there might be some rustling going on some of the time," Tom related. "He went over there on some cattle business, and there he met a man who didn't have anything at all good to say about Claude."

The man said that there was a fellow in Claude who was a liar. According to Tom's story, "He said to my cousin that the fellow from Claude was supposed to have sent him 14 mellow yellows twenty years before, but that when they got to him there were only 13 of them."

These complaints set Tom's cousin to thinking about the stories he had heard years before about the missing cattle.

When the cousin returned home to Claude, he looked up the man with the reputation for being a rapsallion and asked him about the incident. By this time the statute of limitations had passed, so he was willing to talk about it.

The scoundrel declared, "That old wreck of a truck that the fellow sent over wouldn't hold 14 cattle, so I took the last one home for beef."

This finally solved the mystery. Tom concluded his account with the observation, "I guess even in Claude there's not any honor among thieves."

Carry Nation On Campus

Carry Nation, the famous Kansas anti-alcohol prohibitionist, came to Austin in mid-October 1902, bringing with her the hatchet with which she had smashed saloons throughout the country. Her trip to Austin was at the behest of a group of University of Texas students. They lured the reformer to the Texas capital with false but lurid stories of purported public drunkenness by university faculty members.

Nation stepped from a carriage and walked onto the university campus on the morning of Oct. 16, 1902. Two of the conspiring students who had invited her to the campus led her into the office of engineering dean T.U. Taylor, who was affectionately known at the time as "the grand old man of the University."

Entering Taylor's drab office, Nation took a seat in a straight-backed chair and glared across a desk at the dean. Attempting to make polite conversation and not knowing what else to say, Taylor innocently inquired, "Where's your hatchet?"

"This is my hatchet—the sword of the spirit," Nation responded, withdrawing the implement and waving it above her head. "Are you a prohibitionist?" she demanded, to which Taylor replied that he and his whole family were supporters of the reform movement.

Feeling satisfied that the college of engineering was not going down the drain, Nation next walked to the Old Main Building, where a crowd of students was awaiting her arrival for an unauthorized speech. The expected public address was giving the students an excuse not to go to class, so they were encouraging her to speak and to stay longer on campus.

Discovering unexpectedly empty classrooms, university president William Prather asked Nation if she would end the unauthorized assembly. "I've spoken on the campus at Ann Arbor," Nation replied, continuing, "I've spoken on the campus at Madison, and with God willing, I intend to speak on the campus of Texas." Overpowered by the single-minded prohibitionist, President Prather retreated.

The next person to try to end the unapproved gathering was the university proctor, Judge J.B. Clark, but Nation held sway. Gesturing toward the judge's chair, Nation ordered, "Take that chew of tobacco out of your mouth. I would as soon kiss an old spittoon as kiss you."

Turning to the approving student audience, Nation declared, "Boys, this proctor of your tried to interrupt me while his breath is enough to knock a decent woman down! Do you think gentlemen chew tobacco?"

JOE SHADLE handprints Tiger Cub on their visit to the jail

Enjoying the spectacle of the university professor being grilled by Nation, they yelled back a resounding "No!"

Nation's assault on the vices of Austin society continued through Sunday of the week, when she departed for another city. Only once did the Kansas reformer meet her match in the Texas capital, and this was on the way out of town. In this instance the doughty wife of an Austin saloon keeper ran her off before her hatchet could break a single window or mirror.

JERRY MCGEE
Evangelist

The saving, sanctifying, and healing power of the Lord Jesus Christ is exemplified through the testimony and life of REV. JERRY MCGEE, who was saved out of a life-style of crime and drug abuse. A one-time drug runner for the Hell's Angels, Brother McGee is being mightily used by the Lord to spread the gospel message and bring thousands to a saving knowledge of the Lord Jesus Christ during revival services across this country. His personal testimony of God's saving, sanctifying power and release from the bondage of sin touches both the saint and sinner, young and old alike.

Married, with two children, Brother McGee is supported completely from a year-round meeting calendar that necessitates, at times, scheduling as far as three years in advance. Used extensively throughout his native North Carolina, Rev. McGee has brought the gospel message, through revival services, from Texas to Pennsylvania, Michigan to Florida.

BRONCOS Che Shadle scored extra point against Sunray. Jonathan Stewart threw a pass to Randy Allen who ran 43 yards for the touchdown.

Broncos Surprise Sunray

Friday night, September 15, was not just another football game for the Clarendon Broncos. They played a very hard and inspired defensive ball game. Although the score was 20-7 in favor of Sunray, the Broncos gave the Bobcats all they could handle.

Clarendon received the opening kick off but were unable to move the ball and had to punt to Sunray. They returned the ball to the Clarendon 25 yard line. Sunray scored seven plays later on a 12 yard pass to Jose Santiago from Quarterback Jason Schlem. The extra point was good. Sunray lead 7-0 with 7 minutes to play in the first quarter.

Sunray's second touchdown came on a 43 yard drive with a 7 yard touchdown pass with 39 seconds left in the half. The extra point was blocked. Half time score was 13-0.

Clarendon kicked off to Sunray to start the second half. On the second play, Bobby Pinson intercepted a Bobcat pass and returned it to the Sunray 39 yard line. Two plays later, Larry Weatheron dropped a pass on the 2 yard line and the Broncos had to punt. Clarendon and Sunray traded punts and fumbles during the remainder of the third quarter. Score at the end of the third quarter was 13-0. Early in the fourth quarter, Clarendon and Sunray traded fumbles again. Sunray also intercepted a Che Shadle pass and returned it to the Clarendon 36 yard line. Three plays later, Jimmy Hunkapiller scored on a 30 yard pass from Quarterback Jason Schlem. The extra point was good. The score was Sunray 20-Clarendon 0.

The kickoff was taken by Randy Allen on the 15 yard line and returned it to the 33. Clarendon started the drive on their 33 yard line, picked up a couple of 1st downs, but were stopped on the 45 with 4th down. Jonathan Stewart went back to punt. Instead, it was a fake punt, with a pass to Randy Allen at the 35 yard line. Randy was hit, but refused to be tackled and raced on to the end zone with a 45 yard touchdown pass. Che Shadle kicked the extra point, making the score 20 to 7 with about 7:30 to play in the fourth quarter. Clarendon recovered a Sunray fumble two plays later but were unable to move the ball. Sunray was again to score when Randy Allen intercepted a Bobcat pass on the ten yard line as time ran out and returned the ball to the 18 yard line. Final score-Sunray Bobcats 20, Clarendon Broncos-7.

The Broncos improved considerably over the previous week. Their defensive play was very inspired and hard hitting. The Broncos are improving each week and maybe they will eventually find the right offensive combination. Lets hope so. Broncos' next game is Friday at White Deer. The Bucks are 0-2 also. Let's Get Out And Show The Players We Are Behind Them! See You At White Deer!

At the end of the first quarter, Memphis led by a score of 7 - 0, and at halftime they led 14 - 0. The first touchdown for Clarendon was made in the third quarter, when QB Lee Gage scored on a bootleg with a 8 yd run. The extra point kick failed.

Clarendon's second touchdown was made in the 4th quarter, when Stephen Davis scored on a 12 yard run. Jared Markley scored on the 2 pt play after touchdown.

Memphis scored a touchdown in the 3rd and 4th quarters making the final score Memphis 28, Clarendon

14. Memphis had 13 first downs and Clarendon had 12.

Stephen Davis and Nathan Lowrie played exceptional on defense.

The offensive linemen, Shane Ashcraft, Buddy Howard, Chris McKinney, Todd Stavenhagen and Ron Winters gave great effort and contributed to the offensive drives for scores.

Lions Tale

The Clarendon Lions Club met at noon on Tuesday, September 19, 1989, in the Lions Hall. There were 28 Lions, guests and Lion Sweetheart. The guests were David Smith, a guest of Lion Donald Smith, and Roger Estlack, a guest of Lion Allen Estlack. The two other guests were on the program.

After a very delicious meal, Boss Lion Todd Knorrpp opened the meeting in due form and called on Lion Donald Smith to introduce the program. Lion Smith introduced Joe Mondragon, Coach at Clarendon College and Joel Zehr also a Coach at Clarendon College. They gave a talk on their Basketball teams, which was very interesting and informative. There being no further business the Boss Lion announced that a report would be given on the Pancake Supper at the next meeting. The meeting was then adjourned.

Dear Editor,

Last week there was an article in the paper on "Things That Parents Wish Teachers Would Do To Help Children Succeed". After reading the article, it was overwhelming to realize that the teacher that our son has had and has now, fills those wishes without a second thought. Clarendon was rewarded with, not only concerned and caring teachers, but also a principal with the same characteristics. Ricky and I feel very lucky to have received such fine people who share in our son's life.

Clarendon Chapter #6, O.E.S.

A Spaghetti, Salad and Cobbler Supper was enjoyed by 93 members and friends Tuesday, Sept. 12th at the Masonic Dining Room. Even though the rain literally poured down there were a number of people from Amarillo, Goodnight, Hedley, Howardwick and Clarendon who braved the storm.

The icing on the cake, so to speak, was the beautiful music by Dee Williams. That and the conversation and support of everyone made it a very festive occasion.

Hedley News

The community was saddened to learn of the passing last Friday of Darlene (Mrs. L. D.) Ball. Mrs. Ball had been ill for quite some time. She will be missed by her many friends in the Hedley area. Christian sympathy is extended to L. D., the Fergusons, and others of this good family. A full obituary can be found elsewhere in this issue.

Several of the Ball family attended the morning worship service at First Baptist Church this Sunday.

Hedley was soaked with heavy rain throughout much of last week. Up to three inches fell in many rain gauges. Some residents were beginning to think that we should plan a Rice Festival instead of a Cotton Festival.

Several Donley County churches hosted speakers from Gideons International this past Sunday. The Gideons are Christian businessmen whose primary work is the production and distribution of Bibles worldwide.

Several Hedleyans and relatives of Hedleyans are on the sick list. We wish them all a speedy recovery. Karen Hill of Clarendon, granddaughter of Martha and Junior Hill, is in Childress General Hospital for tests. Louise Long was taken to Hall County Hospital Monday evening, but was treated and released. Nell Land spent several days in High Plains Baptist Hospital in Amarillo. Homer Hill is still not feeling well, but is able to be at home. Mrs. J. A. Eppers has been quite ill this past week.

Flora Sanders was visited last Friday by daughters Lillian Fowler from Portales, and Betty McGuire from Amarillo. Loretta Ham began work in Pampa on Monday. She is employed by the Texas Department of Human Resources.

Many Hedley residents enjoyed the Hall County Picnic in Memphis this past weekend. After a rainy week, the weather cooperated, and the celebration was proclaimed a success.

The Community Children's Choir resumed its rehearsals last Wednesday afternoon after their long summer vacation. The choir meets for practice and refreshments each Wednesday afternoon at four at the Methodist Church. They sing for numerous worship services at First United Methodist and First Baptist Churches during the school year. Debbie Roberts is the director.

On the front page of last week's Press, a picture was run showing the beginning of construction of the new railroad bridge just west of Hedley. It has been interesting to watch the progress of this work. The old bridge is being rapidly buried as dirt is built up to track level.

Hedley High School Juniors and Seniors traveled to neighboring towns on Monday to sell advertising space in their 1990 yearbook. Thanks to all the merchants and individuals who purchased an ad from us. Production costs have risen so sharply in recent years that we simply couldn't have a yearbook without your help. Thanks again!

In last week's column, we mentioned Hedley School's new motto: Hedley: Heading for Success. Students have been busy making bulletin boards centered around the new motto. It has become a competition, and the many entries will be judged later this week. Drop by the school and take a look at their good work.

Leave news for this column at the front desk at the Senior Citizens Center.

Deuteronomy 6:7-9

What's Coming?

by Perry Mack Garrison

"Mom!" exclaimed the little boy staring at the screen door. "Look, Mom! The screen is covered with flies!"

"Yes, there is a freeze coming and the flies are trying to get in where it's nice and warm," the mother replied.

Meanwhile...in the back yard: Hundreds of ants were scurrying up and down tiny highways, trying to prepare for the coming northern blasts. Some workers had a few last-minute enormous loads of provisions, while others gathered clay to seal the entrance to their underground world.

Overhead, wasps flew with wild abandon; oblivious to what occurred below.

A large garbage heap teemed with insect life as each jockeyed for position as the time neared. Some ate frantically. Some drank. Others tended to nature's business in an agitated manner.

And the wind blew still colder and colder as the Mother slammed the front door on the frigid infringement and the flies. Then all was still.

The large cathedral was crammed with people while many still tried to squeeze in. The speaker was saying something about all good people going to Heaven and that there was no such place as Hell. The people cheered! Meanwhile...on the freeway: Hundreds of cars and trucks crawled along like a giant caterpillar with ten thousand eyes. Some carried enormous loads to supermarkets and department stores while others veered off and headed for home or a bar to shut themselves in from the problems of their world.

Overhead planes flew with calculated abandon. Vacationers and business people oblivious to what occurred below.

Large cities filled with people. Each jockeying for position in this company or that, not caring who they used or destroyed. They banqueted here and there and drank their fill. Weddings went on as planned and babies were born. Life as usual.

A little church on the outskirts of the city with a mere handful of worshippers inside. An aged man comes outside and looks to see if anyone else would like to come in, then turns and firmly closes the door. A sign above the door reads: "Come unto me all ye that labour and are heavy laden and I will give you rest." Then all is still.

"And as it was in the days of Noah, so shall it be also in the days of the Son of man. They did eat, they drank, they married wives, they were given in marriage until the day that Noah entered into the ark and the flood came and destroyed them all. Likewise also as it was in the days of Lot. They did eat, they drank, they bought, they sold, they planted, they builded. But the same day that Lot went out of Sodom it rained fire and brimstone from heaven and destroyed them all. Even thus shall it be in the day when the Son of man is revealed. Luke 17:26-30."

"And there shall be signs in the sun and in the moon and in the stars and upon the earth, distress of nations with perplexity. The sea and the waves roaring. Men's hearts failing them for fear and for looking after those things which are coming on the earth... Luke 21:25-26b"

A Luxury We Cannot Afford

Once upon a time Clarendon had more than three times its present population. And Donley County had roughly four times as many people living here as we now have.

In that peak population period, most major denominations had congregations here. From a secular perspective, these churches seemed to be thriving.

But things are not what they once were. Clarendon has 2,220 residents, not 4,700. The average age of our population is far older than the national average, and rising; actuarial figures forecast grim statistics. And personal income for most area citizens has not kept up with the nation as a whole, and will probably not improve much.

There are now thirteen churches inside the city limits, with three more at Hedley, and one each at Martin and Howardwick. Is a single one of these as large and effective as it was? Most are numerically and financially weak, struggling to get by. Thirteen congregations, each trying to scrape together enough to support an underpaid minister, each trying to keep up a building. And none with money or time "left over" for evangelism or benevolence.

Is there no point at which the utter insanity of denominational division finally penetrates our sectarian skulls?

Mankind raises up all kinds of idols. Some are physical, like a church building. Others idols are intangible, such as denominational loyalty. But all such idols separate us from God.

Is it worth it? Read the fourteenth chapter of Romans.

1989 Disaster

We have begun accepting applications for disaster and will continue through April 2, 1990. To qualify for disaster payments, producers must submit production records no later than April 27, 1990.

Generally all crops that were eligible for 1988 disaster payments will be eligible for 1989 disaster payments. These include cotton, milo, corn, wheat, watermelons, vegetables, sweet sorghums, peanuts, etc.

Producers who did not plant a ghost, invisible, replacement crop, etc. behind failed crop should come in and file their applications as soon as possible.

Peanuts are not considered a replacement crop. Therefore, producers who planted peanuts following destroyed cotton may come in and file disaster applications at any time.

Producers who planted another crop behind the failed crop will be required to bring in the production records from the ghost, invisible, or replacement crop in order for us to calculate and make disaster payments.

Production from ghost or replacement acres need to be kept separate.

The Disaster Program is very complex and is still changing daily. We will try to keep you notified by newsletter as these changes occur.

Research Facility Dedicated

Dedication of a new 320-acre research facility which will help solve problems of North Plains farmers and ranchers will be held at Etter September 22, 1989. The dedication of the land and buildings will highlight a field day to show off the new center and work being done there by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station (TAES) at Amarillo.

The new station is two miles south and half a mile east of the intersection of U. S. Highway 287 and FM 281. It includes a headquarters office and conference center, shop and storage buildings, said Dr. G. B. Thompson, resident director of research for TAES at Amarillo.

The land and buildings were purchased by the North Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 2 for use by TAES.

The program will begin at noon with lunch at the headquarter building. The dedication ceremony will begin at 1 p.m. Richard Bowers, water district manager, will moderate. Gaston Wells, water district chairman, will dedicate the facility.

Dr. Robert G. Merrifield, TAEX deputy director, College Station, will respond for that agency. Thompson will thank the water district board on behalf of the TAES at Amarillo, which will operate the new facility.

Cecil Regier, research scientist in charge of the Etter operation, will lead the tour of the new facility and the research in progress.

No Sweat!

One of the ways our bodies eliminate excessive heat is through the process of sweating or perspiration. But sweating often produces an offensive odor, particularly under the arms. The odor is caused by bacterial breakdown of secretions of the apocrine sweat glands. To help fight under arm wetness and odor, the majority of adults in North America routinely use antiperspirants. Sales from antiperspirants in the United States approach one billion dollars each year.

Antiperspirants are thought to reduce odor by either inhibiting bacterial growth on the skin or reducing secretions from the sweat glands. Antiperspirant product ingredients judged to be safe and effective by the United States Food and Drug Administration include aluminum chloride, aluminum sulfate, the aluminum chlorhydrates, and the aluminum zirconium chlorhydrates.

All individuals do not respond the same way to identical antiperspirant preparations. Product formulation differences can also affect the effectiveness and acceptance of antiperspirants. Apply antiperspirants to under arm areas that are clean and dry. Do not put on clothing until the antiperspirant has had time to dry.
