Clarendon Celebrates the 4th

Clarendon still celebrates the Fourth of July as a good, old-fashioned holiday. In doing so they continue a tradition that is as old as the community itself.

This year the celebration followed its usual exuberant pattern. Early on the Fourth of July exhibitors set up booths on the courthouse lawn. Some were arts-and-crafts booths, but various organizations supplied refreshments--soft drinks, snow cones, home-made ice cream and other goodies. Quite a few people paid a dollar for five softballs and the chance to dunk one of the cheerleaders in a horseshank.

Physical-fitness types ran in various races that were scheduled early enough that the morning was still fairly cool. Most citizens passively watched the strenuous event, although perhaps with a bit of envy for those in such good condition.

Soon families began to gather for informal reunions, some spread out blankets, while others brought card tables and chairs. When noon approached, Clarendon's Shriners served barbecue. And, of course, right after lunch there was a traditional parade. [Results of the races, parade and other activities will be in next week's paper.]

The Clarendon Chamber of Commerce director, San Thompson, met July 5, 1990, with a couple who is interested in locating a business in Clarendon. The new business will market their products through magazine advertising with the products to be delivered throughout the U.S. and some foreign countries.

Obviously their sales will bring new income and jobs to Clarendon.

Reunion Held

The Clarendon High School graduating class of 1960, held their thirty year reunion in the school cafeteria, July 8, 1990 at 4 p.m.

Class members present were JoAnn Wood Bailey, Ann Weatherly Burton, Wilma Elliott Leffew, Ann Slavin Ray, Glynell Hoggatt McCoy, Kenneth Housden, Sandra Pinkerton Zaring, Shirley Wiedman Wilson, Dewey Wilson, James & Pat McAncar, Steve Mills, Jackie Phillips, Jerry McBrayer, Pat Owen McAncar, Lynn Spier, Don Hudgins, W.N. Elam, Linda Hardin Bell, Jacquie Bell Spenser, Sharon Smith Reynolds, Connie McMurtry Anspacher, Dennis Bradshaw, Judy Johnson Fincher, Sandy Skelton, Pat O'Neal Gattis.

The Outdoor Entertainment Association sponsored a rodeo each night from the 4th through the 7th, with an open-air dance afterwards.

At a time when many small, rural towns are dying, Clarendon is obviously very much "live and kicking".

The Dance Practice attendance is picking up in spite of the heat wave. The 1st Tuesday nite dance, July 2nd was cancelled due to July 4th activities. The 3rd Tuesday night dance will be held on July 17th, at the community bldg. at 8 til 11 p.m. with Melvin Srygley and the Off-Beats furnishing the music.

Vera Hampton has donated another lovely big recliner chair for the Center. We have picked it up and stored it until we can make room for it in the lobby. Thanks again, Vera. Big thanks to Ben Burrow for a box of squash from his garden. We will be enjoying that on this Tuesday, July 10th. So appreciate the extra coffee pots, and silverware and misc. items donated by Robert C. and Lois Jones.

I think everyone had a super day on July 4th at the celebration. Fred Russell was honored as the oldest man and Leslie Salmon the oldest lady to attend the Old Settler's Reunion. We want to take this opportunity to thank our town and community for all their support and donations to the fund-raiser-drawing on the Quilt sponsored by our Center. The proceeds far surpassed our expectations. We can now purchase tires for the meal delivery van and kitchen equipment that is non-serviceable. Also, big thanks to Nita Meadors and Trudy Davis for donation the booth space at the Country Fair on the Courthouse lawn for the quilt display and ticket box. The lucky winner of the quilt was Margie Bennett of Clarendon. Thank all you volunteers who worked the booth for us, too.

Saturday evening, July 7th, Shirley and Dorothy Pitts took the Ford Van load of local folks to enjoy the Caprock Jamboree in Silverton. The reported good music and great hamburgers.

For month of June our many faithful volunteers were: Alta Adkins, Jean Baten, Thelma Behrens, Marie Bell, Ann Bunyan, Helena Catoc, Kristy Christopher, Dell and Elmo Fortenberry, Imogene Glass, Trina Judd, marie McCracken, Bill Meador, Nova Neuhaus, Starlene Pike, Dorothy & Shirley Pitts, Verdine Tipton, Eda Wallin, Ellie Wilkinson, Donald Wooten, Robert C. Wiseman in memory of Ethel Reid; Oneta Sanders in memory of Hugh Sanders. FACILITY USE: Leeper family birthday party; Senior Citizens Dance Club and Fifties Fashionettes.

Carmen Wright was a busy lady on Tuesday, July 2nd checking 44 Blood Pressures. She will be back again on Tuesday, July 17th.

Nutsedge Control In Peanuts

Producers can also view a nutsedge control demonstration on Jerry Green's peanut circle on Highway 1260 North. Several treatments were applied in the demonstration plot. The applications were put out on May 23, 1990. Nutsedge is a very tough weed to control in any situation so finding a herbicide that will give good control can be a problem. Nine different treatments were tested in the demonstration, with the Pursuit with Surfel plus 32-0-0 showing the best results at present. This treatment has also shown light peanut plant dam age, but not enough to cause major problems. More evaluation of this demonstration is needed before any real conclusions can be reached.

Producers are welcome to view Extension demonstration plots any time, and can contact Tim Trimble, Donley County Extension agent, for more information.

Howardwick City Minutes

The Howardwick City Council met in regular session on Saturday, July 7, 1990 at 8:30 a.m. in Howardwick City Hall. In attendance were Mayor Max Hennigh; Aldermen, Clayton Srygley, Nancy McClintock, Robert Hall, Joyce Combs, City Secretary Margaret Milhoan and one guest.

Mayor Max Hennigh called the meeting to order and welcomed the guest.

City Secretary Margaret Milhoan read the minutes of the June 9, 1990 meeting, minutes were approved as read.

City Secretary then read the June financial statement for approval of the Council. Robert Hall questioned the figures for the miscellaneous column under General Administration as the total was $8,205.74, and the comments stated $80.00 for manuals, $85.74 for community building utilities and a transfer of $8,000.00, making the comments short by $40.00. City Secretary looked this up to find that a $40.00 refund on community building rental was mistakenly left out of the comments. Nancy McClintock says she is concerned about the Road & Maintenance Salaries. Not only the amount of salaries but the amount of Workmen's Compensation that will have to be paid on that amount. Max brought up the fact that Dean's hours will now have to be paid on the highest possible rate which is 19.32 per hundred dollars of wages paid, since he is in a supervisory position. Always before he would turn in hours and specify where he was working and that would determine the amount to be paid. The rates for Workmen's Compensation are as follows: Street, Road Construction, Paving 19.32, Buildings 8.10, Parks 5.87, Clerical Office Employees .58. After this discussion, there was a discussion concerning the hours which had always been the maximum of 39 1/2 hours, however, there were more hours than that turned in by some employees, so the decision was made to be sure the employees understood that 39 1/2 hours is the maximum amount of hours each week that they may work, and work over a 5 day work week. There was more discussion concerning the amount of salaries paid with no decision made on this. Clayton Srygley brought up the dump being burned and everyone needs to be aware that the dump is not to be burned anymore.

Each individual may burn his own trash and then bring it to the dump for disposal. Clayton Srygley made motion to accept the financial statement and Robert Hall seconded, motion carried unanimously.

City Secretary read the bills to be paid, Joyce asked to look at the invoice from Henson's to see who signed the invoice from May 31, 1990. The invoice was for padlocks. Joyce was with the understanding that the Mayor did not authorize this, after some discussion it was decided that there was maybe a misunderstanding because the Mayor did authorize it. Joyce felt like if the Mayor did not authorize it that the City was not responsible. The decision was that the City was responsible. Joyce Combs made motion to pay the bills, Clayton Srygley seconded, motion carried unanimously.

The next item on the agenda was Douglas Mclear was to be here to talk about flood control. Robert Hall made motion to table this until the people could be here to discuss it with us. Seconded by Nancy McClintock, motion carried unanimously.

Mayor Max Hennigh told everyone that we were running out of time to apply. The deadline is July 24, 1990. There was some discussion on different ideas about the grant; however, we feel at this time that we are not really prepared this year. We will try to get everything ready for the grant application next year if we decide we want to apply at that time. Joyce Combs made motion to table this until later, Clayton Srygley seconded, motion carried unanimously.

There is some people who wanted to rent the Community Building on December 25, 1990. This is after winterizing the Community Building so the decision was that it would not be feasible for the City to have to get the building ready for use during the middle of the winter and then have to winterize it again, so the decision was not to rent the building on December 25, 1990. Clayton Srygley made motion not to rent it with Joyce Combs seconded, motion carried unanimously.

There have been some letters written to different individuals concerning the state of repair on their property. There was one letter written to the owners of #53 Country Club concerning their permit being expired and their travel trailer continuing to be lived in on their property. We received a letter in response that was letting us know that they are still working on the property and would like to renew their permit. Clayton Srygley made motion to renew their permit, Robert Hall seconded, motion carried unanimously.

There was another letter written with no response, decision was to go ahead and write another letter.

The other letters were read and the people are taking care of the problem so there is no further decision on this matter.

Job descriptions was next on the agenda and after some discussion it was decided that a work day would be held at 1:30 p.m. on July 25, 1990.

Clayton Srygley made a motion to adjourn, Nancy McClintock seconded, motion carried unanimously.

J. F. Cadenhead, Extension Range Specialist, will be on hand to demonstrate various control techniques and alternatives. We will also demonstrate a new method of individual plant treatment called streamline, which looks very promising. The streamline treatment demonstrations done last year in July on the George Howard farm have shown 98% to 100% control of mesquite. These results will be discussed at the field day. The only real disad vantage to the streamline method at this point is cost. But the high percent of control offsets part of the increased cost. For more information about the field day, contact the Donley County Extension Office.

Reunion Held

The Clarendon High School classes of the 1950s gathered at the Camelot Inn in Amarillo July 6th and 7th for lots of fun, fellowship, reminiscing. Some of these classmates had been "lost" for 30 plus years and we had lots of catching up to do. With the exception of some room mix-ups, everything else went real good-food and other accommodations.

All in all, the 125 classmates and spouses, and guests had a very successful weekend.

Allergic Reactions to Insect Bites & Stings

Bites and stings from insects such as ants, wasps, yellow jackets, hornets, and bees are more common during summer months. For most individuals, bites and stings are painful but uneventful. However, for many of the more than one million people who are allergic to insect venom, a single bite or sting can be fatal.

Prevention: Tight fitting clothes can prevent insects from getting between the material and the skin. Light-colored clothing (e.g., white or light khaki) has been found to be less attractive to bees. Persons with known allergies should avoid scented soap, perfume, suntan lotion, and bright, shiny jewelry. When outdoors, wear long-sleeved shirts, a hat, and socks and shoes (not sandals). Use an insect repellent before going outdoors. Spray garbage cans with an insecticide. Keep food stored properly to prevent ants from congregating.

Treatment: Pain and itching may be controlled with ice packs or one of several topical products containing a local anesthetic. When individuals with known allergies are stung, they should keep the amount of venom in the blood low by removing the stinger and wrapping a tie around the arm or leg above the sting. Get to a hospital or physician's office as soon as possible.

WOULD-BE BANKERS HAVE BEEN MULTIPLYING LIKE RABBITS.

Don't allow yourself to be misled by apparent similarities. Just because so many others are hopping to include the word "bank" in their names doesn't mean that they are actually bankers. Savings Banks, Thrift Banks, stock-broker "bank" accounts, etc., try to blur the difference between them and real bankers. But they don't always offer you the experience or, sometimes, the security of bankers. In fact, the only place you'll find a banker is The Bank, where your deposits are Federally insured up to $100,000. Minding Your Own Business

by Don Taylor

Bullish On Banks

You have a good idea. You are smart and can communicate well. You understand the basic elements of business but, when you took your idea to the bank, they said no. You lost your cool and now you can't remember why the bank said no. This scenario is repeated many times each day.

This column is not about financing or getting your banker to say yes. It is about building your business by building a working relationship with a bank.

Banks receive a lot of undeserved negative publicity from disgruntled entrepreneurs. We hear many unhappy, would-be borrowers complain that banks don't want to loan money. They say that banks don't care about small businesses. This is not true.

• Banks Want Your Business

Banks both want and need to make loans. Their major source of profit is loaning money at a higher rate than their costs. However, banks want good loans from good customers, people like you and me.

Our part in developing this relationship is simply proving to our banker that we are good potential customers. To do this, we must begin to think like a banker.

Before a banker will look at your business deal, he or she will want to look at you. In most small businesses, the entrepreneur and the business are the same. Many banks agree that the starting point is personal character. No one wants to do business with a crook. Are you honest? Do you have a reputation of integrity? Have you shown the ability to manage your personal finance? (It's not likely that you will manage your business differently.) Can you show financial responsibility in repaying car loans, personal loans, mortgage payments and in managing credit cards? Do you have an up-to-date personal financial statement? If you don't, now is a good time to create one. Ask your banker for a standard form.

Once you establish personal credibility, you are ready to move toward the business relationship. When discussing your business capital needs with your banker, be prepared to answer three main questions: 1) How much money do you need? 2) How do you plan to use it? 3) How will you pay it back?

• Rule Number One

When preparing for this discussion, it is wise to start with the last question first. Financing Rule No. 1 is: Never borrow more than you can pay back. How, indeed, will you repay the loan amount?

Have you prepared thorough profit and loss projections? Can you explain how you arrived at your numbers and offer reasonable proof that you can actually do what you say you will? What if the business doesn't go as well as expected? Do you have an alternative plan? Do you have secondary sources of income? Will you or your spouse keep your present jobs? Do you have cash reserves?

The answer to the first question (how much do you need) will be dictated by the second question (how will the money be used). Do you plan to purchase real estate, inventory, equipment, computers, etc.? Itemize the major purchases and show unit costs. Show that the acquired assets will help produce profits to repay the loans. If you can't produce or profits by borrowing, don't borrow.

Showing competence in the planning area will help in developing the relationship. Every banker likes to see a thoughtfully prepared, detailed plan. Next to possessing impeccable character, planning is the most important aspect in building your banking rapport.

Finally, continue to build the relationship even if the bank turns down your request for money. Don't get mad; get information. Find out why your request was denied. Above all, stay calm and friendly.

Bankers are people, too. Good people relationships require time to grow and mature. Take time to get acquainted with your banker, and let your banker get comfortable with you. Then, as the relationship develops, your business needs will be met.

Also attending were their grandson Mike, his wife Donna, and children Mikala, Ashley, Landa, and Kaylen, all of Hedley; and J. T. and Helen's son Buddy and his wife Alma from Pampa.

Pauline Kaufman had as visitors the week of July 1 her son, James Knightstep from Houston; a grandson and granddaughter, Spencer and Holley Knightstep from Bedford; and a daughter and son-in-law, Jeanine and Bobby Celey from Amarillo. They all went to Greenbelt Lake for a fireworks display on Saturday evening, and then to Lake Meredith for a day of water play on Sunday. The group went on to Amarillo for several days, visiting over the Danny Quesenbury, uncle of the groom, performed the double-ring ceremony. The church was decorated with blue bows, greenery, and large heart-shaped candelabra. A large unity candle was centered before the altar, and was lighted by the bride and groom at the close of the ceremony. A reception followed in the church's Fellowship Hall. The couple are honeymooning this week in Colorado; they plan to make their home in Amarillo. Jeff is the son of Gwan Wilkinson and Clairece Wilkinson of Hedley.
