Ballot Explained And How to Vote.

AUSTIN, Texas, Oct. 23.—Many inquiries have been received at the state house from people in different sections of the state, asking for an explanation of the official ballot for the state election which is to be held next month under the Terrell election law, and also for some idea of how to vote with that ballot; that is, how to prepare the ticket for voting.

The official ballot this year contains seven tickets, and will be designated as the "blanket ballot;" that is, the candidates of all political parties will be upon the same ballot, but in different columns, and in addition to the names of the several political parties and the nominees thereof, there will be a blank column in which parties may write the name of any person whom they desire to vote for office, if the person is not already on the ballot as the nominee of some political party. For an instance, if a voter desires to vote for all of the nominees of the democratic party except those for governor, member of congress, county judge, and desires to vote for the nominee of the republican party for governor, and for the nominee of the prohibition party for congress, and for the independent candidate for county attorney, and desires to vote against all nominees of the people's party, and for some person whose name is not on any ticket for county judge, he will proceed to vote as follows:

He will run a line entirely thru the ticket of the people's party.

On the ticket of the democratic party he will run a line thru the nominees for governor, congress, county attorney and county judge.

He will run a line thru the name of each of the nominees of the republican party, except that for governor.

He will run a line thru the name of each of the nominees of the prohibition party except that for congress.

He will run a line thru the name of each of the independent candidates except that for county attorney.

He will write the name of the party for whom he desires to vote for county judge in the blank column under the title of that office.

In no event must a voter write upon the ticket of any political party the name of any person for whom he desires to vote. If the name does not appear upon the official ballot, write it in the blank column under the title of the office to which you desire him to be elected.

If the voter desires to vote the straight ticket of any political party run a line thru all other tickets.

The supreme court refused to award a writ of mandamus in the Mays-Hardy congressional contest from the Sixth district. This is a complete victory for Judge Rufus E. Rdy.

Maxican officials discovered some bombs hidden in a sewer in Juarez Thursday morning near the place where they unearthed the rifles and dynamite belonging to the revolutionists the day before.

Sensible Suggestions.

One of the most serious problems with which the next Legislature will have to deal is the placing of Texas on a cash basis. There will doubtless be a number of remedies offered by the legislative doctors, and the one whose plan offer an effective cure will make a State-wide reputation for himself.—Wills Point Chronicle.

The editor of the Chronicle will be a member of the next Legislature, and if State Press is not greatly at fault in his estimation of him, he is going to make a most useful and effective legislator. It is pleasant to know that he is considering this matter of the credit of the State. State Press has never been a lawmaker and never expects to be one, but that does not prevent him from making suggestion in regard to the matter under discussion: that is, the matter of keeping the State out of debt. The way to do it is this: Let the Legislature be economical when appropriations are made. By this it is not meant that it shall be stingy. Indeed, sufficient money should be appropriated to carry on the eleemosynary institution in a manner befitting decency and comfort to those who are consigned to their care. Let it make appropriations for the respectable administration of every branch of government. Then let it pass a tax law which will raise enough money to pay all the appropriations made. The people will stand such a law without a murmur, provided the appropriations are proper. But they are tired of experimental legislation. They see through, or are beginning to see through, new-fangled laws of the "scientific" character. The corporations should be made to pay taxes as the people are made to pay them. If corporations have intangible assets that should be taxed separately, so has every merchant, lawyer, doctor or farmer in the land. The taxes on them can be collected just as taxes are collected from the people. Instead of "scientifically" getting at such corporations, their property ought to be taxed as the people's property is taxed. If a railroad runs along a street, it is valuable not only as to the property involved in iron rails, ties, etc., but the franchise should be taxed as a part of the real property; thus preventing the corporations from taking refuge in disputes as to what "franchises" are and what they are worth. A railroad running on a street in a town gives it an entrance to such a town that perhaps other roads do not possess. Hence, the franchise is a part of the value, and can be taxed as such, just as the tie can be taxed. We are going to have confusion and disappointment in tax-gathering as long as we insist on legislation which the plain people can not understand, and legislation which is partial, applying to one class and not applying to another class.—Dallas News.

Geronimo Anxious to Be Free.

The Apache delegation that went to Washington recently to ask that Geronimo and his band, held under restraint at Fort Sill, O. T., be set free, report that it was promised at the war department that Secretary Taft will visit Fort Sill and make a definite decision after personal study of the situation.

Cabinet Changes.

Washington, Oct. 24.—The following statement regarding prospective changes in President Roosevelt's cabinet have been made public at the white house: On the retirement of Secretary Shaw and Attorney General Moody from the cabinet the following changes will be made:

Secretary of the Treasury—George B. Cortelyou.

Postmaster General—George von L. Meyer.

Attorney General—Charles G. Bonaparte.

Secretary of the Navy—Victor H. Metcalf.

Secretary of Commerce and Labor—Oscar S. Straus.

The general understanding for some time has been that Attorney General Moody will retire on the first of the coming January, and that Secretary Shaw will follow him on March 4. On the first day of the year, therefore, Mr. Bonaparte, who is secretary of the navy, will succeed Mr. Moody as attorney general, and he in turn will be succeeded by Mr. Metcalf, secretary of commerce and labor. The latter's place being filled by Mr. Straus. Mr. Cortelyou, now postmaster general, will take Mr. Shaw's place on March 4, at which time Mr. Meyer is to become postmaster general.

Mr. Meyer, who will become postmaster general, is ambassador to Russia, to which place he was appointed March 6, 1905, having been promoted to that office following his service as ambassador to Italy from 1900 to 1905. He is a native of Massachusetts, and has been well known as a business man.

The appointment of Mr. Straus caused considerable surprise, as it is the first case where a citizen of the Hebrew faith has been made a member of the president's cabinet. He was born Dec. 3, 1850, and is well known as a merchant, diplomat and author. He represented the United States minister to Turkey on two different occasions, and was appointed by President Roosevelt to fill the vacancy caused by the death of ex-President Harrison as a member of the permanent court of arbitration at The Hague.

In the Confederate cabinet Attorney General Judah P. Benjamin of Louisiana was a Hebrew. After the civil war he removed to London, where, up to his death a few years ago, he enjoyed a lucrative practice.

Three of the new cabinet members will be New Yorkers, in addition to which New York has the first assistant Secretary of State, Robert Bacon. Never before has one state received so many cabinet appointments. Geographical considerations have hitherto been considered.

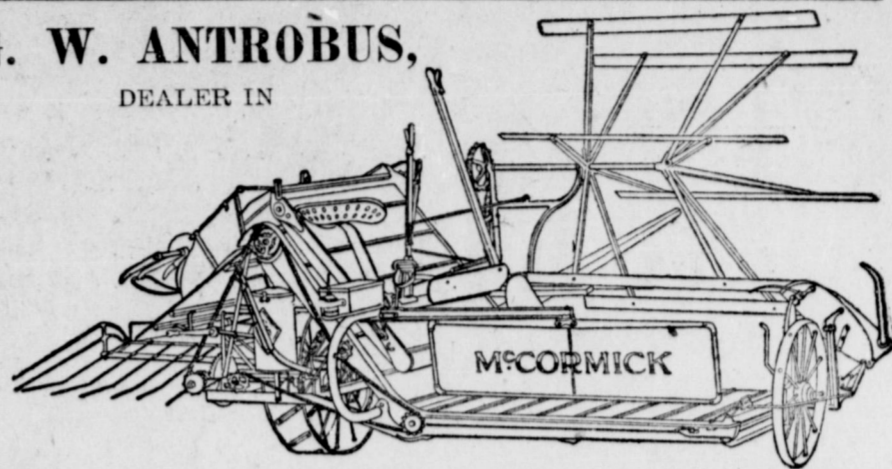

The Education that Pays Best.

Up in an Ohio town the principal of the public school is paid $720 a year and the janitor $780. The latter is a ward heeler and stands in with the city council.—Austin Tribune.

As the result of a trifling altercation at Hardy, Ok., a new town in the Kaw reservation, Thomas Thompson, a lessee on the reservation, was struck by a fellow-citizen with his fist, knocking him down. Thompson sank back unconscious, and died a few hours later.

The Jamestown Exposition.

The Jamestown Exposition, next year, will be open longer than any similar enterprise yet held in the United States. It is to run from April 27 to Nov. 30—seven months and five days.

There will be a "Warpath," which will be similar to the "Midway" at Chicago and "The Pike" at St. Louis.

A building that is to be the exact reproduction of Independence Hall, Philadelphia, is to be erected on the Jamestown Exposition grounds by the State of Pennsylvania and will cost $22,800. It is to be a permanent building and will likely be presented to the State of Virginia at the close of the Exposition.

Want Higher Wages.

News from Wall street that formal demands for increased wages and shorter hours had been made upon the management by tenders, firemen and switchmen on the Rock Island and Frisco Railway systems, both of which are controlled by the Rock Island Company. Similar demands, it was said, had been made by the men on a number of the other large Western systems.

It was stated that ultimately a total of 22,000 men employed on the railroads in the West will demand increased pay or shorter hours, or both.

Railroad officials were inclined to take a hopeful view of the situation, saying that the attitude of the men is entirely amicable and that there is no indication of the likelihood of any hot-headed action.

Entered February 10, 1903, at Clarendon, Tex., as Second class matter, under Act of Congress March 3, 1879.

CLARENDON, TEX., OCT. 27 1906.

How enormously would the wealth of Texas grow if all the cotton grown within its borders was manufactured in the state, and all the cattle shipped to northern feeders were finished for slaughter before leaving the state.

What has become of the Henrietta oil field, the richness of which was heralded over the land a year or two ago. It was hoped by all Northwest Texas that cheaper fuel from this source would be a reality, but we are still unwilling victims of the coal trust.

Shaw is thinking of cutting down the size of paper money (not denomination.) The suggestion that this be done is the result of the recent new Phillipine money. Notes are six by two and a half inches. An ordinary dollar is now seven by three inches. Just so it retains its legal tender feature, it would be as good and more convenient if it were only 2x4 inches.

The Terrell election law makes it a felony punishable by confinement in the state penitentiary for a county clerk to refuse to place the name of any candidate on the official ballot when the same has been properly certified to him as the nominee of a recognized political organization or body. On the other hand the law says that if any name not properly certified to be placed on the ticket wilfully the county clerk shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and provides a punishment by fine or imprisonment in the county jail or both.

Mr. Bryan's position on electing corporation lawyers for congressmen, is just as applicable to Texas as it is to Colorado, or to any other state as to that. Mr. Bailey may not be retained as such an attorney just at the time the coming legislature may elect a senator, but he has spoken dozens of times in defense of taking all the employment he can get, from whatever source, while holding the office, and this is the very thing Mr. Bryan justly condemned in his Denver speech. The old saying that a man cannot serve two masters is just as true today as when Christ uttered it.

Scratched Ballot Would be Better.

In pitting Colonel M. M. Crane against Senator Bailey in debate the Texas Democrats are trying to lift the corporation senator with a Crane instead of a "petard."—K. C. Times.

From general reports the late cold snap did but little damage anywhere in Texas.

The candidate who is not willing to renounce the support of special interests has no right to expect the votes of the law abiding.—Gov. Folk.

At Stonewall, Tex., an automatic gun in the hands of John V. Andrews was accidentally discharged. The load killed Mrs. Andrews.

It is said Frank James, the former bandit, will purchase a ranch out of the 6666 ranches now belonging to Capt. Burnett.

Texas this year has produced and is marketing agricultural and livestock products to the value of more than $500,000,000, or more than $125 per capita.

The man who marries for money seldom becomes round-shouldered from carrying what he gets.

Bryan on Corporation Attorney's.

While Mr Bryan was touring Colorado, he was asked if he favored keeping a railroad attorney from taking his seat in Congress or the Senate, if he should so be elected. He answered:

"If the people of the State elected he would, of course, have his seat, but the people of his State should not so elect. My contention is, and I am by no means alone in this, that there does not exist a man who can serve two masters; the man who is employed by a great railroad company to assist in controlling congressional legislation cannot serve his State while sitting as a member of the National Legislature unless he fails of duty to his railroad corporation."

"But isn't there some exception—isn't it possible for a man to persevere a perfectly honest attitude?" he was asked.

Mr. Bryan replied: "The man who says that he can thus serve two bosses, the public and the franchise-seeking corporation, is one of two things—he is either consumed with vanity or knowingly dishonest. There is no other answer."

To this the St. Louis Republic correspondent adds:

"This is Bryan's position. It is to be one of his campaign cries for 1908, rivaling the trust and railroad issues for pre-eminence. He is already finding support among the people and the politicians. He feels that the issue is one of great possibilities, and he will urge it in all of his public and private talks for the next two years."

Rev. William Boyd, who resigned the pastorate of the St. Louis Second Baptist church in December, 1903, and soon after went abroad, recently returned. Monday night he gave out his reason for having quit the ministry. "It is impossible for a preacher to preach his convictions," he said. The tendency of modern fashionable churches is wholly to subvert the interests of the rich. That's why I quit the ministry."

In Crawford county, near Leasburg, Mo., on the Frisco railroad, has been opened to travelers a most remarkable cave. It is called Onondaga cave, the name being derived from and an Indian word which means "Place of the Hills." The cave which is skirted on the south by the ever-interesting Meramec river, has been explored for three miles. It contains colossal stalagmites and stalactites formed of translucent onyx and many rooms of varied size and beauty. Several of the rooms are of enormous width and height. Canyon lake and Cathedral river are places for boat riding in the cave.

Monday morning at Allen, the new brick business house of Price Bush was destroyed by fire, together with the stock of general merchandise owned by Bryant & McGhee, who occupied the building. The building was valued at $3,500, with no insurance. The stock of merchandise was valued at $4,000, and was insured for $3,000. It is thought the building was robbed and then set on fire.

At Groveton Monday 42 citizens met and formed a law and order organization. Bootleggers and gamblers were given an hour's time to quit business. Seven of the nine complied. At the expiration of that time the occupants of the other buildings were ejected, the doors nailed up and the owners of the houses notified to no longer rent for illegal purposes. This is the outcome of the assassination of Detective Meyers.

Luther Ok., Oct. 23

ED. CHRONICLE—Luther is located 29 miles from Guthrie and 27 from Oklahoma City. We have two railroads, the M. K. & T. and Frisco. The town has about 1,000 inhabitants. The country is broken but the soil is good and produces fine cotton, grain, vegetables and fruit. The winters are mild, much more so than in the Panhandle of Texas. The blizzard which is just over, I see from the papers, was very severe in some sections, missed us. On high ground you can scarcely see any evidence of frost yet but on the creek and river bottoms tender vegetation has been nipped by frost about 10 or 15 days ago.

My work in the Oklahoma Conference consists of Luther, Jones, Spencer and Govesdale. The latter is a country appointment off the railroad. The other three are towns on the Frisco. Spencer is about 12 miles from Oklahoma City and Jones 20. Both are good business towns.

I spent last night in Oklahoma City and heard vice-president Fairbanks speak to a large crowd, and had tee pleasure of shaking his hand. He is a fine looking man and a good speaker. His speech was well received. Please send me THE CHRONICLE. I want to keep in touch with Donley county while here. J. N. KENDALL.

President to Go to Panama.
Official notice has been posted at League Island navy yard to the effect that the cruiser Washington will leave on or about Nov. 1 for Hampton Roads. The Tennessee is expected to pass out a couple of days later and the two warships will act as an escort for President Roosevelt on his trip to Panama.
The president has selected the new battleship Louisiana for his battleship during the voyage. His plan now is to go aboard the Louisiana at New York on Nov. 8 and join the convoy at Hampton Roads.
The trip will require about six days each way.
Sailors and marines on the Washington and Tennessee are elated at having been chosen as the president's escort. The two vessels are the newest and among the finest cruisers in the navy. Neither ship has her full complement of men, but when the Minneapolis and Brooklyn arrive from Havana part of the crews will be transferred.

It is conservatively estimated by one who knows that Mrs. Jefferson Davis left an estate worth at least $40,000, and probably more. In addition to her realty holdings she had a fine collection of manuscripts, documents and letters which possess great sentimental value in the eyes of historians and relic hunters.
William Locke, a little boy, was dragged to death at Watonga, Okla., by his pony, which he was attempting to mount.
Seven business establishments burned Tuesday at Madhill, I. T., including the plant of the Democrat. Loss is $10,000.
Pickpockets reaped a harvest at Dallas Sunday, taking advantage of the thousands of visitors. One Dallasite lost a $165 diamond pin.

Texas Farmers Located in the Panhandle Country constitute a vast proportion of those who are out of debt, possess an abundance of all that is necessary to comfort and easy hours, and own

BANK ACCOUNTS.
Those who are not so fortunate should profit by past experiences and recognize that these conditions are possible in

THE PANHANDLE
as no where else for the reason that no other section now offers REALLY HIGH-CLASS LANDS AT LOW PRICES and that the Agricultural and Stock-farming possibilities of this section are the equal of, and in some respects better than three to five times higher priced property located elsewhere.
In a word: Many Magnificent Opportunities are still open here to those possessing but little money, but prompt investigation and

QUICK ACTION
are advisable, as speculators have investigated and are fast purchasing with a knowledge of quickly developing opportunities to sell to others at greatly increased prices.
