Work as a Medicine.

One of the most noticeable things among the unemployed is the rapidity with which they age. The more delicately adjusted a piece of machinery is, the quicker it rusts out and goes to ruin when not running.

When the mind is not healthfully employed and constantly exercised it ruins itself very quickly. There are many instances in history where great men, when deprived of liberty, when their employment was taken away from them, very quickly went to pieces. They were unable to sustain the shock.

Statistics show that great mental workers are as a rule, long-lived. Activity is conducive to longevity.

There is nothing like having plenty of work, something to look forward to constantly, something to plan for, think for, live for. There is nothing more fatal to growth and normal living than the monotony which comes from mental inaction, nothing more fatal to growth than stagnation.

There are a great many semi-invalids in this country today who could probably be cured by the right kind of work, mental or physical, because they are invalids mentally before they are physically. —Success Magazine.

Fined For Rebating.

Last Friday in New York $108,000 were imposed on the New York Central and Hudson River railroad by Judge Holt in the state district court on the charge of granting rebates to the American Sugar Refining Company. The road was fined on six counts. In the case of Frederic K. Pomeroy, assistant general traffic manager of the New York Central railway, there was imposed a total fine of $6,000. He made arrangements for the granting of rebates.

A storm along the Florida coast Thursday caused 600 lives and $4,000,000 property damage. At Havana, Cuba, the steamer Elvira was caught outside the harbor by the hurricane and capsized. Five men are reported lost. It is feared that many coasting vessels were lost. The list of dead and fatally injured in the city is about 40. The fatal casualties on the island will exceed 100 dead and 500 injured. The total damage may exceed $3,000,000.

The cases of Delta county against S. B. Turbeville, sheriff and J. M. B. Williams, county collector, have been continued in the district court. These are cases in which the county is suing the sheriff and collector and their bondsmen for excessive fees received by the officers. The cases are attracting considerable attention in the county.

If a Man's Religion Is of the Right Sort

It will enhance both his usefulness and his prospects of success. —Success Magazine.

Gov. Folk of Missouri has granted respites until Dec. 10 to Mrs. Aggie Myers and Frank Hottmun, sentenced to be hanged Oct. 26 for the murder of the woman's husband in Kansas City.

Indians Kill Cowboys.

A dispatch reached Omaha Wednesday, stating that an outbreak of the Ute Indians, who have been causing much trouble and worry in Wyoming all this summer, occurred near Gillette, Wyo., Wednesday night. In a battle between cowboys and Indians, two of the former were killed and a number of the Indians are supposed to have been injured.

The battle occurred when the Indians attempted to raid a cattle camp and off a lot of stock. The cowboys were in charge of the camp and resisted. The fight then took place. The Indians secured the cattle and killing a number of steers took the meat home to their camps.

Immigration into the United States during the past six months came within a few thousand of 700,000 persons. During the calendar year the total will, no doubt, be in excess of 1,000,000. This is enough population of itself to form a great State in the Union. In other words, if all the people coming to us each year from foreign countries could be massed in one of our most sparsely settled Territories, they would be sufficient in number to start such Territory on a career of statehood at once.—Ex.

President John M. Stahl at the meeting of the Farmers' congress the other day went after corporation lawyers in the following fashion: "Better men than they have been hanged—these lawyers that debauch and sell the gifts God has given them to devise cunning means to evade the law and array technicalities to protect their criminal clients, often immoral, yet oftener vulgar and contemptuous alike of the law and the masses." That is all very well, but when a corporation needs a lawyer in congress more than in the courts and gets him a nomination, just see how the people will shout and vote for him.—The Investigator.

"Trust busting" does not seem to make any headway in the United States. Not one trust has been "busted" and new ones are forming all the time. The latest is the Manila fiber trust, which expects to raise the price of Manila paper and all other goods into which that material enters 25 per cent.—Ex.

O. B. Heyworth, a well-to-do farmer, living seventeen miles north of Gage, Ok., shot and instantly killed his wife and two daughters, 22 and 18, a son aged 20 Saturday. He then turned the weapon on himself, inflicting a mortal wound. Family troubles are blamed.

The evidences of a hard winter are said to lie in the fact that squirrels are laying in a large supply of nuts, that the bees have made a lot of honey without swarming much, and that the corn husks are thick. Is that all?—Ex.

Mayor Tom Johnson is to be the first motorman who will run one of the three-cent street cars in the city of Cleveland, Ohio, and the persistent mayor is expected to reap greater honors from his performance in his attempt to run some of the other reforms in the Forest City.—Ex.

Murder Mystery Cleared.

The boy murdered at Amarillo, as stated by the CHRONICLE Saturday, was Earl Dockery, from Johnson City, Blanco county, Texas. He went from there to El Paso last May, since which time he worked on the Pecos Valley, and wrote to his father from Hereford Oct. 3, the day before he was murdered. His father had moved to Ashville, Ok., and the boy stated that he had saved $120 and was coming to his father's new home and help improve a farm. It is said in Amarillo that there is a strong probability that the murderer will be run to earth. Officers are working on a good clue.

W. H. Dockery offered a reward of $250 for the apprehension of the murderer. Later a message was received from Governor Lanham, saying the state will offer $1,250 reward, which, with Amarillo's $1,000, makes a total reward offered of $2,250.

Shipping to Ohio Feeders.

The Western Stock Yards Company at Amarillo will this week ship about 1,500 head of Panhandle calves and yearlings to Toledo, Ohio, to be sold at auction to Ohio farmers. Those Panhandle feeders are well graded, hardy and free from disease and find a ready market among the discriminating northern buyers. The cattle feeders of the corn belt states are careful buyers and know what kind of cattle to select for their feed lots. They appreciate the fact that well graded calves and yearlings are the most profitable feeders and are for that reason ready to pay satisfactory prices for good looking cattle such as are produced in the Panhandle.

Spelling Fad.

A New York letter says now phonetic spelling bees are the latest fad. Everybody in New York, it would seem, has taken kindly to the simplified method employed officially by President Roosevelt and authorized by the United States civil service commission, and wedding invitations and announcements are not considered smart unless they are "spelt" in the phonetic way. These invitations are done by hand and beautifully illuminated on parchment of Japanese vellum, and some of the fall brides are having theirs framed and hung in their boudoirs. In a few nights the Young Men's Christian association will open a simplified spelling school—the first of the kind ever projected.

There may be no marriages in Heaven, but Senator Platt is doubtless persuaded that there is an abundance of matrimony in Hades.—Ex.

James Redding, who accidentally shot himself in the foot at Eldorado, Ok., several days ago, died Friday night as a result of the accident.

The Baptist General Convention of Texas will meet in Waco the second week in next month, and prior to the convention, on the 6th of November, the Baptist State Women Union Workers, an auxiliary body, will meet in convention.

Mrs. Frederick Willis, wife of a Blaine county, Ok., farmer, died Friday night as a result of a piece of chicken lodging in her throat.

Frozen in Wyoming.

The worst storm in years for the season, prevailed in Wyoming Sunday. It was accompanied by heavy snow and in some sections very high winds. The Union Pacific railways had snow plows out on the entire line between Cheyenne and Ogden. West of Green River the line was blockaded and all communication cut off. All wires are down. A dispatch from Green River says the highest wind known in twenty five years was blowing with the temperature 10 degrees above zero and a heavy snow falling. One flagman was found dead near Granger and another was found on the track unconscious and badly frozen.

Dangerous Submarine Boats.

Loss of life on submarine boats in times of war has amounted to almost nothing, but considering the comparatively few men numbered in the crews of the divine craft, the casualties in times of peace have been nothing short of appalling. The latest accident happened Tuesday to the French submarine Lutin, which plunged beneath the waves off Bizerta, Tunis, and has not been seen since. Fourteen men and the captain comprised the crew. Persons who witnessed the diving experiments say that the stern of the boat showed twice immediately after the dive was made, and from this it is thought that there was a sudden leak, which caused the water to rush in and nullify the power of the machinery, which would have enabled the boat to again come to the surface. In July, 1905, the French submarine Farfadet dived off Tunis and failed to reappear, fourteen men losing their lives. To three British boats of the same character have happened the most serious accidents. Two of them sank, causing the deaths of all aboard, and the lives of the crew of another were snuffed out by an explosion.—St. Louis Republic.

There is a great demand in San Francisco for Acme plaster. Most of the big buildings will be plastered with Hardeman's excellent output—especially Acme's finest product; white plaster—is wanted in greater quantities than it possibly can be made.—Quanah Tribune.

Florida may be all right for a winter resort—if you miss the coast storms

Bryan made a speech from a baggage truck in Denver Saturday evening while the snow fell thick and fast.

The government regulations for the opening of the Indian Territory pasture lands will require a minimum price of $5 per acre.

An exchange says: "American women have within a few years captined twenty-three titled Englishmen, twenty-six titled Germans, fourteen titled Frenchmen, seventeen titled Italians and six titled Russians." It does not tell how many divorce suits resulted.

The Missouri Pacific is the first railroad in Kansas to cancel its newspaper contracts. This road, through its agents, has informed the editors that there will be no more newspaper transportation, and that its advertising will be paid for in cash. It is supposed that all other roads will soon follow its plan.

From all over Texas come reports that memorial services were held in honor of Mrs. Jefferson Davis on Sunday, conducted by Confederate Veterans, Daughters of the Confederacy and Sons of Confederate Veterans. At Waco, Corsicana, San Antonio, Fort Worth, Dallas, Galveston and Houston there were many in attendance, and feeling and eloquent words spoken of the noble woman who has departed this life.

Senator Bailey, in reproving an auditor for hissing him, said: "My friend, only two of God's creatures hiss; the serpent, from malignity, and the goose, from simplicity." It is needless to say the Senator was hissed no more during that speech.—Bridgeport Index.

The expressions used by Mr. Bailey are not new, by any means. We heard Harry Tracy use the same response to hisses eighteen years ago, and later Cyclone Davis and J. S. Bradley made like responses. You know they were frequently hissed when their political doctrine was not quite as popular as it is now.

The man who buys lumber, complains of the lumber trust; the man who buys meat, complains of meat trust, the man who buys kerosene or gasoline, complains of the oil trust, and so on down the list. The trusts live in open violation of the law, yet they continue to do business, to rob the purchaser—and they do so directly under the nose of the grand jury in nearly every county in Texas.—Tyler Courier.

Yes, and every officer in the state is a staunch democrat, continually crying "bust the trusts." They charge the the republicans of duplicity on this question, but have the accusers made any better record?

"Cremated in Flames" is a Leavenworth Post headline. Ever hear of anyone being cremated in a river or a cold storage plant?—K. C. Star.

Not completely. But many a fellow has had his in'ards cremated in a cold storage.

The Standard Oil Company commenced last week to ship oil by rail from the Indian Territory field to the Texas refineries owned by the Standard. It was first announced that 5,000 barrels per day would be shipped. Now it is understood that the amount is to be increased to 20,000 barrels daily, and that three special oil trains will be started daily out of the Cherokee oil fields for Texas.

New Railroad Prospect.

A new railroad has been chartered to run from Little Rock, Ark., through Oklahoma City, Greer county, Ok., and to intersect the Fort Worth & Denver at some point from Clarendon to Childress, inclusive, and Mr. R. Burge, secretary of the company, and J. E. Crawford, industrial agent, representing the financial institutions of New York, have spent the past four days here pointing out to our people the merits of the proposed line and why we should put up something to secure it.

The incorporators of the road are, F. R. Wildman, Blair, Ok.; E. A. Williams, Roosevelt, Ok.; C. A. Huber, Weatherford, Ok.; R. K. Wooten, Chickasha, I. T.; J. W. Buchanan, Van Buren, Ark.; R. Burge, Felix Beth, and L. B. Comer, of Fort Worth. The officers of the road are Chas. R. Meeker, of 50 Broadway, New York, president; F. R. Wildman, of Blair, Ok., vice-president, C. A. Huber, Chickasha, I. T., treasurer, and R. Burge, Fort Worth, secretary.

Mr. Burge informs us that 70 miles of the line from Hollis east has been surveyed and that it will run all the way through a rich, undeveloped country, anxious for a road. He also says capitalists of New York are ready to take the bonds and furnish the money to build as soon as satisfactory data is furnished, which these men are now gathering.

A few of our business men met at the Citizens Bank Saturday night and called a mass meeting for Monday night at the court house. At this meeting Mr. Burge told of the plans, and what he thought the road would be worth to us. Chairman Barnett appointed a committee of five to take the matter in hand and solicit subscriptions and right-of-way. The committee is composed of W. H. Cooke, of the citizens bank, T. S. Bugbee, Albert Williams, J. B. McClelland and J. D. Jefferies.

Our people should fully consider every feature of the advantages to accrue from a railroad directly east. It would give us cheaper coal and lumber and competition in freight rates on cattle to market and the feeders' pens. Men who have more land than they need for their own use will be enabled to sell for a much better price, and business in town would be doubled in a short time. Clarendon then could be made a common rate point, a jobbing trade could be built up and other advantages would accrue which we have not now the space to dwell upon.

While the cry throughout the land is "bust the trusts," the statement is being heralded that English capital is backing up a beef trust in this country with a capital of $500,000,000.

Several months ago a Syrian leper, Geo. Raschid, was found in West Virginia and after being driven from place to place, was finally placed in an obscure log hut and guarded. Last week he died, and Sunday the body was cremated in a shocking manner at Pickens. The shanty in which he had been staying was set on fire and his body was consumed with it. It is now declared that his death was the result of foul play. Many people at Pickens say the leper was given poison in his food.

The scientists have now discovered microbes in hymn books. They never seem to think of analyzing a poker deck.—Washington Post.

Proceedings are to be begun in Webb county against certain officials for the issuance of 2,300 illegal poll tax receipts.

Miss Emma Blakely, a waitress at Seiget's hotel in Baird was stabbed to death by a jealous Mexican Friday in the dining room just before the noon hour. She was 22, highly respected and a lynching was only averted by hurrying the Mexican off to Abilene.

W. T. Workman, a farmer who lives seven miles west of Waxahachie, was held up and robbed Friday night while returning home from that city. The robbery was committed by a negro, who secured about $6. Workman was forced to give up the money at the point of a revolver.

H. C. Higeson, 30 or 35 years of age, with an extra bridge gang working for the Houston and Texas Central Railway, was run over and instantly killed Saturday night at Corsicana by a delayed south-bound passenger train. The accident occurred near the car in which Higeson and other workmen slept and which stood on the siding near the main track.

The corpse of a man who had been dead apparently for about two or three weeks, was found in the McDaniels pasture, a few miles from Foresville Saturday. In his pocket was found a Wells-Fargo money order for $2.50, bearing the name of C. Van Etten. In his pocket were also some cards with the name C. H. Van Etten, a small Bible and a fireman's badge.

More than one hundred arrests were made Sunday in Dallas for alleged violations of the Sunday law of the city. practically all of these were in connection with the opening of saloons. In all of the cases bond was made.

The Local Paper.

This Lindsborg News gives the following reasons why you should have the local paper in your home: "The local paper should be found in every home. No children should grow up ignorant who can be taught to appreciate the home paper. It is said to be the stepping stone of intelligence in all those matters not found in books. Give your children a foreign paper which contains not a word about any person, place or thing which they know, or perhaps ever heard of, and how can you expect them to be interested? But let them have the home paper and read of people whom they meet and the places with which they are familiar, and soon an interest is awakened which increases with every arrival of the local paper. Thus a habit of reading is formed and those children will read the newspapers all their lives and become intelligent men and women, a credit to their ancestors, strong in knowledge of the world as it is today."

Actual Machine Talk.

W. R. Hearst, candidate on several tickets for Governor of New York, in five short weeks undertakes to make his voice heard in every city, hamlet and town of New York State. An impossible undertaking, it seems, but he isn't going to be present when all of the speeches are made. He is to talk into phonographs and make dozens and dozens of records. These are to be sent out to campaign managers in every county, along with the most perfect talking machine obtainable. Not only are voters to hear Mr. Hearst by proxy, but ocular demonstrations of the candidate in action on the stump are to be furnished by the means of kinetoscopes, the Congressman editor candidate having posed in several of his characteristic attitudes before picture-taking machines. So at one time he will be delivering the same speech, and making the same gestures in a score of widely separated towns. This is dangerously near literally machine-made politics.—St. Louis Republic.

ESSENCE OF THE STEER.

Beef Juice in Large Quantities Is Manufactured for the Market.

Meat extracts have become steadily more popular within recent years, especially for use by invalids, and the quantities of beef consumed in their manufacture are astonishing. One factory in Fray Bentos, in Uruguay, uses from 400 to 500 cattle daily for this purpose, its output amounting to about 3,000 pounds of the concentrated product per diem.

It is well understood that such extracts contain no nutriment; a person fed on unlimited quantities of them would soon starve to death. They hold merely the flavor of the meat, and, while very palatable, are useful as a stimulant. Beyond this, owing to their palatability, they are good for dyspeptics, encouraging the secretion of the digestive juices, and physicians frequently prescribe them in cases of debility where the vitality of the patient is at a low ebb.

Experience has shown that the meat of steers furnishes an extract of darker color than that of cows and with a strong suggestion of game flavor. The essence of the cow has a milder taste and a lighter hue. The flesh of animals under four years of age is not used for this purpose, because the extract possesses an insipid flavor like that of veal.

The beef is chopped by machinery and exposed for some hours to live steam under pressure. In this way everything in it that will dissolve is converted into a broth, which passes first into a centrifugal apparatus for separating the fat and thence into great kettles, in which the albumen and fibrin settle to the bottom. The pure extract is finally drawn off, evaporated, filtered and put up in suitable receptacles for market.

Of the residue the fat is purified for use as machine oil and in soap making. The gelatine is employed in the manufacture of printers' rollers and as a finishing material in cloth mills. What remains is dried and utilized either as a fertilizer or as food for pigs and fishes. Some of it also is said to be made up into dog biscuit, for which purpose it is well suited, inasmuch as the stuff left behind after the removal of the extract contains all the nutri-

Increase of Natural Gas.

Statistics prepared by the geological survey of the natural gas industry show that during the year 1905 the value of natural gas produced and sold exceeded that of any previous year by $3,066,099. The total value of the gas produced and sold was $41,562,855. Louisiana appeared for the first time as a gas-producing state.

Kansas showed an increase of 49 per cent over its previous production, and the combined production of Oklahoma and Indian Territory was 161 per cent over 1904.

Helping on His Finish.

"You'll find I'm hard to discourage," said the persistent suitor, melodramatically. "Some day I'll make you admit you love me and then—and not till then—I will die happy."

"I'll say it now," replied the heartless girl. "I don't mind telling a lie for a good end."—Philadelphia Ledger.
