Powder Explosion Obliterates a Town.

Fontanet, Ind., was practically destroyed Tuesday by the explosion of the plant of the Dupont Powder company. The dead number from 25 to 45. Over 600 persons were injured, and every building in the town was wholly or partially leveled to the ground. Where stood a thriving and busy town of 1,000 people there is ruin and scattered wreckage. Five hundred inhabitants, all more or less wounded, remained to gather their scattered household goods and sleep under tents or cots guarded by soldiers of the state. Without warning the powder mills, seven in number, blew up. In the magazine, situated several hundred yards from the mills, were stored 40,000 kegs of giant powder. The concussion when it blew up was felt nearly 200 miles away. Every house in the town was destroyed. Farm houses two miles away and schoolhouses equally distant were torn to pieces and their occupants injured. A passenger train on the Big Four railroad four miles away had every coach window broken and several passengers were injured by flying glass.

No Free Transportation of Dead Employees.

Assistant Attorney-Gen. Pollard rules that the anti-pass law would not permit the transportation free to the place of burial of an employe who is killed at some point along the line of railroad other than his home, or who dies of diseases at such points. The exemption bearing upon this question is so explicit in its terms as to force us to conclude that it must be confined to persons injured in wrecks upon roads of the company immediately after the injury and could not be extended to apply to the dead body of an employe who was killed or who died of diseases.

A Chicago woman who takes great pride in her garden, especially the little patch of corn she has been cultivating, was astonished a few days ago when her neighbor, noticing the tassels, shouted across to her, "Isn't it too bad, your corn is all going to seed, and you haven't had an ear!"

A Chinaman in Colorado has made quite a success of dry farming in a small way. Mr. Armstrong, secretary of the Durango board of trade, asked him how he did it, and the Chinaman said: "Velle muchee workee. I plow and hallow and hallow and hallow and hallow like hellee."

The body of Mrs. W. F. Turner, niece of the late Samuel J. Tilden, was taken from the river at Detroit, Mich., Tuesday. She had committed suicide.

The wise ones continue to spread out on what the country needs. Everybody seems to know, but nobody seems willing to supply it. —Tom Watson.

Want a Law to Kill Cigarettes and Enforce Prohibition.

Washington, October 13.—The Woman's Christian Temperance union, which has just closed its thirty-third annual convention in this city claims that influences will work, soon after congress meets, to exact legislation making liquor shipments subject to the law of the state into which carried immediately upon arrival there, and the entire abolishment of the "deadly cigarette."

The association, by a rising vote, unanimously adopted resolutions endorsing the Hepburn Dooliver liquor bill, which will be re-introduced in congress this winter, and placing itself solidly against the sale of cigarettes anywhere in the United States.

There are other bills, the W. C. T. U., people say, that will be vigorously pushed during the coming season of congress. They will endorse as strongly as they know how, the McCumber-Sperry bill to prohibit liquor selling in all government buildings, especially the capitol. Sale of intoxicants is now forbidden in the capitol, in all the army building and at all immigrant stations, and the temperance people maintain that they will use every effort to see that the national lawmakers shall either carry their supplies in some convenient pocket or do without until the daily sessions of congress are ended; that they shall never again make a saloon of the capitol building.

No other bill, perhaps, has already caused and will cause in the future more political wire-pulling by its advocates and opponents than the Hepburn Dooliver bill. Its opponents do not hesitate to say that they will go to the farthest extent to prevent it from passing and that so far as money is concerned there is barrels of it. So the fight will go on, augmented by the W. C. T. U. people on the one hand and the powerful liquor interests on the other.

The cure-all in the poultry yard is good management. Its principal virtue is that it is preventive. With it there is no need for stimulants, regulators and other make-shifts.

Poor John D. Rockefeller, Jr. at the age of 84 has had to give up his Bible class on account of dyspepsia. He is not too ill to hold onto other things, however.—Oklahoman.

Fort Reno, Ok., is to be abandoned March 1. The site is to be divided into farms and lots.

There has been circulated a report that I am working for or making sales of real estate for the Western Realty Co. There is no truth in such a report, and I have no connection whatever with such firm.

F. H. BESAW,
Real Estate Dealer.

What is Sent Us from Abroad.

The statistics prepared by the Government bureaus at Washington with reference to the exports declared for the United States, are not such dull reading as might be expected. There are many surprising details, which if gathered into a comprehensive story would give an interesting idea of the current of the world's commerce.

In the popular mind the names of important cities are often associated with some distinguishing product, in much the same way they would be associated with his torical events or political prominence.

In the first place, take Brussels. Brussels suggests carpets, of course; yet for some years Belgium has not exported to the United States more than a few thousand dollars' worth of carpets. But we do get from that country plate glass, cement, linens, and laces, in tremendously large quantities.

Jamaica sends us some ginger; but a great deal more in value of bananas and sugar.

From Cologne we receive a fair quantity of cologne. But fifty times as many dollars worth of mineral waters.

Rome suggests at once art and literature; but nearly half of the imports from the Italian capital comes in the form of cheese.

Athens sends but little, chiefly iron ore. The other Greek cities sell currants, which really form the staple of Greek trade with the United States.

Out of Jerusalem we get "religious articles made of mother of pearl."

Genoa, the birthplace of Columbus, finds in the land he discovered a market for olive oil. Raw silks lead in Milan; horse hides are among the great exports of Moscow; clay pipes and lace are the somewhat incongruous combination forwarded from Calais.

Antiquities and gum figure high in Cairo's list. From Egypt we also get some mummies from which a peculiar pigment is made for the use of artists.

The coffin trust has advanced prices 10 per cent, and food products are to go up another 30 per cent. Looks as if the trusts are about to get us coming or going.—Record.

Mothers who are not good disciplinarians always say of a mother who is that she would make a good slave-driver.

If false tongues were to drop out as easily as false teeth, what a pleasant world it would be.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Now is the time to fit yourself in tailor-made suits, overcoats or raincoats. The place to get them is at the Globe, E. Dubbs & Sons.

Wicked New York.

On an average two hundred and forty murders are committed in New York City every year, according to a statement made by the New York World. The World says: "Sixty-five arrests are made for these murders. Thirty-three alleged murderers are brought to trial. Twenty convictions result. Two of the convicted men are sentenced to death. Three others receive life sentences. A murderer in New York City stands a chance of one in one hundred of escaping the penalty of his crime. In the first 25 years of the 19th century there were only two unsolved murder cases in New York. From 1900 to the present day there have been over 300 unsolved murder cases in New York City. These figures were furnished by William C. Clemons, the criminologist, in a talk to the members of Greeley council, National Union. The causes, Mr. Clemons says, are inefficient and ignorant detectives, men who are excellent patrolmen, but who know nothing of the science of tracing crime and criminals. Besides the known murders in this city every year, he says there are at least 25 which are never heard of. These take place in every walk of life and are usually accomplished by the use of poisons, although frequently a knife or a pistol inflicts a death wound and members of the family conceal the facts. Appendicitis, heart failure or some similar cause is marked down as the medium of death.

STATE NEWS.

The losses by fire in Texas for the month of September amounted to $915,000.

John H. Kirby of Houston has given $4,000 to the Hood monument fund and G. W. Littlefield of Austin $1,000.

At Hillsboro Tuesday a new building erected by the cotton oil mill was destroyed by fire and a residence close by damaged. It is believed to be of incendiary origin. The loss is $7,500.

D. H. Hawkins, who for several years has been a renter on the farm of O. H. Dodson, ten miles south of Chillicothe, was shot and killed last Saturday afternoon while resisting arrest at the hands of Constable Harvey and a man named Vance, whom the constable had called to his assistance.

The convicts on the Sanger farm in the Brazos bottom, northwest of Marlin, will be turned back to the state Nov. 1. For many years this has been worked by convicts, but on account of the increase of wages demanded by the state, the owners of the farm have decided it would not be good policy to continue this system. Manager Hamilton states that he has already leased a large portion of the farm for the coming year and that hired laborers will be used to work the remaining part. This farm produced 20,000 bushels of corn this year.

Entered February 10, 1909, at Clarendon, Tex., as second class matter, under Act of Congress
March 3, 1879.

CLARENDON, TEX., OCT. 19, 1907.

People in the south are accustomed to saying that "cotton is king," but corn is the only crop in the United States that annually reaches the enormous value of one billion dollars.

There is no other state in existence that gives the opportunity for diversification that Texas does. A camphor farm will be established near Floresville, Tex., under the management of the Bureau of Plant Industry, Department of Agriculture. A farm now in operation near Wharton, Tex., gives promise of being highly profitable.

Big mercantile firms in some of the eastern cities have issued an edict that their lady clerks shall cease wearing their hair pompadour, as they take up too much time caring for it in that style. A Pittsburg merchant's order to this effect was ignored, and Thursday twenty of them in one bunch were fired, so they may now give their whole time to propping up their front porch.

Judge Charles Mims of Nacogdoches says that several large sawmills in East Texas have had to close on account of the slump in the price of lumber. Judge Mims declared that there has been a decline of from $3 to $5 per 1,000 feet in the price of lumber. This state ment does not give very well with the one made last spring that the mills were about a year behind with orders at the prices then prevailing and many of them refusing to take orders, expecting still further advances in prices. The closing down feature as stated by Judge Mims, seems to indicate that the mill men can make either a shortage or oversupply, as suits their convenience.

The oft-repeated statement that legislation is driving capital from the state and bringing all development to an end is not holding good. The Texas railroad commission has issued a statement showing the total track mileage of all railroads in Texas for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1907. It is 15,483 miles, against 14,650 for 1906, making an increase of 831 miles for this year. This increase includes 166 miles of new road built, the other increase being in branches, additions to old roads, etc. The railroads from the north are bringing in train loads of prospectors and many of them are buying homes and investing in various enterprises. At no time in the past has investments been so rapidly made in Texas as is being done now.

The lady who was caught in the territory with fourteen pint bottles of whisky concealed about her clothes was no part of a gentleman. —Coleman Democrat.

True, and it is evident that the devil is not always in masculine form.

The election held last August was a big expense to Texas and not one of six proposed amendments to the state constitution were worthy of adoption by the people. —Vernon Call.

One or two of them were worthy enough, but some of them were so obnoxious that the voters in disgust snowed under the whole of them.

The vote of the telegraphers employed on the Denver & Rio Grande railroad is being taken by mail on the question of whether they shall strike in consequence of the refusal of the company to reinstate R. H. Skeggs, former wire chief at Grand Junction, Colo., who was discharged when he refused to test Western Union wires. It is reported that the vote already received is practically unanimous for striking. About 400 operators are employed on the road and 95 per cent of them belong to the Order of Railway Telegraphers. It is predicted by the Denver & Rio Grande operators that if the vote they are now taking is favorable, the strike will quickly spread to all railroads in the Gould system, involving over 15,000 operators.

New Liquor Law Upheld.

In a case from San Antonio, in the court of criminal appeals at Tyler Wednesday, it was held that under the Baskin-McGregor law a man in order to engage in the sale of retail liquor must take out license under the provisions of that act and that he cannot engage in the sale of whisky under and by virtue of the unexpired license that he held at the time the Baskin-McGregor law went into effect. In his opinion Judge Brooks holds that the Baskin-McGregor liquor law repeals all other laws in conflict therewith and that therefore saloons cannot operate under unexpired licenses issued prior to the time that the Baskin-McGregor law went into effect. The court, however, does not construe that the Baskin-McGregor law meant prohibition over the state for a certain period but that all saloon men should have begun preparation for a new license as soon as the law went into effect.

STATE NEWS.

A. H. Cooper, aged 33, lost an arm in a gin at Mesquite Wednesday.

Party of Kentuckians have bought land in Hockley county and are en route to locate thereon. They will irrigate.

Dug Meader, one of the Matador ranch hands, recently became unbalanced and was sent to the Terrell insane asylum.

The Delaware hotel, a three-story brick veneered building, was destroyed by fire at Mineral Wells this week. The guests were compelled to use fire escapes. The loss is $60,000. The Louisiana House and Wann House were both damaged.

G. C. McClain, of Ennis, who is 47 years old and his wife 40, recently celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of their marriage. Seventeen children have been born to them in the 25 years, and 15 of them are still alive, two of them married.

Walker Hargroves, the bad man of Bitter Creek, of the Cross Timber country, was fined $100 and costs in a Wichita Falls court Wednesday. Wonder why they did not add a heavy jail sentence, also, for his going around loaded with shooting irons.

A new railroad, north and south between Weatherford and Bridgeport, a distance of 38 miles, is the latest project on foot, and the man who will build it, so it is stated, is Gid R. Turner, the promoter of the Fort Worth, Weatherford and Mineral Wells Interurban.

Fire at Haskell Tuesday night resulted in the following losses: B. Wells, building and stock of second-hand goods, $2,300; insurance $1,000. C. C. Frost, building, $750; no insurance. T. B. Morgan, stock of general merchandise, $8,500; insurance, $5,700. H. P. Williams, restaurant fixtures, $350; no insurance.

The barn on the farm of G. L. Rutherford, six miles southwest of Greenville, was destroyed by fire Wednesday night, together with the contents. There were in the barn 1,000 bushels of corn, six tons of alfalfa and prairie hay baled, one wagon and all the harness and farm implements of the place. The flames spread to the waterworks tower and cowshed and destroyed them. The loss is estimated at about $3,000, and there is no insurance.

The railroad commission has issued an order to the head of the various railroads of the state, requiring these officials to report promptly a detail report of all freight and passenger wrecks. These reports are to be made in writing. Some time ago the commission issued such an order, but it required the roads to wire every wreck which occurred, and this plan became so expensive on account of telegraph tolls that the commission decided to change the order.

Threatened Bread Famine.

According to an ultra conservative statement to the United Press by Bartlett, Frazier & Carrington, the largest grain exporters on the Chicago board of trade, unless there is some check in the enormous amount of wheat that is being sent to Europe all food stuffs are going to soar in price and the country may face a bread famine. There was a short wheat crop and farmers attracted by big prices are selling wheat rapidly.

Of Interest To Women.

To such women as are not seriously out of health, but who have exacting duties to perform, either in the way of household cares or in social duties and functions which seriously tax their strength, as well as nursing mothers, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has proved a most valuable supporting tonic and invigorating nerve. By its timely use, much serious sickness and suffering may be avoided. The operating table and the surgeon's knife, would, it is believed, seldom have to be employed if this most valuable woman's remedy were resorted to in good time. The "Favorite Prescription" has proven a great boon to expectant mothers by preparing the system for the coming of baby, thereby rendering childbirth safe, easy, and almost painless.

Bear in mind, please that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is not a secret or patent medicine, against which the most intelligent people are quite naturally averse, because of the uncertainty as to their composition and harmless character, but is a MEDICINE OF KNOWN COMPOSITION, a full list of all its ingredients being printed, in plain English, on every bottle wrapper. An examination of this list of ingredients will disclose the fact that it is non-alcoholic in its composition, chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine taking the place of the commonly used alcohol, in its make-up. In this connection it may not be out of place to state that the "Favorite Prescription" of Dr. Pierce is the only medicine put up for the cure of woman's peculiar weaknesses and ailments, and sold through druggists, all the ingredients of which have the unanimous endorsement of all the leading medical writers and teachers of all the several schools of practice, and that too as remedies for the ailments for which "Favorite Prescription" is recommended.

A little book of these endorsements will be sent to any address, post-paid, and absolutely free if you request same by postal card, or letter, of Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. Constipation is the cause of many diseases. Cure the cause and you cure the disease. Easy to take as candy.

The International conference of cotton growers and spinners in session at Atlanta last week passed a resolution recommending that the Egyptian form of bale be adopted, thus including a bale of uniform size, with a better quality of bagging for baling. The loss by poor baling is said to be $25,000,000 per year.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

CHRONICLE Correspondence.

TROUBLESOME RAILWAY PROBLEM.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 14.—The National Association of Railway Commissioners, in annual session in Washington this week, has placed itself on record as opposed to Federal control of the railroads of the country and has virtually repudiated the proposition advocated by President Roosevelt that the Federal government assume complete control over all interstate railroads.

The sentiment of the National Association was formally manifested by the unanimous adoption of the reports of two committees: to wit, the committee on amendments of the act to regulate commerce, and the committee on power, duties, and work of state railway commissions. Franklin McNeill of North Carolina, chairman of the committee on amendments, submitted a report declaring against any material amendment of the Hepburn law, at least until the act had been fully tried. Benjamin F. Chadbourne, of Maine, chairman of the committee on powers, etc., pointed out, in his report, the usefulness of the commissions of the various states, and declared in favor of an extension of their powers, instead of a curtailment, as has been proposed by the president.

Mr. Chadbourne, in the course of his remarks, said: "We cannot pass lightly the suggestion of Federal incorporation of railroads and that of government ownership, so often heard. The assembling of the smaller corporations into the immense combinations of today brought a few moneyed men and corporations into ownership and control, those who had local interests, enterprises and benefits, going out. In this evolution a clear field was opened for overcapitalization, discrimination, rebates and all of the other wrongs that make Federal interferences necessary.

"The railroad commissions of the various states long since demonstrated their value to the people as well as to the railroads. It may well be asked whether any of the things now complained of as wrong would have happened if the state commissions had been clothed with greater powers.

"As long as the several states have the power of granting railroad charters cannot that body have the granting of charters under a well-regulated general law? They could pass upon the question of public convenience as intelligently and as conscientiously as the legislatures. They are every day in contact with the transportation problem, and could exercise the better judgment as to financing. Their investigation as to locations of road bed and stations would be more careful than would be possible for the legislative body to make.

"Whatever may be the powers given the Federal body in railroad regulation, there will always be a useful field for the work of the state railroad commission. They can work in harmony with the Federal body in many ways, be of great service to them, and be the means of inspiring the people with the feeling that there are local influences, acting alike for them and the railroads in the adjustment of the fare deal.

"If as has been said, there is a tendency toward a great centralization of power—a surrender of rights of the states to the national government—the nearer the Federal body gets to the people the better, and in this instance the State railroad commission is the best means of so doing."

TARIFF GHOST.

Mr. Wilbur F. Wakeman, secretary of the American Protective Tariff League, in an interview with various Washington correspondents, recently expressed amazement over the extent of the tariff revision sentiment which he has found in the Middle West and admitted that reports from all parts of the country to the organization he represents indicate a general tariff revision sentiment; but he hastens to add that it is his conviction that all such sentiment will have disappeared before time for the elections. It is the opinion of politicians in Washington that the tariff revision sentiment will prevail and that Mr. Wakeman places himself in a rather ridiculous light when he undertakes to prognosticate its evaporation before the elections throughout the country.

GO TO FARMING.

A good living is what comparatively few men succeed in making in village or city life, and yet nothing is more easy of accomplishment on the farm. Besides, there is a pleasure in cultivating and embellishing the earth, improving and increasing its products, and thus adding to the aggregate of human happiness. Why, then, should young men hesitate to be farmers? It is both profitable and honorable. It is the nearest approximation to independence that a man, as a member of society, can make. A gentleman farmer—and all farmers are, or should be, gentlemen—belongs to an order of nobility that is not indebted to place-holders for installation, and may, if he chooses, be ranked among the greatest benefactors of the human race. Let the idle young men go to work on farms, and quit seeking third and fourth rate clerkships. In short, go to farming and quit beginning.

THE IRON BAR.

A bar of iron worth $5, worked into horse shoes, is worth $10.50; made into needles, is worth $355; made into pen-knife blades is worth $3,285; made into balance springs of watches, it is worth $250,000.

What a drilling the poor bar must undergo to reach all that. But hammered and beaten and pounded and rolled and polished, how its value was increased! It might well have quivered and complained under the hard knocks it got; but were they not all necessary to draw out its fine qualities, and fit it for higher offices?

So we say to the children and young people who weekly read this department, all the drilling and training you receive at home and at school, and which seems so hard to you, is all necessary to bring out your nobler and finer qualities and qualify you for more responsible posts and greater usefulness in the world.

THE SPOKEN WORD.

Boys and girls, what is it you can never catch, though you chase after it on the wings of the wind? You can never catch the word that has once left your lips. Once spoken, it is out of your reach; do your best you can never recall it. Therefore, take care what you say. Never speak an unkind word, an impure word or a profane word.

How much would neighbors rise in value, and how much would neighbors rise in beauty, if all should lay aside habits of criticism, and neighborhood scandal, and petty feuds, and ridicule. And if men should study the things that make for peace, and the things that make for happiness, everybody trying to make everybody else happy, what a revolution there would be.

Memory presides over the past; action over the present. The first lives in a rich temple hung with a glorious trophies, and lined with tombs, the other has no shrine but duty, and it walks the earth like a spirit.

A good conscience is the best looking glass of heaven; in which the soul may see God's thoughts and purposes concerning it reflected as so many shining stars.
